Chamber luncheon to honor Ramage

Bob Ramage and his two sons, Alan and Robert, owners of Ramage Appliance, have been named runner-up Small Business Persons of the Year for the State of Texas, Lubbock District.

The Ramages will be honored on Friday, May 10, at noon at the Civic Center, with a luncheon sponsored by the Colorado City Chamber of Commerce.

The Chamber nominated Ramage Appliance for the competition, which was held in Lubbock in March, not only because Chamber members felt the business met and far exceeded all of the suggested selection criteria, but also because of the innovativeness of its service.

Ramage Appliance has staying power, one of the criteria needed for the nomination. The business, established in 1964, has been in continuous operation for nearly 30 years.

The Ramages work from their convenient business site on Hickory Street, a short distance from Interstate 20, to offer customers in Colorado City, as well as surrounding towns, quality furniture and appliance sales and repair.

The business contains its own repair shop and offers its own maintenance program.

Bob Ramage started with an appliance repair shop in the garage of his home. Later, he became the area's Whirlpool representative, and began ordering appliances, one type at a time, as well as taking catalog orders for his customers.

Alan Ramage graduated from Colorado High School in 1966 and enrolled in Howard College in Big Spring. He managed his schedule so that he could return to help out at the store on the weekends.

Later he continued to manage his work schedule while attending Angelo State University. In 1971, he became store manager.

Robert Ramage graduated from CHS in 1970 and enlisted for two years in the armed services.

The annual Colorado High School Spring Sports Banquet was held on Thursday, May 2, to honor student-athletes who have achieved success by working hard with their respected teammates in battle and for themselves in the classroom.

The night began with a wonderful singing performance by Twyla Foreman, a popular growing entertainer from Abilene. Once she concluded Coach Wayne Alexander introduced the 1990-91 Lady Wolves basketball team in which he awarded junior Tracy Hoover the Most Valuable Player trophy.

Hoover was an All-District and Cross Road Country Honor Roll selectee. She also led the team in

From left, city workers Tony Sosa, Pete Andrews and Bill Stinson load a heavy case into their truck for transporting to the new location of the Heart of West Texas Museum. The items the workers transported were the last items which will be moved at this time to the new location. Visible inside the case is an old military uniform. The museum has a superior collection of war and military memorabilia.

Museum's first display to open around July 1st

Almost everyone in Mitchell County has visited the old location of Kiker-Seale Funeral Home, prior to its being donated to the city for use as the new home of the Heart of West Texas Museum.

Almost everyone in Mitchell County visited it once again on the occasion of the welcome coffee for new City Manager Buddy Foster and his family. At that time, it had been completely cleaned and readied for its upcoming incarnation as the Heart of West Texas Museum.

Soon, hopefully as soon as July 1, everyone in Mitchell County will be able to visit the first display, in its wonderful new location, of some of the museum's artifacts, and a new era will begin.

Museum board members and workers, all volunteers, have been laboring day and night for months to locate, clean, and catalogue all of the items which were on display or in storage at the old location of the museum.

It was a herculean task, and one which was expected to take much, much longer than it has. It is amazing, however, what can be accomplished by a group of dedicated, determined individuals such as those volunteers.

The final phase of the move is underway now. City workers on Friday carried the remainder of the items, those which were simply too large or too heavy for the volunteers to manage, from the museum's old location to its new one.

Don Neumann, a private museum consultant from Austin who has been working with museum volunteers, will arrive on Monday, May 6.

On his last visit, Neumann took extensive measurements of the new location, with the intention of designing the display cases, panels, and shelves which will be necessary.

When he returns on Monday, he is expected to remain for an extensive stay, and to complete as much of the installation of those display bases as possible.

Neumann, who has taken a personal interest in the Heart of West Texas Museum, has assured the members of the board that the museum's limited budget will not prevent it from being one of the best museums in the state.

He has recommended that the museum's first display be of its extensive collection of war and military memorabilia. Officials of other museums have called this collection one of the largest they

There is a sign at Colorado City Lake which announces the presence of a Prairie Dog Town. At this time, however, the prairie dogs all seem to have moved away.

