MISS BLANTON TO ANNOUNCE FOR CONGRESS

Friends of State Superintendent of Public Instruction Expect Her to Become Candidate.

Denton County Woman Will Make Race for Place to Be Vacated by Representative Lucian Parrish.

Miss Annie Webb Blanton of Denton, state superintendent of schools, is the latest talked of possibility in the race for congress to succeed Lucian Parrish, who has announced for the senate.

Miss Blanton's definite announcement may be expected within a very few days, it was learned from an apparently authoritative source Wednesday afternoon.

Wichitans familiar with the political situation in the district and the state at large predict that Miss Blanton, if she makes the race, will prove no mean campaigner—pointing out, in support of this statement, both her success in her initial and second campaign for the place she now holds and her success in putting through the legislatures her program in behalf of the schools of the state.

State Ordered To Return Man's Big Wine Cellar

LARAMIE, Wyo., April 20.—Geo. Longpre, local resident, is being overwhelmed by the ardent manifestations of a wide circle of "friends."

Reason:

He has just received thousands of dollars' worth of liquors and beer, handed over to him by order of the state courts.

Sheriff Trabing hauled the truckload of "items" to the home of Longpre under an order of Judge M. C. Brown, who held that this "personal property" was unlawfully seized by Wyoming peace officers.

Amid the hurrahs of hundreds of on-lookers, Sheriff Trabing transferred the following "items" to Longpre's cellar:

Fifty-three cases of bonded whiskey.

One ten-gallon jug of gin.

Four three-gallon kegs of "liquor."

One gallon keg of "liquor."

Four on-half gallon kegs of "liquor."

Twenty bottles of beer.

Forty bottles of "mixed liquors."

The consignment, estimated at local "bootleg" prices to be worth nearly $20,000, was seized at Longpre's home in August, 1919, by a squad of state prohibition officers. Longpre immediately brought action for the return of his "property" and the decision was rendered in his favor.

Here a patrol of extra policemen were summoned and dispersed the crowd.

"The mob," said Mr. Tobinson today, "was incited by an old woman who thought we were French. The crowd attacked us and chased us from Sans Souci Park to Potsdam. It is my opinion, that we would have been killed except for one policeman and two German civilians. The police, however, did all that was possible. PROBE OF CANAL TO BE MADE

Secretary Weeks Will Investigate Administration of Zone.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 20.—Widespread changes in the methods of administrating the Panama canal zone by the war department, particularly as regards the pay, privileges and allowances of the civil establishment, are expected to follow a visit to the zone to be made soon by Secretary Weeks. The war secretary announced today that as soon as he could spare the time he would go there with the view of gathering data on which to base a reorganization of the entire method of administration, which he declared is now conducted extravagantly.

Employes of the canal zone receive much higher pay than government employes in the United States proper, Mr. Weeks said, and in addition are allowed 60 days leave a year, free quarters, reduced transportation to and from the United States, the privilege of buying all commodities at cost from the government commissaries and other requisites.

These inducements were originally offered when the United States went into Panama to build the canal, Secretary Weeks declared, because of the unhealthful climate.

"I am confident," said the secretary, "that a decided change could be made in the manner of conducting affairs in the canal zone with great saving to the government."

The present cost of administration of the canal zone, exclusive of the military forces is about $800,000 a month.

for the democratic ticket and past grand commander of the grand commandery, Knights Templar of the State of New York, was announced among the more prominent Masonic arrivals Wednesday.

In addition to being a past grand commander, Right Eminent Sir Walker is an active 33rd degree Mason and inspector general for the state of New York.

Prominent Masons.

Another of the more prominent out-of-town Masons whose registration was reported Wednesday, was Major John B. Stoddard of Bryan, who was said to be the oldest out-of-town Mason, who attended the 68th conclave, being past 80 years of age.

Most Eminent Sir Stoddard is past grand master of the grand encampment of Knights Templar of the United States, having served in that capacity in the year 1889 and is also a past grand commander of the grand commandery of the state of Texas.

He served as major in the Confederate army during the war between the states and his service in Masonry is said to exceed a full half century.

Other out-of-town visitors announced include: John L. Stephens, secretary of the Scottish Rite bodies of Dallas and Z. T. Armstrong, editor of the Texas Freemason.

Under the direction of H. B. Robertson of Dallas, grand captain general, and of H. L. Booth, grand marshal, approximately 500 visitors and 200 local Knights Templar participated in the parade, which escorted the grand officers through the principal business streets of the city to the First Christian church for the opening exercises. The parade was led by two bands from the Fort Worth and the Wichita Falls commanderies. Intricate drills, while marching, by the delegation from Worth commandery which formed at times in single file, and at other times in the form of a cross, featured the parade proper.

Following the invocation by Sir Knight Nathanial F. Grafton, after the Sir Knights had been seated in the church, the grand commandery conclave was formally welcomed to the city in a short address by Eminent Sir Knight Charles R. Hartsook, to which Right Eminent John B. Sawtell of Waco, grand commander, responded.

Following an address by Rev. N. F. Grafton, acting grand prelate for Rev. N. P. Patterson, who was unable to attend, because of sickness in his family, the Sir Knights adjourned to the basement of the First Christian and First Methodist churches for lunch, following which they went into business session at the Masonic Temple at 1 o'clock.

Hostesses for the theater party were: Mesdames R. E. Spherberd, H. N. Pounds, W. W. Gardner, Otto Stehlik, D. L. Fritz, C. O. Fritz, Marvin Smith and Charles Hartsook.

Hostesses for the garden party at the home of J. A. Kemp were announced as follows: Mesdames Kemp, J. A. Richolt, J. M. Bonner, M. M. Walker, S. J. Ashmore, J. M. Bland and R. O. Harvey.

Among out-of-town visiting ladies, most of whom arrived Wednesday, were: Mesdames Sam P. Cochran of Dallas, Joseph Finnell of Dallas, John B. Sawtell of Waco, and P. S. Park of Bryan.

After the business session the Thursday program includes an automobile tour of the Texhoma oil fields, beginning at 2 o'clock and will conclude with a Vernon reception, honoring Livingston G. Hawkins, incoming grand commander, at the Kemp hotel at 9 o'clock, which concludes the three-day program.

The address delivered by Rev. N. F. Grafton, acting grand prelate, at the church services Wednesday made a visible and profound impression on all who heard it.

"I count it a great privilege to stand before this representative body of Sir Knights Templar, said Dr. Grafton. "Men who are the living exponents of the principles of Free Masonry.

"Before me are men who, now, are walking down the western slope of life. They have achieved much in life. Some of them, kings have delighted to honor.

"Before me are men whose faces are turned toward the East. Life, with all of its possibilities, is before them. In their holy ambition to make the most out of life it behooves them to study the principles that make for usefulness and greatness.

The records of yesterday make it possible for them to uncover the 'Principles That Make For Greatness' in the lives of the great characters of history.

"Thomas Carlyle taught a new theory of Social Progress in his great book entitled, "Heroes and Hero Worship.' His theme was: 'The Influence of Great Men Upon Social Progress.' His book created a profound impression upon the world and caused many men to study the great men of the past and in them to find the pathway to greatness.

"You will at once recognize my text as coming from the Great Master. These immortal words fell from his lips in the time of his temptation. The subtile temptation was to turn stones into bread. His reply was: 'Man shall not live by bread alone.' True greatness does not rest in catering to the appetites.

Usher in New Eras

"Some have thought that civilization has had a gradual growth. Not so. This growth has come by eras. Every great era in the world's history has had its great men. Men who have become leaders who have fashioned and moulded the thinking and actions of the people.

"The memory of him who plays a part in his era will forever flourish in immortal green. When a great choir sings Handel's Messias every man's part is directed by the master mind that wrote one of the most inspiring pieces of music.

"When Jacquard gave to the world the loom he determined the task of every weaver who sits at his loom.

"When Stephenson gave to humanity the locomotive, he caused the world to change its method of travel.

"When Darwin discovered his theory of evolution, he caused the world's text-books to be re-written.

"There has been a great man back of every great movement. Back of a Hebrew Constitution was a great jurist, Moses. Back of the discovery of the law of motion was a Kepler. Back of every book written was a Cadmus. Back of the great fraternity you represent was a Solomon, a Hiram, king of Tyre and a widow's son.

We make pilgrimages to the birthplace of a Shakespeare, a Washington, a Lincoln. The rich pay fabulous prices for a copy of the manuscript of a Robert Burns or a copy of the paintings of Rembrant. Masonry has its shrines, its monuments and memorials of our great men who have played a part in the onward movements of civilization. I pause here to say that I am glad we are not waiting for our great men to die before erecting granite shafts in their honor. We can see them chisled in stone but better still see them in the living flesh and hear their well-beloved voices.

Principles make Greatness

Back at the dawn of history Enoch walked and talked with God and so has every man who has played any large part in the advancement of the human family. Running through the teachings of our great order from basement to dome has been the thought of the ever-present Jehovah.

"Lives there among us a soul so dead who has not stood with trembling feet at a hallowed spot and not been conscious of the "All-seeing Eye.

"Grim and Diderot were walking through the forest when one of the two close companions suddenly ceased talking. His friend asked him why he was silent. He replied: "Hush I am listening to the voices of God."

"You too have been hushed into silence in the consciousness that it is the voice of God whispering into your immortal soul.

Great Men for Great Tasks

Isaiah felt the responsibility of his message and became a flaming evangel. Moses standing before a Pharoah verily believed himself to be an ambassador for the Almighty.

The Christ one time said: "To this end was I born and for this cause I came into the world."

