$400 Million Bonus To Texas Veterans Is Urged In House

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, May 26—A $400 million veteran bonus bill was bounced out of committee and onto the House calendar last night with a recommendation for its approval.

The surprise action was taken by the revenue and taxation committee. Rep. Jimmy Horany of Archer City had his bill transferred to that group after it had been buried in a constitutional amendments subcommittee for weeks.

Taxes Are Proposed

Cigarette and cigar smokers and beer, liquor and wine drinkers would finance the bonuses.

The committee approved an amendment by Rep. Jim Heflin of Houston to pay off bonds for the bonuses by adding 2 cents in taxes on each package of cigarettes; 1 cent per can or bottle of beer; 64 cents per gallon of liquor; and 25 cents per gallon of wine.

Cigars — presently untaxed— would carry a levy of 10 per cent of their retail value.

Annual revenue was estimated at more than 30 million dollars.

Horany's bill would pay $250 to Texas veterans of World Wars I and II who served in this country, and another $250 to those who were overseas at least three months.

Horany's proposed constitutional amendment would have to be approved by two-thirds of the House and Senate members and by a majority of Texas voters.

HUNK OF MAN—Here he is, girls—Mr. America of 1949 — otherwise known as Jack Delinger, of Oakland, Calif. The 22-year-old muscle man won the title over 40 contestants in the annual contest in Cleveland. O. Delinger weighs 198 pounds, stands 5 feet 8 inches and hopes to go on the stage. Right now, he's classified as an unemployed shipping clerk.

MODIFIED BLOCKADE IS CHARGED

West Is Demanding Soviets Keep Word

(By The Associated Press)

PARIS, May 26.—A British diplomatic source said today the West is demanding assurance from Russia that her promise to end Berlin blockade restrictions will be carried out to the letter.

The foreign ministers, who went into their fourth meeting of the current session on Germany at 3:27 p. m. (8:27 a. m., CST) are reported being kept fully informed of developments in Berlin, where western authorities charge Russia has started a new type of blockade by refusing to conciliate 12,000 Berlin rail strikers.

Situation Modified Blockade

This foreign ministers conference was called on Russia's promise to end the travel and trade restrictions in Germany on May 12, and the Allied counterblockade of eastern Germany was lifted on those terms.

The British informant said that unless the Russian administration in Berlin gives a "satisfactory" assurance that "continuing difficulties" will end, the western foreign ministers will call on Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky to intervene.

The Briton called the present situation in Berlin "continuation of a modified blockade."

Industries Controlled

Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin of Britain was expected to speak first today on questions relating to German political and economic unity and to four-power control in Germany. Diplomatic informants say the West will demand that Russia relax her grip on East German industries as a condition for economic unity in Germany.

Dean Acheson, United States secretary of state, told the conference of foreign ministers yesterday about a third of the industries in the Soviet zone of Germany are owned by a Russian trust. Ninety per cent of some key industries, he said, are under Soviet control.

Informants said the western decision to attempt to loosen this grip was reached in three-power American, British and French ex-

Ross Will Get Sanity Hearing

LA GRANGE, May 26. (AP)—Dr. Lloyd I. Ross, San Antonio surgeon who murdered four members of one family, today won a stay of his death sentence, pending a trial for insanity.

At a hearing, District Judge J. R. Fuchs set the insanity trial for June 14 and ordered a jury called for that day.

Ohio-born, Harvard-educated Ross was convicted of murdering Mrs. Willard York on a Comal county country road May 25, 1947.

Three Others Shot

At the same time, he shot to death three other members of the family: the husband, Willard York, San Antonio investment banker; a son, John, 9; and Mrs. Mary York, York's 67-year-old mother. Thirteen-year-old Ann York, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. York, was shot in hip but escaped to a farm house.

Dr. Ross was brought to La Grange today for the hearing.

A weary man, greatly aged by the events of the past two years, he shuffled into the courtroom carrying a tattered Bible.

Ross stared at the floor and received the stay order without any show of emotion.

No date had been set for Ross to die in the electric chair.

Late yesterday, his attorneys filed a petition here to stay sentence and execution and asked an insanity trial.

Attached to the petition were

Five-Year-Old Mute Girl Is Found After Anxious Search

(By The United Press)

ROSELLE PARK, N. J., May 26.—Five-year-old Susan Assin was found sitting calmly in a garage not far from her home today after more than 100 persons had searched throughout the night for the blonde child who cannot talk.

The girl, who strayed from her home at 7 o'clock last night, was found at 9:50 a. m. in a garage only a block away. She was found by Nicholas Manfredo, sr., and Nicholas De Marco, jr., who were among the scores of volunteers making a garage to garage search for her. She was unharmed and had climbed into an automobile to keep warm.

Blue-eyed Susan slipped out of the harness with which she was kept in the back yard of the five room Cape Cod cottage of her parents, Mr. and

Sound Of Battle Nearing End In Shanghai

Red Surrender Terms Sought By Defenders

15,000 Prisoners Reported Captured In Northern Area

(By The Associated Press)

SHANGHAI, May 26 — The sound of battle ceased tonight and it appeared the military changeover of Shanghai was near an end.

Nationalist holdouts in buildings along Soochow creek in the heart of Shanghai were dickering for surrender. Meanwhile they withheld their fire.

Reports swept through the city that the fortress of Woosung to the north had fallen.

15,000 Prisoners Reported

These reports, which could not be confirmed, said that 15,000 Nationalist troops were captured on the Woosung front. Woosung, escape hatch for the Shanghai garrison, is 10 miles to the north. The sound of cannonading no longer could be heard to the north.

The white flag was run up atop the post office building, one of the main holdout points on the north bank of Soochow creek.

The Communists crossed the Szechuwan bridge and began rounding up Nationalist prisoners. The Garden bridge was evacuated by the Nationalists but still was under fire from the nearby Broadway mansion, 17-floor apartment where a number of Americans are trapped. The Communists had not tried to cross the creek there.

It seemed to be only a matter of hours before this tough knot of resistance, which has delayed Communist occupation of north Shanghai, would be wiped out.

Nationalists Outflanked

The trick was turned when the Reds got a flanking column behind the bridge defenders.

At 5 p. m. resistance from the Embankment building's lower floor was continuing but tenants, including some 500 foreigners, were trying to get the Nationalists there to quit fighting.

The whole city breathed a sigh of relief for the thousands of Chinese civilians on the bund and north of Soochow creek who had been trapped since early yesterday. They had endured all sorts of fire.

The United States and British consulates were trying to intercede with both sides for a ceasefire order.

For almost 24 hours small Nationalist forces had kept the Reds away from the bridges.

Hundreds Trapped

Production In U. S. Declines

WASHINGTON, May 26. (AP)—The Federal Reserve board reported today that industrial production dropped in April for the fifth straight month and was continuing down in early May.

The board's index of production reached the lowest level since July, 1947, with a five-point fall in April. This tied the drop in March for the biggest decline since the war.

April output, measured on the seasonally adjusted index, skidded to 179 per cent of the 1935-39 average, compared with 184 in March and an all-time high of 195 last October and November.

At that level, April production was nearly five per cent below the same month in 1948 and a bare three index points above the spot passed in July, 1947, on the long postwar climb.

"Present indications are that in May manufacturing has continued downward and that there has also been some decline in output of minerals (coal, oil, etc.), which had increased in April," the board said.

The background to the production drop was sketched briefly by the board in a national summary of business conditions:

Commodities Reduced

"Prices of industrial commodities were reduced further, while prices of farm and food products continued to show little change.

Women's Hair Going To Be Even Shorter

WASHINGTON, May 26 (AP)—Think women are wearing their hair too short now? Wait until next fall.

"It's going to be shorter than short," says Miss Ethel Gilchrist, president of the Washington Hair Dressers and Cosmetologists association.

The Hair Fashion Council of America meeting here figured out 15 different hair styles. Although cut short, it will be "very feminine," Miss Gilchrist insists.

"No shingles, but soft little wispy curls on the napes of the neck, short bangs and high feathery things on the side—very soft and very flattering."

Texan Dies In B-29 Accident

EL PASO, May 26. (UP)—One man was killed but eight others parachuted safely when their Air Force B-29 bomber crashed in flames, Biggs air base officials said today.

The pilot of the B-29 radioed Biggs base yesterday at 2:44 p. m. that the No. 4 engine was afire. Then the men took to their chutes.

The plane smashed into the foothills of the Sacramento mountains 31 miles northeast of here. The craft, which was attached to the 340th bomb squadron, 97th bomb group, was destroyed.

Navigator Killed

The navigator, Capt. Burt A. Alley of El Paso, was killed. Alley formerly lived at Los Angeles.

Four others were injured but only M-Sgt. John K. Blomberg was hospitalized. He suffered a fractured ankle. T-Sgt. Hunter W. Crowder and S-Sgts. Donald R. Wilson and Dean C. McConkey received minor injuries.

The uninjured crewmen were Capt. William M. Wood, instructor pilot on the training flight; Capt. Robert L. Wallander, student pilot; Capt. Charles T. Fleenor, and Lt. Laurence D. Rogers.

The men's parachutes scattered them over a 15-mile area. Search planes located them and guided ground vehicles to the rescue.

Hundreds Dead In Brazilian Floods

MACEIO, Brazil, May 26. (UP)—Hundreds of persons were reported dead today in northeastern Brazil, where torrential rains have caused serious floods.

One estimate put the number of dead in the state of Alagoas alone at 500. One hundred and fifty bodies were reported to have been recovered in Maceio, the state capitay, while some 80 persons were reported buried under the ruins of buildings.

More than 30 inches of rain has fallen in the last 65 hours and the downpour continued.

Phillips Signs New Employe Contracts

BORGER, May 26 (AP)—Phillips Petroleum company and its AFL operating engineers have signed new contracts for all employes except the gasoline office workers group, the union said yesterday.

The union said that under the Taft-Hartley act, it cannot sign a contract for that department because one employe circulated a petition for decertification of the union.

No wage dispute was involved. The union sought better union security and says better recognition of the union was achieved by the negotiations.

Oklahoma Row Starts Over Rent Decontrol

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 26. (UP)—A bill to remove all rent controls in Oklahoma was advanced in the House today after furious debate marked a clash between speaker Walter Billingsley and floor leader Joe Smalley.

Lubbock High Students Will Give Program

Diplomas Will Be Presented To 249 At Chapman Gym

An all-student program will highlight tonight's graduation exercises for 288 Lubbock Senior High school seniors.

The commencement ceremony, at which the theme will be "Builders of '49" will be held at 8 o'clock in Chapman fieldhouse.

Four seniors, Mary Ruth Sims, Anne Lingle, Anita Pope and Jack McCabe, will deliver the commencement address.

Of the 288 participating seniors, only 249 will receive diplomas from Clyde G. Tatum, president of the Lubbock Board of Trustees. The other 39 students are to complete their high school work during the summer session, and will be given diplomas upon completing the work.

Includes Other Graduates

These students, however, are given all privileges of seniors and take part in all social activities, Principal Floyd Honey said Wednesday.

Thirty students graduating tonight completed their high school work last January, Honey added.

Parents of seniors have been issued special tickets for tonight's commencement exercises. Seats for parents will be held until 7:50 p. m. on the floor of the gymnasium, immediately behind the graduates, Honey said.

The gymnasium has seating accommodations for 2,500 persons, so there will be room for at least 1,600 persons from the general public, Supt. R. W. Matthews has announced.

Miss Dorothy Lomax, director of secondary education, will present the graduates to Tatum for presentation of diplomas.

Honors will be presented by Honey.

Organ music and the processional, "March From Athalie," by Mendelssohn, will be played by Gerre Hancock, Senior High sophomore student. Dorothy Dale Kennedy, a senior, will give the invocation, and Frank Poynor, president of the class, will be master of ceremonies.

To Honor Class Officials

Special music will be by the Senior Mixed Chorus, directed by J. H. Penn. Jack King, a senior, will sing a solo.

The exercises are to be concluded with "The Westerner Call to Loyalty" by the graduates.

Three junior boys are to serve as marshals at the services. They are Garnet Reeves, J. C. Chambers and Don Hancock.

Among graduates who tonight will be given special recognition are Charles Galey, student body president; Kara Sam Dunn, student body secretary; Nancy Davis, senior class secretary; and Joyce Worrell, head girl cheerleader.

TAFT IS PRESSING FOR ACTION

Plans To Speed Up Labor Bill Mapped

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 26.—Senate Democratic leaders talked today of possibly stepping up the timetable for action on the Truman labor bill.

The talk got started after Senator Taft (R-Ohio) made it known that he has been pressing the Democrats for a quick decision on repeal of the Taft-Hartley law.

Taft said he is standing by his prediction that Congress will throw the administration measure overboard and enact his substitute bill instead.

The substitute would make 28 changes in the Taft-Hartley law, but preserve what Taft calls its basic principles.

House Seeks Compromise

The administration bill, on the other hand, would junk the T-H law—a strong purpose of organized labor—and replace it with a modified version of the old Wagner act.

The administration measure already has run into a stone wall in the House, which almost passed a bill designed to keep the main provisions of the Taft-Hartley law. Now the House Democratic leaders are at work on a new compromise.

In the Senate, Taft is counting on the help of from 15 to 20 Democrats to put his substitute across. He figures that not more than four or five Republicans will desert him.

Congressional Democratic chiefs agreed at a conference with President Truman earlier this week to put a "must" label on three measures—the reciprocal trade agreements bill, the North Atlantic treaty, the labor legislation.

Calendar Uncertain

The conferees decided to bring the trade measure up in the Senate just as soon as the calendar has been cleared of four or five

Slaton Thief Is Scared Off

A "systematic looting" attempt was in progress at a Slaton residence before a burglar apparently became frightened and ran away from the place, Lubbock police had been informed this afternoon.

Officials said a sink, valued at $20, had been removed from the place, at 655 South Fifth, the bathroom lavatory had been disconnected and was on the floor, and the tub and commode showed evidence of having been "worked on."

The residence is vacant.

AUSTIN, May 26. (AP) — The Senate today approved the last of the major "must" money bills, voting $64,000,000 plus for eleemosynary institutions.

The Senate bill includes $23,000,000 for new buildings to house wards of the state.

Youth Leads Officers On Wild Chase

Boy Says Nightmare Made Him Shoot Brother, Sister-In-Law

(By The Associated Press)

CUMBERLAND, Md., May 26—A 16-year-old boy who said he got up from a bad dream and shot his brother and sister-in-law was being held here today on a charge of murder.

The sister-in-law, 18-year-old Mrs. Katherine Brewster, died yesterday of two shotgun wounds in the neck. Her 23-year-old husband, Thomas, was shot in the leg.

State's Attorney Morgan C. Harris said the youth, Randolph Brewster, told him he "had a bad dream" while sleeping in his brother's modest home on the outskirts of Cumberland.

"When I got awake I was dazed," young Brewster's statement continued. "Something told me to get the gun, and I got it and shot him and she jumped up and screamed

High Water Is Again Menace At Fort Worth

Train Plunges Into Washout; Woman Drowns In Creek

Torrential rains, hail and brilliant electrical storms lashed through North and Central Texas last night and today, causing at least one death and considerable property damage, the Associated Press reported.

A 46-car freight train plunged into a washout in Johnson county.

A woman sitting in a car was swept to her death by a rampaging creek at Dallas.

Streets Are Closed

At Fort Worth, the Trinity's clear fork raged out of banks and through broken levees again this morning, closing three main streets and lapping ominously up toward the residential and business area inundated by last week's multi-million dollar flood. A two-inch rain total from two thunderstorms during the night surged the river into an eight-foot rise, which was expected to level off before noon with undetermined aggravation of previous flood damage. Residents of only one low-lying area, Linwood, were warned by police to be ready to flee.

No further interruption of Fort Worth's water supply was expected, although only a three-foot temporary levee protected the main Holly pump station from the water should it reach that riverbank area.

Concern Caused In Area

As Texas weather created its patchwork of destruction, South Plains residents were relatively fortunate. Violent thunderstorms activity returned to the area and hovering clouds were made more ominous by rolling dust swept by a wind which reached a maximum velocity of 42 miles an hour, causing some concern in the area. The storm struck in Lubbock vicinity about 7:45 p. m. Rainfall was measured as .70 inch at the weather station north of Lubbock. Report of a "tornado funnel" north of Lubbock remained unconfirmed this morning.

The squall line which swept through this area had reached San Antonio this morning. It apparently developed south of Amarillo. No rain was reported there. Although a cold front generally follows a squall line, none was reported in immediate vicinity today. The sun was shining and maximum temperature probably will reach around 85 degrees this afternoon, the weather station near Lubbock reported. "Wind should be very light during the day," according to the forecast for the South Plains. Scattered showers and thunderstorms were forecast for this afternoon and tonight.

Fuses Are Blown Out

Lightning caused fuses to blow out in some of the toll lines of Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. on the South Plains, but all fuses had been replaced this morning.

In Johnson county, seven miles east of Cleburne near Keene, the train accident resulted from a washed out track. A Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe freight ran into a washout at 3:45 a. m. today. Turkey creek, swollen by torrential rains during the night, had washed out the track and the train plunged into the water. The engine and tender and five of 46 cars overturned, but the four-man crew miraculously escaped injury. The flood marooned them on their piled-up train for hours.

At Dallas, where rain, accompanied by hail, measured up to 3.28 inches, an unidentified woman was drowned, the Associated Press reported. Sudden flood waters swept the car in which she was sitting into rampaging Turtle creek. Larry Martinez, also an occupant of the automobile, swam to safety.

Homes Are Damaged

Rainfall totalled 1.50 inches during the windstorm at Dawson. Besides the damage to homes, sheds and outbuildings were demolished. Telephone and power service disrupted and streets littered with tree branches.

E. M. House, eight miles northwest of Corsicana, reported considerable damage to cotton and other crops from a hard hailstorm.

Richmond, in Navarro county, had three inches of rain and Corsicana, 2.25 inches.

The partially loaded Gulf, Colorad and Santa Fe freight train was bound from Dallas to Cleburne. Lee Rumley was the conductor in charge of the train. O. M. Brown, engineer; Sam Jones, fireman, and Jack Ambler, a crewman, all were

Supreme Court Gets Demo 'Purge' Appeal

FORT WORTH, May 26. (AP)—The Second court of civil appeals will forward to the Supreme court today an appeal by loyalist Democrats from lower court rulings invalidating the purge of party officers who did not sign Truman-Barkley loyalty pledges.

The appeal was filed yesterday by Ernest May, loyalist attorney, who said there were 14 points of error which the Supreme court should review.

The controversy grew out of the state Democratic convention here last September when the certified Tarrant county delegation was ousted and replaced by a rump delegation. The latter elected Jack Carter and Mrs. J. W. Douglas to the state executive committee, succeeding Neville G. Penrose and Mrs. Bennett Smith. Later the certified delegation members obtained a temporary injunction from 67th District court against the ouster of Tarrant county precinct chairman and to keep Carter and Mrs. Douglas from serving on the executive committee.

Baby Boy Swallows Costume Jewelry

DENTON, May 26 (AP)—If eight-month-old Russel H. Smith grows up with an aversion to women's costume jewelry he'll have a reason why.

The baby, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Smith of Denton, swallowed an open costume pin of his mother's yesterday afternoon. Late last night, however, he was doing nicely at the Denton hospital following surgery.

Mrs. Smith said she heard the infant choke earlier in the day while lying on a bed. But when she went to him apparently nothing was wrong. Four hours later she gasped as she remembered she had seen her pin on the baby's bed. She looked, and the pin was gone.

X-ray pictures showed the open pin in the infant's stomach. An operation was performed and the pin removed.

By midnight the baby—and the parents—felt a lot better.

Planes Take Off On Anti-Polio Flight

SAN ANTONIO, May 26 (U.P.)—Nine planes from the Texas Air National guard took off shortly after dawn today to spray DDT on the southwestern corner of San Antonio—known as "death triangle."

The spraying was aimed at halting the spread of poliomyelitis and was known as "operation anti-polio."

There have been 49 recorded polio cases, with five deaths, thus far in San Antonio in 1949.

The flight of Air National guard planes, under command of District Attorney William Hensley, comprised eight F51 Mustang fighters and one C-47 cargo ship. They took off from Brooks field at 6:45 a. m.

Pepper Declares AMA Label On Health Program Is Inaccurate

WASHINGTON, May 26 (AP)—Senator Pepper (D-Fla) said today the American Medical association has "a perfect right" to fight national health insurance, but is "grossly inaccurate" in calling it socialized medicine.

At the same time Pepper declared there is no basis for an AMA charge that the nation's doctors have been subjected to "maliciously unfair abuse from certain advocates of compulsory health insurance, some of whom are office holders in the federal government."

The AMA's accusation was voiced to a Senate labor subcommittee late yesterday by Dr. Lowell S. Goin of Los Angeles. Goin urged Congress to junk President Truman's payroll tax national health insurance program and to concentrate instead on voluntary insurance plans

Charges Denied

After hearing the AMA witnesses, the subcommittee recessed until next Tuesday The group will resume its study then of the administration's general health program and various alternate plans.

Goin said that "for 10 years the federal security agency and other government agencies have been spending unauthorized tax funds to thump the drum for socialized medicine." He added:

"Now, however, when the American Medical association finally strikes back at the distorted propaganda of the socializers and the government payrollers, we suddenly hear unfounded and intemperate charges that the American Medical association is invading Washington with a high-powered lobby and a huge slush fund. Those charges are absolutely untrue and those who have been making them know they are false."

Members Assessed

Goin named no names, but he said:

"Through vicious innuendo, false implication and outright distortion, deliberate attempts have been made to undermine public confidence in the nation's doctors, and to make it appear that the American Medical association is engaged in devious unethical tactics in its opposition to national compulsory health insurance."

Pepper, a co-sponsor of the administration's health bill, asked Goin how much the AMA has raised to fight the Truman insurance plan. Goin said he had been told about $1,500,000 already had been collected.

The AMA goal is $3,000,000, to be raised by a $25 assessment against each of its members, Goin said.

Goin told the subcommittee the AMA "openly, frankly and honestly is engaged in a national education campaign to give the people the facts about compulsory health insurance and the facts about voluntary health insurance."

He said: "We frankly oppose the first and we enthusiastically favor the second."

If the AMA battle amounts to lobbying, then "it is lobbying in the finest American tradition, and every doctor is proud of his part," Goin said.

He added that if there is any need for a congressional investigation of lobbying, "it is for an investigation of the government lobby which has forced the American Medical profession to strike back in defense of its good name."

Telephone Engineer Interviews Students

David A. Fairley, sales engineer for the Northwest Texas district of the Southwestern Bell Telephone company, was to be at Texas Tech today to talk with graduating students who are interested in jobs with his company.

Mrs. Jean Jenkins, head of the Tech Placement service, said Fairley would talk with students about jobs in the collections and sales divisions and about positions as business office managers.

Students who are interested should drop by the Placement office on the second floor of the Administration building.

Southern Presbyterian Group Takes Stand On Civil Rights

MONTREAT, N. C., May 26 (AP)—A blunt and, for southerners, startling report on civil rights awaited Presbyterians today.

The report was prepared by the Christian Relations committee for submission to the 89th general assembly of the Presbyterian church in the U. S. (South), which convenes tonight

It agreed that much of the proposed federal civil rights legislation, such as establishment of a Fair Employment Practices commission, might be harmful.

But, said the report, "we cannot fairly dismiss the whole question of federal legislation by saying such laws always do more harm than good. This view is not borne out by the facts."

The report, submitted by Dr. Stuart R. Ogiesby of Atlanta and Dr. John H. Marion of Richmond, Va., continued:

"Since Uncle Sam protects negroes, Jews and other minority groups from brown shirts or black shirts abroad, why shouldn't he likewise protect them from the white sheets and others at home who threaten their civil liberties?

