Report Fawzi Is Elevated By Egypt's President

The SDN Column

Apparently there is a well-heeled group actively promoting support for Amendment No. 3 on the list for the Nov. 3 general election in Texas.

This is the proposal to change the basis for tax valuations on agricultural land. We would oppose any such action as a piece-meal procedure, if for no other reason. Our belief is that the entire tax structure should be overhauled.

Singling out one segment for special action will not get the job done. There shhould be a state-wide, overall new beginning, putting everyone on equal footing. The best way likely would be a completely new state constitution, which hopefully would cut down on the steady stream of amendments that have evolved in recent years.

There is some surprising opposition to Amendment 2, which is the "open saloon" amendment, and perhaps the Witchita Falls Times has put it into perspective.

The move to liberalize liquor laws is in the same boat with that to liberalize curbs on marijuana," says the Times in an editorial. "It is part and parcel of the same movement to liberlize laws on criminal activities or on propography. The result of such liberlization could only be to put gears in reverse, to slip backward."

A number of people, some of them in what often is referred to as "the silent majority," have recoginzed the incongruity of some of these proposals and even contradictory statements by political candidates. Some find it difficult to reconcile stern words about fighting crime with a soft on pot-smokers program.

But a "silent majority" may be worse than no majority at all. They will have to speak out to accomplish anything."

The day's mail brought a leaflet urging home gardeners to overseed their lawns with ryegrass so that the lawns will remain green through the winter. I doubt that it will catch on, however, because it could make lawn-mowing a year-round chore. And those who have labored hour after hour tyying to get ryegrass off their lawns in the spring time certainly would be against it.—WAGH. McNAIR.

Informants in Cairo say President Anwar Sadat has chosen 70-year-old Mahmoud Fawzi, for 18 years one of President Gamal Abdel Nasser's chief advisers on foreign affairs, to be Egypt's new prime minister.

Fawzi entered Egypt's consular service in 1926 and served in a succession of consular and ambassadorial posts under the monarchy. Six months after the overthrow of King Farouk in 1952, he was named foreign minister and held the post until 1964, when Nasser made him deputy prime minister for foreign affairs. In 1967, he became Nasser's assistant for foreign affairs, a post created for him.

Last April he met with President Nixon as Nasser's personal representative to discuss U.S. efforts to achieve peace in the Middle East.

The semiofficial newspaper Al Ahram said Monday that Sadat had chosen a "prominent personality who enjoys great respect on national and international levels." The newspaper did not say that Fawzi was Sadat's choice, but today it prominently displayed an article reviewing his career.

Al Ahram said the new prime minister will "have the authority as provided for in the constitution." This was interpreted to mean that Fawzi will choose the members of his Cabinet, a freedom consistent with Sadat's pledge to spread authority to other members of his government.

As Israel made new charges of cease-fire violations by Egypt and the Egyptians maintained their refusal to pull any missiles back from the Suez Canal zone, an Israeli newspaper said the Egyptians have placed at least 48 antiaircraft missile batteries in the cease-fire zone, including about 10 batteries of advanced Soviet-manned SAM3s.

An estimated 2,000 Russians are manning SAM3s in Egypt, the Jerusalem Post said in an article by its military correspondent, Zeev Schul.

"Regardless of the political situation," Schul wrote, "it can be assumed that the Soviet-Egyptian lineup is bracing itself for the possibility, albeit remote, of an Israeli preemptive strike."

Israel withdrew from the U.S.-sponsored Middle East peace talks at the United Nations because of her charges that Egypt was moving missiles closer to the canal in violation of the cease-fire. But there has been no resumption of shooting along the canal.

In Amman, an Arab peace mission said it had succeeded in getting Palestinian guerrillas and Jordanian troops to stop fighting in the northern part of Jordan Monday for the first time in 48 hours. But the guerrillas charged that Jordanian forces had fired mortars at two more refugee camps, wounding three civilians and damaging several houses.

More Mild Weather Predicted

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Texans basked in thoroughly agreeable Indian Summer weather today—chilly nights—mild days—hazy skies—while weathermen were predicting more of the same for the next few days across the Lone Star State.

Temperatures dropped into the 40s and 50s over most of the state early this morning while far south readings were in the 60s.

Honey-colored sunlight Monday showed temperatures into the high 70s in the Rio Grande Valley although Lubbock in the South Plains had a cool 64 degrees.

Five Bodies Found In California Pool

SANTA CRUZ, Calif. (AP) — The bodies of an eye surgeon, his wife, two sons and a secretary were found Monday night bound, shot and dumped in the swimming pool of their $250,000 hill top home, which was destroyed by fire.

Each of the five victims had been shot once in the back of the head, and the physician had a second wound in the upper back, Sheriff Douglas James said.

Their wrists were bound in front with brightly colored scarves, James said, and scarves covered the faces of three victims.

"It was like an execution," said Sheriff's Lt. Kenneth Pittenger. No motive was established.

Patches of blood stained the cement apron around the pool. The secretary's body was floating, the others were on the pool bottom.

The victims were Dr. Victor M. Ohta, 45; his wife, Virginia, 43; their sons, Derik, 12, and Taggart, 11, and Ohta's secretary, Dorothy Cadwallader, 38.

The killers left no notes, James said. He said no sign of struggle was found in the house, located atop a hill overlooking Monterey Bay between Santa Cruz and Soquel, 100 miles south of San Francisco.

At about 8:10 p.m., two sheriff's deputies noticed smoke and went to the home.

One driveway was blocked by Ohta's Rolls-Royce, the other by Mrs. Cadwallader's Lincoln Continental.

"This is the same program that the county has been operating," officials said, adding, "the only difference is that the state will pay for it and provide an administrator."

The agreement was entered into as the result of a recent court ruling. Appearing on behalf of the commodity distribution division of the State Department of Public Welfare was E. G. Vaughan.

Board Hears Plea For Higher Profits

AUSTIN (AP) — Auto insurance companies need to make higher profits to attract investors and protect their policyholders, the State Insurance Board was told today.

The board went into its second day of hearings on whether it should consider the income that insurance companies earn from investing policyholders' premiums when it sets car insurance rates.

Leandro Galban Jr., vice president of Wood, Struthers, & Winthrop, Inc., a New York investment firm, said fire and casualty companies need a 10 per cent profit on their insurance writings.

Galban said this rate, together with investment income and the increased value of investments, would provide an overall rate of return on shareholders' funds of around 12 per cent.

Formulas used by the board in car insurance rate-making allow 5 per cent of premiums for profits, before federal incomes taxes.

Kent Students Ask Jury Probe

KENT, Ohio (AP) — The Kent State University Faculty Senate and two student organizations called today for a federal grand jury investigation of disorders at the university last May 1-4 in which four students were killed and nine wounded in a confrontation with the Ohio National Guard.

The appeal was made at about the time another person was served with an indictment returned last week by a special state grand jury which investigated the disorders. Four indictments were served Monday.

Larry A. Shub, 19, of Cleveland Heights, a former Kent State student, reported to the Portage County sheriff's office in Ravenna and was served with an indictment charging first-and second-degree riot and attempting to burn property. He was accompanied by his father, Murray.

Shub was enrolled at Kent State last spring.

The faculty group, the Student Senate and the Graduate Student Council said in a joint statement that the special state grand jury exceeded "the boundaries of its legal responsibilities."

"In addition to determining whether a crime was committed and whether evidence exists for prosecution, this grand jury passed judgment on university administrative policy, faculty teaching and student verbal behavior," the statement said.

In its report issued last Friday, the state grand jury placed most of the blame for the disorders on the University administration and radical elements among the student body and faculty. No National Guardsmen were among the 25 persons indicted.

The statement today said that the National Guard was exonerated "raises questions concerning the relationship between the grand jury conclusions and the prior statement by Ohio Atty. Gen. Paul Brown that he did not expect indictments of National Guardsmen."

It called for a federal grand jury investigation "so that all available evidence can be considered, including the reports by the FBI and the President's Commission on Campus Unrest."

In addressing Kent State students Monday night, Chicago Seven attorney William Kunstler called the indictments "Mississippi justice" and urged the students to band together to fight the establishment.

Nixon Has Date With Gromyko

By LEWIS GULICK
Associated Press Writer

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Two meetings between Secretary of State William P. Rogers and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko have concluded with a date for Gromyko to see President Nixon in Washington Thursday morning.

Rogers' dinner meeting with Gromyko Monday night was described as more cordial than their first session last Friday. And afterward Rogers announced that Nixon had granted Gromyko's request for a meeting, a request made some days ago.

Nixon did not receive Gromyko at the White House when the Russian came to the United States for the U.N. General Assembly last year. Rogers said the Soviet representative is the only one of the many foreign ministers now attending the U.N. fall session to be granted a special White House appointment because he represents the other superpower.