You men have a God-given task in this generation. That task is to keep alive the principles that have carried masonry through centuries of darkness, turmoil and trouble. Principle for which they were willing to go to the stake. The enemies of light, truth and enlightenment are not all dead. There are subtile influences at work to destroy our influence and usefulness. To tear down the superstructure that has been centuries in the making. It remains for you to show to the world the type of manhood that our order with its teachings produces. The test of the tree is its fruitage.

"One has but to look at the manhood represented in our order to know that we practice the presence of God.

Tasks of Great Men.

"Their tasks have called for centuries rather than years. To them the time element has been eliminated. Made in the image of God, permitted to think His thoughts after Him, with souls that live forever their program has been a large one. In their era they have set in motion influences that have gone on touching human lives to bless long after the great man has passed across the divide.

"I am looking into the faces of men not made for three score years and ten but men who have forever. Did not the Man of Galilibe say, 'Because I live ye shall live also?' Young men face your tasks with a brave heart sustained and soothed by the thought that you can inculcate these principles in your life and come to true greatness.

Give Us Men.

Give us men!
Men from every rank,
Fresh and free and frank;
Men of thought and reading,
Men of light and leading,
Men of royal breeding;
The nation's welfare speeding:
Men of faith and not of fiction,
Men of lofty aim in action:
Give us men—I say again,
Give us men.

Give us men!
Strong and stalwart ones:
Men who highest hope inspires,
Men who purest honor fires,
Men who trample self beneath them,
Men who make their country wreath them
As her noble sons,
Worthy of their sires:
Men who never shame their mothers,
Men who never fail their brothers,
True, however false are others:
Give us men—I say again,
Give us men.

Give us men!
Men who, when the tempest gathers,
Grasp the Standard of their fathers,
In the thickest fight;
Men who strike for home and altar,
Let the coward cringe and falter,
God defend the right!
True as truth though lorn and lonely
Tender as the brave are only:
Men who tread where saints have trod,
Men for country, home and God:
Give us men—I say again and again,
Give us just such men.

GIVES TANLAC CREDIT FOR SPLENDID HEALTH

T. J. PARKER
4246 Juneau Street, Seattle, Washington.

"I used to think all the Tanlac testimonials were exaggerated, but I have felt thankful a thousand times I ever believed in it strong enough to give the medicine a trial," said T. J. Parker, well-known salesman for Gately's Clothing Store, residing at 4246 Juneau St., Seattle, Wash.

"Several years ago I commenced having periodic spells of sickness and a few months ago I had an attack that I thought would finish me. When I did finally get up, I was scarcely able to go. I had no appetite and what little I forced myself to eat caused so much gas on my stomach I could hardly get my breath.

"At night I was often so bloated I couldn't breathe while lying down and just had to sit up and struggle for air. At times I had cramps so bad I could hardly endure it.

"My liver was sluggish and sometimes I got so dizzy I would nearly fall. I felt tired and miserable all the time, couldn't even sleep and for days at a time I wasn't able to go to work.

"Well, a friend of mine finally got me to try Tanlac, and it certainly has done a good job for me. My appetite is fine now and although I am eating just anything I want and as much as I please, my stomach never gives me the least trouble. I have picked up in weight, my strength has come back to me, and I am now enjoying the best of health.

"All the men at the store know Tanlac put me back on my feet, and I am glad to give this statement for what it may be worth to others."

Tanlac is sold in Wichita Falls by Miller Drug Store, in Electra by Tarlton Drug Store, in Burkburnett by West End Drug Co., and by all leading druggists.—Adv.

FACTORY SITE INSPECTED BY MANUFACTURER

Prospective sites in Wichita Falls for the erection of a factory to manufacture a machine which it is claimed will eliminate "boffy" cotton from the raw product, are being considered, according to the promoters, H. Howard, H. T. Hatton and W. H. Wilmet, cotton machinery men of Dallas, who are in the city.

Actual construction of the factory will start within 15 days, they said.

The machine has been investigated by the Chamber of Commerce, new industries committee, and has been approved by the directors as well as that committee. Frank Kell, committee chairman, sent W. F. Shelton and J. L. Dashner, two experienced gin men of this city, to Winnsboro to see the machine in operation and they reported favorably on the machine in respect to its simplicity of construction, operation and effectiveness.

Wichita Falls was chosen as a location for the factory after considering its facilities as a manufacturing point.

not voting. In the roll calls on Senator Borah's amendment to exculpate this nation and its agents from any wrong-doing in acquiring the canal, three democrats voted with 36 republicans on the first call, and with 27 republicans on a second call. These democrats were, Kenrick of Wyoming, Reed of Missouri, and Watson of Georgia. Nine republicans who first voted for the Borah amendment later voted in opposition. These were, Dillingham of Vermont, Fernald of Maine, Keyes of New Hampshire, Ladd of North Dakota, Lodge of Massachusetts, McKinley of Illinois, Spencer of Missouri, Sterling of South Dakota and Sutherland of West Virginia.

Lodge Changes Front.

A murmur swept the chamber when Senator Lodge changed front on the amendment. A milder demonstration had occurred when he supported it on the first call. Senator LaFollette, republican of Wisconsin, who supported most of the other amendments proposed, voted loudly in the negative on the Borah amendment.

The Poindexter amendment to cut the indemnity to Colombia from $25,000,000 to $15,000,000 was supported by 16 republicans and six democrats.

The latter were, Dial of South Carolina, McKellar of Tennessee, Reed of Missouri, Simmons of North Carolina, Trammell of Florida and Watson of Georgia.

Twenty-two republicans and 17 democrats supported Senator Wadsworth's amendment to prohibit Colombian troops and warships from using the canal in a war against a nation with which the United States was at peace. Prominent among the republican supporters of this amendment was Senator Knox of Pennsylvania and among the democrats, Hitchcock of Nebraska, ranking minority member of the foreign relations committee.

Comedy Is Big Part of Vodevil Bill

Comedy of the good old-fashioned, slapstick variety, as exemplified by the accepted idea of the "Weary Willie" hobo, is presented by Billy Arlington and company in the week's vaudeville bill, which opened at the Wichita theater Wednesday evening. A good deal of hokum, much more of good natured fun, and a brightness and freshness of jokes and old-time saws combine to make this one of the most laughable acts that has appeared this season.

Billy performs with ease upon a "fiddle" and a "half portion" horn to the delight of the audience. This act brought down the house at the first night.

Reo and Helmar give an athletic act which is just long enough to start a show off right. They perform some good stunts of physical prowess.

Emily Darrell, in a monologue "Late for Rehearsal," gets a good deal of fun out of the long suffering and obliging orchestra. This act got over well and is worthy of high praise.

Murphy and White have an act which would be much better if they would sing more and forget to pull the wornout propaganda "gag," against prohibition. This act is the "weak sister" of the bill, which is otherwise very good.

Edith Casper and the "boys" have an act that is good to look upon, both in costuming and "other things." Edith is charming and the men dancers can dance. One number which was especially good was the descent of the dainty dancer from above in a fluffy booth while the orchestra plays "A Young Man's Fancy."

JACK CUDAHY, DESPONDENT, KILLS SELF

a statement to the police, Cudahy said Lillis "had wrecked his home." Lillis recovered and Cudahy was not prosecuted.

Separated in 1910.

Several days later relatives announced a separation had taken place between the Cudahys. On August 23, 1910, Mrs. Cudahy was granted a divorce, after she had appeared upon the witness stand and told of alleged indignities suffered at the hands of her husband. The decree provided that she should receive $5,000 a year during her lifetime from Michael Cudahy, father of Jack, and that a trust fund of $100,000 should be set up by the elder Cudahy for the four children who were to divide the sum upon attaining majority. The court also provided that the custody of the children should go to Mr. and Mrs. Michael Cudahy.

Mrs. Jack Cudahy left Kansas City several days later, accompanied by the children. In Chicago she announced that the children had disappeared. A nationwide search for them followed. Several months afterwards it was announced they had been found in a Los Angeles convent by Mrs. Michael Cudahy, the grandmother.

In 1912 reports became prevalent that the couple had become reconciled.

Later Remarried.

Those reports were followed by an announcement that they would return to Kansas City to reopen their home. They were remarried at Excelsior Springs, Mo., June 29, 1912. A court decree shortly afterward set aside the original divorce order and restored the custody of the children to the parents.

Cudahy, during the time he lived here, was active in club circles and took part in many sporting events. He was especially interested in polo and maintained a string of polo ponies that was said to have been one of the finest in the country.

Local friends said tonight that nothing was known by them which might assist in establishing a motive for his suicide today.

MRS. LANGFORD HONORS MOTHER'S BIRTHDAY.

Honoring the birthday anniversary of her mother, Mrs. L. T. Hyatt, which is an annual custom, Mrs. P. P. Langford entertained "The Ladies Aid Society" of the First Christian church Monday afternoon at her home. The spacious Langford home was profusely decorated with carnations and roses in colors of pink and white for the occasion.

Mrs. Ola Hamlin, in behalf of the society, presented the honoree a bouquet of calla lillies and snap dragons tied with pink tulle and paid her a beautiful tribute.

Mrs. Langford established the custom several years ago of honoring her mother's birthday and the First Christian church women look forward to "Mrs. Hyatt's anniversary meeting" and come in large numbers to show their love and respect.

Devotionals for the afternoon were conducted by Mrs. Danforth, which was followed by a short business session.

Mrs. W. L. Parker gave a solo, accompanied by Mrs. R. E. Shepherd after which Mrs. Langford, assisted by her sister, Mrs. W. J. Donald, served a dainty refreshment plate consisting of brick ice cream in the pink and white colors, macaroons and punch, to more than one hundred guests.

At the close of the meeting Mrs. Porter Oakes read a poem written by Mr. Oakes for the occasion in honor of Mrs. Wyatt. The poem follows.

