Settlement Made On School Fund Bonds

Two orders passed by the commissioners court pertaining to county finances highlighted the meeting Monday, August 12.

One of these was the acceptance of a price readjustment from Burt Hamilton & Co., Dallas, on the investment of the Collingsworth county permanent school fund, according to minutes taken at the meeting. The other was in regard to the gasoline tax money due the county from the state.

This investment was the subject of a recent finance committee report, saying that the county's purchase price of $31,980 in bonds for the school funds was more than $3,000 above market price for the date of purchase.

In the Monday action, an offer was accepted from Burt Hamilton & Co., to a refund of $1,149 on $20,000 worth of Birdville Independent School District Bonds.

The agreement pointed out that "we guaranteed to repurchase these bonds at 90c and interest for a period of six months provided the county had issued its own bonds which you desired to purchase as an investment for the permanent school fund in lieu of said Birdville Independent School District Bonds."

"During the 6 months your county did not issue any bonds which you wished to purchase, but in view of the fact that there was public criticism of the price you paid for the said Birdville Independent School District Bonds, we hereby agree to readjust the original sale price as of November 12, 1956, so as to show a net interest yield of 3.7% on the 1977 maturing bonds and a 3.75% on the 1978 maturing bonds. The cash difference amounts to $1,149.00."

An attached letter noted that the company may decide to pay this amount all at one time or it may request that it be paid over a period of three to four months.

Enclosed also was a bill for $150 "fiscal agency fee" in connection with the 30 cent ad valorem tax election.

The court also noted that the Board of County and Road District indebtedness of the Texas Highway Department has $21,084.75 to the credit of the lateral road account.

Norwood Game Association Sets Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of the Samnorwood Game Association will be held Monday, August 19, at 8 p. m. at Samnorwood School, Robert Baxter, Samnorwood, president, announced this week.

Officers for the coming year will be elected and new signs to be set up at the borders of the Association will be shown. Individual members will be able to pick out the type of smaller signs they want to be posted at their own farms, Baxter said.

The large signs, part of them already up, will be on the main highways at entrance to the Association and at the county lines.

Officers with Baxter this year have been Bert Starkey, Lone Mound, vice-president; and W. R. Breeding, Abra, secretary.

Trains Again Cross Salt Fork River Bridge

The first train to cross the Fort Worth and Denver bridge across Salt Fork north of Wellington left here at 4:30 p. m. Friday for Shamrock where it picked up 35 cars of gasoline for the return trip, reaching Wellington about 7 p. m.

Although the bridge is open, about six weeks of finishing work remains, train crewmen said.

It was necessary to lengthen the bridge by approximately 250 feet due to the entire embankment's being washed away. In addition, about 300 feet of old bridge was replaced, the structure is now 1,195 feet long, and 55 feet above the river bed.

H. A. Bowman, Wichita Falls, was in charge of overall construction, while the civil engineer was Eugene Cade of Fort Worth. A train crew, made up of F. M. White, conductor, and A. W. Fancher, flagman, both of Wichita Falls, remained in Wellington to carry materials to the site.

The line still is not open to Pampa, as work is not completed on bridges that went out on McClellan Creek and Red Mud Creek, and another small creek between Lefors and Shamrock. Approximately 30 workmen were employed on the project.

Teen-Age Group Admits Series Of Thefts

Eight teen-age boys were taken into custody as delinquents last week and admitted to officers a series of burglaries and thefts and two forgeries. Seven were juveniles and the other an 18 year old. Their ages ranged from 11 to 18.

Following hearing before Judge R. L. Templeton, five of the boys were released on probation: two to their parents, two to mothers only, and the fifth to a distant relative.

Johnny Lindley, 18, of Dodson, is being held in the county jail on a charge of breaking and entering of a private residence at night, County Attorney Paul Spillman said. His bond has been set at $1,500 and his case will come before the grand jury Monday.

Two others, both juveniles, are being held in the Childress jail. The boys have admitted stealing two bicycles, one of which was recovered; and four guns, including a .32 calibre pistol, 22 rifle, double barrel 12 gauge shot gun and a 44-40 rifle. They also admitted to taking other small items, Spillman said.

The forgery and hot check were in the amounts of $9 and $8. The boys were not believed to be involved in the theft of $40.00 cash from a safe in Cicero Gulley's Barber Shop, officers said.

