Editor's Viewpoint

by John Ruback

I read an article recently in a hobby magazine that really set me thinking. The story had nothing to do with stamp collecting, but it certainly was a most timely thought.

The column started off with the questioning statement, "Isn't it terrible the way two million Israelis are terrorizing three hundred million Arabs?"

Obviously this an overstatement, but it is also obvious that there is a double set of standards in the world.

The bloodshed in Northern Ireland, where antagonists, each boasting to the world their love of Christ, threw firebombs at fellow Christians, had its parallel a thousand years ago when the Crusaders, also in the name of Christ, murdered, raped and pillaged hundreds of thousands of human beings.

The Bible tells us that it is the peacemakers who shall be blessed, but this has not worked out in the case of Israel. Attacked three times by the Arabs who surround it, and each time coming out with a victory that was certainly as much of a miracle as any recounted in history, their willingness to talk peace has been met not only with stony silence, but with acts of violence against defenseless citizens which should infuriate the whole world - but which apparently do not.

Everyone worried about Biafra for some months when this tribe was attacked by the government of Nigeria. Then it all faded out as far as the news was concerned, until the last few days. Now we hear once again of millions who are starving and no way to get food and medicine to them.

It almost seems that to arouse the great American public - the so-called "silent majority" - you need to adopt Madison Avenue advertising tactics. Just put on a big campaign - talk, talk, talk - and after you have talked long enough and perhaps shown enough pictures, then people will get upset.

But if it doesn't concern us (we don't have a son who will have to fight, it doesn't touch our pocket-book, we don't read about it) then we will do nothing.

Perhaps we need to read something besides the TV schedules and find out what is happening in this great big world.

CHATTER: Chatted with T. M. Cornelius, the new Chamber of Commerce president. He has some tremendous thoughts about what can be done in Burk during the coming year - provided everyone is willing to pull together. One man (or woman) or even six, can't do it alone. They need the help of every single person in the city to make this an even better place to live and work and shop.

QUOTE OF THE WEEK: If you feel that your life is empty, try putting something into it.

ADIEU: With this column your editor bids you good-bye.

It has been a great joy - the happiest three months of my life, as a matter of fact - to serve as editor of the INFORMER/STAR, I shall miss also this chance to "talk" with you each week.

I plan to continue to live in Burk for the time being - and hope that I can stay here permanently for this is a great city.

I want to thank all who gave me such a hearty welcome and those (all of you!) who have continued to be so friendly. Burk IS a friendly town; may it always be so.

RESTING BUT WORKING! Pat Patterson and Ed Watson are shown as they donate blood during the visit of the Bloodmobile to Burk last week. Giving assistance in the painless process are (left to right) Ann Reaves, Elise Hardegree and Carol Stanley.

KEEPING THE RECORDS: Mrs. Elizabeth Harrington and Mrs. H. C. Preston, Jr., acted as receptionists and record keepers during the quarterly visit of the Bloodmobile. Here, Joseph Wooton, Sr., checks in. Mr. Wooton soon was ready to give his 18th pint.

JUST TO BE SURE: Joe Wolfe has his blood checked by Dr. Patti Gentry before making his donation.

Bloodmobile Gets Fifty Pints

Last week's visit of the Bloodmobile to Burkburnett netted 50 pints of blood.

The Red River Regional Bloodmobile made its quarterly visit to Burkburnett last week (Wednesday, January 7). Fifty pints of blood were donated during the day-long stay of the Red Cross workers. They used the Community Room of the Burkburnett Bank for their operation.

Headliners of the day were Edward Bankhead, who reached the three gallon mark with his Wednesday donation; Joseph Wooton, Sr., who gave his 18th pint; Kenneth Alexander and Dorothy Harris, who each reached the eight pint mark.

The Burkburnett Study Club sponsored the visit of the Bloodmobile. Mrs. H. C. Preston, Jr., was chairman of the volunteers.

Assistance with the visit was rendered by many persons, organizations and business firms.

Two Volunteens were on hand: Misses Debbie Schelter and Kathy Kirby.

Also helping were Mildred Counter, various members of the Burkburnett Study Club; the Volunteer Fire Department; Gene Allen, Chamber of Commerce manager; city employees who put the Bloodmobile signs around the town' Preston's Dairy; Henry's Bakery; the American Legion; the Burkburnett Bank; and the First National Bank.

Burk Chamber Of Commerce Honors Outstanding People And Clubs

Officers And Directors For 1970 Installed

The Burkburnett Chamber of Commerce closed out the old year and began 1970 at its annual banquet last Saturday night. Held in the High School Cafetorium, more than 250 people were present as a new president and five new directors were installed, and awards were presented to outstanding persons and groups for last year's work.

Theme of the ocasion was "A World of Community Growth". Prominently displayed was a large representation of the globe, with the United States in the center. Written over various parts of the sign were the names of some of Burk's prominent industries and of several of the communities that are part of "Greater Burkburnett".

Representing Sheppard Air Force Base were Maj. Gen. Jerry D. Page and members of his staff. Introduced to the meeting by Lon Williams, publisher of the INFORMER/STAR, the General introduced the members of his staff and spoke briefly.

Awards for outstanding service were given to four persons and to one of Burk's clubs.

Honored as "Man of the Year" was I. C. Evans, Superintendent of Schools. The citation, read by the Rev. Lamoin Champ, said, in part, that Evan's "life has been invested in the lives of youth, in the progress of our community and in the work of the church." A resident for almost 28 years, Evans was lauded for his being always "ready to listen with open ears and heart to anyone at anytime."

Mrs. Marjorie Kauer was selected as the outstanding woman of the year. She was cited for her "enthusiasm for any needed project to make Burkburnett a better and more beautiful place, and to preserve our historic heritage." Mrs. Kauer is a Director of the Chamber of Commerce and this past year has served as Chairman of the Oil Park Museum Committee.

Dow Estes was given the "Outstanding Senior Citizen" award for his untiring interest in community projects. "A Boomtown or Homecoming parade is not complete without him. This man's voice is the voice heard by our football fans over the public address system at all home games - and he has missed few games since 1944," read part of his citation.

The "Outstanding Employee of the Year" plaque was given to Mrs. Artie Whiteside, who has faced the shopping public for the past 51 years. She has "a sense of humor that begins with herself and extends without malice to all she meets", said the Rev. Mr. Champ.

Mrs. Harry Elliott, president of the Contemporary Study Club, accepted the "Outstanding Club of the Year" award for her club. The club was praised for its community service work including serving as hostesses for the Bloodmobile and aiding with the Youth Center, Library, State Hospital, Day Care Center and other projects.

Installed as president of the Chamber for 1970, T. M. Cornelius accepted the gavel of office from Bill Vincent, outgoing president.

Vincent said upon retiring, "We have undertaken 32 projects in the chamber this year and most of them were highly successful."

Among the successes of the year were remodeling of seven store fronts of downtown businesses, 400 feet of new side walk and gutter installed, a new overlay on the town's main street, a successful Boomtown Rodeo, fight against abandonment of railroad, work on Burkburnett Oil Park, opening of three new businesses, progress of established industry and increase in the city of 200 families during the year.

Cornelius pledged redoubled efforts in continuing the successes of the 1960s which marked Burkburnett becoming one of the state's Cinderella cities.

Other officers on the 1970 slate are Jerry McClure, first vice-president; Tom Nicklas, second vice-president; Joe Gillespie, treasurer; and Marjorie Kauer, assistant treasurer.

New directors are Loise Bean, Paul Avrit, Danny Schaffner, Dick Johnson and Lon Williams.

Guest speaker at the banquet was Fritz Lanham of Austin, representing Governor Preston Smith as director of the state-local relations office.

Introduced by W. T. Zimmerman, Burk Postmaster, Lanham told the Burkburnett chamber members and the many guests from surrounding towns, that Burkburnett may well become a town of 50,000 to 100,000 within the next 30 years.

"The stage is set for the small towns of Texas to share in the growth of the 1970s. . . I think Burkburnett is one of the towns of the future."

"IT'S ALL YOURS NOW" is what Bill Vincent seems to be saying to T. M. Cornelius, as he turns over the gavel of office. Vincent has been president of the Burkburnett Chamber of Commerce during the past year; Cornelius is the newly selected president. Shrubs And Trees Being Planted Along Expressway Near Burk

Work was begun Tuesday by the State Highway Department on the beautification of the Red River Expressway from the Red River bridge to Wichita Falls.

