FDR's Position Mirrors Split Among Democrats As Session Wanes

BY NATHAN ROBERTSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19—President Roosevelt's aggressiveness since the collapse of his legislative program—evidenced anew in his Roanoke Island speech—emphasized today the potentialities of the split which has developed within his party during this session of congress.

The chief executive followed up his selection of liberal Senator Black (D-Ala) for the Supreme court with a fighting speech yesterday at Roanoke Island in which he characterized his critics as "American Lord Macaulays" who do not believe in democrary.

These two developments within the past week culminated a series of events which have completely changed the political picture since the president began his second term seven months ago today.

Senate Picture Changed

The Black appointment in itself was evidence of the changing political scenes. It topped off a sudden shift in senate leadership, in which the death of Senator Robinson of Arkansas was only a part.

At the outset of the session, Robinson and Senators Harrison of Mississippi and Byrnes of South Carolina were the acknowledged senate leaders and Roosevelt spokesmen on Capitol Hill.

Suddenly, younger and more liberal senators took their places. Barkley of Kentucky became the majority leader by one vote over Harrison, and Senators Schwellenbach of Washington and Minton of Indiana, together with Black, formed the new inner circle.

The session began with 76 almost united Democrats forming the biggest party majority the Senate ever had seen. It is ending with 75 Democrats divided into nearly equal factions on some of the Roosevelt legislative proposals.

Balance To GOP

Thus the Democrats on some issues have turned the balance of power over to the numerically weak Republican minority, not only in the Senate, but in the House.

Even Vice-President Garner's status has changed. At the outset he was regarded as a stalwart behind-the-scenes negotiator for all presidential policies. Although still friendly and loyal to the President, he has been the spearhead of opposition to some administration plans.

President Roosevelt's court reorganization proposal is credited generally with creating the party friction. But close observers have noted many contributing causes, some nearly as fundamental.

Harrison and Byrnes supported the court bill, but they along with Garner and others in the party were critical of the President's handling of the sit-down strike problem and the labor situation during the winter.

Spending Causes Trouble

They clashed also with the President on his spending policies, first in private and when that failed to gain results, in public.

The "last straw" for many of the critical Democrats, particularly those from the Southern wing of the party, was the wage-hour bill.

The court row did not develop the factionalism in the House that it did in the Senate, where it centered. But the wage-hour bill did.

Picnics and dinners held to smooth over party differences have been in vain. The day after a "harmony" dinner in honor of Barkley, the Democrats divided fiercely over anti-lynching legislation.

Privately leaders of both factions have agreed the differences were too fundamental to be so easily smoothed over. But few have been willing to forecast the outcome of the split.

New Alignment Talked

Observers have talked freely of a new political alignment resulting from the situation.

Perhaps the difference can be ironed out. President Roosevelt in his address yesterday, however, gave no sign of surrender. Referring to the "modern Macaulays," he said:

"They love to intone praise of liberty, to mouth phrases about the sanctity of our constitution—but in their hearts they distrust majority rule because an enlightened majority will not tolerate the abuses which a privileged minority would seek to foist upon the people as a whole."

Observers noted that the most conspicuous defense of liberty and the constitution in recent months came from Democratic farmers of the adverse committee report on the Roosevelt court bill.

While the President did not disclose whether he had those men in mind, his words hinted he might be ready to take his policies to the nation in a life-and-death battle for political supremacy.

Officers Named By Drug Group As Meet Ends

Robert Lee Man Is Chosen As President; Big Spring To Be Convention City Next Year

Gerald C. Allen of Robert Lee was promoted from vice-president to president by unanimous vote of members of West Texas Pharmaceutical association attending the convention which came to a close at noon today. He succeeds Joe Bowen of Sweetwater.

Other newly elected officers are John W. Bryant, advanced from secretary-treasurer to vice-president; L. L. Clark of San Angelo, a director who becomes secretary-treasurer; and the following executive committeemen: Bert Pinson of Lubbock, Charles Frost of Big Spring and John A. Weeks of Ballinger who was reelected. Retiring directors are Pete McClusky of Mineral Wells and Roy Pool of Amarillo, while holdover members are Lee Stinson of Snyder, and Bowen, who automatically becomes a member as immediate past president.

Big Spring Gets Convention

The board of directors went into immediate session after close of the convention and selected Big Spring the 1938 host city. Brownwood also extended an invitation. The selection was a departure from precedent, as ordinarily the convention city has not been chosen by the board in the past until a few months before the meeting has taken place.

Among resolutions adopted as the convention came to a close was one urging the governor to submit to the next session of the legislature a fair trade practice bill. The resolution recited that unless such a bill is enacted Texas "faces an alarming situation which may result in the state becoming a dumping ground for every cut-throt type of competition."

Other resolutions were routine except for one of condolence to Robert I. Bowen of Coleman, brother of the association's president, Mrs. Robert Bowen died at

Governor's Wife Is Probable Senator

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19. (AP)—Mrs. Dixie Graves, 55, wife of the governor of Alabama, was in the capital today, ready to serve her state as senator if appointed by her husband.

Governor and Mrs. Graves arrived by airplane from Montgomery last night. Both refused to say whether she would be selected to fill the vacancy that will be created when Senator Hugo L. Black resigns to join the Supreme court.

Alabama congressmen, however, said Mrs. Graves would get the appointment.

Graves To Visit FDR

The governor arranged to visit President Roosevelt, presumably to discuss a successor to Black, whose term expires in January 1939.

At the Alabama capital it was said Graves probably would call a special election to fill the remainder of the term next August 1.

Meanwhile, in an unprecedented step Albert Levitt, former federal judge in the Virgin Islands, sought to keep Black off the high court.

Levitt asked permission of the court to file a petition requiring that Black prove his eligibility.

Million Dollar Gain Expected For This Year

Hike Is Almost Double What Officials Hoped For; Raise Due To Improvements Made

BY H. I. KIEFER
Journal Staff Writer

Increase of almost a million dollars in Lubbock county assessed property valuations as compared with last year is indicated by the first cross-section survey of current rolls, according to report this morning by H. B. Bryan, chief deputy assessor-collector.

The figure is almost double the gain for which tax officials had expressed "hope" based upon observations as the rolls were prepared several weeks ago.

The prospective gain, Bryan explained, will be due wholly to improvements of permanent nature made in the county during the year, and will place Lubbock county among those top ranking in the state in point of increase. The only additions made to the roll, he added, have been those resulting from improvement, as the same basis of determining valuations in use last year was retained this year.

Ratio Is Outlined

The first positive indication of what valuations may be, Bryan explained, has resulted from a "running" of the first 90 pages of the rendered roll, which shows an increase of approximately $255,000 over last year. The 90 pages, Bryan added, comprise somewhat less than one-third the complete roll, so that if the ratio for the one-third should hold true for the whole, it will mean a gain in valuations ranging from $750,000 to $1,000,000.

While there is no certainty that the ratio will be maintained, Bryan said, there is every reason to suppose that it will be. There also is the possibility that the increase on the remainder of the roll may be greater or less than has been the case thus far. Efforts are being made to have final totals available by Sept. 1, on which date Bryan becomes county assessor-collector to succeed Hurley Carpenter, who has resigned to become operations manager and public relations director with South Plains Coaches. Hugh J. McClellan, present assessing deputy, will be promoted to chief deputy.

Budgets Being Prepared

First report on the prospective total valuation was made under McClellan's direct supervision to supply information needed by County Auditor J. Y. Boyd in the preparation of budgets for the new fiscal year which began last July 1.

Assessed valuations in the county last year totaled $22,231,186, and the budget and tax rate this year are based on an estimated increase in that figure of only $29,000. Should present indications be born out, valuations will be raised above the $23,000,000 mark to the highest total since the beginning of the depression.

Another Ship Is Destined For Maw Of English Steel Mill

BEAUMONT, Aug. 19 (AP) — Another ship, loading scrap iron here, is destined for the maw of an English steel mill. An American vessel, SS Lavada, already partially dismantled, is loading 8,600 tons of scrap iron here for England where the ship herself will be scrapped.

The British freighter SS Briamo recently touched here to pick up scrap and proceeded on its way to Scotland where she, along with her cargo, was to go on the scrap heap.

Girl Suffers Fracture Of Both Wrists In Accident At Park

Both wrists were broken when 15-year-old Lois Hollingsworth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Hollingsworth of 1911 Avenue P, was jerked against a gate post from the fender of an automobile at the Broadway entrance to Mackenzie state park Wednesday afternoon.

The girl entered Lubbock sanitarium about 4:30 o'clock. She was removed to her home last night.

The girl was said to have placed her hand against the post at the gateway.

Investigation Of Nazi Camps In U. S. Ordered By Cummings

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19 (AP)—Attorney General Cummings said today he had asked the bureau of investigation to inspect Nazi military training camps through the nation to determine if they violated any federal law.

Cummings sad he had asked Director J. Edgar Hoover to make "a cursory examination."

Houston Lad Kidnaps Aviator While 2,000 Feet In Clouds

(By The Associated Press)

HOUSTON, Aug. 19.—Boyish Jack Hamerly, who "wanted to fly off somewhere to look for work," awaited a preliminary hearing today on charges he kidnaped an airplane pilot while 2,000 feet in the air.

The hearing will be held Monday before Justice of Peace J. M. Ray, before whom complaints were filed charging 19-year-old Hamerly held up a taxicab driver and kidnaped pilot Bob Hunt.

Detectives Arch Spradley and Ira Williams related the youth admitted he tried to force Hunt to take him to Laredo, where he wanted to find a job.

Pilot Hunt meanwhile was telling how he managed to thwart Hamerly's plans.

"We took off from a private airport and I climbed to about 1,000 feet. Suddenly he (Hamerly) punched me. He was seated next to me in the small plane.

"I turned and saw he had a pistol in his hand. 'Al right,

CHINESE ROUT JAPANESE

Jap Soldiers Plant Flag On Captured Position

Nipponese Are Battered Back At Shanghai

Heavy Reinforcements Called As Chinese Wedge Threatens To Split Army In Two Parts

(By The Associated Press)

SHANGHAI, Aug. 19—Japan's heavily reinforced army was in imminent danger of being split in two and driven back into the Whangpoo river tonight by a surging Chinese drive.

After fighting off a full day of repeated Japanese stab attacks the Chinese thrust a powerful wedge into the broken Japanese lines, pushing their foe to within 500 yards of the murky river.

The Japanese positions were shattered just a mile below the Astor House hotel in the heart of the Japanese area of the international settlement.

With the water at their backs the Japanese were battling hard to keep from being cut in two.

Reinforcements In Prospect

The Chinese thrust came amid Japan's first major offensive in the Kiangwan area of north Shanghai where Shanghai's great civic center is located. There the Chinese apparently were holding their own against Japanese infantry, artillery, naval and air attacks.

Heavy reinforcements of regular army troops from Japan heartened the attackers in this sector. Seven transport loads of men, munitions and artillery were landed; 16 Japanese troop ships, carrying 20,000 men, lay off the mouth of the Yangtze.

The Japanese sought to cut off the Chinese in Shanghai from help from the Yangtze to the north. There were reports that 800,000 Chinese were concentrated at Nanking, the capital up the Yangtze, to reinforce the more than 100,000 already fighting about 25,000 Japanese bluejackets here.

American Property Damaged

Japanese air bombs missed their mark and smashed at the American Southern Baptist mission in the Chapei quarter in north Shanghai and at the American mission hospital at Nantungchow up the Yangtze in Kiangsu province. The mission suffered heavily, and the fate of its 20 Americans was not known.

The international radio station at Chenju, near Shanghai, also was air-bombed, without important damage.

American consular authorities took a firm stand against a Japanese naval plan to take complete control of the river Whangpoo, by which foreigners must be evacuated to the sea.

From North China came word of a Japanese advance 5 miles up Nankow pass, the gateway to Chinese provinces Japan has not conquered.

Cholera Epidemic Reported

In the south, a cholera epidemic spread in the British crown colony of Hongkong.

United States Consul General Clarence E. Gauss decisively told Japanese naval authorities traffic between Shanghai and Woosung—the gateway to the sea and safety for thousands of Americans—must be absolutely unrestricted.

Other foreign authorities were understood to have taken a similar

Rail Employes Salary Hiked

Lubbock railroad men, employes of both the Santa Fe and Fort Worth and Denver who are not members of the "big four" railroad brotherhoods or employes of the traffic departments, will receive wage and salary increases amounting to 40 cents per day as a result of negotiations recently completed.

Fifty-four men will be affected by the increases given Santa Fe employes. A proportionate number on the Denver likewise will have increases. Forty men in train service on the Santa Fe and four in the division freight office do not get an increase, nor do train and traffic employes of the Denver.

Confirmation Not Received

Official confirmation of the increase had not been received Thursday but local railroad officials said they understood the report was correct.

Leaders of non-operating brotherhoods, including clerks, station employes, track workers and others, negotiated the increase with railroad officials in Chicago at a conference just concluded. It is understood the hike is general to all Class I railroads.

The so-called "big four" brotherhoods constituting the operating employes in train and switch service are negotiating an increase. It is understood that they are asking a 20 per cent increase.

Average per man is estimated at $10.40 per month of 26 working days. There will also be an increase for overtime.

Relations Severed Between Nations

LONDON, Aug. 19 (AP) — The Portuguese government, said a dispatch from Lisbon today, has severed diplomatic relations with Czechoslovakia.

The dispatch did not mention cause or details of the reasons for severance.

The cable from the Associated Press correspondent in Lisbon said only "Portuguese government severed diplomatic relations Czechoslovakia," and it had been delayed some hours by the Portuguese censor.

Further details were not at once available because of censorship.

MAN BURNS TO DEATH

GROESBECK, Aug. 19. (AP)—John Boykin, 55, pipeline worker, burned to death in his home one mile east of here early today. His wife suffered slight burns.

The couple had left the burning dwelling, but Boykin returned to get some clothing and was overcome by smoke. The widow and three daughters survive.

Cholera Grips Chinese Haven For Refugees

HONGKONG, Aug. 19 (AP)—A cholera epidemic menaced an area of several hundred square miles on the South China coast today including this British haven for refugees from the Shanghai warfare.

The plague struck the Hongkong Crown colony, spread to the Portuguese colony of Macao, on a mainland peninsula, and reached out up the Pearl river to Canton, China.

Shipping officials here expressed fear that it would be necessary to cancel all calls at this port and to quarantine ships which already have arrived.

This created the danger that evacuation of British nationals from China might have to be suspended.

Of 136 reported cases of cholera last week, 82 already have been fatal. The epidemic caused 19 deaths the week before.

Mystery Surrounds Missing Couple

FORT WORTH, Aug. 19 (AP) — Rescuers plumbed the depths of Eagle Mountain lake today for the bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Hovey Duringer, hoping to answer the apparent riddle of why the couple suddenly disappeared from their small boat before a witness' eyes.

Mrs. Anna May Taylor, a friend the Duringers had asked to go fishing with them, said they were in the boat on the choppy lake when Hovey, 34, decided he would go in the water to "cool off."

