

Nursing Care Center Plans Open House Sunday

The open house of Cisco Nursing Care Center, 1404 Front St. will be held from 2 to 4 p.m. with a dedication service by Cecil Deadman, pastor of East Cisco Baptist Church and entertainment by "The Promise Kids."

Plans for this event were made by the Cisco Nursing Care Center Volunteer Council under the leadership of President Christine Reich with Vena Hart as co-chairman.

Cisco Nursing Care Center was purchased in July 1982 by Larry Clauch and Bill Colson, Christian men from Salem, Oregon who believe in good patient care. Since the time of purchase the Care Center has been undergoing a remodeling program. One of the new features of which the staff and the residents are the proudest is "the Bather". This piece of equipment is so designed that every resident can be transferred into it. It is a whirlpool, bath tub, shower and sitz bath, etc.

The flowers in the patio area were planted by Neal Moore and The Cisco Garden Club. Some of our residents have helped water and care for these flowers. We are proud of the community involvement with the Care Center.

The resident who has been at the Care Center longer than anyone else is Gertrude Lucas. She has been here since October, 1967.

Those now working in administration are Ruth Brewster, Administrator, and Tommie Harris, secretary-bookkeeper.

Other employees are: Dietary - Muriel Duncan, Food Service Supervisor, Mae Bisbee, Laveta Cummins, Neoma Ingram, Betty Webb, Inez Lee, Andrea Finger, Carol Strickland, Claudine Wilcoxen.

Nursing - Nova George, LVN, DON; Louise Hogue, LVN; Susie Chrisman, LVN; Peggy Squires, LVN; Mary Lou Campbell, LVN; Drucilla Blanding, LVN; Kimberly Breeden, LVN.

Dedication Service Set Monday

A DEDICATION SERVICE will be held Monday night, July 9, at 7:30 p.m., in First

HALL OF REMARKS

BY HERBELL HALLMARK

THE FOURTH of July activities at Cisco City Park were enjoyed by a large group of people during the day and into the evening.

After dark, the fireworks were enjoyed by everyone and they seemed to be even better than last year.

A SET OF keys were turned into our office this week and they may be claimed by calling 442-2244 and identifying the same. The keys were found in the 100 block of East 6th close to Reynolds Manufacturing on Monday or Tuesday.

I UNDERSTAND that a couple in Cisco celebrated their 7th wedding anniversary Saturday. Their marriage was held 7-7-77 and their parents thought it was unique with all the sevens involved.

The couple is C.P. and Liz Ingram Jr. of Cisco.

A NEW FISH expert has been found out about in Cisco and her name is Tammie Clement. 8-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Royce Clement. Tammie caught her first fish last Wednesday on July 4th and it weighed two pounds.

Tammie's brother, Justin, 5-years old, also caught some fish but his were thrown back because they were too small. Tournament fishers better watch out for these two in the future.

TARANTULA BUSTER Allen Morris of Lubbock

CISCO KID CAR WASH 3rd St. and Ave. E. Where Most People Wash. Wash your venetian blinds, throw rugs, motor, c-52 came to Cisco this week hunting for the tarantulas which were reported about in this column a few issues back. Allen is my wife's brother and the son of Mr. and Mrs. E.G. Morris of Cisco.

Allen and his wife, Donna, and daughter, Vanessa, were in Cisco on the 4th of July for vacation. While visiting here, they also went to Six Flag Over Texas in Arlington and other entertainment facilities in the area.

A REMODELING project is going on at Lake Cisco in the cabin of Ivan Webb. Greg Nichols of Cisco is taking care of the carpentry work and I understand it is really going to be beautiful when finished.

IF YOU HAVE not made reservations for the second session of the Roof Garden Dinner Theatre, then place your phone call now to 442-2589. The first performances will be held this week on July 12-13-14.

A FEW ISSUES back we reported on a newspaper being turned in at our office dated October 17, 1941. It was a copy of the Cisco Daily News.

A couple of days later, Delbert Schaefer of Cisco, came by the office to place an ad. My wife, Wanda, had noticed a birth announcement in the paper for Delbert Schaefer.

She asked Delbert if he would like to have the paper and he said yes. He said when he read the article about the paper, he wondered if it would be possible that it might contain his birth announcement, but he decided it would be too big of a coincidence.

Assembly of God, 306 W. 7th in Cisco. The church has recently undergone extensive remodeling on the inside of the sanctuary and the majority of the work was completed in a little over two months. Most of the work was done by three men and the congregation extends a special thanks to them. They are L.B. Givens, Zoia Rich and Robert Rich. Pastor of the church is Jackie E. Stone of Breckenridge. Rev. Stove has been pastor here for almost a year, starting in August of 1983. Rev. Stone and his wife, Debbie, have two daughters, Misty, age 9, Micha, age 7½, and a son, Joey, age 1½. The church has started a children's church on Sunday mornings. Wednesday nights they have Missionettes for girls and Royal Rangers for boys. Sunday School begins each week at 9:45 a.m., with the Sunday night service at 6 p.m. Wednesday night services, including the boy's and girl's meetings, begin at 7 p.m., and the Thursday morning Ladies W.M. meets at 10 o'clock. (staff photo)

IF YOU HAVE noticed a deterioration of the water which is coming out of your faucets, it is due to Lake Cisco "turning over" this past week. City Manager Mike Moore says the lake turns over two or three times a year and all of the water from the bottom comes to the top, bringing the "crud" with it.

Mr. Moore says the water will probably resettle within the next week or so, and the water will be back to normal. He said this time, when the lake "turned over", it is causing the water to be a little stronger than usual. However, he said there should be no problems with the water being drinkable or safe to use.

NOTICE: EFFECTIVE MONDAY, JULY 9, 1984 the following offices in the Eastland County Courthouse will close at 4:30 p.m. due to new balancing procedures required by outside auditors. County Clerk's Office District Clerk's Office Tax Assessor-Collector's Office.

Don Morrison Teaching Will Not Be Held

The regular Bible teaching led by Don Morrison of Throckmorton will not be held in Cisco Tuesday, July 10.

Mr. Morrison will be in Canada during July, but the regular scheduled teachings at First National Bank Community Room will resume in August.

FEMC Youth Car Wash Set Here Saturday

The First Evangelical Methodist Youth will have a car wash Saturday, July 6th, at the Colony Car Wash on I-20, east of the Colony Restaurant. The time will be from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. All proceeds will go for church camp the youth will be attending next week.

The camp is held each year at Whispering Oaks Camp in Buffalo Gap, Texas. The featured speaker will Dale Barrett, pastor of the Duncanville, EMC the week of July 9-13.