Announced last October by Representative Vernon Stewart, planting of trees and shrubs began at the bridge and is continuing along the right of way. Shrubs, trees and Pampas Grass have been placed at the Burk cut-off, along the center median of the highway and at various places along the sides of the highway.

"Tourists entering our state will undoubtedly be impressed with this first glimpse of Texas; and subsequently, I am sure, will want to drive a little slower to perhaps enjoy the landscape which will greet them when they cross the river," said Stewart in his announcement.

Plantings, under the supervision of Samuel E. Garrett, landscape architect with the State Highway Department, will run into the thousands. Among those listed by Garrett were 137 Live Oaks, 13 Arizona Cypress, 190 Yaupon, 202 Deciduous Yaupon, 210 Eleagnus, 17 Red Cedar, 55 Ponderosa Pine, 31 Crepe Myrtle, 415 Lilac, 13 Flowering Willow, 19 American Elm, 732 Pampas Grass, 43 Honey Locust, 5 Deodara Cedar, 20 Vitex and 50 Japanese Ligustrum.

Garrett emphasized that the Highway Department plans to keep the trees watered throughout the 1970 growing season, after which all should be well established.

SUPERVISING THE SETTING of Pampas Grass along the center median of the Red River Expressway at Burk, Samuel E. Garrett, landscape architect with the State Highway Department, (2nd from right) helps Highway Department employees.

FILL AND WATER is the order of the day as two Texas Highway Department employees set Crepe Myrtle shrubs at the Burkburnett cut-off.

WHY PEOPLE GO TO CHURCH

Though surveys indicate that church attendance across the nation is on the decline, the fact remains that millions of people still engage in corporate worship. Why?

The reason most frequently given is the desire for fellowship. Man is so constructed that he feels the need for association with his fellowman. Among Christians, fellowship assumes unusual significance. The New Testatment presents the church as a fellowship of believers. One evidence of regeneration cited by the apostle John is "love of brethren" (I John 3:14). Christians derive strength from association with other Christians.

People go to church because they gain insight and strength from the study of God's Word. They listen to a preacher who expounds in truth. Having come to know Christ personally, men long to know more about him.

Some attend worship because they are seeking help. They are carrying unspeakable burdens, and they are searching for answers to the baffling questions which press upon them. It has been suggested that in a hypothetical congregation of 500 people, 100 would be suffering from a sense of loss because of recent bereavement.

One-third of the congregation would be facing adjustments which could affect domestic life. Others would be struggling with emotional adjustments encountered in school, work, home, or community. Fifteen might have abnormal inclinations, and 25 could be seriously depressed.

Those with peace of mind would be surrounded by many more with heavy burdens. What a responsibility rests upon the preacher! That burden should be shared by every person who prays. The man of God who proclaims God's message needs the support of God's people.

A few people go to church because they are searching for God. They want to know how they can obtain forgiveness of sins and peace with Him. In the light of such hunger the sermon must point the way to Christ. The trumpet must not give an uncertain sound.

Happily there are other people who attend services in order to find an opportunity for fruitful participation. With needs so endless as those in the world today, it should be an easy matter to direct every willing Christian into helpful work. Furthermore, a person's presence in church is a manifestation of his love and loyalty to the institution which Christ bought with his blood.

This in itself is a significant contribution to the enlargement of the church's ministry.

In the face of such challenges churches dare not minimize the importance of corporate worship in which members establish communion with God. Certainly they must be involved out in the world where people are sinning, suffering, dying; but if they are to carry out a healing, redemptive ministry, they must get the inscription that comes from a vital experience of worship in God's house. Elton Trueblood was right when he said a church is not only "a good place to come to" but it is also "a good place to go from."

H & R BLOCK Opens Burk Office

H & R BLOCK CO., America's largest income tax service, announces the opening of a new office in Burkburnett. The new office provides enlarged space in preparation to serve their rapidly growing clientele in this area during the income tax season between now and next April 15. The new office is at 305 Avenue "D", next door to Clement's Insurance office.

Mrs. Crystal Hegstrom, has been named to Office Manager of the Burkburnett office. Mrs. Hegstrom resides in Sunset Terrace, near Sheppard Air Force Base. Her husband, Staff Sgt. Dennis Hegstrom is presently stationed in Thailand. Mrs. Hegstrom has three children, two boys and one girl.

Mrs. Hegstrom graduated from the H & R Block Tax School held this past fall, with high honors. She gave as her reasons for joining Block, their three primary fundamentals: Fair charges (every return is priced from a basic schedule as low as $5); the finest possible work (every employee is thoroughly trained and every return is checked and rechecked); and, Block stands behind every return it prepares with the firm's own guarantee of accuracy.

Office hours in the Burkburnett office are Monday thru Friday, 9 AM to 6 PM, and on Saturday, 9 AM to 5 PM. These hours will be in effect during the tax season, ending April 15th.

THE GENERAL SPEAKS to the Chamber and guests. Maj. Gen. Jerry Page, commander of Sheppard Air Force Base introduced his staff and spoke briefly of the fine relationship between Sheppard and Burkburnett.

FACING THE PUBLIC for 51 years may be difficult for some, but not for Mrs. Artie Whiteside, "Outstanding Employee of the Year". Mrs. Whiteside began her work in Burkburnett back in the days when $100 bills changed hands faster than fives do today.

PRESIDENT OF THE "OUTSTANDING CLUB of the Year", Mrs. Harry Elliott accepted the award for the Contemporary Club. The club was lauded for contributing "time, money and many hours of work on many projects."

Cornelius Sets Goals For Chamber In 1970

"As we enter into the 1970's, I hope all members of the Burkburnett Chamber of Commerce will continue to be interested in the growth and development of our community. We must continue to upgrade our service so that we will get our fair share of the business. Burkburnett has always been a friendly city and it is our desire to keep this friendly attitude so that industry and people will want to share these fine things with us."

With these words, T. M. Cornelius, newly installed president of the Burkburnett Chamber of Commerce, painted a picture of what he hoped for in 1970.

Cornelius, in his statement to the INFORMER/STAR, continued, "We are geared for growth. It will, though, take a maximum effort on the part of each member of our Chamber, and we will be calling on you for your support. I hope each member will give 100% effort this year."

Emphasizing the friendliness of Burk, he said, "We have a fine school system that every citizen should be proud of. We have as fine a City Government as any city in the state of Texas and we have some dedicated men serving on the city council who will see that we maintain a progressive attitude. All of our churches reflect a friendly attitude. Our banks are progressive and interested in the growth of our community. All of our merchants are interested in giving the best service and product for a fair price."

"A city is as good as the people want it to be. I am proud that I have the opportunity to live in Burkburnett and share in community life. With the support of the Chamber Director, I will do everything in my power to make Burkburnett a better place to live. Before the year is concluded, I hope to get every person in the community involved in Community Action!"

OUTSTANDING SENIOR CITIZEN of the Year, but still going strong, Dow Estes was given his award for his many services to Burk during the past years. He has been called "The Voice of Burkburnett" because of his ability as an announcer of football games and parades.

STANDING IN FRONT OF A MINIATURE OIL DERRICK is a natural for Mrs. Marjorie Kauer. In the background is part of her current "love" - the Oil Park. Mrs. Kauer was honored as "outstanding Woman of the Year."

Graham Purcell Seeks Reelection To Congress

WICHITA FALLS - Congressman Graham Purcell announced today he would be a candidate for his 6th term in the U. S. Congress. Purcell, a Democrat, has represented the 13th Congressional District since 1962. He said his campaign will be based on "his record of experience and effectiveness in representing the complex and diverse constituency of this district".

Purcell said, "during the 8 years that I have had the privilege of serving the Congress, I have been called on to deal with the broadest possible spectrum of problems and legislation, from Agriculture to social problems to space technology. In a District that runs from Childress to Dallas, a sound knowledge of the people and the economy of all parts of the District is absolutely essential".

"At a particular time in our history, it becomes more and more important that a Congressman have experience and knowledge; - in short, he must not only be a specialist in the workings of Congress and all areas of the federal government; he must also have worked closely in that capacity with city, county and Texas state officials".

