Mistake on FBI Hailey Dunn poster causes rumor, uproar

A new poster on the FBI website regarding Hailey Dunn has several communities in an uproar.

The new poster, released two weeks ago, lists Hailey as kidnapped; a mistake according to Colorado City Police Chief Roy "Tinker" Owens, whose prompting led to the posting on the FBI website.

"We're trying to get that corrected," Owens said. "She is not kidnapped."

Hailey was added to the FBI's missing persons website at the instigation of Owens, who was approached a couple of months ago by a citizen involved in the Hailey Dunn search who asked why Hailey wasn't listed on the FBI website.

"I didn't know they had a special list," Owens said, who promptly called both the Dallas and national FBI offices. "The people I talked to didn't know anything about it either."

Owens then contacted the National Center for Missing and Exploited Children and got the phone number for the spokesperson who heads up Hailey's case. After talking, the spokesperson contacted their liaison with the FBI about getting Hailey's information on the website.

Two weeks ago, Owens got

LORAINE HOSTS WESTBROOK

Dog and Cat fight Friday

District 7-1A (6-man) Region II is all rested up and ready to start the important part of their schedule Friday night. All four teams had the week off last Friday to prepare for the next three weeks.

Loraine will host Westbrook and Sterling City will host Trent to get things started. Both games have 7:30 p.m. start times scheduled.

Preseason, Sterling City and Loraine were picked to take the top two spots and represent the district in the playoffs, but for the second straight year, Trent is undefeated going in and Westbrook, after starting off a bit slower than last year, has evened their record out at 4-4 and will be looking to make a difference this year.

Bulldog's Coach Richard Jackson

These will be two really good games for 6-man fans to get the district portion of the schedule rolling. Trent at Sterling City should be a high-flying, point-filled explosion of offense.

Meanwhile, when Loraine hosts Westbrook, the records are all out the window. Reminiscent of New York vs. Boston or Dallas vs. Washington, this district match can be decided by no one athlete. This match will go to whichever team wants it the most.

Trent is coming off of a 48-0 pouncing of Rule, while 5-2 Sterling City put up an impressive 46-0 win against Highland.

Loraine, also 5-2, will hope to bring the momentum of their

City gets new water tower

By Stephanie Perez

In addressing compliance problems with the Texas Commission on Environmental Quality, during Tuesday evening's council meeting, the city council authorized City Manager Pete Kampfer to execute an agreement to move a water tower from Ector County to Colorado City.

The tower, which is not new but has never been used, will be moved from Odessa. The cost is projected to be close to $680,000, a much cheaper price tag than the estimated $2.5 million for a brand new tower. Kampfer told board members that the tower's life expectancy should be about 50 years.

"It's not exactly what we want, but it's what we need, what we can afford," Councilman Keith Hiser said of the tower.

The city manager expects to gain a five-year relief period from TCEQ with the installation of the tower, before the city has to start looking at replacing its second water tower.

In other action, Mayor Carol Sue Dakan promptly ruled an agenda item out of order and said that the council would not be deliberating the item before using her gavel to try to put an end to a discussion before it started.

The agenda item was listed as

City wins prestigious award

Colorado City is the recipient of a second prestigious award through the Texas Municipal League.

C-City received the City Spirit Award for communities under 25,000 for their entry "Reclaim Colorado City" during the opening general session at the TML Annual Conference in Houston on October 12.

"This is a pretty prestigious award for us," Amie Wood, community development director, said. "Our program was much larger and encompassed more things than cities 10 times our size. It put us on the map."

Reclaim Colorado City is a three pronged program aimed at enforcing city ordinances with the demolition of 51 dilapidated and dangerous structures, addressing waste disposal issues with modern dumpsters and a recycling collection facility, and the restoration of the Baker Hotel, a historic landmark which has been neglected for five decades.

Additional projects which counted toward the city's award were curb-side pickup, community garden, community visioning retreat, city website, improvement of park walking trails, and the passing of the Heritage Preservation Ordinance.

Winners were announced through a video presentation. Colorado City representatives who attended the award ceremony were: Mayor Carol Sue Dakan, City Manager Pete Kampfer, Councilmembers Bobbie Banks, Sammy Contreras, and Keith Hiser, Community Development Director Amie Woods and Public Works Director Jeff Ellis.

"I think this is the direction the city has been needing to go for many years," Dakan said.

City sirens are first alert warning system outdoors

OVER THE YEARS, the city's sirens have alerted citizens from air raids to tornadoes. The new system (left) replaced the old siren (right) which dates back to WWII.

Wildfires earlier this year sparked a debate on the need for a better emergency warning system for Colorado City.

Chief of Police Roy "Tinker" Owens brought members of the Lions Club up to date on the city's emergency alert system.

"We're trying to re-educate the public on understanding what the siren means," he told Lions during their regular noon luncheon on Friday. "It doesn't just mean bad weather is coming."

The city's siren alert system dates back to WWII as a civil defense and air raid system. The four sirens are located at city hall, the far end of East 18th Street, the northwest corner of Hildago and Hillcrest and at the 7th Street entrance to Ruddick Park.

While technology has come a long way since the days of a single tone, Owens felt having different tones for different events "would be confusing for a small community."

"We use one solid tone, warning citizens that a disaster is fixing to take place," he said.

While the system is basically used to warn the community of incoming tornadoes, the siren is also used in the event of ice or snow storms, serious weather, nuclear disasters, floods, hazardous material incidents, and wildfires.

Between 70-100 decibels, the sirens are an outdoor warning system and cannot be heard inside buildings. "The siren is intended to be an outdoor warning system," Owens said. "It tells you get inside and get safe."

"Preparedness depends more on citizens being prepared and ready to act in an emergency than the sirens," Owens said. "The sirens' job is to alert citizens that a disaster is brewing, but it is up to citizens to be prepared to act quickly in that event."

Owens recommends citizens keep an emergency and first aid kit handy, along with emergency supplies such as food and water, extra batteries, flashlights and blankets.

"During bad weather, when you hear the siren, get inside and get safe," he said.

Those with storm cellars are urged to use them and make sure they have oil lanterns, blankets, canned food and water stored ahead of time.

Those without cellars are urged to go to the centermost point of the house and get into a bathroom or closet. Citizens should get under furniture or cover up with blankets.

"You should have a first aid kit, emergency kit, food and water and family necessities ready to go at a moment's notice. You don't think about that when things are going good. Wait until the last minute and you're not prepared," he said.