Still Hope For 'Sunset Limited' To Run Thru Eastland County

The re-counting of Amtrak's Sunset Limited through Ranger, Eastland and Cisco to El Paso is still hopeful, according to a letter received by Mayor Raymond Hart of Ranger, from Burt C. Blanton, Consultant and a Deputy member of the Dallas City-County Amtrak Committee.

According to Blanton the "Test-Train" which ran through Ranger and Eastland County on Feb. 3, 1984, enroute to El Paso tested the Dallas - El Paso route while running at speeds of 60 to 70 miles per hour; and the track was proclaimed as one of the most excellent in the Southwest.

One of the problems holding up the re-routing seems to be in the line between the Metro-Plex and Houston. The plans are to tie Houston onto the El Paso - Dallas - Ft. Worth route, with the idea of making this service available to approx. one million more customers in the south Texas area.

In the first "Test-Train" operation over Southern Pacific rails between Dallas Union Station at 8:30 a.m. on Thursday, July 5, enroute to Houston over Burlington-Rock Island Rails. There is no report on this new test run at this time.

Burt Blanton has worked for improved passenger service in the southwest for around ten years. In his letter to Mayor Hart he indicates that he feels some of the reasons behind lack of expansion in the Amtrak services are political in nature.

"I am requesting citizens of Texas, Oklahoma and Southwest Region to instigate action - to demand support from their representatives in Congress to attain adequate Amtrak rail passenger service," he said.

Dinner Theatre Preparing For 'Guys and Dolls' Presentation

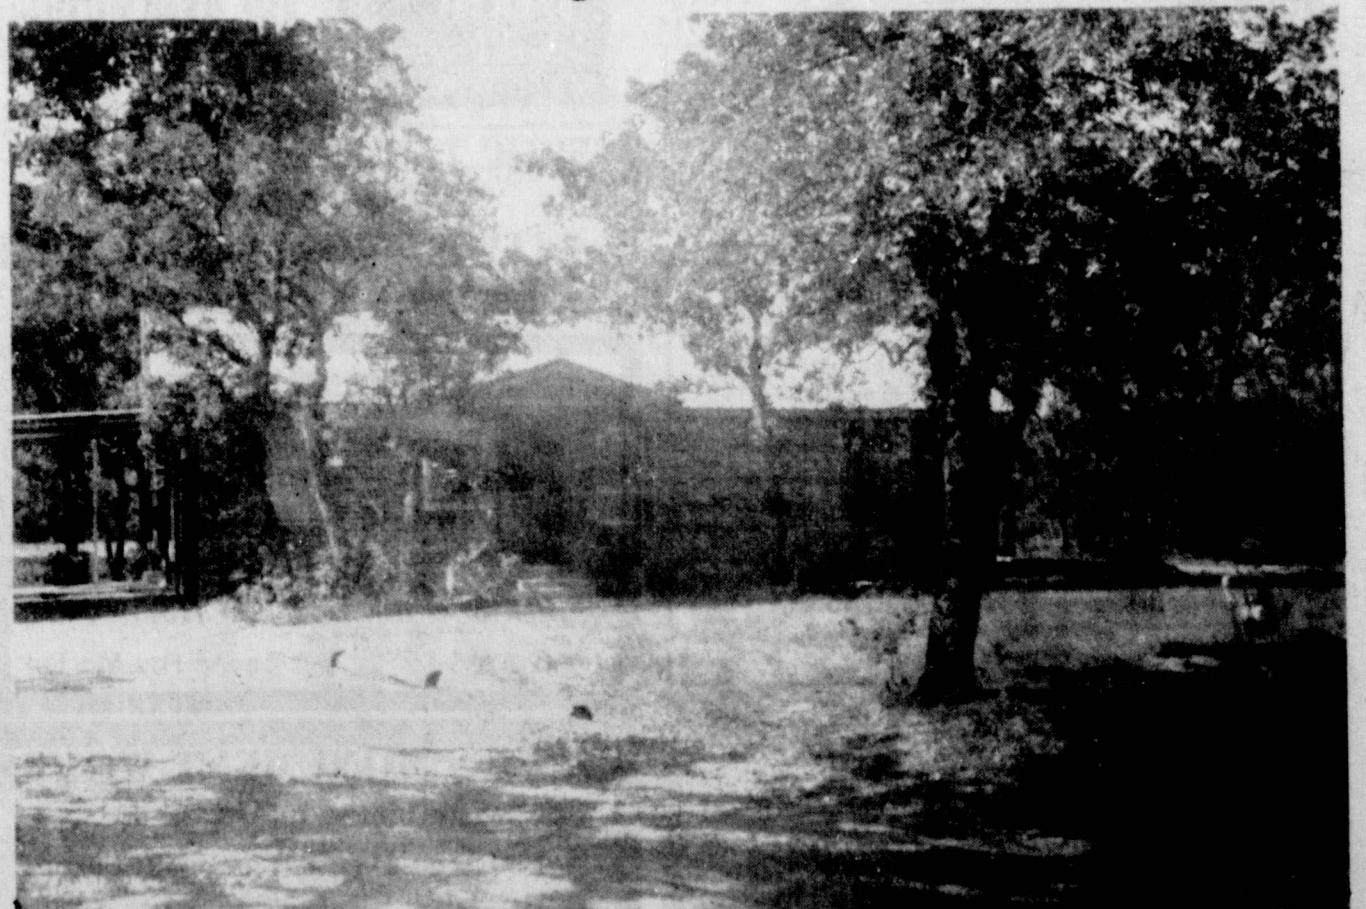

The Roof Garden Dinner Theatre has already begun preparations for the musical comedy GUYS AND DOLLS which will be the third and final production of the 1984 Summer Dinner Theatre Season. Because the setting for the play is the late 1930's, they have a special need for Mayor Raymond Hart states that the good report on the track between the Metro-Plex and El Paso is encouraging, and he certainly hopes that something can be worked out about the service.

Yard of the Week

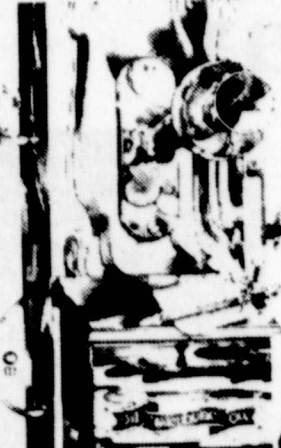

600 EAST 21st, the home of Mrs. J.C. Wright, has been chosen as Yard of the Week by the Cisco Garden Club. The club, in cooperation with The Cisco Press, will focus on a pretty yard each week to be featured. Due to the water shortage, a green lawn is not a must for the award. Any suggestions would always be helpful and may be made by calling 442-2134 or 442-1720. (staff photo).