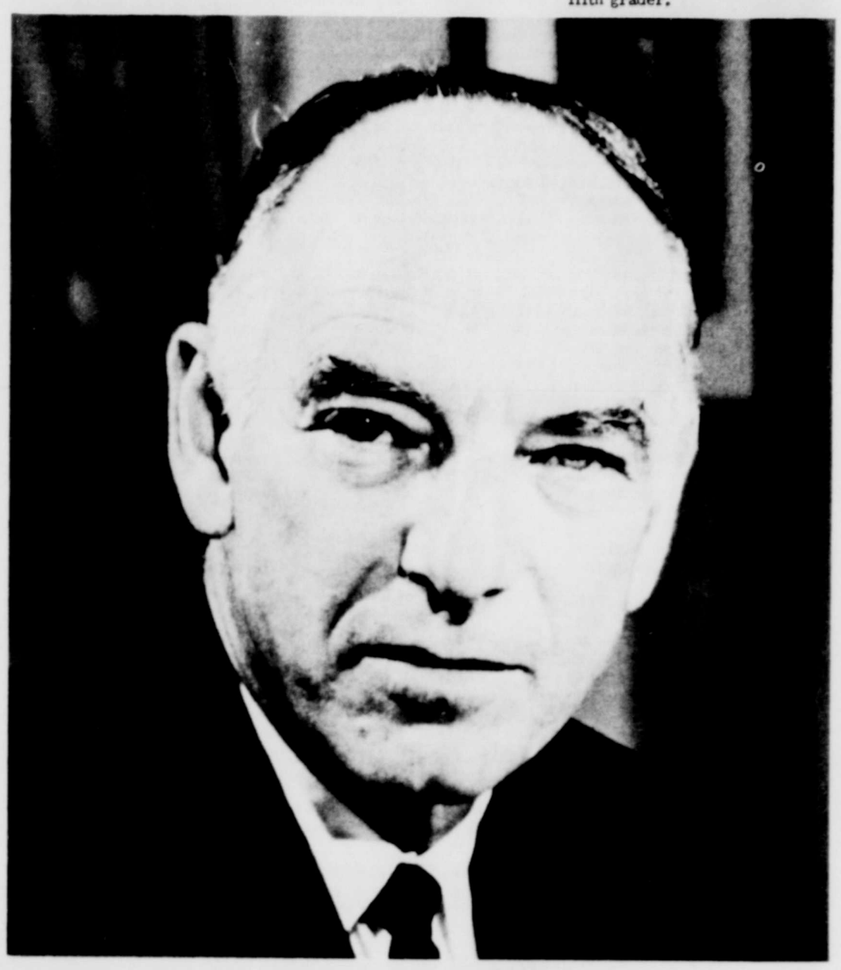

Purcell, who is from Wichita Falls, served as Judge of the 89th Judicial District prior to his election to Congress in January of 1962. He was re-elected to the 88th, 89th, 90th and 91st Congresses. He presently serves as the subcommittee chairman of the Livestock and Grain Subcommittee of the House Committee on Agriculture as well as serving on the House Post Office and Civil Service Committee.

He was born and raised in Archer City, Texas, where his parents still reside. He attended Texas A&M, graduating with a Bachelor's Degree in Agriculture in 1946 after his education was interrupted by World War II. During that war, he served in the Army in North Africa and Italy as a commissioned officer in the Armor branch. He continues to serve as a Lt. Colonel in the active Army Reserves.

Subsequent to his graduation from Texas A&M, he received a Law Degree from Baylor University and practiced law in Big Spring prior to moving to Wichita Falls.

In Wichita Falls in addition to his responsibilities as District Judge, he also served as Judge for Wichita County Juvenile Court, was District Chairman of the Boy Scouts of America, and Deacon in the Fain Memorial Presbyterian Church. He was twice honored as "Outstanding Citizen of Wichita Falls".

Mr. Purcell is the father of four children; Blaine 21, is studying veterinary medicine at Texas A&M; Kirk 19, is attending the University of Colorado on a wrestling scholarship; Jannie, 16, is a junior in high school; and Blake, 11, is a fifth grader.

Driver Education Program Set For Evaluation By TEA

AUSTIN - The State Board of Education Monday (January 5) gave the green light to a new research project drawn up to answer one key question: which type of driver education is most effective?

The Texas Education Agency will coordinate this first comprehensive evaluation of the program now a part of the curriculum in more than 700 high schools across the state.

Actual research will be conducted by the Texas Transportation Institute at Texas A&M University. The two-year study was requested by Ross Rommel, traffic safety administrator on Governor Preston Smith's staff.

The National Highway Safety Act of 1966 requires that states determine the effectiveness of all phases of their traffic safety programs.

This first broad-based evaluation is designed to give a thorough check-out to the four types of driver education programs now in Texas schools, ranging from television teaching to on-the-road experience. The different techniques to be compared include: Class room plus in-car instruction, televised lessons viewed at home plus in-car experience, classroom plus simulator plus actual driving on the road, and classroom-simulator-driving range-on the road instruction.

Data gathered from all sections of the state will help determine possible changes needed in driver education methods and equipment. These revisions will be written into the program to help reduce problems now associated with all types of accidents, moving traffic violations, and the driver's ability to cope with weather and other conditions on the road.

The research program will begin as soon as the plan is approved by the National Highway Safety Bureau. Fifty percent of the first year $109,000 cost will be paid by the Governor's Office and the remaining half out of federal funds.

My Neighbors

"I should go off light hearted and gay into that stream of traffic?"

MARTY MIM MACK, 8, of Santa Clara, California, is a good man to have on your team. The 1970 National March of Dimes Poster Boy puts his all into winning, although he was born without arms and his left leg is shorter than his right.

Like most of the 250,000 American children born every year with birth defects, Marty is determined to live the life of a regular boy.

He is a bundle of energetic proof that medical care, rehabilitation - and spunk - can overcome shattering handicaps.

March Of Dimes Chairman Named

Mrs. Gus F. Mutscher, wife of the Speaker of the Texas House of Representatives, has been named state chairman for the Mothers March of the January March of Dimes campaign.

Her appointment was announced this week by Clint W. Murchison, Jr., of Dallas, the Texas March of Dimes chairman.

The Mothers March is the major fund-raising effort of the annual March of Dimes campaign against birth defects. This year's Mothers March will be held the night of January 26 in communities throughout Texas. Thousands of women will take part, marching door to door seeking donations to fight crippling birth defects, which strike one in every ten American families.

The March of Dimes, one of the nation's oldest voluntary fund appeals, has been dedicated to fighting birth defects since its efforts helped conquer paralytic polio over a decade ago.

Animal Health Conference Set

AUSTIN--One of the nation's most extensive animal health conferences will bring 50 experts to Dallas Jan. 30-31 to discuss the economic problems of the industry with stockmen from five southwestern states. The second annual Southwestern Animal Health Conference is sponsored by the Texas Veterinary Medical Association and the College of Veterinary Medicine at Texas A&M University.

Dr. W. L. Anderson of Dallas, president-elect of the TVMA and co-chairman of the animal health conference, said the meeting, which is open to anyone who wishes to attend, would attract stockmen from Texas, Louisiana, Oklahoma, Arkansas and New Mexico, as well as stockmen from other states in the nation.

"The problems of the economic production of livestock, many of them related to animal health, remain with us despite victory over many diseases," Dr. Anderson said.

"This situation remains," Dr. Anderson said, "despite miraculous progress in nutrition, despite the world's best medical technology, and despite improved management."

Dr. Anderson, who will become president of the Texas Veterinary Medical Association succeeding Dr. B. R. Trimmier of San Antonio, said the animal health conference will be his association's second major step toward providing group answers to many of the problems perplexing livestock producers today. The association's first regional conference was held last year in San Antonio.

Every facet of the livestock industry will be covered at the conference including special discussions on beef and feedlot operations, the dairy industry, sheep and goat raising, equine health and poultry and swine raising.

The 50 speakers, who will deal with 59 different subjects, represent a who's who of the nation's livestock experts.

Registration for the conference may be made by contacting Southwestern Animal Health Conference, Suite 3-D, 610 Brazos St., Austin, 78701.

Tape Recorder BeingUsedAt UT

AUSTIN, Texas -- The University of Texas is using the tape-recorder as a tool to make history come alive.

In its new Oral History Project, the University is tape-recording for future scholarly research the recollections of persons--friends and foe alike, the famous and the obscure--who had some association with the long career in public service of former President Lyndon B. Johnson.

