You've got to be good and you've got to have some luck, or good breaks, to win championships in just about all events sponsored for high school students by the University Interscholastic League. That may tell the story of the Snyder High School baseball team this year, which undoubtedly is one of the best diamond crews ever assembled here over-all, yet lost the district title to the pre-season favorite Brownfield.

Both Snyder and Brownfield had teams far above the average for high schools this season with Snyder probably holding the edge "across-the-board" including the over-all strength of its pitching staff. But sensational pitching figured prominently in Brownfiedl's victories in the crucial two games at the end of the season that swung the issue. Ironically, if they should advance that far, Brownfield may find pitching a problem at the state tournament, although Ruben Garcia showed plenty of stamina in the extra-inning game here toward the end of the season. In short, the Cubs are plenty potent a game at a time with enough rest between games for Garcia, but Snyder likely would be stronger in a situation where two or more games had to be played within a few hours.

But baseball is no different in this respect from some other events in the UIL program. Many factors are required to win titles.

One of the most impressive compliments I ever heard one athlete pass on another from an opposing team came from Sam Jones, the veteran who has retired from the Boston Celtics of the National Basketball Association. Speaking of Jerry West of the Los Angeles Lakers, during their heated playoff with the Celtics, Jones said, "You just play him as hard as you can when he doesn't have the ball. Then, when he gets the ball, you just say a little prayer."

Water always is an interesting topic in West Texas and the lake situation has attracted plenty of attention lately. The final figures on what might be referred to as the first half of May are in, so, far as Lake J. B. Thomas is concerned. The lake southwest of Snyder has caught over 18,000 acre feet of water so far this month, and the elevation of the lake increased approximately 4½ feet.

Lake E. V. Spence, the new Colorado River Municipal Water District reservoir near Robert Lee did even better, catching over 20,000 acre feet and raising its level by more than nine feet. Lake Spence holds 488,000 acre feet, more than twice the capacity of Lake Thomas.

Israeli Jets Down 3 Egyptian MIG's

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Israeli jets and ground forces shot down three Egyptian MIGs near the Suez Canal today and an Israeli motorized force rolled into central Jordan to destroy an Arab guerrilla base south of the Dead Sea, the Israeli army announced.

An Israeli spokesman in Tel Aviv said two of the Egyptian fighter planes were hit by Israeli warplanes and one by a ground-to-air missile.

A fourth Egyptian plane was damaged, the spokesman said. He added that the Arab aircraft, all Soviet-made MIG21s, had thrust over the canal at two points, one from Port Said and the other from the Great Bitter Lakes area.

The spokesman said that all Israeli planes returned safely.

Cairo radio gave a different version. It said the Egyptian jets damaged one Israeli plane, and "all our planes returned safely to base."

A Jordanian spokesman in Amman said the Israeli force thrust into Jordan under cover of jet fighters and helicopters. He said the force estimated to be a company of tanks and another of mobile infantry was involved in the engagement just south of the Dead Sea.

There was no mention of casualties on either side in the engagement. The size and makeup of the Jordanian defenders was not given.

Another announcement from Amman said Israeli forces suffered four casualties and one damaged military vehicle in a 65-minute exchange of machine gun, mortar and howitzer fire today in the south Jordan Valley. He said there were no Jordanian casualties in that engagement.

Elsewhere:

A spokesman in Cairo said Egyptian and Israeli gunners exchanged fire again along the Suez Canal cease-fire line.

In Tel Aviv, Defense Minister Moshe Dayan was quoted as saying Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser's position was too precarious for him to launch a major attack on Israel this summer.

"He would not dare to attack at this stage because his standing is becoming more and more shaky inside Egypt and he cannot permit himself another disaster, even on a limited scale," Dayan told a closed meeting of Israel's Labor party, the newspaper Maariv said.

In New York, the Big Four U.N. delegates, holding their ninth meeting on the Middle East crisis, were reported to have agreed on one matter of substance in their quest for peace.

Diplomatic sources said the four chief delegates of the United States, Britain, France and the Soviet Union had agreed that in any general settlement, Israel should enjoy freedom of navigation through the Strait of Tiran and the Suez Canal.

Apollo 10 In Lunar Gravity

By HOWARD BENEDICT
AP Aerospace Writer

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — The Apollo 10 astronauts sped into the clutch of lunar gravity today as they streaked the final miles to the moon, their tantalizing target just hours away.

Air Force Col. Thomas P. Stafford and Navy Cmdrs. John W. Young and Eugene A. Cernan were asleep as their spaceship darted into the moon's sphere of influence at 10:19 a.m. EDT and began accelerating toward the moon.

The climactic moment comes at 4:45 p.m. when the astronauts trigger Apollo 10's engine to steer the craft into an orbit 69 miles above the cratered surface.

The firing, behind the moon and out of range of ground stations, will start a perilous 2½-day lunar adventure intended to clear the way for two Apollo 11 astronauts to land on the moon in July.

Stafford, Cernan and Young began an extended rest period Tuesday night still under the influence of earth's gravity. During the night they passed through a "twilight zone"—an area called the equigravisphere where the pull of earth's gravity and that of the moon are equal.

Apollo 10, which started the trip Sunday at earth escape speed of 24,196 miles an hour, had slowed gradually to 2,027 miles, like an automobile moving uphill.

After streaking through the invisible barrier—235,032 miles from earth and 18,339 miles from the moon—Apollo 10's speed was to increase to 5,700 miles an hour as it sweeps around the backside of the moon.

For 34 minutes, Apollo 10 will be out of contact with the ground. Mission Control in Houston will not know whether the engine fired until the craft reappears around the edge of the moon.

Stafford, Young and Cernan have the option to cancel ignition if they detect anything wrong. In this case, or if the engine fails, the spaceship would merely swing once around the back of the moon and head back to earth—one of the built-in safety features of the mission.

The 5 minute, 54-second burst from the engine beginning at 4:45 p.m. is to slow Apollo 10's speed to about 3,700 miles and insert the craft into an orbit swinging from 69 to 196 miles high.

About 4½ hours later, after two circuits, a second engine ignition will refine the orbit to a 69 mile high circle.

If their color television camera works as well as it has en route, the astronauts promise spectacular pictures of this alien moon. Apollo 8 pilots described it as dark, desolate and foreboding.

