Rescue Is Successful

HAZLETON, Pa. (AP)—Henry Thorne and David Fellin, lifted to the surface unharmed in a safety harness from more than 300 feet underground, were pronounced in excellent shape today by physicians who examined them after their 14-day ordeal.
Dr. Peter Saras, who examined Thorne, and Dr. Anthony Fidulla, personal physician to Fellin for 10 years, said they were amazed that the miners came out of their cramped quarters in such excellent shape.
Fellin, 58, and Thorne, 28, were trapped in a mine cave-in at 9 a.m. Aug. 13.
Saras said Thorne's blood pressure when he was brought to the surface early today was 110-70, down a little from normal but considered very good. Fellin's blood pressure was normal.
Saras said he didn't expect Thorne to remain in the hospital for much longer than 48 hours. He will be X-rayed and given heart and other psychological tests later today.
Fidulla said he planned to keep Fellin in the hospital for about a week just to make certain everything is all right. He said Fellin came through in fine shape, that his mind was clear, and there was no vomiting.
Saras said Thorne's blood pressure rose slightly after he was transferred to Hazleton Hospital where both men were given a complete physical examination.
"Thorne was absolutely in good shape," said Saras. "He had no complaints except for a swelling in his right hand which he had no feeling in."

Escape Hole For Bova Is Started

By STANFORD H. BENJAMIN
Associated Press Staff Writer
HAZLETON, Pa. (AP)—Drilling of a 17 1/2-inch escape hole for Louis Bova similar to the one used to free Henry Thorne and David Fellin began today less than five hours after Thorne and Fellin were lifted to the surface unharmed in a safety harness.
The drilling began with only a handful of men on the scene at 8:45 a.m. amid optimism by Bova's relatives and Thorne and Fellin that Bova is alive after 14 days underground without food.
Shortly thereafter workers began drilling a four-inch lifetime hole toward where Bova, 42, is believed trapped more than 300 feet underground.
By 9 a.m. the big drill had penetrated more than 60 feet while the smaller one had reached a depth of 20 feet.
Four previous attempts at establishing a lifetime hole, similar to the one through which Thorne and Fellin were lifted, and Thorne and Fellin through which food was lowered them, have failed.
All three miners were trapped in a cave-in Aug. 13 but Bova was separated from Thorne and Fellin by a wall of debris and was believed about 25 feet away from them, reportedly injured. He has not been heard from since last Tuesday when Fellin reported he made contact with him.
Fellin, 58, and Thorne, 28, while being examined by doctors, said they could not believe that Bova was dead. They said he probably still lay trapped under a pile of rubble and that the search should continue.

Cool Spell Is Unlikely

By The Associated Press
If you're hoping to get out of the weather, don't wager Texas is going to cool off soon—because it probably won't.
Temperatures sailed up to record highs for the date at several points Monday. Fort Worth equalled a 62-year-old high of 104 degrees for Aug. 26. Dallas hung up a new mark of 103.
"Clear to only partly cloudy" was the forecast for the state Tuesday held promise of more severe heat. Except for a possibility of isolated "shower" showers in extreme Southeast Texas, the weatherman held out no hope for drought-easing rain.
There was no moisture anywhere in the state Monday.
Approximately 80 acres of land just south of the city limits on Winston Brothers property was buried over Monday afternoon. Snyder firemen were called to the scene at 1:25 p.m. and the dry grass already had a good start. The brick skid added to the "churn" which the blaze spread.
Several times firemen almost had the blaze under control but each time the truck at the critical spot would run out of water. Over 4,200 gallons of water were finally used before the blaze was extinguished.

Driller Had Anxious Moments

HAZLETON, Pa. (AP)—The last seven inches look almost like any comparable. "I just felt the last few minutes I would go out of my mind," said Fellin's wife, Anna. "I was through again. I was about as pleased as anybody."
Rank also was at the controls as the escape hole was first opened on Friday. Both times he faced the possibility that a wrong move could send tons of coal crashing down on Fellin and Thorne.
At 3:15 p.m. Monday, Fellin said he would pull the plug at the bottom of the escape hole.
He stopped the drill every few minutes. At 3:30 p.m., men on the communications tent estimated six inches to go.
Rank resumed drilling at 5:37 p.m. "I was through again. I was about as pleased as anybody."

Lodge In Conference With Diem's Brother

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP)—U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge Thursday and replaced Frederick E. Nolting, who resigned as ambassador.
Brig. Gen. Tom Tinh Dinh, Saigon's military governor, moved quickly to prevent mass uprisings. He ordered security forces to shoot into "any group of trouble-makers who violate the state of martial law" imposed Wednesday. Government spokesmen said the military was acting under orders from Diem.
Clearly referring to the arrest of 3,000 university students as they gathered Sunday for a demonstration, Gen. Dinh asked parents to advise their children "not to indulge in any illegal action which may bring about disastrous consequences."
He also banned labor strikes and appealed to the capital's 2 million people "to remain calm and clear sighted."
The University of Saigon faculty branches in the city were sealed off by South Vietnamese troops.
Anti-aircraft batteries remained around the presidential palace and at key points in Saigon, apparently to guard against any possible air force revolt.
In Washington, the State Department said a Vietnamese military leader had no warning of the anti-Buddhist crackdown last Wednesday that touched off the new crisis.
In abolishing the military, Washington appeared to be placing the blame in Diem or his brother, Nhu.
Washington observers said U.S. strategy appeared to be counting more on friendly military leaders to advise their children "not to indulge in any illegal action which may bring about disastrous consequences."
He also banned labor strikes and appealed to the capital's 2 million people "to remain calm and clear sighted."

Living Costs Hit New Peak In July

WASHINGTON (AP)—The cost of living rose in July by one-half cent to a record high for the second consecutive month, the Labor Department reported today.
With food and gasoline leading the way, prices advanced for most major types of goods and services.
Increases for 25,000 other workers, largely in the trucking and cartage industry, will range from 1 to 8 cents. Sixteen thousand employees will receive 2.5 to 4.5 cents an hour based on reviews of city indexes.

