MAINLY ABOUT PEOPLE

By H. N. F.

Welcome to our city—the best . in the best state, in the best try in the entire world," was the ting of pioneer Otis T. Bacon H. N. F. "I should know. I e here in 1883 and I came be- e I wanted to come. There is country like this. There is no ate like this. There are no peo- like the people you find in this ion of the Lord's vinyard. There future here. The day is coming n Texas will have fifteen million ulation instead of five million this too in the near future. Let tell you, the land suitable for at growing in North Texas and Panhandle and the plains coun- if properly cultivated, would urn a yield of wheat that would all the people of the United tes and then a surplus for ex- t. You are familiar with Texas its resources. You have been a an for years. You should have e to Wichita Falls long ago, but ile the lamp holds out to burn or ds to that effect, it is never too to do good, or to make a move it will get you in the crown row." neer Bacon is a Parisian—that he was born in Paris, Ky., loves Kentucky but adores Texas and own particular section of the mmonwealth he insists is the fin- territory under the sun. Birth the home state of Jefferson Davis d Abraham Lincoln, failed to ke him a democrat. He is a life- g republican, one of the pillars of party in Texas when republicans re neither numerous nor popular t this fact never affected the pop- rity of Bacon nor dampened his thusiasm for the principle of the licies of the G. O. P. In years e, Bacon and Colonel William rome Sterret of the Dallas-Galves- News, were great cronies and used foregather in the city of Dallas ere they planted the seeds of prohi- ion including the mint trimmings d told of the glories of Kentucky in days of Daniel Boone, Henry Clay, mous blue grass beauties and the ngs and queens of the noblest sta- es ever owned by American states- en. Kentucky is without a Henry ay today. Gone is the distilled ctar of corn and rye. Mint beds ve been planted to onions. Garlic growing where the blue grass erst- hile blossomed, but the beautiful omen are as gorgeous as ever and e trotters and runners remain the ings and queens of the American irt—and yet "this is the best city the best state, in the best country the entire world."

Wilkie Talbert did not come from Kentucky. He hasn't been here irty-eight years. He is a native on of the Pelican state. He blos- omed into youthful manhood state the famous Creole city where they ve to eat. In most places they eat o live. Wilkie, despite his youth, as been a quick worker and a fast raveler. He too came to Wichita alls because he wanted to come and his is the very best reason on earth or a man going or coming. Wilkie s on the twentieth century firing ine. For the edification of H. N. , he predicted as a brilliant a fu- ure for Wichita Falls as the pioneer who pitched his tent here thirty- ight years ago. "Nothing like it," he aid. "It is the big cinch city of he South. There is more wealth un- er the surface of the earth and more wealth above the surface for levelopers than in any state in the nion or in any territory in the world." And then with all the pard- onable pride of a Pelican, he dis- ussed Col. Bob Ewing of the New Orleans States and Ewing's remark- able dictatorship of Louisiana poli- tics for twenty years until John M. Parker grabbed the center of the stage, smashed the Ewing-Fitzpatrick machine in state and city, became the governor of Louisiana and an- nounced that machine politics had been forever banished. Since the Parker victory last year, New Or- leans has dumped the Ewing-Fitz- patrick machine and now independ- ent democrats control all the muni- cipal offices. This young dynamo who was born in Louisiana and came to Texas for the best of reasons, looks upon Texas as the imperial commonwealth of the sisternood and when he begins to talk of the possi- bilities and opportunities of Wichita Falls and surrounding country, his conversation listens like one of Roger W. Babson's literary-commercial proclamations to the ambitious youth of America.

Senator T. W. Davidson of Har- rison county has introduced into the senate a bill providing for the crea- tion of a patrol system for the main- tenance of public roads within the state and providing also for a budget system in counties for the expend- iture of the roads and bridges funds. This bill, if adopted, would give the state of Texas the same plan of road maintenance in effect in France and certain other European coun- tries. Representative Perkins has a similar bill in the house. Supervis- ion of the roads is placed in the hands of a county road superintend- ent who divides the county into sec- tions and places patrolmen in charge. Vehicles are made liable for damage to the roads.

CUT $361,840 FROM BUDGET FOR CARRICK

Legislative Committee Slices Huge Sum From Total Requested for Maintenance of Health Department.

Senate Orders Investigation of Recent Killing of Two Prisoners by Penitentiary Guard.

By Associated Press.

AUSTIN, Texas, July 27.—The joint legislative appropriations committees in considering the budget of the state health department for the next two years today sliced $361,840 from the total requested by state health officer Manton M. Carrick. This is the largest single cut the committees have made.

Dr. Carrick asked for $680,000 to run his department for the next two years. The committee's cut left him with $318,160. However, the budget has yet to be adopted by the legislature. The biggest cut in the bill was $200,000 for plague prevention work in Texas for the next two years. This item was entirely eliminated.

An investigation of the killing of two convicts recently by a penitentiary guard was ordered today by the senate by adopting a concurrent resolution by Senator Hertzberg of Bexar. The senate adopted the measure without a dissenting vote after a letter from George W. Dixon of Houston to Senator Hertzberg was read. Mr. Dixon said the two convicts, George Ludwig and Jack Baldwin, were shot by the guard who claimed they were trying to escape. The guard then said that Governor Neff had given orders to shoot all convicts who tried to escape and he was acting under these orders, according to Mr. Dixon. He further said that the chaplain who preached the funeral sermons mentioned the fact that the governor had given orders to shoot all convicts who tried to escape. The resolution authorizes the present penitentiary investigating committee to make the investigation and report back to the present session. It now goes to the house for action.

The educational appropriation bill was passed to engrossment in the senate, after an amendment was added providing that the heads of the institutions shall not be permitted to create deficiencies. The budget carries $4,649,951 for the first year and $4,185,149 for the second year.

In a message to the legislature today Governor Neff again urged economy at the abolishment of useless boards and commissions, reductions of employes, and the consolidation of

The other two indictments, charging operation of gambling houses, were returned against Huff Fridge and Robert Nix.

MEXICO FACES NEW RAIL STRIKE

By Associated Press.

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, July 27.—Mexico again faces the threat of a general strike of railway employes, of the National lines, according to a dispatch received here tonight from the City of Mexico. The rail workers refuse to accept the 10 per cent reduction in salaries announced by President Obregon Monday, it is stated, and have openly declared that they will walk out before submitting to the cut.

MILLIONAIRE BANKER'S WIFE IS SUED FOR DRESSES; SEPARATION REVEALED

Mrs. Violet Colby Liggett

NEW YORK, July 27.—That John E. Liggett, youngest son of one of the foremost bankers and business men in the country, and his wife, who was a wealthy widow of Asheville, N. C., are separated, has just been established.

The first public intimation that the millionaire and his rich wife, Violet, were parted was suit brought here a few days ago by Hattie Carnegie, Inc., ladies' tailor. They sued Mrs. Liggett for $2,520 for hats and dresses sold to her.

The ladies' tailoring establishment figuring in the suit against Mrs. Liggett as "Hattie Carnegie, Inc.," is the business name of Henry Roth. He said he knew nothing about Mrs. Liggett except that she purchased gowns and hats from him in June and July of last year for which she had not paid.

She had referred him to her husband, who repudiated the bills on the ground he was not living with his wife at the time and had not authorized the purchases.

WELL KNOWN NEW YORKER KILLS SELF

Harry Duryea, Son of Starch King, Commits Suicide.

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, July 27.—Harry H. Duryea, 47, who inherited a fortune from his father, the late Hiram Duryea, president and one of the founders of the National Starch company, today shot himself to death, according to police, in his Madison avenue office. He was a director of the American Woodworking Machinery company.

Mr. Duryea's attorney declared his business affairs were in good order and that he had no worries so far as his friends knew. He is believed to have left an estate valued at five hundred thousand to one million dollars. He is survived by his wife, one son, Hendricks Duryea, and a sister, Mrs. Millicent Anderson.

MYSTERY SHROUDS GOVERNOR

Chief Executive of Illinois Apparently Has Sheriff Worried.

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, July 27.—Mystery tonight masked the movements and plans of Governor Len Small, following a day of conferences with his attorneys and advisers here.

Eluding a score of newspaper men, the governor flitted from his hotel to the home of Albert Fink, his chief counsel, and from there to a downtown office for an afternoon conference.

Refusal of Sangamon county authorities to come to Chicago and arrest the governor, and their expressed willingness to await his return to Springfield upset the plans laid last night for a hearing on habeas corpus proceedings before a Cook county court.

The possibility that the governor might surrender to Charles Fitzmorris, general superintendent of police, or Sheriff Charles Peters of Cook county and permit the one or the other to wire Sheriff Mester that the governor is in custody here awaiting his arrival, was still being discussed tonight, but so far as could be learned no move in that direction has been taken.

SHERIFF MESTER STILL WITHOUT INFORMATION.

By

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., July 27.—Governor Small's attitude toward "unconditional surrender" to Sangamon county authorities, waiting to arrest him on charges of embezzlement and conspiracy while state treasurer, has not been made known to Sheriff Henry Mester late today, and no response to his message refusing to place the governor under arrest in Cook county as proposed by Albert Fink, counsel for Governor Small, had been received.

Sensing a scheme to involve them in habaes corpus proceedings in Cook county courts, the sheriff and state's attorney Mortimer turned down the overtures of Mr. Fink and sat back to wait for the governor's return to the capital.

"There is no desire to embarrass or humiliate the governor," Sheriff Mester said, "and we will not go to Cook county to serve the warrants. He can come here and arrange his bonds if he has decided to abandon his idea of protesting arrest."

PRESIDENT OF PURDUE UNIVERSITY GAVE LIFE IN UNSUCCESSFUL ATTEMPT TO SAVE THAT OF MRS. W. E. STONE

By Associated Press.

BANFF, Alberta, July 27.—Dr. W. E. Stone, president of Purdue university, Lafayette, Ind., gave his life in the solitary fastness of Mount Eanon in an effort to save his wife, who had fallen to a narrow ledge on the face of a deep crevice. With Mrs. Stone in his arms he was attempting to scale the almost perpendicular side of the cliff when he lost his footing and hurled to the bottom of the chasm.

Mrs. Stone, who slid back to her former position far above the body of her husband, will recover from her injuries and the effects of being virtually without food for eight days and nights, according to fragmentary reports reaching here from the rescuing party.

She is being taken by a stretcher to a camp on Marble Creek, nine miles distant from the spot where she was found, and is expected to reach there tomorrow morning. A. O. Wheeler, president of the Canadian Alpine club, and a party of nurses have left here to attend her.

The body of Dr. Stone has not yet been recovered. It is wedged between two jagged rocks at the bottom of the crevice, the precipitious walls of which render descent extremely difficult. His death is believed to have been instantaneous.

Dr. and Mrs. Stone left Banff July 15 to attempt the ascent of Mount Eanon. Both were experienced mountain climbers. They carried rations for four days and at the foot of the mountain discarded everything save essential equipment.

Shortly after the ascent was begun, reports reaching here say, Mrs. Stone slipped and fell to a ledge on the face of the crevice. The university president lowered a rope to his wife, but his strength was not equal to the task of raising her to where he stood.

Finally he descended to her and, taking Mrs. Stone in his arms, attempted to climb with her up the almost perpendicular wall. He lost his footing and hurled to the bottom of the chasm far below the ledge to which Mrs. Stone then slid back.

Searching parties from Camp Assiniboin and other outposts in the region have been combing the face of the mountain since concern first began to be felt for the safety of Mr. and Mrs. Stone. It was not until the college president's wife was almost dead from hunger and exposure, however, that their search was rewarded.

SUNNYBROOK DISAPPEARS FROM CACHE

Three Hundred Quarts of Confiscated Contraband Stolen From Place of Storage in Courthouse.

Robbers Make Two Raids on Cell Where Whiskey Held During Past Four Weeks, Allen Announces.

The famous 1,400 quarts of Sunnybrook whiskey seized by federal officers here in a raid on an unoccupied house last April is again in the limelight.

Approximately 300 quarts of the valuable fluid is missing from its place of storage and its whereabouts is unknown.

Definite announcement to that effect was made Wednesday by Deputy United States Marshal Allen who also stated that after four weeks' investigation no arrests had been made in connection with the disappearance.

According to Mr. Allen, the tools used to gain entrance to the hootch all have been identified as belonging to a "person residing near the courthouse." No significance was apparently attached to this fact by the officer who did not state who the person was.

The 300 quarts, packed in five barrels, disappeared in two raids. According to Mr. Allen, at the first raid entrance was obtained to the garret of the courthouse by going through the ventilator of the grand jury room located on the third floor. From there the raiders dropped through another ventilator into the cell where the whiskey is stored.

Mr. Allen was out of the city at the time and upon his return had a steel plate bolted over the ventilator hole of the cell. A few days later the entrance was again obtained to the garret through the grand jury room. The bolts of the steel plate were sawed off and access to the liquor was again obtained.

The tools in the last raid were found in the building together with a blanket which it is believe was used to deaden the sound while the raiders were sawing the bolt connections.

CONTINUE HEARING ON MURDER CHARGE

GALVESTON, Texas, July 27.—Because of inability to complete examination of witnesses in the preliminary hearing of Perry McFadden, Haden Ross and J. M. Hayes of League City, charged with the fatal shooting to death of Marcus Benson of the same community, the hearing was adjourned at 6 o'clock this evening to be opened at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning.

INVESTIGATE COUNTERFEIT "IN BOND" REVENUE STAMPS

DALLAS, Texas, July 27.—Federal investigation of alleged counterfeiting of government revenue stamps in the southwest has been ordered, according to announcements of local federal officers.

It is reported that the counterfeit stamps were used on "moonshine" whisky to make prospective buyers believe it was bottled in bond liquor.

PETITIONS ASK RECALL OF MAYOR COCKRELL AND CITY COMMISSION OF FT. WORTH

Action Commenced to Have Election Called to Name Successors as Result of Recent Action of Officials in Ousting Attorney R. Bonna Ridgway; Hint at Graft in Certain Departments.

