Most Movie Awards Are Won By Wind

(By The Associated Press)

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 29.—A big wind swept through the Ambassador hotel tonight, and carried with it most of the coveted annual awards of the academy of motion picture arts and sciences.

It was "Gone With the Wind," the motion picturization of Margaret Mitchell's best seller of the "Old South."

"Gone With the Wind" captured eight of a possible sixteen awards, including the best production, and two special awards.

The feminine star, Vivien Leigh, walked off with the palm as the best actress.

Only blank space in the list of major awards was Clark Gable's failure to take the male prize.

That went to Robert Donat, for "Goodbye, Mr. Chips." It was English stars the two major acting plums Hollywood can offer—chosen by a vote of the industry, from the biggest producer to the lowliest "grip."

Presentation of the "Oscars," as the gold statuettes are known, took place at the film colony's smartest party of the year. Everybody who is anybody attended. Tonight was no exception.

Employes Asked To Tap Wires Of Telephones

Ford Motor Attorneys Answer With Offer To Prove Agent Had Threatened Witness

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, Feb. 29—Testimony that employes of the Ford Motor company assembly plant here were ordered to listen in on a tapped telephone line and that a squad of workers on "outside duty" whipped a man with a bundle of wires went into the record in a NLRB hearing today.

Attorneys for the Ford company, which is charged with unfair labor practices, countered with an offer of proof that agents of the labor board had threatened a witness with FBI action, and had indicated they were acting for the board and for the FBI.

Threats Rumored

Ford attorneys also elicited from a witness a statement that it had been rumored at the Ford plant that "numerous threats" had been made against W. A. Abbott, jr., superintendent of the plant in 1937, "to scatter his brains or his kids' brains up and down Gaston avenue."

This witness, Jack George, an employe of the plant, said he went to the Abbott home, armed with a pistol he had borrowed from a fellow employe and with a blackjack he had obtained at the plant, as a guard.

Beating Described

George described the beating of a man named as Harold Foster Bowen, at an isolated spot east of here:

"He said he was not a union organizer, but was down here for his health, and some of the fellows told him it was not a healthy country.

"Then they put the hot leather to him. He was beaten with four or five wires taped together while one man threw a headlock on him."

Wire Is Tapped

George said Rudy Rutland identified in the labor board complaint as an officer, agent or employe of the company, instructed him and another employe to listen in on a

Adolf Hitler To Cite Need For Land To Welles

Two Are Scheduled To Confer After Diplomat Arrives From Rome And Confab With Duce

(By The Associated Press)

BERLIN, Feb. 29 — Security and domination within the region Germany regards as her living space appeared tonight to be the thesis Adolf Hitler will stress when talking with United States Undersecretary of State Sumner Welles, due in Berlin tomorrow from Rome and Zurich on his fact-finding European tour.

The German foreign office as a curtain raiser to Welles' arrival let its semi-official spokesman, Karl Megerle, restate Germany's war aim as that of rendering secure Germany's "Lebensraum" (living space). Megerle's restatement came in an editorial in his Berliner Boerzenzeitung.

Preliminary To Visit

Beyond that there was nothing concerning Germany's information for President Roosevelt investigator nor concerning Hitler's program which most likely will bring him in conference on his very first day here with Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop and then Hitler — with a visit to Field Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering later.

Megerle's article was said by authorized sources to be both a preliminary to Welles' visit and a reply to Secretary of State Hull's statement that the end of the war should bring an end to autarchy, regimentation and totalitarianism.

Authorized sources earlier had said Hull's objectives were impossible for Germany as long as Britain was able to cut off her trade.

Hitler Is Quoted

Megerle used as his text these words from Hitler's Munich address of last Saturday: "What we want is not subjugation of other peoples but security of German Lebenstraum and thereby security of the German people themselves."

"As German Lebensraum," Megerle said, "he designated first and

Kidd, Musick, Kemp, And Spitler Are Elected To Tech Publications Posts

WINNERS in student publications elections at Texas Technological college Thursday were announced early this morning after election officials had consumed more than seven hours in wading through tabulations of what was believed to be the largest vote ever cast in the history of the institution.

The winners:

For Toreador editor—Ed Kidd.

For Toreador business manager—George Musick.

For La Ventana editor—A. J. Kemp.

For La Ventana business manager—Frank Spitler.

Not only was the balloting the heaviest in history, but the final standings of the unusually large field of candidates was much closer than has been the case since the preferential system of balloting was adopted by the student association.

All Races Close

In only one race was there a decided margin, the remaining three places having been run off in near photo-finish style.

A total of 1,629 ballots were marked, according to Lee Byrd, president of the student body. That was in comparison to the largest number of last year, which reached 1,200. Byrd expressed the belief that the total cast in Thursday's heated balloting surpassed all previous marks.

Climaxes Campaign

The election was a climax to more than a month of vigorous campaigning on part of the many candidates seeking various offices, that for editor of the student semi-weekly newspaper, The Toreador, attracting four candidates, all of whom ran close races.

Under the preferential system, winners are determined on a point basis. According to that plan, the standings of the various races follow:

Kidd, Spear Close

For Toreador editor—Kidd, 4,625; Sid Spear, present associate editor of the publication, 4,504; Mary White, the only woman student in the entire campaign, 3,653; Rollin Herald, 3,505.

For Toreador business manager—Musick, 3,610; Roy Krebbs, 3,462; Orval Graham, 2,747.

For La Ventana editor — Kemp, 2,717; Wayne Smith, 2,164.

For La Ventana business manager—Spitler, 2,554; Wayne Finnell, 2,336.

Interest Runs High

One of the unusual features of the election was the fact that in every case with one exception, candidates were elected in order in which their names appeared upon the ballot. Position on the ballot was determined by drawing.

Though charges and counter charges had been lacking from the pre-election campaigning, interest perhaps was higher in this year's balloting than for any other time during the last five years, feeling running into temperatures even past announcement of results after midnight last night.

Soviets Within One Mile Of Finnish City

Many Civilians Are Killed As Reds Bomb Nearly Every Town Of Finland; Aid Dispatched

(By The Associated Press)

MOSCOW, March 1.—The Russian army reported early today that its forces had driven to within slightly more than a mile of Viipuri, strategic Finnish port on the gulf of Finland.

A communique from the Leningrad military headquarters said the red army was driving on Viipuri from the east and south in a developing offensive and that the nearest force had reached Ylasainio, just south of the city of Viipuri bay.

Planes Destroyed

The nearest point gained by the troops driving from the east was reported to be Pero, a railway station about five miles from Viipuri. Also reported occupied were Heinjoki, about 14 miles east of Viipuri and Ayrapaa, about 12 miles east of Heinjoki. All three places are on the Viipuri-Valkjarvi railroad.

The communique reported that 270 more Finnish fortifications, including 66 iron and concrete forts, were taken.

The red army claimed 36 Finnish airplanes were destroyed "in airdromes and in air combats" in widespread aerial activity.

CIVILIANS KILLED

HELSINKI, Feb. 29.—Many civilians were killed, fires were started which raged far into the night and much damage was done today by huge fleets of Russian bombing planes which attacked some Finnish cities.

Observers said it appeared nearly every town in Finland had been bombed.

At least ten persons were killed and many injured at the island town of Savonlinna, 80 miles north of Viipuri in Kokonselka lake, where the planes loosed their bombs in frequent attacks all through the day.

