'TECHNICAL VIOLATIONS' OF LAWFUND-RAISER FOR NIXON CONCEDES

Stans Denies Knowledge Of Raid

WASHINGTON (AP) — Maurice H. Stans, blocked in an effort to avoid Watergate testimony now, today denied knowledge of the wiretapping raid, political sabotage, or violation of any campaign laws.

The former secretary of Commerce and fund-raiser for President Nixon conceded only that there might have been "some unimputed technical violations" of the new disclosure law.

MUSKIE DATA

Earlier, the committee heard a former Nixon campaign worker testify that he had been told that John N. Mitchell, while still attorney general, had been shown filmed copies of private correspondence from the campaign of Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, at that time front-runner for the Democratic presidential nomination.

In court, U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica cleared the way for the committee to take testimony, under immunity, from two key witnesses, ousted White House counsel John W. Dean III and former Nixon campaign deputy Jeb Stuart Magruder.

Stans is under indictment in New York in connection with a secret 1972 campaign contribution, and his lawyer asked the Senate Watergate committee to postpone his testimony until after the trial.

AGAINST DELAY

Sen. Sam J. Ervin, D-N.C., said the committee unanimously ruled against a delay, but wouldn't ask him anything involving the New York case, which stems from a contribution by financier Robert Vesco. Mitchell has been indicted in the same fund-raising case.

Robert W. Barker told the committee Stans should not be compelled to testify while facing trial in a federal court in New York on charges of conspiracy, perjury and obstruction of justice.

"Inevitably, directly or indirectly, this hearing will influence any jury which might be called to hear the case in New York," Barker said.

Indictments there against Stans and John N. Mitchell, the former attorney general, involve a 1972 campaign contribution from financier Robert Vesco.

CAMPAIGN CHIEF

A former Nixon campaign worker testified earlier that he was told former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell saw filmed copies of Sen. Edmund S. Muskie's campaign correspondence in late 1971.

At the time Muskie was considered the frontrunner for the Democratic presidential nomination, Mitchell was head of the Justice Department, and didn't become Nixon's campaign chairman until months later.

Herbert L. Porter, former chief scheduler for the President's re-election campaign, said he was given the 35-mile memorandum by Jeb Stuart Magruder, deputy director of the Committee for the Re-election of the President.

Porter said Magruder told him he showed the material to Mitchell, and once became irked at Porter when batteries in a viewing device failed to work on a trip to Mitchell's office.

He said he believed the material was obtained secretly, but not illegally.

CLEARED THE WAY

Porter testified at the Senate's televised Watergate hearings as a federal judge cleared the way for the appearances by Magruder and ousted White House counsel John W. Dean III. Magruder immediately was scheduled to appear later this week, and Dean next week. Staff investigators met with Magruder today behind closed doors.

Bid To Curb U. S. Inflation

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon summoned his key economic advisers to another White House meeting today amid reports that he could announce a tightening of his economic program on Wednesday.

The President also postponed a late-morning meeting with bipartisan congressional leaders, apparently to clear his schedule to concentrate on the pressing economic issue.

Reports circulated that Nixon would go on nationwide television Wednesday to disclose new moves to curb inflation. The White House would not confirm the reports.

The Senate meanwhile scheduled debate on a Democratic proposal to junk Nixon's Phase 3 economic program and replace it with a tight wage-price freeze.

Democrats were expected to press for a vote today on a proposal by Sen. William Proxmire, W-Vt., to freeze everything except raw agricultural products. Proxmire sought to attach the freeze amendment to an unrelated $613-million State Department authorization bill.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield called inflation the nation's No. 1 domestic problem, said it should be faced up to immediately, and made Proxmire's amendment today's Senate business.

Government sources indicated that the Nixon administration's own plan may be ready for announcement by midweek.

Nixon conferred for two hours Monday with key economic advisers and met also with his 10-member Labor-Management Advisory Committee.

Document Calls For Halt In Shots After Signing

SAIGON (AP) — The Vietnam document being worked out in Paris calls for a realistic cease-fire within 24 hours after signing and includes timetables for other provisions of the original truce, Saigon government sources said today.

The informants said the plan being drawn up by Henry A. Kissinger and Hanoi's Le Duc Tho also calls for implementation of Article 20 of the original pact. If observed, this could mean an end to U.S. bombing in Cambodia.

Kissinger and Tho were to resume discussions today in the French capital.

The communique was scheduled to be signed last Saturday, but South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu balked.

Article 20 of the original pact says the United States, North and South Vietnam and the Viet Cong shall respect the neutrality of Cambodia and Laos.

There are truce agreements in Vietnam and Laos, but none in Cambodia.

Timetable provisions affecting the United States and North Vietnam include: —An immediate halt of U.S. reconnaissance flights over the North.

—Resumption of U.S. mine-sweeping operations in North Vietnamese waters within five days after signing and completion within 30 days.

—Resumption of talks on postwar reconstruction aid to Hanoi four days after signing.

—Resumption of negotiations of a joint economic committee within 15 days.

The sources said the plan also calls for a meeting of opposing Vietnamese battlefield commanders at points of direct conflict within 48 hours to avoid hostilities.

The document showed that Saigon objected to three points. They are: wording used in delineating zones of control, establishment of a Council of National Reconciliation and Concord without linking it to a definite timetable for elections and permission for the Communist side to receive replacement war material through the demilitarized zone.

STANS SWORN IN—Maurice Stans, former Commerce Secretary and chief of the Finance Committee to Re-elect the President, is sworn in for testimony before the Watergate Senate Committee today in Washington.

Orbiting Factories?

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Skylab's astronauts conducted an earth resources pass over the north-central and Eastern seaboard states today.

They prepared to fire up an electric furnace and an electron beam gun for metals processing tests which could lead to a space manufacturing business.

Experts predict the materials tests could spawn a multibillion-dollar business late in this century, with orbiting factories producing high-quality electronic devices, superstrong materials, perfectly round ball bearings, precision optical lenses and pure vaccines.

Charles Conrad Jr., Dr. Joseph P. Kerwin and Paul J. Weitz were up early on the 19th day of their 28-day space odyssey to run the earth resources pass that extended from North Dakota across the Great Lakes, Ohio, Chesapeake Bay, the Atlantic and Caribbean.

Their photosensors gathered data to support wild life habitat studies in North Dakota; study pollution and weather systems.

Site Statements Are Given RPC

Top item of interest to Howard County on the agenda of grants seeking approval at the monthly board meeting of the Permian Basin Regional Planning Council at Terminal Wednesday is the request from the Permian Basin Police Communications Project.

They have negative environmental assessment statement from 12 counties in regards to the proposed radio communications tower sites. This is simply a formality that states that these 12 counties will change their tower and frequency to match the statewide system which the council has been working to obtain.

Grants up for discussion Wednesday include $127,200 for the Permian Basin Community Centers for Mental Health and Mental Retardation, $14,000 for second year funding of the regional alcoholism authority, funds for application of the institutional training project under the Manpower Development and Training act; and a request for $25,261 for Gaines County adult and juvenile probation project.

The board will also consider resolutions accepting $172,500 for Permian Basin Planned Parenthood, Inc., $29,903 for Midland Association for Retarded Children, Inc. They also will review a certificate of need for the Pecos Nursing Home.