Special to The Record News

FORT WORTH, July 27.—Petitions, said by many to be an aftermath of the recent mandamus hearings on the dismissal of R. Bonna Ridgway as city attorney, were being circulated here today asking the recall of Mayor E. R. Cockrell, Police and Fire Commissioner John Alderman, Street Commissioner Paul Gilvin, Light Commissioner R. A. Hunter and Water Commissioner J. C. Lord.

The only commissioner whose name was not included on the list of petitions was W. B. Townsend, finance commissioner.

The petitions, which ask that an election be held immediately, allege that Mayor Cockrell allowed the use of his name and prestige for promoting sales of Rex headlights for automobiles and that he was to receive 50 cents for each light sold, and that he unlawfully used funds to make personal trips. One of the trips referred to by this statement is thought to have been when Mayor Cockrell accompanied the excursion of business men to Mexico City and other points, as a representative of the city.

The commissioners, whose recall are asked, are each charged either with making personal trips at the expense of the city or with condoning, by their vote, the making of such trips. Police Commissioner Alderman is also charged with accepting gifts "from persons who did not mean to do the city good," while Water Commissioner Lord is charged with being financially interested in the gas company.

Fifteen copies of each petition are said to have been printed, making a total of 75 petitions. Only a few people have been approached so far by the persons circulating the petitions, according to information obtained late Wednesday.

JAPS ACCEPT PROPOSAL FOR DISARMAMENT

Nippones Government Definitely Decides to Participate in Proposed Conference on Reduction.

Suggests That Problems Which Can Be Regarded as Closed Incidents Be Omitted.

By Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 27.—Japan's definite acceptance of a place in the disarmament conference, which reached the state department today, gives consent to a discussion on far eastern questions in connection with the conference, but suggests that problems would concern only particular powers or which can be regarded as closed incidents be omitted from the scope of the meeting.

There was every evidence of satisfaction over the reply in official circles here and it was indicated that the way now was regarded as entirely clear for preliminary negotiations which will fix the time and place of meeting and details of procedure.

A comprehensive consideration of the program before the delegates actually assemble also was suggested in the Japanese note and now is regarded as assured. The attitude of officials here has been that such a discussion would be entirely in place once all the invited powers had definitely accepted invitations. A portion of the Japanese reply which attracted particular attention here was a paragraph declaring it the sense of the Japanese government that during the conference "problems such as are of sole concern to certain particular powers or such matters that may be regarded accomplished should be scrupulously avoided."

ROY MILLER, JR., DIES

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas, July 27.—Roy Miller, Jr., youngest son of Roy Miller, former mayor of Corpus Christi and widely known over Texas, died here at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Cause of death was colitis.

ADMIRAL SAITO MAY BECOME JAP PREMIER

SEOUL, Korea, July 27.—Admiral Saito, the governor general of Korea, is talked of here as a likely successor to Premier Hara, as the head of Japan's next cabinet.

Governor Saito is regarded as an adherent of the Seiyukai, or dominant political party in Japan, and his friends hold that his successful record in Korea makes him a fitting candidate.

The police say that conditions are quiet throughout the peninsula. From other sources it is gathered that there is considerable suppressed discontent among Koreans over police methods which are still considered irritating. Many changes have recently been made among the minor officials and it is believed that these changes have been made to soothe popular irritation.

ADMITS HOOTCH SOLD ON STREETS OF DALLAS

DALLAS, Texas, July 27.—That whisky is being sold on the streets of Dallas was practically admitted here today by Police Chief Elmo Strait, when he instructed police to make arrests in any such cases, declaring that the open liquor traffic must be stopped.

A detail of seven men, to assist federal officers in their war on bootleggers, has been appointed.

CARPENTERS OPPOSED TO CURTAILMENT

Other Labor Unions and Business Men Protest at Recent Decision of City Council.

With Unemployment Situation Becoming Acute, Contractor Says Action Will Accentuate It.

With one local labor union (the carpenters) already on record as opposed to the discontinuance of further public work, unanimously decided upon by the city council at their last meeting, with officials of other labor bodies stating that their organizations will take similar action and with the statement from one well known business man that he will take the matter before the next meeting of the chamber of commerce, a strong protest to the action of the council is indicated.

How any change in the conditions can be brought about by the council, however, could not be seen Wednesday night by Councilman Curlee, who voiced the attitude of the body at Tuesday night's meeting—unless the suggestion made some time ago by Mayor Cline that new public work be undertaken and new bonds voted to provide a means of carrying the laborers and business of the city over the period of depression.

No Money, He Says

"There is no money available for work," he said, "but some street paving work. And in the way of new work of this nature stands the protest of the property owners who would be called on to pay for three-fourths of this work, that they are unable to pay. At the latest hearing on new paving work, widows, cripples and people out of work were among those before the council to say that they were unable to pay their share of the work abutting on their property.

"However, I do not think that the real situation is as bad as was evidently thought when this petition was drawn. None of the work under contract is being halted—which includes the work on the sewer, the storm sewer, the Ninth-Eighth Streets paving project, the Indiana paving and the Ohio paving.

"New paving projects would give no immediate relief, for it takes a good long time to go through with the red tape required to get them going. It would take 60 days, at least, and by the time they could get under way the present work would be finished, which would not result in giving any additional employment over that afforded at present. By that time I expect the present situation will have to a large extent been changed for the better, with new work offered in other fields.

"And by waiting before letting the contracts I believe that a considerable saving in the cost of the work can be effected."

O'Reilly Interested

Myles O'Reilly, well known business man and retired contractor, was instrumental in bringing up the matter before the chamber of commerce and has already taken the matter up with members of the council.

Pessimists Sit Under the Tree Of Prosperity and Howl When The Fruits Fall on Their Heads

Those who are versed in the science of psychology say the time to strike is at the psychological moment. Then the time to buy must be at the psychological moment; the time to sell must be at the psychological moment.

Fourteen months ago began the buyers' strike in America. Then something else happened. If the experts of the treasury department of the United States and the financial economists of the country have the correct bearings in the month that followed, more than a billion dollars was withdrawn from deposit and ceased to circulate in the channels of trade.

A large army of Americans imagined that it was the psychological moment to make their savings dead savings. Of course it was a blunder, a grave economic error but these things happen whenever an upheavel comes in the commercial life of this nation or all the nations.

Now is the psychological moment for the buyers who have been on strike to purchase and the merchants who have goods to sell, to sell them.

Fourteen months ago the American dollar had a purchasing power of forty-eight cents. Now the American dollar has a purchasing power of more than ninety cents. This is evidence incontrovertible that the country has settled down to bedrock and that normalcy is here.

Everywhere the trend is upward. Everywhere public pulse beats faster. Everywhere the wail of the pessimist is growing fainter.

Tomorrow (Friday, July twenty-nine) will be Dollar Day and the merchants of Wichita Falls are going to make it a successful dollar day or sales day by offering special values which should appeal to the buying public and make the closing days of July as blithe and as busy in a trading sense as before the American public went on a buyers' strike fourteen months ago.

If all the people talked hardtimes, hard times would last forever. If all the people talked prosperous times, prosperity would be here and commerce would move as it moved in the good old days.

All the men who have taken their losses cheerfully, are moving forward. They have adapted themselves to conditions. Those who have refused to take their losses are groping in the dark. In the end, they will be compelled to take their losses and then those who had vision, those who accepted after the war conditions as the inevitable aftermath of the world upheavel, will be far in advance of those wealth seekers or wealth makers or brain and hand workers who lagged behind because they refused to accept economic truths at the proper time.

Dollar Day should be participated in by all. Dollar Day should mark the beginning of the autumn or the fall trade. Dollar Day should be an invitation to those who were carrying dead money in boxes or vaults or hidden, in the little blue tea pot on the shelf that this is the psychological moment for them to deal that which pessimists call depression a body blow by replacing their dollars in the channels of trade and permitting that which is the financial blood of the nation to course through the arteries of commercial life.

Dollar Day has been made a tremendous success in many of the foremost cities of the south and west—made a tremendous success in a financial as well as a selling sense in collections and cash sales as a result of the enterprise of the merchants, the publicity given and the eagerness of the people to push along the car of prosperity by exchanging their coin for the necessaries and necessities of life.

PURPOSES OF LEGION TOLD; KLAN SCORED

The American Legion, "Ku Klux Klan" and the protective tariff were the chief matters discussed by Judge Joe Hatchett, on the regular program, and by Fred K. Spurlock of Electra, and J. G. L. Howard. All of the speakers expressed themselves as being against the "invisible empire," with its masked activities.

Judge Joe Hatchett, first commander of the Pat Carrigan post of the American Legion, was on the regular program for a talk on the American Legion and its purposes. Before giving the purpose of the legion, the judge took a little time to take a crack at the exponents of a protective tariff and the Ku Klux Klan.

"The purpose of the American Legion," declared the judge, "is to join ex-service men together to impress upon the public the necessity of peace time obligations to the government as well as during war."

"There is too much running to the government for one's personal troubles and too much 'leaning on' the government," he said.

"Those who seek to take out of the other fellow's pocket to make up for their own losses," was the way the speaker characterized those who seek to protect their business by a tariff.

Judge Hatchett also declared against the Ku Klux Klan, saying that it was un-American and utterly without excuse.

Fred K. Spurlock, a visiting attorney from Electra, was called on for a talk and responded with an attack on the K. K. K. as it is said to exist at the present time in the South.

"There was at one time, immediately after the civil war, when there was need for a secret organization such as the 'invisible empire,'" declared Mr. Spurlock, "but that time is past."

"It is time for good citizens and educated men to take a definite stand against this organization of lawless men whose very masked faces admit of the illegality of their actions," declared the speaker.

"Destroy the cause," declared J. G. L. Howard, who spoke following the remarks of Mr. Spurlock, "which has caused the springing up of this organization, or you will not be successful in stamping it out."

"The cause of the K. K. K.," he added, "is the presence of laws which were passed by a minority and which are not respected by the general public. Until the laws are brought back into good repute by repealing the bad ones," he said, "people will always look beyond the law."

Visitors at the luncheon included Dr. Curtis Rosser of Dallas, who extended an invitation to Wichita Falls "millionaires" to come to Dallas when they decided to settle down.

Music for the program was furnished by Frank Loew and orchestra.

Announcement was made that the Wichita Falls baseball team would be present at the next luncheon of the club as the guests of the club.

TWO CONCRETE MIXERS BEING USED ON ROAD

For the first time both mixers are now in operation on the construction of the concrete road between Iowa Park and Electra. Due to the recent heavy rains in the vicinity of Iowa Park the track used to convey material from the central plant is soft and has delayed work at that end of the road. Both mixers are expected to be operating at capacity before the end of the week.

Wichita Falls, Her Oil Pools and Her Marmon Fans Feature July Edition of Marmon News

Wichita Falls and her oil fields, and also her Marmon enthusiasts are given a double page story, with illustrations in this month's Marmon News, just out. The magazine goes all over the country, this nation wide publicity for Wichita Falls being due to the enterprise of the local agency, the Fritz Motor Car company.

As introduction the readers of the Marmon News are told about the remarkable growth of Wichita Falls, and of the great oil fields of which it is the operating center, and across the page is a panorama picture of the Burkburnett townsite oil field, and extensions.

Then Wichita Falls' record as an automobile center as well as an oil center, is set out, with the fact that automobile sales during 1920 reached fifteen million dollars, the big spring automobile show is also given mention.

Several Wichitans who have owned more than one Marmon have recounted their "experiences" in the article, including J. I. Staley, who has a record of a two hundred and fifty mile run in seven hours; J. L. Mears and W. D. Cline who are both driving their fourth Marmons at present, and Guy J. Brown, who has a record of thirty thousand miles with one car, and says he will "want another one if there's any way in the world to wear this one out."

The three essays in the recent school students contest on "Why I like a Marmon Automobile," are in which Mortimer Clopton won the first prize, are also printed, the second and third choices being Israel Delp and Louise Scott.

FINAL ACTION ON HOSPITAL IS POSTPONED

Due to the failure to call the members of the county commissioner's court in special session Tuesday afternoon the announced joint meeting of the court and the city council to discuss the taking over the Methodist hospital at Call Field was postponed.

The meeting will not be held until Monday. It is expected that at the meeting the details in connection with the city and county taking over the operation of the hospital and the price to be paid for equipment and supplies will be agreed upon.

Final action in the matter cannot be taken until the $75,000 hospital bond issue has been approved by the attorney general's department. The transcript of the issue voted six weeks ago is now being prepared by the county Clerk, Harris.

LEOPARD CANNOT CHANGE SPOTS

Mr. Dodson, the "Liver Tone" Man, Tells the Treachery of Calomel.

Calomel loses you a day! You know what calomel is. It's mercury; quicksilver. Calomel is dangerous. It crashes into sour bile like dynamite, cramping and sickening you. Calomel attacks the bones and should never be put into your system.

When you feel bilious, sluggish, constipated and all knocked out and believe you need a dose of dangerous calomel just remember that your druggist sells for a few cents a large bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone, which is entirely vegetable and pleasant to take and is a perfect substitute for calomel. It is guaranteed to start your liver without stirring you up inside, and you can not salivate.

Don't take calomel! It can not be trusted any more than a leopard or a wild-cat. Take Dodson's Liver Tone which straightens you right up and makes you feel fine. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and doesn't gripe.—Adv.

WILEY SMITH GIVEN FIFTEEN YEARS IN PEN

After deliberating an hour and half a jury in the 30th District court late Thursday afternoon, brought in a verdict of guilty in the case of Wiley Smith charged with highjacking and sentenced the accused to fifteen years in the state penitentiary.

The case went to the jury after noon Tuesday. The state closed its case after examining one more witness in the morning in addition to the testimony presented Monday afternoon. The defense after placing one witness on the stand sprang a surprise by closing its case. The testimony of the one witness did not aid the defense.