But the secretary said he attached "no specific importance" to the meeting. He said Gromyko had not specified any particular subjects he planned to discuss or indicated whether he was bringing Nixon a message from the Kremlin.

"There's no urgency," Rogers said. "I think he (Gromyko) just thinks the meeting will be useful. We've had two meetings which were useful."

"I think the conversation was useful," Gromyko told newsmen after the dinner at Rogers' hotel suite. The meeting lasted nearly three hours.

The Middle East—an item likely to come up when Gromyko visits the White House—and Berlin were the main topics discussed.

Basic differences remain, U.S. officials said, and they acknowledged that no compromise formula is in sight to break the deadlock blocking resunption of the indirect Arab-Israeli peace negotiations at the United Nations.

At the same time the U.S. officials gave a brighter picture of the Rogers-Gromyko soundings than they did last Friday, when they reported Gromyko stood fast by Kremlin policy on major issues.

Stewardesses Strike TWA

WASHINGTON (AP) — Striking stewardesses manned picket lines at major American airports today as federal mediators arranged another meeting between Trans World Airlines and the Transportation Workers Union in a renewed bid to settle a contract dispute.

A minute after midnight EDT, stewardesses and pursers began walking off the job at key airports across the nation in a strike grounding TWA's domestic service about 425 flights daily. TWA had said it would seek to continue most international flights.

Neither side would discuss details of wage demands or offers. The dispute also is said to involve work rules and fringe benefits.

Federal mediator Francis A. O'Neill said after extended talks Monday night that an impasse had been reached in efforts to agree on a new contract to replace the three-year pact which expired Aug. 1, 1969. He promptly scheduled another session for today.

TWA said it employs 5,095 hostesses and 281 pursers—who head cabin crews on long-distance flights.

Voicing regret that an agreement could not be reached Monday, TWA President F. C. Wiser Jr. said he hoped "we can reach an early settlement of the dispute."

A union spokesman has said three months of mediation failed to resolve the dispute and members had been waiting for management to make an offer bringing the wages, hours, benefits and working conditions up to standards the union had set on other major airlines.

Reports Made To Heart Association

The Scurry County Heart Association Board heard reports on several activities at its meeting at noon Monday at the Steak House.

Mrs. R. B. Pierce, education chairman, reported that the association's booth at the Scurry County Fair attracted 2,500 visitors and that 3,000 pieces of literature were distributed. Also, 582 persons had their blood pressures checked at the hypertension clinic operated at the fair booth by the Heart Association. Eighty-seven of these were found to be prone to high blood pressure.

Dr. R. B. Pierce reported on the Coronary Care Seminar held Oct. 15 at the Scurry County Coliseum. He said 180 persons attended and lecturers included five doctors and one nurse.

Mrs. Lanny Wadleigh, R. N., president of the local Heart Association, expressed appreciation to the Cogdell Memorial Hospital Auxiliary for its help at the seminar.

Tentative plans for a heart screening of school children in the first through fourth grades to be held on Jan. 7-8 was reported.

Gleima Jones, campaign chairman, announced that a workshop will be held Oct. 29 at Abilene and the local association may send six members.

David Watson showed a film, "Why A Heart Association?"

Mrs. Wadleigh reported on a workshop she attended in Dallas. Darrell Royal is the state chairman of the Heart Association this year, and the local association will have a goal of $2,277 in the campaign for funds.

It was announced that a Memorials chairman will be appointed soon and that each bank will be asked to name an employe to handle memorial contributions to the association.

Mitchell Pointed Out

FT. HOOD, Tex. (AP) — A third former soldier pointed his finger at S. Sgt. David Mitchell and identified him today as the man he saw pour automatic rifle fire into a ditch crowded with South Vietnamese civilians in 1968.

Gregory Olsen, a student and part-time grocery employe from Portland, Ore., testified as have two others that he saw Mitchell shoot into the ditch at My Lai, where there were up to 24 South Vietnamese, only a few of them still alive.

Olsen, a machinegunner on the day of the alleged assault, said he crossed the ditch and observed "12 to two dozen" Vietnamese there.

"They appeared to be mostly women and children. Most appeared to be shot. Most appeared to be dead. But some were alive. They looked at me and followed me with their eyes."

Olsen said he saw Sgt. Mitchell "walk over to the ditch ... He raised his M16 rifle in a firing position, against his shoulder, and at that time I heard M16 shots."

Olsen said the muzzle of Mitchell's rifle was pointed into the ditch and that he heard 10 to 12 shots fired semi-automatically.

Two other solders testified Monday they saw Mitchell fire into the ditch from two sides.

Episcopalians OK Study

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Episcopal representatives agreed today to launch a grass-roots study of a plan for unifying their church and eight other major American denominations.

Approval of the process for getting rank and file church members acquainted with the plan was voted at the governing convention of the 3.4 million member Episcopal body. The study will last at least two years.

The action, approved without debate, did not imply "approval of the plan in its present form" but was aimed at evoking wide responses and criticisms for refining the plan which may ultimately result.

Such a plan then would be expected to go before governing bodies of the nine denominations by the mid-1970s for ratification.

It now has been accepted for general study by six of the participating churches. Altogether the nine have about 25 million members.

Besides the Episcopal church, the denominations include the United Presbyterian Church, the United Methodist Church, the Christian Church (Disciples), the United Church of Christ, the Presbyterian Church U. S. (Southern), the African Methodist Episcopal Church, the African Episcopal Zion Church, and the Christian Methodist Episcopal Church.

The convention also approved new procedures for recognizing priests employed in secular professions as part of a new kind of non-salaried ministry.

The church, caught in a financial crunch, is considering moving its national offices out of its stately, 11-story building in New York City.

Forty million people pitch tents or park trailers at the 500,000 campsites in the United States every year, the National Geographic Society reports.

The meeting closed on a serious thought as 4-H'ers Shana Holmesly and Sarah Gallegos led the group in the 4-H club prayer.

Scientist Compares Humans With Animals

THE SOCIAL CONTRACT. By Robert Ardrey. Atheneum. $10.

Ardrey's "African Genesis" of 10 years ago and his more recent "The Territorial Imperative" caused considerable wing-flapping and lid-flipping among scientists. This third book in the series presumably will magnify that commotion.

The author classifies himself as a science observer. That is, he is not a professional scientist, and having no professional status to guard, he is free to fling out ideas in all directions.

His principal interest is in evolution, and he believes that man, being an animal, still is guided by inherited animal patterns. He cuffs around cultural anthropologists, behaviorist psychologists and environmental sociologists, declaring they engage in a conspiracy of silence to preserve scientific infallibility, and utterly ignore evolution and population genetics.

Ardrey's basic premise is that "In any sexually reproducing species, equality of individuals is a natural impossibility," and he gripes that since the 18th century all our thinking has been muddled by a political myth of equality.

Stated in another way, his argument is that social man is descended from social animals, and that the just society "is one in which sufficient order protects members, whatever their diverse endowments, and sufficient disorder provides every individual with full opportunity to develop his genetic endowment."

So his book is a "personal inquiry into the evolutionary sources of order and disorder," as his subtitle states. That brings up the subject of aggression. He makes a careful distinction between aggressiveness (good) and violence (bad), declaring that aggressiveness is a natural striving for advancement toward three innate (genetically inherited) human needs in ascending order, security, stimulation and identity.

Only in recent times, says Ardrey, has man reached the point where individuality, the hope of democracy—may develop out of the "sufficient disorders" of the society of unequals.

He makes controversial comments on population control, urban crowding and worldwide youth rebellion, and declares that if man finds nuclear warfare intolerable he will turn his attention inward to civil disorders—rioting by all races, ages and social groups.

The author makes his points by citing hundreds of research projects in dozens of scientific fields, which involve some technical terms. This keeps the reader on his toes. There is no leisurely way to absorb what he says, but fortunately he writes coherently for the layman.

Rousseau's social contract, he says, was an agreement "between fallen angels," seeking the impossible, "while mine is one between risen apes."

Club Women Attend Workshop At Baird

Over 130 club women from Mesquite District Texas Federation Woman's Club, attended a workshop at Baird High School Saturday to complete programming for the year, and to assumulate plans for reporting to General Federation at Washington D. C.

Registeration was held from 8:30 to 9:30 a.m. The welcome address was given by Major Lynn Ault of Baird.

The musical program for the luncheon was rendered by Marven Sapough of Abilene, who was given a standing ovation for his rendition of "This is My Country" and "How Great Thou Art."

J. P. Shanks, County Judge of Shackelford County was guest speaker for the luncheon. He chose for his subject "Law and Order."