"Rightly or wrongly, as it puts that question to itself, the nation as a whole, seems unwilling to wait much longer for the south to act of its own accord in defense of minority rights. Right or wrong, it is becoming increasingly ready to run te risks of southern resentment."

So where does the church stand?

Report Gives Warning

Said the report. "For all our stress on Christian brotherhood, most white southern churchmen are still not ready to work or worship on a common level with their 'brothers in Christ' of a different color . . ."

Then the report warned, "A church that tries to be neutral by keeping silent, or a church that resorts to compromise to save itself, will to that extent forfeit its redemptive power and influence among men.

"Only a church that needs the summons of principle above all else, and that dares in deed and spirit to defend the rights of all men without fear or favor, will gain the abiding respect of the world."

Lubbock Grain Company Men Not Excited Much Over Wheat Transportation Embargo

Lubbock grain men apparently were not too taken aback by the embargo on grain announced by the American Railroad association Wednesday, although the full extent of the move could not immediately be determined they indicated Wednesday night.

The grain harvest on the South Plains and nearby areas has not got underway as yet and likely will be delayed somewhat by recent rains. A heavy run on storage space was seen when the harvest does start between June 1 and June 15, however.

Automatic Embargo Seen

A spokesman at S. E. Cone Grain and Seed company of Lubbock said his firm did not yet know to what extent the embargo would affect them. However, he was of the opinion that "it won't make too much difference."

He explained that "sooner or later it will be an automatic embargo," since storage space in most sections already is at a premium; more so, in fact, than box cars to transport grain. He said that before an elevator could get a car loaded with grain, the railroad probably would require a written guarantee that the grain would be unloaded at its destination and that an "automatic embargo" would be in effect.

Facilities Already Crowded

At R. C. Young Feed and Seed company a spokesman said substantially the same thing, pointing out that much of the storage space in the large terminals is full already with last year's grain, leaving little space for the forthcoming harvest. However, the spokesman thought that in the South Plains area "things will be worked out okay." He said that in recent weeks, from 100 to 150 cars of commodity grain have been moving out from this area per day, which will make more storage space available for this year's crop.

Spokesmen for both firms agreed that available storage facilities would fill up quickly with the harvest, even with this "delayed movement" of last year's grain crop.

Operator Declines Comment

Both were of the opinion that more box cars were available this year than the same time last year.

Spokesmen at Burrus elevators chose to make no comment on the embargo and its possible effects upon their firm.

Spokesmen for the Producers Grain Corp., whose offices and warehouse are in the process of being completed southeast of Lubbock, were not available for comment. The huge new elevators just southeast of the city will have facilities for some two millions bushels of grain.

Safecrackers Stop To Eat, Two are Caught

WASHINGTON, May 26. (AP)—Mixing business with pleasure is bad—even for safecrackers.

Three men who ate sandwiches and drank beer while trying to crack a safe at the Southern Venetian Blind Co. were surprised by police last night. One got away, but two were captured.

THERE'S NO PLACE LIKE HOME—IN A JAIL.—This, in case you don't recognize it, is a cell in the county jail, Cleveland, O. Its occupant is George Stewart, 39, doing a year as an habitual offender on disorderly conduct charges. The sheriff allowed Stewart, an artist, to decorate his cell as he pleased. So Stewart obtained materials from friends, draped the bars and bed, constructed knick-knack shelves, plastered the walls with photos—and this is the result. In the picture, deputy Joe Uccello grins as he examines a cardboard telephone which Stewart made.

Army Wives Bring Bit Of America To Austrian Town

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first of a series of articles on life in Kefer-feld, a suburb of Linz, Austria, one of the United States Army dependent areas in Land Upper Austria Area Command. The writer, woman's editor of The Avalanche-Journal publications, recently returned from a two months' trip abroad, several weeks of which were spent in Austria.)

By MARGARET TURNER

A DEFINITION of transplant has been given as "to lift or reset in another soil or situation," and the word transplant in the sense of transplanting the American way of life, might well be used to describe home life of the Army dependents in Europe.

The writer, Mrs. John D. Lynch of Grosse Pointe, Mich., and Miss Ruth E. Ford spent several days in Keferfeld, suburb of Linz, Austria, as guests of Miss Ford's sister, Mrs. Robert M. Smiley and Lt. Smiley. It is of their life and their neighbors and friends we write today.

THE Smileys live in one of the homes built by the late Herman Goering for workers in his great steel factory. There are 30 houses in this dependent area, authorized by the government for American families. Flanking the homes are apartments in which Austrian families live.

Some of the former fat man's houses are more conveniently built than others. The Smileys, who considered themselves fortunate to get any type of house because of the great demand for them, worked hard at making their dwelling comfortable and after buying bits of furniture from departing families, ordering a few odds and ends from mail order catalogues and unpacking their books and personal belongings they were rather well set up.

THE Goering houses must have been designed by either a mad man or a small child. For instance, the Smiley home had only one outside door, leading from the glassed in front porch. As in other factory homes, the floor plan was such that there was much wasted space in the two halls (for the bedrooms were upstairs) and the rooms were rather small. Immediately after moving in, Lt. Smiley installed a hot water heater in the downstairs bathroom. The tub was large but the faucet to the laboratory was set so far from the bowl that it was impossible to turn it on without splashing the walls.

Such little inconvenient matters are no bother to the Austrians. As we have said in previous writings, they do housework and jobs the hard way and although it takes most of their time, they seem contented with their lot.

THERE was a little episode of a plumber which will illustrate what we mean. When we came back to Linz from a week's trip to Italy we found two large galvanized buckets placed under the sink. Inquiry of Kathie, the Austrian maid, brought out that the pipe had leaked, she had called a plumber, he had prized the pipe out of the wall and had taken it to his shop to mend it. We were there for three additional days and no amount of telephoning on the part of the Smileys brought a satisfactory answer as to when the pipe would be brought back.

In the meantime, Kathie kept the buckets under the drip and carried the dishwater to the bathroom to empty it.

KATHIE, a buxom young woman who wouldn't go to the trouble to learn English, was full of smiles when we were there. She refused offers of help for the extra work caused by our visit and stayed on her feet from early morning until after nightfall. Her monthly salary, which would be about the equivalent of twenty American dollars, in addition to her board and clothing, was paid by the Smileys.

The salary of John, the janitor, was paid by the Smileys and supplemented by the government. John stoked the furnace in the winter and came over each morning to build a fire in the hot water heater. John was de-nazified, as were all of the Austrian employes, but we had an idea he had been a Storm Trooper in his former days. He was dark and not bad looking, except when he smiled and then showed a mouthful of gold-covered teeth.

MEALS in the Smiley home were much as one would have had in America, except Mrs. Smiley said she missed fresh vegetables and she had forgotten what a fresh piece of meat would taste like. The groceries were bought at the commissary at Camp McCauley. On occasions there would be fresh vegetables from Italy, but most of the time the Army wives bought frozen vegetables. Most of the frozen meats were from Argentina. Eggs, milk and butter came from Denmark.

The commissary was a very large building and resembled the help-yourself stores in our country. We were told that the shelves were much better supplied than in past months. After groceries were checked, a record was made and the bill paid at the end of the month. There was a limit of $55 per person per month and the women we talked to said meat was the most expensive item.

KITTENS

THERE are five long-haired kittens to be given away at 3103 Ave. L.

Mrs. W. J. Gentry, telephone 3-2988, has a two and one-half months old, black and white tom kitten to give away. She wouldn't give him up if they were not moving to an apartment.

Mary Haworth's Mail . . .

Father Believes Son Should Work This Summer On Milk Route, Mother Disagrees

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: My husband insists that our second child, a boy of nine, should help him on Saturdays and during the coming summer vacation. Helping him consists in delivering milk to certain customers, and they would be making the rounds until about 3:30 p. m. daily.

However, Jimmie says that all the other children play on Saturdays and go to camp during summer vacation, so why shouldn't he? To that his father says, "I didn't go to camp when I was a child. I was lucky to have a roof over my head and three meals a day, without thinking about camp and spending money."

My husband was brought up the hard way. He says that since he helped his father on their farm when he was a small child, and it never harmed him, he sees no reason why Jimmie shouldn't help him. What do you think? Do you agree with my husband, or do you think a child of nine is too young to work?

Although I never take sides in Jimmie's presence, I have privately argued against my husband's attitude; and after talking things over, we have agreed to ask your advice and abide by whatever you say. Signed C. L.

CHILD THRIVES BEST ON BEING A CHILD

DEAR C. L.: Having grown up on a farm, surely your husband knows that plants and animals have a natural cycle of growth that cannot be successfully hurried. They need a certain amount of time and a certain kind of care to bring out their full potentials.

The same is true of humans, too; and in principle a child ought to be granted the right to be a child during the years of childhood, just as a calf is a calf and not a breeder or a milk producer, and a colt is a colt and not a dray horse—yet.

Thus I say that unless it's a hardship case—of work or starve—a child shouldn't be driven to help earn the family living, so that he is deprived of leisure for kicking up his heels, soaking in sunshine, companionship, seeds of enterprise in the way of hobbies, recreation, etc., a good part of the day.

Please understand, however, that I'm not advising butterfly freedom from teamwork for a child. Every child should be home-trained to take on, a little at a time, personal chores and cooperative duties suited to his years, intelligence, strength and dexterity.

FOR examples: The average child aged three should be dressing himself, or at least working at it. At five, picking up his own toys after play is a suitable added chore. At seven, school work plus the foregoing seems a fair load. And by nine he's pulling his weight if he has a system for keeping his shoes cleaned, his desk, room and closet tidy; for doing yard and/or kitchen chores and running specified errands, and studying faithfully in season.

Time enough at 13, and not before, to use Jimmie as milkman's helper or apprentice handyman on the place during summers; and until then I think he should have an annual outing, at least a fortnight but preferably a month if you can afford it, at summer camp—for the wider education in social behavior it gives yous.

Your husband's open mind to your "moderator" attitude is commendable. It means that basically he has good instincts, despite the fact that his cramped childhood somewhat distorts his perspective on a child's inherent rights, and also, perhaps makes him unconsciously resentful of childhood privileges granted other small fry. Danube-Black Sea Canal Is Planned

BUCHAREST, Romania, May 26 (AP)—The government announced plans today to start immediate construction of a canal from the Danube to the black Sea.

Once planned with British aid as a guarantee against Russian control of the Danube, the canal now will be built with Russian aid, reliable sources said. It will stretch about 60 miles from Cerna-Voda on the Danube to Lake Tasaul, near the coastal port of Constanta.

The official explanation said it will give deep sea shipping a shorter and more reliable route than the Danube course, and will be more economical. The communique did not give the cost. The British engineers who had worked on the plans in the 1930's had estimated it would be a five year project.

A new handy scalloper made of plastic will be a help to the home sewer. It does not curl, remains flat and also serves as a ruler and a button spacer.

Reds On West Coast Checked

WASHINGTON, May 26 (AP)—The House un-American Activities committee may send an investigator to the west coast to check reports that atomic scientists there belonged to a wartime Communist cell.

Member said the committee has obtained names of several scientists and a number of other persons who are supposed to have attended a Communist party meeting in Oakland, Calif., in April, 1942.

The member, who didn't want his name used, said the committee intends to trace down these leads as part of its attempt to find out to what extent the Russians may have siphoned vital atomic secrets from the radiation laboratory of the University of California at Berkeley.

Scientist Not Identified

Oakland and Berkeley are near each other on San Francisco bay.

The committee said in a report last year that Steve Nelson, whom it described as a wartime Soviet espionage agent, got an important atomic formula from a "scientist X" at the Berkeley laboratory. That was in 1943.

Scientist X never has been identified publicly. The committee said he denied in a closed session that he knew Nelson or had given secrets to any unauthorized person.

The committee spent most of yesterday questioning two former atomic scientists who worked at the Berkeley research center.

Refuses To Answer

One was David Bohm, now teaching at Princeton university. The other was Joseph Weinberg, now at the University of Minnesota. Weinberg said he and Bohm went to school together.

Bohm told reporters he refused to answer a question whether he ever had been a Communist, on grounds the reply might tend to incriminate him.

Weinberg's lawyer said Weinberg "fully, freely and frankly answered all questions."

Former Communist Paul Crouch and his wife were in the committee room during part of the time Weinberg was there. Now an employe of the Miami Daily News, Crouch has told the committee he was a Communist for 17 years and was Nelron's predecessor as party organizer for Alameda county, Calif., including Oakland and Berkeley.

Reds Blame Western Powers For Rail Traffic Congestion

BERLIN, May 26 (AP) — The Russians charged today that failure of the western powers to unload inter-zonal freight trains in Berlin has tied rail traffic in a knot.

The complaint was voiced just a day after Britain had accused the Soviets of vioating the agreement under which the Berlin blockade was lifted.

Soviet transport officials said 42 supply trains, some carrying perishable foods, are lying idle on rails inside Berlin with the westerners making no effort to unload them. Trains from western zones are backed up all the way from Berlin to Helmstedt, on the east-west border, the Russians alleged.

Freight Cars Idle

They reported 2,370 loaded freight cars idle in Berlin and nearby Magdeburg, some of them having reached this strike-plagued city night before last.

Russian-licensed newspapers in the Soviet zone reported the American and British zone commanders have been told of the "necessity for unloading these trains, which are choking up railway lines."

German police said one inter-zonal freight train reached the downtown Spandau rail yards this morning, as the paralyzing strike of west Berlin railway workers continued. British officials said only two supply trains have reached their destinations in Berlin this week.

Peace Bid Rejected

The striking rail union announced it has offered to run inter-zonal trains to their proper destinations and unload them, but the Russian railway managers rejected the offer. Railway service in both east and west zones is operated by the Soviets under a four-power agreement.

The strikers last night rejected a peace bid from their employers, which met only one of their three demands. This was an offer to pay their wages in west marks, instead of Soviet zone currency, as at present. The strikers stuck to their other demands: for recognition of their union, and re-employment of employes fired in the past year for "political reasons."

Wife Of Actor Seeks Increase For Support

LOS ANGELES, May 26. (AP)—An increase from $450 to $1,000 a month for support of herself and two children is sought by the divorced wife of Georgie Price, 50, who combines a theatrical career with membership in the New York stock exchange.

Mrs. Lorain Price, 40, former Ziegfeld Follies girl, claimed in her suit, filed yesterday, that Price earns $100,000 a year. They were divorced in Miami, Fla., in 1939.

Price was served in this case while in court objecting to another petition by Mrs. Price. She sought to be named guardian of the estate of one child, Peter, 10, who earns $200 weekly in the movies. This matter was postponed until June 3.

HE'S UP AND COMING (UP)—Looming above his fellow workers is Chang Ying-wu, 27, seven-foot 320-pound jailer in Shanghai. And Chang claims he's still getting taller. He comes from a family of 28 members, all of whom are of average height. (Photo by NEA-Acme staff correspondent Warren Lee.)

No Advice Necessary For Girl Graduates

This Is No Female Age, Says Writer, It's Female Rampage

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, May 26 — The sweet young thing had a stormy look in her eyes as she marched up to my desk

"May I be of any assistance to you, ma'am?" I inquired cautiously.

You have to be cautious in a newspaper office these days when pretty girls come up to you. You never know whether they want you to be last man in their Pyramid club, or to tell you they just shot down their dear old grandmother for reading too many comic books.

"Yes, you can help me," she said. "You wrote a piece telling college men graduates how to get ahead in life. But how about the girl graduates? Haven't you anything to tell me?"

Nothing To Tell

"Have I?" I asked, looking to see which ear she wanted filled first.

"I don't think there is anything I can tell you," I said.

"Why?"

"Because you just showed you have already learned woman's most important art—how to get men to do what you want."

"Oh, men!" she said. 'I sometimes wish all the men in the world were dead—not that they probably aren't."

"Why are you mad at men?"

"Because they take up so much space. What chance has a woman who wants a career? Men hold the big jobs. If there's a soft touch in life, it's theirs."

"Look," I said. "You've got life backwards. Men lost out in the struggle to rule the world long ago. It's a woman's world today. The prime aim left to men now is to make women happy. Men work, women spend. This isn't just a feminine age we're living in—it's a feminine rampage."

"Well, she said. "I can see why they call you the poor man's philosopher. You certainly aren't the poor woman's Socrates—or Gable either, for that matter. What about equal rights?"

"What about equal wrongs—do you want those, too?" I asked. "Einstein couldn't figure a formula to give women equal rights. And it wouldn't be fair to them if he did."

"How can I have a successful career?"

"Work hard, use your brains, be friendly—just like I told the college boys. And don't try to capitalize on sex in business."

"Is there any way I can avoid it?" she dimpled

"No, I guess not," I sighed. "Not for another 30 years. Then it won't make any difference."

Hubbers And Dukes To Tangle In Twin Bill Here Tonight

Abilene And Pampa Victors Last Night

Abilene's Blue Sox moved Wednesday to within one-half game of the Albuquerque Dukes, West Texas-New Mexico League leaders.

The climbing Blue Sox copped a couple of shutout victories over Borger while Albuquerque was idle.

Abilene took the first game of the twin bill 14 to 0 and beat Borger 7 to 0 in the second.

In the only other game, Pampa won over Amarillo 12 to 9.

Albuquerque's scheduled game at Lubbock was postponed because of rain and dust. The Clovis-at-Lames game was postponed because of rain. Doubleheaders are scheduled for both places tonight.

The Blue Sox backed up airtight pitching for the two shutouts. In the first, Rene Vega pitched three-hit ball to win. He retired the first 12 men to face him and walked only one. Vega failed to allow a Gasser to pass second base. As a matter of fact, only one Borger player made it as far as second—and that on a stolen base.

Rudy Lorona hung up the second. He fanned 10 batters, including five in a row in the fourth and fifth innings. He allowed only five hits during the tilt.

In the first tilt, Abilene worked on Clayton Fries for 13 hits, scoring in every inning except the fifth and stacking up seven runs in the sixth frame.

Get Five In Sixth

The Blue Sox took a two-run lead in the first inning of the second game and batted around and two men over for five runs in the sixth.

At Pampa, an eighth inning home run by Rightfielder Roy Parker drove in three runs and salvaged a 12-to-9 game from Amarillo.

Parker's homer came with two men on base and broke a 9-to-9 tie.

Pampa jumped off to a 6-to-1 lead in the first inning, but the wildness of pitcher Dick Lockwood gave Amarillo the opportunity to tie up the count. The lead changed several times until Parker's homer.

DOUBLEHEADER TO BE HELD HERE TONIGHT

Manager Hershel Martin's Albuquerque Dukes will attempt to strengthen their hold on first place tonight at Rosenthal Field, when the Lubbock Hubbers conclude their nine-game home stand with a doubleheader.

Rain and dust, plus a power failure, caused postponement of last night's game and brought on a twin bill tonight beginning at 7:30 p. m. Tickets purchased for last night's game or for any other game earlier in the season will be good tonight.

Meanwhile the Hubber squad changed again. Pepper Martin, the fiery outfielder from Greenville, who came to Lubbock on option under a five-day look, was returned. Cotton Russell (2-2), righthanded hurler, went back on the active list. Buddy McCallum, injured third baseman-shortstop, went on the disabled list. And Abilene voted against raising the class man category, meaning that the Hubbers could not obtain the services of Martin.

Teams Want Limit Raised

Martin, originally thought to be a limited service outfielder, was investigated and the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues office found out that he had played three years previously.

George Schepps, Hubber general manager, immediately attempted to get the player limit on veterans raised one. Lamesa, Borger and Amarillo wired that they definitely would like to see the limit raised, but Abilene turned the proposition down cold. No word was received from Albuquerque, Pampa and Clovis.

Russell, who has been in town the past four days, received another examination Monday and has had two wisdom teeth pulled. After they had been taken out, examination showed them both to be badly abcessed and the condition in his right shoulder began to clear up immediately.

McCallum has been bothered for 10 days with a bad charley horse in his left leg, but continued to play until Manager Jackie Sullivan lifted him Tuesday night. Charley Willis, who replaced him, indicated that he would be a capable substitute and Schepps yesterday decided that an enforced rest would be best.

The Hubbers, given a night off, entertained themselves in various ways. Most of them went to shows around town.

Averages for the team through Tuesday night's game shows that the Hubbers, including players no longer with the team, have scored 262 runs, gotten 372 hits, of which 79 have been doubles, nine have been triples and 36 have been home runs. The club has driven in 236 of the runs scored. Hubbers have stolen 30 bases and have 14 sacrifice hits to their credit.

Jim Prince remains the big noise of the Hubber attack with a .390 batting average. He is tops in hits with 52, leads in runs batted in with 37 and is tied with Mike Dooley in runs, each with 33. Dooley is tops in doubles with 13 and in home runs with seven. McCallum leads in stolen bases with eight.

The Easter Intercollegiate Baseball League open Saturday, April 9 with Harvard facing Navy at Annapolis, Md.

Sherman-Denison Gets New Manager

SHERMAN, May 26. (AP)—The Big State league defending champion, Sherman-Denison, floundering in the cellar, take the field tonight under a new manager.

Pete Appleton, who won 12 games and lost only four as a hurler with Sherman-Denison last year, succeeds Red Brown. Brown resigned yesterday.