March Foes Urged To Stay Away

AUSTIN (AP)—Gov. John Connally, saying he fears an anti-integration force stay away from Austin Wednesday when civil rights advocates march on the Capitol.
However, the leader of a segregation organization, planning to counter march declared it is too late to call off the demonstration.
Grand Prairie grocer Bob Joiner, head of the Indignant White Citizens Council, said that when he arrives in Austin he will take a vote of his group.
If they say march, we will march, Joiner promised. Connally appealed to Joiner and his followers to cancel their scheduled 11 a.m. march in downtown Austin Wednesday.
"I would prefer that those Texans who agree with my position do their demonstrating by writing me at the Capitol," Connally said.
A group called the Indignant White Citizens Council has obtained a parade permit for 11 a.m. Wednesday preceding the scheduled 2 p.m. march to the Capitol grounds sponsored by the predominantly Negro Freedom Now Committee.
Police have said that anywhere from 100 to 10,000 persons might appear.

March Foes Urged To Stay Away

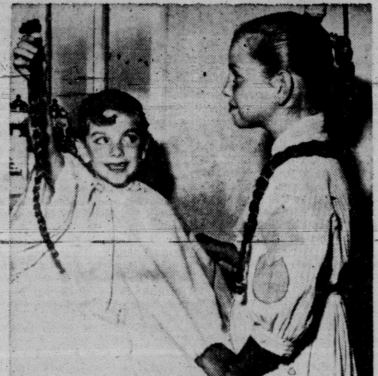

Some Texans have indicated that they plan to come to Austin to protect the governor against Booker T. Bonner, a Freedom Now Committee spokesman and his demonstrators who plan a parade to the Capitol grounds, the governor said.
"Whatever the trend of the discussion, there were indications the strict army rule of Saigon was relaxing, even though the people were warned soldiers have orders to shoot into any illegal gathering. Continued tension was reflected in postponement of a National Assembly election scheduled for Saturday. The official Viet Nam press agency announced in a broadcast dispatch Diem has ordered the election put off until further notice.
Relaxation of martial law was suggested by lifting of the Saigon curfew and according to the Viet Nam press, in some provincial towns.
Barbed wire barricades were removed from the uptown area where Saigon University's faculties of law, medicine and pharmacy are situated. Teachers were notified that schools and universities, closed last weekend, may reopen soon.
Civilian censors supplanted military censors in processing news dispatches relayed abroad.
But there were increased troop concentrations in downtown Saigon.
Lodge presented his credentials to Diem on Monday and conferred with the president. He carried a note from President Kennedy spelling out U.S. views of the Vietnamese crisis.

Kennedy Troubled By Back Ailment

WASHINGTON (AP)—The White House said today President Kennedy's back "is bothering him a little bit" but is requiring no extraordinary treatment.
Pierre Salinger, White House press secretary, said that so far as treatment is concerned "there is nothing being done that hasn't been done right along."
While Salinger couldn't pinpoint the date when Kennedy began feeling back discomfort which has caused him to limp slightly in recent days, he said the trouble probably flared up last weekend.
There are other proposals, too. Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., has proposed an amendment providing for government seizure of the railroads.

Arbitration Bill Lagging In Senate

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate appeared today to be spinning its wheels on legislation to avert a nationwide railroad strike Thursday and leaders doubted the emergency measure could be passed in time.
Although there was speculation the railroads would withhold strike triggering new work rules if Congress appeared to be on the verge of passing legislation, a railroad spokesman said no.
E. J. Wolfe, chief negotiator for the carriers, said on Monday they definitely would not grant an extension of their deadline, 12:01 a.m. Thursday.
Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said "with a little bit of luck, we will finish up today or Wednesday," with rail legislation.
House Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass., who accompanied Mansfield and other Democratic congressional leaders to a weekly breakfast conference with President Kennedy, said the House will act on the rail situation Wednesday if the Senate disposes of the question today.
In response to a question, Mansfield said there is no thought of seeking a further moratorium on rail strike action should Congress fail to pass legislation by the strike deadline.
During the long Senate debate Monday, there were mutterings of less talk and more action.
"When we are going to start voting," demanded Sen. Norris Cotton, R-N.H. "We can't settle this thing on hot air."
Sen. Warren E. Magnuson, floor manager for a bill approved by the Senate Commerce Committee which he heads, said he thought their could be general agreement on a measure tonight, although passage might be delayed beyond Wednesday.

ONE PERSON was injured when this auto, driven by Ovela O. Barrientez, was involved in a mishap at Avenue M and Thirtieth Street at 6:17 p.m. Monday. Ovela Ortega was taken to Cogdell Hospital by Bell Ambulance. Her injuries were not believed to be serious.

THE OTHER CAR was this 1956 Dodge, driven by Lloyd Keivel Morgan of Abilene. Following the impact, the car apparently spun around, knocked down a concrete-block fence, and ended up in the side yard of a house on the northwest corner of the intersection. Morgan was not injured.

Memoir From Saroyan

NOT DYING. By William Saroyan. The inveterate conversationalist Saroyan still has more gusto than most of us.

At 55 he may be a little moodier, a little less exuberant, than in his boisterous days. But he still talks a good fight. In the process, bystanders are interested in tuning on his monologues.

This volume is his third memoir. It is a little more disjointed than the previous one, "Here Comes, There Goes You Know Who." Once again its choice are the craft of writing, the struggle of man against a contrary fate, the author's tax troubles and his compulsion to gamble—which seems to be waning a little—and the non-conformist characters he has known and admired.

There also is a fresh element. During the summer month in which this manuscript was punched out—literally, as a daily chore—his young son and daughter were visiting him in Paris (Saroyan and his wife are separated).

The presence of the boy and girl gives him a fine chance to expatiate on his favorite themes, stirring in a fond, filial affection. The kids are pretty sharp, especially the boy, and they give a lift to what the author has to say.

