Commodities Rally On Nation's Markets

Grains, Hogs, Cattle Make Sharp Recoveries; Cotton And Stocks Up

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Feb. 16—Prices of many commodities today bounded upward in one of the strongest rallies since the slump began almost two weeks ago at the nation's major primary markets.

Grains, hogs and cattle, leaders of the American menu, were up rather sharply at the Chicago Board of Trade and livestock market. Wholesale butter was up as much as 3 cents a pound in Chicago and 2½ cents in New York. New York stocks also revived, although volume was small.

Slumps Are Discounted

Retail food stores continued to feature lower meat prices because of recent market recessions. However, Agriculture department economists in Washington said the meat price dips probably would be short-lived. They said meat animals on farms were declining and consumer demand was expected to continue high.

In Chicago Secretary of the Treasury Snyder discounted the recent heavy market slumps also. He told a news conference that "I do not believe we are heading toward any depression . . . "We've got all the elements of continued prosperity and production here."

Corn Climbs Limit

Corn futures at Chicago closed 5 to 8 cents higher, the latter upturn the daily limit, with May corn at $2.04⅝ a bushel. Wheat climbed 3¾ to 5¾ cents, May $2.40¼ to $2.40½. Oats were ahead 1 to 4¾ cents and soybeans up the daily limit of 8 cents. However, grain prices remained far below the 1948 peaks set in January.

Major cash grain markets also were higher.

Chicago hog prices advanced 50 cents to $1.00 a hundred pounds. The top was $25 for one load. Slaughter steers and yearlings were strong to $1 higher. The top for steers was $34. Much smaller receipts than expected from the farms was the major prop to the live meat markets.

On the New York Stock exchange, rail and industrial shares enjoyed one of their best upswings in several months, with leaders adding 1 to 2 points. It was the first upturn in nine successive blue Mondays.

New York cotton futures finished 95 cents to $2.50 a bale higher.

The Associated Press index of 35 wholesale commodity prices continued to climb after last week's slump. It stood at 188.35 per cent of the 1926 average today, compared with 186.56 Saturday.

There were some other price

Warm Weather Blankets Plains

With the temperature soaring to a comparatively warm 72 Monday, the Weatherman forecast at least two more days of balmy weather for Lubbock and the South Plains at midnight, and much of the nation and Texas could look forward to the same thing, the Associated Press reported.

The maximum reading at the Weather bureau station north of the city Monday was the highest since January 11.

Temperatures over the state ranged from 60 degrees at Amarillo in the Panhandle to a warmish 82 at Fredericksburg and Brady, the Associated Press reported.

Meanwhile, federal forecasters said that most of the nation can enjoy a spell of mild weather through Friday.

Excepted is an area including North Dakota, northern Minnesota, northern Wisconsin, upper Michigan and the northern portion of lower Michigan. Temperatures in North Dakota and northern Minnesota were expected to drop below zero today, and the other states will have close to zero readings, the Associated Press said.

Applications Of Negroes To Be Received By Amarillo College

AMARILLO, Feb. 16 (AP)—Amarillo's first institution of higher learning for negroes was established tonight. Dr. A. M. Meyer, president of Amarillo college, has instructions to begin receiving applications immediately from negro students for enrollment in the college.

The new junior college—as yet unnamed and unstaffed — will function as an evening junior college. It will accept students from the Amarillo school district exclusively, the board of education announced.

Thomas Defies Other Solons

By J. W. DAVIS
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16—Senator Elmer Thomas (D-Okla) told fellow lawmakers today to stop bothering him about speculation. He dared them to look instead for skeletons in other senators' closets.

Senator Ferguson (R-Mich), to whom Thomas flung the dare, said there will yet be a public hearing on Thomas' trading "if the evidence merits it."

Chicago Man Cleared

Ferguson heads a Senate Appropriations subcommittee on speculation. It today cleared E. T. Maynard, Chicago trader, of having used any "inside information" in making a killing during the grain market break two weeks ago.

The group unanimously agreed that Maynard used only his own judgment and public information in making a profit estimated at from $200,000 to $400,000.

Secretary of Agriculture Anderson meanwhile objected to a Capitol Hill request for the names of those who traded during the market break.

Denies Market Affected

He wrote Chairman August H. Andresen (R-Minn) of a House Speculation committee that the job be extremely costly and would serve no good purpose. He said the thousands of small traders had done no legal wrong and their little deals individually "could not possibly affect the market."

Thomas, in a scornful letter to Ferguson, said that the Senate Investigators hadn't found any skeleton in his closet. He wrote:

"After vast expenditures of public funds, and with such publicity, when you pulled aside the curtain to my private household closet all you found was some few bales of cotton and some oats, both products of the farms of Oklahoma.

North Korean Army Claimed Red Puppet

SEOUL, Korea, Feb. 16 (AP)—The radio in Russian-held north Korea told today of a strong Korean army and "Democratic people's republic" aimed at ruling all Korea under a hammer and sickle flag.

A highly-placed American promptly charged at a news conference that both were Soviet puppets created in open defiance of international agreements and of the United Nations.

The broadcast from Pyongyang, Soviet occupation headquarters, said a constitution had been presented to the north Korean people's council but would not be finally voted until mid-March.

The American official, who insisted on anonymity, said a puppet government already had been established in Pyongyang.

Also, he said, "we have ample information" on the north Korean army, estimated to total at least 200,000 men. It is reported equipped with Russian medium tanks, light planes and other modern weapons.

Peace Seen As Only Solution For Inflation

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Feb. 16—Bernard Baruch told a gathering of the nation's mayors today that the problem of high prices could be solved only when genuine peace was achieved.

Addressing the opening session of the 17th annual meeting of the U. S. Conference of Mayors, the financier and adviser to many presidents asserted:

Main Street . . . Policies

"The problem of high prices can only be solved in Washington. You know we are not at peace. Until we have peace, the ordinary laws of supply and demand and private initiative cannot function normally."

In another address, industrialist Charles E. Wilson said America's Main street, not Wall street, determines both domestic and foreign policy in the United States.

Wilson, president of the General Electric company, said the Russian people should know this.

Managers Should Be Trustees

This conception, he said, should be one "which a nation of peasants can get its teeth into." Wilson added:

"Wars do not start on Main street. (And) it is not Wall street but Main street which determines American foreign and domestic policy."

Wilson also told the mayors that "the day is past when stockholders can confine their interests to the dividend checks. Managers must act as trustees for the employes and the stockholders and the public."

Truman Sounds Warning

Baruch's statement followed a message to the conference by President Truman which declared that unless high prices were permanently checked the living standards of millions of families "will be critically endangered."

Former OPA administrator Chester Bowles proposed an extensive federal program which he said "can modify, to a major extent, the recession which our past mistakes have made inevitable."

"During the last few weeks," he told the mayors, "we have all witnessed what may be the beginning of the second cycle of the old dismal cycle of boom and bust.

Inflation Said Unnecessary

"The prices of grains have dropped sharply, and so have the prices of many securities. It is possible, of course, that the commodity markets will recover and that confidence will be temporarily restored."

But, he added:

"There is one fact that we must

McGrath Cancels Atlanta Speech

(By The Associated Press)

Democratic National Chairman McGrath isn't going to make that speech in Atlanta after all—on civil rights or anything else.

Georgia Democrats changed his plans by changing the date, from March 5 to March 9. They, like many in the south, are up in arms at what they call anti-southern proposals by President Truman on civil rights.

Subject Not Set

McGrath, senator from Rhode Island, messaged Governor Thompson Monday that he couldn't be there at the postponed date.

Up to now he has been saying that he would go to Atlanta for a Democratic rally March 5. When it was reported he was inclined to speak on civil rights, the Georgians got even angrier than they had been. McGarth commented then that his subject hadn't been decided on but that it would be in keeping with "friendly cooperation."

The reason Georgia Democrats gave for changing the date: Atlanta hotels will be jammed with a school teachers convention on March 5.

Senator Hill (D-Ala) will substitute for McGrath.

UN Military Force Requested To Avert War In Holy Land

(By The Associated Press)

LAKE SUCCESS, Feb. 16—The Palestine commission called upon the Security Council tonight for adequate military force to prevent uncontrolled bloodshed in the Holy Land and religious war in Jerusalem.

The five-member commission in a unanimous special report running 4,500 words declared that time is of the "utmost importance" in carrying out the decision of the 1947 United Nations Assembly to divide Palestine into Jewish and Arabic countries.

The commission, speaking bluntly to the council, declared that "powerful Arab interests, both inside and outside Palestine," are defying the Assembly and are deliberately trying to alter by force the partition plan.

It said also that certain elements of the Jewish community in Palestine continue to commit irresponsible acts of violence which worsen the security situation.

The five members of the commission agreed unanimously to the report, on which they have worked daily since mid-January.

Kidnap Suspect Held In Jail At Dickens

(By The Associated Press)

SPUR, Feb. 16—Weldon Green, 25, was behind bars tonight in Dickens, the county seat.

Green, who last night forced a Spur general contractor at gunpoint to "drive me out of town," was charged with armed robbery of a Sweetwater cab driver.

"We didn't allow him any bond," Deputy Sheriff Horace Cage said here tonight. "No kidnaping charges have been filed yet," he said.

The contractor, H. P. Berry, 57, was let out of his own car last night and Green, who once worked for him was captured by Fort Worth police, tipped off by an alert filling station attendant.

Green was returned here tonight by Texas Ranger Bob Crowder and then taken on to Dickens, where the grand jury meets Thursday.

Cage said the cab driver was robbed of $24. "He admitted to it," Cage said.

(At Sweetwater, Police Sgt. Lloyd Rogers said Virgil Heath, Sweetwater cab driver, identified Green today as the man who took his cab, purse and watch from him yesterday.

(Police Chief Royal H. Kelley at Abilene said tonight that W. S. Morris, cab driver there, "positively identified" Green as the man who forced him at gunpoint yesterday to drive him to a spot 12 miles east of Sweetwater.)

The contractor said Green entered his house last night and ordered him to drive him out of town.

Berry was forced to drive to Wichita Falls, where he was released unharmed. The kidnaper took Berry's car.

Green was arrested following a tip by a Fort Worth service station attendant, R. B. Humberson, that a man driving Berry's car had stopped to ask directions. Green, who had served time in the Oklahoma penitentiary, was taken a few minutes after police received the tip.

Last Major Obstacles To Building Church Cleared

By H. I. KIEFER
Avalanche Staff Writer

THE last serious obstacles to a call for bids for construction of a magnificent new plant for the First Baptist church finally were cleared after months of delay at the semi-monthly meeting of the city commission Monday afternoon.

The edifice, which is expected to cost about $1,000,000, is to be built on a site between Broadway and Thirteenth street at Avenue V. The property extends more than 300 feet westward from V.

Dr. J. Ralph Grant, pastor of the church, would not hazard a guess as to when work on the structure might be started. He said, however, the next step will be a call for bids. This will be issued by the church building committee whose chairman, Dr. F. B. Malone, was not available last night.

Payment Is Okayed

The chief obstacle during months of negotiations to the completion of building plans has centered about the alley which extends from Avenue V to W between Broadway and Thirteenth street. The church wanted the alley closed. Mrs. A. B. Conley, of 2219 Broadway, and some other owners of property west of the church site objected.

The settlement reported by Dr. Malone and ratified by the city commission includes the following provision:

The church is to pay Mrs. Conley $8,000 for a 20-foot strip of property from her homestead adjoining the church site. The church also is to pay for the removal of a fence and shrubbery.

This strip together with other property provided by the church is to be used in creating a thoroughfare 42 feet wide from Broadway to Thirteenth between the church site and the Conley homestead.

Alley Ordered Closed

The commission ordered the alley closed from V to the new thoroughfare.

Dr. Grant said the church building fund now is well in excess of $300,000. The church also paid approximately $120,000 cash for the building site. It likewise owns the entire half-block in the south side of the 1400 block of Main street where the present church plant is located.

Other business transacted by the commission included the approval of an emergency ordinance which,

Puzzled Texan Who Killed Burglar Is Arrested, Praised

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Feb. 16 — A young Bishop, Tex., ex-Marine today was commended for slaying a burglar with a pen knife.

The ex-Marine, Arthur Casper, 19, had to spend a night under technical arrest for his efforts but the arrest had its compensations. A jury released him today.

He spent a good part of Sunday and Monday morning in the police station. But he was Police Captain John Griffin's guest at a hotel last night. And the captain saw to it that the Texan ate well at restaurants, including a steak dinner Sunday. He had a theater date last night with a policewoman.

Intruder Warned

The dead man was identified by police as Edward J. Dicks, 38, of Chicago, who has a petty larceny police record dating back to 1929.

Casper said he saw Dicks in a grocery store through a broken front door. He pulled out his knife and warned the intruder to stay where he was. Instead, the Texan said, Dicks sallied out and the fatal struggle followed.

His detention was largely technical. Captain Griffin informed the puzzled youth that the law requires that he be held for the inquest because there was no witness to his battle with the burglar.

Jury Commends Youth

Casper protested his detention at first.

"Down in Texas, you kill a burglar and they tell you thanks. Not so much red tape down there. Not so many burglars, either," he commented.

Today a jury returned a verdict of justifiable homicide at the inquest. The coroner's jury signed a message to Casper saying, "we the jury commend you for your heroic actions."

Casper is enrolled in a Chicago electrical school.

Dallas Welder Seeks Place On Democratic Ticket For Senator

HILLSBORO, Feb. 16 (AP) — A Dallas welder, Otis C. Myers, 32, today filed an application for a place on the Democratic primary ballot for United States Senator.

The application was made by mail by R. W. Calvert of Hillsboro, chairman of the state Democratic executive committee.

Myers is a member of the CIO but said he was running as an individual and not as a labor candidate.

Passenger Rate Increases For '96 Railroads Approved By ICC

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16 (AP)—Ninety-six railroads in the west and south today received permission to raise their passenger coach fares 13.63 per cent.

The boost will bring them into line with the higher rates established elsewhere in the country last year.

The Interstate Commerce commission authorized the roads to make the increases on five days' notice to the traveling public. The order covers interstate travel and also makes in the increases applicable to intrastate travel in Arkansas, Illinois, Iowa, Michigan, Minnesota, Montana, Nebraska, North Dakota, and Wisconsin, where federal commission orders regulate within-state rates. Application elsewhere will be up to the state commissions which usually follow the interstate level.

Court Denies Negro's Plea

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16 — The Supreme court declined today to order admission of a negro woman student to the University of Oklahoma law school at this time.

It emphasized, however, that it was not passing on the merits of Mrs. Ada Lois Sipuel Fisher's case. Lawyers expected to see it back on the docket here in short order.

Plea Is Refused

She recently won a high court ruling that she was entitled not only to educational facilities equal to those given any other student, but also to get them as quickly as anybody else.

Oklahoma's solution was creation of a special segregated school for her. She came back asking an order for admission to the all-white school. She complained that her special school was not "equal."

Today the Supreme court turned down her plea. A majority of the justices said they could not pass on her criticism of the special school until Oklahoma courts had ruled on it.

Opinions Given

The unsigned order, in which seven of the nine justices presumably joined, said that the issue was not raised in her original appeal and not covered in the record.

Justice Murphy said he believed the Supreme Court should hold its own hearing on the question whether the actions taken in Oklahoma "constitute an evasion" of the high court's mandate. Justice Rutledge, in a dissenting opinion, said Oklahoma had failed to follow the Supreme court's ruling. He said the equality of facilities the court ordered for Mrs. Fisher was "equality in fact, not in legal fiction."

Rent Laws Held Valid

In another case, the high court was unanimous that the government's war powers permitted it to continue rent controls beyond the end of hostilities.