Judge Shanks said in part, "What do we mean by law and order and who is responsible for maintaining law and order? Some point to the youth of today as the major violators, seldom mentioning the adult populations as such." He stated that today's troubled world in many instances could be attributed to politics.

Going back in history for proof the speaker began with President Eisenhower sending the National Guard into Little Rock, Arkansas to desegregate the High School. Governor Faubus refused to obey the law and remained governor of Arkansas for many years. Two years later in Macon, Georgia a restaurant owner used a base ball bat to drive negroes from his establishment. That man is Governor Lester Maddox, Governor of Mississippi today. Even the vice-president his vocabulary for political gains.

We must never place all the blame upon our youth for disobedience of the law. Many adult citizens disobey the laws each day by speeding on the highways, income tax evasion, and partaking of a friendly beer and driving his car.

The Judge ended his presentation by stating, "law and order begins in the home. When all the citizens of the United States, both adult and young people, obey the laws of the land; order will fall in place."

Snyder was selected as the site of the next workshop which will be held in mid Oct.

Those attending from this area were Mmes. Ben Thorp, Wayne Boren, Wraymond Sims, and Travis Rhoades.

A Candid Biography Of Dorothy Parker

YOU MIGHT AS WELL LIVE: The Life and Times of Dorothy Parker. By John Keats. Simon & Schuster. $7.50.

The talented but troubled Dorothy Parker, poet and pioneer in the modern short story, is given a candid but essentially sympathetic treatment in this biography.

In some passages Keats has had to reconstruct and interpret the available facts, from conflictg sources, about this many-faceted woman.

There are three main currents in the narratice.

First is the dismal childhood, the lonely growing up period, the struggle to become independent.

Next there is the exuberance of the 1920's, when Mrs. Parker became a popular celebrity, noted for her wit; she was always a member of the current New York "in group" of such circles as the Algonquin Round Table and its successors.

Finally there is the long downhill trend, covering the many years in Hollywood, where she wrote pap for the films, and her descent into povrty and the disintegration of her once glittering life.

Keats finds his subject a worthy minor poet and one of the originators of th "slice of life" technique in story writing—though in the latter she was overshadowed by Ernest Hemingway.

As a person, Keats portrays her—through her marriages and love affairs—as a woman who wanted desperately to be loved, but fearfully kept holding back in her relationships with other people.

The author has written clearly about the contradictions inherent in a personality who moved with sardonic humor through the glamor of sophisticated city life and at the same time had a pathetic but hopeless dream of home and family life; a bright intellectual who could be alternately fey and tough. Keats' biography brings understanding to the life story of an unusual woman.

Weiner Ways

Weiners are a handy meat to have on hand. Kept in the freezer until needed, they thaw quickly and cook in minutes. Steamed in water or beer to just browned, they are a delicious and waste-free meat item. Score frankfurters and pose them atop hot sauerkraut for a hearty meal. Or for a winner, spoon canned chili over steamed weiners on fresh buns.

Facts Concern Crimps Style Of Promoters

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — A crimp is being put in the style of many publicists, public relations men, promoters, advertisers and other image makers by increasingly strict government concern with the facts.

Facts are what these men work with, of course, but suspicions have been aroused in consumer minds and the regulatory world that facts, like statistics, can be made to create illusions.

The Federal Trade Commission, for example, became incensed a year ago by advertisements that claimed tires were safely tested at speeds in excess of 100 miles an hour, which was factually true.

What the ads left unsaid was that the tests were performed under test conditions, not the conditions under which any purchaser would normally drive. And though the tire might not rupture, would it remain attached to the rim?

Pressed to produce the most favorable image for their products, publicists are sometimes forced to stretch their imaginations, which is to say they stretch the definition of truth as well.

It wasn't unknown, and still may not be, for an automotive advertisement to depict a sleek, handsome vehicle with all the extras adorning it, but list in large letters the price of the stripped model, and in tiny letters the details.

Outright lies became common during the 1960s in another area of corporate life. Mergers grew increasingly common, and so did the phrase: "We are not negotiating with any company at the present time."

Almost as commonly, this denial was followed by a statement that ABC Corp. had concluded merger arrangements with XYZ Corp. A lie? Of course, but in the view of the principals, an understandable and even necessary lie.

Their argument was that a premature disclosure of negotiations might destroy the talks altogether and might also cause price fluctuations in the shares of the companies involved.

With the Securities and Exchange Commission eyeing such statements closely, especially since the fortunes of thousands of stockholders are usually involved, publicists today are becoming more legalistic, less creative.

Some observers maintain that as a result, the public relations craft is becoming more professional and more credible—that it has learned to deal with an intelligent public that expects the truth and can spot anything less.

Opera Singer To Wed Executive

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Opera and nightclub star Marguerite Piazza of Memphis will marry San Francisco executive F. H. "Harry" Bergtholdt on Nov. 8.

The marriage will be the second for the singer, who is the widow of millionaire William J. Condon of the Conwood Corp. Bergtholdt is president of Distribution Systems, Inc.

An announcement Monday said Miss Piazza, who overcame lengthy hospitalization for cancer, will be married two days after she is to be installed as 1971 national chairman of the American Cancer Society.

Pope Quotes From Writer

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI has quoted from a work by Alexander Solzhenitsyn, Nobel Prize winner for literature who has been denounced by Communist authorities in his native Soviet Union.

The Pope used the citation, seen as a possible indication of indirect support for Solzhenitsyn, in an address Monday to a group of Italian doctors.

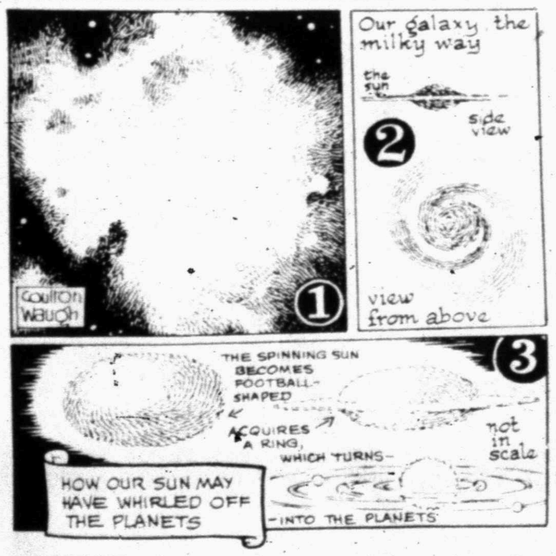

The quotation, from "Cancer Ward," reads: "The family doctor was the most intimate of figures, but they have eradicated him. The family doctor is the person without whom, in a developed society, the family cannot exist ... But how many adults today debate mutely, not knowing where to find a doctor and a soul to whom they can express their most secret fears ..."

Junior Editors Quiz on PLANETS

QUESTION: How were the stars and planets formed?

* * *

ANSWER: The story of how God created the universe, including the stars, is told in the Bible, in the first chapter of Genesis. Many Christians require no other explanation. Others accept the Bible story and the conclusions of scientists as well. The scientists do not claim to present ultimate, final facts, but simply the results of their observations and the theories which have resulted from them. Our picture shows a view widely held by astronomers in recent years. They think that space contains huge masses of gas and dust, such as shown in the telescopic view of the orion Nebula in (1). Such masses may start revolving, often assuming spiral shapes, similar to that of our own galaxy, the Milky Way (2). Dense masses of material inside such a gas cloud may be pressed together and assume rounded form, getting so hot they start to burn by atomic fusion, their hydrogen turning to helium and giving out enormous light and energy. These become the stars or suns. Drawing (3) shows how our sun, spinning around, may have thrown off material which became the planets. Since these have cooled, they shine only by the reflected light of the sun.

Quizz To Check Up On Mind

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Now is a good time to check up on your mind as well as the condition of your car.

Maybe you've stripped the gears on both without noticing it.

Since half the people you meet seem to be getting balmier and balmier, how about yourself? Are the bats whirring in your own belfrey?

Well, here's an easy way to find out. Simply ask yourself the following questions:

If someone asked you to sign a petition to give government tax relief to a huge corporation because of its many fine services to the public, would you tell him to go stick his head in a barrel?

When a waiter suggests a specialty that isn't on the menu, do you automatically suspect he's trying to palm off something the chef is stuck with?

How about our teen-agers? Aren't most of them too lippy and too hippie?

What about marriage? If you had it to do over again, wouldn't you wait another five years so you could sow a few more wild oats?

Is it your conviction that most of the women in the women's liberation movement are frustrated old maids who don't like men anyway?

Have you read this year a book so sexy that you wouldn't feel free to leave it lying around where your kids might find it? It was trashy and not worth a man's time, too, wasn't it?

