No Hint From LBJ

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson, hero of the 1964 Democratic National Convention, sat out the opening hours of the 1968 version at his Texas ranch today — giving no hint whether he'd show up in Chicago.

There were no announced - in - advance visitors to the LBJ Ranch at the start of the new work week and no indication Johnson would be competing for headlines with his party's nominating convention.

Because Johnson will be 60 on Tuesday, there has been considerable speculation he might fly to Chicago for the occasion.

It is also known, however, that the chief executive is acutely conscious of the fact that few incumbent presidents ever show up at a national convention before the big nominating vote - and the one who did so most recently, Harry S. Truman, got little more than criticism for his effort.

Only one bit of prospective official business for convention week has been announced: In a summer commencement address Saturday at his own school, Southwest Texas State College in nearby San Marcos, Johnson said that Wilbur Cohen, secretary of health, education and welfare, would be visiting the ranch later and bringing him a series of reports.

Aides said Cohen's visit was not imminent. The Cabinet member apparently planned to be in Chicago for the first days of the convention.

Today In History

Today is Monday, Aug. 26, the 239th day of 1968. There are 127 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1920, the 19th Amendment to the U.S. Constitution went into effect. American women were guaranteed the same voting rights as men.

On this date: In 1246, King Edward III of England defeated Philio VI of France in the Battle of Crecy in Northern France. It's said artillery was used for the first time in history.

In 1584, the Dutch painter, Frans Hals, was born.

In 1765, the home of Governor Thomas Hutchinson of Massachusetts was sacked by a mob who thought he favored the British Stamp Act.

In 1934, Adolf Hitler demanded that France return the Saar to Germany.

In 1937 Japan blockaded Chinese shipping.

In 1964, a Democratic National Convention in Atlantic City, nominated President Lyndon B. Johnson by acclamation.

Ten years ago — 15 persons died in a typhoon in Japan.

Five years ago — A United Nations team began a survey in North Borneo and Sarawak to determine whether the people of the two British colonies wished to join the Federation of Malaysia.

One year ago — Bandits on the Italian island of Sardinia were kidnaping and murdering people in defiance of a government crackdown.

Humphrey Lead Big, But Uneasy

CHICAGO (AP) — Hubert H. Humphrey held a heavy — but highly uneasy — lead for the presidential nomination today as a deeply divided Democratic party headed into its 1968 convention.

The vice president had in his pocket two-thirds of the first-ballot votes needed for the top prize, but most of the talk and much of the enthusiasm were for two non-candidates hundreds of miles from this heavily guarded city: Lyndon B. Johnson and Edward M. Kennedy.

The President, home on the ranch near Johnson City, Tex., was giving no hint on whether he'd even show up in Chicago—though his 60th birthday anniversary Tuesday offers a dramatic opportunity to put real steam behind a budding "Draft Johnson" movement.

Sen. Kennedy, like Johnson an avowed noncandidate, was relaxing at Cape Cod, Mass., but a perhaps more insistent "draft" movement appeared to be surfacing in Chicago.

Forces in the Texas delegation are ready to put Johnson's name in nomination. Former Gov. Michael DiSalle of Ohio is ready with Kennedy's—and this morning important new strength turned the senator's way.

Longshot presidential hopeful George S. McGovern said if Kennedy "called me and talked to me directly and said that he wanted the nomination I would probably throw my support to him."

McGovern, a South Dakota senator, added, however: "I don't expect that to happen. I don't know about any Kennedy movement."

A second liberal senator from the Midwest, Philip Hart of Michigan, endorsed Kennedy for the nomination—and Sander Levin, chairman of the Michigan delegation, said he would "lean to Kennedy if Kennedy became a candidate.

Like McGovern, both Hart and Levin spoke cautiously, saying they were not urging the last of the Kennedy brothers to get into the race.

But a boom, or at least a boomlet, has been launched. Attention was centered particularly on the 118-vote Illinois delegation where, at the direction of Mayor Richard J. Daley, a presidential preference vote was put off until Wednesday—obviously to see if either the Johnson or Kennedy drives catch fire.

Blair Clark, campaign manager for Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, contended at a news conference in mid-morning "it now is quite clear" that Humphrey is not going to win on the first ballot.

On paper, at least, the strength of the declared candidates remained constant. The Associated Press, basing its count on primary results, public pledges, checks with delegates and caucuses, gave this standing in mid-morning:

Humphrey 889;
Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy: 477¼
McGovern 37½
Favorite sons 419½
Others 13
Uncommitted 785¾
The convention's 2,622 delegates make their White House choice Wednesday night.

On another front, meanwhile, Gov. Lester Maddox of Georgia resigned as a delegate to the convention—though he remains a candidate for the party's nomination.

Czech-Soviet Talks Show Little Promise

MOSCOW (AP) —Czechoslovak and Soviet talks dragged on into the afternoon today with still no sign of an agreement that would end the crisis. A Czechoslovak source discounted reports from abroad that the talks had ended.

Authoritative party sources in Prague said there was hope of reaching an agreement that would include Soviet recognition of the liberal party leaders in exchange for acceptance of a temporary Soviet occupation.

A Czechoslovak Embassy spokesman said President Ludvig Svoboda and other liberal leaders would return to Prague no matter what the results of the negotiations.

The spokesman said Svoboda would be accompanied home by Communist party chief Alexander Dubcek reported earlier to have been taken prisoner by the Soviet troops who invaded his country.

Authoritative party sources in Prague said there was some hope of reaching an agreement that would include Soviet recognition of the liberal Czechoslovak leadership in exchange for Czechoslovak acceptance of a temporary Soviet occupation force.

The spokesman said three more top officials, had arrived from Prague to join the talks as they resumed for the fourth day. The new arrivals were Josef Spacek and Bohuwil Simon, both liberal followers of Dubcek, and Oldrich Svestka, conservative editor of the party newspaper Rude Pravo.

With the arrival of Spacek and Svestka, the Czechoslovak delegation included seven of the 11 members of the party's 11-man presidium. Simon is head of the party's Prague city organization.

The Free Czech Radio announced that the central committee of the Czechoslovak Communist party, which is loyal to Svoboda and Dubcek, has been called into plenary session to discuss the Moscow negotiations and the current situation in Prague.

Another underground broadcast told Czechoslovaks that some compromise must be made to get the Soviet-bloc occupiers off their land but that it "need not be needlessly great."

The commentator said the invasion by the Soviet Union and four other orthodox Communist states added up to a "bungled putsch" by Communist leaders concerned not about the party's future but for their own "personal power."

Bergstrom Picketed

AUSTIN (AP) — Seventeen demonstrators showed up at the main gate of Bergstrom Air Force Base Sunday night to protest shipment of Ft. Hood soldiers to Chicago for possible riot duty.

A dozen armed military police, a sheriff's car, two highway patrol cars, a Secret Service man, a base photographer and several base officials and army officers quickly showed up at the scene of the demonstration.

The military and law enforcement officials then moved inside a nearby building to watch the protesters.

Demonstrators held up home-made signs, such as "Join the Army and See the Slums" and "GI's, Support the People", in the headlights of approaching cars.

OVER VIETNAM POLICY

Platform Floor Fight Seen

By EDMOND LeBRETON
Associated Press Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — Indications continued today to point toward a floor fight over the Democratic party's position on the Vietnam war, although both supporters and critics of President Johnson's war policy said they are seeking compromises.

Weary members of the Democratic National Convention's Platform Committee struggled into the early hours without apparent success in settling the potentially divisive issue.

Platform writers favoring what they term a strong peace plank claim more than enough votes to bring a dissenting report to the convention floor.

And Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey once again said Americans have the right to expect "some little sign" from North Vietnam that it would enter into meaningful discussions if bombing was stopped. There is no such sign, he stated.

Unconditional cessation of the bombing of North Vietnam is one of the points most hotly debated.

Even apart from the prospect of a Vietnam floor fight, preparation of the platform ran into delay after delay.

The scheduled Sunday night meeting of the full committee to consider a platform draft ended without completing its task and the drafting subcommittee could only hope to have a paper ready for a general session sometime later today.

A long review by the full committee could scramble convention deadlines.

Under normal procedure, the platform should be approved in committee in time to be printed and distributed to delegates and the news media before its formal presentation to the convention scheduled Tuesday evening.

Hanoi Sees De-escalation As Absurd

PARIS (AP) — North Vietnam condemned President Johnson's Vietnam war policy today a few hours before the start of the Democratic National Convention and said it would be "absurd" for Hanoi to comply with his de-escalation demands.

Nguyen Than Le, North Vietnamese spokesman at the Paris peace talks, commented at length on Johnson's Aug. 19 speech in Detroit calling on Hanoi "to join us in de-escalating the war and moving seriously toward peace."