The ruling reversed a decision by Federal Judge Paul Jones in Cleveland. Jones held that "in fact" the nation is at peace. He said rent control power was lost when President Truman declared hostilities at an end December 1, 1946.

Justice Douglas, writing the main opinion today, said it was clear that the housing shortage was

Special Session May Be Called

By BO BYERS
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, Feb. 16—Gov. Beauford Jester today was requested to call a special session of the legislature to pull rural-aid schools out of a financial crisis.

The joint legislative committee said an extra three million dollars is needed to pay teachers in rural-aid schools 100 per cent salaries through the remainder of the nine-month school year. The committee supervises the rural-aid budget.

More Schools Qualify

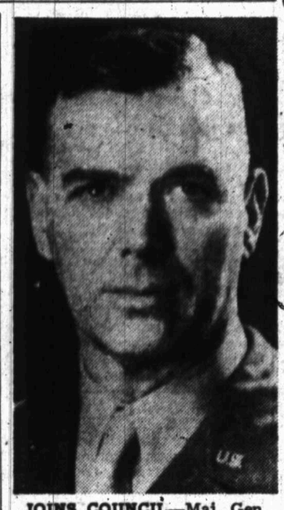

Adoption of the resolution suggesting a special session was by unanimous vote of the nine committee members present.

The prospective shortage of funds resulted when approximately 259 additional schools qualified under the new equalization bill enacted by the legislature last year.

"It was impossible for the last legislature to anticipate that any such number of new schools would become eligible, requiring additional funds in the amount of approximately $3,000,000 in order to pay 100 per cent," the resolution said. It was written by Sen. A. M. Aikin, jr., of Paris, Sen. Pat Bullock of Colorado City, and Rep. W. H. Rampy of Winters.

More Aid For Greece Urged

By ED CREAGH
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16—President Truman told Congress today he will ask more military help to strengthen Greece and Turkey against Communism.

Greece in particular cannot be saved from Communist-engineered collapse until rebel forces "subservient to foreign influences" are wiped out, the President said.

He was reporting on the $300,000,000 program of military aid to Greece, and the $100,000,000 for Turkey, voted by Congress last year to help both countries protect their freedom.

Pressure Being Exerted

Mr. Truman said the Turkish aid program "is proceeding in an orderly manner."

But Greece, he told Congress, is being subjected to "ever increasing pressure by the Communist minority" in a "determined and ruthless" war on the country's common people.

And this, the President said, "is sapping the economic strength of Greece at the same time that the American mission for aid to Greece is seeking to build it up."

Question Under Study

Greece and Turkey are among the countries which will get help under the Marshall program, if Congress approves it, but the President said "additional military assistance" will be sought "at the appropriate time."

He did not say how much will be asked. Secretary of State Marshall said recently that the whole question is being studied.

Because of present American aid, Mr. Truman said, the Greek military situation is "not without encouragement."

Aid Funds Switched

He described the proclamation of a "government" by "Communist guerrillas" in the north as "an act of desperation and not of strength."

He disclosed that $14,000,000 in American funds recently was switched from economic to military uses. This, he said, enabled the Greek government to form 58 new home guard battalions and thereby freed "the Greek national army to conduct a more offensive warfare."

QUADRUPLETS 'FINE'

Court Holds Curbs Valid

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16 — The Senate Banking committee agreed today to extend rent controls for 14 months in modified form. The new bill provides for higher rents where landlords are suffering losses.

The House Banking committee decided to recommend an emergency 30-day extension of existing law while it works out details of a longer run. The present law expires February 29.

Both Branches To Act

Both actions came within hours of a Supreme court decision upholding the constitutionality of rent controls. It said the law was a valid use of the war powers of Congress.

Both branches of Congress will have to act to keep rent control alive. The solution may be a stopgap extension while the more permanent legislation makes its way through Congress, and House and Senate versions are adjusted.

The Senate committee bill would continue controls through April 30, 1949. After a series of votes on amendments, the committee approved the final form unanimously.

Lease Provision Made

Present law provides that landlords may increase rents as much as 15 per cent if tenants agree to such an increase in return for a lease running through 1948.

The new bill provides that in the cases of tenants who made such agreements, the landlord is barred from raising rents again until April 30, 1949. Thus these tenants are given an additional four months of protection against increases.

As for other tenants, the new bill provides that landlords may raise their rents 15 per cent if the tenants agree and if a lease is signed running through 1949.

No Loss Permitted

Another section of the bill makes it mandatory for the housing expediter to make any rent adjustments necessary "to prevent any person from suffering a loss in the operation of any controlled housing accomodation."

Senator Cain (R-Wash) described this as "the heart of the bill." He said the expediter is required to see that no landlord operates at a loss.

The bill also provides for:

1. Removal of rent control on any dwellings which rent for $225 or more a month before enactment of the proposed law.

Two Plans Voted Down

2. Removal, at the discretion of the housing expediter, of controls on rooming and boarding houses.

3. Elimination of controls on non-housekeeping rooms in private homes.

Cain said the committee did not even vote on a controversial proposal he offered. This would have permitted landlords and tenants

Russia Charges U. S., Britain Talked Peace Terms With Nazis

MOSCOW, Feb. 16 (AP) — The Soviet Union charged tonight that the United States and Britain talked peace terms with Germany during World War II.

It also accused Britain and France of seeking to start a war with Russia in 1940 instead of fighting Germany.

Russia said that Allen W. Dulles, a brother of John Foster Dulles, represented the U. S. in conversations with a German spokesman in 1942 which touched on the question of concluding peace with Germany.

Other Charges Hurled

The Soviet government also accused the Allies of failing to fulfill a promise of a second front in Europe in 1942 and 1943, and charged that leading Finnish circles sought to make Finland a springboard for Hitler's attack on Russia.

These charges were contained in the fourth installment of a Russian series designed to answer the U. S. State department's disclosure of documents dealing with Russian-German relations.

Moscow said it was the final installment before publication of documents which, it said, the Red army captured from the Germans.

Referring to the documents relating to charges of U. S. and British peace talks, tonight's statement said:

"From these documents it can be seen that in the autumn of 1941 and also in 1942 and 1943 in Lisbon and in Switzerland, negotiations were carried on behind the back of the USSR between representatives of Britain and Germany, and later between representatives of the United States on the subject of peace with Germany."

Coal Miner Father Of New Rockefeller Bride Is Elated

WASHINGTON, Pa., Feb. 16 (U.P) — Julius Paulekus, coal miner father of Barbara Rockefeller, is a little dazed over the fact that he is a father-in-law to a Rockefeller.

"Only in America could this happen," Paulekus said. "Just think, pool coal miner is father-in-law to Rockefeller. That no could happen in old country."

Came To U. S. In 1920

Paulekus, who first came to this country from Lithuania in 1920, is a "hand loader" at the Ontario mine of the Hillman Coal & Coke Co. He makes about $50 a week and lives with another miner in a two-room basement near the Ontario mine about 15 miles from here.

"I am poor, always was poor and always will be poor," Paulekus said. "But I'm glad my little daughter she is now a millionaire. I am very glad for her.

"She got a nice boy. He is only five years older than my little Eva and he is a millionaire. I can't hardly believe this," Paulekus said.

Has Been Sick

Paulekus is staying with his brother, Anthony Paulekus, here while recuperating from a siege of pneumonia that kept him from his job for the last two months. His foreman at the mine said that Paulekus was to have returned to work today but that he failed to show up.

"Who could work after hearing this wonderful news about my little Eva," Paulekus said. "I go back to work in day or so. I going to take it easy little longer.

"I don't expect nothing from Eva. I ain't seen her since 1932 and I don't expect nothing from her. I'm a coal miner and I make enough money for me. Too much money is good for my Eva but it not good for me."

Paulekus said that he sent his newly-wed daughter a telegram wishing her and her husband happiness.

How to increase your popularity

Jean Campbell was 16 and popular. When the telephone rang, it was usually for her. Dad often remarked that Jean was the telephoningest person he ever saw!

Then one day, Dad overheard some folks talking. "If that Campbell girl would ever get off the line," one said, "some of the rest of us might get a chance to call."

At first Dad was angry, then embarrassed. "Look, Pet," he told Jean, "you can make yourself a popular number with the folks on our party line, too, as easy as pie."

"How?" asked Jean.

"Keep your eye on the clock," said Dad. "Tell the guys and gals there's a five-minute limit. And remember, no one can call YOU while you're using the line . . . or them either," he added.

"O.K., Dad," said Jean, "we'll give it a try."

And that's how Jean Campbell got to be more popular than ever!

Hungarian Court Jails American

BUDAPEST, Hungary, Feb. 16 (AP)—Miss Elizabeth Priozl-Pallos, an American citizen, was sentenced to six months in prison today on a charge of failing to report alleged subversive actions to police.

Miss Pallos, a native of Pittsburgh and once a resident of Washington, was a secretary and interpreter for the Associated Press office in Budapest when arrested.

"Acting as secretary to (AP correspondent) Jack Guinn, member of the secret American organization, civil information corps, she was bound to know that her employer stood in the services of an organization aiming at the overthrow of the present political system in Hungary," the verdict of the people's court in her case read.

Jail Time Credited

She was convicted of "neglecting the duty of reporting to the police." She was given credit for the three months and 17 days she already has spent in jail.

(Guinn, who left Budapest when the Communist-controlled government threatened to jail him if he returned, denied all the charges. He said his activities were only those of a normal reporter.)

Three former Socialist leaders, tried in absentia, were given sentences ranging from eight years in prison to death by the court in the same trial.

U. S. Influences Cited

Former Socialist leader Karoly Peyer was sentenced to eight years. His chief associate, Frigyis Pisky, was sentenced to ten years at forced labor. Robert Gabor, former lieutenant of the political police, was given the death penalty. All three escaped Hungary before the trial.

Associates of the escaped politicians were sentenced to terms of from four months to three years. Josef Vargha, secretary to former opposition leader Zoltan Pfeiffer, and three other defendants were acquitted.

The verdict said Peyer and his associates were in contact "with Socialist politicians abroad, who worked parallel with the aims of the American foreign policy."

It said "Peyer and his collaborators wanted to form a new Socialist party, which was to serve American intentions."

Man Sought In Connection With Fatal Shooting Near El Paso

EL PASO, Feb. 16 (U.P.)—A hunt was pressed today for a gunman who mortally wounded two men during a holdup on a highway north of El Paso last Monday.

Maurice Heaton, 45, a Los Angeles advertising executive, died immediately from bullet wounds. Death came yesterday to R. D. MacNeil, 43, advertising manager for the Newspaper Printing Corp. of El Paso.

The two men had climbed out of MacNeil's car to view the scenery from the highway when the gunman approached on foot. He forced them into the car and drove them to a nearby ravine. There a scuffle started, and the gunman shot both men.

Funeral arrangements were incomplete for MacNeil.

Trial In Poison Death Of Abilene Woman Set Feb. 23

CLINTON, Ark., Feb. 16 (AP) — Trial of Lonnie A. Robbins, 49, and two other persons charged with first degree murder in the New Year's eve death of Robbins' bride today was definitely set for Feb. 23.

The date was set by Van Buren county Circuit Judge Garner Frazer at a pre-trial conference.

Besides Robbins, the defendants are his mother, 71-year-old Mrs. Jewel Robbins, and their former hired man, Henry Petty, 50.

All appeared before Judge Frazer today and announced they had obtained counsel.

Robbins married Mrs. Sadie Sue Dudley, 54, Abilene, Tex., widow, at Abilene last Christmas day. The bride died a few hours after arriving at Robbins' farm home near Clinton. An autopsy showed she died of poison.

Sheriff Doyce Casinger said he had been told by relatives of the dead woman that she had $1,850 in cash, two diamond rings and watch when she left Abilene and apparently was in good health.

Casinger reported the jewelry was recovered from Robbins, who also was found to have $500 concealed in a secret pocket in his underwear. Robbins has maintained, however, that he knows nothing of the money his bride was said to have possessed.

Lake Geneva has an area of 223 square miles.

Million In Mexican Sweepstake Tickets Are Seized Near Border

SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 16 (AP)—Mexican sweepstake tickets with an estimated value of more than $1,000,000 were intercepted by Laredo custom patrol inspectors yesterday as they were being delivered by truck to two men on the Laredo highway near here.

John J. Givens, customs agent in charge in Laredo, said the seizure of tickets on a sweepstake race to be run May 9 in Mexico City, is the biggest haul of its kind in the history of the Southwest.

Two men are being held in the county jail here and are scheduled to appear before U. S. commissioner's court today.

The seizure originated from border investigations by customs patrol inspectors stationed in Laredo, Guy A. Belzons, customs agent in charge of the San Antonio customs house, said.

WANTED HEARING AID REPRESENTATIVES

OPPORTUNITY TO OWN YOUR OWN BUSINESS

The hearing aid business is one of the fastest growing semi-professional activities in the country today. It not only offers a substantial income to above average men and women, but its humanitarian aspect provides a deeply satisfactory type of occupation in a field where age is an asset rather than a handicap.

Dictograph Products, Inc., manufacturer of ACOUSTICON, the first electrical hearing aid, has been a leader in this field for over 45 years. The rapid growth of business has made it necessary to more than double our staff of representatives in the past two years. Still more are needed to handle the business available today, a condition brought about by an almost sensational public acceptance and demand for better hearing on the part of those who are hard of hearing.

We need dealers and acousticians today. This may be the very work you have wanted to place you in a position of economic security and vocational happiness. We are interested only in men and women who want to earn in excess of $5000.00 a year. For further information . . . . .

The Woman's Angle
By Margaret Turner

A clever letter came to the desk which gave us a laugh and also inspiration for today's column. After admitting she didn't know whether the Woman's Angle is the flush-vocabularied Mary Haworth or just plain Frances Margaret, she said she's asked for advice anyway. Here's the letter:

"Do you think people of middle age should be themselves or do you believe in gilding the Jimson weed as well as the lily? Do you like shoe polish black hair, and if not, why not, the same as you like carmined lips?

I do not know what the answer is, so that is the reason for this letter to you. Yet each day I put on my air cushioned metatarsal protectors, my rubber armor, use a little dentease on my "uppers", rub a little blue rinse off my washboard permanent, adjust my bifocals, place my nitroglycerine tablets in my pocketbook and sally forth. Some times I think this is okeh and again I stare into a long mirror down town and soliloquize "What a movie star you are, Dame Mae Whitty!"

A Puzzled Reader

DEAR P. R.: No, we aren't Mary Haworth and we don't know all the answers but we do have a few opinions on the matters you have brought up. First, the writer sees no reason why people who are middle aged should not be themselves, after they have taken an honest inventory and discovered what the ideal is for that time of life. Is there a reason why one cannot have as good a time, wear as pretty clothes and be as popular when she is in the Frank Forties as she did when she was in the Terrific Thirties or the Twinkling Twenties? It's the middle-aged people, both men and women, who try to grasp on to the Youth they already have lost who present pitiful spectacles to us.

Ideal beauty, to our mind, is one of soft feminity and in her clothes, her hairdos and her makeup a woman should do the best she can to look pretty—and if she wasn't born that way she can put in a mighty effort to achieve prettiness via subtle, skilful makeup. A sculptor puts physical dimensions on beauty. Cosmetic makers will tell you it's a matter of skin texture and coloring and care. Billy Rose will write out your figure measurements and prove them by Venus de Milo. They are all right and they are all wrong.

THE Woman's Angle shudders at the sight of middle aged women who wear kiddies' shoes and clothes, who use slang and read love magazines and waste afternoon after afternoon in aimless pursuits. And, on the other hand, we know women who are wasting a lifetime without realizing that a fresh angle, a new quip, a new hairdo, a new manner, a new make-up, a new corset, a new and shining mantle, a new body, a new diet, a new trust can make her over into a breathless individual.