When a bank teller gives you a bill larger than a $10, do you scrutinize it to be sure he isn't trying to give you some counterfeit money he got caught with himself?

Are you overwhelmed by the speed with which things are changing today? Don't you wish some things would stay the way they were?

The mirror tells you that you are getting older but, thank heaven, you don't look like you're simply falling apart the way some of your friends do—true?

Wouldn't the best possible solution for noise pollution be for everyone to keep his own yap shut two hours more every day?

Those are the questions. Now let's see your box score:

If you answered "no" to more than two, you may be in a dangerous state of euphoria. Watch yourself.

If you answered "yes" to each question, you have a perfect score. You have just the right amount of protective paranoia to keep yourself from being made a fool of by the mentally questionable characters you probably are surrounded by.

Notre Dame Wants To Play Buckeyes

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

That old bowl magic's got Ara Parseghian in its spell.

"The bowl games might very well decide the national champion again this year," says Parseghian, who obviously puts his Notre Dame team in the picture with Ohio State and Texas.

And why not? Notre Dame is No. 3 again this week behind front-running Ohio State and No. 2 Texas in The Associated Press' college football poll.

Parseghian wouldn't mind clearing up some of the poll business earlier by playing Ohio State in regular season—but the Buckeyes won't have any part of it.

"We've tried to add Ohio State to our schedule," Parseghian told The Associated Press Monday night. "But they've refused."

Coach Woody Hayes of the Buckeyes reached by telephone later, admitted: "I have not been interested in adding Notre Dame to the schedule."

Ohio State continued to lead the rankings with 668 points from a panel of sports writers and broadcasters throughout the country. Texas had 630 points and Notre Dame 585.

Rounding out the Top Ten were Nebraska; Michigan; Auburn; Air Force; Stanford; Arkansas and Southern California.

Parseghian obviously wants that No. 1 ranking.

He believes in Poll Power.

"The polls are great, they give you the relative strength of the teams around the country," he says, putting down those who say polls are not the true measure of a team's worth.

"We all recognize that on any given Saturday anything can happen. No. 1 can lose to No. 19—it's part of the game. But it doesn't mean polls are not accurate."

Three Share Lead In District 3-AAA

After five weeks of competition, Lamesa and Brownfield are the only undefeated, untied teams in District 3-AAA. Both teams share the district lead with Estacado.

Estacado and Sweetwater both have 3-2 records for the season, but the Matadors are 2-0 in district play while the Mustangs are 1-1. Tied with Sweetwater for second place with a 1-1 record is the Colorado City Wolves.

Four teams are 1-4 for the year: Colorado City, Snyder, Lake View and Dunbar. But Snyder, Lake View and Dunbar are winless in district play after two contests.

More exciting activity is on tap this week with Snyder visiting Dunbar, Lamesa hosting Colorado City, Sweetwater going to Brownfield and Lake View at home against Estacado.

Two Fights Are Slated

NEW YORK (AP) — Two fights for the price of one—that's the double-barreled attraction being served up jointly in Detroit and New York on Wednesday, Nov. 18.

Joe Frazier will defend his world heavyweight championship that night in Detroit's Cobo Hall against light heavyweight champ Bob Foster. An hour before Frazier and Foster go at each other, two heavyweight contenders—undefeated George Foreman and sluger Boone Kirkman—will meet in New York's Madison Square Garden.

Through a unique electronic arrangement set up by TNT Communications, the Foreman-Kirkman fight will be beamed into Cobo Hall and shown on a giant four-sided screen as a prelim to the championship fight. Similarly, New York fans will get a televised look at the Frazier-Foster scrap after watching Kirkman and Foreman battle in the flesh.

The televised twin-bill will also be shown in theaters throughout the United States, Canada, Mexico and South America and will give fight fans a look at four of the top heavyweight fighters around, all in the same night.

Booster Club Meeting Set

The Tiger Booster Club will meet at 7:30 p.m. today in the high school cafeteria. Films of last week's game with Brownfield will be shown and a scouting report of Dunbar—this week's opponent—will be given.

Allison Creeps Up In Races

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Bobby Allison crept to within 81 points of leader Bobby Isaac in the Grand National driving championship over the weekend while Tiny Lund of Cross, S.C., nailed down his second NASCAR Grand American division championship.

Allison finished second to Richard Petty Sunday in the Old Dominion 500 at the Martinsville, Va., Speedway. Isaac finished fourth. The race gave Isaac a season total of 3,653 points and Allison 3,572. Both men drive Dodges.

Joe Namath Has Fractured Wrist

NEW YORK (AP) — Joe Namath is in pain .. and the New York Jets are hurting.

The Jets' star quarterback, one of their few offensive threats this season, was nursing a broken bone in his right wrist today and will probably miss this Sunday's National Football League game with Buffalo.

Namath, despite the injury suffered in Sunday's game with Baltimore, was optimistic.

"We'll wait until the doctor sees it—maybe there's some type of cast they can put on it and I can play this week," said the floppy-haired Jets' gem.

But Coach Weeb Ewbank appeared more realistic.

"It just shows what type of competitor Joe is," said Ewbank, indicating there was little chance the right-hand throwing Namath would play.

Ewbank, in fact, said the Jets will call up a quarterback from the taxi squad, Bob Davis. Formerly with the New York Giants and Houston Oilers, Davis had been playing with the Jersey Jays of the Atlantic Coast Football League.

With Namath out Sunday, the starting assignment would probably fall to second-year quarterback Al Woodall.

Hoosiers Show ABA Firepower

By MIKE HARRIS
Associated Press Sports Writer

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The Indiana Pacers are showing their firepower but coach Bob Leonard says it is much too early to be calling the Hoosier team a shoo-in for a repeat American Basketball Association title.

The Pacers, led by veteran Mel Daniels' 31 points, roared to their fourth victory of the season without defeat Monday night in the only professional basketball game scheduled in either major league.

The 123-97 triumph over the tenacious Floridians followed the pattern of the first three victories of the Pacers opening home stand.

All 12 Indiana players got into the game as the Pacers started slowly in the first quarter, took control in the second quarter and put the game away in the third quarter.

The final period in each of the four games has been only a formality and an opportunity for the Pacers' bench-sitters to get some extra floor time.

Trading Begins

NEW YORK (AP) — Baseball teams, hoping to land that player who'll put them in the winner's circle, begin wheeling and dealingtoday as the interleague trading period begins.

A flurry of intra-league trading activity before and during the World Series indicated more to come in the trading period between the American and National leagues ending Dec. 15.

Among names mentioned in possible trades are Frank Robinson, the Baltimore Orioles' fence-breaking outfielder; Pittsburgh's outfielder Matty Alou, Orlando Cepeda, Atlanta's much-traveled slugger and hard-hitting catcher Tim McCarver of Philadelphia.

Richie Allen, Denny McClain and Tony Conigliaro have already changed uniforms and the services of controversial Curt Flood are being bid for by the Washington Senators.

Rules For Fight Adopted

ATLANTA (AP) — The New York rounds will be used for the 5-round fight between former heavyweight champion Muhammad Ali and Jerry Quarry here next Monday night.

Both fighters agreed Monday to that scoring system, using the 10-point must provision only in the event of a draw.

Still to be determined, however, is whether championship rules allowing unlimited knockdowns will be used or whether the fight will be stopped in the event of three knockdowns in one round.

First Lady Of Racing Dies

NEW YORK (AP) — The racing world mourned today the passing of Mrs. Henry Carnegie Phipps, the first lady of the American turf.

Mrs. Phipps, the matriarch of the Phipps family, one of the most prestigious in thoroughbred racing, died Monday at her home in Roslyn on Long Island. She was 87.

Yankee Skipper Is Manager Of Year

POMPANO BEACH, Fla. (AP) —Yankee skipper Ralph Houk was stunned momentarily at being named American League Manager of the Year and then hinted New York just might win it all in 1971.

"If I didn't figure we had a chance," said Houk, "I wouldn't ever put on a uniform."

Baltimore overwhelmed the AL's Eastern Division in 1970 and skipped away with the World Series. Despite the Oriole accomplishments, Earl Weaver failed again to be named the No. 1 manager.

"I assumed it would be Earl," Houk said. "Baltimore won everything in sight. But, if the Yankees deserve the honor, it should go to the ballplayers and not me."

Houk took a floundering expowerhouse and finished second by winning 93 games. The former army major believes only a slight improvement might shove aside the "Big Bird Machine."

"I believe that winning 100 games might do it next year," he said, "because Detroit will be a lot better, Boston will improve and Cleveland has got to get better with the young talent the Indians have."

Houk received 118 votes to Weaver's 73 in a nationwide Associated Press poll of sports writers and broadcasters. Bill Rigney of the Western Division champion Minnesota Twins received 59, Lefty Phillips of the California Angels got 32, Milwaukee's Dave Bristol got three and Washington's Ted Williams two.