Statement By Becky Brooks, President Elect TSTA

Even a dog knows the difference between being stumbled over and being kicked. As House Bill 72 stands in its final form, Texas teachers are being kicked and the Texas State Teachers Association cannot support it.

Teachers seem to have gotten lost in the reform shuffle. The treatment of teachers and other school employees by this bill - in terms of salary, in terms of involvement in decision-making, and in terms of personal and professional dignity - is so damaging that TSTA, in good conscience and as a responsible representative of teachers and school employees, cannot lend our support to it even though it contains a number of reforms that we do support.

While equalization aid would provide substantial and overdue financial assistance to property-poor school districts which deserve it and which we are in sympathy with, the bill as a whole will:

- fail to guarantee that teachers and others in hundreds of districts would get any salary increase at all

- establish a "career ladder" plan that would offer the hope of a salary supplement to only 25 percent of those teachers eligible and

Red Insulators Taking Toll On Hummingbirds

Red insulators on electric fences apparently are taking a toll on hummingbirds in several states, according to state and federal biologists.

Bruce Thompson, nongame program leader for the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, said the birds apparently mistake the brightly-colored insulators as flowers. "They apparently are electrocuted when they alight on a barbe wire and probe their bills into a hole in the insulator as they would a flower, completing the circuit," said Thompson.

Thompson said the situation came to light recently in allow for possibly arbitrary or even accidental decision on who would get them

- further damage morale that is too low already

- guarantee an even more severe teacher shortage because it will convince many teachers to seek other careers

- eliminate state salary minimums for aides and secretaries

Red Insulators Taking Toll On Hummingbirds

Missouri, where an ornithologist investigated a number of cases of hummingbird deaths.

"While exact numbers of fatalities are not known, the problem could be serious for some species of hummingbirds, especially during migration," Thompson said.

Persons who have such insulators in operation should replace them with dull-colored or black units which would be less attractive to the birds, or contact the manufacturer for replacements, he added.

- bar all librarians, who are full members of the instructional team just as other teachers are, from ever entering the "career ladder"

- pressure hundreds of school districts to raise local property taxes

And the list goes on. The final bill radically changes the way the state finances schools. Far more state money will be spent at the total discretion of local school boards and district officials than ever before. So whether or not teachers and other school employees will actually receive pay raises at all will in many cases be determined at the local school district level. Every attempt TSTA and other made to guarantee that teachers would have at least some input into those decisions was rejected.

The final bill makes it clear that TSTA must redouble its efforts at the local school district level and future legislative sessions to establish a means by which teachers and other school employees can fairly negotiate salaries and other terms and conditions of their employment.

The bill is seriously underfunded. While the equalization aspect of it helps students and holds the promise of potentially significant pay raises in poorer school districts - and we hope that promise is realized - the bill is very likely to result in small or no raises for tens upon tens of thousands of teachers and other employees. TSTA feels it is obligated to represent all teachers and school employees throughout the state.

We have said all along that we could accept - and reluctantly at that - a career ladder plan only if the incentives it offers are substantial and are equally available to all teachers who qualify for them. Obviously, this bill does not accomplish that. To think that offering 25 percent, 30 percent or even 50 percent of those teachers eligible the hope of attaining some level of economic dignity will improve the schools and lure thousands of bright, enthusiastic young people into the teaching profession is a delusion.

The entire process of "reform" spring from the widely recognized need to significantly increase teachers' salaries. We are extremely disappointed that the end result, House Bill 72, fails to address that need in a reasonable and acceptable fashion. It then adds insult to injury by requiring practicing professionals to take a standardized test that does not yet exist to prove our competence.

The bill does some good things. It recaptures the school day by limiting non-emergency interruptions of instruction, provides a pre-kindergarten program for those who need it, strengthens academic requirements for eligibility for extracurricular activities, makes solid progress toward preserving the school day for instruction, lowers class size in grades K-2, provides for tutorials, and provides equalization.

But it does not adequately compensate teachers and it does not adequately protect their rights or respect their professional judgement. TSTA cannot support it.

PROVISIONS IN HOUSE BILL 72 TSTA SUPPORTS

1. The bill provides equalization aid for property-poor districts.

2. The bill reduces class size by setting a maximum of 22 students per classroom in kindergarten through second grade beginning in 1985-86 and in kindergarten through fourth grade beginning in 1988-89.

3. Provides pre-school, summer school, and extended school days for children with limited English proficiency.

4. Limits unexcused absences to five per semester for course credit.

5. Strengthens academic requirements for eligibility to participate in extracurricular activities and strengthens requirement for promotion from one grade to another.

6. The bill recaptures the school day by limiting non-emergency interruptions of instruction.

7. Requires performance and other reports of local school districts to achieve accountability for quality educational programs.

8. The bill increases funding for compensatory and bilingual education.

9. The bill requires passage of an examination in order to receive a high school diploma.

10. Creates scholarship and student loan programs to encourage young people to enter teaching training institutions and assists practicing teachers in obtaining retraining in critical shortage areas.

11. The bill requires regular, formal evaluation of teachers and administrators through a comprehensive appraisal process.

12. Provides protection for school districts against tall rollback elections.

13. Creates a discipline management program that every district must utilize.

14. The bill tightens standards for teacher training institutions.

PROVISIONS IN HOUSE BILL 72 TSTA OPPOSES

1. Immediate salary increases for teachers are insufficient, except for beginning teachers. That new teachers will earn the same salary as many more experienced teachers has a negative effect on morale. The fact that proposed salary increases are not sufficient is underscored by the "alternative certification" provision making it possible for non-certified individuals knowledgeable in areas, such as math and science, with teacher shortages to assume teaching duties.

2. The "career ladder" plan is seriously underfunded. It will reward less than 25% of all teachers and will allow for possibly arbitrary and even accidental decisions on who will be initially placed at the second level. As provided for in the bill, it will not help attract more young people into the teaching profession.

3. All support staff, such as aides and secretaries, will be removed entirely from the state salary schedule. The bill requires 1100 school districts to draw up 1100 salary schedules for these employees between now and August.

4. The bill would subject all teachers and administrators to a competency test. The test does not exist so TEA would have to construct the test or tests, validate the tests, and be prepared to administer them up to two times within the next two years. Failure to pass the test two times would result in the educator losing certification.

5. Master teachers would be required to evaluate their colleagues. If a master teacher produces an evaluation which a principal or superintendent does not like or agree with, the master teacher's placement on the career ladder or even employment itself could be threatened. Without adequate safeguards, evaluation must remain the responsibility of administrators.

6. Decisions on the placement on the career ladder are final and may not be appealed to any higher authority under any circumstances. The teacher has no protection to his or her rights in placement on the ladder, removal or movement down the ladder, or in possible termination.

7. Block grant funding replaces the Personnel Unit system in the current funding formula, removing the one guarantee that provides an incentive to school districts to hire experienced teachers with advanced training and education.