C. E. Roberts, Lifelong County Resident, Dies

C. E. Roberts, 69, who spent his whole lifetime in Collingsworth county and truly grew up with the country, died Monday afternoon, February 12, in an Amarillo hospital. He had been in failing health for several months.

Born at Fort Worth, June 15, 1888, he was brought here a few months later by his parents, C. W. Roberts and the late Mrs. Roberts, two years before the organization of the county.

They settled in what was to become the Fresno community, among the first white settlers to establish homes here.

Mr. Roberts, "Little Charlie" as he was called to distinguish him from his father, lived a pioneer childhood, but grew up to take his part in the rich and rapidly expanding agricultural area this was to become.

He was present for the first church services held in the county and attended the early schools.

Like his father, he became a farmer, and through the years acquired extensive farm properties in the county.

For many years he lived in the Houselog community. He was active in farm and community life and in the development of rural schools in order that his own and his neighbors children might have educational advantages.

Mr. Roberts had been a member of the Methodist Church since early life.

He was married on September 25, 1909, to Miss Lutitia Landon in Wellington.

A number of year ago, Mr. Roberts retired from the active working of his land and he and Mrs. Roberts moved to Wellington and later built their comfortable home at the corner of 15th and Dalhart Streets.

Funeral services for Mr. Roberts were held at First Methodist Church Wednesday at 2:30 p. m. Officiating were the Rev. John Henry Ward of Grand Saline, Mr. Roberts son-in-law; the Rev. Frank Weir; and the Rev. S. T. Greenwood of Alanreed, a long-time friend.

Pall bearers were John Landon, Raymond Ward, Oran Starkey, Leon Roberts, Francis Roberts and Dick Sweat. Honorary pall bearers were Clarence Roberts, Bob Glenn, Paul Starr, A. T. Smith, J. C. Emmert, Gibbs Glenn, Gordon Peters, and Travis Clement.

Burial was in West Wellington cemetery by Kelso Funeral Home.

Mr. Roberts is survived by his wife; and eleven children: Archie Roberts, Beeville; Virrel Roberts, Littlefield; Wayne Roberts, Wellington; Glen Roberts and C. W. Roberts, North Highland, Calif.; Otis Roberts, Eugene Oregon; Mrs. Floyd Hudson, and Mrs. Vernon Leverett, Dumas; Mrs. R. L. Simpson.

Leaves Dodson Pastorate

Rev. Bill Hendricks To Teach in Seminary

The Rev. Bill Hendricks announced this week that he is leaving the pastorate of South Baptist Church, Dodson, to teach in Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, Fort Worth. He will be an instructor in Biblical and Systemic Theology.

He, with Mrs. Hendricks and their 9-months-old son, John, will leave Monday for Fort Worth, after he has preached his final sermon Sunday.

Rev. and Mrs. Hendricks came to Dodson in July 1954. This was his first resident pastorate, although he also had served as pastor of missions and was associate pastor of Emanuel Baptist Church, Wichita, Kansas, his home church.

During his pastorate at Dodson, additions have been made twice to the church structure and the entire interior remodeled once. Ninety members were received into the church.

Rev. Hendricks grew up in Wichita, Kansas, and graduated from high school there in 1947. He received his bachelor's degree from Oklahoma Baptist University, Shawnee, in 1951, and his bachelor of divinity degree from Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary in 1954, shortly before coming here. He has continued his studies at the Seminary and will receive a doctor of theology degree in January 1958. During the last year he has, in addition to his pastorate, held a teaching fellowship at the seminary.

Two Knock Hole in Jail Wall to Make Escape

Two prisoners knocked a hole in the east wall of the county jail and let themselves down from the second floor by a blanket to escape about 1 a. m. Wednesday, August 7.

18-year-old John Thomas Lindley changed his mind about his new found freedom, however, and was waiting in front of Kenneth Hodge's home when the deputy sheriff awoke about 6 a. m.

The other man, Robert Earp, alias Robert Long, was arrested Wednesday night at Hollis. He refused to waive extradition, and as he was also wanted by Greer county, he is now being held in the Mangum jail, Hodge said.

The break occurred while Sheriff John Rainey and his family, who live at the jail, were on vacation. One other prisoner in jail refused to take part in the break, Hodge said.

Earp was picked up about two weeks ago for drunk investigation, Hodge reported. Officers then learned he was wanted at Mangum on two counts of forgery, and that he had served three terms in the penitentiary at Huntsville and one term in a federal prison. He had a forged instrument with him that Hodge said he had learned Earp intended to pass here.