In the event of a chemical or airborne disaster, close the doors and windows and stay inside.

Deer workshop set October 26

GAIL - The Texas AgriLife Extension Service will conduct a multi-county Deer Appreciation Day from 7:30 a.m.-1:15 p.m. on Oct. 26th in the Borden County Event Center in Gail.

The program is a joint effort among the AgriLife Extension offices in Borden, Dawson, Garza, Lynn, Mitchell and Scurry counties.

"As the drought hangs on causing crops to fail and livestock to be sold, deer and the potential revenue they can generate are definitely becoming more and more 'dear' to the producers in our area," said Cody Hill, AgriLife Extension agent in Borden

County. "The whole idea for having this program is to help our producers understand the management needed to optimize this valuable natural resource in the most responsible way possible."

Ken Cearley, AgriLife Extension wildlife program specialist at Amarillo, will be the keynote speaker.

The morning program will include an overview of deer biology by Cearley, followed by a necropsy of a deer that will highlight the animals' basic anatomy and how it dictates what management is needed. Hill will then speak on the economics of deer hunting.

Next, Cearley will address supplemental feeding, Brush Sculpting techniques, using livestock to manage wildlife habitat and deer population management. The morning session will close with local game warden Brent Tucker speaking on game-law considerations.

Following a catered lunch, the program will resume with presentations by a Buckskin Brigade youth camp cadet and a talk on government programs available to producers by Kevin Wright with the Natural Resources Conservation Service in Snyder.

Individual registration is $20

OPINION & COMMENTARY

TUMBLEWEED SMITH Some wedding do's and don'ts

The county judge of Cherokee county, Chris Davis, has conducted lots of weddings. He has learned some things.

"A boutonniere will not properly hang on a Budweiser T-shirt. When you have a wedding and one of the groomsmen has on a Budweiser T-shirt, just leave the boutonniere off. It's probably the best thing."

He married one couple at Shiloh Ridge near the community of Alto, where Chris lives. Four-wheelers run through the mud there.

"People come from everywhere to just go crazy riding their four wheelers and four wheel drive trucks. I had a call from a couple who wanted to get married at Shiloh Ridge. I immediately had some strange visions going through my head. I mean this has got to be a redneck wedding. It's just a mud bog out there. Well, when I arrive to perform the ceremony, it was a beautiful fall day and the trees were ablaze with color. We were on top of a hill and you could see all the way around. It was gorgeous. They had this nice huge expensive wedding tent for the reception and all. Chairs were set up under those oak trees and the white material for the aisle was rolled out. I thought I had been wrong about this. It's going to be real nice.

"I was waiting for the groom to arrive and I looked over and saw this big black four wheel drive pickup across the pasture and it's got a big bowtie on the front of it made out of aluminum foil. The truck pulls up at the end of the aisle and the groom gets out of the truck. He comes up and stands by me. Then in a minute here comes this Blazer from across the field and it's got a huge white veil taped to the top of it. That veil has a long train on it and it's blowing in the wind. That four wheel Blazer stops near the pickup and the bride steps out and walks down the aisle. It was a beautiful wedding."

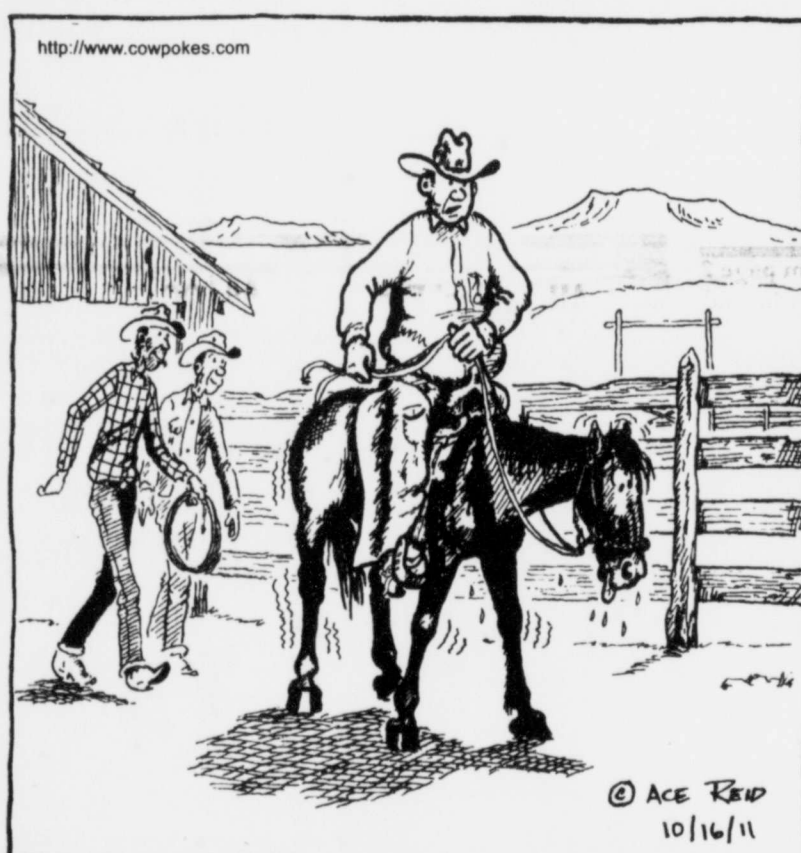

While Chris was a Justice of the Peace at Alto he heard all sorts of stories about why people shouldn't have to pay a speeding ticket. One medical student wrote Chris a letter explaining why he was speeding.

"He said he was on his way to see this beautiful woman in Tyler. Being a medical student he was so busy and time was such a premium he calculated if he drove 70 miles an hour (this was when the speed limit was 55) he would have an extra hour to bathe in the company of such a beautiful person. I wrote him back a latter and said surely spending time with a woman this beautiful was worth the price of a defensive driving course. I told him I didn't understand why he didn't bathe before going to see the girl. Then I told him the amount he owed. The guy came into my office and paid the ticket and never mentioned the letter."

An older woman who came in to plead her case said her prostate cancer was bothering her. Chris thought if she had prostate cancer she could enter her story in the journal of medicine and have enough money to pay her ticket.

My Two Cents

It all started with a simple class assignment in college in the late 70s. Find a need, develop a product, then create an advertising campaign to fill the niche market.

Back then dorms had neither refrigerators nor microwaves. Sodas were expensive or only available in the cafeteria.