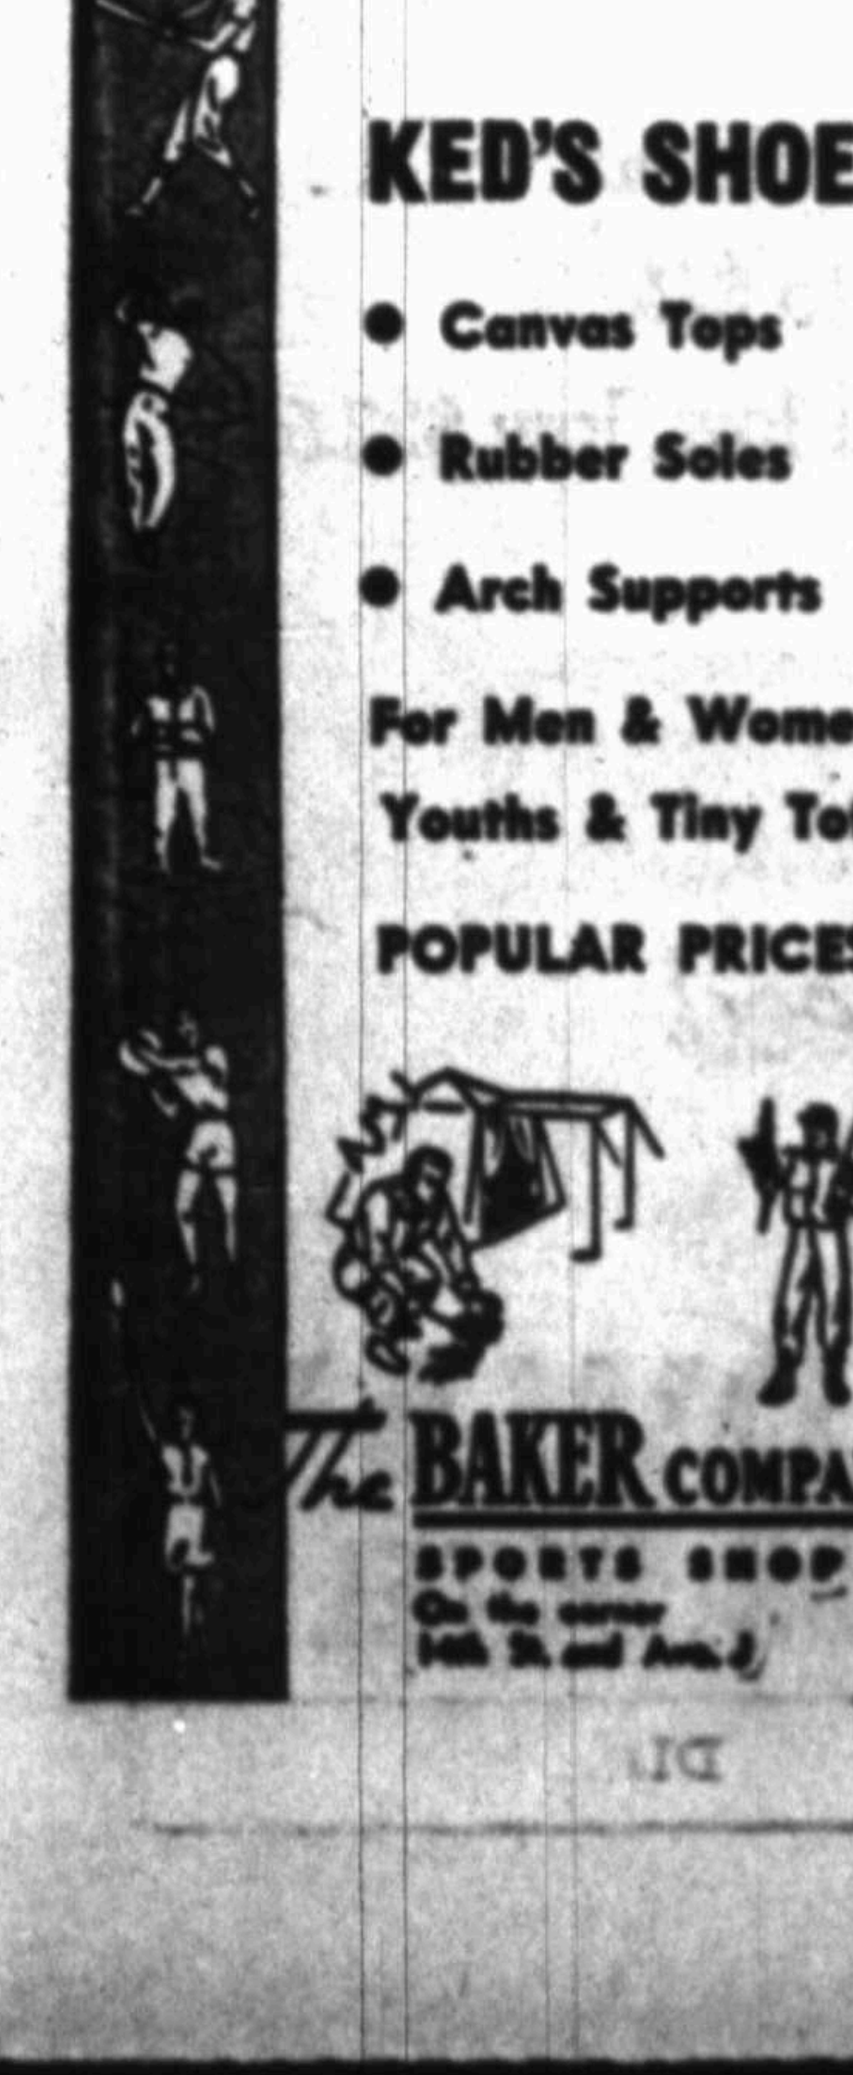

Appleton was traded to the Twins by the Dallas Eagles. He has been playing for the Gladewater Bears in the East Texas league. The Eagles got pitcher Rafael Rivas in the deal. Rivas has won two and lost six for the Twins this season.

Legion, Newspaper Teams Are Victors

In two Commercial league softball games Wednesday at Wagner park, American Legion defeated Lubbock Auto, 13-6, and Avalanche-Journal took the Exchange club, 7-2.

Matheny was the winning hurler for The Avalanche-Journal, and Moore was the loser.

A home run by Floyd Jernigan featured the Legion victory, and W. T. Braughton went the distance on the hill for the winners in a game that was decided after four innings.

Tight Softball Games On Tap

SAN ANGELO, May 26. (Special)—More tight softball games in the Texas Softball League are on tap for this week, but it seems doubtful that there will be a repetition of last Saturday's play.

Two no-hit, no-run games in one doubleheader by teammate pitchers were turned in and seldom do such things happen. The chuckers were Lloyd Wiseman and Jimmy Kight of Howard Payne's Yellowjackets and the college boys won 2-0 and 1-0 games from Mackey's of Abilene. The twin wins gave Abilene leadership in the eastern division of the league.

Lubbock Wins Twice

Red Denham of Crane held Lubbock's Bluebonnets hitless for the regulation seven innings, but a passed ball at home in the last of the ninth cost him a 1 to 0 loss to Warren Pope, who fanned 18 men and allowed only two hits. Denham also gave up two safeties. G. W. Warden of Lubbock won his fourth straight tilt in the nightcap, 6 to 5.

Pope now leads the loop in strikeouts with 56 in four games and Denham is close behind with 50.

San Angelo's Maurice Shop dropped a 1-3 decision in their opener, but came back to cop the finale, 4-1 in 11 innings.

Stamford felled Mustang Sheet Metal of Dallas 2-1, behind Roy Weaks in an opening game and lost the nightcap by the same score.

FORT STOCKTON IS NEXT FOR LUBBOCK SUNBEAMERS

Bluebonnet Sunbeamer supporters are looking for a double victory here Saturday night when Fort Stockton invades Jumbo Webster field.

The Sunbeamers, who have a way of winning the easy games as well as the tough ones, are not underestimating the strength of the Saturday night visitors, who have won only one of the eight games they have played.

Triple Play Feature In Boys Club Game

It's doubtful that the Pirates and White Sox, who meet in Pygmy and Pee Wee league games at the Boys club this afternoon, can rival the games turned in yesterday by the Indians and Red Sox.

The Indians came up with a triple play in the first inning of their Pygmy game and the Red Sox came back in the bottom half of the same frame with a double play. It might have made the difference in the game, which saw the Indians win 13 to 12.

In the Pee Wee League game, action wasn't quite as sharp defensively, but it didn't stop the Indians from taking an 8 to 7 victory.

Indian fielding accounted for a triple play in the Pygmy game. In the first inning, Curey Andrews took Buddy Shoffner's fly for one out, stepped on second to double up Rodger Stanley and threw to Arnold Lipps at third, who beat Gene Calvert to the bag.

Lipps paced the winners with a single and homer in three trips, while Calvert had a single, double and triple in four trips for the Red Sox.

In the Pee Wee game, Cricket Shirley led the victors with two for two, while Roy Rucker had the same average for the Sox.

Monday afternoon at 4 all boys 12 and 13 years of age interested in playing in the Junior League this summer are urged to meet at the Boys club to organize teams.

CARROLLTON WINS

CARROLTON, May 26. (AP) — Carrolton defeated Henrietta, 11-5, here yesterday to win the region 3-A Texas schoolboy baseball championship.

CERTIFICATES ARE AWARDED

Texas Tech Athletes Honored At Dinner By Double T Club

The Double T Downtown club honored Texas Tech spring semester athletes with a turkey dinner last night at Mexican Inn after rain forced the activities inside from the patio.

A turkey dinner was served inside after rain caused cancellation of the outdoor banquet in the patio at the inn, and approximately 68 persons were in attendance.

Master of ceremonies was D. M. McElroy, executive- secretary of the ex-students association at Tech, and he kept the crowd laughing with jokes and wise cracks following the dinner. He also presented gifts to various lettermen.

Following the antics of McElroy, the various members of the different sports teams were presented, and the members of the athletic council at Tech were introduced. Track Coach Maxie McKnight was given a Stetson hat on behalf of the track team by Pat Clepper.

Double T certificates to the athletes in the five sports were presented by Dr. J. W. Davis, chairman of the athletic council. The dinner was made possible by the efforts of Elmer Tarbox, Lefty Sollis, and other members of the Double T club.

Following is the list of lettermen in each sport:

Indians Slump To 7th Place

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

Flop is the word for Cleveland's first eastern trip despite the long distance clouting of Larry Doby.

Only the home run hitting of the talented negro outfielder saved the Tribe from complete disaster. He couldn't do it all.

The world champions left their lake shore wigwam May 11 after whipping the New York Yankees in a night game. They were in second place. No matter what happens tonight when they wind up their tour at Washington, they'll go home in seventh place. No wonder Bill Veeck wants to start the season all over again.

Last night Cleveland lost again, although Doby hit another. This time it was a long drive that cleared a sign atop the right-centerfield scoreboard at Washington. If it hadn't been for that, Sid Hudson would have had a shutout. As it was he won, 6-2.

He Beats Detroit

If things ever get tough at the Yankee stadium, Tommy Byrne can make a living beatin Detroit. The New Yorker did it for the fifth straight time of his career yesterday, 6-2, striking out 12 men. That was the season high for strikeouts, passing Mel Parnell's 11 total in an 11-inning game.

Connie Mack's Philadelphia A's, making a determined bid, protected second place by downing the Chicago White Sox, 6-4, last night. The A's remained 3½ games back of the leading Yanks.

The St. Louis Browns, humiliated twice by the Yankees, turned on the Boston Red Sox to win an 8-4 game. Jack Graham's eighth homer helped the Brownies pile up an early lead for Cliff Fannin that Al Zarilla's three-run homer in the sixth couldn't overcome.

Race Is Tightened

Brooklyn tightened the National league race by thumping Pittsburgh, 8-6, while both Boston and New York were losing. The Dodgers are only a game out of first, winning seven of nine in the west.

Howie Pollet looked like the pollet of 1946 as he pitched the St. Louis Cardinals to a six-hit 3-0 win over the leading Boston Braves. Warren Spahn had one bad inning—the fourth—when St. Louis scored all its runs.

Chicago's Clubs took the heat off themselves by defeating the New York Giants for the second straight day, 3-2. Bob Rush decisioned Montia Kennedy with the help of Hank Edwards who drove in one run and scored another.

Bud Lively came through with another well-pitched effort as Cincinnati shaded the Phillies, 3-2. A double by Danny Litwhiler, Johnny Wyrostek's single and an outfield fly broke a 2-2 tie in the sixth.

GAME IS SLATED SATURDAY

Wellington, Spur Tangle For Title

SPUR, May 26 (Special)—Wellington High school and Spur High school baseball teams will meet here Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock to decide the regional baseball championship.

The Bulldogs won the right to meet Wellington when they turned in an 11 to 0 shutout victory over Post in a Bi-District game. Joe King hurled a classy three-hit job to set the Antelopes down almost in order. Three errors behind him weren't damaging and he preserved the whitewash.

In addition, King banged a double to help the Spur attack, which functioned for 14 hits off the slants of two Antelope hurlers.

Bob Rammage started on the hill for the visitors, but was blasted to cover by a six-run uprising. Roy Wade went to his rescue from rightfield and managed to get past the second frame all right. But in the third, the Bulldogs unleased another violent attack, scoring five runs. This time Rammage came in from rightfield to rescue Wade.

Melvin Lindsey, an all-district football player, caught the entire game and chipped in a double, while Shortstop Joe Simpson, another grid star, had three hits in four trips, one of the hits being a double.

Dean Watson, Spur first baseman, had a perfect day at the plate with three hits in three trips.

In the big first inning, eleven batters went to the plate and scored six runs on five singles, a double, one error and a fielder's choice. And surprisingly enough, the three outs of the inning were all on the strikeout route.

The line score:

POST	000	000	0	0	3	3
SPUR	605	000	x	11	14	3

First Bi-District Title Game Set At Wichita On Friday

The Lubbock Westerner baseball team faces Wichita Falls there at 2:30 p. m. Friday in the first game toward deciding the bi-district championship.

Second and third games of the two out of three series will be played in Lubbock at Rosenthal field beginning at 2:30 p. m. Saturday. Price of admission to the games at Rosenthal field will be 30 cents for children and 60 cents for adults.

The winner of the bi-district games is entitled to represent District 1-AA and 2-AA at the state meet in Austin June 6-7-8 where the state champion will be crowned after an elimination tournament.

A bus will carry the Lubbock nine to Wichita Falls Friday for the game, and the team will return following the contest.

The day of rest Tuesday seemed to help the batting of the team, and some of the hitters were really pounding the ball. Coach Fred Taylor has been trying to get his pitchers in shape for the forthcoming series, and all should be ready to go tomorrow. The starter is still undecided, but it may be Lefty Bennie Day. Only two other possibilities remain—Jimmy Hamilton and Jimmy Richards.

Against Lubbock Wichita Falls will pitch either Fleming or Scott. The lineup in the batting order will probably be Hightower, second base; Bookout, third base; Leggett, center field; Clanton, first base; Blasengame, right field; Howard, shortstop; Hooten, left field; Carter, catcher; and the pitcher.

List Of Qualifiers Now Stands At 27

INDIANAPOLIS, May 26 (INS)—The list of qualifiers for the 500-mile auto Speedway Classic at Indianapolis next Monday rose today to 27, six short of the allowable maximum, when three more drivers passed their ten-mile time trials.

Fastest job of the day was turned in by the veteran Paul Russo of Hammond, Ind., who wheeled his Tuffey Offey special at an average clip of 129.487 MPH.

Lee Wallard of Schenectady, N. Y., averaged 128.912 MPH in the Maresati special twice driven to victory in past "500's" by speedway president Wilbur Shaw. Then at 126.516 MPH. Jim Rathman of Los Angeles made the grade in a Pioneer Auto special owned by John Lorenz of Chicago.

Grumbling In PGA Growing

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer

RICHMOND, Va., May 26 — The strife-torn Professional Golfers association, already riddled by internal dissension plus feuds flaring from tournament-frayed nerves, had another bitter pill to swallow today as George Schneiter stole the icing off the cake.

Schneiter was leading in the race for the qualifying medal as the field went into the second round for 64 match play berths. And therein lies the rub.

Wants Glory Too

The Ogden, Utah, cattleman is the PGA tournament director and, as such, gets $22,500 a year, of which $15,000 is for expenses and $7,500 for salary.

On top of which, he steps in and tries to add the glory to the gold.

The question voiced by several pros was what does Schneiter do for his $22,500 except arrange tournaments? Now he is trying to cop the jackpot he's getting paid to line up. Certainly he is of no obvious use, once the tournament is under way, in his supposed role of publicity man

As an example, Schneiter shot a 31-35—66 yesterday and announced boldly that his 31 was a PGA medal record for nine holes. He overlooked the slight recorded fact that Jim Ferrier scored a 29 at Portland in 1946.

Bigger Than PGA?

The inference was that Schneiter is getting bigger than the PGA.

And nobody up to now has had the courage to question him because he waves the mystic phrase "executive committee" in front of the touring pros and threatens to hand them a suspension.

It has the tournament travelers talking of setting up their own "executive committee" to conduct their enterprise instead of letting the club pros have the naminating voice in their affairs.

There also are grumblings against Jimmy Demaret for his jovial introductions at the clinics. When introducing Lew Worsham, Demaret jokingly said, "I've seen better heads on a five cent beer."

Such pros as Clayton Heafner and George Fazio were talking of barbed retaliation — although was needling one of his best friends. Worsham wasn't upset at all.

Too Dictatorial

Then there was another contingent which insisted that Ed Dudley, former president and now tournament committee chairman, was too dictatorial when he brazenly nemed himself captain of the Ryder cup team

"It should have gone to Gene Sarzen, who never has had the honor although he has won three PGA championships, two National Opens and one British Open," said a pro who insisted on being anonymous. "What has Dudley ever done?"

And still another faction was deriding the U. S. G. A. for the small purse it awards in the National Open.

So it was all one merry party as the PGA tournament entered its second day of shooting. The club limit may possibly be raised to fifteen, so each man could carry an extra iron—shootin' iron, that is.

Dean Detton Winner Over George Dusette

A rowdy match was witnessed last night at Sled Allen's wrestling arena between George Dusette and Dean Detton, former world heavyweight wrestling champion, and Detton took the last two falls to win the match.

The Strong Man from Boston took the first fall, surprising Detton with a short arm scissors and shoulder pin after nine minutes of hard action. Detton claimed referee Pat O'Dowdy gave a short count, but he took the second fall in eight minutes with an inside stepover toehold and finished the match with the same hold after only two minutes of the third fall.

After being patted on the back by O'Dowdy, Detton refused to break his punishing hold on Dusette, and O'Dowdy used force to cause the hold to be broken. When he regained his feet, Detton knocked O'Dowdy through the ropes, but no more blows were exchanged after O'Dowdy came back into the ring.

George Curtiss proved to be too strong for Billy Goelz in the first main event, stopping Goelz by winning the second and third falls of a very clean match.

Goelz took the first fall in 14 minutes with a whirling arm twist. Then Curtis applied an abdominal stretch to stop the second fall after eight minutes; and won the match with a series of dropkicks and a body smother in 10 minutes of the final fall.

The 20-minute preliminary match between Jack Pappenheim and George Bruckman went the limit for a draw. Neither boy could pin the other long enough to get a count.

Handling the refereeing of the first two fights was Vic Weber.

TEXAN IS SIGNED

CHICAGO, May 26 (AP)—Rollin G. Frase, former fullback at Southern Methodist and Tyler (Tex.) Junior college, has signed to play with the Chicago Hornets of the All-America football conference, Coach Ray Flaherty announced today. His home is in Donna, Tex.

Between The Lines by Joe Kelly

Recognition of the winter and spring sport athletes by the Double T club last night was a fine gesture and will be appreciated by those young men in years to come. Seldom have the participants in those sports been given any recognition whatsoever. By the time track, tennis and golf have finished for the year, exams are on top of the students, or it is so close to the time that nothing is done. This year the Double T club stepped in and saw to it that these deserving athletes were given some reward and recognition.

They deserved it. The group honored consisted of the basketball, fencing, golf, tennis and track squads. None of the squads was weak and all finished their seasons with good records. The cage group finished second in the Border Conference, highest of any Texas team. The tennis and golf teams finished third in the Border loop meet. The fencing team had no league competition, but had a good season. The tennis team saw its two doubles combination break the Arizona stranglehold. Yes, Texas Tech athletes carved a good year from the fall of 1948 through the spring of 1949.

And what do the athletes at Tech prefer most in the way of courses? According to Clark Schooley, the demon publicity tub thumper, engineering is the most popular academic course. It rates higher than physical education as the most popular major, even though it is the toughest course in the curriculum. There were 75 men certified for participation in major sports. Of that number, 19 are taking engineering, 16 are physical education majors, 14 are agriculture majors and 13 are business administration majors. Five athletes are geology majors and two, John Tom Baker and Wilburn Gray, are majoring in foods.

Other athletes with one major each cover a wide field with one in government, one in pre-med, one in international law, one in (ugh!) journalism and one in history. The 75th man, a sophomore, has not selected a major, but is leaning towards business administration. That's a pretty comprehensive field of study for athletes to be covering. It also demonstrates why the coaching staff pulls its hair in despair. Few other major institutions in this state have the problem facing the coaches here. A great many of the students have lab courses and can't get out to practice until late. Some have to work and leave early. It's a rare day when all the players are on the field at the same time for more than a few minutes.

Lake Texoma is in the second day of its big (the blurb says "mammoth") jamboree, which will run until May 30. Beginning yesterday, prizes will be awarded for the fisherman who catches the largest black bass, crappie and catfish daily. On Monday, the winners in each division for each of the five days will compete for the grand prizes. The largest black bass on May 30 will be good for a new Chevrolet, a Larson boat and Scott-Atwater motor will go to the largest crappie angler and a Larson boat and Mercury motor goes to the catcher of the biggest catfish. Jeeves, bait me hook and rig me tackle!

Perhaps, as you've prepared for a vacation, you've wondered if other folks heading for vacations were going for the same reasons you were. The Lake Texoma Sportsman club has analyzed a great many reasons why people go on vacations and here are some of them: fishing led the list with 163 persons naming that as their chief reason. Rest was next with 93 mentions. Boating was third with 52 mentions. Thirty-six people said it was just to have the family together, while 34 persons mentioned eating. There were a lot of other assorted reasons, but we doubt if any Tech student wrote in to say that he wanted a vacation so he could spend time on the books.

Albuquerque, N. M., is coming up with a rodeo. The First Annual Middle Rio Grande Rodeo Sunday and Monday, with all types of entertainment offered. And for the cowboys entering, there will be attractive prizes. Among the attractions will be bronc riding, bareback riding, bull riding, calf roping, ribbon roping and a special added cutting horse contest. The entry fee, in case anyone around here is interested, will be $5 a day for each event. All events will be jackpots, with the bronc riding a $25 added and the same for calf roping. The show will be held on Coors Road and the general admission to watch it will be a buck. If you want to enter, send your entries to Box 162, Albuquerque, N. M.

Grantland Rice, who left Doak Walker off his All-American year before last, is out with a controversial piece in the latest copy of Sport magazine. Granny thinks that the National League, despite the fact the senior circuit probably will lose both the All-Star game and the World Series, is emerging as the stronger league. He points to the fact that National League club owners now have more money to spend than American loop owners. He thinks that the National is coming up with better rookies. He thinks that shortly the senior league will again the predominance it had when the junior circuit was just organizing. We think Granny is all wet again, as he so often is.

Big Spring Broncs Slipping In Race

(By The Associated Press)

The spirits of the league-leading Big Spring Broncs are slightly damp today, with second-place Vernon half a game closer to the top in the Longhorn league baseball race.

Big Spring's game with Roswell, N. M., was rained out last night with the Broncs leading, 7-2, in the last of the fourth. The game does not count.

Vernon, now only two games behind Big Spring, scored three runs in the sixth inning to defeat Sweetwater, 3-0.

Idle Odessa took over undisputed possession of third place. The Odessa-Ballinger contest was washed out by rain in the fourth frame, with Ballinger leading 5-1.

Midland slipped to fourth place, losing to San Angelo 7-1.

Two Americans Win In British Amateur

PORTMARNOCK, Ireland, May 26 (AP)—Both Frank Stranahan and Willie Turnesa scored one-sided victories in the fourth round of the British Amateur golf championship today as the field was reduced to 16 survivors.

Stranahan, the defending champion from Toledo, Ohio, crushed C. A. Loveday of England, 7 and 6, after Turnesa, the American amateur king from Elmstead, N. Y., had knocked out Robert Walker of Scotland, 5 and 3.

Sammy Baugh Is To Retire

TEMPLE, May 26 (AP) — Sam Baugh says this is it. Next season, declares the passing great of the Washington Redskins, will be his last in football. It will end thirteen seasons on professional gridirons

The former Texas Christian university star is here where his mother is in a hospital. He owns a big ranch near Rotan, which is 50 miles from Sweetwater.

"The 1949 season will finish me up with football," he said emphatically. "Guess I'll spend most of my time on the ranch, and maybe do a little roping during the rodeo season."

Made It Easier

If it hadn't been for the T formation, he added he'd have been out of football long ago anyway.

"Before we started using the T, the pro game was the roughest thing out," Baugh said. "But the new formation made it a little easier for me at quarterback.

"It helped more the last few years than it did at first. An old man like me can't stand up to much of the hard knocks that a backfield man gets and the T has relieved a lot of it. If I'm not passing, I push the ball to some younger fellows and let them run with the thing."

Baugh, now 34, said this was the third time he had made plans to quit football.

"When I signed my first contract with the Redskins," he said, "I had intentions of playing only one year But I liked it so well I just couldn't give it up."

Jeter Is Selected As O'Donnell Coach

O'DONNELL, May 26. (Special)—Head football coach at O'Donnell High school next year will be W. D. Jeter, who has been head coach at Holiday for the past three years.