8. The appointed state board of education will not be directly accountable to the people who pay the bills. This is neither necessary nor desirable.

9. Coupled with the current implementation of curriculum reform required by House Bill 246, the additional "reforms" contained in HB 72 will mandate additional costs. But all school districts will not be receiving enough additional state aid to cover those costs. This will force these school districts to either alter their services and programs or increase their local property tax rates.

10. The bill further dilutes the strength of the recommendations of the Commission on Standards for the Teaching Profession.

11. The bill eliminates one small incentive for experienced teachers by repealing a two-year-old law that provided teachers reimbursement of up to $900 for unused state-provided sick leave upon retirement.

12. The bill limits local school districts' ability to supplement salaries with local funds by now requiring them, instead of the state, to pay the retirement contribution for any employee not on the state minimum schedule or for the amount of any salary over the state minimum.

13. Under the funding distribution plan, the many school districts that do not qualify for equalization aid, compensatory education aid, or bilingual education aid will face financial difficulties.

14. There are unknown but potentially significant costs to local school districts arising out of many lawsuits this bill could cause to be filed.

15. The overall impact of the bill lowers the already sagging morale of the state's teachers. The result will be to worsen a teacher shortage because increasing numbers of teachers will simply retire or seek other careers.

Congress is considering a law requiring serial numbers on doors, front-end assemblies, and other stealable car parts. Traffic in parts of stolen cars has cut recovery rate from 83 percent in 1974 to an estimated 51.7 percent in 1982.

Aerodynamic design is expected to make the new cars so sleek that they will have no ornamentation at all—not even a door handle. Engineers talk about a "sensitive spot" that will open the door when pressed.

Newest brake linings are semi-metallic rather than asbestos, made from a blend of iron powder, steel fibers, graphite, and other friction modifiers, bound in a resin. Unlike asbestos lining, this gets stronger as it gets hotter.

Homemaking Hints

County Extension Agent
Janet Thomas

Summer is an excellent time for those never ending home improvement projects. Painting a home seems to be one of the most popular home improvement projects that is done during the summer.

You can paint your home - inside or out - at a fraction of the cost of a contractor. But it will be wasted savings if you use the wrong paint.

Paints generally come in one of two types: oil-base or latex. The oil-base paints are more durable, scrubable, stain resistant and have better hiding properties. But, they dry slowly, have a strong smell and need flammable solvents for thinning and clean-up. Latex paints have a water base, dry quickly, and are odor-free and easier to apply and clean-up. A new type of paint has recently entered the market - an exterior oil-base paint that cleans up easily with water.

Both types come in a variety of finishes. Each finish has a different degree of protection wearability and washability. You need to consider all these in choosing the right paint for your project.

Flat finishes are soft-toned. They absorb light and reduce glare. They're preferred for woodwork, kitchens, bathrooms and children's rooms.

Semi-gloss finishes are highly reflective and the easiest to clean. Use them for woodwork, kitchens and laundry areas. If you want a brighter touch for furniture or accessories, gloss works well.

When you go to a paint store, you will face many more choices than types or finishes. Specialized paints can be just right for certain jobs.

Texture paints are for problem walls and decorating effects. You can use them to seal and decorate old, cracked or rough walls and ceilings. To get a textured effect, use a sponge, brush, roller, broom, spatula, comb or crumpled paper. The paints come ready-mixed and the oil-base is in powder form.

Enamels are available in both latex and oil-base paints. They are high-gloss paints and extremely washable. You can use enamel aerosol spray cans to paint furniture, grills, toys and other small areas. Enamels can be specially formulated for porch and floors and can be used on wood, primed metal or concrete.

Transparent oil-base and polyurethane varnishes give a protection smooth finish for floors and furniture and they don't cover the wood grain. Finishes include clear satin, high glass and satin luster with a woodgrain tint.

Sealers and primers are available in both latex acrylic and oil-base forms. They stop undercolors from bleeding and seal the pores of unpainted and painted surfaces so that the top coating is smooth. You can use interior primers and sealers on drywall, plaster, interior concrete, cement, brick and porous wallpaper. Exterior paint primers help preserve the surface to avoid blistering, peeling, mildew and retting.

Additional home fix-up and decorating ideas are available from the County Extension Office.

RECIPE FOR THE WEEK

Over the July 4th holiday, I tried a new recipe for corn casserole. My family thoroughly enjoyed this casserole which we served with fried fish. I might mention that I substituted jalapeno cornbread mix for the regular corn muffin mix.

CORN CASSEROLE
1/2 cup margarine melted
1 (12oz.) can cream corn
1/2 water
1 medium onion, chopped
2 eggs
1 pkg. corn muffin mix
salt and pepper to taste (if desired)

Combine ingredients and pour into pyrex baking dish. Bake at 350 degrees for 45 minutes or until lightly brown and set. Let stand 10 minutes before slicing. Can be frozen after baking and reheated.

Black-Eyed Peas

From HERITAGE FARMS, INC.
Black-Eyed Peas are our business

A Note About Black-Eyed Peas:

We at HERITAGE FARMS put three half bushel baskets per sack to guarantee 28 lbs. per bushel. We market this 3 half bushel sack of peas all over Texas as a bushel. I have found through experience that you can heap a bushel basket and pack firmly with peas and on the average you will only have 23 - 25 lbs.

We also shell the peas we produce and I have found that our sack of peas will yield 18 - 20 pints of shelled peas. Through test of bushel baskets of peas I find they yield 13 - 15 pints of shelled peas.

So folks what I'm trying to get around to is this-HERITAGE FARMS, INC. located 3 1/2 miles south of Carbon, Texas has more BLACK-EYED PEAS than you can shake a stick at. If you need BLACK-EYED PEAS come and see us. We'll fix you up. You pick 'em, we pick 'em and/or we can also shell them for ya!

If you don't have time to come see us, look on your local grocers shelf or ask for fresh BLACK-EYED PEAS grown by HERITAGE FARMS. If he doesn't have them he can get them by the bushel or fresh shelled in 3 - 5 pint bags. Remember, BLACK-EYED are our business-HERITAGE FARMS, INC. Located South of Carbon Texas. UPS Presents Case To Railroad Comm.

AUSTIN - The Railroad Commission has agreed to hear oral arguments by United Parcel Service and companies to UPS' application for authority to transport packages from point to point within the state. The Commissioners will hear arguments by both sides at 2 p.m. on July 9 at the Railroad Commission headquarters building here.

The request was filed with the Commissioner's Transportation Division after the hearings examiner in the case recommended

Lights From The Christian World

by Josephine Cleveland

But if we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship one with another, and the blood of Jesus Christ his Son cleanseth us from all sin. I John 1:7.