E. L. Fulton, county attorney, H. R. Wilson, district attorney opened for the state in the arguments with C. C. McDonald, special attorney employed for the state closing with a strong plea for the conviction of the accused.

The trial of Smith opened Monday morning. The state relied mainly on circumstantial evidence with a partial identification of the accused by two witnesses.

According to the testimony, Smith, with a revolver in his hand held up and robbed Virgil Grisson at 1103 Fillmore street on the night of June 8th, when the latter drove to his garage.

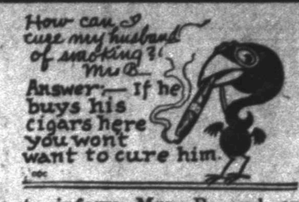

Smith showed no surprise when the verdict was read by the clerk. Smith is well known in the city. He was a witness for the state in the trial of Doc Snow last year having been present in the gambling hall at Kemp City on the night that Snow was alleged to have shot down two officers.

During the last year the crude oil production in California reached a total of 105,613,706 barrels, the largest ever recorded.

WILL FACILITATE BUSINESS ON BORDER

WASHINGTON, July 26.—Rescinding by Mexico of orders requiring passports of all foreigners entering Mexico will have the effect, it was explained authoritatively today, of facilitating the transaction of business between citizens living along the frontier. The Mexican order provides for the unrestricted passage of the international boundary line to a depth of forty miles. It is expected that abolition of the rule providing for the issuance of permits to those visiting Mexican border towns also will be revoked.

State department representations in connection with the immigration authorities, which claimed that the passport regulations along the frontier seriously interfered with business led to the decision of the Mexican government, it was said.

MAINLY ABOUT PEOPLE

By H. N. F.

Welcome to our city—the best , in the best state, in the best try in the entire world," was the ting of pioneer Otis T. Bacon H. N. F. "I should know. I e here in 1883 and I came be- e I wanted to come. There is country like this. There is no ate like this. There are no peo- like the people you find in this ion of the Lord's vinyard. There future here. The day is coming n Texas will have fifteen million ulation instead of five million this too in the near future. Let tell you, the land suitable for at growing in North Texas and Panhandle and the plains coun- if properly cultivated, would rn a yield of wheat that would all the people of the United tes and then a surplus for ex- t. You are familiar with Texas its resources. You have been a an for years. You should have e to Wichita Falls long ago, but ile the lamp holds out to burn or ds to that effect, it is never too e to do good, or to make a move t will get you in the crown row." neer Bacon is a Parisian—that he was born in Paris, Ky., loves Kentucky but adores Texas and own particular section of the mmonwealth he insists is the fin- territory under the sun. Birth the home state of Jefferson Davis d Abraham Lincoln, failed to ke him a democrat. He is a life- g republican, one of the pillars of party in Texas when republicans re neither numerous nor popular t this fact never affected the pop rity of Bacon nor dampened his thusiasm for the principle of the licies of the G. O. P. In years e, Bacon and Colonel William rome Sterret of the Dallas-Galves- News, were great cronies and used foregather in the city of Dallas ere they planted the seeds of prohi- ion including the mint trimmings d told of the glories of Kentucky in days of Daniel Boone, Henry Clay, mous blue grass beauties and the ngs and queens of the noblest sta- es ever owned by American states- en. Kentucky is without a Henry ay today. Gone is the distilled ectar of corn and rye. Mint beds ve been planted to onions. Garlic growing where the blue grass erst- hile blossomed, but the beautiful omen are as gorgeous as ever and e trotters and runners remain the ngs and queens of the American irf—and yet "this is the best city the best state, in the best country the entire world."

Wilkie Talbert did not come from Kentucky. He hasn't been here hirty-eight years. He is a native on of the Pelican state. He blos- omed into youthful manhood state the famous Creole city where they ve to eat. In most places they eat o live. Wilkie, despite his youth, as been a quick worker and a fast traveler. He too came to Wichita Falls because he wanted to come and his is the very best reason on earth or a man going or coming. Wilkie s on the twentieth century fring ine. For the edification of H. N. , he predicted as a brilliant a fu- ure for Wichita Falls as the pioneer who pitched his tent here thirty- ight years ago. "Nothing like it," he said. "It is the big cinch city of he South. There is more wealth un- er the surface of the earth and more wealth above the surface for levelopers than in any state in the nion or in any territory in the world." And then with all the par- donable pride of a Pelican, he dis- ussed Col. Bob Ewing of the New Orleans States and Ewing's remark- able dictatorship of Louisiana poli- ics for twenty years until John M. Parker grabbed the center of the stage, smashed the Ewing-Fitzpatrick machine in state and city, became the governor of Louisiana and an- nounced that machine politics had been forever banished. Since the Parker victory last year, New Or- leans has dumped the Ewing-Fitz- patrick machine and now independ- ent democrats control all the muni- cipal offices. This young dynamo who was born in Louisiana and came to Texas for the best of reasons, looks upon Texas as the imperial commonwealth of the sisternood and when he begins to talk of the possi- bilities and opportunities of Wichita Falls and surrounding country, his conversation listens like one of Roger W. Babson's literary-commercial proclamations to the ambitious youth of America.

Senator T. W. Davidson of Har- rison county has introduced into the senate a bill providing for the crea- tion of a patrol system for the main- tenance of public roads within the state and providing also for a budget system in counties for the expend- iture of the roads and bridges funds. This bill, if adopted, would give the state of Texas the same plan of road maintenance in effect in France and certain other European coun- tries. Representative Perkins has a similar bill in the house. Supervis- ion of the roads is placed in the hands of a county road superintend- ent who divides the county into sec- tions and places patrolmen in charge. Vehicles are made liable for damage to the roads.

CUT $361,840 FROM BUDGET FOR CARRICK

Legislative Committee Slices Huge Sum From Total Requested for Maintenance of Health Department.

Senate Orders Investigation of Recent Killing of Two Prisoners by Penitentiary Guard.

By Associated Press.

AUSTIN, Texas, July 27.—The joint legislative appropriations committees in considering the budget of the state health department for the next two years today sliced $361,840 from the total requested by state health officer Manton M. Carrick. This is the largest single cut the committees have made.

Dr. Carrick asked for $680,000 to run his department for the next two years. The committee's cut left him with $318,160. However, the budget has yet to be adopted by the legislature. The biggest cut in the bill was $200,000 for plague prevention work in Texas for the next two years. This item was entirely eliminated.

An investigation of the killing of two convicts recently by a penitentiary guard was ordered today by the senate by adopting a concurrent resolution by Senator Hertzberg of Bexar. The senate adopted the measure without a dissenting vote after a letter from George W. Dixon of Houston to Senator Hertzberg was read. Mr. Dixon said the two convicts, George Ludwig and Jack Baldwin, were shot by the guard who claimed they were trying to escape. The guard then said that Governor Neff had given orders to shoot all convicts who tried to escape and he was acting under these orders, according to Mr. Dixon. He further said that the chaplain who preached the funeral sermons mentioned the fact that the governor had given orders to shoot all convicts who tried to escape. The resolution authorizes the present penitentiary investigating committee to make the investigation and report back to the present session. It now goes to the house for action.

The educational appropriation bill was passed to engrossment in the senate, after an amendment was added providing that the heads of the institutions shall not be permitted to create deficiencies. The budget carries $4,649,951 for the first year and $4,185,149 for the second year.

In a message to the legislature today Governor Neff again urged economy at the abolishment of useless boards and commissions, reductions of employes, and the consolidation of

MEXICO FACES NEW RAIL STRIKE

By Associated Press

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, July 27.—Mexico again faces the threat of a general strike of railway employes, of the National lines, according to a dispatch received here tonight from the City of Mexico. The rail workers refuse to accept the 10 per cent reduction in salaries announced by President Obregon Monday, it is stated, and have openly declared that they will walk out before submitting to the cut.

MILLIONAIRE BANKER'S WIFE IS SUED FOR DRESSES; SEPARATION REVEALED

Mrs. Violet Colby Liggett

NEW YORK, July 27.—That John E. Liggett, youngest son of one of the foremost bankers and business men in the country, and his wife, who was a wealthy widow of Asheville, N. C., are separated, has just been established.

The first public intimation that the millionaire and his rich wife, Viofet, were parted was suit brought here a few days ago by Hattie Carnegie, Inc., ladies' tailor. They sued Mrs. Liggett for $2,520 for hats and dresses sold to her.

The ladies' tailoring establishment figuring in the suit against Mrs. Liggett as "Hattie Carnegie, Inc.," is the business name of Henry Roth. He said he knew nothing about Mrs. Liggett except that she purchased gowns and hats from him in June and July of last year for which she had not paid.

She had referred him to her husband, who repudiated the bills on the ground he was not living with his wife at the time and had not authorized the purchases.

WELL KNOWN NEW YORKER KILLS SELF

Harry Duryea, Son of Starch King, Commits Suicide.

By Associated Press

NEW YORK, July 27.—Harry H. Duryea, 47, who inherited a fortune from his father, the late Hiram Duryea, president and one of the founders of the National Starch company, today shot himself to death, according to police, in his Madison avenue office. He was a director of the American Woodworking Machinery company.

Mr. Duryea's attorney declared his business affairs were in good order and that he had no worries so far as his friends knew. He is believed to have left an estate valued at five hundred thousand to one million dollars. He is survived by his wife, one son, Hendricks Duryea, and a sister, Mrs. Millicent Anderson.

MYSTERY SHROUDS GOVERNOR

Chief Executive of Illinois Apparently Has Sheriff Worried.

By Associated Press

CHICAGO, July 27.—Mystery tonight masked the movements and plans of Governor Len Small, following a day of conferences with his attorneys and advisers here.

Eluding a score of newspaper men, the governor flitted from his hotel to the home of Albert Fink, his chief counsel, and from there to a downtown office for an afternoon conference.

Refusal of Sangamon county authorities to come to Chicago and arrest the governor, and their expressed willingness to await his return to Springfield upset the plans laid last night for a hearing on habeas corpus proceedings before a Cook county court.

The possibility that the governor might surrender to Charles Fitzmorris, general superintendent of police, or Sheriff Charles Peters of Cook county and permit the one or the other to wire Sheriff Mester that the governor is in custody here awaiting his arrival, was still being discussed tonight, but so far as could be learned no move in that direction has been taken.

SHERIFF MESTER STILL WITHOUT INFORMATION.

By

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., July 27.—Governor Small's attitude toward "unconditional surrender" to Sangamon county authorities, waiting to arrest him on charges of embezzlement and conspiracy while state treasurer, has not been made known to Sheriff Henry Mester late today, and no response to his message refusing to place the governor under arrest in Cook county as proposed by Albert Fink, counsel for Governor Small, had been received.

Sensing a scheme to involve them in habaes corpus proceedings in Cook county courts, the sheriff and state's attorney Mortimer turned down the overtures of Mr. Fink and sat back to wait for the governor's return to the capital.

"There is no desire to embarrass or humiliate the governor," Sheriff Mester said, "and we will not go to Cook county to serve the warrants. He can come here and arrange his bonds if he has decided to abandon his idea of protesting arrest."

PRESIDENT OF PURDUE UNIVERSITY GAVE LIFE IN UNSUCCESSFUL ATTEMPT TO SAVE THAT OF MRS. W. E. STONE

By Associated Press

BANFF, Alberta, July 27.—Dr. W. E. Stone, president of Purdue university, Lafayette, Ind., gave his life in the solitary fastness of Mount Eanon in an effort to save his wife, who had fallen to a narrow ledge on the face of a deep crevice. With Mrs. Stone in his arms he was attempting to scale the almost perpendicular side of the cliff when he lost his footing and hurled to the bottom of the chasm.

Mrs. Stone, who slid back to her former position far above the body of her husband, will recover from her injuries and the effects of being virtually without food for eight days and nights, according to fragmentary reports reaching here from the rescuing party.

She is being taken by a stretcher to a camp on Marble Creek, nine miles distant from the spot where she was found, and is expected to reach there tomorrow morning. A. O. Wheeler, president of the Canadian Alpine club, and a party of nurses have left here to attend her.

The body of Dr. Stone has not yet been recovered. It is wedged between two jagged rocks at the bottom of the crevice, the precipitious walls of which render descent extremely difficult. His death is believed to have been instantaneous.

Dr. and Mrs. Stone left Banff July 15 to attempt the ascent of Mount Eanon. Both were experienced mountain climbers. They carried rations for four days and at the foot of the mountain discarded everything save essential equipment.

Shortly after the ascent was begun, reports reaching here say, Mrs. Stone slipped and fell to a ledge on the face of the crevice. The university president lowered a rope to his wife, but his strength was not equal to the task of raising her to where he stood.

Finally he descended to her and, taking Mrs. Stone in his arms, attempted to climb with her up the almost perpendicular wall. He lost his footing and hurled to the bottom of the chasm far below the ledge to which Mrs. Stone then slid back.

Searching parties from Camp Assiniboin and other outposts in the region have been combing the face of the mountain since concern first began to be felt for the safety of Mr. and Mrs. Stone. It was not until the college president's wife was almost dead from hunger and exposure, however, that their search was rewarded.

SUNNYBROOK DISAPPEARS FROM CACHE

Three Hundred Quarts of Confiscated Contraband Stolen From Place of Storage in Courthouse.

Robbers Make Two Raids on Cell Where Whiskey Held During Past Four Weeks, Allen Announces.

The famous 1,400 quarts of Sunnybrook whiskey seized by federal officers here in a raid on an unoccupied house last April is again in the limelight.

Approximately 300 quarts of the valuable fluid is missing from its place of storage and its whereabouts is unknown.

Definite announcement to that effect was made Wednesday by Deputy United States Marshal Allen who also stated that after four weeks' investigation no arrests had been made in connection with the disappearance.