Aid Is Dispatched

First aid was rushed to the historic town devastated by dozens of fires.

The place, which Finns said is defenseless, is the site of the world-famous medieval island fortress of Olavi, hitherto one of the best preserved relics in northern Europe.

Riihimaaki, 40 miles north of Helsinki, was bombed five times, and

BILL TO WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29 (AP) — Machinery to pour out many millions of dollars in loans to Scandinavia and Finland was put into gear tonight after Congress completed action on a bill increasing the funds of the Export-Import bank by $100,000,000.

The bill goes to the White House for President Roosevelt's signature which is expected in the next few days.

Jesse Jones, federal loan administrator, told reporters that battling Finland would get "first call" on the money.

"We think well of them," he commented. "We'll be glad to lend them money. The limit we may lend is $30,000,000."

Thousands More Are Homeless In California

(By The Associated Press)

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 29.—The Sacramento river, swollen by torrents from its many tributaries, poured yellow water through broken dikes today, inundating villages and farmlands.

The breaching of the levees flooded three towns, with an aggregate population of about 800, and created a threatening situation in the lower valley.

Weather was favorable, however, and river experts predicted the flow soon would reflect the drop of the upper stream.

Not Many Hurt

Although more than 5,000 persons had been chased from their homes by the rising waters, the death toll from the four days of flood still stood at only two, and not more than a dozen were injured.

Nine breaks were forced in the levees, and the overflow isolated Butte city and its 400 residents, Princeton and Codora.

After the break in the dikes much concern developed for the safety of the area around Knight's landing, near the concourse of the Sacramento and flooded tributaries.

Three U. S. engineers—one named Elliott—were unreported after leaving Colusa to inspect levees between Princeton and Glenn, where the dikes broke on a 12-mile front.

Cities Isolated

Reports from the various flood areas were slow because of impaired telephone and telegraph lines, but it was believed Hamilton city and St. John were coming out of the flood without serious consequences. Earlier, considerable fear had been expressed for safety of the residents.

The Sacramento river fell four feet at Red Bluff during the night. The town of Gerber was drying out after having been inundated, Tehama still was flooded.

Quincy, in the upper Feather river country, was isolated by floods, as was Greenville, 22 miles north.

Testimony In Case Completed

(Special To The Avalanche)

TAHOKA, Feb. 29—Testimony in the trial of L. A. Enloe, charged as an accessory to murder in the death of Clen Browning in the Grassland community on the night of Nov. 11, 1939, was completed late this afternoon in 106th District court.

Judge Louis B. Reed, judge presiding, recessed the court about 4 o'clock, to convene again Friday afternoon at which time arguments will be heard. The case likely will go to the jury late that day.

Large Crowd Present

What is believed to be the largest crowd to jam the Tahoka district courtroom and overflow down the building's halls has been present for presentation of testimony the past two days. Selection of a jury began Monday and was completed late Tuesday, testimony starting Wednesday and closing this afternoon.

Prosecuting the case are District Attorney Truett Smith and Rollin McCord, county attorney, assisting Smith.

Attorneys for the defense are G. H. Nelson and Franklin D. Brown of Lubbock.

The trial is an outgrowth of the shooting of Clen Browning, 29, a farmer in the Grassland community 12 miles east of Tahoka. Drew Enloe, brother of L. A., is charged with

Rodeos, Stock Shows Planned

(By The Associated Press)

Hundreds of hopeful youths groomed fine animals and the world's best rodeo performers were on hand today for the regional livestock shows held each spring to foster Texas' great ranch industry.

All winter the future ranchmen and farmers have fed calves, lambs and pigs for these shows. The best animals were selected at scores of county and community shows for entrance at the larger expositions.

Fathers To Compete

While most of the shows are held primarily to assist in the education of the boys and girls, their fathers also will enter livestock for competition and sale at some.

Substantial prize money will be augmented by premium prices paid at auctions of the livestock.

The first of the larger shows, San Angelo's fat stock show and rodeo, opens today to continue through Monday. Prizes totaling $3,500 are being offered for the best among entries from 35 West Texas counties. Rodeo performers will compete in bronc riding, calf roping and other contests for a total of $6,000.

Palo Pinto county's three day show also opens today at Mineral Wells. It has been lifted above the usual run of small events by the addition of a rodeo at which $2,000 in prize money was posted.

Regional shows will be held later at Fort Worth, Houston, El Paso, Amarillo and Lubbock.

Slaton Station Is Hi-Jacked

SLATON, Feb. 29. (Special) — South Plains law enforcement authorities kept a sharp lookout late tonight for three men driving a stolen automobile which they took from Lubbock, used in a hi-jacking of a service station here and made their getaway.

Carroll's Service Station, located just outside the city limits on the Lubbock-Slaton highway, was hijacked of approximately $7.50 about 9:30 o'clock tonight by three men, one of whom remained in the car. A man named Byars was attending the station when the hi-jacking occurred and was unable to give a close description of the men.

The car, a 1938 black Nash coupe, Wyoming license No. 7-800, was stolen from L. Lipscomb at 1702 Texas

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29. (AP)—A legislative drive to amend the Hatch act so as to prohibit the collection of poll taxes as a prerequisite to voting was planned today by a group of southerners who said Mayor Maury Maverick of San Antonio, would be called as their first witness next Wednesday.

Maverick, former Democratic representative, is chairman of the civil rights committee of the Southern Conference for Human Welfare, backer of the amendment which was introduced last August by Representative Geyer (D-Calif).

The conference said in a statement that the poll tax was still a requirement for voting in Tennessee, Virginia, South Carolina, Alabama, Georgia, Mississippi, Arkansas and Texas.

TUCSON, Ariz., Feb. 29. (AP)—A national policy "friendly to all honest business," repeal of the Wagner labor act and abolition of the National Labor board were advocated tonight by Frank Gannett, New York publisher seeking the Republican presidential nomination.

Speaking at a Republican rally, Gannett lambasted the New Deal and declared that, if elected, he "would surrender all the extraordinary powers President Roosevelt now holds under the so-called emergency."

Refugees From Matrimony Fare Badly In Aurora Where Women Rule For Day In Keeping With Feb. 29 Custom

(By The Associated Press)

AURORA, Ill., Feb. 29—Hundreds of melancholy men—charged with the heinous crime of bachelorhood — jammed the jail house today.

They were cast there by girls who took charge of this city of 52,000 in a coup de charm. In keeping with a traditional leap year day custom, the young women assumed control of the city hall, police and fire departments, business houses and the bastile—and all was merry confusion for 12 hours.

Mayor Audrey Kesel, brunette dancing teacher, decreed:

"Get those bachelors."

Copperettes collared hapless males on streets, in stores and factories. The prisoners were whisked off in paddy wagons, cooled in jail for several hours and hailed before Mary Whitels, pretty police magistrate. Fines were assessed promptly—stockings, candy, flowers, lingerie.

The eligible Dr. Joseph Wadkins was penalized two grams of perfume for celibacy with malice aforethought. Suddenly he leaped to the bench, uttered a proposal and shouted: "I really mean it."

The flustered judge sent him back to the dungeon.

Within the next two hours, 167 defendants popped the question. To one and all she addressed a coy: "See you later."

One panicky fugitive from matrimony took refuge on a roof. Another hid in a cellar. Five escaped from a patrol wagon en route to court.

