

Penny Day Slated at Pool June 6

Saturday, June 6 will be Penny Day at Marian Airpark Pool, Manager James Larson announced this week.

This will be held along the same plan as in other years. Approximately $20 in coins will be thrown into the pool and from that point, it's "Finder's, keepers".

There is one exception. One coin will be colored and the finder may exchange it for a season ticket to the swimming pool.

The gate will be open at 1 p.m. and the penny event will be held at 3.

Concerning free swimming lessons, Larson said that parents may register their children for classes on Friday of Saturday, June 12 or 13, and lessons will begin Monday, June 15.

Instructors will be Mr. and Mrs. Larson and Miss Betty Courtney. These are free except for the regular admission to the pool.

"Lessons start at 9 a.m. and there will be classes for beginners, intermediates, advanced swimmers, and diving," Larson said. An instruction period and practice period will be scheduled for each lesson.

At the end of the classes, a swim day will be scheduled, when parents can see their children perform.

READY FOR BOYS STATE

These four Collingsworth youths leave Thursday night, June 4, for the American Legion Boys State at Austin, where for a week they will study the operation of state and local government. Here they have received money for the trip. From left are Ronny Hurst, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cal Hurst of Wellington; Lloyd Stice, son of Mr. and Mrs. Noah Stice of Abra; Bill Spillman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Spillman of Wellington; and Dale Morris, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Morris of Quail.

Short Ballot Goes Before Voters Saturday

Collingsworth voters, both Democrats and Republicans, will vote on one race each in the second primary elections Saturday, June 6.

Both are state races and neither has excited much attention locally.

Democrats will select a congressman at large nominee, either Joe Pool of Dallas county, the incumbent, or Robert W. Baker of Harris county.

Republicans will choose between Jack Cox and George Bush for United States Senator nominee. Both are from Harris county.

There will be only one voting box for the Democrats and this will serve the entire county, G. B. Hopper, county Democratic chairman, pointed out.

It will be in the county court room of the courthouse, from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. Jack Aaron will be the election judge and Dee Burba assistant judge.

Republicans will vote again at the fellowship hall of First Christian Church, also from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. Mr. and Mrs. David Baumgardner will hold the election. This box also will serve the entire county.

There have been only four absentee ballots cast among the Democrats and one Republican, Lorene Jenkins, county clerk, said Tuesday evening, shortly before the absentee deadline.

Golf Tournament Gets Underway Friday

Play in the Wellington Masters' Golf Tournament starts Friday, June 5, at 1 p.m. and will continue through Saturday, and until late Sunday afternoon, when the winners of the three flights and the medalist player will be awarded handsome merchandise prizes.

The tournament is sponsored by the Wellington State Bank. More than 40 men qualified during the past week end, and these were placed in three flights at the pairing Tuesday evening, June 2.

"There will be three flights with awards for each flight," said C. T. Hubbard, bank president. "Winners will be determined by the lowest score made for five rounds. A medalist award will be offered for the lowest round shot in each flight."

"In addition to the winner awards, each participant will receive a gift. The only cost of this tournament to the participants is the greens fees." First place winner in the first flight will receive the electric clock trophy; in the second, a golf cart and, third, a golf bag. Second place winners will receive golf jackets and third place golf club covers.

There will be a golf trophy for the medalist winner in the first flight and pitching wedges for medalists in the second and third flights.

Palo Cummings will serve as teamster.

Men who have qualified are Henry Sullivan, Doc Barjenbruch, Lewis Morris, James Stavenhagen, Cal Hurst, L. B. Bratten, Judge R. L. Templeton, Jones Singley, Billy R. Long, Matt Johnson, J. B. Ony, J. W. Cochran, C. T. Hubbard and Charley Welch.

Also Bobby McAllister, Ham Holton, Archie Johnson, R. T.

Savage, Bobo Castleberry, Harold Pigg, Grant Woodriddle, Jack Sanford, Harold Watkins, John Brown, Lonnie Roark, Fred Saied, John Roark, and D. C. Powell, James Larson, Carl Daves, Velman Warrick, Alvin Horton, Dee Burba, Mack Saied Jr., R. L. Mabery, Alva Cristy, J. L. Harper, Robert Lewis, Byron Duncan, Mickey Breedlove, W. T. McAdams, Frank Anderson, Barney Glenn, Tom Wilkins, Jack Neely and Dale Ratliff.

This is the largest tournament held in Wellington, Hubbard said, pointing to this as evidence of the rapidly growing interest in golf.

The public is invited to come out and watch the progress of the players at any time during the tournament.

A definite time for awarding the trophies cannot be set, but it should be around 6 p.m. Sunday, Hubbard reported.

Other Pastors Returned

Rev Edens to Denver City; Rev. Todd Here

The Rev. Davis Edens, pastor of First Methodist Church here, was transferred to Denver City at the Northwest Texas Annual Conference which closed in Amarillo Friday, May 29, and he and his family will move to their new home Thursday.

Succeeding him here is the Rev. Ellis Todd, who with Mrs. Todd comes from Haskell. They will arrive here Thursday afternoon.

Other Methodist pastors of the county were returned to their charges. These are the Rev. J. F. Michael, Dodson; the Rev. R. H. Knight, Trinity Methodist Church, Wellington; and the Rev. Cecil Rankin, Glen Davis Memorial Methodist Church, Dozier. The Rev. Bill Hankins, who lives in the Aberdeen community, again was named pastor of the Lelia Lake Methodist Church.

In his new work the Rev. Mr. Edens will be pastor of a church with membership about the same as First Methodist here. A new church building was completed five years ago.

During his ministry here, Rev. Edens has seen the initiation of the church quarter-million dollar building program, attendance has increased, and the pastor was chosen for a summer pulp exchange with the Rev. Lloyd Brown of St. Thomas, Ontario, Canada.

He is president of the ministerial alliance, and has been vice president of the Rotary Club.

Mrs. Edens is a teacher in Wellington high school and was a member of the Wellington Federated Music Club and active in other community music affairs.

The couple have four children: Davela, 15; Patricia, 13; Mary Nell and Kirk, 11-year-old twins.

Rev. and Mrs. Todd have a son and daughter, both grown. His pastorates, in addition to Haskell, have included Hale Center, Stanton and Petersburg.

Auther Jones to Ministry of Okla. Church

Min. Auther Jones has resigned his ministry at West Avenue Church of Christ to accept one at Ratliff City, Oklahoma, in the south-central part of that state.

He and his family came here 13 months ago from Wetumka, Okla.

The new minister of West Avenue Church is Min. Reggie Nalls, who has been preaching at Erick, Okla. He has two children, a daughter 8 and a son, 4.

Mr. and Mrs. Jones and daughter, Janie Louise, 16, left last week for their new home.

Their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Auther Jones Jr., remained here and they also have a married daughter, Mrs. Phillip Dyer, of Duncan, Okla.

"We appreciate the way we have been treated in Wellington, and the cooperation given us here," Min. Jones said before leaving. "We hate to leave, but we feel we should be nearer our families."

Savages Return From Bogota, SA

CWO and Mrs. Frazier Savage and children, Clifford and Sherry, returned recently to the United States after being in Bogota, South America where he was a military attache at the American embassy.

The Savages will be in Washington, D.C. until he receives a new assignment. They visited last week in the home of his brother, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Savage.

Savage lived here until after his graduation from Wellington high school.

Wheat Growers Docked Under New Grade Basis

The Department of Agriculture's revised basis for grading wheat is being felt on the local market, as growers are docked on foreign material in the grain, cracked wheat, damaged and broken kernels, Wellington elevator operators report.

At the same time, Millard Brown of the county ASCS office announced that the basic county loan and purchase rates for No. 1 wheat is $1.29 per bushel. This is based on a Galveston terminal market rate of $1.77 per bushel.