Jeter yesterday accepted an offer extended to him by the O'Donnell school board, thus filling a vacancy that had existed for the past few weeks.

Jeter, currently working toward his master's degree at Texas Tech, will report to O'Donnell early in June. He expects to complete work for his master's degree this month.

The new coach succeeds Gano Tubb, head mentor here for the past two years, who has accepted a position as head basketball and junior football coach at Levelland High school.

Jeter is a veteran of eight years in the coaching profession, holding positions at Strawn, Eastland, Olney and Holiday. He will begin immediately to plan gridiron strategy for the District 4-A Eagles.

Until 1896 the Kentucky Derby was run at one and one-half miles; since that date it has been a mile and a quarter.

EAGLES LOSE 10 OF 15 GAMES

Fort Worth's Cats Again Lick Dallas

By HORACE BOREN
Associated Press Staff Writer

The groggy Dallas Eagles aren't humming "Home Sweet Home" today after closing a 15-game Texas league home stand—they lost ten of those games.

After dropping their third straight game to the fourth-place Fort Worth Cats last night, by a score of 6-5, the Eagles are only a game and a half ahead of the San Antonio Missions.

San Antonio squeezed out a 4-3 win over the cellar crew from Houston. Third-place Shreveport split a twin bill with the seventh-place Beaumont exporters. Shreveport won the opener, 1-0, while Beaumont took the nightcap, 4-2. Sixth-place Tulsa defeated fifth-place Oklahoma City, 9-6.

Jerry White homered for the Eagles. The Texas league double play record of eight was tied in the game, with Dallas producing five and Fort Worth three.

San Antonio's Joe Frazier hit a three-run homer in the ninth inning to climax a four run rally that downed Houston.

Shreveport copped the opener when Lefty Kent Sterling walked three men in a row to force in a run that beat Beaumont. Beaumont's Carl Ray, aided by reliefer Carl Derose, scattered six Shreveport hits to check the Sports in the nightcap.

Violent Storms Rake Texas As Fort Worth Gets Flood Threat

Plane Forced Back

Thunderstorms boomed, flashed and whistled across West Texas last night, bringing heavy rain nad hail to some areas.

The hail was so heavy in the Guadalupe Pass area it cracked the windshields of an American airlines DC-6 transport plane. The plane was forced back to Dallas. No one was injured.

Strong winds whipped dust through Odessa and nearby Notrees, Goldsmith and Kermit. Later, thunderstorms settled the dust with heavy rains. Notrees had some hail.

Thunderstorms and rain were reported at Midland, Wink, Childress, Big Spring, Denver City, Wichita Falls and Dallas. El Paso reported dust and lightning.

Meanwhile, Refugio, in south Texas, cleaned up the damage caused by a windstorm that struck Tuesday night. The blow unroofed four or five houses and damaged other buildings. The wind was accompanied by torrential rain and hail.

Fall Heavy At Slaton

On the South Plains, Slaton and the Wilson areas apparently received the heaviest precipitation with an estimated inch and one-half fall at Slaton. Abernathy, Hale Center, Post, Tahoka, Lamesa, Idalou and Seagraves reported from .25 to .75 inch of rainfall from thundershowers which swept those areas. Ralls, Brownfield, Levelland and Muleshoe reported light showers.

Wilson reported high winds and heavy rains shortly after the storm had struck. The Texas Highway patrol reported the Lubbock-Tahoka highway was under water near New Home for a time last night. Patrolmen who investigated reports of a storm in the Wilson area reported they found no signs of wind damage.

Reports of weather violence in other areas flowed in today. The following were among reports from the United Press:

Denton Is Battered

Heavy rain and hail battered Denton 30 to 45 minutes, starting about midnight, and lightning in the spectacular disturbance was blamed for one residential fire. There were no known injuries. Hail beat down gardens and knocked out dozens of windows in the west side residential area. A 16-foot chimney atop the old couny jail building toppled under lash of the wind, damaging the roof but not breaking it. Wind also tore away part of the tin building that served the Texas company as a warehouse.

Electric utility lines were down throughout Denton, but all arterial lines had been placed back in service by repair crews by dawn and most of the city had lights.

The T. J. Rhoade home on Dallas drive at the south side of Denton was set afire by lightning. Rhoade's family, asleep in the house, escaped injury.

High Winds Clocked

Winds up to 60 miles an hour were clocked at Abilene.

A violent storm struck Monahans about 9 p. m. and dumped half an inch of rain in 30 minutes. Wind gusts ranged up to 45 miles an hour and light property damage was reported.

Pecos streets were littered with tree limbs and other light debris, but, as in Monahans, no one was reported hurt.

Fort Worth's downpour was measured at 1.56 inches. The Trinity watershed in the Dallas-Fort Worth region caught far-spread heavy rains. Cresson had 1.24 inches; Roanoke, 1.65, and McKinney, 1.15. The river was rising rapidly at Dallas and the weather bureau forecast it would be running at bankful by Friday morning. There was no threat, however of flood there. In Dallas, the official overnight rainfall was measured at .93 inch, but some sections of the city recorded as much as 3.28 inches.

Other Texas rainfall reports showed these amounts: Abilene, 1.33 inches; Waco, .44; Wichita Falls, .97; Mineral Wells, .54; Junction, .83; Big Spring, .34; Palestine, .19; Del Rio, .14.

Temperature across the state Wednesday afternoon ranged from a high of 104 degrees at Presidio to 79 at Amarillo and last night from 48 at Guadalupe Pass to 74 at Brownsville and Presidio. Lubbock's maximum Wednesday was 81 degrees.

Production

Construction awards showed a marked seasonal expansion. Value of department store sales increased to close to the advanced level prevailing a year ago."

A strong influence in bringing about the April and early May drop in overall production was a decline in steel output from the recent record pace. Open hearth steel production was off three per cent from the March level.

Labor Bill

bills of lesser importance, probably next week.

But Senator George (D-Ga), floor manager of the trade agreements measure, is ill and may not be able to return to the Senate for a while.

Senator Lucas (D-Ill), the majority leader, said it might become necessary to push either the labor bill or the Atlantic treaty ahead of the trade measure.

FUNDS ARE RESTORED

WASHINGTON, May 26. (AP)—Heeding a plea by President Truman, the House restored half of $150,000,000 cut from a foreign-aid bill by its appropriations committee. The voice vote was 120 to 39.

Shanghai Battle

runs into Garden bridge, one of the four key spans under Communist assault.

The U. S. consulate general is there—where Peking road and the bund meet.

The battle area embraced some of Shanghai's finest modern buildings north and south of Soochow creek. These include the 16-story Broadway Mansions, the seven-story Embankment building, the post office, the British and Soviet consulates.

Trapped in these buildings were hundreds of foreigners—Americans, British, Portuguese, Netherlanders, French—and many Chinese.

Bullets Hit Buildings

Rifle and machine gun fire splattered against some of the structures. A few bullets punctured them. Two bullets landed in U. S. Consul General John Cabot's bedroom in the Glenline building.

But so far the only known foreign casualty was a British subject, R. P. Verenberg, wounded in a street near the American consulate. All Americans, as far as Cabot could learn, were safe.

Australia, which has a land area comparable to that of the United States, has a population of about 7,000,000 people.

Pat Garrett, 21, of Lubbock today was reported as "doing as well as can be expected" in Mayo clinic, Rochester, Minn., where Wednesday he underwent major surgery. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Porter Garrett of 2519 Twenty-third.

Theft of a purse from Mrs. Mary Minor of 1701 Ave. T was reported Thursday. It had been left in the glove compartment of a car.

C. L. Cartwright of 2018 Forty-third informed the sheriff's department that his boys, playing about a surface lake on Forty-third in southwest Lubbock, had found a pair of tan shoes, a life jacket and a billfold containing three $1 bills.

"Should the Israeli Court Review the Trial of Jesus of Nazareth?" will be the sermon subject of Rabbi Julius Kerman at the Sabbath Eve service of Congregation Shaareth Israel, Twenty-third and Ave. Q, at 8 o'clock Friday night. Choice of that sermon topic is a result of the request by a Dutch scholar to the Israel department of justice that the trial of Jesus be reviewed.

Dr. and Mrs. Alex Hartman have left New York City on the S. S. Washington to spend the summer in Europe, Mrs. Hartman informed her mother, Mrs. Ota H. Fox of 2707 Ruby. Dr. Hartman is head of the foreign languages department at the University of South Dakota, Vermillion. He will spend the summer doing research work in France, Germany and Switzerland.

There will be Scotch foursome golf play at 4 p. m. Friday at Lubbock Country club, Mrs. W. F. Eisenberg announced today.

Slaton Thief

swered a radio call and rushed to 2410 Ave. K, they found Neil Sikes, about 16, holding a gun on the suspect.

The black said he was "sure glad you asked that boy to lower that cannon."

Nine more burglaries — making a total of 21—were admitted to police detectives Wednesday by a 12-year-old boy.

Ten of the offenses were admitted several weeks ago, two of them Tuesday, Lee Rice, jr., and L. W. Forrester, detectives, said.

Capt. of Detectives Pat Davidson said the boy was "still under detention; he may think of some more places he's been in."

Homes Are Ransacked

Wednesday's admissions affected these places, Rice and Forrester said:

1. The Roy Furr residence at 3120 Twentieth. The place was ransacked but nothing was believed taken.

2. The W. A. Willbanks residence at 3022 Twentieth. It too was ransacked, and two purses of Mrs. Willbanks had been pilfered, but nothing was believed missing.

3. The L. C. Bacon residence at 2810 Twentieth. Only a toy gun was taken, the youth told police. It was used to break out a pane in a later burglary.

Doctor's Residence Entered

4. The T. R. Prideaux residence at 3123 Nineteenth. Approximately $15 and a box of 22 caliber shells were taken. The burglary was never reported to police, but it was discovered, it was related.

5. The 1519 Broadway residence of Dr. J. T. Hutchinson. A watch, a knife and a clock key, some of which had tremendous sentimental value, were taken. The watch was recovered from the boy's home, police said. Dr. Hutchinson had carried the watch and knife 40 years, police were told immediately after the burglary.

6. A residence at 1411 Arnett. Twenty-fice cents was taken.

7. A residence at 1503 Twenty-fifth. Nothing was believed taken, but the boy left a bike that he had stolen at a theater here.

8. A residence at 2110 Ave. O, where a woman's watch was taken. Forrester said it had been traced to another person who since has quit his job and whose whereabouts temporarily is unknown to police. They plan to search further for him today.

Four Burglaries Cleared

The last four admitted burglaries were cleared late Wednesday. The boy asked Forrester to visit him at county jail, explaining he had "remembered some more places."

Juvenile officials had talked with County Attorney Waggoner Carr Wednesday in connection with filing of charges. The youth earlier had been paroled to his parents to await trial, it was said.

A 27-year-old Lubbock man was fined $25.00 for indecent exposure, in corporation court. He was identified as J. P. Chastain of Myrtle Drive.

Man Posts Bonds

A local woman, who was in charge of a group of children on a picnic at the Party House in Mackenzie State park, told police the man had exposed himself indecently several times in the presence of several little girls in the party. Arresting officers said the man had removed his trousers before they arrived to make the arrest.

and I shot her."

After the shooting, Harris said the youth told him he put the victim's in his brother's car and took them to a hospital.

Young Brewster then fled in the car after leaving his brother and sister-in-law at the accident room. He was later captured by state police who chased him at an 85-mile-an-hour clip over mountain roads.

Thomas Brewster told police from his hospital bed that he could not explain the sudden shootings. The Brewsters have two sons, 9 months and two years old.

Aly Gives His Bride-To-Be A Diamond "Big As Belt Buckle"

CANNES, France, May 26 (UP)—Prince Aly Khan gave Rita Hayworth her wedding present today—a diamond ring "as big as a belt buckle."

Only a few minutes after Aly made the presentation to his bride-elect, experts came back with the news that the diamond is so big they could not even estimate its carats.

"It's so big," one of them said, "that it would tire even a weight lifter to wear it for more than an hour."

"It's so big," said another, "that she should watch she does not fracture her finger getting it on and off."

U. S. Oil Men Start Mexican Oil Search

MEXICO CITY, May 26 (AP)—Five ships are ready in Veracruz to start the first under-water drilling for oil in Mexico.

U. S. oil man Edwin W. Pauley, who together with the American Independent Oil company and Signal Oil company, has a contract for development of Mexican oil resources, said the ships will leave probably today.

They will operate off the coasts of southern Veracruz state, Campeche and Tabasco. The ships plan to sink test wells ashore in isolated regions as well as handle off-shore drilling.

Pauley said his group, organized as the Mexican Company CIMA (contratistas Independientes Mexico-Americanos) plans to spend $3,000,000 to $5,000,000 in preliminary test drilling this year. The budget for next year is $100,000,000, he said

Fullen, the national service officer, has announced that he will be glad to discuss possible claims with any eligible veterans or with widows or dependent parents of deceased veterans

Wheat Mosaic Not Reported In Texas

COLLEGE STATION, May 26—No cases of wheat mosaic have been reported in Texas this year, Dr. A. A. Dunlap, head of the Texas A. & M. College department of plant physiology and pathology, said today.

An outbreak of the deadly plant disease—the first there since 1920—has occurred in the western third of Kansas and damage there is said to be increasing at the rate of 10 to 20 percent a week.

Dr. Dunlap said Texas wheat farmers apparently had little to fear from wheat mosaic. Only isolated cases of the disease over a period of many years are listed in the records of the Texas Agricultural Experiment station.

In any case, according to the plant pathologist, the majority of the Texas wheat has already matured past the danger point of mosaic.

Attendance Off For Texas League Games

DALLAS, May 26. (AP) — The Texas league drew 505,449 in attendance the first quarter which ended May 20. This indicates that the 2,000,000 mark again will be reached for the season but it is off compared to the same period last year.

Secretary Milton Price announced that the 1949 attendance was 36,981 under last year's first quarter. Some, but not all, of this can be attributed to bad weather. There were 10 games postponed last year while 17 have been washed out this season.

Green Pledges Union To Taft's Overthrow

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., May 26 (AP) — AFL president William Green promises to muster "every ounce of strength" of labor to defeat "that outstanding reactionary, Sen. Taft" in 1950.

In his address yesterday at the International Handbag, Luggage, Belt and Novelty Workers convention, Green also singled out for defeat southern Democrats who "unite against labor"

Accounting Of AEC Promised

WASHINGTON, May 26 (AP)—Atomic Energy Commission Chairman David E. Lilienthal testified today that atomic energy development has "come up from a position of being bogged down to where it is really rolling."

Lilienthal spoke out as the joint congressional committee on atomic energy opened hearings into charges of "incredible mismanagement" in the AEC.

Removal Is Demanded

The charges, and a demand for Lilienthal's removal as chairman, came from Senator Hickenlooper (R-Iowa), committee member.

Hickenlooper said he was particularly concerned by (1) the handling of AEC scholarships—one of which, at least, went to a Communist—and (2) the facts surrounding the disappearance of a bottle of uranium-235 from an atomic laboratory.

Lilienthal said the commission is "happy that this committee provides an opportunity for the AEC to render a full and complete accounting of its important and serious stewardship."

Full Accounting Due

He said it will give the country an opportunity not only to appraise the "grave charges" that have been made as to the commission's "mistakes and inadequacies," but also the "accomplishments."

Lilienthal said he believes a "full accounting can be made" to the country without the revelation of any atomic secrets. But he said some testimony would have to be given behind closed doors.

Earth Tremor Felt By Resident Here

At least one Lubbock resident felt the shock of a slight earthquake recorded here at 7:37 p. m. Wednesday.

Dr. Leroy T. Patton, professor of geology at Texas Tech, said seismographs at the college did not furnish sufficient data to permit immediate determination of the center of the quake. He said, however, that the tremor quite possibly was that which rattled windows Wednesday in Vaughn, N. M.

Dr. Alan Gunn, og 911-B Ave. X, associate professor of English at Tech, contacted Dr. Patton to inquire whether there had been a tremor here late Wednesday. Dr. Gunn, formerly a resident of California, said he perceived the shock. His statement as to the time of the quake coincided with information recorded on the seismograph.

Members Finally Told It's All A Joke

'Hecklers' Show Kiwanians How Not To Treat Speakers

The Kiwanis club today was both shocked and embarrassed when a few members rudely heckled and criticised the toastmaster and two guest speakers.

When it was able to overcome its surprise it was amused at the interesting program put on by the Lubbock Toastmaster's Club, a camparatively new organization here.

Dr. O. W. English performed the duties of toastmaster and introduced the two peakers, Rev. Norman Gibson and County Attorney Waggoner Carr. Both men gave excellent short talks.

"Words Can Do A Lot"

Rev. Gibson spoke "a few words about words" in which he told of some interesting puns and applications of foreign words taken into our language. "Words", he said, "can do a lot for you, both good and bad. You need to choose your words carefully."

As Rev. Gibson concluded his speech A. S. Meinecke belligerently challenged the speaker's ability. Twice Dr. English tried to tell him he was out-of-order but Meinecke persisted to the consternation of the large audience which was not in on the joke.

Carr, in his talk, offered encouragement to men called on to speak. He said he was aware that early attempts usually found the tyro speaker fraught with fear and certain his speech is a flop.

"When Abe Lincoln was invited to make a speech at Gettysburg," Carr said, "it was only as an afterthought and a courtesy to the President.

Lincoln Lost Sleep

Everyone expected Loncoln to come off poorly against the orators of that day. Lincoln himself lost sleep over what he thought was a poor speech. The world has since been the judge of that brief address."

Larry Copenhaver said Carr did better than he expected, but still thought he should be able to make a more interesting talk. Then A. B. Watkins demanded the floor and criticised everything from the speakers on down to Kiwanis President Fred Sparks.

To temper the surprise, Dr. English explained that the Kiwanis had been treated to an example of how regular meetings of the Toastmasters' Club are conducted.

"Because things have been done a certain and same way for 15 years usually means that they are —wrong," English said.

Visitors at the luncheon today included J. Ben Cole, G. C. Spence, Raymond McNary, jr., George Mills, D. R. Neighbors, Lou Walker, Dr. M. D. Watkins, Dr. M. H. Benson, a Dr. Clover and Frank Raymond, a Kiwanian from East Orange, New Jersey.

Missing Child

Mrs. Harry Assin, shortly after dinner last evening. She shed her outer garments and went for a walk.

Her parents, Harry and Jean Assin, searched for an hour. But they were unable to make her hear by calling.

The entire 10-man police force joined the hunt shortly after 8 p. m Then Mayor Barnard Dreitoo organized a search by 100 residents.

After searching the area around the girl's home without success the group turned its attention to the large wooded area at the Cranford-Roselle Park line about a mile and a half from her home.

Authorities held hope that the 40 pound youngster was still alive, for the temperatures during the night fell no lower than 40 degrees.

The child's dress was found by her parents, where she evidently had taken it off near the house before wandering away She was dressed only in a striped polo shirt and a pair of panties.

Big Four Meet

West Caught Off Base

It is one of the most important issues before the foreign ministers in this effort to get together on a plan for German economic and political unity.

The conferees still have a long way to go.

Acheson, presiding at today's session, and his British and French colleagues have been taken completely aback by the line followed by Russia's Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Visinsky in the first three days of the conference.

Their aides state frankly the western powers' policy makers did not foresee the Russian "retreat to Potsdam" as a condition for settlement of the German problem.

Council Revival Demanded

Vishinsky has demanded revival of the four-power Allied control council, and has assailed suggestions to extend the West German republic's constitution to the Soviet zone as a western attempt to take all of Germany. The westerners have labeled his stand a "retreat" to the Potsdam agreement.

The informants said the western powers had based their calculations on the expectation Vishinsky would adhere closely to the five-point program emboided in the Warsaw declaration last June by eight eastern European nations.

That declaration in effect called for conclusion of an early German peace treaty under a central German government, to be followed a year later by complete withdrawal of occupation forces.

The West had expected Russia to play up that demand because of its appeal to the German people.

Nation's Wheat Harvest Lags As Moisture Halts Combines

(By The Associated Press)

The nation's 1949 wheat harvest continued to lag today as moisture kept combines out of North Texas fields.

Farmers in that area—jittery over possible damage each hour a near bumper crop had to wait—worried with the rest of the winter wheat belt about another problem: lack of storage.

Railroads said they had plenty of cars to move the harvest; men and machines appeared enough, also.

Housing Problem

But the near record crop estimated at 1,012,476,000 bushels had a housing problem.

An embargo by the American Association of Railroads yesterday brought the problem home. Effective June 1, it stops movement of grain consigned to storage. Grain going to market for sale isn't affected.

The association said storage bins were half full from grain held over from last year.

"Underestimate," so far as Texas is concerned, a Fort Worth elevator man commented. He said two thirds full would be a closer figure.

Other Fort Worth grain men said much government grain had moved from small elevators, but the load hadn't been lightened at the terminals.

To Halt Congestion

The association said the embargo is aimed at preventing congestion of box cars at storage points.

No permits are required. But shippers must certify that arrangements for storage have been made.

The embargo covers Texas (except the ports of Galveston, Houston, and Port Arthur); Kansas, Nebraska, Colorado, Missouri, Oklahoma, Council Bluffs, Iowa, and East St. Louis, Ill.

Meanwhile, the U. S. Senate debated a bill to provide additional storage space for grain and other crops held under government loan. It is a compromise, worked out in conference, and already approved by the House.

Under it the Department of Agriculture Commodity Credit corporation is given broad authority to provide storage bins, elevators, warehouses, and refrigerated storage for farm products.

Some grains already have been combined in North Texas and southern Oklahoma.

First Load Moves

The year's first load moved May 20 when Johnny Dunagan, 43, of Olney, Texas., took wheat from his Throckmorton county farm to an Iowa Park elevator at 1:55 p. m.

Wet weather has hampered combining since.

Wheat Coordinator Wayne C. Grant of Amarillo said the harvest had been scheduled to get well under way this week in the Wichita Falls-Seymour area. He gave this picture:

"Wichita county fields soaking wet. Wilbarger, Baylor, Young, Foard and other counties reported rains Monday and Tuesday nights. If there are no more rains, fields will be dry enough Friday for combines to enter them."

Amarillo elevator men said the embargo would help. But some of them were disappointed it did not cover all points. They saw a definite improvement in local shipping conditions because of a better and continuous flow of box cars.

Brokers Are Hesitant

At Abilene, Texas, some grain brokers said they already were hesitant about buying wheat not already sold. They thought the embargo might result in much wheat being left on farmers' hands for the time being.

The picture appeared better at Lubbock. S. E. Cone, seed company spokesman, said sooner or later "it will be an automatic embargo," since storage space in most sections is already at a premium. But the Lubbock spokesman for another firm said he believed things would be worked out "okay" in the South Plains.

He said that in recent weeks from 100 to 150 cars of commodity grain had been moving from the area daily. Lubbock is to have a new 2,000,000 bushel elevator ready soon.

G. E. Blewitt of Fort Worth, secretary of the Texas Grain and Feed Dealers association, said Fort Worth elevators held 9,138,000 bushels of wheat and grain sorghums last week. In mid-May last year the total was 3,032,000.

States Wage Battle Over Burial Site

FORT WASHAKIE, Wyo., May 26 (AP)—A dead whale seen on the Pacific coast by the Lewis and Clark expedition 145 years ago is claiming attention in Wyoming these days.

Sacajawea, the Indian woman who was with the expedition, was impressed by the whale, historians agree. Wyoming people believe she was buried here in 1884. They want Congress to build a big memorial for her.

But other historians say she died in South Dakota in 1812. Wyoming people say that the woman buried here in 1884 often spoke of the whale and other incidents of the Lewis and Clark expedition. They are using these reports to back their claim for a memorial.