Mark Fambro, park superintendent, says there are many possible reasons for the vacant burrows of Prairie Dog Town. He says that sometimes a population of an animal group

Wright speaks to Economic Board

The Mitchell County Board of Economic Development heard from Kevin Wright on Friday morning, regarding the recently approved Big Country Resource Conservation and Development Area.

This RC&D covers 12 counties: Garza, Kent, Borden, Scurry, Fisher, Jones, Howard, Mitchell, Nolan, Taylor, Glasscock, and Sterling, for a total of 6,988,615 acres.

Its purpose is to receive and evaluate local input from local private citizens, organizations, governmental entities, and businesses, concerning projects which may be beneficial to the area, and then to use its influence to help get as many of those projects enacted as possible.

These projects can be as diversified as establishing job opportunities, improving the rural fire department, controlling erosion,

Dr. R.N. Gray shows some of his Indian artifacts to an appreciative crowd of Colorado Middle School sixth grade students on Thursday's Field Day, sponsored by the Mitchell County Soil and Water Conservation District in honor of Soil and Water Stewardship week, which was the week of April 28.

Stewardship Week packed full of activities

The week of April 28 was Soil and Water Stewardship Week, and the Mitchell Soil and Water Conservation District filled it with beneficial and educational activities.

On Tuesday, April 30, a conservation tour for area ministers was sponsored. Twelve ministers attended, and learned about farmstead windbreaks, conservation farming, livestock water distribution, and the CRMWD lake.

Conservation field days were held on Wednesday and Thursday for sixth grade students from Loraine and Colorado Middle School, respectively.

The students were taken on a cropland tour, and then to the beautiful A.K. Guthrie Ranch, where they heard talks on Indian life and artifacts from area farmer Dr. R.N. Gray; on the history of Mitchell County from Mayor Jim Baum, president of the Mitchell County Historical Society; and on game laws and gun safety from Randy Bullard, game warden.

After lunch, the students learned, from SWCD Zone Director George Martin, about the soil and water conservation districts. Students then visited conservation workstations dealing with plant identification and range management, biology and wildlife, and engineering and soils, before returning to school after their day in the country.

On Thursday evening, 28 representatives of the Mitchell SWCD attended the Region II Texas Association of SWCD's Awards Banquet in San Angelo. Region II covers 50 counties.

The Mitchell District was awarded first place, and Zone Director Jimmy Harrison accepted, for the district, a handsome plaque honoring that achievement. The plaque was presented by Buddy Clark, president of Texas SWCD.

He managed the company's Snyder branch store for awhile, but when that store closed, he came back to the Colorado City store to manage the service department.

Vickie and Coley Ramage, wife and son of Alan Ramage, also work at the store, keeping the family tradition alive and well.

The Ramage family has always listened to the needs of the community, and then acted on those needs. Ramage Appliance began offering microwave ovens in the mid-1970's, and offered cooking classes for their customers' needs as well.

Sometimes as many as 150 would attend the classes, which were given in the C.C. Thompson Room of City National Bank.

During the mid-1980's, when many businesses were hurt due to the oil slump, Ramage Appliance was able successfully to expand its line of merchandise to include furniture, especially recliners.

scoring, field goal percentage, free throw percentage, and was at the top of the rebounding list.

Head volleyball coach Sharma Smith then took over to pay homage to the 1990 District Champions. After the introduction of the Lady Wolves, Coach Smith presented senior Pat Molina with the MVP trophy. For the season, Molina was selected to the All-District and Academic All-District team.

The track season was also a success for the Lady Wolves as nine athletes qualified for the Regional Track Meet, and the 1991 MVP was senior Bridgett Bridgford. Bridgford advanced to regionals as a member of the 400m relay, 800m relay, and the 1600m relay.