Premiums and discounts for grade, variety, sedimentation value, protein content and other qualities also affect the price.

A critical item at this point is moisture content. No. 1 wheat can have no more than 13.5 per cent moisture. Under the new grading method, growers will be docked one-half cent for each one-fourth point of moisture over 13.5, local buyers pointed out.

Some growers, eager to get their grain out, tried to cut Monday and Tuesday and came in with wheat having a moisture content of 17 and 18 per cent—4 to 5 points over the maximum for No. 1 wheat. That in itself would mean a dockage of 8 to 10 cents per bushel.

Basis for Grades

Here is the basis for determining the grade of wheat, according to information received by the ASCS office. All is based on hard red winter wheat:

No. 1: minimum test weight per bushel, 60 pounds; maximum limits of: heat damaged kernels, 1 per cent; total damaged kernels, 2 per cent; foreign material, .5 per cent; shrunken and broken kernels, 3 per cent; and total defects 3 per cent.

No. 2: 58 pounds; .2 per cent heat damaged kernels; 4 per cent total damaged kernels; 1 per cent foreign materials; 5 per cent shrunken and broken kernels; and 5 per cent total defects.

No. 3 wheat: 56 pounds; .5 per cent heat damaged kernels;

7 per cent total damaged kernels; 2 per cent foreign material; 8 per cent shrunken and broken kernels; and 8 per cent total defects.

No. 4 wheat: 54 pounds; 1 per cent heat damaged kernels; 10 per cent total damaged kernels; 3 per cent foreign material; 12 per cent shrunken and broken kernels and 12 per cent total defects.

No. 5 wheat: 51 pounds; 3 per cent heat damaged kernels; 15 per cent total damaged kernels; 5 per cent foreign material; 20 per cent shrunken and broken kernels and 20 per cent total defects.

Sample grade is wheat that does not meet the requirements for any of the above or which contains stones, is musty, sour or heating.

Jones Improved from Broken Hip

Bob Jones, who received a broken left leg in a fall at his home Saturday, May 23, was returned to St. Joseph's Hospital Saturday, May 30, and is much improved, Mrs. Jones said Tuesday.

The accident occurred as Jones was walking across the driveway at his home, when he slipped and fell. Alone at the time, he pulled himself across the driveway to the yard where he could call his wife. She, in turn, summoned help.

X-rays showed the leg broken just below the hip joint.

Jones remained in St. Joseph's Hospital overnight, then was transferred to Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo for further treatment.

It is not yet definite when he will be able to leave the hospital here, Mrs. Jones said.

Frank Kennedy of Quail

Veteran Ag Teacher to New Job at Vega

Frank Kennedy, whose entire 19-year teaching career has been in the vocational agriculture department of Quail school, has resigned to accept a similar job with Vega high school.

He and his family will move there July 1.

"It is a larger department and in a brand new building, and much as we hate to leave Quail, we feel we must take this," Kennedy told The Wellington Leader this week.

In leaving Quail, Kennedy ends an outstanding career of school and community service.

"I suppose I am proudest of the boys who are now ag-teachers," he recalled, naming several. "... and the three American Farmers from the chapter." These are Jack Aaron, Troy Harrison and Travis McGuire. J. C. Saunders has made application for the same degree, highest offered in the national Future Farmer set-up.

There have been around 40 Lone Star Farmers from the Quail chapter under Kennedy's teaching and his judging teams have won honor on the district, area and state levels.

The Quail Young Farmer chapter he organized in 1956 was one of the first in the state, and it has furnished high state officers up to vice president.

The Quail chapter had the Outstanding Young Farmer of Texas once, and men from the chapter won that honor on the area level five times.

The Future Farmer Chapter Kennedy sponsors has rated superior by the national Association of Future Farmers for the last five years.

Honors have come to this hard-working ag teacher. He received the honorary Lone Star Farmer degree in 1950; a plaque for outstanding newspaper publicity in Area I, honors he followed up with winning awards for outstanding publicity in radio and television. In 1963 the Young Farmers of Texas honored him for outstanding leadership as an advisor.

He also has served on the board of directors of the state vocational agriculture teachers and in 1963 he was on the state planning committee for the annual ag teachers convention.

Kennedy was one of those who helped to organize Salt Fork Soil Conservation District.

TO NEW VOC-AG JOB

Frank Kennedy, veteran vocational agriculture teacher at Quail, has resigned to become ag instructor in the Vega high school. He was at Quail 19 years.

J. R. Downs Burned in Butane Fire

J. R. Downs, 15-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Downs, received second degree burns on the legs, feet and left arm in a butane explosion at the F. O. Masten farm east of town Thursday, May 28.

The accident, which happened about 11 p.m., was due to butane escaping from a heating stove in a barn, and occurred when the youth struck a match, according to Mrs. Downs.

Uninjured were three companions, Winford Downs, his brother; Kenneth Downs, an uncle, and Ronny Baker, a friend.

There was no damage to the barn, Mrs. Downs added.

J. R. was rushed to St. Joseph's Hospital, and although his condition is improving, it is not known when he will be able to return home.

The family moved to the Masten farm from Wellington on the day before the accident.

Garcias Fly to Puerto Rico

Mr. and Mrs. Danny Garcia and sons, Dusty and David, and his cousin, Miss Susan Garcia, will leave Friday for Fajardo, Puerto Rico.

Miss Garcia, who attended Wellington high school this year, will spend the summer with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Garcia Bird, while the Danny Garcia family will visit his father, R. A. Garcia Bird. They will be in Puerto Rico two weeks.

Fajardo is located about 30 miles inland from San Juan, capital of the island.

Miss Garcia plans to return to Wellington and attend school in September.

MASTERS TOURNEY PRIZES

First prizes to winners of each of the three flights in the Masters Golf Tournament are tried out here by two employees of the Wellington State Bank, sponsor of the tournament. Two of the winners will win the trophy clock and caddy cart, shown by Jimmy Strickland, left, while Mrs. W. T. McAdams, takes a golf club, still another prize, from the handsome bag. The tournament will be played this week end at municipal course.

At Annual Conference

Trinity Church Gets Award for Improvement

Trinity Methodist Church and its pastor, the Rev. R. H. Knight, received an improvement award under the annual Town and Country Awards Program at the annual Northwest Texas Annual conference in Amarillo Friday, May 29.

Presentation of the awards for outstanding work highlighted the morning session.

Rev. Knight completed his first year at Trinity church and was reassigned here.

The award program was on the basis of improvement to the church building and it was financed by the Lord's Acre and Lord's Hour, introduced here a year ago, Rev. Knight said.

"Members gave the proceeds from one acre of land or the equivalent of wages from a certain number of hours of work, over and above their pledge to the church budget," the pastor explained.

From the proceeds, Trinity Church members have been able to cover the exterior of both the church and the parsonage with asbestos siding in soft gray color. Woodwork was repainted.

The Lord's Acre plan will be continued in the church this year.

"There are many ways to pay. You can sell a calf or a pig. Young people can hold a bake sale or chili supper as their part," Rev. Knight explained.

The Town and Country Awards program, of which the improvement program is a part is given for outstanding work among smaller churches of the Methodist conference. This is the third year Rev. Knight has won an award under the program, having won it last year and the year before at McAdoo, in the Lubbock district.

Reared just a few miles from Wellington, in northwest Childress county, Rev. Knight has preached in Childress and most adjoining counties, but never in Collingsworth before this pastorate.

He has been a minister 27 years, but for the first three, he continued to work his farm and drive to the churches he served.

Rev. Knight has completed the summer course of study to become an Approved Supply Pastor, given by Perkins School of Theology of Southern Methodist University.

"This is for men who enter the ministry late in life and who do not have college work," he explained.