Saroyan is raking up old coals in these pages, perhaps a little freely, and without much of the oracular grace which once seemed to be his private aura. But even in the raking the embers glow, and the sparks shoot up now and then.

Flashbacks Successful

Gift of Life. Charles Mercer. Louise Aldrich, introduced on page 1 of the novel, is a beautiful, 30-year-old, New York private secretary who has never married. On page 24 daughter Peg pops in from her nearby college to announce she's in love and please Mother, how can she tell the boy she's illegitimate. As the other people close to Louise—who might be expected after 18 years to take the fact of the illegitimacy of Peg—appear, the reader sees how all they talk about. There's Louise's old beau from Lone Nation County, Joe Trask, come to New York to talk her brother Dr. Adam Aldrich, into returning home to a country practice. But would the town accept the brother of a local girl who got into trouble? And Duke Blount, high school boyfriend and father of Peg, now a TV star, met for the first time in 18 years. He instantly falls in love with Louise and decides to make an honest woman of her. The sense of reality in the chapters of flashback are in marked contrast to the scenes in New York. In the flashbacks, we're in a small town named Lone Nation. Louise is growing up, picking blackberries with friends, riding her brother's bike straight into a Civil War memorial, learning to get and perseverance from her doctor father, learning sex from the Don Juan son of a sincere, gregarious minister.

Suspense is intended to build over whether or not Adam will decide to leave New York and whether Louise will remain single or finally marry Joe or Duke. However, those decisions aren't too gripping. Life in Lone Nation some 20 years ago is much more interesting.

Blast Wrecks Classroom

BURAS, La. (AP) — An explosion late Monday night wrecked a classroom and started a fire at a Buras Roman Catholic school which has been boycotted since it was briefly integrated last year. No one was reported hurt.

Officials at Our Lady of Good Harbor school said the blaze was put out by the fire department shortly after the explosion shook the building at about 11:50 p.m.

The blast blew out a wall in a room adjoining the wrecked classroom, cracked the wall in a teachers lounge and in two lavatories.

Officials said sisters at the school had received a telephone call over the weekend warning that the school would be bombed.

The recently built school near the mouth of the Mississippi River about 40 miles south of New Orleans, integrated Aug. 30 under orders of Archbishop Joseph Francis Rummel, head of the archdiocese of New Orleans.

Austin Set For Marchers

AUSTIN (AP) — Just how many civil rights demonstrators will march on the Capitol Wednesday was a question worrying officials. "It is unpredictable," said Chief of Police Bob Miles. "It could be 100 or 10,000."

"We will march if we only have 25. Just as we will march if we have 10,000," said Booker Bonner, 25, the Negro waiter and organizer of the demonstration to support national civil rights legislation. Earlier, he predicted about 4,000 with half from out of town. The two-mile long march from a city park in the predominantly Negro section of Austin to the Capitol is set to begin about 3 p. m. Wednesday.

Bob Joiner, Grand Prairie grocer heading a group called the Indignant White Citizens Council, has predicted he will lead a counter demonstration of about 3,000 marchers Wednesday morning. Joiner received a parade permit from the Austin City Council. The permit specifies that Joiner's group must begin its march before noon.

Police officials have alerted all available officers, about 200 uniformed and plain clothesmen, to patrol the parade routes. Highway patrolmen and other state police will supervise activities on the Capitol grounds.

Protesters Have Ancient Heritage

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Wednesday's civil rights march in Washington by perhaps 100,000 Negroes and whites—to protest racial injustices and to try to pressure Congress into passing a civil rights bill—has an ancient heritage.

From antiquity—by ones, twos, thousands, millions in fiction, fact, literature, mythology and religion—people through disobedience and non-violent resistance have asserted themselves against what they consider unjust treatment, laws, or edicts.

Yet the history of their protests is full of contradictions and ironies.

Erich Fromm looks upon the first act of disobedience by Adam and Eve, in eating from the forbidden tree of knowledge, as an "original sin" which, instead of corrupting man, "set him free to become fully human."

Four hundred years before Christ, Socrates defied the government of Athens by refusing to stop encouraging the youth to question the ideas of their elders. While it was wrong to disobey a superior, he said, he would obey the gods rather than the government. He was sentenced to death.

Then he refused to escape his death cell. To do that, he said, after he had been condemned, would injure the government.

It was civil disobedience, but non-violent, when Socrates' Antigone defied King Creon's order not to bury her mother. He walked her in to die for that.

And Aeschylus' Prometheus at terrible cost to himself befriended the gods. For this Zeus chained him to a rock for the vultures to gnaw on.

In the New Testament's Sermon on the Mount, Jesus, who had driven the money changers from the temple, preached non-violence with his admonition to turn the other cheek and walk two miles if anyone compelled you to walk one.

The ascetic Essenes, a sect of pre-Christian Jews, took an oath to injure no one. And after Christ's thousands of Jews used non-violent resistance against the Romans. So did the early Christian martyrs although the Christians gradually moved from pacifism to the just war to the Crusades.

The Quakers, whom Merle Curti called the "conscience of the 18th century," were pacifists.

Ralph Waldo Emerson in 1843, theorized on civil disobedience five years before his friend, Henry David Thoreau, did in his famous "Civil Disobedience" essay.

Thoreau had an effect on Leo Tolstoy and later, on Mahandas Gandhi. Tolstoy went to extremes in his view of non-violence and civil disobedience. He made no exception for the use of violence by a man to defend his country, his life, his family or even to save society from lunatics and criminals. Because he looked upon all governments as immoral, he advocated paying no taxes at all.

It was Gandhi who achieved the most sensational results in history with his policy of non-violent resistance against the British to end their rule in India. Millions of Indians went along with him until they decided to get violent.

He acknowledged influences on him from all directions: the Sermon on the Mount; the Bhavad Gita, part of the Hindu epic which Gandhi called his spiritual reference book; Thoreau; Tolstoy; and even John Ruskin who urged the teaching of justice and gentleness.