According to Mr. Allen, the tools used to gain entrance to the hootch all have been identified as belonging to a "person residing near the courthouse." No significance was apparently attached to this fact by the officer who did not state who the person was.

The 300 quarts, packed in five barrels, disappeared in two raids. According to Mr. Allen, at the first raid entrance was obtained to the garret of the courthouse by going through the ventilator of the grand jury room located on the third floor. From there the raiders dropped through another ventilator into the cell where the whiskey is stored.

Mr. Allen was out of the city at the time and upon his return had a steel plate bolted over the ventilator hole of the cell. A few days later the entrance was again obtained to the garret through the grand jury room. The bolts of the steel plate were sawed off and access to the liquor was again obtained.

The tools in the last raid were found in the building together with a blanket which it is believe was used to deaden the sound while the raiders were sawing the bolt connections.

GALVESTON, Texas, July 27.—Because of inability to complete examination of witnesses in the preliminary hearing of Perry McFaddin, Haden Ross and J. M. Hayes of League City, charged with the fatal shooting to death of Marcus Benson of the same community, the hearing was adjourned at 6 o'clock this evening to be opened at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning.

INVESTIGATE COUNTERFEIT "IN BOND" REVENUE STAMPS

DALLAS, Texas, July 27.—Federal investigation of alleged counterfeiting of government revenue stamps in the southwest has been ordered, according to announcements of local federal officers.

It is reported that the counterfeit stamps were used on "moonshine" whisky to make prospective buyers believe it was bottled in bond liquor.

PETITIONS ASK RECALL OF MAYOR COCKRELL AND CITY COMMISSION OF FT. WORTH

Action Commenced to Have Election Called to Name Successors as Result of Recent Action of Officials in Ousting Attorney R. Bonna Ridgway; Hint at Graft in Certain Departments.

Special to The Record News

FORT WORTH, July 27.—Petitions, said by many to be an aftermath of the recent mandamus hearings on the dismissal of R. Bonna Ridgway as city attorney, were being circulated here today asking the recall of Mayor E. R. Cockrell, Police and Fire Commissioner John Alderman, Street Commissioner Paul Gilvin, Light Commissioner R. A. Hunter and Water Commissioner J. C. Lord.

The only commissioner whose name was not included on the list of petitions was W. B. Townsend, finance commissioner.

The petitions, which ask that an election be held immediately, allege that Mayor Cockrell allowed the use of his name and prestige for promoting sales of Rex headlights for automobiles and that he was to receive 50 cents for each light sold, and that he unlawfully used funds to make personal trips. One of the trips referred to by this statement is thought to have been when Mayor Cockrell accompanied the excursion of business men to Mexico City and other points, as a representative of the city.

The commissioners, whose recall are asked, are each charged either with making personal trips at the expense of the city or with condoning, by their vote, the making of such trips. Police Commissioner Alderman is also charged with accepting gifts "from persons who did not mean to do the city good," while Water Commissioner Lord is charged with being financially interested in the gas company.

Fifteen copies of each petition are said to have been printed, making a total of 75 petitions. Only a few people have been approached so far by the persons circulating the petitions, according to information obtained late Wednesday.

JAPS ACCEPT PROPOSAL FOR DISARMAMENT

Nippones Government Definitely Decides to Participate in Proposed Conference on Reduction.

Suggests That Problems Which Can Be Regarded as Closed Incidents Be Omitted.

By Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 27.—Japan's definite acceptance of a place in the disarmament conference, which reached the state department today, gives consent to a discussion on far eastern questions in connection with the conference, but suggests that problems would concern only particular powers or which can be regarded as closed incidents be omitted from the scope of the meeting.

There was every evidence of satisfaction over the reply in official circles here and it was indicated that the way now was regarded as entirely clear for preliminary negotiations which will fix the time and place of meeting and details of procedure.

A comprehensive consideration of the program before the delegates actually assemble also was suggested in the Japanese note and now is regarded as assured. The attitude of officials here has been that such a discussion would be entirely in place once all the invited powers had definitely accepted invitations. A portion of the Japanese reply which attracted particular attention here was a paragraph declaring it the sense of the Japanese government that during the conference "problems such as are of sole concern to certain particular powers or such matters that may be regarded accomplished should be scrupulously avoided."

ROY MILLER JR. DIES

By Associated Press

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas, July 27.—Roy Miller, Jr., youngest son of Roy Miller, former mayor of Corpus Christi and widely known over Texas, died here at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Cause of death was colitis.

A detail of seven men, to assist federal officers in their war on bootleggers, has been appointed.

The only commissioner whose name was not included on the list of petitions was W. B. Townsend, finance commissioner.

The petitions, which ask that an election be held immediately, allege that Mayor Cockrell allowed the use of his name and prestige for promoting sales of Rex headlights for automobiles and that he was to receive 50 cents for each light sold, and that he unlawfully used funds to make personal trips. ADMIRAL SAITO MAY BECOME JAP PREMIER

SEOUL, Korea, July 27.—Admiral Saito, the governor-general of Korea, is talked of here as a likely successor to Premier Hara, as the head of Japan's next cabinet.

Governor Saito is regarded as an adherent of the Seiyukai, or dominant political party in Japan, and his friends hold that his successful record in Korea makes him a fitting candidate.

The police say that conditions are quiet throughout the peninsula. From other sources it is gathered that there is considerable suppressed discontent among Koreans over police methods which are still considered irritating. Many changes have recently been made among the minor officials and it is believed that these changes have been made to soothe popular irritation.

ADMITS HOOTCH SOLD ON STREETS OF DALLAS

DALLAS, Texas, July 27.—That whisky is being sold on the streets of Dallas was practically admitted here today by Police Chief Elmo Strait, when he instructed police to make arrests in any such cases, declaring that the open liquor traffic must be stopped.

A detail of seven men, to assist federal officers in their war on bootleggers, has been appointed.

CARPENTERS OPPOSED TO CURTAILMENT

Other Labor Unions and Business Men Protest at Recent Decision of City Council.

With Unemployment Situation Becoming Acute, Contractor Says Action Will Accentuate It.

With one local labor union (the carpenters) already on record as opposed to the discontinuance of further public work, unanimously decided upon by the city council at their last meeting; with officials of other labor bodies stating that their organizations will take similar action and with the statement from one well known business man that he will take the matter before the next meeting of the chamber of commerce, a strong protest to the action of the council is indicated.

How any change in the condition can be brought about by the council, however, could not be seen Wednesday night by Councilman Curlee, who voiced the attitude of the body at Tuesday night's meeting—unless the suggestion made some time ago by Mayor Cline that new public work be undertaken and new bonds voted to provide a means of carrying the laborers and business of the city over the period of depression.

No Money, He Says

"There is no money available for work," he said, "but some street paving work. And in the way of new work of this nature stands the protest of the property owners who would be called on to pay for three-fourths of this work, that they are unable to pay. At the latest hearing on new paving work, widows, cripples and people out of work were among those before the council to say that they were unable to pay their share of the work abutting on their property.

"However, I do not think that the real situation is as bad as was evidently thought when this petition was drawn. None of the work under contract is being halted—which includes the work on the sewer, the storm sewer, the Ninth-Eighth Streets paving project, the Indiana paving and the Ohio paving.

"New paving projects would give no immediate relief, for it takes a good long time to go through with the red tape required to get them going. It would take 60 days, at least, and by the time they could get under way the present work would be finished, which would not result in giving any additional employment over that afforded at present. By that time I expect the present situation will have to a large extent been changed for the better, with new work offered in other fields.

"And, by waiting before letting the contracts, I believe that a considerable saving in the cost of the work can be effected."

O'Reilly Interested

Myles O'Reilly, well known business man and a retired contractor, was instrumental in bringing up the decision of individuals that he intends to take it before the chamber of commerce. He has already taken the matter up with members of the council personally.

"The employment situation among skilled laborers is growing [illegible] And the situation is not only acute for them—for when there are lack of employment it affects every grade of trade and business, including the merchants who cannot sell unless there is people to buy. I think this is a matter which should call the whole city together in an effort to correct the situation."

The effect of the scarcity of employment, it would fall on the labor people in the city, particularly the unskilled laborers, as given by the [illegible] for the carpenters in [illegible] the carrying on of as much paving and other municipal work as possible.

Pessimists Sit Under the Tree Of Prosperity and Howl When The Fruits Fall on Their Heads

Those who are versed in the science of psychology say the time to strike is at the psychological moment. Then the time to buy must be at the psychological moment; the time to sell must be at the psychological moment.

Fourteen months ago began the buyers' strike in America. Then something else happened. If the experts of the treasury department of the United States and the financial economists of the country have the correct bearings in the month that followed, more than a billion dollars was withdrawn from deposit and ceased to circulate in the channels of trade.

A large army of Americans imagined that it was the psychological moment to make their savings dead savings. Of course it was a blunder, a grave economic error but these things happen whenever an upheavel comes in the commercial life of this nation or all the nations.

Now is the psychological moment for the buyers who have been on strike to purchase and the merchants who have goods to sell, to sell them.

Fourteen months ago the American dollar had a purchasing power of forty-eight cents. Now the American dollar has a purchasing power of more than ninety cents. This is evidence incontrovertible that the country has settled down to bedrock and that normalcy is here.

Everywhere the trend is upward. Everywhere public pulse beats faster. Everywhere the wail of the pessimist is growing fainter.

Tomorrow (Friday, July twenty-nine) will be Dollar Day and the merchants of Wichita Falls are going to make it a successful dollar day or sales day by offering special values which should appeal to the buying public and make the closing days of July as blithe and as busy in a trading sense as before the American public went on a buyers' strike fourteen months ago.

If all the people talked hardtimes, hard times would last forever. If all the people talked prosperous times, prosperity would be here and commerce would move as it moved in the good old days.

All the men who have taken their losses cheerfully, are moving forward. They have adapteed themselves to conditions. Those who have refused to take their losses are groping in the dark. In the end, they will be compelled to take their losses and then those who had vision, those who accepted after-the-war conditions as the inevitable aftermath of the world upheavel, will be far in advance of those wealth seekers or wealth makers or brain and hand workers who lagged behind because they refused to accept economic truths at the proper time.

Dollar Day should be participated in by all. Dollar Day should mark the beginning of the autumn or the fall trade. Dollar Day should be an invitation to those who were carrying dead money in boxes or vaults or hidden, in the little blue tea pot on the shelf that this is the psychological moment for them to deal that which pessimists call depression a body blow by replacing their dollars in the channels of trade and permitting that which is the financial blood of the nation to course through the arteries of commercial life.

Dollar Day has been made a tremendous success in many of the foremost cities of the south and west—made a tremendous success in a financial as well as a selling sense in collections and cash sales as a result of the enterprise of the merchants, the publicity given and the eagerness of the people to push along the car of prosperity by exchanging their coin for the necessaries and necessities of life.

MRS. M'ADAMS COULDN'T SLEEP TO DO ANY GOOD

Little Rock Woman Weighed Only Eighty-Five Pounds; Is Now Well and Strong.

"There is such a big change in me my friends are astonished when hey see me and I lose no time in elling them that Tanlac is respon- ible for it," said Mrs. Eulalia Mc- Adams, 260 Maple street, Little Rock, Ark.

"It is just beyond my power of words to describe how much I suf- fered from stomach trouble. Al- though I lived on almost a starvation diet I suffered for hours after eating. I got so thin that I looked like a good wind would blow me away and I weighed only 85 pounds. My nerves gave way too, and I was miserable day and night, not being able to get enough sleep to do me any good. I was told an operation was my only hope, but I felt too weak and nerv- ous to stand it at that time.

"I began taking Tanlac, and in a short time I was so much stronger and my nerves were so much better that I had the operation performed. For months afterwards I was still very weak, so I began taking Tanlac again and the results have been simply marvelous. I eat anything I want without the slightest trouble afterwards, sleep as sound as a child every night and now weigh exactly 133 pounds, which is just about the right weight for me. I never remem- ber feeling as well and strong as I do right now and it's all because I was fortunate enough to get the right medicine."

Tanlac is sold in Wichita Falls by Miller Drug Store; in Electra by Tarlton Drug Store; in Burkbur- nett by West End Drug Co., and by all leading druggists.—Adv.

A WIFE IN THE MAKING

BY PHYLLIS PHILLIPS

CHERRY'S NEW IDEA.

The young wife's time became more and more taken up with her work.

"I do hope that you will always manage to keep your Sundays free at least, Cherry," said Ned as they were sitting in the garden some time later in the evening.

"Sundays free? Why of course I shall, silly boy," answered she. "That is the only day that we really see each other, Neddy, and I look for- ward to it each week just so eagerly. Dear, dear, we do seem like two en- tirely different people from what we were when we left Chicago, don't we?"

"Bet your life we do, and we are. That's what's worse," said Ned in a surly voice. "Everything seems to turn out just the opposite from what a fellow plans, somehow, but as long as you are perfectly happy, lady-bird, that's all that matters very much."

"Happy—and yet—well, I can't ex- plain what I feel. I seldom can,, suc- cessfully. I just feel, Ned, and that's bad enough at times."

"I'll say it is," from Ned.

"But do you know, Ned, that I could start a shop of my own right here in Wellsburg at any time and be a tremendous success. Mr. Hamlen knows this and it's bothering him con- siderably, for he is always trying to find out whether I'm satisfied and whether I'm going to stay with his firm or not. And it was too, funny, this afternoon, when Mr. Duval turn- ed to me and said, 'Why are you not running your own shop, madame?' Arthur Hamlen's face went quite red and he shook his head and coughed several times as if he wanted the subject to be changed. Of course I knew long ago that that is just what they are afraid of and it would mean their shutting up their millinery de- partment, my dear."

"Well, of all things, as if you could run a place by yourself! Why it would be worse than ever. You'd be away all day long and I'd never have a moment alone with you. Nice life for a fellow, I don't think," snorted Ned from his chair.