The voyage of life is a dangerous trip
Without mother love to guide the ship,
For its course is a deep unchartered sea
And from babyhood beach,
The rough waves reach
To the distant shores of Eeternity.

The sea of life is treacherous, too,
With troubled waters 'neath skies of blue
And the ship of the soul is hard to sail
When the storm waves leap
O'er the perilous deep
And many there are who sink and fail
But mother love is a sailing chart
That is written plain in each man's heart
And those who follow that chart aright,
With its course secure
To help endure
Will reach their haven and win their fight.

For mother's word is a compass true,
Telling us men when and what to do
And a mother's love is an anchor strong
That will never slip
That will hold the ship
And keep us safe from all sin and wrong.

And happy is he who can sail aright
With a mother's eyes as his beacon light
And a mother's arms as a haven of rest
And a mother's tears
To soften the years
And comfort awaiting on a mother's breast.

For storms may rage and waves may toss,
And life be threatened with ruin and loss,
Yet a mother's love so freely given
And a mother's prayers
Will banish cares
And lead his soul straight home to heaven.

Calles Urged As Successor To Obregon

By Associated Press.

MEXICO CITY, April 20.—Consideration of the agrarian law project by the chamber of deputies last night provoked an animated discussion of the next presidential campaign, with both P. Elias Calles, secretary of the interior and Antonio Villareal, secretary of agriculture, put forward as President Obregon's logical successor.

Considerable partisan feeling was shown in the debate and the radical elements indulged in extremist talk.

The proposed agrarian law seems likely to be the subject of debate for many weeks. It embraces a land division plan with the parceling out of tracts so that every native will have a portion for his own use.

Inasmuch as the passage of the bill in its present form would affect numerous large holdings by foreigners, the progress of the discussions is being watched with much interest.

REPUBLIC'S BELATED GRATITUDE

The spectacle of 4,000 tubercular American veterans calling upon a perhaps grateful but impotent Republic unable to care for them, stirred up comparatively little comment in the press until Charles G. Dawes put through his lightning report on relief for disabled soldiers. Since his recommendations for "decentralization and cooperation" and a "veteran's service administration" under a Director General, there has been hearty support for the idea by practically every editor who comments on the plan.

The Syracuse Post Standard (Rep.) thinks Dawes' work isn't over yet:

"The Dawes committee was appointed by the President to find out why the agencies for disabled soldiers and sailors were so slow and generally unsatisfactory in operation. It took the commission two days to report what the trouble was and to propose the remedy. . . . Now if General Dawes will stay on the job and get action from Congress, a grateful nation will be thankful."

"Every student," says the New York Post (Ind.), "agrees" on the essentials outlined in the "sound endorsements" of the Commission; "coordination, not consolidation, the decentralization of the War Risk Bureau, the extension of adequate field service throughout the country, the reorganization of vocational training work, and the provision of full hospital facilities." Over this organization, the Post believes, with the Duluth Herald (Ind.), there should "be a director general with ample power to get things done," as the report suggests. To the St. Louis Star it "occurs" that "General Dawes would be a good choice" as this incumbent of this office. The Star says further:

"As matters stand today a soldier has only a hazy notion of the proper place to go for his particular wants. The creation of the Veterans' Service Administration will eliminate this trouble. A letter addressed to the service administration will reach the bureau or individual in charge of the matters written of, instead of being shuffled about and lost in a maze of red tape. Apart from this the Dawes plan would eliminate a considerable waste of money."

Commenting upon the fact that the Commission undoubtedly "holds the record for dispatch and efficiency" in making its report, the Mobile Register (Dem.) calls attention to one feature of it which has not escaped the notice of other commentators, who realize the human side of the whole question. The Register says:

"It is noteworthy that the commission found time to make the recommendation that there be 'an exertion of humanizing influence to impress the sick and wounded with the fact that the nation is entirely concerned in their welfare and rehabilitation.'"

The New York Tribune (Rep.) is another newspaper that feels that the service rendered "must come from the heart." Formerly, it says:

"A division of responsibility and functions subjected the disabled soldier to rebuffs, delays and bureaucratic cold-shouldering. He was passed along from one bureau to another. His self-respect was humbled and his disgust at what he considered governmental ingratitude was aggravated by having to wait and suffer while the wheels of a circumlocution office went round."

This fact, that the wounded and disabled were "juggled back and forth between three distinct and wholly independent bureaus," in the opinion of the Manchester Union (Ind. Rep.), resulted in "flagrant and unbelievable injustice, practiced at the expense of a class in our citizenship to whom the public as a whole felt and readily recognized a special sense of gratitude." Now the "declaration" that the "human element" in handling the men "shall be considered" is especially welcome. The need of "something more than a change for mere change's sake" is emphasized by the New Orleans Times-Picayune (Ind. Dem.) and "the one proposed," it says," "is sound in theory and therefore worth trying."

That any "intelligent government" should have permitted this "shameful neglect of its ex-soldiers is "well-nigh incredible" to the Portland (Ore.) Telegram (Ind. Rep.). It was due, it believes, to the "bureaucratic system" which "ought to have been abandoned when demobilization was completed." The recommendations "appear sound" to the Flint (Mich.) Journal (Ind.), to which the Binghamton Sun (Ind. Dem.) agrees, describing the recommendations as "sharp, incisive and to the point."

THE UNITED STATES OF CENTRAL AMERICA.

Surprisingly little attention has been paid the congress held recently at San Jose, Costa Rica, at which the first steps toward a Central American Federation were taken.

The object is not a new one, but the point of view which a decade ago was everywhere intensely national, today is modified by the lessons of the war. At the San Jose Congress delegates from Guatemala, Salvador, Honduras and Costa Rica agreed on a basis for the practical union, while Nicaragua, bulking largely between Costa Rica and the others, holds aloof.

Great wars come from little states, and if the Balkan States were as nearly in sympathy with each other as are the Central American States Europe could sleep better at night. Wherever states are small there is quick jealousy which waits not on diplomacy but propels itself across narrow borders and back again. What neither state can do for itself a union could achieve for all, not only in political advancement, but in social progress. Removal of the constant menace of casual collisions alone would seem a weighty argument.

When an earlier union dissolved itself in 1840 it was due chiefly to issues injected from outside, matters springing from foreign interests. And foreign interests today have much to say in the inner councils of these small states. And whether such counsel is wholly selfish or wholly prudent or mutually beneficial does not enter the argument since it is true that the Central American peoples do not get anything like a full portion of their own resources and, in the present day viewpoint, are entitled to an opportunity, at least, to make the effort.

Some of the difficulty facing union is charged to Mexican interference with Guatamala and to the presence of British Honduras; but, with the union accomplished, these should be problems of no difficult solution, and the federation would be in a position to mark its northern border with a heavy line.

At the least, the plan is in line with modern political thought, and, on its face, deserves sympathetic encouragement from this nation.—Detroit News. (Ind.)

Editorial Digest

THE HARDING POLICIES.

Comment on the president's message from the papers East of the Mississippi gives the document an average vote of approval without many high spots of ardent praise of harsh criticism except from a few writers of particularly strong political leanings. While many differ on the various issues raised by Mr. Harding, comment upon which will be taken up later in this column, the American press on the whole seems satisfied with the president's general policy in national affairs. Representative opinion from the East, South and Middle West follows:

"Taken by and all President Harding's long message to congress is good. In respect of several cardinal issues, national and international, it is particularly good.—New York Herald (Ind.)

"With respect to American foreign policy President Harding indicates a spirit rather than declares a program. He is definite as to the objectives to be sought but indefinite, except in a negative way, as to the exact method of attaining them."—New York Tribune (Rep.)

"Sober, serious, common sense is contained in every line and recommendation of the message of President Harding to congress."—Cincinnati Enquirer (Dem.)

"President Harding's first message to congress is a good one and it is especially strong in reference to the settlement of international affairs and entanglements."—Utica Press (Ind.)

"If such admonitions and advice and promise of executive attitude as were given congress are lived up to by half this will be a great year in the country's political history and next year will be still better."—Baltimore American (Rep.)

"The most that we democrats have a right to expect is a disinterested loyalty and devotion to the country's interests and a firm purpose to serve those interests according to his lights, and as far as the first message to congress is any indication, in that expection we shall not be disappointed.—Roanoke (Va.) Times (Dem.)

"The prevailing note of President Harding's first address to congress is lofty Americanism. He stands, as in his inaugural address, for unqualified love of country."—Providence Journal (Ind.)

"Would-be critics of the president will have little opportunity to find fault with anything the president says."—Philadelphia Bulletin (Ind. Rep.)

"The message on the whole is very like Mr. Harding. There is nothing in it to startle—nothing to alarm business, nothing indeed to disquiet any one perhaps except the toilers who in the last analysis foot all the bills."—Johnstown Democrat (Dem.)

"Like his campaign speeches it will be found to fall short of definite and lucid prescription of the means for translating into performance the desires which possess his soul."—Rochester Herald (Ind.)

"Practical, constructive, straight-to-the-point, President Harding's first address to congress is characteristic of his direct method and in striking contrast to the academic, hasily idealistic and floridly rhetorical messages of his predecessor."—Pittsburgh Chronicle Telegraph (Rep.)

"Most of his practical recommendations are demolished by others of his practical recommendations; which is a characteristic of practical recommendations made by professors of the economic doctrines of his political party."—Louisville Courier Journal (Dem.)

"Taken as a whole the message was a call to constructive legislation which congress will do well to heed."—Pittsburgh Dispatch (Ind.)

"The American people will welcome a presidential message which concerns itself first of all with American problems."—Chicago Tribune (Ind. Rep.)

"One concludes a reading of President Harding's address to the congress of the United States with a vague feeling that, having read the document he knows but little more of America's future foreign policy than he did before."—Asbury Park (N. J.) Press (Ind. Dem.)

