Teenage Pair Admit Loraine Burglaries

Two teenagers were taken into custody Friday night after a pair of burglaries in Loraine. The youths—13 and 18 years of age—admitted the break-ins to Sheriff Lewis Claxton and told how their meager loot had been hidden in cotton seed.

Clifton Henderson's grocery store was burglarized late Thursday night and Garcia Service Station was looted early Friday night.

The two boys took $1.50 in pennies and five cartons of cigarettes from the grocery.

Friday night they broke into the service station and carried off a supply of candy, potato chips, cigarettes, minamin rolls and small amount of money.

Sheriff Claxton said the boys—members of transit family from South Texas—would be brought before juvenile authorities probably Monday.

CHRISTMAS SHOPPING EVENT

Open House Date Now Set Tuesday

Colorado City's special pre-Christmas Open House and Santa Claus for shoppers has been reset for Tuesday.

The event was changed from the original date, Monday, so as not to conflict with the nationwide Day of Mourning for President John F. Kennedy.

Open House events will be the same stores will be open until 8:30 p. m. Tuesday. Santa will be downtown to talk with kiddies, free candy will be given to youngsters, special holiday goods will be displayed for shoppers. Just the date will be one day different.

Postponement of Open House Tuesday will be the second major act by local merchants in respect for the assassinated President.

Chamber of Commerce merchants committee, which also sponsors the Open House, is urging all stores and offices to close Monday from 11 a. m. until 1 p. m. during the period of the Kennedy funeral.

This special Monday closing period is scheduled in cooperation with the Day of Mourning proclaimed Saturday by President Lyndon Johnson.

Because of this proclaimed mourning, the merchants committee decided it was only proper that the Monday night Open House and Santa Claus visit be switched to Tuesday.

The Tuesday Open House will provide families to visit all stores and inspect the special, new Christmas merchandise. See OPEN HOUSE Pg. 3

FOR PRIVATE BUSINESS

Norman Quits Chamber Job

Hallie Norman has resigned the managership of Colorado City Chamber of Commerce, effective Dec. 31.

He submitted his resignation in a letter Friday to Charles Root, Chamber president.

He plans to enter private business in another area of the state, leaving the Chamber of Commerce field.

Norman, in his letter to Root, stated: "Please accept my resignation as manager of Colorado City Chamber of Commerce, effective Dec. 31, 1963."

"I have made many friends in Colorado City which I always will cherish, and I have mixed emotions about leaving. Circumstances and conditions in another part of the state warrant my decision. "My work with you, the board of directors and membership has been warm and gratifying experience which I will never forget."

"Best of luck to you and the Colorado City Chamber of Commerce... with warmest personal regards."

Norman told the Record that circumstances of private business did not permit him at this time to divulge the exact location and business affiliation which prompts his leaving Chamber of Commerce work.

He came to Colorado City as Chamber manager November 1962 after serving in the same capacity in Crosbyton.

CONGRESSMAN MAHON IN DALLAS

5 Cars From Death

By Ruth Coffey
Record News Editor

"It all happened so fast, so very fast," Congressman George Mahon told the Colorado City Record Saturday by phone from Washington.

Mahon was riding in the fifth car behind President John Fitzgerald Kennedy in the motorcade headed for a luncheon in Dallas Friday. The congressman flew to Texas in a plane with the President, making the trip from Washington D. C. to San Antonio as one of Mr. Kennedy's guests.

"The President had invited me to accompany him to Texas and I was delighted to accept," Mahon said.

"It was my privilege to observe the wonderful reception given the President in San Antonio, in Houston and in Ft. Worth. I witnessed the responsive and wonderfully cordial greeting from crowds at Love Field."

"Crowds lining the streets of Dallas, while perhaps not so demonstrative as the ones in San Antonio and in Houston, still seemed happy and cordial."

"Enroute from San Antonio to Houston," Congressman Mahon said, "The President discussed the speech he was to make in Ft. Worth, along with the military program."

He was really fine, in top form—really at his best during the first part of the fatal trip.

