Emergency Call for Dressings Ahead of Quota

Emergency call for more and surgical dressings to be supplied to the War department by the American Red Cross is being transmitted to southwestern chapters by the Midwestern area headquarters. St. Louis this week, Floyd county chapter being called upon to rush completion its present quota of the allotted time and prepare for another shipment of materials.

This news from Mrs. S. W. Ross, county chairman of surgical dressings production, includes the announcement that invoice is here the emergency quota of bandages, although the present allotment bandages lack something of being completed this mid-week. "We have to have the present stock finished and shipped this week," Mrs. Ross said, indicating that results will depend upon the number of chapters who report for work. Payment will be made immediately on completion, she said.

Encouraged by Letters
Every wound must be dressed—just some wounds, or certain ones, but all wounds, large or small, must be dressed and dressed.

Reminders like that, in letters overseas, keep the volunteers of the Floyd County Red Cross cheerful and loyal to their task of surgical dressings making these hot days, according to Mrs. Ross, surgical dressings production chairman.

The volunteers grow weary, of course, and sometimes the work seems to be a never-ending task. (See DRESSINGS QUOTA, back page.)

Highway Widening in City Awaits Men for the Job

Highway widening in the two miles through the city, for which appropriation by the Highway department has been made several weeks, still is waiting for a sufficient number of men who can be employed to handle the job.

Maintenance Foreman A. J. Hamilton yesterday said that for a time with men and equipment were short, but thinks that the equipment could be gotten together quickly if the manpower situation would ease up. He needs 40 men for the work and has nine available.

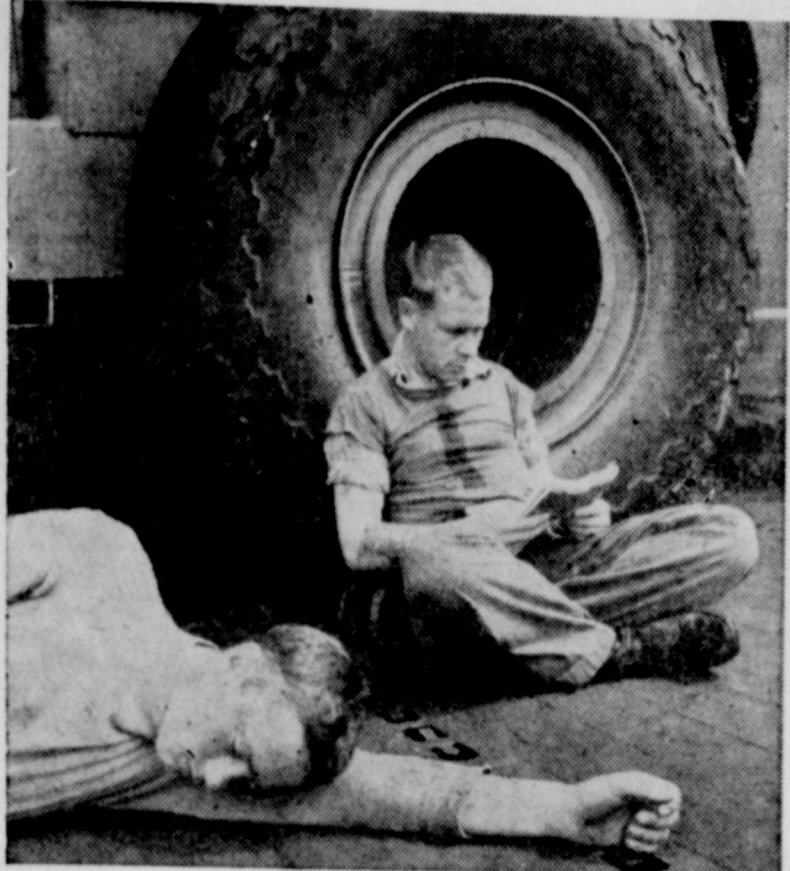

The plan calls for widening the highway shoulders 11 feet on each side through the principal part of the residence section and six feet on the remainder of the two miles, except at the junction of 20 and 207. Asphalt with rock will be used for the gutter and a caliche curb, since steel and concrete are not available. "The job is really a bigger one than it appears to be," said Mr. Hamilton, stating that 8000 yards of dirt will have to be moved to make room for the caliche base. A portion of this dirt will be used on road fills where hauls are not too expensive and a part will be given to the city for use in building up streets.

All of this when the men are available for the work.

Auto Use Stamp Sales More Brisk But No Rush Yet

Mrs. Barbara H. Smith's suggestion last week that car use stamps be bought early instead of late to avoid the rush got some results but didn't create a rush. The possibility of forgetting and the possibility of stamp supply being exhausted were also mentioned as two other advantages of buying early by the postmaster.