A woman may be beautiful if she avoids the endlessly dull pattern of gossip and idleness—by a better substitute. She talks a lot or says magnificently little — whatever the mood of the particualr friend beside her. She's beautiful if she is ambitious, sensible hard-working and chic. She needn't be a prima donna, home breaker, style-setter or Cinderella. She simply knows her formula and sticks to it. A beautiful person needn't have a set of Hollywood brows or a face with a California patina. Beauty is not merely face value, or Social Register or stocks and bonds. It's an undefinable something after all and many a woman doesn't learn what it is until she has left the days of her youth far in the lurch.

WE do not like "shoe polish hair," because we think dyed hair lends a look of cheapness to most faces and calls cruel attention to lines and changing pigment in the skin. Some of the most beautiful faces we know are framed in white or gray hair and strangely enough the wearers look even younger than when their hair was dark.

We have taken a long time to give an opinion which can be summed up in a few words: A woman, be she young, middle aged or old, should do all possible to improve herself physically, spiritually and mentally and if she needs advice she should consult an expert in whatever line she thinks she needs help. It's an everlasting job and if along the line she forgets herself in service for her family and friends she's that must better off.

And, while we believe in gilding the lily, we think care should be used in not using so much gilt the original beauty is lost.

Come, Puzzled Reader,
Grow old along with us,
There're better years ahead
So why the fuss?

WELL, DO YOU?

DEPEND on a child to come up with something like this remark! Mrs. Buck McNeil told her 3-year-old son Ken to pick up his toys from the floor, because Daddy would be home in a few minutes to eat.

"Hope you don't think we're going to eat on the floor!" observed Ken.

AMERICAN PROTESTS RECALLED

U. S. Official Claims Russians Blocking Information Exchange

By RICHARD KASISCHKE
Associated Press Staff Writer

BERLIN, Feb. 16—The United States military governor for Germany charged today the Russian zone persists in hindering distribution of printed matter sent in from the American zone.

Gen. Lucius D. Clay said this violates four-power agreements pledging the free exchange of information throughout Germany's four zones. He made the charge in his monthly report on occupation affairs.

The report came a short time after the U. S. and Great Britain announced they are giving the Germans in their zones a central bank and limited permission to make aluminum.

The bank, in Frankfurt, will have power to issue new currency if and when the two allies approve. Aluminum manufacture, considered a war industry, has been forbidden in Germany by four-power agreement.

"There has been and still is great difficulty in attaining distribution within the Soviet zone despite official U. S. protests to the Soviet military administration and a seemingly satisfactory reply," Clay's report said of the information issue.

The report recalled various U. S. protests to the Russians. One was when pamphlets were seized which contained a German translation of a speech by U. S. Secretary of State George C. Marshall.

The military governor's report, covering U. S. zone activities through December, also observed that:

(1) German disarmament and demilitarization in American-occupied territory essentially has been completed.

(2) DeNazification is on its last lap. Only five per cent of chargeable cases still are to be wound up.

Demilitarization and deNazification are two of the "three D's" which were basic undertakings of military government. The third—Democratization—is a long-term, constructive task.

On demilitarization, Clay's report noted that:

(A) The U. S. long since has finished demobilizing all German armed forces under its control.

(B) The U. S., alone of the allied powers, has freed all German prisoners of war in its custody. They once numbered 8,010,007.

(C) All first-priority minefields and fortifications in the American zone have been demolished.

(D) Eighty-one per cent of second-priority installations—excluding permanent-type military camps and barracks—have been destroyed. The rest are in use by U. S. occupation forces.

The line blew out with a blast that rattled windows in the Kilgore city hall, five miles away.

The break occurred at about the same spot at which the line blew out Jan. 21 with a fire which raged for an hour.

Farmers May Aid Marshall Plan

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16—The sag in farm prices may mean more votes in Congress for the Marshall plan.

And the way some lawmakers size things up, there may be fewer demands to slash the size of the aid-to-Europe program.

Bill Nears Debate

Rep. Vorys (R-Ohio) predicted to a reporter:

"The farmers will be screaming for the Marshall plan in a few weeks. With prices down at home, our export markets are going to look a lot better, even though we finance them."

Vorys is a member of the foreign affairs committee. It expects to keep hearings on foreign aid going until the end of the month.

The Senate foreign relations committee is nearly ready to send a bill to the floor for debate.

What the administration asked was that Congress authorize a four and a quarter year program to help western European nations repair the economic damage of the war. It asked $6,800,000,000 for the first 15 months, starting April 1.

The Senate committee said yes to the four and a quarter year plan and agreed to fix the figure at $5,300,000,000 for the first 12 months.

A number of Republicans in both chambers, including some on the House foreign affairs committee, have indicated they think the administration should be trimmed way down.

But what has happened to farm prices could change some minds and votes. Cutting the Marshall plan would mean smaller European purchases and less support from abroad for American price levels.

Eggs will keep longer in storage if they are not washed before being put away.

"My biggest job DOESN'T PAY A CENT!"

Any city can be made a still better place to live in if its citizens say: "Let's do something about it!" This stimulating article tells how to start

by RALPH H. BLANCHARD
Executive Director, Community Chests and Councils

Ralph H. Blanchard

IT'S easy to complain how bad things are in our city. But who's to blame? Many times, only ourselves!

A city is just a big group of families. Its schools and its parks, its hospitals and its libraries, its concert halls and its playgrounds will be no better, in the long run, than we are willing to support. Even a few determined men and women can do wonders . . .

Take the case of the family I'll call the Martins. Ted Martin had read item after item about school kids getting into trouble. Ted didn't like that sort of thing in the city where he was raising a son. And when he read one more story of a school boy in a jam, he exploded.

"Confound it," he roared, "why doesn't somebody do something about this? Why aren't these kids kept busy at decent things?"

Son Jimmy said, "There is a boys' clubhouse, Dad. But it's dying on its feet, because it can't find enough grown-up leaders to teach the sports and hobbies that the fellows want."

Ted thought it over. Next day, he went out to the Clubhouse, had a talk with the director. And, almost before he knew it, found himself volunteer coach of the basketball team.

HOW CAN YOU HELP?

Opportunities are everywhere! Watch your newspaper. Ask friends at church, school or club. Here are some typical projects:

Youth centers	Community Chest drives
Scouts, "Y's"	Day nurseries
Citizenship classes	Civic auditorium
Clean-up campaign	Slum clearance
New library branch	More playgrounds
Better schools	Hobby classes

Night of the first game, Ted simply glowed with pride. He had uncovered a vital new interest in life. He had found scores of new friends. And he knew that he was making the city a better place for his own children to grow up in.

Try it in your city! Unselfish interests outside the home give the family a new bond within the home. There's a sense of real accomplishment that all share in.

Of course, you can't go all-out for every community activity. But, with planning, you can often contribute time or money that will give some needed project a boost. Every family should earmark a definite part of its income – even if it's only a little – for such purposes. Then, when your help is needed, you can give with an open heart!

Think of community work as bringing a double advantage to your family: it makes your city a better place for you to live in . . . and it unites your family in an adventure that's really big!

How to PLAN for Family Happiness

● Budgeting can help you contribute money to community projects. But that's only part of sound money planning. You'll be more likely to have enough money on hand when you need it, if you'll follow these few simple rules:

FOR TODAY . . . The first thing, for most families, is to take care of the larger fixed items such as rent, taxes, insurance, mortgage and installment payments, etc. So start by adding up all your fixed items for the year, divide by 52, and set aside that amount weekly.

Also every family should have a "rainy day" fund equal to at least four weeks' income. Set aside a little every week until you have that much. Then, you'll know how much you can spend for food, clothing, heat, light, amusements, and so forth.

FOR TOMORROW . . . We live in a changing world. Family needs and circumstances change . . . living costs . . . taxes. If you have not had your life insurance program reviewed lately, the chances are 2 to 1 that it should be brought up to date.

There are so many ways in which you can use your life insurance, that you should have the life insurance you now own checked to see if it is suited to your needs. This is a service that comes with your life insurance.

The person best equipped to help you with this is the well-trained life insurance agent. Get in touch with your agent, or write your life insurance company. INSTITUTE OF LIFE INSURANCE, 60 East 42nd Street, New York 17, N. Y.

WILL ROGERS COLISEUM, FORT WORTH, Feb. 16—Larruping Bill Henderson of Levelland, Texas Tech and the Lubbock Golden Gloves featherweight champion, brought home his second consecutive Texas Golden Gloves championship here tonight with a beautiful boxing exhibition to outpoint courageous Valentino Luna of Austin, the defending state bantamweight champion, before a crowd of 9,407 fight fans.

At the same time, disaster struck the Lubbock team when, after J. D. Kirkpatrick had piled up a huge margin in his light heavyweight scrap with Sgt. Hugh Garland of Ft. Worth, the referee stopped the fight in the third round. Garland, on a glancing right, opened a slight cut over Kirkpatrick's left eye and, under the rules, the fight had to be stopped.

Henderson turned in a typically smooth, polished champion's performance in outboxing and outslugging the left-handed Luna. Only the first round was close and after Bill found the range, as well as solving the southpaw slants, the Austin boy was not able to stay with Henderson.

Henderson came out to start the first round with an aggressive attack, feeling his man out and keeping a flicking left to the face. He drove left and right to the body and backed his man into his own corner, where he pounded away. Luna flicked a left to the face and a left and right to the chest as he backed away.

Bill Pounds Joe

In the third round, Henderson opened up his most vicious attack. After he had kept his flicking left going to Luna's head, they went in close for in-fighting and Henderson pumped lefts and rights to the head and body. Then he found the range and, when Luna tried to escape, Henderson's fists became a blazing pair of pistons, pounding the game bantam champ and leaving no doubt that he was completely superior.

Has Long Lead

So, from the six men that Lubbock sent to Fort Worth for this 12 annual classic, only one was able to return a state championship, although every man fought valiantly. It was a bitter blow, when at least two places seemed within reach, and the only hope is a strong tournament in Lubbock next year with stronger contenders.

Until the referee stopped the fight, Kirkpatrick had a long margin over the Army man. They opened the first round with a body exchange that J. D. weathered, driving in a hard right to the stomach. J. D. kept flicking a left at Garland's face, outboxing the sergeant. A sharp Kirkpatrick left jab to the face staggered Garland and a right opened his nose. Kirkpatrick opened a body attack that gave bitter punishment to Garland and then shifted to the head again. An exchange of lefts and then an even body exchange was followed by another even volley at the bell.

Kirkpatrick came out with his left flicking again, when Garland suddenly rushed the Petersburg puncher, although he did not hurt J. D. Kirkpatrick kept shooting stinging lefts that shook Garland, using his right to parry the counter punches. Finally, after J. D. had gotten the range, he poured burning rights to the stomach, lefts to the head and opened a left-right attack on the stomach. Both men exchanged rights to the chin at the bell.

Staggers Seregant

In the final round, Kirkpatrick came out ready for the kill. He tied up Garland and began a punishing body attack with deadly infighting. J. D. sent a sharp left and a right hook to the chin, then three rights to the jaw that staggered the big Army seregant. Another right had Garland blinking and another right threatened to end the fight, when Garland drove a counter right to Kirkpatrick's left eyebrow, ending the fight.

It was a bitter defeat to the good - looking Petersburg boy fighting for Lubbock, with victory within grasp and a certain bout with Tom Adams of Abilene, formerly of Lubbock, and the defending light heavyweight champion.

The featherweight scrap with Mandy Leal of Corpus Christi almost ended in the first round, as Henderson came out with the intention of ending it early. Bill pounded lefts and rights in that flawless style of his, staggering Leal, shaking him, but unable to put him down for the count.

The round opened with a light exchange in the center, then Henderson took the offensive, always sliding forward on his left foot, punching with his left hand. Henderson landed three good lefts that shook Leal, the last a short hook that sent him staggering. Bill followed and shot a right to the head.

Blows Hurt Leal

Henderson jammed a left and right to the stomach, a left to the face and followed with a right uppercut that was punishing. A moment later, Bill pounded home a left that shook Leal again, came through with a right uppercut and hooked a left to the head. A long left to the midriff hurt Leal at the bell.

Henderson came out with the same perfect forward shuffle in the second round and there was a light exchange that did no harm, before Bill shot a right that shook Leal. Bill moved in close and opened with both hands, shooting a beautiful left to the head and following a right cross. Leal drove in one clubbing blow, but Henderson shot a right to the jaw and then lefts and rights that dropped Leal. He was up without a count and, as he got up, Henderson drove an overhand blow. The referee stepped in and halted the bout, handing Henderson an obviously deserved TKO at 1:50 of the second round.

Again disaster struck the Kirkpatrick family when J. D., with an obvious lead and well on his way to a probable TKO over the game Army sergeant from Fort Worth, Hugh Garland, had a chance blow land on his left eye, bringing a flow of crimson from the eyebrow.

The referee stepped in, held Kirkpatrick's head and then stopped the fight when it was obvious that the cut was there. J. D. protested, but only two fights previously Middleweight Herbie May of Houston, well on his way to victory, received a cut and the fight was stopped.

Last year J. D. had a kidney injury and was unable to go on after his first fight, while his brother, Howard was eliminated by a cut eye in these same state Golden Gloves.

Adams Captures Lightheavy Title For Second Year

WILL ROGERS COLISEUM, FT. WORTH, Feb. 16—Bill Henderson was the first defending champion to return his title here tonight in the finals of the 1948 12th annual Texas Golden Gloves tournament and only one of three defending titlists to come through unscathed.

Joining the golden circle with Henderson were Light Heavyweight Champion Tom Adams of Abilene, who last year fought with the Lubbock team, and Heavyweight Champion Charlie Simmons of Dallas.

Adams had his hands full outpointing game Sgt. Hugh Garland of Ft. Worth, who won the semi-final round from J. D. Kirkpatrick on a TKO through a cut eye on the Lubbock boy.

Dallas Takes Trophy

Simmons had no trouble scoring a TKO over Harris Stageberg of Beaumont.

Dallas again won the team trophy with 20 points. Beaumont took second place in the team trophy race with 13 points, while Amarillo took third place with 11 points. Lubbock was farther down in the standings with nine points.

Jack Woodruff of Dallas, who decisioned Earl Pollard in an unpopular first-night decision, was knocked out in 1:25 of the third round by cocky Eugene Cooper of Pampa, fighting with the Amarillo team to win the welter title.

Cooper was the second Amarillo boy to win a title. Unseeded Leon Palacio scoring the top-ranking upset of the night with a close decision over flashy George Villa of El Paso.

Another unknown, Fred Morales of Temple, went on to capture the championship of the flyweight class with a decision over Homer Martinez of San Antonio.

George Easterling of Beaumont, fighting with cool precision took everything Johnny O'Glee of Dallas could throw, handed out his share of the damage and walked off with the decision in the lightweight class.

But the decision that sent this wildly partisan, anti-Dallas crowd into an uproar was the TKO defeat of Defending Middleweight Champion Tommy Barron of Dallas by Morris Milburn of this city.

Roach, Thornton To Meet On Thursday

Torrid Florida weather has LaVern Roach, the Plainview fighter, in a sweat over his looming fight with Al Thornton in a 10-rounder at Miami Beach Thursday night.

In letter to friends here Roach, who meets Marcel Cerdan, the European middleweight champion, in Madison Square garden March 12, said he didn't anticipate such hot weather in Florida, and was having to go through quick adjustment.

Thornton is from Rochester, Pa., and Roach, while meeting him in Miami Beach as a tune up for the Cerdan fight, considers the Pennsylvania middleweight "tough."