"The President had a keen wit, a sharp mind. His Ft. Worth speech was President Kennedy at his best," the Congressman emphasized.

Mahon then gave his eyewitness account of the tragedy which happened in Dallas.

"We had finished the main route of the motorcade," he reported, "and were moving toward the freeway when we heard an explosion."

"One shot—then two other shots, closer together."

"It sounded like a backfiring the President's car had been auto—or maybe a shotgun, it was so loud."

"We asked each other what the explosive noise was. Then we saw crowds scurrying for shelter, ducking as if in fear."

"The motorcade speeded up, the President's car still within a block of our car."

"We were delayed, but soon were back on our way to luncheon. Only then did we hear that the President's car had been rushed to the hospital."

"We went to his car—to find puddles of blood on the back seat. It was, all too obvious that someone had been seriously injured."

After learning officially that the President had been shot to death, Congressman Mahon traveled back to Washington as passenger aboard the vice president's plane.

EX-RESIDENT'S NEW JOB

Cowan to Assist Nigerian Farms

A former Mitchell County citizen soon will be assisting in the establishment of an agriculture extension service in Nigeria.

He is Joe Cowan, who served as Mitchell County agriculture agent from 1947 to 1953 and who was visiting friends here Saturday.

Cowan is back in the U. S. in between assignments with the U. S. State Department's Agency for International Development.

For the last four years he has been working with the Republic of Ghana in its efforts for developing agriculture.

In the East Africa nation of Liberia, Cowan will be regional agriculture extension advisor for the Agency for International Development.

"Our mission will be one of the largest of its kind in the world," Cowan said, "working with Nigeria's Ministry of Agriculture."

"We'll be helping them establish an extension service along the lines of our own, but designed to meet their day."

own specific local needs."

Cowan, who has taken his knowledge of agriculture to natives of the Pacific as well as Africa since leaving Colorado City said, the big need of the African people is to determine and learn land their own land capabilities.

"And, then, to use their land according to these capabilities for their own particular needs," he emphasized.

Cowan, his wife and 20 month old third son have been in the U. S. since Sept. 27 visiting their family and friends.

The Cowan's oldest son, Joe, is a student at John Tarleton College in Stephenville.

Their second son, Dale, is a senior in LaVerna High School, near San Antonio, and lives in LaVerna with his grandparents to attend school.

Menah Kodjoe is the Aghana name their friends in Aghana gave to the youngest son, Ross. It means "Third Son, Monday"—detailing the boy's place in the family and the fact he was born on Monday.

Stores To Close From 11 To 1 P. M. Monday

Record News Editor
By RUTH COFFEY

Deep in the heart of Texans who live here in Colorado City, is a grief too great for words—yet too incensed for silence.

The President of the United States is dead. Word of the death of John F. Kennedy on a downtown street in Dallas, Texas, disrupted the even ways of an average day in this average American town as nothing short of global war could do.

Downtown streets in Colorado City were walked by stunned citizens. Some of the merchants went home in shocked silence. Some walked about office or stock room completely bewildered.

Work stopped. People crowded around television sets to stare in disbelief. Police radios here and throughout the area hushed in stunned silence.

Housewives cried. School pupils old enough to realize the impact of the national and international tragedy dashed out of classes to telephone their homes.

Several college students, hundreds of miles away from home, called long distance, sobbing.

A SCHEDULED pep rally for Colorado High School was not a pep rally. It was a prayer period for the President and for this nation. It was a Texas high school in tears.

Flags were immediately placed at halfmast throughout the town.

Churches opened doors to their sanctuaries for all people who wanted to say a prayer.

Small groups and individuals went in and out church doors the rest of the day with prayers for this country and this country's tall young President, slain while visiting Texas.

Prayers for Mr. Kennedy's bereaved and beloved family and prayers for this country's new president, Lyndon B. Johnson, himself a Texan, are planned by all Colorado City churches for today, Sunday.

All Colorado City public schools will close Monday in keeping with President Johnson's request for a National Day of Mourning, with classes resuming on schedule Tuesday.