NEWS OF OUR MEN and WOMEN IN UNIFORM

Lt. Thos. Fowler Killed By German Sniper Near Rome

News of the death of her son, 2nd Lt. Thomas Fowler, 22, in Italy in the period May 31 to June 4, has been received by Mrs. A. H. Fowler, of Floydada and Wichita Falls, the information coming from another son, 1st Lt. Mack Fowler, also in the Italian campaign.

That the son had been hurt and was missing was information Mrs. Fowler received from the surviving son last week-end, while on her farm in east Floyd county, and she left at once for Wichita Falls to be in closer touch. Tuesday she telephoned her son, J. W. Fowler, here.

According to the account of Thomas' death given by Mack to his mother, Thos. was fatally wounded while directing a tank attack in the hills south of Rome. Mack in a search for the brother, according to his account, found Thomas in a hospital suffering from a head wound. He had been shot by a German sniper of the retreating Germans.

Meanwhile Mack, who is in the Quartermaster corps, had been in the vanguard of the American troops that reached the City of Rome. It was after completing his assignment in this advance that he began the search for Thomas, who was missing.

Leaves Wife and Son
Lt. Thomas Fowler was a student at A. and M. college and took his training with the tank corps at Ft. Knox, Kentucky. He had been on foreign duty several months, first in Northern Africa. Although not in the same outfit the brothers, Thomas and Mack, were in contact throughout their campaigning in Africa and Italy.

Thomas Fowler leaves a wife and little son, Thomas, Jr., three months old, who are living at Wichita Falls. Besides his mother, the brother in Italy and J. W. here, the lieutenant also has a brother, Charles, in the air corps, stationed at a camp in North Carolina.

Chief Petty Officer and Mrs. David Lewis of Rhode Island, left Monday after a visit with Mrs. Lewis' father, P. A. Denison and other relatives here and at Amarillo and Adrian, Arizona, on their way to Huene-me, California.

Chief Petty Officer Lewis spent ten months in the Atlantic and expects to be shipped out again soon.

LT. TOM BISHOP MAKES HOME VISIT FROM SEATTLE
Lt. Tom Bishop, who has been stationed at Seattle, Washington, for many months, where he has been in transportation detachment for the U. S. Army, is at home for a visit with his mother, Mrs. Jennie Bishop, and other relatives having arrived last week.

Probability is that this leave is the last for this Floydada boy before he takes off for an overseas assignment.

Guffee Chairman Re-Employment Committee

Clarence Guffee, county superintendent of public instruction, is the chairman of the Selective Service Re-Employment committee for Floyd county, recently named to work with the Floyd County board.

With the constant increase in the number of returning veterans of World War II, individual problems are now naturally arising in connection with their reinstatement in former jobs. It was disclosed recently by General J. Watt Page, State Selective Service Director.

A new directive, issued in the form of a memorandum for the guidance of local boards and the reemployment committeemen attached to the boards, outlines the policies and principles governing administration of the reemployment provisions of the Selective Training and Service Act of 1940, he said.

Rotary West Section Assembly Tuesday Sets Pattern of New Year Program of Area Clubs

One New Judge, County Attorney Aspirant Added

One new name as a candidate for county judge and the addition of a candidate for county attorney to the list of applicants for places on the county ballots were the principal developments of Saturday in a political way in the county news.

W. E. Grimes, attorney of Floydada, is the candidate for county judge who got under the wire and S. H. Millwee, attorney of Lockney for county attorney.

Millwee's name goes on the ticket as unopposed. Grimes will contest for the place also being sought by the present incumbent, Judge G. C. Tubbs.

Candidate Cost High
When the county executive committee of the Democratic party met Monday morning to canvass the situation as regards finances and to determine places on the ballot by lot, it found costs had increased and the number of candidates for offices had decreased. The result is relatively high assessments against candidates for place on the ticket. Candidates pay all costs, taxpayers being assessed no cost in connection with any primary.

One name expected to appear in the list but application for which did not show up in the committee's hands Monday morning was that of Frank Perkins. Friends last week announced they had determined to draft Mr. Perkins as a candidate to succeed himself as justice of the peace at Lockney. C. C. Hackney is thus left on the list as an unopposed candidate for the place.

A. C. Goen of Precinct No. 1, Geo. L. Fawver of Precinct No. 13, W. T. Hopper of Precinct No. 15, Richard P. Stovall of Precinct No. 19 and Geo. L. Smith of Precinct No. 22, were only precinct chairmen present for the committee meeting. Rush of harvest is credited with keeping a number of precinct chairmen away from the meeting.

Below is the ticket showing the order in which the names of candidates will appear, including the state ticket and candidates for district offices. Possibility that litigation, now in the state's supreme court, may result in the addition of the names of 46 presidential electors to the ballot is indicated.