"It is a message well worth careful reading and is written in a style that is both pleasing and forceful."—Jersey Journal (Ind.)

"The address is one which has found sympathetic lodgement in the heart, the mind and the soul of the American people."—Wilmington (Del.) Journal (Rep.)

"As a state paper it is of good calibre, abounding in practical suggestions and breathing a patriotic spirit that will win the hearty approval of the nation."

DINNER STORIES

The senator was back home, looking after his political fences, and was asking the minister about some old acquaintances.

"How's old Mr. Jones?" he inquired. "Will I be likely to see him today?"

"You'll never see Mr. Jones again," said the minister. "Mr. Jones has gone to heaven."

A funeral near Limerick was followed by a lunch at which champagne was served. One of the farmers sipped a glass of the sparkling liquid very dubiously. He tried again; then he sighed.

Counterfeiter Pleads Guilty And Sentenced

Phil Claiborn, the second of several alleged counterfeiters to be arraigned in federal court, plead guilty Wednesday morning to charges of having manufacmtured counterfeit money and having it in his possession and was sentenced to two years in the federal penitentiary at Fort Leavenworth by Judge James C. Wilson.

Claiborn was the second alleged counterfeiter indicted by the last session of the grand jury to enter a plea of guilty. G. A. Cooper of this city was sentenced to 18 months in the federal penitentiary by Judge Wilson Tuesday.

DENVER, April 20.—Nemo, the famed sleeper of childlore, has been put to shame by Oma Beverley Nemo, pretty Denver miss.

Miss Oma won an annulment of her marriage to Ray William Langford when she testified she had wedded Langford while "fast asleep."

She told the court she had taken an auto ride with Langford during which he proposed. She refused him. Later on the ride she became cold and accepted a few drinks of whiskey as "medicine." When she "came to," she said, she found she had been married to Langford.

AD CLUB TO USE SLOGAN KELL ASKED

The recommendation that Wichita Falls advertisers use the slogan suggested by Frank Kell "100,000 in 1930" for all advertising embodying the same in their letter heads and other publicity, was voted by the members of the Wichita Falls Ad club Wednesday noon at the regular weekly luncheon.

H. J. Forester, cafe manager of the Kemp hotel, in the talk of the day, spoke on "What a Hotel Means to its Community." The value of a good hotel to a community, by its providing a place for meetings and a social gathering place, was emphasized by the speaker.

"A good hotel may cost a city a good deal, but it is never as expensive as the lack of a good one," he said.

Miss Pat Murphy spoke in behalf of the ticket sellers for the University club minstrel and asked the advertisers to make some mention of the affair in their ads from now until the time of the show.

Attendance prizes donated by Jack Barnard, consisting of four tickets to the American Legion Swiss Bell Ringers concert, Thursday night were won by Mrs. W. Wismiller and J. L. Duffy.

The study division of the Ad club will meet Thursday evening at 7:30 p. m., and will be over by 8:30 so members may attend the Legion benefit concert at the Palace theater.

Master Mind Detained for Auto Thefts

John De Lamar, said to have been the master mind in the theft of several automobiles in this section and several points in Oklahoma, was sentenced to three and a half years in the federal penitentiary at Fort Leavenworth by Judge Jas. Wilson of the federal court, following his plea of guilty Wednesday morning to charges of having stolen automobiles and sold them in another state.

According to federal officers De Lamar had paid other parties, mainly youths around 20 years of age, to steal the machines and deliver them to him in another state where he disposed of them.

The heavy sentence is believed to have been due to the fact that De Lamar was the ring leader in the theft of the automobiles.

ABLE TO DO HER WORK

After Long Suffering Mrs. Siefert Was Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Pottsville, Pa.—"I suffered with female trouble for four or five years and was very irregular. I was not fit to do my work at times and took medicine from a doctor and got no benefit. I saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised in the newspapers and took it and got all right. I gained twenty pounds or more and am now able to do my work. I recommend the Vegetable Compound to my friends and you may use these facts as a testimonial."—Mrs. SALLIE SIEFERT, 313 W. Fourth Street, Pottsville, Pa.

The everyday life of many housewives is a continual struggle with weakness and pain. There is nothing more wearing than the ceaseless round of household duties and they become doubly hard when some female trouble makes every bone and muscle ache, and nerves all on edge.

If you are one of these women do not suffer for four or five years as Mrs. Siefert did, but profit by her experience and be restored to health.

IN THE STILLNESS OF THE NIGHT

MARTIN'S FERRY, Ohio, April 20.—There had been a great increase in water consumption here in recent months.

Municipal authorities were puzzled.

After weeks of probing, city officials believe they have located the cause.

They assert that many owners of illicit stills are operating with the aid of water from the city's mains.

LIEUTENANTS FOR JUNKET ANNOUNCED

Apointment of the lieutenants to have charge of the various cars in the Graham excursion Friday, have been announced by R. E. Shepherd, train captain, as follows:

Kiwanis club, Sid Gaines; Traffic club, A. A. Spencer; Chamber of Commerce, C. F. Carter and Retail Merchants' Association, J. W. Thomas.

Other organizations have not signified their intention of decorating cars Mr. Shepherd says but if there are others he will see that there is a man placed in charge.

Letters have been written by Mr. Shepherd to the Chamber of Commerce in Archer City, Olney and Newcastle, at which places the excursionists plan to stop for 15 minutes periods, giving plans for the trip. It is believed that these plans besides adding several hundred to the excursionists will present practically the entire citizenship when the train stops.

Each lieutenant appointed for the cars will have complete charge of his car and Mr. Shepherd says he has tried to select "hard boiled" boots who will discharge their duties in a military manner.

Assurance of sufficient extra equipment to care for the excursion was given by officials of the Southern Wednesday by the Katy and everything is in readiness to start the ball rolling Friday morning.

Introducing Our New Senators

TASKER L. ODDIE

(Republican)

MR. READER:

Meet the former Governor of Nevada, Tasker L. Oddie, now United States Senator from that tate, replacing Charles L. Henderson, a Democrat, who, like Senator Chamberlain, of Oregon, and Phelan, of California, was extremely popular with his Republican as well as Democratic colleagues.

Senator Oddie is perhaps the richest mine owner in the great West. He reaped a fortune from the famous Tonopah mines, of which he was one of the earliest developers.

The Senator came into the world by way of Brooklyn, N. Y., in 1870. He did not go to Navada until 1898. He spent his childhood in East Orange, New Jersey, and was graduated in law from New York University in 1895. As a young attorney he attracted the attention of Anson Phelps Stokes, New York millionaire, who sent him to Nevada to investigate his mining interests. The result of his arduous work was that the Stokes interests were withdrawn from Navada and young Oddie was out of a job. He weat broke periodically for several seasons thereafter, finally linking up with "Jim" Butler, famous in the mining history of the West Coast. Together they discovered the Mispah mine, in the Tonopah district, and Oddie realized his boyhood dreams of finding a "bonanza." He later became District Attorney of Nye County.

Senator Oddie is a direct descendant on his mother's side of Benjamin Tasker, the first Governor of Maryland.

Troop 14 with 14 members registered Wednesday with the scout headquarters.

The first double header of the Scout League season is scheduled for Saturday when Troop 15 meets Troops 3 and 4. Fifteen has taken Troop 9's place in the league.

Reed Issues Data on Sales Tax on Buyers

Concerning misrepresentations, as to sales taxes on manufacturers and importance the following statement was issued Wednesday by Scott Reed, collector of internal revenue:

"Section 900 of the Revenue Act of 1918 imposes on manufacturers of certain articles, an excise tax on their sales, among such articles are automobiles and automobile accessories.

The law and regulations governing this tax permit the manufacturer to reimburse himself for the amount of the tax, subject to certain restrictions, viz.: by quoting the selling price of such articles and the tax on same in separate and exact amount, and where invoices or bills are rendered, by segregating these amounts on such invoices or bills to show plainly what portion of the total amount is charged for the article sold and what portion represents the tax.

"It has been noted that in many cases misrepresentation have been made by the dealers and wholesalers who denote quality as manufacturers, that the taxes imposed by the 1918 revenue act apply to the price cost which the manufactured goods are sold by such dealers and wholesalers and their customers have been required to pay these charges, thinking they represented the actual amount of tax collected and paid over to the government.

"Dealers who are guilty of such practice, not only are unfair to their patrons, but Volstead section 1310 of the Revenue Act of 1918, which imposes very severe penalties for such offenses. The regulations do not prohibit a dealer or wholesaler from reimbursing himself for the actual amount of the tax paid by the manufacturer to the government, but subjects himself to heavy penalties by collecting any amount represented to be a tax, in excess of the original amount of tax imposed on and paid over by the manufacturer.

"Persons and firms who have been guilty as outlined, should discontinue the practice at once, as deputy collectors are instructed to make detailed reports of all such cases that come under their observation, and prescribed penalties will be invariably assessed against all violators.

"This statement is given that the public may know that there is no direct sales tax on automobiles and accessories, but there is an excise tax on sales by the manufacturer and should be returned and paid by the manufacturer. This does not preclude manufacturers and dealers from increasing the list and sales prices on such articles to an amount that will cover the tax."

City Council Adjourns Its Wednesday Meet

Meeting in adjourned session Wednesday morning the city council adjourned to meet Monday on account of lack of a quorum and pressing engagements on the part of commissioners and the mayor.

Dr. J. F. Reed suggested the advisability of spraying trees for the bag worm menace and was heartily seconded in his suggestions. It is believed that the city council will provide for this work through contract, and if that is not feasible, will assist individuals in this work.

