Mrs. J. M. Strong Dies Saturday, At Age of 91

Mrs. J. M. Strong, Sr., 91, one of the county's beloved senior citizens, died at her home Saturday evening, November 22, about 5:30 p.m.

A long-time business woman and church and civic worker, she had lived in Wellington for 41 years, and it was only the loss of her sight that caused her to retire from these activities to which she was devoted.

Mrs. Strong's life had spanned nearly a century of Texas growth, for she was born in Tarrant county, approximately 18 miles north-east of the present City of Fort Worth, on January 21, 1861. She was before her marriage Ida Mae Davenport, the daughter of Major and Mrs. M. W. Davenport.

Her memories of her early life were of the Fort and the soldiers stationed where Fort Worth now stands, of the coming of the railroad to Dallas, and of such venerable institutions as Sanger Brothers when it was a small store in a small town. She also recalled visits from Indians once or twice, and in her own words she was "scared beyond expression." Not more than 10 miles from her home, an entire family was killed by marauding Indians.

Major Davenport had built the first mill in Tarrant County. When his daughter was about 12 years of age, he moved his family to Denton, where she grew up. Mrs. Strong attended Methodist College at Denton two years and E. B. Kent College for a year.

She was married to J. M. Strong in 1877, at Denton. At that time he was county treasurer of Montague County. Here again, Mrs. Strong lived on the frontier, and she remembers that people came from miles around to trade, and buffalo trains still came through Bowie, they moved to that thriving town and entered the mercantile business. Later they returned to Denton and remained until her father moved his mill to Quanah to establish the Quanah Mill and Elevator Co. in 1890.

Mr. and Mrs. Strong made their home there until 1911, when they moved to Wellington.

At first they took over a grocery store, which they operated until about 1916.

In 1917, Mrs. Strong bought the insurance agency of Clyde Myers, who had volunteered into the armed services. She maintained this business until 1932, when her

Silage Meeting Set December 3

A meeting of farmers interested in putting up and feeding silage will be held Wednesday night, December 3, in the county court room, beginning at 7:00 p.m.

County Agent J. W. Thomas will be in charge, and slides will be shown of the various phases of putting up silage and its use in feeding dairy and beef cattle.

All interested persons are cordially invited to be present, the county agent said.

Rev. Fred Null to Speak Here Dec. 2

The Rev. and Mrs. Fred Null, who will leave around January 1 to do mission work in the Philippine Islands, will speak at the Fundamental Baptist Church at the corner of Ninth and Floydada Streets Tuesday evening, December 2, at 7:30 p.m.

Both Rev. and Mrs. Null were reared here, and made their home until he entered the ministry. They have been living at DeQuincy, La.

The public is invited to attend this service, and plans are being made for a large number of Mr. and Mrs. Null's friends to hear them.

So far as they know at present, Mr. and Mrs. Null will live in Manila, where they will teach in a school maintained by the Missionary Baptist Church.

Mr. Null is the son of Mrs. A. F. Null and the late Mr. A. F. Null, while his wife is the former Lorraine Bishop, the daughter of Mrs. Will Bishop of Oklahoma City and the late Mr. Bishop.

They have two daughters, Barbara, 16, and Elizabeth, two.

The Rev. L. A. Whitley is pastor of the Fundamental Baptist Church here, having accepted the pastorate a short time ago.

Recommendations Made to Bird Hunters

Farmers and Hunters Ask Thirty Day Limit on Quail Season

Collingsworth farmers, ranchers and sportsmen in a meeting Saturday afternoon, voted to ask Governor Allan Shivers and the Texas Game and Fish Commission to limit the hunting season on quail to thirty days in this county. The action was taken after considerable discussion, and after the group had heard explanations from two biologists of the Commission of the factors governing quail population.

At the same time they adopted a group of recommendations to hunters who may go out for quail this year.

Approximately 50 farmers, ranchers and business men, coming from all parts of the county, were present for the meeting.

The request has been drafted and sent to the governor and to Howard Dodge, executive secretary of the Texas Game and Fish Commission. The recommendation as adopted reads:

"That the hunting season on quail in Collingsworth County be limited to cover a period of 31 days for the 1952 season, from December 1st to December 31st, inc., and for all seasons thereafter. This action was taken after considerable thought and discussion, and was adopted with the idea in mind that a shorter hunting period was necessary for the proper preservation of the quail in this area. In limiting the season to the month of December it was felt that it would better enable the breeding stock to survive that critical period after January 1st, when sleet, snow and other winter hazards are so destructive to the conservation of the quail in this region.

"We were happy to have Mr. Jackson and Mr. DeArment of the Game Commission present, but their presence had no bearing upon the action taken by the group as mentioned above.

"As a committee appointed by those present to contact you concerning our desires, we respectfully request your attention to this matter at your earliest convenience.

Signed: W. R. Breeding, chairman Logan Cummings, sec. Tom Cunningham Zook Thomas John Coleman Carthel Lewis."

The game biologists, who are stationed at Canadian, and who are in charge of this 23-county area, pointed out that usually around 80 per cent of the old birds die during the winter period after January 1.

They explained that closing the season completely doesn't increase the game population and that their survival is more dependent on vegetation and cover.

The recommendations made by the body to hunters included: Be sure to secure permission from each landowner on whose land you wish to hunt, as is required by law.

Be careful of fire hazards. Be sure to put out any matches you strike or any cigarettes you smoke. Be a sportsman when you hunt. Don't try to exterminate all the game you can find. Leave some breeding stock to raise birds for next year.

When you go through a gate, be sure to close it behind you.

Mrs. M. L. Portwood, Mother of Mrs. A. L. Nowlin, Dies Sun.

Mrs. M. L. Portwood, the mother of Mrs. A. L. Nowlin, died at Denton Sunday afternoon at 1:00 p.m. She was 78 years of age and had been ill for the past year.

Mrs. Nowlin was at her mother's bedside when she passed away, and Mr. Nowlin and Russell Hopson left Monday to attend the funeral services, which were held Tuesday at 2:00 p.m.

Mrs. Portwood, although she had never lived here, had visited in the home of her daughter many times, and had a number of friends in Wellington. She and Mr. Portwood had lived in Hall County, at Estelline, for a number of years, and before that they lived in Wise County, where they were married.

Since 1909 they had made their home in Denton.

She was a member of the Pearl Street Christian Church.

Surviving Mrs. Portwood are her husband and two children, Mrs. Nowlin of Wellington and H. B. Portwood of Denton. Three brothers also survive, Bud White of Childress, Virgil White of Hollis and J. H. White of Duncan, Okla.

Almost an Inch of Rain Falls Over County; First For Two Months

Rain measuring from three-fourths to an inch fell over Collingsworth from Sunday evening through Tuesday morning, November 23 to 25, a part of the wide area throughout the Southwest to receive moisture.

A light fall of snow was received early Tuesday, but this was gone by mid-morning. Spirits of farmers and business men soared as the drizzle began and remained high as the county prepared for the Thanksgiving holidays.

The official rain gauge in Wellington recorded .76 inch, according to Jim Williams, secretary of the Fire Department, who is in charge of the gauge.

Several sections, however, reported up to an inch, including the Dodson area and the north part of the county.

Wheat farmers were especially optimistic. An estimated 15,000 acres of wheat has been dusted in this fall, according to County Agent J. W. Thomas. The moisture will bring this wheat up and should carry it for about a month, considering the season of the year, he estimated.

Very little of the wheat had come up to date.

The moisture should go down from 8 to 12 inches, depending on the type of soil, and it will enable those farmers wanting to plant late wheat to do so.

Mr. Thomas pointed out that late wheat here can make a good crop, provided it gets at least one hard freeze after germination to make it sucker, and provided there is enough rain through the spring months. Wheat that has come up as late as March has been known to produce a crop here

Mrs. J. B. Wellborn, Here Nearly Half A Century, Dies

Mrs. J. B. Wellborn, who had made Collingsworth County her home for nearly half a century, died in St. Joseph's Hospital Saturday evening, November 22, a native Texan, she was 75 years of age.

Funeral services for Mrs. Wellborn were held at the Church of Christ Tuesday afternoon at 2:30, with Minister Paul Lusby officiating.

Gathering to pay final tribute were friends made during her many years here, and included both pioneers she knew when the county was young and those associates of later years.

Pall bearers were Lewis Green, W. L. Green, Dave Brewer, Sandy Parson Jr., Jesse Coleman and John Coleman.

Flower bearers were Mmes. W. L. Green, M. W. Paschell, Dave Brewer, Marshal Hurley, Bob Clark and J. E. Brown.

Burial was in the Wellington cemetery under the direction of the Kelso Funeral Home.

Mrs. Wellborn was before her marriage Miss Arlie May Parsons, and she was born in Cook County May 22, 1877.

She grew up in that section of Texas and later moved with her family to Montague County. It was there she was married to Mr. Wellborn on May 22, 1892. They continued making that their home until 1904, when they felt that a greater opportunity were offered in a newer country and moved to Collingsworth County, settling in the Plymouth community. They lived there and near Aberdeen until 1918, when the family moved to Wellington to make their home.

Mrs. Wellborn had been a member of the Church of Christ since 1924.

Like so many women who came here in an earlier day, Mrs. Wellborn was a neighbor in the true pioneer meaning. She placed the welfare of her own family first,

Thanksgiving Service At Methodist Church Thurs.

Union Thanksgiving services will be held at the First Methodist Church Thursday morning, November 27, with ministers and vocalists from Wellington's churches taking part.

The Rev. Jack Garrett, pastor of the First Christian Church, will be the speaker, using the traditional theme of giving thanks to the Lord for the abundance which the people of America enjoy.

The Rev. J. F. Michael, pastor of the Methodist Church, is in charge of general arrangements.

The services begin at 10:00 a. m., and all people of Wellington are urged to join in this Thanksgiving observance.

Succeeds Jake Tarter

Logan Cummings Elected Salt Fork SCD Director

Logan Cummings, who farms three miles north of Wellington, was elected a director of the Salt Fork Soil Conservation District for Sub-district 2 in the meeting of landowners Saturday afternoon, November 22.