A Different Drummer
The American naturalist-philosopher Thoreau, in defending some of his oddities said, "If man does not keep pace with his companions, perhaps it is because he hears a different drummer."

The Christian may well repeat this. If he does not march along with the world, it is because he hears another drumbeat. His ears are attuned to music others cannot hear. He is drawn not by terrestrial magnetism but by celestial magnetism.

Heaven exerts more pull on him than does earth. He belongs to God.

Jesus said, that we were a peculiar people. This does not mean we are peculiar in our appearance, but we will be peculiar from the world in our behavior.

Many things may be quite consistent for a worldly man to do, which a believer could not touch at all, simply because he is a Christian. The question is, "Can I do this to the glory of God? Can I connect the name of the Lord with it? If not, we must not touch it. The standard test for everything is this: Is it consistent with my testimony for Christ?"

Take heart! You need not be downhearted. At times you may be tempted to step out of the pace set by the Master Drummer. But remember, it is not you that is out of step - it is those who are stepping to the rhythm of Satan's band. Take courage! Keep in step with the Master Drummer. God's way is best.

O God, teach us to walk with Jesus and to follow His holy example. We desire to do all for your Glory. Amen.

the Commission deny the UPS application. The recommendation was delivered to the commissioners during their regular weekly conference on Transportation Division matters held June 18.

In granting oral argument, the Commission allotted one hour to each side for its presentation. The United States Postal Service was given 5 minutes to respond to any arguments made by the parties in the case about the quality of service provided by the UPS.

On Volunteer Leaders

THANK YOU 4-H volunteer leaders! Strengths of the 4-H program come from several sources, one is the staff of volunteer leaders. Hundreds of thousands of volunteer leaders give extensive time, talents and personal resources to support 4-H. They provide healthy, adult-youth relationships, teach skills, and supervise and encourage youth. 4-H makes important contributions to adult education by providing extensive educational experiences for adult volunteers.

Often enough we can not pay back all the efforts and resources the 4-H leaders provide. So as a small down payment on all they do for the Eastland County 4-H program, thank you! Words cannot express the gratitude 4-Hers have, nor the agents' appreciation. We would like to say THANKS to the 1983-84 4-H volunteer leaders, who are:

Eastland Stingrays Win Ranger Tournament

The Ranger Softball Tournament, organized by Carlos Martinez and his team, the Moonrunners, was held June 28th, 29th and 30th. The Eastland Stingrays once again came away with first place undefeated. The Eastland Grapenuts took second place after giving the Stingrays a tough battle for first. Both Stingrays and Grapenuts played excellent defense with only 3 runs being scored in the championship game. The Cisco Little Bits came away with 3rd place despite all their injuries. Other teams participating in the tournament were the Cisco Silver Streaks, Eastland Yankees, Gorman Girls, and Ranger Moonrunners.

Carlos Martinez, president of the Eastland County Teenage Girls Softball Assoc., and coach of the Moonrunners, made Super Star presentations to 26 girls. Stingrays: Kim Prichard, Leigh Prichard, Tracy Seabourn, Kendra Lindsey, Missy Reeves, Debbie Jesse, Zandra Jordan, Cathy Pevehouse, Teresa Jordan, Dollie Hallmark, and Glenda Hallmark; Grapenuts: Delissa Butler, Kristi Chaney and Bekky Rollins; Little Bits: Lorna Gage, Gaye Seabourn, Sherry Seabourn and Debbie Tipton; Silver Streaks: Amy Hounshell and Missy Bailey; Yankees: Kristen Harrison and Joy Sharp; Gorman: Stacy Slampa and Charla Little; Moonrunners: Marline Kincaid and Barbara Squires.

The Sportsmanship Trophy won by the girls for their coach, because of attitude, was presented to Larry Rollins of the Grapenuts.

The Outstanding Coach Pledge for dedication was presented to James Hallmark of the Stingrays.

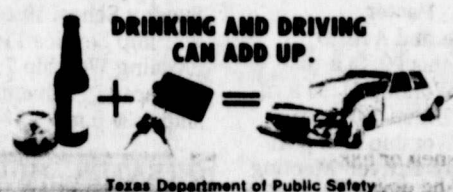

After 3 years of observing the girls, a new honor, "The Eastland County All Star Trophy" was presented to 15 girls. Stingrays: Kendra Lindsey and Debbie Jesse; Grapenuts: Vicki Wright and Kristi Chaney; Yankees: Kristen Harrison and Joy Sharp; Little Bits: Lydia Floyd, Morrie Jenner, Debbie Tipton and Sherry Seabourn; Gorman: Charla Little and Stacy Slampa; Moonrunners: Marline Kincaid, Barbara Squires and Tammy Amick.

Congratulations to Gaye Seabourn of the Little Bits for the only homerun of the tournament hit over the fence.

Special thanks goes to Carlos Martinez and the entire Moonrunners team for their hard work to make the tournament a success. Also to the umpires, Adam Lopez, Santo Zarate, Luther Maxwell, and Carlos Martinez for their long hours in the heat to call the games. The teams and spectators alike thank Becky Lopez of the Moonrunners team for the time and effort they gave in the concession stand. The parents and spectators are to be commended for the support they give all the girls.

The Stingrays and Grapenuts, tied for first place, will meet one more time for the play-off game for the Traveling Trophy which is awarded to the team that has won the most games of the season.

Prayer rightly asked is richly answered. Sometimes the answer is "Yes," and quickly your request is granted. Sometimes the answer is "No," for the thing you asked for is not for your good and His glory. Even then He does not send you away empty. He gives, instead of that thing, a better thing. Sometimes the answer is "Wait," for the Lord has some extra rewards to accompany your explicit request.

A man after His own heart prayed, but it was not answered at once. Did he repudiate prayer? Oh, no; he made repeated prayers. What was the result? He said in Psalm 40:1, "I waited patiently for the Lord; and

He inclined unto me, and heard my cry."

In all your praying remember that the Lord never forgets. He may keep you waiting, but all the time He is working. And His time is best. Wait—and you will see Him do far more than you ever dared to ask.

Missionary Andoniram Judson once said, "I never was deeply interested in any object and I never prayed sincerely and earnestly for anything, but it came at some time, although a very distant day; in some way, perhaps not mine; in some shape, probably the last I should have devised—it came." Wait—your answer is on the way!

Senior Citizens Nutrition Menu

The consumer information center, in Pueblo, Colorado, released some information that is informative and if you should want more material it may be ordered from the Consumer Information Center, Dept. 104M, Pueblo, Colorado 81009.

The center states "Rare beef contains more of some B vitamins than well done, and milk exposed to light for long periods loses nutrients."

They way you store, prepare and cook certain foods affects their nutritive content, states the members of the center.