As the attention turned to the tennis ranks, the audience was astounded to discover that senior Sheila Cawthron ended her season with a winning record of 119 victories and 10 losses. Fittingly enough, she, along with Jay Kay, received the Ace Award which is given to the most consistent singles player. On the other side of the spectrum, the Deuce Award is given to the top doubles players, and the Lady Wolves who were recipients of this award were Marcia Cawthron and Nicole Smith. The last plaque given in tennis was the Smash Award. This award was given to Liz Garcia and Jay Kay for their great effort and improvement on the court. The 1990-91 captains were Marcia Cawthron, Sheila Cawthron, Justin Harris, and Brad White.

Making his second appearance, Coach Alexander returned the podium once more to present three more honors. First up was the Spirit Award. This is given to an athlete that displays a great desire to achieve, and this year's recipient was Tracy Hoover. Becca Rivera was then given the "C" Award which is given to a young lady who has had the courage to always compete and never give up.

To close the ceremony, Coach Alexander and Coach Tom Ramsey presented the Outstanding Senior Athlete to both female and male. Pat Molina was the 1991 Lady Wolf recipient while Jason Lawson and George Ramsey were the duo for the Pack.

have ever seen, and all those involved with the museum agree that the display would be an excellent complement to the planned Salute to Veterans' Parade, scheduled for the Fourth of July in Colorado City.

The museum's Board of Directors will hold a meeting on Tuesday to determine many of the details of the museum's actual operation, and details of the non-profit organization which has been formed to provide its long-term support.

In town from California to attend that meeting, and to view the progress which has been made thus far on the museum, will be Preston C. Burchard, who helped to found that non-profit organization.

Burchard has an interest in the museum, not only because of the fact that the old Kiker-Seale building was once the home of his grandfather, P.C. Coleman, but also because of Burchard's love of the Mitchell County area.

Those wishing to donate to the fund for the moving and renovation of the museum may do so at this time. Send contributions to 340 East 3rd Street, Colorado City, TX 79512.

Those wishing to purchase museum memberships may do so in the near future. Information regarding those memberships will be available after the Tuesday meeting of the museum's board of directors.

helped the business through the lean years, and selling a line of relatively inexpensive furniture items helped the business too, while helping the community as well.

The Ramages have always been civic-minded, and have been known on many occasions to loan appliances for civic events, and to answer service calls at any hour of the day or night.

A break-in at the store earlier this year, in which over $4,000 worth of uninsured items were taken, might have broken some businesses. The Ramages, however, are confident that they can weather that adversity, and any others which might come, because they are always looking ahead.

Tickets for the Chamber luncheon in honor of the Ramages may be purchased at City National Bank, First National Bank, or at the Chamber Office through Wednesday, May 8, at 5 p.m.

might become so large that nature will thin it out naturally.

This thinning out could have been accomplished by an exodus of some members of the prairie dog population, or by natural predators, like badgers, who live in the area, or by the presence, among the crowded prairie dog population, of the bubonic plague, said Fambro.

Or it could have been a combination of all these factors.

Fambro said that there are plans to re-populate Prairie Dog Town within the next couple of years. "We plan to wait, though," he said, "until there is little or no bubonic plague presence in the area, in case that was the original problem."

expanding a city park, and improving low income housing. Any suggestions are welcome.

To propose a project, a citizen or organization must simply obtain and fill out a project proposal form. This form, although a government document, is surprisingly uncomplicated, and is complete on one single page.

Forms can be obtained from Wright at the Mitchell County offices of the Soil Conservation Service.

All suggestions will be reviewed and prioritized by the local RC&D committee, presently composed of a representative of the County Court, a representative of the Board of Economic Development, and a representative of the Soil and Water Conservation District. Other organizational representatives can be added to the committee as well.

Once the local suggestions are prioritized, they will be taken to the RC&D Board, composed of one representative from each of the member counties. That board will prioritize suggestions from all twelve counties and turn them over to Jimmy Apel, Sweetwater-based RC&D federal coordinator.

Apel's function is to offer technical and financial assistance for the accomplishment of the projects. He will help obtain grants and funding from federal, state, local, and individual sources.