Summer Jobs an Important Part of Students Lives

For a surprisingly large number of high school students in the county, summer vacation is a misnomer—by their own choice. They have become, overnight, part of our capable and energetic labor force.

It is much the same country wide. Collingsworth boys and girls want jobs that are real work—not made work. They are eager and they have good job habits. They make a real and valuable contribution to our community during the summer months.

Their first venture into the adult world is eye-opening to most boys and girls, and one summer's work can be an education not found in the classroom, by the very nature of the latter.

Some of these Collingsworth boys and girls are holding jobs under local business men. Others made their own jobs, and still others are working on farms for their fathers. And to all appearances, all this work leaves them plenty of time for summer fun!

We hope, however, that none of these young students likes his job so well he doesn't return to school this fall. That would be an individual tragedy. The fact is ground in deeper each year that education is a must for every boy and girl capable of receiving one.

A writer, discussing the high level of labor in a certain area, using this phrase . . . "the unskilled, those with only high school educations . . ." These summer jobs are important, but they are not an end.

NEWS LETTER from Congressman WALTER ROGERS

HOPE FOR DOMESTIC SUGAR GROWERS

Hearings are expected to begin about June 8 on the U.S. sugar supply question—an issue that shapes up as one of the hottest remaining to be decided in this 88th Congress.

The House Agriculture Committee will consider bills I and other members of the House have introduced to permit American sugar beet farmers and cane growers the right to serve a larger share of the American market. Americans are the world's best sugar customers. All that is required to permit our people to consume the product of thousands upon thousands of new American sugar beet and cane farmers, processors, and workers is this legislative action:

Reallocation of a major portion of the 3 million tons of sugar formerly imported from Cuba. This quantity of sugar now is being received from offshore—foreign—sugar producers.

As I have predicted for many months, the fight will be a tough one. The off-shore interests seeking to preserve the status quo include shippers and refiners, along the East Coast. They will muster powerful support, as they did in 1962 when Congress resolved the same question in their favor.

But this year I see signs of growing strength for the position I advocate—one that would correct, to the benefit of our economic position, a very unfair situation.

LAKE McCLELLAN FACILITIES BEING IMPROVED

Lake McClellan in southern Gray county is one of the most attractive recreation spots in the Panhandle. For several years I sought approval for new, needed construction work at the dam to preserve the recreational benefits provided by the lake and to protect property below the dam from occasional flash flooding.

In my capacity as chairman of the Subcommittee on Irrigation and Reclamation of the House Interior Committee, I have long advocated that it is just as necessary to maintain existing water projects as to build new ones. I had felt that Lake McClellan was being neglected; recurrent floods proved it.

I am glad to say that the U.S. Forest Service, which had administered Lake McClellan since 1954, will open bids June 11 in Albuquerque to provide the needed work on the dam and spillway.

The project, to be completed 300 days after a contract is awarded, will include construction of a new, enlarged concrete spillway and extending the dam across the existing emergency spillway.

Since 1959 the Forest Service has improved facilities at Lake McClellan by adding 49 "family units" (fireplace, table and benches), two boat ramps, two miles of improved road, a rehabilitated concession building, among others.

In the current year, the Forest Service began a project to add additional picnic tables and fireplaces, sanitary facilities, a boat trailer parking area, boat ramps and another mile and a half of roadway. Based on periodic counts by the Forest Service, approximately 110,000 visits are made to the lake each year.

When projects planned or underway are completed, the goal of upgrading facilities at Lake McClellan will be attained.

VIM AND VIGOR AVAILABLE 25¢ EACH

Stan Musial, the former St. Louis Cardinals star who is now Consultant to the President on Physical Fitness, has sent me copies of "Vim" and "Vigor," the two new booklets prepared by the President's Council on Physical Fitness to promote physical well-being among our young people.

"Vigor" presents a complete exercise plan for boys of ages 12-18. "Vim" presents a complete exercise plan for girls in that age bracket.

Mr. Musial said that more than 34,000 copies of the two booklets were sold in the first week after publication—and they may rival in popularity the 1963 booklet "Adult Physical Fitness" as best-sellers.

Not available for free distribution, the booklets may be ordered by writing the Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office.

"Vim" and "Vigor" are each 25¢ a copy. "Adult Physical Fitness" costs 35¢. Prices are lower for quantity orders.

CROSSROADS REPORT

Dear Editor:

News is that Washington is spending $119,000.00 more deficit money to do research on the subject of Eye and Brain Development in the Mosquito.

My Nature-informed neighbor says none of the mosquitoes he has ever met seemed in need of any better eye or brain development, because of getting along all right with what they had.

But he reckons maybe Authority hopes to learn more and finer points of the technique of living off of brother creatures' blood, since the mosquito is probably the original bureaucrat.

News has leaked down here that there was some congressional commotion about an Army general in Michigan spending $94,500 to fancy up his office and bathroom.

But congressmen, of all people, ought to understand that an important man needs elegant environment, to remind him of the overload he carries, at times when there is nobody around to bump their heads on the ground before him.

Some can get this ego support when alone by counting their money, but not generally Generals, so if it helps him, a General ought to be entitled to mink-lined tissue and silk-padded walls in his bathroom.

The sad news is being reported that us people in the bottom 15 per cent of the income scale don't live as high as the other 85 per cent.

And high level Authority is fixing to cure this unequalness, maybe by taking away enough from the higher livers and giving it to us to advance us up to the bottom 30 per cent.

But my bottom 20 per cent neighbor says this will put a crimp in his psyche by violating his civil right to have somebody around that he can feel like he is better off than they are. Don't see why all this ruckusation over a new civil rights law, now that many high level moral monitors say that laws we don't like don't need to be obeyed anyhow.

In fact, we have got divine word, second-hand, of course, but from some certified spokesmen, that it's a citizen's Christian duty to disobey any law he thinks is unjust.

And, under this new light on Christian responsibility, we probably ought to award gold stars to all the brave men who have gone to jail because they feel like the anti-bank robbing laws are unjust.

A & M Seeks Way to Feed Undernourished

Food for undernourished people of the world may be the outcome of a Texas A&M research effort to clean fish with chemicals.

Financed by a $39,832 grant from the Bureau of Commercial Fisheries, A&M's Chemurgic Research Laboratory is studying methods of cleaning fish with enzymes which "digest" viscera, scales and eyes.

Chemical cleaning is faster and cheaper than hand cleaning, allowing species of small fish to be processed economically as foodstuff. Dr. W. W. Meinke, associate professor of chemical engineering, is the research effort leader.

Four Youths Chosen to Attend Boys State

Four youths will represent Collingsworth county at the American Legion Boys State, which opened Wednesday, June 3 in Austin.

They are Lloyd Stice, son of Mr. and Mrs. Noah Stice of Abra; Dale Morris, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Morris of Quail; Ronny Hurst, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cal Hurst, and Bill Spillman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Spillman.

They are sponsored by the Frank King Post of the American Legion, and cooperating with it are the Wellington Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs and the Samnorwood Lions Club.

The principal aim of Boys State, held each summer, is to encourage good citizenship and to give the boys a clearer idea of the operation of state and local governments.

Each boy chosen must have completed his junior year in high school.

Stice was president of the Samnorwood junior class and vice president of the Student Council. He was a member of the FFA livestock judging team that participated in Area I competition at Tech, and the parliamentary procedure team. He played basketball and baseball and won on the annual staff.

Active in Glen Davis Memorial Methodist Church, Stice is president of the sub-district MYF and president of his local MYF.

Morris was a member of the 9-B all-district basketball team and was nominated for state honors. He also was on the district-winning baseball team. He was vice president of the junior class, a Beta Club officer, on the Echo staff, and the FFA parliamentary procedure team. Morris attends Lillie Baptist Church.