The Plainview boy, who defeated Tony Janiro in his first bid to Madison Square garden fame several weeks ago, and as a result drew the nod to meet Cerdan, has been in Florida for several days.

Boys Club Teams Win Two Of Three Games With Roosevelt

ROOSEVELT, Feb. 16 (Special)—Two Lubbock Boys club quints, the Midgets and Juniors, defeated Roosevelt fives here tonight, but the youngest home cagers edged the visiting Pee-Wees in the third tussle.

The Boys club Juniors, paced by Gene Tollison's 10 points, drubbed the Roosevelt Juniors, 27-17. Wesley Curry topped the Roosevelt five with four points.

Bobby Tollison tallied 10 points to lead the Boys club Midgets to a 35-18 triumph over Roosevelt, although Benny Fults chalked up 11 points in an attempt to keep the home quint in the game.

Frank Wright and Jackie Chancey connected with field goals as the club Pee-Wees were nosed out by the Roosevelt youngsters, 10-8.

WT-NM UPS SALARY LIMITS

League Readies 1948 Pennant Drive Plans

West Texas-New Mexico league club owners and managers today began getting everything in ship shape for opening of the 1948 baseball campaign.

A touch of mid-winter balmy weather here Sunday, as they gathered with League President Milton Price for the annual meeting, gave the general situation, and the conference, a tangy baseball flavor.

With the exception of two clubs, Abilene and Borger, which have not named managers, those who will direct the players afield during the 1948 pennant race were on hand for the meeting.

Top business, including such issues as adoption of a schedule; setting player and salary limits, held the approximately 50 baseball leaders in session from 10 a. m. past 4 p. m.

The 1947 schedule, which has to be doctored very little to fit the 1948 race, was adopted. Play will open April 21 and end Sept. 6. It opened two days later in 1947 and closed Sept. 7. It will be released in newspapers Sunday, Feb. 22.

Clubs were allowed one more player, or 16, for 1948, and voted to raise the maximum-per-month club payrolls, exclusive of the manager, from $2,800 to $3,200.

A resolution, lauding the late Sam Rosenthal, owner of the Hubbers, as an outstanding figure behind the success of the West Texas-New Mexico league, was presented by President Price and adopted.

R. L. Edmondson of the Pampa club was elected a vice president, replacing Dr. S. Z. Frazier of Lamesa who has sold his interest in that club to Dan Y. Davis.

The league aproved transfer of the club to Davis.

The group was guest of Mrs. Rosenthal at a luncheon in the Hilton hotel.

Larry Larsen, who Saturday was named general manager of the Hubbers, was presented to the gathering.

George Schepps, president of the Dallas Rebels, sat with the Lubbock delegation during the meeting, conferring often with Mrs. Rosenthal.

The Hubbers open the season with a two-day home stand against Clovis.

Conference On Rules

The league also voted to hold a conference for study of national association rules and policies in Amarillo about March 15, and reaffirmed Abilene's award of the all-star game on which no date was set.

The clubs were told they would have to prune their rosters to the 16 limit by midnight, May 5, that the clubs can carry as many as 19 players through the first 15 days, and that the salary limit doesn't apply over that period.

Mrs. Rosenthal, Larsen and Field Manager Jackie Sullivan, also present, said the Hubbers would go into training with the Dallas Rebels in Dallas March 8 and remain there until April 1. On their way home they will meet Borger in San Angelo April 3. Other exhibition games slated include: April 4, Pampa here; April 5, Odessa here; April 9, New York Giants play the Cleveland Indians at Hubber park; April 11, Amarillo here; April 13, Borger here; April 16, Pampa here; April 17, Amarillo there; April 18, Borger here.

Morrison Denies Moving To Yale

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 16 (AP)—Ray Morrison, Temple university football coach, said tonight "I am not going to become coach or athletic director at Yale."

The 62-year-old Owl mentor denied a report from New York that he was to be appointed head football coach and athletic director at Yale within the next few days.

"It's as much news to me as it is to you," Morrison told a reporter, adding:

"Sounds like somebody has a lot of imagination."

PAPER ANNOUNCES IT

NEW YORK, Feb. 16 (AP)—The Daily News said tonight it had learned from a reliable source that Ray Morrison, head football coach at Temple university, will be appointed head football coach and athletic director at Yale within the next few days.

The News, in the story written by Bill Chipman, said that Robert Kiphuth, present Yale athletic director, would be moved up to a new position created in the department of physical education. Kiphuth would have moved into the newly created post had Lou Little, Columbia coach, accepted an offer to move to Yale.

The News added that while the Yale salary for the 62-year-old Morrison was not known, it was believed to call for more than the $12,000 a year he is receiving at Temple.

SPORTS SPOTLIGHT

You can post another "first" for the Lubbock Hubber management . . . The Hubber Park improvement campaign, under study and preparation for some time, was given new impetus Monday . . .

Now the management has completed all plans to build a dressing room, with shower bath and all, for the umpires . . .

That'll certainly be good news for the "boys in blue."

And more comfort for the Hubber players in their dressing room is upcoming, too . . . Mrs. Sam Rosenthal was in a huddle Monday with Charlie Derrick, her johnny-on-the-spot builder of everything about the park, and from it came the decision to sheet rock the dressing room's interior to keep out spring's chill—and dust . . .

Then there'll be a towering screen just outside the left field fence with the proper slant, and trap, to keep all those baseballs from sailing far, far away into the South Plains ozone to become the property of someone other than the Hubber management . . .

We have it that one resident living in that sector now has a trunkful of baseballs which plopped into his neighborhood and which he retrieved . . .

Bill Merkle, the park concessionaire, was on hand Monday, too . . . When Bill opened up in 1946 to sell pop and such there was only himself to do the work . . . Last season the staff had grown to 25 . . . And there'll be that many this season . . . Maybe more . . .

Larry Larsen, the new general manager of Hubbers, and very athletic, made quite a hit with the West Texas-New Mexico league moguls . . .

Talk about allowances for players' meals during Sunday's annual league meeting here caused George Sturdivant of the Lamesa club to touch on the apetite of one Virgil (Fire) Trucks of the Detroit Tigers . . . Club owners and managers told of allowing their players from $2.50 to $3 per day for eats.

Later Sturdivant said he had seen the ticket for one Trucks' meal run $3.

R. L. Edmondson of the Pampa club doesn't believe in bickering too long over minimums and maximums on anything . . .

"I don't know what you fellows want, but I'm going to vote for something," he said once when discussion of the player limit began running at length.

Edmondson is a pioneer in West Texas and Panhandle baseball. He began a quarter of a century ago with what he termed "a road runner" team operated by one of the oil companies.

Lloyd Mangrum Bests Demaret For Valley Title

HARLINGEN, Feb. 16 (AP)—Lloyd Mangrum of Chicago fashioned a six under par 65 today to win the $10,000 Lower Rio Grande Valley open golf tournament in a playoff with Jimmy Demaret.

The dapper Mangrum boosted his year's earnings to $8,188.33 to top money winners on the winter circuit.

Demaret forced the open into a playoff yesterday by overcoming a five-stroke advantage held by Mangrum. The Ojai, Calif., pro turned in a three under par 68 yesterday while Mangrum skidded to a 73.

Mangrum Starts Early

Mangrum started his bid for top money of $2,000 on the first hole and ended with a 31-34—65. Demaret came in with a 34-35—69, good for $1,400 and a total of $7,448 for the year.

Winnings do not include 25 per cent of today's gate receipts, estimated to be about $400.

Mangrum had a three-stroke advantage over Demaret at the end of nine holes. He was one under par on the 11th and 12th holes while Mangrum was one over on the 11th and took an even par 5 on the 12th. Demaret gained a stroke on the 16th, but could make no further headway.

Starting the playoff today, Mangrum and Demaret had 269 totals for 72 holes, 15 under par over the 6,045 yard course.

Little Drops Out

The tournament was marked by a fist fight between Henry Ransom of Ravinia, Ill., and N. G. Von Nida, Sydney, Australia, and the resignation of Lawson Little, Cleveland, as chairman of the rules committee.

Little quit, he said, because recommendations by his committee for disqualification of certain players was not followed.

Ransom and Von Nida came to blows over an argument over a rule.

Out of the turmoil came an announcement that George Scheiter, Ogden, Utah, chairman of the PGA tournament committee, had been granted blanket authority to enforce all rules.

Oklahoma Player's Contract Status Sets Pro Loop Agog

CHICAGO, Feb. 16 (AP) — The "ownerless" Chicago Rockets of the All-America conference had a new problem on their hands today when Star Center John Rapacz of Oklahoma, an alleged "gift" from the Cleveland Browns, announced he had not signed a professional contract in a bit of byplay that stole the spotlight from the uneventful All-America winter meeting. Coach Paul Brown of the champion Browns said Rapacz did sign a contract with his team.

If Rapacz, all-Big Seven pivot who has a year of collegiate competition left, wanted to deny it, Brown said that was "his business." (After his denial, Rapacz said he would confer with the Browns before further comment.)

Rapacz was the best of three players the Browns awarded to the Rockets to bolster that club. Apparently none too happy over what he described as a "league order" that sent Rapacz to the Rockets, Brown said, "contractual rights" to the Oklahoma player now belonged to the Chicago club.

League Commissioner Jonas Ingram said the contract has not yet reached his desk and that if Rapacz insisted upon completing his college competition, he would cancel the pact.

However, he significantly amended that:

"It appears that if the boy has signed a contract he has automatically made himself a professional and I don't see how the college can consider him eligible." Rapacz said he intended to forego another collegiate season.

Conferences To Air Sport Scholarships

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Feb. 16 (AP)—Southwest, Southern and Southeastern conference representatives will meet at Birmingham Thursday to discuss athletic scholarships.

The meeting was announced by Bob Neyland, president of the Southeastern Conference Coaches and Athletic Directors association.

He said the group would be without power to take any action, adding:

"We hope to take back to our respective conferences a program for putting the 'sanity code' of the NCAA into operation."

James Stewart, Southwest conference commissioner, will represent his conference.

Texas Republicans Denounce HST's Civil Rights Proposal

HOUSTON, Feb. 16 (AP)—Texas Republicans today joined Southern Democrats in denouncing President Truman's proposed civil rights legislation.

A resolution condemning the President's action was approved unanimously by the Republican state executive committee, which met here today.

Confidence Vote Given

Col. R. B. Creager of Brownsville, national Republican committeeman from Texas since 1920, offered the resolution. The President has requested laws outlawing lynchings, poll taxes and segregation law and has urged passage of the Fair Employment Practices act.

The committee selected Corpus Christi as the site for its state presidential convention on May 25 and gave Creager a vote of confidence.

The Creager resolution termed the proposed federal legislation a violation of state's rights and local self-government. It also called the plan a dangerous increase in the powers of the federal government.

In a speech from the floor on the resolution, Orville Bullington of Wichita Falls, a former Democrat, said the requested legislation raises the most dangerous question on the racial issue since the war between the states.

Politics Charged

He claimed that the South has done more for negroes than any other section of the country. He charged that the request for the legislation is for "political and rotten political purposes, an attempt to get 'the Harlem (New York) vote.'" He deplored an attempt to play on racial prejudices for political advantage.

Bullington declared, "I am a Southerner before I am an American and I am a Texan before I am a Southerner."

He urged Republicans to cease following the so-called bipartisan foreign policy of the United States and condemned the "extravagance" of the Marshall plan.

The all-itme high was reached last fall with 10,000 students in all branches. Approximately 70 per cent of the students are World War II veterans.

Newsman Talks At Tahoka Meet

By C. W. RATLIFF
Avalanche Staff Writer

TAHOKA, Feb. 16—Many opportunities confront a small town for the development of its trade territory so intensely that as a result the town becomes a gathering place for the people for miles around, John L. McCarty, Amarillo newspaperman and public relations director, pointed out in a talk at the annual membership banquet of the Tahoka Chamber of Commerce here tonight.

"You can achieve anything you can dream," McCarty said, "and you have the opportunity here in Tahoka of making your town the outstanding community in a vast area.

Told To Build Roads

"Build roads into your town from every direction and build the best roads you can. Make it easy for the people to come to Tahoka and then use those roads to go out and visit your neighbors.

"Fix it so that the people of Lynn county and surrounding area will enjoy living here," he advised. "Do everything you can to get electricity into every farm home, either through your power companies or by the REA; don't stop until you get it.

"Provide in Tahoka a better market place for the farmer to sell the products he raises at better prices than he can get anywhere else . . . Make your stores attractive; dress 'em up, clean 'em up.

Entertainment Is Urged

"And remember this: it's no sin for a small town to have fun," McCarty declared. "Provide entertainment for the people of your community—a First Monday or a Fourth of July celebration. Give them a varied program of entertainment.

"And you know what people like to brag about in a town?—Well it's real leadership," the Amarillo an continued. "Real leaders—some folks who say: 'Come on, fellows, let's go do that.' You've got to furnish leaders not only for your community but for the area as a whole and every business man in your town is obligated to furnish some of that leadership."

"But the most important thing is to furnish opportunities for sound Christian ideals — good schools and the best and most active churches."

New Officials Named

McCarty gave numerous examples of how business men in small towns had risen above the crowd with various enterprises. Throughout his talk, he frequently "kidded" various business men of Tahoka regarding their activities.

Winston Wharton, retiring president, was master of ceremonies at the banquet, held in the Tahoka High school cafeteria. McCarty was introduced by Frank Hill, Tahoka newspaperman.

In an election held during the banquet, Otis Spears, Hill, C. E. McKnight and H. W. Carter were elected new directors of the chamber, replacing retiring directors Terry Thompson, Alton Cain and J. A. Biggerstaff.

Hold-over directors of the organization are: Hubert Tankersley, Neal Stanley, Coy Fielder, and Wharton. Clint Walker is secretary-manager. New officers will be elected by the board.

Out-of-town guests at the banquet included: Earl Collins, president of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce; James Minor, president of the Post Chamber of Commerce and Sherrill Boyd, manager; and Mrs. McCarty.

and officers that he wanted to "get even with Berry" for telling a Dickens county grand jury that Green had stolen some tools from him. Green said he was free on $500 bond after the burglary indictment.

Admits Other Robberies

The ex-convict admitted the abduction to a Star-Telegram reporter in the presence of Detective Lt. Cato Hightower and Detective A. C. Howerton. He also confessed the recent robbery of one liquor store apiece in Fort Worth and Dallas and the robbery yesterday noon of a Sweetwater taxicab driver, Virgil Heath, whose cab he took. He would not admit the reported holdup yesterday morning of an Abilene taxicab driver, W. S. Morris.

Green said he decided on the abduction after the Sweetwater cab ran out of gas near a highway 70 construction project and several workers recognized him. "I knew the jig was up and I'd get life anyhow," he declared.

Memorial Rites For Mrs. Maas Conducted By Legion Auxiliary

The women's auxiliary of the American Legion held a meeting last night at the Legion hall at which memorial services were conducted for Mrs. A. H. Maas, who was killed some time ago in an automobile accident. Mrs. J. O. Cade and Mrs. L. L. Stroud had charge of the services, music was by Miss Irma Hughes and a solo was given by Bobby Hughes.

The Maas family and relatives attended.

The Auxiliary will sponsor an essay contest for the junior and senior high schools in which the subject will be 'Our Great American Heritage: Liberty.' The members also voted a donation for heart research association.

New members introduced included Mrs. Robert Porter, Mrs. J. R. Eagan, and Mrs. Thelma Drake. Visitors included Mrs. L. G. Pitts, Muleshoe.

Saturday night the auxiliary held a 42 party sponsored by the finance committee, composed of Mrs. Fred Kincaide, Mrs. Marvin McLarty, and Mrs. R. J. Watson. Miss Irma Hughes won the door prize, Mrs. Walter Davies was high score for women, and H. J. Kendrick for the men.