Sacajawea was the wife of Charbonneau, a guide for Lewis and Clark. But Wyoming people say Charbonneau had several Indian wives. The woman who died in South Dakota in 1812 was another of these wives, they say. Sacajawea was the one who went along on the expedition and she died and was buried in Wyoming in 1884 when she was 100 years old, they insist.

Council Figures 215 To Die Over Holiday

CHICAGO, May 26 (AP)—The National Safety Council estimated today that 215 persons will die in traffic mishaps over the nation during the three-day Memorial holiday.

The council's estimate applies only to immediate traffic fatalities and does not include persons who may die later from injuries. Nor does it include deaths occurring from accidents other than traffic.

If good weather prevails, the council said it expected more than 30,000,000 vehicles to be on the move over the weekend.

The estimated toll of dead from traffic, the council said, could be halved if motorists met the holiday hazards with extra caution and courtesy.

Man Knows He Can't Surprise Wife With $38,000 Necklace While Reporters Around

WASHINGTON, May 26 (AP)—A Washington real estate operator knows now that you can't surprise your wife with a $38,000 necklace. It gets in the papers.

Morris Cafritz wanted to surprise Mrs. Cafritz with such a gift on their 20th wedding anniversary.

But the secret leaked out when he outspent 500 jewelry dealers at an auction of the jewelry of the late Mrs. George Drexel of Philadelphia. East coast papers carried the story. One reporter even called Mrs. Cafritz.

In addition to the necklace he bought about $40,000 worth of other jewelry as an investment and for friends.

He said he still plans to give the necklace, consisting of 46 diamonds weighing 50 carats set in platinum, to his wife on their anniversary.

Make This Home Recipe To Take Off Ugly Fat

It's simple. It's amazing, how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Barcentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take two tablespoonfuls twice a day. That's all there is to it.

If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back.

Follow the easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloat disappears — how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active.

10 pounds lost in 10 days

Mrs. M. C. Britton, 306 W. Wildwood, San Antonio, Texas, writes us as follows: "I am a faithful user of Barcentrate. I had dieted for weeks without your product and needed so badly to lose 10 pounds, so I started using Barcentrate and my worry was over for I lost the 10 pounds in 10 days. I now weigh 135 pounds.

O'Dwyer Says No Re-Election

NEW YORK, May 26. (AP)—A free-for-all scramble for the job of running the world's biggest city was touched off today by Mayor William O'Dwyer's announcement that he will not seek reelection.

O'Dwyer had been expected to seek a second term next November and his surprise withdrawal threw the race for the Democratic nomination wide open.

Republicans and fusion forces as well as Democrats had potential candidates galore.

The Democratic mayor told surprised newsmen late yesterday: "I will not be a candidate for reelection as mayor in the coming election."

No More Details

He refused to elaborate on the statement, or to give any clue to his plans for the future, except to say he would serve out his term which ends next Dec. 31. He laughed off suggestions he might be drafted for another term.

The 58-year-old mayor was treated for a heart condition in the early part of last year, but his health in recent months apparently has been good.

There was speculation that he might seek the nomination for U. S. Senator to replace the aged and ailing Democratic Senator Robert F. Wagner, who may resign soon. Some thought he might seek the nomination for governor next year.

Also, he was reported to have offers of well-paying positions in private business when his term in the $25,000-a-year mayor post ends.

O'Dwyer has had an increasing burden of political woes lately.

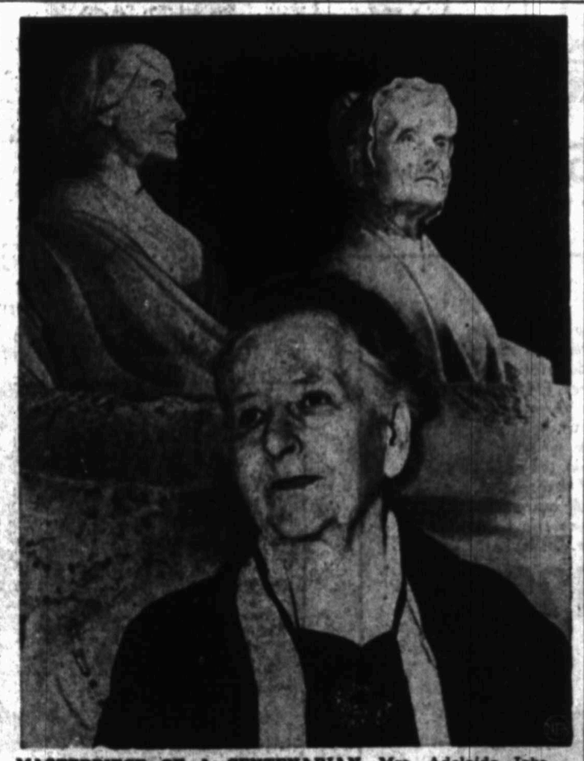

Fueding With Tammany Hall

He has been carrying on a bitter feud with the leadership of Tammany Hall, the Manhattan Democratic organization that supported him for mayor four years ago along with other party county organizations.

Ex-Judge Samuel Seabury, the famed investigator, recently started to rally the old fusion forces to oppose O'Dwyer and Tammany Hall. Seabury managed the three fusion campaigns that elected the late Mayor Fiorello H. La Guardia.

And Clendenin J. Ryan, multi-millionaire crusader, has been staging a campaign against the mayor and publishing a weekly newspaper attacking his administration.

All in all, the Irish-born mayor's last few months have been about the most hectic he has experienced since he landed here four decades ago.

Mrs. Johnson spent most of her life and all of her resources in the cause of woman's suffrage. She worked closely with the suffragettes portrayed in her statue, Lucretia B. Mott (not shown) Elizabeth Cady Stanton, left, and Susan B. Anthony. The work, largest in the Capitol, took 20 years to complete and another 20 years to have it placed in the Capitol.

She said the hen, a leghorn, has been producing eggs flat on top and bottom regularly for several weeks, mixing them now and then with the conventional round eggs.

'House Of Great Suffering' Is True Chinese 'Nightmare Alley'

SINGAPORE, May 26 (AP) — The door never shuts on a "dying house" in Singapore's Sago Lane.

Once inside a "House of Great Suffering," as the Chinese call the nightmare institution, eight of every ten arrivals go out in a coffin. A joint hospital-mortuary, this product of an ancient superstition and unspeakable housing conditions in Singapore's Chinatown is a home of misery and human despair.

Centuries ago, Chinese legend grew that death in a house lured bad luck to it for all time. Today the chief tenants (sub-letters) of the crowded wooden buildings that hundreds of thousands call homes drive out all who seem at death's door.

There is nothing to stop them from going to a government hospital to die, but the Chinese inherently distrust western institutions with their rules and regulations. There is always Sago Lane, a half dozen or so houses whose doors are ever opend and whose rules are very few.

And when a man dies, the same stocky fellow who sat so stolidly at the door waiting to help the ailing one up the ugly steps will appear at his side. Then, this silent fellow will lift the body over his shoulders and carry it downstairs to the waiting morgue. He has done the same for years.

Almost a half century ago, the first dying house was started as the result of lack of decent housing. In 1949, they are even more a tragic necessity. The housing shortage has become more acute.

The British government of this crown colony has sought somehow to lessen the horror of these houses. It has set up a licensing system, ordering daily visits by physicians, a nurse for every four inmates, cleaner premises and the name of "Sick Receiving Houses."

The dying pay $4.75 for a moment or a month stay. There isn't much profit from the sick room. However, the operator sells the coffins, the wreaths, the flowers, joss sticks and paper, the candles and the hundreds of other things required for a Chinese funeral. He gets his share of the pay to the corpse-dressers, brass bands, gong and cymbal orchestras, as well as the devil-dispelling lion dances.

Spain's dollar shortage is acute.

Crash Puts Crick In Neck, Actress Sues

LOS ANGELES, May 26. (AP)—Barbara Bliss, film player, seeks $50,000 damages from Fred Perry, former world's tennis champion, and his wife, claiming her neck was "whip-snapped" in an auto crash.

Miss Bliss, through her attorney, Ben C. Cohen, told the court yesterday that since the accident she has been unable to turn her head before a movie camera or an audience "without looking silly and ridiculous."

Her complaint said that last Nov. 8 an auto driven by Mrs. Perry crashed into the rear of her car and "whip-snapped" her neck.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry are reported to be in London.

RESCUES "DROWNING" PERSONS—The two girls shown clinging to one another in the water above were pretending to be drowning when the photograph was made at the Red Cross water safety instructors course Wednesday afternoon. Harriet Molts, at left, and Dotsy Phillips, center, were the girls clinging to one another and Pat Flanigan was coming to the rescue to separate them and take the weakest to the bank first, then go back for the other. That was pointed out as the approved procedure by Robert H. Lucey, special field representative in water safety and accident prevention, Midwestern area office of the Red Cross, St. Louis. Those who completed the course successfully will be qualified as water safety instructors.

Uncle Sam Sets Policy For Red Satellites

New Attitude On China Due

WASHINGTON, May 26. (AP)—The United States was reported determined today to maintain practical working relations with Communist governments over the world. This is despite its strong disapproval of Communist ideas and methods.

This basic policy is now being worked out in the development of a new American attitude toward China as that country comes progressively under Communist control. It is dramatically illustrated also by the appointment of a new American minister to Communist Hungary.

Is Highly Useful

In both instances the movement of American policy is based on the idea that the presence of a diplomatic mission in an important foreign nation is highly useful to the United States. It is argued that such representation implies neither approval nor disapproval of the kind of political system in power there.

At present the only notable exception to this policy is non-Communist Spain where, in the State department's view, the presence or absence of an American ambassador has become a symbol of approval or disapproval of the Franco regime. Even so the United States maintains an embassy at Madrid in charge of a ranking diplomat, though not an ambassador. This amounts to observance of a continuing United Nations bar against ambassadors there while doing the next best thing.

The Hungarian situation arose as a result of charges made against American Minister Selden Chapin early this year during the Communist government's trial of Catholic Cardinal Mindszenty. Chapin was accused of working against that government and violating Hungarian laws.

Recall Was Demanded

In February Hungary demanded his recall. He was promptly brought home "for consultation" and the United States formally reserved all its rights in connection with the issue of whether Hungary, as a former enemy state operating under a peace treaty, actually had any right to force him out.

The United States might have sought to force Hungary's acceptance of Chapin. However, that would not have offered a practical solution to the problem of maintaining a strong, observant legation staff in the Russian satellite country, because whatever its legal rights may be the American government had to face the fact that Chapin's usefulness in Hungary was ended.

President Truman therefore announced yesterday the appoint-

TOP GRADES ARE MAINTAINED

High School Honor Graduates Excell In Numerous Activities

Records compiled by Lubbock Senior High school's honor graduates show that they participated in and also excelled in diversified extra-curricular activities while stacking up an imposing number of A's.

Coleen Baldwin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Baldwin of 2014 Thirty-sixth street, will be proclaimed highest honor student of the Class of 1949 tonight because of her six point average, made because of 18 grades of A. However, her high school career shows other accomplishments worthy of note.

Takes State Honors

As one of the most outstanding mathematics students in the high school this year, Coleen tied for first place in the Texas Interscholastic league state meet in number sense. Her record was 100 problems worked in ten minutes, with only two missed. In the same meet she represented Lubbock in the shorthand contest after winning second place in both the district and regional contests.

In school organizations Coleen was named by fellow students as a leader, being president of the Gens Togata, Latin club, president of her guidance group, program chairman of Y-Teens, and vice president of the Natonal Thespians, dramatic group. In addition Coleen worked for the past two years as secretary to E. J. Lowrey, athletic manager, and also worked part time in the office of the First Methodist church. She hopes to secure full time work this summer. Coleen has one sister, Lanell, a student in the Lubbock schools.

Outstanding Boy Named

It is the custom in Lubbock Senior High school when highest honors go to a girl to then choose the boy with the highest honors. If high honors go to a boy, a girl is chosen, Principal Floyd Honey explained.

Van Scott, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl C. Scott, 2119 Eighteenth, with a 5.93 point average and 13 A's and two B's, is receiving highest honors of the boys in the graduating class tonight. Van's high school career has also been filled with extra-curricular activities. This year Van was the drum major who led the Westerner band. He was one of two students recognized at the special recognition assembly for his band work, and he took part in the regional band contest at Canyon this year with his trombone solo.

Van's club activities include: vice president of the Chemistry club, social chairman of his guidance group, and a member of the Art club, Golf club, and the National Honor society. He was one of the outstanding seniors pictured in the Who's Who section of the 1949 Westerner, school year book. He also took part in the State Music clinic held at Galveston last fall. Van has one sister, Mrs. Carl W. Stewart of Gainesville. He is planning to attend Texas Technological college this summer.

Twenty other graduates are to be named tonight on the honor

Odessa Asks Approval For Rent Decontrols

ODESSA, May 26. (AP)—A rent decontrol resolution was on its way to Gov. Beauford Jester from this city today.

Credit Easy To Get, Helped By A Pistol

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 26 (AP) — The elderly man walked into the restaurant, said he wanted a meal on credit—and placed a partly-wrapped pistol on the counter.

"I was frightened and I fixed him some hot cakes and eggs," said the waitress, Mrs. Evelyn Jean Dauber.

Then he ordered a slice of pie. But there wasn't any.

So he took his pistol, patted her on the head, and said as he left:

"I'll pay you sometime—if it takes 50 years."

Mother Burns Boy's Hand, Is Sentenced

NEW YORK, May 26. (INS)—Mrs. Geraldine Vetter, 38, was denounced today, as "inhuman" and sentenced to serve up to three years in the penitentiary for burning the hand of her nine-year-old son to discipline him.

Mrs. Vetter sobbed continuously as her attorney, Benjamin Schmier, pleaded for leniency, but Judge Bohan said:

"This sentence will serve as a warning to other mothers who, if ever brought into court for any inhuman act, will be treated harshly."

Mrs. Vetter, mother of three boys, was convicted by a jury of holding Philip's right hand over a stove last Thanksgiving because she suspected him of taking money and cigarets from her purse.

Part of the boy's little finger had to be amputated and he has been unable to open his right hand.

Templars Plan Service Here

An Ascension service will be presented at 3 p.m. Sunday by Lubbock Commandery 60, Knights Templar.

The public is invited to attend the service, which will be in the newly completed Masonic temple, at Main and Ave. K, it was announced by Syrian E. Marbut, commander.

Rev. Claude E. Canterbury, rector of St. Paul's-on-the-Plains Episcopal church, will speak on "Significance of Ascension."

The St. Paul's choir, under direction of Elton Plowman, will sing. Mrs. Plowman, St. Paul's organist, will play piano accompaniments.

Other program features:

Processional, "See the Conqueror Mount in Triumph," by the choir; invocation by Sir Knight Temple Houston Morrow, acting prelate; hymn, "Crown Him With Many Crowns," by the choir; prayer, by the rector; hymn, "Onward Christian Soldiers," by the choir; benediction, by Sir Knight Morrow; recessional, "Rejoice the Lord Is King," by the choir.

Ascension is one of three annual services required by the Grand Commandery, Marbut said. The others are Christmas and Easter observances.

"It is particularly fitting that those holidays should be observed, the Commandery being a religious organization," Marbut said.

British Queen Mother In Good Health At 82

The Queen Mother will have a quiet luncheon with her son, King George VI and Queen Elizabeth in Buckingham Palace, after a short ride from Marlborough House, her home.

She will spend the rest of the day answering greetings cabled from all parts of the world, reading and doing a bit of needlework.

THE QUESTION

Are you glad or sorry that fraternities and sororities have not been introduced on Texas Tech campus?

THE ANSWERS

PAT JACKSON, Drane Hall, junior student from Lometa: "I have never taken much interest in them myself. I never did care for them. I always looked at them as a social outlet for those who needed it."

HOWARD HAYES, Doak hall, junior from Plainview: "I think they have advantages and disadvantages, both. I believe the type of social clubs that we have here now are worth a lot more in some ways than the national organizations. Some of the policies of the national organizations I don't care for."

JACK WILLIAMSON, 2406 Main, junior from Denison: "I'm glad they haven't. There's a better fellowship among the students than we would have if they were. I believe the social clubs here can accomplish the same result socially for students who are interested in social organizations."

DOYCE NEWTON, 2406 Main, sophomore from Anton: "I think that Tech should have them because it would benefit Tech several ways. It would give Texas Tech more prestige, compared to other colleges. The other colleges do have them and Tech doesn't. It would benefit students after they are graduated from college, in business life and in social life."

MRS. BETTY ROACH, Drane hall, senor from Plainview: "I'm really glad that we don't have sororities and fraternities on the campus, because the campus is much more democratic. We don't have the snobbishness and feeling of being superior to other people that they do have on some of the campuses where they do have them. Tech has a democratic campus and everyone is on the same level and we have social clubs that are sufficient for those who want social life."

MISS DORIS SCHAUER, Dormitory No. 3, senior from Midland: "I'm sorry that we don't have them here. I belong to a sorority on another campus (Louisiana State university) and I think that sororities and fraternities can contribute so much to a student's personality. A fraternity and a sorority go to a lot more trouble than social clubs to give a student a well-rounded personality. They have more backing and they give students more opportunities and they can help students more after they are out of college."

Where, How To Get Food Seen As New Worry For China Reds

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

The Communist capture of Shanghai is a further demonstration of the power behind the Red offensive. But it is a victory which may prove a mixed blessing.

How are the conquerors going to feed the population in this fourth largest city of the world?

It takes a lot of doing under best circumstances to provide for some 6,000,000 souls. And the circumstances surrounding this vast metropolis now are far from "best."

Before the present crisis Shanghai was fed under an arrangement with the American Economic Cooperation Administration. ECA provided half the food.

Supplies To Halt?

ECA has worked under a policy precluding assistance to Communist-held areas. Therefore, unless there is some change in this policy, these supplies must now halt.

The ECA has figured on maintaining a 30 day supply of food and fuel oil in Shanghai. Nothing has gone into the city during the past week, owning to the Red siege, and so there may be about a three-week supply on hand.

After that—what? Even if the ECA continued to function, the task of securing sufficient food would be terrific, especially in view of crippled communications. Should Shanghai get really hungry, the situation would be appalling.

Presumably the Communists will have to purchase supplies in foreign countries from private sources—and move mighty fast in doing it.

May Buy Privately

There is nothing to prevent the Reds buying from private sources in the United States, provided those sources want the business.

In connection, the United States is urging all nations with direct interests in the Far East to agree on a common policy toward the Chinese Communist regime, and not to grant official recognition hastily.

Britain has greater business interests in that theatre than the United States. For this reason there has been considerable concern in American circles lest London might be more anxious to establish working relations with the Communists.

There are indications that Britain wishes to reach a modus vivendi for areas which the Chinese Communists now control.

Secretary of State Acheson is quoted as stating to a congressional committee that the United States wouldn't recognize any Chinese Communist regime so long as a Nationalist government continued to exist.

Foreign Policy

ment of Nathaniel P. Davis, a veteran career diplomat, to be minister to Hungary. At the same time he made public a highly laudatory letter to Chapin, expressing his confidence in the retiring minister, and in effect denouncing the charges which the Hungarian government had made against him.

China Is Puzzle

In the case of China, the United States is still a long way from formally declaring its intention of recognizing a Communist government there. In fact, the Communists still do not have a national regime but rather a network of regional administrations controlled through central party machinery.

It is expected here that the Communists soon will form a regime which they will put forward as a new government for China. The question of recognition will then arise in a practical form. What the United States is doing in the meantime is to hold consultations with a dozen other non-Communist countries, Britain and France among them, so that when this question comes up they will all act along the same lines.

Eventually, diplomats here are convinced, the Chinese Communists will have such a high degree of control that, as a practical matter, the United States and other western countries will have to recognize the fact and do business with them on that basis. The major requirement of the American government at that time would be that the Chinese Communist leaders accept China's international obligations.

There is no present prospect that any kind of American aid program ever will be extended to a Communist China. There is speculation, however, that insofar as they are able to pay for what they want, the Chinese under Communism may still obtain certain supplies from this country in private transactions.

Almost Non-Existent Trade Revived On Wild Chance

Tornado-Shy Lubbock Residents Are Putting Faith In Storm Cellars, Survey Shows

Many storm-shy Lubbock residents are "digging in" against that "million to one" possibility that they could be in the path of some unusually violent weather.

And they are paying $300 to $500 for a haven of retreat from the possibility of a twister.

That numerous Lubbockites were helping revive what in the past has been practically a non-existent trade in this area was confirmed Wednesday in a survey of firms and contractors dealing in the construction of storm cellars. Most of the latter reported they were "swamped" with calls inquiring about cellar construction.

Seven Built Recently

At least eleven cellars have been started or completed since the recent storms and plans made for several more, the survey indicated.

Seven storm cellars have been completed by Charles Hardegree of 1312-B Twenty-fifth street, since the recent storms. He said, that in a normal year he built only about three storm cellars. All seven of those above were in town, he explained, saying that he seldom gets a farm construction job, presumably because most farmers are familiar with construction and do the work themselves.

The cost of a cellar, contractors indicate, depends on such things as the type of ground to be excavated, the thickness of concrete and the size of the cellar.

Builders Not Kidding

The small "economy size," about seven feet by nine feet, providing simple but sturdy protection, costs from $300 to $425, depending on location and installations.

The $500 job, nine feet by 12 feet, contains such refinements as double steel doors, extra-thick reinforced concrete, and an emergency escape hatch, in case debris blocks the main entrance.

A lot of people, even those who have lived here a long time, may scoff at the building of cellars, but to those who have ordered them, it's no joking matter. They are dead serious—and they expect company when a storm cloud approaches henceforth.

Always Had Cellar

"I wanted a storm cellar," said Mrs. D. B. Cox, residence near Idalou highway, "because I'd rather be below ground during a storm than above it."

Mrs. Cox, who moved here from Big Spring about three years ago, said she had always had a storm cellar before moving here, and the recent storms caused her to have one built at her home here.

"I came from a stormy country where storm cellars are a necessity", explained J. L. Hooper of 2301 Twenty-seventh. "And the recent tornadoes make me feel right at home," he added, saying that he had been considering construction of a storm cellar for several years. Mr. Hooper, operator of Hooper Tire store, came here in 1938.

"With storms striking all around, Lubbock may be next," said Mrs. Susie Poarch of 1906 Sixth. She explained that she decided to build a storm cellar after seeing what tornadoes did to new houses in other places. "I felt secure for years in my old home in Lubbock because the construction was heavy, but now that I have a new home, not heavily built, I decided to build a storm cellar for myself and neighbors."

Mrs. Poarch expects to have plenty of company during storms since she has been receiving calls, inquiring if the cellar is completed, every time a cloud comes up. She is happy to announce that it is virtually complete now.

"Many people are lowering the costs by doing such things as making their own excavations," J. C. Crawford of Lubbock Interlocking Tile company, said, "and calling in a contractor only for the work they are unable to do themselves."

One citizen told contractor G. F. Hill, of 710 Twenty-sixth, that a mere storm-proof cellar was not good enough. He wanted, and got, a bomb-proof cellar, safe from anything except a direct hit with a large caliber bomb.

U. S. Policy On Communism In Subsidized Study Is Problem

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, May 26—When a man is being educated with government money, how far should the government go in trying to find out whether he's a Communist?

That's one of the important questions emerging from the present rumpus over the way the Atomic Energy commission does things. Congress is investigating the AEC now. It all started this way:

Because this country badly needs the best scientific brains it can develop in the field of atomic energy, Congress has voted the AEC millions of dollars to encourage and help educate outstanding young men.