A member of Beta Club, which denotes outstanding scholarship, Hurst also was a member of the district-winning basketball team, the track and golf teams. He was cited for honors in physics, plane and solid geometry. Active in the MYF of First Methodist Church, he is a member of one of its commissions.

Winner of second place in the regional tennis competition, Spillman was also an all-district basketball player. He is treasurer-elect of Beta Club, and was named for outstanding work in bookkeeping and trigonometry.

Spillman is an Eagle Scout, president of the Explorer Scouts Post and assistant Scoutmaster of the Boy Scouts. He, too, is active in MYF and is a member of the commission on evangelism.

Seales Visit in Mineral Wells and Weatherford

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Seale were in Mineral Wells last week for the baths and she reports that both returned feeling better.

They also visited their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Seale and two children in Weatherford.

Tom Seale, who is senior technical advisor in the tooling engineering department of Convar, is leaving Wednesday night for Phoenix, Ariz., for a short period of schooling.

From there he will go to a company school in California for eight days, then about a month later he will go to another of Convar's plants in Connecticut for additional training.

His wife and children are accompanying him to California.

Rogers Studies in S. America

John Rogers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Rogers of Canadian, formerly of Wellington, has received a special grant from the Harvard Committee on Latin American Studies, to travel and do research in South America this summer.

Rogers is a junior in Harvard University this year.

He will fly to Brazil in June, visiting Rio de Janeiro, Brasilia and Sao Paulo; then move to Argentina for a study of Argentine nationalism. His tour also will include visits to Montevideo, Uruguay; Santiago, Chile; Lima, Peru; and Panama City.

C. A. Needhams Move to Memphis

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Needham and family moved recently to Memphis where he is employed by Hickey Motor Co., as a mechanic and body man.

He operated a body shop here for five years.

The Needhams have five children: Evonda, 11; Charley, 8; Danny, 4; Robert, two; and Ronnie, one.

COOK Electrically WITH PLANNED FLAMELESS STORED HEAT

If dinner is cooking, and you're running late (to pick up the children at school, hubby at work, or attend a club meeting) flameless electric cooking allows you to leave home earlier.

A flameless electric oven is insulated on SIX sides, and uses current only 15 minutes out of each hour to maintain pre-set temperature. You can turn it off completely, and food will continue to cook at pre-set temperature for 30 minutes. A flameless electric surface unit maintains pre-set temperature 5 minutes after electric energy is turned off.

Mrs. Arthur Hopkins Woods, Jr.

Andrea Carter, Arthur H. Woods Jr. Wed in Church Rites Sat. Evening

Miss Andrea Lynn Carter, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lynn Carter, became the bride of Arthur Hopkins Woods Jr. of Pine Bluff, Ark., in a ceremony at First Methodist Church Saturday, May 30 at four-thirty in the afternoon. The Rev. Davis B. Edens officiated.

The parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hopkins of Indianola, Miss.

An arch was at the center of the altar decorations, and at each side were candelabras holding white tapers and arrangements of white gladioli. Pews were marked with white satin bows.

Miss Shirley Peters was the organist and Jim Bill Davis of Fort Worth was vocalist.

Mr. Carter gave his daughter in marriage. She wore a gown of white antique satin. A white Alencon lace jacket with a bateau neckline and short scalloped sleeves covered the camisole bodice, and the floor-length bell-shaped skirt extended into a cathedral train. Matching lace medallions were applied on the shoulder veil, held in place by a white satin rose. She carried a bouquet of gardenias and ivy.

Miss Joanna Teague of Mart was maid of honor and the bridesmaids were Miss Su Earl Bullock of Lubbock, Miss Vicki Glenn and Miss Leslie Covey, the latter a cousin of the bride. They wore sleeveless modified empire sheaths of coral Swiss silk, and their matching open pillbox hats held brief butterfly veils. Their bouquets were of white carnations nestled in coral net.

Jimmy Woods of El Paso, brother of the bridegroom, was best man, and ushers were Mr. Davis, Leigh Carter, brother of the bride, and Rodney Kane, her cousin.

Candles were lighted by her cousins, Larry Kane, and Sandy Covey, while Mary Nell Edens was the flower girl and Stevie Kane, another cousin, was ring bearer.

Following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Carter were hosts at a reception in the church parlor.

In the receiving line were Mr. and Mrs. Carter, the bride and groom, his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Benson of

Lillie HDC Hears of Color in the Home

The Lillie Home Demonstration Club met recently in the home of Mrs. Haskell Manuel. Mrs. Elmer Haralson presided and Mrs. Manuel gave the devotional.

Roll call was answered with "Ways to Express Sympathy to Others." Mrs. C. A. Wright gave the program on "Color in the Home."

The club met again on May 28 in the home of Mrs. Dudley Phipps. Mrs. Elmer Haralson, president, presided, and Mrs. Phipps gave the devotional.

Mrs. John Alf Thomas was elected a delegate to the State meeting to be held at Houston Sept. 16.

Mrs. Zook Thomas gave an interesting program on "Flower Arrangements."

Refreshments were served to Mrs. Elmer Haralson, Mrs. C. A. Wright, Mrs. John Alf Thomas, Mrs. Zook Thomas, one visitor, Mrs. Raymond Barton, and the hostess, Mrs. Phipps.

El Paso, and the bride's attendants.

The reception table was covered with a white net cloth, and the bride's bouquet formed the centerpiece. Crystal appointments were used.

Miss Frances Hill, Miss Sylvia McQueary and Miss Mary Graham served the guests, and Miss Celia Anderson was at the bride's register. Mrs. Tony White presented piano selections during the reception.

As the couple left for their home in Little Rock, Ark., Mrs. Woods wore a beige textured silk cardigan suit with celery bougie. Her accessories were beige and her corsage was of gardenias.

The bride, a graduate of Wellington high school, completed her sophomore year at West Texas State University. She formerly attended McMurry College, Abilene, where she was a member of Theta Chi Lambda social sorority and Alpha Psi Omega, national honor dramatics fraternity.

The bridegroom received the bachelor of science degree from McMurry, where his social fraternity was Ko Sari. For the past year he was employed by the Arkansas State Health Department, and at present is a pre-medical student in Little Rock University.

Dinner Honors Wedding Party

Mrs. Cliff Camp was hostess Friday evening, May 29, at the rehearsal dinner honoring the wedding party of her granddaughter, Miss Andrea Carter and Arthur Hopkins Woods Jr. of Little Rock, Ark.

Assisting Mrs. Camp were her daughters, Mrs. Arthur Kane and Mrs. Fred Covey.

The dinner was served buffet style from a table laid with a white damask cloth. Coral gladiolas and white candles in crystal holders formed the centerpiece.

Guests were: Miss Carter; Mr. Woods; Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Carter, the parents of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Benson of El Paso, who are the bridegroom's uncle and aunt; also

Jimmy Woods of El Paso, Miss Joanna Teague of Mart, Miss Su Earl Bullock of Lubbock, Miss Vicki Glenn, Miss Leslie Covey, Jim Bill Davis of Fort Worth, Miss Shirley Peters, Arthur Kane, Stevie Kane, Larry Kane, the Rev. and Mrs. Davis B. Small Towns Getting Industry

Texas Industrial Commission reports that smaller Texas cities are beginning to get a larger share of the new industrial dollar.

In 1962 the big three—Dallas, Fort Worth and Houston—attracted 50% of the new industry locations. But in the first quarter of 1964, they showed only 38% as more industrial leaders picked smaller communities.

One of the small-town leaders—Paris—will provide a big new market for South Texas vegetable producers this winter when Campbell Soup Company opens its Paris plant.

Formal Ceremony Unites Janice Wood and John Duncan Fri. Evening

The First Baptist Church was the setting for the wedding of Miss Janice Wood and John Beard Duncan at six o'clock Friday, May 29. The Rev. Howard Jones of Fort Worth officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Wood, while the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Byron Duncan.