Wright emphasized that the process of prioritization is far different from the process of elimination. He said that no project which was submitted would be eliminated, and that all would be considered at every level. The purpose of the reviews of those projects is only to place them in order of desirability and feasibility, according to committee and board members.

Wright said that the RC&D is a local program, run by local people. He urged anyone who has any idea at all which might benefit the area in any way to call him at 728-3473.

He said he would be happy to help with the filling out of the form, if necessary, and to answer any questions anyone might have about submitting a proposal.

Gage hosts homemakers

The North Loraine Extension Homemakers Club held their regular monthly meeting on April 17 at 2 pm, at the Loraine Seniors Citizen Center. Hostess was Veida Gage.

The meeting was called to order by President Margaret Brame. Recreation was led by Elaine McMichael. Each member planted seeds for their own in recognition of Spring.

Roll call was answered by what I did today to make someone happy, with 10 members present.

Minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

Communications were read and treasurer's report given.

Darlene Hamrich, Chairman for Clean Up week Committee, reported on status of cleaning building.

Discussion was held on final preparation for the Book Review to be May 9.

POUND PUPPY - Penelope, a seven-week-old female chihuahua cross, is available for adoption from the city pound located at Mitchell County Veterinary Clinic, Highway 208 South. For more information about her or other pets available for adoption, call 728-8055.

The scholarship fund was discussed.

Leadership training will be held on May 7. Pat Carter read an interesting letter from her son, Donald Burt, who is still stationed in the Persian Gulf.

Elaine McMichael presented a very informative program on Child Abuse. The Mitchell Co. Welfare Board has designated April as Child Welfare Month. Forms of child abuse are sexual, physical and neglect. Texas has programs that deal primarily in child abuse. Mrs. McMichael stressed that child abuse is a most serious problem, as children who are abused will grow up to be abusers.

Texas law requires that anyone with any knowledge of child abuse MUST report to the proper authorities.

The child abuse Hotline number is 1-800-252-5400. Mrs. McMichael explained the world has limits, rules and regulations. Parents should set rules & regulations in their homes. They should also monitor TV and video movies.

Parents should set a good example for children. Young people need to understand where grandparents and ancestors have tried, as there may be some very good words of wisdom for the younger generation.

Refreshments were served to Mildred Rose, Jimmie Jacks, Effie Wheeler, Eva Wells, Darlene Hamrich, Wanza Graham, Elaine McMichael, Veida Gage, Bertha Faye Snyder, and Pat Carter.

Property Tax Protest and Appeal Procedures

The law gives property owners the right to protest actions concerning their property tax appraisals. You may follow these procedures if you have a concern about:

- the value placed on your property;
- exemptions that may apply to you;
- cancellation of agricultural appraisal;
- whether your property is taxable;
- which local governments should be taxing your property; or
- you think the appraisal district has done something else that adversely affected you.

Informal Review: If you have a question on your appraisal, come by the Appraisal office and talk to the appraisers. In a great many cases things can be taken care of in this way.

Review by the Appraisal Review Board: If you can't resolve your problem informally with the appraisal district staff, you may have your case heard by the appraisal review board.

The appraisal review board (ARB) is an independent board of citizens that reviews problems with appraisals and other concerns listed above. They have the power to order the appraisal district to make the necessary changes to solve problems. If you file a written request for an ARB hearing (called a notice of protest) before the deadline, the ARB will set your case for a hearing. You'll receive written notification of the time, date, and place of the hearing. The hearing will be informal. You and the appraisal district representative will be asked to present evidence about your case. The ARB will make its decision based on the evidence presented. You can get a copy of a protest form from the appraisal district office at 1132 Hickory, Colorado City, TX 79512

Note: You shouldn't try to contact ARB members outside of the hearing. The law requires you to sign an affidavit saying that you haven't done so before the ARB hears your case.

Review by the District Court: After it decides your case, the ARB must send you a copy of its order by certified mail. If you're not satisfied with the decision you have the right to appeal to district court. If you choose to go to court, you must start the process by filing a petition within 45 days of the date you receive the ARB's order. If the appraisal district has appraised your property at $1,000,000 or more, you must file a notice of appeal with the chief appraiser within 15 days of the date you receive the ARB's order.