The work they're picked to do is of two kinds: secret work for the government in the field of the atom; or non-secret work, using some product of the atom, such as in cancer research.

Council Does Picking

The AEC itself doesn't do the picking. It leaves that to the National Research council, made up of distinguished older scientists who can judge the talent of the younger men.

The council has been primarily interested in a young man's brains, not his political beliefs, and it combs the colleges for the best scientific minds it can find.

A young man chosen for secret work doesn't get the job unless the FBI checks and is sure he's not a Communist. If he's chosen for non-secret work, there's no FBI check.

This month the Senate discovered that a young scientist chosen for an AEC fellowship in non-secret work was a Communist. That started the storm.

Oath To Be Required

Senators questioned David E. Lilienthal, chairman of the AEC, about this case. He said he does not think the government should spend money educating a Communist.

But he indicated opposition to the idea of an FBI investigation of young scientists chosen for non-secret work. (Everybody is agreed for the need of an FBI check on people doing secret work.)

But if Lilienthal is opposed to letting a Communist get government money for an education, how can such a Communist be stopped without an FBI investigation?

Lilienthal and representatives of the research council say now that in the future any fellow doing even non-secret work will first be asked to take an oath of allegiance to this country and swear he is not a Communist.

Several senators — particularly Republican Senator Hickenlooper of Iowa, who thinks Lilienthal ought to be fired—said a loyalty oath isn't enough, that an FBI check is necessary.

Drawing Line Problem

But why should the top scientists—and Lilienthal, who says he accepts their judgment in the matter—be against an FBI investigation of young scientists not doing secret work? They argue:

Some of those badly needed young scientists in the atomic field would be discouraged from entering it at all if they thought they had to go through an FBI examination of their lives.

And if an FBI probe starts in this field, simply because government money is being used although no secret work is involved, it's the first step toward opening the door to the FBI in other fields of education.

Dr. Alfred N. Richards, president of the National Academy of Sciences, said this would introduce into our system of education "a type of governmental interference which is not too far away from what the Nazis had and what the Russians have now."

But Senator Vandenberg, Michigan Republican, raised a point which throws the whole question into even sharper focus. He said: "It is unthinkable to me that Communists should be educated at public expense."

But how far can that idea be carried? What of the veterans receiving their education in colleges now at government expense under the GI bill of rights?

Should every one of them be investigated by the FBI to see whether he's a Communist? Just where is the line drawn?

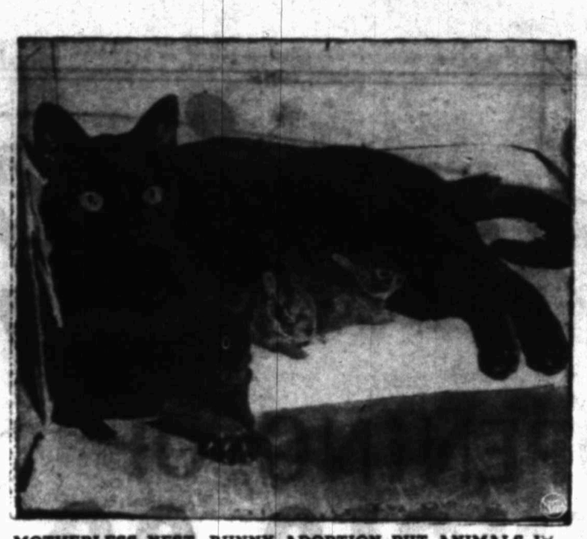

Building Program Pushed In Warsaw

WARSAW, Poland, May 26 (AP)—Poland's capital, rising rapidly anew from wartime ruins, is pushing a big new building program this year calling for expenditures of $62,500,000.

Warsaw's population now is over 610,000. The pre-war top was 1,289,000. Despite the acute housing shortage, Poles from all over the land who lived here before the war are continuing to flock back to this city. It is not uncommon to find four or five persons living in a single room.

In Warsaw today, everyone who is physically able to work seems to be working. Poles have a great pride in building their new Warsaw after the Nazis virtually levelled the city and said no Poles would ever live here again—that Warsaw was finished forever.

Polish engineers have estimated that it will be 1965 before the capital is completely rebuilt.

Priest's Preserved Arm Taken To Japan For Catholic Ritual

By HOWARD HANDLEMAN
INS Staff Correspondent

TOKYO, May 26—The preserved right arm of St. Francis Xavier arrived today for display on a 17-day pilgrimage through the spots where the great Spanish Jesuit toiled as the first missionary to Japan 400 years ago.

Catholics from the United States, Spain, Australia, Ceylon, the Philippines and Hong Kong are scheduled to start the pilgrimage tomorrow (Friday).

Symbol Of Peace

Twenty-five Spanish pilgrims accompanied the holy relic by plane from Rome.

Father Jose Sobrino, professor at Catholic university in Washington, said the relic symbolized "Spain extending the arm of peace toward Japan." He said "Spain is anxious to protect the ideals of the Christian world and lead the fight against Communism."

It was placed in a golden case for the flight from Rome to Tokyo, the first time the relic has been moved from its shrine since 1922 when it was sent to a festival held in Spain in St. Francis' memory.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur gave the pilgrimage his blessing today, saying it marked "a great ecclesiastical milestone in the spiritual evolution of mankind." The general added:

"It is momentous as signalizing not only the local introduction of Christianity but the beginning of a comprehensive missionary movement which has its ultimate goal the universal adoption of basic concepts underlying religion."

MacArthur praised the missionary service and predicted Christianity will "grow and thrive" in the Far East.

The pilgrimage will be headed by Norman Cardinal Gilroy of Sydney, Australia, as the representative of Pope Pius XII.

Tech Students Slated To Begin Tests Today

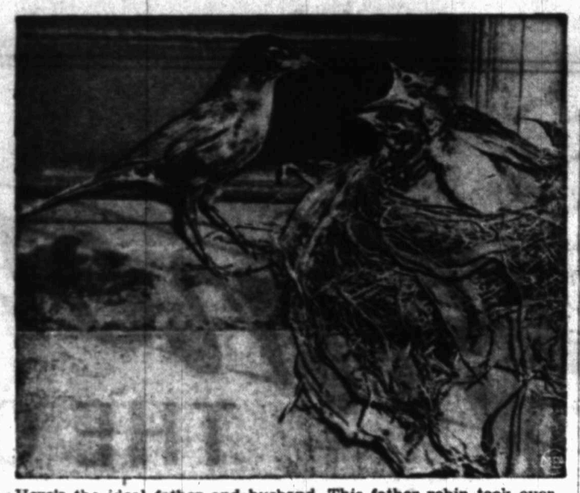

Undergraduates at Texas Technological college today began taking final examinations. Graduating seniors, who were allowed to taxe exams a week early, finished all work Wednesday.

Dr. E. N. Jones, vice president at the college, said seniors had been granted the privilege of taking tests early in order that they might have mor- time to prepare for the graduating exercises.

Approximately 1,233 students who finished in August of 1948 and in February and June of this year will be graduated in Jones Stadium at the college Monday night. This will be the largest class which has ever graduated from Tech.

The baccalaureate sermon will be held at 8 p.m Sunday in Jones Stadium with Dr. John Banister, pastor of the Sears and Summitt Church of Christ in Dallas, making the address.

Bates Thornton, ex-Tech student who is now vice-president of the Howard Hughes Aircraft corporation in Los Angeles, will make the commencement address Monday night.

ALY DISLIKES POSTING NOTICES

Rita's Marriage To Prince Is Not Delayed By Red Tape

CANNES, France, May 26 (AP)—The wedding of movie star Rita Hayworth and Prince Aly Khan will go off on schedule tomorrow—thanks to Communist Mayor Paul Derigon's disregard for official red tape.

A delay in the ceremony was feared because the prince didn't want to go through with formalities normally required for French marriages. He frowned on having a notice of intention to marry posted for 10 days on the city hall door of the village of Vallauris. He also didn't want to publish a notice of intention abroad.

Formalities Waived

Mayor Derigon of Vallauris, with French gallantry in such matters, decided he could do without official word that those formalities had been waived. In fact, they have been waived, but official word has not filtered down through government channels.

The decision of the ministry of justice in Paris reached Mayor Derigon and the prince quickly, via newspaper reporters. But last night nothing official had been heard. Government offices are closed today for Ascension day.

This meant that official notice couldn't possibly arrive until an hour or two before 5:30 a. m. (EST) tomorrow—the scheduled time for the wedding.

The mayor could have been stuffy and refused to hold the marriage without official word. But he's going all out to cooperate. He's even ordered a hurry-up whitewash job of the marriage chamber in the city hall. And he's making a quick canvass of the community to find dealers willing to lend some furnishings to brighten up the room.

The mayor explained that publication of the banns is intended to inform anyone who might wish to object to the marriage. But with 100 reporters, photographers, radio and television men on the scene, the mayor knows that most people have heard about the marriage.

It's all been a headache to the mayor and his little staff. His office has been besieged by reporters and photographers seeking seats or standing room at the wedding.

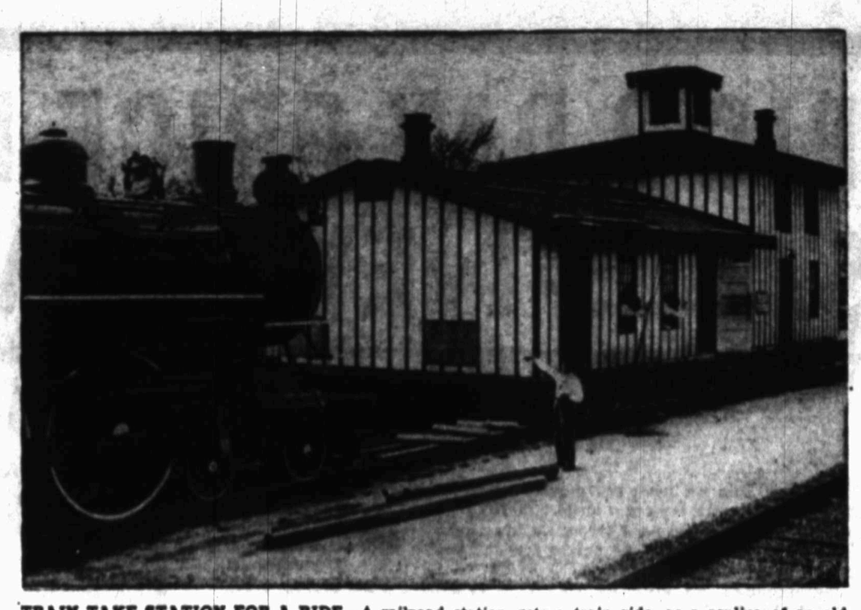

Request Refused

This was what the prince had hoped to avoid by holding the wedding at his sumptious seaside chateau De L'Horizon. There, he was going to allow no reporters and only one official photographer. He also wanted to avoid crowds. But the ministry of justice said "no" to the prince's request that the wedding be held in his home instead of the city hall.

The mayor, anticipating crowds, plans to have police reinforcements to maintain order in the little village three miles from the chateau. At the chateau preparations for the big day were as feverish as in the village. Shipments of 1,200 bottles of champagne and about 190 pounds of lobster have been received.

But the final list of wedding guests is not ready yet.

Rita will have her final hairdress at 8 a. m. tomorrow. Her hair has been dyed chestnut red. She will wear it shoulder length.

President Says U. S. Neglecting Services In 'War For Peace'

WASHINGTON, May 26. (AP)—President Truman said last night Americans have neglected the moral welfare of the armed forces since the war, because it "never occurred to them that now we are fighting for the peace."

He urged communities to provide off-duty entertainment for the 1,600,000 young people now in the service, whom he described as the nation's "backlog" in its battle for "the welfare of the whole world."

The President spoke extemporaneously before a conference he called to study the problem of "community responsibility to our peacetime servicemen and women."

Program Planned

He said the peacetime military forces should receive the same treatment offered to service personnel during the war, and added:

"You know how this country acts, though, when the emergency is over. They go to something else. When the war ceased—well, it was all over, they had other things to think about. Never occurred to them that now we are fighting for the peace."

Some 500 representatives of business, labor, welfare, religious and veterans groups are attending the meeting. They plan a nation wide program of off-duty recreation for servicemen like that carried on by the USO during the war.

Algeria recently received 30 track-laying tractors, through ERP.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN

Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Negro Rejects Truman Offer

WASHINGTON, May 26 (AP)—A grandson of a negro slave returned to his work today as "peacemaker of Palestine" after turning down a chance to become an assistant secretary of state.

Honors are nothing new to Dr. Ralph H. Bunche, but he helped write another chapter in history when he called on President Truman yesterday.

There, in the White House, the 44-year-old negro heard the chief executive praise his work and offer him a top-ranking post in government.

It was a "very great honor," he assured Mr. Truman, but he could not see his way clear to accept it.

To reporters, afterwards, Bunche assigned two reasons: his desire to continue his work with the United Nations, and his inability to give his children a college education while working in Washington for the $10,000 salary paid to assistant secretaries of state. This salary is subject to federal income taxes, whereas he now draws $14,000 tax-free as director of the United Nations' trusteeship division.

Bunche is now serving as acting mediator and head of the United Nations mission in Palestine.

When the Israeli-Syrian armistis is finally negotiated, he will take up where he left off in the trusteeship division.

Police Sift Scant Clues For Suspect In Reuther Shooting

DETROIT, May 26. (AP)—Police sifted scant clues today in the ambush attempt on the life of CIO unionist Victor Reuther, blinded in one eye by an unknown attacker's gunfire.

At the same time the FBI was considering whether to enter the investigation after a stream of requests from a number of quarters, including Congress, the CIO and the state of Michigan.

So far only local authorities, with the help of state police, were pushing the search for the mysterious assailant.

Reuther, educational director for the CIO's big United Auto Workers union, was shot through a living room window of his home Tuesday night.

Clues Obtained

The police clues were the weapon, a double-barreled 12 gauge shotgun abandoned in the Reuther yard, and a heel print.

Except for neighbors' reports of seeing an "old model car" drive off rapidly after the gunshot, authorities otherwise lacked much evidence.

Reuther, 37, also shot in the face and neck, was reported in "satisfactory" condition after the operation.

His brother, Walter, president of the UAW-CIO, on whose life a similar attempt was made 13 months earlier, charged a Communist plot, or other subversive action, might have been responsible for both attacks.

Man Being Held

In routine inquiries officers picked up two men for questioning.

One was released after establishing an alibi.

Police said they were holding a second who had been heard babbling a drunken story relating to the shooting.

Attorney General Tom Clark said at Washington that the Department of Justice had taken "under consideration" the matter of FBI intervention.

The FBI's aid was asked by CIO President Phil Murray, Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich), Gov. G. Mennen Williams, and the Detroit city council.

Reds Denounce Act

Ferguson asked the FBI to step in "before the trail grows cold."

"Those who commit such crimes must be taught it cannot happen in the United States of America," the senator said.

The Communist party of Michigan issued a statement denouncing "attempts to link our party with this depraved act" and demanding "apprehension and full punishment" of the persons responsible.

The attacks on the Reuther brothers, said the party, were "the most desperate kind of gangster and hoodlum acts which could only arise in the present atmosphere of fascist assault against the security and civil liberties of the American people."

Weight Restrictions For Roads Proposed

WASHINGTON, May 26 (AP) — We know how to design and propuce good highways but we're careless about keeping them up, says public roads commissioner Thomas H. MacDonald. The excessively heavy truck, he adds, is the major maintenance problem.

"We are overloading our highways in their traffic volume capacity and in their structural capacity," MacDonald said in an interview. "The only way to proper use of the highways is to limit and wheel loads.

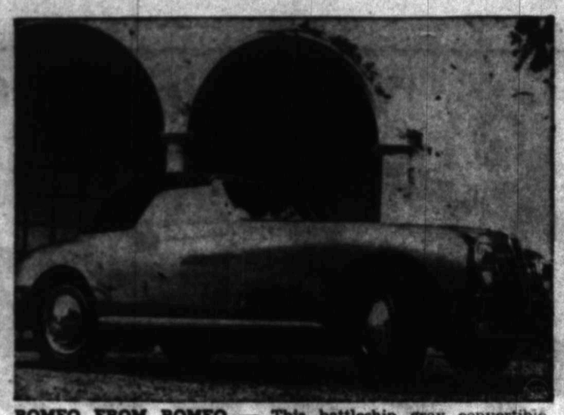

"Axle loads in excess of 18,000 pounds should not be authorized," he said, "and any revision of laws governing gross weight of vehicles should relate that weight to the number and spacing of axles." The 18,000 axle-load limit generally has the support of state highway, motor vehicle manufactured and user organizations, MacDonald said, and it has been written into the laws of a majority of the states. But he said that movements are under way in many states to ease the restrictions.

"Today the volume of truck traffic is nearly three times as great as it was in 1930 and even more significant is the proportion of trucks that carry heavy loads," MacDonald continued.

The result, he said, has been a gradual increase in damage to pavements.

MacDonald said truck operators insist that highway damage is a technical matter, that engineers must find a remedy, but that "this is true only to the exten that the design of roads fails to provide for loadings within the legal limits."

Young Lovers Aided By Council Ruling

CROYDON ,England, May 26 (AP) —Members were of two minds when the Croyden council debated whether to put more lights in side streets.

Mrs. Ethel Cook said, "If we don't improve our street lighting, we are going to have an influx of young lovers from other adjoining areas which are well lit."

But A. L. Boddington said, "Some of us in our younger days liked shady spots." The council voted against more lights.

Reds Read A Lot Of Marx In Trial, Protest Court Ruling

NEW YORK, May 26 (AP)—Both sides are doing a lot of reading to the jury at the Communist conspiracy trial—but defense lawyers claim they're not being allowed to do enough of it.

They centered their protests on Federal Judge Harold R. Medina again yesterday, after he refused to admit in evidence an article written in 1939 by John Gates, editor of the Daily Worker, Communist newspaper.

Defense attorney Richard Gladstein demanded whether Gates, a defendant, is being tried on "something from a book by Marx" or on "what he himself wrote."

The prosecution has quoted numerous passages from Marx and other Communist writers, as has the defense. Sometimes, both sides have used excerpts from the same manuscript to back up conflicting arguments.

Objections Sustained

Judge Medina sustained objections of U. S. Attorney John F. X. McGohey to the Gates articles.

The judge commented that the court necessarily had to confine oral reading within limits that would keep the trial from being prolonged indefinitely.

Defense lawyers told the judge he was preventing Gates, who was on the witness stand for the third day, from "summoning to his defense the deeds of his life."

"I renew my request," Galdstein said, "that Mr. McGohey give his grounds—and grounds—why he objects to something Gates wrote."

The judge, who had walked off the bench earlier in the day to halt a courtroom clash on legal points, threatened to do so again unless Gladstein sat down. The lawyer did so.

Dennis Defends Self

Eugene Dennis, Communist party general secretary who is acting as his own defense lawyer, then took up the argument. He said the Gates article has a direct bearing on "what we said and believed . . . It is a chapter in the history of our party we are extremely proud of."

"You know, Mr. Dennis," said the judge, "the way we run our courts here is that a lawyer makes an offer of evidence, and the judge rules on it. The ordinary person sits down when the judge makes a ruling, but you people keep on and on.

"It seems to me you feel these defendants are privileged persons and should be allowed more latitude than other persons, but I don't see why they shouldn't be treated like everybody else in our courts."

Medina said the Gates article was inadmissable as evidence, but that if his ruling were in error, "our laws provide ways to correct that."

Fought In Spanish War

Gates, one of 11 top Communists on trial on charges of conspiring to advocate forcible overthrow of the government, testified further about his background.

He said he fought with the Spanish Republican army from February, 1937, to December, 1938, rising from the rank of private to a rank corresponding to a U. S. lieutenant colonel.

He specifically denied testimony of Louis F. Budenz, opening government witness and former Daily Worker managing editor, that American Communists are "basically committed" to violent overthrow of the government.

The defense and prosecution took turns reading from a publication entitled "Volume I, Marxist Study Series." Each side quoted passages to show different things. The defense read excerpts seeking to show exploitation of the working class, and the prosecution quoted passages calling the U. S. an imperialist state.

HITS THE TRAIL—Armed to the hilt with his toy pistols, Jack Grant, Jr., 5, started a back-to-the-farm movement, but it didn't work. Visiting Chicago with his mother, Mrs. Edna Williams, Jack decided he didn't like the big city, packed up and headed back to his grandmother's farm. A stranger saw him on a street car five hours later and took him to police. Now Jack's back with his mother—and still in the big city.

Probe Of Air Force Buying Demanded

WASHINGTON, May 26 (AP)—Rep. Van Zandt (R-Pa) today pressed for a House investigation of Air Force purchasing, declaring that "unusually large contracts" have gone to a company in which Secretary of Defense Johnson formerly was a director.

Van Zandt introduced a resolution yesterday to create an investigating committee which would study policies as far back as May, 1945. It was then, he said, that the armed forces started their postwar cutbacks on plane orders.

The Air Force recently announced plans to stop orders on 470 advanced tactical planes and instead buy 75 more B-36 Consolidated bombers—the Air Force's newest and most controversial heavyweight.

Senate Claimed Stalling

Johnson has promised to give the Senate armed services committee full information on aircraft purchases, but Van Zandt said the Senate group, headed by Senator Tydings (D-Md), is "just going through the motions."

"The American people are entitled to know what is going on," he told a newsman.

Tydings has said the committee recently voted down a proposal he offered to conduct a technical survey of aircraft performance and procurement.

Johnson had no comment on Van Zandt's resolution.

Rep. Vinson (D-Ga), chairman of the House counterpart of Tydings' committee, agreed with Van Zandt that the American people should be told what Air Force procurement policy is.

Odlum Demo Contributor

"Mr. Johnson should have an opportunity to answer these statements and let the country know whether there is any foundation for these insinuations," Vinson said.

"If Mr. Tydings does not give Mr. Johnson his chance, we will.

Vinson said he does not think a special committee is needed.

In a statement accompanying his resolution, Van Zandt said Consolidated, maker of the B-36, is "controlled by Floyd Odlum, a heavy contributor to the Democratic campaign." Odlum could not be reached for comment.

Until three days after his nomination as secretary of defense, Johnson was a director and Washington counsel for the company, Van Zandt added.

"I am also informed," Van Zandt added, "that to obtain funds for these unusually large contracts, the Air Force has ruthlessly cancelled orders from four other aircraft companies."

Question Unanswered

Van Zandt said he asked Secretary of Air Symington by letter on May 13 "what these strange proceedings will cost the government," but has had no reply.

"I am informed on unimpeachable authority," he said, "that the Air Force, under Mr. Symington, took this series of actions in spite of the fact that its flying men only a year ago were ready to abandon Consolidated B-36's on the grounds that they were wholly unsatisfactory bombers."

The Air Force has claimed the high-flying B-36, operating at more than 40,000 feet, could not be effectively intercepted by any fighter plane now in use in the world.

The Navy has challenged this, claiming it has two jet-powered fighters that could intercept the B-36.

The House armed services committee recently suggested a showdown test on this, but thus far the services have not arranged one.

Luck With Fortune, Billfold Recovered

ECCLES, Eng., May 26 (AP) Luck was with fortune today.

Flier Geoffrey Fortune lost his wallet while flying upside down over Lancashire. He landed and telephoned police, who recovered the wallet in a garden within 15 minutes of the time it fell.

The wallet was returned with the eight pounds ($32) and hard-to-get gasoline rations coupons still in it.

Annapolis Surprised By Mrs. HST Visit

ANNAPOLIS, Md., May 26 (AP) Annapolis was still buzzing today about Mrs. Harry S. Truman's surprise visit to yesterday's tercentenary festivities.

