Oil, Politics Mix In Texas Campaigning

By IRWIN FRANK

Oil and politics mixed in Texas Thursday as politicians continued their quest for votes in the Nov. 8 general election.

Speaking at Tyler, U.S. Sen. Vance Hartke, D-Ind., told a dinner meeting that Democrats are the oil industry's best friends.

But former Gov. Allan Shivers said at a dinner meeting in Waco that Democratic presidential candidate Sen. John Kennedy "votes against the interests of Texas on the oil and gas depletion allowance." Shivers is boosting the Republican ticket of Vice President Richard Nixon and Henry Cabot Lodge.

Hartke reviewed his voting record in support of oil measures and said "My voice has not been a voice in the wilderness. Most members of Congress, in particular Democrats, feel as I do."

Shivers was to be in San Antonio Friday and Hartke goes to Fort Worth, Abilene and San Angelo.

Shivers and Gov. Luther Hodges of North Carolina, Democrat, disagreed in Dallas over the relative merits of Nixon and Kennedy.

The former Texas governor, who heads Texas Democrats for Nixon-Lodge, told women at Love Field they should vote Republican to uphold fiscal responsibility.

Hodge said his "old friend has fallen victim to Republican propaganda."

If the election were held today, Shivers said, Nixon would carry Texas with about 53 per cent of the vote.

Hodges said "The cries of socialism are just propaganda for the other side. As a businessman of 30 years, I think we have got to have a growing economy and we have to take care of the people, as a whole."

Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., and Texas GOP Chairman Thad Hutcheson met in a TV debate at Houston where they discussed the differences in their parties.

Sen. Lyndon Johnson, Democrat, announced a helicopter tour of Texas for the final week of the campaign. It includes Amarillo, Wichita Falls and Fort Worth Nov. 3; Arlington, Grand Prairie, Dallas, Nov. 4; Beaumont, Port Arthur, Houston, Baytown, Nov. 5; the Lower Rio Grande Valley Nov. 6, and San Antonio Nov. 7.

House Speaker Sam Rayburn told a Denton gathering that "When John Kennedy was wearing a uniform of the United States he was not asked what church he was a member of." The remark was in reference to Kennedy's Roman Catholic religion and the fact that some persons are opposing him on the basis of his religion.

Wealthy Dallas oilman H. L. Hunt said in a formal statement Thursday that he mailed out copies of a sermon delivered by Dr. W. A. Criswell, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Dallas, prior to Kennedy's nomination. Hunt said the literature, which opposed the election of a Catholic as president, was sent in behalf of Johnson who sought the nomination for president.

"I am not at all critical of the Catholic Church," Hunt said and added he is not taking part in the campaign between the Democrats and Republicans.

John Tower of Wichita Falls, seeking the Senate seat of Johnson, said in Marshall that the American people have a choice of electing federal regimentation or individual liberties.

He told about 75 Republican leaders that the Democratic platform "is the most radical that has ever been advocated by any political party in the United States."

Johnson, now campaigning outside of Texas, will appear at a series of rallies and join three Texas congressmen on a television program on Nov. 7.

Bexar County Democratic Chairman James Knight said Johnson will appear on TV in San Antonio with Reps. Joe Kilgore of McAllen, John Young of Corpus Christi and Paul Kilday of San Antonio. Johnson will then go to San Marcos, where he attended Southwest Texas State College, and Austin where he will appear on another TV program. Johnson will spend election day at his ranch west of Austin.

Democratic National Chairman Sen. Henry Jackson of Washington, will speak at a breakfast and a rally of campaign workers in San Antonio Saturday. He will go to El Campo Saturday night.

Hermleigh To Welcome Exes

Homecoming at Hermleigh Public Schools starts off with a bang Saturday at 2 p.m. with the Hermleigh Cardinals taking on the Loraine Bulldogs before an estimated crowd of over 300 exes.

Coffee will be served during the game which will be followed by a barbecue supper.

The evening program will begin at 7 o'clock with a welcome to the exes by Curtis Wise, superintendent of Hermleigh schools. A short business session will precede the social hour at the school auditorium.

Mrs. Ardeth Miller, county music teacher, will be in charge of a musical program.

All exes are urged to come early and stay late for all activities.

Two Suspected Spies Rounded Up By FBI

NEW YORK (AP)—FBI Agents struck with lightning swiftness Thursday night to round up a Soviet employed at the United Nations and a German-born medical illustrator. Both men are accused of spying for the Soviet Union.

A third man, a Soviet national now out of the country, was named a co-conspirator but not a defendant.

Seized at their Manhattan homes were Igor Yagovlevich Melekh, 47, head of the Russian language section in the Office of Conference Services of the U.N. Secretariat, and Willie Hirsch, 52, who came to this country as a youth but never became a citizen.

The pair had been indicted Thursday by a federal grand jury in Chicago. One charge accuses the men of trying to obtain aerial photographs of Chicago, including military installations.

The Justice Department in Washington announced their arrests at almost the same time the FBI men closed in.

Melekh was seized at his apartment on West 86th Street while a birthday party was going on for his six-year-old son. Hirsch was alone in his four-room apartment at Fifth Avenue and Tenth Street, a fashionable section of Greenwich Village.

Melekh, who came to the United States in 1955, lived with his wife, Irina, and their two children—the boy, Mikhail, and a daughter, Marina, 2.

A stubby man with gray hair and horn-rimmed glasses, Melekh—handcuffed as he was taken into FBI headquarters—muttered: "We were well prepared. We were well prepared."

At another point he said, "It just shows everybody is ready."

In his job at the United Nations, Melekh earned $11,000 a year. The indictment against him said he also was known as Peter Stephens and as "Gypsy."

Seek Compromise On Arms Parleys

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—In an effort to head off a Soviet bloc boycott of U.N. disarmament debate, India and six other nations sought support today for a compromise proposal aimed at bringing the West and the Soviets back to the arms negotiating table.

Indian Defense Minister V. K. Krishna Menon hinted at the plan Thursday night in a two-hour speech before the 99-nation political committee.

Informed sources said India has drawn up a 9-point proposal with Burma, Mexico, Sweden, Venezuela, the United Arab Republic and Yugoslavia.

Diplomatic informants said the United States reacted favorably to the proposal, but the Soviets complained it left out any mention of Premier Khrushchev's proposals for a general and complete disarmament pact.

The Soviet Union and other Soviet bloc members have threatened to boycott the disarmament debate here unless Khrushchev's plan is accepted as the sole basis for negotiations.

The political committee has before it Khrushchev's plan, another resolution by the United States, Britain and Italy calling for step-by-step disarmament and a separate British proposal to set up a panel of experts to study inspection methods.

The General Assembly unanimously adopted a plan for surplus food to be distributed to needy nations by the Food and Agricultural Organization.

The plan was similar to that proposed by President Eisenhower on Sept. 22. FAO was asked to sell food, to be provided largely by the United States and Canada, at low cost and for the currency of the country needing it.

Justice Dept. Says Column Contains 'Baseless Innuendo'

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Justice Department says a column by Drew Pearson contained baseless innuendo against Vice President Richard M. Nixon and others.

In a statement issued late Thursday, it said Pearson had implied that the department agreed to settle an antitrust suit against the Hughes Tool Co., because Hughes' lawyer had made a $205,000 loan to a business venture headed by Nixon's brother.

The department said the antitrust action was proposed and the suit was filed after the loan was made.

Robert N. Finch, Nixon's presidential campaign manager, called Pearson's statements "an obvious political smear in the last two weeks of the campaign." He said any suggestions "that we in any way had anything to do with the Hughes Tool Co. receiving any so-called government benefits is pure libel."

Sen. Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn., said Thursday night that Pearson's charges in the Hughes case, as well as charges he said the columnist made about Maurice Stans, director of the budget, should be aired before the election.

The senator referred to a Pearson report that Stans has been and indirectly still is a participant in oil royalties from 1,060,000 acres of government oil lands in Alaska.

Kefauver said, "thus far, I have seen no denial by Budget Director Stans of the serious allegations in his case."