"The U.S. government refuses to listen to reason," said Le. Washington's demands for restraint in reciprocity for the U.S. bombing cutback are "an absurd argument," he added, and "the victims of U.S. aggression and the agressor cannot be put on the same footing."

Ike Rests Comfortably

WASHINGTON (AP) — Army doctors reported today that former President Dwight D. Eisenhower has shown "further increase" in heart irritability since Sunday and remains in critical condition.

Doctors of the Walter Reed Army Hospital said that extra heartbeats have been occurring with "increasing frequency" since Sunday.

But they added that there had been no further episodes of "rapid heart action," which constitute the more serious sympton of his condition.

The hospital issued this morning bulletin:

"Gen. Eisenhower has shown further increase in heart irritability since yesterday. Extra beats have been occurring with increasing frequency. However, there have been no further episodes of rapid heart action.

"The general's condition remains critical.

"He enjoyed a light breakfast this morning and continues to rest comfortably."

Intensified Fighting Costly For Reds

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — Smashing Communist thrusts across South Vietnam, allied forces killed more than 1,000 of the enemy today and Sunday and raised their toll to more than 6,000 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese dead in the past eight days, military spokesmen reported today.

The intensified fighting went into its ninth day today with one battle still under way below the demilitarized zone. Near Con Thien, U.S. Marines cordoned off more than 300 North Vietnamese troops and were trying to tighten the noose around them. Fifty-two of the enemy were reported killed.

The U.S. Command said that more than 5,000 enemy troops were reported killed last week. The count has not been so high since the week ending May 18, when 5,348 were reported killed in the midst of the second major enemy offensive of the year.

The latest enemy thrusts smashed by allied forces were across Vietnam's central highlands and farther north along the coastal lowlands where hundreds of enemy troops were reported slain by allied infantrymen and a massive rain of U.S. fire and air power.

Senior U.S. officers in Da Nang said they saw no end to the intensified fighting. Total allied casualties have been light, because of superior American firepower from bombers, artillery and helicopter gunships which have accounted for perhaps 50 per cent or more of the enemy dead.

Military spokesmen in Saigon said two battalions of North Vietnamese had been wiped out in a weekend of savage fighting at the Duc Lap Special Forces camp and a nearby district headquarters compound.

Governor Connally Still Holds Votes

By GARTH JONES
Associated Press Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — Texas' 104 votes in the National Democratic Convention remain pledged to Gov. John Connally as a favorite son candidate, with no present plans to renominate President Johnson.

"My present plan is to hold the Texas delegation pledged to me until I change my mind," Connally told a press briefing Sunday night after the first closed-door caucus of the 122 delegates.

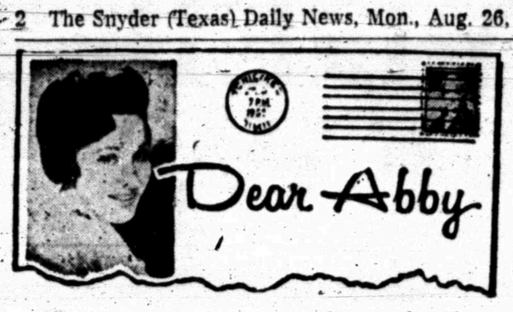

The Texas group caucuses again today to hear the latest in confusing convention developments before the opening session tonight.

"I may change my mind after the first or the second or the third vote," Connally said Sunday night, "but it will be only after talking it over with the delegation."

The June 11 state convention instructed the delegation to support Connally as a favorite son until he personally releases them. There had been considerable weekend speculation that Connally might drop the favorite son role and nominate Johnson.

"It is no secret that members of the Texas delegation are proud of President Johnson and would prefer to go for him instead of the present major candidates but there is no reason to believe there has been any change in his position that he is not a candidate," Connally said. "I do not think under any circumstances the Texas delegation would nominate the president. We are not here to promote a draft of any kind.

"But I don't rule out any possibility in a political convention," Connally said.

DEAR ABBY: My mother was looking thru my year book when she started to read some of the stuff the kids wrote in it.

Well, one of my friends, who happens to be a very nice girl, wrote, "Have a bitchin' summer." When my mother saw that she flew into a rage and hit the ceiling.

Abby, "bitchin" doesn't mean to us kids what it means to the older generation. There is nothing dirty about it. My mother can't believe it, so please, do me a favor and explain that "bitchin'" — when used by the kids today means, "groovy, neat or cool." Thank you.

NOT BELIEVED

DEAR NOT: Much as I dislike the word when used by kids to describe the ultimate, it does mean what you say it does. But don't ever use it to describe your mother — no matter how "groovy, neat or cool" you think she is.

DEAR ABBY: Your reply to the Man Next Door about the violin - playing 10-year-old missed the mark entirely. (You told the complaining neighbor to keep his windows closed and buy an air - conditioner.)

The VIOLIN - PLAYER'S PARENTS should keep their windows closed and buy an air-conditioner. The perpetrators of any nuisance noise should be required by law to keep their noise IN, or to stop it altogether.

There is entirely too much tolerance of nuisance noise in the U.S.A. today. In many European countries they are so strict about nuisance noise that all apartment houses are required by law to be soundproofed.

Many experts have testified that noise is as evil a kind of "pollution" as water and air pollution. It's not only nerve-wracking, it's a menace to one's health. Anyone interested in knowing the names of the above - mentioned "experts," may write to Congressman Ted Kupferman, who has been sponsoring a bill on Noise Control.

DEAR BEN: Amen! Tell Rep. Kupferman that the "noise" he just heard is Abby, cheering for his bill.

DEAR ABBY: I would like to reply to "MOTHER OF SEVEN," who said "the world would be a lot better off it people would learn to love the children they get, rather than take pills to keep from having them."

A person does not have to "learn to love" a wanted child. The "love" is already there. Altho, some people may develop love for unwanted children, it can never be as natural and free from prejudice. One cannot be taught, forced or shamed into loving.

That woman with seven children is a greater threat to the human race than the bomb. While she is busy overrunning this tiny planet she has the nerve to encourage others to follow her example.

Electric Car Race To Span Nation

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — Students of Massachusetts Institute of Technology set out today in an intercollegiate electric car race that will span the nation.

The MIT students, driving a converted Chevrolet Corvair, will travel west while a converted Volkswagen microbus driven by students from California Institute of Technology moves eastward.

The winner will be determined on an elapsed time basis.

Both cars will use the same route and battery recharging stations have been set up at frequent intervals.

Takes Charge Of Army Engineers

FORT WORTH (AP) — Col. R. S. Kristoferson is now in charge of the Fort Worth district of the Army Corps of Engineers.

He succeeds Col. Jack W. Fickessen, who retired in August.

The district is responsible for Corps water resource work on most of Texas and for military construction in Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Louisiana.

Kristoferson, 43, is a native of Silverhill, Ala.. A West Point graduate, he has served in Europe and Vietnam.

Authorities Seize Youth Atop Hilton

CHICAGO (AP) — Authorities seized a Milwaukee teen-ager on the roof of the Conrad Hilton Hotel Sunday and said they found a rifle with a telescopic sight in the trunk of his nearby auto.

The hotel headquarters for party officials at the Democratic National Convention and is the hotel of Hubert Humphrey and Sen. Eugene McCarthy.

Police charged the youth, Peter Laine, 19, with unlawful use of a weapon.

Wishes There Were More Like That

TERRE HAUTE, Ind. (AP) — Nellie Houser, a Terre Haute grocer for 40 years, said Sunday she received an anonymous letter with $10 from a person who "wants to make restitution for things taken from your store over a period of time."

"It sort of restores your confidence in the basic goodness of people," Mrs. Houser said. "But I wish about a hundred others would follow suit."

Peacemakers Busy At Convention

CHICAGO (AP) — Democratic peacemakers tried today to persuade Gov. Lester Maddox's supporters to sit along side an integrated group of insurgents and avert a floor fight over the makeup of the Georgia delegation at the party's national convention.

One source said party mediators were "moving heaven and earth" to try to win acceptance of the compromise decreed by the Credentials Committee, but the dispute remained stalemated late Sunday.

One committee member, California lawmaker Willie Brown, said "the chances are very good" for a settlement before the full convention votes on seating of delegates Tuesday night.

The 110-member credentials committee headed by Gov. Richard J. Hughes decided last week to divide the Georgia delegation between the regular group picked with Maddox' approval and challengers led by Negro state Rep. Julian Bond. Maddox has promised a floor fight. The convention may face other floor struggles sponsored by groups challenging regular delegations from Texas, Alabama, North Carolina and perhaps other states.

Some Credential: Committee members have been calling for reforms recommending convention delegates be picked in primary elections rather than by party conventions and caucuses.