Fresh vegetables should be trimmed, cut or shredded with a sharp knife to prevent bruising, which destroys vitamins A and C in their tissues. Cooking vegetables in too much water leads to high loss of water-soluble vitamins such as C and the B's.

We can, by being more informative, become our own nutrition expert, so let us do all of the reading possible.

Be sure and tell your friends that Tuesday will be a luncheon day at the center. We are making up the fourth of July.

The programs for the past week included: an organ recital was presented by Ann Goodman, Dr. M.A. Treadwell played his "Magic Saw" while being accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Treadwell. A quartet, composed of Rev. O.T. Killion, Annie Sublett, Jack Roberson and Oren Speckle, sang several old religious songs. They were accompanied by Vida Killion at the piano and A.E. McNeeley with the violin. The senior citizens band and performed at the city park for the fourth of July celebration.

The menus for the coming week will be:

Monday - Ringum Diddy Cheese, Raw Vegetable Salad, Green Peas, Cherry Cobbler, Bread, Butter and Drink.

Wednesday - Beef Stew, Vegetable Salad, Cheese, Chocolate Pudding, Cornbread, Butter and Drink.

Thursday - Barbecue chicken, fried okra, blackeyed peas, fruited gelatin, bread, butter and drink.

Friday - Baked Steak Fingers, Mashed Potatoes & Gravy, Carrot & Cabbage Slaw, Spinach, Sliced Peaches, Bread, Butter and Drink.

David White Signs With CJC

David White, a 6-6½ post man from Holmes High School in San Antonio, has signed a basketball scholarship agreement with Cisco Junior College.

White averaged nine points and eight rebounds per game as his high school team finished second in District 28-A and advanced to the state playoffs this past season.

According to Wrangler Coach Dan Montgomery -- "We feel that the addition of David White to our team will give us much needed inside strength and depth. He should make a very strong contribution to our program."

Dinner Theatre Plans Second Summer Show

The second show of the 1984 Summer Dinner Theatre Season at the Roof Garden Dinner Theatre will be BLITHE SPIRIT by Noel Coward and will run July 12-14 and 19-21. This delightful comedy has been a smash hit on both London and Broadway stages and tells the story of Charles Condomine, a novelist who invites a breezy lady medium into his home in order to "research" the tricks of her profession. Little does Charles or his lovely second wife, Ruth, dream that the seance staged by the medium will summon back Charles' first wife, now "passed over" for seven years. But the lady from beyond, still handsome, still mischievous, appears--a wraith who torments Charles by reminding him of their days and nights together. This unusual triangle results in one of the most hilarious and cockeyed plays ever written.

The menu for the dinner consists of cornish hens, rice pilaf, peas with pearl onions, tossed salad, dinner roll, and black forest cake. Reservations can be made by calling 487-4425.

KNOW YOUR LIMITS.

There's Another Limit You Should Know: Your Own

Everyone knows it's best not to drink before driving. But everybody also knows that most people drink, and some occasionally drive afterwards.

So, many safety officials now say: "If you do drink before driving, know your own limit."

Two-Year Test For Natural Gas Vehicle

DALLAS—Lone Star Gas Company is one of 25 American and Canadian companies taking part in a two-year field test of America's first factory-built vehicles designed to run exclusively on natural gas.

Ford Motor Company designed and built the test fleet of 1984 Ranger pickup trucks. Lone Star received its Natural Gas Vehicle (NGV) in late May.

Each NGV Ranger is powered by a 2.3-liter four-cylinder engine with increased compression to take advantage of the high (130) octane rating of natural gas.

Fuel economy with an automatic transmission is estimated by Ford to be equivalent to 21 miles per gallon for city driving, compared to 22 mpg for a gasoline-powered Ranger. Based on current cost of natural gas and gasoline, the price of fuel is equivalent to 60-cent-per-gallon gasoline.

Ranger is expected to be about 225 miles per fill-up for the Ranger being tested by Lone Star.

Natural gas as a vehicle fuel has been used in this area since early 1981 by the Carrollton-Farmers Branch school district. The district transports about 1,300 students daily in a fleet of 44 natural gas-powered buses.

George Smith, assistant superintendent of business services, says, "We get better combustion. We don't have gasoline truck deliveries or the spot market to worry about. And we're excited because we are not at the whim of OPEC." He adds that the buses are safer and require less maintenance.

The school district installed a refueling area at its bus barn that includes a compressor and two cascade storage systems that allow buses to be refueled in a matter of minutes. The entire conversion cost about $200,000.

A recent article in Gas Industries reported exhaust emissions tests "on a sample group of vehicles revealed... (natural gas vehicles) produced 14 percent less hydrocarbons and 68 percent less carbon monoxide than comparable vehicles running on gasoline." All emissions were within Environmental Protection Agency vehicle emissions standards.

Lone Star has 29 dual fuel vehicles—capable of using either gasoline or natural gas—operating in Fort Worth.

Natural gas is a popular fuel in other countries, with widespread use in New Zealand, Italy and Canada. In Canada, government grants have been available for construction of refueling stations since early 1983.

In Illinois, state funds are used to convert school buses and maintenance costs have been reduced by 50 percent in districts that switched. Fuel costs have also declined.

The NGV Ranger Lone Star is testing has a number of modifications. It is equipped with fuel tanks constructed of fiber glass-wrapped aluminum, hardened valve seat inserts to compensate for lack of lubrication with a "dry" fuel, a specially designed gaseous fuel mixer to replace the carburetor, unique calibration of the distributor and spark plugs to accommodate the distinctive combustion characteristics of natural gas and a three-stage pressure regulator to reduce the natural gas pressure to slightly above atmospheric before induction into the engine.

The NGV is being used for routine daily operations in the company's industrial gas sales department. Distribution of natural gas for use as a vehicle fuel poses no major problems. Gas lines reach most cities and towns in the country. What is required is a network of convenient refueling stations. Such a station must have a compressor and, if quick-fill refueling is utilized, a cascade storage system. A.G.A. surveys indicate compression system installations cost from $50,000 up, depending on the application.

Ford estimates no significant cost difference between a natural gas engine and a gasoline engine, although the stronger natural gas fuel tanks for these initial test vehicles cost about $1,000 more per vehicle. The tanks are mechanically stronger than gasoline tanks. Since natural gas is lighter than air and has a higher ignition temperature (1,300 degrees versus 800 degrees), it is inherently safer than gasoline. In the event of a leak, natural gas will disperse into the air more rapidly than a heavier fuel like gasoline, thus reducing the risk of a fire or explosion.