The prisoners used a lever wrenched from a cell door to knock the hole in the jail wall. The hole was beside a sewer vent pipe running up the side of the jail, and near another small pipe, which aided the men in getting down.

C-C Renews Efforts To Get Bus Line Through City

Attempts to get bus service for Wellington have been renewed by the Collingsworth chamber of commerce, N. M. Higdon, manager, said.

This action came at the point when the C-C learned that the franchise held by Juanita Stevenson Bell is valid until January 22, 1958. It had been believed locally the franchise would expire in July of this year.

Mrs. Bell now holds a permit from the Railroad Commission to suspend operation one year, valid from the time it was granted, not one year from the time service was suspended through Wellington July 1956.

"George Page of Abilene Northern Bus Co., Abilene, is interested in extending his line from Childress to Shamrock through Wellington, but he is not willing to pay the $2,500 asked for the franchise," Higdon said.

Bryan Bell, director for the Railroad Commission, has notified Higdon that it is the privilege of anyone to file an application for a permit to operate. The Railroad Commission will be glad to set it for hearing so the applicant can appear and bring witnesses to prove public convenience and necessity, as well as inadequacy of present system.

Higdon had pointed out to Page and to Bell the need for bus service through Wellington, not only to meet present needs, but to meet the potential needs of the expanding oil and gas developments in the county.

At the request of the Collingsworth chamber, the Childress Chamber of Commerce is joining in the work to get a bus line at least as far north as Shamrock.

Scott Finishes Farm Improvement

H. P. Scott, Dodson farmer, recently completed a 3400 foot waterway to carry outside water through his farm with minimum of damage to his land.

The waterway has a drainage area of more than 200 acres.

Formerly the water went through an old, meandering raw gulley. With the help of Soil Conservation Service technicians, Scott straightened the gulley and shaped it with a wide flat area for the water to run over. This slowed down the velocity and allowed some of the surplus water to soak in. He also can now cross it with his farming equipment.

Scott's next step will be to seed the water way with native grasses to keep it from washing.

Scott is a co-operator of Salt Fork SCD.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wall last week were Mrs. Julia Muse, and Mrs. Mary Jean Bassett and children of Corpus Christi, Mrs. Nell Saunders and daughter of East Texas, and Mrs. Louis DeBlanco and daughter of California. Mrs. Muse is the mother of the other ladies, and they are former residents of Wellington.

"The Texas Water Development Board shall have the authority to provide for, issue and sell general obligation bonds of the State of Texas in an amount not to exceed One Hundred Million Dollars ($100,000,000). The Legislature of Texas, upon two-thirds (2/3) vote of the elected Members of each House, may authorize the Board to issue additional bonds in an amount not exceeding One Hundred Million Dollars ($100,000,000).  The merger would give El Paso an 8,900 mile natural gas pipeline net from West Texas to California the Pacific Northwest and western Canada.
 The application said the merger would provide better and more economical service for customers of both companies, and that El Paso also needed to tap the big "proved and potential gas reserves" of Pacific in Western Canada and the Rockies to meet the demands of California for natural gas.

August 31 Is Our Last Chance to Keep Our Rights to Salt Fork Water

The confirmation election on Salt Fork Dam Saturday, August 31 should have the consideration of every eligible voter.

This is the LAST CHANCE Wellington or any of the other six towns will have at the Salt Fork Dam and the water it backs up. That water is rightfully ours. The outcome of the confirmation election will determine if we keep that water or if we give it away to the folks down-stream.

Early workers on the project asked for and got the water rights on Salt Fork. These have been renewed from time to time but the last time, the State Board of Water Engineers pointed out they could not again be renewed. We have the water rights until May 12, 1958—that's only eight months.

If we're not doing some work by then, the rights expire and will be snapped up in Oklahoma.

The Confirmation Election August 31 does not bind us to any commitment. It is simply to make legal the organization so that it can carry on business. The law is specific on that.

At this stage of development in the dam project, the Greenbelt Authority cannot levy any taxes.

It cannot issue any bonds.

It can and will proceed with a further study of the practical aspects of the dam and authorize studies of water as to quality and usability, and the cost of getting it from the dam to the 7 towns in the authority.

That is what the confirmation election will permit.