During the past week the Crendentials Committee has acted upon challenges involving 15 states many based on charges that the delegate selection procedures have barred Negroes and other minorities from full participation.

The committee voted to unseat the regular Mississippi delegation, to impose a modified loyalty oath on the Alabama regulars and to split Georgia's convention votes.

Leaders of a Texas group seeking 50 of the 104 votes held by Gov. John Connally's delegation promised Sunday a floor fight over the Credentials Committee's rejection of their challenge.

The National Democratic Party of Alabama also called a news conference to vow a floor fight over loss of its effort to unseat the regular Alabama delegation.

And an integrated North Caroline slate headed by Reginald Hawkins, an unsuccessful candidate for governor, filed a minority report objecting to the committee's dismissal of its challenge to the seating of the North Carolina regulars.

New Heart Fails For 5-Year-Old

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Two male heart transplant patients were reported in good condition today, but a five-year-old girl died Sunday a week after receiving a new heart.

Leonard Drake, 42, a retired postal clerk of Eugene, Ore., ate a good breakfast and sat in a chair Sunday at the Stanford, Calif., Medical Center the third day after receiving his new heart.

He was the center's third heart transplant recipient and the world's 33rd.

Louis B. Russell Jr., 43, an Indianapolis, Ind., school teacher, was reported in satisfactory condition Sunday at the Medical College of Virginia Hospital in Richmond.

Russell's transplant Saturday was the world's 34th and the second at the Richmond hospital. The previous patient died in May, one week after the transplant.

Maria Giannaris of Hagerstown, Md., died Sunday, a week after receiving a transplant in the Texas Heart Institute at Texas Childrens Hospital, Houston.

Maria was implanted with the heart of an 11-year-old boy who had suffered a brain hemorrhage.

The first child—a 2½-week-old boy—to receive a heart transplant died 6½ hours after the operation last December in Brooklyn, N.Y.

Report Theft From Vehicle

Thieves stole an electric buffer from the pickup of Eloise Smith, 1002 Thirty-third Street, while her vehicle was parked in front of National Tank Supply, Lubbock Highway, about 9:30 p.m. Sunday.

Vandals cracked the windshield of the car of G. W. Sumfuld, 1609 Fifteenth Street, between 9:45 a.m. and 10:45 a.m. Sunday while it was parked on the south parking lot at North Side Baptist Church.

Randell Dollins, 3802 Galveston, complained to police that someone cracked the windshield of his 1961 Model Chevrolet while it was parked in front of a car wash firm in the 3800 block of Avenue S between 9:30 p.m. and 11:30 p.m. Friday.

Ignore Deadline For Return To Work

LUBBOCK (AP) — About 160 striking city workers ignored a deadline today set by the City Council for them to return to their jobs.

None showed up for the 7 a.m. deadline. The City Council said the workers would lose their employe benefits if they ignored the deadline.

The strikers, mostly garbage collectors, struck Thursday in a dispute over overtime pay. The workers want time and a half but the city pays only straight time for overtime work.

Neither union leaders nor city officials had any comment on the situation this morning.

Garbage collection continued in the city, however.

Police cars went with those garbage trucks which used city jail trusties for collection work.

Back At Post Office After Work Dispute

LAGUNA BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Paul Arct returns to work at the U.S. Post Office today after an eight-month dispute over his refusal to work Saturdays.

Arct, 48, a Seventh Day Adventist, says he was fired Dec. 20 for refusing to work on his day of worship. He had been with the post office 17 years.

Church officials helped him file an appeal, and regional officials reinstated him effective today, pending a formal ruling in Washington.

The father of three worked as a laborer at the nearby El Toro Marine Corps Air Station while his case was on appeal. Arct said Sunday that he holds no grudges against the post office.

Lose Life's Savings On Way To Bank

GARY, Ind. (AP) — A retired plumber and his wife, who said they never had trusted banks, were headed for a bank with almost $21,000 in life savings when they were robbed by two men.

There was a time when Texas, the largest beef producing state in the nation had to ship cattle elsewhere for finishing. But not any more. Feed lots dot the rural areas of Texas to feed Texas cattle. With scientific blending of feeds, these lots put incredible percentages of weight gain on cattle. Much of the work is done electrically. Some lots are almost completely automatic. Cooperative electricity loads the bins, grinds and mixes the feed and often sends it to the eating troughs with belts, pulleys and screws. The member-owned Midwest Electric Cooperative by furnishing a low-cost dependable supply of electric power has made such installations commercially feasible. This is just one of many ways the Midwest Electric Co-operative is Helping Texas Grow.

Miss Greenway, Mr. Breeden United In Double Ring Church Ceremonies

The First Baptist Church of Snyder was the setting for the marriage of Miss Linda Greenway and Mr. Joe Harold Breeden, August 24th at 7:00 p.m.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Joe Greenway and the bridegroom the son of Mrs. Helen Kellner, all of Snyder.

Dr. A. B. Lightfoot pastor of the church officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Wayla Walton played traditional wedding music and accompanied Mrs. Troy Scott, who sang "At Dawning" and "Our Wedding Prayer."

Joyce Greenway, sister of the bride was maid of honor, with Loreee Stoltz and Nancy Weyel serving as bridesmaids.

Attendants were identical formal length gowns fashioned of nile green taffeta accented with peau de soie around the empire waistline forming small bows in front. Their headpieces were of nile green tulle attached to a cluster of daisies. The maid of honor carried a traditional nosegay of yellow and white daisies with white satin streamers and English ivy. bridesmaids flowers were nosegays of white daisies with white satin streamers.

Rod Rodriquez, of Austin, classmate of the groom, served as best man with Terry Stone and Jackie Weaver, Snyder, serving as groomsman. Ushers were Tom Lowe and Douglas Wayne Burney of Snyder.

Katrie Sharp attired in dress identical to bridesmaids and her brother Larry of Tuscola, cousins of the groom were candlelighters.

The altar of the church was centered with a matching pair of white candelabras holding tall burning tapers forming an arch with bursts of emerald green foliage and tall baskets of white gladiolus used in the background.

Presented in marriage by her father the bride wore a formal length gown of silk organza with long sleeves forming petal point on hands. Yoke and sleeves were of Chantilly lace, crystals and seed pearls enhanced the yoke. Her chapel length train was attached at shoulders with organza bow and bordered with Chantilly lace. Pearl orange blossoms held her three tiered veil. She carried a cascade bouquet of white daisies and English ivy arranged on a white Bible.

For the traditional something old the bride wore a ring belonging to her paternal grandmother, something new the white Bible in her bridal bouquet, a gift of the YWA group from her church, something borrowed a pearl necklace from her sister, Joyce Greenway, something blue a blue garter a gift from Mrs. Roy McClosky and for luck a sixpence in her shoe given to her by Dr. and Mrs. David Perkins of London, England.

The bride's mother was attired in a blue knit suit and white accessories. The groom's mother wore a burnt orange ensemble with white accessories. Their corsages were white feathered carnations.

A reception was held in Fellowship Hall of the church following the ceremony. The bride's table was covered with a floor length cloth of white net over taffeta accented with nile green satin streamers. Bouquets of the attendants decorated the table. Mrs. David Fulks of Lubbock presided at the three tiered wedding cake which was topped with a miniature bride and groom. Mrs. Ronnie Lovell presided at the punch bowl. Caroline Stansell registered guests. Others in the houseparty were Mmes: Bob Bell, Faye Higgins, R. P. Mitchell and STUDENT HONORED — Edna Francao (center, with guitar), foreign exchange student from Sao Paulo, Brazil, was guest of honor at a "Coke" party held Thursday in the home of Dr. J. W. O'Banion, Jr., 2712 Thirty-second Street. Hostesses were Patricia O'Banion and Marcia McGlaun. Carolyn Reeves of Dallas also was a guest.

Mr. and Mrs. Troy Scott

For traveling the bride chose a coordinated suit of green dress and white and green checked coat with white accessories. Her going away corsage was a white Glamellia.

The bride is a 1968 graduate of Snyder High School. The bridegroom is a 1967 graduate of Snyder High School, attended Southwest Texas State College at San Marcos and is a Forestry Management major at Stephen F. Austin College in Nacadoches where the couple will make their home.

Out of town guests were from Goodman, Missouri, Mayfield, Ky., Mississippi, Puerto Rico, Houston, Coleman, Abilene Tuscola, and Sweetwater.

Teaching At Navajo School

Mrs. Jane Crowell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Beeks of Hermleigh, has been selected as one of five teachers from the Navajo Indian Reservation to field test newly written materials for teaching English as a second language.

The new material has been developed by Dr. Robert Wilson and his staff of UCLA. Mrs. Crowell will be working directly with Dr. Wilson and his staff. She will be testing this material in her beginner classroom at Crownpoint Boarding School, Crownpoint, New Mexico.