College students are a notoriously thirsty bunch, so I proposed our group create — Koolaid juice boxes. Compact, with straws and a long shelf life. Good bye ants and goodbye spoiled Koolaid.

And in 1980 drink boxes hit the US market. Who knew?

For our little group it was just another assignment. Finish it and forget it. Today, someone else with a gift for seeing beyond today is still raking in royalties.

Why do we let creative opportunities pass us by? How many creative ventures are aborted in the imagination's conception room before they have a chance to see the light of day? Whether from fear of failure, too many naysayers, lack of vision or our own propensity to create obstacles where there are none, human beings have a tendency to miss out on life's little adventures.

Often we look at where we are and what we're doing and think it's unim-

Chocolate, strawberry or vanilla...

By Monte Wike

Ice cream is a big treat at our house. We bought special tulip dishes when they closed down an old Woolworth's, and then added banana split servers. Noma found two kinds of special ice cream spoons just to increase the fun.

We will stand at the doors of the ice cream freezer at Fuller's and try to decide which flavor to buy, and sometimes we vary, but usually buy a big tub of plain vanilla. Then we can add fresh fruit, chocolate syrup, pecans and fluff.

I remember the old days at the drug store when they would hand pack white paper cartons and you took home a pint and ate it right then because the little freezer in the refrigerator only held two ice cube trays. Or you would order a malt and they would make so much they had to set the metal container on the counter with the surplus.

And I especially remember the big picnics in the park with several kinds of home-churned ice cream, with eggs fresh from backyard chicken pens and cream from that day's milking.

Why would we need so many flavors? How could any company keep up 51 varieties? The reason is that people are so different, have widely different tastes, and want choice and variety. There is no such thing as a standard flavor, a standard person or only one option. We are used to choice and lots of it. We do not want to be shackled into one mold, or one way of doing things.

Paul talked about differences in Corinthian: "diversities of gifts, differences of administrations and diversities of operations." all coordinated by the "same spirit". I think that's how our lives are.

We may like one flavor over another, but all flavors have the same satisfaction of providing cool refreshment and delicious enjoyment. They exist side-by-side in the freezer. Although I will have to admit that people who could not decide must have invented Neapolitan, where all three flavors are in one carton.

Cooperation and progress in spite of differences is a good goal for all mankind. We are not asked to surrender our differences, or flaunt them, just recognize and employ them. This would be a dull world with only one color or flavor to choose from. God created the diversity. It is up to man to make the most of it to benefit everyone. You may not even like or can tolerate ice cream. You may not be satisfied with chocolate, strawberry or vanilla. But do not stand in the way or prohibit those who do.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Letter to the Editor:

I want to thank everyone in Colorado City and Mitchell County for making the ballet at the Kelley Elementary School gymnasium a tremendous success. I made a suggestion to Marsha Rickard, Administrator of Valley Fair Lodge Nursing Home, that we consider incorporating classical performing arts into our activities program for our residents, maybe even ballet. She agreed that we should look into it.

The Artistic Director and Board of Directors of the Midland Festival Ballet said yes. Many lovely people in Colorado City got behind the idea, a waterfall of support, and the program took place for everyone in Mitchell County.

Thank you dearly Colorado City Record, Jim Baum, those behind the delicious punch and cookies, Kelley Elementary School, Marsha Burrus-Jordan, Rick Rickard, the teenagers and young people who just showed up to move tables and pass out programs, Sammy Contreras, Neff's Nursery, Emzi Stovall, and Luis Gutierrez.

Moreover, I learned that a nice gentleman went to his welding shop and made a ballet shoe cookie cutter so his wife could make ballerina shoe cookies to be given to the Midland Festival Ballet's Artistic Director Susan Clark by Marsha Rickard. That is out-of-the-box innovation. I wish I knew their names.

The male ballet dancer, Joseph Goodman, flew from Florida to Midland all day on Saturday to be in Colorado City to dance the next day.

The nurses, CNAs and activity director at Valley Fair Lodge were wonderful — transporting our residents and making sure they were individually attended. Our employees always wear a smile on their face as they love what they do.

The attendance was awesome, about 300 or more.

After the performance, Valley Fair

Lodge treated the Midland Festival Ballet to a special supper in our Family Room. I didn't ever realize those tiny ballerinas who are in perfect physical shape could eat so much. We did have some leftovers anyway! After supper, I told the 20 folks from the Midland Festival Ballet that I hoped they felt that Colorado City and Mitchell County had handed them friendship on a silver platter. They all agreed they had.

Yesterday, I learned that the Midland Festival Ballet had contacted the Midland Reporter-Telegram newspaper to prepare a special feature story about their coming to Colorado City. It will take about three to four weeks for the story to be prepared and published. Their loving friendship with us is shared.

Thanks for listening to a dumb idea, Mrs. Rickard. It turned into a beautiful flower.

Demolition of dilapidated buildings is not something new to Colorado City. According to Dakan, 108 homes were demolished in the late 1980s under the direction of Brenda Kelly, Bertie Kidd and Jan Lemons with the city's blessing.

"We need to be working more for the convenience of the people in this town," Dakan said, citing the new Blackboard Connect system as a way for the town to notify citizens of everything from impending bad weather to major water leaks and planned utility outages.

an email from someone on the Hope for Hailey team about the new wording on the FBI site.

"This has got everybody in disarray," he said. "As near as we can figure, they went back to the original investigation for their word choice."

Sergeant Kelsey Alexander, the CCPD's lead investigator in the Hailey Dunn case, contacted FBI agent Daniel Cottner, who helped with the original investigation into Hailey's disappearance.

Based on evidence from the initial two search warrants filed for a Blackberry and mass media storage and the fact Hailey left without any of her favorite personal items, the FBI had two choices of terminology for Hailey, missing or kidnapped.

"Basically, she's disappeared," Owens said. "The FBI took it upon themselves to use the word kidnapping. That's their prerogative, but it's caused an overflow of stuff to happen. We're trying to get it corrected."

"There have been no new indictments handed down and no new arrests made in regards to this case," Alexander said. "There was no sign of struggle in Hailey's room or in the house and we have no hard evidence one way or the other as to whether she left on her own free will or not."

Hailey was reported missing last December by her mother Billie Dunn and Dunn's boyfriend at the time, Shawn Adkins, is still listed as the authorities' number one person of interest.