More information: You can get more information by contacting your appraisal district at Mitchell County Appraisal District, 1132 Hickory, Colorado City, TX 79512, 915-728-5082

You can also get a pamphlet describing how to prepare a protest from the appraisal district or from the State Property Tax Board, 4301 Westbank Drive, Building B, Suite 100, Austin, Texas 78746.

Deadline for filing protests with the ARB

(the deadline is postponed to the next business day if it falls on a weekend or holiday)

Usual deadline: On or before May 31 (or 30 days after a notice of appraisal value was mailed to you, whichever is later).

Late protests (If you miss the usual deadline for good cause. Good cause is some reason beyond your control, like a medical emergency. The ARB decides whether you have good cause.) Before the day the appraisal review board approves records for the year. Contact the appraisal district for more information.

Special deadlines:
Change of use (if the appraisal district has informed you that you are losing agricultural appraisal because you changed the use of your land) Before the 30th day after the notice of the determination was mailed to you.

ARB changes (if the ARB has informed you of a change that increases your tax liability and the change didn't result from a protest you filed) Before the 10th day after the notice of the determination was mailed to you.

(may insert deadline for protests concerning omitted property if doing so would avoid taxpayer confusion)

If you believe the appraisal district or ARB should have sent you a notice and did not, you may file a protest until the day before taxes become delinquent (usually February 1). The ARB decides whether it will hear your case based on evidence about whether a required notice was mailed to you.

Foster discusses clean-up

City Manager Buddy Foster was the guest speaker at Wednesday's regular meeting of the Colorado City Rotary Club.

Foster spoke, among other topics, about the recent discovery of oil seepage near the Colorado River just west of town.

He said that federal regulations call for clean-up to be accomplished by the original polluter, but that state regulations are not quite so clear. State regulations, he said, sometimes share the responsibility between the original polluter and the current owner.

The site in question, according to Foster, is currently owned by the state.

Foster said that there is a potential problem near the site of the seepage, owing to the presence nearby of a 14 inch city water line. He said that the water line has not ever broken in the vicinity of the spill, but that the situation definitely requires a speedy remedy in case a break ever should occur.

He said the clean-up operations will likely be quite costly. The work recently done by Fina Corporation, he said, cost approximately $50,000.

On Tuesday, May 14, Foster said, the consultant firm of Parkhill, Smith, and Cooper will address the City Council. He emphasized that anyone interested should attend that meeting, as the firm will be outlining its findings regarding necessary improvements for the city's water system.

He said the firm has suggested expenditures in the $5 million range, but that the city will have to choose the most imperative repairs from among those mentioned, as that kind of money is not available at this time.

Foster mentioned another city problem which he hopes to begin addressing in the near future - the streets. He said there is newly budgeted funding for the seal coating of 100,000 square yards of streets each year. He said plans are also in the works to coat dirt roads with an emulsion which helps keep them firm and smooth for long periods of time.

One problem with the roads right now is the lack of a large enough road crew to do the work, he explained.

Regarding applications for police chief, Foster said he had received 25 or 26 applications thus far, and expected to receive a few more by May 5, the deadline for accepting applications.

Other Rotary Club business included information about a group of foreign exchange students who will be arriving in Colorado City on Friday, July 19. The students, approximately 50 of them, will need lodging for one night, and the Rotary Club will be attempting to secure that lodging for them.

Rotary Club members voted on Wednesday to donate $100 to Project Celebration.

Oil & Gas Report

Flowing 202 barrels of high-gravity oil per day, the No. 1 Betty has been completed in Mitchell County's Gartner Field, 14.2 miles northwest of Westbrook.

BeeKay Co. is the operator.

Bottomed at 7,309 feet, the well was perforated to produce from the Pennsylvanian Reef 7,284 to 7,295 feet into the wellbore. Besides the 45-gravity oil, the well made 173,000 CF gas daily on a 14/64 choke. It came in with flowing tubing pressure of 680 PSI.