"Yes, but think of all the extra money you and I and that little house o' dreams of ours would have, dear!" said Cherry wisely. "We could use all the extra pennies, Ned, for the first year or so, after we start in to housekeep ourselves. I know that well enough. Besides, I'd have plen- ty of time even if I had my own place of business. I'd keep a girl there to relieve me. Make all the hats myself, of course, but I need not necessarily stand and sell them myself, all day long. That's the joy of being a 'boss,' my dear."

"Well, the day you decide to do this, let me know, and I'll ship to China or India, like dad did before me. Maybe he was right after all. A man can stand so much," said Ned solemnly.

MRS. MURPHY HOSTESS TO GROUP OF FRIENDS.

Mrs. W. W. Murphy of 1308 Bur- nett was hostess to a group of friends Tuesday evening, when "42" furnish- ed diversion for the evening.

The house was attractively deco- rated for the occasion with garden flowers, and the hostess was assisted in entertaining by her daughter, Miss Burch Murphy and Misses Thelma Ernest and Vivian Chambers of Dal- las.

Following the games, a delicious ice course was served to Messrs. and Mesdames T. R. Brunson, McBee, W. E. Carter, Fred Morris, Dave Shep- herd, Fred Carter, C. H. Featherstone, Dr. and Mrs. A. W. West and Mes- dames J. L. Fox, Lee Wilson and Pat Sullivan.

After the swim they returned to the home of the hostess, where dainty refreshments were served to Misses Edmontine Friberg, Dorothy Skeen, Louise McCormack of Yale, Okla., guest of Miss Bernice Taylor, Bernice Taylor, Virginia Robertson, Virginia Woodall, Ress Robinson, Jewel Rose Akin, Bertha Delaney, Lucile Parish and Mildred Miller.

DAY NURSERY KIDDIES SHOULD HAVE PICNIC.

"A hint to the wise is sufficient," according to a well known proverb.

Now let's see if there are some wise folks in Wichita Falls.

The picnic season is in full swing, and the Day Nursery kiddies haven't had one single, little teeny picnic this year. Last year some friends with big automobiles came and took the youngsters out and they had the grandest picnic ever.

A picnic to be nice wouldn't have to be way out of town off paved streets, in fact Bellevue Park, where there are lots of swings and slides, would make a fine place. Miss Decatur and her helpers will see that there's a nice lunch, if only some cars can be obtained.

MISS McBRIDE TO TAKE UP NEW DUTIES.

Miss Minnie McBride, district Red Cross nurse, who has worked with Miss Mary Quinn, the county Red Cross nurse, for several months, in building up a splendid Wichita Falls child health center, will leave early next week for South Carolina, where she has accepted the position of state supervisor of public health training classes, with headquarters in Colum- bus.

In speaking of the health work in the county and other public work, Miss McBride commented on the ex- ceptional co-operation she and Miss Quinn have received from local spe- cialists and physicians.

She also spoke of the active interest citizens have taken in the work and its success.

CANNING TIME

Canned Raspberries—Wash the berries, hull them and put them into the cans. Fill the cans with syrup made of a cup of water to each cup of sugar. Cover the cans without the rubber, and place in a large boil- er with tepid water; bring slowly to the boiling point; when the fruit boils take the jars out, put on the rubbers and screw on the tops. The next morning screw the tops as tight as you can and put away in a cool, dark place.

Another way to can red raspber- ries is to fill the can as full as you can of raw berries, then make a sy- rup, enough to cover berries. Pour it on them boiling hot, then set them in a reservoir full of boiling water deep enough to cover cans, and leave them in until it gradually cools off, or three or four hours. These are almost like fresh.

Gooseberry Relish — Pick over, wash and drain five cups gooseber- ries. Add one and one-half cups of chopped raisins and one chopped on- ion. Pass through meat chopper, put in large saucepan, and add one cup brown sugar, three tablespoons salt, one-quarter teaspoon turmeric. Add one quart vinegar, bring slowly to boiling point and cook gently forty- five minutes. Strain through course sieve. Seal in sterilized bottles.

SUMMER DRINKS

Orange Pineapple Cup—Juice of three oranges, one cup pineapple juice, three-quarters cup sugar, juice of one lemon, one pint of water, one quart ice water. Boil one pint wat- er with three-quarters cup sugar for five minutes. Cool. Add remaining ingredients and serve very cold. Makes nine glasses.

Golden Orangeade—Juice of four oranges, juice of one lemon, rind of one orange, one-third cup sugar, two pints water. Boil grated yellow rind of orange with one-half pint water and sugar for five minutes. To orange juice, add strained syrup and re- mainder of water. Serve with crush- ed ice and garnish with wedge-shaped pieces of sliced orange. Six large glasses.

Mint Julep—Fresh mint leaves, sugar, orange juice. Arrange fresh mint leaves, lengthwise, at equal dis- tances in frappe glasses, allowing four to each glass. Put in finely crushed ice to three-fourths depth of glass, and pour over to fill glass orange juice, sweetened to taste. Ar- range glasses on small plates covered with doilies, and accompany each with a teaspoon.

COOKING HINTS

In making coffee, if you will add a dried prune it will improve the flavor and give the coffee a richer color.

Brown Bread may be sliced while hot without becoming "soggy," if, instead of a knife, a clean piece of string is used to draw through the loaf.

George Arliss and Mrs. Arliss as Lord and Lady Beaconsfield in the screen version of "Disraeli."

It is going to be a real "Disraeli" that picture fans will see when the production is finished with George Arliss in the leading role which he made famous on the speaking stage. Mrs. Arliss, who has played Lady Beaconsfield to her husband's Dis- raeli, will have the same part in the picturization of the play.

United Artists has this picture on schedule for release in the fall. Louise Huff plays the leading womans part opposite Mr. Arliss and the other members of the cast promise unusual support. Mr. Arliss's screen interpretation should be particularly artistic because he relies so much on gestures even in speaking parts to get his work across. His manner- isms will be even more effective on the screen.

MAY COLLINS WITH METRO

May Collins, who has quickly leaped to leading woman honors and regular engagements on the strength of the combination of nobility as a result of her friendship for Charlie Chaplin and her beauty and ability, has been drafted by Metro for the feminine lead in George D. Baker's production of "Little Eva Ascends," featuring Gareth Hughes.

MARIE'S WIT

Marie Prevost who is seen to ap- pear in "The Butterfly," a Universal production, was glancing over the sce- nario in the office of her director, King Baggot, in order to get an idea of the wardrobe required for the picture. When she reached the twenty-fourth change of costume, she drawled:

"Say, who wrote this story—Lucille?"

WHAT THEY'RE DOING

Ruth Renick is featured opposite Buck Jones in "Bar Nothing."

Claire Anderson is appearing in the Fox production, "The Fighting Spirit."

Barbara Tennant will be seen in support of Johnny Walker and Edna Murphy in "The Drifter."

"The Last Trail," Zane Grey's story, done in film will reach the screen as "The Night Hawk."

Casson Ferguson will again be seen with Betty Compson in "The Woman in the Case." Ferguson was cast for a featured role in Miss Compson's former picture, "At the End of the World."

Three Hundred Kiddies Cared for At Nursery During First Year

Three hundred little boys and girls have had their daytime home in the Wichita Falls Day Nursery during the first year of the institution, which closed this month.

Of the original five children who made up the nursery family on the opening day, two still come daily to the nursery, and in addition there are from twenty-five to thirty others who come early in the morning and play, eat and nap through the day until mother or father gets through with work and comes after them.

Has Had Full Year.

Miss Decatur, who started off with the day nursery when it was opened under the auspices of the Federated Missionary society and the Welfare council, is still superintending the baths, naps and most important of all to the youngsters, the noon dinner and afternoon lunch, and is kissing bumped heads and bruised fingers and arbitrating disputes over rag dolls and red rocking chairs just as she was called upon to do in the first days.

The winter and spring, with its trying siege of whooping cough and measles, and the attendant's sleepless nights when little patients, quaran- tined, were watched over at the nur- sery, are past now.

The nursery is past the experi- mental stage.

It is a necessity and as such has been recognized by the Federated Mis- sionary society as its chief work.

City Recognizes Importance.

The people of Wichita Falls have recognized the importance of the nur- sery, and are putting their approval on its record by their response to ap- peals. Almost daily there is some substantial expression of good will left at the nursery's door. Goodies for the children, clothes for them to wear at their play, to save the home clothes, equipment for the home, food necessities, or playground comforts. All of these gifts make it possible for the nursery to continue its work of service.

One of the latest gifts has been the offer of the Strand theater manage- ment to give a percentage of the pro- ceeds from the Thursday, Friday and Saturday performances to the day nursery treasury. The percentage will come from all tickets sold at the window, as well as tickets sold by representatives of the Federated Missionary societies, and a good sum is hoped for from the three days' ben- efit.

The finance committee, Mrs. R. J. Goodale, chairman, announces that tickets will be on sale at the Wilford Harrison and Palace Drug stores, and that girls will also sell tickets in the business section on Thursday. The tickets bought at the box office will also contribute a percentage to the fund for the kiddies, as is stated above.

The word dollar as used to describe the coin in use in this and other coun- tries, was derived from the word Joachimsthal, as used in Bohemia, where the count of Schlick, in the fif- teenth century, struck large coins of silver from metal found there, calling them Joachimsthaler. The long word being shortened by custom to thaler, then daler, and now dollar.

ASK ME

Socrates—You don't think much of yourself, do you? James Kirkwood is one of the latest actors in the film colony to become a star. His first production is "A Wise Fool." It seems strange but he never antici- pated being a star. In a recent in- terview he says that he prefers to re- main what he always was.

Ivanhoe—Oh, brave and gallant Ivanhoe! You want to know why they don't put Walter Scott's "Ivan- hoe" in pictures? Well, I really can't say. You know, most people don't like costume plays. Also you want to know the names of some actors who stand six feet or over? Such a question, but at any rate, here goes: Eugene O'Brien, 6 feet; Thomas Meighan, 6 feet; Charles Ogle, 6 feet; Wallace Reid, 6 feet 1 inch; Charles Ray, 6 feet ½ inch; Conrad Nagel, 6 feet; James Kirkwood, 6 feet; Wil- liam S. Hart, 6 feet 1 inch; Mahlon Hamilton, 6 feet; Ralph Graves, 6 feet 1 inch; and there are a number of others which I have not the time to name.

Teddy—Why, Teddy, do you still believe that Doris May is married to Douglas MacLean? A thousand times no! Doris was married to Wallace MacDonald last May. Douglas has been married for seven years. I hope this takes effect.

T. C. Welch—Oh, how can you say such a thing? Doesn't your con- science trouble you? I should think it would. Once again I have to write that Eugene O'Brien is not married and never has been. Some day before I die, I hope to find out the reason why everyone asks me if Eugene O'Brien is married.

Niles W.—You will soon be able to see Naomi Childers in Sidney Franklin's big production entitled "Courage." I have to give some peo- ple credit for having a good memory, and being able to think of pictures that were released up to eight years ago. You are one of them. Charles Chaplin, Mabel Normand and Marie Dressler appeared in "Tilly's Punc- tured Romance." Clara Kimball Young was the star of "Lola" and "The Common Law."

Coral Sea—R. A. Walsh is a very well known director. He has direct- ed Miriam Cooper in a great many pictures and is also her director in private life—her husband. He is at present megaphoning her in "Kindred of the Dust." He is one of the youngest directors in the film colony, being only 30 years old.

Pete Devereaux—Lillian and Doro- thy Gish are at work on "The Two Orphans." But it is said that when they are not working they are at the bedside of their mother who is seri- ously ill in a hospital.

FINANCIER SABIN AND THE TARIFF BILL.

Charles H. Sabin is the guiding genius of the Guaranty Trust Company of New York. He is an influential republican as well as a noted financier. The Fordney tariff bill doesn't appeal to him. He has nothing but condemnation for the American valuation plan of the bill.

He declares that advalorem levies as compared with specific duties are liable to variable and arbitrary interpretation. He insists that consideration should be given to the effect of a high tariff not only on particular industries but upon the welfare of the country as a whole.

He says something else, that the payment debts must be in goods for the reason that the foreign governments are prepared opay interest on their indebtedness, the United States government alone, not speaking of individual debtors shall be entitled to receive more than five hundred million dollars annual interest payments from abroad.

America has re-purchased all American securities held abroad in former years. Now Financier Sabin insists that Europe must pay in goods if it pays at all. Speaking generally, this is his advice to the national lawmakers:

"While it is possible that a high protective tariff on some articles may be proper, there is surely nothing in our economic situation which justifies the adoption of a general tariff policy that will in effect erect a barrier around our ports and isolate us commercially."

There are many leading republicans in the north and the east who are very vehement in their opposition to the Fordney Tariff Bill and its American plan of advalorem valuation. Should the Fordney Tariff Bill create barriers around our ports and isolate us commercially, as Financier Sabin predicts, then there will will be another political blow-up in 1922 or 1924. This is as certain as night follows day.

LO DEN MAY COME BACK.

Frank O. Lowden may be governor of Illinois again. A grand jury has indicted the governor and lieutenant governor of that state, for crimes alleged to have been committed before these worthy gentlemen were elected to their two high offices. If convicted, then they were disqualified and ineligible to the office of governor or lieutenant governor. According to the Constitution of Illinois, a governor is elected for a term of four years or until such time as his successor has duly qualified. This places Frank O. Louden in the runing again and the man who was politically bludgeoned by the "Big Bill" Thompson political ring, may take up the reins again when Lenn Small and his lieutenant governor are on their way for a long stay at Joliet penitentiary—always providing of course that two juries composed of their peers, send them over the road. Louden is one of the best business men in America. He never grafted and he never betrayed. He isn't a Wilson or a Roosevelt or a Hughes or a Hoover but he gave the people of Illinois an economical and honest administration and his defeat for a presidential nomination through the efforts of the Thompson ringsters of Illinois was a blot upon the state where the bones of Abraham Lincoln rest.