State Ticket
For Governor, Coke R. Stevenson of Kimble County, W. J. Minton of Grayson County, William F. Grimes of Harris County, Martin Jones of Nacogdoches County, Herbert E. Mills of Galveston County, Edward L. Carey of Harris County, Gene S. (See DEMO COMMITTEE, back page)

New Connection By Bus Is Added By T., N. M. & O.
An eastbound bus leaving at 9:30 p. m. and a westbound bus leaving at 10:21 a. m., making connections at Vernon and Lubbock respectively for all points, was put on this week by Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma buses, in addition to service already being given.

A. J. Cline, local manager, who made the announcement, expects the new travel facilities to be popular at once with the public, since they make most convenient connections on time tables which have been in demand.

Dougherty Leads County in War Bond Sales for Fifth Loan
Figures compiled last night for Floyd county for J. M. Willson, general chairman, indicated total sales at all points in the county of $107,000 of which approximately $50,000 are E bonds. Thus the county at the close of business last night $228,000 to go, of which $145,000 are E bonds to meet the quota of $335,000 total.

Dougherty and its neighboring districts of Antelope and Hillcrest have set the pace for Floyd county in the Fifth War Loan bond drive. Taking time off Monday night a $36,300 bond rally was held, with W. S. Poole chairman. This is the first community in the county to reach and surpass a quota.

Nearest competitor to Dougherty is Floydada district, where the City of Floydada took the lead with a subscription of $18,500 net in a $25,000 (12 year maturity registered) which will not count on the E bond quota however. The city's investment was taken half with funds of the light plant reserve and half with general water and tax income funds.

W. S. Poole, Dougherty bond sales chairman said yesterday that the $36,300 in sales made would be added to before the close of the campaign for the Fifth War loan. He is very grateful to the people of the Dougherty area for the fine way they rallied to complete the drive quickly. "Generally, when Dougherty people have a job to do they get busy, and this was no exception," said Mr. Poole.

Fire Boys Buy First
First bond bought in the county on June 12 was by the Floydada Fire department, a $100 bond which was taken by Carl Rodgers, chief of the fire department, at the First National bank. Charles Bedford made the sale.

Hot, Dry Weather Dries Wheat For Quick Harvest

Ninety per cent of the wheat of the area was matured and ready to cut yesterday.

Reports from Dougherty, Boothe Spur and Floydada elevators indicate that shipments already are brisk, the wheat an excellent quality, and plenty dry. No docks are being made, and elevator men have "thrown the tester away."

Yields Vary Greatly
In the north part of the county where fields were entirely too wet up to Friday of last week for combines to get started, the ground has dried and the machines are busy getting the wheat moved to the elevators.

Yields vary greatly from field to field, depending on what local showers may have hit and whether the seed got sprouted early in the fall and off to a start before the winter rains. A low of four bushels has been reported from some stubble land, while a wonderful yield has been reported so far on every piece of summer fallowed land that has been cut. Around Lakeview, about the most forgoat community in the county as to fall rains, averages are running around 15 bushels with some yields as high as 25 bushels.

This is the year that summer fallowing has paid big dividends. E. W. Lightfoot of Center has had a typical experience in this respect. On 30 acres of summer fallowed land his production was 30 1/2 bushels per acre. The remainder of a 200-acre field of stubble land will probably make about the same grand total as the 30 acres.

Every kind of labor saving idea that is available is being made use of in the county. Many plans are being used to cut corners. On some farms, however, this is not enough, though, for a mean spring has piled up all the row crop work on most every farm, and while the farmer is getting his wheat he is neglecting his row crop, or if he is getting his row crop out of the weeds he is adding to his harvest hazards by the delay.

Daltis Rea Named As Public Welfare Field Worker
AUSTIN, June 13—Miss Daltis Rea, of Floydada, has been appointed to the position of field worker with the State Department of Public Welfare in Montague county, Texas, it was announced here today by Chas. S. Gardner, Merit System supervisor of Texas Unemployment Compensation commission.

Miss Rea took the Merit System Council examination for the position on May 6, 1944, and was selected from the Merit System council register for field workers.

Miss Rea has been dean of girls of the Floydada high school faculty for a number of years. Members of the board nor Superintendent Walter Travis have had no word from her since her re-election this spring, it was said yesterday, and it was not known whether or not she had accepted the employment tendered by the Public Welfare department.

Reports say some idleness now in the industrial centers, where conversions from one type of manufacture either for the war or for civilian use, is presumed to be under way. Stories also come through indicating that the nation's manufacturers have just about met all the possible requirements in some lines for the nation's war effort and that, except for standby equipment, in these instances the machinery is being tooled for some other type of effort. According to allied sources of information it is also planned that some conversation take place in the automobile manufacturing world, where a limited number of certain models will be permitted to be resumed. Also that replacement parts will be forthcoming sooner or later. This sounds rather vague but it is a straw in the wind, showing that the strain of the first invasion impact is over and that the Americans and others fighting on the German front now can recognize and gauge the kind of war they must fight and can plan with less strain on the public's convenience and necessity.