Soccer Star Says He Was Treated Well

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — International soccer star Alfredo Di Stefano, held for two days by pro-Communist terrorists seeking world attention for their cause, says he was frightened but treated well.

"They cocked their guns every time I moved," Di Stefano said shortly after he was released near the Spanish embassy Monday. But he said he was assured he would not be harmed.

Di Stefano, center forward for Spain's Real Madrid team here for the Little World Cup games, was abducted from his hotel room Saturday by four agents of the Armed Forces of National Liberation (FALN), which is trying to overthrow the democratic government of President Romulo Betancourt.

Soccer buffs viewed the kidnaping the same way baseball fans would react to the disappearance of Mickey Mantle with the New York Yankees in a hot pennant race.

The kidnap band was headed by Mexico Canales, an Interior Ministry spokesman said. Canales, a Cuban Communist engineer, the FALN's spectacular hijacking of the Venezuelan freighter Anzoategui in February. This ship was recovered in Brazil.

The spokesman said the kidnaping was not just a Venezuelan affair, but an operation of international communism and proponents of the Franco government in Spain.

Irving Nixes Federal Funds

IRVING, Tex. (AP)—The Irving School Board said it is tired of being told what to do by the federal government, and voted Monday night to refuse any further funds under the National Defense Education Act after the coming school year.

Supt. W. P. Hanes told the trustees that accepting funds from the government implied that the schools also would accept a mandate to offer certain courses and supply certain equipment.

He said he would like to see the budget arranged "so nobody could tell us what to offer except the people of Irving."

Dodgers Need Heavy Hitter For Stretch

By MIKE RATHEP

Wanted: Man to join first-rate firm. Short hours. Good salary. Bonus in October if successful. Only requirement—must have bat with base hits. Call collect, Walt Alston, Los Angeles Dodgers. HURRY.

There's no doubt that the Dodgers' big need.

Jim O'Toole again emphasized the fact Monday night, holding the National League leaders to a mere five hits as the Cincinnati Reds survived a two-men-on-the-base situation and posted a 3-1 victory.

It was the Dodgers fourth loss in the last five games, and trimmed their lead to 5½ games over second-place St. Louis. Los Angeles now has managed to score only four runs in the last 33

Ralston Faces Big Test Wednesday

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP)—Impetuous Dennis Ralston can adequately demonstrate that he's grown from a Peck's Bad Boy to an angry young man the United States may be on the way toward regaining its long-lost tennis prestige.

The acid test of the 21-year-old Californian with the checkered tennis past begins Wednesday on Forest Hills' West Side Tennis Club in the U.S. National Singles championships.

Ralston, the rangy stylist from Bakerfield, is seeded third behind bounding Chuck McKinley, the Wimbledon champion from San Antonio, Tex., and Australian Roy Emerson, the Australian and French champion. Rafael Osuna of Mexico is seeded fourth.

The tourney proper begins Friday, but qualification eliminations for the huge field of 224 players, including more than 100 foreign champions, open Wednesday with 64 men competing for 16 spots in the championship bracket of 128.

The pressure is squarely on Ralston, not only to demonstrate his maturity—and with it the ability to channel his temper toward smoldering opponents instead of throwing rackets—but also to solidify American hopes of again becoming an international tennis power.

Ralston was regarded as one of the country's most promising players a few years ago, then drew a year's suspension for his temper tantrums on the court during Davis Cup eliminations.

He re-emerged as a potentially one of the world's best in a spectacular display against Mexico in American Zone Davis Cup semifinals two weeks ago in Los Angeles. He beat both his Southern California roommate, Osuna, and Antonio Palafox and teamed with McKinley in beating the Mexicans who hold the Wimbledon doubles title.

Then, last week, he again teamed with McKinley in sweeping to the U.S. National doubles title at Brookline, Mass., a strong indication that the U.S. doubles team may be able to compete on

Pony Series Is Underway

WASHINGTON, Pa. (AP)—Marietta, Ga., and Evansville, Ind. meet tonight in the second round of the annual Pony League World Series after opening round victories Monday night.

Marietta beat Conoga Park, Calif., 3-0. Evansville bombed Bridgeport, Conn., 7-0. The two losers also play tonight in the second round of the double elimination tournament.

Sparkling pitching performances featured the opening round action by the winning teams.

Larry Keener fired a two-hitter for Marietta and Steve Lambert gave up just one hit in Evansville's romp.

Kenner struck out 15 and walked three in the seven inning game.

The only hit off Lambert came off the bat of the Bridgeport lead-off man in the first inning.

Linebacker George Tarasovic of the Pittsburgh Steelers is an insurance agent in the off season.

Quarterbackers To See Pro Film

A showing of "Pro Football's Longest Day," one of the most exciting motion pictures of a sports event ever recorded on film, will be presented at tonight's meeting of the Snyder Quarterback Club.

Tonight's session, beginning at 7:30 p.m. in the high school cafeteria, will be the first of the season for the local Quarterback Club.

Jovial Liston Stages Mock Argument

By HELMICK O. HAUGEN
MYSEN, Norway (AP)—Sonny Liston was so jovial he even staged a mock argument with his adviser, Jack Nilon.

The setting was a news conference following an exhibition by the world heavyweight champion in this southern Norway town Monday night. The question was how long it would take Liston to get in shape for a bout with former champion Ingemar Johansson.

The Liston-Nilon argument was whether it would take five days or six.

Johansson's name was one of three—Cassius Clay and Floyd Patterson were the others—that were thrown at Liston as possible opponents.

He and Nilon admitted there had been some talk of a fight with Johansson, but that nothing was firm. They reversed their field on a Clay fight, but held out no hope for a future bout with Patterson.

"Ingemar told me personally that he is willing to fight Liston any time if the price is right," Nilon said. "I am going to confer with my brother when I get back to New York about the price."

