Emergency Ambulance Now In Operation By Hospital

The Emergency Ambulance Service which became a big problem after the death of Martin White has now been solved by the taking over of the service by the Lynn County Hospital District. After the death of Mr. White, owner and operator of White Funeral Home which had been furnishing the services for Lynn County residents, Mrs. Billie White felt that even though she would continue operating the Funeral Home would no longer be able to handle the ambulance service it was pitched in the laps of Lynn County and city governments. The Hospital District agreed to take the service with financial help from city and county governments.

After the Hospital District agreed to take the service a new ambulance was ordered and was received a few days ago. The Tahoka Fire Department has handled the service on a voluntary basis during the laps of time.

The new ambulance has all of the latest equipment and complies with all the latest federal guidelines. The service will be handled on an immediate basis from 8 to 5 each day with personnel being on call the rest of the time and should be ready to leave within 10 minutes.

The new ambulance service has been rated second in the state in coverage by the State of Texas, having an RN ready to travel with the service at all times.

Jim Thompson and Bill Reynolds will be drivers of the service with both having senior instructor Red Cross first aid ratings and the RN's on call will be Norma Loyd and Nelma Gandy.

For Lynn County Ambulance Service just dial the Lynn County Hospital.

Lions Club See Highway Film

"Beautiful Texas" was the name of a Texas Highway Department film presented to Lions last week. The film was brought by C.W. Nall, of the THD District office in Lubbock. Nall was accompanied by David Midkiff, Lynn County Supervisor for the Highway Department.

The film gave the history of the THD in capsule form and showed many scenes from days when the best roads were only dirt. The film also dealt briefly with the pollution and litter problems.

The film was well received. Lions have canvassed many homes this week selling Lions Halloween candy, 160 piece bags are available at $1.00 per bag.

New Lion members include Terry Harvick and Calvin Adamson. Lions meet Wednesday noon at the cafeteria.

Play Entire Game In Rain

The Tahoka Bulldogs, underrated all year put on a tough display of defense last Friday night to defeat second ranked Cooper by a score of 18-7. When the Bulldogs put it all together there is not a 5-AA team in the district that can hold a light to them.

The Pirates, seemingly confident before the game, were beaten in every respect by the hard hitting Bulldogs.

Phil McClelland, outstanding quarterback for the Bulldogs, got the Blue team on the scoreboard early in the first quarter by some terrific key blocks by his teammates ran 84 yards on a bootleg quarterback keeper around left, he then cut right and went in for the tally with 7:31 left in the first quarter. Louis Zedlitz kick for the PAT was no good.

Cooper on their very next series of downs were held and the punter fumbled the ball on his own 3 yard line. John Thomas, Tahoka back then went up the middle for 2 yards and then over right guard to score the second TD of the night for the Bulldogs and give them a 12-0 lead. The Bulldogs failed to run the PAT.

After the Bulldog kickoff the Pirates moved 62 yards in 12 plays to score. The touchdown was set up on a 19 yard pass from quarterback Bobby Caudle to half-back Junior Martinez to the Tahoka 1 yard line. Caudle went the last yard on a quarterback sneak. Ronnie Jones kicked the PAT. This ended the scoring for the Pirates for the night.

In the third period Cooper was forced to punt from their own 22 yard line and ball came to rest on the Tahoka 46 where John Thomas picked the ball up and ran down east sideline 54 yards for the Bulldogs final score of the night. The Pass for the PAT failed with 47 seconds left in the third period. This ended the scoring for the night giving the Bulldogs a 18-7 victory over the Pirates.

Neither team could get the ball moving again in the final period for any length of time. It rained the entire length of the game which made the ball hard to handle for both teams.

In District games other than the Tahoka - Cooper game played last week, Post 8, Friendship 7; Roosevelt 28, Slaton 6, Denver City had a open date this week.

Playing outstanding games this week on offense were Phil McClelland, John Thomas, Jimmy Bailey, Larry Reynolds, and the entire offensive line did a good job of blocking. Outstanding on defense were Timmie White, Clifford Laws, Gary McCord, Gary McElroy and as always on both offense and defense, John Thomas.

The Bulldogs take on Slaton this Friday night at Slaton. In District 5-AA John Thomas is placed second in scoring with 42 points and Jimmy Bailey is placed 7 with 32 points.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Bill Boykin

Competitive auto and home-owners insurance rating legislation failed to clear the special session, but Gov. Preston Smith claimed the gathering served a purpose.

Smith, disappointed at a logjam in conference committee on the session's windup night, declined to call lawmakers back to work as he had hinted he might. He said he and legislative leaders decided another session now would be fruitless.

The Governor announced he will make recommendations for "thorough reform" of the insurance regulatory system before he leaves office in January.

"I am hopeful," he said, "that, because of the exposure and public attention that this issue has received during the past 30 days, competitive rates and other insurance reforms can and will be approved."