Stans replied in a statement saying he never has received any income from the lease interests since he entered government service in 1955 and never can do so because he transferred them irrevocably to a charitable trust in December 1958.

"The irony of all this attack," Stans said, "is that the four leases are worth very little. I understand that they had a market value of only $100 each, or a total of $400, when I gave them away."

But he said he "chose to lean over backward."

There never will be any income even for the trust unless oil is found on the lands, Stans said, and added that the trust has to distribute all its assets for charity after five years. The holder, Stans said, is the Alaska Charitable Trust which Stans himself formed, and the trustee is a well-known Chicago lawyer whom he did not name.

Stans said Pearson also reported he owns indirectly a "2½ per cent override" in more than a million acres of oil leases.

The interest actually was only .00125, Stans said, "and I gave this also to the trust."

Pearson had written that the Hughes suit was settled by a consent decree on April 4, 1958, "after the loan was advanced to the Nixon family." He said the loan transaction was made Dec. 10, 1956.

The Justice Department said its antitrust division proposed the suit July 19, 1957, and that it was filed in New York two weeks later. It said the consent decree came April 4, 1959, and was regarded by the department as entirely satisfactory in enjoining the actions it had objected to on Hughes' part.

At the time of the loan, Pearson wrote, the Hughes firm had various important matters before the government and "many of these problems got better treatment after the loan."

The money was loaned to Nixon, Inc., a restaurant chain then headed by F. Donald Nixon. The chain since has been taken over by creditors. The loan was made out to Hannah M. Nixon, mother of Donald and the vice president.

Nixon's campaign manager said the loan came not from Howard Hughes on his company but from Frank J. Waters, whom Finch identified as a California friend of the Nixon family. Pearson wrote that Waters was an attorney for Hughes and "was actually acting for Hughes with the approval and knowledge of the vice president."

San Antonio Scene Of All-Out Manhunt

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—An all-out manhunt for an armed convicted murderer who kidnaped an expectant mother and her young daughter, raped a woman and attempted to kill her companion centered in this South Texas city today.

The massive manhunt for Curtis Lee Jones, 38, covered a huge portion of the state Thursday. Police warned citizens to avoid contact with Jones, described as desperate. He is charged with murdering Doyle Jackson, 45, Texarkana, earlier this week.

Jones kidnaped Mrs. Walter Sears, 24, and her 2-year-old daughter, Cynthia, Thursday from their home near Anetta, about 20 miles west of Fort Worth. He forced the woman and child at gunpoint into their car and, eluding police roadblocks, drove 250 miles south to San Antonio where he released his hostages unharmed.

All during their ride Mrs. Sears "kept quoting scripture to him—it kept coming into my mind."

"I don't know whether it did him any good, but it helped me," she told newsmen. She helped her daughter color pictures in the child's coloring book during the ride.

Mrs. Sears, who expects another child early next year, spoke to her husband over a San Antonio radio station shortly after her release. He was en route to San Antonio by car after being told his wife and child had been taken here. Sears is a school teacher near Anetta.

Knowing he would be listening to the car radio she said, "Hello, Walter, I'm all right." Cynthia said, "Hi, daddy."

During her nine hours with Jones, Mrs. Sears said the ex-convict told her Cynthia is "one of the sweetest children I have ever seen." He halted the car four times on the way here to buy milk for the child, gasoline and cigarettes.

Jones, who has spent most of the last 22 years in prison, was charged with the shooting death of Jackson, an ex-convict, found in some woods near Texarkana Sunday. Jackson had been choked with a leather belt and all identification was removed from the body. He had been dead two weeks when found.

Jones was recently paroled from the Arkansas State Penitentiary where he had been sentenced to a life term for murder.

Fort Worth police said J. V. Verner and a 21-year-old second cousin of Jones found Jones in the woman's apartment late Sunday night. Jones forced them into his car, took them into the country north of Fort Worth, raped the woman and tied Verner's hands and feet and attempted to strangle him.

The woman escaped from Jones and made her way to a farm home near Anetta and called police.

Verner, left for dead in the country, made his way to another farm and was given aid.

The Sears home is about a quarter mile from Verner was tied and beaten and the woman raped.

FBI agents, state, county and city officers searched for Jones, putting up road blocks over much of Texas.

During the first few miles of the car ride with Jones, Mrs. Sears said, she cried. But she stopped after recalling the scripture quotation "Fear only him who can destroy both body and soul."

She said Jones listened to radio reports of the manhunt spreading through North Texas after police identified him as the man who raped the woman and choked Verner.

Jones told her he intended to try to reach Louisiana, but apparently decided to drive to San Antonio.

After arriving in San Antonio Jones drove around the city two hours, stopping on a north San Antonio street and told Mrs. Sears, "Just take off, just drive away."

Mrs. Sears said she stopped at a service station and called police.

She told reporters that Jones crawled through a back yard fence at her home as she burned some garbage at 9 a.m. She refused his order to drive him to town.

Jones then pulled a gun and said "You will take me to town," Mrs. Sears recalled.

She took her daughter with her and they drove to Weatherford where Jones bought gas and then headed for San Antonio.

Her husband heard of the convict being loose near his home and he went to his residence. He found his wife and daughter and the family car missing and called police. The car Jones had been driving was found in the area.

Auto Risk Rates Left Unchanged

AUSTIN (AP)—The State Insurance Board unanimously agreed today to leave statewide rates on auto insurance at the present level until the board's next rate meeting in the summer of 1961.

The board rejected, 2 to 1, a proposal by Chairman Penn Jackson to make the so-called safe driving auto insurance plan optional. Board members Ned Price and R. W. Strain voted no.

Price said the board in the past has viewed the plan as mandatory.

The board talked about asking the attorney general for an opinion on whether the plan should be mandatory. No formal motion to request the opinion was brought up.

Previously the board has rejected by 2-1 votes Jackson's motions to make the so-called safe-driving plan optional.

Under the plan, motorists must pay premium penalties for three years for moving traffic violations and accidents. Supporters of the plan assert it encourages traffic safety by rewarding a driver with a good record.

Rains Invade East Texas

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Nearly two inches of rain fell early Friday at Marshall in deep East Texas, causing temporary flash flooding.

Water ran deep in three or four houses on approaches to underpasses. Several streets were closed for a while.

The downpour came in one hour and 20 minutes soon after dawn. Water ran six to eight inches deep for a while over U.S. 55 inside the city.

Showers fell elsewhere in Northeast Texas and occasional light drizzle dampened South Central Texas. Fog was frequent in East and Central Texas.

A new norther was moving southeastward over the Panhandle and upper South Plains, but the cool air mass wasn't expected to extend beyond the central part of the state. An increase in showers through Friday night is expected, the Weather Bureau said.

Greenville in North Central Texas had 3.55 inches of rain in the 24 hours to dawn, Denison reported .63, Texarkana Dam .48, Paris .11, Kerrville .15, Beeville .08, Arthur City .16 and Junction .02.

Temperatures before sunup ranged down to 42 degrees at Dalhart in the northwest Panhandle.

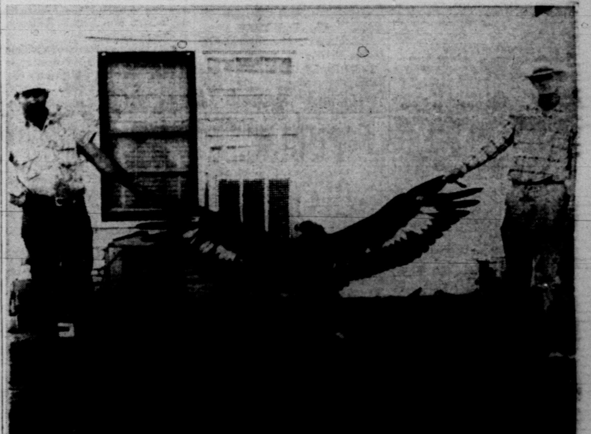
Fifth Debate Plans Remain Uncertain

NEW YORK (AP)—Prospects remained uncertain today on the matter of a fifth radio-television debate between the presidential candidates.