He succeeds Jake Tarter, who resigned recently after having served on the board since the organization of the district in 1947. He will serve the unexpired three years of the five year term.

Mr. Cummings, who was reared in Collingsworth County, is a school teacher and administrator of more than 25 years experience. He served as superintendent of the Wellington schools for several years before moving to McLean to head the school system there. During that time, however, he maintained his farming interests north of Wellington effective July 1 of this year, he resigned from the McLean schools and is now devoting his full time to farming.

Mr. Tarter, who was president of the board of the Salt Fork District, came to Collingsworth county as a young man, then left to serve for a number of years as county agent of Wheeler county. Upon leaving the Extension Service, he also returned here to farm. Mr. Tarter is credited with having run the first terrace lines that were ever run in Collingsworth County.

Other members of the board of directors are Frank Coleman of Quail, president; Tom Cunningham of Samnorwood, vice-president; Frank Ford of Dodson, secretary; Alfred Knoll of Nicholson, member.

Fred Squyres is the new work unit conservationist here, having succeeded Joe Grigg, who was transferred to Weatherford, and Lynn Courtney is the conservation aide.

The next regular meeting of the board of directors will be the first Saturday night in December.

Former Quail Man Hunting Accident Victim

Raymond C. (Bill) Creed of 3602 Northeast 15th St., Amarillo, formerly of Quail, was killed early Sunday morning, November 16, in a hunting accident northwest of Hereford.

Creed, who worked at Amarillo Air Force Base as a ground mechanic was attempting to kill a crippled duck with the butt of his gun. The gun discharged, striking him in the groin. With him were his brother-in-law, Charles Knight of Amarillo and Arnold Wall of Hereford.

A native of Quail, Creed was born November 3, 1923. He attended school there graduating with the class of 1942.

He entered the Army in Feb. 1943 and served in the European

Quail-Norwood Rivalry Tops on Cage Calender

By ORVILLE CUNNINGHAM
On November the 18th, Samnorwood teams and Samnorwood community journeyed to Quail for the first opening ball game between the two places. The girls opened the game at 7:30. The Samnorwood girls took the lead and stayed in the lead for the entire game to win by a score of 44 to 38.

The score at times was closer than the final score and was farther apart at times than the final score. The spirit of the encounter ran so high that it was sometimes difficult to hear the referee's whistle.

The Quail Gymnasium was packed. It was often said, and I believe it was fairly accurate, that Samnorwood brought as many fans as Quail had at their own place.

It is expected that all the lights in the Samnorwood district will be out from 6:30 to 10:30 this coming Friday night when Quail brings their two good teams to meet Samnorwood on their own court. There was a great number of people out from Shamrock and Wellington to see the game with Quail and it is expected that many people from Shamrock and Wellington will be here this coming Friday night. If you want to get a desirable place to sit, it is well that you come early for it is expected that the Gym will be packed to the four sides.

Joe White of Quail was high point with 21 points followed by Bonnie Kidwell with 19 and Kay Newkirk with 15 of Samnorwood. It is well worth the price of admission to see Jo Helen White of Quail in action. She is not only a good ball player, but displays good sportsmanship whether she wins or loses.

The Samnorwood boys defeated Quail boys 34 to 29 in a hotly contested game from the beginning of the whistle until the sound of the ending horn. The lead changed

Proclamation

WHEREAS we have come to another Thanksgiving season, set aside when all Americans are to give thanks unto God for his manifold blessings, both spiritual and material, and

WHEREAS it is traditional that we observe this day as a holiday, leaving off our regular duties and celebrating the day with Family and Friends,

NOW THEREFORE, I, L. B. Bratten, mayor of Wellington, declare Thanksgiving Day, Thursday, November 27, an official holiday for the city and ask all businesses to close for the day, and we urge that as many who can attend the union Thanksgiving services on that day at 10:00 a.m. at the Methodist Church.

Given under my hand and the seal of said office this the twenty-fifth day of November, 1952.

Donald Briggs Coach

Basketball at Front of School Sports Picture

By JAMES GLASSCOCK

Now that football season is officially over, basketball takes the spotlight and is the dominating sport for the next three months. Nearly all the schools in the county have started workouts and Quail and Samnorwood have been working since September 1st.

The Wellington Skyrockets started their 1952-53 basketball practice on Monday of this week. Ten boys reported for workout on the "A" team and the "B" teams has around 12 coming out.

This year the Rockets are being coached by Donald Briggs. Last season the team was coached by Maxey McKnight.

Last year the Rockets had a good team and are expected to repeat this season, although they will not have the reserve material and experience they had last year. Two boys will be back to fill probable starting positions, Lonnie Woods and Ed Bawcom. Bawcom will not be able to play this opening game because of back injury. In order to give the team more depth and power some of last year's "B" team members have been added to the "A" roster.

The boys coming out for this year's "A" team are: Lonnie Woods, Vesta Orr, Frank Jones, Winfred Bickerstaff, Floyd Hood, Bill Harvey, Ed Bawcom, Clyde Ingram, Camal Dakil, Odie Hood. Most of the boys have had at least 2 years experience.

The first game of this 1952 season will be at Hedley this coming Friday night. Both the boys and girls will journey to Hedley.

Final Rites Held For Eugene Hunter Here Thursday

Final rites were held Thursday afternoon, November 20, at the First Baptist Church for Walter Eugene Hunter, young veteran of World War II, whose death Tuesday evening November 18, came after an illness which began within a few days after he was released from service.

He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Hunter and was a life-long resident of this area, with the exception of the years he spent in the service of his country and in Veterans Administration Hospital.

Funeral services were held at the First Baptist Church. Officiating were the Rev. Chester O'Brien, pastor, and the Rev. W. T. Williams of Decatur, formerly of Wellington and a life-long friend of Mr. Hunter.

Pall bearers for the service were Herman Belew, Sunday Bill Smith, Bud King, Paul Guthrie, Earl Hunter, Fred Cox Jr., Cicero Guley and Lloyd Clark. Flower bearers were Mrs. Elvis Crawley, Mrs. Paul Guthrie, Mrs. Herman Belew, Mrs. Earl Hunter, all of Wellington, and Mrs. Bud King, Mrs. Winston Yearly and Mrs. Jimmie Turner of Childress.

Burial was at Memphis, a former home of the family, with the Ellis Funeral Home in charge.

Mr. Hunter was born at Loco April 20, 1922, and at the time of his death was 30 years, 7 months and 28 days of age. He attended school at Loco and Wellington, graduating here in 1942.

He farmed at Loco until he entered the Army in November of that year. After receiving his training in the United States, he went overseas and for a period of time he was stationed in England.

He served as a heavy truck driver with the Infantry of the Third Army. He took part in the famous Normandy Invasion, and participated in the fierce fighting as General Patton's men crossed Northern France, fought in the Ardennes Forests, the Rhineland, and into Germany. Among the other badges and awards, he received the Distinguished Unit Badge.

He received his discharge from service October 25, 1945, and returned to Wellington. Two weeks later he was stricken ill and paralysis developed. The next five years he spent in Veterans Administration hospitals in Amarillo, then Memphis, Tenn.

In 1950 he, with his parents and brother, Chester Hunter who had been with him, returned to Wellington, and the beautiful new home at 1212 Bowie Street was built especially for him, to meet his own needs.

Although he was confined to his home, Mr. Hunter maintained a keen interest in what was going on around him and remained in close contact with his many friends.

He was a member of the Baptist Church.

Surviving Mr. Hunter are his parents and three brothers, Chester Hunter and Lester Hunter of Wellington, and Sammie Lee Hunter of Odessa. Other survivors are two sisters-in-law, a niece and nephew, Patty Hunter of Odessa and Jack Hunter of Wellington; his step-grandfather, Bill Bowman of Grandfield, Okla.; and several aunts, uncles and cousins,

News Letter

From Congressman WALTER ROGERS

THE POW SITUATION IN THE KOREAN TRUCE TALKS: The major obstacle in reaching a truce in the Korean conflict appears to hinge on the question of forced or voluntary repatriation of prisoners of war. From the lack of progress that has been made in the solution of the issue, it would seem that an irresistible force has met an immovable object. Russia and her satellites have taken the position that all prisoners of war on both sides shall be returned to the sources from which they were captured, irrespective of the desires of the prisoner. The position of the United Nations is that these prisoners should be thoroughly screened and that those sincerely and honestly desiring to remain under the jurisdiction of their captors should be dealt with by the captors and not the opposition forces. It will be remembered that subsequent to World War II many tragic stories came out of Europe and Russia concerning the great efforts and in many cases suicidal attempts of prisoners of war resisting their return to Russia. This would leave little doubt as to the type of harsh punishment employed by Russia in dealing with returned POW's, and it can be safely assumed that the same procedure would be employed by North Korea and Red China, who follow so closely the Russian scheme. What actually happened to these returned POW's is still somewhat of a mystery because of the rigid censorship behind the Iron Curtain.

Several plans have been advanced to solve this tough problem. One of these before the United Nations calls for the formation of a neutral screening commission to separate the sheep from the goats. Another plan receiving some consideration calls for a return of all POW's upon commitments from the country receiving them that they will not be mistreated. Such agreement would call for periodic checks on the station. Should the Reds yield from their present arbitrary position and accept the first of the above solutions, much progress could be made towards a quick and final truce. However, it must be remembered that out of this solution would come other serious problems. Number one would be the location of a country that would give these POW's asylum. Number two would be the question of jurisdiction of the UN or the country in which they sought asylum. Should they be under the jurisdiction of the UN, they would still be indirectly under same control from Russia since Russia is a member of the UN. If a separate protectorate of the UN should be set up to provide asylum for these POW's, it would mean that Russia would still have some control in their government. If they were permitted to take citizenship in the country to which they were removed, the question of control would be settled. However, it is doubtful that many countries would be willing to take on a substantial number of these prisoners. Certainly I would not want them in the United States because it would afford Russia an opportunity to infiltrate this country with more Red spies. I am sure that many of the other countries would take the same position.