ISD To Pave Half Of Parking Lot

By MARJ CARPENTER

A decision to apply a single penetration application to half of Memorial Stadium parking lot, approval of the athletic portion of the school budget and acceptance of 41 resignations and retirements at the end of the school year highlighted the regular school board meeting Monday night.

The board had earlier tabled action on improving the parking lot at the football stadium after it was determined that county equipment was all tied up in road work and the county would be unable to help with the project.

A price by a local contractor indicates that they can pave half the area for $11,195, according to Don Crockett, superintendent of business.

The school and Howard County Junior College had earlier agreed to give $5,000 each to the board approved adding another $597 and improving half the facility at this time.

ATHLETIC BUDGET

The board also heard Bob Burris, new athletic director, discuss the athletic budget and approved it to be included in the final budget. They will hold still another workshop session on the final budget.

The athletic portion of the budget, totaling expenditures of $96,822, includes probable receipts of $33,450 for a subsidy in the school budget of $63,442.

Burris explained increases within the different divisions of the budget and decreases in other sections. One of the big increases in football equipment is a new type helmet which the coach considers "the safest on the market and which has shown to almost completely eliminate head and neck injuries." He also said that some of the junior high uniforms and the girls' volleyball uniforms have to be replaced. The track program included a new set of hurdles, new junior high equipment and money for a girls' track program which is now a part of UIL competition.

MANY RESIGNATIONS

The athletic budget also includes a new van to add to another van and station wagon to cut down on using buses for small groups such as a golf team. The van will also be utilized by other departments when not in use by the athletic department.

The board accepted 41 resignations and retirements at the end of the school year. Unless Title I federal funds are approved by Congress within the next few weeks, some of the teaching positions left open will not leave an opening for a new teacher but will be filled by others in the system, according to Supt. Sam Anderson.

The list of resignations and retirements include Mrs. Katharine Biggs, high school French; Miss Patricia Bonner, high school English; Charles Campbell, high school physical science; Mrs. Dora Carter, Marcy; Mrs. Lois Cave, speech therapist; Mrs. Frances Clement, Bauer; Mrs. Vernay Cook, Marcy; William R. HIS ISOLATION IN OFFICE IS SAID TO BE FACTOR IN RECENT PROBLEMS

Nixon Seems Even More Alone Since Watergate

By FRANCES LEWINE

Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon, a loner before, seems even more alone since the Watergate scandals separated him from his two closest aides, H. R. Haldeman and John D. Ehrlichman.

White House insiders say that C. G. "Bebe" Rebozo, a frequent Nixon companion, is the only friend they can recall having dined privately with the President at the executive mansion in recent months.

OLD PALS

Even the Nixon family circle at the White House is dwindling. Tricia and Edward Cox have taken up residence in New York, Julie and David Eisenhower live in a Bethesda, Md., house rented from Rebozo. Mrs. Nixon and Julie have described the Watergate as agonizing for the President and tragic for the families of Haldeman and Ehrlichman, who resigned April 30. "We've been friends so long," Mrs. Nixon said.

The Nixon family has taken up a theme pronounced by lawyer son-in-law Cox that "Watergate is a thing of the past." Investigators will trash it out, they say, and the President must move ahead with his important official business, including the foreign policy breakthroughs which they think will make his mark in history.

In earlier, harrier days of his presidency, Nixon explained himself:

WRITTEN REPORT

"I am a somewhat unusual man to be in political life, because I tend to be less gregarious, frankly, than the average person in this position in political life. I don't tend to be a first-namer, or basically shall we say, too familiar. That is my nature. ... I tend to be somewhat formal."

From the time he moved into the oval office, Nixon established a pattern of depending on his staff, even for news reports.

One aide describes Nixon as operating "with the conduit philosophy, the way an efficient executive of a large corporation would work." He prefers written reports to personal meetings, the aide said, because "meetings take time and the President is a very good budgeter of time."

In his personal life as President, Nixon quickly demonstrated a desire for privacy, hideaways and frequent changes of scenery. A weekend spent in the White House is a rarity for him.

PRIVATE ISLAND

In one 10-day period earlier this year, Nixon visited his retreats at San Clemente, Calif., on the Pacific Ocean, Key Biscayne, Fla., on the Atlantic and Camp David in the Catoctin Mountains of Maryland. He frequently goes from Key Biscayne to a friend's private island in the British Bahamas.

In the White House he sought so long to win, Nixon is said to find the trappings of the famed oval office distracting and has established a smaller hideaway in the Executive Office Building next door.

Aides cannot recall Nixon ever working in his shirts-sleeves. His only concession to informality on the job is to wear a sports jacket occasionally.

Once where there were reports that the President sported flared purple trousers at Camp David, White House Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said "well, he wears sports clothes from time to time. I think 'flared' is a little exaggerated. But purple? 'I don't know about purple,' said Ziegler. Some of his slacks have cuffs on them. I mean he's a regular guy, he wears sports clothes."

Nixon also retreats to the tiny Lincoln Sitting Room of the second floor family quarters in the White House, where he often has a cozy fire—even in the warm weather—and listens to music, from stereo equipment stored in a closet. Nixon recently explained his need for aloneness:

ALL ALONE

"Great decisions, if they are to be good decisions, must be made coolly. ... Of course, I like to hear everyone, but then I go off alone and decide."

He has established Camp David, located on an isolated wooded mountaintop, as one of his chief decision-making spots. It is a 20 minute helicopter ride from the White House, which one of his daughters has likened to a big, empty hotel.

Nixon runs in place for exercise and bowls occasionally at two lanes in the Executive Office Building next door to the White House or at Camp David alleys. He likes swimming, goes in just about daily when he's at Camp David, and bragged about taking a plunge in the heated pool there once when the temperature outside was "five degrees below."

Nixon dines on a low-fat diet he says "keeps you in better mental shape—it does me." His weight is around 172 now.

Recently he set the record straight about his reported taste for cottage cheese and ketchup. It's spiced up more often now with pineapple. "You have to dress up cottage cheese to eat it," Nixon said.

One of his favorite simple dinner dishes is reported to be baked breast of chicken with lemon juice, oregano and chopped parsley fresh from the White House garden.

HABITS FIXED

Nixon's habits are pretty well (See NIXON, Pg. 2, Col. 7)

More Sparks Fly Over Cosden Tax Assessment

The board of equalization heard a lengthy discussion Monday afternoon of an appeal by Cosden Oil & Chemical Company and then recessed indefinitely.

The discussion, which had begun in the morning during a recess of commissioner's court, saw sparks fly for a second time between Commissioner Bill Crooker and Cosden tax man, Ray Ebling.

Ebling brought confidential records from Cosden which showed the final cost of new construction at the plant as $7,330,702. Crooker, in the morning session, alleged that he had "heard that the construction was near $11 million." Judge A. G. Mitchell challenged Crooker to reveal his source of information and Crooker refused.

Ebling brought a copy of the final cost figures, which were very close to the estimate given by Pritchard and Abbott. Crooker still demanded to see the contract and requested Pritchard and Abbott to send a second engineer out to re-examine Cosden's new installation.

"We are employed by the county and we will be glad to..."

send a second qualified engineer to re-examine the plant," said a P-A spokesman. He also noted that P-A considered the first engineer qualified.