He cited these accomplishments of the session in addition to those which had been wrapped up earlier:

-- Establishment of a Texas Offshore Terminal Commission to define the role and responsibility of State government in developing a deep draft offshore port for supertankers.

-- Relaxing of trailer and brake lighting requirements for trailers.

-- An increase in funds by $1 million for the Anderson County junior college occupational extension center.

-- Defining the legal age at which both male and female youth offenders can be tried as adults.

-- Appropriation of $211,372 for a citrus and vegetable training center and improved beef production programs at Texas A & I University.

The Legislature also passed a bill to lower rates in the hurricane windstorms insurance pool for coastal areas. It petitioned Congress for a constitutional convention on an anti-busing amendment.

ALLOWABLE MAINTAINED-- For the eighth straight month, the statewide oil allowable will be retained at 100 per cent for November.

Production is expected to be slightly more than 3,500,000 barrels a day.

Major oil buyers requested 3,753,055 barrels of crude daily next month, a decrease of 23,538 from the October record.

The East Texas field, where an 86 per cent production figure was set, is an exception to the 100 per cent allowable. So is Kelly-Snyder at 76 per cent, Tom O'Connor at 70 per cent, and Big Wells at 80 per cent.

Only one of the 15 major crude buyers requested more oil next month than this month, while 11 asked the same amount and three asked less.

Texas crude stocks totaled 97.6 million barrels on October 6, a decrease of 4.2 million from the October, 1971, level.

DEATH PENALTY RESTORED-- A bill to restore the death penalty for certain cases of murder started too late to get through the Legislature in special session.

It was knocked out in both the House and Senate because it had not emerged from committees until the last 72 hours of the session.

The legislation sought to permit the death penalty (outlawed by the U.S. Supreme Court) in cases of atrocity murder, murder by hired assassins, murder of prison guards, intentional homicide during kidnapping, rape, burglary, robbery or arson, murder of a policeman or fireman and killings during prison escapes.

BUILDING SHIFT ORDERED-- The State Highway Commission received firm advice from the Legislature to move the proposed site of its controversial new 11-story, $20 million building.

Lawmakers said they don't want the building on the block across the street from the state capitol and governor's mansion. They indicated they prefer an underground parking garage topped by a park on the choice site in downtown Austin.

The legislative resolution recognizes the Highway Department should be compensated for the $1.5 million it spent on the site and plans. Funds will not be appropriated until next year. Since the Highway Department is pressing for a two-cent per gallon gasoline tax increase, it is expected to go along with the Legislature's directive without further argument.

COU RTS SPEAK -- The Texas Supreme Court upheld lower court verdicts that a Bowie County couple should collect damages due to an explosion at Lone Star Ordnance Plant which damaged their home.

The Third Court of Civil

Appeals at Austin affirmed the State Savings and Loan Commissioner's orders permitting creation of savings and loan associations in Bay City and Hallettsville.

AG OPINIONS -- A school district may not sell land to a company in which a school trustee is interested, Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin said in a new opinion.

The same opinion stated a school district may not lawfully purchase supplies or services from a company in which a trustee owns nearly 10 per cent of the shares. The district can contract with a company which receives its supplies from another in which a trustee owns an inappreciable number of shares.

In another opinion, Martin concluded election code provisions are applicable to water district elections where they are not inconsistent with special statutes controlling the district or the water code.

COMMON CAUSE OPENS SHOP -- Common Cause, the national lobby for citizens, announced opening of its first state organizational headquarters in Austin.

Randall Wood of Austin, former head of the Texas Secretary of State's election division, will head the state group which has 5,000 members and seeks 15,000.

Wood said Common Cause will seek four legislative objectives next year: wider disclosure of campaign finances, better public access to information, a code of ethics requiring full financial disclosure by public officials and a strict law requiring lobbyists to tell who hires them and pays them.

APPOINTMENTS -- Clyde C. McCollough Jr. of San Antonio was named by the Governor to the board of trustees, Texas Municipal Retirement System.

Smith appointed Robert Joseph Pesek, Erwin Joseph Bueck, Leon Louis Kahanek Jr. and Alfred Neumeier Jr., all of Hallettsville, to the Lavaca County Flood Control District No.3 board of directors.

SHORT SNORTS

Presidential George McGovern received an exceptionally warm welcome to the Texas capitol his last visit to Texas. Efforts to raise hunting fishing license fees for the House of Representatives. Another try will be made year.

Sen. Wayne Conrad Floresville will begin a national campaign for a constitutional convention to force busing to achieve a balance in public schools. A $48,000 national grant to help Texas A&M Agricultural Experiment Station study the impact of the oil industry.

Sen. John Tower Texas farmers and who suffered crop, or property losses due to natural disaster since they may be eligible for assistance.