"There's been a lot of stuff found but nothing has been found to corroborate what has happened to this young girl," Owens said.

revenues, down 11.61% for the same month in 2010. Yearly totals, however, were up 3.53% as the county received a total of $216,418.66, to date, compared to $209,020.23 by this time in 2010.

Texas Comptroller Susan Combs reported that state sales tax revenue in September was $1.76 billion, up 11.8 percent compared to September 2010.

"Texas sales tax collections have now increased for 18 straight months," Combs said. "All sectors showed increases in September, led by business spending, especially in the oil and gas-related sectors. Consumer sectors like restaurants and retail trade were also up. The recovery in Texas has brought sales tax collections almost back to peak 2008 levels, however the near-term outlook remains clouded due to the uneven performance of the U.S. economy."

Combs will send September sales tax allocations totaling $505.2 million to cities, counties, transit systems and special purpose taxing districts, up 13.9 percent compared to October 2010.

For all emergency situations, citizens should go inside when they hear the sirens and turn on the television or radio for further instructions.

"The radio will kick in with broadcasts of emergency information," Owens said. "The Blackboard Connect system will notify everyone enrolled in the system with a phone call, so even if you're inside and can't hear the sirens, you'll be alerted to a potential disaster."

Although the Blackboard Connect system was set up for folks in C-City, the police department isn't turning anyone away.

"We want everybody to be safe. We don't want anybody to be stranded out there," Owens said.

Anyone wishing to sign up for Blackboard Connect should call Amie Wood at 728-2072 to set up an account.

Blackboard alerts go out either before or after the siren sounds, depending on the event and how much forewarning the police department has, and will provide information about evacuations.

"I've never seen a mayor exercise veto power," said the city's attorney Pete Sheridan.

The city's charter does not allow for the mayor to have veto power.

The policy's purpose is to establish guidelines for investigating and disciplining any council member who may have violated, state, local or federal laws, city ordinance or the city charter. Dakan felt the policy was unnecessary because she feels the subject is covered by the city charter.

"The policy is our only way for the council to admonish its members," Hiser said.

"It is a better construct of how (the council) can undertake an investigation," Kampfer said, "so that no one member can taken it upon themselves to investigate."

The commissioners approved a request from librarian Brigada Hiser to appoint Jamie Alvarez in place of Bea Munroe on the Library Board. Alvarez will serve out Munroe's unexpired term until August 31, 2012.

Also approved were this year's slate of board members and officers: Deborah Miller, Teresa Beckmeyer, Jerry Shields, board members; Bob Riley, chairman; Teresa Beckmeyer, vice chairman; and Melanie Stubblefield, secretary.

After much discussion, the council voted to approve the policy by a vote of three to one. Hiser, Bobbie Banks, and Bob Brookshear voted in favor of the policy adoption and Dakan voted against it. Councilmembers Marcelo Alvarez and Sammy Contreras did not vote, and Sue Mason was not present for the meeting.

Mike Ratliff, longtime Colorado City resident and businessman, was appointed to serve as a member of the board for the Heart of West Texas Museum. Ratliff has owned Ratliff Insurance Agency since 2004 and has worked there since 1985 when his father owned the business.

Following the advice of Code Enforcement Officer David Hoover, council members tabled the tax sale of a property at 1345 Cypress. The structure on the property is on the list to be demolished and Hoover would like a chance to go back inside the house to check its viability. A bid of $2,000 has been made on the property by Julian Reyes.

After completing an annual evaluation of city manager's performance, the council voted to give Kampfer a $7,000 per year merit raise. All council members voted in favor, except Dakan who voted against it, saying that because county employees didn't get raises this year, it would not be fair to give Kampfer the raise in salary.

Experience four wheeling adventure in Colorado

By Barbara Washburn
Texas Traveler

While staying in Lake City, Colorado, some friends of ours showed up to go four-wheeling. I could immediately see that their enthusiasm was rubbing off on Randy. The wheels were turning in his head . . . spinning was more like it, and the pitter-patter of his heart became a jackhammer. Oh, yeah, he wanted to go, too. Well, I was only one month past surgery; sure it wasn't a super-radical surgery (this time) but it was surgery. All that bouncing around sounded . . . well . . . you know. But being the near-perfect wife that I am, I decided to put my own fears aside for the satisfaction of the adventure-bug that had bitten my hubby. Okay, I have to admit that the adventure-bug had nibbled on me, too. I figured that if things got too bad we could always turn around and come back. Right? So, we rented a Jeep ($140 at Highlander RV Campground and Jeep Rental) and off we went.

The day was warm, the sky was blue; perfect for our trek. Off we went, headed straight for that great big, tall, heaven-kissing mountain. We jostled, jarred and jerked our way over Cinnamon Pass. Okay, okay, it wasn't that bad. Actually, it was very exciting. The gravel road had some pretty rough places, but the Jeep handled them like a charm. And the scenery was incredible!

We stopped (approximately half-way around the Alpine Loop) to explore Animas Forks, a mining ghost town with several ramshackle buildings. So far the journey hadn't been too bad, so we trekked on, climbing ever higher toward Engineer Pass . . . another one of those heaven-kissers. We were surprised to come upon a herd of sheep. It wasn't really a herd; it was more like a horde, a multitude, a million, with a golden retriever for a shepherd. As we crept along trying not to murder any of the woolly beasts, I didn't notice that our mountain byway had become little more than a rocky path.

We made it past the sheep without committing manslaughter — or sheepslaughter — and approached a hairpin turn with an enormous boulder sticking out of the ground right in the middle of where our Jeep was supposed to go! I cringed and clamped down tighter on the dashboard. Visions of a huge scrape down the side of our pretty yellow Jeep danced in my head, or worse, a flip-over! Oh, our insurance company is going to love us, I thought. Randy, being the quick-thinker that he is, stopped. I'm sure he had the same insurance visions that I did. After a quick survey of the impossible-appearing situation he managed to get us around the rock without a scratch. I patted the dashboard and complimented the Jeep's sure-footedness.

The summit of Engineer Pass is over 14,000 feet high, and breathtaking! Mountain peaks in every direction. I'm not sure how far we could see from up there, but I'm pretty sure I saw ocean swells of the Pacific.

Then it was downhill back to Lake City. In all, we traveled a total of 65 miles and it only took us a mere seven hours!

USDA allows haying of CRP grass species

The Texas FSA State Committee has the authority to approve, on a case-by-case basis, haying Conservation Reserve Program (CRP) acres that will be converted from a Lovegrass, Bluestem or Klein grass to a native grass species cover, according to Keith Hiser, Executive Director of USDA's Farm Service (FSA) in Mitchell County.