A report of tentative plans to stage another face-to-face discussion Monday brought a denial from a spokesman for the Democratic nominee, Sen. John F. Kennedy.

Peter Hackes, a reporter for the National Broadcasting Co., aired the report of tentative plans for a fifth debate to originate Monday in Philadelphia.

There was no comment from the Richard M. Nixon camp.



A STRANGER IN TOWN—Golden Brown Eagle, or Mexican Eagle? That was the big question at Red Jackson's service station at Union on Thursday evening. Tommy Pate, left, and his father, Bill Pate, are holding the eagle which was shot by Tommy on the Pate farm two miles north and one mile west of Union. It was shot at about 400 yards with a 30-30 rifle. The bird has a wing spread of seven feet.

Rioters Demand Algerian War End

PARIS (AP) — Demonstrations demanding an end to the six-year Algerian war swept France Thursday night with bloody rioting in Paris and a half dozen cities.

Thousands more demonstrated peacefully in scores of cities and towns. It was the biggest public expression on Algeria since the spring riots of 1958 that led to Gen. Charles de Gaulle's return to power.

The Elysee Palace announced that President de Gaulle would make a radio and television address to the nation Nov. 4.

About 100 demonstrators were injured in the street clashes that raged through the capital, Caen, Lyon, Toulose, Nevers, Toulon and Brest.

The fighting was heaviest along Paris' Left Bank, where 60 demonstrators and 15 policemen were hurt and 527 students arrested, most of the students were released later.

Nine newsmen and photographers were injured covering the Paris riots. The French national Press Photographers Association accused police of singling out newsmen for rough handling.

The French National Students Union, many of whose members face induction to bear arms in North Africa, had called for a day of national agitation for peace in Algeria. The government banned outdoor public demonstrations but permitted indoor meetings. The Communist party sponsored work stoppages in plants lasting from a few minutes to several hours.

The response to the student call exceeded all expectations. It emphasized the mounting outcry for the government to come to terms with the Algerian nationalist rebels and end the revolt that has taken a costly toll in lives and property. Ironically, most of the demonstrators who fell under the police clubs support De Gaulle's self-determination policy for the ravaged North African area.

In Paris, 3,000 students gathered in a Left Bank meeting hall and cheered speakers who called for a quick negotiated peace in Algeria. Thousands of others gathered behind police barricades around the hall.

The meeting was invaded by a band of right-wing youths, dedicated to keeping Algeria French at all costs, who tossed smoke and tear gas bombs.

The students poured out of the hall and clashed with police trying to enforce the ban on public demonstrations. Rioting spread throughout the student quarter. Fighting raged for three hours. Finally several hundred gendarmes and steel-helmeted riot police dispersed the demonstrators.

One American, Dan Sullivan, [illegible], a philosophy student from Dallas, Tex., was caught in the melee and wounded. He required only first aid treatment.

Krush Has A Warning

HAVANA (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev warned the United States in an interview published today by Revolucion, semiofficial organ of the Cuban government, not to test his promise of missile support for Prime Minister Fidel Castro's regime in any U. S. attack of Cuba.

Khrushchev told Carlos Franqui, Revolucion's editor, and a group of Cuban journalists now visiting Moscow that he hopes his promise of support — including Soviet rockets—will remain only symbolic.

Then Khrushchev said, according to Revolucion: "But for this it is necessary that imperialist threats of intervention against Cuba should not materialize into military action. Then there will be no need to confirm the reality of our statement about armed assistance to the people of Cuba against aggression."

Homecoming Tilt Slated In Hermleigh

HERMLEIGH — The Hermleigh Cardinals, riding the crest of an undefeated season, will be scanning the horizon for their eighth triumph of the year here at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, as they entertain the Loraine Bulldogs in the school's annual homecoming contest.

Loraine is winless for the year, with a record the converse of Hermeleigh's [illegible] 0-7. The Cards are battling for supremacy of district 6-B and started off in impressive fashion by downing district foes Bronte and Robert Lee. Loraine is 0-2 in the 6-B chase.

The Cards, guided by coach Ted Averitt who is in his first year at the post, will be led into the game by a trio of senior backs, who by coincidence are also the team co-captains. Those three individuals include quarterback Wallace Wall, halfback Joe Paty, and fullback James Vernon. Each has been an offensive warhorse in games played to date.

In amassing their enviurs 7-0 mark for the year the Redbirds have rolled up a total of 184 points to only 28 as allowed their opponents. Three of their victories have been whitewash jobs, and no team has been successful in pushing over more than a single touchdown against them.

In games played up until now Hermleigh has rung up victories over Coahoma (27-8), Aspermont (32-0), Rule (16-6), Roscoe (40-0), Wylie (26-8), Bronte (23-0), and Robert Lee (20-6).

LBJ Meets Two Issues In Oklahoma

SHAWNEE, Okla. (AP) — Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson met head on Thursday night with religion and the oil depletion allowance, a pair of issues plaguing southwestern Democrats.

Johnson urged Oklahoma Democrats to resolve their bitterness and unite behind the ticket he shares with Sen. John F. Kennedy, a Roman Catholic.

The vice-presidential candidate appeared before 2,700 democrats in this central Oklahoma city which strongly feels Baptist church influence.

Oklahoma Baptist University is located here. Many Baptist and other Protestant leaders have expressed misgivings about the election of a Catholic president.

But Johnson said he believes attidues against election of a Catholic president are not as strong now as in 1928 when Alfred E. Smith, a Catholic, was defeated by Herbert Hoover.

Johnson said Democrats are responsible for oilmen receiving the 27½ depletion allowance, and a majority of the Democratic-controlled Congress is against changing the allowance.

The Democratic platform calls for a review of several depletion allowances.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the Republican nominee, has said he will not change the allowance. It is an important issue in this oil producing state.

The crowd cheered as Johnson ticked off goals of a Democratic administration:

"We will get a secretary of agriculture who will work with rather than against farmers.

"We will seek to restore full parity of income.

"We will put new life into the soil and water conservation programs.

"We will devise plans to move our surpluses into the mouths of the hungry and onto the backs of the unclothed."

Johnson flew to Austin, Tex after the rally here.

5 Persons Killed By Runaway Auto

By PETE SEYMOUR

CHICAGO (AP)—A car driven by a woman who said she blacked out jumped a sidewalk and ripped through a crowd of pedestrians Thursday night, killing five and hurling their bodies across a busy downtown intersection.

Three persons, including the driver, were injured.

Dead and injured were thrown 25 feet as the car scooped up pedestrians and careened across the intersection at Randolph and Franklin Sts., at the west edge of the Loop.

Hundreds of homeward-bound persons in the evening rush hour watched in horror. All five victims lived in west suburban communities.

One of the fatally injured pedestrians was sprayed with boiling tar when the careening car struck a two-wheeled heating cart towed by a roofing firm truck.

The car, carrying some victims on its hood, then struck another car and both veered side by side out of control.

One body was found jammed beneath the second car which finally smashed to a halt against a row of cars in a parking lot.

The woman's car ended its path of carnage by smashing into a curb.

Witnesses said most of the victims were waiting to cross the street and had their backs to the cars.

F. Y. Mellen, said: "This car passed me going like a bat out of hell. There were three or four guys standing on the corner and they went flying end over tea kettle."

The driver of the car that police said triggered the tragedy was Bette Gillespie, 25, a home economist for a utility company. Miss Gillespie, daughter of former Chicago Alderman Joseph Gillespie, told police she started to halt behind a bus when she "blacked out, and woke up in the hospital."

Romie Gilkey, 42, driver of the second car, said he was crossing the intersection "when something hit me. It was going so fast it looked like an airplane."

Police said both drivers suffered from shock.

Dead were Carl Matre, 61, of Des Plaines; Leslie M. Miles, 63, of West Chicago; Carl A. Berggren, of Glen Ellyn; Carby Alward, 44, of La Grange, and Harold Murphy, 49, of Glen Ellyn.