An American financier, a republican and a New Englander, remarks that a healthy and prosperous foreign trade has become of increased importance to a great many of our citizens and for that reason it is consequently of "serious domestic concern." It has ever been of importance to the American cotton grower. In other years he has sold more than half his crop to foreigners. If today he could sell the carryover from 1920 to foreigners, even at present prices, there would be two hundred and fifty million dollars turned loose in the channels of trade in the cotton production states. This would be new money—money drawn from the chests of foreigners. Never point the finger of scorn at cotton. For almost a century it has been the gold crop of America.

Business stagnation of today is not due to a flood of foreign goods competing with the produce of our own fields and factories, except in a few instances. Coffee and rubber are imported in vast quantities. Coffee and rubber are not produced in the United States. There is rubber stagnation the world over. According to the American institute of packers there is no demand for meat stuffs abroad and there has been a heavy slump in the American market. That is, there has been a buyers meat strike and the decrease in a year represents more than two million head of meat animals. The English of this is that the American household has turned from meat eating to vegetable and cereal eating. There is no getting away from the figures.

TEXAS FARM AND RANCH VALUES INCREASING.

According to the announcement of the Department of Commerce, Texas stands third in the United States in the value of farm property.

Among other things the report say the value of all farm property in the United States on January 1, 1920, according to the fourteenth Census, was $77,925,980,073, as compared with $40,901,449,000 in 1910. The increase in the value of all farm property during the decade was thus $36,934,539,983, or 90.1 per cent.

Four states reported farm property valued at more than $4,000,000,000 in 1920, as follows: Iowa, $8,525,270,956; Illinois, $6,666,817,235; Texas, $4,461,579,497 and Nebraska, $4,193,825,242.

The average value of all farm property per farm for the United States as a whole in 1920 was $12,085 as compared with $6,444 in 1910.

Texas stands second in the value of live stock, the figures being; Iowa, $614,326,268; Texas $589,321,053; Illinois, $446,154,064; Missouri, $380,830,045; Nebraska, $328,460,001; Wisconsin, $322,312,115; Kansas, $318,025,292; New York, $313,554,695 and Minnesota, $305,163,825.

The total value of livestock (including poultry and bees) on farms in the United States on January 1, 1920, according to the fourteenth census, was $7,996,362,496, as compared with $4,925,173,610 on April 15, 1910. This represents an increase of $3,071,188,886, or 62.4 per cent.

The states reporting the largest values for livestock on farms in 1920, were Iowa, with $614,326,268; Texas, with $589,321,053; and Illinois, with $446,154,064. Six other states reported values in excess of $300,000,000, as follows: Missouri, Nebraska, Wisconsin, Kansas, New York and Minnesota.

The value of horses reported in 1920 was $1,783,307,389, as compared with $2,083,588,195 in 1910. The value of mules on farms in 1920 was $778,768,092, as compared with $525,391,863. These figures represent a decrease of $300,280,806 in the value of horses; this is nearly offset however, by the increase of $253,376,229 in the value of mules.

The value of cattle on farms in the United States in 1920, was $3,634,334,614, or almost one-half the total value of all livestock. Beef cattle were valued at $1,748,146,184 and dairy cattle at $1,886,188,430. The value of all cattle in 1910 was $1,499,523,607. The 1920 value is therefore nearly two and one-half times the value in 1910.

The states reporting the largest values for cattle on farms in 1920 were Texas, Iowa, Wisconsin, New York and Illinois.

The value of sheep on farms in 1920 was $395,152,231 as compared with $232,841,585 in 1910; of goats, $17,344,440 in 1920, as compared with $6,176,423 in 1910; and of swine, $988,807,681 in 1920, as against $399,338,308 in 1910.

The farms reporting the largest values for swine in 1920 were Iowa, Illinois, Nebraska, Indiana and Missouri.

The average value of horses per head in 1920 was $90.13, as compared with $105.06 in 1910; the average for mules was $142.88 in 1920 and $124.80 in 1910; of cattle, $54.40 and $24.20, respectively; of sheep, $11.30 and $4.44; and of swine, $16.66 in 1920, as against $6.86 in 1910. It thus appears that while the average value per head of the several kinds of meat animals (cattle, sheep, and hogs) more than doubled between 1910 and 1920, the case was quite different with draft animals, horses showing a decrease in average value and mules only a moderate increase.

The value of poultry on farms in 1920 was $373,590,035, as compared with $154,663,220 in 1910; and the value of bees was $16,855,251 in 1920, as compared with $10,373,615 in 1910.

The total number of horses on farms in Texas on January 1, 1920, was 995,508; the total number of cattle, 6,249,443; of sheep, 2,552,512; and of swine, 2,232,774. The 1,904 pure-bred horses shown in the table above therefore represent 0.2 per cent of all horses on farms in the state; the pure-bred cattle represent 1.8 per cent of all cattle; the pure-bred sheep, 0.7 per cent of all sheep; and the pure-bred swine, 4.6 per cent of all swine.

RAILWAYS AND THE PEOPLE.

According to the Southern Pacific officials, the main trouble with the railroads is that their revenues have not kept up with their expenses. That appears to be the main trouble with millions of individuals in America as well as the American railways.

Another argument advanced is that increased wages averaged twenty-one per cent, wholesale prices were two hundred and forty per cent higher while freight rates were but thirty per cent higher.

Labor schedules have been reduced; wholesale prices have tumbled; freight rates have been advanced. It is admitted however, that as to efficiency in 1920 the railroads performed the greatest transportation task in their history. They moved more freight and passengers, loaded their cars more heavily and moved them farther per day.

Julius Krutschnits is chairman of the executive committee of the Southern Pacific lines. This is his viewpoint: Any influences that will increase gross revenue or reduce operating expenses will increase net income.

It goes without saying that the wheat farmers of Texas are doing their best to increase gross revenue and that the cotton farmers of Texas will help some if there is a lively demand for their product this fall.

There are bumper crops in Texas with the exception of cotton and the railways are certain to show largely increased revenues this year.

JOHN D. AND HIS DOLLARS.

Lest we forget the Rockefeller Foundation has advanced five millions to the medical schools of Canada to increase their resources and to improve their teaching and research. It may interest the readers of the Record News to know that the United States has a medical school for every million and a quarter of inhabitants; Canada has one for every nine hundred thousand. South of the boundary there is one medical student for every eight thousand of population; north of the line the ratio is one to thirty-seven hundred. When it comes to doctors the situation is reversed. The states have one doctor to seven hundred and twenty; the Dominion one to one thousand and fifty. It is estimated that Canada needs each year three hundred new doctors. There appears to be money in petroleum and John D. is the chief distributor.

When ever a militarist talks of the necessity of a vast army or a world terrorizing navy, he should be told of the huge costs of armament. American tax payers are reminded that obligations arising out of the recent and earlier wars, together with the expenses of the war and navy departments, constituted 92.8 per cent of the total appropriations for 1920. This isn't all. Congress has appropriated almost a billion dollars for the military and naval establishments for the fiscal year 1921-22. This sum should stagger the American tax payer. Why should militarists and militarism be permitted to crush into the earth the wealth producers and tax payers of the world? Let this soak in—out of every dollar paid into the United States treasury by the American tax payers only 7.2 per cent goes to the support of all other departments—the rest for war activities, past, present and future.

Rippling Rhymes
By WALT MASON

THE BOW-WOWS.

We old boys look around us, upon the younger set; the things we see confound us, and put us in a sweat. The young ase vain and giddy, they've blowing in their mon, and Benjamin and Biddy have naught in view but fun. There's no high aspiration, the younger bunch among; and we, in indignation, forget the young are young. When I was one and twenty, and Jane was seventeen, we wanted fun a-plenty, and then some more, I ween. And we went pleasure riding, behind my old bay mare; romance was then abiding around us everywhere. But now I'm old and dotty, and when the young whiz by, I think their conduct naughty, and heave a heavy sigh. "To what is this world coming," I cry aloud; "gadzooks, when in cars go humming, instead of reading books? Oh, whither are we drifting?" I murmur, with a tear, when I see youngsters lifting their steins of kickless beer. It keeps my spirit fretting, so I am all unstrung; and I am still forgetting, that young folk must be young. This world would swim in glory, and all things would be gay, if little boys were hoary, and little girls were gray. But youth must have its inning, its laughter must prevail, and age must have its spinning of legends sad and stale.—Copyright by George Matthew Adams.

DUN LOSES AUTO TIRE THRU THEFT

The busy section of Eighth street in the vicinity of the Kemp hotel would not seem to offer many inducements as a location for daylight theft, but some time between the noon hour and 4:30 p. m. Wednesday a bold thief stole a tire from a Ford car belonging to the R. G. Dun and company which was parked near the alley on this thoroughfare.

There was a funny side to the theft, according to one of the representatives of the company, who reported the matter to the Record News in that whoever took this particular tire off was a poor judge of tires as he left three on the car better than the missing one.

It was thought probable that people, and perhaps an officer of the law or two, passing, may have seen the removal of the tire and not noticed it, thinking that it was some tire service employe making a change.

overlapping and duplicating departments. The Patman anti-Ku Klux Klan resolution was defeated in the house today when a motion to table carried by a vote of 69 to 54. Representative Patman was attacked by the opponents of the resolution for his stand on the unseating of ex-Representative H. J. Neinast of Washington county.

Patman did not vote on this case but on the floor of the house he objected to the proceedings because he claimed the evidence was insufficient to unseat Neinast. He was asked regarding his religious belief and if he was a member of the Knights of Columbus. He replied that his people were Primitive Baptists, that he was inclined that way and that he was not a member of the Knights of Columbus.

Representative Melson of Hopkins introduced a bill in the house proposing to levy a one cent tax on all tickets to places of amusement such as picture shows and baseball games. The revenues from the bill go to the rural school aid fund.

Representatives Lackey, Quaid, Bonham, Hall and Cox were appointed today as the house members of the legislative committee to investigate graft and extravagance in the capitol as charged by Governor Neff.

Consideration of the University of Texas appropriation in the educational bill took the time of the house during the afternoon. An amendment by Beasley of McCullough providing that the available university fund shall be used for buildings and repairs only was adopted. Bonham of Bee offered an amendment reducing the salaries of the teachers and professors of the main university $378,173 for the next two years. The amendment was pending when the house recessed until tomorrow.

Hill of Wheeler introduced a bill proposing a one cent tax per gallon on retail sale of gasoline, the revenues to go to the rural school aid bill.

INVESTIGATION OF ROBBERY OF P. B. M. CLOSED

Final evidence, which will close investigation of the P. B. M. store burglary, committed last week, was obtained Wednesday by City Detectives Jack Miller and John Boone, according to their report made after returning.

A negro service car driver was reported to have been brought back to act as a material witness against negroes, who have already been arrested by the officers. Charges have been filed against two and a third is to be arrested, according to their report.

About $2,000 worth of the goods taken from the store were recovered Monday morning when accidentally found by two small boys, under a storehouse on Pecan street.

SELECT FOUR JURORS TO TRY H. J. TOUSSAINT

Counsel for Defense Indicate Insanity Will Be Chief Issue Advanced in Appeal for Freedom.

Defendant Maintains Stoic Attitude, Although Smiling at Venireman's Sharp Answer to Query.

Four jurors had been accepted by the state and defense attorneys in the trial of Henry J. Toussaint, former army officer, charged with the murder of his father here in February and the case was adjourned at 4:30 Wednesday afternoon until this morning in the Thirtieth District court.

E. B. Gorsline, retired real estate man of this city, was accepted both by the state and defense as the fourth juror after he had been asked only a few of the numerous questions propounded to other prospective jurors. Mr. Gorsline is 60 years of age and married.

The other three jurors accepted and sworn in during the day were:

Guy Roberts, farmer, 35 years old, married, living three miles northeast of this city.

G. W. Lawler, barber, 38 years old, married, living in this city.

E. D. Mason, 25 years old, married, living near Burkburnett.

May Fill Jury Today.

Although there was a noticeable speeding up on the part of counsel, both for the state and defense in the examination of prospective jurors as the day progressed Wednesday, it is not believed that the jury will be completed until late today should the special venire of 200 men not be concluded before that time.

At time of adjournment only 15 men of the 200 who reported remained to be examined. To this number will be added today several that failed to report Wednesday and also the usual jury panel for the week.

The accused and attorneys entered the court room of the Thirtieth District court at 9 a. m. Seemingly self possesed with his usual heavy frown, the accused took his seat with his attorneys, Luther Hoffman, C. C. McDonald and B. Yancy Cummings. He was attired in a dark suit with soft white collar.

He took active interest in the entire proceedings of the day holding before him the special venire list of 200 men keeping account of the men as they were announced absent, excused, or accepted for jury service.

Joins in Laugh.

Although maintaining his usual stoic attitude the accused did smile as the entire court broke into laughter when E. C. Dameral was excused from jury service after stating in answer to querfes that he believed the accused ought to be hung "sane or insane."

Mrs. Toussaint came into the court room and was seated by the side of her husband after court had been in session three hours.

She was dressed in a brown organdie dress, trimmed in white organdie, wearing a beach hat with pink flowers. Of light complexion with dark brown hair and brown eyes the wife, who is under 30 years of age, is possesed of more than average attractiveness and beauty.

Appears Nervous at First.

She was plainly nervous as she entered the court room and took her place by the side of her husband from whom she was separated at the time he shot and killed his father in the residential partof the city on the night of February 6th. The nervousness wore off as the trial proceeded. The husband and wife talked together frequently during the day. No other relatives or friends were present Wednesday.

The frank statement of the accused's attorneys while prospective jurors were being examined that the defense conceded that defendant had killed his father at the time and manner alleged in the indictment and that they would seek no justification other than their defense of insanity was the principal development in the case Wednesday.