Wednesday's meeting followed an adjourned session Monday night. Recommendations on the budget and for the work of the different departments was to have been submitted.

Summary: Two-base hits, Holohan, McElwee, Bischoff, Storey; three-base hits, Jackson, Works; sacrifice hits, Clark, Massey, McElwee, Miller; stolen bases, Tanner, McDonald; double plays, Clark to Tanner to Works; hits off Bird 10 in 4 innings, off Bennett 6 in 3 innings; bases on balls, off Bird 3, Bennett 1; struck out by Darrough 6, Bird 2, Bennett 3; hit by pitcher, Storey, McDonald; wild pitches, Darrough; umpires, Kane and Daly.

Giving the visitors the usual big head, the Spudders pounded their wily to a clubicus victory 13 to 5 over the Gassers yesterday afternoon at Athletic Park. "Mike" Darrough buried almost a perfect game after a poor first inning allowing but six scattered hits and one run in the last eight frames. The Spudders clouted both Bird and Bennett, Billy Smith's selections, hard and made nearly all of their hits count for runs. Again the big inning turned the tide, for the hosts broke a four to four tie in the fifth by scoring five times which took all the heart out of the visitors and the contest was lost to them from that time on.

No Kicks Registered

Both teams played hard throughout and paid little attention to the umpires. Not one "kick" was made during the entire fray and the visitors as well as the Spudders deported themselves as if they had the law laid down to them. According to Umpire Kane, the players were told before the game that from now on stiff fines were the order.

The Shreveport gang got away with a running start, slipping four counters across the pan in the first stanza. Darrough hit the first man up, Massey sacrificed Storey to second who scored when Miller's return of Ewoldt's hit to center was intercepted at the plate by Darrough. Ewoldt fanning third. Jackson proved an easy victim via the breeze route, Darrough pulled a wild throw and Ewoldt counted. Eibel singled to right and went to third on Holihan's double to center. Hartford singled to left scoring Eibel and Holihan but was out at first when he overran the bag and McDonald shot the ball to Works. This inning was all the excitement the visitors provided during the afternoon for Darrough held them on his hip for the remainder of the matinee.

Spudders Make Two

The Spudders shoved two over in their half by a walk and three successive hits. Rothfuss strolled. Tanner lifted a fly to Holihan. McDonald singled to right and "Froggy" went to third. Clark bounced the pill through center scoring Rothfuss putting McDonald on second. Miller looked around over and then shot the ball through second, McDonald scoring. Clark tried to count but was run down between third and home when McElwee dumped down the first base line and Eibel threw home. Works went out Holihan to Eibel.

Rotidfuss singled in the second but his mates couldn't help. The visitors went out in order.

Even In Third.

The Spudders tied the score in the third. McElwee's double scored McDonald and Works' triple to deep center brought the rightfielder scampering across the home station. Works' outflop bounded off the center field fence and with it went a high priced silk shirt offered by one of the business concerns for the first triple.

Big Final In Fifth

Saint's crew busted loose in the fifth, winning the contest with a mixture of hits, walks and sacrifices. Clark was the only Spudder not to get a time at bat in this frame but came through in the next stanza when he started the sixth with a single to right. McElwee also singled in the sixth and both scored when Bischoff doubled to deep left. A hit and a walk counted for another homeling score in the eighth and a hit coupled with an error by the visiting third baseman gave the Spudders their final score. The visitors managed to squeeze their total to five in the eighth when Storey doubled and Massey singled.

Manager Walter thought to break his hard luck by leaving Darrough in despite the disastrous first inning and the mose worked, for the ex-West Texas Leaguer looked like a million dollars the remainder of the game. He made Jackson, the Gasser's cleanup hitter look foolish twice by striking him out on a fast outcurve that broke around the shoulders and altogether fanned six of the opposing batsmen.

Bird Should Make Good

Billy Smith's selection, a youngster by the name of Bird looked fairly good considering the fact it was his first time out but the Spudders who would have hit Walter Johnson yesterday picked on the youngster's best for enough hits and runs to win the contest. The kid looked good and should go good against little more experience.

SMITH GIVES ORDERS THAT NO CUSS WORDS ALLOWED BY GASSERS

"I've given all my ball players strict orders to quit using any brand of profanity on the ball field, and they'll quit," Billy Smith, manager of the Shreveport Gassers said yesterday afternoon at the ball park.

"We're here to play baseball and not ot give the fans any chance for future censor on what we say," the visiting pilot continued. "However, we think that we should have had an even break on what occurred Tuesday afternoon for both Manager Salm and Pitcher Verbout were equally guilty of using a choice line of profanity. Verbout was given a reprimand by me."

The absence of bad feeling and the using of "curse" words as well as the absence of baiting the umps was conspicuous by it's very absence yesterday afternoon. Both Salm and Smith know that they are playing for the fans and that the disagreeable features should be left out of the game as much as possible. "It won't happen again," say both.

FROM THE ROOF

The umpires had a perfect day, not a kick being registered during the fray.

Every man on both teams made at least one hit with the exception of the two Shreveport pitchers.

McElwee sure looks good in a pinch. So far this season he has come through every time a run could be used.

Tanner and Clark must be running a race to see who can make the most errors. Their timely hits however, make up for the bobbles.

Bischoff worked behind the bat for the first time this year and showed that he was indeed a capable catcher. He backed up first and third at all times and caught a nice game.

Miller hurt his knee in the first part of the game when he tried for a catch of Holihan's double. Jake just barely missed the catch tripping and falling when he tried to turn to chase the ball to the fence.

McDonald got out of his hitting slump and came through with three timely bingles.

Tanner flew out the first three times up, but managed to get on by a hit and a walk the next two times. He scored both times he was on the bags.

Works' triple in the third looked like a sure over-the-fence clout. It hit just a few feet in front of the enclosure.

Clark got two singles but struck out the last time up. This was the first time this season the keystone sacker has breezed.

Rothfuss banged out three clouts and walked twice. He scored twice.

Darrough came through with a single with the bases full in the fifth that scored two. The first two times up he fanned.

"BABE" PINCHED FOR SPEEDING

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, April 20—While Babe Ruth was motoring to the Polo Grounds today to keep an important engagement with the American League baseball team, a motorcycle policeman dashed along the famous batsman's roadster and informed him he was exceeding Broadway's speed limit.

After a brief but pointed argument, the officer served Ruth with a summons to appear in traffic court tomorrow morning to answer a charge for speeding.

The Yankees are scheduled to play a game at Philadelphia tomorrow. Whether Babe will participate will depend upon how long he is detained here.

BABE RUTH'S FIRST VICTIM

Has Babe Ruth found his batting eye? Scott Perry'll tell you he has. For Babe grabbed four hits off Perry in the first game of the season. Babe failed to get a homer, though. Perry isn't discouraged. "I'll wait until I see how the other pitchers get along," says Perry.

Glancin' 'Round The Sport World
WITH VAN

Frank Zuna of Newark, N. J., won the annual American Marathon at Boston a few days ago, making a new record for the 27 miles and a few yards. His time was 2 hours, 18 minutes and 57 3-5 seconds. Charlie Meller of Chicago stepped with the winner all along the course until the final mile, when he slowed up and finished in 2 hours, 22 minutes and 12 seconds. Zuna will be known as the Marathon champion of the United States for 1921.

Jack Dempsey and "Babe" Ruth met the other night atop the Ziegfeld roof. The hour was after twelve and when "Babe" and his party arrived the champion was foxtrotting away to his heart's delight. Ruth had just made his first homerun of the season that day, and Jack heartily grasped Babe's hand and wished him a new record for the season and pennant money. Babe answered that he hoped the heavyweight championship would stay in America after July 2.

"You tell 'em it will, there's nothing to it," said Jack.

The many players in the major leagues who are holding out for more salary has caused more discussion among the sport writers this year than in many a year heretofore. The Cubs ultimatum to Robertson and the Red's refusal to pay Eddie Roush the $20,000 salary demanded are perhaps the two good stories of the week and the aforesaid type slingers are going to it with a vengeance. Robertson must take a personally conducted two weeks training trip without salary before he can join Johnny Evers' outfit and for all that Moran cares, Roush can stay on the farm for the rest of his life before he'll get the amount asked for a season's work.

The baseball fans of Abilene number many women as evidenced by the fact that the pennant winners of last year have been presented with a magnificent flag made by the fanettes of broadcloth and worked in silk lettering. The flag is in the regulation pennant shape with the words "Champions 1920" spread across it. At the big end is a large white circle with a spread eagle worked in silk and the words "Abilene, West Texas League" worked around the eagle.

COWBOYS WANT POLO CONTEST WITH W. F. P. C,

The following is what we found on the sport desk this afternoon when returning from the ball game. Seems that some of the cowboys who are due to ride at the Rodeo next week think the local polo club are a bunch of "dudes" and that if given a chance the wild and wooly cow slingers can defeat the Polo Club at their own game. Here is a chance for added bit of sport in this city:

To Sporting Editor,
Record News.
Dear Sir:

I just lit in town two days ago for the Round-Up and am going to take my turn at Bronc riding and Bulldogging with the rest of them, and while I am not one of those cactus eating cowboys, I have heard that there is a dude Polo team here that claims they can beat any four fellows in these here parts punching the willow ball around on horseback. I was down to a place where they said the manager of this aggregation of polo pingpongers hung out but when I went in there were a lot of ladies trying on summer hats and I didn't see no men so I just backed out like I was in the wrong place, but what I want to tell you so that you can tell the rest of them is that there are four real cowboys here including myself because I count as one, who will play these city chaps on their own lot for anything from a peanut to the biggest loving cup ever turned out of any cup factory.