"Producers have until September 30, 2012, to request approval for haying acreage that will be converted from a Lovegrass, Bluestem or Klein grass to a native grass species; however, haying must be performed outside of the primary nesting and broodrearing season," said Hiser. "It is important for producers to understand that this is not an extension of CRP emergency haying, this is a separate haying authorization," he said.

Producers who want to request haying approval must make an appointment with the Mitchell County FSA office and with their local Natural Resources Conservation Service (NRCS) to update their conservation plan to include the new haying activity. Producers can not start haying until they receive approval notification from the Mitchell County FSA office.

Producers who receive authorization to hay will incur a 25 percent payment reduction from their annual rental payment unless the reduction is paid in advance. In addition, producers who receive haying approval will not receive cost-share assistance because haying is not considered a component of seedbed preparation.

For more information about haying CRP acres that will be converted from a Lovegrass, Bluestem or Klein grass to a mixed native grass species contact the Mitchell County FSA office at 325-728-2651.

'Bones' are in season

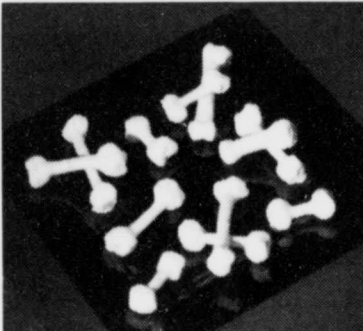

Bleached white bones never tasted so delicious. This recipe originally appeared in Ghoulish Goodies, by Sharon Bowers.

Ingredients
half package (7 ounces) white meltable candy wafers
36 pretzel sticks and thin rods of various lengths
72 mini marshmallows (about 1 cup)

Instructions
Follow the instructions on the candy wafers package to melt the candy in a wide bowl. For each bone, press marshmallows onto both ends of a pretzel stick or rod, with the marshmallows' flat sides parallel to the pretzel.

Dip each pretzel into the melted candy to coat it. Lift it out with a fork, letting the excess drip back into the bowl. Place the bone onto a sheet of waxed paper to set at room temperature.

This week's night sky

Before and after dawn Friday morning, look for Mars to the left of the moon.

The Orionid meteor shower is the second of two showers as the Earth passes through Halley's Comet.

The Orionid meteor shower, which originates from the constellation Orion, should peak in the early morning hours this Saturday. Some Orionids will be visible for several morning before and after Oct. 22.

Fomalhaut, the Autumn Star, shines low in the south-southeast after dusk. It's due south on Saturday, October 22. The right side of the great square of the constellation Pegasus, which will be very high in the sky, points almost straight down to Fomalhaut.

Atkinson improving after surgery for burst appendix

Former CHS graduate Frankie Atkinson is still in Odessa's Regional Medical Center after surgery to remove a burst appendix. Atkinson, beloved Wolf football player and band member, was taken to the emergency room October 4, where doctors discovered his appendix had ruptured two weeks before, according to his mother, Lorena Atkinson.

Doctors removed a three pound abscess along with a foot long section of both his large and small intestine. Following the surgery, infection set in and Atkinson was flown to the medical center in Odessa for further treatment. He had remained in ICU until he was moved to the surgical ward early this week, according to Mrs. Atkinson. "The surgeons told me if they had waited one more day I would have lost him," she said. "He's very lucky he's still alive." Mrs. Atkinson said her son would need lots of time to recuperate, but he is doing better. "He was at the bottom, but he is climbing his way up," she said. Atkinson, who plays for Sul Ross University where he is a student, will be out for the remainder of the season. However, his mother says he has been given "red shirt" status, so will be back in the game next year. Atkinson will sit out the rest of this semester and plans to be back in school for the spring semester.

A fundraiser for the family to help with medical expenses is being planned for October 29 beginning at 11:30 a.m. A brisket meal will be served from 11:30 a.m. until 1:30 p.m. at $8 a plate or for donations. A silent auction will follow the meal from 1:30 - 2 p.m. Items for the auction have been donated by Colorado City vendors and downtown merchants. Volunteers who wish to help need to contact Tina McKinney at 728-8720.

Atkinson will remain in the hospital for at least another week and a half.

Family and friends have rallied around Atkinson, sending goodie baskets and cards. Kelley, Hutchinson, CMS and CHS have flooded his room with cards, well wishes, monetary donations and goodies, according to his mother.

"He laughed and enjoyed the cards the first graders sent," she said. "We've had so many family and friends be there for us, we appreciate it very much. I thank the town with my whole heart."

WESTBROOK FIREWOMAN MINDY Hale brought a fire truck and gear to story time at the Mitchell County Public Library so that the children attending could learn about fire safety just in time for Fire Prevention Week. AT MITCHELL COUNTY LIBRARY

Children hear fire information

By Brigada Hiser, librarian
Mitchell County Public Library

Story time at the Mitchell County Public Library is always fun. Whether we are digging in the dirt for worms or digging through the shelves for a good book to read, we enjoy the time we spend together.

Last week was educational and exciting. Our story time centered around Fire Prevention and Safety. We had our very own firewoman, Mindy Hale, come talk about fire dangers including who to call (911) and what to do if you are on fire (Stop, Drop and Roll). She brought her "gear" so the children got to see what a firewoman looked like on the job.

Best of all, Hale brought a fire truck with sirens and all. The children got to get in, hear the siren, hold the hose and pose for the camera. Not sure who had the most fun, the parents or the children. Books were read about fireman, the children "built" individual fire trucks and to top it off every child received a Westbrook fireman helmet. The library sends many thanks to Mindy Hale and the Westbrook Volunteer Fire Department for making our story time come alive.

Although we can't promise a real fireman or fire trucks every week, we can promise great stories, crafts and music. All you have to do is come join Ms. Debi on Wednesday, 10 a.m. at the Mitchell County Library and be ready for an adventure. We have some fun things planned for the holidays and we want you to be a part of our story time family. See you Wednesday.