To be placed in the Johnson Presidential Library at UT Austin, the recorded interviews and their transcriptions are intended to reflect the times of Mr. Johnson as much as his life.

The Veterans Administration's loan guaranty service guaranteed nearly one-quarter million home loans for veterans in 1969.

Young Homemakers Hold Convention

Consumers want to know how to be wise, and so do the Young Homemakers of Texas as they prepare for their 8th annual convention in Galveston, January 16-17.

"YHT--the Wise Consumer" is the theme for the more than 600 delegates and advisors expected at the Galves Hotel, convention headquarters.

Money management will be discussed by Dr. John W. Cashin, Executive Vice-President, Texas Savings and Loan League and Associate Professor of Finance, the University of Texas at Austin.

Money also matters where clothes are concerned. "How Now Brown" will introduce a one-woman show of garments and accessories designed and modeled by Mrs. Cynthia Skaggs, Designer, of Las Cruces, New Mexico.

Judge William M. Hatten of the Court of Domestic Relations, Houston, will talk on "Is Money More Important than Love for a Successful Marriage?"

Exhibits and displays of foods and modern appliances hosted by Texas' leading manufacturers during the two-day meeting will supply more money management ideas.

YHT awards will be presented to the Outstanding Chapter, Outstanding New Chapter, and State Little Sister at a luncheon sponsored by Texas Electric Cooperatives, Young Farmers of Texas, and Young Homemakers.

Luncheon speaker at the Moody Convention Center will be Sister M. Thomas More, O.S.F., Chairman of the Department of Social Science and Director of Public Relations, Holy Family College, Manitowoc, Wisconsin.

High point responsibility of voting delegates at the convention will be the election and installation of a new president for 1970. She will success Mrs. Freida Reed of Palestine, who has served YHT well this past year.

Officers recently elected to begin a two-year term on the State Executive Committee are: Mrs. Mary Ann Russ, Tahoka; Mrs. Penny Elliott, Stephenville; Mrs. Linda Penn, Sulphur Springs; Mrs. Annita Wigley, Corsicana; and Mrs. Joyce Abel, Three Rivers.

Continuing on the Executive Committee are Mrs. Dickie Holcomb, Dimmitt; Mrs. Celia Grote, Fredericksburg; Mrs. Judy Corley, Nacogdoches; Mrs. Sandy Yarbrough, Era; and Mrs. Darlene Smith, Pasadena. Mrs. Freida Reed, outgoing president, will serve on the Committee for one more year.

Young Homemakers of Texas is a state association of young women not over thirty-five years of age who are interested in improving their knowledge and skills related to homemaking. Organized in 1961 with two chapters, the Association now has approximately 220 chapters and 3,377 members. The Division of Homemaking Education, Texas Education Agency, sponsors the organization. Homemaking teachers serve as chapter advisors.

THE IMPORTANT "LITTLE THINGS" OF FASHION

Why purloin last year's look when you can quickly purl a little accessory knit that transforms your wardrobe, helps you measure up to the "now". Vests are bests as accessories giving a well-knit look to blouses and skirts you've grown used to. Last year's outfits come right up to date when you add warm but lightweight vests.

You want to measure up at the office or classroom? Take out the needles and knit yourself a Robin-Red vest trimmed with a double row of gold buttons to brighten your black mini. Top with a long-sleeved foulard-tied white blouse. (Or choose your own colors from the many yarn tones available.) For your daily hike on the measured mile, you'll enjoy arm-swinging freedom when dressed in a belted, slip-on sweater vest over your favorite blouse or sweater and skirt. But for "everywhere" the versatile V-neck knit over a long-sleeved jersey and the popular pleated plaid mini, maxi or "any" is the best vest way to measure up!

To cap an ensemble of something old, something new, you might use the little extra yarn left over for a knit cap, muff, dickey, or other accessory in matching colors. Hand-knit accessories are also fine gifts with a personal touch.

Before you knit and purl, however, it's well to heed a timely tip from the experts. You could easily get a stitch in your back if you struggle to take your own body measurements for accurate pattern size. Instead, fashion experts at Spinnerin Yarns suggest that you measure a garment that fits as you like it. Measure bust, hips, shoulder width, side seam length and where sleeves fit into the shoulders. Standard sizes of Spinnerin patterns then allow for individual ins and outs.

Two full color booklets, "Best in Vests", and "Little Extras," available at art needlework departments and shops, or directly from Spinnerin, Dept. Pl, 230 Fifth Avenue, New York, N. Y. for 50c each, not only show many knitted vest, hat, scarf and glove patterns but give you timely tips on how to knit or crochet.

Now Open Monday thru Saturday - 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Open late evenings by appointment.

Stimpson Installed By Senior Citizens

The Senior Citizens met at Town Hall Thursday, January 8 for the first meeting of 1970.

After an interesting period devoted to visiting and '42' luncheon was served.

Then Rev. Lamoin Champ installed the officers using "Doors" as his theme. In listing the doors, the Rev. Mr. Champ said there are doors that are sacred and shut in the family from intruders.

There is the door of opportunity; if we don't get in we miss it. The third door is to opportunities that are available - one that is wide open for work.

He told Mr. Ray Stimpson, as president the door is wide open for service and work. For Mr. C. T. Magill, as vice-president, there was a great chance to create good will and fellowship. Mrs. Bill Corsley, as secretary and Mrs. Jimmy Johnson as treasurer are expected by the members to attend regularly and do their work accurately. Each of them need to say "A door has been opened for me. I will enter and serve to the best of my ability."

With Mrs. Carolyn Gray at the piano and Mrs. Opal Bookbinder leading, the group sang the first verses of several songs: "My County Tis of Thee", "America The Beautiful", "Eyes of Texas", and "Auld Lang Syne".

The Rev. Mr. Champ presented the Rotary slides and talk, "For a Better World".

We need to help others help themselves, to give materials and the know how to use them, to send teachers, books, and train their workers, said Champ.

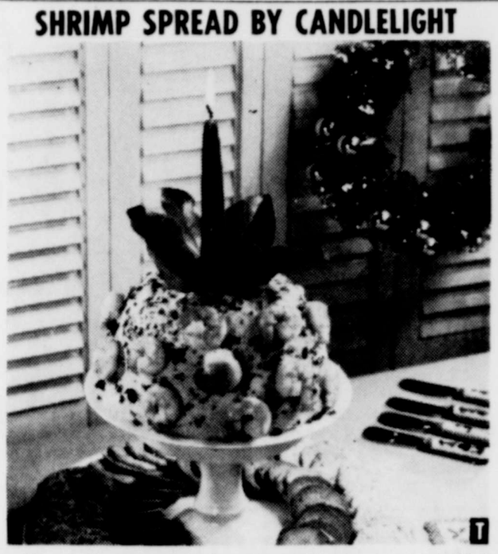

The membership gave Mr. Ruback, editor of the Informer/Star, a standing vote of appreciation for his service to the social, civic and moral good of the community since coming here, and particularly for the December 25 issue of the paper.

The list of the ill was read: Mr. Sam Shrum is in a Corpus Christi hospital in a critical condition; Mrs. Lucy Pemberton is at home again after a four week stay in a Wichita Falls hospital; and Mrs. Ida Willis is in the General Hospital.

There were 37 present including the guests who were Rev. and Mrs. Lamoin Champ, Mrs. Carolyn Gray and daughters, Mrs. Ora Stevens of De-Vol and Mrs. O'Keefe of Houston. Mrs. Lillie Cashwheeler's sister, Mrs. Stevens became a member.

The next meeting will be January 22 at Town Hall. The baby contest will be held and a good time is planned and expected.

SHRIMP SPREAD BY CANDLELIGHT

Here is an eye-stopper for your holiday party – a molded shrimp and cheese spread with a built-in lighting system. What fun for guests to dig in and spread their own canapes by the light of a flickering candle!

And dig they will. This is a delicious mixture of three popular cheese types and shrimp – canned shrimp for easy blending – with a flavor best described as baffling and beautiful. The best blends are usually hardest to define and, as always, mystery lends enchantment.

Just mold it big and display it up high. All you need for this is a plain quart mixing bowl and an ordinary cake stand turned upside-down. Could there be a prettier way to say Merry Christmas?