Jane had previously been employed by the Abilene and Jim Ned School Systems before becoming employed by the Department of the Interior, Bureau of Indian Affairs, in August of 1967.

She has taken graduate work from New Mexico University, Colorado State University, and is working towards a master's degree from Hardin - Simmons University.

Mrs. Crowell will also be serving as president of the Crownpoint Boarding School Chapter of the New Mexico State Education Association this coming school year.

Oilmen Hope For Changes During LBJ Administration

By MAX B. SKELTON
AP Oil Writer

HOUSTON (AP) — A spokesman for Texas independent oil operators has expressed hope President Johnson will correct some oil policy mistakes prior to the end of his administration.

"A little blunt talk about what this administration's unfortunate oil policy can do to undermine this President's place in history might now be in order," said W. E. Turner, executive vice president of the 4,000-member Texas Independent Producers & Royalty Owners Association.

"Probably never in history has an administration so often invited our suggestions for improving energy policy and done so little with those suggestions," Turner said.

Turner made his remarks in an article published in the summer edition of the association's membership magazine.

He was particularly critical of the administration's failure to overhaul the quota system for controlling oil imports. Some historians, he said, may not look kindly upon the Johnson administration if it persists to the end in rejecting all proposals for reform.

Turner traced the oil policy problems to a 1963 decision by President Johnson that Interior Secretary Stewart Udall, and not the White House, would set national oil policy. President Johnson made this decision 17 days after the death of President John F. Kennedy.

"Whatever the President and his policy intimates may think, those most directly victimized by existing oil policy, the domestic independent producers, have sought to offer only constructive criticism and to avoid potentially embarrassing accusations," Turner said.

"Though badly trampled throughout the Johnson administration, independents have been remarkably restrained in challenging oil policy decisions which have increasingly deprived them of their historic industry role."

Turner said independents have wanted to believe Udall's assurances that he was making oil decisions and "that the President had not participated in handing out (import) quotas to individual companies on bases alien to the national security purpose of controls."

"If indeed grave errors were being made, as seems obvious to us, we hoped that history would record they were being made at the direction of someone other than our President," Turner said.

"But in these waning months of the Johnson administration, we are left with the stark realization that every proposal for improving federal oil policy has been short-circuited somewhere in the political stratosphere."

Among the proposals blocked, he said, have been overdue crude price adjustments, legislation limiting and defining the Federal Power Commission's natural gas price regulatory authority, preservation of state proration of offshore production from federal encroachment, and the placement of import controls on sounder grounds.

Turner said that prior to President Kennedy's death a Cabinet study group recommended moving away from a system which allocates import quotas to individual companies on the basis of political decisions and toward a system based on some form of duty.

"This movement was short-circuited when President Johnson, ostensibly because he is from an oil state, 'delegated' oil policy to the secretary of interior," he said.

"Some of us clung to the belief that the President, once renouncing further political ambitions, would step in to protect his image. We expected him to make it clear, for the sake of history, that he is not married to the present unfortunate arrangement."

Turner said Udall, as late as July 9, has said the oil industry is not drilling sufficient new wells to keep pace with the national needs.

"Hence the administration cannot be said to be unaware that we're in trouble oilwise," he said.

"Yet the record is all to clear that the Johnson team is unable or unwilling to come to grips with the realities of the situation."

Turner said the verdict of history cannot be kind to oil policy mistakes that can cause the nation to become dependent upon unreliable foreign energy sources.

"That alone should be sufficient to compel a belated presidential look at where our nation's oil policy is taking us," he said.

HemisFair Marks Its Biggest Days

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — It was the San Antonio World Fair's biggest test.

And the turnstiles turned. And turned. And turned.

By the end of the day Sunday, 100,486 persons had passed through the gates and 18,090 had been up on the Tower of the Americas.

Both were HemisFair attendance records which in turn set three other marks:

—Largest seven-day attendance with a total of 361,667.

—Largest two-day weekend for the tower with a total of 34,877.

The previous high attendance mark was 62,219 set on Saturday, May 18, Armed Forces Day. The previous Sunday record of 52,649 was easily broken early in the afternoon.

Temperatures ranged between 85 and 92 during the afternoon, and even that was good news. For the past several days, afternoon readings had been an average of five degrees higher.

Despite the crowds, the atmosphere was gay and carefree Sunday, much like the fiestas San Antonio is famous for—and it was all at the price of two for one. Many local residents were paying their first visit.

Sunday was the day that saw feet in fountains and exhausted families stretched out on the grass, the day that hungry hordes swamped the food clusters, and the day of the turnstiles' biggest test.

The long day was marred by only one incident. At the Matterhorn amusement ride on Fiesta Island near the Texas pavilion, a 24-year-old Mississippi man was seriously injured when the car he was riding malfunctioned. The identity of the injured man was not immediately known.

The lines were long and the crowds were thick, but a member of one group obviously not at his first world's fair, remarked: "This certainly isn't like Expo. No waiting four hours in line."

The influx of humanity was sparked by a "two for one" offer that allowed admission of two persons for each single ticket. A majority of the attractions on the grounds gave the same offer. In addition, each visitor was presented a treasure tag with a number and told to search in the various exhibits and on Fiesta Island for numbers corresponding to theirs.

One happy exhibitor, meanwhile, echoed the sentiments of many others when he remarked, "I think we should have two or three more of these two-for-one days." Another commented: "We ought to have one every Saturday and Sunday."

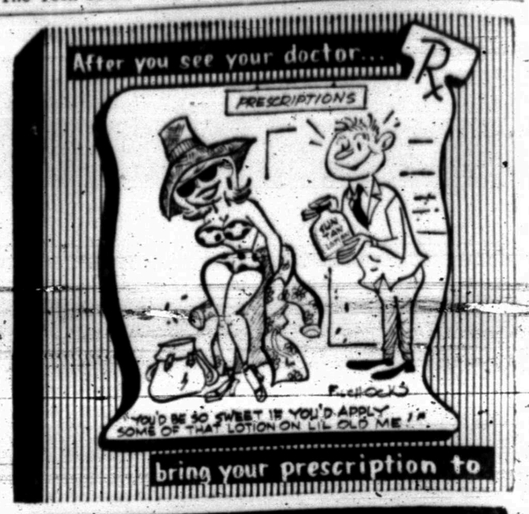

Abilene Beauty Is Miss Glacier Park

EAST GLACIER, Mont. (AP) — A Texas Tech music major from Abilene, Tex., is the new Miss Glacier Park of 1968.

The brown-eyed brunette, Becky Shoemaker, 21, was crowned Saturday at Glacier Park lodge.

The Tech senior sang an aria from Samson and Delilah and the song, "throughly Modern Millie" in the talent competition.

New York ranks 30th among the states in total land area and 26th in forest land area.

Cards 'Steal' Game From Pirates, 4 To 2

By ED SCHUYLER Jr.
Associated Press Sports Writer

It might be human to err, but it doesn't pay to overdo it when you're playing the St. Louis Cardinals.

Pittsburgh pitching limited National League-leading St. Louis to just four hits Sunday, but the Pirates committed four errors and the Cardinals used them for a 4-2 victory.

The Pirates pounded out eight hits, but the St. Louis defense was flawless in support of Nelson Briles, 17-8, and Joe Hoerner, who relieved and put down a Pittsburgh threat in the eighth inning.

In other National League games, the Chicago Cubs blanked Houston 2-0, Los Angeles edged San Francisco 5-4, Philadelphia topped Atlanta 4-1 and the New York Mets pounded Cincinnati 7-1.

The New York Yankees swept Detroit 6-5 and 5-4, Washington outlasted Cleveland 10-9, the Chicago White Sox trounced Minnesota 10-2, California downed Oakland 5-1 and Baltimore nipped Boston 3-2 in 18 innings in the American League.

The Cardinals scored in the second inning. Orlando Cepeda walked, stole second, moved to third on a groundout and scored when shortstop Fred Patek fielded Mike Shannon's grounder and made a poor throw to first.

St. Louis added a run in the fourth when Shannon reached on third baseman Maury Wills' throwing error and scored when Julian Javier's single got past right fielder Gary Kolb for an error.

The clinching run came in the fifth when Lou Brock scored from second as first baseman Donn Clendenon missed a throw from pitcher Dock Ellis, who had fielded Bob Tolan's grounder.

Shannon's single and Javier's double produced the final St. Louis run in the sixth.

Matty Alou singled in a run after Hoerner replaced Briles with the bases loaded and one out in the eighth. Hoerner then strck out the next two men to struck out the next two men to end the threat. Manny Mota hit a pinch homer for the Pirates in the ninth.