The fire lassies took the one genuine alarm in stride. They slid down the brass pole, mounted a truck and rumbled off to a burning house. (But the men regulars extinguished the blaze.)

John D. Grisch, a salesman, was forced into a red dress and pressed into service as a policewoman. As his first chore, he placed a cuspidor beside the comely mayor's chair. He was hustled off to the hoosegow pronto.

Alderwomen-for-a-day railroaded through a $71,092 payroll. Items included $10,000 each for Clark Gable and Robert Taylor and 50 cents to underwrite a haircut for Harry Warner, bald mayor of Aurora.

"Petticoat rule" ended at a night banquet. The finery and fripperies piled up in the magistrate's court were divided.

And the brideless boys looked forward in relief to four more years of peace and single blessedness.

Reds Trying To Get Quick Win

By DE WITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press Staff Writer

The fierceness of the bolshevist drives against the Finns represents a supreme effort on the part of the reds to make a quick "kill" before several prospective brands of trouble are dumped across their bloody route.

The Muscovite Behemeth is trying to out-run time. But despite the fact that the defenders are bent under the mountainous weight being flung against them it's anybody's war yet.

The Finns still may turn the trick if their dog-tired, but determined little army can withstand for maybe a month terrific pressure which is being exerted against it, both from the north and from the south. That would give time for the development of two things which the Russians fear most:

Force Is Talked

1. Dispatch of an Allied expeditionary force to support the defenders is being talked actively in London and the idea appears to be growing in favor rapidly.

2. When the scent of spring begins to fill the air, mother nature again will take a hand to protect her folk in the land of lakes by turning the country-side into a near-morass across which armies cannot fight.

Other aid already is getting through to the Finns, including volunteers of many nationalities. A striking indication that things are beginning to swing toward the Finns is the announcement in London the Major Kermit Roosevelt, son of the late President Theodore Roosevelt, would apply for permission to resign his commission in the British army to take command of the international volunteers in Finland.

The number of volunteers who have arrived has not been made known, but the move to appoint Major Roosevelt to the command would indicate that a substantial force already is on the ground or expected in the immediate future.

Must Have Help

Allied intervention with a trained and fully equipped expeditionary force would, of course, mean a declaration of war against the reds. It would also mean the forcing of Russia into military alliance with Germany. However, the feeling has been steadily growing in the Allied countries that they will have to fight Russia sooner or later and that it would be better to strike as soon as possible.

In other words, the present tendency of the Anglo-French brotherhood is to undertake to trounce both Russia and Germany at the same time, and get the job over with.

So the Russians are racing to try to beat out the Allies and spring. The latter may arrive first, and if it finds the Finns still holding out there will be nothing left for the bolshevists to do but to resort to their huge airforce to try to complete the job of crushing Finland, which would take a lot of doing. In the long run, however, the Russians must win because of their vast strength—unless the Allies send help.

Garner's Entry In Primary Elections May Hurt Party

By W. B. RAGSDALE
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29. — The laggardly filing of other Democratic candidates for president has helped to put Vice President Garner in the position of a sore thumb which may get hurt before the convention scramble ends.

Thus far, he is the only candidate listed in competition with President Roosevelt in any of the preferential primaries. A few of his backers are beginning to wonder whether the reaction will work for or against the vice president.

Backers Are Fearful

They are somewhat fearful that the Garner name will become so closely identified with the Roosevelt opposition as not only to lessen the possibilities of getting presidential backing for his candidacy but also to help promote a bitterness inside the party which they are anxious to avoid.

Already the stress is being laid on the vast amount of work which Garner did to help get New Deal legislation enacted. His arguments with the president are being given less attention. Few of those who have followed closely the course of legislation during the last seven years have any doubts of the strong force that the vice president brought to bear for many of the New Deal measures. His supporters say the part he played was so important that they cannot conceive of Mr. Roosevelt failing to campaign for him if the Texan gets the presidential nomination.

Want To Stay Friendly

But some of the disagreements between the president and vice president have been edged with bitterness. In spite of the personal friendship between them, it is none too certain that the president would support Garner.

This is some of the background which lies behind the slowness of Garner's friends to file his name in Ohio. For the sake of the party and its chances of winning the election, they want to help keep the primary jousting on as friendly a basis as possible.

Photos Cause Row In Court

NEW YORK, Feb. 29. (AP)—Defense and prosecution engaged in out-of-court struggle today over admissibility of four death-scene photographs as evidence in the trial of Ernest Kehler, 24, Canadian-born prize fighter, for the slaying of Dr. Walter Engelberg, German consulate secretary.

Defense Attorney Leo Healy insisted the pictures were so shocking they would prejudice the jury.

Women spectators were barred.

Healy and Prosecutor Burton Turkus were taken into the judge's chambers to argue the question.

Dr. Edward Marten, Kings county medical examiner, described finding Dr. Engelberg's body lying in a blood-spattered bed with the victim's right fist clinched.

Healy has indicated part of the defense would be that Kehler killed the German in "self-defense," although the pugilist has said his homicidal fury was aroused by indecent advances by Dr. Engelberg.

Hearing On Resolution To Curb Census Takers Is Continued

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29. (U.P.) — "It's another declaration of independence on the Horizon!"

That was the description given today by Senator Charles W. Tobey, R., N. H., of his campaign to put the Senate on record against permitting the census bureau to ask citizens how much money they earned in 1939.

Tobey temporarily rested his case late yesterday and today heard census officials defend their 1940 census questions against charges that the were "malicious snoopers." Census Director W. L. Austin and Dr. Willard L. Thorp, economic advisor to Secretary of Commerce Harry L. Hopkins, will testify before the Senate commerce subcommittee considering Tobey's resolution.

ACADEMY AWARDS

THE winners probably will be announced in today's papers but this is Thursday afternoon and we are predicting winners for the academy "oscars." If "Gone" is considered we lay our odds on one V. Leigh; if not we'll stick with Miss B. Davis. As for the gentleman, it seems a toss up between Goodbye Mr. Donat and "well I don't know J. Stewart."

ON EVENING CLOTHES

GERMAINE Monteil, foremost American designer, says:

Germaine Monteil

"If you can have only two evening outfits for spring and summer, one should be formal with a classic decolletage, preferably with a jacket; the other a softly tailored, not-too-casual dinner dress.

"If you are size 40 or over, look for a gown with widened shoulders; a skirt which, from front and back views, gives a completely straight line, from the side a view of center front and center back fullness; fullness in the center of the bodice.

"Choose evening clothes that flatter your figure and which will be not too elaborate for your particular social life. At least one ought to be packable. Avoid colors which mark you. Avoid bizarre effects, but not necessarily extreme ones. There's a great difference between them."

DR. JOHN THOMPSON

WE hope every music teacher takes advantage of the opportunity to hear Dr. Thompson. He is without doubt the most outstanding composer of piano teaching material at the country at the present time. An interesting lecturer, his ideas are new and we think every piano teacher in Lubbock and the South Plains should make every effort to attend his classes to be conducted today and Saturday.

Good, conscientious teachers, which describes those in our section, are always on the lookout for new angles in the teaching field and Dr. Thompson with his knowledge and wide experience can be helpful in many ways.

APPLE BUTTER SNACK

APPLE butter as a filling for graham crackers will make a good between-meal snack or a lunch box filler for the youngsters. It's healthful, too. In fact, a mother told us recently if you and your family eat apple butter every day you'll find you won't need medicine. Homemade apple butter isn't bad, is it?