If these prisoners were returned to the country of their origin under the second proposal above referred to, it would be administratively impossible to keep up with them because of the rigid censorship behind the Iron Curtain and the further fact that most of the information we could obtain on them would be highly questionable. I do not believe that Russia would agree to this second proposal. If she agreed to the first proposal, I would entertain great fears that she would attempt to infiltrate UN countries with Red spies by this medium.

One of Russia's prime objectives is to bring about a major breach in the NATO organization. She obviously thinks that her best chance lies in causing friction between France and the other NATO countries. It presently appears that should a truce be concluded in Korea, the Red Chinese will promptly move men and supplies to the Indo-China front for stepped up action against the French. This will require France to call for immediate all-out aid from the UN or permit Indo-China to fall into the hands of the Reds. Russia figures that such action on the part of Red China will force the UN to move into Indo-China, as they did in Korea, or refuse to France the all-out aid that would be necessary. She figures that in the latter event, France would be forced to commit practically all of her forces to the salvation of Indo-China, and that even though she was able to prevent the Red menace from taking over, she would break with the NATO countries and at the same time measurably weaken herself at home. On the other hand, if the UN does move into Indo-China and stops the Red menace there, Russia can always return to Korea to keep the fire smoldering, truce or no truce. She is in the position similar to a checker player in the double corner. The problem of the United Nations is to get her out of that double corner without permitting a third world war to start. An effective prohibition against these new starts by Russia must be devised if the purpose of the United Nations is to be realized.

Maj. Baumgardner To Pentagon Job

Major Haynes Baumgardner has received an ROTC assignment at the Pentagon in Washington, effective early this month.

Former ROTC instructor at Texas Technological College, Lubbock, he has been assigned to special study at Montgomery, Alabama since June 1. A majority of the men chosen for this study were officers of the higher ranks. Major Baumgardner's selection for Pentagon job was considered to be recognition of the outstanding work he did.

The officer is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Baumgardner of Wellington. He graduated from high school here and from Texas Tech. He was an Air Force officer during World War II with combat service in Europe.

His wife is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Barkley of Matador.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Nelson are visiting with relatives and friends in Knox City and Munday this week.

The pilgrims who inaugurated Thanksgiving Day left their homes to make the perilous trip across the Atlantic for more than a piece of land. They risked lives and wealth to win the right to worship freely—to live democratically. It was on these basic principles of liberty that our great nation was founded. It was for these principles our forefathers fought so long and so valiantly.

We, who are the inheritors of this fine tradition, are faced by a threat now, too. So this Thanksgiving Day, when we sit down to our laden tables to feast and give thanks to a benevolent Father, let us add a determined resolution to rededicate ourselves to these democratic principles.

Let us resolve to preserve for our children the same freedom that our forefathers fought to give us—freedom which has brought us the abundance and the comfort we enjoy from day to day—that we take for granted.

Rockets Overrun Paducah 58-0 to Close Season

By JAMES GLASSCOCK

The 1952 Wellington SkyRockets pasted a 58-0 defeat on the outclassed Paducah Dragons at Paducah Friday night, November 21. A thin crowd of about 1,500 people watched the Wellington locomotive start slow and gather steam to crush out a 9 touchdown victory.

The Rockets started slow and fumbled in the early first quarter but they finally caught fire and moved ahead.

There was some fistic action in the ball game and three Wellington boys were thrown off the field. The Dragons lost two men by the same method.

The Rockets displayed their old team spirit. They displayed a brilliant offense and defense. Every man on the roster got to play except Ed Bawcom, who received a pulled muscle last week.

The boys getting to play were: Phil Handley, Floyd Hood, Vesta Lee Orr, Gene Baird, Doolen Starkey, Charlie Johnson, Clyde Ingram, Harold Moore, Doug Duncan, Frank Jones, Jimmy Leggett, Jerry Drummond, Calvin Lacy, Lynn Couch, Truman Judd, Walter Keisling, Jack Eads (who was instrumented in two of the Rockets touchdowns), Eugene Brown, Jim Thompson, Dennis Holliman, Lonnie Wood and Camal Dakil. Each of these boys played a hard 48 minutes of good football. An outstanding star on defense for the Rockets was Jack Eads. He made a lot of important tackles. Of the 26 members on the team 14 are seniors.

In the first quarter the Rockets scored after 8 plays. They took over on the Dragon 42 yard line and Doug Duncan ran off tackle for 10 yards and the initial T. D. Doolen Starkey booted the extra point. Score at the end of the first quarter 7-0.

The second quarter saw the Rockets score 2 touchdowns. The second touchdown came when Jack Eads broke through to block a punt. The Rockets took over on the Paducah 30 yard line and after 4 plays Harold Moore went off tackle for the T. D. Doolen Starkey again kicked the extra point. Score now standing at 14-0. About midway in this quarter Lonnie Woods returned a punt 70 yards for a touchdown but a clipping penalty at the 30 yard line annulled this.

After the necessary yardage for the clipping penalty had been stepped off the Rockets marched 80 yards in 8 plays to score with Woods going over on a quarter-back sneak. Starkey's attempt of conversion was wide. At the end of the half the Rockets led 20-0.

At the half the Wellington band honored the Seniors that played football. The Paducah band honored their football queen.

In the third quarter Jack Eads recovered a fumble on the Paducah 25 yard line. After 4 plays Doug Duncan went off tackle for 11 yards and a touchdown. Starkey's conversion was no good and that left the score at 26-0. In this same quarter the Rockets drove from the Paducah 38 yard line in 3 plays with Clyde Ingram going off tackle for a touchdown. Starkey again missed the extra point. Score now stands at 32-0.

The last of the 3 Wellington touchdowns that the Rockets got in the third quarter was when Lonnie Wood passed to Jimmy Leggett and Leggett, after being trapped, passed in turn to Harold Moore who went 5 yards to score. Starkey again failed the extra point. Leaving score 38-0.

In the fourth and final quarter the Rockets piled on to their lead when Lonnie Wood threw a pass to Charlie Johnson. The pass covered 25 yards and Johnson was all alone. This is the first time Johnson has ever scored in the three years he has played. Starkey finally found the upright and kicked the extra point, leaving the score 45-0. In this same quarter the Rockets took over on their own 31 yard line and marched to score after 6 plays with Doug Duncan lugging the pigskin for the final two yards. Starkey again lost the upright and missed the extra point. Standing score now 51-0.

For the final touchdown the Rockets used 7 plays and 40 yards to score. On an end around pass Charlie Johnson threw a 17 yard pass to Doug Duncan. Starkey kicked the extra point and the game ended with the score 58-0.

Doolen Starkey and Doug Duncan each have a chance to win the scoring awards. Starkey can win the extra points award and Duncan can win the most touchdowns award.

The Battle of the Bird

Time was when preparing Thanksgiving dinner was a real struggle. And preparing it was nothing compared to the clean-up job that came after!

But today grandmother, or mother, can actually take time to enjoy herself—because so much of the work (including the after-dinner work) will be done for her by electrical kitchen appliances and by her wonderful electric servant, Reddy Kilowatt. He works for mere chicken feed, too!

He will refrigerate the turkey a whole day—for about 2¢.