Big Spring Bank Sold

BIG SPRING (AP)—Sale of a majority interest in the First National Bank was announced today by J. R. Hensley, president. He said H. H. Simmons, James Key and associates of Odessa bought the shares.

Hensley will remain as president. Simmons is expected to become a director in January. The transfer is effective Jan. 2.

The exact amount involved in the transaction was not made known. Hensley has owned more than half of the 25,000 shares outstanding. He is disposing of all but a small block of stock. Hensley said plans will continue for a new bank building in downtown Big Spring.

The bank, one of three in the city, has assets of $16,809,000 and deposits of $15,045,000.

Bern's Death Still Suicide

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Paul Bern, the husband of actress Jean Harlow, died 28 years ago — a death listed then, and again today, as suicide.

The case was briefly reopened this week after writer Ben Hecht wrote an article in the magazine Playboy, stating that writer-producer Bern may have been shot by another woman, and his death made to look suicidal to protect Miss Harlow's career.

After examining records and checking with Hecht, Deputy Dist. Atty. Manley J. Bowler closed the books again. He said Hecht conceded he had no reliable information to support his assertion in the magazine story.

Bowleraccused Hect of "peddling a wild and unconfirmed rumor."

Most Newspapers Back Republicans

NEW YORK (AP) — Most daily newspapers are supporting Vice President Richard M. Nixon in the presidential race but Sen. John F. Kennedy is getting more backing than did Adlai E. Stevenson in 1956, Editor and Publisher magazine said Thursday.

The trade journal said its figures still were preliminary but that so far 691 papers had endorsed Nixon editorially while 194 had come out for Kennedy.

In 1956, the magazine counted 740 papers for President Eisenhower and 189 for Stevenson.

Ike Politicking In Philadelphia

By JOE F. KANE

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower jumps into the home stretch politicking tonight with a Philadelphia speech in which he says he will "try to clear the air" in the presidential campaign.

He addresses a dinner sponsored by the Nixon-for-President Committee of Pennsylvania. A delayed telecast-abc-tv, 10 p.m. EDT-will carry his speech to the nation.

The President's trip to Philadelphia comes on the heels of his sentimental journey Thursday to visit the Virginia birthplaces of his mother and of President Woodrow Wilson.

At Staunton, Wilson's birthplace city, Eisenhower said:

"We dare not fail" on a second chance to win Wilson's great goal of "the reign of law based upon consent of the governed, and sustained by the organized opinion of mankind."

A crowd of more than 5,000 heard Eisenhower speak from the porch of Mary Baldwin College. His speech was billed as strictly nonpolitical.

"Societies must choose between the conflicting teachings of political expediency on the one hand and the pursuit of noble long term goals on the other," Eisenhower said." This is the kind of decision that free peoples are often called upon to make—and we can only pray that Wilson's counsel will always be their guide."

He said Wilson "was not a man who believed in bruising the ears of his fellow men with shrill cries of alarm."

Eisenhower and Democratic Sen. Harry F. Byrd, who introduced him, exchanged warm words of praise. Byrd, a power in Virginia politics, has twice withheld his endorsement of the Democratic presidential ticket while Eisenhower carried the state. The senator has not endorsed the Kennedy-Johnson ticket.

Before speaking at Staunton, the President visited the nearby birthplace of his mother, Ida Stover Eisenhower. She spent her girlhood in the Mt. Sidney community.

Hunt Says He Mailed Out Sermon

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Wealthy Dallas oilman H. L. Hunt said Thursday he mailed copies of an anti-Catholic sermon prior to the Democratic National Convention in an effort to win the nomination for Texas Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson.

Hunt said he has not taken part in the presidential campaign between Sen. Joha F. Kennedy, a Roman Catholic, and Vice President Richard M. Nixon, a Quaker.

Johnson, who sought the presidential nomination, is Kennedy's running mate.

An official of a Senate investigating committee last week said he had evidence that Hunt paid for the printing and mailing of 102,000 copies of a sermon delivered by Dr. W. A. Criswell, pastor of the First Baptist church in Dallas. It is the largest white Baptist church in the nation.

In the sermon Dr. Criswell opposed the election of Kennedy because of his religion.

"Many of my very best friends, including clergymen, are Catholic and I am not at all critical of the Catholic church," Hunt said in a statement.

He said the sermon "was indicative of the bitter controversy that would result if a religious issue were injected into the 1960 presidential campaign."

Roy A. Sheaff, an investigator for the Senate committee, said the mailings were anonymous. Federal law requires that political mailings must show the sponsorship of the publications.

Hunt said he learned the reproductions of the sermon inadvertenly omitted the name of Dr. Criswell. He added that the mailings were made independently of Johnson supporters.

FHA BANQUET—The future Homemakers of Snyder High School held their annual banquet last night in the school cafeteria. Dickie Martin, (center) was guest speaker of the evening, telling of his stay in the Philippines the past summer. A special guest of the evening was Thorunn Kjerulf of Iceland, (left) foreign exchange student at Colorado City. Miss Virginia Grove is pictured on right.

THE WINNER—The FHA banquet was quite different from any previously held by the students. Eight tables arranged by the girls depicted eight countries, each eating the native foods of their respective countries. First place went to the Hawaiian group, who were all dressed in native dress with a complete luau served by a barefoot slave. Second went to Italy and third to Japan. The colorful affair was judged by Mrs. Lillian Jones, Mrs. Dell Smith and Miss Thelma Leslie.

Ladies Lack Logic

NEW YORK (AP) — Advertising researchers have peered into the mists of the female mind and come up with some intriguing news:

The housewife collects food recipes in an almost compulsive manner. Know what she does with them? Files them neatly away, forever. Most of them she'll never read again, much less try.

You know when a girl finally realizes why she's taught fractions in grade school? Not until she's married and starts wrestling with cookbook recipes, trying to reduce meals for a family of four to her new twosome.

Once a woman develops a certain way of doing things, that's it. She is sublimely indifferent to any time - motion study aimed at helping her be more efficient, especially in the kitchen or nursery.

These findings are reported by Henry O. Whiteside, research director of a large national advertising agency. He tells advertisers to aim their messages, not to women as a whole, but to a select segment.

At a recent advertising conference. Whiteside advised:

"You can address your more novel ideas and products to the young wife. She is trying anything and everything in her brave new world."

He notes that in any one year, there are possibly 1,150,000 first marriages in a population of 50 million families — a relatively small target.

But, Whiteside notes, if the advertiser scores well with this group "he may collect a customer who will repeat for 30, 40, 50 years."

The mature housewife, Whiteside says, knows she can please her family by limiting experimentation at mealtime, especially if all her children are boys. He explains:

"Men and boys are ultra conservative when it comes to food. They like their meat and potatoes this way this year, they liked them that way last year and that's the way they want them next year,"

And Whiteside has this report on the homemaking education of American girls:

"When the girl is in the sixth, seventh or eighth grades she will follow mother around, watching, smelling, touching, tasting, asking a thousand questions — most of which are shoved aside.

"Mother doesn't want her underfoot, or sometimes indulges her in the creative experience of scraping carrots, peeling potatoes scrubbing the pots and pans, emptying the garbage or doing any other unpleasant work guaranteed to be uninteresting."

Whiteside said courses in home economics are offered in most high schools "but by now the girls's curiosity has been shifted elsewhere. Boys are being discovered."

Only when the girl has become engaged does she come up against the mighty task of feeding a man whose eating habits have been developed by his mother over a period of some 20 years.

Small wonder then, says Whiteside, that the young bride "has some feeling of helplessness and inadequacy."

Old-fashioned succotash takes on new ways. Cook, drain and chill a package of the frozen vegetables; mix with a tangy French dressing and serve on salad greens. Good with roast pork.

Quick lunch: quarter hardcooked eggs (freshly cooked and still hot) and arrange on buttered toast; pour mushroom sauce over and sprinkle with minced parsley or paprika for a bit of color.