FESTIVE SHRIMP AND CHEESE MOLD

3 cans (4½ ounces each) shrimp
½ pound mild cheddar cheese, grated
¼ pound Roquefort or Blue cheese, chopped fine
1 8-ounce package cream cheese
1 garlic clove, chopped very fine
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1 teaspoon prepared horseradish
⅛ teaspoon cayenne pepper
½ cup minced fresh parsley

Drain and rinse shrimp. Reserve about 18 for garnish and chop the rest. Combine chopped shrimp with cheese and all remaining ingredients except parsley. Blend thoroughly. Press firmly into a quart mixing bowl; let "ripen" in the refrigerator overnight or longer. Unmold on the base of a cake stand or any other suitable high-stemmed dish and press the minced parsley over the surface. Garnish with whole shrimp, using toothpicks to hold them in place. Cut a two-inch circle of aluminum foil and fit it on top. Place the candle on the foil and gently press it into the mold until it will stand securely. Flatten foil edges to protect against dripping. Garnish candle base with lemon leaves or other greenery. Makes enough spread for 100 or more canapes.

Christian Church Organizes Chi Rho

A Chi Rho group was organized for youth of the First Christian Church Sunday afternoon January 11, with twelve charter members. This group is made up of boys and girls from fifth through the eighth grades. Mr. and Mrs. Jim Kincaid are the sponsors. Officers will be elected next week.

The meetings consist of a brief devotional and program, a longer period of entertainment with games and fellowship and a light refreshment. A Valentine party is being planned and some kind of party each six weeks. New members will be welcomed.

SAFETY FIRST -- Don't let an overloaded electrical system create a safety hazard.

Dorcas Class Holds Meeting

The Dorcas Sunday School Class met January 8th at Ora Mabry's home with Dottie Reese group as hostess.

Jo Brookman gave the devotional on faith, Mark 11:23.

There was one visitor, Alice Goodwin. Class members present were Helen Turner, Dottie Reese, Marie Brashears Nomia Gibson, Madeline Fowler, Lillie Williamson, Jo Brookman, Essie Cullin, Artis Whiteside, Edna White and the hostess Ora Mabry.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Miller of Thornberry had as weekend guests Mr. and Mrs. Amon Robinson and son Jerry of Fort Worth; Mr. and Mrs. Pete Snelson of Lindsey, Oklahoma; Mr. and Mrs. D. N. Self and daughter Sylvia and Cynthia of New Boston, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. Bee Gwinn of Iowa Park and Jessie Nixon of Iowa Park.

BUG PROOF PAPER

The U. S. Department of Agriculture has banned bug-proof shelfpaper impregnated with insecticides chlordane and lindane. The paper cannot be sold across state lines. The shelfpaper "may produce residues in home-stored foods," reports Gwendolyne Clyatt, Extension consumer marketing specialist.

PREPACKAGING

The New Year may bring prepackaged cantaloupes, honeydews and watermelon halved, quartered or sliced into produce departments, says Gwendolyne Clyatt, Extension consumer marketing specialist. Prepackaging ready-to-serve grapefruit halves and peeled oranges are other expected developments.

SAUERKRAUT

Dehydrated sauerkraut? Food technologists are studying its merits, reports Extension consumer marketing specialist Gwendolyne Clyatt. Freeze-dry process gives a draut compared favorable to canned sauerkraut. Microwave dehydration and conventional hot air dehydration were less satisfactory.

Recent visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Morris were Clara Jackson and Morgan Spears of Bellview, Texas and Mr. and Mrs. Kirk Myers and Mrs. Clara Russell of Lubbock.

Disciples Class To Have Supper

The Disciples Class of the First Christian Church will meet with Mrs. Alice Dzuibanek Saturday night, January 17, at 7:00 PM for a chili supper. Mr. Jim Kincaid is teacher of the class.

Mrs. Turner brought a lovely devotional using I Cor. 12. Mrs. Mallet reported sending 14 sympathy and get well cards.

Mrs. Miller installed the officers for the new year, reminding them that they had accepted a responsibility to the Society, the community, to their neighbors and to God, to fill their posts to the best of their ability. Only Mrs. Turner, president; and Mrs. S. S. Reger, vice-president; were present to take their posts. Mrs. Sam Shrum, installed as secretary, is in Corpus Christi at the bedside of her husband. Mrs. Hugh Jones, the treasurer, was unable to be present.

Patrol Leader of the Flamingos), Shannan Burdette (Patrol Leader of the Blue Birds) and the troop scribe Pam Civiletto.

THE SIGHT OF MUSIC

There's a brighter future for pianists and organists who have had difficulty viewing sheet music and keyboards. In a large-scale contribution to toning up their performances, one product, a new piano and organ lamp created by Illumino Devices of New York that combines superior lighting with decorative beauty, is illuminating the situation. It harmonizes with any piano or organ by appearing to become an integral part of the music rack. The Illumino Lamp is turning on pianists and organists all over the country. Evenly lighting music sheets from top to bottom and fully across with no glare, the Illumino Piano and Organ lamp also fans out to light the keyboard. It comes in hand-rubbed wood finishes in walnut, fruitwood, mahogany, ebony and antique gold. A metal shade in matching wood grained laminate is completely adjustable. Now at last--an enjoyable note--"enlightened" pianists and organists can see their way to making beautiful music.

Stop Colds Cold

If symptoms warn that cold bugs lurk,
Don't stand by and let them perk.
Fight them promptly and you can stem
Sniffles, sneezes, coughs and phlegm.

For ammo try the magic three,
Which include the following...Vitamin C
In fruit juice form or else a pill,
Plus aspirin and that versatile
Baking soda for a buffer
Should aspirin make the innards suffer.
It'll alkalize the system, too,
And alkalizing wards off flu.

So before you're felled and take to bed
With costly drugs and germs to spread,
Remember symptoms can be nursed
And colds stopped cold before they burst.

Sheppard Trains Vietnamese, Americans To Teach Repair And Maintenance

SHEPPARD AFB, TEX. - - - The first nine Vietnamese Air Force instructors who trained at Sheppard Air Force Base under a new program are returning to their country to teach the repair and maintenance of the aircraft used by the Vietnamese Air Force.

These nine, trained at Sheppard in direct support of President Nixon's program of Vietnamization, are the first of 123 men who will be trained here as aircraft maintenance instructors and returned to Vietnam to become the nucleus of the country's new effort to help itself. This is to support the improvement and modernization of the Vietnamese Air Force.

This program, conducted by the Department of Aircraft Maintenance Training of 3750th Technical School, was started in January 1969 with the first students entering class in May and graduating in December. The last ones entered in November and are programmed to complete training June 30, 1970.

They are training in five resident courses conducted by the Aircraft Maintenance Department including both the Jet and Reciprocating Aircraft courses, Reciprocating Engine course, the Helicopter Mechanic course and the Propeller Repairman course.

After each student completes his basic technical training, he receives special technical training, he then takes the Technical Instructor course to learn how to teach. After that, he receives special technical training for the course he will teach in Vietnam and concludes the program with On-the-Job Training.

The first nine graduates were Airmen Basic Liu Soang, Than Juy, Tran Son, Tu Huong, Le Han, Tang Hung, Nguyen Trieu and Nguyen Phat. They received their instructor badges during ceremonies conducted by Col. George S. Arbuthnot, commander of 3750th Technical School. They completed the Helicopter Mechanic course and will teach at Tan Son Nhut Air Base, Republic of Vietnam.

The United States Air Force is sending a Mobile Training team headed by Maj. Milton W. Van Dyke II from Sheppard to Vietnam to assist these new instructors in implementing new technical training courses. This team is composed of instructors from Keesler AFB, Miss., Chanute AFB, Ill., Lowry AFB, Colo., and Sheppard.

The 26 Air Force team members from Sheppard include 12 who will assist with the Helicopter Mechanic course at Tan Son Nhut. They are MSgt. Andrew Benton, Technical Sergeants Wayne S. Zumbaugh, Ross A. Hopkins, Rhoades Richardson Jr., Roy T. Trent and Jesse Folwer Jr., Staff Sergeants Ernest L. Morton, Georgie D. Fairchilds, Franklin D. Bothwick, Jerry G. Morrison, Barry Sherman and Von J. Goodwin.