Assistance For Local Taxpayers

A representative of Comptroller Bob Bullock's Office will be in Eastland, on July 12, 1984, to assist local taxpayers and answer questions about state taxes. Jerry Franklin will meet with taxpayers at the Eastland County Courthouse in the Commissioner's Courtroom on the 2nd Floor, Thursday, July 12, 1984, from 10:00 a.m. until 11:00 a.m.

If local merchants, or anyone else for that matter, have any questions about state taxes or need help in preparing tax forms, we will be there to assist them," Bullock said.

The Brownwood office serves Brown, Coleman, Comanche, Eastland, McCulloch, Mills, San Saba and Stephens counties and is located at 300 North Main Building, Suite J. The office is open from 8:00 a.m. until 5:00 p.m. Monday through Friday. The telephone number is 915/643-1557.

Selecting Summer Camps

COLLEGE STATION—The right summer camp can do a lot more for children than simply provide fresh air and a few days away from home, says Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service home economist, Dr. Delores Stegelin.

According to Stegelin, a specialist in child development, going to camp often helps children break away from their parents in a positive manner. "Even though children may feel some home sickness, camp provides a psychologically safe environment while they are separated from their parents," she explains.

The group activities involved in camping emphasize the "self" and help children see the usefulness of teamwork as well, she adds.

Most parents expect their children to learn or improve their physical skills in swimming or sports while at camp, notes the specialist. But camp can also be mentally stimulating if they are introduced to new ideas, projects, and activities, or meet youngsters from different geographic areas and backgrounds.

Special interest camps focused on learning about computers, science and math enrichment, space study, music and dance or horsemanship, also stimulate intellectual growth for the interested child, she remarks.

But the camping experience will be positive only if the parents select one that is most appropriate for their child, says Stegelin. She suggests that parents consider the following before sending a child to camp:

- Whose needs are being met — mine or my child's? Do you want to send your child to computer camp, for example, because he's interested in it, or because you think he ought to be interested?
- Is the camp well organized and does it have a positive record? Talk to parents who have sent their children to the camp in previous years.
- What is my child's attitude about going to camp? If the child is resisting, try to find out why.
- Is my child emotionally ready for a separation from home and what length of time? This may differ from child to child even within the same family. It will also depend on the child's previous experience at being away from home. The child who has never stayed overnight with a friend, for instance, may have trouble coping with a week at camp.
- Who supervises the children directly and what are their backgrounds? Do they have skills in working with children? What forms of discipline will be used?
- How much does the camp cost? Does it fit into the family budget and is the cost worth it for the experiences provided?
- Will the camp experience fill my child's needs or could those needs be better met in another way? Spending several days at the home of a favorite relative, attending a day camp, or simply playing in their own backyards may meet the needs of many children just as well as camp.

Have Peanut Butter Sandwich Instead of Cereal? Why Not

Should a child who refuses to eat his breakfast cereal be given a peanut butter sandwich instead? Children's nutrition experts at Baylor College of Medicine say why not; it's not important what a child eats for breakfast, as long as it's something nutritious, like a peanut butter sandwich.

Good nutrition is vital during the growing years, but parents are often exasperated because children have special tastes which usually don't include vegetables or fish.

A new pamphlet from Baylor College of Medicine helps parents choose the right foods and teach their children about nutrition.

A child's nutritional requirements change as he grows, the experts said.

An infant needs plenty of calories and nutrients from breastmilk or commercially prepared solutions because more physical and mental development occurs during the first year than at any other time.

A toddler sometimes doesn't want or need three full meals a day because he has a slower growth rate.

A school age child needs three nutritional meals a day because he is very active. But he is also choosing his own foods, so he needs to understand good nutrition. What he learns will carry over into adulthood, and bad nutrition can lead to heart disease, obesity, high blood pressure and dental problems.

Other suggestions the Baylor experts had were:

--Don't make a child clean his plate. Serve small portions, and then let the child ask for more.

--Don't serve small children spicy foods that are too hot or too cold. They prefer mild-flavored foods served at room temperature.

--Don't buy expensive health foods. They are no more nutritious than foods from the four basic food groups -- meats, fruits and vegetables, milk products and breads.

Cisco Defeats Eastland In Senior League Baseball Action

The Lobos surprised the Mavericks at Cisco last week to take the lead in the bottom of the 7th 8-7. The game was scoreless until the third inning when Eastland scored four runs. Curtis Govan, Curtis Sanders, Corliss Sanders, and David Morren scored for the Mavs. Cisco answered with a homerun to add three. Govan scored again in the fourth, and Glenn Nevill and Robert Morren crossed the plate in the fifth inning.

The Lobos shut down scoring for Eastland in the last two innings while managing to add two and three runs of their own. David Morren had two RBIs and Tracy Fullen had one for the Mavs.

The Mavericks came back with another victory over Clyde in the next game to remain in a tie for first. The game was scoreless the first inning. Clyde scored one in the second on a homerun.

The Mavericks brought in two that inning to take the lead. Kevin Farmer scored on a missed pitch, and Scott Payne was knocked in by Robert Morren. The Mavs added another in the third when Tracy Fullen scored on a missed pitch. There was no more scoring until the 6th when Clyde added one and Eastland scored two. Govan scored on David Morren's hit, and Fullen knocked Morren in. The final score was 5-2.

The Eastland Senior

League has been providing exciting baseball all year. They will finish the regular season on July 17 (with the exception of making up rain-outs).

Blithe Spirit Begins At Roof-Garden Theatre.

The second show of the 1984 Summer Dinner Theatre Season at the Roof Garden Dinner Theatre will be BLITHE SPIRIT by Noel Coward and will run July 12-14 and 19-21. This delightful comedy has been a smash hit on both London and Broadway stages and tells the story of Charles Condomine, a novelist who invites a breezy lady medium into his home in order to "research" the tricks of her profession. Little does Charles or his lovely second wife, Ruth, dream that the seance staged by the medium will summon back Charles' first wife, now "passed over" for seven years. But the lady from beyond, still handsome, still mischievous, appears--a wraith who torments Charles by reminding him of their days and nights together. This unusual triangle results in one of the most hilarious and cockeyed plays ever written.

The menu for dinner consists of cornish hens, rice pilaf, peas with pearl onions, tossed salad, dinner rolls, and black forest cake. Reservations can be made by calling (817) 442-2589.

Fishing Report

BASS CLUB REPORT

"Learn Your Lakes"

Area lakes are presently at their lowest points, and now is when anglers are learning their lakes. By viewing areas where you have taken fish previously in higher water levels anglers can greatly improve their fishing skills. A day spent simply motoring slowly and making mental note of certain structure areas can prove very valuable when water levels rise.

Also while levels are down man made structure can be more amply built. Tire reefs, bush piles, stake beds, or even taking fallen logs and forming jams can all be productive.

New improvements at Lake Leon have arisen, in the present installation of new restrooms. These new facilities are being furnished by the Eastland County Water Board.