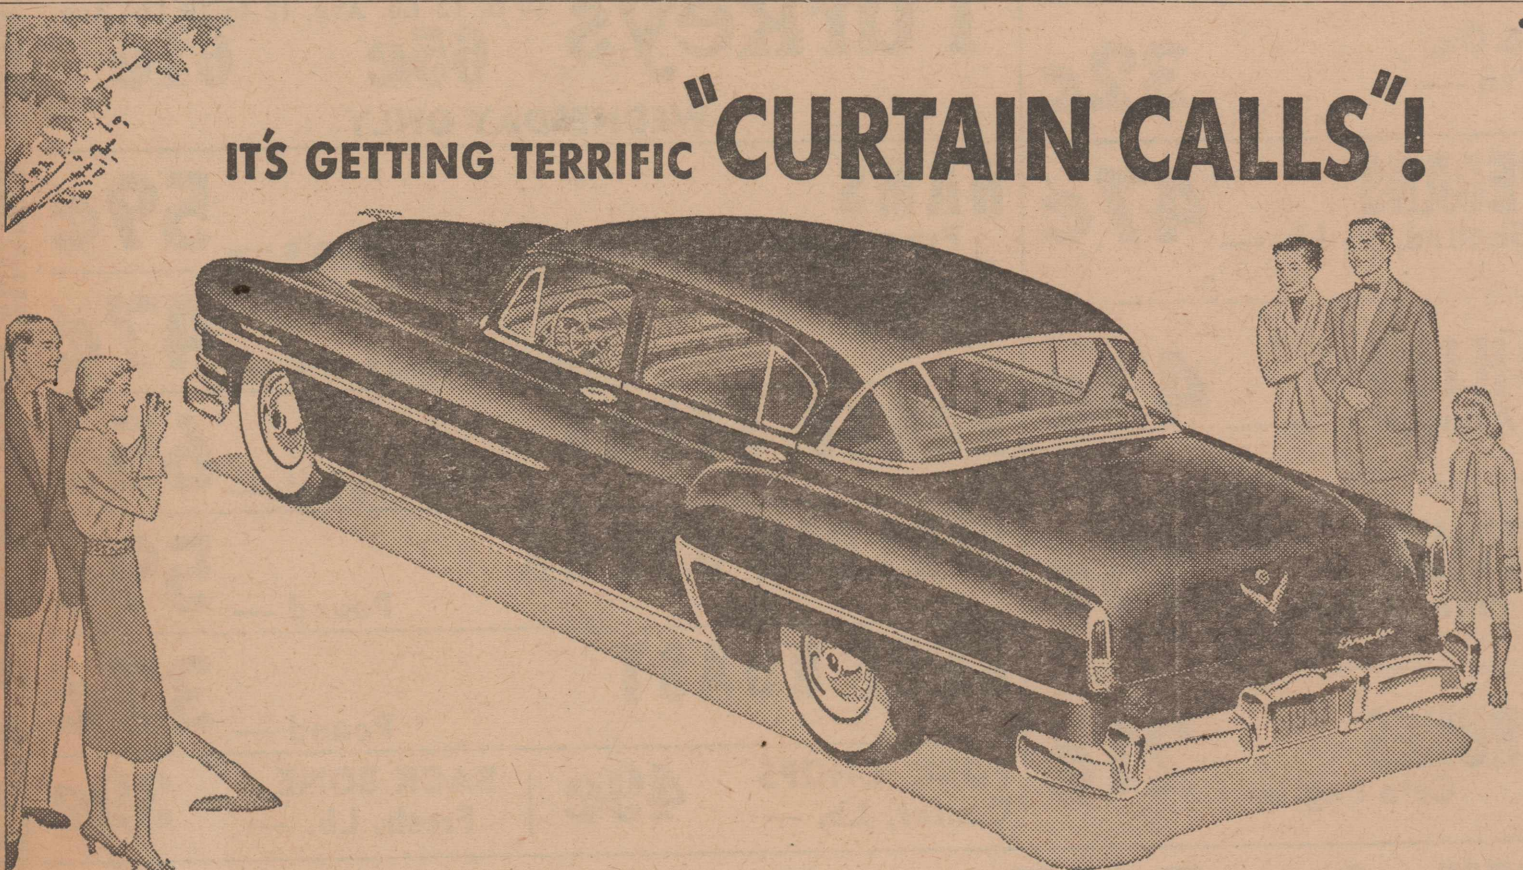

He'll roast the turkey—for less than 10¢.

He'll run the dishwasher for a full load of dishes—for less than 1¢.

And he will wash and iron the tablecloth and napkins—for about 2¢.

Wonderful, isn't it? As a matter of fact, electric appliances will win the "cooking battle" every time... and remember your electric service is still the biggest bargain in your budget today!

Moisture Loss High

BRUSH GROWTH INTENSIFIES DROUTH DAMAGE TO TEX. RANGES

COLLEGE STATION—An acre of average mesquite infested Texas range land is tapped daily for 52 gallons of water. That loss, says A. H. Walker, range specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, is the amount of water given off by the mesquites through transpiration.

When moisture isn't a problem, he explains, the loss gets little attention, but right now the grass that might have been produced with the 76 tons of water lost per acre yearly would loom pretty large in the feeding plans of many Texas ranchmen. Walker says that the more than 400 pounds of water lost daily would produce a pound of buffalograss daily. For a year, he adds, that equals half as much forage as was produced on many of the state's ranges this year.

Mesquites take from three to four times more water to produce one pound of leaves or beans than is required for a pound of buffalo, side oats gamma or little bluestem grass, says Walker. He cites figures released recently by the Spur Experiment Station to show the value of clearing brush from range lands. Beef cattle on the brush pastures produced 53 per cent greater gains than cattle on brushy pastures. Gains were 35.6 pounds of beef an acre against 23.2 pounds, or a difference of 12.4 pounds an acre in favor of the cleared pastures. Figuring this extra weight at 23 cents a pound, the additional income was $2.85 an acre this year.

Walker points out that usable forage production on many ranches in South and West Texas this year did not exceed 600 pounds an acre. This low yield was due mainly to lack of moisture and the toll which brush took of the scant moisture available.

The specialist suggests range management practices which he believes will help to prevent such situations as now exist in most sections of the state. Livestock numbers and forage production on ranges and pastures should be balanced with the reserve forage and residue left on the range in the good years to take care of dry years. Feed reserves such as bales, hay or silage should be maintained.

In areas where adapted, he recommends greater use of annual grazing crops such as small grains, clover, sudan or cane. Water losses can be reduced by using economically proved practices in controlling brush and weeds on the range. These moisture conservation practices will also aid in increasing forage production. Range improvement will also result from deferred and rotation grazing.

Finally, he says, be most careful about restocking pastures immediately after a drouth. Give the plants a chance to develop a good crown and root system for they will be making a last ditch stand to reproduce themselves and too early grazing is more critical at this time than during the drouth period.

Baumgardner To Judging Meet

David Baumgardner, senior student in Texas Technological College, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Baumgardner, Wellington, is a member of the animal husbandry and meats judging team from Tech which will participate in the International Intercollegiate Judging Contests in Chicago, November 29 through December 1.

Other members of the team are Don Olsen of Houston, Cody Barnett of Fort Worth and Don Johnson of Midland. Fred Boren, assistant professor of animal husbandry will be team coach.

Two other teams are making the trip, the crops judging and livestock judging teams.

Santa, Reindeer Come to Shamrock

SHAMROCK — Parents of the Wellington area are invited to bring their kiddies to this city on Wednesday afternoon, December 3, to see old Santa Claus and his real live reindeer. Most children have seen St. Nick, but many have never seen the reindeer which bring him from the North Pole on his annual Christmas gift distributing trip.

A 20-minute street parade featuring old Santa in his reindeer-drawn sleigh will be staged at 4 p.m. St. Nick will have 3,000 sticks of barber pole mint candy to distribute to his little friends with the assistance of members of the Volunteer Fire Department.

Heading the parade will be the Shamrock Irish Band under the direction of Robert Reeves.

The jolly old fellow will remain in Shamrock an hour and a half, visiting with the good little boys and girls and listening to their wishes concerning Christmas gifts.

Farm Bureau Award to Rosalyn Morgan

Cotton John Smith Guest Speaker at FHA Banquet

Garland J. Smith, farm editor of the Amarillo News and Globe-Times, and known to the Panhandle as "Cotton John," was guest speaker at the Samnorwood Future Homemakers Thanksgiving banquet for their friends, families, community leaders and school board members Saturday evening, November 15.

In another high point of the meeting, Rosalyn Morgan was presented the Farm Bureau award to the most outstanding FHA girl of 1951-52, by Tom Cunningham, a director of the organization.

Goldie Lee Tippie, president of the chapter, presided at the banquet. Entertainment included music by the string band, led by Alice Payne; a reading by Karen Breeding; November song group by Betty Lou Vick, Barbara Vick, Don Amerson and Gary Vaughan; a story, "The First Thanksgiving," by Gary Wayne Vaughan; and "America," sung by the entire group, led by Joyce Amerson and accompanied by Sue Vaughan.

A Thanksgiving theme was carried out in the decorations. Tables were covered in brown, scattered over with tiny multicolored autumn leaves. The serving table was centered with a miniature farm arrangement and other tables featured golden horns-of-plenty, filled with grain, cotton bolls and fruit. Tall red candles in natural wood holders flanked these. Tall corn stalks and pumpkins were used for room decorations, and little lanterns of colored paper were used with these arrangements.

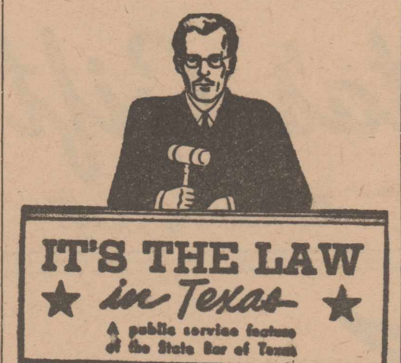

Cunningham Plans School Ceremony

Noah Cunningham, longtime superintendent of schools at Quail and now at Whiteface, has announced that open house will be held at the new school building there on December 5, with the dedication ceremony at 7:30 p.m.

The new buildings are a gymnasium, agriculture building and elementary school building. These, with the land purchased, cost the school approximately $650,000, Supt. Cunningham said.

Mr. Cunningham is the brother of Orville Cunningham, superintendent of the Samnorwood school.

Future Homemaker officers this year include Miss Tippie, president; Bonnie Kidwell, vice-president; Sue Moody, secretary; Rosalyn Morgan, reporter; Peggy Garner, treasurer; Joyce Amerson, song leader; Alice Payne, historian; and Miss Dollie Cook, instructor.

SELECTION OF JURY PANELS EXPLAINED

To many people, the call for jury service always seems to come at the wrong time. Just when plans for that hunting trip are complete, an inventory or other business problem is demanding special attention, or the best Jersey comes down with a serious ailment, a jury summons is sure to arrive.

In spite of the regularity with which such unhappy coincidences occur to some individuals, no gremlin is watching to see when you can least afford to be away from home and business. Being chosen for jury service at any particular time is largely a matter of chance.

Under Texas laws jury panels for District Courts are selected by one of two methods — the Jury Wheel or the Jury Commission. The jury wheel is a hollow metal wheel or container, so erected that it will freely revolve on its axle.

In counties using a jury wheel, a list of all qualified jurors is prepared from the official tax lists in August of each year. Taking part in the ceremony are the County Tax Assessor, the District Clerk, the County Sheriff, and the County Clerk. Each prospective juror's name is written on a card of uniform size and placed in the metal container.

Then the wheel is locked with two separate locks, the key to one lock being kept by the District Clerk and the other key being kept by the Sheriff. As jurors are needed, the wheel is revolved to mix the names and the required number drawn for preparation of jury lists.

Three persons must be present when the wheel is unlocked and the names drawn therefrom — the Sheriff (or one of his deputies), the District Clerk (or one of his deputies), and the District Judge. Upon completion of currently revery likely be drawn again. Others may never be drawn.

In counties not operating under the jury wheel system, the District Judge at each term of his court appoints from three to five persons from different sections of the county to act as Jury Commissioners.

Using the county tax assessment roll, these men follow the Judge's instructions as to the number of jurors to be selected for various weeks of the court term. The lists of names prepared by them are sealed in separate envelopes and delivered to the Judge. He, in turn, turns them over to the District Clerk or one of his deputies in open court, who immediately files the envelopes away in a safe place in the Clerk's office.