It was rookie skipper Williams who nudged Weaver for Manager of the Year honors in 1969 after Baltimore won the pennant and was socked by the New York Mets in the World Series.

Houk was readying his sleek fishing boat for the warm pleasures of a Florida winter when the news came by telephone.

"It's due to kids like Bill Munson, Johnny Ellis and a lot of experienced hands like Danny Cater, Bobby Murcer and Roy White," he said. "We've got a new thing going with the Yankees—not so much muscle, but a lot of fellows who can hit 15-20 homers for you."

Harahan Rolls 223 Average

GARDEN CITY, N.Y. (AP) — Tim Harahan averaged a shade over 223 pins in the 12 games he rolled Monday to take the lead after two rounds in the $75,000 national championship of the Professional Bowlers Association.

Another 12 games Tuesday will reduce the field to the 96 high scorers who will enter the quarter-finals. They'll shoot another 12-game block and at that time the case will be cut to the 24 semifinalists who start match-game play.

From that segment will come the five men who will battle it out on television next Saturday for the $7,500 first-place prize.

West German Horsemen Lead

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — West Germany has made it look easy in taking a commanding lead in the international jumping at the 25th Pennsylvania National Horse Show and their coach thinks they may get better.

Parkettes Dismissed

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — The city dismissed all seven of its parking meter maids Monday after alleged parking ticket irregularities, officials said.

Officials said the Parkettes were dismissed after a 10-day investigation.

Traffic Director Stewart Fischer said all but one of the women were accused of improperty voiding several parking tickets each.

Prothro Fires At Interference Rule

By DAN BERGER
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) UCLA football Coach Tommy Prothro doesn't like the way the college pass interference rule is being interpreted this year. As he sees it, "It's nearly impossible to play pass defense any more."

Prothro's team won a thriller from California 24-21 Saturday and two fourth-quarter key pass interference calls against the Golden Bears allowed Prothro's Bruins the life they needed. UCLA quarterback Dennis Dummit scored the go-ahead touchdown with four seconds to play.

"The game is out of control," Prothro said jokingly Monday, referring to his team's last four games, all won in the final seconds—and only two of them by the Bruins. Then he turned serious.

"The way I understand the pass interference rule, when the ball was in the air, everyman had a right to go for it. But the new interpretation says that if the defensive man bumps the offensive man in the act of trying to intercept, that's interference. It's getting so it's nearly impossible to play pass defense any more."

The NCAA Rulebook says: "Contact by any opponent which interferes with an eligible receiver—defensive players included—beyond the neutral zone is pass interference. However, players are not guilty of interference when making a simultaneous and bona fide effort to reach the ball."

The rule protects the defender from being charged with interference while trying for the ball but the NCAA rules committee issued a new interpretation this year. It calls for an interference penalty if the defender "plays through" or bumps the receiver, even if he is going for the ball.

Prothro said: "I've heard of a defensive man leaping up and intercepting the ball cleanly but when he landed back on the ground, he bumped the receiver and that is now ruled interference.

"It also means you can't hold up a receiver at the line of scrimmage with a brush block because that would be interference. I guess I'm like all old-timers: I'd like it the way it was when I was growing up."

Jim Stangeland, coach at Long Beach State, agreed with Prothro.

Craig Fertig, Southern California assistant coach and USC's all-time leading passing leader, said, "Yes, the defense is at a disadvantage. I wish I could have thrown with that interpretation in effect. It's a distinct advantage for the offense."

Travis 8th Grade Is Still Unbeaten

Travis 8th grade is the only local football team that is undefeated and untied after six weeks of competition.

The young Blue Devils have won four straight without a loss. Lamar 9th grade and Travis 9th have the next best records with 4-2 and 3-1-1 marks respectively. Lamar 8th also has won more than it has lost with a 3-2 record. The Junior varsity Kittens are even for the year at 3-3 while the varsity, with a 1-4 record, is the only local team that has lost more than it has won. Overall, local teams are 18-12-1 for the year.

Last week, local teams had a good time winning five of six contests. The only loser was the varsity when it dropped a heartbreaking 6-3 decision to Brownfield. Travis 9th whipped the Toros 28-14, Lamar 8th bested Runnels 8-0, Lamar 9th defeated the Brahmas 34-25, and Travis 8th whipped Goliad 20-6. The Kittens blanked Sweetwater 6-0.

Several more exciting games are on tap this week with the varsity visiting Lubbockfor a 7:30 p.m. Saturday clash with Dunbar. Travis 8th will be at Lamesa at 8 p.m. Thursday, and Travis 9th will be at Stamford at 7 p.m. on the same day. Lamar 9th hosts San Angelo Lee at 7:30 p.m. and the junior varsity Kittens host San Angelo, also at 7:30 p.m. Thursday.

The records:

Adversity Hits Dallas Cowboys

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — The Dallas Cowboys must be flinching today, waiting for the next blow to hit.

Sunday, the Cowboys suffered the worst defeat in their history, a 54-13 humiliation to the Minnesota Vikings and in the process, the Cowboys saw their first two quarterbacks, Craig Morton and Roger Staubach suffer crippling injuries.

Then Monday, another thunderbolt struck. Rookie free agent Cliff Harris, who had made it big for the Cowboys at free safety, was called to active duty with the Army Reserve and is gone for the season.

So the Cowboys are 3-2 for the season and trailing the NFL's Eastern Division by one game for the first time since 1965, they're out of a starting free safety and their top two quarterbacks are hobbled.

And all they have to look forward to this week is playing the world champion Kansas City Chiefs in Kansas City.

Coach Tom Landry said either Richmond Flowers, a second year man from Tennessee, or Charlie Waters would replace Harris this week. "We feel like we have two good young players back there," Landry said. "We have been working Waters at both safety positions."

The quarterbacking situation actually looked better Monday than it had at first been expected. Morton, who reinjured a bruised knee against the Vikings, was reported improved and is listed as a probable starter against the Chiefs Sunday.

But Staubach, the No. 2 quarterback, remained hospitalized Monday undergoing treatment for an infected elbow and is questionable for Sunday's game.

The loss of Harris left the Cowboys one player below the 40-man limit. With both quarterbacks injured, the Cowboys likely will activate taxi squad signal caller Bob Belden.

Scientists Discover Ancient Formula

By LISETTE BALOUNY
Associated Press Writer

CAIRO (AP) — Two young Egyptian physicists, with a lucky assist from an American archeological group, say they have discovered how ancient Egyptian craftsmen produced the distinctive blue compound which decorates the ancient temples and monuments and has resisted 4,000 years' wear and tear.

Even today the blues and reds and yellows of ancient Egypt, on stone or metal remain vivid.

Dr. Saleh A. Saleh, 37-year-old research director of the Egyptian Antiquity Department, says that he and Dr. Ali A. El Masry —both PH. D.'s in x-ray physics —worked over three years and spent more than two million dollars to "break the historic seal."

The formula, the doctors say, includes one molecule each of copper oxide and calcium oxide and four molecules of silicone oxide. The resulting compound is heated to 1,050 degrees centigrade, and then ground and mixed with egg yoke and gum.

This compound, Saleh says, resists temperatures as high as 1,700 degrees centigrade, and is insoluble in the most potent acids known to modern science.

Ancient Egyptians are known for their chemical know-how. To obtain many of their stable colors they used natural oxides, sulphates and carbonates mixed with various chemicals. But this was not the case, says Saleh, with the special Pharaohnic blue and green tints, since the azurite blue mineral was limited in the Egyptian territory. So the Egyptians improvised and manufactured a synthetic.

Egyptologists believe the ancients preferred the blue color because of their reverence for the sky. They considered the sky an impenetrable super-element, in direct contact with their god, the Sun. Therefore, the blue became a must in paintings, on their temples, luxurious tombs, pottery, and even clothes and dainty ornaments.

Saleh says that scientists the world over have long believed that unlocking the riddle of the blue would also unlock the ancients' secret for keeping colors vivid.

"We found the secret by pure chance," Saleh recounted.

In 1965 an American archeological expedition, while excavating the courtyard of a tomb in Luxor, stumbled upon a chunk of blue discs—the actual crystaline matter.

The crystaline defied analysis. After two years, intensive research was begun with the most modern x-ray equipment.

"But for a long time," says Dr. Saleh, "we were quite baffled. Finally, with the x-ray we cracked the riddle-structure."

The ancients obtained the stable color, Saleh explains, by trapping cooper oxide atoms in a ring of hydrogen, produced by the reaction of ions of the egg yolk and acid from the gum. Ironically, says Aleh, the Egyptians got their color by teaming advanced chemical knowledge and primitive logic.