Those going to Nha Trang AB are Master Sergeants Roy L. Crump and Hubert R. Wilburn, instructors who will assist in the Jet Engine Aircraft course; and Master Sergeants Earl C. Fleming Jr., Robert H. Bennett; Technical Sergeants Gerald F. Lacy and Elvert L. Matlock Jr., and Staff Sergeants Larry J. Walters and Robert L. Snyder, instructors who will assist in the Reciprocating Engine Aircraft course.

SMSgt. William R. Michaels, Master Sergeants Houston W. Toalson and J. B. Knight Jr., and SSgt. Warner F. Hadley will assist with the Reciprocating Engine Mechanic course at Bien Hoa AB. Master Sergeants Albert M. Freeman and Wilford E. Barnett, instructors in the Aircraft Propeller Repairman course, will also go to Bien Hoa to assist with the Propeller course.

The 26 United States Air Force instructors from Sheppard, accompanied by Major Van Dyke and SSgt. Claude J. Barber, administrative clerk, will all arrive in Vietnam by May 1970. The 64 instructors from the four Air Training Command bases will be assisting Vietnamese instructors with 17 different technical courses including the five aircraft maintenance courses being developed at Sheppard.

Major Van Dyke is going to Vietnam for a one-year tour; the instructors from Sheppard will be on a six-month minimum temporary duty tour.

The planning and development of the five Vietnamese Air Force courses for which Sheppard has the responsiblity is being accomplished by the Department of Aircraft Maintenance Training, and includes curriculum design, writing of student text materials, determination of requirement for systems trainers, facilities, special tools and support equipment, expendable supplies and other items.

Some 140 line items of training equipment were designed and built for this training package by the Training Aids shops at Sheppard. It is all designed to give the best technical training in the minimum of time.

"Sheppard is giving the Vietnamese students an excellent foundation for their roles as instructors in the Vietnamese Air Force. Our instructors are going to Vietnam on a temporary basis to assist the Vietnamese in establishing their own technical training program and becoming self sufficient as rapidly as possible." stated Willard Duke, principal instructor in the Department of Aircraft Maintenance Training.

Col. Vernon L. Head, chief of the Department of Aircraft Maintenance Training, said, "The Vietnamese students that we have had are most impressive. In some instances their performance has exceeded that of our top Air Force students. In my opinion this is one of the most important programs that we have ever conducted and I am very optimistic about its future impact upon the Vietnamese Air Force."

VIETNAMESE INSTRUCTORS - - - Col. George S. Arbuthnot, right, commander of 3750th Technical School, presents the instructor badge to AB Liu Soang of the Vietnamese Air Force during the graduation ceremonies for the first class of instructors to be trained at Sheppard AFB in President Nixon's program of Vietnamization. Others from right are Airmen Basic Thanh Huy, Tran Son, Tu Xuong, Le Han, Tang Hung, Nguyen Thang, Nguyen Trieu and Nguyen Phal, all of the Vietnamese Air Force. At left, is Maj. Milton W. Van Dyke II of Sheppard AFB who is to head the Mobile Training Detachment which will go to Vietnam to assist these instructors in setting up the new aircraft maintenance training program in Vietnam.

SHEPPARD AFB, TEX. - - - An Additional donation of $409.48 has been made by personnel at Sheppard Air Force Base to Brent Gray, the 12-year-old son of a civilian employee at Sheppard who lost both arms in a farm accident in December.

This brings the total of donations by Sheppardites to $4,536.38. SMSgt. Alexander Koulovakos of the Consolidated Maintenance Squadron has been designated to receive the collections.

Young Brent is in the University Hospital in Oklahoma City where he was taken after the accident. Both arms were re-implanted following the accident when they were wrenched off in a feed grinder accident. He later lost the left arm. He is in the hospital now.

The largest single donation was made by the 3750th Technical School. That donation was $3,006.65.

Brent is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe W. Gray of Henrietta. Mr. Gray is a civilian employee in the Consolidated Maintenance Squadron.

Dividends On Life Insurance To Go Up

Veterans and servicemen with GI life insurance policies issued during the World War I and World War II periods will receive some $264 million in dividends in 1970.

Administrator of Veterans Affairs Donald E. Johnson, in approving the dividends, said 1970 payments will be $28 million more than last year.

The payments will go to 4,191,200 holders of U. S. Government Life Insurance (USGLI) and National Service Life Insurance (NSLI). USGLI was issued during the World War I era and NSLI during World War II.

The VA chief said the increase in dividends was made possible because of larger interest earnings in the two funds, and that payments will be made throughout 1970 on the anniversary dates of the policies.

According to Mr. Johnson, 173,200 USGLI policy holders will receive $20 million in dividends, averaging a little more than $115 per policy. In 1969, the average was about $97. NSLI policy holders number 4,018,000, and they will receive $244 million in dividends averaging nearly $61 each, compared to $53 in 1969.

Mr. Johnson explained that since the dividend on each policy depends on the plan of insurance, age of the insured, age of the policy, and its face value, individual payments will range from a few dollars to hundreds of dollars.

He stressed that since the cash payments will be automatic, there is no need to write to the VA to receive them. The only exception is where the serviceman or veteran has indicated to the VA another disposition of his dividends.

It was also pointed out that dividends will not be paid on policies terminated by death or surrender, since these dividends are ordinarily paid at that time.

Up, Up And Away

BY EDDIE LAXSON

In the last two columns the happenings to a Culver Cadet have been related. This week will be the conclusion of the Cadet plane and its jinx.

Remember how the plane was repaired twice following forced landings and was ready to test hop the second time when a 5/8 nut was found below the butterfly in the carburetor. The nut was removed and the plane's engine ran well.

The jinx prevailed on this flight, also. The chief pilot agreed to take one of the two women that had worked so hard putting a hand rubbed finish on the plane when the engine operated to suit him.

The take off was good. The ten to fifteen minute flight was fine, but the test pilot forgot to lower his gear, and the 15 to 40 spectators who had gathered on the edge of the runway at Kerrville, Texas to watch could sense the pilot was not going to remember to put the gear down.

You can't imagine all the waving, shouting, signaling and excitement that took place during the final approach, but all to no avail.

The center section is made up of the two wings bolted together and the fuselage bolted to the spars. The four bolts that protrude below the main spar struck the cement runway first causing sparks and one-half inch deep marks on the runway. The cement wore the bolts down to the nuts and almost all of the nuts were eaten away by the friction. The wooden props tips were splintered. The air speed tube (pitot tube) below the left wing was not damaged. The landing was so smooth that when several men lifted the plane, the gear lowered, new propeller installed and new bolts replaced, the plane was ready for another test hop.

My memory tells me that Jimmie sold his pride and joy shortly after it was relicensed, and I do not know of its whereabouts.

Jimmie later had charge of Jacksonville, Texas airport, and I was working at Tyler, Texas. I got a chance to operate my own aircraft and engine repair shop on his field.

When I get off the subject of forced landings, two incidents while I stayed at Fayetteville will make interesting reading. One pertains to mechanics and the other concerns a takeoff in a Fairchild PT-19.

Next week you can learn what caused a forced landing in a plane known as an N3N (a biwing World War II trainer) in 1946. With this forced landing story will end my writings on that subject unless I happen to remember a particular interesting landing that will help warn another pilot not to make the same mistake that caused me to have to set 'er down.

SERVICE TO MANKIND Award Given To Sheppard Secretary

SHEPPARD AFB, TEX.--- The "Service to Mankind" award for 1969 was presented by the Wichita Falls Sertoma Club to Mrs. Beth McMichael, a civilian employe at Sheppard Air Force Base during the club's luncheon Thursday at the Marchman Hotel.

The presentation, in recognition of Mrs. McMichael's annual Christmas party for underprivileged children, was made by Charles Mitchell, chairman of Sertoma's election committee. It was a surprise to Mrs. McMichael who went to the meeting as featured speaker.

She told about the yearly parties which she gives for some 700 children in Wichita Falls, who would otherwise have little or no Christmas. She held the 18th annual party in December at the YWCA.

The mahogany plaque was inscribed "Sertoma Club 1969, Mrs. Beth McMichael, Service to Mankind Award in recognition of her teaching underprivileged children the true meaning of Christmas." The plaque was signed by B. R. Stockton, chairman.

Mrs. McMichael is a secretary in the 3750th Student Squadron of 3750th Technical School at Sheppard Air Force Base.