None of this we would have anybody take as indicating the war is about won. And even if it were the need for materials and money would be even more in demand than before. So that any let-down on the part of the people when our boys only have a foothold on Europe's mainland would be foolish indeed.

The Fifth War loan bond drive sure did catch people of Floyd county in a crimp for time. If there ever was a time when weather and harvest time combined to make a pinch in the need for laborers in the fields it is now. And not only in the fields but in the offices and shops and distributing centers which serve them. However, it may be taken for granted that the strain will be over within a few days—two weeks possibly—and that the people will really make a united effort to get their E bond quota up. Speaking of E band quotas reminds us that numerous counties already are claiming to be "over" in their bond drives. They are "over" as far as amounts of total subscriptions is concerned likely but the sale of E bonds is the real test. The government needs seriously to have the bonds in the hands of the "small" people, the farmers and other individuals of the nation. This for the sake of after-the-war and for the sake of public security. Bonds bearing attractive enough terms could be sold to the big financial institutions and to investors of other types in much greater amounts than is being offered at this time, if that were the need.

The way peace time stocks are behaving on the New York City market makes interesting, encouraging reading. The fact that peacetime stocks are making a good showing does not necessarily mean that we are winning the invasion nor that we are getting the advantage of the Germans on French soil but it does mean that some very smart Jews and a sprinkling of other smart people believe that the war is on the way to the winning, that our successful landing on the Normandy coast means that we can go on into Germany or that Germany will collapse; hence that peace-time will roll around again when stocks of companies that are expected to thrive in peace will do so. Many peacetime concerns have back orders stacked up as high as a house, figuratively speaking. The people who study such matters and live by their wits and their money think the signs are most favorable.

News of how the boys are reacting to the war and what they are doing with time they have on hand between or waiting for fights in various parts of the world, is interesting and encouraging. To tell the fact many a mother is worried lest her son, when he comes home, will have learned some vicious habit, such as intemperance, through sheer ennui. And it seems like the boys in many sectors are learning a habit that is going to go mighty hard with us here on the home front, when they get home. Tired of the war and the dirt and the grime and the mess of it all, the boys are taken back, fly back, or get back somehow to a rest area. And there the thing starts. They drag out an old ice cream freezer from somewhere and make them up a batch of ice cream and just eat 'til they nearly bust. Leastwise we hear of more than one such. Many of us had hoped the old boys, when they got back home, would have developed a taste for some harder food, like C and K rations and things of that kind and would leave the ice cream to the smooth mouths and the 4Fs. However, it seems such isn't to be. In fact, down in the Southwest Pacific islands somewhere we learn of a squadron where they pay off in ice cream instead of medals for heroic deeds, like for instance, rescue a man from the seas and you and your buddies, crew or squad or whatnot, get 20 gallons of ice cream as a reward. Somebody else cooks it up and all you have to do is to eat it. Evident from this the oldtimers who stayed at home and fought the war out on the cool of the porch are going to have some competition. Mamma's son will have been taught the vicious habit of using the old double dip. We could take it up with Congress and get it stopped, perhaps, otherwise the thing is going to turn out disastrous.

It is next month that the used car price control goes into effect. The date is July 10, announced by OPA. Not only dealer sales but individual sales will come under the control of the Office of Price administration. Ceilings will vary by model, body type and make. Nearly 6,000 models manufactured from 1937 through 1942 will be affected. There will be two prices, one an "as is" price, the other a "warranty" price. The action of the administration comes as somewhat of a surprise to the man on the street, who has been hearing that such a thing was due to take place for months and months, and had finally concluded that for some reason the thing would not be undertaken. Evidently, the OPA has found a way to enforce such a rule and a way to keep it from hurting the automobile dealer who has been really hard hit in many respects but still is in business and in there pitching with OPA.

As A Farm Woman Thinks

(By Nellie Witt Spikes)

Life gives us queer quirks sometimes. For instance, we were invited to two birthday dinners the same day and the doctor has told me to let up on rich foods. Anyway we went to the one given for Mr. E. G. Wheeler at the home of his son, Oran for dinner and on to the one given for Uncle Bob James at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Leslie Tomme. Thus crowding up good times in a short space of a summer day.

The dinner was spread on snowy white cloths on long tables under the green trees and soon was heaped with huge platters of crusty brown fried chicken, onion-sauce dressing and baked chicken, crisp salads of fresh green things, salads of apple and orange carrots, the good old stand-by, potato salad, without which a dinner would not be complete. There were pies and bowls of banana puddings, and take your choice of pickles and drinks. No one had time to pay any attention to his neighbor for helping his own plate, and strange to say the amount of food one consumes at times like this does not seem to hurt anyone beyond a full, stuffy feeling that is not at all bad.