The First Lady and two friends said they were out for a drive and decided to drop in on the 300th anniversary celebration.

They quickly became the guests of honor and Gov. William Preston Lane hustled over to act as guide. The governor showed Mrs. Truman and her two friends, Mrs. B. Harrison Lingo and her daughter Jane Lingo of Washington, through colonial buildings and tercentenary exhibits.

They also visited Maryland's ancient state house, built in 1772 and the oldest state capitol still in use.

Then the First Lady reviewed an hour-long parade and after it was all over she said: "I enjoyed every minute of it."

Chief Of Police Out On Bond After Being Charged With Receiving Cash 'Kickbacks'

LANCASTER, O., May 26 (AP)—Police Chief Sam H. Hutsler was free on $500 bond today after his arrest on extortion charges.

Fairfield county sheriff's deputies still were seeking Lt. Everett Brown who was accused with the chief of receiving cash "kickbacks" from persons selling equipment to the department.

The charges were filed yesterday afternoon by three policemen who had been suspended from duty by the 38-year-old chief.

In Jail Two Hours

Hutsler was in county jail two hours last night before he was released on a writ of habeas corpus granted by Common Pleas Judge Harry Kilburger. The judge set May 31 for a hearing.

The three policemen who filed the charges were Capt. Laurence Bauer, 53, Lt. Merrill H. Martin, 41, and motorcycle officer Lester Crook, 45. All had drawn 30-day suspensions from the chief on charges of gross neglect of duty or insubordination.

Hutsler said he knew nothing about the alleged "kickbacks." He declined comment on the suspension of the officers.

Labor Leader, Aides, Indicted On Perjury, Conspiracy Counts

SAN FRANCISCO, May 26. (AP) Harry Bridgese, leftwing West coast labor leader, and two of his top aides were indicted by a federal grand jury yesterday on perjury and conspiracy charges stemming from Bridges' citizenship hearing in 1945.

The Immigration service immediately filed a civil complaint seeking to revoke Bridges' citizenship. This action declared Bridges was not only a Communist at the time he became a citizen, but still is.

Many West coast observers interpreted the double barrelled action as signalling the start of a third government attempt in 10 years to deport the 47-year-old, Australian-born Bridges. He is president of the CIO International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's union.

Two More Indicted

Indicted with him were J. R. Robertson, first vice-president of the ILWU, and Henry Schmidt, member of the Longshore Coast Labor Relations committee and former president of Bridges' local here. Bail for each was set at $5,000.

The union promptly assailed the indictments as "a political frameup" by the Truman administration and an attempt to put the union out of business.

One count charged the three men conspired against the immigration laws by fraudulently obtaining naturalization for Bridges on Sept. 7, 1945. Another count charged Bridges with perjury in denying that he was then, or ever had been, a member of the Communist party. The third count charged Schmidt and Robertson with perjury. It accused them of testifying falsely that Bridges had not been a member of the Communist party.

Bridges In New York

Bridges was in New York. He went there after a recent stormy session of the CIO executive council in Washington at which he and other left wing leaders were told to get in line with CIO policies or get out. The union said he would leave New York today for San Francisco.

Robertson was reported in San Francisco and a union attorney said he would surrender today. Schmidt, who has been directing the Hawaiian waterfront strike, surrendered to the U. S. marshal in Honolulu. He was accompanied by six beefy stevedores who shielded him from news cameramen. He called the indictments "just another attempt by the employers to wreck the ILWU."

Conviction on the charges carries a possible maximum penalty of seven years in prison and $15,000 fine.

Result Of Long Probe

Government men taking part in the grand jury presentation included F. Joseph Donohue, special assistant attorney general from Washington, and John P. Boyd, deputy commissioner of the Immigration and Naturalization service. Boyd helped prepare the first deportation case against Bridges in 1939.

Boyd said the move to revoke Bridges' citizenship culminated a long investigation. "We have new evidence which has never been presented before," he said. "We feel reasonably certain of our case." He added that some prominent labor leaders had been helpful in developing the case.

After Bridges' first deportation hearing in 1939, James M. Landis, then dean of the Harvard law school, ruled the evidence failed to establish that Bridges was, at that time, a member of, or affiliated with, the Communist party.

Longtime President

A second hearing was held in 1941. Judge Charles B. Sears of New York recommended Bridges' deportation on the ground he "has been affiliated" with Communists. But the United States supreme court held there was no evidence to support the finding and reversed Sears.

Slim, tough-talking Bridges became president of the longshoremen in 1934, year of a bloody, 98 day waterfront strike. He has been the driving force in the longshoremen's long series of strikes since, and only this week was returned to office.

Doctor Accused Of Fathering Child Says Suit For Revenge

ST. LOUIS, May 26. (AP)—A Pennsylvania doctor said last night that a suit accusing him of fathering a child and billing the woman's husband for delivery of the baby was "filed for revenge and some easy money."

Dr. Paul A. Hinchberger was named in a $50,000 suit filed at Butler, Pa., by Clair W. Hutzler. Hutzler alleged the doctor was the father of a son born to Mrs. Hutzler six months ago. Hutzler also charged Hinchberger sent a bill to him for $122.50 for the delivery.

Couple Sharing Apartment

The doctor said he had not asked Hutzler to pay "a single cent" for delivery of the baby.

"The suit was filed for revenge and for some easy money I don't have," he said. "It must be made perfectly clear that I at no time took advantage of my professional capacity. I will fight the suit if necessary."

Hinchberger, 37, and Mrs. Hutzler, 31, were found here by reporters. They are sharing an apartment while Hinchberger is taking a medical refresher course at Washington university.

Mrs. Hutzler has the baby with her.

Scotland's Highlands and islands are to have 1,000 new prefabricated houses imported from Sweden this year on Baltic trading vessels.

Song Sets New Record On Hit Parade

Young Cowboy Goes Ridin' To Success With 'Ghost Riders'

By BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, May 26. — A young cowpoke went ridin' out to Hollywood one day. . .

The first line of Stan Jones' sensational song hit, "Ghost Riders In The Sky," almost fits his own story.

The haunting song astounded the music business last week by leaping to the top of the Hit Parade without a previous showing in the top tune list. Observers believe it's the first time this has happened. The event makes a Death Valley Ranger the current king of Tin Pan alley.

The story of the song goes back to Jones' boyhood on the range near Douglas, Ariz. An old cowhand filled him with stories about a ghost herd in the sky pursued by a band of bedeviled wranglers The old-timer was said to have seen the ghost riders just before he died.

Jones' range career was interrupted by a hitch in the Navy before the war. After serving as a Red Cross worker during the war, he became park ranger in Washington state, then at Death Valley national monument.

At night Jones would strum a guitar and sing his songs for the tourists. Last year when a film company was shooting in Death Valley, Randolph Scott heard him and advised him to take his songs to Hollywood.

Jones took the advice and tramped around to music publishers. They all shook their heads. "Too hymn-like," they shrugged.

He was about to return to Death Valley in despair when he encountered Eden Ahbez in a music store. He buttonholed "Nature Boy" and played his songs. Ahbez liked "Ghost Riders" and referred it to ballad singer Burl Ives.

Ives recorded the song and a record official referred Jones to Edwin H. Morris of Mayfair Music Publishers. Morris snapped up the song and it was started on the golden trail. Victor quickly recorded it with Vaughn Monroe and stole the play by flooding the market with discs.

Morris, who also published skyrocketing hits "Pistol Packin' Mama" and "Nature Boy", can't put his finger on the reason for the song's sudden success.

"It couldn't be the tune—everybody knows it's taken from 'Johnny Comes Marching Home'," Morris says.

May Make $30,000

Jones himself is astounded by the success. He stand to make around $30,000 from the song alone, not bad scratch for a guy who was getting about $3,500 a year working for the government.

Appearances are being arranged for him by the William Morris agency and there is even talk of a picture by Warners. But 34-year-old Jones reckons his stay in show business is only temporary.

"There are too many curbstones around here for me," he says. "But I figure if I hang around the bright lights I might be able to retire sooner than if I kept working for the Interior department."

He hopes some day to retire with his wife to a little ranch in Nevada. And he's got a lot more songs in his bag which he thinks will bring that day closer.

Simplicity is the keynote of the film version of John Steinbeck's widely known story about a sensitive boy and his attachment to the red pony. A character study for the entire family, "The Red Pony" is in close pattern with the series of successful films about horses and dogs—the "Lassie" group and those like "Smoky" and "Green Grass of Wyoming"—and so it is that we turn to them for comparison.

Budget Cutters In House Agree To Demo Foreign Aid Proposal

WASHINGTON, May 26. (AP)—House budget cutters promised today to let a foreign aid money bill go to the Senate without major change.

They announced agreement to an administration proposal to let the Economic Cooperation administration operate during the next year on almost as much money as President Truman requested.

The agreement does not restore any of the $629,730,00 chopped by the appropriations committee from the ECA budget. But it permits the money to be spent in a shorter period than the committee had proposed.

"We will not oppose the amendment," Republican Leader Martin of Massachusetts told newsmen. "As a matter of fact, we favor it."

Officials Objected

Rep. Taber of New York, top Republican on the appropriations committee and one of the economy leaders in the House, said he has no objections to the amendment.

Government officials had objected vigorously to the cut made by the committee. Undersecretary of State Webb told a news conference yesterday that it "would constitute a serious blow to the European recovery program."

The agreement reached between administration and Republican leaders would give ECA $4,642,470,000 to finance its foreign aid program until May 15, 1950. This averages $344,000,000 a month.

Mr. Truman had asked $5,272,200,000 for use between now and June 30, 1950. This would have permitted a monthly spending rate of $351,000,000, effective last April 3.

No Trouble Seen

The compromise does not restore the $150,000,000 cut by the appropriations committee from the $1,000,000,000 sought by the President for government and relief in occupied areas. Neither does it affect $50,000,000—the amount the President wanted—carried in the bill for special aid to Greece and Turkey.

The funds are in an omnibus $5,542,470,000 bill financing ECA, occupation projects, and Greece-Turkey aid. Mr. Truman had asked $6,322,200,000.

House leaders anticipated no trouble passing the bill today although some members were expected to try to cut down all the funds.

Fight To Continue

Republicans—with some Democratic help—have been pressing hard for economy on both sides of Capitol hill.

In the Senate, there have been four futile attempts to chip five per cent from parts of four different annual appropriations measures.

Chairman Taft (R-Ohio) said late yesterday that the Senate Republican policy committee favors continuing the fight.

He said one way to do that might be to tie an amendment to some future money bill calling for a general cut in spending. So far the Republicans have been unable to attach such amendments to appropriations measures under a rule which bans legislation in a money bill.

But Taft said a way probably can be found to handle the matter. And, he added, an economy rider tied to an important appropriation bill "would not likely be vetoed."

He said Senator Wherry (R-Neb), GOP floor leader and Senator Bridges (R-NH), former appropriations chairman, were named to map strategy for the new economy tactics.

"We'll support any reasonable move for economy and maybe some that seem unreasonable," Taft said.

Lubbock Vet Official Given Amarillo Post

Appointment of Carroll Smyers as manager in charge of the Amarillo VA office was announced Wednesday by Robt. Sisson, manager of the Lubbock regional office of the Veterans administration.

Smyers will assume his duties at Amarillo June 1.

Smyers, former manager of the Memphis and Borger Chambers of Commerce, has been administrative assistant to Sisson since the opening of the VA office here in June, 1946.

He served in the Navy during the war and spent his overseas time in the Pacific in several campaigns.

He is married and has two children and resides at 3109 Twenty-seventh.

Smyers expressed regret Wednesday at leaving Lubbock but said the Amarillo office offers a promotion he could not afford to decline.

Plamor Slates Square Dance Festival Today

A square dance festival will be held this afternoon and tonight at the Plamor on Slaton highway.

Jack Fomby, Sweetwater caller and instructor, was to call dances at a 3 p. m. clinic and a dance tonight lasting until midnight. Instructors were to be present at the afternoon session, sponsored by Lubbock Square Dance federation, with no admission charge.

Exhibition sets will be featured on the evening program, as well as guest callers in addition to Mr. Fomby.

Tickets for the evening will be sold at the door, federation officials indicate, and will be 75 cents for dancers or spectators. All persons interested in square dancing are urged to attend.

U. S. Steel To Seek Contract

PITTSBURGH, May 26. (AP)—The U. S. Steel Corp. has informed John L. Lewis of its willingness to meet with the United Mine Workers chieftain to write a new contract for its "captive" coal mines.

So-called captive mines are those owned and operated by the steel corporation in connection with its steel production.

In a letter to Lewis yesterday, Harry M. Moses, president of the H. C. Frick Coke Co., a U. S. Steel subsidiary, wrote that the company preferred to begin negotiations after a contract has been reached with commercial operators.

Moses added, however, that if Lewis is "adamant on an earlier meeting," I will, of course meet with you at a time and place convenient for you, preferably after June 10, 1949."

Lewis opened negotiations with the Southern Soft Coal Operators association yesterday at Bluefield, W. Va. The UMW contract expires June 30.

Lewis on May 13 wrote to Moses and U. S. Steel president Benjamin F. Fairless notifying them of expiration of their contract offering to confer on a new agreement.

Letter Quoted

The company later made public a letter sent by Lewis May 23 to Moses and Fairless asking for an "adequate reply" to the previous communication.

Moses' letter to Lewis yesterday read in part:

"When we met on May 21 following receipt of your first letter, I explained that the United States steel subsidiaries signatory to the national bituminous coal wage agreement of July 13, 1948, represented by me, prefer to negotiate with after, rather than before, you have concluded a new contract with the commercial operators who produce over 90 per cent of the tonnage in the industry.

"If, however, you are adamant on an earlier meeting, I will, of course, meet with you at a time and place convenient for you, preferably after June 10, 1949."

Axe-Slayer's Confession May Solve Mystery Of 44 Murders

WALLA WALLA, Wash., May 26.—(AP)—Information that may clear up 44 murders is being written today by Jake Bird, 44-year-old condemned ax slayer, who is scheduled to die in the Washington state penitentiary Friday.

Bird, who still seeks to elude the noose he has avoided before, told prison authorities that he wanted to talk about the killings he says he committed.

He is under death sentence for the ax murder of Mrs. Bertha Kludt in Tacoma in October, 1947. Mrs. Kludt's 17-year-old daughter, Beverly, was killed too.

Warden Tom Smith refused to let him talk about the killings in the belief that another investigation might be started like a bootless probe last year. Smith gave him permission, however, to write anything he wished.

Wrote Information

So the middle-aged negro began writing what he called "important information." Smith promised to turn it over to the proper authorities.

Bird, who has already made two trips out of the prison death row, wrote two frantic appeals to Gov. Arthur B. Langlie. He also has an appeal pending before the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals in San Francisco.

Langlie could not be reached for comment.

The Supreme Court of the United States refused last week to review Bird's case.

Bird was not alone in seeking another stay of execution. He had asked to see the Rev. A. Ohnell, former chaplain at the penitentiary who now is in Germany and will not return until July 15.

Ohnell wrote to Langlie, asking a stay for Bird until his scheduled return. Langlie has not taken action yet.

800 Ask To See Death

When a newsman asked whether his "confessions" of the other 44 killings were true, Bird answered with another question:

"Do you think I could make that stuff up?"

Warden Smith said he has received 800 requests to witness the hanging. Many of them are from kinsfolk of Bird's alleged victims. Most of the requests will be rejected because the death chamber is too small for such a crowd, Smith said.

Among those planning to attend is Patrick M. Steele, Pierce county (Tacoma) prosecutor. Steele has survived a "hex" pronounced by Bird at his trial, where he declared:

"Wait and see. All of you who had anything to do with this case will die before I do."

Five Already Dead

So far five officials connected with the case have died.

Bird already is in death row. He will be taken to a little cell next to the death chamber at noon tomorrow and the death warrant will be read to him in the afternoon.

He has eaten heartily, and Smith said he "smokes cigars constantly." He appeared calm, but nervousness showed in the tone of his appeals to Langlie.

Bird said his letters to the governor stressed his treatment at the hands of Tacoma police after his arrest. He said his confession was beaten out of him.

Senate Will Move Back To Capitol Room Used By Only 62 Members During 1850's

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, May 26.—Tuesday, Jan. , 1859, was a bitter cold day in Washington.

The wood in the fire places of the old, gas-lit Senate chamber crackled and the 62 senators—all there were in those days—rubbed the numbness out of their hands.

The honorable John Cabell Breckenridge, the vice president of the United States, removed the glove from his gavel hand and demanded order. This, he announced solemnly, was to be the last day the Senate would hold sessions at the old stand. That noble body was about to move to new quarters, equipped with brass spittons, fancy snuff boxes and plush surroundings.

Roof Is Shaky

The Senate is getting ready to move again—back to the old place. The roof is about to crash on the dignified heads below. Workmen will pack up the roof supports and do the kind of a re-make job they are planning on the White House.

This isn't the first time that the Senate has moved back into the old room which once echoed to the golden oratory of Clay and Webster and Calhoun. It's gone back several times before for similar reasons—repairs to the present quarters.

The old chamber, to the left of the Capitol rotunda, probably is Washington's most useful spare room. After the 35th Senate moved out, the Supreme Court moved in and stayed for 75 years until the tribunal moved across the street to its magnificent, white marble home in 1935. It has been a museum since.

Senator Pays Respects

On that January day in 1859, the senators interrupted business long enough to pay respect to a friend—the old room.

Sen. John J. Crittenden of Kentucky arose to say that the 35th Congress could spart a moment, surely, so he could indulge "in a few words of parting from this chamber."

The gentleman from the blue grass pulled out all the stops.

"Mr. President," he said, "We cannot quit this chamber without some feeling of sacred sadness. . . . Here questions of American constitutions and laws have been debated; questions of peace and war have been debated, questions of empires . . . They give a sort of consecrated character to this hall. No matter under what sky we may sit; no matter what dome may cover us; the great patriotic spirit of the Senate of the United States will be there and I have an abiding confidence that it will never fail in the performance of its duty, sit where it may, even though it were a desert."

There was a moment of silence. Then Vice President Breckenridge spoke up:

"Let us devoutly trust that another Senate, in another age, shall bear to a new and larger chamber, this constitution vigorous and inviolate, and that the last general of posterity shall witness the deliberations of the representatives of American states still united, prosperous and free. . . The body will now proceed to the new chamber."

Those were the last words uttered in the old room by the 35th Senate.

Decontrols Off In State Cities

WASHINGTON, May 26 (AP) —Rent controls were removed today from the Texas cities of Sweetwater, Marshall and Corsicana, and also from Nolan county, outside of Sweetwater.

The action was announced by Housing Expediter Tighe Woods, who also denied a request for removing ceilings at Lockhart.

Woods said the denial of the request to lift restrictions from Lockhart rental units resulted from failure of local authorities to comply with provisions of the rent act.

No Public Hearing

He said that since no public hearing was held in Lockhart in connection with the proposal and because the request for decontrols did not carry the approval of the state's governor, the federal government had no alterntive but to deny the petition.

Woods said the decontrols ordered resulted from action instituted by local authorities under the "local option" provision of the Rent Contract act. The decontrols are effective immediately, and under the law, ceilings cannot be reimposed.

DR. CLIFFORD B. JONES was over at Spur a couple of days ago and brought back some pictures of the recent tornado damage at Soldier's Mound. The pictures were made with a small box camera, hence couldn't be used for cuts. Otherwise, we should have printed them in the paper for all to see.

One of the pictures showed the tornado in action. Taken from the hill on the Northwest side of Spur, the picture showed the great, black funnel as it was striking at Soldier's Mound. If that tornado had struck in a heavily populated area, death and destruction would have been terrific.

In the excitement, no one saw exactly what happened.

But this much is known:

It was carried almost across the breadth of the quarter section farm—evidently both in the air and bouncing along the ground.

It was an absolute wreck when the storm was over—the top gone, part of the sides smashed, the radiator crashed off.

THOSE of us who have been so fortunate as to escape the experience of being in a tornado have a lot to be thankful for.

Without actually living through one of those blows, we can't imagine the savagery of nature as the cone-shaped clouds bounce across the land.

It is doubtful if any man-made power outside that engendered by our heaviest atomic and TNT bombs can compare to the power of the twisting wind.

The kid hadn't said anything about looking for a job—or, in fact, anything at all about his future plans, and the Old Man had been wondering about the situation.

Finally, when the father got home from work one evening, his wife met him, all a-glow.

"Junior," she said, "has been thinking about his Future. He says his days of idleness soon will be over!"

Shortly after, as the family gathered at the dinner table, the father turned to the son and said:

"What's this I hear about your deciding to go to work?"

"That's right, Pop," said the kid. "I'm going out into the world and make my own way. And I took the first, most important step today."

"Zatso?" countered the Old Man. "What did you do?"

"Well, sir," answered the kid, "I went down and picked out a $123 business suit!"

L. D. WHITELY, director of the business census in the 24-county 19th Texas Congressional district, is having his troubles.

Although the law says business concerns must give enumerators the information sought by the government, a great many businessmen are bucking against the straps. Not only are many of them refusing to give information. They also are loosing all their pent-up dissatisfaction with the federal government and its policies on the enumerators. As a result, Mr. Whitely's enumerators are quitting almost as fast as he can hire and train them.

He needs some help.

Thus far, Mr. Whitely has had a 60 per cent turnover in his enumerators and when one considers that it takes him four days to train an enumerator, it's pretty easy to see what he's up against.

His workers start out full of energy, happy and ready to do their jobs. They come straggling back, mentally battered, after each day of being whipped over the head for the sins—real and imaginary—of the federal government and for which they have no responsibility other than that of any ordinary citizen.

After a few days, they are so discouraged they either quit—or want to quit, and the merry-go-round starts all over again.

MR. WHITELY is a businessman himself. He was drafted for the census job by the chamber of commerce and a group of business people who realize that Lubbock would be better off with a sane, sensible, practical, hardworking census director than with some political hack who got the job because he happened to be somebody's brother-in-law.

Mr. Whitely is heading up the job as a civic service and he's not crying over his troubles, because he knew in advance that the task would be a tough one.

But he is asking the business people all over the district to remember, when approached by enumerators, that the enumerators are just working for the Census Bureau; that they aren't personally responsible for every government attitude from Civil Rights and the Taft-Hartley law to the tax discrimination against oleomargerine.

As a matter of fact, the situation growing out of the enumerators' troubles should be a good lesson to all of us, if we'll only stop to think.

The very same people who bawl out enumerators rushed to the polls last November and automatically voted Democratic, even though they knew when they voted that the Truman-Barkley ticket was pledged to a lot of things obnoxious to them.

They just didn't have the nerve to vote as they preferred; or they were so politically hidebound that they never thought about doing so.

Now they're mad at themselves—and taking it out on the enumerators.

PEOPLE who don't like the policies of the federal government should register their opinions at the polls, instead of by roaring at people who aren't responsible for political peccadilloes.

If they don't like the Truman tax proposals, they ought to vote next time for someone whose tax proposals appeal to them. If they don't like the way Communists are being given scholarships by the Atomic commission, they should vote against the administration which rammed David Lillienthal down their throats when it was pretty well known at the time of his appointment that Lillienthal was a leftwinger. If they don't like Senator McGrath's frequent slaps at Southern Democrats in his capacity of boss of the party's patronage, the best way they can let the party know how they feel is by getting tough at the ballot box, instead of with a census taker.

There's a great deal at stake, business wise, in the business census.

We agree that some of the information the government seeks smacks of nosiness and the European way of regimenting everybody.

But the vast majority of the people kicking about the business census consistently and continuously voted for an administration that embraced regimentation as one of its chief policies.

Those who don't like it have themselves to blame for voting as they did. They'll have themselves to blame if they continue to vote for things they don't like.