Later on, the towns will vote on levying taxes or issuing bonds or whatever method of financing may be decided upon. It is entirely possible, if enough water is sold, that there will not have to be either bonds or tax.

It is at this point that Wellington can get out of the authority if it does not want to go on with its part in the dam project. Salt Fork River is the last source of water in this area. There's not enough water in Elm Creek or Buck Creek. Just Salt Fork.

Looking farther, and supposing that the dam is built, there are certain phases of this area's progress at stake. Without additional available water, we set certain limits on our own progress. The Greenbelt Municipal and Industrial Authority has thought of that. They cannot at this point call names and give details, but it is a well known fact that they have commitments from a number of large users of water already in this area.

The word "industrial" was not put in the name of the authority for nothing. We have talked about "getting industry" for years. Water is one of the prime requirements of many, many types of industry. So far, we have gone hunting for industries. It is an established fact that industries come where there is plenty of water. Even the water that is "lost" through seepage and evaporation from a dam is not actually lost. The water that goes down into the earth will be replenishing by just that much our underground water supply . . . just that much more to come out in the irrigation wells of Collingsworth. The water that evaporates from a body of water the size of this reservoir will add humidity to our dry atmosphere.

There are the recreational possibilities—a body of water stocked with fish, and attracting migratory wildlife within 25 miles of Wellington. Our nearest body of water of any size now is Lugert, more than twice that distance.

There are others who want this water for all these same reasons. The people along Salt Fork between the Oklahoma line and Red River are organized and sitting tight until next May 12. But this is our water, and the Confirmation Election August 31 is our last chance to keep it.

REPORT

Why President Ike got up here the other day when somebody suggested that Ambassador Gluck got his job on the strength of putting $30,000 in the Republican party pot.

After all, only a few born-suspicious characters will doubt for a minute that the president picked Mr. Gluck strictly for his ambassadorial talents.

It is just pure coincidence that the only man to be found who was fit for the job turned out to be a Republican angel.

The papers say that Paris fashion-setters have thought up a new low-scooped pop-over bustline for this season's dresses.

No pictures with the announcement I saw, so it's not too clear to me what this is, but think I've got a fair idea from these descriptive terms.

On account of I've seen numerous low-scooped bustlines in my time, and also some evening raiment which it looked like might be going to add the pop-over feature at any minute.

My car-dealing neighbor says he now has on sale autos which are not only technically advanced in design but are also sociologically in tune with the times, being painted two-tone black and white.

Of course, this particular model falls a little short of NAACP standards, on account it has the black and the white portions segregated by a chrome strip.

Folks with a little bit of color prejudice can still get these cars with their choice of either black or white on top. But full polka dot models will no doubt be long in due time.

Considerable harping at some levels these days on what is called "academic freedom" and there is a question in the minds of some of us country folks as to just what this means.

Best I can tell from the bickering, though, academic freedom refers to a school teacher's right to teach kids his way, whether parents like it or not.

Like, say, you hire a teacher to instruct your cub in piano playing, and you are an enemy of academic freedom if you bellyache about it if this teacher feels like turning you out a piccolo player instead.

I see where a New York church was closed up and its doors locked here the other day on account of some of the brethren let their differences run into fist-fighting.

Around here we don't close churches when we don't like the preacher or some so-and-so deacon. We just stay at home on Sunday to show God we don't like the kind of people He runs with.

I guess it's natural for folks to have differences, whether they are in church or in a beer parlor. But you don't find many who stay away from beer just because they disagree with some bartender.

I see where Congress is working on a bill to provide bigger fines and longer jail terms for folks who neglect to pay what they owe the internal revenue.

The new law is also being fixed up so they can throw a bigger book at people who don't pay because of some irrelevant reason like no money.

It'll be a useful law, I guess. Ought to encourage us to keep up dutifully with our obligations to Yugoslavia, TVA, etc., instead of

Returned Bands Show Flight of Mourning Doves

AUSTIN—Every hunter knows that doves begin a mass migration after the first north of the season. Biologists of the Texas Game and Fish Commission for a number of years have been tracing this migration, with the assistance of sportsmen. A break-down on the movement of doves has just been issued by the Director of Wildlife Restoration of the Commission.

Most of the Texas doves seem to move into Mexico, with the coming of the winter months, according to figures of the report. It also shows many of the doves are killed within the first year after banding.