OF ALL THINGS!

JIMMY Fidler, that nervous sounding, staccato talking, radio commentator on what's going on in the film world, made a puzzling remark the other day. He said that action portrayed by films is stronger than action described by words.

We thought of arguing about that. And remembered the quotation: "The pen is mightier than the sword." After all, aren't all of these things just one man's opinion.

And why oppose a guy like Fidler who's crazy over the movies.

MIND YOUR MANNERS

TEST your knowledge of correct social usage of answering the following questions, then checking against the authoritative answers below:

1. Is it good taste to leave the cards on wedding gifts when they are shown to friends?

2. Should checks from relatives which are also wedding gifts be shown to friends?

3. If the bride has a brother whose age is suitable, should the groom ask him to be an usher?

4. May a man have his father for best man?

5. Is it necessary for the husband of the matron of honor to be in the wedding party?

What would you do if—

You are a man marrying a girl who lives at a great distance from your home and are wondering what to do about ushers since you do not have any friends in her city—

(a) Ask your friends to come to the wedding, if you think they will be able to?

(b) Ask men who are good friends of the bride and her family to serve as ushers?

Answers

1. Yes.
2. No. Though it is all right to say "Uncle Ned gave us a check." They'll probably ask "how much," anyway.
3. Yes.
4. Yes.
5. Not at all.

Best "What Would You Do" solution—either (a) or (b).

Exciting Events Are Result Of Loss Of Only One Thin Dime

EL PASO, Feb. 29. (U.P.)—It was just a dime that slipped from its youthful owner's hand through a sidewalk grating, but the ensuing events caused a lot more excitement than the coin's monetary value. Here's what happend:

A 15-year-old boy dropped the dime, which rolled into the dark recesses through the grating. He struck a match and dropped it into the hole to locate the coin.

A few seconds later, a quantity of waste paper flared up.

A few minutes later, a whole fire company was on hand. The fire was quickly put out.

(The boy recovered his dime.)

Piggly Wiggly Store Moved

Piggly Wiggly No. 4, which has been at 1517 Avenue Q since 1927, has moved to a new building recently constructed at the corner of Nineteenth and Avenue Q and formal opening will be conducted today and Saturday. The store was open for business in the new location Thursday.

The new building is one of the most modern in Lubbock and was constructed by M. W. Rogers and leased to Davis and Humphries, operators of Piggly Wiggly stores in this area. It is of brick and tile construction with a stucco interior trimmed in tile.

Space More Than Doubled

The new building more than doubles the floor space of the store over that of its old quarters, the new store having 4,560 square feet of floor space compared to 2,080 in the former location.

The store is new throughout, new fixtures having been installed in the new building. The fixtures are similar to those of store No. 14 opened February 9 at Thirteenth and Avenue Q. Fixtures are of natural oak with new bin-type shelving throughout.

Ross Hanna, who has managed the store for several years, will continue in the same capacity. Assistant manager is Hardy Humphries. Burl Ham is manager of the meat market; James Nelson is stock man and Geo. N. Atkinson is clerk in the meat department.

Coffee and cookies will be served patrons of the new store Friday and Saturday and Wiley and Gene, KFYO entertainers, will be heard in special broadcasts from the store Friday and Saturday at 12:30 p. m.

Ample parking space is provided at the new store, both on Avenue Q and Nineteenth street, the building having been constructed back from the street to allow room for patrons' automobiles.

The store is one of six in Lubbock and one of fourteen on the South Plains operated by Davis and Humphries, wholesale grocers, who came here and opened a grocery business 16 years ago. Clifford Williams, an original employe of the company, is supervisor of the stores. Palmer T. Glazner is manager of the company's wholesale house at 2305 Avenue H.

Wheat Market Fools Officials

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29. (AP) — Administration farm officials have expressed themselves as puzzled by the independent strength American wheat markets have been showing during recent weeks.

American prices have been soaring far above most foreign quotations. At Gulf and Pacific coasts ports, prices are about 25 cents a bushel above the level which would place American grain on a competitive basis with Argentine, Canadian and Australian wheat in import markets.

Agriculture department grain experts say that the government's loan program has tendede to place a floor under domestic prices, but not at prevailing prices. Under this program, farmers may store surplus wheat under government loans at rates considerably in excess of prices dictated normally by supply and demand factors.

While pleased at high prices, federal authorities have expressed the belief that too little in the world wheat surplus will cause markets to rise sharply.

Thursday Was Big Day Of Calendar—Or Leap Year

NEW YORK, Feb. 29. (U.P.)—Today was the big day of bis sexto calendas, or leap year, the extra day bestowed every four years (with certain exceptions) of a lengthening posterity by Julius Caesar's astronomers.

Caesar's astromers, figuring out a calendar more satisfactory than the one based on the moon which the Romans then used, devised a year of 365 days and six hours, coinciding with the sun's movements, but to avoid bothering with the six hours every year they added an extra day to every fourth year.

But even so, the sun and the calendar would fall out of step were it not for a more precise mathematical formula governing the occurences of leap year. The formula: "Every year the number of which is divisible by four is a leap year, excepting the last year of each century, which is a leap year only when the number of the century is divisible by four; but 4,000 and its multiples, 8,000, 12,000, 16,000, etc., are common years."

Thus 1900 was not a leap year and this is the root of an error which caused thousands to celebrate toda ythe 21st birthday of Frederic, an apprentice pirate, and his consequent freedom to marry a maid named Mabel who was young and beautiful in 1879 when Frederic had lived 21 years.

Hero Of Opera

Frederic was the hero of the Gilbert and Sullivan opera, "The Pirates of Penzance," from which came the melody but not the words of "Hail, Hail, the Gang's All Here." His parents told his governess when he was a child, to take him out and apprentice him to a pilot. She misunderstood and apprenticed him to a pirate. At 21, in love with Mabel, he asked to be released from his indenture. The pirate king pointed out that since he had been born on Feb. 29 he would not be released until he was 21 on Feb. 29, 1940.

Back in 1879 when the opera was first produced, 1940 was a long way off and the audiences guffawed when Frederic and Mabel assured one another that they would wait with their love unabated. Tonight the American Gilbert and Sullivan association presents a tableaux of their happy union and countless pianos and amateur tenors will recall Frederic's love.

But Sir W. S. Gilbert forgot that 1900 was not a leap year because the only century years which have 366 days are those like 1600 and 1200 the first two digits of which are divisible by four. Actually Frederic will not be 21 until 1944.

Young Man Who Believes He Is King To Visit America

By LOUIS F. KEEMLE
United Press Cable Editor

Otto of Hapsburg, an earnest young man with one fixed idea in life—that he is a king and emperor by divine right—is about to visit America.

He will come incognito and by clipper plane, in contrast to this country's most recent royal visitors, the king and queen of Great Britain.

Otto is heir to an ancient, vanished throne. His iron-willed mother, the former Empress Zita of Austria-Hungary, and his devoted supporters hope to see him entrenched king and emperor in central Europe again at the end of this war. The object of his visit is to promote that cause.

By Skillful Mother

Otto has been reared by his diplomatically skilful mother as an emperor and divine ruler. He is known to his followers as the emperor, royal by birth and actually emperor at the moment his father, the Emperor Charles, died in comparative poverty and in exile in 1922.