Colorado High School Pride of Wolf Country Marching Band Marchers of the Week

Congratulations to Hope Sanchez and Cason Smith
Marcher of the Week proudly sponsored by Mitchell County Hospital District

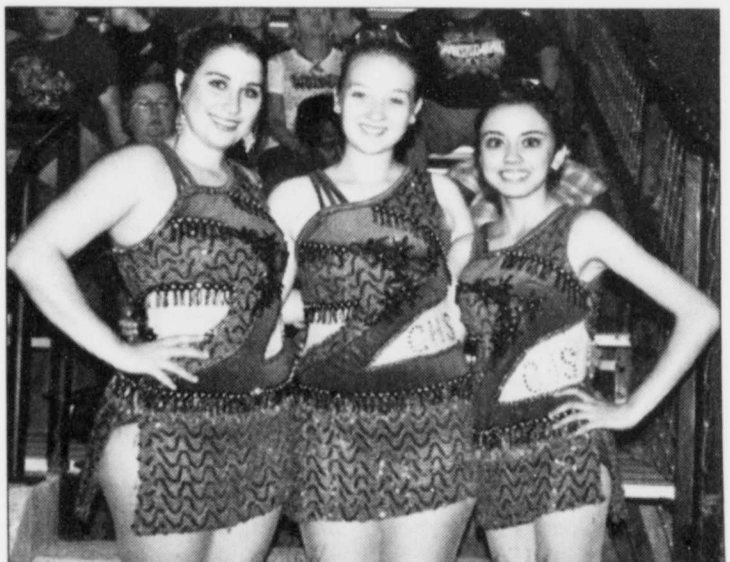

School bus safety is top priority

Texas law prohibits vehicles from passing any school bus that is stopped and has its flashing red lights activated to protect children getting onto and off of a school bus. However, some motorists still break the law and place schoolchildren at risk of injury or death.

During National School Bus Safety Week (Oct. 17-21), Texas Highway Patrol Troopers in many rural areas of the state may be riding on or following school buses to catch motorists who break the law.

When a vehicle illegally passes a stopped school bus with the red lights activated, Troopers riding on the bus will radio ahead to other Troopers who will then pull over the offending motorist and issue a ticket that could cost up to $1,000. Troopers will also be patrolling areas where school buses pick up and drop off children, looking for motorists violating the school bus law.

In 2010, Texas Highway Patrol troopers wrote 414 tickets for passing a stopped school bus. There were 762 crashes in Texas involving school buses last year. In those crashes, one person died and 89 people had serious injuries, according to the Texas Department of Transportation, which tracks traffic crashes.

Wolves pluck the Cranes

THE WOLVES' CORBIN CASTILLO (10) takes down a Crane receiver in last week's game. The Wolves won 31-21.

By Alvie Faulkenberry
The Colorado City Wolves traveled to Crane County to take on the Golden Cranes Friday night at El Ade (The Nest) in a District 2-2A ballgame. Each team was plagued by injuries and each had suffered a district loss to the Wall Hawks. The game was a must-win for both teams.

Playing at The Nest, now renamed the Dan Andrades Sports Complex after Crane's deceased Coach Dan Andrade, the Wolves came out on top 31-21 in a hard-fought ball game.

Crane took the Wolves' kick-off at their 24 yard line, and after making a 1st down on a 15-yard run by sophomore running back Austin Sandoval, the Wolves' defense shut the door with a 3 and out, stopping the Golden Cranes. A punt of 34 yards and Colorado City took over at their 21.

Mark Henderson ran for 5 yards, followed by Derek Gainey's 21-yard run and a 1st down. Freshman running back David Sanchez ran for 5 and 3 yards, and on 3rd and 2, Henderson was hit in the backfield on an end around for a 6-yard loss. Gainey got off a 47-yard punt that was bobbled by the Crane receiver and fumbled. Rafael Gonzales recovered the miscue at the Golden Cranes' 11 yard line for the Wolves.

A bad snap over Gainey's head caused a 20-yard loss to the 31 yard line of Crane. On 2nd and 30, Gainey hit senior wide receiver Benny Jones for 31 yards and a touchdown. The PAT kick by Gainey was good and the Wolves led 7-0 with 6:43 left in the 1st quarter.

Crane took over at their 18 yard line, and after a motion penalty, moved the ball back to the 13 yard line. They drove 87 yards in 6 plays to score. Crane quarterback Tyler Althof hit wide receiver Dalton Degraffenreid on a 51-yard streak pattern, moving the ball to the Wolf 31. Althof hit Sandoval for 4 yards and then hit Degraffenreid on an 11-yard pass that Wolf freshman Pip Jackson ran down from behind.

From the Wolves' 14 yard line, Crane quarterback Althof scored on a quarterback draw, making the score 7 to 6, after a missed PAT with 3:26 left in the 1st quarter.

The Wolves took Crane's kick-off at the Colorado City 43 yard line, and 3 plays later scored again. Gainey found no one open on the first play and had to throw the ball away. On his own quarterback draw, Gainey ran 11 yards to Crane's 44 yard line. David Sanchez took the next hand-off and raced 44 yards to score. Gainey's PAT kick was good, and at 2:28 in the 1st quarter, the Wolves led 14 to 6.

Crane went 3 and out on their next possession. Starting at their 34 yard line, Sandoval was team tackled for a 5 yard loss. Degraffenreid caught a wide receiver screen for 3 positive yards, then Sandoval was tackled behind the line for -7 yards. On 4th down, Crane got off a bad punt that went 11 yards, and the Wolves took over at the Crane 46 yard line.

On 1st and 10, Gainey aired it out on a streak pattern that was just over Tylor Lorenz's fingertips. On 2nd and 10, Gainey ran 11 yards for a 1st. From the 35 yard line, Sanchez ran 6, 4, and 5 yards, moving the ball to the 20. After a motion penalty, Gainey hit Henderson for 15 yards and a first down at the 5 yard line of Crane. On 3rd and 3, Gainey found wide receiver Jason Rodriguez in the end zone for the touchdown. The PAT was good and the Wolves led 21-6 with 8:00 to go in the first half.

Crane wasn't done. They took the Wolves' kick-off at their 19 yard line and drove 81 yards to score. They moved backwards 9 yards to the 10 yard line by a sack of Crane quarterback Althof by Wolf Fabian Gutierrez. Althof ran for 10 yards, then found Degraffenreid on a 16-yard slant, moving the ball to the Crane 41. Two passes of 16 and 23 to Crane receiver Chantz Kennedy, and they had the football at the Wolves' 7 yard line.

A roughing penalty moved the ball to the Wolf 4 yard line, and with 1st and goal, Crane running back Steve Heredia scored. Crane went for 2 and scored on a run by Heredia's making the score 21-14 with 4:10 to go in the half.