Mrs. H. J. Kendrick, president of the unit, and the finance committee expressed their appreciation for the support given the occasion.

according to City Attorney Vaughn Wilson, makes the city election code conform with state laws.

The most important provision of the new ordinance is that candidates for mayor and the city commission must announce at least 30 days in advance of the biennial city election to get their names on the printed ballot.

The practice in the past has been to accept filings up to 10 days before the election.

Election Set April 6

The next regular city election is to be held Tuesday, April 6, when the two-year term of Mayor C. A. Bestwick and the four-year terms of Commissioners J. Ray Dickey and Fred Childress are to expire.

The three incumbents have refused to say definitely whether they expect to be candidates for re-election.

Under the new ordinance, candidacies must be filed not later than Saturday, March 6, to obtain places on the printed ballot.

Other business transacted by the commission included:

City Engineer John Ruhmann was directed to prepare specifications preliminary to a call for bids on the laying of a 30-inch water main from Twenty-third to Thirty-fourth streets on Avenue P, and a 24-inch from Avenue P to Monroe on Thirty-fourth. The estimated cost is $180,000.

Commission To Meet

Mayor Bestwick tentatively set Friday as the date for a joint meeting with the recently appointed city civil service commission to discuss whether civil service is to be extended to all city employes, or be confined to members of the police and fire departments. Members of the civil service commission are Harry Morris, Marion Sanford and George W. McCleskey.

Also expected to attend that meeting is A. Cole Stephens, of Dallas, a retirement plan analyst, to discuss the practicability of setting up a pension and retirement system for city employes.

The commission approved the transfer of a lot at Second street and College avenue from a C (apartment house) to a J (industrial) zone. E. H. and Tom Carver asked the change so as to enable them to proceed with plans to build a machine shop on the property. A number of home owners in the area protested the proposed change.

Right-Of-Ways Bought

The purchase of 8-inch and 10-inch iron pipe to be used in a sanitary sewer line to serve Palace Heights addition was authorized at a cost of $4,905.28 from the Morrison Supply Co. The new line is to serve the area south of Thirty-fourth street in the vicinity of Avenue W.

Property purchases totaling $27,638.43 for the right-of-way of the newly routed North Avenue H also were approved, as follows: J. L. Hardin, $11,000; Claude Benton, $8,648; Mrs. Callie Meredith, $4,080.43; J. N. Dillard, $2,650; D. L. Ford, $816, and H. L. Brooks, $408. All payments included 48 cents per square foot for real estate and the cost of moving or replacing buildings in the right-of-way.

The commission also agreed to pay Lubbock Sash and Door Co., $20,083 for property needed for the widening of Avenue A south of Nineteenth street. The company is to clear existing buildings from the property.

Purchase of four "packer bodies" for garbage trucks from the Berryhill Equipment Co. at $3,029 each was approved.

The full commission was present at the meeting, including Mayor Bestwick and Commissioners W. B. Price, John Spikes, Dickey and Childress. The meeting was postponed from last Thursday because of the business holiday necessitated by the gas shortage.

The Vernon P. Keaton detachment of the Marine Corps league will meet tonight at 8 o'clock in the district courtroom of the Lubbock county courthouse, J. Keith Wells, detachment commandant, announced Monday. Temporary officers will be elected and an auditing committee will make a report. All former Marines, both men and women, are urged to attend, Wells said.

Two South Plains men narrowly escaped injuries about 10:15 a.m. Monday when their car was in collision with another two miles north of Wayside. Ben Moore, sr., pioneer resident of O'Donnell, and L. shied at the idea of a special session, but agreed to vote for the resolution in view of its mild wording.

"I sure don't like the idea of calling a special session. I'll say that," declared Rep. Max Smith of San Marcos.

"I don't think any of us like the idea, but I think we do want to pay out teachers," replied Sen. Roger A. Knight of Madisonville.

Expressing his belief that immediate action is necessary, Sen. G. C. Morris, committee chairman, told his colleagues: "The schools are going to be faced with a bigger deficit next year than they have now."

(Legislative appropriations are made on a two-year basis, and Morris apparently believed that even more schools may qualify for rural aid in the next school year).

Rep. William S. Fly of Victoria offered an amendment to delete the special session proposal but withdrew his motion when Aikin pointed out that the resolution does not demand the session.

all face squarely: We could not possibly expect that our economy could be subjected to the wholly unnecessary inflation of the last year and a half without eventually paying the piper.

"Sometime in the not too distant future—if it has not already started—we will find ourselves moving into a depression of some sort."

"When it comes," he said, "Congress and the administration must take strong leadership if we are to keep it from deteriorating into a serious economic collapse."

Bowles outlined his program to cushion another depression as follows:

1. "Tax cuts all along the line . . . the time to cut taxes is when purchasing power is beginning to dry up.
2. "An all-out program of slum clearance and housing," building 1,400,000 homes a year.
3. Continue rent controls "for at least another year or two."
4. Broaden social security payments to include self-employed, domestic help and farm workers.
5. Enact a national health insurance plan.
6. "Once a recession begins, we should move ahead promptly with our plans for the development of the Missouri Valley authority, St. Lawrence Valley authority, and for similar developments on the other major rivers."
7. "An all-out program for the building of schools . . . we should extend the principle of our G. I. Bill of Rights to enable all of our young people who are intellectually qualified to go to colege."
8. Increasing minimum wages from 40 to at least 75 cents an hour.
9. "Pass the European recovery program without crippling amendments as rapidly as possible."

Partially Disabled Veterans May Now Enlist In Services

Enlistment has been authorized for three, four, or five years in the Regular Army or Air Force of partially disabled combat-wounded veterans of Army, Navy, Air Force, Marine corps, or Coast Guard in World War II, according to Major Harold Fulghum, officer in charge of recruiting here. Applicants must possess or show aptitude for training in certain critically needed skills, and meet certain other requirements.

Included in the physical requirements, the announcement states that applicants must be capable of caring unaided for their own personal needs. It is also required that the veteran's condition must be such that further hospitalization or time-loss from duty because of the cambat-incurred disability may not be expected.

Further information may be obtained from the recruiting office in the Federal building.

UN Military Force

the resistance to the partition plan in the Middle East, the commission said it "finds itself confronted with an attempt to defeat its purposes and to nullify the resolution of the General Assembly."

The Assembly approved the partition plan in a long resolution adopted by a 33 to 13 vote last Nov. 29.

The commission urged the council to take prompt action to avert great bloodshed and human suffering in Palestine and warned that a "dangerous and tragic precedent" will have been established if force deters the will of the UN.

The commission appealed to the Security Council because the Assembly asked the council to take the necessary measures to see that the plan works. The council is expected to decide tomorrow just when to open debate on the Palestine situation. UN officials generally expected the council to obtain instructions from home governments in the interim.

At the conclusion of its 19-page report, the commission said:

"The pertinent facts in support of the commission's unavoidable decision to call upon the Security Council for assistance in the discharge of its duty to the General Assembly are evident. The United Nations has taken a firm decision regarding the future government of Palestine.

"In the view of the commission, a basic issue of international order is involved. A dangerous and tragic precedent will have been established if force, or the threat of the use of force, is to prove an effective deterrent to the will of the United Nations."

TRUMAN MAKES APPEAL IN MOVE TO HALT FIGHTING

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16 (AP)—President Truman has appealed personally to several "interested" governments to prevent the spread of violence over the Palestine issue, the White House disclosed today.

The pleas were reported to have gone to leaders of the seven Arab league countries which have declared opposition to the United Nations decision on Palestine. This calls for the partition of the Holy Land into separate Arab and Jewish states.

One message was addressed to King Ibn Saud of Saudi Arabia, informed government officials said. They added it was logical to assume that either Mr. Truman or American diplomats appealed also to the other Arab league states. They are Egypt, Iraq, Syria, Lebanon, Trans-Jordan and Yemen.

At Baghdad, officials of the government of Iraq disclosed that they had received a message from Mr. Truman. They said it asked that Iraq use its influence to calm the Palestine situation.

Their attitude was that the United States should first exert its own influence by adopting "a really neutral attitude."

Mr. Truman's action was announced by his press secretary, Charles G. Ross, on the eve of a threatened new Palestine crisis in the United Nations over the use of force to bring about partition and restore order.

Meanwhile, in Palestine today, official sources said 30 Arabs were killed in an attack on the Jewish settlement of Tirat Zvi in northern Palestine. Members of the orthodox Jewish colony and British military units engaged the attackers. Jewish casualties were placed at one killed and two injured.

Garland B. Garner Succumbs In Veterans Hospital At McKinney

Garland B. Garner, who had lived in Lubbock and Levelland, died at 2:30 o'clock Monday afternoon in the Veterans hospital at McKinney, Sanders Funeral home was informed.

Details of his death had not been learned here, the funeral home said. The body will arrive at 11:25 o'clock tonight by train and funeral services will be conducted at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at Seventeenth street Church of Christ, Seventeenth and Ave. N.

Burial will be in a Lubbock cemetery. Further details will be announced today.

Numerous Thefts Are Investigated

Two Lubbock men were treated at Lubbock Memorial hospital last night after an alleged fight on Temple street, according to officers who were investigating the incident.

One of the men appeared to have suffered serious injury to his right eye, and other cuts. The other, they said, was treated for minor cuts and bruises.

In another altercation, a negro woman suffered cuts and bruises after her husband had allegedly beat her and dragged her a half block down a street. She was also treated at Lubbock Memorial hospital, and told police that she would file charges Tuesday.

Examination Is Set

Extradition machinery was set in motion Monday by District Attorney Lloyd Croslin for returning two persons in custody of other states to Lubbock county to face indictment charges.

Edward A. Tomko, in custody of the sheriff's department in Allegheny county, Pa., is charged with wife desertion; Enimensio Admes, a Mexican held in Racine, Wis., with embezzlement of funds from a Mexican club in Slaton.

Thefts Are Probed

Five weekend burglaries and several reported cases of thefts were under investigation of police Monday.

Two electric drills valued at $100 were taken from the garage of E. E. Jones, manager of Jones Wrecking yard at 1709 Ave. H. A back door latch was tripped to allow entrance, Jones said.

A .32 caliber pistol and shells for it were taken in a burglary of Charlie Terrell's premises at 207 East Twenty-first, Terrell reported.

Jackets Are Stolen

Three suede jackets, belonging to Jack Davis, Raymond Rogers and J. B. Jones, were taken by burglars who entered Pipkin cleaners, at 1411 Ave. Q by prying tin loose from a window, Norman Sikes, an employe, reported.

At Arnett-Benson Drug store, at 112 North College, intruders took approximately $70 in property, said W. M. Wade, proprietor. Taken were approximately $30 worth of cigarets, two spring-wound clocks, a wrist watch, an electric iron, and two boxes of cigars.

The cash register had been left open, so was not damaged, Wade said.

Marjarie Moon said her place in Queen City, Lubbock residential section, had been burglarized Saturday night or early Sunday, but there was no reported loss. Someone, she said, broke in a door, pried the back off a juke box, but failed to get a money box installed in the machine.

Dink Jackson, of 204 Sherman Ave., informed officials a pair of boots, four shirts, a suit and our pairs of trousers, total value $123, had been stolen from him.

Theft of a $100 air-conditioner from his back yard at 2522 First was reported by Dalton Margar.

A fender skirt valued at $10 was reported stolen from T. W. Weathersby of 419 Wolffarth Ave.

Police said they fined one white man $50 for association with a negro prostitute and that a youth, similarly charged, had entered a plea of innocent.

Fined For Disturbance

Another man, they said, was fined $15 for creating a disturbance in the police station, where he had been charged with speeding through an intersection and failing to stop when a police siren was sounded behind him. In addition, he was fined $15 for speeding and $2 on his failure to stop after the warning, officials said.

Police said they had arrested a 31-year-old negro, Vernice Williams, and had fined him $50 on a negligent collision charge and had suspended his driver's license six months in connection with his failure to leave information at the scene of an accident, upon which latter charge he also was fined $50.

They said he was responsible for a six-vehicle "pile-up" Friday afternoon in the East Broadway underpass. A truck stalled and other cars and trucks stopped behind it. Williams, sixth vehicle in the line, bumped the car ahead of him, causing all to crash against each other, officials said. He fled the scene.

Rent Controls

to agree on rent increases of any amount in exchange for a lease.

Cain said the committee voted down, 8 to 5, another of his plans. This would have directed a 15 per cent increase if the landlord could show his costs had gone up 30 per cent since the date rents were frozen.

Automatic Decontrols Set

Also discarded was a proposal for automatic decontrol of an area where one per cent of the habitable accommodations were vacant. It was decided to leave area decontrol to the judgment of the expediter.

The present law would be broadened to permit evicitons for the purpose of "substantially remodeling" a dwelling, or to permit conversion into additional housing accommodations.

The bill would end controls on the use of scarce building materials for recreation or amusement places, such as bowling alleys and theaters.

Chairman Wolcott (R-Mich) announced the 18 to 5 decision of the House committee to extend rent controls one month.

Court Upholds Law

Meantime, he said, the committee will:

1. Seek to learn what effect changing economic conditions will have on rents.
2. Work out a bill which, as things now stand, would continue rent control "at least for a year in some form."

The Supreme court decision, a unanimous one, was delivered by Justice Douglas. It said:

"Since the war effort contributed heavily to that (housing) deficit, Congress has the power even after the cessation of hostilities to act to control the forces that a short supply of the needed article created."

The ruling reversed a decision by Federal Judge Paul Jones in Cleveland that Congress cannot use its war powers to control rents when "in fact" the war is over.

Baptist Sunday School Training Series Enrolls 287 Monday Night

A total enrollment of 287 persons was recorded at the first session of a central simultaneous Baptist Sunday School training school at First Baptist church Monday night, said Lattimore Ewing, educational director.

The school is one of 38 being held over the state this week. Baptist churches of Lubbock county are participating in the school at First Baptist church.

Sessions will continue through Friday evening nightly at 7:30 p. m. Sixteen courses are offered.

An inspirational period is conducted in the auditorium at 8:15 nightly. Paul Mason, manager of the Baptist bookstore, showed a motion picture Monday night. It was entitled "We, Too, Receive."

Approximately 4000 acres of Illinois land are planted to cotton annually. This land is located in Alexander and Pulaski counties.

Damage Is Estimated At $500 In Fire At Lynch Hat Works

Damage estimated at $500 was caused by the explosion in a hat dryer about 5 p. m. Monday at the Lynch Hat Works, 1106 Ave. J, according to L. B. Lynch, who owns the business in partnership with his father.

Approximately 46 hats, each valued at about $9, were burned up when the naphtha in which they were cleaned caught fire from the burner furnishing heat to the dryer. Firemen said a gas plate improperly connected with rubber tubing was the cause. Damage to the dryer was estimated by Lynch to be from $75 to $100. All loss was covered by insurance, he said.

Fire Marshal Bradley Black, of 1520-B Ninth street, suffered a broken heel at the scene of the fire when a ladder slipped and caused him to fall.

Balmy Weather

but floods were receding elsewhere in the weather-plagued southland.

Surging higher were the Ohio, Cumberland in Tennessee and Tombigbee and Yazoo rivers in Mississippi, but they were expected to crest soon without adding greatly to the damage already reported.

Many Persons Rescued

Although the Ohio continued to rise, only minor damage was expected when crests about three feet above flood stages flooded low areas in West Virginia, Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky. At Hanging Rock, near Ironton, O., the State Highway department took 200 persons from flooded or flood-threatened homes.