Ancient Egyptians, he explains, were obsessed by a belief in the resurrection of their "Ka"—the undying double spirit. Hence, they took great pains to preserve the body, clothes and food of the deceased, whose spirit they believed was bound to return to its belongings in the burial chamber "someday."

Since they also believed that the "Ka" would be disturbed by any changes—in color or shape —of his belongings, the permanent color was essential.

It was this primitive logic and faith, says Dr. Saleh, which most likely led ancient Egyptians to embalm their dead, and paint their sarcophaguses and belongings with time-resisting colors.

K. A. BLENKARN

Local SPE Group To Hear Lecturer

K. A. Blenkarn, research associate with Pan American Petroleum Corp. in Tulsa, and a 1979-71 Distinguished Lecturer of the Society of Petroleum Engineers, will speak at a meeting of the Snyder Section of SPE on Wednesday, Oct. 21. Blenkarn, whose speech is titled "Coping with Nature Offshore," will be the speaker for the section meeting to be held at 6:30 p.m. at the Snyder Country Club.

In his speech, Blenkarn will discuss the various concepts used in the design of offshore platforms and structures and the relationship between the design of a structure and the expected wave heights and wave forces. In addition to covering design criteria, Blenkarn will also present the historical evolution of various offshore structures such as fixed platforms, drilling barges, semisubmersibles and others specifically designed for offshore drilling.

Blenkarn has been with Pan American since 1954 and has held the positions of staff engineer and senior research engineer. He is a graduate of Rice U. and holds BS, MS and PhD degrees in mechanical engineering. Blenkarn is one of seven SPE Distinguished Lecturers who are appearing before the Society's local sections this year.

It is a constituent society of the 48,000-member American Institute of Mining, Metallurgical, and Petroleum Engineers (AIME). TAX ANSWERS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

★ ★ ★

Q — I moved into a motel with my family for a few weeks while our home was being fixed up after a fire. Is it true the living expenses paid by our insurance for this period are not taxable?

A — Amounts you received for living expenses from your insurance company may be partially tax exempt under the Tax Reform Act of 1969. It provides that amounts received to offset an increase in your living costs as a result of the loss of use of your home need not be reported.

This provision covers situations where a taxpayer's home is damaged or destroyed by fire, flood, storm or other casualty, or he is denied access to his home by governmental authorities because a casualty occurred or may occur.

Q — My wife hired a cleaning woman last month. Where can I get information about the social security tax that has to be paid for this help?

A — Send a post card to your local IRS office and ask for a copy of Form 942, Employer's Quarterly Return for Household Employees. It has the information you will need to fill out the form.

The deadline for filing the return and paying taxes due for the July, August and September quarter is November 2.

Q — Are strike benefits taxable?

A — Yes, in most cases they are unless the facts show that they were intended as a gift. A gift would be indicated where the benefits are paid to nonunion as well as union workers, on the basis of need, in situations where unemployment and public assistance programs are not available.

Q — I bought a lot of raffle tickets that my church and the volunteer fire department were selling at the county fair. Can I add these to my other charitable contributions?

A — No, they are treated as gambling losses under Federal tax law. If you itemize deductions, losses may be deducted but only to the extent of winnings. This would reduce the tax due.

A car or other merchandise won in a raffle must be included in income as its fair market value.

Q — Where can I get help with my taxes? I just opened a business of my own.

A — Contact your local IRS office. They have a special publication "Mr. Businessman's Kit" designed especially for you. They will arrange to meet with you to present your kit and to explain your obligations under the tax laws.

Q — I just got a letter saying my 1968 return is being examined. How far can you go back?

A — IRS generally has three years from the date a return is due to assess additional taxes. However, under special circumstances the general rule may not apply. For example, in fraud cases there is no time limit.

Apollo Landing Sites Told

By PAUL RECER
AP Aerospace Writer

HOUSTON (AP) — Landing sites for the last two Apollo moon missions were revealed Monday night in a surprise announcement by a space agency official here.

Richard S. Johnson, director of bioengineering at the Manned Spacecraft Center, announced Apollo 16 will land at Descartes, an upland valley south of the moon's equator and Apollo 17 will land at Marius Hills, a rugged country far to the north and west.

Johnson made the announcement at the conclusion of a panel discussion by space officials at a meeting here of the American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics.

Descartes is a mountain valley between two craters. It is 8.55 degrees south of the equator and 15.34 degrees west.

Apollo 16 is scheduled for January, 1972. Apollo 17 is to be launched in the summer of 1972.

Johnson said Apollo 16 and Apollo 17 will leave experiments on the moon which will send data back to earth for months.

He said a series of explosions will be set off to excite seismometers left on the moon. Shock waves from the explosions will be recorded by the seismic devices and scientists hope this will provide data on the structure of the moon several thousand feet beneath the surface.

Watercolor Event Set

LUBBOCK — Rex Brandt, noted American artist, will be a guest lecturer-instructor for the West Texas Chapter of Southwestern Watercolor Society Oct. 23-25, announces May White Dyer, President.

A lecture-demonstration will be given at 7:30 p.m. Friday, Oct. 23, at the Municipal Garden and Arts Center, 4215 University Ave. A watercolor work-shop, limited to 35 students, will be held 9 a.m. to 12 noon and 1:30-4:30 p.m. on Oct. 24-25 at the Center.

All interested persons are invited to participate in the schedule of activities, Mrs. Dyer states. Fees for the lecture-demonstration will be $5 per person and $2.50 for students with identification cards. Twenty dollars will be charged for the two-day workshop and the lecture-demonstration. Persons wishing to attend one day of the workshop will pay $10.

Graham Discusses Politics

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — Evangelist Billy Graham says he can criticize politicians on moral and ethical issues and still remain "out of politics."

"I have a right to express myself," Graham told a news conference Monday.

Graham opens a five-day crusade here Wednesday.

The issue of political comment arose after Graham made a negative reference to Sen. George McGovern's support of a controversial presidential pornography commission report.

Graham said he feels he can speak out on such issues, but would not have alluded to the South Dakota Democrat by name if he had been up for reelection.

Graham said he could not understand how McGovern could support the commission report which recommended repeal of most antipornography laws for adults.

He said he cited only McGovern because he could not remember other senators who also endorsed the report.

Graham said any endorsement or implied endorsement of a candidate would constitute political involvement.

He parried questions about his close association with President Nixon by pointing out that he spent time with other presidents, including the past weekend with former President Lyndon B. Johnson.

Fraternities Told To Open Doors

DAVIDSON, N.C. (AP) — The Davidson College board of trustees has told the 12 chapters of nationally affiliated fraternities on the campus to open their doors to all applicants or leave university-owned houses.

Fraternity members have traditionally voted to admit applicants they consider the best among the incoming freshmen.

Davidson, a Presbyterian-supported liberal arts college of 1,000 students, is located about 15 miles north of Charlotte.

Nixon Plans Visits To Longview And Dallas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

While senatorial candidates in Texas were blasting away at each other, President Nixon announced Monday a second planned stop in Texas next week as part of his tour to help campaigning Republicans.

Nixon's aides said the President, who had already planned a visit to Dallas, will also stop at Longview. Gubernatorial candidate Paul Eggers said Nixon's trip is especially significant since he is personally campaigning for those Republican candidates he believes have a strong chance of winning."

In the senate race, Republican George Bush is squared off against Democrat Lloyd Bentsen, the man who voters brought in May 2 in the primary election which defeated incumbent U.S. Sen. Ralph Yarborough.

Should Bush win, and many observers say it will be a horse race to the finish—it would give Texas two Republican senators.

Nixon is due to arrive at the Gregg County Airport between Longview and Kilgore Wednesday for an "East Texas Rally." He will then fly to Dallas for the previously arranged night rally.

Bush said Monday that it's time to bring federal election laws "kicking and screaming into the 1970s." He said a bill now pending in Congress would correct what he called shortcomings of present laws and "eliminate any loopholes" now existing in campaign disclosure laws.

Meanwhile, Bentsen was in Lubbock telling voters that Republicans are attempting to "double talk away the mess they have made of the nation's economy." He said Nixon's trip and a recent visit by Vice President Agnew were merely attempts by the "Washington establishment to come down here and tell Texas how to vote."

"Even after the Republican Administration has been in power for nearly 22 months, my opponent tries to blame prices that keep going up and up on what he calls those 'big spenders in Congress.' 'The fact is,' Bentsen said, 'those 'big spenders in Congress' are spending approximately $40 million less this year than the President recommended.'"

Eggers, who opposes incumbent Gov. Preston Smith, said at Dallas it will "take careful budgeting while seeking methods of reducing wasteful spending" to cut down the high cost of state government.

Bush and Eggers will accompany the President on his trip from East Texas to Dallas.