The most hazardous part of the mission comes Thursday when Stafford and Cernan wiggle through a tunnel into the small lunar landing ship (LEM) attached to the nose of the command vessel.

They then pull away and fire themselves into an orbit that twice will take them 9.3 miles above the spot where two Apollo 11 astronauts hope to walk. That's a relatively-flat area in the southeast corner of the Sea of Tranquility, near the crater named Moltke.

As they skim over the zone they'll snap photographs, exercise the landing radar and make visual observations—seeking a good parking spot for Apollo 11.

Then they zoom up for a tricky rendezvous to rejoin Young, flying a lonely vigil in the command ship, waiting to fly a rescue mission if necessary.

SEATO Backs Peace Proposal

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — The SEATO allies today endorsed Vietnam peace proposals advanced by the United States and South Vietnam and called on the Communist side in the Paris peace talks to "respond constructively."

Ending their annual meeting, the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization's Council of Foreign Ministers also warned that Communist "aggression, infiltration and terrorism" still threaten the whole area of Southeast Asia. It declared "this aggression must not be allowed to succeed."

The council's final communique expressed "grave concern" at North Vietnamese military operations in Laos and North Vietnam's movement of troops and supplies through Laos to South Vietnam and to support Red insurgency in Thailand.

The communique ignored assurances brought by Secretary of State William P. Rogers that the United States will continue to fulfill its security obligations to SEATO and will not abandon Southeast Asia. SEATO diplomats said this was normal—that the council's communiques are traditionally silent on the issues which concern the foreign ministers most.

Also ignored was the fact that SEATO is a time-scarred organization about whose future some of the members are worried.

Several speakers at the opening session Tuesday said the organization is out of date and laced with faults. The communique simply recommended that "greater emphasis should be placed on political consultations, counter-insurgency, and economic and cultural cooperation, to make the organization's role more effective and more responsive to the new Communist tactics being employed to undermine the stability and orderly progress of the free societies."

Nixon Confident Over Meeting

By JACK BELL
AP Political Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional sources say President Nixon is confident he can reach agreements with South Vietnam Preident Nguyen Van Thieu that will advance chances of peace in Vietnam.

Nixon also reportedly told GOP congressional leaders at the White House Tuesday that, despite contrary reports, Thieu is proving very cooperative with the new administration.

Thieu and Nixon will meet June 8 on Midway Island for discusslons expected to center around possible new Vietnam elections and U.S. troop withdrawals.

House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford said Nixon's foreign policy advisor, Dr. Henry A. Kissinger, told GOP leaders that Saigon was happy with Nixon's speech last Wednesday proposing a new peace plan.

"The Saigon government is enthusiastically favorable in its response to the President's recommendations in his speech," Ford quoted Kissinger as saying.

Asked if this meant that Washington and Saigon were in tune on general goals and the formation of a coalition government, Ford replied: "As I understand it, the Saigon government approved the words, the language and the phrases of the President's speech as he gave it on Wednesday."

Former President Lyndon B. Johnson thought at times that Thieu was in tune with American policies only to have the Saigon leader balk later. But Nixon was said to feel that this is not likely to happen now that U.S. leadership has changed.

Nixon's proposal for mutual withdrawal of U.S. and North Vietnam troops was reported to have been bolstered by optimistic reports brought back from Vietnam by Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird of progress in whipping the South Vietnamese army into fighting shape.

Secretary of State William P. Rogers, who obviously furnished the President with the latest assessment of Thieu's attitude, will be joined by Laird and Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker in backstoping Nixon at the Midway meeting.

Administration optimism on possible agreements with Thieu did not appear to match the expectations of some Democrats.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana remained skeptical of any results from the Midway conference. He said he guessed it was all right for the two presidents to meet and left it at that.

House Approves Teachers Raise

AUSTIN (AP) —State representatives have voted an average $1,800 two-year pay raise for Texas school teachers, but the amount may get trimmed in the final rush for a one-year, taxless appropriations bill.

A 147-0 vote sent the bill to the Senate Tuesday.

Despite the legislative leadership's plans to adjourn June 2 without a tax bill to finance it, the House passed the full $220 million two-year raise asked by the Texas State Teachers Association.

The state comptroller's office has estimated the first year of the increase would cost some $68 million. But Rep. George Hinson, the sponsor, said only $61 million could be financed with a one-year budget and no tax bill.

This means either the senate will have to write the final bill, or the bill will have to be put in a conference committee to await a final budget decision.

Hinson's bill would raise beginning bachelor's degree teachers from a current state-supported minimum of $4,734 a year to $5,400 in the coming school year and $6,000 in 1970-71. The second year raise would come about by applying a $600 per month salary over 10 months instead of nine. The length of the school year would not be affected, however.

Top-scale bachelor's degree teachers would receive $730 per month the first year and $767 the second year, also on a 10-month basis. Beginning master's degree teachers would receive $660 a month, over nine months the first year and the same amount spread over 10 months in 1970-71. Those at top scale would get $866 a month the first year and $888 in 1970-71.

Also in the bill are 5 per cent annual increments over the first 10 years of a teacher's career, plus 10 per cent hikes in the beginning base salary in 1974 and 1978.

The bill contains a new overall salary schedule, with 18 different pay grades, enabling a teacher with a bachelor degree ultimately to reach $978 a month and one with a master's degree $1,078 a month.

Hinson's bill evaded the big issue of determining local district's shares of their school costs by setting up an 18-member commission to study the financing of the minimum foundation school program. The committee would report back by Aug. 31, 1970.

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: We have a woman in our office who is raising her kids on company time over the telephone. At least six times a day we can hear her yelling, "Get those kids out of the house! Your high boots are in the back closet behind the sleeping bags! Tell Stevie I want to talk to him." Then she screams, "Steven, you go right over to Jimmy's house and get your bicycle. You know I told you nobody is to ride that bike but you!"

Twenty minutes later SHE calls home and wants to know if Judy came home from school yet, and did she bring her boyfriend in the house?

Just now I heard her holler, "That dog would never bit if you didn't tease him. Did he break the skin? Is it bleeding? If it's not bleeding, don't bother me." BANG!

I have nothing against working mothers, Abby, but what do you think of women who work and leave their kids to raise themselves?

CO-WORKER

DEAR CO-WORKER: Same as you.