She said he swam for a while and returned to the craft. Ten minutes later, she said, Duringer jumped from one side of the boat and his 28-year-old wife from the other. While she frantically sought to maneuver the boat the couple disappeared.

Several hours later Mrs. Taylor drifted ashore and notified authorities.

The Duringers were married in 1935. Two weeks ago Mrs. Bernice Duringer, the missing man's mother, filed annulment proceedings.

LIQUOR RULINGS MADE

AUSTIN, Aug. 19 (AP)—The liquor board was advised by the attorney-general today that an operator of a retail liquor business might lease part of the premises to a retail beer dealer.

The attorney general ruled also that an operator of a beer retail business might lease space to a liquor dealer.

Housing Plans Get House OK

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—House passage of the $526,000,000 low cost housing program removed today the last big controversial feature of the waning congressional session.

The Senate bill, authorizing federal loans and grants for state and municipal housing projects, was changed drastically by the House before it voted approval last night, 274 to 86.

As a result, a committee must adjust the differences in the House and Senate versions before the bill can go to the White House.

Is Last Plan Salvaged

The housing program was the final measure on the Roosevelt program which Democratic leaders decided could be salvaged. Much of the administration legislation—crop control, wage-hour and government reorganization—has been deferred to the next session.

The only important tasks remaining before adjournment, aside from the housing agreement, were Senate passage of the bills to close tax law loopholes and to make $98,000,000 deficiency appropriations. Little opposition was in sight, strengthening predicions that the session would end Saturday night.

Knights Of Columbus Debate Communism, Mexican Woes

SAN ANTONIO, Aug. 19. (AP) — Communism and the Mexican government's attitude toward the Catholic church provided meat for debate today for delegates to the international Knights of Columbus convention.

The resolutions committee, intimated Chairman Luke E. Hart of St. Louis, had drafted vigorous protests for delegates to vote on. One condemned the closing of Mexican Catholic churches, and restriction of priestly activities in Mexico. The other proposed a formal protest of the existence and growth of communism in the United States.

Relief From High Meat Costs Is Expected By End Of Year

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Aug. 19.—Meat consumers' pocketbooks now being burned by last year's drouth, may get substantial relief before the year ends, livestock market diagnoses indicated today.

Recent declines in wholesale pork prices, market experts said, may presage lower meat costs soon for retail buyers.

White figures on butcher shop windows throughout the nation disclose prices of some beef and pork cuts are the highest in seven years or more. Material reduction in prices, market observers agreed, depended upon increased receipts at slaughtering centers this fall and winter.

Although it has been a year since the broiling sun was burning up livestock feed and rains since have drenched the grain belt, the full financial effect of the drouth just now is being felt in the city. Last week prices of hogs and cattle were highest in 11 and nine years respectively.

There are factors in the trade, experts said, which might stim-

Labor Trouble Causes Action By Governor

Twenty-Five Men Are Ordered To Trouble Zone As Beatings And Threats Are Reported

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Aug. 19—Governor James V. Allred today ordered the public safety department to send 25 men to Dallas at once "to put a stop to the beating of persons and other violence there."

The governor acted after reading of reported threats against George Baer, official of the United Hatters and Milliners union, who was abducted recently and flogged by a group of men.

He sharply denounced the violence and declared that if 25 men were not enough to prevent recurrence he would send more.

"Threats Continuing"

"My information is that threats of violence are continuing," Governor Allred said.

"This business of beating and kidnaping has got to stop."

Capt. Homer Garrison, director of the safety department in the absence of Col. H. H. Carmichael, said he intended to issue orders to all the men by noon.

"The men sent to Dallas will be gathered from ranger companies in all parts of the state," he said.

Reward Is Posted

A few days ago the governor posted a reward of $500 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of persons connected with the tarring and feathering of a socialist organizer and instructed the public safety department to join the investigation.

At that time he asserted that if local officials were unable to find the guilty persons and prevent violence the state would step in.

He said rangers still were on duty at Fort Worth in connection with a strike at the plant of the Lone Star Gas company.

Wilkins Joins Hunt For Lost Aviators

NEW YORK, Aug. 19 (AP)—A new rescue expedition, headed by Sir Hubert Wilkins, veteran arctic and antarctic explorer, prepared to wing northward today in search of the six missin soviet trans-polar fliers.

Herbert Hollick-Kenon, Canadian flier who accompanied Wilkins on the Lincoln Ellsworth antarctic expedition, directed mechanics as they labored hurriedly to equip the 17-ton Flying Boat Cuba for the first lap of its long journey, an overland flight to Toronto harbor on Lake Ontario.

Airmen Of Three Nations Wait For Break In Alaska Weather

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, Aug. 19 (AP)—Airmen of three nations watched today for a favorable turn in the weather that would allow them to launch a search for six Soviet trans-polar fliers missing since last Friday.

Veteran arctic aviators of the United States, Canada and Russia were ready to take to the air as soon as rains and clouds, that have kept them grounded for days, are dispelled.

The Soviet plane, piloted by Sigismund Leavefisky, was last heard from Friday shortly after it had passed the North Pole on a 4,000-mile flight from Moscow to Fairbanks.

Portugal And Czechoslovakia Split Over Munitions Order

LISBON, Aug. 19 (AP) — The authoritarian Portuguese government announced formally today it had severed diplomatic relations with the republic of Czechoslovakia over an unfilled order of machine guns.

At the same time Portugal accused Czechoslovakia of yielding to the "influences and pressure" of an unidentified "third party" in blocking fulfillment of the arms order.

The newspaper Diario de Noticias promptly declared in interpretation of the move, that Czechoslovakia had received instructions from an eastern power not to supply arms to a country which was a sure guarantee against a communist Iberian peninsula."

GANNA WALKSKA TO WED

Bridal And Pre-Bridal Courtesies Hold Spotlight In Week-End Entertaining

Mrs. Douglas Is Honored

Hardly a bride of the summer has been extended as many courtesies as attractive Mrs. R. C. Douglas, jr., the former Miss Ruth Elaine Lewis.

Today a luncheon was given at high noon at Hotel Lubbock by Mesdames Loraine D. Bucy and J. B. Jackson. Tomorrow from 4:30 until 6 p. m., Mrs. Douglas will be honored at a tea given by Miss Vondelle Prideaux in the new home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Prideaux, 3123 Nineteenth street.

Hostesses for the luncheon presented several pieces of china, in her chosen pattern, to the honoree.

Guests were Misses Virginia Knapp, Mary Thomas, Mary Wilson, Janet Hambright, Prideaux, Josephine Powell, Virginia McLean, Mrs. R. C. Douglas, sr., the honoree and her mother, Mrs. Jack M. Lewis.

For Bride-Elect

Indications are that a popular bride-elect, Miss Mary Geniece Hardberger, will be honored with an unprecedented series of parties between now and September 5 when she will become the bride of Pleas L. Childress of Ozona.

Several interesting events are scheduled for this weekend, as compliments to Miss Hardberger.

TEA CANDIES

2 cups powdered sugar
1 tablespoon cream
1 egg white (not beaten)
2 level teaspoons KOOL-AID (any flavor)
1-4 teaspoon lemon, peppermint or almond extract. Mix all together well, adding enough powdered sugar to make real stiff; then mold or roll out flat any desired thickness and cut into pieces.

To make sure jelly will be clear never squeeze the pulp in the jelly bag. Let the juices drip and strain through a heavy cheese cloth. The pulp may be made into butter or jam—so there is no waste. About one cup of juice is needed for each four cups of pulp, however.

When buying broilers, allow half a broiler per person to serve six; select three broilers weighing about one and one-half pounds a piece.

Clips Will Brighten Late Summer Suits

Circus animal clips are something new to brighten late summer clothes. A prancing zebra, striped with rhinestones and black enamel, accents the lapel of this white linen suit worn with a black velvet beret and washable white knit rayon gloves finished with black pipings.

For cooking in the open, two fires often are more convenient than one. One may be used for the coffee and the other for roasting corn or frying ham and eggs.

Personal Mention

Miss Laverne Sherfey, teacher of Wilson, Okla., is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Sherfey of 2101 Thirteenth street.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Bray and son, Eugene, and Mrs. Bray's mother, Mrs. Verda Brackeen, all of 2512 Twentieth street, left this morning by automobile and trailer house for a two weeks' vacation in the Ozark mountains of Arkansas. Mr. and Mrs. Bray plan to go on an extended western trip this fall.

Henry W. Jones, Knox City druggist, here to attend the druggists' convention, visited his cousin J. V. Jones, jr.

Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Holbrook, 1622 Avenue P, are leaving today on a vacation trip into Colorado and Northwestern states. They will return about Sept. 6.

Add a little grated orange and lemon rind to iced tea for a delicate flavor. A few chopped mint leaves placed in the tea when steeping also give a subtle taste.

A simple test for determining when the waffle iron is hot enough for the batter is this: Put a teaspoon of water in the iron, close, and when the steam ceases coming out, the iron is ready for the batter.

Lamesa Wedding Is Of Interest Here

The marriage of Ralph W. Douglas, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Douglas, 2913 Twenty-first street, and Miss Bernice Williams of Matador was solemnized at 8 o'clock this morning in Lamesa at the home of the officiating minister, Rev. H. C. Cole, pastor of the First Baptist church of that city.

Miss Williams, who has lived in Lamesa a number of years, attended a girl's school in North Carolina. She was a case worker of the city-county welfare association of the WPA in Lubbock last spring. Later she was made district supervisor of the work and was transferred to Matador.

Mr. Douglas, a 1935 graduate of Texas Technological college in the division of textile engineering, at present is associated with his father in the feed and produce business here.

Merry Circle Gives Shower To Mrs. Davis Wednesday

Members of the Merry Circle, meeting Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. O. B. Gee, 1513 Avenue E, honored Mrs. H. H. Davis who was celebrating her birthday.

Mrs. I. R. Clements presided for business in the absence of the president. Mrs. W. F. Barrett was in charge of devotional.

Games were enjoyed until a "book agent" appeared at the door and insisted that she come in. On being admitted, she opened her bag to reveal a bag full of gifts for the honoree.

Refreshments were served to three guests, Mesdames Margaret Dale and M. G. Hartman and Miss Margaret Chandler, the honoree and Mesdames Luther Weed, Clements, Barrett, B. B. Gillean, W. H. Reese, Steve Belsher, O. D. Click, Emma Carmicheal, W. V. Allen, Alta Mae Appling and Charles W. Graves.

The club will meet at 3 p. m., September 1, with Mrs. Belcher, 2015 Fourteenth street.

Nothing Missing In Burglary Try Here

Management of Terry and Childress Hardware company, at 904 Main street, said they believed those responsible for removing a plate glass section of the store's skylight had not entered the building. They said nothing was believed missing.

The pane was found out of place late Wednesday.

Water falling on a clerk caused him to look up and discover a glass section from the skylight had been removed. Inspection by Sheriff Tom Abel, Bill Mabray, police identifications officer, and Aubrie Cummings, police partolman, disclosed another skylight section had been broken, as well.

There was no indication anyone had entered the building, however. Cummings said he was attracted to the alley about 4 o'clock Wednesday morning by a noise, but could find nothing to incite his suspicions, even a footprint.

Since no water was found on the floor when the store was opened that morning, it was believed the burglary attempt was after a heavy rain that started falling before midnight, and that it possibly was about the time Cummings heard the noise.

PLAN FISHING TRIP

CROSBYTON, Aug. 19, (Special)—Members of the Hank Smith chapter of Future Farmers, under direction of R. C. Mitchell, vocational agriculture teacher, will spend two days on a fishing trip at Lake Kemp near Seymour.

GETS TEACHING POST

ABERNATHY, Aug. 19, (Special)—R. L. Faith, vocational agriculture teacher in Abernathy High school the last two years, has been elected to a similar post in Lazbuddie High school in Parmer county.

Brief Bits Of News . .

Wrists Are Broken—Fifteen-year-old Lois Hollingsworth was removed to her home at 1911 Avenue F last night from Lubbock sanitarium after receiving treatment for broken wrists. The girl was jerked from the fender of a car against a gate post at the Broadway entrance of Mackenzie state park Wednesday afternoon. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Hollingsworth.

Highway 33 Finished — Grading and drainage work on highway 33 across Parmer county into Farwell, from the Castro county line, has been completed by contractor and the work accepted by the state highway department. The work began Jan. 1. Traffic is routed over the road. When surfacing will be done has not been announced.

Beck Gin Moved — Beck Bros. gin at Lubbock is being moved to Canyon community, about five miles east. The gin there burned last season. The moving will be completed before cotton ginning season opens.

Rehearsal Tonight—Full dress rehearsal at Senior High school auditorium has been scheduled for 7:15 tonight for "Three Cornered Moon," a three-act comedy which will be presented Friday night by the speech department of Texas Technological college as the concluding number on the summer artist course program. Miss Annah Jo Pendleton, speech instructor, is directing the play.

Miss Huey Here—Miss Ruth Huey, state director of home making education, who is a member of the state department of education, is on the Texas Technological college campus today on business in the home economics division.

MEETING POSTPONED

YOU CAN THROW CARDS IN HIS FACE ONCE TOO OFTEN

WHEN you have those awful cramps; when your nerves are all on edge—don't take it out on the man you love.

Your husband can't possibly know how you feel for the simple reason that he is a man.

A three-quarter wife may be no wife at all if she nags her husband seven days out of every month.

For three generations one woman has told another how to go "smiling through" with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helps Nature tone up the system, thus lessening the discomforts from the functional disorders which women must endure in the three ordeals of life: 1. Turning from girlhood to womanhood. 2. Preparing for motherhood. 3. Approaching "middle age."

Don't be a three-quarter wife, take LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND and Go "Smiling Through."

Man Escapes Death Chair

AUSTIN, Aug. 19. (AP)—Pio Quesada, a citizen of Mexico again has escaped death in Texas' electric chair.

On the recommendation of the state board of pardons and paroles, Governor James V. Allred today granted Quesada, under death sentence for the slaying of another Mexican in Willacy county, a second 30-day reprieve. Originally sentenced to die July 23, the first reprieve would have expired August 20.

Both reprieves were to permit further investigation by Mexican officials and the pardons board.

"The board has heretofore failed to recommend clemency because the files reflected it had been stated Quesada was alleged to have killed two or three men in Mexico," Governor Allred stated.

"During the 28 days that have ensued (since the first reprieve) the Mexican consular office has secured written evidence from the state of Jalisco, Mexico, where he formerly lived that there is no record or evidence of any alleged crime being committed by him."

Under Texas law, the governor may grant only one reprieve of 30 days without consent of the board.

New Building To Be Built At Baylor

WACO, Aug. 19 (AP)—President Pat M. Neff of Baylor university today announced a gift of $50,000 from Mr. and Mrs. Marrs McLean of San Antonio and Beaumont for erection of a new physical education building.

The plant will be known as the Rena Marrs McLean building in honor of McLean's mother, a member of the First Baptist church of Beaumont and actively identified with the Baptist church for more than 50 years.

Besides his oil interest, McLean is identified with numerous civic and educational enterprises. He also owns the Paint Creek ranch near Junction, one of the best stocked hunting preserves in Texas.