Chamber of Commerce merchants committee urges all stores, firms and offices to close from 11 a. m. to 1 p. m. Monday in respect for President Kennedy and final rites.

THE AVERAGE man or woman on the street, Friday and Saturday, could express little beyond the often repeated phrases:

"It's unbelievable. I'm too shocked to think straight. It can't be true. I keep thinking we'll all wake up to find that it couldn't happen."

Community leaders, voiced in quiet words something of the oneness of mourning all Colorado City seemed to feel.

District Judge Austin McCloud said: "The slaying of President Kennedy by the hand of an assassin has created in the minds and hearts of the American people not only a sense of horror and grief, but a new determination that this government shall not falter in this time of crisis. The world has lost one of its greatest advocates for peace and security."

"I know that the people of this country, without regard to previous political philosophy, will now weld together an attitudes and give President Johnson, and our government unqualified support during this time of adjustment."

CHARLES C. THOMPSON, attorney and president of City National Bank here, in the death of President Kennedy the world will wonder why we kill our presidents. In each case, a crackpot has been responsible for the assassination of four American presidents.

"It is tragic for America and for the world that such things could happen in a Christian nation, a nation which yields the greatest influence of any nation that ever existed on this earth, but under our American system the affairs of government will continue to function in a normal manner."

REV. H. W. BARTLETT, president of the Ministerial Alliance and pastor of First Baptist Church: "With all Americans, we regret the tragedy which has befallen President John F. Kennedy. We express our deepest sympathy to Mrs. Kennedy, Caroline, John Jr. and all other members of the Kennedy family. We pray the blessing and comfort of our God will be theirs in this hour of deep need."

"We pledge our support and prayers to President Lyndon B. Johnson as he assumes responsibilities as leader of our nation and in the affairs of the free world."

"As president of the Ministerial Alliance, I would urge all the churches to take time in worship services to pray for comfort and strength of the Kennedys by the power and grace of our God. Also, that they pray for our President (Johnson) and our nation as we move into the future known only to God."

MAYOR OF COLORADO CITY, H. I. BERMAN: "I was shocked when the news broke in on TV. It is sad and it is tragic that something like this could happen in our modern civilization. It could only be the work of a lunatic."

COUNTY JUDGE ELMER MARTIN: "We have lost a great leader for all humanity. John Fitzgerald Kennedy possessed vision, leadership, his concern was for peace, prosperity and equal opportunity for everyone. He was

Lubbock Falls To Wallace Team, 76-61

Those fabulous Wallace Wildcats did it again.

This time, Thursday night, they beat a good AAA team Dunbar High of Lubbock, 76 to 61, in Lubbock.

The Wildcats were stunned temporarily as Lubbock jumped to a commanding 21 to 11 first quarter lead.

Coach Smith had his Wildcats calling time out several times in attempt to cool the hot Lubbock team, and give them new instructions.

Whatever the instructions were, these apparently worked. For Wallace had managed to climb to a 38-23 lead at half-time.

Dunbar tried to keep in the game throughout the second half, but the Wildcats gradually pulled away, leading 58 to 42 at the end of the third. When the final buzzer sounded, the score was a happy 76 to 61 for the visitors from Colorado City.

Frank Biggers, Oscar Amos, and Jesse Burton scored 24, 20 and 15 points respectively, for the winner. Quincy White, the Lubbock sharpshooter, burned the net for 23 points.

Lubbock Dunbar's B-team edged Wallace B, 45 to 41, in a squeaker. Tiltman Cooks scored 19 for Dunbar and Howard Belvin hit the same for Wallace B.

Tuesday night Wallace travels to Snyder for a contest against Snyder team.

Mrs. Curtis Baker spoke first on the program. Her subject was "Try Tempura for Thanksgiving." She told of the influence of Oriental cooking on American cooks, and how American housewives have adopted many Oriental ideas to their own use.

"I Differ Mine From Grandmother's" was the title of the talk given by Mrs. R. F. Fee, as she told of the preparations and serving of a Thanksgiving dinner in her grandmother's time and the present day.