With this admission by the defense the examination of the members of the venire resolved itself mainly to questions regarding their attitude toward capital punishment and insanity as a defense. Of the 86 men actually examined from the witness chair 18 of them were excused because of their opposition to the death penalty to be demanded by the state with only one excused on the grounds that he did not believe in insanity as defense for a crime. A majority of the remainder were excused because they had formed prejudicial opinions from what they had heard and read about the case.

Few Jurors Report

Only about fifty men responded to roll call of the special venire of 200 men when court opened. Judge Weldon immediately ordered the sheriff's department to have personal service on those that failed to report. Others reported during the day and more are expected today. After Judge Weldon had excused a few on general grounds the actual examination of the jurors started from the witness stand.

For the state, District Attorney Wilson and former County Attorney Davenport made the examinations consulting with County Attorney Fulton and Assistant District Attorney Holliday. All of the defense attorneys took part in the questioning.

Church and secret order affiliations, family relations and present knowledge of case were among the matters about which questions were asked in addition to the two most important questions stated above.

Few Are Challenged

The state has used five of the fifteen peremptory challenges allowed it by law, while the defense has used three.

H. S. Mann, Electra, farmer; F. M. Baker, Electra, telegraph operator; W. H. Daniels, local teaming contractor; P. T. Mitchell, Electra, driller, and C. H. Parker, local grocer, were all accepted by the defense but challenged without cause by the state.

W. L. Croflinger, laborer of this city; J. B. Moore, Electra, farmer, and L. L. Thompson, Electra, farmer, were acceptable to the state but were challenged without cause by the defense.

W. P. Douglas, a local negro resident, was dismissed as a juror by agreement of both sides.

During the day defense attorneys excepted three times as to questions asked the prospective jurors but in each case the juror was not selected, the day ending without the defense obtaining an official exception which later might be the grounds for an appeal.

42 Witnesses Report

Forty-two witnesses reported Wednesday morning for the trial of the case. Twenty-three of these were for the state and nineteen for the defense. In addition, thirteen depositions have been taken. The witnesses were excused during the afternoon until 10 o'clock this morning.

Although the lower floor of the 30th district courtroom was filled when court opened in the afternoon it gradually thinned out as it became evident that no testimony would be taken during the day. Only a few women were present.

Prices were unchanged at three cents for Cubas cost and freight, equal to 4.61 for centrifugal. Raw sugar future were steadier; close 3.05 September 3.10; December 2.85; March 2.70, all bid.

Refined sugar showed an advance of 10 points by a local refiner to the basis of six cents for fine granulated. Others from 5.85 to 5.90.

WAR FINANCE CORPORATION HAS BALANCE

WASHINGTON, July 27.—In a statement of its financial condition issued today, the war finance corporation showed a cash credit on hand with the treasurer of the United States of $403,827,771.29. Outstanding loans amounted to $99,993,839.39 of which $65,856,479.59 represented loans made under its war powers. Outstanding loans under export finance authority totaled $34,047,359.80. Total loans heretofore made aggregated $350,586,049.58, while repayments aggregated $250,682,210.19.

While the $400,000,000 credit with the treasurer would be available for payments to the railroads in the event of the passage of legislation suggested to congress by President Harding, corporation officials declared it would probably not be considered advisable to withdraw the whole sum from the treasury.

STEADY TONE PREVAILS ON COTTON MART

NEW ORLEANS, July 27.—A steady tone prevailed in the cotton market today with prices at small advances through nearly the whole session. The tone on the close was very steady with prices 12 to 16 points higher than previous finals. Claims of extensive weevil damage and too frequent mention of weevil activities in weekly government crop reports were the main influence back of the buying. Scattered selling and some liquidation of long cotton made for a temporarily low market in early trading but after declines of 7 to 9 points which carried October off to 11.45, a new demand came in and during most of the rmainder of the day the market had moderately steady support. Highest prices came in late trading when October rose to 11.65 and active months were 16 to 17 points over yesterday's close. October closed at 11.64.

Some early offerings were due to favorable weather over the belt and for a while, following the weekly crop reports, there was an increase in the supply of contracts and outside of weevil damage the returns were rather more favorable than expected. In the long run, however, weevil talk outweighed all other features and resulted in a greater demand than the ring could supply except at a higher range of value.

NEW YORK COTTON.

NEW YORK, July 27.—The action of the cotton market today indicated that liquidation for the time being at least was pretty well over. Notwithstanding continued favorable weather reports from the belt and a bearish weekly weather and crop report from the government, the market was well supported on all weak spots and near the close developed positive strength with final prices five to 22 points net higher and four to five points under the top for the day.

The market opened steady at 1 to 4 points higher on trade buying and local covering, but soon went into a decline which carried October off to 11.90 and December to 12.33, or 5 to 10 points under previous close. At this time sentiment was influenced by the report of a Texas house making condition 66.3 against 67.8 last month, thus indicating less than the average deterioration for the period and by reports in a local trade paper showing favorable crop progress in the Mississippi, Alabama and Louisiana districts with an improvement in condition in two of these states. There was also a renewal of unfavorable trade advices from Manchester and reports of an increasing movement of the new crop in south Texas, all of which affected sentiment to some extent but failed to bring out further liquidation or promote any aggressive bear pressure. Thus when spot house buying developed on rather a liberal scale near the close the market made a quick response, jumping 24 to 27 points from lowest of the day and forcing in a good many local short accounts that had been put out earlier on the favorable weather news.

FEED STEERS RECEIVED IN LARGE NUMBER

By Associated Press.

FORT WORTH, Texas, July 27.—Feed lot steers arrived in liberal numbers today and as a result the supply of cattle was voluminous, around 5000 arriving. HARVEST HAS BULL EFFECT ON SOFT WHEAT

CHICAGO, July 27.—Indications that the harvest movement from the soft wheat states was about over had a bullish effect on the wheat market today. Prices closed nervous 2 to 3 3-4 cents net higher with September $1.27 to $1.27 1-4 and December $1.28 3-4 to $1.29. Corn gained 1-4 to 1 cent and oats finished 1 4c off to 1-8c up. In provisions the outcome was unchanged to 15@17c higher.

Evidence that country selling of wheat was abruptly falling off caused opinion to gain ground that the maximum of receipts had been passed so far as the winter crop was concerned. Belief that current export business was much in excess of the published totals counted also as a strengthening factor.

Need of rain in Iowa, Indiana and other important states gave an upward slant to the corn market. Oats were relatively weak owing to heavy sales attributed to an eastern exporter.

Firmness in provisions was due in the main to the fact that hogs had risen to highest quotations yet this season.

WHEAT GOES BACK TO $1.05 PER BUSHEL IN EFFECT WEDNESDAY

A rise of 5 cents a bushel in the price paid by local elevators for cash wheat will be posted in the market this morning, when $1.05 will be offered for wheat of No. 1 grade. This rise is in accordance with the changes in the Chicago and Kansas City market and not due to any local conditions, the reports say.

According to this scale, No. 2, which is the usual grade in this vicinity will bring $1.02 a bushel and No. 3 will be quoted at 99 cents a bushel.

STOCKS AT CONTRAST ON WALL STREET

NEW YORK, July 27.—Weakness of various speculative specialties and a steady to firm tone for standard shares based largely on relaxed monetary conditions, were the sharply contrasting features of today's stock market. Reactions at gross recessions of 2 to 8 points included Pressed Steel Car, American Car, Pullman, International Harvester, Central Leather, common and preferred; Sears Roebuck and Famous Players.

United Drug overshadowed all other issues, however, opening at an additional decline of 5 1-4 points, extending this loss to 20 1-4 at midday and finishing at a net reversal of 17 1-4 points.

There was considerable mystery connected with the collapse of this stock until the last half of the session when it became known that Louis K. Liggett, president of the company, had placed his affairs in the hands of trustees.

United States Steel was well supported throughout.

Call money opened at 5 per cent and eased to 4 1-2, the minimum quotations since November, 1919, in the final hour. In the open market call funds were offered as low as 4 per cent on prime collateral.

Italian and Dutch rates at reactions to 20 to 30 points featured the very erratic foreign exchange market.

Public utility and convertible rails were the strongest issue in a fairly active and broad bond market. Liberty and international bonds were irregular.

BAD EGGS FLOODING MARKETS

Declaring that recent complaints received from citizens of too large percentages of eggs being found spoiled, Dr. W. T. Lucy of the city sanitary department, Tuesday advised that people purchase only candled eggs from reputable merchants or demand that peddlers exhibit a city permit, so the officials may be informed as to what persons are selling eggs which fall below the legal standard.

In this connection Dr. Lucy said that the farmer or producer is not required to have a permit, but that the peddler, who buys from the producer, must.

He also said that the permit costs nothing, as it is merely for use as a check, so officials may be able to protect citizens.

The peddling of eggs, of which more than one from each dozen is spoiled was declared to be in violation of both the laws of Texas and of a city ordinance.

SPUDDERS RUN AMUCK, COLLECT TWENTY-FIVE HITS AND MURDER POOR CRIPPLED BUFFALOES 19-6

By C. F. CARTER

Where is that guy who said it was hard to get pitchers? Why, George Whiteman, manager of the Houston Buffaloes, recently picked up three new ones without the slightest effort—and after Adolph Pierotti was knocked off the rubber yesterday by the Slugging Spudders, George used all his new twirlers; Second-Baseman Blades, Shortstop Darringer and Third-Baseman Doyle.

In fact, Boston George cupped his hands over his tiny mouth on one occasion and yelled at a grandstand fan:

"Say, I may hafta pitch m'self; I ain't got many left!"

The Spudders barely nosed out the Buffs, just scratched out, you might say, by the narrow margin of 19 to 6. All of Whiteman's new hurlers were extremely effective, and the best the Spuds could do was to gather 25 base hits, including four circuit wallops and a bushel basket full of two-baggers.

That game not only knocked a number of A-1 infielding pitchers out of the box—it knocked half a dozen lead pencils out of the press box in the frenzied rush to mark down the rain of Wichita Falls hits. The press coop gang on the roof had to yell for help, and two sporting editors were forced to retire because of writer's cramp. The wire operator surrendered, and fell in a faint at the end of the fourth inning, and R. O. Harvey grabbed the key and dot-dashed the fatal tidings to Houston from that point on.

Boy, howdy, it was a slaughter, a massacre. Buffalo Bill in his palmiest days, when he was killing beef for the United States government and the Union Pacific railroad, never treated the buffaloes of the west with the cruelty displayed yesterday afternoon by the Spudders.

Tex Hitting .1500.

Tex McDonald must be hitting about .1500 at this writing. Old Tex continued yesterday right where he left off Tuesday, and in five trips to the plate belted two home runs over the right field wall and collected a double and two singles. Bob Bescher was right behind him with four hits out of four times up, while Jake Miller fattened his average with five safeties, including a round-trip smash, out of six.

We're just wondering if all you fans will be satisfied if we limit description of the game to the one inning in which the Spudders made 7 runs? How about? Print paper is too valuable to detail every inning in which the boys soaked the pill and galloped across home plate. So let's just take the second inning as an illustration of the dirty work:

Frank Kitchens started by being thrown out by Doyle. Al Miller singled to center and went to second when Bescher singled to left. Buddy Tanner flied out to Baggan—and then Tex McDonald drove 'er over the right field wall a few feet inside the foul line and going strong. Three runs scored, and Danny Clark again started loading up the bases by drawing free transportation to first. Jake Miller clouted a single to right and Danny pulled up at third. Jake stole second, and then Cecil Griggs dropped a Texas leaguer in right center scoring Danny and Jake. Caddy Works doubled against the center field fence, sending Cecil home—and then George Whiteman decided Adolph Pierotti had been in there long enough. George, however, with only thirteen men in condition to play, had to save his regular pitchers. With the game hopelessly lost, he sent Blades in to twirl, took second himself and sent Clyde Barfoot into center field.

Frank Kitchens, who had started the fool inning, came up again, and promptly lined a two-bagger against the Fisher sign in left, scoring Works and earning $5 in gold for Frank. Al Miller, who must have thought by this time he was back in the old Western association, struck out and went out to the hill laughing.

Miller, the Spudder's new southpaw, was touched for ten blows by the Buffs, and issued 9 bases on balls. But with the lead he had, the youngster never really had to exert himself, and it was hard to get a real line on him. He showed some beautiful curves, more stuff, in fact, than any pitcher has displayed at Athletic park for some time, and he struck out six Houston batters. But he was taking life out there so easily, that it was difficult to judge what he will do in a tight game. Offhand, however, we'll say he looks good for a number of winning ball games.

LAKEVIEW GOLF CLUB TO ORGANIZE

A number of matters that have been hanging fire for some time in regard to the new Lakeview Golf club course at Call Field have been straightened out, according to E. H. Staley, "father" of the movement for a semi-public links in Wichita Falls, and steps will now be taken to organize the club on a permanent basis.

Letters have been mailed to those who handed in their names when the original announcement of the club's plans was made, asking that they remit their membership fees of $5 each, in order that the club may be soundly established. The fee has been maintained at an unusually low figure for these charter members, but all later members joining the club will be asked to pay $25—and this latter sum will be an extremely modest price, considering the work being done and the plans under way for a clubhouse.

As soon as a sufficient number of the charter members have "kicked in" a meeting will be held, officers elected and all other organization work completed.

In his letter to the charter members Staley gives among other matters the following brief report of the condition of the course and the work that has been done:

"We have just finished mowing the course and many are playing, even though the weather is hot.

"We still have with us a few 'chiggers,' but very few, and these will soon be eliminated by the weather.

"We have ahead of us about eight months of weather in which we can play golf, with less expense, perhaps, than any other club in Texas, everything considered.

"There will be but little growth of weeds and grass from now on, and the club can go just as far as it wishes in regard to hiring a steam roller, putting in bunkers and otherwise improving the course.

"Many of us have been playing regularly since June 1 and thoroughly enjoying the game, even though under some difficulties.