"Grandpa" Wheeler has done his part in the pioneering of new lands. His father settled a forty acre farm in the place where the beautiful town of Dallas now proudly stands. He evidently did not like this location for he traded it off for a pony and loaded up his wagons again and left for Paris where his family was reared and grandpa married Miss Clara Humphrey. He watched and helped the country around Paris grow into a mighty farming section, rearing a family of his own. Then the call of the West came sweetly to his ears and west he came with his growing family to Crosby County. Now Mr. Wheeler and his wife take their well-earned ease in a flower-bordered, tree-shaded white house in Ralls. They can see their children come and go, hold the great grandchildren and watch their own help in maintaining a country they helped to get a start. Many, many birthdays we wish Grandpa Wheeler and we hope a feast will be spread and that we will get to help eat it.

Uncle Bob, too, was watching his grandchildren play as he sat on the shady porch at Les omme's. He has also done his part and more when needed in the development of the west and it is his time to sit back and watch the young take their places in the struggle for democracy that exalts love so well and fight so hard to keep. So keep the birthdays coming, Uncle Bob.

"When a noble life has prepared old age, it is not the decline it reveals, but the first days of immortality."

It is a desire long, long wished for, once to have plenty of time to fix up, get in the car and go to town. Even going away for a few hours makes more work. There are the chickens to have extra feed and water, and old hen to scare out of the garden, eggs to carry to the car, and cans of cream to be put where you know they won't turn over and spill in the car. On wash day there are the clothes to get ready, the soap to be gone to the cellar after. By this time you remember the chickens. Their legs are tied, they are put in the car, a worry till you get to town, afraid they will smother. Then your hurry to wash your hot face, and comb swiftly your hair get into a clean dress after a hurried bath, and then there is room in the car, you get in, too tired and too warm in the summer days. At town the car is emptied to be filled again, feed for the chickens, empty cans and buckets and crates and wet clothes.

Yes it is fine to have things to sell to get money to buy something back again.

It is dandy to have a place to wash the week's supply of clothing, but for once, I repeat, I wish I could get ready, not in a hurry and go to town. If Mr. Spikes is going, he always has to go to the lots the last thing to see that the gates are open as they need be. Then he decides the garage doors had better be shut, someone wonders if the fires are all out, a trip to the house then when all are settled, the ration cards are remembered another delay. Sometimes it makes one long for the good old days when the family made the semi-annual trip to town in the hack.

The garden is coming along. Today cucumber slices took their place by the white onions and green lettuce. New potatoes and English peas and best and rarest of all a blackberry cobbler from our own briery vines—only a tumbler full, but a pie at that.

Prescription for SYNTHETIC RUBBER

Rx
Butadiene 3#
Styrene 1#
Mix well and process

THE MAJOR INGREDIENT, approximately 75 per cent, of synthetic rubber is Butadiene. The name sounds like medicine, and the product is truly a great healing compound for the rubber ailments on both the war and home fronts.

In the vast Plains Butadiene Plant, (owned by Defense Plant Corporation) designed and built by Phillips . . . utilizing Phillips own patented processes . . . Phillips is headed for an annual production of 90,000,000 pounds of Butadiene.

This is just another illustration of the growing importance of the chemical values now being extracted from petroleum raw materials. It highlights the fact that Phillips refineries producing gasoline, lubricants, and fuel oils, are also gigantic chemical plants, today, pouring out weapons for victory; tomorrow, producing new and better things for you from petroleum and petroleum gases.

Care For Your Car For Your Country

Nearer and nearer draws the day when synthetic tires will be generally available . . . when you can drive into any Phillips 66 Service Station and buy as many tires as you want. Yet the uncertainties of war make definite prediction impossible. That is why it is just as important as ever for you to coax every last bit of travel from your tires.

To help you do that, call on your Phillips 66 Service Man. His Tire-Saving Service includes checking air pressures at least once a week . . . inspecting for nail holes, cuts, and bruises . . . examination of the tire carcass to warn you when re-capping is necessary . . . and crisscrossing with the spare every 3,000 miles.

War Bonds Post-War Insurance For U. S. Farmers

The farmer has more reasons for buying War Bonds than any other group of Americans, according to Merrill L. Predmore, director, agriculture section, War Finance division of the Treasury department.

"The farmer is a capitalist as well as a laborer. Like any person with capital invested he must have a financial reserve to keep his business sound. Nothing makes as desirable a financial reserve as War Bonds, and the smart American farmer will put all possible resources into this investment field before the $16,000,000,000 Fifth War Loan drive ends July 8," Mr. Predmore said.