DEAR ABBY: As you can see, this letter is signed "Miss Barbara." However, I am not a "female" in the true sense of the word. In fact, I am a woman "imprisoned" in a man's body. I have inquired about a sex change operation, but there is a long waiting list.

I hold down a man's job, but after work I don feminine attire and my whole life changes. I am now considering seeking employment as a female. I know I could easily pass for a woman as I am small and feminine looking and have had total electrolysis on my face, and my voice is more like a woman's than a man's.

My question: In filling out an application for employment am I within my rights to write "CONFIDENTIAL" where it asks, "SEX?" A lawyer friend of mine says I am. Will you advise, please?

"MISS BARBARA"

DEAR "MISS BARBARA": Better check with another lawyer. And consider this. Even tho you may be "within your rights" legally, whether you'd be hired with that kind of an answer is another question.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I can't understand my boyfriend. We have gone steady for 4 years, and I've known him nearly all my life.

He is a doctor and in a good position to marry, but he has never proposed to me. Every time I talk about marriage he changes the subject. He doesn't date anyone else and neither do I. I am really not even engaged.

I have tried everything. (Making him think there could be somebody else interested in me, which there isn't and taking a job in another city, which I also wouldn't consider.) I am 25 and anxious to marry. He is 31. What should I do?

UP A CREEK

DEAR UP: Face it, your doctor's prescription for happiness doesn't include you. YOU propose to HIM, but be prepared to hear the awful truth.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: You were right in advising that mother not to dwell on the fact that her 13-year-old daughter refused to lend her mother her "good white kid gloves" for a special evening out.

I was about that age when I refused to let my mother wear my "good" jacket. I will never forget the hurt look on her face when I told her no. She didn't say a word. She just turned around and left without it. When I saw her thru the window wearing her shabby old coat, I could have bitten my tongue off.

She never mentioned it, nor did she ever "punish" me, but it has been 10 years, and my own conscience has punished me plenty.

STILL SORRY

Humphrey To Head Demo Policy Council

WASHINGTON (AP) — Hubert H. Humphrey will be named soon to head the Democratic Policy Council being established to voice partywide positions on national issues.

Authoritative sources say Humphrey has accepted the council chairmanship. Publicly, the 1968 Democratic presidential nominee has indicated reluctance to take on the extra task at the same time he is preparing for his expected bid for a Senate seat from Minnesota.

The position, however, would give the former vice president a national forum.

Investigation Begins In 3 Slayings

WALLIS, Tex. (AP) — Authorities resumed an investigation today into the possible triple murders of a transient carnival worker, his wife and a companion.

One of two partial skeletons found along the San Bernard River was tentatively identified Tuesday as that of Clifton Floyd Bryan, 21.

The other skeleton may be that of Russel Morris Peterman, 22, a friend of Bryan's, officers said.

Both men had been charged with murder in the death of Bryan's wife, Maria Elena Guzman Bryan, 22, whose battered body was found April 6 near Clodine in Fort Bend county.

Fort Bend County Sheriff R.L. Gaston of Richmond said Tuesday he believes the two men were killed at the river bank in Austin County before Mrs. Bryan's death.

The first partial skeleton found was uncovered Saturday night on a sandbar by a fisherman. Officers in a highway patrol helicopter spotted parts of the other skeleton Sunday about 300 yards upstream.

Justice of the Peace Frank Petter of Wallis is withholding a ruling in the deaths of the two men until an autopsy report is released by the Harris County medical examiner's office in Houston.

An autopsy report showed Mrs. Bryan, a former resident of Los Fresnos, had been bludgeoned with a bottle and driven over repeatedly with a vehicle. Gaston said Mrs. Bryan apparently was killed April 5.

Nixon May Meet Tough Fiscal Terms

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon may have to meet tough fiscal terms laid down by the House Ways and Means Committee if his requested extension of the income surtax is to be approved.

Committee members have made it plain to administration officials they want a stiff price in budget cutting and a congressionally-imposed lid on spending to couple the surtax extension with the first installment of tax reform, a move which may not fit the Nixon timetable.

Moreover, the rate and duration of the extension remained unsettled after Tuesday's marathon committee hearing. Nixon wants the tax to continue at the current 10 per cent rate the rest of the year, then at 5 per cent a least until July 1, 1970.

The House is debating a money bill that contains a ceiling on expenditures—initially $192.9 billion.

After Tuesday's hearing, Committee Chairman Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., said he still wants the $192.9 billion budget trimmed. But he said that, as a practical matter, it cannot be reduced "enough to avoid having some surtax for some part of the fiscal year."

"I don't think you have sharpened your knife enough," Mills said to administration spokesmen.

Mills told newsmen he thinks a budget cut of about $3 billion would be possible and could affect the rate and duration of the surtax. His committee went back to tax reform studies today, postponing until June 30 unless Congress acts.

A panel of administration officials headed by Secretary of the Treasury David Kennedy heard one committee member after another say a start on tax reform is a must if the surtax extension is to be voted.

"How do you think it is possible for a member like me to justify voting for the surtax when we haven't enacted a tax reform?" asked Rep. James A. Burke, D-Mass.

Many Prizes Slated At State Fair

A pirate's hoard of prizes and a treasure of pleasure — these are what the Women's Department will offer at the State Fair of Texas Oct. 4-19 in Dallas.

The treasure chest featured on the colorful cover of the premium list now available in the Women's Department promises about $11,000 in booty to those enterprising enough to dig the possibilities in 11 divisions made up of 827 classifications.

The chest spills over with antiques, bedspreads, art objects, afghans, hand made rugs, dolls, china and other treasures to be found in the Women's Department.

A new division has been added to this year's premium list, titled the Hall of Fame which offers an Exceptional Merit Award to prize winners prior to 1959. Contestants are required to re-submit the article accompanied by the blue or red ribbon they won at a previous Fair. Basis of judging will be on uniqueness of item, longevity and condition of ribbon.

Entry fees will vary from $1 to $2 depending on the particular division and the value of the premiums offered. However, one fee covers one division regardless of the number of entries in that class.

US Industry Expecting Disruptive Tactic Attack

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — American industry could be the next institution attacked with disruptive tactics similar to those that have brought turmoil to some of the nation's schools of higher learning.

This is the view of a high-ranking official of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, but it is documented in literature being distributed by the Students for a Democratic Society, sometimes called the core of the New Left.