Ferguson Jenkins pitched a four-hitter and drove in a run with a groundout as Chicago snapped Houston's six-game winning streak and handed Larry Dierker his first loss since June 20. Dierker, who had won six in a row, now is 12-11.

Jenkins, 15-12 drove in the Cubs's first run in the second inning. Glenn Beckert's single, Billy Williams' double and Willie Smith's sacrifice fly produced the other run.

Los Angeles beat San Francisco's Juan Marichal, 23-6, on Paul Popovich's sacrifice fly in the ninth inning.

The winning rally, which snapped the Dodgers' losing streak at eight games, started when Tom Haller singled and went to third as Marichal threw low to second on Ron Fairly's bunt. After an intentional walk and a force play at the plate, Popovich delivered his sacrifice fly.

San rancisco had tied it with two runs in the seventh. Ron Hunt singled hom eht eifrst one and Willie Mays' infield out brought in the other.

Larry Jackson, 12-15, scattered five hits and Johnny Callison, back in the lineup after an eight-day absence because of a pulled hamstring, homered and singled in a run in Philadelphia's triumph. Hank Aaron hit his 24th homer for Atlanta.

Tom Seaver threw a five-hitter and smacked a two-run double in leading the Mets over Cincinnati. Ed Kranepool and Art Shamsky backed Seaver, 12-9, with solo homers.

John Bench scored Cincinnati's only run when he led off the eighth with a double, moved to third on a groundout and came home on Seaver's wild pitch.

Mustangs Begin Football Drills

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Southern Methodist University, an expected second division finisher in the Southwest Conference, opens fall football conditioning drills today along with a scattered list of other Texas colleges and universities.

Under National Collegiate Athletic Association rules, SMU must work out in shorts three days before donning pads for full scale two-a-day drills.

Coach Hayden Fry said the Mustangs will work behind locked gates. Canvas has been draped over fences surrounding the practice fields to create a clock-and-dagger atmosphere.

"We'll be trying some new formations,' Fry said, explaining the secrecy.

The Mustangs will have a squad of 86 players, including 19 lettermen. SMU will drill at 9 a.m. and 4:30 a.m.

Rice opens workouts Thursday and the other six SWC teams begin work Friday. Rice and SMU get earlier starts because their classes start earlier.

The SWC teams must wait until Sept. 21 for their first games.

Coach Bill Yeoman will greet 71 players at the University of Houston. The Cougars have an early opener, meeting the Tulane Green Wave in the Astrodome Sept. 14.

Twenty lettermen return, including rugged Paul Gipson, a stcond team AP All-America choice at fullback last season.

West Texas State got its workouts underway Sunday in a rather grueling way, jogging through its yearly mile run. Of the 57 squad members on hand, 32 are offensive performers. Eugene "Mercury" Morris, the nation's second leading ground gainer last year, will be on the team for his senior season.

The team that will meet the Buffs Sept. 14 in Canyon—Lamar Tech—saw 69 candidates report to camp Sunday under coach Vernon Glass. Physical exams were given the Beaumont team Sunday night in preparation for today's opening workouts.

Some 55 candidates were on hand at Brownwood Saturday for Howard Payne's conditioning workout.

Abilene Christian expected a record 85 candidates today for the opening of drills under new coach Wally Bullington.

"We'll go through a real hard conditioning program these first three days," said Bullington. "We'll be working on basic fundamentals, teaching defensive techniques, the kicking game and we'll be getting a good look at our new boys."

Pecan Bowl champion University of Texas at Arlington hits the field today. Coach Burley Bearden said 80 players, including 27 lettermen should be on hand. He indicated he will work the squad hard in preparation for the team's opener against defending national small college champion San Diego State Sept. 14.

Toros Whip Fort Worth

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It's apparent that San Antonio will be strong again this year in defending its Texas Football League championship, but trouble looms from a couple of newcomers — Beaumont and Odessa.

The Toros whipped Fort Worth 24-6 Saturday night to get the campagn underway.

In other games, Beaumont edged Dallas 24-24, Texarkana downed Tulsa 12-0, and Odessa thrashed El Paso 32-0.

Stuart McBirnie's 65-yard touchdown pass to Roger Gill in the third period sparked San Antonio. A 90-yard kickoff return by J. V. Stokes provided the clincher for the Toros.

Beaumont, which replaced Pasadena in the league, nicked Dallas on the passing of Charley Green.

Texarkana broke open a tight defensive duel on touchdown passes of 6 and 11 yards from Deacon Lewis to Bryan Levinsky.

Odessa stayed mostly on the ground to defeat El Paso with Dick Keller and Leo Lowry bolting for two touchdowns each. El Paso replaced the Sherman-Denison franchise in the league this year.

The Toros, unbeaten in 1967, are now in a first place tie with Odessa in the Western Division followed by losers Fort Worth and El Paso.

Texarkana and Beaumont are tied for first place in the Eastern Division followed by Dallas and Tulsa.

In games this Saturday night, Texarkana is at Beaumont, Dallas is at Tulsa, San Antonio is at Odessa, and El Paso is at Fort Worth.

Long Ball Aids Texas Leaders

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The long ball put Arkansas and El Paso another step closer to winning their respective Texas League divisions Sunday night.

Arkansas jumped five games ahead of Shreveport in the Eastern chase with an 8-3 victory. El Paso nicked San Antonio 3-2 to stay four games in front of Albuquerque in the Western Division although the Dodgers downed Amarillo 8-3. In the other TL game, Memphis blanked Dallas-Fort Worth 4-0.

Jarvis Tatum's leadoff homer in the sixth inning provided the margin for El Paso. Wally Wolf set the Missions down without a hit in the last four innings to pick up the victory. Q. V. Lowe was the loser.

Leron Lee cracked a three-run home run in Arkansas' sixth frame to power the Travelers to victory. Tempers flared in the seventh inning and Clarence Gaston of Shreveport and Arkansas pitcher Joe Hamende got into a brief fracas on the mound. Both were ejected from the

The home run—this time a grandslammer by Buddy Hollowell—gave Albuquerque an easy victory over Amarillo. Dennis Aust picked up the victory for the Dodgers.

Richard Folkers fired a two-hitter at Dallas-Fort Worth and his mates backed him with a barrage of singles to defeat George Gerberman.

In games tonight, Amarillo is at El Paso, Dallas-Fort Worth is at Arkansas, San Antonio is at Albuquerque, and Shreveport is at Memphis.

ARTHUR ASHE GRABS AMATEUR NET CROWN

By DAVE O'HARA
Associated Press Sports Writer

BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP) — Army Lt. Arthur Ashe hoped for a couple of days rest away from tennis today before entering the first U.S. open tournament at Forest Hills as the first Negro national men's amateur champion.

Ashe, a 25-year-old Davis Cup ace from Richmond, Va., stationed at West Point, said he was "mentally tired" Sunday after winning the 88th U.S. National Championship.

A slender powerhouse, packing less than 160 pounds on a 6-foot-1 frame, Ashe lived up to his No. 1 seed by rallying for a 4-6, 6-3, 8-10, 6-0, 6-4 victory over unseeded upset artist Bob Lutz in the title showdown at hot and muggy Longwood.

"I've played in the Nationals since I was 16 and now I've finally won the championship," Ashe said. "Everyone wants to win his national championship. This gives me as much pleasure as I hope I will get in bringing back the Davis Cup in December."

Lutz, a University of Southern California senior who will be 21 Thursday, upset U.S. Davis Cuppers Cliff Richey and Clark Graebner and South African star Bob Hewitt en route to his title showdown with Ashe.

The husky, young collegian, who paired with USC teammate Stan Smith in winning the U.S. doubles title Sunday, appeared en route to another startling upset against Ashe. Then, leading 2-1 in sets, he and Ashe took a break.

Lutz went directly to the clubhouse and showered. Ashe rested near the court and then changed his jersey. The result: Lutz cooled off, tennis-wise, and Ashe became hot, tennis-wise.

Maria Bueno, 28, of Brazil earned the 547th championship of an illustrious career by pairing with U.S. singles champion Margaret Smith Court fo a 6-3, 7-5 victory over England's Virginia Wade and Joyce Williams in women's doubles.

Bold Stroke Pays Off For Kathy

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Kathy Whitworth wasn't pleased with her golf game after nine holes of the second and final round of the Ladies' World Series of Golf.

"I was upset the way I played. I was pushing the ball and didn't have the concentration I needed.

"Maybe I was playing too cautiously so I decided to go for the stick more boldly. Things started happening and the putts started falling."

That's the way the 28-year-old Texan sized up her $10,000 victory in the $35,000 World Series Sunday.