The baby birds are banded while they are still in the nests. Hunters are then asked to send in the bands from the birds bagged telling where they were killed.

One dove, banded by Warden Jack Gregory, three miles north of Kerrville, on July 3, 1951, was killed December 22, 1956 near Hacienda San Angel, Humaniqueo de Mora les, Michoacan, Mexico.

Since most of the dove banding was done in the Panhandle of Texas, a majority of the bands returned are from that area. Strangely enough many of these birds are killed in Michoacan in Mexico.

One bird, banded by Warden Cecil Fox, 12 miles north of Dickens July 26, 1954, was killed two years later in Guatemala, in Central America.

A dove banded by biologist W. H. Kiel, near Edinburg, in the Valley, in 1955, were killed in Louisiana in 1956.

Other states also participate in the banding program. Bands have been returned showing that 44 birds banded in Louisiana, were killed in Texas.

Who takes over when Mother takes off

We bet it's Father and we bet he leans heavily on the family's Electric Servants.

And why not? Electric servants draw mighty low wages. Lower, even, than they were 25 years ago. For instance, if yours is the typical American home, you're getting twice as much electricity for your dollar today as you did in 1932. Your electric bill may be higher, but that's because electricity is doing so much more for you now.

• Actually in homes served by WTU, the average cost of a kilowatt-hour of electric service is 20% LESS than it was 10 years ago!

Think about it for a minute. Don't you agree that electricity is the biggest bargain in your budget?

KNOW ALL THE FACTS Before You Vote

in the Water Authority Confirmation Election
August 31

Between now and August 31, the date on which voters of Wellington will decide whether this city will accept membership in the Greenbelt Municipal and Industrial Water Authority, complete information will be made available to everyone regarding the purpose of establishing this Authority.

This is an important election; each voter should make it his business to learn all the facts about the question from reliable sources, and not to base his decision upon hear-say, rumors or uninformed street talk.

FACTS IN BRIEF

This is an election to set up the Water Authority only; it DOES NOT obligate us to remain in the authority if later developments show it is not to our advantage.

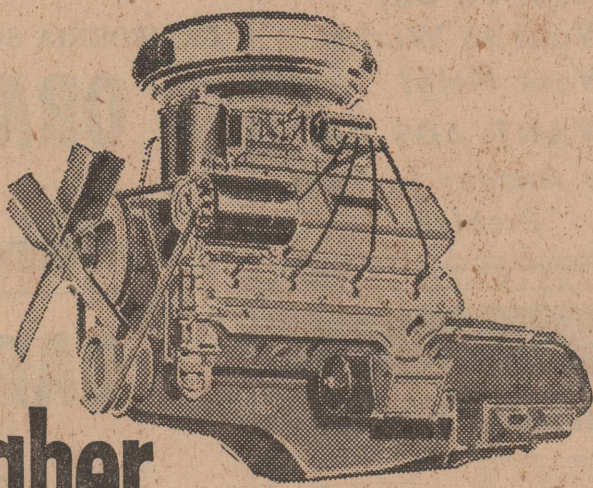

Establishment of the Authority, subject to our later withdrawal if desirable, is the only way to retain our rights to Salt Fork water. This is the LAST chance we will have to keep these rights.

No tax increase and no bond issue is involved at this time; it is quite possible that no tax levy will ever be necessary, if engineering data show that sale of water will finance the project.

This advertisement paid for by contributions from more than 50 Collingsworth County citizens interested in preserving the area's water rights.

—By Deskins Wells

Groups representing five major organizations of the town met with the City Council in the interest of more diligent enforcement of the traffic regulations in the city limits. Their specific request was for the city to use every means in its power to enforce traffic regulations in Wellington.

The organizations represented a vast majority of the people. The five were: The Ministerial Alliance, representing the churches; The Kiwanis Club, The Rotary Club, The B&PW Club and The Collingsworth Chamber of Commerce. Others were not represented officially; but if you take into consideration the fact that many members of The American Legion, The VFW and the Masonic Lodge are also members of the five organizations that did appear then it is obvious that there was a lot of the pressure of public opinion being put on the council that night.

It seems that the representatives of the five organizations were primarily concerned with the reckless driving of teenagers. City officials were quick to point out that any strenuous enforcement would have to include adults who park wrong, fail to signal, run stop signs and also trucks and passenger cars speeding along Highway 83 one half of which is in the city limits as well as the young people who burn the rubber playing ditchum and other dangerous games. The council was told equally as promptly that they wanted the law enforced on all violators regardless of its nature. And the Council agreed to take action, and as the old English novelists used to conclude their chapters, you may learn more about this ere too long.