Mr. Predmore suggested that farmers invest in bonds the cost of replacements of buildings and farm equipment and needed repairs that cannot be made now because of the shortage of materials and labor.

"Investment in War Bonds the money to be used for farm and home improvement after the war," he advised.

"The series 'E' bond is as liquid as a dollar bill, and yet after one year it grows in value—a value backed by the United States Government.

"Investment in War Bonds will provide a financial back-log for those unfavorable years that may come later. Recall what happened after the last war when farm prosperity broke.

"The financial welfare of the farmer for the next two decades will depend on the use made of the higher farm incomes of the war period," Predmore said.

"Best insurance for the years ahead is today's extra income salted away in War Bonds. The success of the Fifth War Loan depends on all our citizens but the farmer with an eye to the future can be a big factor in the drive to victory," Predmore said.

I'll predict no-miles-an-hour.

I'll hand it to folks. They've had the patriotism to hold down their speed. But imagine war restrictions ended. Man, you'll see old cars overdoing till they can't chug another mile. You'll see every repair shop crowded for months, but I'm figuring to duck that! Of course, I couldn't see everything coming when I originally had this engine OIL-PLATED. I'd simply overheard that any engine forms dangerous corrosive acids. It made sense to try protecting the engine by OIL-PLATING it with Conoco Nth motor oil. I switched to Nth. You can suit yourself about thinking it's the only oil or not, but first read the whole label. You'll see where Conoco Nth oil's special synthetic fastens OIL-PLATING to your engine's fine inside finish. Then OIL-PLATING is really sort of a special surface to block steady acid corrosion. When repairs might be just a promise, and you can only pray for a new car, you're way ahead with your engine safely OIL-PLATED by Conoco Nth.

McCoy News

MCCOY, June 19—One day last week B. L. Ewing had the misfortune to get his left hand caught in some cogs on the tractor and tore nearly all the palm of his hand out. James Smith took him to a doctor. It has given him much trouble, but it is better at this time. Mr. Ewing and family would like to take this way of thanking their neighbors for the help they gave in finishing the planting of the crops, including James Smith, Joe Cox, Elmer Jackson, Irvin Graham, Leon Hulsey, Will Hulsey.

Farmers are having a lot of trouble here with the black bugs eating the young cotton and feed. Several fields have had to be replanted because of them. Some have lost a planting because of grass burrs coming up ahead of the feed and cotton.

Mrs. Elmer Jackson has returned home from a visit to northeast Texas and reports a grand time.

DOWNED 27 JAP PLANES

Major Richard I (Bing Bang) Bong, first American flyer to down twenty-seven enemy planes, downed twenty-one of them before he had his first date with a girl. A visit to his home near Poplar, Wis., for a rest changed all that, according to an article on him in the June issue of Cosmopolitan magazine, and when he returned to the South Pacific he emblazoned on his plane the picture of lovely Marge Vattendahl, twenty-year-old student at Wisconsin State Teachers College. Major Bong is shown above as he is pictured in the June issue of Cosmopolitan magazine.

Storm Signal Up; Farm Inflation Clouds Gather

The storm clouds of agricultural inflation, which have been slowly gathering since Pearl Harbor, within the last few months have begun to look threatening, judging by the data collected and compiled by the Bureau of Agriculture economics. Stormy weather is not yet definitely on its way, but at least the forecast is "uncertain."

Some of the indications of inflationary weather are:

1. Agricultural income, country bank deposits and money in circulation are at their all-time highs. Deposits are considerably more than twice what they were in 1940.
 2. Production of agricultural equipment, the purchase of which normally would be an outlet for idle agricultural money, is now under drastic wartime restrictions.
 3. Land prices already have increased two-fifths above their pre-war average—much more than that in many farming areas.
 4. Increasing turnover in land ownership suggests growing speculation in land.
 5. The average mortgage debt per acre in sales financed by credit has increased about 25 per cent in the last three years the factor most indicative of future debt difficulties.
- As a result of wartime conditions, the farmer has more money to spend than ever before, and fewer places to spend it. This situation accounts for what the economists call "inflationary pressure." This is the pressure that has caused the clouds of agricultural inflation to gather.

Disposing of Wartime Surplus

To consider the causes of this gathering storm clouds it is necessary to consider what the American farmer can do with his surplus wartime income.

- Here are five possibilities:
1. Pay his debts.
 2. Buy war bonds.
 3. Buy more life insurance.
 4. Increase his savings.
 5. Buy land or make other investments.

Of these five possibilities, if the farmer does either of the first two—pay his debts or buy War Bonds—he is helping to prevent inflation. If he buys needed insurance, he likewise is helping to prevent inflation. If he merely increases his savings in the form of bank deposits or in money in his pockets, he at least is being neutral in the battle against inflation. It is in the fifth possibility—buying land or making other investments—that the greatest danger lies.