Reynolds Elected To UIL Council

Harold Reynolds, Superintendent of Tahoka Schools, has been elected to represent the 48 AA schools of Region I on the Legislative Council of the University Interscholastic League. Reynolds' term of office will begin November 5, and extend until 1976. The Legislative Council is composed of 20 members representing the four regions of the State and all classifications of schools - Classes B, A, AA, AAA, AAAA.
The Legislative Council determines policies to guide the State UIL Executive Committee in making the rules that govern the League and control contest. It is also the responsibility of the Council to adopt material changes in contest rules. Ordinarily proposals for rule changes are submitted to member schools in the form of referendums in order to obtain the thinking of the member schools concerning the proposed changes.
What is now known as the University Interscholastic League was first organized in December, 1910. Each year since then it has been organized by a bureau of the Extension Division of the University of Texas at Austin. For the first year the League's activities were confined to debates among the high schools affiliated with the University. The following year contest in declamation were added and membership in the League was thrown open to all the public schools of the state below college rank. Subsequently there were also added contests in various fields, suited to schools of different types, until the prefields, suited to schools of different types, until the present schedule of contests was evolved.

Tahoka High Happenings

BY BECKY BURKS

To observe "sock it to 'em day" students at T.H.S. wore socks in spite of cold, wet weather last Friday. This spirit booster, along with a pep rally must have done the job because our Bulldogs really "socked it to" and surprised Cooper's Pirates by a score of 18-7 in spite of rain throughout the game.
Friday afternoon, the Student Council sponsored a full length movie for student body members. Students paid an admission fee and are expecting to see more films in the future.
There will be no school this Friday since teachers will attend a TSTA meeting in Lubbock. So, the weekly pep rally will be held on Thursday and student will be on a regular pep rally schedule.
The high school student body attended the junior high pep rally on Tuesday afternoon. This was a new experience.
Nine weeks are completed and report cards will be issued to students on Thursday.
Due to poor weather conditions, the Tahoka band was unable to perform last Friday night, however, they intend to perform at Slaton this Friday, and are looking to marching contest which will be held on Nov. 1.

LINDA HOFFAKER SAYS ...

To a child, a Halloween costume is a ball of fun... but it shouldn't turn into a ball of fire.
While "trick or treating", a child can be exposed to many direct sources of fire which could easily ignite a costume covering.
Lighted pumpkins, colorful candles and open fires for roasting wieners or toasting marshmallows are examples of this hazard.
Since most costumes are made for temporary use, inexpensive and often highly flammable materials are used in their construction. Because of this, the parent should read all labels on the box and garment before selecting a costume with the child. The fabric's flame resistance should be described in the labels--the safest stating the material meets the Department of Commerce Standards for flammability safety.
In addition, some flame retardants are only temporary washing the costume will remove them. So, consider the warnings... especially if the garment is to be used again and will be washed between uses.

Careful selection of costumes should provide a safe and happy "trick or treat" Halloween.
RECIPE OF THE WEEK:
NUT ROLL
¾ cup canned milk
¼ teaspoon salt
2 ½ tablespoons butter or margarine
1 cup white sugar
2 ¼ cups brown sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 cups nuts (pecans or walnuts)
2 cups miniature marshmallows
½ pound caramels
Combine white and brown sugar, milk and salt in pot, cooking slowly until soft ball forms, or reaches 221 degrees on candy thermometer. Then, remove, add margarine and marshmallows. Beat until marshmallows melt and let cool until lukewarm.
Form four long rolls from mixture. Melt caramels with three tablespoons of milk slowly, then dribble slowly over rolls, followed by nuts. Turn, repeating coating with caramels and then nuts. Refrigerate a couple of hours and slice before serving.

Our homemakers are already liberated

Our homemakers, we feel, are holding the most important jobs in our community. They manage the home and they manage the children. And they manage to put up with us, too. Folks around here seem to be aware that there's a real difference between a woman and a man. And we think it works better that way. Elsewhere, it seems, women are trying to prove that they are no different than the next fellow.

Farm Bureau News

The county Farm Bureau adopted the new Property Plan offered by the Texas Farm Bureau. In addition to the sign, the member may elect to purchase name plates that may be attached to the sign. These cost an additional 75 cents each. Decals for automobiles, trucks and other vehicles will be provided at no cost to the member.

The county Farm Bureau will be responsible for completing a form furnished to them for the purpose of reporting information leading to the arrest and final conviction under the program.

The Farm Bureau Insurance adjuster will investigate and send the report with further information to the state office. The $200 check will be sent from the Texas Farm Bureau to the county Farm Bureau president who will deliver it to the property owner.

There is no cost to the individual member for the protection except for the signs and optional name plates to be attached to the signs. The county Farm Bureau assumes the cost of the program which is 20 cents for each current member of the organization not having a fire or casualty policy with the Texas Farm Bureau Insurance Companies.