"We have the prospect of getting a building near the golf course which will do very nicely for a clubhouse. This building has a large center room, with rooms on each end and also has a shower bath. This arrangement will allow us to have a place for our clubs, to be used also for a men's dressing room. On the other end of the building a porch can be built so that refreshments can be served either in the large room or on the east porch outside. This building has been promised as soon as it is vacant, and it is expected that this will be within two weeks."

ELKS TO PLAY BUZZ WETZEL'S BALL NINE AT ELECTRA SUNDAY

Buzz Wetzel, southpaw Spudder twirler in 1920, will lead his agng of walloping Goree ball players against the Wichita Falls Elks at Electra next Sunday afternoon—and the battle that follows the battery announcement should be one of the hardest fought semi-pro struggles of the season.

George Jehle, manager of the Elks nine, one of the fastest independent teams of this section, has been grooming his crew of ball tossers for this particular game. Goree has a strong team and Wetzel has been twirling some rather nifty ball lately. With the exception of one game, when Floyd Kroh's Anson club battered Wetzel all over the lot, Buzz has showed considerable "stuff" on the ball in all his 1921 semi-pro engagements.

The Elks probably will start Leonard Smith, who has been their mainstay in the box since the middle of the season. A big crowd of Elks is expected to journey to Electra for the tussle. The game will start at 3:30 o'clock.

Here's Looking at You, Froggy

BY C. F. C.

"Froggy Rothfuss, hard-hitting Spudder outfielder, has been sent to his home in Newark, N. J., to rest and recover from the injury to his head."—News Item.

Bring out the ancient schooner, boys,
And fill it to the brim;
Here's a farewell toast to "Froggy,"
To Froggy—that's him.

His poor old bean is aching,
His batting eye is dim;
But he's still a Spudder idol,
Yes, Froggy—that's him.

Oh, many a time our Froggy
Had the fielders on a limb,
When he swung that yellow wagon tongue,
Yes, Froggy—that's him.

He's headed home to Newark,
To rest like Uncle Jim,
But he'll be back in '22,
Good Froggy—that's him.

Before Dick Humphries beaned him,
Take this from Uncle Bim:
He shook a wicked willow,
Our Froggy—that's him.

We'll miss you, Froggy Rothfuss,
Each loyal Spudder fan;
We'll miss your speed and hitting,
We'll miss you as a man.

But it's only for a little while;
Go home, old boy, and rest,
Then join the club in '22,
And hit like all possessed!

Go walk the board walk, Froggy,
You know—Atlantic City—
You lucky stiff, you don't deserve
A single ounce of pity!

Fill up that mug of beer again,
Oh, load it with the brew;
Here's to you, Froggy Rothfuss,
May your head grow good as new.

Gosh-darn, we'll miss you, Froggy!
It gives us fans the cramps—
But you'll play, of course, next season
With the Spudders—Dixie Champs!

BUCK WEAVER AND HAPPY FELSCH ARE PROMISED ACQUITTAL UNLESS OTHER EVIDENCE MAY BE PRESENTED

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, July 27.—The defense in the baseball trial today in three hours tore down the network of evidence woven by the state in seven days sufficiently to bring immediate freedom to two defendants, obtained a tentative promise from the presiding judge for freedom for three others and presented an alibi supported by two witnesses and numerous written records for a sixth of the eleven men on trial.

As a result of the defense's first attack, Louis and Ben Levi of Kokomo, Ind., walked out of court legally free of any connection with the deal through which it is alleged Chicago White Sox players agreed to throw the 1919 world's series for $100,000. Buck Weaver and Happy Felsch, once idols of the American league, and Carl Zork of St. Louis were promised acquittal by Judge Friend unless other evidence is presented against them and David Zelser of Des Moines, Iowa, presented an alibi through his own testimony which was corroborated by witnesses and documents introduced as evidence.

Tomorrow the defense will begin trying to free Joe Jackson, Eddie Cicotte, Claude Williams, Chick Gandil and Swede Risberg.

The defense does not expect to finish before the middle of next week. The state rested its case today after Billy Maharg of Philadelphia gave testimony corroborating that previously given by Bill Burns, the admitted accomplice.

The defense then presented motions for dismissal of charges against the Levis, Zork, Felsch, Weaver, Zelser and Joe Jackson. The state promptly dropped the cases against the Levis, but refused to take similar action for the others, holding that they might be further incriminated through defense testimony, but admitting that the case against them now is weak.

Zelser testified that he was in Chicago, September 28, leaving that night for Cincinnati and arriving there September 29, the day Bill Burns had testified he conferred with him in New York over the alleged conspiracy. Returning to Chicago after the two Cincinnati games, Zelser said he was confined to his hotel room here for three days through illness. His testimony was confirmed by other witnesses.

LOCAL GOLFERS WILL ENTER TRANS-MISSISSIPPI TOURNEY

Seeking new worlds to conquer and not content with the splendid showing made in the recent Texas championships at Dallas, the Wichita Falls Golf and Country club will send a delegation of golfers to Denver, Col., next month to battle for the Trans-Mississippi title. At least half a dozen golfers will represent this city when the classic opens August 8 over the course of the Denver Country club.

T. P. Adams and C. E. McCutcheon are already in Denver and are playing and practicing daily over the links where the Trans-Mississippi championship will be staged. Tommy Cochran, Monte Staniforth, Bill Norton and C. O. Davis will leave here August 4, it was announced yesterday, and it is possible several other local golfers will make the trip.

Tommy Cochran, as usual, is looked upon as Wichita Falls' one best bet. Tommy knows the Denver County club course, likes it and has played some remarkable golf over that particular links. Last summer Cochran spent two weeks in Denver, shot the courses in the Colorado capital in the low 70's daily, came within one stroke of shattering the Denver Country club course record, and beat such players as M. A. McLaughlin, Larry Bromfield, Morgan Townsend and Carrol Brown. "Mac" and Larry have each won the Colorado state title a number of times, Townsend has held it once and Brown has repeatedly been a runner-up and a medalist.

Knepper of Iowa, Morris Legg and many other stars of former Trans-Mississippi battles will be on deck for the big event, and the sledding will be tough for every golfer entered. Whether any of the local golfers rise to fame remains to be seen—but they deserve credit for their efforts and for having the courage to try. More power to 'em!

COMMISSION GIVES TITLE TO DOWNEY

By Associated Press.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, July 27.—Referee Jimmie Gardner gave the decision to Johnny Wilson, champion middleweight on a foul, in the seventh round of a scheduled 12-round no decision contest here tonight between Wilson and Bryan Downey of Cleveland.

Wilson had been knocked down three times in this round and Gardner had counted seven on the third knockdown when he claimed Downey struck Wilson while he was down and gave the decision to Wilson. A small sized riot followed the decision. Downey had knocked Wilson down in the third round for a count of two.

J. B. Wilberding, chairman of the Cleveland boxing commission, announced that the commission gave the fight to Downey on a knockout. Wilberding said that the official time of the first knockdown in the seventh round was 16 seconds and the second knock down was thirteen seconds and that if a foul was committed it was by Wilson's manager jumping into the ring while the count was going on.

Notice of Trustee's Sale

Pursuant to an order issued out of the United States District court for the northern district of Texas, Wichita Falls division, I will offer for sale at public outcry, the assets of La Petite Maison, consisting principally of a stock of Ladies' Ready-to-Wear, invoicing about $4,000; store furniture and fixtures, on Thursday, July 28, at 3 o'clock p. m. at 702 Indiana avenue in Wichita Falls, Texas. All bids will be for cash and subject to rejection. All sales will be made subject to the approval of the above named court.

M. E. STEVENS, Trustee.

Important Announcement

For owners of production located in the northwest and Electra fields.

I have completed arrangements whereby an almost unlimited amount of money will be invested in production located in the northwest fields and Electra fields. I assure you that this arrangement does not refer to the "So-called New York concerns" that have pretended to buy production here for the past two years. These purchasers are real oil people and your production will be inspected by experienced oil men.

You will not be asked to sell for part cash and balance in part of the production, but an outright purchase will be made without an option or a tieup of any kind. If you really want to sell and willing to sell at a price which would be in line with present conditions, either call, phone or wire me at 313 City Nat. Bank Bldg. Wichita Falls, Texas.

THREW BACK FISH UNDER FIVE POUNDS

"We caught so many fish we had to throw all of them up to five pounds back in," declared Oral (Doc) Jones, assistant cashier of the City National Bank of Commerce, regarding the luck of a recent fishing party in the waters near the head of Lake Wichita. Doc wouldn't tell the exact location of the spot because he said it was unusually good place to fish and he believed in keeping it to himself.

Those in the party, including Doc Jones, the Rev. H. D. Knickerbocker, Lester Jones, P. P. Langford, Wiley Robertson, C. E. Basham, J. T. Harrell and Tom Key, report the "time of their lives," both in the sport of catching the fish and in the eats prepared on the spot.

BURLESON ASSERTS CENTRAL EUROPE IN MONEY STRINGENCY

By Associated Press.

BERLIN, July 27.—A. S. Burleson, former United States Postmaster General, who has returned to Berlin after investigating the commercial, industrial and financial conditions of Poland, Austria and Czechoslovakia, is of the opinion that there is little hope of selling Europe large quantities of cotton and other raw materials until Germany and other countries of Central Europe balance their budgets and make definite arrangements to discontinue the issuance of paper money and to retire what currency until its volume is only three times that of their gold reserves.

"I can't see any indication that the statesmen of Central Europe are facing their problems frankly and trying to formulate plans which get at the fundamental problems and might insure the resumption of the industries and the renewal of the export trade" said Mr. Burleson. "It is not reasonable to talk about foreign loans to Central Europe as long as the printing presses continue to pour out paper money without any real guarantee or any prospect that it will be retired.

"Germany is in far better condition than the other countries of Central Europe, and I personally believe Germany could improve its exchange situation very speedily if it would stop issuing paper money and levy a tax over a period of 10 years to guarantee its retirement of and the creation of a larger gold reserve. Foreign bankers want to see definite plans before they take a chance on the countries of Central Europe."

JAP NEWSPAPER URGES PROTEST ON DEPORTATION

By Associated Press.

TOKIO, July 27.—The Nichi Nichi says today that the cabinet has decided the government should send a protest to the United States government against the deportation of Japanese workers from the harvest fields in Turlock, Cal.

The foreign office, when inquiries were made there, said it had no information concerning the reported decision of the government.

WOMAN AVOIDS AN OPERATION

Hope Nearly Gone, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Saved Her

Star, N. C.—"My monthly spells gave me so much trouble, sometimes they would last two weeks. I was treated by two doctors without relief and they both said I would have to have an operation. I had my trouble four years and was unfit to do anything and had given up all hope of ever getting any better. I read about your medicine in the 'Primitive Baptist' paper and decided to try it. I have used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Lydia E. Pinkham's Liver Pills for about seven months and now I am able to do my work. I shall never forget your medicine and you may publish this if you want to as it is true."—Mrs. J. F. HURSEY, Star, N.C.

Here is another woman who adds her testimony to the many whose letters we have already published, proving that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound often restores health to suffering women even after they have gone so far that an operation is deemed advisable. Therefore it will surely pay any woman who suffers from such ailments to try it.

Deserted Mother and Six Children Found in Need by Welfare Council

Deserted by her husband and surrounded by six small children, all between the ages of 2 and 12 years a woman without food in her house with which to feed herself or her brood and with a visitation from the stork expected within a short period, was recently reported for the care of Mrs. C. E. Ousley, secretary of the Welfare Council.

At the time she was taken in charge by the council, the woman had only two sheets for the beds in the house and a single gown with which to clothe herself, while her children were reported covered with rags, which barely hid their skins.

Food for the family is being provided by the Welfare Council and the local Red Cross, the city physician has arranged to provide medical treatment for the woman, when she shall need it.

Clothing for the woman and her children was reported Tuesday to be the only necessities, which they are unable, so far to provide and the appeal was issued for parties who will give some article of clothing to the woman, to send them to the Welfare Council office at the Chamber of Commerce.

A small ice box, in which to keep milk for feeding a small infant, also is being sought for another mother, who has six children. In this case the physicians have ordered that the child be fed on sweet milk, according to Mrs. Ousley.

COUNTY GETS $15,000 FOR ROAD PAVING

The arrival Wednesday at the county treasurer's office of a check for $15,000 from the state highway department at Austin representing an additional payment on the state aid promised on the construction of the concrete road between this city and Iowa Park again gave a small surplus in the special road fund of the county which has been overdrawn.

According to Tom McHam, county treasurer, the additional aid takes care of overdrafts totaling $7,000 used in the work on the Iowa Park-Electra road now under the process of construction.

It is expected that the balance will handle all bills until money is received on the $1,500,000 road bond issue which has been approved by the attorney general's department.

COSTA RICA REJECTS PLAN ON BOUNDARY

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, July 27.—Proposals for submitting the boundary dispute between Costa Rica and Panama to a special arbitration at The Hague, laid before the state department by Narcisco Garay, Panaman secretary of foreign relations, have been rejected by Costa Rica. The attitude of the United States on the proposal has not been publicly expressed, but it is believed to be adverse.

Octavio Bersche, Costa Rican minister here, today declared that Costa Rica holds the controversy to have been legally determined by the White award. He also took issue with published statements that the controversy had become one between the United States and Panama. Costa Rica, he said, under no circumstances considers herself eliminated from the controversy.

GIRLS! WHITEN SKIN WITH LEMON JUICE

Squeeze the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of Orchard White, which any drug store will supply for a few cents, shake well, and you have a quarter pint of harmless and delightful lemon bleach. Massage this sweetly fragrant lotion into the face, neck, arms and hands each day, then shortly note the beauty and whiteness of your skin.

Famous stage beauties use this lemon lotion to bleach and bring that soft, clear, rosy-white complexion, also as a freckle, sunburn, and tan bleach because it doesn't irritate.—Adv.