A white wrought iron arch covered in jade foliage was at the center of the church decorations. On each side were seven - branched candelabras holding cathedral tapers and pedestal baskets of white gladioli. White satin bows marked the pews.

Mrs. Truman Estes, organist, and Mrs. Davis Edens, vocalist, presented the wedding music.

Mr. Wood gave his daughter in marriage.

Her wedding gown of white satin and lace featured a bodice of the lace, made with a bateau neckline and sleeves that came to points over the wrists. The full floor-length skirt had wide lace panels at the back that were extended to outline the chapel train. Two large satin roses added interest to the skirt back. A large satin rose also formed the headpiece that held her double veil of silk illusion. The bride's bouquet was of white cymbidium orchids and stephanotis on a white Bible.

Mrs. Maxie Tarver of Lubbock was matron of honor, and bridesmaids were Mrs. Farris

Wood, sister-in-law of the bride, and Miss Judy Bowman of Amherst. Their blue dresses were made with contoured bodices having scooped necklines and deep v backs. The draped bell-shaped skirts were street length. Their matching rose headpieces were similar to the bride's and held short tulle veils. They carried net parasols having sprays of blue carnations.

Douglas Duncan of Wilson, brother of the bridegroom, was best man, and ushers were Farris Wood and Joe Wood, brothers of the bride, and Don Langford.

Stacey Duncan and Debra Wood, nieces of the couple, were flower girls and Patty Lucy and Linda Williams, cousins of the bride, lighted the candles.

Following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Wood were hosts at the reception in the church parlor.

A white net cloth over blue covered the bride's table, which was appointed in crystal and silver. The bride's bouquet was the centerpiece.

Mrs. Weldon Cleveland and Miss Glynell Elbert of Amarillo served the guests and Mrs. Kent Peoples of Canyon was at the bride's register.

As the couple left on their wedding trip to Lugert Lake, the bride wore a blue crepe two-piece dress with a blue flower hat. Her corsage was an orchid.

in Canyon.

The bride was graduated from high school here in 1962 and attended Texas Technological College before enrolling in West Texas State University.

The bridegroom, a 1961 graduate of Wellington high school, also attended Texas Tech and is now a student in Amarillo College.

Budget Parade on in Texas

AUSTIN. — State officials have begun the long parade before Gov. John Connally's budget staff and the Legislative budget board. From now until summer's end, more than 150 state agencies will give estimates on how much they will need to operate in the 1966-1967 biennium.

These hearings will produce budget recommendations to the next Legislature by Gov. Connally and by the Legislative Budget Board.

All estimates must be set out in dollars and cents. But the summer budget hearing period actually is the guessing season, since agency heads have to guess how many file clerks, how much stationery and how many pencils they will need in August 1966.

A few items seem certain: The Board for State Hospitals and Special Schools expects a 37% increase in the population of its schools for mentally retarded and will need an estimated $28,000,000 more than its current $100,000,000 budget. Department of Corrections will request $5,000,000 for pay raises for prison guards.

Budget raises not determined this summer are expected to be requested when the Legislature gets proposals for improving the state's higher education system; giving public school teachers a pay raise; building new schools for the mentally retarded; and building a state osteopathic college.

9 Per Cent Stolen Autos Never Found

Texas State Highway Department reveals the fact that each year about 17,000 automobiles are stolen in Texas—and 9% of them are never found.

Until three years ago, scrapped cars—complete with plates and negotiable ownership papers—could be purchased for $50. But no more.

To prevent both plates and papers falling into hands of theft rings the Legislature required each salvage yard operator to remove current plates from vehicles purchased as salvage.

Plates and papers are supposed to be kept under lock and key until claimed by the highway department. About 10,000 titles and 3,000 license plates are picked up each month.

Decay Formula Shows Decrease of Fallout

COLLEGE STATION—A nuclear bomb is a fearful and devastating weapon. However, should our nation be attacked with this weapon, the greatest danger and our greatest need for protection, would be from radioactive fallout.

Protection from nuclear fallout entails three general principles. They are distance, time, and shielding.

The principle of distance is simply that the greater the distance from the source of radiation, the greater the protection. When this distance is doubled the intensity of the radiation is reduced to 1/4 and with three times the distance it is reduced to 1/9th.

Time is another important principle in protection from fallout. Radioactivity from a nuclear weapon begins to lose its energy soon after the explosion through the process known as radioactive decay. A formula, important in determining decay, is that with a seven-fold increase in time there is a ten-fold decrease in dose rate. For example, if one hour after a blast the radiation intensity measures 1,000 roentgens per hour, it will decay to 100 roentgens per hour in seven hours. In 49 hours it will decrease to 10 roentgens per hour, and in 343 hours or about two weeks, it will decay to 1 roentgen. Thus it would be safe to leave shelter after two weeks.

Shielding is the third principle of protection from radiation. Dense, heavy material is needed to stop gamma radiation but any material placed between people and the radiation offers some protection. All these materials offer about the same amount of protection: Three feet of earth, 24 inches of concrete, 2 inches of lead, and 90 inches of wood, give excellent protection.

Shielding is really the only effective method of protection from radiation and everyone should have some type of fallout shelter. These shelters will be discussed in future articles on civil defense.

Study of Sorghum Midge Stepped Up

The "recreational" activities of the sorghum midge are under close scrutiny by Texas A&M University scientists.

James Harding, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station entomologist, has taken 113 grass samples to date from fields over the South Plains. These samples are being held in the laboratory at the South Plains Research and Extension Center at Lubbock. Harding checks the samples constantly for possible early midge emergence from the plant heads.

Willing cooperation of electrical power companies on the South Plains has allowed placement of 28 sticky insect traps on power poles in a nine-county area. Counties are: Lamb, Hale, Floyd, Hockley, Lubbock, Crosby, Terry, Lynn and Garza. Harding says weekly grass samplings, along with checking of the insect traps on power poles, will give an insight into "why" and "how" the midge attains such damaging numbers to reduce yields of August-blooming grain sorghum.

A few adult midge began emergence during the middle of May and are suspected of depositing their eggs in available grass hosts. Study of the grass samples will determine this in the near future. In contrast to early reports of midge activity, it is believed these are the first midge out. There are several orange, "midge-like creatures" on the High Plains that are not sorghum midge, but greatly resemble them. The entomologist says.

Several "allies" in the fight against the sorghum midge have been found this year. Two wasp-like parasites of the diapausing midge larva have been obtained from midge-infested sorghum florets. An external mite has also been found living on adult sorghum midge. Up to nine mites per fly has been observed.

Cards of Thanks

Just a note of gratitude to those who helped out during our fire, May 28. First our thanks to Phillip Cobb, Grover Graham and Truitt Holland, for alerting us and calling the fire department, Greenbelt Electric and police force for working so diligently. Finally our thanks to each of the men who were at our home and willing to help if need be. W. G. Burge.

We wish to express our deepest gratitude to all who were so thoughtful at the passing of our loved one. We do thank everyone for the many prayers in our behalf and for the beautiful flowers and cards expressing your sympathy.

We are especially grateful to Dr. Carter Holcomb, to the staff of St. Joseph's Hospital, and to the ones who prepared and served the food each day. May God richly bless each of you.

The family of Jerry DePauw.

TEXAS 65 ASSOCIATION

Governor John Connally circles the dates June 1 through June 15 as Texas 65 Weeks. Helping hold the calendar is H. Lewis Rietz, president of the Texas 65 Health Insurance Association. During the first two weeks of June, all Texans 65 years of age and past, will again have the opportunity to purchase Texas 65 health insurance regardless of age and without the necessity of a physical examination.

result in a lot of talk, but the communications effect spirals to huge proportions when organizations and groups become involved. The results of simple but vivid flannelboard presentations, such as "The Power of Your Vote" might just start the ball rolling toward a landslide vote in November.