Why Farmer Buys Land

The reasons the farmer buys land usually are to be found among these four:

1. Desire to own his own farm.
2. Need for more land to provide a more economical scale of operation.
3. Good prices for farm products, now or expected.
4. Expected increase in land values.

The agricultural economist says that reasons one and two—desire to own his own farm or more land for a more economical scale of operation—are the soundest of all, provided that the price is in line with reasonable earning power of the land.

Reasons three and four may bring economic disaster to farmers after this war just as in 1929 and continued falling through 1933. Today the agricultural economist advises farmers to be sure that their wartime surpluses are so disposed of or so invested that they are non-inflationary and so that any finan-

Army Has Many Hundred Trucks To be Released

The local ACA Office is in receipt of a telegram from the State AAA Office in which the announcement is made that the treasury procurement office of this region with office at 801 Neil P. Anderson Building, Fort Worth, Texas, has several hundred army trucks that can be released to farmers.

The procedure as outlined is for a farmer to apply to the local ACA Committee who will give the farmer a letter showing his need for a truck and a recommendation that truck be released by treasury procurement. The farmer will give the letter to the dealer who presents the farmer's letter with dealer's letter to treasury procurement for release of the truck.

Each truck has an OPA ceiling price. A farmer may specify in his letter the kind and type of truck wanted but has no assurance the kind specified will be available.

Anyone interested should make application immediately as the supply will be exhausted rapidly, the ACA announcement stated.

Tale of a Horse Who Knew When He Needed a Drink

Oscar Stansell has a pretty four-year-old Palomino stallion down at his barn that is as smart as he is pretty. At least the horse-wise boys who know about such things say he is. For instance:

Oscar and others who handle Pal noted that he was never thirsty when they were around, that his water trough was never empty and also that the trough never ran over and spilled on the ground—until one day.

The faucet stuck and a lot of water wasted. Watching the young horse they found him one day turning on fresh water. The faucet was one of these you operate with hand pressure. Pal had learned to squeeze the faucet between his teeth to get the desired result. He still does.

W Congress tion's Need ys Harris

time for the people to go to that form of self-government of free American enterprise made this nation great," said Harris candidate for Congress in the 19th district this week. Harris is a new set of Congressmen who have no ties among officials and who can go to Washington with a clean slate. Harris thinks about except the share of the home district and nation as a whole, you may assume charge of your government.

Harris should rule the nation. Harris is composed of the direct representatives of the people and these are the men who do the telling and the doing in Washington.

Recent change of public opinion for a strong democracy in this district certainly is change, Harris declared.

In ten years that the present Congressman has been in office he has never raised his voice against any issue which is vital to the farmers, the cowboys or the oil industry of this district. "These are the basic industries of our district and they must have the attention of our Congressmen."

Harris says you voters of this district if I am elected to this office I shall look after the interests of the business men, whether they be farmers, cow men, oil men or whatever.

Harris says the whirlwind winds of tornado is estimated as equaling that of a tornado.

"The battle for control of harmful garden insects should not be relaxed if highest possible yields are to be obtained," Dr. H. G. Johnston, entomologist for the A. and M. College Extension Service, suggests effective measure for treating the corn ear worm and tomato fruit worm. These pests will be increasingly active in the days ahead.

If the silk begins to wilt and the tips turn brown three days after the silk emerges from the ear, apply 15 to 20 drops of neutral mineral oil. An inexpensive refined mineral oil may be bought at any drug store. Place the oil a quarter inch inside the silk mass just inside the tip of the husk. An ordinary medicine dropper will do the trick. One pint should treat 600 ears. The oil does not injure the ears nor leave undesirable flavor. The treatment is 75 to 90 per cent effective, Johnston says.

Good control of the tomato fruit worm can be expected if the plants are dusted or sprayed with lead arsenate or calcium arsenate when the first bloom appears. Repeat the application in 10 to 12 days. But if the first application is rained off, repeat it as soon as possible after the rain. If lead or calcium arsenate is used during the bloom period it will save application of expensive rotenone dust. The arsenate sticks to leaves and give protection for a week or more. Rotenone gives protection only for two or three days.

If the tomato fruit worm still causes some damage after two arsenical dustings or sprayings, the third application should be made with rotenone dust. Rotenone is not poisonous to humans. If lead or calcium arsenate is used as a dust it should be diluted with equal parts of lime or cheap flour. For a spray, use three pounds to 100 gallons of water. Four or five pounds of lime could be added to the spray mixture. If only a small amount of water is needed use three tablespoonsful of poison to one gallon of water. Rotenone dusts are ready mixed.

Eleven Floyd county dairymen will have 62 head of Jersey cattle to classify on June 3. Mr. Joe Ridgeway of San Antonio will classify the cattle. He will be accompanied to the county by Mr. D. T. Simons, secretary of the Texas Jersey Cattle club.