In Tennessee, hardest hit by last week's floods, the Cumberland was rising at Nashville and Carthage. More than 400 families had been evacuated from lowland homes in the area.

In Mississippi, the Tombigbee was nearly nine feet above flood stage at Columbus, and government engineers forecast a crest 11 feet above flood level today.

Some 300 families have been evacuated from lowland homes near there, and 400 more may have to be moved out.

Court Denies Plea

caused in considerable part by the war and has not been overcome.

The court indirectly upheld the provisions of the Taft-Hartley act which deny foremen the collective bargaining privileges of the National Labor Relations law.

It accomplished that end by declining to hear an appeal from the Foremen's Association of America, an independent union, from an adverse court order.

Another bare order by the high court upheld by inference the investigating powers of the House committee on unAmerican Activities. The court refused to hear an appeal from Leon Josephson, Clinton, N. J., lawyer convicted of contempt of Congress.

He had refused last March to be sworn or to testify before a subcommittee of the House group. He drew a prison term of one year and a $1,000 fine.

In another ruling, the high court refused a hearing to 14 Nazi doctors convicted in Nuernburg of conducting medical experiments on war prisoners. Seven of them are under sentence of death.

gains which will hit the consumer. Steel pipe prices were raised today by Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp. and the National Supply company. Jones & Laughlin boosts ranged from $6 to $10 a ton, while National's were from $6 to $12 a ton.

The Interstate Commerce commission also authorized 96 more railroads to raise basic passenger coach fares 13.63 per cent. The authority was granted 85 lines generally operating west of the Mississippi river and 11 in southern states.

Earth's Heat Becomes Tool For Discovering Deposits Of Oil

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Feb. 16 — The earth's heat underground is the latest tool for prospecting for oil and minerals.

This discovery was described at the annual meeting of the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers here today in an interview by Dr. Hans Lundberg of Toronto, Canada.

Heat rises as miners go deeper. But this hotter-the-deeper is not the new divining rod. The signs for oil and metals are contained in small differences, of maybe three or four degrees fahrenheit.

Coils Detect Heat

These differences show up within a few hundred feet of various underground formations. The formations may be salt domes containing oil, or rocks holding metals. Just how far the extra heat may go is not yet known for certain.

In Wood county, Texas, the heat over a salt dome was nearly four degrees fahrenheit more than at other similar depths. This extra heat was detected by burying coils of wire 100 feet down. An electric current was sent into the coils. The resistance to this current dropped because of the four degree rise.

Measuring these differences in resistance is the way to discover the warm spots. Dr. Lundberg credited the Texas report to C. E. Van Orstrand of Maneto, Ill. He said that underground faults have been found by this heat probe, also other formations. A California deep well, not part of the usual salt formation, but in an anticline, also showed the heat signs.

Radioactivity is one presumed reason for the heat. Rocks all radiate small amounts of these rays. Dr. Lundberg said there are other causes of heat differences.

Other Methods Described

He presided at a symposium on electricity, magnetism, gravitation and man-made earth shocks for prospecting. These four are in everyday use. They have become so fool-proof, said Dr. Lundberg, that the underground contour maps they yield can be sent to experts who can tell whether an area is worth further prospecting.

In the last year, in the United States, these four methods have uncovered zircon, lead, nickel, mercury, copper, tungsten, iron and oil and gas, also a lot of underground water.

Valuable Luggage Found By Couple

HOUSTON, Feb. 16 (AP)—Mrs. A. M. Baxter of Los Angeles had a happy reunion today with her suitcase which contained, among other things, $70,000 worth of jewelry and an ermine coat.

The suitcase bounced out of a taxicab last Friday as Mrs. Baxter was riding to the Southern Pacific station here. It was picked up by A. M. Starks, 28, Houston carpenter. With Mrs. Starks, he tried to overtake the cab but failed.

Starks reported his find to the station agent. Yesterday after she had failed to locate her missing valuables, Mrs. Baxter notified police of her loss. The station agent, A. M. Gibbs, saw a resulting newspaper story and the suitcase was restored to Mrs. Baxter, wife of a Los Angeles lumber and creosoting company executive.

"I'm certainly going to see the Starks and do something nice for them," Mrs. Baxter told police.

Similarity In Names Causes Confusion For James Family

People with identical names have proved to be quite a problem for Mr. and Mrs. Preston James. of 1504 Twenty-fifth street.

Mrs. James informed The Morning Avalanche Monday that Paul James, who was reported missing several days ago and without any trace at present, is not their son. She said that they had received telephone calls and other inquiries, one from as far away as California, regarding 'Paul.'

To further complicate matters, Mrs. James said that she also has a son named Gene and that a Golden Gloves boxer has the name Gene James. The boxer has a sister named Wanda, and the James have a daughter named Wanda.

Police said Monday that no trace had been found of the missign Paul James, a taxi driver about 25 years old and who disappeared after checking in his cab for the day.

Corpus Christi Named Site Of American Legion Meet

AUSTIN, Tex., Feb. 16 (AP)—Corpus Christi wsa selected as the site of the state American Legion convention in September by the legion's state executive committee at a meeting here yesterday.

Perry Brown of Beaumont was unanimously endorsed as the committee's candidate for national commander.

The one-day session, characterized by George S. Berry, department commander as the most harmonious ever held, also created two new service officer jobs, one at Dallas and the other at Houston; ratified the appointment of Judge Ernest S. Goens of Tyler as state chairman of Brown's campaign for national commander.

The state convention is scheduled for Sept. 12, 13 and 14.

H. Miller Ainsworth of Luling asked the committee to contact owners of private planes in each district in an effort to better the 100-plane goal for the April aerial round-up. The planes will fly membership reports to Austin and Ainsworth will fly the combined reports to national headquarters in Indianapolis.

State Commander Berry announced tentative plans for a statewide child welfare meeting to be held in Austin in April or May. It would follow a southwide conference in Memphis, Tenn., March 5, 6 and 7. Its purpose would be to implement decisions made then.

The refineries are here, Sweetwater and Fort Worth.

R. C. Faulkner, superintendent of Gulf refineries in Texas, said the payments will be equivalent to tow weeks' base pay plus 10 per cent.

CONTROLS ARE EXTENDED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16 (AP)—The House Banking committee today approved legislation extending for 30 days present government controls over tin, fats, antimony, quinine and related products. They are due to expire Feb. 29.

Nation's Educational Finances Far Too Short, Report Shows

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16 (AP) — The National Education association said today school support is "grossly inadequate" and schooling opportunities "shamefully" unequal.

An association survey reported that school boards face "almost insuperable financial problems," because they have 20 per cent less buying powers than before the war.

Dr. John K. Norton, one of the survey leaders, estimated it would cost about $600,000,000 a year to bring per-pupil expenditures in all states up to at least $99, the current mid-point for the nation as a whole.

States Are Listed

NEA made public this tabulation showing the average spending per pupil in 1946-47, the percentage increase over 1939-40, and the average annual outlay needed to restore education to the pre-war level:

Minister Speaker At Methodist Men's Club Luncheon Monday

Presenting another in a series of doctrinal messages, Rev. E. H. Crandal discussed the Methodist view of the communion service, or Sacrament of the Lord's Supper, Monday at the Methodist Men's club luncheon in Hotel Lubbock.

He said Methodism does not accept the theory in some faiths that the elements used in the sacrament as the literal body and blood of Jesus, but that they are used as an emblem of Christ's flesh and blood. This, he said, is applied similar to the salute to the flag, which is honored and respected not as cloth and color, but as an emblem of what America represents.

Program was in charge of Sam Leifeste, with Ralph Brock, vice president, in the chair at request of Clarence Whiteside, club president, who had a throat ailment. Invocation was by Fred Adkins.

Thief Cannot Hold Hot Property, Pays Owner For Trouble

Not only was the missing article returned, but money to pay for reinstallation was attached to the property stolen from a used car lot here.

Someone who "lifted" a radio from an automobile on the Eden and Poindexter used car lot at 1004 Ave. K last Friday must have felt a smashing twinge of conscience. The stolen radio, regular installation in the car, was found on the porch of Eden's home in southwest Lubbock Sunday when Poindexter checked after receiving an anonymous telephone call concerning it. Eden was not at home.

Attached to the radio was an envelope containing a dollar bill and a note explaining the money was to pay for reinstallation of the equipment.

No trace of the culprit was found.

District Attorney Back From Naval Cruise In Gulf Area

Following a two weeks' retraining course offered by the Eighth Naval district at New Orleans and on shipboard, District Attorney Lloyd Croslin has returned here.

A lieutenant in the Naval reserve, Croslin reported to New Orleans Feb. 1. He and other reserve personnel made two cruises into the gulf, aboard destroyers of training squadron 16, and observed new equipment the Navy is showing.

Only three of the nine destroyers in the squadron can be operated, however, Croslin said, explaining that there is not enough personnel available to operate even the three ships without borrowing from the crews of the others to make a full complement.

Croslin served on an APA, attack personnel auxiliary, when in World War II service.

East Texas Officers Charged In Assault Freed On Bond

TYLER, Tex., Feb. 16 (AP)—Five East Texas peace officers charged with illegal assault on prisoners waived examining trial today at their arraignment and were freed on $15,000 bond each.

Their trials were set for October 4 in federal district court here.

The officers were charged with conspiracy to deprive prisoners of their civil liberties.

The men arraigned before federal Judge T. Whitfield Davidson today were Sheriff John D. Conditt of Angelina county, Lufkin city policeman Arville P. Brookshire, Sheriff Dean L. Holiman of Henderson county, Lloyd Shelton, Holiman's deputy, and Grady Crawford, a deputy sheriff of Gregg county.

Conditt and Brookshire were billed on two counts—one of conspiracy to deprive Clarence Morrison of his constitutional rights by illegally assaulting Morrison's person, and another of depriving Morrison of liberty without due process of law.

Holiman, Shelton and Crawford were indicted by a federal grand jury for allegedly conspiring to injure, oppress, threaten and intimidate one Lacy Turner and also of depriving Turner of his civil liberties.

Improved Cotton Program Studied

State Must Regain Foreign Market, Official Says; Meeting Is Set Here

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, Feb. 16—Ninety percent of all Texas cotton has been for export in the past, and these foreign markets must be regained, Burris C. Jackson, chairman of the statewide cotton committee warned cotton men here today.

Jackson, Hillsboro cotton man, attended a meeting of the Cotton Production committee, an agency of the statewide group.

The committee reviewed its 1947 cotton program and outlined a production program for 1948.

Program Is Given

The program for 1948 included the following objectives:

1. Improvement of the staples of Texas cotton.

2. Increased Texas cotton acreage.

3. Full support of the extension service's cotton production program.

4. Lower cotton production costs.

Jackson said the last objective would be attempted through greater mechanization of the cotton industry, insect control, selected planting with particular emphasis on seed types, and continued soil conservation practices.

The Hillsboro cotton leader strongly emphasized that Texas will be largely dependent on foreign markets in the future.

"Texas has a vital stake in regaining foreign markets," he said, "because in normal times we export 90 per cent of Texas cotton. Foreign crops and the war took these markets from us," he said.

Must Improve Quality

"In order to recapture these markets," he continued, "we must produce better quality cotton in a quantity so large that foreign countries will know that they can rely on us. We must produce cotton of a type and quality that the world wants in large quantity."

To put the proposed program in effect, Jackson said that six regional meetings were being arranged in Texas, the first to be in Lubbock.

Date of the Lubbock meeting and the other five gatherings will be announced as soon as arrangements are completed, the statewide chairman said.

Chairman of the Cotton Production committee meeting today is J. D. Prewit, vice director of the extension service, College Station.

Others at the meeting included Jay C. Stilley, Dallas; George Simmons, Lubbock; C. B. Spencer, Dallas; L. T. Murray, Waco; W. N. Fortenberry, Lubbock; J. D. Dawson, Houston; Elmore Torn, Taylor, who will be in charge of the regional meetings.

Farm Meeting Is Conducted Here

Asserting that "we almost lost the agricultural conservation feature of our national farm program last year," J. Walter Hammond of Tye, president of the Texas Farm Bureau Federation, told 200 to 250 persons who attended a district Farm Bureau meeting here yesterday that "1948 will be a very eventful year for agricultural legislation."

Pointing up some of the major activities of the bureau last year, Hammond urged increased membership, and insisted that if farmers want information about things that affect them most, they should go to sources like the Farm Bureau where the information is authentic.

Program Is Explained

Hammond said that in addition to continuation of the national farm program, the bureau maintained a legislative director in Austin throughout the 50th session of the legislature; supported appropriations for state soil conservation activities; and led the fight in securing increased appropriations for activities that involve farmers and farm production.

These included, he said, land grant colleges, public school teachers, the predatory and pest control program, increased funds for the state department of agriculture; and for a rice experiment station.

Among measures Hammond said the bureau helped defeat were bills to tax tractor gasoline, to enact a so-called "fair trades act," to force watermelon growers to standardize melon sizes, to cripple farmer co-operatives, and the plan for the state to regulate use of underground water.

Work Is Reviewed

He reviewed some of his activities and findings in Washington recently, including reaction of congressmen and other officials

Lamesa Job Goes To Lubbock Man

LAMESA, Feb. 16. (Special)—J. D. Willson of Lubbock has been appointed city manager here succeeding the late G. M. Roberts and will assume his new duties on March 15, Mayor Sam Richardson announced today.

A former resident of Lamesa, Willson at present is maintenance superintendent of district 5 of the State Highway department with headquarters in Lubbock. He formerly was State Highway department foreman here, and has been employed by the department for 22 years.

Veteran Of World War II

A veteran of World War II, he was commissioned a second lieutenant in the engineers corps. He later rose to the rank of captain and commanded a heavy equipment company in the Pacific theater.

Willson is married but has no children. His wife, the former Thelma Guerrant, was employed in a Lamesa bank for several years.

Mayor Richardson said the city council felt fortunate in being able to obtain Willson for the city post, and was very favorably impressed with his background and ability.

Houston Painters Union Secures Wage Increase Of $1 Per Day

HOUSTON, Feb. 16 (AP)—A wage increase of $1 a day was obtained today by approximately 1,750 AFL painters in the Houston area.

The increase was obtained in a new contract signed by a committee from the Painters union and representatives of the Building Trades council, the general contractors, the sub-contractors on painting jobs and the Gulf Coast Employes committee.

The agreement makes a journeyman's pay from $1.87 1-2 to $2.50 hourly, depending on the type of work.

Eisenhower Warns U. S. Forces Too Weak

Quick Decision In War Is Seen

BY JIM G. LUCAS
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16—The United States was told today that it had neither the manpower nor the equipment to defend itself.

In his final report, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower warned that we will win or lose a future war in the first 60 days. He found little to show the country would be ready.

Nor did he find reassurance elsewhere. Much of western Europe, he said, is "threatened with strangulation by a militant political party whose obvious purpose is to promote chaos and insurrection for the advantage of an alien ideology." Should those countries give up the fight, he said, "we would find ourselves facing across narrowing oceans and Arctic barriers a despotic colossus spread over and beyond the combined Eurasian territories of the Roman empire, the Persia of antiquity, the Germanic kings and the Mongol Khans."

Not Offensive Force

Militarily, he said, we are in bad shape. Too much of the Army's budget goes for occupation costs. General Eisenhower said occupation is "worthy and necessary," but he made the point that the dollars Congress puts up for national defense aren't all "military dollars."

"By no stretch of the facts can the United States Army, as it is now manned, deployed and engaged, be considered an offensive force," he said. "It is not ready to respond to an emergency call."

He warned such a condition "cannot be permitted to continue because there are elements in the world situation and our own strategic position that demand constant availability of respectable land forces."