Sit-In Is Broken Up

JACKSON, Tenn. (AP)—Racial relations snapped briefly here as angry white persons broke up a Negro lunch counter sit-in with eggs, insults, insect spray and finally shoves.

The sit-in Thursday was staged by five Lane College students, two of them women, who ducked their heads to escape the flying eggs and the insecticide spray.

The students did not resist when they were pulled from their stools at a Woolworth's lunch counter and pushed out the door. No injuries were reported.

The demonstration and another staged at McLellan's at about the same time were the first variety store demonstrations in this west Tennessee city of 36,000.

There were no arrests at Woolworth's, but five Negro students were charged with disorderly conduct and threatened breach of the peace after their arrest at McLellan's.

The sit-ins followed by two weeks a protest by Lane students against segregated seating on city buses. The company later announced it no longer would concern itself with where passengers took seats.

Dye Jobs May Be Required For All Chic Spacewomen

BY INEZ ROBB

Bobbie Burns was a great Scot and a great poet, a tribute I hastily write to ward off an avalanche of indignant letters from Scots wha' ha' with Wallace (not Henry) bled and their nostalgic organizations.

But Bobbie certainly gave the mouse an undeserved reputation when he dashed off that line about the "wee, timorous, cowering beastie". Wee, timorous, cowering beastie, my eye! Ounce for ounce, a mouse packs more swagger than any of nature's other fauna. Who has not seen one of these midget bullies panic a roomful of otherwise orderly women?

And now three of these alleged timorous, cowering beasties have sailed farther into space than any otherliving creatures and returned to tell the tale to other mice at the School of Aviation Medicine at Brooks Air Force Base, Texas.

Not only have Sally, Amy and Moe returned from a 700-mile jaunt into space in the nose cone of an Atlas missile to lord it over their confreres, but to reveal scientific data that will further advance manned space travel.

The adventure of this jaunty trio may well advance manned space travel. But it may definitely discourage womanned space flights. Dr. H. C. Clamman, special chum of Sally, Amy and Moe and director of space medicine in the School of Aviation Medicine certainly didn't make the prospect of space flight more attractive to my sex when he said:

"One thing we will look for (in Sally, Amy and Moe) is whether there has been any graying of their hair, which could indicate radiation has penetrated the hair glands and affected pigmentation.".

If, by unhappy chance, the historic trio (the most famous since Three Blind Mice) should turn gray or white within a matter of weeks, space flight may not sound nearly so attractive-even to those women who are convinced that anything men can do, they can do better.

There is enough to turn a woman's hair gray in this present world without courting it in space. So I shall be eagerly awaiting Dr. Clamman's report on the color and condition of Sally, Amy and Moe's hair. Of course, it is quite possible at some future date that the price of a ticket to Venus or Mars or the Milky Way will include a good dye job at the other end of the trip.

Come to think of it, on the most interesting and probably the most hazardous voyage of my life I wound up dyeing another woman's hair. When, as a correspondent, I sailed for Africa in a troop ship in Januray, 1943, I had prepared myself mentally and spiritually for every eventuality from submarine attach to violent death.

La, when I think of my solemn pledge to myself to die with my boots on, like a gentlemen, if necessary; to take the bitter with the better (including K rations) and never, never, NEVER trade on my feminity (that is, get the fighting men into the lifeboats first), I can now hoot with pleasure.

For the only great test of all this stern resolve to act above and beyond the call of duty came in mid-Atlantic, after nine uneventful days at sea, when another woman on the troop ship asked me to help her dye her hair.

Life on a troop ship can be a very great deal of the same, day after day, and a change in the shade of one's hair does vary the monotony. Frankly, I hadn't been smart enough to think of such an expedient, and probably wouldn't have had that kind of courage, anyway.

But I have always thought the woman who trusted me to do the job had a kind of courage that went far beyond mine. She put her head and her hair in my inexperienced hands. I read the directions on the bottle and did my best. I don't want to boast, but for an amateur, I turned out a first-rate job. Maybe the solution for womanned space flights is to load up the cone with an assortment of dyes and let the girls work on each other. It would pass the time.

Says Jews Excluded From Top Positions

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Discriminatory hiring practices in American corporations have excluded numerous Jews from top executive positions, the head of the American Jewish Committee said Thursday.

Jews constitute less than one half of one per cent of the total executive personnel in leading American industrial companies," Dr. John Slawson told the committee during its second day of meetings here.

Slawson said about eight per cent of the college-trained population in the country is Jewish and that managerial staffs are chosen largely from among college graduates.

Los Angeles held the National League lead on April 19 and was tied for first place on seven other occasions.

Cat Capable Of Teaching Its Master

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—If you want to learn how to live, get yourself a cat.

When you first get a new pet of any kind, you usually have a complacent feeling that you can teach it a thing or two.

Sometime later, you find to your surprise, you are the one being taught. Your pet teaches you more than you teach it.

Our household tabby, known as Lady Dottie, appears to our visitors no more than an ordinary black and white alley cat of large size.

Everyone in our family—my wife, Frances; my 7-year-old daughter, Tracy Ann, and myself—has learned something from her.

What can a mere cat teach a human being? Why, many things.

First of all perhaps, she can teach the value of a life of dignity without self-pity.

Lady Dottie, like all cats, is a four-footed island of self-respect. She may compromise, but she never surrenders. She allows no outsider to violate her dignity, and she never violates it herself by feeling sorry for herself.

Lady Dottie teaches the value of getting joy in life from small delights.

She yearns for no expensive toys. A box from the department store will keep her happy for two full days. She loves to lie in the crinkly tissue paper and pull the lid over her head. This is her castle in Spain on the living room floor.

Watching her play in this manner one day, I observed aloud: "You know, I really envy Lady Dottie."

"Oh, don't feel that way about it, Rover," said my wife. "If you want a paper box, I can get you one, too."

By nature, Lady Dottie was probably meant to roam the woodland as a wild thing. She is now a kind of a prisoner in a four-room eighth-floor city apartment where she spends all her nights and most of her days.

For about 15 minutes each morning she likes to go out in the hallway. Then she comes back and paws at the door to be let back in.

She has seen enough of the strange outside world. She is happy to return to the security of the apartment.

Besides demonstrating the art of making the best out of what life presents, Lady Dottie also teaches another important thing—the virtue of living in the present.

She never pines over the sorrows of the past, or broods over the terrors of the future.

These are a few of the lessons in living Lady Dottie has taught us.

If you want to lead a richer, happier, more carefree life, get yourself a cat—and let it teach you a few tricks.

Montgomery Police Patrol On Bicycles

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Some police are patrolling their beats on bicycles because the machines are less conspicious than cars and easier on the feet than walking.

Police Chief F. J. Ruppenthal gave the two-wheel duty to patrolmen in the downtown business and warehouse districts. "The idea of this kind of patrol work is to stay in the dark—and they can do just that on bicycles," the chief said.

Tigers Test Wolves Here

By Jerry Jackson
News Sports Editor

Snyder's Tigers, thirsting for a district victory following a 28-7 defeat at the hands of Sweetwater last week, entertain Colorado City's Wolves tonight in Tiger Stadium at 7:30, with just that objective in mind.

The Wolves, off-and-running in the conference race, embarked on same Friday, also, blitzing a highly-respected Lake View eleven by 15-0. They will also be shooting for the .500 mark over the season, as they now stand 3-4 in the won-lost column. The Tigers, on the other hand, are in the midst of a dismal year, with a victory over Breckenridge being the only win as chalked up to date by the locals.

On a physical note, the Tigers will be "hurting" in some areas, but still not "hurt" to any great degree. This is attributable to the fact that several boys are at present bruised and battered somewhat, but with the possible exception of defensive half Spencer Dyer should all be available for at least limited duty.

The Tiger offensive backfield may very well resemble hipster Elvis Presley tonight—"All shook up." Or such was the indication as relayed by head coach John Conley yesterday. Two starters look to be assured in the forms of quarterback Steve Free and left half Mike Moffett. Question marks dot the remaining 50 per cent of the backfield, however.