These four fellows I will pick is myself, Hugh Strickland, Jim Massey and Slim Caskey and I think that we are four of the ridinest cowboys that ever broke out of a smokehouse and that there ain't four fellows livin who wear high collars and sell wimmins hats for exercise that can touch us in any game where horses is used. So if you will tell them to send their manager up to Round-Up headquarters I will sure make a deal with them for a game and they can cut the gate receipts anyway they want them and pile up anything they want to on the side.

HERE'S LITTLE TIP TO TOMMY GIBBONS

By HARRY NEWMAN

NEW YORK, April 18.—Tom Gibbons is a good fighter and has the makings of a champion, but the same Thomas is not going to make himself very solid with the boxing fans by skipping around the country, picking up "set-ups" and knocking them cold. Gibbons is capable of better things and the idea of grabbing off the soft places for the St. Paul man is all wrong.

Gibbons says he would like to get a crack at Dempsey. Well, if he does, he is aiming in the wrong direction to attract the attention of the champion. Whaling the stuffing out of a lot of decrepits will not place him in a position to make any demands.

Step out, Tom, and mingle with the roughest boys you can find. No one is going to pay any attention to you if you don't. Pretty much every one thinks you are a good clever boxer, and that some day you will be in the line for the championship among the heavies. But you must lay off grabbing them dead ones.

Confident Bids For Bonds Will Be Satisfactory

County officials feel confident that satisfactory bids will be received on the remaining million and half county road bonds the sealed bids for which will be opened next Monday at the regular weekly meeting of the commissioner's court.

Following extensive advertising in leading financial journals of the east and north numerous inquiries have been received at the office of Pat Murphy, county auditor and Judge J. P. Jones, county judge, regarding the bonds.

If the bonds are sold at that time the county road projects can be continued without delay with the completion of the concrete road between this city and Iowa Park.

The history of the button dates back to Queen Elizabeth's reign.

BABE'S HOMER COUNTS AGAIN FOR YANKEES

NEW YORK, April 20.—The New York Yankees closed their first home stand today by defeating the Boston Red Sox by a score of 8 to 4. Russell, a former Yankee, did well until the seventh inning, when Ruth broke a tie score by making his second home run of the season with Peckinpaugh on base. Meusel clinched the game in the eighth with another home run made with Ruth and Pipp on base.

With the Pugs

Ever since Pete Herman, the former bantam king, lost his title to Joe Lynch he appears to be in a new frame of mind. He has cast aside all his foolishness and is fighting better than he ever did. He is proving that the punch he possesses is being used to a greater degree than formerly, and when he meets Joe Lynch again some time this summer it behooves Lynch to be on his guard and at his best or the title he annexed a short time ago will be but a fleeting memory. Seems it took something like a defeat to wake Herman up to his own possibilities, and his work of late has had all the earmarks of a champion.

"Wild Bill" Kenney, well known in the states, was recently kayoed in a single round in Paris by a Frenchman named Journee, who was a former sparring partner of Georges Carpentier. The Frenchman seems to have made a big hit and great things are predicted for him. Perhaps they are all true, but whenever one of these highly-touted heavyweights comes from abroad and meets the men of the same type over here—well, presto, it's a slam and a bang and the thing is all over. Maybe this Journee chap will prove the exception to the rule.

Georges Carpentier will sail for America May 4. In a cablegram received from Francois Descamps by Promoter Tex Rickard it was stated six weeks training for Carpentier will be sufficient, as he is now in good shape.

CAMPBELL CIRCUS ATTRACTING CROWD

The H. W. Campbell trained wild animal circus appearing in this city is proving a drawing card to large crowds every night. Some unusual animal acts in the way of trained horses, lions, monkeys, and other features are presented which are truly remarkable.

One of the features of the show is the "Bird Song" an act presented by Miss Cleo Weber with her horse and a bevy of snow white fan tail pigeons. The work of Captain Weber shows his ability, both as a rider and trainer. Another high point of the circus is Campbell's den of wild animals.

The Liberty Bell, rung from the State House of Philadelphia, Pa., July 8, 1776, at noon, was ordered from London in 1751 at a cost of $500.

TICKETS FOR MINSTREL GO LIKE WILDFIRE

Tickets sales for the four performances of the University club minstrels to be given for the benefit of high school athletics on Monday and Tuesday afternoon and evenings, was reported going famously Wednesday afternoon by R. P. Haney, chairman of the ticket committee, with competition between class groups for the privilege of dining at a banquet as guests of the University club, seemingly, about even.

Wednesday afternoon the ticket sales campaign by school students, announced some days ago was formally opened at 3 o'clock under the direction of team captains.

Appearing at the chapel exercises of both senior and junior high schools Wednesday morning for the purpose of encouraging students to put every ounce of their energy in the sales campaign, E. P. Haney and R. R. Fisk made short addresses and Ben C. Neal rendered two black face songs.

Need for Funds.

In outlining the needs of the school for athletic funds, S. H. Rider, principal of senior high schools, declared that the boys had been forced to visit business men in the city and solicit funds with which to buy bare equipment, such as bats, uniforms, various kinds of balls and that, in most cases, the burden of expenses for support of athletics of the entire city schools was being borne by the parents of students participating in the events, when it really should be borne "share and share alike" by the citizenship of the city.

Mr. Rider pointed out that the schools have no enclosed field in which to hold their contests, so that charges cannot be collected and mentioned the great need that is felt for an indoor gymnasium, where basket, volley, hand and indoor baseball may be indulged in by every boy and girl of the city.

"However," said he, "we hardly anticipate any thing so good as that in the near future, but with the assistance of so live a bunch as the University club, do expect to see our students able to take a part in interscholastic events and represent the best of Wichita Falls as she should be represented in the coming year."

Competition among students for the cash prizes was expected to be centering chiefly about the banquet prize offered by the University club, with individual prizes, secondary.

Ambitious in Show.

Reports from some of the privileged few, who have been permitted a hearing of the minstrel, indicate that the University club members are putting forth their best efforts to stage a minstrel that will eclipse any and all amateur efforts that have ever been made in the city.

Mr. Haney announced Wednesday that five new prizes have been added to the list of prizes from local merchants making it possible to award a first and second prize to the leaders of the different groups in addition to the grand prize of $25 for the greatest individual sales of all.

The new prizes were announced as follows: Kruger Jewelry company, $5; Halton & Friedly, $5; Art Jewelry company, $5; and Dave Paul, $5.

Ex-Champion Steer Roper In Round-Up

Scout Maish, ex-world's champion wild steer bulldogger and said to be the most reckless and daring bulldogger alive, will enter the Round-Up which will be staged here April 28, 29 and 30.

This information was obtained at Round-Up headquarters at the office of Jerome S. Stone Wednesday and is said to have thrown much confusion into the ranks of the bulldoggers already assembled here for the contest. It was further said that the famous bulldogger will be backed by a strong delegation from Pawnee Bill's buffalo ranch near Pawnee, Okla.

Maj. Gordon W. Lillie (Pawnee Bill) sent in the entry of Maish and stated that there will be a large delegation from that section of Oklahoma who will attend the Round-Up here.

According to Major Lilly Maish has perfected a new bulldogging hold with which he expects to win back the championship. This hold is known, or rather has been named the horn scissor. It is said that Maish in leaping for his steer in bulldogging goes feet foremost with an instantaneous gripping of the steer's head and horns in a similar manner in which the body scissors is employed in wrestling, and is able to throw the steer in jig time.

Major Lillie stated that those people who have seen Maish employ the new hold are wild about his chances to beat any other bulldogger, but it is claimed that the new hold makes the feat more dangerous and that to miss in the leap is almost certain to bring serious injury to the buldogger.

Maish was the big sensation in the bulldogging event of the Pendleton Round-Up three years ago, but lost the title to Mike Hastings at Cheyenne, Wyo., in July, 1919, and since that time has been in retirement. It is believed by many if the former champion is in his old time form that the going will be rough for any one who beats him to the wire for the big prizes here.

C. R. Williams of Kalespell, Mont., one of the greatest bronc riders of the entire northwest, arrived here Wednesday and will take part in the bronc riding contest of the Round-Up.

ENGLISH MAIDENS ARE ALREADY DISPORTING ON BEACHES

Photographs show two fair young English bathers enjoying a game of chess between dips and, below, two others enjoying a little rope jumping for exercise.

English folk are able to enjoy the bathing season long before the people of this country. They begin to get their dips Easter and continue right into November. These snapshots were taken at the opening of the season at Margate Beach, England. The fair bathers are enjoying other sports besides their daily swim by the looks of the photographs above.

School "Marms" Will Picnic on Lake Wichita

Everything from crisp bacon on a forked stick to speeches from members of the school board will be included in the program of a picnic party of all teachers in the city schools and members of the school board Saturday afternoon at Lake Wichita, according to announcements made Wednesday by teachers.

The party plans to leave in special cars at 3 o'clock and go immediately to the grounds, where kodaking and other picnic sports will occupy the first part of the program, with a bountiful picnic supper at about 6 o'clock as the crowning event of the day.

They will return about 8 o'clock Saturday evening, according to their plans.

DEFENDANT WINS IN FEDERAL COURT CASE

A jury in federal court Wednesday morning brought in a verdict in favor of the defendant in the suit of Waddell & Son, Inc., against J. D. Parnell. The suit was based on a contract between the parties.

WOMEN ARE FAVORABLE TO OPEN MARKET

Women of the city, sounded out through the various church societies, and such retail grocers as have been interviewed are equally in favor of the open air market plan advocated by the Civic league, and hope that final steps toward its organization may grow out of next Saturday's meeting, according to Mrs. T. B. Smock, president of the league.

Women of the church societies were queried by Civic league workers, directed by Mrs. H. S. Crawford, while those of the retail grocers who have been seen were reached by Mrs. Crawford and Mrs. Smock.