"They intend to disrupt industry in the same way they have disrupted the academic community," says William C. Sullivan, assistant director of the FBI.

A study of SDS documents indicates that initial efforts in industry are in the nature of "work-ins," in which young revolutionaries obtain jobs, study worker attitudes and develop contacts among disgruntled workers with the idea of stirring unrest.

An immediate goal is to bring pressure on government and industry to cease supporting the war in Vietnam.

"Workers produce and move the goods that are used in the war, and it is they who are primarily forced to fight the war. They can stop it." This is the way the immediate goal is described in a work-in circular.

The ultimate goals, however, appear to be much larger. The circular describes the intention in this way:

"Our goal is not to organize the U.S. working class in one summer. We want to learn as much as we can, and to make friendships that will remain after summer with a few workers ..."

These goals appear modest beside the means suggested to bring them about. Instructional material abounds on the use of violence to gain ends.

Descriptions on how to make bombs and how to use ice lacks, blackjacks, slingshots, ammonia pistols and other weapons are common in SDS literature. Sabotage is suggested through the use of sugar in gasoline tanks and arson. One SDS publication lists this as the long-range aim:

"Our concern is not only the improvement of wages and working conditions for our brothers and sisters in the shops, but for a transformation of all labor issues ... into a movement against the capitalist system itself."

One effect of the threat to the business community could be to make it become more involved in the social problems of the day, and to work in its own way toward the solution of inequities.

Industry is being urged from many directions to make this commitment to social issues—to attempt to evolve a philosophy that includes more social rather than narrowly financial responsibilities.

In his address to the Chamber of Commerce, Sullivan told businessmen they had every right to combat the organized campaigns of the extremists. But he intimated also that here was some reason to be dissatisfied with the performance of some businessmen.

The businessman, he said, should ask himself:

—Is he satisfied with a reasonable profit on his investment?

—Does he comply with the spirit, as well as the letter, of building codes, especially leased residential property?

—Is there a tendency to take advantage of the less privileged when selling to them the necessities of life such as food, shelter, clothing, medicine and health care?

Junior Editors Quiz on DALMATIONS

QUESTION: Why are Dalmatian dogs used as fire department mascots?

* * *

ANSWER: The Dalmation is one of the finest of dogs, faithful, intelligent and easy to raise. It is a very old breed which has always gotten along well with horses. There are pictures of such dogs running behind Egyptian chariots. Later, the Dalmatian was trained to run alongside horse-drawn coaches, sometimes between the wheels. As fire engines changed from hand-drawn to horse-drawn, the Dalmatian moved over to the firehouse. Here he was the pet of the firemen and guarded the firehouse carefully. When alarms sounded, the Dalmatian went right along with the fire engine. Gasoline engines have replaced fire horses, but the Dalmatian has remained in many firehouses. He often rides to fires, these days, on the engine, which travels faster than he can run. The name Dalmatian comes from Dalmatia, a small country in the Balkans, for which the breed was named.

Exercise Secret To Survival

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) —There is a spate of books today telling us how to live to a ripe old age.

Some of them feature fad diets; others merely reiterate commonsense advice which is as old as the ancient Greek longevity prescription: "Moderation in all things."

This rather reminds one of W.C. Fields' famous cure for insomnia: "Get plenty of sleep."

However, it takes more than a simple diet, exercise and eight hours of sleep nightly to insure you'll last long enough to collect on a pension from Uncle Sam.

You have to take the right kind of exercise. Just flailing a couple of dumbbells around and bending down and touching the floor a few times is hardly enough.

In this tense and restless world the best exercise you can take to insure survival is to grab your nose firmly with both hands and tug it away every time it feels a temptation to stick itself into somebody else's business. Caution is a prerequisite if you want to satisfy your ambition to become the first centenarian in your neighborhood.

Here, for example, are a few invitations which, if accepted, lead down that one-way path to disaster:

"All right, men I've explained the situation. Are there any volunteers?"

"No wonder the charcoal isn't catching. You're not using enough starting fluid. Why don't you just empty the whole can on the coals?"

"Those two chicks at the end of the bar look like they're pining for a little action. Do you want to make a play for the tall one, and I'll cozy up to the short one?"

"If you're not sure of the road, let me take the wheel. I only had four or five drinks?"

"Of course, I could give you a written guarantee that there is no defect in the house, but don't you think my word of honor is enough?"

"We can snap it up now at a real bargain. If there is oil all around it, doesn't it stand to reason that there must be oil under it, too?"

"Race you to the raft—if can't be more than a 200-yard swim at the most."

"It's a specialty of my wife's. Here, pass you plate and let me give you some more."

"Let's join the riot. After all, you're one of the dean's pet students. He wouldn't kick you out of school."

"I'm having trouble again with my wife. Can you go home with me and help straighten it out? I'm sure she'll listen to you."

Bob Hope Named Father Of The Year

NEW YORK (AP) — Bob Hope, who has been named Father of the Year, says he's in good company but that the time is wrong.

Third Crown Rumor Stirs Track World

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The turf world was stirred by reports today that Majestic Prince, the winner of the Kentucky Derby and the Preakness, will try for racing's Triple Crown after all.

There was as much speculation over the report that Frank McMahon, owner of the unbeaten colt, had changed his mind as there was last Sunday when he announced he would not run Majestic Prince in the Belmont Stakes at Belmont Park on June 7.

The Belmont, at a testing 1½ miles, is the final leg in the Triple Crown and no colt has been able to sweep the Derby, Preakness and Belmont in the 21 years since Citation did it in 1948.

The New York Times, in a story bylined by Steve Cady, quoted McMahon as saying over the telephone from Palm Beach, Fla., that "we're going to give him a chance to win the Triple Crown. If he's ready and able to run in the Belmont, he'll run."

However, while McMahon was not available for comment on the story, Edna Resky, his secretary, declared "we don't know how that report got started. The horse definitely isn't running in the Belmont."

Told that Majestic Prince did not show up in Baltimore for his scheduled departure to California on United Air Line freight flight 2083, she said "I know nothing about that. Anything else will have to wait until norning."

And the Miami Herald, in an interview with McMahon at his Palm Beach home Tuesday, quoted him as saying his Sunday decision to keep Majestic Prince out of the Belmont still stands.