Trailing tall Carol Mann by one shot after 27 holes in the 36-hole event, Miss Whitworth fired her second straight 69 for a four-stroke triumph over Miss Mann, the leading money winner on the LPGA tour.

Miss Whitworth carried a one-stroke lead into Sunday's final round but Miss Mann, with birdies on Nos. 2, 4 and 7, took command.

Then the tables turned on the 392-yard No. 10 when Miss Whitworth jumped ahead again—this time for keeps.

BOOSTER CLUB LIVES UP TO ITS NAME

The Snyder Booster Club meets at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday with the meeting open to women for the first time. Ladies became eligible for membership after a vote at the last meeting a couple of weeks ago.

A highlight of Tuesday's session in the high school cafeteria will be the showing of a film, "Highlights of the Southwest Conference," made available to the Club by Humble Oil Co. and Olin Bunch.

Membership cards, which sell for $5 each, will be available at the meeting. They also may be obtained from Red Faver and other Club members.

"Coach (Wayne) Tyrone will tell our group how the boys are doing," said Vonnie Black, the president, who urged local women to attend the meeting and join the Club.

He said the Booster Club is an organization for everyone who enjoys sports rather than "just for parents of athletes."

Continuing, Black said, "Our head coach and his staff do their job of coaching without the help of the Club. The Club helps with what we can under the rules plus the enjoyment of knowing the coaches and our fine boys and girls."

The Booster Club sponsors a PeeWee football team, a Little League baseball team, the Canyon Reef basketball tournament, and the Little Olympics.

In addition, the Club is involved in a number of other projects. For instance, Club members provide films of each varsity football game. Last year, the Club pruchased a water cooler for the dressing room at the field house, helped cheer leaders with the cost of posters and paints, and bought a new movie screen for football films.

Each year, the Club sponsors an ice cream supper for high school athletes and members hear scouting reports of upcoming games and hear discussions of past games each week during the season.

Former Baylor Coach Is Dead

JACKSONVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Funeral Services were scheduled today for C. P. Mosley, 80, former head football coach at Baylor University from 1914-1919.

Mosley died Sunday at a Tyler hospital following a long illness. Burial will be in Jacksonville City Cemetery.

A native of Sulphur Springs, Mosley coached at Jacksonville High School numerous years.

Survivors include his widow, a daughter, Mrs. George Brown of Tyler, a sister, Mrs. Mary Roundtree of Dallas, and three grandchildren.

Cortines Captures Race Car Crown

SMITHFIELD, Tex. (AP) — Buddy Cortines of Irving took advantage of a costly mistake by John Mulligan of Fullerton, Calif., Sunday to capture the $5,000 top fuel title in the American Hot Rod Association World Championship Drag Races.

On the final run of the day in the dragster eliminations, the dragster wheeled by Mulligan skidded sideways in the middle of the race and straightened out too late to catch Cortines.

Former champion Chris Karamesines of Chicago clocked the top time in the meet of 222.76 miles per hour.

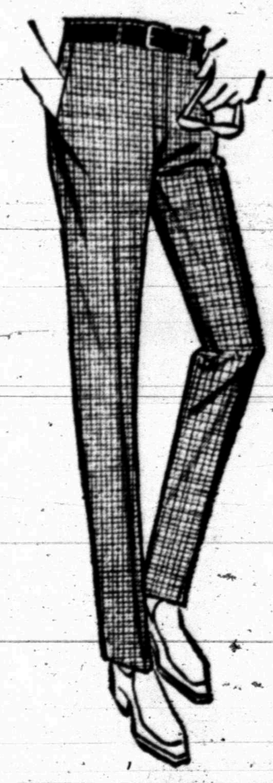

The AHRA's $100,000 championships end this weekend with stock car and motorcycle racing.

NOT A HAPPY CONVENTION

They're Expecting Violence

By SAUL PETT
AP Special Correspondent

CHICAGO (AP) — In Lincoln Park, which is only a few miles north of the hall where the Democrats hope to nominate the next president of the United States, there is a huge triangular field.

On the weekend before the Democratic National Convention, a sunny hot day that used to be described as languid, adolescents were playing baseball in two corners of the field. Along the edges and in the near background, people watched in a desultory way, families picnicked, lovers loved, children ran, old men slept in the shade and sail boats leaned in the wind in the blue, if not unpolluted waters of Lake Michigan. As American as apple pie.

In the third corner of the field, another group of adolescents sat on the grass around a chunky young lady in a bright blue dress who was speaking matter of factly into a hand microphone.

"Ninety per cent of hemorrhaging can be stopped with pressure," she told her audience, some of whom held babies, many of whom wore beards, tattered denim and the other symbols of adolescent disenchantment. The audience was made up of serious young people who expected soon to march on the convention to demonstrate for peace.

A bearded young man stretched out near the lecturer. "Now in artificial respiration," she said, "the thing to do is keep your cool but work fast." And she demonstrated artificial respiration on her bearded model and nobody laughed or gasped or otherwise reflected the implausibility of a first-aid lecture on extensive bleeding, as or shock to a bunch of kids in a sunny city park.

They were preparing for possible violence. In this town at this time, everybody seems to be preparing for violence. From all points of the compass one senses menace creeping into the city on little cat feet.

By the thousands, city police prowl the streets, squint from roof tops, guard the hotels and the convention hall, cluster on corners, wearing blue riot helmets, carrying big billy clubs and big black pistols. By the thousands, billeted nearby, soldiers stand ready with armored vehicles and bayonetted rifles. By the hundreds, agents of the United States Secret Service, the Federal Bureau of Investigation, the Criminal Investigation Division and other federal agencies, study the crowds in the hotel lobbies, search the convention hall for explosives, question people without proper credentials, and peek into handbags and packages carried into the hall.

By the dozens in the air over Chicago, the nation's second largest city, where Abe Lincoln was nominated with less display of force on the eve of the Civil War, helicopters circle over the convention hotels and the convention hall, where soon the saints will be marching in and happy days are here again.

And the cab drivers are on strike and the bus drivers are on strike, and the phone installers are on strike, and the traffic jams into impossible gluts and delegates arriving at the airport frantically wave twenty dollar bills at strangers in the hopes of catching a ride into town.

And the peace demonstrators march outside of the hotels with signs asking "Will napalm teach democracy?" and a lone eccentric carried a black bordered picture of a familiar face with the caption: "Keep the peace with Robert Kennedy," and the red-cheeked girls with a plastic straw hats are much less visible than they were in Miami. And in the hotel rooms, Hubert H. Humphrey, who had once hoped to be the new happy warrior of politics, who now keeps one ear cocked for some encouraging word from the ranch, works unhappily trying to hold on to his convention strength. He has the delegates but not the voters, say the polls. And in other hotel rooms, Eugene J. McCarthy, who is said to have the voters but not the delegates, sharpens his lance for the last big windmill while his young evangelical workers, the ones who followed him the whole lonesome way from New Hampshire, wait, almost prayerfully for victory in what they have called the Establishment's last chance. And in still other hotel rooms, the young-old men who followed John F. Kennedy all the way to Dallas and then Robert F. Kennedy all the way to Los Angeles, now discuss, argue, plan and hope to find a live hero.

This is not a happy convention.

Consumer Complaints Increasing

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Complaints from consumers that they are misbilled on their credit accounts at retails stores are common today, and not only are the errors disturbing but sometimes they are even dangerous to a person's credit rating.

In some instances efforts by customers to resolve errors are fruitless. A customer letter may go unanswered except for [illegible] another automatic dunning notice, slightly more intense and irritating than the earlier one.

Documentation for what some customers may have suspected is now provided by the Better Business Bureau here. In "A Report To Business" it finds a sharp increase in the number of billing error complaints filed with it.

During the first quarter of 1968, said BBB after analyzing 42,000 complaints, "incorrect billing or crediting of accounts comprised 6 per cent of the total compared with 4.9 per cent in the previous report," released three months earlier.

This, it continued, "constitutes a 22 per cent increase in the percentage of complaints about incorrect billing or crediting of accounts." A spokesman added: "We've noticed a startling increase for a year or 1½ years now."

The figures cited are for the New York area and are not necessarily representative of the nation.

In an effort to explain the problem, the controller of a large department store agreed to give his explanation of the confusion but asked that he not be identified.

"Now many stores are shifting over to one line descriptions of items. They're handling their billing with machines. And unless you change over with care you can have problems. We had good luck, thank God."

"But why do letters sometimes go unanswered?" the controller was asked.

"The tremendous volume precludes followup on every inquiry," he answered. "If you had to followup everyone of them you'd be paying for it in margin," explaining that it would cut so deeply into profits that prices might have to be raised.

Most department stores, he explained, have a big turnover in help. The level of worker performance is poor until training is completed. And then some aren't supervised properly. In addition, computers sometimes are poorly programmed.