Pediatricians Endorse Health Plan Study

By LEIF ERICKSON
Associated Press Writer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The executive board of an organization representing almost two-thirds of the nation's 18,000 pediatricians has endorsed a study calling for every American child to be included in a national health insurance program.

Dr. Carl C. Fisher of Philadelphia, who headed the two-year study for the American Academy of Pediatrics, announced the board's action Monday. Under present insurance programs, he said, "child health care is far too expensive for millions of families."

The 11,500-member academy, holding its annual convention here, also received a preliminary report Monday from its committee on insurance plans. It said "every infant, child and youth in the nation must be insured" to provide the greatest base and to protect low-income families.

The committee suggested "total or partial payment of health insurance by the government for those who cannot afford premiums," as determined by a national health insurance board. The board would supervise the plan through the insurance commissioners of each state.

The committee said a national insurance system would sharply increase care demand and probably increase costs.

It proposed that the system be established on a phased basis to avert overtaxing available medical manpower and facilities.

Transplants Don't Solve Heart Disease Problems

By PAUL RECER
Associated Press Writer

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Heart transplantation will never be the true solution to cardiac disease, a famed surgeon who has performed 12 transplants said here Monday night.

Dr. Michael DeBakey told members of the National Academy of Science here that heart transplantation has "too high a mortality and too low a survival rate to be generally acceptable."

"We were lucky to have two of 12 survive," he said of his patients. He noted that of those who died, the as yet unsolved problem of tissue rejection was the central cause.

Dr. DeBakey reviewed research he has conducted in the use of artificial heart pumps and mechanical heart assists and said that even if the mechanical problems are solved, man made heart pumps would still have a serious problem.

Parts of the blood are destroyed, he said, when it comes in contact with any but natural surfaces. The surface, or blood interface, or artificial pumps causes clotting and destroys blood elements.

"If we solve the other problems and can't solve the blood interface problem, we still won't have anything to replace the heart," he said.

A scarcity of donors is also a major drawback in heart transplantation becoming generally accepted, he said.

Heart transplant donors, he said, must be not older than 35 and must be killed in an accident in which "the coronary function is not affected."

"We kill a lot of people in this country," said Dr. DeBakey, "but only a few of them could be donors."

"The only true solution of heart disease," he said, "will come from knowledge of how to prevent it. This is the way we have solved our problems all through history by eliminating the cause—and this can be done with heart disease."

A great deal more research is required, he said, but instead of research increasing as it should, it is declining.

"I think it's unfortunate," said Dr. DeBakey, "that at this time we are decreasing our research. The federal government is funding 25 per cent less now than three years ago."

Miss Eisenhower, 18, is studying at the American College of Paris. Bradshaw, 29, was graduated from Oriel College, Oxford, and is the son of the British consul in Brussels, Frederick John Bradshaw.

The ambassador, son of the late President Dwight D. Eisenhower, and his wife announced Monday that the wedding will take place in Brussels next April.

More Units Deactivated

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command announced today that three more Army units totaling 520 troops are being deactivated. This is part of President Nixon's fifth round of cutbacks that will reduce American strength in Vietnam by 40,000, to an authorized ceiling of 344,000 by Dec. 31.

Air Turbulence Caused Explosion

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Air turbulence probably was the cause of what appeared to be a "small explosion" aboard a jet airliner carrying 90 persons over Arizona, Federal Aviation Administration officials say.

The Trans World Airlines Boeing 727 landed safely at International Airport Monday, and officials said a search of the rear section where the explosion-like noise was heard turned up no sign of a blast.

An FFA spokesman said the flight from St. Louis passed over an area of air turbulence in Arizona. While the plane was in flight, a TWA spokesman said it had been feared there might have been a small explosion in the baggage area.

Should pregnant women work?

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1970 by Chicago Tribune N. Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: MARYLOO wrote to you saying pregnant women have no business working in an office. She says they come late to work due to morning sickness, have to leave early for a doctor's appointment, can't reach the high files and can't bend down to get into the low files. Also that sympathetic co-workers do their work for them.

I happen to agree with her. The employe with integrity [man or woman] will give his employer a full day's work for a full day's pay. You, Dear Abby, defended the pregnant working girl, saying, "I'm sure she'd rather be home, but she continues to work because she has to."

Sorry, Abby, but in this day and age, no girl has to be pregnant unless she wants to. And if she is so stupid or careless as to find herself in that condition before she is financially able to quit her job, I have no sympathy for her.

MARRIED, CHILDLESS AND SMART

DEAR ABBY: In your valiant effort to defend the pregnant working girl, you said, "There is only one reason why a pregnant girl would go to an office and that's because she has to, so how about a little compassion sister?"

Well, I must be the exception because I worked right up to the bitter end—not because I "had" to, but because my doctor said it would be "good" for me. He said pregnancy is not an "illness," it is a normal condition, and the woman who sits around and treats herself as an invalid is apt to have all sorts of aches and pains.

I worked well into my ninth month. I gained only 14 pounds and never felt better in my life. One morning while taking dictation I thought someone had suddenly kicked me in the kidney. That was my first labor pain. Four hours later I was the mother of a healthy six pound baby boy.

So, please tell pregnant women that "work" is the best medicine I recommend it. BARBARA IN MARYLAND

DEAR ABBY: There is another reason why a pregnant woman might stay on the job in an office when she would rather be home. Her boss "needs" her.

My boss kept begging me to stay on "another week" and "another week" until I almost delivered my baby between the reception room and the switchboard. This is no lie. I had nearly 40 witnesses. JULIA IN MISSOULA

DEAR ABBY: I have been in charge of office personnel for almost 30 years, and I have some news for MARYLOO.

In every office you will find the "complainers" [men as well as women] who always have a headache, an upset stomach, a backache or a hangover. But when it comes to pregnant women, I have found them to be every bit as efficient during pregnancy as before and after.

MALE PERSONNEL MGR.

DEAR ABBY: I am 38, single and have done office work for many years. I sincerely hope your readers won't think MARYLOO's attitude toward pregnant women who work is typical. It's not.

I have worked with many pregnant women and not one of them has ever expected—or asked for any special concessions because of her condition. Also, it has been my observation that all their co-workers [including me] always offered to assist them in every way possible without being asked. LYNN, NYC

Nixon Dinner Boycott Talked

By WILLIAM N. OATIS
Associated Press Writer

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Some of the presidents and premiers invited to President Nixon's dinner Saturday night for the 25th anniversary of the U.N. General Assembly are talking about boycotting the White House affair. They charge that the President snubbed a delegation representing African and other nonaligned nations.

President Kenneth Kaunda of Zambia heads the delegation, which is touring major Western capitals trying to get support for Black Africa's campaign against the white minority governments in southern Africa. The other members of the mission are the foreign ministers of Algeria, Cameroon, Kenya and Mali.

Kaunda told a news conference at U.N. headquarters that before he left Africa, he was told Nixon would meet the mission in Washington on Oct. 20. But when he got to Rome, he said, he was told Nixon had changed the appointment to 9 a.m. Oct. 19, even though the American President "knew very well," Kaunda was speaking to the General Assembly that morning.

"I suppose he did not want to see our ugly faces," Kaunda told a meeting of Asian and African delegates Monday.

Nixon left Washington Monday on a two-day tour to aid Republican candidates in the November election.

An African official told a reporter African and other nonaligned governments sponsoring Kaunda's mission felt Nixon had rebuffed the group.

"Kaunda is mad, the Africans and nonaligneds are mad, and they are consulting about boycotting the dinner," the official said.

Nixon invited all the heads of state and chiefs of government attending the U.N. anniversary session to come to Washington for the White House dinner. About 45 such officials are on hand. Twenty-four of them are from nations sponsoring the Kaunda mission.

Firemen Are Distressed

GREENFIELD, Mass. (AP) — There was no cause for alarm in the fire department Friday, but firemen were distressed.

It began two weeks ago when a basketbal player at Greenfield Junior High School missed the backboard with a shot, and the ball hit a fire alarm box, setting it off. That brought out the fire department.

Firemen asked school officials to build a protective cage around the alarm box.

Friday, some students were playing with a heavier and larger medicine ball that went astray, hit the alarm box and cage, starting the alarm screeching, and bringing the fire department.

While the evacuated pupils returned to school, arrangements were made to move the alarm box.

Arsonists Blamed For Center Fire

BAY CITY, Mich. (AP) — Police blamed arsonists Monday for an early morning fire at a U.S. Army reserve training center that destroyed four trucks and a howitzer.

Police said someone apparently crawled over a fence surrounding the center's vehicle compound, removed gas tanks from parked trucks, then used the gas to burn the trucks and the howitzer.