There is no question but that where a majority of those eligible do vote, the best candidates are usually selected. Perhaps it was this realization that prompted former President Eisenhower to comment that "politics ought to be the part time profession of every citizen."

Those Americans who participate in politics are the ones who most definitely shape the character of the government and determine the general direction in which the whole nation moves.

In a very true sense, therefore, those who vote and who influence others to vote are the leaders of America.

Despite this, many otherwise loyal Americans are victims of apathy or complacency. They are too busy on election day. They have a distaste for politics or think it will hurt their business. Imagine that!

NACOGDOCHES — Built in 1779 as a Spanish trading post and fort, the Old Stone Fort is now a museum, located on the campus of Stephen F. Austin State College in Nacogdoches. Over its walls have flown eight flags.

Others just don't keep up with current affairs well enough to know how to vote. But the most frequently voiced excuse by young citizens, those who are among the largest group of non-voters (the 21-30 age group) is that MY VOTE DOESN'T COUNT!

This might be understandable behind the Iron or Bamboo Curtains. But in America elections are won by majority, not by unanimous, vote.

If there is any precinct in America where a vote doesn't count, that is the place where the voters had better

Seniors Visit New Mexico

Wellington seniors returned Tuesday night, May 26, from their class trip to Brush Ranch near Santa Fe, N.M.

In Santa Fe the group saw the state capitol, St. Francis Cathedral, and other points of interest, and shopped for souvenirs.

Swimming, horseback riding and dancing occupied their time at the ranch.

En route home they stopped in Taos, where they visited the famous pueblo and Kit Carson museum. Members of the group interested in art visited several of that town's famous galleries.

Going on the trip were Mary Beth Aaron, Donna Allred, Elaina Beardson, Carol Blain, Gail Henard, Nancy Crawley, Anne Henard, Vicki Killian, Patsy McDanel, Rose Montgomery, Ann Orr, Jane Orr, Patty Overton,

LOOKING AHEAD

by Dr. George S. Benson

THE POWER OF YOUR VOTE

The largest personal investment that any American has, regardless of his economic status, is the investment that each one of us has in the future of our country.

The current investment we individually hold includes not only the countless lives and billions of treasure sacrificed in the past to make the nation what it is, but it comprises also the future generations that we want to live in freedom under God, and the leadership we must supply to the free world.

Although the vote is the only way we have of protecting this huge investment, it is said that only 22% of us are continuously interested enough in what happens to the country to elect qualified men to manage this tremendous investment.

Even in the exciting presidential election of 1960, not many more than half of our 110 million electors, about 62% accepted their citizenship responsibility and cared enough about their country's welfare to vote.

We are in an election year again. And what are we going to do about it?

Well, many persons reading these words are not going to do anything except, we hope, to vote. But enough readers COULD, conceivably, go out on individual or group campaigns to GET OUT THE VOTE, that the elected slate of candidates in your State or your Town would be the actual choice of all the eligible voters.

Why not try it and see? Russia claims to get out 99.9% of the vote, with only one party to vote for! Freedom is more abundant in West Germany where 88% voted. Australia claims a phenomenal 95%. Cannot the U.S. do as well?

Readers of this page alone

I dare say, using a peppy flannelboard presentation such as that recently released by the National Education Program, 815 E. Center Ave., Searcy, Ark., could stir up enough interest to make our national turnout next November at least 75%. The non-partisan presentation is lively and most attractive and informative. It is ideally suited for leaders of local civic groups, educators, clubs, labor and industry committees, and even teenagers.

In this election year an awakening of individual responsibilities is needed desperately in our nation. There is hardly any way to bring this about, except through the exercise of individual leadership.

Fortunately, citizenship activity can be highly contagious. What one man does can

EVEN a 10¢ sale squirts a little bit of prosperity juice into the financial bloodstream of a community. . . helps to stimulate its growth, raise its opportunity count, and improve its business metabolism. Larger and more frequent doses, naturally, produce much more spectacular results. And your personal economy stands to benefit in a bankable way when the economy of the community in which you live gets a boost toward more health and vigor.

Which brings us to the point we started out to make: that, while we enjoy all of the fine community advantages we now have, we surely want to improve them as time goes on; that we want to better our businesses, our jobs, our opportunities and our property values. And that the best way to achieve this happy result is to see that most of our trade-money shots are injected where they'll pep up our own community's economy, instead of somebody else's.

Red Cross Water Safety 50 Years Old

The 50th anniversary of Red Cross water safety services marshals in another season in the organization's summer aquatic school program. These schools, open to camp counselors, lifeguards, swimming instructors, and other skilled swimmers over 18, are held in outdoor settings during June and August.

In 10 days of intensified instruction, each school provides an opportunity to learn the newest methods and techniques of teaching first aid, swimming and lifesaving, and offers leadership training in organizing and conducting community, camp and pool water safety programs.

When the first national aquatic schools were held by Red Cross in 1922, instruction in the safe use of small craft was included in the curriculum. Known as training institutes, three hundred persons participated in the schools held the first year. Now 24 schools are conducted nationally for some 3,000 persons. Four of these schools are operated entirely for providing skills in teaching safe canoeing, boating and sailing.

Students enrolling for water safety instructor training should hold a current senior lifesaving certificate or have sufficient ability to qualify. Those wishing to include an elective course in their training must hold a current water safety instructor authorization certificate.

A full 10-day program in first aid instructor training is also offered at these schools. This training will qualify individuals to return to their community and conduct first aid programs. No swimming activity is required in this section of the school.

Complete enrollment information on the aquatic and small craft schools can be secured through Red Cross chapters and district offices, or from Midwestern Area Office, American Red Cross, 4050 Lindell Blvd., St. Louis, Mo. 63108.

WACO.— Frank Etheredge, veteran member of the Parks and Wildlife Department information-education staff, reports encountering increasing numbers of bird watchers as he covers his Central Texas beat. He said the number of folks actually taking census of the feathered friends is on the rise. Etheredge noted that one Waco group recently counted 14,638 birds, comprising 59 species, during one excursion into the open country.

AT STATE LAND JUDGING CONTEST

This 4-H land judging team from Dodson is competing this week at the state-wide 4-H Round-up at College Station. Getting ready to leave, they are shown here with County Agent

Heavy Grazing Cuts Capacity to Hold Water

COLLEGE STATION.— The continued heavy grazing of Southern Great Plains ranges may seriously restrict the soil's ability to absorb moisture that is needed for grass production.

G. O. Hoffman, range specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service reports scientists of the Agricultural Research Service have found that the water intake rate of range, heavily grazed for 20 years, was only half that of lightly grazed range. Specifically, water intake was 2.27 inches per hour after heavy grazing; 3.64 inches after moderate grazing, and 4.41 inches after light grazing.

Reduction of vegetative cover by heavy grazing was cited as the principal reason for the decrease in water-intake rates and emphasizes the importance of managing grazing intensity to get the most out of moisture on loamy fine sandy soils in the Southern Great Plains, according to Hoffman.

The research, conducted at the Southern Great Plains Field Station, Woodward, Okla., in cooperation with the Oklahoma Agricultural Experiment Station, also showed that short, sod-forming grasses — including blue grama, sand dropseed, fall witchgrass and sand pappus — predominated in the heavily grazed pastures. They had replaced such taller grasses as sand bluestem, little bluestem, switchgrass and sand lovegrass.

Edd Rhodes, an agricultural engineer who directed the research, reported that the continued heavy grazing compacted the soil more than light grazing. This further reduced the ability of the land to absorb rainwater as it fell. Grazing intensity had little or no effect on the amount of organic matter or nitrogen in the soil, he said.