The new campus building will be constructed of brick with an ornamental stone front. A large swimming pool will be built in the plant. The basketball section will seat 3,500.

MONTGOMERY WARD

McCraw Speaks To Drug Men At Annual Banquet

Attorney General McCraw spoke of his political plans in jocular manner at the annual banquet, but left no doubt in the minds of the overflow audience of his intent to make the gubernatorial race.

Dupree Is Toastmaster

George W. Dupree, Lubbock attorney serving as toastmaster in the absence of James P. Stinson of Abilene who was unable to fill his engagement here, set the stage when he introduced the attorney general, to quote Dupree, as "not the Honorable William C McCraw, but as plain Bill McCraw, the next governor of Texas."

McCraw referred to the introduction by obvious inference and then in bantering tone, took the audience to task because the applause had not been greater.

"You know," he continued, "since I entered politics 16 years ago I haven't seen an old woman, nor have I seen a man who wasn't a courageous, stalwart son worthy to bear the name of Texan. And let me say right now that never in my career have I addressed an audience handsomer, finer and more intelligent than this one here.

"Won't Cost You A Cent"

"But love you as I do, I don't love you half as much as I will about this time next year. About that time I am going to print my picture on some cards—a picture made about 16 years ago which makes me look a little like Clark Gable, and which does not show my Wallace Beery chest. You know I am going to let you druggists have as many of those cards as you want. You can put them in your windows, and I assure you, it will give the windows a dressy appearance they otherwise will not have. And it won't cost you a cent."

McCraw scored with his audience with references to varied stocks now typical of drug stores which, he said "have come to look more like a Smithsonian institute than a drug store." The speaker also drew an understanding laugh with his reference to drug stores as "great loafing places—you can stay longer and spend less there than in any other place of business I know."

Pays Tribute To Druggists

In more serious vein, the attorney general paid tribute to druggists for the fight they have made and still are making as a unit for a fair trade practice law in Texas.

"The need for collective initiative is greater than it ever has been before," McCraw said. "There was a time not many years ago when the man in the drug business could depend on his own wisdom and diligence for success. But with the growth of West Texas from a vast expanse of ranch lands to a territory filled with towns and cities, the time has come when men and women must work together for their common interests, or they will be lost."

Declares For Fair Trade Act

Of the independent druggists he said that "they have been promised more and gotten less than any other class of people since the children of Israel" as he declared for enactments which will compel fair practices in trade to put "commercial pirates" out of business. McCraw referred to the druggists as "sailors on the sea of fair trade" waging constant war against commercial pirates.

McCraw was introduced after a program of entertainment enthusiastically received by the audience. Dick Dickerson's orchestra played during the dinner and then provided the accompaniment for the floor show, for which Hop Halsey served as master of ceremonies. Numbers included vocal and whistling solos by Miss Jane Higgins; vocal duet by C. A. Rogers and Rex Webster; tap dances by Mrs. Pauline Harbison; duet by Miss Higgins and Rogers; baritone solos by Gordon Suits, and numbers by the Hill-Billy band composed of Pope Pool, Dr. C. C. Craig, Dr. Fred G. Harbaugh, Dr. Marshall Harvey and Dr. Ewell L. Hunt. Hunt is a physician and surgeon, Harvey is a chiropodist, Craig a dentist, Harbaugh a veterinarian and Pool a druggist.

Committees Are Appointed

Appointment of committees to clear the way for business of the final business session this morning was a feature of Wednesday's convention activities, which included a number of important addresses and a luncheon at Lubbock hotel at noon, at which Southwestern Drug corporation of Amarillo was host. J. M. Penland, Dallas, executive of that concern, was luncheon toastmaster.

Committee appointments announced by President Bowen were: nominating—W. R. Fickas, Lubbock, Shine Phillips of Big Spring and John Smithee of Amarillo; resolutions—Jerry Wagner, Hamlin, Dr. W. J. Danforth, Fort Worth, and John Weeks, Amarillo, and auditing—Ray Poole, Amarillo, Hop Halsey, Lubbock, and Harl Phillips, Rotan. All are to report this morning, when new officers will be elected. The next convention city will be chosen later by the board of directors.

Settle Talks On Legislation

Important among addresses of the day was one by J. Doyle Settle, legislative representative from this district who said the outlook is "hopeful" that an early legislature will pass a fair trade act urged by many druggists. Such a bill, he recalled, was passed by the Texas house last April but failed in the senate. Texas, he said, is one of only seven states which does not have such a measure.

Social Security Act Explained

Another speaker was Ernest L. Tutt, manager of the state Social Security board at Dallas, who explained workings of the Social Security act.

Joe P. Harris, Dallas county school superintendent, was principal speaker at the luncheon, and received a near ovation when he voiced a humorous plea for more ropes with which to hang certain types of speakers, including lodge, Fourth of July, political, young preachers and long prayers. He advocated courses in hog calling in public schools, and gave varied imitations. Dick Dickerson's orchestra played during the dinner.

The afternoon session opened with greetings from the state pharmaceutical association by Dr. W. J. Danforth of Fort Worth, secretary, and from the New Mexico association by Frank J. McCarthy of Hagerman, president.

Talking on "Merchandising Surgical Dressing," C. E. Massengail said that "surgical dressings were originally manufactured in response to demands by doctors," and that "surgical dressing companies have so reduced prices that the druggist can compete successfully with unknown brands and dressings distributed throught other than drug outlets."

A. A. Beasley of Dallas warned against the "outside interest" which he said "are invading the druggists field in selling surgical dressings, and advocated a surgical department, and increased inventory in surgical dressings, as an aid toward increasing business.

Ed Styles, Dallas, gave five rules for merchandising soda fountains. They were: high grade service, quality goods, good dispensers, sanitation, and the fifth rule was to follow the above 4 conscientiously.

Roy P. Smith, Amarillo said, get the customers point of view of fountain, and keep up sanitation.

Registrations Wednesday forenoon were: Dr. and Mrs. Jim DePree and Ed DePree, of Holland, Mich.; J. P. Morgan of Monahans; Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Chastain, Joe B. Long, Bill Gruben and W. C. Gruben of Spur; F. J. Berlin of Denver, Colo.; B. W. Harrison, Charles August, Buck Freeman, J. M. Penland and H. G. Benedict of Dallas; Frank Mauldin, J. P. Richards, J. D. Tark, J. C. Bryant, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Donaldson, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Pool and John Smithee, of Amarillo; L. C. Melton of Benjamin; J. C. Nelson of Munday; H. M. Jones of Knox City.

Mr. and Mrs. Wynne Collier and Jeff Brown of Tahoka; Mr. and Mrs. Morris Stark of Seminole; Bearl Murdoch and G. H. Huls of Jayton; J. J. Cockerell of Vernon; Miss Frances McCargo of Cheyenne, Texas; Joe Wilson and "Bullet" Maddox of El Paso; W. H. McBride, Earl Scott and Dr. W. J. Danforth, Fort Worth; K. M. Camp of Sweetwater; H. R. Phillips and W. D. Ray of Rotan; S. E. Caldwell and C. L. Henry of Crosbyton; Robert Atkins of San Antonio; S. H. Coker of Quanah.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Warnick and Tom Kornegay of Abilene; T. L. Arwood and R. L. Ballenger of Wichita Falls; T. E. Benge of Wellington; Mrs. P. Copeland of Meadow; Charles Fisher of Kansas City; C. P. Dad Backs Teacher In Fight

O. Fred Hallin promises his support to his pretty daughter, Miss Isabelle Hallin, 25, Saugus, Mass., high school dramatics teacher, who is fighting the school board's suggestion she resign. She sought a public hearing to deny rumors she gave students cocktails.

Oil Lease Play Extended As Transfer Of 700 Acres Made

Lubbock land leased for mineral rights this year was increased nearer the 50,000-acre mark with filings on approximately 700 acres Wednesday, according to Louie F. Moore, chief deputy to County Clerk Ed D. Allen.

Fred Childers obtained rights on a quarter-section belonging to R. W. Harrist and wife of Lubbock county and the remainder from J. B. Rieger and wife of Kerrville.

Land was described as the southwest quarter of section 36, block 20, HE&WT RR company survey, and the west half, the southeast quarter, and the south 40 acres of the northeast quarter of section 34, block 20, certificate 676, abstract 950, HE & WT RR company survey.

Leafworm Ravages Reported In Lubbock County Cotton

Though spotted in occurrence, leafworms have been found in the Lubbock cotton growing vicinity.

Despite the fact damage occasioner has been slight, there has been plenty of time for a great spread and northwest Texas may have to deal with the pest if rain falls soon, according to reports here.

Boll weevils are causing damage to young bolls in many fields of young cotton in the southern half of the state. In the older cotton many of the young bolls are opening prematurely. Both weevils and bollworms are causing damage in the Red River valley of Northeast Texas.

The Icarian sea is named for Icarius, a legendary character who plunged to his death while flying with artificial wings.

Approximately 4000 fugitives from justice, in the United States, are detected by fingerprints annually.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste.

Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning shows there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

An excess of acids or poisons in your blood, when due to functional kidney disorders, may be the cause of nagging backache, rheumatic pains, lumbago, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

FLASHES OF LIFE

Relief

EDINA, Mo.—Justice of the Peace C. E. Hunolt offered a new form of "farm relief" today.

The judge, known as "the marrying justice," said he would "tie the knot" for a bushel of corn, oats or wheat, frying chickens "or even an occasional fresh ham."

Discriminating

PHILADELPHIA — Cash and caviar satisfied the discriminating taste of robbers who broke into a delicatessen here.

They took $75 in cash and caviar worth $25. They ignored chicken and other expensive cuts of meat.

Outdone

DALLAS—Ralph Blossom has found someone who can outborrow him.

He reported to police theft of a radio he had on trial and a typewriter he had borrowed from his landlady.

Just Too Much

DENVER — Patrolmen I. A. Mott and Douglas Phillips chased a reportedly stolen auto 20 blocks, shooting doggedly. Their bullets punctured all four of the auto's tires and the driver's nonchalance.

When they finally arrested 20-year-old Wayne Inman he had fainted.

Gold Rush

THOMPSON FALLS, Mont. —Gold-crazed poultrymen are sifting chicken-feed by the barrel here.

Sam Lee found several nuggets of gold in the gizzard of a chicken, but he can't remember where he bought the fowl.

Good Listener

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. — In a letter to the chamber of commerce here, a woman, whose name was not disclosed, asked for space to set up offices as a "professional listener."

She said she merely listened —for a price—to whatever anyone wished to confide because "confessions are good for peace of mind as well as for the soul."

Slinging Situation

ELGIN, Ill. — When a truck overturned in a ditch near here A. J. Sparrow's troubles just started.

Because Sparrow was transporting four hives of bees to new honey fields in southern Illinois.

Buzzing their contempt, the bees attacked anyone and everyone, including Sparrow. "Those bees kept traffic moving better than any officer I've ever seen," said Constable W. C. Voigt.

John Silvers In Movie

HOLLYWOOD—Earl Bunn, a movie pirate, fell from the mast of a ship, broke one leg and bruised the other.

After getting the bruised member treated in a studio hospital, he went to the carpenter shop.

There he had the broken leg —made of oak—repaired.

The blue whale, caught in the Antarctic, measures up to 100 feet in length and is the largest mammal in the world.

DIZZY SPELLS

How To Help The Passing of Women's Most Critical Years —40 to 50

"I suffered from dizziness for years and decided to try Kruschen. Of course I know it is my age that is the cause of it all. I am 47 and I have been told this and that would help me so I tried all I could but still had the same old dizziness. Now I'm on my 3rd jar of Kruschen and don't get dizzy nearly so often. I used to get so muddled at times. Now I feel different altogether much clearer. There must be hundreds of women like me. They must stick to Kruschen every morning." Mrs. L. S. N., August 24, 1936.

Kruschen Salts is sold the world over—millions of jars a year. If you want to help avoid headaches, dizziness, smothering spells, weakness, fits of depression—if you want to keep feeling more healthy and happy—up and about your work—take a third teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water first thing every morning.

Take it for 30 days and if not joyfully satisfied get your money back. Adv.

Why FIRESTONE MAKES A SAFER TIRE AT A LOWER PRICE

PRICES AS LOW AS $6.40

IN THE Firestone Standard Tire, you get extra value in the form of extra safety. It costs more money to build a safer tire. But Firestone can build a first-quality tire made of top grade materials and sell it for less money, because Firestone controls rubber and cotton supplies at their sources, manufactures with greater efficiency and distributes at lower cost.

YOU GET EXTRA PROTECTION AGAINST BLOWOUTS — eight extra pounds of rubber are added to every 100 pounds of cord by the Firestone patented Gum-Dipping process. By this process every fiber of every cord in every ply is saturated with liquid rubber. This counteracts dangerous internal friction and heat that ordinarily cause blowouts.

YOU GET EXTRA PROTECTION AGAINST PUNCTURES — because under the tread are two extra layers of Gum-Dipped cords.

YOU GET EXTRA PROTECTION AGAINST SKIDDING — because the tread is scientifically designed.

YOU GET LONGER NON-SKID MILEAGE because of the extra tough, long-wearing tread.

You need all of these features to make your car tire-safe on your week-end or vacation trip. Firestone gives them to you at lower cost. Join the Firestone SAVE A LIFE Campaign today by equipping your car with a set of new Firestone Standard Tires — today's top tire value.

DON'T RISK YOUR LIFE ON SMOOTH WORN TIRES!

DO YOU KNOW

THAT last year highway accidents cost the lives of more than 38,000 men, women and children?

That a million more were injured!

THAT more than 40,000 of these deaths and injuries were caused directly by punctures, blowouts and skidding due to smooth, worn, unsafe tires?

At right is section cut from a new Firestone Tire, Note the thick, non-skid protection against skidding, blowouts, and punctures. Come in and see a demonstration.

At left is a section cut from a smooth, worn tire, with non-skid protection worn off. Tires in this condition are liable to punctures, blowouts and skidding.

PENNEY'S

J. C. PENNEY COMPANY, Incorporated

—The News Of The Day Through The Camera's Eye—

PALS FOR 60 YEARS. Barney Kelly, Ashland, Pa., an anthracite miner, was a lad of 18 when he started playing the fiddle he still plays today. Now, at 78, he's one of the masters of old-time tunes and minstrelsy and is called upon frequently to perform.

FOR THE BEST MAN, A BELT. To the winner of the world heavyweight championship fight in New York City on August 26, Great Britain's National Sporting Club will present this gold challenge belt... in the event that Joe Louis, present champion, defeats Tommy Farr, challenger, the Brown Bomber must agree to defend the belt in England. This stipulation is feared likely to cause trouble.

OFF TO CONGRESS. Scorning comforts of a motor car or even a raincoat, Gandhi is shown trudging through mud and tropical rain from his home village to attend a congress conference at Wardha, India. An assistant (right) holds the umbrella and carries papers in an old oil can.