At the end of the session, when Ebling requested the copies of the cost estimate to be returned to the company, Crooker refused to part with his

Chamber of Commerce directors meeting for lunch Monday passed a resolution giving full support to the Howard County Junior College agricultural program and approved a new set of Chamber policies and bylaws.

The June breakfast of the Chamber Breakfast Club originally slated Thursday was reset for 7 a.m. June 20 at the Settles Hotel with the Big Spring Cowboy Reunion and Rodeo Association board to present the program.

A meeting of the Community Development Council featuring a presentation by Charles Driver concerning a possible zoo for the city was rescheduled for June 27. Time and place have not been set.

President George McAlister appointed Ralph McLaughlin to the Howard County Community Action Committee.

In council reports, J. D. Nelson announced that Webb AFB and the Chamber will split the cost of this year's July 4 fireworks display.

W. S. Pearson reported that he, Clyde McMahon and Rom Mercer will meet Wednesday to reorganize and revitalize the Chamber's Industrial Team.

copy, stating: "I am on the board of equalization and I want to keep this."

The exchange between the two men became heated during the discussion of the plant cost with Crooker demanding a contract, and Ebling offering to bring five or six drawers of files.

Bill Bennett, commissioner, who had earlier stated that he believed the Cosden and Pritchard and Abbott figures, finally injected into the Crooker-Ebling exchange, "This discussion is becoming too personal, and I think we need to leave personal feelings out of it."

The board then discussed Cosden's request to submit figures that are actually 60 percent of the merchandise inventory figures.

Crooker again objected. "I represent the taxpayers, and we are not going to give away tax money," he said. He suggested that if other inventories in town are low, they should be brought up, and if necessary, the board of equalization should work with Southwestern Appraisal to do it.

"We don't have time to jump in and try to revamp the whole tax structure at this time," countered Judge Mitchell. "The board of equalization meeting for all taxpayers is set for this month."

Mel Murphree, tax appraiser, told the board that his office has been using figures provided by the businessmen, which have been much the same for the past few years.

Cy Terrazas, commissioner, said, "I think we're doing the best we can." Jack Buchanan, the fourth commissioner, finally requested time to further study the matter, and Judge Mitchell recessed the session.

Ceremony Performed In Christian Church

Miss Susan Jayne McDonald, daughter of S.Sgt. and Mrs. Ronnie McDonald, 800 W. 18th, was married Sunday afternoon to S.Sgt. Danny Lee Boone, Wiesbaden, West Germany, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard M. Boone, Huntington, W. Va.

Chaplain Clayton Hicks of the Veterans Administration Hospital performed the rites in the First Christian Church with Mrs. William F. Martin as organist.

The bride was attired in her mother's wedding gown of white taffeta and lace. The bodice, overlaid with lace, and trimmed with pearls and iridescents, was fashioned with brief sleeves and a scalloped, square neckline. Wide panels of lace formed a reddingote effect on the skirt and circled the wide hemline. Her lace gloves were adorned with seed pearls and iridescents, and her fingertip-length veil was held by a Juliet cap of Venice lace. She carried a bouquet of white roses and carnations tied with streamers.

Miss Sandra Lee Chromack, maid of honor, wore a floor-length dress of aqua organza over taffeta; Venice lace daisies trimming cuffs of the long sleeves and circling the hemline. Her matching headpiece was adorned with net and seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of feathered carnations.

The altar setting featured branched candelabra and pedestal arrangements of white gladioli, chrysanthemums and emerald foliage.

The best man was Donald O'Neal, El Campo, and Johnnie Dean Chromack was the usher.

The reception was held in the church parlor where refreshments were served by Miss Kathy Hill, Red Oak; and Miss Patricia Carol Coleman, Pasadena, Texas. Miss Janice Sue Coleman, Pasadena, registered guests.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Boone, Huntington, W. Va.; Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Coleman, Pasadena; Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Hill, Red Oak; Mr. and Mrs. George Chromack, Austin; and Mrs. Marion Sykora, Mr. and Mrs. Don O'Neal and Bill Wolter, all of El Campo.

The refreshment table was centered with a "memory candle" ringed with daisies, carnations, pink roses and gypsophila, and flanked by white tapers in crystal holders. The tiered cake was topped by a miniature bride and groom.

Lies Cause Hate

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Today is my 22nd birthday, and I just became the mother of a beautiful, healthy baby girl. I should be the happiest woman in the world because I have a wonderful husband, a really great marriage, and just about everything a person could want — but something is bothering me.

When I was 17 I became an unwed mother. I trusted my parents' judgment and let them talk me into giving up my beautiful baby boy for adoption. My parents and their lawyer informed me that six weeks after I gave up my son the adoption was final.

Exactly seven months later I met the wonderful young man who asked me to marry him. We were married three months later. I recently learned that the court allows an unwed mother one year to decide whether she wants to finalize the adoption. Abby, had I known it then my husband and I would have kept my baby. Now it is too late.

My problem is the bitterness I feel toward my parents for having lied to me. I've tried to forgive them but I can't. The resentment I feel for them is eating away at my insides. It seems to grow worse, and now I can hardly bear to look at them. Please tell me how I can get rid of these hateful feelings that are ruining my life. CAN'T FORGIVE.

DEAR ABBY: Even though your parents probably thought they were doing what was best for you at the time, they should not have lied to you. Harboring hate and resentment is self-destructive, and you may need professional help to rid yourself of these negative thoughts. Ask your doctor to guide you in getting the help you need.

Wrong Airport Pilots Grounded

MIAMI (AP) — The government has grounded the pilot and copilot of an airliner that was bound for Miami International Airport but landed at a smaller field eight miles away.

The Federal Aviation Administration said Monday that the pilot of the United Air Lines Boeing 727, Capt. James Bosse, and copilot Charles Melbourne would not be allowed to fly until an investigation of the incident is completed.

The two flight officers were not available for comment. They both fly out of Newark, N.J.

Jack Barker, FAA public affairs officer in Atlanta, said the investigation into the incident should be finished within a week or two. He said Bosse and Melbourne face possible charges.

"It could be very serious," Barker said. "The pilot landed at the wrong airport. Fortunately this airport had a runway 200 feet wide and 8,000 feet long. It could have been an airport a lot shorter, and many things could have happened."

The Boeing 727 with 62 passengers aboard landed Sunday night at Opa-locka Airport after receiving clearance to land at Miami International, said James Frazier, FAA area coordinator.

The passengers were bused to Miami International that night. The crew flew the jet to the larger field Monday morning.

"Initially, the plane was cleared to land at runway nine-left on an instrument flight plan at Miami," said Frazier. "Then they canceled and said they were going to land visually."

"Then the Miami tower noticed they were lining up with Opa-locka's nine-left instead of Miami's," he added.

The Miami and Opa-locka runways are parallel but about eight miles apart.

Opa-locka has no radar facilities and was unable to communicate with the approaching jet by radio, Frazier said.

"FAA regulations require that a pilot be familiar with the airport in which he's landing, and the pilot never landed at Opa-locka before," said Barker.

"They violated an FAA regulation. If there was no emergency declared, he's supposed to land where he's scheduled to land."