During the 20-year grazing period, the scientists managed the pastures to allow an average of 12 acres per mature beef animal per year for heavy grazing; 17 acres per animal unit for moderate grazing; and 22 acres per animal unit for light grazing. Annual precipitation averaged about 23 inches per year but varied from 10 to 42 inches.

Tobacco Most Fertilized Crop

According to USDA figures, there are only five major crops grown in this country for which fertilizer is used on more than half the acreage planted. These crops and the percentage of acreage fertilized are tobacco 75%, Irish potatoes 73%, sugar beets 72%, corn 64% and cotton 58%. Between them they accounted for about 38% of total fertilizer consumption.

Among crops with less than 50% of their acreage fertilized were wheat 34%, sorghum 13%, soy beans 12%, hay and cropland pasture 10%, barley 7%, oats 1%, and other pasture land 1%.

These crops accounted for 19% of the total fertilizer used.

NATURAL GAS STORAGE TRIPLED SINCE 1952

Gas pipelines and utility companies have nearly tripled their underground natural gas storage facilities since 1952. Gas storage capacity has increased from less than 1.3 trillion cubic feet to over 3.5 trillion cubic feet.

Study of Texas 19th Century Buildings Begins

AUSTIN—Texas architecture of the 19th Century is the focus of a new research and publication project initiated at The University of Texas recently.

Plans for a photographic survey of the state's more important buildings were announced by Chancellor Harry Ransom, speaking for the University and the Amon Carter Museum of Western Art in Fort Worth, a partner in the enterprise which will produce a traveling exhibition to be shown in museums throughout the country.

Texas courthouses and the multi-story homes built by Texans in the last century have long attracted historians and lovers of Victorian architecture. Many professional architects in the state have "collected" historic houses and significant public buildings as a hobby. The University Archives and the School of Architecture have important files of photographs, drawings, and plans which have been assembled in years past by members of the architecture faculty. These collections will serve as a nucleus for further research on the background of the old buildings.

"The state is so large it is impossible for us to cover it properly without the voluntary assistance of people in all communities," said Mitchell A. Wilder, Carter Museum director. "We welcome suggestions and help from everyone interested in making a permanent record of the famous buildings in our state."

Second stage of the project will begin in March when Todd Webb, a distinguished photographer of the American scene, will start filming the Texas series. Webb is well known for his work on Rocky Mountain ghost towns and mining camps. His recent book "The Gold Rush Trail and the Road to Oregon," is a modern wayfarer's record of the oil trail from

Wellington FFA Fishes at Lugert

Wellington Future Farmers returned Saturday from a 3-day fishing trip to Lugert.

The group, fishing behind the dam, brought home a string of six black bass that ranged in weight from 6½ pounds down to 2½; 25 crappie, 8 channel cat and 4 sand bass.

Going were Orvil Tyson, Freddy Mayhugh, Freddy Bo-bo, John Henard, Tommy Yarbrough, David Caison, Keith Brown, Gary Killian, Joe Wood, Mike Hughs, and Jimmy Campbell.

The boys fished both from boats and from the bank of the reservoir.

They were accompanied by Danny Garcia, vocational agriculture instructor, and Coach Harold Lamb.

New Program to Give Texas 1,000 Miles FM Roads

AUSTIN.—A sweeping program to build more than 1,000 miles of Farm and Ranch to Market Roads in 166 Texas counties was announced by the Texas Highway Commission recently.

The commission placed an estimated cost of $23 million on the total package of 227 projects financed for construction by the action. Construction on a total of 1,032 miles of Farm to Market Roads is involved.

The Farm to Market program is an annual roadbuilding undertaking of the Texas Highway Department under legislation authorizing a yearly budget for new FM construction.

The Farm to Market Road grid in Texas now stands at 37,143 miles of designated roads. "Designated" includes both roads already built and those financed to be built in the near future.

With addition of new miles authorized presently by the highway commission, Texas' highway network exceeds 65,000 miles for the first time. New total for highways of all types in Texas: 65,778.

Of this designated mileage, 3,031 miles represent Interstate Highways and 25,604 miles are US and State-numbered highways of the "primary" system. The remaining mileage is Farm to Market Roads.

Of the new farm roads to be added to the Texas highway system under the 1964 program, 69% are school bus routes and 67% are mail routes. The remaining roads are generally new routes that when improved will also be utilized as school bus routes and mail routes.

Today's sprawling Farm to Market road system in Texas traces its genesis to a 6-mile stretch built in 1936 between the communities of Mount Enterprise and Shiloh in Rusk county. From this first Farm to Market road the Texas Highway Department has been pointing toward an ultimate system of 50,000 miles of such roads. Biggest expansion of the system occurred since 1949.

"The 1964 Farm to Market road program is a good illustration of the highway commission's 'balanced program' philosophy," according to the commission chairman, Herbert C. Pety Jr. "Within this concept of highway development, the commission views all highways as lifelines and strives to integrate the various highway systems for the overall good of the state."

Teenage Films Continues

The Christian Teenage Film which will be shown Sunday, June 7 in First Christian Church is entitled "Teenager's Choice." It will be shown at 6 p.m.

This is the film story as outlined by Min. Hiram Cassel, Sandy, a 17-year-old high school graduate, and her steady, Doug, have fallen in love. Their friends dare them to get married. Sandy, rebellious and anxious to get away from home ties and responsibilities, and Doug, eager to become independent, decide to elope.

In her strong desire to marry Doug, Sandy forgets that marriage is more than physical development, or even being of age. Pleas from her close friends are ignored.

Her father finds her packing. He tries to make her see that marriage is not an escape but a God-given relationship in which Christ must be pre-eminent.

Sandy comes to realize that there is a right way and a wrong way to make a choice, and she and Doug decide to let Christ lead their lives.

All teenagers are cordially invited, Min. Cassel said.

4-H Land Team Competes in State Contest

Collingsworth county's 4-H land judging team is competing Wednesday, June 3 in the state contests at the 4-H Roundup at College Station.

The team is from Dodson and is made up of Cody Crosnoe, Dale Derrick and Mike Gulley. They are accompanied by county agent Cecil Regier and Lynval Black of Dodson, member of an earlier land judging team that placed second in the state.

The boys were due to go into the contest early Wednesday morning, and results were not known here at Leader press time.

The team is one of 23 competing in the land judging contest.

The Dodson 4-H boys won their division of the land contests sponsored here by the Salt Fork Soil Conservation District, and on the area level at Canyon they met no competition.

On their return trip, the boys and their sponsors will stop in Dallas to see Six Flags.

Higher Education Costs Too Low?

AUSTIN—Some House members complained about too-low appropriations for higher education in 1964-65 allotted in the $3,000,000,000 state budget bill passed by the House.

The last Legislature appropriated $159,600,000 from the state general revenue fund for higher education in 1962-63.

State college administrators requested $243,000,000 for the coming two years. Former Gov. Price Daniel and the Legislative Budget Board recommended $226,000,000. Gov. John B. Connally recommends $225,000,000. Paducah Rep. Bill Heatly's appropriations bill allows for $187,600,000 to educate the bumper crop of war babies that is expected to begin to flow into state colleges next year.

Rep. Hugh Parmer of Fort Worth claimed the Heatly committee had slashed Arlington State College's library budget so drastically the school might not be accredited next year.

So, Parmer and Rep. Don Gladden of Fort Worth begged for an amendment to raise Arlington's appropriation. It failed by a vote of 94-41.

The $172,000 needed to make the Texas Maritime Academy in Galveston a reality was absent from the appropriations bill. But Governor Connally said "I have real hope of getting the legislature to restore the maritime money." He didn't say whether he had any hope of getting the allotment for higher education boosted.

—By Deskins Wells

Trouble of the worst kind is brewing in New York's Harlem where a racial outbreak could erupt at any time. Northern newspapers indicate that such an eruption with its accompanying violence and bloodshed would dwarf anything that ever happened in the South or anywhere else in this country for that matter.