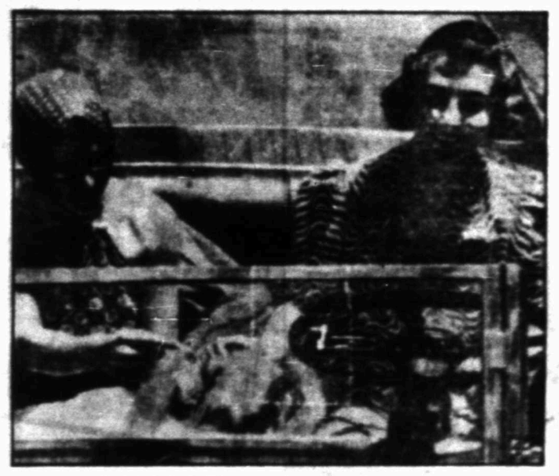

NIGERIAN STRIP-TEASE. Showing their faces for the first time since leaving Nigeria, the Emir of Katsina's chief wife (left) and the wife of his brother face the camera at Plymouth, England, as the Emir arrives for an eye operation. It is forbidden that anyone but a white man see their faces.

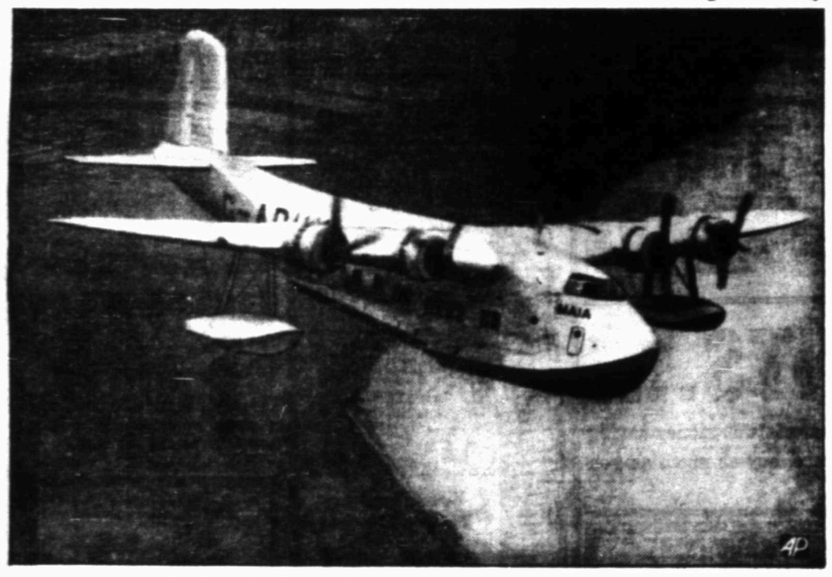

HIS SOX UP. Manager Jimmy Dykes of Chicago's White Sox, third-sacker, fights with the Yankees for American league leadership.

PACHYDERM PLAYMATES. Though ponderous of body and slow of thought, these two young elephants at Brooklyn's zoo are having a whale of a lot of fun as they good-naturedly duck each other and splash about in the cool waters of their big tub. Just the thing for those hot summer days, they seem to find, colossally cooling.

AWAITS PIGGY-BACK BABY. Roaring over Rochester, England, on a successful test flight, this carrier plane for Imperial Airways' dual-plane scheme for trans-Atlantic service is ready for the small ship which will be carried "piggy-back" style into the air and launched from the wing. The object of the novel plan is to allow larger loads in the small machine.

PEACE . . . IT'S WONDERFUL. Walls of stone are no barriers for this powerful Austrian tank, shown in maneuvers near Bruck. Plowing along at high speed, this metal monster crashes headlong through a brick barricade as though it were made of matches. Modern rough riders man these machines as they hurtle some obstacles and plunge right through others.

PIPE THIS ONE. Six-month-old Patricia Benefield really takes her "after bottle" smoke as she is shown doing here in Atlanta, Ga., with Papa Lucius Benefield who prefers his "weed" in cigar form. Benefield says his daughter started smoking five weeks ago.

SOME TALL CROONING. Molly O'Connor looks up to William Olding as though she expects big things of the world's tallest crooner. Olding stands seven feet, six inches, and should be able to reach those high notes with ease. Both belong to a London band.

TIDE-Y ATTIRE. This beach ensemble is of printed linen with black ground and red, yellow and green pattern.

STEEPLEJILL FILLS BILL. When folks at Trezevant, Tenn., ordered someone to paint the town's tall water tower, they expected to get a burly male steeplejack, but were surprised to gaze aloft and see daring Marie Galloway on the job and enjoying her work thoroughly.

FAST WORKER. Captain Pierre Thoreux goes places in a hurry. He skippered the Normandie to a new trans-Atlantic record in less than four days.

SIMPLY CORKING. It's a great treat to put the old body in the cooling waters of Great Salt Lake during the Utah summer. Swimmers there know a lot of smart tricks, such as wearing a straw hat, because no one has to worry about sinking in this salty sea.

Know What You're Voting On!

Amendments Coming Up On Aug. 23 Explained For Plains Voters

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the last article of a series on proposed amendments to the state constitution.

AUSTIN, Aug. 19. (AP)—Texas voters will have opportunity Aug. 23 to approve a proposed amendment to the state constitution authorizing a discount system for the prompt payment of ad valorem taxes.

The purpose of the plan, applicable to taxes due the state government or its political subdivisions, would be to encourage payment before delinquency occurs. It is the latest out-cropping from long agitation over the amount of delinquent taxes outstanding, which experts say is a staggering sum.

Could Provide

The legislature would be allowed to provide for discounts of three per cent if taxes paid 90 days before they became delinquent; two per cent for 60 days and one percent for 30 days. The amendment would be effective Jan. 1, 1939.

Such taxes are due Oct. 1 and if not paid by Feb. 1 an interest charge of one percent is added for each month payment is not made until July 1 when the rate becomes six percent. At that time taxes also become delinquent and a penalty of eight percent is added.

Sponsors of the amendment hold its adoption would give taxpayers an attractive "business" reason for paying before interest and penalty are incurred. They claim he could even afford to borrow money at a bank to pay taxes.

It also is argued that increased collections would far more than offset the loss in revenue by discounts.

Declaration Sought

Another section of the amendment provides that no property in Texas every shall be assessed for ad valorem taxes at greater than its fair cash market value. This already is the law by statute and the amendment would merely place the declaration in the constitution.

Another proposed amendment to be acted on at the August special election would eliminate what is known as the double liability for owners of stock in state banks. Under existing law, if a state bank fails the owner of the stock loses not only the value of the stock but also may be assessed an amount equal to such value.

When the Federal Deposit Insurance corporation was formed stockholders in national banks were relieved of double liability, and since most state banks also have become participants in the deposit insurance, sponsors of the amendment argue it is only fair their stockholders should have the same status with reference to liability.

Practicability Questioned

The point also is made that when a bank closes it usually is found that stockholders have so protected their assets, if they have any, that collection of the added assessment is difficult, if not impossible. In other words, the argument in favor of the amendment is that the need for double liability has passed and it never has been practical anyhow.

By another proposed amendment, Harris county would be authorized to levy a tax, on consent of a majority of the county's property taxpaying voters, the proceeds of which would be spent for a pay-as-you-go-road-building program.

A county may vote bonds with which to improve roads without recourse to constitutional amendment; that is, it may borrow the money, spend it and re-pay it. There has to be an amendment, however, before a special tax for a large road development program to be paid for on a cash basis can be levied.

Advocates of the amendment assert Harris county, under the proposed plan, would save thousands of dollars representing interest upon bonds issued.

Should the amendment be adopted and the program prove effective in Harris county it might set a precedent for other populous counties to follow.

OFFICERS ARE CHOSEN

CROSBYTON, Aug. 19. (Special)—Joe McDuff was elected president of the Crosby county unit of the Texas Agricultural association, R. D. Worley, vice-president, and Tilford Taylor, secretary.

Johann Sebastian Bach never fully recovered from the eye strain suffered as a boy. Christoph, a brother, owned a manuscript which he believed too advanced for Johann, and he denied him the use of it. But Johann was determined to have it, and by night he crept to a bookcase and copied the manuscript by the dim light of the moon.

A bad night... a HEADACHE? Here's Relief

When you've had a bad night and you wake up feeling jittery and generally "all in," let "BC" lend a helping hand.

BC

The quick-acting, prescription-type ingredients in the "BC" formula will relieve the "headachy" feeling and greatly aid you in snapping back into your stride.

"BC" works fast, yet it does not contain opium, or any of its derivatives. It is a most effective remedy for relieving headaches, neuralgia, muscular pains and simple nervousness. 10¢ and 25¢ sizes.

Lengthy Lead Of Chicago Cubs Is Fast Disappearing In National

SPORTS NEWS

Member of Associated Press—Day and Night Leased Wire Service

LUBBOCK EVENING JOURNAL

LUBBOCK, TEXAS, THURSDAY, AUGUST 19, 1937

Fifth Straight Setback Given Windy City

BY SID FEDER
Associated Press Sports Writer

That once lengthy lead on which the Chicago Cubs were riding in the National league is disappearing with all the speed and completeness of a hot dog in the hands of a fan with that eighth-inning hunger, while the New York Giants and Pittsburgh Pirates are pulling ing up for a finish fight.

The Bucs pinned the fifth straight setback on the injury-jinxed windy city wallopers yesterday, winning 7-6 with a two-run rally in the ninth, to climb back into a virtual tie for third place. At the same time, the Giants, making the most of their newly-discovered ability to hit timely behind their top-flight flinging, belted the Bees, 9-1, for their fifth straight win, and were only two games off the pace.

Are Winning Close Ones

The Pirate victory was also the Bucs fifth in a row, and made it look like the Pittsburghs may finally be coming out of their sleep-walking habits of recent years. Although they have little of the crack pitching that is skyrocketing the Giants along particularly the masterful left arm of King Carl Hubbell who turned in a seven-hitter yesterday, the Bucs are belting that apple—and winning the close ones.

While the Giants have been taking the second division Phillies and Bees during their current winning streak the Pirates have run into the tougher sockers from St. Louis and Chicago, with the same results. Whichever way you look at it, however, it appears the Giants and Pirates may yet fight it out for the flag, with the Cardinals still to be heard from and the Cubs praying for fewer bandages and more ball-players.

Yanks Slug Along

Meantime, the Yankees are slugging along on a 11 1-2 game lead in the American league, waiting for the rival circuit to decide whether it'll be another New York subway series, or whether Chicago, Pittsburgh or St. Louis will be the party of the second part.

Murderers' row made it three straight over the Senators yesterday with a 7-6 decision on the strength of Joe DiMaggio's 35th homer, which broke up the ball game in the ninth inning.

The second-place Tigers were trounced thoroughly by the White Sox, losing 6-0 to Vernon Kennedy's four-hit flinging. The Athletics scored their first win of the year over the Red Sox, 2-2.

The Indians and Browns broke even in a double bill, Cleveland coming through 5-2 in the opener and then dropping an 11-6 clouting contest. The Dodgers and Phils were rained out and the Cards and Reds took the day off.

Dale Haddock Drops Match

Dale Haddock, so-called "Gentleman" by virtue of the public's adaption of whatever name the sports writers throw it, emptied the trickery bag last night—but the California air must be a greater tonic than that of the South Plains.

He lost everything but the first fall in his new debut in the wrestling ring here with Frank Wolfe.

After Haddock had taken the first fall in 22 minutes, Wolfe came back to pin him with a surfboard hold in the second. The "middle" setto required but 10 minutes. Wolfe ended the third in 8 minutes with a hammer lock.

Hagen Bests Terry

Jack Hagen didn't have to go through any red tape to win his semi-final bout with Jack Terry. The Louisianian, recently turned villainous, did, however, put to good advantage a strip of adhesive tape. He massaged the better part of Terry's face vigorously for ten minutes of their match.

Appeals from the crowd failed to solicit enough of Big Train's sympathy to have the foreign material removed from his hand. Finally the ring's new tough man got the worst of it when Terry "borrowed" the tape, hand and all, to turn the tables.

Exchange Few Blows

Clements and Hagen exchanged a few blows in the center of the ring early in the match, as the referee tried to "corral" the grappler.

El Pulpo, Mexico City menace, stalled through ten minutes of the opening bill with Tex Hager. Some fancy body and head blows, some of which took on the appearance of illegality, dazed the Oregon neck twister. The Pulpo covered the prone Hager to get Referee Plummer's nod after 12 minutes.

The arch form of construction in bridge building is such that the outward pressure of the units making up the arch carries the load to the ends, where it is resisted by abutments.

Sports Critic Ready To Take On Battler

BY EDDIE BRIETZ

NEW YORK, Aug. 19. (AP)—Both sides got a square deal when Waynesboro, Miss., and Beirne, Ark., clashed in the national semi-pro tournament at Wichita, Kans., the other day . . . The umpires were Fair and White . . . If Louis and Farr gross $300,000 you'll not hear Mike Jacobs moaning . . . The "Bill Terry day," which started off with such a bang has been called off because of "lack of cooperation" . . . Max Schmeling has shifted his headquarters from the Commodore to the swanky Essex House.

Tom Laird, sports critic for the San Francisco News, looked over Tommy Farr and didn't like what he saw . . . "For $5,000 I'll fight the bloke on 42nd street at ten minutes' notice," he says . . . Ray Flaherty, coach of the Washington football Redskins doesn't have to worry much with such guys as Dixie Howell of Alabama; "Slingin' Sam" Baugh of Texas Christian and Chuck Bond of Washington U. around.

Max Schmeling brought over a German cuckoo clock for Mrs. Eddie Mead, wife of Henry Armstrong's manager . . . When Armstrong fought Johnny Cabella in Washington the other night, Al Jolson (who owns the negro) had a special radio hookup installed so he could hear the fight . . . Cost: $3,500 . . . English fight promoters are getting ready to slap two or three suits on Tommy Farr the minute he returns home . . . Washington baseball writers, here with the Senators, say Bucky Harris will be back at the helm of the Senators next year despite those yarns that Joe Cronin will return as president and general manager.

Tommy Farr says Bob Olin, the light-heavyweight, is the best man he ever fought . . . What a surprise Mr. Farr has coming!

Hunting, Fishing Fines Run High

AUSTIN, Aug. 19. (AP)—Will J. Tucker, secretary of the state game, fish and oyster commission, has announced total fines collected this year for violations of game and fish laws exceeded by $3,000 those for the previous 12 months.

This was despite instructions to wardens, Tucker said, to give greater attention to educational efforts to obtain compliance with the laws.

"The commission recognizes voluntary obedience is more important than enforcement alone," he explained, "and the records reveal much has been done along these lines."

Game wardens were led by A. M. Hitzfelder of San Antonio in the number of convictions obtained and fine money collected.

Ranking next to Hitzfelder were M. E. Williams of San Antonio, J. T. Swanson of Junction, S. D. Turner of Waco, C. S. Booth of Beaumont, Roscoe Parks of Fort Worth, T. A. Harris of Lamesa, D. R. Murchison of Kingsville and H. R. Morrell and J. W. Hudson of Kilgore.