Several farmers who planted the waxy kafir lost their seed because of worms or bad weather conditions. We are sorry that we have been unable to get seed for replanting purposes.

The O. P. A. has set the following ceiling prices on oats and barley: No. 2 barley, FOB the track at any Texas common point where produced shall be $1.16 per bushel. No. 3 barley is $1.15 per bushel. No. 2 red oats 84 cents per bushel and No. 3 red oats 83 cents per bushel.

645 bushels of the Comanche wheat seed has been ordered by farmers of the county for planting next fall. The seed will be obtained from a farmer in Hansford county.

The distress which horn flies and stable flies cause to dairy cows is an old story to farmers. Their biggest interest is in ways to control or get rid of the troublesome pests. Here are some suggestions. Where the water supply is controlled and its use is practical, the horn fly trap gives effective control. Blue prints of the trap may be obtained from the county agricultural agent.

The population of both species of flies can be reduced quickest by controlling or eradicating their breeding places. Scattering manure over pastures regularly every three days to break up the material and expose the fly worm to air and sunlight is about the most effective way to keep them down. In pastures which are open or intensively grazed a brush or board drag can be used for this purpose. If the manure cannot be scattered it should be stored in pits and provided with fly traps, or ricked in compact piles and the edges treated with borax or hellebore.

Among other means of control, a mixture of ten pounds of wettable sulphur and one pound of rotenone has given good results. It should be dusted on the cows' backs, sides, necks and polls. Some dairymen report that the mixture has kept flies off cattle for three days. Adult flies on cows at milking time can be killed with a Grade AA fly spray. It is not necessary to direct the spray at the animals body. Developing a fine mist around the body, especially the legs and under portion is effective.

See This AMAZING DEMONSTRATION OF MODERN HARVESTING
 THE GREAT MASSEY-HARRIS SELF-PROPELLED HARVEST BRIGADE IS HERE NOW!

The Harvest Brigade is now operating in this locality—helping solve America's 1944 harvest problems in the face of a serious shortage of harvesting labor and machines. It's your opportunity to see "the combine of tomorrow"—see the Massey-Harris Self-Propelled Combine harvest MORE ACRES PER HOUR, PER MAN, PER DOLLAR than ever before in history.

THE BATTLE FOR BREAD IS ON

Like a vast movement of Massey-Harris-built M-5 Tanks on the battlefield, hundreds of Massey-Harris Self-Propelled Combines in the hands of approved, reliable operators, are invading America's great grain belt in localities where the need is greatest. The goal of the "Brigade" is to harvest at least 1,000,000 acres this year. It is estimated that these Self-Propelled Massey-Harris Combines will save half a million bushels which tractor-drawn combines tramp down in opening up fields—save 300,000 man-hours and thousands of gallons of tractor fuel.

The "Brigade" combines are 12 and 14-foot cut machines built for larger acreage farmers, but Massey-Harris has also adapted this wonderful self-propelled principle to the famous Clipper Combine in 7-foot cut size. The Massey-Harris Clipper is the original straight-through, scoop-type combine. Now available in either Pull-Type or Self-Propelled models. See for yourself how Massey-Harris Self-Propelled Combines are revolutionizing harvesting methods—saving grain, manpower, tractor crew and fuel... and money.

Come in or phone and we'll tell you where the Harvest Brigade is operating and then you can see it at the most convenient time and place.

looks like a very small contribution in the war effort and unimportant," said she. "But a few letters of appreciation from the men overseas are received and it all seems worthwhile again."

Mrs. Ross said that the chapter emergency quota will keep volunteers busy here all summer and that more workers are needed if production is to be kept up to schedule.

A medical corps captain in the North Pacific has written the Red Cross as follows:

Dressings and Plasma First
"We here, and on every front, are fully and completely dependent upon the things you in the state send to us. It takes many things to fight wars... and our weapons are dressings and plasma, first."

"Were the supply of surgical dressings to stop, then we would stop and stay stopped. That you keep up your supply is of utmost importance in the winning of this war."

From North Africa came this word: "Words cannot tell how much we appreciate the surgical dressings."

Mrs. Ross said that the armed forces have asked the Red Cross to supply more than a billion surgical dressings this year.

"The great quantities used are indicated by the official statement that as many as 1,000 surgical dressings are sometimes needed in treating one seriously wounded man," said the Red Cross chairman.

Record of the Floyd County chapter American Red Cross surgical dressings completed since the work started in October of 1942 is 131,000, completed and shipped to military medical depots. The current quota is to be finished this week it is hoped and the emergency quota will be undertaken immediately. Invoice for the dressings to be worked up has been in the hands of County Chairman Guffee for several days, Mrs. Ross said.