Although ordinary inconveniences are not usually sufficient to gain an excuse from jury service, emergency or hardship is a different matter. If you face such extreme circumstances in your business or personal affairs that your mind cannot freely reflect and meditate upon the important issues to be tried, call this to the attention of the judge.

Courts try to be reasonable in granting excuses. The judge will consider your situation carefully and thoughtfully, and may determine that your service should be deferred.

County Delegates Attend

BUREAU URGES WATER RESEARCH, BUT OPPOSES PRICE CONTROLS

Four delegates from the Collingsworth County Farm Bureau returned recently from the 19th annual convention, which met in San Antonio. It was attended by more than 1,000 Farm Bureau members.

Going from here were W. R. Breeding, president, of Abra, Ben F. Farmer, Dan Henard and J. W. Thomas. Mrs. Breeding and Mrs. Farmer also made the trip.

Speakers at the convention included Sen. George D. Aiken (Rep.) of Vermont who is slated to assume the chairmanship of the Senate Committee on Agriculture and Forestry; Congressman Clark W. Thomson (Dem.) of Galveston; and Romeo Short, vice-president of the American Farm Bureau Federation.

The Texas farm organization, also adopted resolutions calling for acreage control to keep production in line with demand and a flexible price support system "that permits freedom of action by the farmer with a minimum of cost to the government." These supports would start at 100 per cent of parity when supplies are normal, to exceed when a crop is short, and lowered when there is an excess of supply.

This resolution, unique among proposals made by state Farm Bureaus, is a reaffirmation of one first adopted in 1949 by the Texas Farm Bureau.

Towards solving the number one problem confronting agriculture in the state — water — the convention recommended that sufficient funds be appropriated by the state legislature "to promote the vitality needed research on the water situation."

To rid the state of the dread pink bollworm menace, the delegates recommended that the cotton stalk destruction deadline be strictly adhered to except for extensions granted due to weather or when a definite area-wide shortage of pickers exists.

The Texas Farm Bureau also went on record favoring an increase in the appropriation for the present farm-to-market road program, an increase in the per diem pay of State legislators, more agricultural research to increase the productivity of the farm, vigorous support to revision of the Texas seed laws governing the purity and germination and proper tagging of planting seeds sold in Texas to protect growers against loss, and a national Farm Holiday to be designated for the second Saturday in October each year.

The convention delegates also voted to expand the rural telephone service through the facilities of REA where private industry has not furnished this service. The resolution on REA read: "We recognize the need for adequate generation facilities and transmission lines to serve rural areas. Where these services are not available at a reasonable rate, we insist on the continuation through the facilities of the REA the right to furnish this service to farmers and ranchers."

The convention opposed price controls, efforts to socialize medicine, business or agriculture, and the practice of government agencies using any facilities of that agency to promote political aspirations or dissension among members of farm organizations.

Mrs. J. M. Strong - (Continued from Page One)

sight failed. One of the town's most active civic workers, Mrs. Strong had a part in many of those enterprises which meant improvement to the growing town.

She was especially interested in the work of the Red Cross and served as chairman of the work here for many years.

Mrs. Strong was a devoted member of the First Christian Church, which she joined more than 75 years ago.

Although she was about 70 years of age when her sight failed, Mrs. Strong set about to learn to read again by braille, and in six months has mastered this study, which usually takes a much longer period of time. She also learned leather handcraft and did this work until recent years.

Library Club Sponsors Book Week Activities

The Library Club of Wellington high school was the local sponsor of National Book Week among the students, climaxing their activities with an assembly program Wednesday, November 10.

Introduction to Book Week was given by Cynthia Akin, followed by an accordion solo by Janice Davis.

Taking part in the play, "The Guilty Ones," were Wayne Maxwell, Laverne Joliff, Bobby Hays, Kenneth Byrd, C. W. Caison, Janice Davis, Eddie Slay, Don Wheeler, Betty Strickland, Mary Ruth Stall, Billy Crosby, Leroy Belev, Mary Hagler, Nadine Howell, Patsy Patton, LaNora Stall, Selma McAlister, Lavona Murdock, Larry Jesse, KaLen Galyean, Myra June Jones, Nell Hurst, Odie Hood, Geneva Holman, Hugh Kutch, Lawanda Strickland, Virginia Lacy, Delores Ward and Peggy Lewis. Directing the play were Cynthia Akin and Nadine Howell, and Mrs. John Justice, librarian, was sponsor.

Other numbers included a piano solo by Miss Akin and a song by Mary Hagler.

Winners of the Book Week poster contest were announced, with first place going to Janice Davis and Barbara Lomry, second Virginia Lacy, and third, Patsy Lacy.

Funeral services for Mrs. Strong were held at the First Christian Church Tuesday afternoon, November 24, with the Rev. Jack Garrett, pastor, officiating.

Pall bearers were grandsons and grand sons-in-law, J. M. Strong Jr. and Robert Strong of Wellington, Eddie Strong of Hollis, Jack Strong of Tucumcari, N. M., J. N. Cook of Melrose, N. M., and Billy Dan Cunningham of Lubbock.

Following the service here, her body was taken to Quanah for burial in the Quanah cemetery by the side of her husband. The Kelso Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Strong is survived by one son, J. M. Strong, with whom she had made her home for many years; ten grandchildren: J. M. Strong Jr. and Robert Strong of Wellington; Eddie Strong of Hollis; Jack Strong, Tucumcari, N. M.; Mrs. J. N. Cook of Melrose, N. M.; Mrs. Billy Dan Cunningham of Lubbock; A. T. Strong of Fort Worth; Jones Strong of California; Max Strong and Virginia Strong of Pasadena, Calif.

Three sons preceded her in death: Clinton in 1896; Clarence in 1932 and Davenport in 1942.

During the past week, lines were run for terraces on a field of the A. E. Tate farm at Abra and contour lines on the farm of Mrs. T. J. Lewis, worked by Mr. McWhorter in the Kelley community.

Mr. Tate is terracing 30 acres which he plans to put either in feed or clover — either way he is aiming on feed for his livestock.

This is rough land and should benefit greatly from terracing. The McWhorter place has 102 acres.

Terrace lines will be run on the W. E. Reynolds farm, also southwest of Wellington, this week or as soon as weather permits.

CARD OF THANKS We want to express our heartfelt thanks to all who were so helpful and kind at the death of our loved one, Mrs. J. H. Vise. We appreciated the floral offerings, each expression of sympathy, and especially thank Mrs. Willie Smith for the use of her home and everyone who brought food. May God bless each one. The Children of Mrs. J. H. Vise CARD OF THANKS We take this means of expressing our heartfelt appreciation to our many friends for their deeds of kindness and words of consolation at the death of our husband and father, W. D. Durfey. The food and flowers, each neighborly act and each message of comfort, the things that only friends can give, have meant more to us than we can express. May God bless each of you. Mrs. W. D. Durfey Merritt Durfey and family Dean Durfey and family Mrs. Velman Warrick & family.

CARD OF THANKS We extend our sincere appreciation for the kindness and many words of comfort extended us in our time of sorrow for our beloved son and brother, Eugene. Especially do we want to thank Bro. Chester O'Brien, Bro. W. T. Williams, Drs. E. W. and E. K. Jones and the complete staff at St. Joseph's Hospital and the clinic. May God bless you all. The G. W. LOCO

By MRS. GEORGE ADKINS

This community has received a fine rain. The first in several months. They say the drouth has been broken at last. The farmers are talking of sowing rye and wheat.

The Baptist Church had a large crowd Tuesday night at the Zone meeting. There was a nice program and over 100 guests were registered. Many of the guests were visiting in the Church.

Our community was saddened Wednesday morning by the news of the passing of Mr. W. D. Durey. The community has lost one of its very best leaders.

Eugene Hunter was another neighbor that passed away this week. Our sympathy goes out to each of these families.

Mrs. Ora Calcote of Texola, Oklahoma, is spending a few days in the home of G. W. Adkins.

A large number of people from here attended the Grand Ole Opera in Wellington Friday night.

Visiting over the week end in the E. S. Copeland home were their children, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Crow and girls and Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Carter and children of Hollis and Bob Copeland of Lacasa, Oklahoma.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Brown and family visited her mother, Mrs. G. K. Patterson and Billy Joe of Wellington over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Adkins were in Erick, Okla., on business last Wednesday.

PERSONAL

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Shadid of Altus spent Sunday in Wellington visiting George Shadid, Miss Marie Shadid and Miss Rose Shadid.

Mr. and Mrs. Louie Vaughan and daughter, Linette, of Lovington, N. Mex., visited with Mr. Vaughan's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Vaughan over the week end.

Mrs. Dean Perkins, Miss Ludean Perkins and Miss Shirley Agee went to Lamesa Sunday to accompany Mrs. Dan Austin and girls home.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Brantley and Heber of Vernon spent Sunday with his mother, Mrs. R. W. Brantley.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Bumpas, Mr. and Mrs. Norris Hoyt and Mr. and Mrs. Jake Leach went to Dumas to attend the Phillips-Dumas football game Saturday. The group came back by Amarillo to visit with Jo Ann Bumpas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Bumpas.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Fike of Amarillo visited Friday and Saturday with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Fike and Mr. and Mrs. Tiffin Young, Sr.

Miss Jo Marie Barnett

Miss Jo Marie Barnett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Barnett, 1310 East Avenue, piano student of Mrs. Walter Hagler for the past five years, is moving to Dumas. In Dumas Jo Marie will continue her study of music along with ballet dancing at the Ann Cartwright School of Dance. Miss Barnett will return to Wellington in the spring to take part in Mrs. Hagler's recital. In this recital she will play in a duet with Miss Joy Hartman.

Hospital Auxiliary Quail Friendship Club Meets Nov. 20

Plans for coming activities of St. Joseph's Hospital Auxiliary were discussed by members in their second meeting of the year, Friday, November 14.

These will include a bazaar at the next Auxiliary meeting, Friday afternoon, set for Friday, December 5. The bazaar will be held at St. Joseph's by the Sisters of the Hospital. This is an annual event for members of the Auxiliary and their friends, but others interested are invited to attend.