"I just don't see the worth of taking the risk," the Herald quoted McMahon. "I feel very badly about it. There's no question a Triple Crown is one of my ambitions, but I don't want to see a Cripple Crown."

Johnny Longden, trainer of the 3-year-old colt unbeaten in nine career starts, was not available for comment at his Riverside, Calif., ranch.

In making their fotly unexpected announcement last Sunday in Baltimore that Majestic Prince would not try for the Triple Crown, Longden and McMahon said the colt was 100 pounds under weight and needed a rest.

The New York Times story, however, quoted McMahon saying the colt now would be shipped to Belmont instead of California.

"We'll be with him at Belmont and will watch him to see how he comes around," McMahon was quoted.

Majestic Prince beat Arts and Letters by a neck in the Kentucky Derby and by a head in the Preakness, surviving a claim of foul in addition.

A renewal of their rivalry in the historic Belmont Stakes would attract worldwide attention.

Van Breda Kolff Signs Pact With Detroit Pistons

By LARRY PALADINO
Associated Press Sports Writer

DETROIT (AP) — Bill van Breda Kolff signed a two-year contract as coach of the Detroit Pistons of the National Basketball Association today, just two days after he had resigned as coach of the Los Angeles Lakers.

Official announcement of what was hardly a secret came at a morning press conference called by Edwin E. Coil, general manager of the Pistons.

"We don't want it announced before 9:30 a.m., although it's really no secret at this stage," a Pistons' spokesman said Tuesday night.

Van Breda Kolff, who succeeds Paul Seymour at Detroit, resigned as coach of the Lakers on Monday a few weeks ago after the Lakers had been beaten by the Boston Celtics in the seventh and deciding game of the NBA championship playoff.

He had been at odds with Big Wilt Chamberlain the Lakers' 7-foot-1 star, especially over keeping Chamberlain on the bench during the closing minutes of Boston's 108-106 victory.

Prior to taking over the reins of the Lakers for the 1967-68 season, Van Breda Kolff compiled a record of 307-109 in 16 years of college coaching.

His latest college job was at Princeton where his teams won 103 while losing just 31 and reaching the NCAA tournament twice. His star at Princeton was All-American Bill Bradley.

Los Angeles, which finished second in the West Division in Van Breda Kolff's first year, won the division title this season only to lose the finals by two points in the seventh game to the boston Celtics.

The 47-year-old coach is considered demanding, outspoken and often gruff. He is a staunch believer in team play and says, "Give me a group of men who can pass the ball well and we'll win."

Seymour, who took over from Donnis Butcher last December, wanted out of his head coaching job to spend more time with his family and business inferests in Syracuse, N.Y.

He will remain with the Pistons as a scout and advisor in the team's player-procurement program, Coil said.

Liechenstein means "shining stone," an appropriate name for an Alpine land of lofty, glittering peaks.

Tigers Rap ChiSox; Twins Trip Orioles

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

If Willie Horton ever gets the urge to roam again, Tommy John will be happy to give him directions—to Morocco or Mandalay.

Horton, who walked out on the Detroit Tigers in the middle of a game against Chicago six days ago, reappeared at Comiskey Park Tuesday night—and promptly sent John and the White Sox on the lam.

The troubled slugger, $1,360 poorer as a result of his four-game absence, cracked a bases-loaded double in his first at-bat, keying a five-run first inning salvo that routed John and sparked the torrid Tigers to a 7-6 victory.

Horton, who was batting .213 when he strolled out of Tiger Stadium last Thursday night, also beat out an infield hit in the third inning and delivered the deciding run in the sixth with a fielder's choice tap.

While the Tigers held off Chicago for their fourth straight victory, Minnesota snapped Baltimore's five-game winning streak with a 3-2, 13-inning triumph over the Orioles.

The New York Yankees extended their unbeaten skein to six by nipping Oakland 2-1; Washington edged Seattle 6-5 and Cleveland beat Kansas City 4-1. California and Boston were rained out.

In National League play, Cincinnati shut out Philadelphia 4-0; Houston blanked Montreal 5-0; the Chicago Cubs ripped Los Angeles 7-0; St. Louis whitewashed San Francisco 3-0 and Pittsburgh topped San Diego 6-3. Atlanta and the New York Mets were not scheduled.

Horton, who jumped the Tigers "for personal reasons," apologized Sunday and agreed to rejoin them. He was fined $340 for leaving the park in the seventh inning of Thursday's game against John and the Sox, and $340 for each of the three road games he missed.

The Tigers won all three, moving over the .500 mark for the first time since April 25, but they missed the stocky outfielder's big bat, which counted for 36 homers, 85 RBI and a .285 average last season.

"The incident about his leaving the club is all over and past," said Manager Mayo Smith, who decided to start Horton just before the game. "I just wanted to take a look at him in batting practice. He didn't hit any good balls but the swing was there."

"That was the first time I swung a bat since coming back," said Horton. "I hit the ball real good in the first inning. On a warmer night it might have gone out."

Horton's double over the head of center fielder Ken Berry scored Dick McAuliffe, and Al Kaline, who had stroked singles ahead of a walk to Norm Cash. Jim Northrup singled home two more runs and winning pitcher Earl Wilson lashed another RBI single, finishing John.

The Tigers added two runs in the sixth, the second on Horton's force play grounder, for a 7-1 lead and withstood a five-run Chicago burst in the eighth.

Pitcher Jim Kaat's sacrifice fly, after singles by Frank Quilici, Graig Nettles and Ted Uhlaender, gave Minnesota two runs in the 13th and a 3-1 lead. Paul Blair's leadoff homer in the bottom of the inning knocked out Kaat, but Ron Perranoski came out of the bullpen to nail the victory, which broke a four-game losing string for the Twins.

Kaat, 3-2, scattered seven hits over the first 12 innings. Orioles starter Dave McNally, who fired a one-hitter against the Twins last Thursday, allowed three—including Harmon Killebrew's ninth homer—before leaving in the seventh for a pinch hitter.

The victory, coupled with Oakland's loss at New York, moved the second place Twins within one-half game of the A's in the West Division.

Fritz Peterson's five-hit pitching and a two-run homer by catcher Frank Fernandez carried the Yankees past Oakland. Fernandez' third homer, following an infield hit by rookie Jim Lyttle in the second inning, pinned the loss on Jim Nash. Dick Green poled his sixth homer for the Athletics.