A UAL spokesman said visibility was perfect at the time.

"It was a perfect landing, except the plane landed at the wrong airport," he added.

GEN. JOHN D. RYAN

AFA Meeting Is Nearing

The Texas State Convention of the Air Force Association will be June 29-30 in San Antonio, Jack Alexander, president of the local chapter said.

Sen. John Tower and two of the highest ranking officers of the U.S. Air Force will speak before the state assembly.

Stanley Campbell, president of the statewide association, said that appearing along with Tower would be Gen. John D. Ryan, chief of staff of the U.S. Air Force, and Lt. Gen. George S. Boylan Jr., deputy chief of staff in charge of programs and resources, both of Washington, D. C.

Campbell said that plans in San Antonio are being made to present several major topics of vital concern to those directly associated with the Air Force, as well as the general public. Topics such as the all-volunteer military program, the status of Air Force bases in Texas, military appropriations, and pending legislation affecting the Air Force will head the list of items to be discussed.

Libya Nationalizes American Oil Firm

TRIPOLI, Libya (AP) — Col. Moammar Khadafi, the fiery young Libyan leader, announced Monday he is nationalizing the holdings of a U.S. oil company here because of Washington's policies.

The move was widely viewed as a warning of more takeovers if Libya's demands are not met for "100 per cent control" of foreign oil operations.

The firm's principal stockholder is Bunker Hunt, son of oil billionaire H.L. Hunt.

"The time has come for us to deal America a strong slap on its cool, arrogant face," Khadafi said.

"America still supports Israel with arms in order to humiliate the Arabs," he added. "The American imperialism now takes the shape of unlimited support to the monopolistic oil companies which decline to concede to our rights... and we are the owners of our oil."

The nationalization followed the "de facto expropriation" of Bunker Hunt holdings since May 24 when the government said it could not produce and export oil, a company spokesman said.

A spokesman for the oil industry said Monday's action did not necessarily mean bigger Western firms in Libya would be nationalized.

the American consumer.

Bunker Hunt was the smallest foreign producer in Libya's rich fields, accounting for about 150,000 barrels daily. That was about 5 per cent of total Libyan production and only about .03 per cent of total world production.

The company's production was constantly declining because of the previous nationalization of the British Petroleum Co.'s interests here. BP and Bunker Hunt had held a concession in partnership in Libya. BP operated the fields and split production with Bunker Hunt.

Stanford J. Stewart, son of Mr. and Mrs. Merle J. Stewart, 504 Washington, is among the graduates from Rice Institute at its 60th commencement exercises. He was graduated with a BA degree, cum laude.

OUTPUT DIPS

Othe oil firms in Libya are the Oasis group made up of Continental Marathon, Shell and America-Hess; the Amoseas group made up of Texaco and Standard Oil of California; and Occidental Petroleum.

The nationalization of Bunker Hunt will have almost no effect on the world supply of oil or on

Heroin, Two Cars Seized

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Two pounds of heroin, $2,300 cash and two late model automobiles were only part of the booty seized in a weekend arrest here, federal authorities have disclosed.

Cecil Emerson, regional director of the federal drug program, said Monday they arrested Alfonso J. Sepulveda Jr., after he delivered approximately two pounds of heroin to an undercover San Antonio police officer assigned to the San Antonio District office of Drug Abuse Law Enforcement (DALE).

Emerson said three firearms and small amounts of cocaine, marijuana and hashish were also seized, but declined to specify the quality of the heroin, nor did he estimate a street value for it.

Training Plane Suffers Damage

City Fights Mosquitoes

To kill mosquitoes and retard breeding of the pesky insects, the city is operating its fogging machine 10-hours a day five days a week, according to James Campbell, public works director.

The fogger, mounted on a truck, sprays an odorless, colorless, insecticide, non-toxic to humans, into the air. Two different insecticides, Diabrom II and Delcide, are used, Campbell said.

The chemicals kill mosquitoes in the air and stick to plant life, acting as a repellent for about a week.

Another anti-mosquito measure the city is taking is to throw insecticide tablets into drainage ditches where standing water stagnates and the insects might breed. These tablets kill the live mosquitoes and prevent breeding as long as the water stands, Campbell noted.

Alan Sontag and Nancy Weichsel of New York City edged a star-studded field to capture the Life Master Pair Championship at the South Eastern Regionals held in Miami Beach in April. Only a few points behind them, in second place was a Florida Pair—Robert Saron and Robert Woodworth of St. Petersburg.

Today's hand was taken from one of the qualifying rounds. Most of the North-South pairs were content to settle for a part score contract in diamonds and usually succeeded in taking 10 tricks—losing two clubs and one spade on the deal.

A few pairs were more ambitious. One South scored a game in no trump when a defender slipped in discarding as declarer was running his long suit.

He said that more than 600 A.F.A. members from across Texas are expected to attend the two-day convention. A. J. Statter, regional vice president, will be there along with Alexander and Jerry Worthing, vice president of the local chapter.

These and other subjects are expected to be spoken on by the three guest speakers.

Campbell said, "With the aggressive agenda we're setting up and the impressive list of speakers, this year's convention should establish Texas as the leading A.F.A. organization at the state level in the United States."

"I'm looking forward to the convention," he said. "I feel that all of us should support the military efforts if our country is to maintain its aerospace power to defend national security and ensure world peace."

He said that the important work being undertaken by the A.F.A. chapters across the country and especially in Texas is underscored by the commitment of Tower, Ryan and Boylan to be in San Antonio for this convention.

Fuel Shortage Eases At Port

HOUSTON (AP) — A fuel shortage at the Port of Houston has eased for a short time. Wiley George, president of the West Gulf Maritime Association, said Monday.

Several major stevedoring companies in Houston were down to their last fallons of gasoline and diesel fuel last week. Oil companies have responded to the high priority of keeping the port open, George said.

Car Jams In LA?

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Was there ever any doubt that Los Angeles is one of the nation's car capitals? Here are some facts from a city engineer's traffic report for 1972:

— There is more than one vehicle for every two of the city's nearly 3 million residents.

— Vehicle registration in the past two years increased almost twice as fast as population.

— There are more cars and trucks in this city than in each of 24 states.

— Total travel on the city's streets and freeways reached 18.5 billion miles during 1972 — the equivalent of 2,000 trips around the world every day.

HC GOLF COACH TOMMY RUTLEDGE WITH PROSPECTS Signing in are Glenn Smith (L), Joe Lee Waggoner

HCJC Coach Signs Pair

Two of West Texas' brightest golf prospects, Glenn Smith of Monahans and Joe Lee Waggoner, Stamford, have signed letters of intent with Coach Tommy Rutledge at Howard County Junior College.

Smith was a member of Monahans' state championship team (Class AAA) in 1970-71. He was the fourth low scorer in the state meet in '71.

In addition, he was runnerup in both district and regional to Doug Huckaby, a teammate, that year and was district medalist this spring.

In competition on the West Texas Junior tour, he was champion at Kermit and one of the Odessa meets, tie for first in another Odessa tournament and was second at Midland. In addition, he finished second in last year's Tournament of Champions.

Waggoner was first in tournaments at Andrews and Colorado City, Brownwood and Stamford, was medalist in the District 7-2A meet, was regional medalist and third in the state meet.