In the recent meeting, ways and means of effecting a more extensive program for Auxiliary workers as aids were discussed. The aide program was started during the summer months and has proven satisfactory, but different schedules of members brought on during the school year has made necessary certain changes in the work.

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Mitchell of Amarillo visited with friends and relatives over the week end.

Let us give Thanks!

Dear Lord, how can we thank Thee half enough
For all Thy gifts to us this fruitful year!
For spring's bright promise gloriously fulfilled
This harvest-time; for these that are more dear
Than bread assured: all the sweet joys of life—
Home, work, love, friends—that gild the passing days;
And children's laughter on the evening air —
For all, dear Lord, we give Thee grateful praise.

But most of all, O God, we thank Thee for Our cherished heritage of freedom. Here
Where men walk safely, surely; speak and pray
As each one wills, and freely, without fear,
Lord make us strong to hold and spread this boon!
From our abundance help the weak to raise
Their hearts and come to share our brotherhood,
And join with us in songs of thanks and praise!

EDITORIAL COMMENT — THE WELLINGTON LEADER

Thursday, November 27, 1952

Mr Salesman, Meet Mr. Customer

The customer has had to be a salesman for most of these last ten years—he has been compelled to "sell himself" to the salesman as a worthy channel into which to funnel scarce merchandise. Our newer generation of roadman, constitute perhaps one-quarter of all salesmen, has therefore never quite comprehended the normal characteristics of the customer. And older salesmen have tended to forget—ten years strain the memory. As an introduction to that breed of homo sapiens known as the customer, it strikes me that the following 15 points might constitute a reasonably good portrait:

1. Your customer is the lifeblood, the heart and soul, the everything of your business. Indeed he is your business.

2. Your customer favors you with business—not vice versa.

3. Your customer is in partnership with you. It's an equal partnership. And don't expect him to be a silent partner.

Your customer need not be coddled, but neither is he to be manhandled.

5. Your customer is entitled to his idiosyncrasies, as you are to yours.

6. Your customer is privileged to change his mind—don't you ever change yours?

7. Your customer doesn't have to love you—but it would be a good idea for you to love him. He may consider the honeymoon over; you've got to consider that it's just begun.

8. Your customer is your greatest asset. Don't dissipate your assets.

9. Your customer remembers the service you used to give him—and that you may have forgotten you ever gave. Better jog your memory—before he jogs it for you.

10. Your customer can probably get along without you—but you can't get along without him.

11. Your customer is almost always your best prospect!

12. Your customer won't applaud you for outwitting him—except when you use your wits to help him do a better merchandising and promotional job than his wits (and time) enable him to do by himself.

13. Your customer reserves the privilege of criticizing your line, your company, you. You're not expected to "take" everything he may throw at you—especially when he unfairly throws the book. But neither are you expected to shove his teeth down his throat the moment he opens his mouth in protest.

14. Your customer is not an account—he's flesh-and-blood; and when he's in a buyers' market (which is a normal market) he scratches and bleeds easily.

15. Your customer is not an incident in your business life—he is your business life.—By E. B. Weiss in Printers' Ink.

A Real American

I do not choose to be a common man. It is my right to be uncommon—if I can I seek opportunity—not security.

I do not wish to be a kept citizen, humbled and dulled, by having the state look after me.

I want to take the calculated risk; to dream and build; to fail and succeed. I refuse to barter incentive, for a dole.

I prefer the challenges of life, to the guaranteed existence;

The thrill of fulfillment, to the stale calm of Utopia.

I will not trade freedom for beneficence, Nor my dignity, for a handout.

I will never cower before any master, Nor bend to any threat.

It is my heritage to stand erect, proud and unafraid;

To think and act for myself, enjoy the benefit of my creations, and

To face the world boldly and say, this I have done.

All this is what it means, to be an American.

By Dean Alfance, distinguished lawyer and humanitarian, recipient of the Theodore Roosevelt National Sciences Memorial Award for his outstanding non-fiction work, "The Supreme Court and the National Will." With thanks to the Maine Townsman.

STRICTLY FRESH

Rule barring 14-year-olds from maternity ward kept 13-year-old new mother from visits of her best friend. No kids allowed in maternity wards, eh?

Experts predict lifting credit-crubs on home buying will spur sales. Thing they apparently forget is whether payments are big or little, you still need money.

FOR NOVEMBER 30God's Purpose:
Love and Redemption

To know God means a great deal more than just believing in His existence. The God that Jesus revealed is a God of love Who so loved the world that He gave His only begotten son to be its Savior.

His love is more powerful than all the hate man sees thrust upon Him. In this world of bitter competition in which we find ourselves, it is often more difficult to realize that God's love is there in spite of all other things that seem to defy it.

From time to time we find men questioning God's purpose. They do not seem to understand that in His purpose is a richer reward than all the material wealth of their material world.

To know God is to realize and share in God's purpose as far as the human race is concerned.

And that purpose is one of absolute love and redemption. This fact is constantly reaffirmed in the Bible.

It is also the theme of John the Baptist. Lastly, it is the essence of Christ's gospel and is revealed in all that He said or did.

Paul became the great exponent of this philosophy after his conversion. It dominated him so completely he was certain no power or experience would ever be strong or bitter enough to separate him from it.

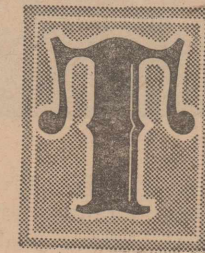

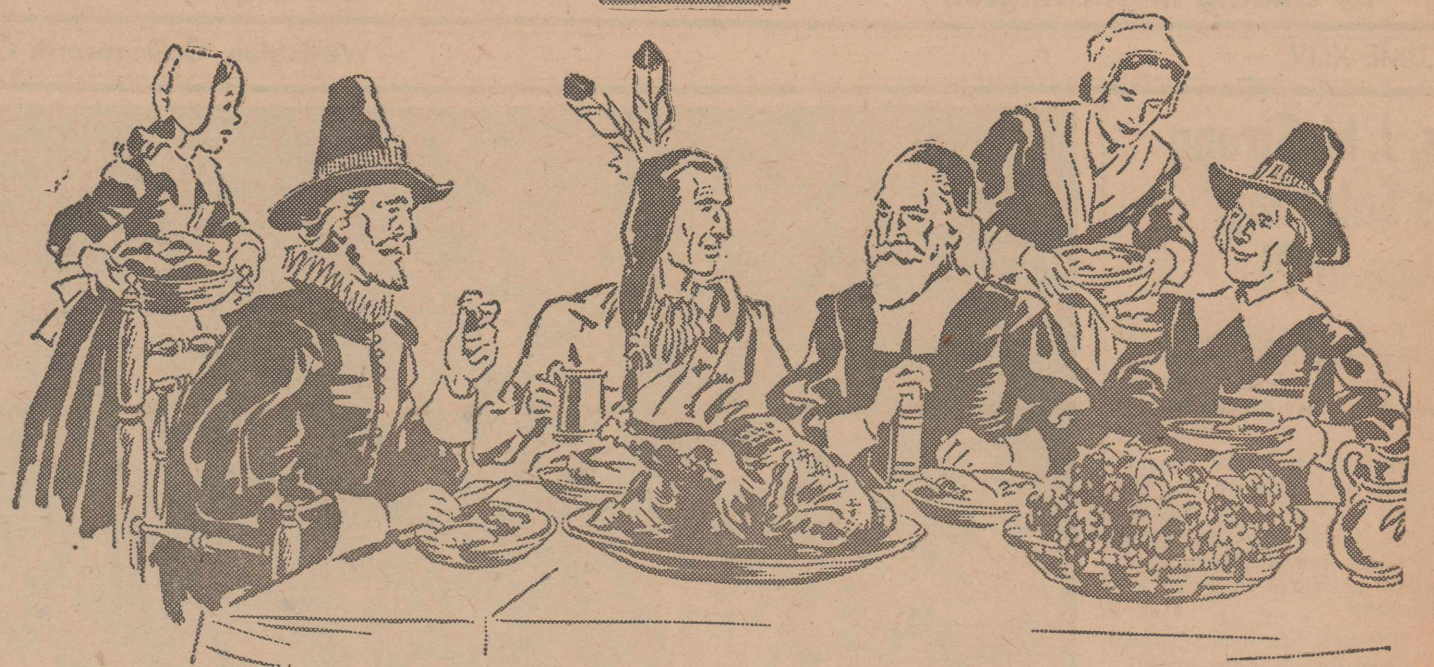

Paul lists the suffering and hardships he endured and tells us none shall ever be able to separate us from Christ's love. This is profound faith not easily obtained.

Because it is easy to believe in God when all goes well, only when trouble and sorrow cloud our lives do we doubt. But Paul's represented the strongest of Christian experiences. Many lesser Christians whose names are unknown, have suffered bitter trials and persecutions. They have found that Christ is nearer and richer when they have suffered the loss of everything.

Thus we can see how unfeeling is the love of God.

It is as Paul said: "I can do all things through Christ Who strengtheneth me."

The shortest road to riches is to spend like you were poor.

First Place in National Contest

West Texas Utilities Wins Safety Award

ABILENE — The West Texas Utilities Company, according to an announcement by the National Safety Council in Chicago, has been named as first place winner in the Public Utilities Division of the council's 1951-52 National Fleet Safety Contest.

In acknowledgement of its national standing in the Driving Safety Contest, the utility company was presented with a bronze plaque, mounted on walnut, and bearing the inscription "Winner, Public Utilities Division, National Safety Council's 1951-52 Fleet Safety Contest."

From July 1, 1951 to June 30, 1952, West Texas Utilities employees drove company vehicles a total distance of 3,399,000 miles and achieved the excellent accident rate of .09 accidents per 100,000 miles. This rate was far below that of the nearest competitor. Under the contest the slightest fender dent it considered a reportable accident. Before winners are declared in the contest the accident record of the companies are carefully audited by a representative of the National Safety Council.