The sedate New York Times reports the existence of gangs of young Negroes who have been organized to prey on the whites and trained to maim and kill. In spite of these obvious facts there are those who continue to think of the Negro problem as belonging mainly to the South. They need to get their own house in order before trying to tell the South how to run its affairs. As a matter of fact many Southern communities are doing a much better job of improving the lot of the Negro than has ever been done in New York, Chicago, Detroit, etc.

It is only natural for a wheat grower to want to harvest his grain at the earliest possible time; but it may pay them to wait a few days this year. Effective June 1, the Government has lowered the moisture content to 13 3/4% for the wheat to be eligible for the loan without dock. The dockage is more severe than ever being 3/4¢ for each 1/4% of moisture above the allowable. Thus a grower who brings in wheat testing 15% moisture would be docked 3¢ a bushel. There are also docks for trash, weed seeds and other things, but it is the moisture content that is causing the main trouble at the present time.

The weather map indicates that this entire region will have more moisture than usual in June and that the temperature will be below average. As a matter of fact that is the kind of weather we have been having for the past week. You will find the day and night temperatures for the past week listed on the front page. At this time last year the readings for the week were:

Elvis White Purchases Allen Insurance Agency

Elvis White announced this week that he has bought the Allen Insurance Agency from Charles Allen of Canyon, and will take over the active management of the business.

White has resigned as manager of Shamburger Lumber Company, a job he has held for several years, and prior to that he was associated with local lumber yards in other capacities. He will take over the active management of the insurance agency.

There will be no change of name for the present, and the business will continue to be known as AIA, the new owner said.

Allen established the insurance firm here several years ago and operated it prior to moving to Canyon last year, where he is an executive officer in a bank in that city.

Farm Bureau, MPCA Move to New Building

The Collingsworth County Farm Bureau has moved into its new building at the corner of 9th Street and Highway 83, Dee Burba, manager, announced this week.

At the same time, the Memphis Production Credit Association moved into offices which it will occupy in the same building, according to Herbert Bearden.

The new Farm Bureau building, constructed of metal and brick, was completed last week and in addition to offices for the two agencies now occupying it, has space for an additional office, plus a meeting room and kitchen facilities.

"We believe the new location will be much more convenient for our more than 500 members, and in addition to being accessible, there is plenty of parking space," Burba said.

Formal opening of the Farm Bureau building will be announced at a later date.

Modell Hammack Scruggs

Former City Woman Heads State B&PW

A woman who grew up in Wellington will be installed as the new president of the Texas Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs at the 44th annual convention in Fort Worth Saturday, June 6.

She is Mrs. Jack Scruggs, 3120 Cason, Houston, the former Modell Hammack, daughter of Mrs. G. W. Poteet. Mrs. Scruggs moved from here to Vernon in the late 1930s. She has lived in Houston since 1954 and is the wife of an attorney there.

Attending the state convention as delegates from the Wellington B&PW Club will be Mrs. John Coleman, immediate past president, Mrs. Drury Lacy, Mrs. J. D. Aaron, Mrs. H. L. Jenkins and Mrs. Byron Duncan, the new president.

One of the major projects of the administration will be to work hard toward the goal of seeing the equal rights amendment is given the support that is needed when it is presented again to the Texas Legislature in 1965. Mrs. Scruggs told Mary Del Flagg, a reporter for the Houston Post, in a recent interview.

She hopes that the public can be informed of its significance and that Texans will work with the members of the Legislature to pass the bill, she continued.

The new president hopes to establish a status of women commission in Texas. She hopes to have representatives of the Federation contact Gov. Connally and ask him to appoint a committee regarding a commission.

Other projects of the new state B&PW president will be a continuance of the career club program of the Federation to inform junior and senior high school girls about the goals of the Federation, to increase membership in Texas, and acquaint the public with the objectives of B&PW.

Mrs. Scruggs has been a member of B&PW since 1943, while living in Vernon. She has served as chairman of a number of committees, president of the huge Houston B&PW Club, and has served the state Federation as third, second, and first vice president.

Modell Scruggs has her own office of bookkeeping and accounting services. She and her husband live in a house they bought a few years ago and redecorated to complement their heirloom Victorian furniture. The couple enjoy politics and spend a lot of time screening candidates who run for office. They attend St. Mark's Episcopal Church.

Trinity Church

Mrs. Knight has worked closely with her husband through the years.

The couple has three daughters, Mrs. E. H. Patterson of Conroe, Miss Vera Knight of Phoenix, Ariz., and Mrs. J. B. Wyatt of Childress.

Trinity Church itself is unusual in the Northwest Texas Conference. It was organized out of the old Wellington circuit, which had individual churches in the Aberdeen, Salt Fork, Quail, Fresno and Loco communities. The membership of Trinity, numbering 118, is made up of families from all those communities, from the south edge of the county almost to the north, and an area at least 20 miles from east to west.

RAW MATERIALS

... direct step in industrial development

Many industries locate near the raw materials used by them and are seen throughout the WTU service area. One example, pictured above, is the carbon black plant of United Carbon Company at Shamrock.

This flourishing petrochemical plant has become an important addition to the economy of this Texas Panhandle town. Such development anywhere creates new jobs, brings more payrolls, and adds many other advantages such as helping to provide new schools like the one pictured left.

Again, here is a PATTERN FOR PROGRESS.

In Texas the annual value of raw materials produced is $700 per capita, while the value added by manufacture is only $600. Contrast this with the highly industrialized state of Ohio. There the annual value of raw materials produced is $125 per capita, while the value added by manufacture is $1330.

Thus, as these figures show, additional processing of raw materials is the most direct way to sound industrial development. Communities seeking new industry will find that an assessment of local raw materials is the vital first step.

City Trio on Mid-East Tour

Mrs. Dan Henard and her sons, Larry, 16, and Andy, 14, left Tuesday, June 2 on a two months tour of the Mediterranean area. With them are her sisters and niece, Miss Mary Lawrence, Mrs. Wilma Carrington and Miss Carol Carrington.

After two days visit at the New York World's Fair, the group will sail aboard the SS Saturnia Thursday.

After embarking at Lisbon, Portugal, the party will travel along the southern coast of Spain and to Italy, where Rome will be a major stop, but they will visit other cities.

From Rome they will go to Cairo, and Luxor, Egypt, and on to Beirut, Lebanon.

Continuing their travels, the party will visit Damascus, historic points in Trans-Jordan and Jerusalem; Athens and on to Istanbul, the point farthest east to which they will travel. The party will be back in Dallas July 28.

This is Mrs. Henard's second trip to Europe, but the first for her sons.

NEW GAS FIELDS NOT LIKELY

Chances of finding natural gas in previously unexplored areas of the United States are slim, according to the American Gas Association. Nine out of every 10 "wildcat" wells drilled in such regions fail to produce either gas or oil. Even in producing fields, drillers fail to find gas in one out of three new wells.

Doctorial Degree to Baumgardner

Marion Baumgardner, who is in charge of the soils laboratory of Purdue University at Lafayette, Ind., was one of 77 men and women to receive the doctorial degree from that school at the commencement Sunday, May 31.

Altogether, 4,070 degrees were awarded in the two commencements Sunday.

Dr. Frederick L. Hovde, Purdue president, was principal speaker and awarded the degrees.

Mrs. Joe Baumgardner was in Lafayette to see her son receive the degree, and to visit with him and his family.

She was accompanied by a daughter, Mrs. C. M. Gordon of Grapevine.

Dr. Baumgardner, reared at Baumgardner Farm south of Wellington, was graduated from Wellington. He received degrees from Texas Technological College and taught in the Allahabad Agricultural Institute at Allahabad, India, before going to Purdue.

He is a former national vice president of the Future Farmers of America.