He won district for Stamford in 1971-72-73, was regional runnerup in 1971 and '72 and won in '73.

He also won numerous West Texas junior championships, including one staged here.

Coach Rutledge said both boys had tremendous potential.

Wadkins, Casper Get Attention In Open

OAKMONT, Pa. (AP) — The brash optimism and bubbling confidence of youth exists side-by-side with the disconcerting doubts and nagging uncertainties of early middle age in the field arrayed for the United States Open Golf Championship.

On the one hand, there's the bright, unlined face of Lanny Wadkins, winner of the Byron Nelson Classic and a strong challenger in a half-dozen other major tournaments this season.

"I'm playing awfully, awfully well right now," said Wadkins. And on the other side there's the familiar figure of Billy Casper, a portly, graying 41-year-old veteran. He's a two-time National Open champion, winner of more than $1 million in prize money and holder of more than 40 tour titles—but none in the last two years.

"It's frustrating, really disappointing," said Casper, who says he plans a reduction in his travel and a cutback in his schedule.

Each will draw a lot of attention in the 73rd U.S. Open that begins a 72-hole run Thursday on the tradition-laden Oakmont Country Club course; Wadkins as the foremost representative of the youth movement on the pro tour, Casper as an ageing superstar seeking to regain the magic that once was his.

"It's my putting," said Casper, echoing a refrain that is familiar among his age group.

"I'm playing better now, tee to green, than I have in a couple of years. But I'm putting just awful. It's very frustrating to be unable to score as well as you're playing."

Casper, for years known as one of the premier putters on the tour, said "it's something that can come and go. Right now it's gone, but it can turn around overnight."

He finished second in the Andy Williams-San Diego Open, was fourth two other times and has been in the top 10 five times. But he hasn't challenged seriously in more than two months, a far cry from the man who won six tournaments and a then-record $205,108 in 1968.

In 12 starts, he has won $49,787 and is getting close to calling it a season.

"I don't expect to play more than about five more tournaments the rest of the year," he said.

Wadkins, a Wake Forest product, scored his second tour title in the Byron Nelson. He finished second at Phoenix and in the Kemper Open and has been ninth or better in half the tournaments he has played this season.

He has won $114,522 this year.

The Lions made it four wins in six Teen-Age Sophomore League starts by turning back the Knights, 6-5, here Monday evening.

The Lions got their runs in bunches, collecting three in the fourth and three more in the fifth. That was just enough to stave off a fifth inning comeback by the Knights. The defeat left the Knights with a 1-4 record.

Bubba Stripling had two hits and Johnny Williams a double for the Lions. Steve Hughes and Joe Rihard each drove out two safeties for the Knights.

Charles Vernon, on the hill for the Lions, fanned 18 and walked four while surrendering six hits. Loser Elroy Green yielded seven blows, whiffed 12 and issued five free passes.

NEW YORK (AP) — Eduardo Santiago, scored a unanimous decision over Natalio Jimenez in a 10-round featherweight bout Monday at Madison Square Garden.

Gibson Now No. 2 In Total Strikeouts

By The Associated Press

Strikeout records are okay, says Bob Gibson, but they don't beat winning games.

"The No. 1 thing as far as that gets you into the record book, it's something you will be concerned in still 20 victories this year," the St. Louis Cardinal ace said Monday night after blazing two game over, "said Gibson, after placing into second place during a 12-4 triumph over the Cincinnati Reds.

"I never go into a game with Gibson struck out nine bat-strikeouts on my mind. I think to improve his career about striking out somebody mark to 2,862. That moved him once I get two strikes on him.

The Texas Rangers triumphed 5-4 over the Houston Astros, but they needed 10 innings to do it Monday night at Arlington Stadium.

Teachers Of Migrants Hit At Language Hurdle

By ANN STEVENS

Definition:
A migrant child is identified as the child of workers in agricultural or food-related jobs who move from one school district to another at least once in a calendar year.

There are 73,000 such school age children in Texas, twice the number of any other state; there were 166 of them in the Big Spring school district this past school year, according to Keith Swim, who directs the program locally.

To help teachers and teacher aides from three West Texas regions deal with migrant children, an institute directed by the Texas Education Agency is being held at Howard County Junior College. It began Monday and will last until June 29.

POOR BUT PROUD

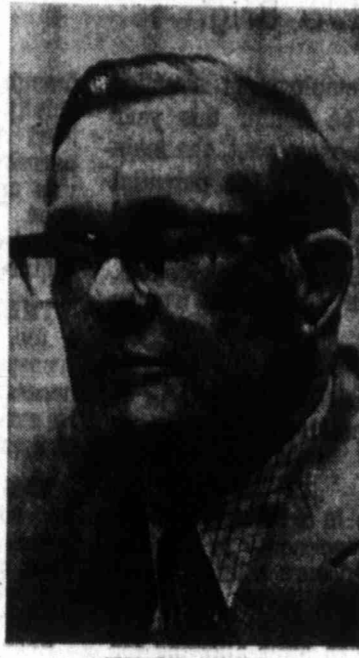

About 98 per cent of migrant children in Texas are Mexican-Americans, according to Lee Frasier, TEA director of migrant and pre-school programs who is helping conduct the institute.

Migrant families are typically large and are economically in the poverty bracket with average yearly incomes of $4,000. While they earn little more than they would on welfare, Frasier stressed that they are proud and want to work. So they migrate to where work is available.

But this has its penalties. Eighty per cent of migrant children never finish high school. Many lack adequate command of the English language, Frasier said.

'ONLY APPEAR SLOW'

While many appear two or three years behind their peers in educational ability, they should not be classified as slow learners, he indicated.

"The migrant child often appears to be slow, because of his language problem, but potentially he is no slower than other children," he said.

During the institute emphasis is being put on oral communication to help migrant children overcome their language disadvantages.

Frasier explained that Texas places more emphasis than any other state on oral language development, probably because Texas has the highest incidence of non-English speaking children. Other states, he noted, seem to place the heaviest stress on reading.

Twelve Big Spring teachers and teacher aides are among the 95 attending the institute at HCJC which focuses on the elementary level.

Keith Swim, assistant superintendent for special programs, said migrant children here are identified through questionnaires filled out by parents during enrollment.

RETURN WINTERS

Most of the migrant families locally are those that travel to Colorado beet fields or Texas cotton fields in the summer and early autumn to work. Most of them return to Big Spring during the winter.

The local district receives $210 from the TEA per identified migrant child. This money is used to hire seven bilingual teacher aides and to purchase special audio-visual classroom aids.

Migrant children attend regular classes with the other school children, Swim noted. When need is evident for special additional instruction or help, they are placed in enrichment classes.

Use of teacher aides and audio-visuals are the main methods by which the teacher-student language barrier is solved throughout the Texas migrant program, Frasier pointed out.

Patsy Brunson, Region XV consultant from San Angelo, said another aspect of the migrant program is the encouragement of parental participation in the child's school program.

NEED FOR EMPATHY

Specially designated migrant teachers make home visits to the families, get acquainted with the parents, and invite them to the schools. Some migrant mothers serve as helpers in the classroom.

Ms. Brunson emphasized that a teacher needs to establish empathy with the migrant children in order to relate to their special problems.