The Wellington service employees of West Texas Utilities have an accident-free record that extends back over a number of years, according to Cameron Beam, manager.

Mr. Beam, who is also safety chairman for the Childress district of WTU, said that there has not been a major accident in the entire district during the current year.

"The West Texas Utilities Company," said Price Campbell, President, "is striving in every way to be a good citizen in the community it serves. Certainly safe driving is a vital part of good citizenship."

The company which maintains a continuing safety program for all departments and all drivers has established a national reputation for traffic safety. In 1951 the company was the second place winner in this same contest. A first place winner in the 1946 Bureau of Safety Contest, the company is this year a contender for the 1952 first place title which will be announced shortly after January 1st, 1953.

Hunters Find Few Deer Around Mason

Cameron Beam, manager of the West Texas Utilities Company, was one of eight hunters who returned recently from a deer hunt in Mason county.

He also brought back one of the three deer that were killed by the party.

Making the trip were Mr. Beam, George Williams of Mineral Wells, Clarence Leon and Grayson and George Shahan of Abilene, and K. K. Francis and Roy Arledge of Stamford.

This group has a lodge, which they build themselves, about 15 miles east of Mason, where they hunt each year. They are planning to return before the close of the deer season.

Three Ideas for Safer Travel On Highways

There is always something new under the sun when it comes to traffic safety rules. Three suggestions with a great deal of merit were recently offered the National Council.

A suggestion to aid in preventing "road hypnosis," caused after driving for long periods on high-speed, express highways, has been offered to the Council by Mr. William W. Brainard of Far Hills, N. J. Mr. Brainard proposes that a series of light colored stripes be painted across highways every two or three miles, in varying patterns and diagonals, thereby breaking the vision monotony and aiding the driver to keep awake and alert.

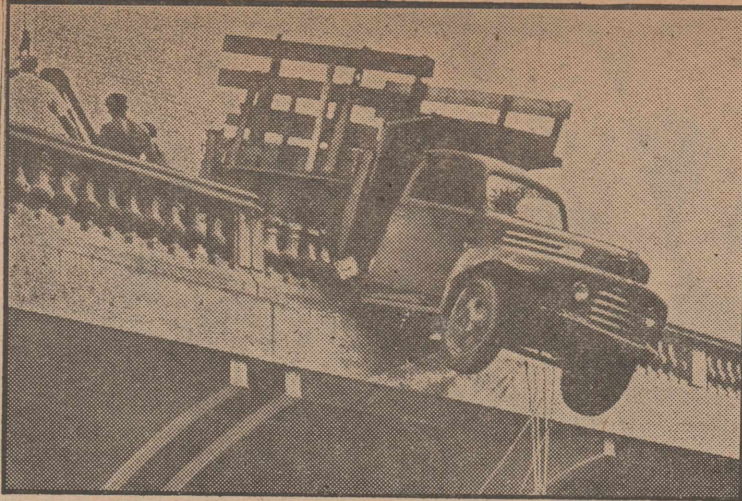

Mr. William B. Kelly of Marion, Ohio, recognizing that many accidents are caused on the highways and in the cities as a result of motorists passing through stop signs — particularly when the sign is camouflaged behind shrubbery, parked cars, and the like — recommends that a center line be painted in a bright color on the road, starting approximately 300 feet preceding the stop sign.

He feels that such a device would provide ample warning to the driver that he is to stop, and would lessen the chances of the motorist's attention being diverted from the sign, even when clearly visible.

Mr. Walt Youngberg of Youngberg Brothers, Meriden, Conn., suggested that it might be practical to reverse the standard procedure for regulating traffic on four-lane highways. He concludes that the present custom of using the outside lanes for slow-speed traffic and the inside lanes for high-speed vehicles greatly increases the danger of head-on collisions, and, consequently, the seriousness of accidents.

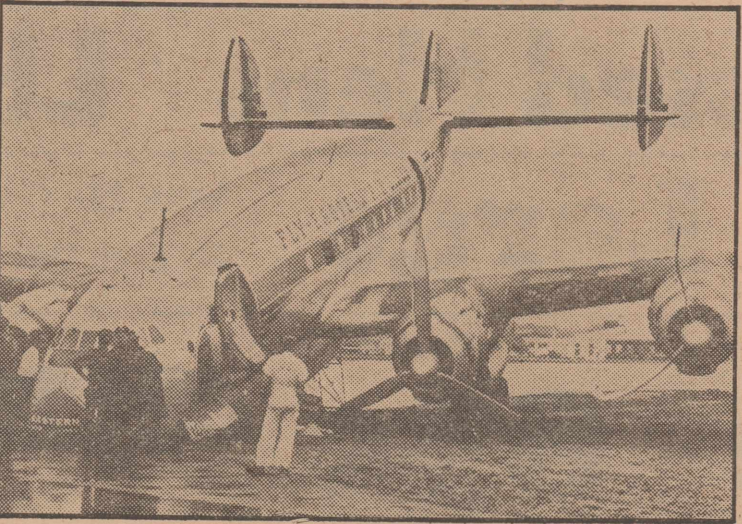

By transposing the high-speed

NOSE IN THE AIR!

Trucks take off and planes burrow underground in two freak accidents seen in these pictures. Above, a dump truck seems about to zoom out over the Rouge River in Dearborn, Mich., after driver, John Reader, lost control when the vehicle hit a bump and went through the bridge rail. Reader was unhurt, didn't even get a traffic ticket. Below, an Eastern Air Lines Constellation plane nuzzles the runway at Atlanta Airport after its front wheel collapsed while landing during a Detroit-to-Miami flight. None of the 54 passengers were injured.

NOSE IN THE DIRT!

and low-speed lanes, Mr. Youngberg feels that the following advantages would be obtained:

1. Opposing traffic in the center lanes would be comparatively slow, thereby minimizing the effects of accidents between cars on those lanes.

2. The high-speed traveler in the outside lane would tend to involve only himself in an accident, but in the event that he did strike a slow-moving car in the next line, the accident would prove to be less serious than a head-on smash.

3. The danger of sideswiping while passing would be minimized in that the passing vehicle on the outside line would have better visibility, only one lane of cars to watch for, and no opposing traffic.

What do you think?

Letters From The PEOPLE

Wellington Leader: Here is a letter from Judge M. O. Goodpasture of Memphis, county judge of Hall County, regarding the Farm Bureau that I feel will be of interest to our people here.

Riley Dunson, Secretary Collingsworth County Farm Bureau

November 14, 1952

Mr. Riley Dunson, Secretary Farm Bureau, Wellington, Texas
Dear Sir:

I think I know you but would write any way if I didn't.

The Wichita Falls Record News this morning carries a report of your annual meeting in Wellington recently held.

It is a credit to Collingsworth County that she has a Farm Bureau at work. The Farm Bureau is the most equitable institution known to me in its attitudes toward groups other than itself. In fact, I am convinced it desires "To live and Let Live." It's rare in human history for it to have an organization making use of this principle.

The State Bureau was kind enough to invite me to the Houston Meeting to speak on the road panel on the subject of rural roads. I accepted and delivered a short talk.

Carried in your resolutions are some very pertinent thoughts fairly stated and on the "Live and Let Live" basis. These resolutions should command respect.

With best wishes, I am

Yours very truly,

M. O. Goodpasture

Dear Sir:

The American History Classes of Wellington High School would like to express our thanks to the Wellington Leader.

You have been very helpful in accompanying our vote drive. Your helpful suggestions have improved our knowledge in going about our work in getting the people out to the polls.

We sincerely appreciate you printing our articles, pictures of our voting posters, and the articles you wrote of our campaign.

Thank you again for your cooperation.

Buck Creek Philosopher

Editor's note. The Buck Creek Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Buck Creek gets off into the field of space, of all topics, this week, his letter reveals.

Dear editor:

There has been a lot of talk in the newspapers and magazines lately about interplanetary travel, the possibility of ridin rocket ships into outer space, establishing loadin platforms 2,000 miles up, pushing back man's horizons, etc.

One man, claimin there is bound to be life on other planets somewhere out in the universe and arguin there's no reason to believe intelligent life exists only on our planet, that maybe there are some races far older and probably far more advanced than our own way out in space, wants Congress to appropriate a few billion dollars right now and get some space ships built.

I do not look at it that way. I am opposed to it. I'm in favor of interplanetary economy.

Here's the way I see it. Say there is life out in space, maybe human beings or other creatures far more intelligent and advanced than we earthlings. My position is: let them spend their money and discover me. I'm a phenomenon too.

Don't those outer space inhabitants have any curiosity? Wouldn't it be worth something to them to look us up? I don't have any idea of what form of life they lead, what they do for fun, but I believe we've got as much to offer in the way of astonishment as they have, doesn't make any difference whether they hold Presidential elections or not. Let's hold back on this thing and let those outer space fellows make the first move.

If we haul off and discover them, they'll sort of be our responsibility, and no tellin how hungry those people out there are or how short they are on weapons. About the time we got one new planet fed and armed, somebody's discover another one maybe in worse shape, and while I don't like to be tight-fisted, there is bound to be a limit to the American taxpayer's ability, and you've got to remember Eisenhower has promised to cut taxes.

What I say is it's just as much their job to discover us as us them. We've got just as much on this earth worth discoverin as those birds on the other planets. They don't know what they're missing. Let em look us up.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

No Sun Fading

Lone Star Home Economists, in their practical way, made a color test of various fabrics, linens and clothes. For instance, they used two identical children's dresses of plaid gingham. Both were given identical washings in automatic laundry. Then each was dried differently; one in automatic gas dryer and the other outdoors in sunlight. This was done 20 times. Dryer-dried dress showed little, if any, loss of brightness of colors. Sun-dried dress faded about 50 per cent.

Bollen in WTSC Who's Who

CANYON — Jerry D. Bollen, Wellington, was one of 30 students at West Texas State College chosen to represent the college in the 1953 edition of Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities. They were presented in assembly Thursday.