In Steenockerzeel castle in Belgium, where Otto spent much of his exile, he was reared in the atmosphere of an almost absurdly-pretentious court. The servants addressed him as "your majesty" and retired backward from the royal presence as he sat in a lordly chair resembling a throne.

Settled Arguments

As a child, in play with his brothers and sisters, he would settle juvenile arguments with the finality, "I am king." He was tutored in languages and the sword, in the scepter and the strategy of the throne.

He was taught by his mother that it is beneath his dignity to shake hands with any but the aristocracy. Very probably, in the interests of his mission, that will be modified in this country.

America will find in him an earnest young man, zealous in his cause and regal in his bearing. His education was thorough. He is an accomplished linguist—rather awkward in German—with good command of French, English, Spanish and the languages of central Europe. In the latter he was especially drilled as part of his training.

Proficient In Sports

Otto is fairly tall and well-built and is proficient in sports. He is an ardent Roman Catholic and received his early education from the benedictine monks.

His attitude towards life is that of an ascetic. He has never shown any inclination toward romance and attempts to match him with a princess of the Italian royal family several years ago failed conspicuously. Otto is now 27.

Zita reared him with rigid discipline. She never lost faith in the Hapsburg destiny and held the torch which kept the Hapsburg flame alight in Europe during the devastating post-war days, the ascent of Adolf Hitler and the collapse of Austria. It is a saying of the Hapsburg line that their only men are their women.

To Travel As Duke

Otto's projected visit to America is described as private and he is traveling as the Duke de Bar. He lacks any official capacity.

His mother's instructions, it is understood, are to seek in general the sympathy of Catholics in the United States but also to sound out American reaction to plans to re-establish the Hapsburg monarchy in central Europe in the event of an Allied victory.

Otto's plans are understood to be sponsored by Hugarian and other "legitimista" and also some Allied quarters. They are believed to comprise not only Austria but also, based on a federal system, Hungary, Czechoslovakia and possibly other parts of the former Austro-Hungarian monarchy.

Could Stand Drive

Otto's supporters base their plan on the theory that post-war developments have demonstrated that Austria-Hungary was an economic entity, the breaking up of which proved most harmful to the economy of the newly-created independent states.

They further emphasize that a Hapsburg federation would be able to withstand more effectively a possible southeastern drive by Germany in the remote future.

Otto, according to private advices from Europe, intends to place his arguments before Americans now, when Sumner Welles is abroad on a mission connected with peace readjustment projects.

Rep. Patman Will Press For Passage Of Chain-Store Tax

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29. (AP) — Representative Patman (D-Tex) said today he would press for passage of his chain-store tax bill, despite a "threat of the chain store group" to finance an opponent against him.

The Texan said in a statement that unless the House ways and means committee granted a hearing on the measure, he would ask the rules committee to permit direct consideration of it on the House floor.

Demo Committee Plans Meeting

BATON ROUGE, La., Feb. 29. (U.P.) The state Democratic central committee has been summoned to convene here at 9:30 a. m., Saturday.

Announcement of the meeting followed increasing opposition to the committee's nomination last Sunday of Governor Earl K. Long as secretary of state to succeed the late E. A. Conway, Sr.

Long was nominated over James A. Gremillion, choice of the forces of Governor-Nominate Sam Houston Jones. The nomination took place in a session, during which much of the resentment that arose from the Louisiana scandals was aired.

The first congressional district committee members announced that its leaders favored the Jones nominee instead of Long.

Two employes of the Monroe office of the state collector of revenue blamed their dismissal on the fact that Long had been unable to obtain the proxy votes which they controlled in the Saturday night meeting.

Hoover Asks Polish Funds

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29. (AP) — Former President Hoover recommended today that Congress appropriate $10,000,000 to $20,000,000 now for Polish relief.

"The whole of Europe will be a spot of starvation when the war is over," he told the House foreign affairs committee, in declaring that the hardest hit of all today is dismembered Poland.

Hoover has been active lately in helping raise funds for Finland.

Would Help Work

An appropriation now for Polish relief, Hoover testified, would help greatly in expediting the work, since the relief agency details could best be worked out with knowledge of what money was in sight.

"There must be neutral supervision of the distribution," he said, "to insure that the relief goes to the people for whom it was intended."

Hoover said the German government was "insisting, naturally" that the groups participating be "absolutely neutral" in their conduct so that none of the supplies be used in any way prejudicial to the Reich and its war effort.

No Truth In It

Rep. Hennings (D-Mo) asked about a rumor" that the German government had refused to cooperate with the American Red Cross because it was "pro-British."

"I don't think there is any truth to that anywhere along the line," Hoover replied. He added that the American Red Cross was not concerned with distribution of foodstuffs and did not want to be now.

"We're discussing the mass feeding of a people that will cost $50,000,000," he said.

For that reason, Hoover urged the committee to distinguish clearly in its mind the activities of private agencies raising relief funds for Poland or other countries from the proposed famine relief for Poland.

Hoover's parting words to the committee were in disagreement with a statement by Rep. Tinkham (R-Mass) that aid to Finland at this time might constitute a violation of this country's neutrality law unless previous agreement was obtained from Russia.

"No, I don't agree with that theory," Hoover replied.

"If the American people keep their actions on the basis of pure humanitarian relief, there can be no question of violation in either fact or spirit of neutrality."

Applause greeted that statement.

PLAN EXTENDED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29 (U.P.) — Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace announced today that the flood stamp plan for supplying relief families with surplus agricultural commodities will be extended to Houston, Tex., and the rest of Harris county within a month.

Line For Marriage Licenses Is Not So Long As That For Autos, Bridegroom Learns

BALTIMORE, Feb. 29. (AP)—A smiling young man stood in a line of gloomy-faced individuals for two hours in the municipal building lobby.

When he asked a question, the sad-looking man in front of him replied: "Sure, we're all waiting for licenses—auto licenses."

"Oh," said the cheerful one. "That's why everyone looks so gloomy. I want a marriage license."

He was sent to the courthouse, where there was no line.

Mrs. James Roosevelt And Her Brother Arrive For Trial

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Feb. 29. (U.P.) Mrs. James Cushing Roosevelt, her brother and her attorney, arrived today to prepare for her divorce action against President Roosevelt's eldest son.

After Roosevelt, now a Hollywood motion picture producer, filed suit for divorce and charged desertion, she filed a cross complaint. No date has been set for the trial. Roosevelt is en route here from the East but it was not expected that he would appear in court, as division of property and custody of the two children, Sara Delano, 7, and Kate, 4, has been settled privately.

Mrs. Roosevelt's attorney, Basil O'Conner and her brother, Henry Kirk Cushing, said she had no comment on the divorce action.

Westerners Battle Crowell In Regional Meet Tonight

Pampa To Tangle With Dimmitt

This afternoon at 1:45 o'clock, Coach "Goober" Keyes' unpredictable Westerners embark for Canyon and what they hope will be a successful foray into the promising Regional One "sudden death" playoff tonight with a trio of the toughest hardwood machines in the Panhandle.

The Lubbock lads make their debut in the regional chase against the scrapping and favored Crowell crew, the game getting under way at 8:45 o'clock.

"Sudden Death" Play

Opener of the new system of "one defeat means elimination" finds Pampa's powerful Harvesters tangling with the "darkhorses" of the annual event, Dimmitt's fine cagers, in the four-way scramble for the first time in their hardwood history.

The Sickle Wielders and Dimmitt boys clash at 7:45 o'clock.