Canadians Predict Big Duck Season For U. S. Hunters

WINNIPEG, Man., Aug. 19. (AP)—Plenty of waterfowl for American nimrods to shoot at this fall has been forecast by observers in Canada's far flung duck and goose incubator.

Game guardians, woodsmen and other observers reported the waterfowl crop probably would be fully as big as in 1936 when it exceeded that of the previous year by an estimated 20 per cent.

America's school property is valued at $12,050,000,000, including $2,150,000,000 held as endowment and other trust funds. This is an investment of about $400 per pupil.

Mrs. Dean Puts On Pressure In Victory

Mrs. C. L. Dean, medalist, shot her way into the semi-finals of the annual women's golf tournament at Meadowbrook Golf club Wednesday.

Her march was not accomplished without effort, however. Sun-tanned Mrs. W. F. Helwig, adeptly handling her irons and woods, disputed the medalist's advance stubbornly.

Opposition Bristling

Mrs. Dean, who recently won the Clouderoft, N. M., tournament after shooting out the brilliant Elinor Jones Indian maiden who won the Lubbock Country club women's invitational over Mrs. Alice Phillips of Big Spring won the first hole, lost the second, took the third, was two up at the turn, lost the tenth, won the eleventh, halved the twelfth, won the thirteenth, and halved he next two to win, 4 and 3.

In winning her out round of 38 was only two strokes under that of Mrs. Helwig who played one of the best games of her golfing career. On the back nine Mrs. Dean was three over regulation figures at conclusion of the match, Mrs. Helwig four over.

In the other match of the upper championship flight bracket Miss Ruth Bell shot out Mrs. J. R. Farmer, 2 and 1.

In the lower bracket of that flight Mrs. Guy McAfee had no difficulty in retiring Miss Nancy Leaverton, 8 and 7, and Mrs. Charles Akey disposed of Miss Mildred Boone, 6 and 5.

Progress in the first flight was even more simple. Through her 5 and 4 victory over Mrs. C. E. Dean, Mrs. V. Smith went into the finals with Mrs. Cliff Widener, 1 up victor over Mrs. Bob Crawford.

In the championship flight consolations, Mrs. Helwig will meet Mrs. Farmer, and Miss Leaverton will play Miss Boone.

First flight consolations will see pitted Mrs. Dean and Mrs. Crawford.

Finals in the first flight may be played today, finals in the championship flight Friday, said G. H. Tosh, Meadowbrook course manager.

Anyway, This Is One Method Of Figuring Fishing Energy

AUSTIN, Aug. 19. (AP)—The average angler might well charge up $3 worth of time and enough energy to cut a cord of wood for each black bass he catches.

So says Will J. Tucker, secretary of the game commission, who delved into textbooks and found expert opinion agrees that the time required, plus an average of 5,760 casts, to snag one wary bass is worth $3, based on minimum labor costs.

In California the fisherman could hike the price 25 cents, the amount of state tax on each pound of black bass taken from certain waters of that state.

TWO ARE PAIRED

CHICAGO, Aug. 19. (AP)—Medalist Alexander Antonio of Linden, N. J., and Roy Ribelin of Dallas, Tex., were paired today in the feature quarter-finals battle in the second annual lefthanded golfers' championship tournament at Olympia fields.

Saltwater rains have often been reported during tropical cyclones.

Littlefield To Engage Hubbers Here Sunday

Littlefield's hard-hitting baseball club will be in Lubbock Sunday afternoon to dispute the Hubbers' claim to outstanding merit among South Plains horsehide aggregations. As a matter of fact, the team will be here to risk chances—even should it be required it forfeit a game in a tournament beginning that day!

Littlefield will do just that Sunday, if called upon. Entered in an invitational baseball tournament at Muleshoe, the team will forego average chances, if slated to play there Sunday, by accepting a loss and come to Lubbock instead.

The game will begin here at 3 o'clock, on Parris field, said Sam Rosenthal, Hubber sponsor.

Blanchard To Take Mound

Littlefield will bring the same line-up that took a questionable win over the Clothiers in Littlefield June 27. Even the Littlefield fans were dissatisfied with the umpiring.

Lefty "I - Sho - Can - Hit - 'Em" Blanchard will toe the rubber Sunday to avenge the defeat incurred that day. Local fahs and players on hand that June day say that the over-size forkhander was required to "put 'em down the middle" before a somewhat partisan plate umpire would stick up his right trigger finger.

The invading Panthers have shelled numerous South Plains hurlers off the mound with lusty hitting. They have pounded from three to six roundtrippers a game since they faced the Hubbers. Such big guns as Manager-Catcher Dick Ratliff, First-Sacker Chief Hanks, and Shortstopper Miller, with the aid of incidentals, by other members of the team, have left gunshy several twirlers.

Pitchers Are Plenty

Ratliff and Miller contributed a circuit clout each in the game against Lubbock, the latter putting the game on ice late in the contest.

For chucking duty, Ratliff has a trio of first-rate moundsmen in Guy Aldredge, Texas University product, Duncan and Weaver. The pilot likely will don the mask.

Club management announced Wednesday that 500 new bleacher seats had been installed at Parris field to take care of over-flow crowds expected this Sabbath and the following. The Hubbers face the strong Oilers from Borger Aug. 29. The Oilers tied with Pampa for third place money in the recent Denver Post tourney.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

(By The Associated Press)

Carl Hubbell, Giants — Whipped Bees 9-1 with seven hits, fanning six.

Joe DiMaggio, Yankees—His homer in ninth inning beat Senators 7-6.

Vernon Kennedy, White Sox — Blanked Tigers 6-0 with four hits.

Pep Young, Pirates—Singled with bases loaded in ninth to drive in winning run for 7-6 victory over Cubs.

Julie Solters, Indians, and Jerry Lipscomb, Browns—Former hit double, three singles in 5-2 opener victory. Lipscomb clouted triple, two doubles, single and drove in three runs in 11-6 nightcap win.

George Caster, Athletics, beat Red Sox 4-2 with seven hits.

European bridge builders of ancient times covered their bridges to protect the roadway from weather and to prevent warriors with primitive weapons from fighting effectively on them.

Indians Worry About Hurts

(By The Associated Press)

The Oklahoma City Indians, seemingly too far in front to be overtaken by their Texas league rivals, had something to worry about today. Injuries and illness have removed three of their mainstays and the Indians have lost two straight games to Galveston.

The Pirates whipped the invaders 7 to 4 last night, Pitcher Jim Bivin holding them to two earned runs and seven hits. The loss cut Oklahoma City's lead to 13 games.

The second game of the current crucial series between Fort Worth and San Antonio went to the North Texans, 5 to 2. Jackie Reid of the Cats annexed his twentieth victory of the year.

Beaumont jumped on the last-place Dallas team, 9 to 3, although four Steer errors helped to make the victory easy.

Houston's lowly Buffs found Tulsa easy pickings behind Jimmy Lyons' effective knuckle-ball twirling. The lefthander got credit for a 3-0 shutout.

Les Cranfill Named Temple High Coach

TEMPLE, Aug. 19. (AP)—Les Cranfill, former Hardin-Simmons university football coach who has been coach at Del Rio high school for the last two years, tonigh accepted the position of Temple High school athletic director and football coach.

Cranfill was released by the Del Rio school board last night to allow him to negotiate with the Temple board for the place left vacant when G. S. (Red) Forehand resigned two weeks ago. Forehand quit to coach at Breckenridge High school, San Antonio. Cranfill will arrive here from Del Rio Monday.

Texas Has Opportunity To Reap Honors From Golfing Stars

DALLAS, Aug. 19. (AP)—The golfing legerdemain of four Dallasites gives Texas its greatest opportunity in years to reap honors from the national amateur tournament at Portland, Ore., next week.

On the west coast preparing for engagements are Reynolds Smith, Walker cup team member; Don Schumacher, Trans-Mississippi champion; Jack Munger, former southern title-holder, and Harry Todd, Texas Open, Western Junior, and Dallas city champion.

At Top Of Games

These men, with the possible exception of Smith, are at the top of their games now. Smith's game has suffered a few shocks lately, principally at the hands of his arch rival, Schumacher. He scored a one-over-par 71 on the Tacoma, Wash., country club course, however, and probably will regain his little touches of tournament genius before the chase begins.

Schumacher, bidding for a Walker cup team berth, has performed brilliantly this season and proved in the Trans that his nerves are iron tough. He came from far back to win his finals match.

Todd, a hot tip among the local golfing gentry, is due. He lacked experience prior to the current season but a couple of tournaments have razor-edged his game.

All-Stars Gather

Six teams of the Texas league last year each drew less attendance than the New Iberia club of the little Evangeline league in Louisiana has drawn already this season . . . Brilliant backfielding should be common when the Chicago Bears meet the college all-stars here Sept. 6 . . . Signed up with the amateurs are Sammy Baugh, Sam Agee, Vanderbilt fullback, Johnny Stovall of North Texas Teachers, and Al Londe, Missouri captain of last year . . . Strings are out for Buzz Buivid of Marquette, Bill Crass of Louisiana State and Buck Friedman of Rice . . . The pros, of course, will have a host, including Sam Francis of Nebraska and Beattie Feathers.

J. P. Rawe, Refugio catcher-outfielder, won the coastal bend baseball league batting title with the healthy mark of .486 . . . Who's this guy DiMaggio? . . . There's not a player on John Holland's Oklahoma City baseball team who is not the outright property of the club . . . No player is there on option . . . In the mail comes a copy of the southwestern sports magazine, newsy periodical born this month . . . G. A. Bone is the editor; it's published in Waco. . . .

Wisecrack of the week: Prom Ed Greer, pitcher and philosopher for the Fort Worth Cats: "It makes no difference whether the pitch is outside, inside, high or low, I hit 'em all on the handle!"

Crack Fliers To Take Off In Paris-Syria Race On Friday

ISTRES, France, Aug. 19. (AP)—Crack fliers of many nations, including Bruno Mussolini of Italy, will take off here Friday on a 3,840-mile race to Syria and back.

Fifteen planes are entered for the race, a substitute for the Paris-New York competitive flight in memory of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh's transoceanic dash 10 years ago which the United States government ruled out as "too hazardous."

Peter Minuit, a German colonist, traded $24 and a bottle of whiskey for Manhattan Island in 1626. He was appointed governor of New Netherlands by the Dutch West India Company.

Boundary Row Being Upheld

LEVELLAND, Aug. 19. (Special) — Contention of Hockley county that the boundary between Hockley and Cochran counties should run to the point north where the survey of 1910 located the corners of Lamb and Bailey counties was upheld in a recent decision of the General Land office of Texas.

The decision was in accordance with the survey made by W. H. Tilson in 1910. It specified that "unless and until aforesaid southwest corner of Lamb county and the southeast corner of Bailey county is adjudged and decreed to be at some place other than that established by the said W. H. Tilson, the proper manner in which to run the west line of Hockley county and the east line of Cochran county is to begin at the common corner of Hockley, Cochran, Yoakum and Terry counties, which point was agreed upon by the surveyors, and from that point proceed in a straight line to the aforesaid southwest corner of Lamb county and the southeast corner of Bailey county as established by the said W. H. Tilson in 1910 and recognized and approved by the then commissioner of the General Land office." The decision was signed by Wm. H. McDonald, commissioner.

County Judge Alvin R. Allison received the notice. Judge Allison and Commissioner Brooks and Tom V. Watson, secretary of the county board of development had appeared before the land commissioner in behalf of the county.

Hobbs PWA Grant Is Okayed; $27,000 To Be Received

PWA grant of $27,000 to be applied on construction of a $60,000 school building at Hobbs, N. M., has been approved, according to an Associated Press dispatch last night.

The school district will contribute the remainder of the building cost from a tax levy.

"Gly-Cas Is The Greatest Ever"

Says Mr. Lambert; Stomach And Kidneys Were Terribly Disordered; Indigestion Was Awful, Could Hardly Walk His Back Pained So—Now Like New

"Too much praise cannot be given a medicine like Gly-Cas," said Mr Lucian Lambert, Rt. No. 1, Baton Rouge, Louisiana. "For years any kind of food would cause me terrible attacks of indigestion. Gas formed after every meal I ate and bloated me until I could hardly get my breath. My heart would palpitate and I would have nervous and dizzy spells. Then my kidneys became affected and I was disturbed with night risings. I had such pains in my back that I could hardly walk. I lost my strength and energy and was tired and worn-out all of the time. But in spite of all I tried I could not find anything to help me until I finally began this new Gly Cas—it was wonderful."

"I did not realize any medicine could help me the way this new Gly-Cas did," continued Mr. Lambert. "My kidneys and bowels were regulated, the poisons removed from my system in a most natural manner and I was eating the foods I wished without any ill effects afterwards. Indigestion, gas and bloating have all gone and I now sleep fine, never disturbed and feel like an entirely different person today. Those dizzy and nervous spells have gone, new strength and energy has been given me and I cannot help but marvel at the remarkable change Gly-Cas has brought about in my stubborn case."

Gly-Cas is sold by Mark Halsey Drug Co., 1210 Broadway, this city, and by all the leading drug stores in surrounding towns. Adv.

Ever Get The Blues? People Like To Tell Of Their Troubles Even To Total Strangers

BY MARY HOWELL

From the discouraged newsboy to the health-broken aged person with financial worries, the person with "blues" likes to "get it off his chest" occasionally.

In lobbies of Lubbock hospitals, sanitariums and clinics the persons struck with reverses often pour out their troubles into ears of strangers. Occasionally they avoid the subject foremost in their minds. Snatches of conversation may be heard on every subject from baby's croup and broken legs and arms, to who John Smith's youngest girl married.

The Sources Vary

Sources of blues vary.

There's the newsboy who is "in the dumps" on only three occasions —when school starts, when he loses his dog and when "other kids beat me to a sale."

Sitting in a hospital lobby was a woman who suffered with high blood pressure. She was telling a companion, "Oh, I do so love meat and now I can't eat it, but I suppose that I should be thankful to have something to eat."

Her companion told a story of the history of her asthma and how she left East Texas and moved to Lubbock for her health. Her downstate doctor had told her that she "would not live through the winter if I stayed there another week."

Acquaintances Are Made

"Bitter-enders" in railroad stations, some of them on mercy trips to sickbeds, find acquaintances easy to make while waiting for trains as do those who travel by bus.

A young man leaving on a bus headed for Wichita Falls introduced himself to a young girl who was a student at Texas Technological college. He told her that he had gone to Tech and that he had lost his job here and was going to Wichita Falls to work for his dad. Absorbed in his "blues" the traveling boy "raked-up" acquaintance with the girl.

Nurses in training at a Lubbock hospital said that they talked about "the ways and means" of some of their most stubborn patients.

Texas Technological college students "get in the dumps" and tell their roommates and close friends "family affairs" that they would not otherwise tell. One Tech professor said that when he had the blues, he went to a golf course rather than get upset and "lose my temper."

Tries To Scare Wolf

To the man who has been without a job for two months, having the blues is nothing new. A highway worker who said that he had not worked for two months because of illness, said that he went to sleep at night "not counting sheep, but trying to scare the wolf away from the door." He could not remember what he talked about when his spirits were down.