Thursday, July 5th we held our monthly meeting. Our big bass of the month winner was Don Flowers with healthy 6 pounds 5 ounce black bass. This haw came from lovely Lake Leon. The fish was taken on a buzz bait. Also preparations for our open invitational are underway. We will soon be announcing prize structure and rules and regulations.

July 14th we will host our monthly club tournament on beautiful Lake Coleman. Fishing hours will be 5 a.m. until 2 p.m. Entry fees must be paid prior to fishing. A representative will be present at the boat ramp prior to 5 a.m. All members are urged to participate, as Coleman has furnished us some fine tournaments.

Texas A&M Sets Bird Conference

July 28 With List Of Speakers

COLLEGE STATION---
More and more Texans are raising game birds, and that interest in game bird production should bring increased participation in the Texas Game Bird Conference at Texas A&M University July 28.

The all-day conference at Kleberg Center kicks off with registration at 8 a.m., announces Dr. William O. Cawley, poultry specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

The list of conference speakers read like a game bird "Who's Who," notes Cawley. Headlining the list is Mickey Olsson of Glendale, Ariz., whose all-around bird collection is reported to be the best and largest in the U.S. Olsson will be leading the ornamental game bird workshop.

Long-time director of conservation for Winchester/Western, Dr. Edward L. Kozicky of Alton, Ill., will outline a program for developing strong flying quail.

Mallards will be discussed by Bill Whalen of Hanover, Ill., while Jean Marc Ridel of Pefferlaw, Canada, will talk about partridge production.

Two of the nation's leading avian pathologists, Drs. Charles F. Hall and Leland C. Grumbles, will discuss quail disease and avian influenza, respectively. Both are professors in the Department of Veterinary Microbiology and Parasitology at Texas A&M.

Other speakers will focus on producing quality stock, dog health and care, and improving hatchability, says

Cawley.

A $20 registration fee will be charged, with an additional $6 fee for a spouse, to cover conference costs, including a barbecue lunch and a copy of the proceedings.

Cawley says an "early-bird special" is being offered to those who pre-register by July 21, in which case the individual registration fee will be only $14.

Further information and a copy of the complete program is available from local county Extension offices or from Cawley at 409/845-4318 in College Station.

The conference is sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and Texas A&M's Department of Poultry Science.

People n Things

JULY THE Fourth was a good day in Cisco. Good crowds attended the festivities at City Park throughout the day. The music was good at the picnic pavilion. The Lions Club carnival was a nice success. The fireworks display, which took place around 9:30 to 10:00 p.m., was super as usual. We decided that it might be a good plan to drive out the I-20 access road to Russell Newman Company's parking lot and watch from there. Arriving, we found that a hundred or two other cars had the same idea. But it was a nice place from which to view the show.

Saw scenes from City Park on the Abilene television program late Wednesday. They showed swimmers at the pool and folks enjoying games and music in the park.

MRS. BESSIE Fields, who lives out on West 14th Street, will probably tell that walking can be dangerous. She fell while walking last Monday morning and fractured a bone in an ankle. And she's in E.L. Graham Memorial Hospital where she will spend two or three weeks.

Mrs. Fields and her across the street neighbor, Mrs. Bill (Odessa) Collins, walk every morning together. They were going down Avenue O and came to an incline in the gravel street. Going down it, Mrs. Fields somehow slipped and fell, fracturing the ankle. Mrs. Collins knocked on a door nearby and borrowed a telephone to call husband Bill.

They loaded Mrs. Fields in the car and met Dr. E.E. Addy at the hospital where the fractured ankle was placed in a cast. At Dr. Addy's suggestion, they took Mrs. Fields to a specialist in Abilene who double checked everything and sent her back home to the hospital.

Mrs. Fields moved here from Arlington some 10 years ago. She is a retired teacher and her late husband owned a drug store for many years in Arlington. Mrs. Collins is walking alone these mornings since the mishap. The Bill Collins' garden is the envy of 14th street folks.

THE LLOYD Londons of our town are getting organized to build themselves a new home on the 26-acre tract of land they purchased recently from J.C. Carr just north of the Lake Cisco Dam - across the highway from the Billy Wrights.

Plans call for construction work to start in the fall. The London's land will have quite a lot of Lake Cisco water front - is a picturesque home-building site, indeed.

MR. O.L. Stamey, former Lions district governor and retired educator, was in Ranger at noon Thursday to be the installing official for new officers of the Ranger Lions Club. The David Callarman are back home after an enjoyable week of cooler temperatures at Ruidoso, New Mexico. Mrs. Herrel (Wanda) Hallmark and Mrs. Frank (Jana) Spangler of The Press staff will spend the coming week as vacation and serve as counselors at a church camp at Buffalo Gap. The Ned Pilchurs of Midland spent last weekend as guests in the home of the E.L. Walkers of our town.

COL. AND Mrs. Melvin Lawson of Washington, D.C., spent several days this past week in the home of his sister, the E.D. Andersons, here. The Lawsons and the Andersons went to Refugio last weekend to attend the wedding of a niece - daughter of their brother, Victor Lawson and wife. Dr. and Mrs. Robert Sloan of Baylor University, Waco, are moving to Fort Worth for the summer where he will serve as interim pastor for a Baptist church. Mrs. Sloan is the daughter of Mrs. Lucy Collier of Cisco. And Mrs. Collier's next outing will be a vacation trip to Colorado, she tells us. She recently enjoyed trips to the Caribbean and to Las Vegas.

THE PARK Drive Association (folks who lives around the circle out there) have put up four Martin houses in the circle. And, we're glad to report, have attracted several families of the nice little purple birds that live on a diet of mosquitoes. Mrs. Forbes Wallace of our town recently visited in the home of her son, Lee Wallace, and family at Fayetteville, N.C. The U.S. Post Office's flag didn't fly in Cisco on July the 4th.

MR. H.O. (Andy) Anderson, retired West Texas Utilities employee here, is due out of Hendrick Memorial Hospital, Abilene, soon. He suffered a hip fracture in a fall at their home recently. And he had just returned home after two weeks in that hospital for treatment of another ailment. Mr. Anderson is 81 years of age. City street department paving workers have completed paving Avenue I from 9th to 13th street. This connects pavement serving Intermediate School. They'll be paving other streets in that area, Supervisor Frank Young tells us.

MR. BOB Bennie, manager of the Lake Cisco Country Club golf course, took last week off as a vacation. And he played golf every day.

Bob teamed up with Bob Justice, former Ciscoan who lives in Abilene, to play in the annual partnership golf tournament at the Abilene Country Club. They won the second flight and their total prize take was a trophy plus $699.95 each in assorted prize money. A pretty good tournament, wouldn't you say?