Perhaps this newspaper has been too busy trying to keep the people abreast of the latest developments in county affairs to pay proper attention to the city. The equalization sitting of the commissioners turned out to be a more pleasant meeting than many people have had with the equalization boards of either the city or the school in recent years. Some taxes were raised, some were lowered, and a few were even reduced.

Back to the city problems. I did not know that the traffic situation had become dangerous enough to cause open protest by five major organizations. Wrote some heated comments a few years ago about ditchum drivers, phoned Bill McCarver in the middle of the night, and since then the screeching of tires around my corner on East Avenue has not been too great to disturb slumber.

But I will say this: If the city does try to enforce traffic regulations strictly they will need to hire another police officer. I would be the last person in town to claim that Bill McCarver is the second coming of J. Edgar Hoover; but I will say that Bill made an effort to get the co-operation of the people in reporting speeding. Here is what the youngsters do. They spot Bill's car and one car is set to give the alarm while the rest of them operate in another part of the city at the risk of life and limb. (And it should be remembered that a lot of this goes on along the county roads. That is not a city problem.)

Wrenn Hartman was very busy attending to important business in Wellington Tuesday. His wife was canning peas at their home in the Buck Creek community. My son and I tried to work this old rose last Friday since we agreed that we were needed at the newspaper urgently. It did not work. We picked and shelled peas.

Charlie Bearden brought in some wonderful Indian peaches. Most of his fine orchard was ruined by the April freeze. He is different from the cotton farmers who hope for a better year next fall. He hopes for a better year next spring.

No Developments In Kidnapping

There have been no new developments in the kidnapping of Minister Keith Beeman by an armed robber Monday, August 12, Deputy Sheriff Kenneth Hodge reported.

Local officers have learned that a man believed to be the abductor hitch-hiked into Paducah and cleaned up at a service station in that town.

The only new clue is a key, tied with a purple ribbon that the man apparently dropped in the service station rest room, Hodge said.

NO WILL? WHO INHERITS PROPERTY?

What will happen if you should die without executing a legal and proper will? Who will inherit your property? Your husband, wife, mother, father, children, your wife's relatives? The best way you can say who will have it is to provide a will which will protect your rightful beneficiaries and dispose of your property in accordance with your wishes.

When a deceased has no will, or dies "intestate" as the law calls it, the property of that person is distributed according to a detailed formula fixed by law. In some cases this may be the way you yourself would divide it — but in many cases it is not.

The provisions of the law concerning the distribution of the property of a person who dies without a will are rather complicated, and all of the possibilities cannot be covered by a general statement.

There are different rules for real estate and for personal property, for community property and for separate property, for homestead property, and for all of the many possible combinations of surviving relatives. Each situation must be carefully studied to determine the correct distribution of the property.

For example, here is a general idea of how the community property which you and your spouse have accumulated will be divided if you do not make a will prior to your death.

If your husband or wife survives and there are no children, the surviving spouse receives all of the property.

If, in addition, there are surviving children or descendants of deceased children, they would divide one-half of the property, while the surviving spouse would receive the other one-half.

Of course, grandchildren do not share in the estate unless their parent who would inherit is deceased. And when descendants of previously deceased children do inherit, they receive only the portion that the child would have received, regardless of the number of such descendants.

An odd note, perhaps, is that the surviving spouse already owns one-half of the community estate prior to your death, and the law adds nothing to this share where there are children surviving.

When there are only children and their descendants surviving, they divide the entire community estate between them.

(This column, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform, not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

Hood to Assist In Tech. Coaching

Floyd Hood Jr., Texas Tech Red Raider guard whose football career was ended June 2 by a back injury, will remain at Tech to help coach the freshman team.

He is a junior this year.

One of the finest athletes Wellington high school has produced, starting in both football and boxing, Hood continued his career in the Army. His injury was received as he severed connecting fibers in his spine when he stooped to pick up his baby son, Mike, at the family home in Lubbock.

Specialists have since told him that such an accident during a tackle on the football field probably would have been fatal, his mother, Mrs. Floyd Hood said.

He also was told there had always been a weakness at this point, aggravated by his strenuous activities.