Galveston Dedicates New Downtown Mall

By JOHN HOTARD
Associated Press Writer

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP) — This port city on the Gulf of Mexico dedicated Wednesday its new downtown mall, conceived and built by merchants.

The mall is two blocks east of a four-block stretch of Post-office street, the island's flourishing red-light district until 1957 when Texas Attorney General Will Wilson sent the gamblers cracking and the women packing.

The inevitable decay set in on the downtown buildings as it is doing in almost all cities across the country.

Then 3½ years ago, the merchants, bankers, property owners, professional men and industry leaders got together to breathe new life into it and save the heart of the city.

The result was the Galveston Central Area, Inc., an nonprofit, research, planning and developing corporation.

The first idea was for a two-block mall, but all the property owners and merchants on the second block didn't go along with the plan. The GCA went with the one block.

The organization is funded by membership dues and is headed by Executive Director Angus Jones Jr., who, with his secretary, are the only paid employes. Other services are contracted.

It's Smith's job to get the merchants together, present proposals, offer suggestions and keep the project moving.

The GCA first petitioned the Galveston City Council to have the street closed. The city picked up the tab for tearing up the street and installing a storm sewer.

The GCA put up $44,000 of the $75,000 the project cost. The city's share was about $31,000 and $12,500 of that was from a federal grant.

The 11 merchants on the mall paid $90 an abutting front foot for the construction and landscaping.

The long months of planning and organizing began to take shape. Trees and grass were planted. Fountains sprang up, sending their waterfalls gurgling down babbling brooks. Lighting was installed, sidewalks put in and suddenly a drab, dreary section of town took a new look.

Now the second phase of the project is underway to have each store put up facades that will be aesthetically complimentary.

The concept of converting a section of a major downtown thoroughfare into a mall is only about 20 years, Smith said.

Galveston is the first city in Texas to convert a downtown street into a mall with no traffic allowed. Waco is now converting a three-block area under an urban renewal program.

By being an example of what can be accomplished, the mall is encouraging other merchants to take a second look at their businesses.

The idea is not to build more malls, Smith said, but to get the shop owners to improve the looks of downtown.

Comments have been favorable from shoppers so far, said Andy Monsour, president of Eiband's Department Store, which fronts almost half of one side of the mall.

"I was a dreamer at the time when they first planned it five years ago," he said. "Generally speaking, Galvestonians are not farsighted. Being able to get a block of merchants together is an achievement in itself."

The main problem now is with traffic and parking, Smith said. The GCA, however has stimulater a need for a tariff pattern, he added.

The major unanswered question is: Will the shopper be willing to go downtown, hunt for a place to park and then walk to the mall to shop?

Smith and the merchants such as Monsour are confident they will and that the Galveston central area will go on to other projects, revitalizing a city's heart.

Kunstler Speaks To Students

KENT, Ohio (AP) — Greeting 1,000 applauding students with a clenched fist above his head, attorney William Kunstler has urged them to band together to help 25 persons indicted in connection with violence at Kent State University.

Kunstler told the off-campus gathering Monday night that he intends to coordinate a common defense for as many of the 25 who wish it. They were indicted secretly by a special state grand jury on charges stemming from campus violence that surrounded the deaths of four students and the wounding of nine others May 4 in a confrontation with Ohio National Guardsmen.

Four persons, including Kent student body President Craig Morgan and an associate professor, were served with indictments Monday.

Kunstler, a defense attorney in the Chicago seven riot trial, told the gathering Monday night, "The law is utilized by those in power to force those not in power to conform."

He noted that Christ was crucified, Socrates was banished to jail and millions of Jews were condemned to death on legal orders.

Twenty-nine persons were missing.

Typhoon Joan hit the central Philippines last Tuesday and reportedly killed more than 620 persons.

SAY OPPONENTS

No Knock Will Abuse Rights

By MARK BROWN
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — One of the most formidable tools in the Nixon administration's new law and order package is known as no knock, a police power civil libertarians say is unconstitutional.

In essence, no knock allows a policeman to enter premises without announcing himself when evidence may be destroyed quickly, when he may be endangered by identifying himself or when announcing himself would be a useless gesture."

In most cases, a policeman would need a court-issued warrant before making a no knock raid; in a few instances he could act on his own initiative and justify it later.

The provision is contained in the District of Columbia crime bill that goes into effect next February and the drug abuse bill passed by Congress earlier this month but not yet signed by President Nixon.

Opponents of no knock contend that even restrained use would violate the Fourth Amendment protections against invasion of privacy and unreasonable search and seizure. The critics also say abuse could lead to repression of blacks and antiestablishment whites.

But the administration, talking through Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell, insists the bills contain adequate safeguards against abuse and that no knock is already legal in some 30 states either by statute or court decisions.

Under the District of Columbia law, officers would be required to show probable cause that a crime was being committed to obtain a no knock warrant; they also must show probable cause that announcing their presence would result in destruction of evidence or danger to themselves or a hostage.

A third situation justifying no knock entry under the bills is one in which warning would be useless: One example is the approach to an open door.

No knock proponents say the tool will most frequently be used in narcotics and gambling raids, when evidence might quickly be destroyed.

LBJ Sells Bank At Johnson City

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP)— Former President Lyndon B. Johnson has sold the Johnson City Bank, he announced Monday.

The bank, with deposits of $3.5 million and total capitalization in excess of $900,000 was sold to Bill Noble, president of the American Bank of Commerce at Victoria. No price was announced.

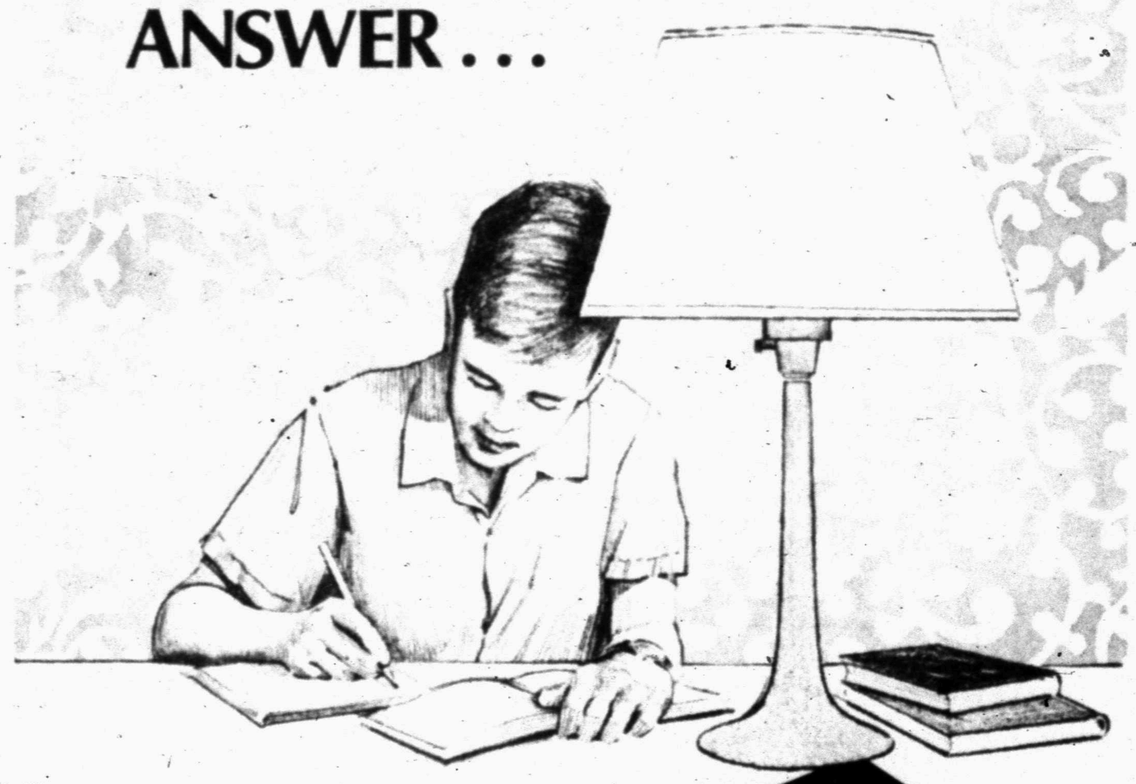

In making the sale of the bank Johnson said, "I care a great deal about this area in which I was born and raised, and where I live. I have given considerable thought to the purchaser of this bank, which means so much to the people in this area, and we were fortunate to find Bill Noble."

Noble said he bought the bank as a long range investment.

Strict flag etiquette provides that the only occasion the Stars and Stripes legally can be burned, is when the flag is tattered and worn-out. In that case, the flags are supposed to be taken apart, the blue field and stripes burned separately and the ashes then buried.