This involves having and transmitting right attitudes.

Joe Calley from the Success Motivation Institute in Waco is teaching "Attitude-Motivation-Awareness" sessions this week to deal with such methods.

CUPERTINO, Calif. (AP) — Donald Frolich is a city councilman, jazz pianist, aerospace engineer and county transit commissioner. He also collects Cadillacs.

"I just kept buying and never got around to doing any selling," he says.

Continuing a trend set by his father and grandfather, Frolich has nine Cadillacs—five in his garage, two in his driveway, one parked at the curb and one in storage. They are a 1938 model, a 1939, three 1941s, two 1953s, a 1965 and a 1967.

Frolich said his 1939 16-cylinder sedan sold new for $5,000. It gets six miles to the gallon, he said. "If you had that kind of money during the Depression, you didn't worry about gas," he said.

Seal Coating Is Under Way

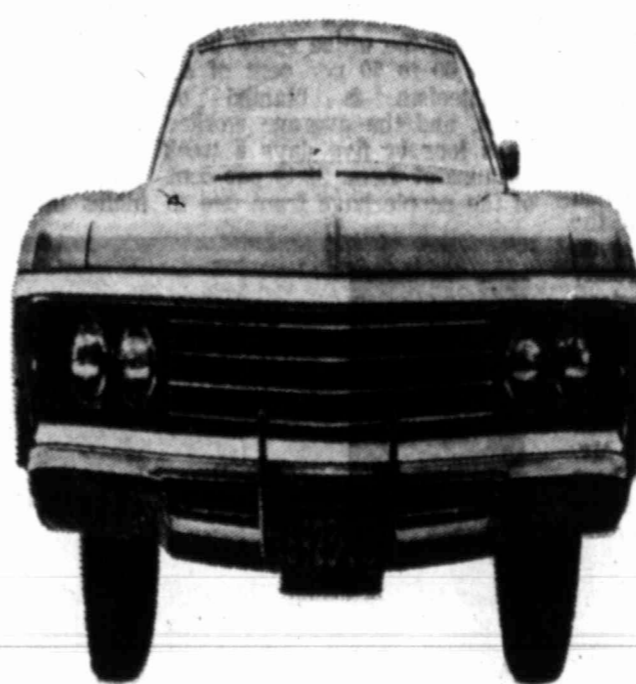

Seal coating of some 200 city blocks is halfway completed, according to James Campbell, city public works director.

The project, begun last Thursday, is being handled by Price Construction Co. Work is expected to be finished late this week or early next week.

After the sealing, crushed rock is poured on top of the streets. Traffic at first makes ruts in the rock where tires scoot the gravel-like substance towards the curbs but the city will later spread the crushed rock with a power broom and seek to smooth the surface, said Campbell.

Now we can give you broad car insurance.

At a compact price.

It's called tex-an, the auto insurance policy that has paid a dividend each year since its introduction.

It's not only what you save that'll come as a happy surprise. The real surprise is how much you get.

Because tex-an is quality insurance that can give you any combination of coverages you want. Liability—up to $500,000. Collision. Fire. Theft and comprehensive. Medical payments. You can even have emergency road service.

Will It Help Or Hurt?

Whether the House bill raising the minimum wage from $1.60 to $2.20 per hour is accepted by the Senate, and if so, whether it becomes law remains to be seen.

Also to be demonstrated is whether this will have the intended effect, namely the raising by nearly 40 per cent of those on the bottom rung of the economic ladder will receive for their labors.

Past studies have indicated strongly that this often has a boomerang effect because the vast majority of those employed at minimum wages are employed by the smaller businesses who cannot (as Congress can do with a stroke of the pen in passing a law) suddenly bear that much more overhead without offsetting productivity.

Reduced to still simpler terms, it means that many of these marginal positions will simply be closed out. The storekeeper will simply find a way to do without that part-time helper, to avoid putting on a stock boy; will let the untechnical and unskilled jobs go unfilled; to pass up summer jobs for students; will turn to mechanization, which, while more expensive at the outset, will offer economies in the long run. In a nutshell, those who are supposed to be helped may, as a class, be both helped and hurt selectively. Meantime, those up the rungs of the ladder are not effected except as in the case of small businesses, say employees may be denied rewards for their greater contributions because those making a marginal contribution are being given the available funds.

It may be argued that because most businesses do not keep most employees on even the proposed minimum very long, there should be no question about it. The point is that the simple device of passing a law does not ipso facto create the resources to conform to the law. If the small businessman tries to bear it alone, the government may lose another of that vanishing breed — the taxpayer.

Good Representation

Besides Watergate, trade with China, the impending summit meeting with the Russians, and the assault on the dollar, this may be of little consequence.

But we would like to add our congratulations to the Midland High Bulldog baseball team for having won the state championship. Our own Steers played well, particularly in the first half, but they had the misfortune of being in the same district — or, perhaps better stated, of having the good fortune to be in the district with the state champions. Obviously, none could have done better at representing this area in the state finals than did Midland.

Summer Abroad

Around The Rim

Jo Brigham

The summer employment situation is conceded to be tighter this year than in several seasons past, the main reasons being obvious. The potential work force of college and high school graduates has been joined by hundreds of discharged servicemen, students between semesters, women who need work and senior citizens who want part-time jobs.

IF YOU'RE one of those who is "looking" but nothing has come of it, you might consider working abroad.

A summer job in a foreign country can be a good opportunity to broaden your horizons and earn a little money at the same time. Note the word "little," for pay is lower than in the United States, even after allowing for lower living costs. You probably can't count on earning much more than day-to-day living expenses. For all its attractions, working abroad is not a reliable way to save money for the fall.

THERE ARE JOBS available,

though, from what I've read, but chiefly in Europe. To get one you'll need a passport and often a work permit for the country involved, a visa and the promise of a job before even leaving this country. Also, knowledge of a foreign language is required in many jobs.

THERE ARE agencies that will, for a fee, help you find a job, arrange transportation and obtain the necessary papers. But you have to be extremely careful because not all of these firms are reliable.

BEFORE SIGNING any contract, be sure you have complete information about the agency's fees, what services are included, how you can get a refund and where the organization's offices are located.

Bear in mind that you might have trouble settling future disputes with a firm that doesn't have an official representative in the United States.

I HAVE a list of organizations and publications, giving information about jobs abroad, which I will provide to anyone who may be interested.

My Answer

BILLY GRAHAM

I don't know anybody hooked on drugs. Could it be this whole problem is overstated — another bit of evidence that you can't trust what you read anymore? But if it is as bad as they say what can be done?

The best response to that is to give the facts — plain, simple and shocking. In a speech last March the President called drug abuse "Public Enemy No. 1."

Then, get this. In a study of more than 15,000 Anchorage, Alaska students in grades 6 through 12 (as reported in the Journal of the American Medical Association), the results showed the problem growing, and reaching even further into the lower grades. For example, the percentage of "non-users" declined from 51.5 per cent in the 6th grade to 8.7 per cent in the 12th grade.

Unless we give the younger generation a real purpose in life, and an answer to the longing in their soul for spiritual challenge, we're going to see them go to even worse practices — if that can be imagined.