Mike Epstein struck out three times before slamming a two-run eighth inning homer that brought the Senators from behind against Seattle. John Kennedy's run-scoring single in the top of the eighth gave the Pilots a 5-4 lead before Marty Pattin walked Frank Howard and was beaten by Epstein's ninth homer.

Sam McDowell throttled Kansas City on two hits and Jose Cardenal homered in the sixth to ignite a decisive three-run burst for the Indians. Lou Piniella's seventh inning homer ruined McDowell's shutout bid.

Rindt Sets Sights On 500 Again

By ERIC PREWITT

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Jochen Rindt, his nose flattened like a boxer's from a recent accident in Grand Prix competition, is ready to begin the third round of his battle with the Indianapolis 500.

All he needs is a finished car.

Rindt, the 27-year-old driver from Vienna, is one of four foreigners hoping to catch up with the American drivers for this weekend's qualifying and the May 30 race. So far, the weather has been their best friend.

"It was perfect. It couldn't have worked out better," Rindt said.

Rain washed out last weekend's scheduled qualifying days.

The Indianapolis Motor Speedway management didn't think the weather was perfect, but then Rindt has disagreed with them before.

He found his first race here, in 1967, a thoroughly unpleasant experience. Before going home he unloaded some stinging criticism of the U.S. Auto Club and Speedway officials. He vowed never to come back.

"I meant it. But it's a matter of finances . . . this is a very high-paying race," he said Tuesday.

Rindt's main criticism was with the way the race, qualifications and practice sessions were run. In the race, his 1967 car broke down just past the halfway mark and last year his car lasted just five laps.

On his arrival here Tuesday, he found his car in pieces. He spent the day bicycling on the Speedway grounds while mechanics worked on the car.

The 30-day practice period for the 500 would greatly help foreign drivers if they could take advantage of it, Rindt says. But this year the Spanish Grand Prix, in which Rindt crashed, was May 4 and Monaco two weeks later.

Car owner Parnelli Jones said Tuesday he had given up hope of signing Jackie Stewart of Scotland or Chris Amon of New Zealand for one of his driverless cars. Both drivers have commitments in Europe on the week of the 500, he said.

Pony Pitcher Wins

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP) — Strong armed lefty Doug Ault has pitched the Panola Junior College Ponies into the national Junior college baseball tournament.

The durable hurler pitched 17 innings and allowed one run over two games Tuesday as Panola downed Odessa Junior College 2-1 and 1-0 to advance to the national tournament May 28-June 2 at Grand Junction, Colo.

Ault went the distance in the opener of the twin bill yielding six hits and striking out five. He also started the second game, hurling eight innings and allowing three hits before being relieved by Hardy Frazier.

Eleven Of 12 Net Lettermen Will Return Next Season

Eleven of 12 lettermen on the champion Snyder High School tennis team will return next season. Only Carolyn Tyree will be lost to graduation. Returning lettermen include John Phillips, Max Falls, Ronnie Maddux, Bebo Boren, Terry Book, Larry Braziel, Linda Miller, Deanna Boles, Joan Braziel, Vonee Reneau and Becky Sims.

Coach Ken McAllister's team had a highly successful season this year with six victories in dual matches against no losses. The boys had an 8-0 dual match record while the girls were 2-4.

The Snyder team won five tournaments — at Brownwood, the District 3-AAA round robin tournament, the District 3-AAA University Interscholastic League Tournament, and a 4-way meet with Sweetwater, Big Spring and Plainview. In addition, the team placed second to Wichita Falls in the B division at the San Angelo tournament and were runnersup to Andrews in the Region 1-AAA tournament.

As a team, the Tigers scored 90 singles victories against 50 losses while the doubles teams took 67 matches against 26 losses for an overall match record of 157 victories and 76 losses. Boys singles entries won 60 matches against 17 losses while boys doubles teams won 47 matches while dropping only nine. The total won-loss record for boys is 107-26. Girls singles players won 30 and lost 33. They didn't fare as well as the girls doubles teams that won 20 and lost 17. Overall, the girls won 50 matches and lost a corresponding number.

Various individuals on the team also had outstanding records. John Phillips won second place in boys singles at the state AAA tournament after copping two honors in the same division on the district and regional levels. He also placed first in the B Division at the San Angelo Tournament, and he was first in the A Division at the Brownwood Tournament.

Ronnie Maddux and Max Falls, the Tiger tandem, placed first in the District 3-AAA tournament, and they won the A Division title at the Brownwood Tournament. In addition, they placed second in the B Division at the San Angelo Tournament, and they were runnersup in the Region 1-AAA tournament.

Linda Miller, girls singles star, placed second at the District 3-AAA Tournament, and she was runnerup at the Snyder Invitational Tournament.

Deanna Boles and Carolyn Tyree teamed up to win the doubles crown at the Brownwood Tournament (A Division), and they were runnersup at the Invitational Tournament here and the District 3-AAA Tournament.

Terry Book and Bebo Boren, the other Tiger doubles team, placed first in the Snyder Tournament.

PET SHOW — Students at West Elementary participated in a pet show Tuesday on the campus west of the school. Included among the pets introduced during this annual event were dogs, horned frogs, gold fish and birds.

Smokers Due New Warning

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional intervention appears the only roadblock to a proposed Federal Trade Commission regulation requiring all cigarette advertising to state that smoking may cause death.

The FTC said Tuesday the new regulation will apply sometime after June 30, the expiration of the 1965 Cigarette Labeling Act banning changes in current advertising practices.

Unless Congress extends the law—and it is considering it—all advertisements will include clearly and prominently the warning:

"Cigarette smoking is dangerous to health and may cause death resulting from cancer, coronary heart disease, chronic bronchitis, pulmonary emphysema and other diseases."

The present warning now only required on packages says; "Caution: Cigarette smoking may be hazardous to your health."

And while the current warning is affixed only to packages, the FTC moved to force the tobacco industry to couple the sterner message with all television and radio commercials and newspaper and magazine advertisements.

FTC Chairman Paul Rand Dixon has said he prefers this approach—tying a strong warning to all advertising—over action planned by the Federal Communications Commission.

The FCC said three months ago it will impose a ban or sharp limitation on cigarette commercials on radio and television unless Congress moves to extend current legislation.

With both regulatory agencies proposing tough measures, the tobacco industry has appealed to Congress to continue indefinitely the milder provisions of the 1965 law.