Colorado City wasn't through scoring in the 1st half either. They took the Crane kick-off and marched 90 yards on 8 plays. Sanchez ran for 4, Lorenz dropped Gainey's pass, then caught one for 11 yards and a 1st. Gainey hit Henderson for another 1st and 19 yards, moving the ball to their 44. Gainey ran for 13 and another 1st at the Crane 43.

Crane stuffed Sanchez for a 2-yard loss. Another Gainey pass was dropped, and then Gainey found Sanchez for 33 yards and a 1st, moving the ball to the Crane 12. Two 6-yard quarterback draws and Gainey scored. The PAT was good and Colorado City led 28-14 with 1:03 to go in the half.

Crane took the Wolf kick-off and ran the ball back 30 yards to the Wolf 49. After 2 incomplete passes, Althof found Degraffenreid on a fly pattern for 27 yards at the Wolf 27. Four passes later with only 7 yards gained, the Wolves took over, with time for one play and 80 yards to go, and Gainey took a knee to end the half.

The second half was not as pretty as their first half. Fumbles, dropped passes, penalties and 5 punts were the name of the game.

Colorado City started the 2nd half with the ball at their 19. Two runs by Sanchez netted -1 yard. Gainey hit Lorenz for 18 yards and a 1st. A roughing penalty on Crane moved the ball to the Crane 49. A motion penalty on the Wolves moved it back 5 yards.

Gainey passed to Lorenz for 25 yards, but a clipping penalty moved the ball back to the Crane 39. Lorenz was called for pass interference on the next play, and then a face mask penalty by Crane moved the ball 15 yards for a 1st down for the Wolves at the Crane 33.

A wide receiver screen to Henderson lost 8 yards, then 2 incomplete passes and the Wolves had to punt. Gainey's 28-yard kick was taken by Crane at their own 12 yard line. After a 10-yard 1st down run by Althof, the Golden Cranes went 3 and out and punted back to the Wolves.

The Wolves then went 3 and out and punted back to the Cranes, and once again, Crane went 3 and out and punted back to the Wolves.

Colorado City took over at the Crane 29, and a run by Sanchez for 4 yards and a Gainey pass to Rodriguez for 13 and the Wolves had the ball at the Crane 12 yard line. Gainey passed 6 yards to Jones and ran twice for 2 yards before settling on a 21-yard field goal, making the score 31-14 with 9:19 to go in the game.

Crane took over at their 25. Althof's first pass was knocked down by Anthony Rivera. His second pass was for 9 yards to Degraffenreid who was tackled from behind by Gonzalez. Then Crane ran for 15, moving the ball to the Crane 49. Althof passed 48 yards to Gunner Tatum for a 1st down. A saving tackle by Rodriguez and Crane had a 1st and goal from the Wolf 2 yard line. Heredia went over the goal line at 7:32 to go in the game, and the PAT was good to narrow the gap for Crane, 31-21.

Colorado City took the ball next at the Wolf 27, and a 17-yard pass by Gainey to Rodriguez made a 1st down. On 3 and out, Gainey got off a 24-yard punt.

From the Crane 32 yard line, Crane made a 1st down. Running back Tatum ran 21 yards but fumbled the ball. The Wolves recovered at their 27 yard line. After a motion penalty, Sanchez ran 3 yards, followed by a knocked down pass. On 3rd down, Gainey hit Rodriguez for 17 yards and a 1st, but then went 3 and out and punted back to Crane.

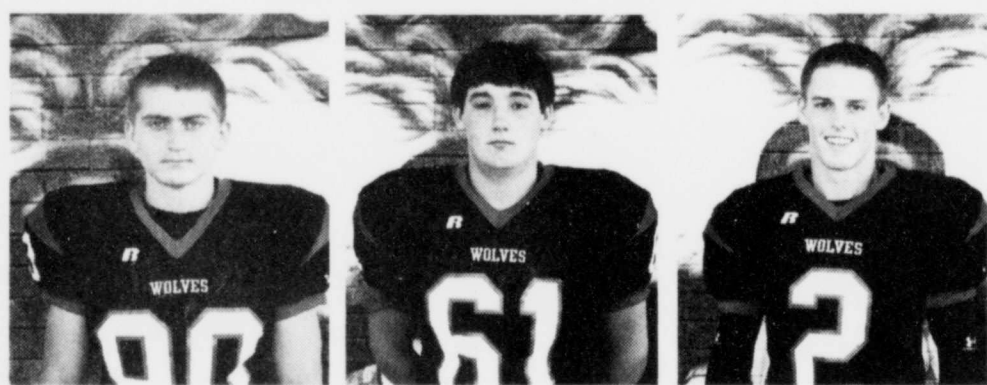

Crane took Gainey's 24-yard punt at their 48 yard line. Althof passed for 7 yards, then Lorenz intercepted the next pass, and the Wolves took over at their 24 yard line. Gainey took a knee on three snaps of the ball as time ran out and the Wolves won 31 to 21.

The Wolves have a home game this coming Friday night again Alpine at 7:30 p.m. Both teams need a win to secure a play-off spot. It will be a match-up of two spread offenses and good defenses.

WOLVES' CENTER JAKE JOHNSON (61) and lineman Steve Florez (51) prepare to block as the Wolves' offensive put up 384 total yards of offense against Crane last week.

Wolves face Alpine

at home this week

Colorado City's 31-21 victory over Crane last week put the Wolves in the driver's seat for a play-off berth, probably the runner-up in district.

"We control our own destiny," Head Coach Frank Johnson said.

Three teams enter the playoffs - district champions, runners-up and the third place team. Wall pretty much has secured the championship honor, so the Wolves need to win out and secure the runner-up bid. Normally, the runner-up team has an easier first round game than the third place team.

The big win against Crane was the first Wolf victory in Crane in over 15 years.

"I like the way our kids responded," Johnson said Monday. "We played good, even though we made a few mistakes."

Alpine comes to town Friday with a team that's very explosive and sports an excellent quarterback, along with a couple of good receivers. They return 8 starters on offense and 7 starters on defense from last year's 3-7 season. Sophomore Evan Moore was All-State Honorable Mention as a freshman last year and continues to put up big numbers every week.

"They're a spread team and like to run lots of screen passes," Johnson said. "I think they have a better run game than Crane," he added.

Johnson said the Wolves have got to play good defense and put points on the board in order to beat Alpine.