No one will attack us, he said, until they are certain their military resources compare favorably with ours. But we cannot deceive the rest of the world—"military weakness on our part cannot be hidden."

Need Modern Weapons

"We must do everything possible now to assure ourselves that we will fight another war with weapons more advanced than those of an enemy," he said. "Even our existing regular army is underequipped with modern weapons.

"The occupation mission, consuming more than $2 billion of the Army's annual budget, has left almost no money for current procurement. The present supply is not enough for training and equipping the Army and its civilian components. Unless this is remedied, we will shortly have to ac-

Sheriff Finds Youth Innocent Of Slaying

LAMESA, Feb. 16 (Special)—A 21-year-old youth who has been under questioning in connection with the slaying of Johnny Bailey, Lamesa cab driver who was beaten to death here last April 19, has been exonerated, Sheriff A. M. Bennett said today.

The youth was reported to have made a verbal confession of the slaying, but careful and complete investigation with the aid of laboratory experts of the Department of Public Safety at Austin showed that he is not connected with the case, Bennett said.

The suspect, who came up for scrutiny in the Bailey case after he had been sentenced to a two-year penitentiary term for forgery, has been removed to Huntsville to begin serving the sentence, Bennett said.

Traffic Accidents Show Hike Over '47 Total In Lubbock

All previous totals of accidents will be broken in 1948, at the present rate of traffic accidents in Lubbock, Chief of Police Lewis Kittrell said in a talk at the luncheon program of Lubbock Junior Chamber of Commerce Monday at Hilton hotel.

Kittrell's talk was sponsored by the safety committee of the Jaycees.

"So far this year there have been 203 accidents in which 19 persons were injured," Kittrell said after reveiwing briefly records of past year. In 1946, there were 821 accidents, 139 injuries and seven fatalities and in 1947, a total of 1,196 accidents in which 169 persons were injured and two persons killed. Fines totaled $19,080.50 in 1946 and $28,035.50 in 1947. Fines so far this year have totaled $5,026, Kittrell said.

Out of the 203 traffic accidents this year, Kittrell said 71 charges of negligent collision, ten cases of driving while intoxicated and ten cases of failure to grant right-of-way had been filed against drivers

"We're tightening down on drivers more and more every day in an effort to bring down the total number of accidents," he said. He said property loss in traffic collisions was running as high as $500 per case.

Also speaking on National Crime Prevention week, being sponsored here by the Exchange club, Kittrell warned his listeners to be on the alert for suspicious-looking characters and if victims of armed robbery, try to get as complete descriptions of the robbers as possible. He said there had been a steady increase of such cases over the past several months.

Kittrell was introduced by James Morris, program chairman.

Prior to his talk, the Jaycees voted to take over sponsorship of Webster field, softball park, and operate it during the summer months.

Jack Wells of Chicago was an out-of-town visitor at the luncheon and Ray Kinney, Melvin Best and Jack Knight were introduced as new members.

GAS CAN KILL:

Protect Yourself!

THIS entire area has been unusually fortunate this Winter that tragedies resulting from over-heated and poorly ventilated rooms have not been numerous. Off hand, we can recall only one.

The danger of such tragedies is worst during cold waves like those recently. Many persons leave fires burning in sleeping rooms. Sometimes they fail to leave the crack of a window open, or to provide other ventilation, without realizing they are inviting death.

It is a most insidious danger. The fire burns the oxygen from the air and, at the same time, generates deadly carbon monoxide which is odorless and tasteless. It contains nothing which will awaken a sleeper. The person who breathes it is likely to sleep on into death. The gas is dangerous even when people breathing it are awake. They may drop off into unconsciousness without ever being aware of their danger.

Therefore it is most important to provide some sort of ventilation for rooms in which fires are burning—especially sleeping rooms. A crack of a few inches in a window ordinarily is enough. Sometimes it might make the difference between life and death.

Those CIO Charges

LIKE a great many laws aimed at covering a number of human activities, the Taft-Hartley law has its weak spots—including several which are likely to and should be found unconstitutional.

All in all, the Taft-Hartley law is a good law. It protects the people from numerous of the excesses of organized labor. It protects, in several instances, the individual unionist from the predatory ambitions of his union leaders. But in at least one particular, the Taft-Hartley law goes far afield and, if not unconstitutional, in this instance is bad.

We refer, of course, to that portion of the law which describes as illegal endorsement of political candidates by that portion of the labor-press which is supported by union funds.

To tell a labor newspaper that it cannot support, or oppose, a candidate for public office is striking at the traditional freedom of the press as we Americans know it, and want it. It is just like telling a man who belongs to a union that he cannot make a public speech for, or against, a candidate for public office.

There is a great deal about the CIO which we, together with many Americans, dislike. There is much about the organization which to us appears in opposition to the American Way of Life. We decry, with many others, the Communist and extreme leftwing influences in the CIO.

Never-the-less, we believe a labor newspaper—whether of the CIO, or some other organization of workers operating legally—has a perfect, a traditional and a constitutional right to espouse or oppose anything or anybody under the laws governing material privileged for publication. Therefore, we hope, and we believe, that the CIO and its president, Philip Murray, will win the cases filed against them as the result of a CIO paper's endorsement of a political candidate in the State of Maryland.

Murder At My House

XV

I DON'T know how long the telephone had been ringing before it penetrated my slumber like a fog bell off Santa Monica pier. I struggled up out of the depths and lay there blinking at the bright sunshine and finally realized that it was daytime and that the telephone beside my bed was ringing. I lifted the receiver and said, "Hello."

"Miss Donn?"

"Yes."

"This is Madge Narney. Are you going to be at home this morning? I—I want to see you."

I was more than a little surprised. "Yes, I'll be here. You know what has happened?"

"I didn't until I reached the studio. It's horrible. The papers are full of it."

I still didn't understand why she wanted to see me.

"Well, come on over," I said. "Do you know where I live?"

Yes. I found your address in the phone book. I'll take a taxi."

I crawled out of bed and looked in the mirror and decided I'd better do something before Madge Narney saw me or there'd be another person thinking we'd had a wild drinking party the night before.

A steaming hot tub, a cold shower and a brisk rubdown. I just had time for that and to run a comb through my damp hair and get into a robe when the doorbell started ringing.

It was Madge, of course.

"Come in," I invited. "I haven't had breakfast, yet. Perhaps you'd join me?"

She looked at me nervously and hesitated. Then, "All right. That will be fine."

We went down the stairs and into the kitchen that was golden with bright sunshine and I attached the toaster and measured four cups of water and four tablespoons of coffee into the glass coffee maker and turned to Madge.

"What was it you wanted to see me about?"

FOR one who had been so eager to talk to me, she seemed oddly reluctant to begin. She twisted her gloves in her hands. Her face was quite pale.

"Who was here last night, Miss Donn? I mean while Avis Vaughn and Art Cleves were here?"

I told her, adding, "Weren't their names in the papers?"

"Yes—but I thought there might have been someone else, too." She looked me full in the face for the first time. "Are you sure, Miss Donn, that there was no one else here, all evening? Nobody, who stopped in for just a few minutes, maybe, when they were passing by? Or something like that?"

Her words brought Jimmy Peters to my mind, and his skulking around outside the night before. And I thought I saw light. This girl was interested in Jimmy—and she was jealous. That must be it. She knew about the crush he had on Avis, and she thought he'd been here with Avis last night.

"I assure you, there was no one else here, Miss Narney. Not while Avis and Art were here. Jimmy Peters was here later—but that was after the accident."

I thought I had guessed right. She seemed instantly relieved. She took the cup of coffee I offered her and a piece of toast and some marmalade and began to eat as if she hadn't had any breakfast either.

Having eaten me out of groceries, she apologized again for bothering me and left and I was free to go back to sleep.

I decided to finish my nap in the patio which was awash with warm noon sunshine by this time.

I AWOKE to look straight into as cool and noncommittal a pair of gray eyes as I have ever seen.

I struggled to a sitting position in the deck chair, glared at the intruder and gathered additional facts. He was tall and he had thick dark hair combed straight back from his forehead, and he was too thin and his face looked awfully tired.

"Sorry I frightened you," he said.

"You should be." I was trembling. "Don't you know enough to ring a door bell?"

He said patiently, "I rang it for five minutes and then I started looking around."

Some authority in his voice checked my anger.

"I'm Lieutenant Leiphan of the Los Angeles police department," he added.

I asked him to sit down and when he did so I noticed the discharge button in the lapel of his plain clothes suit and about the same moment I noticed his right hand with its stiff unmoving fingers. My eyes went back to his face.

He held his hat between his two hands, swinging it casually back and forth. "I'm here to ask you some questions about last night," he said.

"I've already told the police everything that went on here last night."

"I know what you told Rader and Matthews. I've read their notes. But I want you to tell me again. I want to know who was here. Everybody. And exactly what you had to eat and drink."

"I don't see the reason for this," I said. "Just because a couple of people were killed in an automobile accident . . ."

"They weren't killed by accident," Leiphan said.

"What do you mean?"

"They were killed by premeditation. Murder is what we call it, Miss Donn."

Looking At Life - - By Erich Brandeis

TODAY is the day when the cleaner's truck comes around to pick up whatever we have to be dry-cleaned or pressed.

So the wife asked me this morning to have everything ready for him.

I had taken three suits with me to California, and these have to be pressed.

That means emptying out the pockets, and before me is a heap of book matches, broken pencils, some loose change, toothpicks, ticket stubs and all the other junk the average fellow usually carries around with him.

BRANDEIS

By the way, before I throw the junk away, I always look at all those envelopes and match covers. I have a habit of making notes on them.

For instance, on one of the match covers is written: "The average fellow doesn't understand."

I made that note in the club car, where two fellows who certainly looked average to me were discussing the pending tax reduction bill and remarked that the "average fellow" doesn't understand what it is all about.

There was another notation: "Who is average?"

Answer: Everybody but yourself.

Here is another note (on the back of a Southern Pacific Railroad envelope):

"Why is it that the fewer the years that are left to people the more they try to hang on to them?"

Answer: Because the less you have of something the more precious it is.

This note is on the back of a receipt for three boxes of oranges that I sent to friends of mine in the East:

"I liked that interview with Grace and Paul Hartman, the dancers, in which she said: 'We travel so much, we haven't time to go to church. So we carry our church with us—in our hearts'."

The greatest cathedral built by the finest architect is a hovel compared to the church that is in your heart!

HERE is something written on the back of my San Francisco hotel bill (and what a bill!):

"Nobody knows how many loving relatives he has until after he is dead. Particularly if there is a good-sized estate."

And another notation, right under it:

"There ought to be a law that nobody can inherit anything unless he has earned the inheritance during the deceased person's lifetime."

Here's one on a piece of paper napkin, written in a coffee shop:

"There are altogether too many lawyers in our legislatures.

"We shouldn't have our laws made by the same fellows we hire to show us how to break them."

That's all. My wife just called and told me the cleaner is here.

Funny Business

"I came to give you a checkup—I understand you're presidential timber!"

TO HELP CUT DEBT

U. S. Lottery Sought

By RAY TUCKER
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—While the Department of Justice is levelling indictments against religious, civic and other organizations which conduct lotteries to replenish their treasuries, sentiment for an annual or semi-annual sweepstakes of this kind is rolling along on Capitol Hill.

The dean of the House, Representative Adolph J. Sabath of Chicago, who has sponsored legislation for a national drawing for many years, does not believe that his bill will be enacted at the present session.

TUCKER

But he reports that never before has he received so many letters in favor of his plan, and he thinks that this barrage of public sentiment will win over colleagues who have opposed such a "gambling" proposition.

The principal argument for a federally sponsored lottery is that it would provide a fairly painless method of paying off the national debt of $258,000,000,000. Proponents of the plan maintain that the national mortgage could be reduced to manageable proportions within fifty years. It is also advanced at this particular time as an anti-inflation measure.

The lottery lads figure it out this way: Assuming that 100,000,000 of the nation's population of 144,000,000 invested an average of ten dollars or more, based on the huge amounts now spent in various games of chance, including racing and the numbers—the return from two drawings a year, after paying of prices and expenses, would range from two to four billion dollars.

DEBT: Assuming that the yearly net would be three billion, they figure out that the "take" together with regular reduction of the debt from taxes, would bring the debt down to approximately $50,000,000,000 in fifty years, or about ten billion less than it was on Pearl Harbor Day.

As an additional argument in favor of official recognition of the gambling instinct apparently innate in human nature, some proponents would include a provision in any lottery measure that the income must be allocated for public debt reduction.

STAR: Governor Thomas E. Dewey's political star is rising again as a result of General "Ike" Eisenhower's renunciation of presidential ambitions and Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg's aloof attitude toward the nomination. That is the reaction of veteran observers at the Capital, and it is understood that the same impression prevails among Mr. Dewey's Albany group.

The Eisenhower-Vandenberg developments have reduced the number of actual prospects to five—Mr. Dewey, Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio, Governor Earl Warren of California, Speaker Joseph W. Martin Jr. of Massachusetts and Harold E. Stassen. As a matter of fact, politicians figure the number of possibilities at only four, inasmuch as few concede much chance to Mr. Stassen or to General Douglas A. MacArthur.

WINNER: Senator Taft will have more delegates than is generally realized, but it is still doubtful if the backroom boys, after two or three stalemated ballots, will settle on a man who may face strong labor opposition.

It is not expected that the G.O.P. is ready to go as far west as California for the head of the ticket, although the leaders want the Pacific Coast executive on the slate as the V.P. candidate.

Speaker Martin, who made many friends among Congressional delegations and state groups, could emerge as the winner. But the feeling—or hope— that Mr. Dewey would have the best chance of capturing New York's forty-seven electoral votes, will have a tremendous effect on the party Warwicks when they sit around the table in an upstairs room at a Philadelphia hotel next June.

CALCULATIONS: The Democrats, of course, can upset all these calculations. If it develops that President Truman's civil liberties program may cost him several southern or border states, the G.O.P. might take a chance with Senator Taft or Speaker Martin, whom they prefer to the cold and cocky New Yorker.

By the same token, if political canvasses show that Henry A. Wallace might bite off such electorally important states as New York, Illinois, Michigan and California, Mr. Dewey's stock would suffer.

BOMB: Senator Brien McMahon of Connecticut has suffered some unkind ribbing because his former secretary, Charles E. Calkins, has quit his job to become Nutmeg state manager for Henry A. Wallace's independent candidacy.

Inspiration for the cloakroom and columnar joshing derives from the fact that, as an aide to the senatorial father of atomic legislation, Mr. Calkins might have information on this subject which he would make available to Mr. Wallace, who favors giving the secret to Russia even before adoption of a U.N. program for general inspection and control.

The fact is, as Mr. McMahon admits, that not even his deep study of the subject made him so expert that he could construct or fire a bomb. "We don't make the weapon in a committee room," explains the Connecticut legislator.

Although the committee room containing secret data on the weapon is two floors below the Senator's, in the central, cellar part of the Capitol Building, Mr. Calkins never visited it. It was under security guard at all times.

No matter what the politicians promise the voter for his dinner pail or pot, he invariably winds up with a pretty kettle of fish.

We are not inclined to believe that eating carots will improve the eyesight. A cat can see much better in the dark than a rabbit can.

A scientist says he has had a cold germ in a test tube for almost four years. Whether he's trying to tame it or starve it to death, he didn't say.

It is doubted if any system of government and economics will ever be devised under which each citizen would receive compensation directly in proportion to the value of the work done by him.

Wonder if aspirin would cure a pain in the neck brought on by listening to a radio commercial on aspirin.

"You can accomplish twice as much in the morning than in the afternoon," asserts a psychologist. Not true in our case. The ordeal of getting up in the morning so exhausts us that we're unable to do much work before noon.