The situation could develop in which the two leading ground gainers of the team would both be held out of the starting lineup. Being pushed for positions are right half Mike Morris, the leading terra firma terror who sports a 5-yard per carry average, and Bob Pena, the big fullback who is second for the team in rushing yardage gained. Perry Culwell, a scrappy 135-pound speedster who is long on heart but shy on weight, has gained a tentative nod for the right half slot, while a tall and willowy Billy Andrews has been named as a potential starter at fullback.

Andrews has been a consistent performer throughout the season, although having seen limited service. He has lugged the ball on 13 occasions and has averaged three and a half yards per try. Culwell, up until now used only in the defensive secondary, has yet to run his first offensive play this season.

One other possible change in the Tiger offensive setup could see Mokey Hale, who has been ailing most of the week, at right guard in the stead of Bob Smith.

The Bengal defenses will have Reg Scarborough and Tommy Minton at guards; Charlie Gladson and Either Bill Weaver or William Robinson at tackles; Hale and George Wiley at ends; Moffett and David Wiman backing the line; Culwell and Morris at the halves; and Jesse Crawford at safety.

Hale and Minton will serve the team as game captains for the important district battle.

Wolf coach Sam Christy, presently in his first year at the C-City helm, will field a seasoned eleven against the Tigers, with 10 of the offensive starters being senior performers. The only junior on the starting unit is left guard Darrell Davis.

The Colorado City offense is geared around tailback Don Vest, who has been described in scouting reports as one of the finest backs which the Tigers will meet all year. He is a devastating runner and also a field goal kicker of note.

In a rivalry which dates all the way back to 1924, Colorado City has a district edge with 15 victories, seven losses, and three ties. However, "modern" history shows the Tigers holding the upper hand with three wins and a tie beginning in 1956.

Tiger Bees In Trek To Pony Confines

The Snyder "B" teamers of coaches Dutch Stehley and Jim Gafford have Horaio Algered themselves from early season oblivion to midseason prominence, and will be trying for their fourth win in a row in Andrews tomorrow night against the "B" team representing that city.

Prior to that streak they had suffered a dry spell which saw them dropping their first three games of the year.

Consistency has keynoted the Tiger Bees' campaign, as they scored a single touchdown in absorbing each of their three initial losses, then bounced back to rack up three TD's in each of their victories. One win was a revenge affair, as they rallied from an opening 6-22 loss at the hands of Sweetwater to tumble the young Mustangs by 22-16 in a return engagement.

Kickoff time in Andrews tomorrow night will be 7:30.

Trojans In Plainview

The Lincoln High Trojans of Snyder will be on the road tomorrow night for an 8 o'clock battle against Plainview.

The Trojans are 2-1 for the year, having gotten past Big Spring and Odessa while losing to Lubbock Dunbar.

Frog Frosh Flipped

WACO (AP)—Tom Davies ran across a two-point conversion Thursday night to give the Baylor freshmen an 8-6 victory over the TCU freshmen.

WHAT'S THE INDIAN WORD FOR 'FRIEND'?

Rough Night Encountered By Junior High Elevens

"Black Thursday," the dreaded plague of junior high coaches and players, descended ominously on the local scene last night, as two of the remaining three undefeated elevens in Snyder got themselves un un-beaten, if you'll pardon the expression.

Getting sucked under for the first time were a pair of once-tied delegations — Lamar 8th, which fell to Sweetwater by 18-8; and Travis 7th, a 30-0 victim of Big Spring Runnels.

Thus, Travis 8th — an 8-0 conqueror of Runnels in other action—became the only undefeated team in both junior highs, that victory being the sixth in a row for the high - stepping Blue Devils.

Lamar 9th posted the only other Snyder victory of the evening, pleasing the home folks by breezing past San Angelo Lee, 22-6. Gaining a scoreless tie was Lamar 7th, which did battle with Sweetwater, while the other participant of the night — Travis 9th — took it on the chin from Rnnels to the chant of 14-6.

Details follow:

Lamar 9th 22 SA Lee 6

The Lamar 9th Texans, led by the field generalship of rangy Jimmy Wilson and the power running of halfback Gail Potter, won their fifth victory in seven outings here last night, undercutting San Angelo Lee's Rebels by a 22-6 tab.

The Texans struck with admirable swiftness as the game started, as Potter hauled in a pass from the fingers of Lee quarterback Ronnie Henson deep in the Reb confines, running it back to their 15 before being chased out of bounds. Fullback Eddie Kirby blasted his way over left tackle from two yards out for the TD, after which Potter gathered in a pitchout from Wilson on a well-executed option play and skirted right end for the conversion points. That bit of excitement put the Texans into an 8-0 advantage with 7:33 still left in the initial stanza.

A Wilson - to - Potter heave which carried for 37 yards gained the Texans their backbreaker tally early in the second quarter. Potter, who had outdistanced the Lee defenders prior to receipt of the toss, waltzed over untouched for the marker. A carbon copy of the first conversion - Potter on the pitchout from Wilson and around right end - clicked again, putting the hometowners into a 16-0 halftime bulge.

A pass interception deep into the third quarter set the Rebels up for their only point - maker of the evening, the touchdown being realized on a 50 - yard ramble up the middle at 0:39 of the third. Halfback Jimmy Bihl, who had been responsible for the interception only seconds earlier, attempted to skirt right end for the points, but was upended prior to his destination.

Jimmy Feather put the capper on Texan scoring as just 15 seconds remained to be played in the contest. He successfully circled left end for five yards and six points, after which a conversion toss from Wilson to halfback Edward Schulz fell short of the mark.

The victory could prove to be a highly costly one for Lamar, as the team lost the services of stellar fullback Kirby indefinitely. He broke his left hand late in the second quarter in making a tackle, and may be out the remainder of the season.

Coach Ace Amos was elated over the team showing, pointing out the line in particular as turning in a great effort in limiting the Rebels to only 80 rushing yards. Amos, an accepted proponent of the crying - towel, about - faced somewhat in describing the game as the best by far which his team has played all year.

BS Runnels 14 Travis 9th 6

BIG SPRING — The Blue Devils of Travis 9th played one of their finest all-around games of the year here last night before losing to an improved Runnels eleven, 14-6. Previously they had been succesful in getting by the Big Springers earlier in the season by 24-14.

Two long scoring passes and a wicked brand of punt returning on the part of Runnels spelled the difference in the game. Runnels marked up its first TD in the second quarter, tallying on a 25-yard pass play. The conversion ramble around right end was good, which put the home team into an 8-0 halftime lead.

Then a fluke 30-yard aerial in the fourth stanza put them out of reach With fourth down facing them and long yardage to go on the Blue Devil 30, a high looping "rainbow" pass was lofted which hit a player on its journey downward and bounced perfectly into the hands of the Runnels receiver for the score.

The red-dog tactics of Jackie Stewart helped Travis score its only tally late in the game, as he sprang through to spill a Runnels ball carrier on his own 40, bringing on a fumble which was recovered by Travis. From there the Blue Devils drove 60 yards for the ice breaker, the big gainer being a 20-yard jaunt by halfback Ygnacio Benitez which carried to the Runnels 12. On a followup he ripped through right tackle for the final five yards to the double stripe. A quickie pass for the points was broken up.

Coach Bill Hartsfield was particularly high in praise of the Blue Devil line—both offense and defense—and lauded their combined efforts as displayed throughout the game. Penalties, passes, and punt returns were the Travis downfall, however, as Runnels succeeded in gaining some degree of revenge for the earlier licking as handed them by that eleven.

Travis 8th 8 BS Runnels 0

BIG SPRING—Travis 8th became the "Last of the Mohicans" among Snyder junior high football delegations here last night, as the blue-clad bombers of Charley Sparks and Bob O'Day pinned back Runnels' ears for an 8-0 victory.

It was the sixth win without loss or tie for the Blue Devils, who now may boast of the only perfect record in the city of Snyder.