The grocers interviewed believe that they will be able to use the market to advantage, Mrs. Smock said, through their purchases in wholesale quantities, while the housekeepers of the city will gain through the choice and variety of produce offered, and through the price at which they can be obtained.

It is expected that definite steps toward the opening of the market on the McClurkan lot, Scott and Ninth, will result from Saturday's meeting at the Chamber of Commerce rooms, which will be attended by truck growers in the vicinity. The meeting will be at 3 p. m.

INABNIT PUSHES CAR FROM BODY

Through muscular effort, J. C. Inabnit's life was saved Wednesday evening, when aided by the circumstances of a slight depression, he turned a Mitchell Six car from his body near the Byers bridge at Duncan and continued the trip to his home here, with a slight abbrasion of the face.

Mr. Inabnit operated in the Wichita county oil fields when they first opened and he is now operating in the Duncan field.

No medical attention was deemed necessary by Mr. Inabnit and after righting the car by aid of passers-by he continued his trip to Wichita Falls arriving here Wednesday night.

BOND FIXED AT $500 IN LIQUOR CASE

Dan E. McGregor, arrested last week by state rangers for the alleged violation of the Dean prohibition act, was held on $500 bond Wednesday following a preliminary hearing in Justice of the Peace Maxwell's court.

McGregor was one of three men arrested by the rangers last Friday.

A good many of the high school seniors are making the prize subject the theme for their final thesis and some excellent entries are expected, according to Superintendent Lee Clark.

In refined prices were reduced 5 points by two refiners to basis of 7.45 for fine granulated for hard grades and 25 points by another to the basis of 7.50. Others refiners made no further changes, listing at 7.50 for fine granulated. There was no improvement noted in the demand.

Sugar futures were easier, but trading was less active and operators were inclined to hold off and await developments in the spot market. There was a little selling by trade interests and closing prices were 5 to 7 points net lower. May closed at 4.20; July 4.32; September 4.38.

NEW YORK COFFEE.

NEW YORK, April 20.—Most of the business in coffee futures today consisted of further switching from May and July to later months, but prices were steadier on reports of a better tone in Brazil and a little trade buying. Later fluctuations were somewhat irregular, but within a range of 3 to 5 points and the market closed at a net advance of 4 to 6 points. COTTON GOES HIGHER WITH BIG DEMAND

NEW ORLEANS, April 20.—The trend in cotton today was higher from the opening on a general demand for which the cold weather in the belt was mainly responsible. Private reports told of almost general replanting in many localities in the southern half of the belt, the government's weekly review of the cotton crop was considered highly unfavorable and weather reports indicate another cold wave headed for the cotton region, which, it was feared would put the finishing touch to crop damaging. The advance was well maintained throughout the session and was gradually widened until during the last half hour it amounted to 35 to 37 points. The close was 29 to 30 up. May traded as high as 11.68 and closed at 11.62. In early trading values were helped to some extent by better cables than due and fresh attempts to settle the British coal strike, but the market soon got away from such features and settled down to consideration of weather and crop news. Private reports from the interior said that many farmers were buying fresh supplies of seed for replanting and some localities claimed that supplies of specialty breed seed were getting low or were exhausted. In the early afternoon, buyers received further encouragement from spot points in Texas, which wired in that the demand for export was improving. Shorts covered freely following the receipt of these messages and the additional demand made for a very firm undertone.

NEW YORK COTTON.

NEW YORK, April 20.—The cotton market recovered most of yesterday's losses, owing to smaller offerings from the south, reports of an improving spot demand in Liverpool and an unfavorable weekly report on crop progress. July contracts sold up to 12.60 or 31 points net higher and closed at 12.54, with the general market closing steady at a net advance of 20 to 29 points.

The market was irregular at the start, owing to a renewal of near month liquidation. Spot interests seemed willing to buy May against sales of July at a difference of about 60 points, however, and as soon as initial sales had been absorbed the market turned firm on covering.

Trading was very quiet during the middle of the day with brokers again reporting a more or less general disposition to wait the outcome of Friday's conference between the English coal miners and the mine owners and developments in connection with German war reparations. Covering became a little more active after the publication of the weekly weather report, indicating that planting and growth of cotton had been retarded by wet weather, followed by low temperatures and there was some foreign trade buying toward the close. This was believed to include buying of October for Japanese account, and Liverpool also seemed to have a few buying orders here in the late trading. May sold from 11.70 to 11.97 and October from 12.83 to 13.14, closing within 4 or 5 points of the best. Port receipts today 10,088; United States port stocks 1,545,059. STOCKS LACK STIMULUS IN DAY'S TRADE

NEW YORK, April 20.—Lacking stimulus or initiative from any responsible quarter, the stock market today lapsed into a state of dullness and irregularity, after an early period of activity and higher prices for speculative favorites, notably the oils.

Steels, equipments and various other industrials which move in their wake were sluggish at reactions of 1 to 2 points, while local tractions weakened in connection with prospective readjustment or cancellation of existing leases.

The course of negotiations between the American Ship Owners association and its employes occasioned some pressure against marine issues and reacted moderately upon rails.

British and continental rates of exchange strengthened perceptibly in response to latest reparations developments but the German rate showed corresponding depression. Weakness in the Greek rate was attributed to that country's military reserves.

The bond market was fairly active, but mainly at the expense of values. Liberty issues were lower.

Sterling declined in the late dealings. Sixty day bills and commercial 60-day bills on banks $3.87⅝; commercial 60-day bills $3.87⅝; demand 3.92⅝; cables 3.93 1-8.

COLLEGE GIRLS SHEAR LOCKS TO BECOME MODERN

WELLESLEY, Mass., April 20.—Woman's crown of glory is her hair—everywhere but at Wellesley college. There the bobbed hair fashion is growing in favor, the underguards giving as their reason the convenience and the absence of hair nets.

Even members of the Wellesley college news board have joined the procession and appear with bobbed locks.

The girls sometimes act as barbers for their mates, making a good job with the aid of a bowl.

Paris says the style is vanishing, but the Wellesley girls grin and say: "A fig for Paris fashions. We delight in the absence of hairpnis and nets."

The heaviest rainfall in the world is on the southern slopes of the Himalaya mountains.

WHEAT TAKES SWING UPWARD TO NEW PRICE

CHICAGO, April 20.—Wheat took a decided upward swing in price today after a new decline in which the July delivery touched the lowest point this season. The close was strong, 2½ to 4c net higher with May $1.25½ to $1.25¾ and July $1.05 1-4 to $1.05½. Corn gained 2 1-8 to 3 1-4 and oats 1 5-8 to 2c. In provisions the outcome varied from 9c decline to 20c advance.

Estimates were current that the wheat crop of India this season would be 100,000,000 bushels less than last year's total, and that the country would be an importer instead of an exporter.

Domestic crop deterioration reports came from the west and southwest and were contrary to the government weekly report which said freezing temperatures had done but little damage, strength in the corn market tended also to stimulate active buying which had been noticeable during the first part of the day.

Persistent export demand gave independent strength to the corn market. Oats were firm in sympathy.

Provisions rallied with grain after being depressed by lower quotations on hogs.

SCHOOLBOY SOVIETS

LONDON, April 20.—Among the astonishing medley of new theories being attempted at English schools is a sort of setting up of a Soviet in the class. In the coeducational school the boys and girls are instructed to decide for themselves just how they shall be marked by their master and how and what they shall study.

MOTES AND BEAMS

CHICAGO, April 20.—A particle of dust in a woman's eye cost Gus Hoppe, of Racine, $50. Hoppe met Miss Esther Schreiber, and as he passed she winked. He followed her, until she called a policeman. Miss Schreiber told the court she didn't mean to wink the way Gus thought she did, but that a mote of dust had lodged in her eye. The judge fined Gus fifty.

JUDGE WILSON DEFERS PASSING CRUM'S SENTENCE

Sentence in the case of J. C. Crum who plead guilty Wednesday morning in federal court to a charge of violating the federal prohibition act, was deferred by Judge James C. Wilson pending investigation as to whether or not the accused is suffering from tuberculosis. Crum who is said to be around 60 years of age has been confined in the county jail for some time.

Mr. O'Brien was having heavy going on a slippery pavement in the days before prohibition. He slipped and sat down with force right in front of a judge who happened to know him.

"O'Brien," said the judge, "sinners stand on slippery ground."

"So I see judge," answered Mr. O'Brien, "but it's more than I can do."

The custom of wearing black for mourning was originated by Anne, the queen of Charles VIII of France.

JAP PRINCE IS STUDENT OF POETRY

By DUKE N. PARRY.

TOKIO, April 20.—An incident connected with the departure of the Crown Prince of Japan for foreign lands not generally known, but now carefully filed away in the archives of the State Department in Washington, occurred at the Akasaka Palace in Tokio a few days before His Highness left.

The Prince was giving a farewell banquet for the heads of the various embassies and legations in Tokio and, after a banquet which will long be remembered as a marvel for beauty and excellent food, the ambassadors, ministers and charge stood outside the Prince's private room awaiting for the coveted short informal conversation which they were to have with the future Emperor of Japan. Sir Charles Eliot, Ambassador from Great Britain, Basil Krupenski, Ambassador from Russia (the Russian Government is recognized by Japan), and numerous others ranking as ambassadors had had their few moments of informal conversation.

Mr. Edward Bell, American Charge d'Affaires, ranking as a Charge, was among the last to enter. It was known that the Crown Prince talked little English and that his usual topics were "Do you like Tokio?" "Are you anxious to see our beautiful cherry blossom season?" or some other subject of passing importance. These topics had been taking less than five minutes for discussion, and for that reason, when Mr. Bell remained with the Prince five minutes, then ten, the waiting ambassadors and ministers fidgeted. "Is he signing a new treaty, starting a war or what?" was the remark made by one of the older members of the Corps Diplomatique.