Critical Moments Of Apollo

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Here are the critical moments of the Apollo 10 journey around the moon—All times Eastern Daylight:

Wednesday

4:37 p.m.—Apollo 10 passes behind the moon and out of radio contact with earth. The crew is on its own.

4:45 p.m.—The crew performs the "lunar orbit insertion" rocket burn. This slows the spacecraft and it settles into moon orbit.

5:11 p.m.—Radio contact is re-established.

Thursday

11:14 a.m.—Air Force Col. Thomas P. Stafford and Navy Cmdr. Eugene A. Cernan start transferring to the lunar module, the moon lander that is linked to the command module. Navy Cmdr. John W. Young is left alone in the command module.

2:59 p.m.—The lunar module undocks from the mother ship to begin its first solo flight around the moon.

3:24 p.m.—The command module fires small rockets to move slowly away from the lunar module.

4:22 p.m.—The lunar module fires its descent engine to reduce the orbit low point to 9.3 miles above the moon.

5:19 p.m.—The lunar module whips over the moon at 9.3 miles.

5:34 p.m.—The lunar module discards its descent stage.

7:31 p.m.—The lunar module ascent stage engine is fired to start rendezvous with command module. Moments later the moon ship again passes 9.3 miles over the lunar surface.

8:22 p.m.—The lunar module performs another rocket burn, this one on the back side of the moon.

9:20 p.m.—The lunar module again fires its rocket engine to line up the two spacecraft for a final step toward rendezvous.

9:58 p.m.—The terminal phase of the rendezvous is performed. This is a rocket burn which shoots the lunar module directly at the command module.

10:58 p.m.—The two spacecraft rendezvous in orbit of the moon.

11:09 p.m.—Young guides the command module to a docking with the lunar module.

11:54 p.m.—Stafford and Cernan start transferring back to the command module.

12:58 a.m.—Lunar module is jettisoned.

Roby Sets Homecoming

ROBY— The Roby Ex-Students Association Executive Committee announced Homecoming activities at Roby High School have been set for October 3-4.

Highlight of Friday night will be a football game between Roby and Hawley.

The Ex-Students Association needs names and addresses of ex-students for their files, so if you are a former student or have friends or relatives who are ex-students, please send the information to one of the officers, Don Waddell, president; Jimmy Hayes, vice president; Roland Ray Jr., vice president; or Mrs. Archie Rivers, secretary and treasurer.

If you are an ex-student of Roby High School or a school that consolidated with Roby, make plans to attend the 1969 Homecoming.

Self Service Gas Stations Growing

DENVER (AP) — The self-service gasoline stations springing up across the country were described as the "marketing phenomenon" of the 1960s Wednesday to delegates of the American Petroleum Institute's Marketing Division.

The group is holding its annual convention at the Denver Hilton.

Frank Breese, editor of National Petroleum News based in New York, said the most active self-service entrepreneurs are independent businessmen with no oil marketing experience.

Breese, and the managing editor of National Petroleum News K. R. Peterson, said at least six major oil companies are, or have been, involved in the program.

Most of the stations, they said, are west of the Mississippi River with the most lively market in southern California. Another hot spot is the Rockies with activity on an axis from Cheyenne, Wyo., to Tucson, Ariz., East Texas and Baton Rouge, La.

Most of the gasoline outlets sell an average of from 25,000 to 50,000 gallons a month, they said.

Another speaker Wednesday said any change in the mineral depletion allowance would result in higher petroleum prices for consumers.

"It's a simple economic fact," said William A. Fluhr, a Red Bank, N.J., jobber, "that if it is going to cost more to find and produce oil, it's going to cost more when it comes to the market place."

He said the attacks against the depletion allowance by the press and Congress indicates "that if ever there was a time for our industry to provide a united front on the issues confronting us, this is that time."

Civilian Workers Donate Vacation Pay

VALLEJO, Calif. (AP) —Saying "we feel some responsibility," several hundred civilian workers at Mare Island Naval Shipyard have offered to donate part of their vacation pay to help repair the nuclear submarine USS Guitarro.

The $50-million vessel sank in 35 feet of water in the Napa River at its outfitting dock last Thursday and was raised Sunday.

There was some speculation that some of the new sub's intakes were inadvertently left open.

Car-Pickup Accident Claims 3 Lives

WESLACO, Tex. (AP) — A car-pickup collision near this Lower Rio Grande Valley town claimed three lives late Tuesday.

Dead were Cruz Alcantar, 45; Carmen Alcantar, 47, and Myrtle Parks, 81, all of Weslaco.

Six other persons were injured in the crash at Farm 1015 and a county road, but none were believed in serious condition.

Indonesia General Goes On Trial

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Brig. Gen. Mohammed Sudharman went on trial here Tuesday before a military tribunal on charges of corruption, the first general ever to do so in graft-ridden Indonesia. Sudharman, 48, is charged with taking bribes involving $400,000 while serving as director of a state-owned tin mining enterprise two years ago.

Sudharman denied all charges at what was scheduled to be a five-week trial.

The Legislature shall have the power, by general law, to provide for the payment of assistance by the State of Texas to the surviving spouse and minor children of officers, employees, and agents, including members of organized volunteer fire departments and members of organized police reserve or auxiliary units with authority to make an arrest, of the state or of any city, county, district, or other political subdivision, who, because of the hazardous nature of their duties, suffer death in the course of the performance of those official duties. If facilities are acquired for a term of years, such contracts shall contain provisions for renewal that will protect the state's investment. The aggregate principal amount of Texas Water Development Bonds authorized herein and in said Sections 49-c and 49-d shall be reduced by the aggregate of principal payments committed under such contracts constituting general obligations of the state. Army Is Quizzed On Contamination

By G. DAVID WALLACE
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — House investigators have obtained military maps showing a biologically contaminated area in Utah near a gas warfare proving ground where the Army has said there is no contamination.

The maps raised the question of Army truthfulness, according to Rep. Henry S. Reuss, D-Wis., chairman of the subcommittee investigating the use of biochemical warfare agents such as nerve gas.

Army witnesses were called to appear today before Reuss' subcommittee to explain the maps and two other incidents in which Army spokesmen reportedly were not straight forward about what is going on at Dugway Proving Grounds in Utah.