Winners of the two preliminary tests return to the West Texas State Teachers college gym, scene of the contests, at 8 o'clock Saturday night for the championship clash.

Crowell Is Favored

Crowell, beating out opposition in the strong Childress district, enters the playoff as the top-heavy favorite. Both Pampa and Lubbock have survived hard schedules, but possibly haven't the fight to match that of the Bobcats, triumphant over the tough Turkey five in the title tussle of District Four, 40 to 27, the same district in which the Carey Cardinals have ruled for so long, later going into the state finals to make a big noise.

Dimmitt will be the question mark of the tournament, having won its first district title and marching into the ranks of "major" competition for an initial dose of fast play.

Promising Clash Seen

Considerable speculation is centered around a meeting Saturday night btween the Bronc Busters and the Harvesters. Just now, the two bitter rivals are deadlocked for "Big Five" honors, and that is the way the situation will go down in the records for 1940, but should the usually hustling charges of Coach Keyes and equally energetic machine of Coach Odus Mitchell stop their first round opposition and clash in the payoff, then two problems could be settled with one game.

Not only would the titlist and representative to Austin be named for the Regional One play but the rather heated dispute over just who is superior in the "Big Five" chase would be settled to everyone's satisfaction — theoretically determining the champion of the Panhandle league.

They're All Even

Lubbock has not played Crowell nor Dimmitt this season. The Black and Gold clad lads have met and conquered and lost to Pampa, however. In their season debut, the Westerners thumped the boys from the north Panhandle, 23 to 20, then succumbed to the Harvesters' attack in Pampa days later, thus bringing about the tie.

They may settle more than just a Regional championship in Canyon today and tomorrow, after all.

Coach Keyes announced the following would make the trip to Canyon: Pete Cawthon, Leete Jackson, Robert McKinnon, L. A. Storrs, Max Walthall, J. A. Blackwell, Roland Nabors, James Kelly, Joe Tyson, James Barker, Frank Smith and Francis Bearden.

Boxing Buildup Ballyhoo Is Censored By Texas Commission

AUSTIN, Feb. 29 (AP)—A warning to boxing promoters in Texas that "misrepresentation of any boxer will not be tolerated" came today from Travis McCall, first assistant labor commissioner in charge of boxing and wrestling.

McCall informed promoters the state department kept a record of all contests which was forwarded to them monthly for use on publicizing fights.

"The public is entitled to the true record of all contestants that they pay an admittance fee to see perform," McCall wrote the promoters. He requested promoters to contact him when doubt arose as to a boxer's record.

CRONIN MEANS BUSINESS

SARASOTA, Fla., Feb. 29 (AP) — Manager Joe Cronin and Slugger Jimmy Foxx formed the welcoming committee that greeted the Red Sox special when it pulled into this training camp late today. The manager has scheduled the opening workout for tomorrow and warned his battery candidates that it would be "strenuous."

"We'll need all the pitching strength we can get," Cronin said, "for no matter how tough the sledding is, we're going to be near the top when the season ends."

DUTCH LEONARD SIGNS

ORLANDO, Fla., Feb. 29. (AP) — President Clark Griffith of the Senators heaved a sigh of relief today—his holdout problems have dwindled overnight.

Dutch Leonard, who won 20 games last season, and Cecil Travis, infielder, came to terms.

Griffith's remaining contract worry is young Jimmy Pofahl, infielder.

Put Away That Tackle, Now, Until May 1

(By The United Press)

AUSTIN, Feb. 29 — Bass and crappie fishing in Texas waters will become illegal tomorrow and will be banned until May 1. Anglers must heed local laws, too, for many counties do not allow fishing of any kind during the closed season. Will J. Tucker, executive secretary of the state game department warned today.

In Kimble, Uvalde and Zavalla counties, it has been unlawful to catch those species and others since Jan. 1.

It is illegal to fish for bass, crappie, calico perch and bream, during February, March and April in Hays, San Patricio, Jim Wells, Live Oak, Gonzales, McLennan, Bosque and Hamilton counties.

Ten counties do not allow any species of fresh water fish to be caught during March, April and May. The counties which do not open their season for anglers until June 1 are Bandera, Kerr, Edwards, Real, Sutton, Mason, Menard, Blanco, Kendall and Gillespie.

The taking of bass, perch, crappie and catfish is illegal during February, March and April, in Comal, Guadalupe, Medina and Wilson counties.

Here Are Some More

Harrison and Marion counties do not allow fishing for any type of game fish from Feb. 15 to April 15.

Travis county closes the season on black bass, white bass and crappie Feb. 1 and does not reopen it until May 1.

It is illegal to fish for bass, crappie and bream in waters of Young county which have been stocked by the state from Feb. 1 to May 1.

The state game department has been attempting for many years to close the fishing season for at least four months because many fish spawn in Texas waters earlier than March 1. Anglers have caught tens of thousands of fish during the last two months which were filled with eggs. That, game officials say, is the reason 30 counties have regulations closing the season earlier than the state law prescribes.

Handicap Entries Splash Through Mud

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 29. (AP) — Reassuring predictions for clear weather and a fast racing strip Saturday brought cheer to owners of speed candidates in the $100,000 added Santa Anita handicap, but it will take more than mere forecasts to ease their anxiety.

With entries for the mile and one quarter event due to be announced around noon tomorrow, the heavens today were earnestly scanned for signs of rain.

A downpour during the night drenched the track, and it was muddy when workouts were held this morning, but Dr. Irving Krick, the track's official weatherman, declared there would be no more rain today or tomorrow. His forecast did not go into Saturday's possibilities.

Biscuit Looks Good

Jockey Leon (Buddy) Haas, brought here from Florida by C. S. Howard to ride Kayak II, winner of the 1939 Santa Anita handicap, got acquainted with the Argentine for the first time this morning. He took him for a gallop, but did not ask for a real test.

Howard's other star, Seabiscuit, surprised with a nice workout in the mud, doing five-lengths in one and 2-5, which is good traveling for the 7-year-old on such a track.

The probable lineup for the big race remains about the same. The Binglin stable may send Ra II postward with Don Mike.

The field, as figured today, probably will include the two Howard candidates, the two Binglin steeds, Whichee, Specify, Heelfly, Can't Wait, War Plunge, Wedding Call, Royal Crusader, Kantan and possibly one or two others.

Game birds cannot be taken in Texas by use of nets or traps.

State Catholic Cage Meet Begins Today

SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 29 (AP)—St. Joseph's academy of Laredo and St. Joseph's academy of Yoakum pry off the lid of the sixth annual state Catholic basketball tournament here tomorrow afternoon.

A record field of 12 Catholic teams have entered the tournament and all will see action either tomorrow afternoon or night.

Cathedral High of El Paso, defending champions who will be after their third straight championship and fourth in the six-year old tourney, arrived today and got in a good workout. The West Texans meet St. Edward's of Austin in their first-round game tomorrow night.

Winner of this year's tournament will be eligible to compete in the Loyola academy-sponsored national tournament in Chicago, March 27 to 30.

Friday's pairings: Yoakum vs Laredo; St. Mary's of Fort Arthur vs Kirwin of Galveston; St. Joseph's of Dallas vs St. Anthony's of Beaumont; El Paso vs Austin; St. Henry's of San Antonio vs St. Joseph's of Victoria; Central Catholic of San Antonio vs St. Joseph's of Brownsville. The last four games are night tilts.