Liston also said he hoped to have a title fight with Clay, the No. 1 contender, by February.

Gun Club Aux. Has Shoot

Winners of the Sunday Canyon Gun Club Auxiliary have been announced.

First place was won by Linda Phillips by shooting the "Lawn Mower" and third by Masjie Lammer.

The next shoot scheduled by the Auxiliary is set for Sept. 15 at 1:30 p.m. Guns of 24 caliber and down will be used. The ladies will shoot from 100 yards with a bench rest.

The Sept. 15 shoot scores will also count toward the yearly trophy.

Colt Training Camp Set At Cooca, Fla.

HOUSTON (AP)—The Houston Colts will train at Cooca, Fla., next spring.

The National League club announced Monday the signing of a 10-year contract for facilities there, including a lighted, 5,500-seat stadium.

For their first two years the Colts trained at Apache Junction, Ariz., where exhibition game attendance was below anticipation of club officials.

Junior High Gridders To Get Physicals

A call has gone out to all prospective junior high football players to report for physical examinations.

The physical examinations are scheduled for the Travis Junior High boys, 7th, 8th and 9th graders at 8 a.m. Thursday in the Travis gym. Travis head coach Wayne Tyrone has urged the boys to be on hand about 15 minutes early if possible so that they can be lined up for the physicals and complete the chore in a minimum of time.

The same schedule will be repeated at Lamar gym on Friday for all Lamar Junior High footballers.

Junior high football practice sessions cannot begin until the first day of school, Sept. 3, but coaches hope all players will get their physical examinations on the prescribed dates. This will enable the drills to get underway without delay when school starts.

Animal Kingdom Is Crowded Off American Front Pages

BY INEZ ROBB

Men have been making such monkeys out of themselves all summer that the animal kingdom has had little chance at the headlines and the front page.

On the sea serpent front there has been dead quiet through a season during which such phenomena usually flourish. Little or nothing has been heard of the Loch Ness monster, the patriarch of them all.

I don't know whether tourists have been looking more and reporting less, or whether this has simply been an unproductive sea serpent summer.

There have been a few dog stories here and there, such as the Tucson, Ariz., pet whose mistress died but directed in her will that her pet be well cared for. Legal administrators of the estate interpreted this injunction as an order to provide the dog with a $500-per-month companion (huh?) in a limousine for daily airings and food served in a sterling silver reproduction of the Paul Revere bowl.

In the meantime, certain good people of Tucson were trying to provide shoes for underprivileged kids against the opening of the school year.

And, of course, there were the four dogs whose owners left up to the pooches the choice of paper to cover the walls of the foyer they all share in a New York cooperative.

But these are rather pale and palliative items. In war there is no substitute for victory, and in summer there is no substitute for a sea serpent. If winter comes, can a sea serpent be far behind, undulating in stately majesty across some loch or briny deep?

The answer is "no." And, although it is very late in the season, a sea serpent has appeared in the nick of time. Granted, it has just gotten in under the wire, but more important than that is the fact that this is no foreign intruder, but a genuine American sea serpent.

At least, the last sea serpent of summer has just been sighted off Sandy Hook, N. J., and how much more American can you get? Furthermore, this all-American sea serpent was not sighted by any cruising picnic party full of beer or worse.

Our national sea serpent was first spotted by a group of dedicated subscribers from a United States agency, to wit, the Marine Research Laboratory of the Fish and Wildlife Service, an appendage of the Department of the Interior.

So distinguished a scientist as Dr. Lionel A. Walford, director of the Marine Laboratory, who sighted the serpent majestically plow-

Bulletins Come From Mailbag

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Americans now eat more than their own weight in red meat each year. The average of 1963 is expected to pass 166 pounds.

Prosperity note: The United States has about two-thirds of the world's motor vehicles.

Odd legislation: Iceland passed a law requiring all children to learn to swim.

An awful lotta water: The Pacific Ocean is so huge that all the continents would easily fit into its 83.8 million square miles. Incidentally, we use about 5 million pounds of water per person annually.

Worth remembering: Comedienne Marion Powers says that today inflation is simply a drop in the buck.

Divided city: Despite the wall that severs 53,000 East Berlin workers from their jobs in the Allied-occupied part of the city, West Berlin is still Germany's highest industrial center. It produces one of every two light bulbs used in that nation, every second cigarette, and every third dress bought in Germany.

Nature notes: Rattlesnakes are found in every mainland state except Maine and probably Delaware. Alligators don't count their calories—but filtering six or seven months of the year they usually don't eat. One survey showed that 43 per cent of chickens lay their eggs between 9 and 11 a.m.

Woman's work is getting easier all the time. Someone has figured out that only 30 per cent of the soap consumed in the United States is home-made.

The best wisecrack of the week: Actor Yul Brynner says he doesn't know whether rock 'n' roll music is dying — but it always says so if it is.

How long can you put cat alive? The commonly accepted limit is 21 years, but there is one case on record of a cat that was finally put to sleep in her 35th year.

It was Somerset Maugham who observed, "American women expect to find in their husbands a perfection that English women only hope to find in their butlers."

Sen. Engle Has Surgery

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Clair Engle, D-Calif., underwent brain surgery Saturday. It was revealed today by an aide.

A doctor said early today that Engle is in "fine condition."

An aide of the senator, Charles Bosley, said "a small amount of brain tissue" was removed "and is still being tested to make sure there is no malignancy or complications."

He said a final report on the results of the laboratory test is expected in a few days.

Bosley said Engle first went to the hospital Thursday complaining of cramps in his right leg that were "painful and disturbing."

Surgery was scheduled after a "brain wave" test to correct a congenital condition affecting the circulation of Engle's right leg and, to some extent, his right arm, Bosley said.

Bosley said the type of operation the senator underwent has "a kind of stunning effect" temporarily.

Dr. Roy Lyman Sexton, reached at his residence early today, declined to discuss Engle's condition except to say, "He's fine. He's all right."