Big Springs To Host Texas Industrial Meet

The Texas Industrial Commission will hold public hearings in four cities throughout the state during November to determine areas eligible for industrial development aid under the Texas Rural Development Act.

The hearings, set for Austin Nov. 9, Big Spring Nov. 14, Kingsville Nov. 16 and Henderson Nov. 21, will help the Industrial Commission determine the demand for the program and accept applications from communities or areas desiring rural designation.

The Texas Rural Development Act, passed by the 62nd legislature, is designed to boost low rural economy through financing of industrial development projects.

Chester Wine of Corpus Christi, chairman of the nine member Commission, called the program another aid to solving the economic problems of the state's rural areas. "One of the biggest barriers to industrial development in rural Texas is the financing of industrial projects," Wine said. "This act provides us with the tools necessary to rebuild rural Texas."

A recent survey of a 40-year period from 1930 to 1970 conducted by the Industrial Commission revealed that 65 of the state's 265 counties have experienced a slow, but gradual decline in both population and new industries.

The report also showed there were some 233,428 people employed in agribusiness in these counties in 1930. Today, in these same counties, less than 62,000 people earn their living in agriculture.

"This represents a loss of more than 170,000 jobs in basic income producing industry," Wine said. "It is particularly significant since the total state employment in agriculture today is less than 300,000."

Under the new program nonprofit foundations may apply for up to 40 percent of the cost of financing a new or expanding industry in a rural area.

To be eligible for financing, a community must have lost population during the last two federal census and gained less population or less manufacturing employment than the average for the state's Standard Metropolitan Statistical Areas.

The new program will provide help for approximately 230 nonprofit industrial foundations in Texas.

School Vocational Program Explained

New emphasis on vocational studies in the Tahoka schools was the subject of a talk at the Rotary Club Thursday noon by Marion Baker, who is teaching a course in upholstery.

The course is designed for, although not limited to, students who are now progressing well in standard courses. Objects include helping the student find something he can do successfully, learn a trade, gain new interest in school, and become a productive citizen.

A down town building was rented for the shop, where students upholster furniture and Mr. Baker says they are already turning out professional quality work.

Billy Davis arranged the program and introduced the speaker.

CHEAP CIGARETTES ARE NOT CHEAP

Mail Order Cigarettes

Cigarette smokers throughout the State of Texas are being tempted to order cigarettes by mail from out of State firms at what appears to be bargain prices—some quoted prices are as low as $2.95 per carton. Since advertisements by most out of State suppliers have neglected to mention that Texas Cigarette Taxes have not been paid, many unsuspecting Texans have found that mail order cigarettes can be anything but cheap.

Federal Law requires the out of State firms to report each shipment made into Texas to the Comptroller of Public Accounts. The Comptroller is then charged by Texas Law with the collection of tax and penalty on cigarettes purchased unlawfully.

Imported Cigarettes From Mexico

Persons traveling across the Texas border into Mexico find American and Mexican cigarettes available in many shops at very low prices. Because United States Customs will allow a $100.00 total value of imported goods (including cigarettes) to be returned into the United States tax free, tourists are frequently encouraged by Mexican storekeepers to stock up on favorite brands of cigarettes. The Texas Cigarette Tax Law, however, allows only two packages (40 cigarettes) of untaxed cigarettes to be brought into the State for personal consumption provided the seal on each package has been broken. Untaxed cigarettes possessed in excess of two packages are subject to seizure and the person transporting the cigarettes will incur the penalties prescribed by law.

Penalties

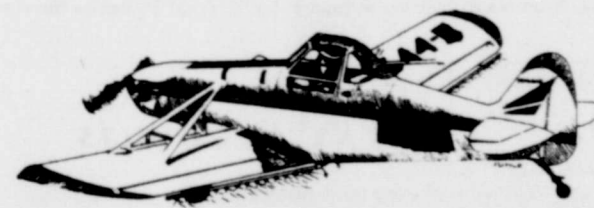

Persons not authorized by Texas Cigarette Law who receive or transport untaxed cigarettes into the State of Texas in quantities of less than 50 cartons (10,000 cigarettes) shall be required to pay $1.85 tax plus $1.85 penalty on each carton possessed or transported. Misdemeanor charges shall be filed against any person who shall fail or refuse to pay the required tax and penalty.

Unauthorized persons receiving or transporting untaxed cigarettes into the State of Texas in quantities of 50 cartons (10,000 cigarettes) or more shall be guilty of a felony and any vehicle used for such transportation shall be seized and forfeited to the State of Texas.

We ask that you post this notice in a conspicuous location in your business in order that employees, business associates, and customers may avoid being tricked into buying bargain cigarettes only to learn at a later time that tax paid cigarettes purchased in Texas are really much cheaper after all.