A third quarter tally put the Travis eleven in the throne room, as Leslie Brown propelled his way 10 yards off tackle for the touchdown, with running mate Robert Foree adding the extras by slanting off right tackle.

"Red hankies" were instrumental in bogging down a number of other Blue Devil drives, as a total of four marches during the game were stalemated by penalties as called against Travis.

The Blue Devil defensive game was the biggest factor leading to the sought-after win, however, as Runnels was unable to dent the Travis 30-yard line throughout the contest. Bolstering the Devil defenses were Kenneth Dower, Gary Bergeron, and J. B. Murphy.

Foree was described as being the most outstanding back by far on offense for either team.

Sweetwater 18 Lamar 8th 8

The Lamar 8th Texans saw victory wrested away from them in the waning seconds of play here last night, as a pass deep in Sweetwater territory was intercepted and run all the way back to boost the visitors into a 18-8 triumph. It was the first loss of the season as charged against the once-tied Texans of Roy Carter and Ned Underwood.

The situation arose when—trailing by 8-12, Lamar drove to the Colt six-yard line as time was running out. Quarterback Jay Williamson lofted an airmail package intended for halfback Jerry Vestal at that point. It never found its mark, however, as a leaping thievery on the goalline and a 100-yard runback down the far sideline combined to crush the Texan hopes for victory.

Earlier, Sweetwater had edged out to a 6-0 halftime lead when—with 0:27 left in the half—a 60-yard pass play clicked for a touchdown. Prior to the intermission buzzer Lamar threatened mightily, as an Al Williams to Shorty Bennett aerial was good for 30 yards to the Sweetwater three before Bennett was hauled down from behind. The clock ran out during the running of that play, however.

Tom Kincaid put the Texans into a lead early in the third period, tallying a touchdown on a one-yard run around left end. He followed up by hitting left guard for the points, putting the locals into an 8-6 lead at that stage.

A three-yard chug up the middle late in the same quarter earned the Colts their go-ahead TD, after which the two teams battled on even terms through the final quarter before the final fatal turn of events.

Sparking the losing effort for Lamar were Williamson, Vestal, Kincaid, and Bennett on offense, while Vestal and Kincaid were also cited for their defensive prowess displayed during the game.

BS Runnels 30 Travis 7th 0

BIG SPRING — The Travis 7th Blue Devils got themselves unceremoniously bounced from the ranks of the undefeated here last night, as they were dealt a 30-0 clipping with Runnels on the shearing end of things.

It was the first loss as suffered by the Willie Bigham - James Wesson mentored Travisites following three victories and a tie.

Runnels parlayed a consistently sound running game into victory, as they startled the Blue Devils on the opening kickoff by running it back for 70 yards and a touchdown, then added two more tallies prior to the half on runs of 30 and 25 yards for a 22-0 intermission lead.

A 40 - yard jaunt in the second half rounded out the scoring for the evening to bring on the final 30-0 score.

The Blue Devils turned in a fine team effort, reports coach Wesson, and were able to move the ball well. Fumbles at crucial stages of the game plus inadequate downfield blocking were instrumental in leading to the peppering, however.

Lamar 7th 0 Sweetwater 0

Revenge-seeking Lamar 7th battled Sweetwater to a scoreless stalemate here last night, as a game-ending scoring effort on the part of the locals fell short of the goal as the clock ticked off its final seconds. The Texans were "knocking on the door" when the gun sounded, with the drive being nipped on the Colt 20-yard line.

The two teams had met once before this year, at which time Sweetwater gained a 6-0 victory.

Showing up well for the Texans in the offensive backfield were quarterback Roy Taylor, halfbacks Eddie Greenfield and Roy Kizer, and fullback Kenneth Deike. The throwing arm of Greenfield helped to spark the drives as mustered by Lamar.

Defensively, the local eleven proved itself to be double-tough, reeling Sweetwater back on its heels throughout the entire game. Shining especially bright on defense were linebacker Deike, tackle Freddie Johnston, and end Fred Wiman.

Tidelands Leases Are Up For Bids

AUSTIN (AP)—Texas oil and gas men will get their first crack at leases on the Texas tidelands outside the three mile limit Dec. 6, Land Commissioner Bill Allcorn says.

Allcorn said Thursday 75,211 acres of the submerged lands will be up for oil and gas lease.

Terms in the sealed bid auction are one-sixth royalty to the state, five dollars per acre annual rental and minimum cash bonus of $15 per acre.

The total offering includes 81 Gulf of Mexico tracts totaling 107,937 acres lying off Brazoria, Matagorda, Chambers, Jefferson, Galveston, Kleberg and Willacy counties.

In all, 520 tracts of state school land totaling 320,664 acres will be offered in the largest auction since 1953, Allcorn said. At the same time, bids will be opened for 10 tracts of State Hospital Board lands and 3,862 acres of Texas prison lands in Brazoria County.

Privately owned tracts in which the state retains one-half mineral interest in Reeves, Crane, Howard and Culberson counties will be offered also.

The surveyed school land tracts include acreage in Briscoe, Brown, Crane, Crockett, Duval, Eastland, Hood, Loving, Marion, Pecos, Polks, Potter, Reagan, Reeves, Scurry, Stephens, Taylor, Tyler Ward, Wise, Yoakum, Brewster, Hudspeth, Presidio, Jeff Davis and Reevss counties.

The Trans-Pecos tracts, totaling 40,328 acres, are offered for the first time under the new fixed minimum of five dollars per acre bonus and one dollar per acre rental.

Oregon Man Puts His Tomb To Use

JUNTURA, Ore. (AP) — An eastern Oregon rancher has his tomb ready but until he needs it for his burial, Tom Goodwin, 65, says he will use the concrete structure as a hunting and fishing cabin.

Goodwin says he built the crypt because he has no relatives and wanted to make his own burial arrangements.

He recently sold his 6,240-acre ranch 33 miles northwest of Juntura, but said the sales agreement gives him the right to be buried in the tomb and hunt and fish on the ranch as long as he lives.

Voters Have Wide Choice On Ballot

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

WASHINGTON (AP) — Voters have a wide choice of political groups to support in next month's elections if they live in states where minor parties have qualified for places on the ballots.

Sharing the presidential ballot with Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Sen. John F. Kennedy are 10 other nominees for president.

There also are 87 minor party candidates for the House, 15 for the Senate, and 7 for governorships.

Fifteen minor parties have qualified nominees for various elective positions, including president and vice president. Most of them are on the ballots in only a few states but may receive write-in votes in states where they did not qualify for official listing.

Michigan voters probably will have the most leeway. In that state there are 6 nominees for president and vice president, 6 for the senate and 74 for 18 House seats.

Political parties on the Michigan ballot are the Republican, Democratic, Prohibitionist, Socialist-Labor, Socialist-Workers and Tax Cut.

Nixon and Kennedy share Michigan's presidential ballot with Dr. R. L. Decker, 55, a Kansas City minister; Eric Hass, New York, editor of his party's magazine; Farrell Dobbs, New York, a former truck driver; and Lar Daly of Chicago, store furnishings executive.

Decker heads the Prohibition party, Hass the Socialist-Labor, Dobbs the Socialist-Workers, and Daly the Tax Cut party in Michigan. They are on the ballots of other states, also.

Others seeking the presidency on minor party tickets include: J. Bracken Lee, Conservative party in New Jersey; C. Benton Coiner, Virginia Conservative party, Charles L. Sullivan, Constitution party of Texas; Merritt B. Curtis, National Constitution party; The Rev. Clennon King, Negro minister, Afro-American Unity party; and Bishop Homer A. Tomlinson of New York, Church of God party.

Road Engineers Face Big Chore

By BEM PRICE
AP Staff Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. Bureau of Public Roads has an annual budget of $29.5 million and employes 1,122 engineers, including 150 bridge engineers.

With this engineer force, the bureau is supposed to exercise supervision over the greatest state-federal road building program in history.

Over the past four years the states and the federal government have spent $10 billion on highways and authorized the expenditure of another $10 billion.

Since mid-1956 over 40,000 road contracts have been executed and 10,000 are currently in force.