Lloyd Bentsen Announces Candidacy For Yarborough's Senate Seat

AUSTIN - Lloyd M. Bentsen, Jr., of Houston, has announced that he will run for the U. S. Senate seat now occupied by Ralph Yarborough.

Bentsen, who served six years as a Congressman from the Rio Grande Valley area in the late 1940's and early 1950's is a Houston businessman and civic leader.

In his announcement statement, delivered at a news conference in the state capitol building here, Bentsen proposed "a new kind of leadership" that will seek solutions to the nation's problems without regard to liberal or conservative labels. Bentsen characterizes himself as a moderate.

He also proposed to furnish the kind of leadership that will unite the Democratic Party in Texas.

"The Senate is in need of a new kind of leadership," Bentsen said. "Texas in particular no longer receives in the Senate the kind of respect it deserves . . . and has lost much of the political influence it held at one time."

Bentsen charged that Yarborough, who has been a Senator 12 years, has not been able to achieve or funish for Texas or the nation the effective leadership demanded by the position of U. S. Senator from Texas.

He charged that Yarborough had been a divisive influence in the Senate, "pitting group against group," and that Yarborough had also divided the Democratic Party in Texas. He said Yarborough used many issues that affect all segments of the population for the purpose of dividing the people by labeling such issues as "conservative" or "liberal" instead of working toward a solution.

Bentsen said he felt young people were concerned about the future and pointed to the fact that he is 48, while Yarborough is now 66 and will be 73 if he were to finish another term as Senator.

"It is not the Senator's age itself that troubles me," Bentsen said, "it's his ideas of 'old politics' that trouble me."

He charged that in two areas in which Yarborough serves on Senate committees - - welfare and appropriations - - the nation is facing some of its most pressing problems.

"Our problems are numerous," Bentsen said, "but this campaign will not be won by the man who simply tells us what these problems are. The people are looking for leadership that will do something to solve these problems."

Bentsen said it will take "imagination, innovation and planning" to achieve the kind of legislation that will solve the nation's problems, and he said he felt this type of leadership was lacking.

He proposed further that Congress reclaim its role as leader in progressive legislation rather than waiting for the President to tell it what to do.

"The problems we face today," he said, "require a fresh new approach . . . and the leadership of a man who can bring together the talents of people of many skills to contribute their knowledge."

Bentsen said between now and the Democratic primary in May he hoped he could prove to the voters he could furnish the kind of constructive and unifying leadership needed to accomplish the job.

Bentsen is married and the father of three children.

SBA Triples Minority Loans

The Small Business Administration made more loans in 1969 to aid small business men than it did in 1968 and tripled its volume of loans to minorities, SBA Regional Director R. E. Crain said today.

This summary of accomplishments is based on actual loans approved through December 1969.

Crain also said that small business, in general, performed well during 1969, but the effect of "tight money" policies, high interest rates and inflationary pressures on small firms in the last half of 1969 is yet unknown. Further, a slowing of economic growth usually has an adverse effect on small firms before those of greater economic stability are disturbed.

Total lending in the 61 County Dallas region under SBA's four major lending programs was $9,430,300 in 1969 compared to $5,128,700 in 1969.

Of the 122 loans made under regular business and economic opportunity programs in 1968, 24 loans went to minority race members with a total dollar value of $241,200.

Of the 177 loans made under regular business and economic opportunity in 1969, 75 were to Minority Entrepreneurs and carried a dollar value of $1, 437,100. This is six times the dollar amount expended in this catagory in 1968, Crain pointed out.

"Closing time," as it relates to 1969 farm records, is at hand. This means totaling up the balance sheets on farm and home enterprises and taking a good look at what happened during the past year.

It is also a good time to analyze production practices, says County Agent B. T. Haws.

Where the desired results was obtained from the application of fertilizers and chemicals, this is good. Did the seed used grow well and produce good yields?

Many factors contribute to profitable crop production including weather. The proper combination and application of all inputs result in the best production. In a sense there is a team at work in crop production, and seed is a very important member of the team. High quality seed is needed to get the full potential production from fertile soil.

Certified seed is quality seed, reminds the county agent. Why take a chance on seed of unknown quality and performance for next year's crop, he asks?

It is good business, he adds, to make arrangements early for the certified seed that will be needed to plant next year's crop. Get the varieties or hybrids which best suit the conditions found on your farm and are recommended for the area.

Resolution making time is here again and beef producers are reminded that improved pastures can add considerably to their income.

So, advises County Agent B. T. Haws, why not make a resolution now to do something during the year ahead about improved pastures. For a beginning select a small area of 25 to 35 acres and consider these practices.

Control weeds with chemicals. Weeds steal moisture and nutrients which should be used by grasses.

Get a soil test early in the year and fertilize and lime in accordance with the test recommendations.

Good quality hay can be produced from the excess growth in the spring and a forage test will show how much the pasture and hay have been improved.

Graze the area when the pasture plants are good in quality and cross fence the area so cattle can utilize the improved forage.

Evaluate your cows for calf crop percentages, calving dates, calf weaning weights and other important phases of beef production. Low producing cows should be sold.

Figures by this time next year will show the progress made and serve as a guide for further pasture improvement work, concludes the county agent.

BRING A FRIEND WITH YOU THIS SUNDAY

EVERYONE IN THE CHURCH — THE CHURCH IN EVERYONE

ATTEND THE CHURCH of your choice!

EVERY SUNDAY!

Make a Wish . . . FOR HIS FUTURE

A birthday party really thrills the children, and probably the climax comes when they blow out the candles, and make a wish. His wish would probably be for a bright shiny new toy, but you as a parent would wish for him the things that really count, such as good health, happiness, friends and along with these deeper and more serious things should be a prayer for him to have the right interest and relationship to God. You can help these things by taking him to church

EVERYONE IN THE CHURCH — THE CHURCH IN EVERYONE

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

TARS Project Subject Of Book

AUSTIN, Texas -- Teenagers rebelling against apathy are the subject of a booklet written by Mrs. Bert Kruger Smith, assistant for mental health education at The University of Texas Hogg Foundation for Mental Health.

"Boomerang Friendship" is the story of the TARS (Teens Aid the Retarded), a volunteer youth organization sponsored by the Association for the Retarded Children in Texas, and is designed for use by teachers and others working with teenagers in various youth projects.

Booklets in quantities up to 100 copies are available at 25 cents each. Orders should be sent to the Texas Association for Retarded Children, 704 Littlefield Building, Austin, Texas 78701.

Steve Slusher returned to Commerce, Texas, January 4, where he is a freshman at East Texas State University. He has been visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Slusher during the holidays. Steve is a music major and is a member of the Lion's Marching Band and the stage band.

Highlights & Sidelights

From Your State Capital

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

AUSTIN - Lagging voter registration may spell bad news for Democratic officals, according to no less an authority than U. S. Senator Ralph Yarborough.

Yarborough called a news conference in the Statehouse the day after State Republican Chairman William Steger of Tyler announced Texas GOP's plan to field strong candidates for both senator and governor this year.

Steger cited a poll as the basis of Republican hopes, but Yarborough said registration statistics, not polls, are the real cause for Democrats to be wary. He said 80 percent of Republican strength already has registered in such large counties as Harris, Dallas and Midland, while the sign-up is poor in traditional Democratic strongholds.

On that same day, Secretary of State Martin Dies Jr. urged all eligible adult Texans to exercise their constitutional rights by registering. Dies is the state's chief election officer. January 31 is the registration deadline. Dies issued these reminders:

*Any citizen 21 years of age or older on the day of an election, who has been a resident of the state for at least one year and a resident of his home county for six months immediately preceding the election, is qualified to register for voting.

*Eligible persons may register by personal appearance at the main office, branch office or authorized substation of the home county tax assessor-collector. Written applications may also be made to the tax assessor-collector.

*The husband, wife, mother, father, son or daughter of a voter may act as his agent in registering if the agent is a qualified voter.

*A person who moves to Texas after October 1 may register during the regular period or afterward but must have been registered for 30 days before voting.

*Any person who will meet qualifications before February 28, 1971, may register during the regular period. Those who will become 21 after January 31 may register during the regular period of afterward.

CRIME FIGHT - Department of Public Safety Director Wilson Speir persuaded the Criminal Justice Council to provide $864,638 to enlarge the DPS training academy at Austin. This, subject to availability of funds.