St. Paul, in writing to the Ephesians (chapter 4) said this about people far from God: "They are blinded and confused and they don't care anymore about right and wrong... they stop at nothing, being driven by their evil minds and reckless lusts."

But then Paul spoke of the revolution that Christianity brings,

'AND WITH US IN THE BOOTH FOR TONIGHT'S PLAY-BY-PLAY... THE VOICE OF THE FCC...'

"That isn't the way Christ taught you... throw off your old evil nature... clothe yourself with this new nature."

So you see there is a solution for the drug problem and every other problem. It lies in taking two steps — repentance and faith.

Worth Remembering

Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Despite their use in spreading terror in horror films, the tarantula is not a particularly dangerous insect. Its bite is not as fearsome as its visage. Unless you have a particular allergy, the bites of some ants, bees and wasps can be more harmful.

The common cold is still the chief enemy of the factory foreman and the office straw boss. From 40 to 50 per cent of all absenteeism is blamed on colds, and the average worker loses four or five days a week because of them. Sixty per cent of the people have from two to three colds a year, and only six per cent go through a year without one.

Here is a fact that doesn't add to our national pride: The United States has one of the highest rates of alcoholism in the world, and alcohol is recognized as the No. 1 drug of abuse in this country.

Quotable notables: "We live but once; we owe nothing to posterity; and a man's own happiness counts before that of anything else." — Norman Douglas.

Dutch problem: One of the woes of traffic cops in Amsterdam is that about 50 drivers a year manage to drive their vehicles into canals. The special police who have the task of fishing the cars out are called grachtenvissers, or canal fishermen.

Puff Puff: Man probably smoked before he learned to read or write. Indians were smoking in South America 5,000 or more years ago, and in Wyoming pipes were used 4,000 years ago. But since tobacco is a New World plant, smoking was probably unknown in the ancient civilizations of Egypt, Greece and Rome.

Worth remembering: "A man can go through married life without an angry word or fight, 'if he'll just shut up when he's wrong and keep still when he's right."

THIS DIRECT contact between Laird and the executive agencies will be matched by similar high-level contact between Bryce Harlow, expected to be named this week as the newest White House counselor, and the Democratic Congress.

Less clear than Laird's prominent role as domestic policy chief is his special role, disclosed by the President, as a regular attendant at National Security Council meetings, presided over by Henry Kissinger.

Laird, a spongelike absorber of power, worries some NSC staffers.

Gen. Alexander M. Haig, Jr., now the White House staff chief, likely will take over as national security adviser.

WHILE MOST Democratic politicians are courting party unity,

Saved By Enemies

William F. Buckley Jr.

Hey, kids, do you want to know what they are talking about in the New York salons? Probably not, and for good reason, but the philanthropic imperative prevents me from keeping it to myself. It is the article in the New York Times by Clark Clifford on how to cope with the mess in Washington.

IT IS ALL just this simple:

- 1) Nixon gets Agnew to resign;
- 2) Nixon asks Congress to nominate a successor vice president;
- 3) Nixon selects from Congress's nominees;
- 4) Congress confirms the nominee;
- 5) Nixon resigns;
- 6) The new guy becomes President.

The result? 7) A transformation of "the next three and a half years from years of bitterness, divisiveness and deterioration to years of healing, unity and progress."

I KNOW A lady who figured out how to solve the problem of minorities in South Africa and the United States, and the problem of under-population in Australia: The United States should buy South Africa from the white people who own it, then make a gift of South Africa to our own Negro people, and agree to ship them there. The white people in South Africa, with the enormous capital they got from selling their country to the States, would remove to Australia. Hesto presto: there is no racial problem left in South Africa, no black problem in the United States, and no shortage of white people in Australia. The wonder is that Clark Clifford didn't think of it. If he had, no doubt the "Times" would have published it.

THE TURGIDITY of Mr. Clifford's presentation makes it sadistic to dwell on the analysis, but one must, one absolutely must, since such chutzpah requires recognition. Mr. Clifford speaks of this as being "no time for partisanship" — while proceeding to write as though it were a bipartisan conviction that Spiro Agnew, though he was elected vice president of the United States and though he is utterly unimplicated in Watergate should not, in the event of the President's resignation, proceed to the post for which he was designated by the American people.

Mr. Clifford says that "under our system of government, a President cannot function without the confidence of the American people." In fact he can, and has; as recently as when Mr. Clifford agreed to serve in the cabinet of President Johnson even though President Johnson had already lost the support of the American people.

MR. CLIFFORD says that Mr. Nixon has by his contempt for the press and our institutions "irreparably" damaged himself. Mr. Clifford's respect for the press is best recalled by his willingness to serve President Johnson when Johnson asked Clifford to visit Washington publishers in 1964 and beg them to suppress the news that Johnson's assistant Walter Jenkins had been caught at Watergate, probing intimate Democratic secrets, but at the YMCA washroom, probing other intimacies.

Johnson went on to win a landslide election, and Clifford was not very resonantly accused of trying to suppress Johnson's attempt at cover-up, nor did anyone in sight suggest an "auto-da-fe" for him.

MR. CLIFFORD says that the "present Administration has come to treat Congress as an inferior branch of the Government." That's true. But so did the Johnson Administration treat it, and so did Kennedy's, and so did F.D.R.'s. The truth of the matter is that Congress has earned the reputation as an inferior branch of the government, and it is historically the fault not of Nixon, but of Congress.

Mr. Clifford says that after all, Lyndon Johnson in 1968 did the noble thing. "On that occasion, President Johnson said: 'What we won when all of our people united must not now be lost in suspicion and distrust and selfishness and politics among any of our people.'"

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Recently, I had an "ultra-sonic scan" as I am six months pregnant. I saw the picture and started to wonder about the position of the fetus. The baby's body was in the middle and the head up near my ribs, the baby facing back. Is this a breech position? My doctor did not mention anything to me. This is my fourth child. — P.N.

Yes, this is a breech position — now. But that doesn't mean that you necessarily will have a breech delivery. The fetus can change position as the time of delivery approaches.

Your doctor is quite aware of this possibility, and that is doubtless why he made no comments. The ultra-sonic scan not only shows the position of the fetus but also accurately locates the placenta, and this procedure is sometimes ordered because of symptoms and sometimes in anticipation of delivery.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Would you explain a troubled stomach (hiatal hernia)? Is there a cure with diets or medicine? When the pain comes it is very severe. — Mrs. C.B.A.

Hiatal hernia is only one of several types of stomach distress, but it is a very common one. The upper part of the stomach pushes a bit upward through the gap in the diaphragm through which the esophagus passes.

Treatment — both diet and medication — very much resembles treatment of an ulcer (the pain is very similar, too.) But losing excess weight, to ease pressure from within the abdomen, also is important. For detailed information, see my booklet, "Hiatal Hernia and Eight Ways to Combat It." For a copy send 25 cents for printing and handling, and a long self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of Big Spring Herald.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My daughter lives in a house where the water is all softened with a water softener. No hard water to cook with or drink. Is this good for health? I am worried. — M.B.B.

What worries you? The only risk I am aware of would affect only certain individuals. Since some softeners work by substituting sodium for the minerals that make the water "hard," such softened water should not be used by anyone who is on a low-salt diet. But there would be no harm to anyone else.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I noticed what I thought was a lump in my breast and immediately went to my gynecologist who diagnosed it as a thickening, something to do with hormones. He reassured me it is nothing to worry about. He also told me not to push on it as that might only make it more tender and sore.