When the bureau was charged only with the supervision of the regular primary, secondary and urban road programs, its 1,122-man engineer force seemed adequate. This is the program to which the states and the federal government contribute on a 50-50 basis.

But in 1956 Congress set up a huge new program to build 41,000 miles of superhighways over a 20-year period and told the bureau to supervise this program, too, without any increase in engineers. Under this program the federal government pays 90 per cent of the cost.

Bureau engineers have to approve the design, plans and specifications for roads in both programs. Further, they are expected to conduct on-the-spot inspections to see that all is going according to contract.

In the past four years the engineers have inspected over 135,000 miles of highways and 2,900 bridges.

This is a back-breaking chore for such a limited force of engineers.

At best, a federal engineer can inspect each job in his district once a month. The inspection may last a day, and in that day he is supposed to check grades, take samples of materials, consult the state's project engineer on special problems, and generally see that the federal government is getting its money's worth.

The federal engineers have to rely heavily on the state's project supervisors and hope the contractor is living up to his agreement.

Breakup of a million-dollar highway at Lordburg, N. M., indicates that federal engineers can't always tell whether a highway is well built just by looking.

While the federal government is withholding payment of $200,000 on the Lordsburg project, the fact remains that federal engineers gave preliminary approval to the work.

The Bureau of Public Roads did spot the developing land scandals in Massachusetts where selected rights-of-way properties, so the report goes, were overpriced. When the need developed for an investigation, the bureau gave the job to a consulting firm. Critics complained that the federal government shouldn't farm out its investigative chores.

The bureau takes the position that the states have their own inspectors and engineers, and for the federal government to set up a more extensive supervisory system would be a duplication of effort.

The bureau says it does not feel obligated to question state records as a rule, that it assumes these records are accurate and submitted in good faith.

Bertram D. Tallamy, the bureau's chief administrator, put the viewpoint in focus last May when he testified before a congressional subcommittee.

"The bureau and the states act as coordinating agencies. That is required by federal law. The state initiates projects and presents them to the bureau for consideration. After review, if the bureau concurs, there is a complete meeting of the minds as to exactly what is to be accomplished and how. The state has responsibility for construction," Tallamy said.

The bureau does have a projects examination division which is supposed to act as a sort of roving police inspection force. There are 27 people on its staff. With Congress' permission, the bureau hopes to expand the division to 40.

To questions about the adequacy of its supervision, the bureau says other federal agencies are also in the act—the General Accounting Office, the Department of Justice, and Congress.

From the time the General Accounting Office actually audits a state's highway program until reports to Congress, about two years elapse.

The Department of Justice usually acts only when requested to do so by the bureau or upon formal complaint.

Congress began scanning the highway programs last year through the House Roads subcommittee headed by Rep. John Blatnick, D-Minn. It has held two major hearings.

While there is a tendency in Congress to blame the bureau for the ills besetting the highway programs, it must be noted that Congress set up the ground rules, established the state-federal regulationships, and gave to the states the responsibility for actual road building.

If any charge can be leveled against bureau operations, it would be the exhibition of certain bureaucratic tendencies.

Though the bureau disclaims responsibility, it was a participant in one of Washington prize muddles.

After the superhighway program began, the question arose whether certain defense items, such as missiles, could pass beneath route interchanges and bridges.

For years the bureau had adhered to a 14-foot vertical clearance standard, with Department of Defense approval.

When the bureau wrote the Defense Department for a later opinion, the Pentagon kicked the question around for two years and then said it needed 17 feet.

After consideration by the Department of Commerce, the bureau's boss, this defense requirement was arbitrarily reduced to 16 feet.

Meanwhile, the bureau had approved construction of 800 bridges at the 14-foot clearance figure. To raise these 800 bridges to meet the 16-foot standard, the bureau estimates would cost $176 million.

As missile technology advances, missiles are becoming smaller and it is now hoped that 14 feet will be adequate.

When the bureau was asked why it hadn't taken action unilaterally to raise vertical clearances, it replied that such a decision would not have been appropriate, that this was Defense Department business and not its own.

Junior Editors Quiz on SPORTS

QUESTION: How did lacrosse get its name?

• • •

ANSWER: Lacrosse is the national summer game of Canada and is played in other British nations as well as in the United States. It was copied from the old Indian game of "baggataway." The Six Nations tribes of the Iroquois used it in training for war. The French named it lacrosse because the curved netted stick used as a racket resembled a bishop's crozier. In some Indian games, as many as one thousand warriors took part at one time. But in the modern version, each team has 10 members. The field is between 60 to 70 yards wide and 100 to 120 yards long. Players use the racket to scoop up the ball, carry it as they run, pass it to other players or throw the ball at the goal. The ball may not be touched by hand, but it can be kicked or thrown in any direction. There is a lot of banging and slamming in this hard, fast game.

• • •

FOR YOU TO DO: See if you can learn some other games played by Indians and how these have been adapted or changed into modern games.

Ex-Minister Is Sentenced In Robberies

CHICAGO (AP)—A former Texas minister who pleaded guilty to masterminding three robbery forays on a suburban supermarket has been sentenced to a year in prison and five years' probation.

He was debt-ridden and desperate when he turned to robbery, said Donald Hardage, 33, in Criminal Court Thursday. But he said he now is cured of his "disease"—gambling in the casinos of Las Vegas.

To an assistant state's attorney who questioned him about his gambling, Hardage replied with a smile: "You're not a gambler. You wouldn't understand."

Hardage, member of a prominent Jacksonville, Fla., family, is an honor graduate of Abilene Christian College and formerly preached in Dallas. He told Judge John Gutknecht he was a full-fledged minister of the church and has "preached to thousands of people."

"My greatest indictment," he said, "was by the thousands of people to whom I have preached, and who looked up to me as a moral leader."

Hardage was seized June 14 with Ross McCord, 18, of suburban Harvey, in an attempt to rob a suburban Park Forest supermarket. Under questioning they admitted having staged two previous robberies at the store, netting nearly $30,000. They implicated four other men, three roam the Chicago area.

The five accomplices received either prison sentences or long probation terms. Hardage was ordered to make restitution of $1,100.

"We were a group of idiots," Hardage said. "We were desperate."

He said he learned to gamble on a trip to Las Vegas with members of his congregation and that he planned the robberies in order to pay off his debts. He described himself as a "diseased gambler."

Man Dies Before 32nd Anniversary

FAIRVIEW, Utah (AP)—A man married nearly 82 years, who once said that wasn't so long, "especially when we have a whole eternity together before us," died Thursday. He was 100.

Peter Peterson, born Sept. 27, 1860 in a dugout in this central Utah farm town, was an active Mormon and served as mediator between whites and Indians in pioneer days.

His wife, Celestia, will be 100 in December.

They would have celebrated their 82nd wedding anniversary Dec. 11.

His wife, their seven children, 47 grandchildren, 159 great-grandchildren and 52 great-great-grandchildren survive.

Our Day

of course it is, but it brings with it a staggering challenge... the individual responsibility of helping save civilization. The terrible "dark days" following the fall of the Roman Empire would be termed "good days" compared to the period of destruction that would follow the loosing of our hydrogen weapons. We must face it. In a manner we must be our own saviour. Then let us kids not quibble. We must cheerfully accept the task. If we keep our eyes fixed on God and our ears tuned-in to His direction center, we can be the deterring force He needs to save the world from destruction. For He said, "Him that lacketh wisdom, let him ask of God." The varied programs of the church offer opportunity to gain this wisdom and understanding of God and His plan of salvation for the world. You have a part to play. Get inside His field of service... attend church regularly. For, "The wise in heart will receive Commandments."

You In The Church
The Church In You

— form a combination for good. Every man, woman and child needs the influence of the church. So, come let us go into the house of the Lord. Let us support her program of service to humanity, be a faithful worker, a daily bible reader and attend services regularly.

Ministers of all faiths and the community-minded firms below persuade you to read this Spiritual Values page and make it a part of your life . . . it is your heritage.