Colonel Speir said the proposed construction and renovation would expand the student capacity of the facility from 181 to 381. Also, space would be made available for the council's proposed Texas Crime Information Center, a bank of computers and Teletypes linked with DPS offices arond the state.

ATTORNEY GENERAL RULES - Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin says in an opinion that County and District Clerks must issue, without cost, as many copies of certified documents as is necessary to make claims for veterans benefits from the United States Government.

In other opinions Martin concluded that:

*Railroad Commission has authority to prescribe safety standards for transportation of gas and gas pipeline facilities owned by a city and the attorney general is authorized to enforce them.

*Provisions of Texas Engineering Practice Act are not applicable to Department of Health in establishing standards for design of hospitals and related institutions. Designs for structures larger than those specified in the act do not have to bear the seal of a registered professional engineer if the designer is exempt.

*State Health Department is obligated to pay half the salary of a pilot for a plane jointly used under contract with the Department of Public Welfare.

*Use of a horn, recording or other device to call or attract wild foxes in Shelby, Nacogdoches, Sabine, San Augustine, Falls or Leon Counties is illegal.

V.A.-Q.&A.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Veterans and their families are asking thousands of questions concerning the benefits their Government provides for them through the Veterans Administration. Below are some representative queries. Additional information may be obtained at any VA office)

Q - I am a veteran. Can I receive a free medical examination from the VA for a job?

A - No. The VA is not permitted to give the veteran an examination for anything except in connection with a VA benefit.

Q - I receive a pension from the VA. What office of the Treasury should I advise now that I have moved?

A - Your change of address must go to the VA regional office where your records are kept; never send it to any other Government agency except your post office.

Q - Must a veteran occupy as a home the house he purchases through a GI loan?

A - Yes. The veteran applicant, both at the time he applies for the loan, and at the time the loan is closed, must certify that he intends to occupy the property as his home.

Q - May a veteran receiving disability compensation also receive Social Security disability payments, or will the disability compensation be reduced by the Social Security payments?

A - Disability compensation will not be reduced by the amount of any Social Security benefit.

Q - I am a veteran who served three years on active duty from 1958 to 1961. I am totally disabled because of an automobile accident. Am I entitled to a non-service connected pension?

A - No. In order to be eligible, you must have had 90 days of active duty, any part of which was during wartime. Your active duty was during peacetime.

Q - I will be discharged from the service this month. What must I do to establish entitlement to educational benefits through the VA?

A - You should apply immediately to the nearest VA office for a Certificate, present it immediately to the registrar of the school you plan to attend, or to the employer where you plan to receive on-the-job training or apprentice training.

Q - I am receiving a non-service-connected pension. When must my annual income questionnaire be returned to the VA?

A - The deadline is January 15, 1970.

Q - Can I use my dividends to pay my National Service Life Insurance?

A - Yes. You may authorize the VA to automatically apply your dividend each year to premiums. The VA will then take your dividend and apply it to future premiums. You may also tell the VA to keep your dividend as a credit to your account, and use it to pay a premium in case you forget.

Q - How much would a VA pensioner with an annual income of $1,650 be entitled to under the new law?

A - A monthly pension of $51 is payable to such veterans who do not have dependents, and whose annual income ranges between $1,600 and $1,700. A veteran with dependents would receive $93 a month.

Deadline For W-2 Forms February 2

DALLAS - The deadline for employers to give employees their 1969 W-2 forms, showing earnings, income tax withheld and Social Security information is Monday, February 2, 1970, Ellis Campbell, Jr., District Director of Internal Revenue for Northern Texas, said today.

W-2's have to be filed with income tax returns and those who had more than one job last year should make sure they attach all of them when they file their returns.

A GENERATION GAP?

A recent interview in a Texas newspaper carried this caption: "Is there a generation gap in your home? Two answers from teen-age girls were very interesting. One said: "No, not any more, I grew up." The other stated: "Yes, my mother doesn't agree with me." Apparently there is a difference of opinion even among young people in regards to a fair appraisal of the "generation gap."

With a generation gap such as we have had in the "dangerous sixties", comes a permissive, irresponsible parentage. I do not like to be a pessimist, but we are rushing in to the "seventies" with a note of fear and reservation. Already labeled the "violent seventies" the future does not look very promising. We are reaping the sad harvest of parents who are too busy to train and rear their children in the nurture and admonition of the Lord. The Bible still says: "Train up a child in the way that he should go, and when he is old he will not depart from it." Proverbs 22:6.

Respectable parents will still demand respect, even when the so called "establishment" yields to celebrated evils of this world. This new decade brings into focus the need to do some soul searching, going back to the Bible, going back to the God who loves us and gave his Son that we might have the "Abundant life".

MAY THE LORD GIVE US THE COURAGE AND POWER TO BRING HIM INTO OUR HOMES, THAT WE MAY MAKE THE 70's INTO A DECENT DECADE.

Ed Morris, Minister, Burkburnett Church of Christ

GM MARK OF EXCELLENCE

Impala.

It's got more re-sale value because it's got more to re-sell.

One of the nicest things about buying an Impala is selling it. That's because selling it traditionally brings back more of what people put into it in the first place. Money. Where does Impala keep getting its higher resale value? From features like those you see below. Features which explain why America's most popular car for the last nine years will undoubtedly make it ten in a row.
Impala. More to drive. More to re-sell.

Pesticides Pose Threat To Fish

AUSTIN - Evidence continues to mount against the continued use of broad spectru, persistent pesticides, particularly the chlorinated hydrocarbons, according to J. R. Singleton, executive director of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

These hard pesticides, DDT, Dieldrin, Aldrin, Endrin, Heptachlor, and Lindane, bode ill not only for fish and wildlife, but possibly for man as well, he said. Singleton said recent findings in the lower Laguna Madre on the Texas Coast cause grave concern for the future of the trout fishery there.

Biologists found only a fraction of the juvenile trout in recent netting samples taken in areas where, in recent years, trout production had been good. Although the biologists cannot say absolutely that DDT is the cause, they say it is "quite possible" that it is the cause for the decline and offer these findings:

The highest average catch of juvenile trout in this area by Department biologists was 30 per acre. By late 1965, this figure had dropped to 25 per-figure had dropped to 25 per acre. In November, 1966, the peak catch was 12 per acre, and in 1968 over 100 seine samples, covering a total of 15 acres, yielded only 41 juvenile trout. In June and July, 1969, the entire area was sampled heavily using a lined trawl or push net. The more than 200 samples yielded only seven trout.

Laboratory studies revealed that ovaries of adult trout from the Arroyo Colorado contain from one to eight parts per million DDT with most of them containing four to eight ppm. It has been found in studies of lake trout that DDT levels of three to five ppm in yolk sacs cause complete mortality of young fish.

E. G. Simmons, the biologist who supervised the investigation said, "We must be cautious in blaming DDT because we know that research results for one species may not apply to another. Nevertheless, we cannot escape the fact that where there was once an abundance of juvenile troute, we now have very few."

Lone Star Gas Sets Record

Lone Star Gas Co. today reported a 24-hour gas sendout record of 2.242 billion cubic feet for the period ending midnight Tuesday, Jan. 6.

A company spokesman said that gas deliveries are continuing in a routine manner despite the abnormally cold weather.

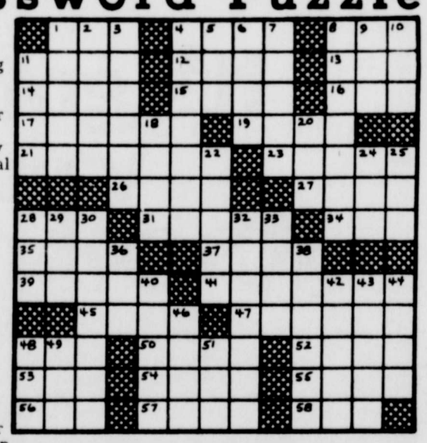

The new record topped by 109 million the previous high of 2.133 billion cubic feet of gas distributed during the 24-hour period ending midnight Sunday, Jan. 7, 1968.

Temperatures during the period in which the new record was set ranged from approximately 14 to 30 degrees above zero. Winds gusting to 35 miles per hour in some areas contributed to record gas use by more than a million customers served by Lone Star.

"A real test of willpower is to have the same ailment some person is describing—and not mention it."