The Bucks have 2 losses this year, a 40-19 loss to Wall and a 20-17 loss to Crane. No new injuries to report on, other than an ACL problem suffered by Matt Potter.

JV and Junior High

The junior high and JV games will be played in Odessa Wednesday. No field was available on Thursday, and not wanting the younger kids to travel 5 hours to and from Alpine, coaches agreed to play on Wednesday. "Wednesday is not our first choice," Johnson said, "but we couldn't get a field any other time."

Lady Wolves win over

Sonora in three games

Sydney Upshaw recorded 34 assists; Heather Merket added 15 kills and the Lady Wolves of Colorado City put a spiningling spank down on Sonora this week, winning all 3 games and inching closer to first place Grape Creek.

"The Lady Wolves played hard in all three games," Head Coach

Anita Graham said. "They kept up the intensity and did not play down to Sonora's level."

The C-City girls jumped out early and often in the three games, posting scores of 25-17, 25-13 and 25-16 on their way to the win.

Tara Higgins added 11 kills, as Huntry Messick poured on 10 of her own. Lauan Meeks and Ann Marie Morrison combined for another 11 kills to round out the category for Colorado City.

"We had several unforced errors, but the girls kept attacking," Coach Graham said. "That is something we need to do more of, keep attacking no matter what the score is."

Erica McCright added 20 assists for the Lady Wolves, along with two aces. Upshaw also added six aces of her own, while Taylor Griffith had two.

Messick led the team with 21 digs, followed by Kaley Molina with 18, Heather Merket with 17, Darian Lendermon with 11 and Cassie Sutton with eight.

Higgins, Merket and Mackenzie Kimball combined for eight blocks in the game.

The JV Red and Black teams both won their matches against Sonora with identical 2-0 scores.

The Lady Wolves (2-1 in district play) will travel to Grape Creek (3-0) Saturday to play for a share of first place in the district, as Hawley and Sonora currently look up from the bottom of the pile with records of 1-2 and 0-3 respectively.

The girls of black and red will be back in The Pit Oct. 25 to face Sonora one more time. This will be senior night for the girls. The game is set to begin at 7 p.m. with the JV Red play at 5 p.m. and the JV Black plays at 6 p.m.

WESTBROOK HAPPENINGS

By Chrystal Jaimes
Westbrook Correspondent
Around Town...

Update on our dear friend Ester Vigil. She was hospitalized last week and was in very critical condition. Ester is still at Hendrick Medical Center in Abilene and is doing remarkably well.

We are hoping she will be coming home very soon. Our thoughts and prayers are with her and her family for a speedy recovery!

There was a lift on the burn ban and smoke filled the Westbrook air as many folks got very busy burning their burn piles and pits.

Fire Chief Brandon Hale celebrated his 30th birthday last week.

Mr. W. D. Whitesides will be celebrating his 94th birthday October 23rd, this Sunday.

His family and dear friends will be holding a birthday celebration for him on Sunday at Bucks Café at 5 p.m. All are welcome to come join us for this wonderful birthday celebration portant in the long run. Or we assume an assignment is busy work and not worth our time instead of seeing it as learning opportunity or point of departure for something bigger.

We accept failure as an end, instead of a stepping stone to success. Nothing worthwhile ever happened overnight or without a great deal of sweat and tears. Just because something didn't work the first time doesn't mean it won't.

Velcro, personal computers that fit in the palm of your hand, and ocean-floating airports all arose from someone who saw the possibilities and worked toward making it reality.

So the next time you have a brainstorm, go fly a kite. You might just invent electricity or the next best thing.

for our dear friend.

I'm thinking he is the wisest living "young man" in Westbrook these days.

Westbrook ISD News...

Westbrook ISD students of the month for the month of October are Kenzey Morris, Viviana Jaimes, Ivan Rivera and Mathew Molina.

We are super proud of these kiddoes.

This year's Fall Festival raised over $1800, a jump up from last year. We think this was a great success.

We appreciate all who came out and joined the fun.

I'm also thinking I saw Mr. Kenneth Beasley "jailed" at the 8th grade booth.

Last year's WHS King, Jr. Jaimes crowned the new WHS King Dylan Fulton and he crowned the new WHS Queen, Robin Casebeer. Congratulations to all who were crowned.

Several families participated in the traditional water balloon fight this year. Those I saw playing were: the Ray Hale family, the Morris family, the Lamb family, the Dominguez family, the Rivera family, the Parsons family and of course the Jaimes family, along with many, many other school kids and even some in masks.

Joel Gaona was in visiting from Midland for the traditional water balloon fight. Michael Bray was also in from South Plains College in Levelland, visiting family and friends and he too participated in the fight.

This week our junior high Wildcats will be playing the Loraine Bulldogs here at home. Kick-off for this game on Thursday will be 5 p.m.

The high school Wildcats will be traveling to Loraine to play the Bulldogs there, and kick-off will be at 7:30 pm. Wear your pink for supporting the Breast Cancer Awareness Month.

Remember When...

Remember when gas was $1.15 a gallon? Now, I am excited to buy it for $3.19 a gallon.

Remember when some of us as kids had to work in the cotton fields? I now threaten my child with the "repo" of electronic devices and phone service to get the chores done.

* Reminders...

There will be a meeting Saturday, October 22nd at the Westbrook School Cafeteria from 1 p.m. to 2 p.m. about our post office remaining open. Please attend if possible and return your surveys soon. They are very important!

There will be a box set up at Buck's for anyone who would like to let me know about any news, visitors, birthdays or reminders for our town. So keep watch for our new Westbrook Happenings in the Colorado City Record.

THE NEW WATER tower (right) in Loraine is about 3 weeks away from being put in service. Painting is nearing completion and engineers will test the tower before it is used. LORAINA will be painted on the north side and "Home of the Bulldogs" will be painted on the south side.

IN THE SPIRIT of Halloween friendly ghosts float through the pines at 742 Austin.

VAGINAL MESH LAWSUIT

Serious Complications from Synthetic Mesh and Slings

Trans-vaginal mesh and bladder slings are synthetic medical devices used to treat pelvic organ prolapse (POP) and bladder incontinence. These products have a very high failure rate. Complications include: mesh erosion, leakage, infections, painful sexual intercourse, movement of organs and need for additional surgeries. If you have had a mesh or sling implanted and are having problems, contact our law firm to discuss your legal options. No Legal Fees or Expenses unless we make a recovery for you. * Also accepting Kugel Hernia Mesh Cases.