Long Returning To Teaching Assignment

WASHINGTON (AP)—Franklin A. Long resigned Monday as assistant director of the disarmament agency, effective Aug. 30, to return to his teaching assignment at Cornell University.

President Kennedy, in accepting the resignation, expressed "my personal gratitude for your contribution to the scientific understanding and development of several approaches to disarmament and especially for your outstanding contribution in the field of science to the test ban treaty."

Long is assistant agency director for science and technology.

Junior Editors Quiz on SHIPWRECKS

QUESTION: Why were so many ships wrecked off Cape Hatteras?

ANSWER: Cape Hatteras is the point of a series of sandy islands which, as our map shows, project out into the Atlantic from the North Carolina coast. They are directly in the path of shipping passing up and down the coast. Of course, sea captains know their location, but there are so many dangers in this area, responsible for so many wrecks, that Hatteras has been called "the Graveyard of Ships." One danger is the famous Diamond Shoals lying out to seaward. Then, it is an area where fogs are frequent, making the low lying coast very difficult to see. Squalls of wind come with suddenness and violence and may push a ship, especially of the older sailing type, up on the shore. Once stuck in the sand, ships are usually doomed. Another danger is the existence of certain unpredictable ocean currents which at times may set toward the shore, and these, combined with fogs or squalls, are very dangerous.

Modern ships, with steam or motor power, are not usually at the mercy of the wind and ocean better: escape the dangers of Cape Hatteras.

FOR YOU TO DO: There is something else beside ship wrecks for which the sandy North Carolina islands are famous. Did you realize this was the location of the first airplane flight? Look up the story of the airplane in the Wright brothers and you'll get the details.

(Karen Livingston of Red Rock, Okla., wins the daily grand prize of a 20-volume set of World Book Encyclopedia for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of this newspaper, and you may win a set too.)

Crystal City Waiting For Court Ruling

CRYSTAL CITY (AP) — Lawyer's for this town's all-Latin American city council and an opposition group seeking a municipal election argued their cases Monday but no decision was reached.

DIST. Judge Ross Doughty said he would rule on the matter Wednesday or Thursday.

A citizens' group opposing the council asked the court to order a recall election Oct. 1.

This faction petitioned the city council earlier to change the city charter and create a seven-member council. It now has five members. The council refused.

Legal time limits for appeal and absentee voting cast doubt, meanwhile, on prospects for any election before the regular balloting in the spring of 1965. Mayor Juan Cornejo and his council come up for re-election then.

Arthur Gochman of San Antonio, lawyer for the council, said he will appeal the decision if Doughty orders an Oct. 1 election. He would have 20 days to appeal.

If the 4th Court of Civil Appeals then affirmed Doughty's decision, there would be another 20-day lapse for absentee voting.

But if Doughty ordered an election and the council did not appeal, the election could be held Oct. 1.

"They could honor a court order here and call the election," said Zavala County Atty. Curtis Jackson, who filed the mandamus suit, "but it's not likely."

March Plans Filled With Apprehension

By STANLEY MEISLER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Leaders continued to pledge calm and dignity for their massive civil rights march on Washington Wednesday. But apprehension still hung in the air—about transportation, about the uncertainty of numbers, about an unexpected spark of violence.

The railroad unions have set a nationwide strike for midnight Wednesday night if new work rules go into effect then. It is a strike that could leave thousands of weary demonstrators stranded and miling in Washington.

Congress was set today to continue its try at legislation that would prevent the strike.

The uncertainty about numbers was accentuated early today when a spokesman for the march headquarters, Sy Posner, reported that about 2,000 of the persons around the country who had planned to join in the demonstration were having financial difficulties and would not be able to come to the capital.

Posner said the Southern Christian Leadership Conference led by the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr. had sent about $2,000 to its headquarters in Atlanta to help cover the transportation costs of 200 marchers from Albany, Ga., and 100 from Savannah, Ga.

Police, meanwhile, prepared to cope with the massive crowds, but they still were not sure just how many people trains, planes, buses and cars would stream into the city for the march.

But police were sure the crowds would be big. Estimates range from 100,000 to 250,000. With crowds of this size come the potential for trouble.

A. Philip Randolph, president of the Brotherhood of Railway Sleeping Car Porters and the director of the march, told the National Press Club Monday. "We have taken the utmost precaution to see that violence will not occur."

But, he added, "I will not stand here and tell you I know there will be no violence. Human beings are fallible."

Some special trains and buses begin rolling toward the capital today, carrying demonstrators from afar. A special freedom train, for example, is scheduled to start on its way no later than 6 p.m. and head through Florida, Georgia and South Carolina, picking up passengers in the South. The train is expected in Washington before 10 a.m. Wednesday.

Most special trains and buses, however, will not start on their way until early Wednesday.

There was more concern in Washington about the departure of demonstrators than about their arrival. Even without the threat of a strike, officials showed concern about the problem of moving so many people out at once. The strike threat has compounded the concern.

Actually no one seemed sure just what the railroads would do in case of a strike. Randolph said he hoped all demonstrators would leave Washington by 7 p.m.—two hours after the demonstration ends. But one rail source said that railroads faced with a strike usually don't start a train moving unless they are sure it will reach its destination before the deadline.

30 Helicopters Going To Capital

WASHINGTON (AP)—About 30 helicopters will arrive from Ft. Bragg, N.C. today to provide rapid airlift for troops if needed in connection with the march on Washington Wednesday.

The helicopters will carry no troops from Ft. Bragg, an Army spokesman said.

The Defense Department announced last week that about 3,000 Army and Marine troops would be moved into this area from Ft. Meade, Md., and Ft. Belvoir and the Quantico Marine Base, Va., Wednesday.

These are in addition to about 1,000 troops normally stationed in or close to Washington.

Students Hope To Leave Thursday

MADRID, Spain (AP) — Fifty-four American students, who encountered the State Department's wrath by going to Cuba and Fidel Castro's red tape in getting out, hope to leave Madrid for New York Thursday.