Mitchell County's Coleman Ranch Field gained a new producer when the No. 1416 Coleman Unit was completed by Fina Oil and Chemical. Location is two miles west of Cuthbert.

It showed ability to pump 18 barrels of 24-gravity oil per day on an open choke. Water production totaled eight barrels daily.

Fina perforated the Upper Clear Fork Formation for production at 2,678 to 3,030 feet into the hole.

Pumping 36 barrels of 26-gravity oil per day, the No. 1403 Southeast Westbrook Unit has been finished in the Westbrook Field, Mitchell County, three miles northwest of Westbrook.

With Fina Oil and Chemical as the operator, the well bottomed at 3,244 feet and will produce from Middle Clear Fork Formation perforations at 2,999 to 3,115 feet into the wellbore.

Besides the relatively heavy crude, the well produced 27 barrels of brine per day.

Badgers put bite on Wolves, 12-7

Although the Colorado City Wolves came through with ten base hits in the baseball game, the solid effort was not enough as the Merkel Badgers scored eight runs in the top of third which proved to be the difference as the Pack fell short 7-12 on Tuesday, April 30.

After trailing 2-1 at the end of two innings, the Wolves were in contention to knock off the Badgers, but due to three errors with runners in scoring position, Merkel took advantage of the mistakes to take a convincing lead of 10-1.

The die-hard Wolves did pick up two runs in the bottom of the third, and Kevin Green kept things going in the fourth as he reached base on a fielder's choice.

Stealing second, Green was brought around to score by an Adrian Martinez double. This chain reaction created a chain reaction as Jason Lawson earned an RBI double, Robbie Smith earned a line-drive RBI single, and George Ramsey received an RBI double for a 7-10 score with the Pack on the prowl.

The game did not ever turn for Colorado City, however, as Merkel hustled for a run in the last two innings to hold off the Pack "Attack."

"We played real good and consistent excluding that third inning," stated Coach Jerald Epperson. "We finally hit the ball well, but we beat ourselves."

The Wolves only created three turnovers, but they proved to be extremely costly in the top of the third inning.

"If we could have stopped those first two errors, they (Merkel) wouldn't have gotten any errors," Epperson added.

Smith started the evening out on the mound giving up eight runs on eight hits in 3 1/3 innings of work. Lawson then took over to pitch 3 1/3 innings giving up four runs on six hits while James Franco pitched the last batter to end the game.

Lawson went 4-4 from the plate, and Martinez was 2-3. The Wolves will host Ballinger on Tuesday, April 6, at 5 p.m.

Bea Rivera, left, was this recipient of the "C" Award while teammate Tracy Hoover, right, earned the Spirit Award at the Colorado High Spring Sports Banquet held on Thursday, May 2.

Members of the CHS tennis team who received various awards are, LtoR, Liz Garcia, Smash Award; Sheila Cawthron, Ace Award and Captain; Jay Kay, Smash Award and Ace Award; Marcia Cawthron, Deuce Award and Captain; Justin Harris, Captain; and Nicole Smith, Deuce Award.

The 1990-91 Most Valuable Players for their respected sports at CHS are, LtoR, Tracy Hoover, basketball; Bridgford, track; and Pat Molina, volleyball.

Little Olympics set for May 18

The Loraine PTO will sponsor a Little Olympics on Saturday, May 18 at the football field from 9 am till 1 pm. Kids that are interested in entering need to get the forms at school and get them back to the school by the 10th. All parents please attend along with your child because each child will receive an award. This is for grades Kindergarten thru 6th grade. We will have several events and we're sure they will be enjoyed by all.

Coach Loy is putting the events together so if you have any questions please contact him or any PTO member. We will be selling donuts and coffee in the morning and selling hamburgers at lunch. Come and enjoy the fun.

The reason the Loraine PTO are having money making projects are to support our kids. We will have a scholarship for a senior. We also support UIL and have plans to build a fitness center on the playground. This is what we have done the first year and we have lots of ideas for the coming years.