Junior Editors Quiz on SAGEBRUSH

QUESTION: Does sagebrush have any value?

* * * *

ANSWER: The true sage is a garden plant with graygreen leaves which have an attractive odor and taste and are widely used in seasoning foods. But sagebrush belongs to a different group of plants. It is a small shrub growing in dry regions, such as the plains of the western United States. Here, the attractive little sagebrush clumps may be the only living plants for hundreds of miles. They relieve the barrenness of the country for lonely cowboys riding the ranges (top picture). Sagebrush plants have several uses. With their sweet-smelling leaves and rounded shape they are attractive and ornamental and so are often used to decorate western gardens. In the winter, when other food is scarce, sagebrush can be used for feeding sheep. Also, the dry wood of this plant burns brightly and is often used for camp fires. The smoke has a particularly attractive smell. Betty, in our picture, is thinking what fun a western cookout can be. She likes her hamburgers flavored with sagebrush smoke and well sprinkled with desert stars.

"MOSCOW IS THAT WAY"

Czechs Stage Sign Campaign

By HANNS NEUERBOURG
Associated Press Writer

PRAGUE (AP) — Road signs all over Czechoslovakia have been removed, painted over or turned around. Now they read "To Moscow."

Such signs have appeared on almost every road leading to the east. To make sure that the Soviet occupiers understand them, the Czechs and Slovaks have written them in the Cyrillic alphabet used in Russia.

On the route through southern Bohemia from West Germany to Prague, other signs read, "Ivan go home," in Russian, Czechoslovak and English.

Passing through the small villages of Bohemia, one sees walls and shop windows covered with anti-Soviet signs; many of them in Russian.

"We don't want your help," said one. "This is our country," said another. There were endless variations on the main theme "Moscow is that way, please get going."

New signs also warn travelers of Soviet checkpoints or roadblocks.

Entering Prague on one road, travelers encountered such signs as, "Soviet roadblock, 1500 meter ahead" and, "Watch out for Ivan, 500 meters from here."

Another phase of the sign campaign aims at confusing the occupiers and hindering their activities.

In many villages and in Prague, street signs and house numbers have been removed. Signposts have been splashed with buff paint. Others have been pointed in wrong directions.

As a result, the Soviets are finding it hard to get around. Russian truckdrivers losing their way in a town can never get more than a shrug from Czechoslovak pedestrians they ask for directions.

"Even our children have suddenly forgotten all the Russian vocabulary they learned in school," one native said.

In the first two days of the occupation, Soviet tanks were surrounded by youngsters trying to convince the Russians to leave.

This stopped after reports spread of hidden cameras filming the youngsters for Soviet propaganda newsreels showing the "cordial welcome" by the Prague population.

The rule is now to look the other way as soon as a Russian is spotted.

Western travelers, on the other hand, get all the help they need. Bystanders and even police readily guide them through towns and cities. In case of a car breakdown, they get fast service, even on Sunday.

Payment is usually refused, but drivers are normally handed a souvenir, a little card printed in English: "Ivan go home."

The world's oceans, ice fields, lakes, rivers, soils, rocks and atmosphere hold about 326 million cubic miles of water. Man draws upon less than one per cent of this supply.

Hustler Pilot Is Carswell Commander

FORT WORTH (AP) — A B58 Hustler bomber pilot has been named commander of the Air Force's first operational FB111 strategic bomber unit at Carswell Air Force Base.

He is Col. Frank L. Voightman, 48, who'll head the 340th Bombardment Group and the 411th Bombardment Squadron here.

The squadron will specialize in FB111 crew training.

The new planes will begin to arrive at Carswell from General Dynamics Inc. which is just across the runway, early next year.

Summer Excavation Reveals Rarest Archaeological Finds

By JAMES RAGSDALE
Associated Press Writer

WASHTUCNA, Wash. (AP) — In eastern Washington's scablands, at a campsite on the banks of the Palouse River, the New World's oldest known human scratched out a scant living and—Mysteriously—may have perished in a cannibal ritual.

That was about 12,000 years ago, when summers here were cooler, winters were harsher, and hunting was by spear and stone.

This was when the Marmes Man—one of the rarest archaeological finds in the Western Hemisphere—lived and died in his teens or early 20s.

Information about the ancient man are being unearthed in an accelerated summer excavation by Washington State University scientists at the campsite, buried until recently by soil of the ages. The site was named after area rancher Roland J. Marmes.

Since the discovery of the earliest known resident of this land, scientists to date have unearthed a skull cap, piece of a cheek bone, part of a wrist, bits of ribs and scraps of vertebrae.

They have also found some of his tools, bones of his prey—all scattered around what appears to be a prehistoric bonfire—in soil dated at 11,000-13,000 years old.

The summer diggings also have yielded artificats from still earlier times than Marmes Man's. Though not much is known yet about this find, the scientists hope it may produce an ancestor perhaps 500 years the senior of Marmes Man.

From small fragments already found, the experts are able to say with some authority who Marmes Man was and what may have happened here.

They know he probably roamed with an aboriginal tribe through the Pacific Northwest 2,000 years earlier than any other known discovery of ancient man in the hemisphere.

They know also that 14,000 years ago glaciers reached southward almost to the area now occupied by the city of Spokane, about 125 miles northeast of here. By the time Marmes Man visited here, the glaciers had receded to near the Canadian border.

This cooler, post-glacial atmosphere probably made life more tolerable than today, when little can survive off this arid, craggy land.

Skull fragments have told the experts this was a young man or woman who may have suffered a brutal death.

The first skull parts, found by WSU geologist Roald Fryxell, were identified last spring as being human. This was a startling revelation in the archeological world because other discoveries in the hemisphere could be traced with certainty only back about 10,000 years.

Marmes Man's campsite—where his bones may have been scattered after cremation, or following the suspected cannibalism ritual—is a few feet in front of and below what is known as the Marmes Rockshelter.

The shelter, carved in rock by the river in earlier years, was used by nomadic Indian tribes as late as 200 years ago. Fryxell and WSU archaeologist Dr. Richard D. Daugherty believe tribesmen through the ages—including Marmes Man and his ancestors—used the shelter to get in out of the cold.

Daugherty said Marmes Man's bones—plus most of the bones of elk, deer and perhaps antelope found at the site—were charred and picked open, indicating all had been cooked for eating.

"The site looks like there was a bunch of picnickers who didn't clean up after they left," Daugherty said. "Living was pretty grim down here and very likely the tribes moved through all the time toward warmer zones."

Daugherty believes evidence found to date makes cannibalism the best theory on how Marmes Man perished.

"We're now looking for evidence of dismemberment, and if we find it we likely can conclude the person was consumed, probably for ceremonial purposes," said Daugherty.

The discovery also adds a new distant link to the theory that the Western Hemisphere was populated by emigrants from Asia who traveled across on a land bridge—now disappeared.

Fryxell and Daugherty are heading the team of about 25 research and graduate students and professors working six-day weeks at the site, in temperatures exceeding 110 degrees.

They most move fast because the site will be covered by water in December by a new dam nearby.

The accelerated excavation is being partially financed by a Corps of Engineers aty the $70,000 grant from the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers at Walla Walla, and the U.S. Geological Survey has sent in experts to help gather scientific information.

The debris of war furnishes raw materials for Vietnamese craftsmen. Sheet metal salvaged from a downed helicopter may be hammered into kitchen pots and other items.

SCHOOL SUPPLIES — Sandra Burleson, a distributive education student at Snyder High School and an employe of Harold Bennett Office Supply, Inc., 1819 Twenty-fifth Street, displays "back-to-school" bargains. Bennett's can fill the needs of any student.

Bennett's Set To Fill All Supply Needs Of Students

Harold Bennett Office Supply, Inc., 1819 Twenty - fifth Street, can fill all of the supply needs of local students.

Before the old school bell rings, now is a good time to shop at Bennett's. The firm has binders for Snyder High School, Lamar Junior High School and Travis Junior High School with school colors and emblems. They have binders in Mod color with plastic covers as well as pen and pencil sets, rulers, erasers, paper clips — whatever the student needs.

Bennett's is headquarters for the art student. A large stock of all types of art supplies are available. Drafting supplies, Smith - Corona portable typewriters, both electric and manual, make ideal gifts for students.

Other items available include stationery, and scrap and photo albums which are ideal for keeping a record of the school year. Paperback books for the high school student include Roget's Thesarus, and such helpful volumes as "How To Read A Book," "Elements of Style," and required novels.

Picture frames, Bibles, greeting cards and other popular items can be purchased at reasonable prices at Bennett's.

Bennett's has a complete service department for typewriters, adding machines and Victor calculators. Eloy Ortiz, a factory trained mechanic, is in charge of the department.