A farmer who was waiting his turn to see a banker said that he had the blues when his government crop reduction check was not as big as he thought it should be, and that "I always try to turn the conversation away from the government check."

Several interviewed persons claimed that they did not remember "ever having the blues."

Carlisle Will Transfer Its Students; Hurlwood Won't

Proposal that grade school pupils be transferred to Frenship rural high school at Wolfforth was approved in Carlisle grade school district by a 7 to 4 vote and was defeated in Hurlwood district, 17 to 2, according to tabulations from Wednesday's election as announced by E. R. Haskins, Frenship superintendent.

Results of the election will mean that all pupils, both grade school and high school, at Carlisle will attend the Frenship school. The grammar school at Hurlwood, however, will continue to teach the first six grades. The high school pupils of that district will continue to go to Frenship as they did last year, it was explained.

The United States prison population for each 100,000 decreased from 119 in 1880 to 95 in 1932.

Tender, Aching, Swollen Feet

Your feet may be so swollen and inflamed that you think you can't go another step. Your shoes may feel as if they are cutting right into the flesh. You feel sick all over with the pain and torture; you'd give anything to get relief.

Two or three applications of Moone's Emerald Oil and in fifteen minutes the pain and soreness disappears. A few more applications at regular intervals and the swelling reduces.

And as for Soft Corns and Callouses a few applications each night at bed time and they just seem to shrivel right up and scale off. No matter how discouraged you have been if you have not tried Emerald Oil then you have something to learn; best of all any offensive odor is gone for good. John Halsey Drug will be glad to supply you. Adv.

That Girl on Broadway says sometimes her boy friend reminds her of one of those substitutes for coffee—99 per cent of the active element has been removed from the bean.

Here's a good one—kinda old but still good.

The dour man had ordered his meal and the waiter asked:

"And what will you have to drink? Our coffee is just like mother used to make."

"Much obliged for the warning," the dour man returned. "I'll take tea."

ON the front page of yesterday's Journal was an Associated Press story from Washington setting forth that the present session of Congress—aside from appropriations—will at its conclusion have cost the taxpayer $50,000 per day, or a total of $12,000,000.

Whether it is worth it or not is up to the individual to decide. But the figures reminded us of a recent speech delivered in the House by Representative Harold Knutson, of Minnesota, in which that gentleman pointed out the cost to taxpayers of the helter-skelter traveling done by New Deal employes during 1936, 1937 thus far and set down for 1938.

For your information you have helped to pay—or are going to help to pay—a three-year travel bill of 206 million dollars (yep, $206,000,000) for 1936, 1937 and 1938.

Quite a tidy little sum, but how can you expect a political clique to remain in power without sending its representatives hither, thither and yon to keep its fences up?

Just as a basis for comparison, that 206 million smackers of the realm represents more nough than it took to send the American Expeditionary forces to France—and bring 'em home.

Further than that, there's no sign of the present pace diminishing.

Conservative estimates are that until 1941 at least the cost will continue to mount proportionately.

THE sum exceeds by 89 million the travel costs for 1931, 1932 and 1933 combined and when added to the 217 millions spent in four years to mail administration propaganda to the taxpayers (that mail would fill 7,000 railroad cars) total high enough to even make Harry Hopkins sit up and take notice.

Whoopee!

And yesterday afternoon at Roanoke Island, N. C., the President continued his campaign of attempting to arouse class prejudice by making a speech directed against what he calls "the vested class."

From the looks of the government tax bill what the Treasury is going to need is bigger and better vested interests.

If it doesn't get 'em, who'll pay the freight?

A LOT of people have the idea that a newspaper editor would rather have stories with glaring headlines about murders, political scandals, fatal automobile mishaps and sex crimes than anything else.

That's because they don't know newspaper editors—outside of those strange creatures featured by the movies in the so-called newspaper pictures.

As a matter of fact, the editor outside the tabloid or sensational big city field would much rather have good development or expansion stories than any other kind.

And especially in a new growing country like West Texas, is that true.

Take, for instance, the story in yesterday's Journal concerning the expenditure of $300,000 by Texas-New Mexico Utilities company at its big plant at Tuco.

There's a yarn which the average person will read without an idea of its news value. Certainly most of them who know nothing of the newspaper business aside from that screwy idea promulgated by the movies have no idea of its far-reaching appeal.

Consider this:

In the first place, 300 grand is a whale of a lot of money outside of New Deal Washington circles and everybody is interested in money.

Secondly, the company has 18,000 customers on the North and South Plains and in New Mexico and about 10,000 of that number read Avalanche-Journal papers. Most of that 10,000 will be interested in expansion of a firm with which they do business and are a part.

Thirdly, the expansion is being made partly because of the coming era of rural electrification, which interests many a farmer and rancher and their wives who are looking forward to the day when they can flip a switch and take the same advantage of that silent servant electricity that their town friends have done for so many years.

There's nothing sensational about the Tuco expansion story, but it is good news, interesting news to a great army of people.

As a harness editor, The Plainsman makes bold to say stories of that type are more important and far-reaching than most of those dripping with gore or scandal which make one splash and then are forgotten.

"Flame Trail"

BY MARIE DE NERVAUD
(Copyright, 1937, Marie De Nervaud)

SYNOPSIS: Kay Crandon of the Lazy Nine impulsively hires Ted Gaynor, a jobless puncher. He helps her fight Josh Hastings, a "friendly" neighbor who wants Kay and her ranch. Ted and Scrap Johnson, a cowhand who molests Kay, shoot it out, wounding each other. Hastings sneaks up and kills Scrap with Ted's gun. Ted is arrested and tried for murder, but Kay stops the trial by technical protest. Ted escapes and rescues Kay from a cellar where Hastings had locked her. Back at her ranch, she stays hidden, waiting to turn up at Ted's second trial when he hopes to prove Hastings' villainy.

Chapter 47
Kay And Marion Meet

"They took Tom Runyon away from the trial to go down and investigate the fire," said Shorty.

"They did!" Kay suddenly remembered Tom Runyon's excited conference with the two men she had seen come up to him, when she had been running away from him and Josh Hastings.

"Sure." Shorty leaned forward confidentially. "Say—it looks like that Runyon bird's almost as good as he says he is." He paused, and fixed Kay with a speculative eye. "You've sure got me guessing, Kay. Here I thought you were kind of taken with this Gaynor guy. Then when it came out at the trial that you'd give away his hiding place to Tom Runyon I thought Runyon was the lucky fellow! Now, hang it all, if you don't seem a heap more stirred up about what's happened to Gaynor than to Runyon. Women sure are the beatingest!"

Shorty finished his tirade without noticing that Kay's eyes were fixed on him in a sort of trance.

"What was that you said, Shorty?" she demanded.

"Why, I was saying that I thought you liked—"

"No," Kay interrupted. "I mean about the trial—about me giving away Ted Gaynor's hiding place to Tom Runyon?"

"Say, that's no news to you, is it?" Shorty asked. "How else could Runyon have reported it to Zeke Farley?"

A great roaring in Kay's ears almost drowned out Shorty's voice.

Suddenly the answer to Ted's puzzling behavior flashed before her. How else could he have acted, if he thought she had been the one to betray his hiding place?

"But if Tom Runyon testified that," she protested wildly, "surely he told them that I was delirious and didn't know what I was saying! To my knowledge I certainly never told anyone that I had seen Ted in the shack up there!"

Shorty let out a low whistle. "So that accounts for it!" He wrinkled his forehead. "Nope. Nothing was said about your being out of your head. I got the whole thing from a fellow who was there."

With a moan, Kay buried her face in her hands. For the moment, she hated Tom Runyon even more than she did Josh Hastings. She could kill him for having given that false impression to Ted!

"Shorty!" Kay bit her lips in an effort to keep her voice steady, and her eyes failed to meet Shorty's sympathetic ones. "I—I kind of think I'd like to be alone. Thanks for the supper."

"That's O. K." Shorty shifted uneasily from one foot to the other. He made one or two false starts in an effort to say something, then abruptly took his leave.

Hunting For Ted

The gray light of dawn was stealing over the mesa when Kay let herself out the cabin door and ran down to the corral.

Whistling softly for Flicker, she held his head close for a moment, to suppress his joyous whinny. Then she saddled him and headed for the mesa, giving a wide circle to the bunk house.

After a sleepless night, Kay had arrived at one inescapable conclusion. Whatever the consequences, she couldn't let Ted get away, carrying with him the idea that she had betrayed him.

The only clue she had as to where she might find him was his statement that he was going to see if Marion Howell needed him.

In spite of her misery, Kay's heart lightened as it never had before at the thought of Marion Howell. In this new light on Ted's behavior, she saw the whole situation like a clear pattern, and her intuitive certainty that Ted really did love her reasserted itself.

During the interminable night she had fitted all the puzzling pieces of the pattern together—Ted's gruffness and bitterness, after the first moment of abandon when he had kissed her; his remarks, so meaningless before, that he couldn't trust her to know he had gone to Marion; the certainty that Ted's feeling for Marion was that of a grateful friend.

"How like him," Kay thought, "to risk his own safety for friendship as well as for love!"

A tender smile lighted her face for a moment. She gave Flicker free rein, and as they raced over the mesa, her mind flew from one memory of Ted to another, always coming back to the dread question: would she find him? Or would she be too late, and have to resign herself forever to be branded in his mind as a traitor?

Goaded by this thought, Kay urged Flicker to his topmost speed. By the time the sun was over the horizon, she was once more ascending the fatally familiar trail.

Up and up she went, then plunged down between the two divides, only to ascend still higher. As she gained the upper reaches, she was aware of a faint, acrid smell.

Kay's eyes scanned the sky to the south, and as a bend in the trail gave her momentarily an unobstructed view, she detected a haze lying low over the far distant wooded ridge.

Certain now that she had smelled smoke, Kay soothed Flicker's restiveness, and pushed resolutely on. As Shorty had said, the fire was too far away to worry about, and with all the forces of the fire fighters against it, it was surely under control by now.

As Kay passed the stone monument, marking the old boundary between the states, she felt a glow of satisfaction at the memory of her success in using that fact.

At last the pass was behind her and, with beating heart, she reached the headwaters of the Bitter Root and Clear Water rivers, and made for the shack on the south ridge. Leaving Flicker, Kay pushed her way through the underbrush, and came out finally on the clearing.

Tears And Comfort

The shack loomed at the end of the open space, as deserted looking as ever. Kay ran to the front door, calling first Ted, then Marion Howell.

As she pushed open the outer door, the inner one was pulled back, and Marion confronted her.

"What do you want?"

For a moment, Kay was speechless at the change that had taken place in Marion. Her delicate beauty had given way under the strain, and instead of the attractive girl Kay had glimpsed before, she faced a totally different person. Her whole aspect was haggard, and her forehead lined with desperate anxiety.

Kay put an impulsive, pleading hand on her arm. "Please let me come in! I'm Kay Crandon, and I must see you! Is Ted Gaynor here?"

A hard look of dislike flashed over Marion's face. "Why?" she demanded. "So you can give him up again?"

"I didn't." Kay's agonized denial had a ring of truth that made Marion pause a moment, as she tried to free herself from Kay's detaining hand.

"You must believe me!" Kay went on, holding Marion's arm all the more firmly. "I did see Ted

CLEANING UP ITS OWN BACKYARD

Now that the tumult and the shouting attendant upon the great income tax dodging investigation—flung into the headlines eight years too late by the New Deal administration in order to detract public attention from President Roosevelt's court-packing defeat—has died away let's, as Al Smith would say, "take a look at the record."

While the hubbub was at its greatest and the headlines were the blackest, many a thoughtful American suspected that the whole business would boomerang right back into the lap of the Treasury department. A reading of the department's 1936-37 fiscal year report will hardly serve to change their opinion.

With all the hullabaloo raised about the millions lost under one tax-evading scheme and another, the report now reveals that the Treasury's agents uncovered only 295 individuals whom they recommended for tax prosecution.

And while they were doing that, they had to investigate 126 employes of the revenue bureau itself on various charges, resulting in the discharge of 103 and the prosecution of 11 others. Ten of the 11 were convicted.

The Treasury department seems to do a fair share of its work in keeping itself straight.

And what's that adage about removing the mote from one's own eye before starting on that in his neighbor's optic?

A Thought . .

I have shewed you all things, how that so labouring ye ought to support the weak, and to remember the words of the Lord Jesus, how he said, It is more blessed to give than to receive.—Acts 20:35.

Hollywood Chit-Chat

BY PAUL HARRISON
Journal Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 19—In a town that is jammed with half-hearted hobbyists and gadget scientists of the Major Hoople type, it's nice to find one actor who's doing something technically important and impressive. Without ballyhoo, too.

Indeed, the studio biography of Siegfried Rumann doesn't even mention that this busy German actor is a biologist, microscopist and micro-photographer, a member of the New York Academy of Science, and an amateur collaborator with some scientists of the California Institute of Technology in research on genetics and heredity.

When a bored actor buys a cheap, myopic telescope, his praise agent sends out excited accounts of how he is sitting up nights discovering new comets and nebulae. Any player possessing more than 10 postage stamps is a "philatelist." An actor who knows how to change a spark plug on a car is likely to learn in his publicity releases that he has invented a new type of supercharger and is hard at work on a turbo-generator power plant for automobiles.

But Siegfried Rumann has no press agent. The reason I went to his house for lunch was because he promised potato pancakes and some old Moselle. The reason I stayed all afternoon was because he revealed, in thousands of magnifications, some glimpses of another world.

Besides working in his biological laboratory, the actor takes pictures, paints pictures, etches, carves in wood, spins metal, raises ducks, geese and chickens, gardens, and plays the piano, guitar, violin and accordion. In the last six months he has appeared in eight pictures. I fogot to ask what he does with his spare time.

More Exciting Than Garbo

There is no space here for trying to tell about his laboratory and its bewildering array of equipment. But I can give you an idea of what he has been doing there lately. He raises fruit flies, which are practically gnats. He takes an embryonic fly, between the larva and pupa stage, and extracts from it its salivary gland. In this gland are a lot of cells. He takes one of the cells and from the nucleus extracts the chromosomes. These look like segmented worms, or strings of discs. He prepares these chromosomes on slides and then takes pictures of them.

To Rumann and other scientists these pictures are more exciting than the film of a Garbo kiss. Probably you and I never will have to worry much about chromosomes, but the people who know about such things believe that they hold the secrets of inherited characteristics and perhaps of life itself.

The actor also raises and studies numerous elemental creatures, and some of his movies of microscopic life have played to capacity audiences of scientists at New York's Museum of Natural History. He raised black widow spiders for a time, and still has a pet tarantula about the place. But since a Cal-Tech professor discovered his astonishing success in micro-photography and sought his aid, Rumann's principal activity has been in the technique of using fine instruments—preparing specimens and all that.

He Loves To Act

He talks of these things with the fervor of a man who has no other interest in life. Actually, he cares more about acting than anything else. As a boy and a young man in Germany he always declared that he wanted to be an actor. His parents insisted that he first master a profession, so he chose biology and bacteriology. As soon as he returned with his degrees he went into the theater.