The finals will be played Sunday.

Game cannot be brought into Texas during the closed season on such game without a permit from the Game, Fish and Oyster Commission.

WALTER MAILS: Intimates know he's smart and serious

Walter Hasn't Changed; Still The Cheerful Earful

By SAM JACKSON
Associated Press Feature Service Writer

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 29.—Which of the old-time baseball stars is most in the public eye today may be a matter of debate, but there is no question which one is most in the public ear.

He is Walter "The Great" Mails, who pitched the Cleveland Indians to their one World Series championship back in 1920 and made things tough for big league batters for a decade.

In spite of his fine physique and handsome features, many people think of "The Great" Mails not as a creature of flesh and blood but as a great; booming voice. His utterances are loud and they are frequent, and they are directed to just two ends.

Two Main Purposes

1—To glorify the San Francisco Seals baseball club, for which he is public relations man.

2—To stimulate the building of playgrounds as the best means of solving the juvenile crime problem.

Up and down the coast goes Mails, in and out of season, talking baseball and playgrounds to lunch clubs, women's clubs, or anyone who will listen. His voice fills an auditorium without effort, and he'll cheerfully speak three or four times a day.

Headlines read:

MAILS HURLS LANGUAGE AT LIONS CLUB.

GIVE YOUTH A HAND, SAYS WALTER MAILS.

MAILS SOUNDS OFF: BUILD PLAYGROUNDS, CURB CRIME.

When the Seals are on the home grounds, Mails calls the plays over the loudspeaker and clowns for the appreciative fans. He has been on the diamond in more costumes than you'd see at an artists' ball, and he can make even a baseball uniform look funny.

Intimates know that the ex-pitcher is a smart and serious man, but the clown reputation is hard to shake off. When he ran for sheriff in 1938 he was beaten.

Surroundings Influence Him

Mails' interest in crime prevention is due largely to his residence just outside San Quentin, the country's largest prison. His mother is San Quentin village postmistress.

"If all the kids lived where I do, they'd know the greatest thing in life was freedom," says Mails.

Though his clowning and volubility subject him to much kidding in the sports pages, and irritable editors go crazy when his voice reverberates through the office, Walter is universally liked and respected.

He was an apparently hopeless cripple until he was 9. He developed his athletic prowess by his own pluck. Achieving little baseball success at St. Mary's college, he developed himself later in the semi-pros.

Already famous as "Dusty" Mails, he interrupted his playing career to serve two years as machine gunner in the World war, and with his playing days over he has turned adviser and friend to countless rookies.

His press releases—usually delivered vocally and in no undertone—are cordially received. Sports writers know nobody can use the Mails to defraud.

Widener Cup May "Handle" A Million

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 29. (AP)—Although there isn't an outstanding horse in the $50,000 added Widener Cup race Saturday, Hileah Park is looking forward confidently to its first million-dollar pari-mutuel "handle" since the boom days.

The track's modern single-day record has been broken the last two week-ends, and reached $905,412 for the Flamingo Stakes last Saturday.

The "handle" might have gone over the million-dollar mark then except that the plant wasn't prepared to accommodate the 24,267 customers and hundreds were shut out at the betting windows. It's a safe wager that the mutuel men will be equipped this Saturday to receive all the money the crowd can shove through the wickets.

Woof Woof Again

Among 16 possible starters in the Widener, the experts favor Leo J. Marks' Many Stings, but most of them concede it's a wide open proposition.

The Chief, owned by Maxwell Howard and trained by Earl Sande, has been gaining support.

John Hay Whitney's unbeaten three-year-old, Woof Woof, winner of the Flamingo stakes, is also receiving considerable attention.

PICARD QUITS TOURNEY

CORAL GABLES, Fla., Feb. 29 (AP) Henry Picard of Hershey, Pa., national PGA champion, withdrew today from the $5,000 international four-ball golf tournament which starts here Sunday.

Marvin Stahl of Lansing, Mich., was invited to replace Picard as a partner for Johnny Revolta of Chicago.

Picard gave no reason for his withdrawal.

He and Revolta won the match play tournament three consecutive years, 1935 through 1937.

Demaret Does It Again A St. Pete Pays The Price

Houston Ace Is Winner By One

(Special To The Avalanche)

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Feb. 29 Smiling Jimmy Demaret, Houston professional and golf's leading money winner for 1940, today won the St. Petersburg Open golf tournament for his fifth victory of the winter campaign.

Adding two par rounds of 71 to his opening 69, Demaret won the 54-hole tournament with 211, nosing out Byron Nelson, National Open champion of Toledo, by one stroke. First prize money was $700 and increased Demaret's links earnings for the year to more than $6,000.

Nelson Fires 69

Nelson, three strokes off the pace set by E. J. Harrison, Little Rock, and Demaret through the first 36 holes, blazed in with a 69, two under par for 212 and took $450 second money.

Nelson had rounds of 71, 72 and 69.

Stanley Horne, Montreal, with a 73 and two sub-par 70's took $350 third money with 213.

Fourth place was shared by Jim Turnesa, Providence; Ben Hogan, White Plains, N. Y.; Harrison, and Sam Snead, the defending champion from Shawnee, Penn., with 214's.

Turnesa set a new competitive record for the Lakewood links with a five under par on the final round.

Three In A Row

The victory was Demaret's third in succession, following his conquests at Houston in the Western Open and the $10,000 New Orleans Open, and his fifth in nine tournaments this year. He took first money at Oakland and San Francisco.

The tournament came to a spectacular close before a gallery of more than 3,000 as both Demaret and Nelson put their second shots on the home green, the former four feet from the flag and the latter eight feet away.

Nelson sank his putt and Demaret had to drop his to avoid a tie and a playoff. His putt was straight as a die and plunked into the cup.

Wilfred Wehrle, Racine, Wis., was low amateur with 221.

YOUNGSTERS REACH FINALS

ORMOND BEACH, Fla., Feb. 29 (AP) — Nineteen-year-old Elizabeth Hicks of Long Beach, Calif., stole the spotlight today in the South Atlantic women's golf tournament with a sub-par performance in defeating Laddie Irwin of Montclair, N. J., 6 and 5.

Miss Hicks advanced into the semi-finals with Patty Berg of Minneapolis, whom she plays tomorrow, and Betty Jameson of San Antonio, and Mrs. William Hockenjos of Lake Hopatcong, N. J., who play in the other bracket.

JOHNNY ALLEN SIGNED

FORT MYERS, Fla., Feb. 29. (AP)—Johnny Allen, one of the few unsigned Cleveland Indians, will conduct future contract negotiations with Manager Oscar Vitt, C. C. Spanicka, Tribe vice president, said today.

Slapnicka admitted he and Allen, a pitcher, were deadlocked on the papers for 1940, with Allen refusing a bonus clause.

He Always Was Unusual

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 29. (AP)—Pepper Martin has been making baseball news for a long time.

He's always just a little different—even to being one of the few people who have birthday only once every four years.

PEPPER MARTIN

A "Leap Year" lad, the wild horse of the Osage was born Feb. 29, 1904, at Temple, Okla., and thus will be 36 years old the last day of this month. But as far as actual birthdays are concerned, the oldest of his three daughters is two up on him.

Pepper—dean of the St. Louis Cardinals both in point of service and age—celebrated his "ninth" birthday somewhere along the way to begin spring training. He will captain the team again this year.