She told how her grandmother came to Texas from Kentucky, in a covered wagon at an early age. Also, she told of the conveniences of the day which her grandmother strongly believed in—the smoke house for curing hams, bacon and sausage; the root cellar filled with onions, turnips and potatoes.

Mrs. Fee reminisced of the ways her grandmother went about preparing for Thanksgiving. She said that she began in June by drying preserving summer fruits, curing herbs, and harvesting and storing vegetables. Butchering was done in November, she stated, following by the preparing of mince meat for the holidays.

The speaker gave a recipe for mince meat, taken from an 1887 cook book, and remarked that mince meat pie was not served then as it is today, and was really not a pie at all. She gave her own recipe for mince meat pie, using ingredients from the super market and a regular pie crust.

She told of the detailed and time-consuming method used by her grandmother in baking bread, ham and turkey with dressing for the traditional meal. In comparison, Mrs. Fee's own methods seemed quite easy.

"I am shocked, numbed, saddened. It is difficult to grasp." Members of the Texas Congressional Delegation in Washington went in a body at 3 p.m. Saturday to pay respect to Mrs. Kennedy. The delegation had signed Friday and sent immediately to Mrs. Kennedy a special message of sympathy and regret.

High School Students Speak For County TB Association

In the past week civic clubs of Colorado City have heard speeches by three Colorado City High School Juniors, Martha Sheppard, Cal Girvin and Leann Moore.

The local students represented the Mitchell County Tuberculosis Association and spoke on the various phases of work done by the association, on a local, state and national basis. Miss Sheppard's speech was concerned with research in tuberculosis being carried on by the University of Texas.

Girvin spoke to meetings of the Lions, Jaycees, Kiwanis, Misses Sheppard and Moore gave their talks to the luncheon meeting of local Kiwanis. Mrs. C. P. Gary and Mrs. A. J. Hooks also appeared at the Kiwanis meeting.

All three speakers are students of Miss Gladys Miller's speech class at Colorado City High School. They will speak again Tuesday afternoon on the Hesperian Study Club's program at the meeting of the Mitchell County Federation of Women's Clubs.

The speakers will be available for speeches to any civic group, study club or others groups, interested in the TB story.

All are juniors at Colorado City High School. Their talks are given on TB research, local TB association, and Christmas Seals. They will tell the TB story on request to the association office by civic groups or study clubs.

FOR CHRISTMAS

Postmaster Begins Mail Early Request

Face with the certainty that Christmas 1963 will set an all-time record for mailings of Christmas cards and gifts, Postmaster A. M. Morris today requested cooperation in his annual "Mail Early For Christmas" Campaign.

The Postmaster said, "Here are the things to watch to be sure that every Christmas card and gift package will be delivered before Christmas Eve."

First, check over your Christmas card and gift list very carefully to be certain each address is complete with full name, street and number, city, state and zone or ZIP Code number.

Second, stock up soon on sturdy packing materials for your gift package, including heavy wrapping paper, corrugated cartons, strong cord and paper adhesive tape.

Third, buy your postage stamps now. Be sure to use the colorful new five-cent Christmas Tree stamps on your cards.

Fourth, procure free labels from your post office which read "ALL FOR LOCAL DELIVERY" and "ALL FOR OUT-OF-TOWN DELIVERY", so that you can sort your Christmas cards into two groups, with addresses all facing one way, thus insuring delivery.

Fifth, be sure that your full name and address is on all envelopes and shipping labels.

and be doubly sure to include your ZIP Code number in your return address.

The Postmaster especially requests that you schedule your Christmas mailings so that all of your cards and gift packages going to most distant points are mailed by December 10th. Those for local destinations should be mailed at least a week before Christmas.

CONVERSATION
CORNER

OUT of the wild blue yonder came a long ago and nearly forgotten episode this week.

It sprang to life from the mental filing system all female critters keep in their heads for memories. You might call 'em "forgotten memories." Filed for future reference—and who knows when or where?