He fought through the war for Germany, and was wounded three times. Six years later he went to New York, played in German language stock companies, entertained in night clubs, was discovered by George Jessell and cast in "The War Song." Next came "Channel Road" and Rumann found himself a distinguished actor. He played Preysing in "Grand Hotel" and appeared with Katharine Cornell.

During his three years in Hollywood his parts have not been so big—but good, most of them. He was the doctor in "A Day at the Races," and is playing a scientist in the comedy, "Nothing Sacred." Mostly, though, Rumann is cast as a heavy, or as a stern German officer. He has the latter role in the forthcoming "Life of a Lancer Spy."

'U. S. Plans To Lease Warships To Brazil'

Senator Black, Not Franklin Roosevelt, Is Father Of "New Deal", Dutcher Shows

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19—Senator Hugo Black of Alabama is a loyal, unquestioning follower of the administration and owes his Supreme court appointment largely to his subservience to Roosevelt. So goes the patter.

Dutcher

The facts are something else again.

And the big outstanding fact of which perhaps Roosevelt himself isn't aware is that in four years the President has swung completely around from primary tenets of his original political - economic philosophy to the policies advocated in 1933 by Black. Vital policies which Roosevelt refused to accept when Black urged them then are now among the brightest jewels in the New Deal store window.

Urged Wage-Hour Bill

Few are aware that Black first voted to knock out the NRA or code section of the National Industrial Recovery act, then voted for NIRA when it carried the Borah anti-monopoly amendment and finally voted against the finished measure as it came from conference for reasons which Black explained in a long-forgotten speech. In that speech made June 12, 1933, you will find much of what is sometimes called now, "The New New Deal."

Black urged a flat wage-hour bill in which wage and hour standards would be declared by Congress and enforced by the government and in which there would be no trade practice provisions or sops to industry.

He predicted collapse of NRA. Today Roosevelt stands behind Black's bill which strictly concerns itself with wages and hours.

Black argued against an act which would permit price-fixing and restraint of production. Roosevelt approved the measure.

Today Roosevelt has declared against price-fixing, has taken several steps toward lowering prices and is searching for a method of obtaining the highest possible level of production with the lowest feasible level of prices.

Demanded Profits Curb

Black demanded government regulation of profits rather than a code system which would enable manufacturers to establish their own profit margin, holding that reduction of competition through NIRA would largely end the competitive system and perhaps destroy it. Roosevelt finally has come to the view that excessive profits must be cut down both by taxation and suppression of monopolies and other price-fixing combinations.

Black insisted that consumers must be protected from exploitation by profiteers. Roosevelt got around to that in his Madison Square Garden speech last fall and is definitely sold on the idea.

Anticipated Program

In general, Black declared years in advance many of the general principles of the Hopkins-Eccles-Henderson-Coyle political-economic theory among whose points are selective excess profit taxation, payment of social security costs by income taxes, "drawing off surplus income and giving it back to the poor," raising mass purchasing power, anti-trust prosecutions. The theory also proposes action against monopoly and collusive bidding and volume production at low prices. It is this general theory which Roosevelt privately espouses today.

"I am not personally vitally interested in a bill which does not narrow the gap between the profits that go into the pockets of labor and the profits that go into the pockets of capital," said Black. "I had an amendment which I really intended to offer to this bill at the outset, but I found that I had no chance of securing its adoption and therefore did not offer it. It would have added to the part of the bill giving the right to fix the maximum hours of labor and the minimum wages the words 'maximum profits.'"

NRA is long since dead. Black had the gift of prophecy. But the record of that speech leaves him firmly believing that either competition or government—and not monopolies and price-fixing combines—must regulate prices and profits. It leaves him in the same canoe with Roosevelt—and Black got there first.

7-YR. VICTIM OF GASSY STOMACH

Couldn't Sleep; Bowels Were Irregular; But Now Van-Tage Has Relieved Her.

Mrs. Loretta Foutch, of 1225 Curtis St., Denver, Colo., is publicly endorsing Van-Tage, which is the "Amazing Mixture of Nature's Roots and Herbs and Other Splendid Ingredients," now being introduced in this city at the Mark Halsey Drug Store.

Mrs. Foutch

"I had been suffering with stomach gas and sluggish bowels for 7 years," said Mrs. Foutch. "I couldn't eat a thing without having terrible gas pains all through my stomach, and I had attacks of heartburn. The gas pains would torture me so much I couldn't sleep. I was very irregular, too, and had to resort to strong physics. All this suffering made me nervous and irritable. I heard about Van-Tage and decided to try it. I have taken two bottles and I feel like a different person. The gas pains have been wonderfully relieved and I do not have heartburn like I did, and I am very regular for the first time in years. Van-Tage has certainly proved to be all that it is represented to be."

VAN-TAGE helps invigorate bowel, stomach and kidney action. Its 21 Great Herbs and Other Splendid Medicinal Agents (over 30 Ingredients in all) have a surprising effect on suffering people. Due to the immense volume in which it sells, Van-Tage is NOT expensive, so get it—TODAY—at the Mark Halsey Drug Store, 1221 Broadway. Adv.

Changing Pay Of Officials Urged

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Aug. 19 — Governor James V. Allred publicly stamped his approval today on all of the constitutional amendments to be voted on August 23.

Although he will be in San Angelo election day, attending the state convention of the American Legion, he will cast an absentee ballot for the proposed changes in the constitution.

In announcing how he would vote, the governor also called attention to the fact one amendment would not abolish the new salary plan of remunerating county, district and precinct officials and make return to the fee method mandatory.

"The amendment merely would give the legislature power to provide a system,' he said. "In other words, the legislature would have some discretion in the matter."

Present Plan Unsatisfactory

"We now have a part salary and part fee system which is very unsatisfactory. The precinct officers in the big counties and all the officers in the smaller counties are on fees. The system is costing the state a large sum and officers are not giving the service they formerly gave."

Allred said a delegation of county judges and auditors would be here tomorrow to urge a large state appropriation for county officers' salaries under the present system.

The governor took a rap in passing at all detailed legislation in the constitution, asserting such action often made it impossible for the legislature to provide needed adjustments.

Government Offers Vacant, Unreserved Lands For Lease

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19 (AP)—The government has offered for lease all vacant and unreserved public lands in the United States exclusive of Alaska.

The offer, Secretary Ickes said, included all lands in temporary one-year leases but did not include lands included in any grazing district established under provisions of the Taylor grazing act.

Lands included in the order are desert lands, mountain lands and semi-arid plains.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Aug. 19 (AP) — Wheat prices quickly recovered today from downturns at the outset. Commercial estimates indicated the wheat crop in France was 23,000,000 bushels under that of a year ago.

Opening unchanged to 7-8 of a cent lower, September 1.10 - 10 1-8, December 1.11 7-8 - 12 1-8, Chicago wheat futures then rallied. Corn started 5-8 off to 1-2 up, September 90 1-2 - 3-4, December 66 1-2 - 3-4.

High Meat Costs

ulate livestock marketings. This week hogs have taken the sharpest tumble in months, dropping $1 per hundredweight from last week's top. Best fresh pork loin cuts, for example, have declined 3 1-2 cents per pound wholesale from last week's highs and some beef cuts also have been lowered.

Experts said the possibility of a general recession in meat hinged largely on the harvest of big grain crops this year. Resistance of consumers to normal purchases, they said, will tend to keep price rises in check but no material downturn was in prospect until receipts were increased.

Normal Gains The Key

This might occur through normal marketing gains in the fall and winter.

The country dipped into its reserve supplies of meat heavily last month and cut stocks to the third smallest for August 1 since the world war. Supplies have declined 46 per cent in five months.

Tending to restrict livestock marketings, however, will be producers' desire to build up their animal supplies with increased feed available this year. There are 20 percent fewer cattle on feed in the middle west than a year ago.

Seven Killed By Blast Of Live Steam Aboard U. S. Destroyer

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 19 (AP) — A blast of live steam in the fire room of the U. S. Destroyer Cassin killed seven workmen today and scalded nine others, including seven sailors.

The Cassin had been in drydock for several days for repairs. Steam pressure on the vessel had been raised to test the valves. One of the main pipes in the fire room burst, filling the room with live steam.

Cotton Market

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 19. (AP) — Cotton prices continued on a downward trend today and made new season lows for the second successive day as opening figures registered net declines of 6 to 10 points.

The October position went as low as 10.01, after opening at 10.02. That option closed yesterday at 10.12. Dec. opened at 10.09, Jan at 10.14, March at 10.20, May 10.28 and July 10.31.

Prices were unchanged to slightly above the opening figures at the end of the first half hour of trading.

Persistent belief that the government would authorize a nine cent a pound loan and bullish interpretation of western weather reports were believed responsible for the decline.

NEW YORK FUTURES

NEW YORK, Aug. 19. (AP)—Cotton futures opened barely steady, down 6 to 9 points on lower Liverpool cables, rains in the western belt and under foreign selling. Oct. 10.05; Dec. 10.04; Jan. 10.06; March 10.15; May 10.22; July 10.26.

Prices eased into further new low ground, carrying Dec. within two points of the 10-cent level. Offerings were largely from abroad, including Liverpool. Hedge selling also furnished contracts but southern offerings were limited.

Buying was limited largely to trade interests. Dec. which had reacted from 10.06 to 10.02, sold at 10.03 shortly after the first half hour, when the list was 6 to 8 points net lower.

Airplane Kidnaping

stieq 'em up,' he commanded.

"I raised my hands. The plane started going up. 'Put your hands on the controls,' he ordered."

Hunt said his passenger ordered him to fly to Laredo, to which he protested he had no money and very little gasoline.

"Never mind, we'll just mooch some gasoline," the pilot quoted Hamerly as saying. The plane flew on toward nearby Rosenberg, where Hunt brought it down in a pasture.

"We came up on some negroes picking cotton and tried to find someone who could get us some gas. We were referred to the farm owner. We were talking to him when Hamerly turned his back on me. I jumped on him, pinned his arms to his side and disarmed him."

Officers soon came to arrest Hamerly and he was returned to Houston.

The charge of robbery with firearms accused Hamerly of forcing taxicab driver Bill Ray to give up his car near the flying field. The cab was found later.

Gets "Student Ride"

The accused youth a few momenis later persuaded Pilot Hunt to take him up in the ship as a prospective student flier.

Hunt said Hamerly changed his attitude very quickly when he was overpowered.

"After I had thrown the gun on him," the pilot said, "the youth became very meek. He apologized for holding me up, and then said he didn't know what had prompted him to do it."

Pat. Neff, Jr., Says He Never Intended Becoming Candidate

AUSTIN, Aug. 19 (AP)—Pat Neff, jr., an assistant attorney general, has disclaimed any intention of being a candidate for the office of attorney general in next year's Democratic primaries. Neff's statement was directed at rumors he had "withdrawn" from the race.

Price-Cutting Is To Be Outlawed

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19—President Roosevelt signed, with expressed reluctance, today a bill designed to eliminate price-cutting of nationally advertised manufactured products.

The measure, which slipped through congress as an amendment, or rider, to the District of Columbia tax bill, effectuates "fair trade" acts now in force in 42 states. It exempts them from federal anti-trust laws.

The extent of the effect of the measure depends on the state laws. Generally, however, it will permit manufacturers of everything from face powder to cigarettes to contract with retailers to maintain their prices.

There is some belief on the part of officials here that the effect of the price maintenance plan may be to raise the costs of some articles. President Roosevelt mentioned this in a statement issued at the time the White House announced the bill was signed.

"I have decided to sign the bill," he said, "in the hope that it will not be as harmful as most people predict."

Aimed At Price-Cutting

Representative Miller (D-Ark.), a backer of the measure, said the legislation was aimed at "predatory price-cutting as a weapon of monopolistic large distributors to crush small business men."

The names in which the price maintenance plan was put through congress as a rider drew sharp criticism from Mr. Roosevelt.

"In the present case, I have no hesitation to approving the tax legislation for the District of Columbia, but I have distinct hesitation of approving the rider which weakens the anti-trust laws," the president said.

The price-maintenance legislation would effectuate "fair trade" acts now on statute books of all states except Delaware, Mississippi, Missouri, Alabama, New Hampshire and Texas, by exempting them from application of federal anti-trust laws.

The state acts make lawful contracts between manufacturers and distributors whereby retail prices are set up for trade mark or identified merchandise of the same general class.

Justifiable Homicide Reported In Slaying

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., Aug. 19 (AP)—A coroner's jury rendered here today a verdict of "justifiable homicide in the line of duty" at an inquest into the slaying of Alfred "Sonny" Lamb, 26, escaped Texas convict, last Sunday night by a squad of state and county officers.

The jury returned its verdict after less than an hour of testimony by the raiding officers. Assistant Supt. of State Police Bob LaFollette described the raid and how Lamb was slain after he ignored a command to surrender.

He told also how Lamb carried ten rifles, shotguns and pistols in a brown leather golf bag.

Sheriff Marion Anderson said at the conclusion of the hearing that the guns and Lamb's personal effects had been attached by the owner of the house where the raid took place for damages to the house."

Anderson said Lamb's widow, Mrs. Lorene Feaster Lamb, taken into custody at the time of the slaying, would be held for further investigation. Lamb's body was to be sent to Berryville, Ark., this afternoon for burial. His mother and a brother attended the inquest.

Search Is Made For Two Bodies

(By The Associated Press)

FORT WORTH, Aug. 19 — In the choppy waters of Eagle Mountain lake, 12 miles northwest of here, boatmen with grapple hooks tonight sought to recover the bodies of Hovey Duringer, 34, and his wife, Mrs. Mildred Barnett Duringer, 28.

The pair, officers were told by a friend, Mrs. Anna May Taylor, mysteriously toppled over the side of their boat early today while Mrs. Taylor looked on terror-stricken.

Drifts For Hours

Mrs. Taylor drifted for hours on the lake before finally being glown ashore, then went to a farmhouse and notified officers.

Officers from the office of Sheriff A. B. Carter became convinced that the couple was missing after finding the boat in which he couple and Mrs. Taylor were riding and also the Duringer automobile.

Mrs. Taylor related the following story:

About 6 p. m. yesterday Mr. and Mrs. Duringer came by her home and inquired if she would like to go fishing with them. She agreed.

Invited To Go Riding

Duringer rented a boat and said he was going to set a trot line. He returned in a short while and invited his wife and Mrs. Taylor to go riding.

After the trio had floated on the lake's surface for about 20 minutes, Duringer dived into the water "to cool off." He swam for a short time then returned to the craft. Ten minutes later, according to Mrs. Taylor, Duringer jumped from one side of the boat and Mrs. Duringer from the other.

The Duringers were married on Feb. 13, 1935.

On Aug. 5 this year annulment proceedings were filed by Duringer's mother, Mrs. Bernice Duringer. The case is still pending in seventeenth district court.

Houston Youth Goes Gunning For Airplane Ride And Lands In Jail; Kidnaping Charged

(By The Associated Press)

HOUSTON, Aug. 19 — Nineteen-year-old Jack Hamerly went gunning for a plane ride today and landed in jail.