"There are fewer than a million normal persons in the United States," declares a college professor who manifestly has been sticking around college too closely.

Many a man covers up his weak spot when he puts on his hat.

SENATORS ALSO CONTROL VOTES

GOP Solons Backing Taft's Bid

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

CHICAGO, Feb. 16—In the Midwestern area which is the basis of Senator Robert A. Taft's bid for the Republican presidential nomination, there is clearly revealed the strategy of his campaign. It revolves about regular Republican organizations and business and financial interests with which they usually are allied. With these Senator Taft has developed effective contacts and he has great influence with them because of his power in Congress.

STOKES

In some cases the chain of command runs through senators who are closely associated with and beholden to him, down to state organizations in which these senators exercise control of considerable influence. To support of this sort there is added the Taft organization in the South on which he is relying again this year as he did eight years ago in his almost successful bid for the nomination. At that time a powerful southern boss, Col. R. B. Creager, Texas national committeeman, was his convention floor manager.

To Control Meeting

Wendell L. Willkie nosed out Senator Taft in 1940 in one of those rare upsets in Republican conventions. There is no Willkie on the scene this year and none in prospect. Organization leaders are determined that there shall be no such disturbing influence in this year's Philadelphia convention. It was with relief that they saw Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower retire from such a possible role.

But there are candidates who obviously have more popular support than Senator Taft and who might be said more nearly to represent rank-and-file sentiment. Governor Dewey has more widespread popular support and so apparently has Harold Stassen.

As it shapes up now, the issue at the convention will be whether the Senate oligarchy and old line GOP combination is stronger, or whether rank-and-file opinion will predominate. This convention battle is important because of the big issues at stake this year and because Republicans have the best chance to elect a President since they were retired from the White House in 1932.

As for states the senator visited on his tour, in Illinois he will have a lion's share of delegates, after a probable first-ballot, favorite-son vote for Gov. Dwight H. Green, because of the support of Col. Robert R. McCormick, Chicago Tribune publisher who dominates the Republican organization. The senator had dinner with the publisher in Chicago when he stopped there on his way west.

In Indiana, Senator Taft has much strength through the state organization. Minnesota of course will be for Harold Stassen but Senator Taft has the support among old-line GOP elements, which might mean delegates for him should the state eventually break away from Mr. Stassen in convention shifts and developments.

To Seek Nebraska Vote

Nebraska offers a fine illustration of the chain of command through a senator—in this case Senator Hugh Butler who controls the state organization. He is an ardent Taft man.

In the novel Nebraska preferential primary April 13, in which nine candidates are entered, Senator Taft is expected to run well, with Governor Dewey probably his chief rival. This is because strong support for Senator Taft by the state organization will give him sure and concentrated strength. The large field will tend to diffuse voting for other candidates. While the primary is not binding on delegates, organization influence also weighs heavily with delegate preference.

Colorado is another example of the chain of command through the Senate. Senator Eugene D. Millikin, chairman of the Senate Republican conference and of the finance committee and a staunch Taft lieutenant, will be influential with that state's delegates of 15 which always goes to conventions unpledged.

It was Senator Millikin who in a glowing introduction of Senator Taft at Colorado Springs frankly faced the senator's chief weakness when he said, "We all have heard it said that the senator can be nominated but not elected." He went on to concede facetiously that Mr. Taft did lack "Hollywood glamor" and was not an adagio dancer or anything of that order, and said he always stood in the middle of the ring punching, toe to toe. Then he concluded that the country was in a bad way if we ruled out for the presidency a man honest and courageous, and turned to "a faker." He mentioned no names in this last classification.

Hammond also had attended a meeting of the board of directors of the American Farm Bureau federation, representing the southern region on the board, and said action was charted on such issues as a long range farm program, parity, support price levels, and a program to control spread of hoof and mouth disease.

W. R. Tilson of Meadow, district director of the Farm Bureau, was presiding. Other speakers for the one-day meeting, one of a series throughout the state, included R. G. Arnold of Auburn, Ala., director of the southern region, and Dave C. Mieher of Jackson, Miss., executive vice president of the Southern Farm Bureau Life Insurance company.

Members and others interested in work of the bureau were here from all parts of the South Plains. A similar meeting is to be held today at Amarillo.

MARKET STAGES COMEBACK

NEW YORK, Feb. 16 (AP)—After eight successive Mondays without an average advance, the stock market turned around today and enjoyed its best recovery swing in four months.

While gains of fractions to 2 or more points for leading rails and industrials held a big majority at the close, analysts were a bit chilled by the fact that real activity failed to accompany the upward reversal. Top marks were reduced in most cases toward the finish. Volume of 830,000 shares compared with 930,000 Friday and were the smallest for a 5-hour stretch in a week.

Professional short covering and other buying appeared after a hesitant opening. Rails were aided by another fare boost for Western roads.

The Associated Press 60-stock composite was up .8 of a point at 61.3, widest bulge since .8 of last Oct. 14 which, in turn, was the best since July 1. Of 956 issues registering, 525 rose and 144 fell.

The notably "thin" Coca-Cola jumped 10¾ points on only 200 shares. Union Pacific added 2½ at 154½ and American Smelting 2 at 49¾. Up 1 or better were Sears Roebuck at 34, International Harvester 83⅜, Southern Pacific 47, Southern Railway 36⅝, Douglas Aircraft 52¼, United Aircraft 34½, Kennecott 43¾, Phelps Dodge 43⅜, Union Carbide 87, Johns-Manville 36½, Owens-Illinois 80½, U. S. Gypsum 95½, American Tobacco "B" 63¾ and Standard Oil (NJ) 71¼. Most steels, motors, rubbers and utilities retained fractional plus signs.

Small declines were shown for Montgomery Ward, Oliver Corp., International Nickel, J. C. Penney and Loew's.

Bonds were narrow.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Feb. 16 (AP) — Cotton futures were firm in active dealings today. The advance was influenced by a better tone for grains and reports that the army is endeavoring to speed up a cotton purchase program for Japan. The fact that the cotton textile market and primary spot cotton markets had resisted the recent decline in futures also aided sentiment.

The market dipped at times on profit taking, but the general trend was higher on mill buying, short covering, and some replacement demand.

Cotton closed steady.

Ike's Warning

knowledge that in weapons and equipment our ground troops are inferior to a modern offensive force."

The solution?

To provide trained manpower —universal military training. General Eisenhower said it is "an essential measure under present circumstances."

"This vital issue must be settled without further delay," he wrote. "Unless it is in the near future, we must recast our traditional attitude toward a small professional security establishment and embark upon a total reorganization of the Army's civilian components."

In equipment, there must be concentration on things that can be transported by air. More recoilless weapons must be produced, also Arctic equipment, new anti-aircraft range-finders and fire-control systems, armored personnel carriers, tanks with integrated radar and fire control. And they "must be placed in production now if they are to be ready for a future D-day force."

Where does the responsibility rest?

"It is up to the American people," he said.

Cotton Program

in reviewing the progress of a similar program last year, when improved ginning methods, increased acreage and improved staple quality were accomplished in many sections of the state.

Burris C. Jackson of Hillsboro, Tex., chairman of the statewide cotton committee of which the Cotton Production committee is an agency, said the 1948 program would call for a concentrated effort to improve production methods on the South Plains, the key cotton producing area of the state.

Jackson pointed out that the plains country was lagging behind most of Texas in improvement of staple quality because it is a relatively new cotton producing area and has had tremendously rapid expansion as such.

MANY WITHDRAW AT TECH

More Veterans Leaving College To Meet Living Costs, Is Claim

BY BILL SAYERS
Avalanche Staff Writer

More and more veterans attending school under the G. I. Bill of Rights are being forced to drop out in order to meet the rising cost of living, according to unofficial figures recently compiled at Texas Technological college.

During the fall semester of 1947 approximately 250 veterans, more than during any previous semester, withdrew from school and the great majority of them gave the rising cost of living and the inadequacy of the subsistence allowance as their reason. Many of them stated that they were dropping out because they had been offered good jobs that would enable them to support their families in a somewhat better manner than was possible with a $90 subsistence check and a $200 ceiling on their earnings.

(A bill signed last week by President Truman will increase the allowance to married veterans in school or on the job training from $90 to $105 and for married veterans with two dependents from $90 to $120. The $200 ceiling on earnings remains the same, however. The total for single veterans was boosted from $65 to $75.)

Conditions Believed Typical

Not all of these men dropped out because of financial difficulties but a considerably larger number than ever before did, and with a little simple arithmetic it is clear that if that figure were multiplied, in proportion to enrollment, by the number of colleges in the United States, a blow would be dealt the foundation of the entire training program.

When the lower cost of living in Lubbock is compared with costs in the east and on the west coast, there can be little doubt but what the same conditions exist there.

Exact figures are not available on the number of veterans attending Texas Tech who have children but the number is known to be quite large. These in particular are finding it increasingly difficut to get along and it is in this catagory that the rate of attrition is the highest. Many of the wives who have no children are working and helping to bear a great deal of the expenses but for those with children, it is much more difficult. Some find it just as profitable to stay home and keep the child as to hire someone to care for it.

Figures from the Bureau of Labor Statistics indicate that G. I. subsistence checks are far from adequate for a minimum standard of living for a man with two dependants. In Sept. 1944 a survey by the Bureau of Labor Statistics of a cross section of laborers in the United States found that a sum of $2,070 per year was the minimum wage that would afford a family of three what the bureau termed a "decent" living. That was before price controls were lifted and when the cost of living index was at 125.5. The same organization, late this fall, showed the index to be 168.3 and is believed to be somewhat higher now. This means that to maintain the same standard of living now as was possible in 1944 on $2,070, the laborer, or veteran, would have to have an income of $2,701.

Since the $90 per month subsistence check for one year totals only $1,080, his plight is easily understood. They realize that the G. I. Bill does not guarantee a living and is meant for assistance but with a $200 ceiling placed upon his earning power, the argument is that the standard is too low.

Those veterans contacted did not seem bitter about these conditions but all welcome the legislation which they hope will help alleviate the situation. An indication of the fact that veterans at Texas Tech are not wrapped up in their own selfish interests was shown in the spring of 1947 when the Tech War Veterans Association adopted by an overwhelming majority, a resolution not to support legislation for the raising of subsistence payments. The reason given was that they believed that with a raise in subsistence would come a rise in prices. Since that time, however, prices have gone up to such a point that it is doubtful that the resolution would pass again.

Surveys throughout the country have shown that grades attained by veterans in college are higher than the average made by students before the G. I. Bill went into affect. The veteran is serious about gaining an education and wants to stay in school. Many are attending who could not were there no G. I. bill. The veterans seem to have the attitude that "we have proved our ability, we were considered a good investment in the first place, now it is up to Congress to keep us here."

Britain Sends Ship To Falkland Area To Back Up Claims

LONDON, Feb. 16 (AP)—Britain disclosed today her Navy's South Atlantic flagship is en route to the Falklands islands, and promised "full support" to her governor against Chilean and Argentine claims to those bleak subantarctic territories.

It was another chapter in the long controversy over the strategic islands which lie northeast of Cape Horn and the Strait of Magellan, and about 300 miles east of the Argentine mainland.

A British foreign office spokesman confirmed that the 8,000-ton cruiser Nigeria was definitely on the way to "show the flag" in what the government considers British territory. The Nigeria steamed out of its Simonstown, South Africa base this morning under emergency orders.

To Back Officials

In the House of Commons Minister of State Hector McNeil told a questioner steps are being taken to ensure the British governor of the islands, Miles Clifford, he will receive the support he needs.

Clifford represents the King not only in the Falklands but also in the Falkland "dependencies," including the South Shetland group on the rim of Antarctica southeast of Cape Horn, where Chile and Argentine dispute Britain's claims to deception and Greenwich islands.

Today's disclosures came amid widespread speculation in the British press of a possible show of naval strength by the three powers following reelection by Argentina and Chile of a British proposal to submit the dispute to the international court of justice.

The newspapers noted that Chile's President Gabriel Gonzales Videla was already on a cruise in southern waters and that an Argentine task left last Friday for maneuvers in the Antarctic.

Cardinal Of Roman Catholic Church Dies In Vatican City

VATICAN CITY, Feb. 16 (AP)—Gennaro Cardinal Granito Pignatelli Di Belmonte, 96, second only to Pope Pius XII in the hierarchy of the Roman Catholic church, died today of a bladder ailment complicated by old age.

Cardinal Pignatelli, who was a prince of the Italian aristocracy as well as a prince of the church, expired at 10:13 a. m. (4:13 a. m. EST) in his simply furnished apartment in the historic Vatican church of Santa Martha.

He had known five popes in his long life and had been an intimate of the present pontiff and his predecessor. He had been dean of the College of Cardinals for nearly 18 years.

Francesco Cardinal Marchetti-Selvaggiani, 76, Bishop of Frascati, Vicar General of Rome, has been a cardinal since June 30, 1930.

Informants said it was possible Enrico Cardinal Sibilia, 87, bishop of Sabino and Poggio Mirteto and next in order of precedence, might succeed Cardinal Pignatelli as dean. Cardinal Sibilia has been a prince of the church since Dec. 16, 1935.

Cattle Disease Reported 'Lost'

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16 (AP) — The magazine Farm Journal says in a full-page advertisement in the Washington Post that "we have lost the fight to wipe out foot-and-mouth disease in Mexico."

The advertisement said its article "Death Walks on Four Feet" was written by Associate Editor Paul Friggens and appears in the March issue of the magazine.

Highlights of the advertisement:

" 'Aftosa' may jump our borders at any time. It's a miracle, in fact, that is hasn't already.

"But even a single outbreak will mean serious loss, such as state quarantined against state, and the halting of all shipments of livestock and dangerous animal products. A general outbreak could threaten the whole $8 billion dollar American livestock industry.

"Aftosa was first reported in December, the United States soon closed the border, but six months were consumed before we as much as landed a single blow.

"The United States' program started with one of the most cumbersome pieces of administrative machinery ever devised.

"For every American official, for every American doctor, for every American appraiser, paymaster, technician, and general handyman, there was a Mexican counterpart.

"Then, the governor and each little town's presidente and often the padre had to be consulted. On top of all this were superimposed the U. S. Bureau of Animal Industry, the U. S. State department and the U. S. Department of Agriculture and the Mexican government.

"At Senguio village in Michoacan in September Uncle Sam's foot-and-mouth eradication program definitely went on the rocks.

"At Senguio village Dr. Augusto Juarez Medina, a Mexican veterinarian, and seven soldiers were pulled from their jeep and hacked to pieces. Eight Mexicans gave their lives that day because an infuriated, propagandized mob had been told that the United States was not paying a just price for cattle.

"Barring a miracle of science, foot-and-mouth disease is saddled on Mexico indefinitely.

Two-Year-Old Austin Girl Dies After Taking Aspirin In Water

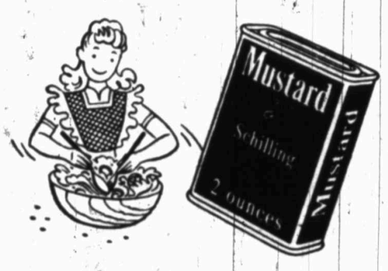

AUSTIN, Feb. 16 (AP)—Two-year-old Lynn Kerr was dead today, victim of choking on half an aspirin dissolved in water.

A pediatrician attributed death to a possible combination of strangulation, allergy and heart failure.

Daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Walter Kerr, the child had been under medical-supervised treatment for a cold and cough. She took a similar amount of aspirin in water yesterday without any noticeable reaction.

The Rev. Kerr, pastor of the Central Methodist church here, was in New York City as Gov. Beauford H. Jester's representative to a national institute on juvenile training.