The episode has to do with hunting. What with all this hunting season talk, all day and every day, we recalled the time we went hunting.

IT MUST have been the day after Thanksgiving, the time of this tale. The year has no bearing—well, almost no bearing—on the story.

Anyhow, gals home for the first time during a freshman year in college expect to be entertained as befits any coed of the species.

This boy, the one liked next-best, came up with the jolly idea of entertaining with a hunting trip.

ALL we had to do, he said, was to be ready one hour before dawn. It sounded fun at midnight and after the dance.

Mary, born naturally agreeable, told her date we'd both be ready. She meant it, too.

When that gosh-awful alarm went off at 5 o'clock in the morning, Mary grabbed our reluctant heels and pulled us bodily from beneath the covers. Repeatedly. Fifth or sixth time, we got the idea, got into the spirit of the adventure and chased her around the bathroom.

BREAKFAST was planned at the farm of an aunt of one of the boys.

So we started dressing between yawns punctuated with sisterly giggles.

It was, near as we can remember, our own clever idea that we'd both wear our Boy Scout pants.

THOSE were the days before slacks, you have to remember.

Boy Scout pants, shirt and laced leggings had been adopted the summer before by the Camp Fire Girls unit of which Mary and I were charter members.

If that sounds outlandish, well, maybe it was. But the Camp Fire Girls, back then, were not so regimented as such organizations are today. Us Girl Scouts wore what we pleased when we went a-hiking! And we pleased, by unanimous vote, to wear those Boy Scout pants.

DARK was still dancing a slow waltz over the cold horizon when the two of us got fluffed, lipstickked, uniformed and ready to join the young men who were already crossing their laced boot in front of the fireplace.

It was almost daylight before we managed to take off. The reason is one modern coeds would find hard to believe. Daddy got up.

"Where in tarnation do you think you're going in those get-ups?" he yelled, anything but bashfully.

PERMISSION from Mother to a-hunting we would go, with two lads all the family knew well, did not impress him much.

"You will," he ordered, "put on dresses. No skirts, no shooting," he decreed. "I will not have the two of you running around the countryside with boys in pants!"

That's a literal quote which may now sound a bit ambiguous. But we understood it. So back to our room we went while Daddy thundered about the house saying he never thought he'd "live to see the day!"

WE did live to see the day. We saw it before we saw a single bird—or duck—or whatever it was we were hunting.

Rest of our hunting trip has more to do with breakfast in a big farm kitchen—fresh pork and biscuits and scrambled eggs and fig preserves washed down with big tumblers of fresh milk.

Later, we all crawled through some barbed wire. Two pairs of pure silk hose were snagged. The four of us shot at a tin can on the fence post which the boys hit and the girls didn't.

HUNTING seasons have come and hunting seasons have gone since that far-away morning.

They can come and go from now on, for all of us! Getting up that early is strictly for the birds—then and now.

Besides that, we turned out to be gun-shy to a marked degree. And those Boy Scout pants do not even fit this Camp Fire Girl no more. Which is a joy-killing idea in hunting season if there ever was one.

Teaches At FFA Schools

David H. Redwine, senior agricultural education major at Texas A & M University, has recently participated in Future Farmers of America leadership training school held at Bryan and Hillsboro.

These leadership training schools are a part of the twelve schools co-sponsored by the Agricultural Education Department and the Collegiate FFA Chapter at Texas A&M this year.

The purpose of these leadership training schools is to assist vocational Agriculture teachers in their leadership training program. A group of high school FFA officers attending each school received special training in the duties and responsibilities of the FFA president from Redwine. The teaching experience gained by Redwine and other collegiate chapter members is considered to be valuable as a prelude to the eight weeks of student teaching the will participate in this Spring.

Redwine is a graduate of Lorraine High School, where he received vocational agriculture and FFA training under Raymond Holt. While in high school, he held the offices of treasurer and secretary in the FFA chapter and received the degree of a Lone Star Farmer. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Redwine of Route 3, Colorado City.