Another student Barry Hoffman, 26, of Brookline, Mass., left Cuba with the group Sunday but got off the airliner in Bermuda and flew to New York Monday. A State Department agent took up his passport and the FBI questioned him. Hoffman declined to talk to newsmen.

All 55 students face possible prosecution for violating a State Department ban on unauthorized travel to Cuba.

A group of Cuban exiles greeted the Americans in Madrid with jeers.

The students declined to talk to newsmen but one of their leaders, Levi Laub of New York, said: "We will have plenty to say when we get home. We expect to have a public meeting, probably in New York Town Hall, in mid-September."

Of the 59 who arrived in Havana June 30 as guests of Prime Minister Fidel Castro's Communist government, one, Warren Hill, 29, of Brooklyn, died July 14 while swimming in a hotel pool.

Two pregnant women and the husband of one of them did not make the homeward flight because the women were expected to give birth soon.

Spanish police took two of the students into custody when they failed to produce passports. One, identified as Charles N. Buchanan, was released when police accepted a temporary passport issued by Swiss officials in Cuba after he reportedly lost his American passport.

The other student was identified as Lee Rainsor; Friends said he lost his wallet containing documents.

The students were forced to take the 8,000-mile route, instead of a 90-mile hop from Havana to Miami, because of the U.S. ban on unauthorized travel between the United States and Cuba.

The students flew to Cuba via Prague, Czechoslovakia.

The Castro government paid their transportation both ways and all expenses while they were official guests, until July 27. The students paid their own expenses after that date and some ran out of funds.

Any student convicted of violating the ban on travel to Cuba could be fined up to $5,000 and sentenced to five years in prison.

LIGHTEST MEXICO

BY JOHN ABNEY

MEXICO CITY — A gentleman in Tyler, Texas, writes wanting to know about the rules and regulations on buying gold and silver coins here to take back home. He is a coin collector and I would love to collect coins or even old paper currency except that I cannot hang on to any with this assortment of offspring that started collecting around my spread many years ago.

Anyhow there seems to be more law on the other side of the border than down here. And it says you have to get a permit from the Office of Domestic Gold and Silver Operations (Washington) before you can bring even a foreign gold nickel into the States. This applies to modern and antique money. There are numerous shops here which deal in coins of all sorts and the only regulation says you have to pay for them. If you are looking for special coins, you might get a good lead from some of the Mexico City banks. They still have some gold coins up for sale.

Northeast Cool Again

By The Associated Press

It was a little cool again this morning in the northeast quarter of the nation but mild weather continued in most southern areas.

There were a few wet spots but generally clear weather was reported in most of the country.

Temperatures dropped into the 40s across the northern Appalachians, with the 50s and 60s extending southward to northern Georgia and Missouri and westward through the northern tier of states to the Pacific. Readings up to 80 prevailed in the southwestern desert region, the southern Plains and the Deep South.

Thunder showers covered areas along a stationary front extending eastward across the central Plains to the upper Mississippi Valley.

Most of the fires live only a few days. Though they have mouths, some are believed never to eat.

Ike Proposal Jolts Backers Of Treaty

By JACK BELL, Associated Press Staff Writer
WASHINGTON (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower has jolted Senate sponsors of the limited nuclear test-ban treaty with a call for an anti-aggression reservation to the pact.

But Democratic leaders got immediate Republican help in an effort to comply with the five-star general's proposal without having to renegotiate the Moscow-signed treaty.

Eisenhower wants the United States to reserve the right to use nuclear weapons to halt any aggression involving its vital interests.

He endorsed the treaty Monday in a letter to Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. But the former president said he had one reservation in mind.

"The reservation that I suggest would provide that in the event of any armed aggression endangering a vital interest of the United States this nation would be the sole judge of the kind and type of weaponry and equipment it would employ as well as the timing of their use," Eisenhower wrote. Some witnesses have expressed the fear that the treaty would bar the United States from furnishing nuclear weapons to an ally under attack.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana told reporters that this proposal—one of the reservations previously suggested by Adm. Lewis L. Strauss, former chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission—already is "inherent in the treaty."

Mansfield said that if it were adopted as a formal resolution "it could well kill the treaty because it would be subject to renegotiation."

The Senate sponsors did not think that a 100 per cent endorsement of the treaty by former President Harry S. Truman—announced Monday by Fulbright—would offset the jolt the general had given them.

Eisenhower's use of the term "reservation" might not be precise.

"It is a basic right of every nation to provide for its self defense," Fulbright said. "That right is guaranteed in the United Nations charter and it should not be necessary to reiterate it constantly."

"A reservation changes the basic agreement between the parties. It does not seem to me that President Eisenhower's suggestion does that."

Mansfield said he hopes Eisenhower will be willing to have his stipulation spelled out in a Foreign Relations Committee report recommending ratification.

Sen. Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said in a separate interview he thought the former president might agree.

"This could be done in a number of ways," Dirksen said. "Among others, it could be made abundantly clear in the legislative record that the United States retains all of its rights to oppose aggression."

Perhaps General Eisenhower would be willing to accept the statement of President Kennedy that he intended to carry out such a policy.

The Eisenhower suggestion was made public shortly after Arthur H. Dean, who served in both the Eisenhower and Kennedy administrations, had told the combined Foreign Relations, Armed Services and Atomic Energy committees that it would be a great mistake to attach any reservation to the treaty itself.

Dean said there was a good possibility that the Soviets would not accept it and would denounce the United States as being unwilling to stand by its agreements.

The group expects to end its hearings today. But Dirksen said the treaty may not actually go before the Senate until Sept. 9.

Eisenhower's statement was disturbing to the treaty sponsors because it provided another basis on which some senators might find reason to vote against ratification.

Eisenhower found that, with the exception of the reservation he mentioned, the political advantages to be gained outweighed "the undoubted risks to be incurred" with treaty ratification.