The students, all chosen for outstanding work in and for the school, in organizations, departments and student activities, are all juniors and seniors. They were picked by the Student Honors Committee from a master list of over 75 names, which were submitted by departments and organizations.

Others chosen for the honor this year were Mrs. Ramona Thrasher, Wayne Hinds, Barbara Gaither, Claude C. Fuller, and Suzella Bursey, all of Amarillo, Jim Wooten, David Plank, and Weldon Hacker, Canyon; Lorene Miller and Irvin Born, Darrout; Eddie W. Austin, Plainview; Tommie Bishop, Waka; Marvin Smith, Farnsworth; Sheila Ann Malone, Tullia; Earlene Phillips, Hereford; Troy Carmichael, Higgins; Donna Erwin, Claude.

A senior health and physical education student, Bollen this year is co-captain of the Buffalo football team. He was junior class president, and this year is a member of the student senate. He is a member of the "T" Club, is a Red Cross Water Safety instructor, and is a member of the Wellington Kiwanis Club.

Clarendon, Zook Thomas, George Adkins and L. A. Sachse. A special song, "Beyond the Sunset" was given by Mayor L. B. Bratton.

Burial was in the Wellington cemetery under the direction of the Kelso Funeral Home.

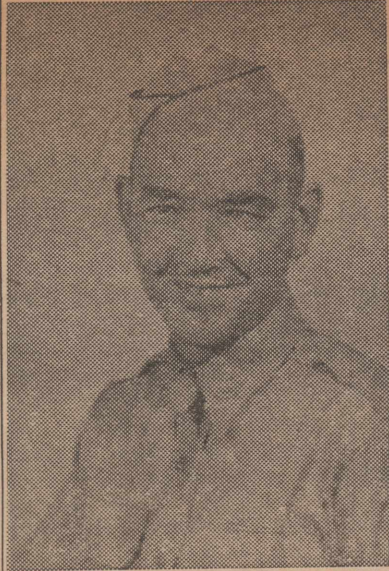

Mr. Durey was born February 9, 1877, in Shenandoah, Iowa. Even as a youth, the independent spirit which was one of his most marked characteristics, was evident, and from the time he was 13 years old, he made his own way in the world. One of his first jobs, as a teen-ager, was feeding cattle in Iowa, and it was here that he learned the business in which he engaged most of the time until his death.

While he was still a young man, he came west to Clayton, N. M. and worked on a ranch. Later he became manager of a feed store in that town, and it was at that time, in 1907, that he married Miss Minnie Campbell. She had come to the Campbell Ranch south of Wellington with her family in 1890, but at the time of their marriage she had filed on a claim near Clayton and was living there. They lived in New Mexico until about 1910, when they moved to Harlingen, but a year later, in 1911, they came to Loco, and that had been their home since.

Mr. Durey was willing to try new ways in farming and stock raising, and he became a leader in this way of life through the area. He was one of the first men of this section to terrace his land, and he was first to raise sheep on a commercial basis here. The present interest in irrigation during the past two years was anticipated by Mr. Durey by nearly 30 years, for in the 1920's he pumped water out of a creek to irrigate alfalfa on his land.

In 1927 he brought the first combine into the vicinity, and many seasons he brought the first load of wheat to market here.

He helped to re-organize Bethel

AT FORT BLISS

Pvt. Billy Joe Bush, who entered the Army a short time ago, is now stationed at Fort Bliss for Anti Aircraft Artillery training. During his eight weeks of basic training he will learn the care, preservation, maintenance and use of his weapons, as well as practice in defense, marching and attack. The platoon will also go a three-weeks bivouac out from Fort Bliss.

Methodist Church, which had been inactive for several years, and became a member in 1912. In 1917-18, he was on the building committee that constructed the present church, and for many years he served on the board of stewards.

Mr. Durey was keenly interested in schools, and for a long period maintained a home in Wellington, as well as the farm home, that his children might attend school here.

He was especially aware of the needs of the young people of his area and for many years the Durey home was a favorite gathering place for them. He helped to promote 4-H Club work and other activities for farm youths.

Surviving Mr. Durey are his wife and three children, Mrs. Velman Warrick of Wellington, Merritt Durey of Loco, and Dean Durey of Snyder. There are nine grandchildren, Bill, Glen, Frances and Dan Warrick of Wellington, Georgia Ann, Bill and Betty Durey of Loco; and Walter and Deanna Durey of Snyder. He has three brothers and a sister: Mrs. Valentine Walker of California; Jess Durey of Boyle, Alberta, Canada; Horace Durey of Logan, Oklahoma, and Jim Durey, of Thurman, Iowa. He was also an uncle of Frank Campbell, Cliff Campbell and Mrs. J. Frank Johnson of Wellington, and Tom Campbell who moved to Lubbock this year.

Mr. and Mrs. John Forbis are spending Thanksgiving in Austin with their daughter, Mrs. Ruth Forbis, and their granddaughter, Martha Linn.

hands about as many times as the ball changed hands. No one knew how the game was going to end or who was going to be leading at the end until it was over.

The Saturday afternoon coaches discussed all day both pro and con from both the schools who it could have gone if one or the other things had happened during the course of the game.

That, plus the long time competitive rivalry between the two schools makes it a game that the people of Collingsworth County and part of Wheeler will look forward to seeing.

Jasper Peebles of Quail was high point man with 17 points and Joe Thompson of Samnorwood was second with 11 points.

Friday night Samnorwood girls defeated Vinson girls at Vinson, Oklahoma by a score of 41 to 27. The first half of this game was very close and very exciting. The taller girls from Vinson gave the Norwood girls more trouble in a half than they have had in any game this year, but the superb speed and the condition of the Eaglets began to make the difference after the first half. This makes nine wins in a row with no defeats for the Eaglets. The Eaglets have an average score of 46 to their opponents 28 for the year.

The Samnorwood boys encountered quite a bit of difficulty the first half trying to beat down the home spirit of the Vinson boys but went ahead to win the game by a score of 45 to 37.

The Samnorwood boys got off to a slow start in the season since most of them were playing for the first time onarsity positions. But are showing improvement in each game and it looks as if the boys are going to be hard to handle again this year. Their ball handling is smoother and faster. They have shown great ability to penetrate both man to man and zone defenses which generally doesn't show until farther down in the season.

Our boys are working diligently for the encounter with Quail Friday night, November 28th. The Quail boys have a little height on the average over Samnorwood but the Samnorwood boys are working hard to overcome this.

Rain -

under ideal spring conditions. Approximately 40,000 acres has been planted in Collingsworth each of the last two years.

Farmers who generally plant wheat for grazing are especially handicapped this year, since the early part of the grazing season will be lost.

A number of farmers through the area plan to sow rye following this moisture.

Alfalfa will likewise benefit from the rain, for although that crop doesn't utilize much moisture at this time of year, some of the stools had begun to die from the drouth, and these will be save.

"We should remember one thing—an inch of rain hasn't broken our drouth, as these rains have in some parts of the state, but it will do a lot for us, it will make us feel good and it promises more moisture to come," the county agent commented.

Floyd Teutsch of the First State Bank, Dodson, said that approximately an inch of rain fell there, along with a very light snow Tuesday morning.

About 30 per cent of the normal wheat acreage has been dusted in but none of this is up. He estimated the rain will last about 30 days.

Quite a few farmers around Quail are planning to plant rye in small patches, Tom Crabtree of that place said. He estimated the rainfall at three-fourths inch.

Rain at Samnorwood measured a little more than .90, according to Orville Cunningham, superintendent of schools.

Most of the farmers who intend to plant wheat in that area have dusted their crop in, although this falls considerably short of the usual acreage.

Some of the wheat planted early sprouted and died, but most of the seed has lain in the ground.

Highway conditions gave no trouble in the county, with the exception of ice on Highway 83 in the north part of the county for about an hour early Tuesday, according to Clyde Drake, highway engineer.

Mrs. Wellborn - but she was only a little less concerned for the welfare of those living about her.

Her husband, J. B. Wellborn of Wellington, and five sons and three daughters survive. They are George Wellborn of Prosser, Washington; Roy Wellborn of Bloomington; Lon Wellborn of Wellington; Earl Wellborn of Dryden, Washington; Ira Wellborn of Bovina; Mrs. Blake Stewart of Corpus Christi; Mrs. Ethel Riley of Hereford; and Mrs. T. V. Reeves of El Centro, Calif.

One brother, D. Parsons of Fort Worth, and a sister, Mrs. Emmett Ratliff of Sherman also survive. There are 28 grandchildren and 19 great grandchildren.

Miss Sidney Gulley of Midland visited her father, John Gulley, and Mrs. Gulley over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Smith of Lakeview transacted business in Wellington Monday.

FARMING is our BUSINESS too!

It's our job to help make farm work easier and better paying. That means doing a lot more than just selling tractors and implements; it means that we must make farming our business, too.

That's why we like to spend as much of our time as we can out visiting our farmer friends. That's how we learn why and how one farm is different from another . . . and see how the many different problems can be licked.

If we haven't been around to see you lately, we're hoping to do it soon. We'd like to get better acquainted . . . both with you and your farm. The better we know you, the better we'll be able to serve you.

Meanwhile, next time you're in town, drop in and see us. Lots of folks do. You'll be welcome.

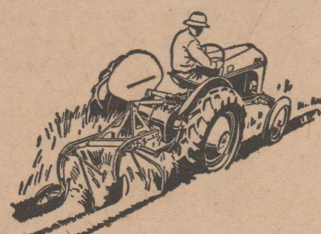

We are headquarters for Ford Tractors, Dearborn Farm Equipment and genuine Ford Tractor and Dearborn Implement parts. Call on us any time for prompt, efficient tractor and implement service.

You Need it... We Have it! DEARBORN MOLDBOARD PLOW

Think! No wheels, axles, levers, springs, tongues or clutches! And how it plows! Quickly attached to Ford Tractor, lifts and lowers by Hydraulic Touch Control; uniform depth easily maintained. Different bottoms available for different soils. We say it's the plow for you . . . we'll prove it!