They can't help themselves by jumping on a census enumerator.

BY DREW PEARSON: SECURITY RESOURCES BOARD SUFFERED DURING WALLGREN FIGHT

Board Has Held No Meetings Since Battle Began

WASHINGTON — It was Mrs. Mon Wallgren, wife of the likable, buffeted ex-governor of Washington, who finally caused President Truman to withdraw her husband's name as chairman of the National Security Resources board.

Once before, Wallgren had offered to drop out of the battle for Senate confirmation, but Truman wouldn't hear of it. The Senate's rejection was taken as a personal slap at Truman and he asked his old Senate buddy to stick it out.

PEARSON

However, Mrs. Wallgren told her husband she couldn't take it any longer, pleaded with him to categorically withdraw. It was only then that Truman agreed.

Wallgren, an A-1 senator, is fed up with Washington, D. C., has several private job offers, wants to see no more of government.

But the tragic fact remains that Missouri-mule stubbornness in the White House has bogged down one of the most vital bureaus of government. The National Security Resources board, created to plan the economy of the nation in case of emergency, and potentially the most powerful agency in Washington, has been headless, its morale dropped to zero, with resignations epidemic, and leaderless personnel at each other's throats.

What goes on inside the board is top secret, but certainly the public is at least entitled to know whether it is functioning smoothly. Despite this, officials are using the cloak of secrecy to hide what the board isn't doing instead of what it is doing.

Here is an illustration of how the secrecy run-around works:

When this column inquired how many times the board had met since Wallgren's appointment, press chief Charlie Schwarz sadly replied that this was classified information. He couldn't produce a directive showing it was classified, but the secretariat, H. Dewayne Kreager, had told him so. Later Schwarz called to say that he had found the minutes of the board, agreeing not to tell what went on at the meetings. He interpreted this to mean that the number of meetings should also be kept secret.

REAL truth is, the board hasn't met at all since the Wallgren fight began. This was revealed by a less cautious board official who quickly added that the board "probably" meets "informally" after cabinet meetings.

The board has been given some direction by presidential assistant John Steelman, the pinch-hitting, part-time chairman. But Steelman already had his hands full before he took on this extra burden.

Meanwhile, other key men have been dropping out like Indians biting the dust—Vice Chairman R. E. Gilmore, who went back to Sperry gyroscope; general counsel Kenneth D. Johnson, who took a job as dean at Columbia university; director of production George Felton, who returned to his leather factories in New England; and director of economic management E. T. Grether, who returned to the University of California.

Feuding Over Policy

The board also is looking for replacements for more than 30 lesser lights who became discouraged and quit. Those remaining are feuding over policy or brooding over lack of work. One fight is over the establishment of a board of experts on industrial production information. Suggested by economics director Glenn McLaughlin, this was opposed by others who claim they can find the production answers without high-powered help.

It's going to take heroic efforts by the new chairman to get this vital agency back on the track.

Note—Truman fought with every political trick in the book to get Wallgren confirmed. He wheedled, threatened, even offered job bribes to senators who voted against Wallgren. Senator Harry Byrd of Virginia received a visit from Democratic National Chairman McGrath who slyly inquired what it would take to change Byrd's vote. Republican Senator More of Oregon, who voted against Wallgren, also got an offer to become U. S. circuit court judge on the west coast; while Senator Baldwin of Connecticut, another anti-Wallgren Republican, accepted a Supreme court judgeship in his state, though Baldwin had long-cherished personal reasons for going on the bench.

AT THE Supreme Court this week, Ernest A. Cole, who worked his way up from watchman to lieutenant of the guard, was given a gold badge and retired to private life.

Most people who honored Cole, including the Supreme Court justices, did not know that in addition to his faithful service, he had another distinction. When the cornerstone of the new Supreme Court building was laid, it contained a copy of the declaration of independence, famous addresses of famous justices, a photograph of William Howard Taft who had planned the building, a copy of the constitution and finally a picture of another Supreme Court fixture, not as famous as Chief Justice Taft, but just as beloved by some.

Without the frock-coated justices knowing it, and as deftly as John Marshall once inserted his Marbury vs. Madison wedge into the constitution thereby giving the court the right to rule on acts of Congress, watchman Cole had slipped his photograph into the steel box of the cornerstone.

It was a picture of Fanny, the Supreme Court collie bitch, giving suck to her seven pups. The learned justices did not know Fanny, but the watchmen loved her. She had come from nowhere, but she was their dog, and this was her big day.

So the picture of Fanny now lies side by side with that of Chief Justice Taft encased in marble as permanent as the system which Taft, as a guardian of the constitution, sought to perpetuate. And this week Lieutenant Cole, who loved Fanny and wanted her name perpetuated, retired from the force.

BY RUTH MILLETT: TO THE LADIES

The Feminine Viewpoint

"WOMEN make a mess of their lives because they constantly expend $10 worth of energy on a 10-cent problem," says Dr. Walter C. Alvarez of the Mayo Clinic.

That's true, of course, of the woman who hasn't quite enough to do to keep her busy.

Women are afraid of leisure, so the woman who doesn't have to keep on the jump to keep up with the work at hand, kids herself into thinking she is rushed to the breaking point by expending that $10 worth of energy on every 10-cent problem that comes along.

MILLETT

Such a woman can exhaust herself looking for a hat, having two couples to dinner, shopping for slipcover material, or preparing a book review for one of her club meetings.

To hear her tell it, she is always facing some major crisis. And she gets downright annoyed if her husband offers her a simple solution or says: "If it's too hard on you why don't you just skip the whole thing?"

The reason for her annoyance with the offer of a quick and easy solution is, of course, that it is just what she doesn't want. If she solved her small problems quickly and easily, she would be stuck with leisure time on her hands.

CAN'T WASTE EFFORT

BUT the women whose lives are filled with work that has to be done don't spend more than 10 cents worth of energy on a 10-cent problem. They can't—because they haven't got it to spend.

The mother of four or more children, for instance, takes small problems in her stride. She can decide how to handle a problem in nothing flat, and carry out the decision with dispatch. And she doesn't have time to wonder whether she did right or not, because she's already busy meeting the next problem.

The same is true of career women with responsible jobs. They don't get to the top in a man's world by expending more energy on a problem than is absolutely necessary.

It's also true of the woman who combines a full-time job with marriage. No woman can do two full-time jobs without having the knack for getting things done as easily as possible.

So in all fairness to women, Dr. Alvarez should have said that women who haven't enough to do to keep them busy mess up their lives expending $10 worth of energy on a 10-cent problem.

"Try And Stop Me"

GEORGE JEAN NATHAN is the source of the story of a two-hundred-and-eighty-pound linesman on the University of Pennsylvania football squad, who was named All-American three years running but never spoke a single word to other members of his team. Finally the coach begged, "Won't you break down and say just a few words to us before you hang up your togs for the last time?"

"Uh, uh," replied the linesman with a frown. "Me no spika da English."

THE city council of a ritzy California subdivision tried to make a citizen abandon a pig-raising program upon which he had embarked. The citizen, quoting the Four Freedoms, demanded a referendum—and won, 82 to 4. The four "nays" were the city council.

One voter printed on his ballot, "I like pigs a lot better than the city council." Another recalled. "It was pigs that helped build California."

BY ROBERT C. RUARK

Criminal Psychiatry Full Of Loopholes, Feigned Insanity

NEW YORK, May 26.—Dr. Frederic Wertham, a prominent psychiatrist, has written a fascinating book called "Show of Violence," in which he presents murder as a preventable disease of society. The murderer is regarded sympathetically as the patient, while the victim is rather cavalierly portrayed as merely a symptom of the disease.

RUARK

Dr. Wertham's idea is that if you get to the potential killer early enough and untangle his complexes, you can maybe love him out of a killing humor. He shows a rather astounding sympathy for Robert Irwin, the sculptor who once killed three people he wasn't mad at, in a moody fit. Irwin's fit was induced, the doctor says, by an abnormal childhood attachment to his mother. Dr. Wertham blames the state for "allowing" Irwin to become a killer, once his symptoms were manifest. This is rather odd of Wertham, because he, the admitted master, had Irwin under personal treatment long prior to his temperamental outburst.

Dr. Wertham also exhibits a startling benevolence toward the motivation behind the horrid career of a little old man named Albert Fish. Fish's lengthy sway as a murderous pervert contained attacks on at least 100 children, and he is credited with from five to 15 murders of kids. The kidnap-murder for which he was executed also embraced the loathsome sidebar of cannibalism. The writer's view is that both Irwin and Fish were "insane," from a psychiatric standpoint, and should not have been prosecuted as criminals.

Associates Assailed

At the same time Dr. Wertham suggests the psychiatric approach to murder prevention, he bitterly assails his professional associates in criminal diagnosis as incompetents. He even accuses one chief psychiatrist of abetting a rigid diagnosis under implied political pressure.

The writer explains graphically, while recommending mental hospitalization in lieu of punishment, just how easy for a smart crook to fake insanity and sell it to the experts. He tells how even stupid killers can dodge in and out of asylums as a method of ducking legal vengeance. While advocating psychiatry as a cure he mentions the case of one poor woman who got enmeshed in krafft-ebing, went into a panic, and killed her two kids.

How the good doctor intends to reform the killer in advance of crime I do not know, since he seems to find his fellows incompetent, psychiatry disturbing to some types of minds, and the madhouses incapable of choosing and holding their clients. The fact that any act of violence may be explained by probing would seem to indicate that there is no such thing as crime. Either we forgive everybody everything or continue to operate on Mosaic law as a possible deterrent to unbridled indulgence in whim killing.

THE VERY day the doctor's book came out, Judge Saul S. Streit of this city studied one of Dr. Wertham's reports on 20-year-old killer Robert Brown. Dr. Wertham had reported Brown insane, suggesting that his mental state was founded on an overdose of comic books and a deep-rooted complex which led Brown to seek his mam.

Judge Streit didn't buy. He sentenced Brown to 45 years in jail. Said the judge: "I did not feel that Brown went to the Greystone hotel armed with a loaded pistol, looking for his mother. He was not searching for a mother when he shot Robert Morris in the stomach. He murdered Morris because he did not have the combination to the hotel safe."

Just after the doctor's book hit the stands, a new and tragic story came out of Hazleton, Pa. It told how an amateur child psychologist had slain her 15-months-old son by banging his head on the floor.

This, the mother said, "was to cure him of a Freudian jealousy of his little sister." She suspected he was indulging in tantrums to annoy his 2½-year-old sister. So in good psychiatric fashion she went straight to the root of the matter and cured her son forever of his Freudian jealousy.

I am wondering how Dr. Wertham would clean that one up. It will doubtless be advanced that she had an anti-baby complex, due to the fact that somebody once stole a doll from her. But I should hate to have her advice on child care.

HOW TO HAMPER THIEVES

While a sure preventive for thefts and burglaries remains to be discovered, three precautions undoubtedly could help the situation in Lubbock, which has become pretty bad of late.

They are:

1—Lock your house before leaving it—this will stop most prowlers and burglars.

2—Supply police, or other authorities, as promptly as possible with descriptions of the property missing, including serial numbers of such items as watches, cameras and the like, and,

3—Urge attention by police to the search for missing articles. Many of the items undoubtedly are sold to those who have a pretty good idea they were stolen, and who would not buy if they feared they might be called upon to give an accounting to the authorities.

Of the preventives suggested, the most effective probably would be the simple act of locking your doors when you leave home. Authorities agree this simple precaution will prevent the great majority of thefts from such places.

Young Smoker Puts His Poppa On Spot

RICHMOND, Va., May 26 (U.P.)—Charlie Phillips, jr., who loves cigars, will have to wait 14 more years before he can light up another stogie.

Charlie has been demanding more cigars ever since his father gave him one six weeks ago. But police said they would fine poppa Phillips $100 if they caught Charlie, jr., puffing on another one.

Charlie, jr., is just two years old.

Rutledge Case Is Nearing End

CEDAR RAPIDS, Ia., May 26 (U.P.)—Tall, dawny-blonde Sydney Rutledge may be called back to deny today that she pursued Byron Hattman, the man her husband allegedly slew for seducing her.

Defense attorneys for Dr. Robert C. Rutledge, 28, said they might call the stately 23-year-old beauty back to the witness stand during rebuttal testimony.

Presumably she would attempt to refute prosecution witnesses who claimed yesterday that she wore figure-revealing sweaters while apparently chasing after Byron Hattman, 29-year-old engineer, at the St Louis electrical plant where they worked.

Final Arguments Friday

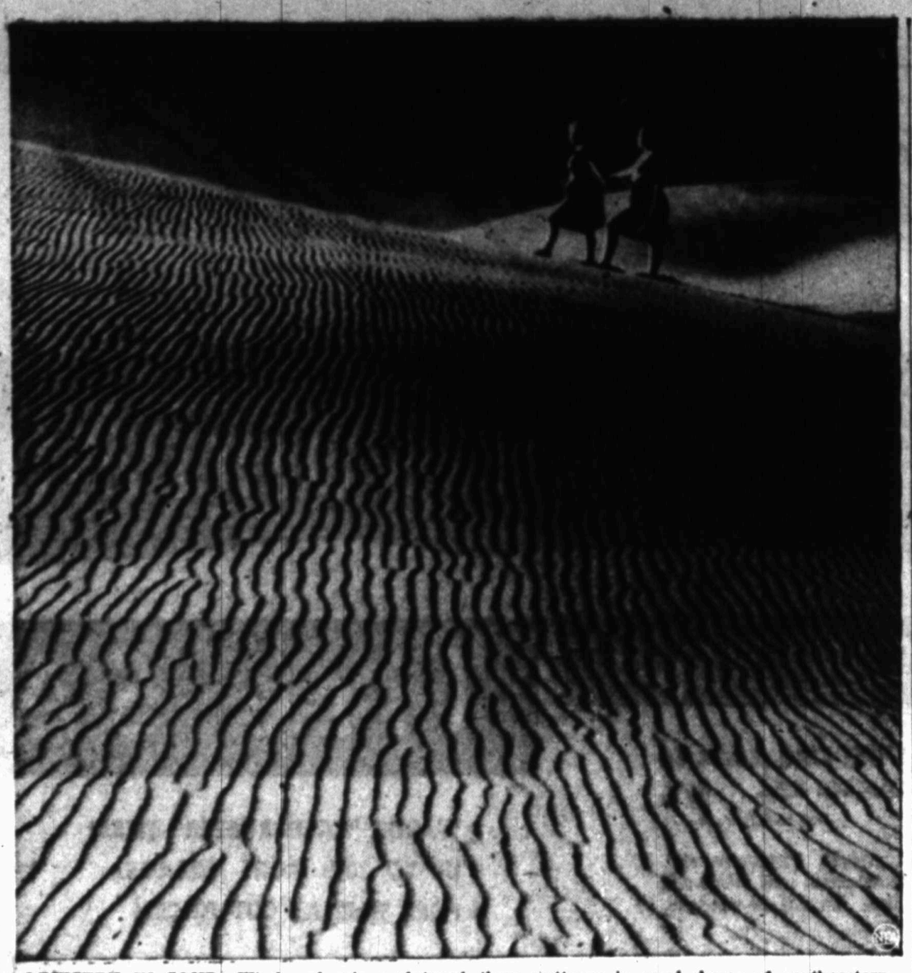

Rutledge, a St Louis pediatrician, is standing trial on charges that he followed Hattman here and stabbed him to death in a hotel room after Hattman and Mrs. Rutledge were intimate in the Rutledge's St. Louis apartment.

Mrs. Rutledge told a hushed courtroom in earlier testimony that Hattman got her drunk last July 31 and seduced her forcibly as she protested and struggled against him.

The defense contends that Rutledge actually came here to offer Hattman money to stop annoying Mrs. Rutledge. A fight ensued, according to Rutledge, and Hattman met death while the doctor was defending himself.

The doctor's attorneys said they would present five or six rebuttal witnesses, winding up their testimony by noon. If so, the opposing lawyers could present their final arguments this afternoon and perhaps give the case to the jury by nightfall.

Rutledge's attorneys said they did not expect to call the handsome physician back to the witness stand again.

ARTISTRY IN SAND—Wind and rain sculptured these patterns in sand dunes of southeastern Idaho to make this spectacular picture. While it appears the area might be a trackless desert, the dunes are only one mile wide and extend for 3o miles across a highly productive farm region near St. Anthony.

TWO OTHERS STILL BEING HELD

Cotton Man Puts Up Money For Vet Jailed For Debts

RUTLAND, Vt., May 26. (AP)—A sympathetic Tennessee cotton shipper contributed funds that opened the doors of Rutland jail last night for one of three war veterans held under a century-old law for non-payment of court judgments.

Ralph H. D. Fugatt, 29, a combat veteran, was released after spending 62 days in jail.

The court judgment, totaling $2,682.39, arising from an automobile accident, was paid by Edward Sanders of Memphis, who said he read of Fugatt's plight and "sympathized" with him.

Sanders was impressed with Fugatt's war record. He was shot down on his 20th mission over Germany and spent several months in a German prison during the war.

Cotton Exchange Member

Sanders, a member of the New York cotton exchange, owns the E. H. Sanders Cotton Co., of Memphis, and operates a cotton plantation at Hughes, Ark.

The money was turned over to Sheriff Geno N. Franzoni by Fugatt's counsel, Edward Shea, before County Judge Stephen J. Cushing. Sanders wired the full amount of the judgment after a telephone conversation with Mrs. Fugatt several days ago.

"I can hardly believe it," Fugatt cried as he was released. "I appreciate Mr. Sanders' gift. I only hope I can sometime do something to get rid of this type of law so others won't find themselves in the same circumstances."

The veteran has claimed from the outset that he did not have funds to meet the judgment.

Family Meets Him

His wife and infant son, who was born while he was in jail, have been living on a veterans' disability allotment.

Fugatt was met by his wife, his mother and his brother upon his release.

"Can he go right now? Can he go right now?" his excited young bride kept repeating, apparently disbelieving the order that released him.

"I'm happy for my family and to be able to get out now to seek a job to support my wife and child," Fugatt said through tear-dimmed eyes.

Of Sanders he said: "He must be a most generous and big hearted man. I'm deeply gratified."

The other two veterans, Bernard J. Smith, 23, of Fair Haven, and Frederic L. Lapan, 34, of Marshfield, are still held. Smith owes $2,600 and Lapan $450 on accident judgments. The former is held in Rutland jail and the latter in a Montpelier jail.

Atomic Measurement Of Snow Reported

WASHINGTON, May 26 (AP) — A new use for atomic radiation is a remote-control means of determining the potential water supply from mountain snow. Government scientists said the automatic method opened up broad possibilities for obtaining advance knowledge of such water resources in areas where mountain snow is a factor in planning farm operations, flood-control, water conservation, and the maintenance of hydro-electric power.

The technique involves placing a radioactive material on the ground before the snow season starts. A Geiger counter is poised above the ground. The more snow present, the weaker the radiation reaching the counter.

The counter gives out audible "clicks" which can then be transmitted automatically by radio to observers at a point far removed from the mountain.

Krug Says U. S. Ownership Of Tidelands Might Boost Output

HOUSTON, May 26 (U.P.)—Secretary of the Interior Julius A. "Cap" Krug stepped into the tidelands dispute hotbed today and asserted that federal control might bring a "boom" in oil production from the offshore areas.

Here as guest speaker at a "Save the Soil and Save Texas" banquet tonight sponsored by the Houston Press and the Houston Farm and Ranch club, Krug suggested that suits against Texas and Louisiana should be filed by the government "as soon as possible."

Private Leasing Favored

"I believe that when the tidelands issue finally is settled, there will be a boom in the development of oil pools in the tidelands which now seems to be held back due to uncertainty over ownership," the secretary said.

Krug had an idea, too, as to how the government should exploit the tidelands if they are brought under federal control.

"We should handle the tidelands exactly as we now handle other eminent domain—by lease contract with private oil drillers," he said.

Federal operation of the underwater lands, said Krug, might lend a more "secure" feeling to major oil companies and could justify increased operations and a "tremendous boost" in production.

Krug expressed interest in conservation of other Texas resources, such as chemicals being manufactured from the ocean and deposits therein, and said he would consider that further in his address.

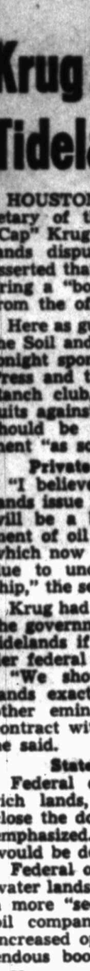

Officials To Attend

The second annual "Save the Soil and Save Texas" awards dinner was expected to bring some 800 soil conservation boosters together in a tribute to conscientious Texas farmers.

Prizes totaling $13,000 will be presented to 34 farmers by Walter R. Humphrey, editor of the Fort Worth Press, and who founded the "Save the Soil" program in the state.

Jim Carroll, program chairman and soil conservation director of the Houston Press, will serve as master of ceremonies at the dinner, to be preceded by a jamboree of exhibition square dancing.

Honor guests along with Secretary Krug will be Gov. Beauford H. Jester, Railroad Commissioner W. J. Murray, jr., Olin Culberson and Ernest O. Thompson, and state Commissioner of Agriculture J. E. McDonald.

Dr. E. N. Jones, vice-president of Texas Technological college, will deliver the commencement address to the graduating class of Andrews High school in Andrews tonight.

Jerry Thomas, 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Andy Thomas of 1950 Ave. N., severely injured the index finger of his right hand when he caught it in a wood lathe at the Boys club late Wednesday afternoon. He was taken to Lubbock Memorial hospital, where the finger was amputated, attendants said.

Word has been received here of the death Monday night of Grady Douthit, petty officer, USN, in Tennessee. Douthit, about 30, was killed in an automobile accident. He formerly lived in Lubbock and was an Avalanche-Journal paper carrier about 14 years ago. Funeral services are to be conducted Friday in Ada, Okla., a cousin, C. C Burns, of 1631 Eighteenth, said Wednesday. Mr. and Mrs Burns plan to leave tonight for Ada to attend the services.

Aviation Cadet Garland E. Casey, son of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Casey of 1908 Twenty second, has been recently transferred to the Waco Air Force base in Waco to begin his basic training for an Air Force pilot. Aviation Cadet Casey, who is one of 130 cadets in his class, is a graduate from Lubbock Senior High school and attended Texas Tech before enlisting in the service.

Dr. D. M. Wiggins, president of Texas Technological college, will make the commencement address to the graduating class of Texas Agricultural and Mechanical college in College Station June 3.

Creek Polluted, Two Officials Draw Fines

KINGSVILLE, May 26 (U.P.) — Residents along the San Fernando creek were feeling a little better today about the "hundreds of dead fish and an odor of rotting onions" they reported in the water.

Complaints of the suffering creek homesteaders brought about a hearing yesterday in which two celanese corporatoin officials were fined $150 each for polluting the creek with waste from the plant.

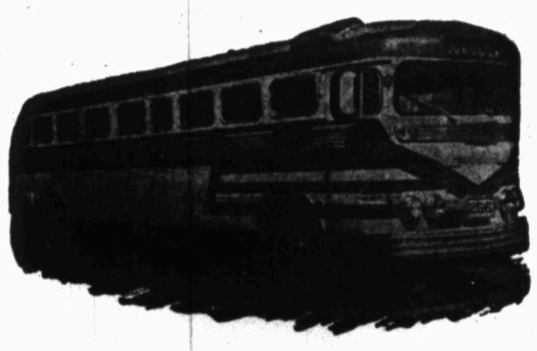

Manager Kenneth Bowen and utilities supervisor A. G. Florence pleaded guilty to the charge.