He said that among the dead-endings of the treaty are the Soviets believe in signing the treaty "they are securing greater advantages than those they consider will accrue to the Western world."

He expressed hope that the treaty won't "create a state of complacency, both of wishful thinking that the cold war has ended and the Soviet leaders have suddenly become new and trust-worthy personalities."

Cox Says He Can Beat Yarborough

DALLAS (AP)—Oilman Jack Cox, twice defeated as a candidate for governor, said Monday he could beat Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., in a U. S. Senate race.

Cox, 41, a Republican who now lives in Houston, quickly added that he's not a candidate at the moment. He said if he runs for any office next year, however, it will be for the Senate seat held by Yarborough.

The view of Cox, who turned Republican after being a voter for the Democratic nomination for governor, were expressed in a question-and-answer session before Dallas members of Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism society.

Cox acknowledged that he has read and heard that Democratic Vice President Lyndon Johnson might seek the Senate post.

"Could Cox beat Johnson?" Cox said he hadn't considered that possibility.

"It would be a real campaign," he said.

What influence does the John Birch Society have in the Republican party?

"I don't believe the Birch society or any other organization has any role to play in the Republican party," he said.

On GOP presidential hopes, Cox said: "I'm a Goldwater fan. I'm working in his behalf."

Predicting Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., will win the nomination, Cox added: "He has an excellent chance to beat Kennedy in 1964."

A match between President Kennedy and Goldwater would give people the choice they deserve between liberal policies of Kennedy and conservative views of Goldwater, Cox asserted.

Cox lost as a Democratic rival in 1960 to former Gov. Price Daniel, the incumbent. In 1962 Cox was a Republican candidate and lost to Gov. John Connally.

Cox said Connally "to a large extent owes his election to the Negro group — if you don't believe that a good many Negro voters are disappointed by Connally's opposition to the public accommodations section of Kennedy's proposed civil rights legislation, he said."

"Connally led colored people to believe his position would be different," Cox said.

New Steps Slated By Prince Edward Board

LAURENCEVILLE, Va. (AP)—Further steps toward renewed free education for Prince Edward County's Negro children are expected to be taken tonight by trustees of the private organization which will operate a desegregated school system.

High on the trustees' agenda will be the hiring of a superintendent and teachers for the private schools.

About 1,700 Negroes in Prince Edward County have had an annual classroom instruction since 1959, when the county closed public schools to ease desegregation orders of federal courts. While children have attended private segregated schools.

Pact With Shippers Has Wide Backing

NEW YORK (AP)—An unprecedented six-year labor agreement with 75 shipping companies appears to have the backing of the 40,000-member National Maritime Union (NMU) rank-and-file. Members in six of 20 ports where the union has offices and on 98 ships at sea have voted 4,680 to 25 in favor of the pact.

The agreements, which contain a no-strike pledge, would extend work contracts from the current expiration date June 15, 1965, until June 15, 1969. They are expected to increase the cost of seagoing.

The contracts provide improved pensions and set up an automation fund for the union's members, who are unlicensed seamen. Wage reopenings are called for in 1966 and 1968.

Also to be set up under the agreement is a service fee for seamen who do not join the NMU when serving on ships under contract to the union.

The voting concerns agreements signed since Aug. 17 with the American Merchant Marine Institute and the Tanker Labor Service Committee, which represent operators of 600 deep-sea vessels.

The lone holdout, Gulf Oil Co., which operates 22 tankers, joined other companies Monday in signing identical terms, the NMU said.

The Brotherhood of Marine Officers, a 1,000-member affiliate of the NMU, seeks a similar contract extension for ship officers.

Supervisory Course Is Still Open

A supervisory development program "Effective Communications," opened last night in the community room of the West Texas State Bank. The program is being sponsored here by the Snyder Chamber of Commerce and the Engineering Extension Service of Texas A&M University.

Eight persons are enrolled from four different companies and firms. Those who desire may enroll tonight, and a make-up session will be held Friday night for those who missed the Monday night session.

Each meeting is conducted from 6:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m.

L. E. (Lou) Jenkins, who has conducted two previous supervisory development programs here, is also instructing this program.

George A. Custer, who died with his men in the Little Big Horn massacre at the age of 37, was the youngest Union general in the Civil War. He was 23 when given the rank of brigadier general.

Freeman Asks For Unified Program

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman said today the country needs a "comprehensive, unified and organized program of agricultural patching up of old farm programs."

In a report in 1962 to President Kennedy, Freeman said he expects further improvement in the general farm situation this year. He predicts cash receipts will be a little higher than in 1962 due to increased marketings of livestock.

Three Killed In Smashup

DALLAS (AP)—Two policemen and a policeman suffered fatal injuries as a fire truck answering a false alarm and a police car collided today. Three other men suffered injuries.

Police said the car, equipped with siren and blinker lights but otherwise unmarked, apparently was hurrying to intercept a speeding motorist. Officers in another car halted the speeder a minute or two earlier.

The collision occurred shortly before 1 a.m. at an Oak Cliff intersection.

Fire Capt. W. J. Jones, 39, of Mesquite and fireman J. H. Jones, 37, of Dallas died in the crash. Policeman R. A. Underwood, 27, of a Methodist Hospital operating table three hours later.

Valley Cotton Crop Smaller In 7 Years

WESLACO (AP)—A Valley Farm Bureau survey shows the Lower Rio Grande Valley crop has its smallest cotton crop in seven years. Ginnings this season total 256,915 bales and the crop was 90 per cent harvested.

The 1962 crop was 418,619 bales, the 1961 crop was 321,126.

Even children who pass the eye chart test with ease need special light for home study. Reading and other close visual tasks require plenty of good light to make seeing easier and to prevent eyestrain and fatigue. For best light from a table lamp, use at least 150-watt illumination. The lamp should be tall enough to spread light evenly over the work area and properly shaded to shield the light source from the eyes.

A diffusing bowl is recommended to soften the light and prevent glare. Check your children's study light now. Better light means better sight and better grades.