The Army and Air Force maps, exhibited to the subcommittee Tuesday, showed a "Permanent Bio Contaminated Area" nine miles in diameter located about 15 miles outside Dugway Proving Grounds.

Reuss said he is concerned about the maps since Army officials had denied there was a contaminated area in Dugway.

Some 6,000 sheep died last year near the proving ground. Military officials did not concede that chemical biological warfare testing had killed the sheep, but the government paid compensation to owners of the animals.

Republican Rep. Sherman P. Lloyd, whose district includes Dugway, testified he is convinced the Army did not lie about the maps, since the area is outside—not in—Dugway.

"Don't you think honorable men would have to say: 'No we don't have one within the proving grounds but we do have one outside'?" asked Reuss.

In other testimony Tuesday, Dr. D. A. Osguthorpe, consultant to the Utah State Agriculture Department, said the Army denied for a week after, a botched nerve gas test at Dugway last year that any gas had been tested for two years previously.

Osguthorpe said by the time the Army admitted the test had taken place more than 6,000 sheep had died with symptoms of nerve gas poisoning.

Osguthorpe said he could have saved many of the sheep if the Army had admitted the test earlier, allowing officials to figure out what antidote to use.

Import Regulations Costly But Vital, Says Langdon

WASHINGTON (AP) — A member of the Texas Railroad Commission told a U. S. Senate subcommittee today that abandonment of federal regulations on foreign oil imports could lead this country to war.

Jim C. Langdon said witnesses had told the subcommittee on antitrust and monopoly that the oil import program costs $2 billion (B) or more a year, but "the important question is, how much security" does the program buy.

"To be more specific, what are the chances of war breaking out in the Middle East? Will the United States be involved?" asked Langdon.

He said, "In 1956, England and France were dependent on the Middle East for most of their oil. This was cut off and they chose to go to war to open the canal even though they knew they could rely on us for emergency help in meeting their oil needs.

"Without an oil import program, we would certainly be as independent as Britain and France on foreign oil. Although Canada and Venezuela would probably be dependable allies, the two nations combined have less proven reserves than the United States. Moreover, there would undoubtedly be a severe transportation problem during a short time emergency situation.

"My question then is this: What would we do if we were cut off from as much as one third of our own oil needs? The answer is, we would either do without, capitulate, or go to war. This nation can't afford the alternatives, but where else can we purchase the insurance protection the oil import program now provides in order to avoid making this choice."

If all oil import controls were removed, Langdon said, a price reduction of from 80 cents to $1.25 a barrel would be required to compete with foreign crude, forcing most small wells to be abandoned and reducing this country's ability to produce by up to 800,000 barrels a day.

"The most significant result," Langdon said, is that investments in exploring for and producing oil—which totaled $5.6 billion (B) in 1968could fall to $1 billion (B) or less in the first year after removal of import restrictions.

A diminished producing capacity would follow, Langdon said so that by 1979 "It is probable that one third or more of our total crude supplies would have to be provided by foreign imports. This means we would be relying on foreign sources for from 6 to 7 million barrels per day to meet our needs—with no reserve producing capacity left in the event of an emergency."

If the search for oil falls off, Langdon said, natural gas exploration also would suffer, and the end of last year it was estimated that the United States had enough gas supplies to last only 14.8 years.

"Moreover," he said, a resulting shortage of gas supplies would force many others to switch to heating oils, again raising the level of oil imports required to sustain this nation."

CAREER CORNER

By F. J. LAIN

Miss Lain awards a Mercury portable, courtesy of the Royal Typewriter Co., to B. L. Wilcox, Mesilla Park, New Mexico:

"For boys long on mechanical ability and short on college futures, there's good money in the construction trades. One winner — electricians."

A. — A live - wire suggestion. Construction electricians (also called wiremen) have annual earnings among the highest in the building trades. This is both because of the hourly rate, and because the seasonal nature of construction work affects electricians less than most other construction workers. According to the Feb., 1969 issue of "Construction Review," U. S. Department of Commerce, in the first 11 months of 1968, gross weekly earnings of electrical workers averaged $198.00 compared with a 12-month average of $168.00 for workers in all contract construction.

HIGH VOLTAGE JOB. The construction electrician's a pretty important guy. As an example, have you ever watched a magnificent apartment skyscraper soaring in construction? It stands like an empty frame, dark and impersonal. Later, after residents settle in and you eye the same building at night, now spectacular with lights, the shell seems to have come alive! It was the electrician's work that made it possible: the light and heat, motion and sound. Just before the plasterers began their work, wiremen were busy laying out, assembling, installing and testing electrical fixtures, apparatus, and dozens of other intricate operations. They follow blueprints, work in high voltages safely, and spot, connect and service complicated electrical equipment and controls.

THE BOSS. The international Brotherhood of Electrical Workers (IBEW) estimates there are nearly 300,000 construction electricians. Most work for electrical contractors. Many are self-employed, and others work for government agencies or private businesses. Many change employers by the job, others work for the same contractor several years or more.

CHARGING YOUR BATTERY. Most training authorities recommend completion of a four- or five-year apprenticeship program, after which you must pass exams to become a licensed journeyman or master electrician. Ages are usually 18 to 24; a high school education is required. Your state employment service office can refer you to the local joint apprenticeship program, sponsored by the National Electrical Contractors Association and IBEW. For career data, write to IBEW, 1200 Fifteenth St. NW, Washington, D. C. 20005.

FUTURE POWER. Various factors will determine the trade's growth rate. Plus side: Increasing population, with a great many people moving into the over-25 age group needing housing and business quarters, and the trend toward more use of electrical products. Minus side: Such technological advances as prefab electrical equipment, factory "packaged" ceilings, better and time - saving tools. Question mark: Availability of credit for new building "starts." On balance, the U.S. Labor Department expects employment growth of construction electricians to increase moderately throughout the 70's and with about 3100 openings each year from deaths and retirements alone.

UP AND UP. Advancement may be to foreman, superintendent, estimator or contractor. Also a good construction electrician can transfer readily to various other types of electrical work.

MANY CIRCUITS. In a single year, the construction electrician may bring electrical comfort into the home or business office, wire for life-giving equipment in hospitals, spacecraft or submarines, or cause factory wheels to spin. Because of the immense variety of job locations, chances are — as a construction electrician — you wouldn't blow your fuse with boredom.