Would you explain this? — Mrs. P.W.C.

Women sometimes get cysts in the ducts of some of the breast glands, and this is probably what your doctor is referring to as a thickening. The size and the degree of tenderness would increase during the menstrual period because more hormones are being secreted at such times. This his reference to hormones.

Note to G.A.S.: Crab lice are picked up from other people who have them — either directly, or via bedding, borrowed clothing, and such. Or, unlike venereal disease, from unsanitary toilets. There are effective medications to get rid of them, but the most effective ones require a prescription.

Bed-wetting is a distressing problem. If your child has the habit, write to Dr. Thosteson in care of the Big Spring Herald for a copy of his helpful booklet, "Enuresis — Ten Ways to Stop Bed-Wetting." Please enclose a long, self-addressed (use zip code), stamped envelope and 20 in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — The only way to understand the issue of national security which Richard Nixon recently raised as his reason for employing his own super spies is to put yourself in his place.

PRETEND FOR a moment that you are President of the United States. Despite all your dreams and hopes for this country there are still people "out there" who are trying to "get" you. They could be students, blacks, congressmen, senators, newspapermen, labor leaders or just misguided souls who are trying to destroy the American way of life.

Unfortunately, the Constitution of the United States with its archaic Bill of Rights does not provide the President with the weapons he needs to find out who is trying to keep him from being re-elected.

YET AS President of the United States, it is your duty to find out if there is a conspiracy to keep you from serving four more years and to discover who is behind it.

So you do what any strong leader would do. You set up a unit in the White House to devote itself full time to finding out who the dissidents are.

AT FIRST you authorize the CIA, FBI, Secret Service, National Security Agency and Justice Department to take over this work. But when J. Edgar Hoover refuses to go along with the plan, you become angry and frustrated.

Here you are President of 200 million people, architect of a generation of peace, leader of the richest, most well-fed country that has ever walked the face of the earth and they won't even let you do a little bugging and burglary on the side.

SO YOU say "Nuts to Hoover. I'll hire my own plumbers to do the job." You tell your staff to set it up, but keep your name out of it. You also instruct them not to tell you what they're doing in case the plan goes awry. But at the same time you want to know the names of those who are out to get you.

Once the plumbers go into operation you discover your widest fears about national security are true. There is a plot to unseat you as President, planned and financed by the Democratic Party. You also discover there is another plot by Alabama's Gov. George Wallace to do the same thing. Never has the country been in worse danger.

YOU DISCOVER through intelligence that the Democrats have set Nov. 7, 1972, as the day they plan to overthrow your government.

You have no voice but to get the plumbers to step up their activities. Everything is going swell, but then through rank stupidity which you have nothing to do with, some of your plumbers are caught at the Watergate. Now you have a real problem.

What To Do?

Art Buchwald

A Devotion For Today..

So teach us to number our days that we may get a heart of wisdom. (Psalm 90:12)
PRAYER: God of our fathers, give us the wisdom to appreciate the past, but not to be limited by its accomplishments. Set our faces toward the future and incline our minds to seek Thy perfect will. In Christ's name. Amen.

Puzzle of Monday, June 11, Solved

Sign Permits Almost Due

AUSTIN — Owners of signs along Interstate and federal-aid primary highways face a June 30 deadline to apply for a permit and a license for them.

The Texas Highway Beautification Act, in effect since June of 1972, requires owners of signs which are within 600 feet of Interstate or federal-aid primary highways and are visible from main traffic lanes to file permit requests with the district offices of the Texas Highway Department. The permits cost $5 each.

Before permits can be approved, sign owners must obtain a $25 state license and post $2,500 bond for each county in which they have a sign. Maximum bonds of $10,000 are required of owners with signs in more than three counties.

Both license and bond applications can be obtained from Right of Way Division, Texas Highway Department, P.O. Box 5075, Austin, 78763, or any Highway Department district office. Local permit applications can be had from the district office, Box 150, Abilene 79604 or by telephoning 673-3761.

Signs advertising the sale or lease of property upon which they are located or related solely to activities conducted on the property are exempted by the act along with underground utility markers, signs erected for official purposes by Federal, State and local governmental agencies and, in some cases, those posted by churches and nonprofit service organizations.

Solid Oak
OAK RIDGE, Tenn. (AP) — Massive fossilized tree trunks believed to be oaks which grew 300 million years ago, have been found in a deep coal mine.

Dr. Friedrich Schmidt-Bleek, a chemistry professor at the University of Tennessee, said the petrified trunks weigh six tons and are about 45 inches in diameter.

"The amazing thing to me is that these trees were found in an upright formation," he said. Schmidt-Bleek said the well-preserved bark on the fossilized trunks suggests the trees may have been oaks.

TEEN FORUM

NO JOKE: (Q.) This girl is driving me crazy. I don't get many chances to talk to her, and when I do I choke up.

A: There is a boy who talks to her, but she doesn't like him. My friend and I play jokes on him. That is how I get a chance to talk to her, but when I get close to her my tongue won't work.

A: I would like to talk with her and dance with her, if I could. Can you tell me how? — All Tied Up in Texas.

(A.) Playing jokes on someone to get a girl's attention is dirty pool. Pushing yourself up by pushing someone else down doesn't work.

Go to the girl when she is not talking to someone else and tell her you have something to apologize to her about. Then tell her the real reason you played jokes on the boy was to get her attention.

"Tell her you know now that that was the wrong thing to do and you hope she will forgive you and be your friend. Also tell her that some day you hope you will get to know her better and she and you can dance together some place.

One other thing. Apologize first to the boy you played the tricks on.

SWIMMER: (Q.) I am just 12 but I am a very good swimmer for a girl. For two years I was on our town swimming team. Then I had a bad earache and lost the hearing in one ear. My doctor told me to stay off the team for a while. I have stayed off for a year and want to go back. I don't ever have an earache now. But my mother says I shouldn't go back and she doubts if I will ever be able to swim in competition again.

A: Do you think I ought to go back on the team or not? — Loves It in Alabama.

(A.) I think you should go back to your doctor, ask him for a checkup, and then ask for his advice. If his advice is to stay off the team, follow his advice. If OK, then check with your mother. There are other sports you know.

Triple Drowning Near Sebastian

SEBASTIAN, Tex. (AP) — The search was to resume today near this Lower Rio Grande Valley town for the bodies of three youths who drowned while swimming in the valley's north floodway system. The victims were identified as Noe Vela, 18, Jaime Vela, 10, and David Garcia, 16, all of Sebastian, a small town between Harlingen and Raymondville.

Contributions Save Newspaper

LANDER, Wyo. (AP) — The spirit of Earth Day welled up recently to save the High Country News.

This local biweekly — circulated nationally, devoted entirely to the conservation cause and supported by subscriptions alone — announced sadly that with a $7,500 bank loan due, it would have to go out of existence "barring a miracle."

The miracle happened. Contributions flowed in. Editor Tom Hill who took only $910 in salary for all of 1971 and 1972, started drawing a salary of $400 a month and announced, "We are on a stronger footing than we ever have been."