Just dial 573-7202 and the friendly sales personnel at Bennett's will be glad to answer your questions concerning school supplies. Remember — Bennett's is the store where quality is combined with reasonable prices.

Hero, Beauty Queen Killed In Collision

DEL RIO, Tex. (AP) — Yolanda Cortinas, 20, and Jesus Cardenas, 22, both of Del Rio were killed Sunday in a two-car collision at Pomana, Calif.

Miss Cortinas was recently crowned Texas American GI Forum Queen and Cardenas was a decorated Vietnam War hero.

Miss Cortinas went to San Jose, Calif., to represent a GI Forum at the San Felipe Ex-Students Ball on Aug. 17. She and her mother were visiting with California relatives when the accident occurred.

Cardenas was awarded the Bronze Star and Purple Heart while serving in Vietnam with the Army. He was discharged about four months ago.

Governor's Daughter Is Badly Hurt

VIRGINIA BEACH, Va. (AP) — Becky Godwin, 13-year-old daughter of Virginia's governor, remained unconscious today as doctors assessed the full extent of injuries caused when she was struck by lightning on the beach Sunday afternoon.

The slight, brown-haired girl was in "poor" condition at Virginia Beach General Hospital, though doctors early today reported "some encouraging responses to intensive treatment in the last few hours."

Her father, Gov. Mills E. Godwin Jr., arrived at the hospital Sunday night from Chicago, where Virginia's Democratic National Convention delegation had planned to nominate him as a favorite-son candidate for president.

He was visibly shaken. The governor had been in Chicago only six hours when the accident occurred about 3:30 p.m. First reports informed him his daughter was dead. Then the report was: "extremely critical." He left Chicago immediately.

Becky, the Godwin's adopted only child, had been vacationing with her mother at the governor's seaside cottage on the state military reservation here. Her mother, Katherine, was recuperating from a serious abdominal operation she underwent last week.

An aide at the governor's office in Richmond said Becky had been playing in the surf under the watchful eye of Grady Norfleet, a friend of the Godwins, when storm clouds began to pile up offshore.

The aide said Norfleet and the girl left the water and were standing in sunshine on the beach when a lightning bolt struck, either hitting Becky directly or striking the beach nearby.

Both she and Norfleet were knocked unconscious. Two National Guardsmen nearby saw the bolt strike and ran to their aid. They kept her breathing with artificial respiration until an ambulance arrived.

Norfleet regained consciousness shortly afterward, but was admitted to the hospital for observation. He was not believed seriously injured.

'Go Easy' Philosophy Modified

MEMPHIS (AP) — Police coping with weekend racial disturbances that left one officer wounded, have modified their "go-easy" philosophy on racial disorders.

Past instructions to police have stressed the use of billy clubs and disabling gas, and there has never been any shoot to kill order against snipers.

Chief Henry Lux said, "We are serving notice on those who would snipe at a policeman that we are well armed and prepared to return fire without hesitation and with as much vigor and deadliness as we have at our command."

His pronouncement followed the Saturday night wounding of patrolman R. J. Waddell, 23, as he sat in his patrol car in the Negro South Side.

Two other police cars also were fired on.

Lux and Frank Holloman, police and fire director, were in one of the cars.

Officers blamed the trouble on the humid weather and the arrest of John Ferguson, 20, a member of a Negro group known as "The Invaders."

The disturbances came soon after Ferguson was arrested for disorderly conduct when two white men complained he pointed a rifle, found to be fake, at them.

Firebombings and disturbances occurred all through the area until early Sunday and police reported an upsurge of false fire alams and vandalism Sunday night.

Comes To Texas To Build "Most Functional Airport"

Editor's Note: New York City, an ex-New Yorker says, is flirting with decadence, the result of a lack of aviational foresight. "I don't want that to happen here," says the man tapped to direct the airport of the future, a facility designed to set an international pattern.

By MIKE COCHRAN

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP) — "This is a challenge, that's why I'm down here," said Thomas M. Sullivan, his blue eyes flashing. "When I get a staff, we're going to move.

"And the dirt's going to fly!"

That's the word from the candid, visionary, restless ex-New Yorker chosen to convert a Texas dream into an architectural and engineering wonder.

Sullivan, 54, assumed command in April as executive director of tse North Ttxas Regional Airport, a futuristic air center for which ground has yet to be broken.

The blueprint puts the facility across 18,000 to 20,000 acres Midway between Dallas and Fort Worth.

"We should start rolling by the middle of September, and from then on we're going to move," said Sullivan, lured here after 20 years with the Port of New York Authority.

The lure included an annual salary of $45,000 and a hand-picked staff of key executives already named but not fully assembled.

With his staff and a blue chip airport board, Sullivan is confident he can overcome a myriad of stumbling blocks and create the "biggest, the best, the most functional airport in all the world."

However, sources close to the action admit privately that neither the 1972 target date nor the present $250 million price tag is realistic.

Some say the cost could be twice that ant few hazard a serious projection on a completion date. All of which makes Sullivan mpatient.

This impatience flares occasionally in a burst of blue words, then swiftly fades into eloquent logic.

"It is my philosophy an airport is not an end in itself," Sullivan said. "I believe instead it is a means for a rational development of the entire economic area in which it is located. . .

"I believe this airport will be the most exciting economic, cultural and social stimulus possible for the future of all the cities in the immediate area."

And then the impatience erupts again.

"I came down here to build an airport. I want to build an airport, the biggest and best in the world. I don't want anybody getting in my way.

"I want to move. And that's by God what I feel. . .!"

But delay is inevitable:

Legislation is needed to provide airport board powers in such areas as taxes, zoning and bonds.

—Less than half the necessary land has been acquired.

— Several satellite cities threaten opposition fearful that the facility will absorb property that will cut into their future tax revenues.

—A dispute lingers over labor wage scales.

And that only scratches the surface of the hurdles that lie ahead. As one observer noted:

"The scope of the plan is in excess of any airport program in the world.

"This is not to be just a large airport, but an international hub with all the facilities of a full city, such as banks, stores, hotels and industry."

Sullivan put it this way:

"This is one of the biggest airport j obs i n the world.

"And it's going to take unlimited cooperation on the part of everybody even remotely associated with it to get it off the grocnd so it can become a reality."

Perhaps the best thing the airport has going for it is the airport board itself.

Headed by Dallas Mayor Erik Jonsson, it is composed of seven Dallas members and four Fort Worth representatives. They are influential, persuasive men.

And they reflect the spirit of cooperation that exists somehow between the two citits, long the bitterest of rivals.

Another favorable ingredient is the location.

"We have the air space and the ground space," said Sullivan. "New York, San Francisco and most other major cities have run out of that. Chicago is a case in point.

"New York is going to become a decadent city by the year 2,000 unless some positive action is taken toward additional construction of air transportation facilities.

"This is due to a lack of foresight for the future of aviation. I don't want that to happen here."

Another who stresses the importance of the location is Ernest Dean, dirtctor of engineering.

"Open space is our big advantage," he said. "Space to grow space for safety, space to adequately use available engineering talents.

"This will be the first of what will be seven or eight major airports in the world—an airport for planes still on the drawing boards."

He said the airport will accommodate the super airliners of the 1970s and the space age jets that perhaps will carry 1,000 passengers.

As set forth by the New York consulting firm of Tippetts-Abbett-McCarthy-Stratton, the airport will utilize still unperfected "people movers." These will keep traffic flowing along the proposed two-mile terminal complex.

Baggage handling will be automated, even computerized.

The airport will be adequate in size and facilities beyond the year 2000, said Henry L. Newman, director of the Southwest Region of the Federal Aviation Administration.

"Much has been done thus far," he said. "They have a good site and they have had good planning—and the planning is based on the future."

But he warned against delay, saying Dallas' Love Field, the region's major air center, will be unable to meet traffic demands of the future.

"What is happening in New York is exactly parallel to what will happen here if there is any delay in getting the regional airport," he predicted.

The expense and inconvenience caused by congestion at the three airports serving New York is staggering, he said.

Soldier Is Promoted

KITZINGEN, Germany—Marshall J. Farr, son of Mrs. Madaylene Reece, 210 Thirty-sixth Street., Snyder, was promoted to Army specialist four Aug. 2 while assigned to the 3rd Infantry Division in Germany.

Spec. Farr is a reconnaissance scout in the Headquarters Company, 1st Battalion of the division's 64th Armor near Kitzingen. He entered the Army in September, 1967, completed basic training at Ft. Polk, La., and was last stationed at Ft. Knox, Ky., before arriving overseas in February 1968.

The 20-year-old soldier graduated in 1967 from McLain High School in Tulsa, Okla. Before entering the Army, he was employed by Smokey's Motorcycles, Tulsa.