Young Hamerly who admitted he drew a pistol on Pilot Bob Hunt 2,000 feet in the air and ordered him to fly to Laredo, was charged in Justice J. M. Ray's court with kidnaping.

Detectives Arch Spradley and Ira Williams said the youth admitted he tried to force Hunt to fly him to Laredo, where he said he planned to look for work.

Nearly everything went wrong with the forced flight, which ended when Pilot Hunt snatched Hamerly's pistol while he was bartering with a farmer near Rosenberg for gasoline.

Hunt said Hamerly arrived at the airport about ten miles out of Houston in a taxicab. Cab Driver Bill Ray said the cab was taken from him at pistol point near the airport.

The aviator said the youth talked him into taking him up in the plane, which belonged to Francis Walton, pretending that he planned to buy flying lessons from Hunt.

"About 2,000 feet in the air," Hunt said, "the boy poked a pistol in my back and told me to head for Laredo. I told him I didn't have enough gasoline and had no money. The boy said, 'never mind. We'll just mooch some gasoline.'

"I set the plane down at the first convenient spot, which proved to be a field on Harlem state prison farm. When the boy discovered we were on the prison farm, he made me take off again without waiting to look for gasoline."

Later Hunt landed in a pasture near Rosenberg. The aviator said the youth hailed a boy who was picking cotton in a field.

The farm boy called his father. Hamerly started negotiations for some gasoline. Hunt slipped around behind his abductor, grabbed the pistol and sent for officers.

Constable P. A. Hamilton arrived, arrested Hamerly. Houston detectives returned Hamerly to Houston.

'Must Have Been Somebody Else,' Declares John Roosevelt, Denying Charge That He Squirted Champagne In Face Of Mayor

(By The Associated Press)

PARIS, Aug. 19—John Roosevelt youngest son of President Roosevelt denied today that he had squirted champagne in the face of the mayor of Cannes or slapped him with a bouquet of flowers at a Cannes "battle of flowers" on Sunday.

He said the playful celebrant must have been someone else.

Mayor Pierre Nouveau, who had a telephone conversation today with American Ambassador William C. Bullitt, asserted:

Wishes Affair Ended

"I was told that my attacker was young Roosevelt although I had never seen him before. I regret to say that I am certain now it was Mr. Roosevelt. I wish the whole affair were ended."

Cannes hummed with talk over the incident which, the mayor's aides said, arose when Mayor Nouveau attempted to present a bouquet to the occupant of a carriage at the annual "battle of flowers."

Roosevelt, with John Drayton of Boston, Mass., was riding about in a two-horse carriage during the festival.

In Paris the president's son said:

"The first inkling I had of the whole sitation was when a London newspaper called me here early today. I have no idea how the situation came up.

"I never met the mayor of Cannes. There were no speeches. I don't know anything about it.

"If that did happen it could be nothing else but a case of mistaken identity. It certainly must have been somebody else."

He gave his version of the affair after a lengthy conference with Ambassador Bullitt.

Friends declared that he was anxious to return to Cannes to permit the mayor to look at him and find out it was all a mistake. He was prevailed upon not to do it, they added.

Roosevelt, a Harvard student, has been on an eight weeks' tour of the continent with young Drayton. It was learned they plan to sail for America September 1.

Shanghai Is Turned Into Kaleidoscope Of Terror And Ruin; Woman Describes Scene

By ELIZABETH LANTRY HARRIS
(Wife of The Associated Press Correspondent in Shanghai)

SHANGHAI, Aug. 19 (AP) — This once-gay metropolis of the Orient is a kaleidoscope of terror and ruin today, as the Sino-Japanese conflict races on in a thunder of cannonading.

Frenzied activity of evacuating more than two thousand American and British women and children engulfs the bund. Luggage-laden collies stream and children engulfs the bund, along the world-famous thoroughfare of luxury and pleasure, calling excitedly as they race to keep up with the owners of the luggage . . .

Taxis push their way in and out of the crowds. The harsh sound of their horns mingles with the chatter of rifle and machine-gun fire and the roar of artillery. Hordes of ragged Chinese refugees jam into the avenue to gape in curiosity at the spectacle . . .

From the terror and confusion of the waterfront the women and children enter tenders to board liners which will carry them out to sea and safety.

Japanese and Chinese aircraft roar overhead, anti-aircraft guns fire at them. Shell splinters fall in the water around the tenders and on them. But all arrive safely.

Along Nanking road, where hundreds died in Saturday's tragic bombing, the only inhabitants are two bodies. Few living persons pass by . . .

Crops In Texas Are Improved

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Aug. 19 — Texas crops benefitted in July despite moisture deficiency and extreme heat.

In a crop report, based on Aug. 1 conditions, the United States department of agriculture said local showers were beneficial in many areas and early feed crops in most districts were too far advanced to be seriously injured by high temperatures which held cotton insects in check.

Corn improved in July and an indicated yield of 76,551,000 bushels compared with 68,925,000 produced last year, prospective pecan production was 24,000,000 pounds compared with 10,400,000 in 1936.

Sorghums Less Than 1936

In spite of curtailed acreage the department said grain sorghum fields would yield 52,768,000 bushels, slightly less than last year.

Rice production, estimated at 12,444,000 bushels, was 22 per cent above the 1936 yield. Prospects for peaches and pears improved and slightly higher productions were forecast.

stand.

The American consulate learned that Japanese planes had bombed the American mission hospital school and one American residence at Natungchow, up the Yangtze river in Kiangsu province, Aug. 17. All Americans were safe, according to information reaching the American consulate here.

Chinese artillery batteries opened the seventh day of undeclared but terrible war for Shanghai at dawn, shelling Japanese land positions and warships in the Whangpoo river with a heavy barrage fire believed to be preparatory to a major offensive.

Casualties Reported Mounting

But before the expected Chinese land attack could be launched the Japanese struck.

The Japanese attack was launched behind a counter-barrage that swept both sides of the Whangpoo. The industrial city of Poolung, on the east bank across from Shanghai proper, was in flames.

Exceptionally numerous casualties were reported on both sides. The shelling of the Japanese troops east of Kiangwan was murderously heavy.

Fires were ranging all over the area, throwing up a giant curtain of smoke between Kiangwan and Shanghai. The flagship of the United States Asiatic fleet, the cruiser Augusta, in the foreground of the Whangpoo river, presented a majestic picture against the fire-enveloped Kiangwan and Woosung sector in the distance.

Japanese reports said a Chinese powder magazine and arsenal at Nanking had exploded when it was bombed by raiding Japanese planes. A fire was said to be raging in the capital.

War Status Imposed

This great metropolis of 3,500,000 persons went on a truly wartime basis today. Public utilities supplying the essentials of the city's life and activity ordered utmost conservation of their services.

The operators disclosed vital coal supplies were running low and emergency oil installations were being rushed to maintain operations. The city will be virtually lightless henceforth with the main current restricted to hospitals, evacuation depots and the like.

Foreign communities already have gone on wartime rations. The American club, which has become the great downtown center of American interests, is feeding huge numbers of people. The usually elaborate menus, however, have been cut down to soup, beef stew and bread.

Reinforcements were being rushed here for the international settlement guard. The arrival of 1,200 additional French troops from Indo-China was expected momentarily. They will bring the total of foreign troops in Shanghai to approximately 7,000, with 4,000 more on the warships lying in the harbor.

Foreign Forces Stand By

The United States has 1,900 marines, Great Britain 2,100 soldiers and France 1,700 soldiers and sailors.

British troops began preparations for an organized defense of the international settlement against any attempted invasion by either Chinese or Japanese troops. The settlement, they said, would be defended at all costs.

Barbed-wire entanglements and sand bag barricades were erected for many miles along all approaches to the settlement.

American consular officials telegraphed all Americans at Nantungchow to evacuate immediately.

Consul General Gauss ordered all women members of his staff to leave Shanghai on the liner President Hoover, which will sail from Woosung Friday after a record trip from Manila with 400 reinforcements for the marine squad.

The Hoover will carry at least 1,000 American and Filipino women and children to safety. If necessary the liner can carry 1,500 refugees. Almost 1,000 Americans have already been evacuated.

Chaotic Conditions Observed

Scorning evacuation, many American women rallied to the aid of wounded Chinese soldiers and the tens of thousands of Chinese refugees whose plight is pitiable. Scenes in the city's overcrowded hospitals were reminiscent of World war days.

More than 400 Americans and other foreigners were stranded at the mountain resort of Kuling when the Chinese blockaded the Yangtze river at Chinkiang to prevent the Japanese navy from operating against Hankow and Nanking.

Most of them are missionaries, business men, school teachers and students of the American school.

The Chinese masses were rioting for food and water and mob violence was reported increasing.

A middle-aged Chinese, alleged to have thrown a poisonous powder into boiled water in a shop in the French concession, was beaten to death as a traitor by his countrymen. Six other alleged traitors were strangled to death by the mobs.

Graves May Appoint His Wife Senator

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19 (AP) — Congressmen from Alabama said today they understood Governor Bibb Graves of that state had decided to appoint his wife, Mrs. Dixie Graves, as temporary senate successor to Hugo L. Black, new Supreme court justice.

They said Mrs. Graves might be in Washington tomorrow to take the oath as senator.

The governor was expected to call an election next year to fill the vacancy for the remainder of Black's term, which expires in January 1939.

If so, Mrs. Graves would serve during at least a part of the 1938 session of congress.

Pierre Brooks Of Dallas Is To Be Candidate For State Office

AUSTIN, Aug. 19 (AP) — Pierce Brooks of Dallas, unsuccessful candidate for governor two years ago, said here today he would seek an office in next year's election, but was not prepared to say at this time what it would be.

Carlisle Team Is Winner Of Contest

Carlisle park swimmers won an upset victory in a closely contested aquatic meet held at City pool late Thursday as part of the city parks recreation program.

Swimmers and divers from Carlisle park netted 52 points, Pioneer park 38 points, and Mackenzie park, 29 points.

Both boys and girls entered contests as a part of the Works Progress administration recreation program, sponsored by the City of Lubbock. Bill Witt, project supervisor, was in charge.

Winners Are Listed

Winners in the contests were:

Wanda Berry, Carlisle, won the 80-foot free style for girls under 12 years of age. In the boys' division Billy Daniels, Carlisle, was first. Mackenzie park's entries won the boys' 160-foot relay.

Joe E. Baldridge, Carlisle, captured first honors in the division for boys 12 to 15 years of age in the 200-foot free style. Frank Redwine of Pioneer took the 100-foot back stroke. Carlisle's contestants won both the 400-foot relay and the 400-foot medley.

In the division for girls 12 to 15 years of age, Mamie Calhoun of Pioneer was first in the 100-foot free style. Lucille Hvass took the 100-foot free style in the division for girls from 15 to 17 years of age.

Diving honors went to Bobby Meiser, boys' division, and Wilma Judd, girls' division, both of Mackenzie park.

Two entries were permitted in each event from each of the city parks participating in the project. Entries were accepted up to 3 o'clock, an hour before contests began, provided they were submitted by playground supervisor.

here. But wild horses wouldn't have dragged it from me. I was racing home and was thrown. Tom Runyon found me and carried me back. I was delirious then, and for several days afterward. Whatever I may have said, it is not fair to lay it up against me."

For a long moment Marion gazed at her. Kay's eyes met hers without faltering, a desperate appeal in their yellow brown depths, that gradually gave way to a mixture of pride and grief.

"You love him, too!" Without knowing what she was saying, Kay burst forth with this exclamation, a confession of her inner fear.

"You poor dear!" Marion's hard look faded, and she drew Kay inside. "Of course I don't! I'm engaged myself, so you need have no concern over my feeling for Ted. Nor of his feeling for you. That time you saw us, he was telling me how much he loved you!"

In her sudden revulsion of feeling Kay found herself weeping her heart out on Marion's shoulder, while Marion gently led her to the bunk and sat down beside her, murmuring soothing words, until her paroxysm should have passed.

"Where is he?" Kay sobbed at last, when her emotion allowed her thoughts to become more coherent and articulate. "I can't let him go away, believing that of me!"

Marion made a despairing, helpless gesture. "God knows where he is! He turned up last night when I was on the point of going mad! I don't know what would have happened if he hadn't come."

She shuddered, and her eyes darkened with the tragic anxiety that her sympathy for Kay had for the moment blotted out. "He's gone after my father."

"Your father!" Kay echoed in surprise. "Why, where is your father?"

"I'm going to tell you the whole story." Marion declared impulsively. "I know I can trust you, and I just have to tell someone. I'm nearly crazy!"

"Tell me!" It was Kay's turn to assume the role of comforter.

Tomorrow, Ted witnesses the end of Marion's demented father.

Large Corn Crop For Terry County Is Being Expected

BROWNFIELD, Aug. 19, (Special)—One of the largest corn crops in the history of Terry county is predicted by County Agent R. N. McClain.

McClain estimated the 1937 acreage at between 60,000 and 70,000 acres and that the lowest yield would be 20 bushels an acre. Ordinarily, Terry county ranks third in Texas in corn production.

Boy Scouts Off On Encampment Jaunt

Twenty-eight Boy Scouts and seven adult leaders left on schedule shortly after dawn this morning on the two-day bus trip to the Sacramento mountains of New Mexico for a 10-day encampment.

The party, according to Earl M. McClure, council executive, will camp tonight at Roswell, N. M., and reach their destination Friday. Returning, they will leave Aug. 29, visit Carlsbad caverns and arrive here late the following day. Lyndon T. Grant, assistant executive, will be director of the camp, which will be established at an altitude of about 9,000 feet 12 miles from Weed, N. M.

Expects Visits From Parents

Expectation is, McClure said, that parents and friends of the scouts may visit the encampment on weekends during the outing. He said, however, that visitors to the camp itself will be received only on Sundays and Thursdays. The boys, he added, will receive their mail if addressed in care of "South Plains Council Boy Scout camp", at Weed.

Although the boys will camp in tents, Grant said, cabins are nearby should weather prove unfavorable.

Features Are Scheduled

Features of their activities will include pack saddle trips, a visit to the white sands of New Mexico, a two-day chuck wagon journey and a visit to Rim Rock, one of the higher peaks in the mountains.

Boys who left for the camp are Jack Abbott, John Carter Beyers, Ollun Foster, Bruce Kelley, Lewis Mills, Tom Prideaux, Charles Rush, Homer Stiles, Billy Tucker and Billy Wright, all of Lubbock; Hilburn Gilliam, Malcolm Harp, Dee Hale, Frank Hodges, H. L. McQuien, Robert Ragan, Doyle Sears, Eugene Smith and Winfred Spencer, all of Lamesa; Pike Godfrey, Raymond Ince, C. J. Lane, Jr., Bill Laine, Jeff Smart and V. C. Smart, all of S[illegible], James Neblett and Billy Tun[illegible], Matador; and Herman Carr[illegible], Slaton.

Adult leaders, additional to Grant, will be: Lowry Loveless, Lamesa, and Rev. M. H. Pikes, O'Donnell, assistants to the director; Opal Neil, Tulia, cook; Ned Hogan, and R. S. Laine of Spur, and W[illegible] Smith of Slaton.