Poetry, Not War.

Quite naturally, therefore, when Mr. Bell came out he was asked numerous questions as to the length of time he had conversed with the Crown Prince. When he replied that the Prince was simply questioning him regarding the poetry of Mrs. Charles Burnett, wife of the Military Attache of the American Embassy, his hearers were astounded.

Mrs. Burnett ranked high in the New Year poetry contest held by the Imperial household. She was summoned numerous times by the former Emperor Dowager before the latter's death and was remembered in the will of the Empress when she died. Her poem "And you shall walk Therein," written on the occasion of the Prince's departure for Europe, and sent from Japan to all of the countries included on the imperial trip, has created much favorable comment in court circles.

So when Mr. Bell entered he was not greeted by a formal Crown Prince. Instead, without introductory remarks His Highness said: "Have you read Mrs. Burnett's poems?"

To which the American Charge d'Affaires replied that he had. And there followed a ten-minute conversation on the splendid worth of Mrs. Burnett's works. Now, rumor in the capital has it, whenever Mr. Bell meets the British Ambassador they discuss the relative merits of British and American amateur poets in Japan. And Mr. Bell is very wont to tell the conversation of the Crown Prince of Japan, in which, this same report has it the work of a prominent and beautiful American lady of Tokio comes in for a large share of mention.

Sale of Tickets For Graham Trip Reported Plenty

Sufficient sales of tickets to guarantee a special car load of Wichita club members on the excursion to Graham, celebrating the opening of the Wichita Falls & Southern railway extension was reported Wednesday at the regular weekly luncheon of the club, at which H. C. Walker, former lieutenant governor of New York and one time democratic nominee for the senate, and State Senator Guinn Williams of Decatur were the principal speakers.

Mr. Wilson, who was introduced by Judge Britain, as fully experienced to explain how the recent "steam roller" worked, declared that it was no roller that ran through New York state, but a storm that simply blew he and his co-partisans completely out of the running.

The speaker said that he had many friends in the "Empire city," who were former Texans and asserted that they showed no hesitancy in recommending their state, which he found to easily meet the description that he had been hearing so long from her former citizens.

CONTEST OF ELECTION SET FOR MAY 2ND

The suit of George Hodgins against W. G. Bralley, police and fire commissioner, which involves the legality of the recent municipal election returns from the court house box will be tried May 2, according to an announcement made Wednesday by Judge Ed Napier of the 78th district court.

In connection with the setting of the case Judge Napier said that he had asked Judge P. A. Martin of the 30th district court and Judge H. P. Weldon of the 30th district court to sit with him in the hearing. Judge Martin has accepted the invitation. Judge Weldon is out of the city at the present time.

In the event other suits are filed against the legality of the election they will probably be heard at the same time Judge Napier stated. It has been rumored in local political circles for several days that W. G. Bralley will file a counter charge against George Hodgins with a view of testing the legality of the voting at the city hall box.

Bankers Say Rail Workers To Take Cuts

Employes of the railroad will agree to a reduction of wages, and this action will further the liquidation enabling the roads to lower the freight rates, increasing the volume of business was the opinion expressed by several leading bankers and financiers of the North to C. W. Reid, vice president of the City National Bank of Commerce, who returned Wednesday from a business trip to Kansas City and other Northern points.

All of the financial authorities with whom Mr. Reid talked concerning the financial outlook, he said, are more optimistic regarding the liquidation of the country's debts, inasmuch as the railroad problem is promising to be worked out, and the international situation indicates peace will be declared with Germany soon.

"The railroads normally are one of the largest users of steel and building materials of all kind in the United States but have been forced by lack of funds to postpone needed improvement of the systems as well as extensions," Mr. Reid says, "and it is easy to see that when they are able to do enough business to make money and sell their bonds they create a market for a world of material of all kinds.

"When the wages are reduced to an equitable basis, the roads will be able to revise the present prohibitive rates and shipping will increase. With this revenue, the roads will make money and the wheels of commerce will go forward once more."

How the international trade and financial problems will be worked out Mr. Reid said, will best be determined by events, and that the opinion of financiers was that the European nations were ready to agree to a declaration of peace.

"It may be that a temporary system of barter, such as was followed by the earliest known traders," Mr Reid remarked, "will have to be adopted to secure a renewal of trade between the United States and Europe."

A recent example of the exchange of American cotton valued at $200,000 for cotton ties, of which there is a shortage in this country, with Germany, was cited by Mr. Reid as an example of the crudities of foreign trade with the money exchange system in its present condition.

MOVIELAND

Marion Fairfax.

Marion Fairfax, noted playwright and author of scenarios for Marshall Neilan's "Dinty," "Go and Get It," "The River's End" and "Bob Hampton of Placer," has formed her own producing company to be known as Marion Fairfax Productions. She looks more like a regular movie star herself than many we have seen.

Miss Fairfax, whose successful stage plays prior to her affiliation with motion pictures gained her wide prominence as a playwright, has given the screen many of its most popular photoplays via Marshall Neilan and Famous Players-Lasky. For the stage she created such metropolitan successes as "The Builders," first produced at the Astor theater in New York; "The Chaperon" with Maxine Elliott, "Mrs Crew's Career" in collaboration with Winston Churchill and others.

The initial independent production by Miss Fairfax for the screen will be entitled "The Lying Truth," her own original story. In the leading roles will appear such popular players as Marjorie Daw, Pat O'Malley, Tully Marshall, Noah Beery, Claire McDowell, Charles Mailes, George Dromgold and Robert Brower. Hugh McClung will co-direct with Miss Fairfax.

BRYANT WASHBURN TO TOUR.

Bryant Washburn is soon to tour the principal cities and appear personally at theaters showing his new production, "The Road to London."

FRANK KEENAN AND "RIP VAN WINKLE."

Frank Keenan shows no sign of returning to the screen. He is preparing a stage revival of "Rip Van Winkle" in California.

BESSIE LOVE WITH BOSWORTH.

Bessie Love is journeying forth on the first sea-going trip of her five-year film career. She has been induced to become a member of Hobart Bosworth's company for one picture, and will join them at the Santa Cruz Islands, to play the leading ingenue part opposite Bosworth in his forthcoming release, "The Sea Lion."

San Angeloan Offered Post With Zweibel

Lawrence C. Harris, well known attorney of San Angelo has been tendered the office of first assistant federal attorney for this district, according to an announcement made here Wednesday by Henry Zwiebel, recently appointed federal district attorney. Mr. Zweibel said Wednesday that he did not know whether Mr. Harris would be in a position to accept the appointment at this time or not.

Mr. Zweibel also said that W. T. Allen would be retained as assistant district attorney for the district. Judge Allen as he is commonly known, has been connected with the department for some time. Mrs. R. C. Mails will be retained as clerk at the Dallas office. No other announcements were made by Mr. Zweibel.

Although no definite announcement was made it is understood that Mr. Zweibel plans to succeed the present incumbent, R. E. Taylor, as district attorney, the first of May, when the federal term of court opens at Abilene.

It is also understood that his conference here with Mr. Taylor Wednesday was for the purpose of making arrangements to take over the office at that time. Mr. Taylor will complete the present term of federal court here.

He left here Wednesday afternoon for his home following information to the effect that he had sustained a large loss by fire in San Angelo.

TALE OF AN IMMIGRANT PUP

WINDSOR, Mich., April 20.—What nationality is a dog whose parents are Irish terrier and German dachshund if that puppy is born in Boulogne? Whatever that nationality is, Mike is it. And Mike is also the new mascot of the Great War Veterans' club. The dog, brought from France by Sergeant-Major Francis McKay, is a decided asset to the club.

He can do patrol duty, march on his hind legs, "right dress" and "about face." He will pick out any special pool ball from the pool table when ordered.

For rapid healing there is nothing like Liquid Borozone. It mends torn flesh, heals cuts, burns or sores so quickly no time is lost from work. Price, 30c, 60c, and $1.20. Sold by your druggist.—Adv.

Major General Wears Overalls To Aid Legion

By Associated Press.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 20.—A white haired elderly man, dressed in blue overalls, entered a building here which is being converted into a club house for the American Legion, looked around curiously and then accosted the man in charge of the volunteer workers.

"I heard you were trying to fix up things for your opening party April 27," he said. "Can I help?"

"Sure, pitch in," was the answer.

The elderly man "pitched in" with hammer, saw and broom. For several hours he worked in silence among the volunteers, until he was interrupted by the hail:

"Why, general, how long have you been here?"

Former soldiers, sailors and marines looked wonderingly at the man in overalls. Then they recognized Major General Hunter Liggett, former field commander of the first American army overseas and until his retirement several weeks ago commander of the Ninth army corps area.

Block Paving To Be Given New Surface

Water coating the block paving of the city streets and treating with a crushed rock formation to provide a cushion is to be started in the near future. It is believed this treatment will prevent the "bulging" of the paving blocks and that it will prove efficacious in correcting the faults in these streets.

Wednesday saw paving work on Brook street resumed and contractors will push this work to completion.

Material troubles are holding up the work on the storm sewer on Indiana avenue, but will soon be overcome as the needed material is on its way to this city, officials say.

CHARITABLE PASSERSBY.

LONDON, April 20.—When a man fell—or jumped—from the window of his room on the second story of his premises at East Ham the other day it looked a though he was about due to take a hurried trip to the morgue.

Luckily for him—but not for those he encountered—he managed to alight on a couple of women who were passing. He walked to the ambulance which was summoned but the two women were carried to it and at the hospital it was stated that although he would be all right in a couple of days, the two women were seriously injured.