Three Texas Champs Still In Gee-Gees

CHICAGO, Feb. 29. (U.P.)—Three out of four Texas quarter-finalists in the Golden Gloves tournament prepared today for next week's finals. The three who survived the battles last night were: Richard Menchaca, 118 pounds; Morris Corona, 147 pounds; and Tom Attra, 160 pounds.

Jose Andreas, 11, was decisioned in a third round match by Tommy Nate, South Bend, Ind., (3).

Menchaca desisioned Alex Lawson, Detroit, (3), and Martin Frederickson, Cedar Rapids, Ia., (3). Corona decisioned Howard Beyhl, Minneapolis (3) and O'Neill Bell, Grand Rapids, Mich., (3). Attra beat Forrest Gee, Milwaukee (3) and won on default from Vincent Myers, Oklahoma City. Myers had injured a hand in an earlier fight.

Florida, the Bahamas, and the Mediterranean supply most of England's sponges. Annually, $140,000 worth are purchased from the Bahamas alone.

Styles In Illnesses Are Changing Like Fashions

News Briefs

One graduation from a cub to a boy scout and several advancements will feature the regular meeting of cub pack No. 3 in Cumberland Presbyterian church, 601 Tenth street, at 7:30 tonight, announced R. A. Metcalfe, cub master.

Unanimous approval has been expressed by the city commission for the paving of the alley between Ninth and Tenth streets directly back of the city hall, according to information given Thursday. The improvement, said officials, will help the appearance of the alley and will make parking spaces available for city cabs, including those of police. The parking spaces, as planned, will be between the west edge of the alley and the new central fire station.

John Mayes Hill, jr., San Antonio, assistant state director of the U. S. biological survey in Texas, expects to be in Lubbock March 12 for a visit here with J. E. Barker, agent, and Max Lindsey, assistant. He was formerly agent here.

Office of the deputy U. S. revenue collector is not open on Saturday afternoons, Burl Bedford, deputy, said yesterday. Bedford will make Lubbock his headquarters to handle making out returns for 1939 income until March 15, the last day on which reports are due in Dallas.

Bryan Sherrod has been selected as the name for the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Bryan Edwards, 2012 Twenty-fourth street, who was born Wednesday morning at 2:15 o'clock at St. Mary's of the Plains hospital. The baby weighed 7 pounds and 11 ounces.

W. R. Graves, of 222 Avenue U, reported to police Thursday night theft of a Ford battery, 17 plate size. Value of the battery is $12, Graves told officers.

Theft of four white hens and a small bantam hen was reported by F. C. Daniel, of 502 Avenue K, late Thursday.

Resting well was the midnight report on condition of Mrs. Clay Henry of Crosbyton, who entered St. Mary's of The Plains hospital Thursday for medical treatment, said hospital attaches.

Lubbock county officers Thursday afternoon released a man held for Meredian authorities to D. D. Royal, constable of that city.

Perfection of six appeals from corporation to county court was completed Thursday afternoon, charges in each case being drunkenness.

Hitler And Welles

foremost that middle European region in which German people for many centuries conducted constructive economic, cultural, civilizing activity and for which it, as a great power accredited in this region, is responsible.

"It is the space within which the German people desire to live and work securely and without interference. It is the space within which Germany wants never again to be threatened and where it won't ever again permit political combinations to arise which are directed against itself."

The prominence given the editorial and pointed reference to it by foreign office officials appeared to entitle any foreign observer to conclude that Hitler's central thesis when talking to Welles would be German security and domination within the region she regards as her living space.

From this it would seem further that any demand for the return of colonies might constitute a bargaining point on which Germany might yield—not in principle but practically—provided she had a full guarantee of unmolested domination of central Europe.

CHICAGO, Feb. 29 (AP)—Styles in psychological illnesses — like fashions—are changing with the shifting social and economic patterns.

The authority for this assertion—Dr. Martin Grotjahn of the Chicago Institute for Psychoanalysis—said in an interview today that the latest styles include beliefs of many persons, unsupported by anatomical reasons, that their kidneys are going to pot or even that they are on the verge of insanity.

Choose Depression

"If a person in our times gets into psychological difficulties," said Dr. Grotjahn, "he usually chooses the symptoms of a depression. He becomes restless and tense, anxious and even fearful. After depression and anxiety he often develops the fear that he is ill and he uses the medical knowledge which nowadays he may pick up anywhere in order to construct some kind of 'organic' illness. He begins to worry about his stomach, his lungs, his heart or even his mind.

"The choice of this kind of illness is a typical sign of our time.

In Democratic Form

"Centuries ago people expressed their psychological illness in much more dramatic form, by going into ecstasy; around the turn of the century by having hysterical convulsions or by throwing terrific fits of anger.

"Nowadays people are less extravagant — less demonstrative. They prefer to withdraw into themselves, are inhibited, feel inferior, cannot work and finally complain about feeling ill."

Evidence Completed

the shooting and his trial is scheduled immediately following completion of the current one.

Doctors Testify

Witnesses called to the stand during the two days of testimony included: Howard Browning, brother of the dead man; Lynn Browning, another brother; Mrs. Howard Browning, a sister-in-law of the victim; Jessie Williams, a negro woman who lives on the Browning farm; Sam Lewis, a negro man, also a resident on the Browning farm; Dr. H. E. Mast, Lubbock physician, who treated Clen Browning the morning of Nov. 12; Dr. E. Prohl, of Tahoka, first called to administer aid to Clen Browning; Mrs. Gregg, an aunt of L. A. Enloe's; and L. A. himself, the latter's appearance in his own behalf coming as somewhat of a surprise to the crowded courtroom.

Offered as testimony for the defense was the examination on stand of Dr. Mast, who testified that if immediate medical aid had been available, the victim might have survived. Browning died in a Lubbock hospital of thigh wounds and loss of blood approximately 25 minutes after being brought there the morning after the shooting.

Secrecy Covers Investigation

At the time of the shooting, unusual secrecy shrouded official investigation, authorities maintaining a desire to select a jury from the county.

Selection of a jury from a special venire for the trial of Drew Enloe will start following completion of L. A.'s case.

Switzerland's Number One Nazi Arrested On Espionage Charge

SCHAFFHAUSEN, Feb. 29. (AP) — Switzerland's number one nazi, Robert Tobler, a Zurich lawyer and doctor, was arrested tonight and charged with espionage in behalf of Germany.

Tobler is the head of the Swiss national front, a nazi-type party within Switzerland, and was once a member of the Swiss national council, the lower house of Parliament.

Military authorities declined to give details cvoncerning Tobler's arrest, beyond saying he was held for transmitting "information of a military character" to Germany.

Russo-Finnish War

although details were not available, it was reported fires were raging there far into the night.

Civilians Killed

Kuovala was bombed time after time by flects as large as 50, 60 and 80 planes. Details of the casualties and damage there still were not known.

Finnish fighter planes fiercely counterattacked and prevented a bombing of Kajaani by 64 Russian craft.

Two persons were killed and three wounded at the little out-of-the way village of Inkeroinen. One was killed at Hamina and one at Turki, much bombed port on the gulf of Bothnia.

Stronger Positions

Forced back once more on the western edge of the Karelian isthmus, Finnish forces today braced themselves in what they said were stronger positions, massed artillery and mined the ice of Viipuri bay in a determined effort to prevent encirclement of Viipuri, objective of the Russian invaders.

The Finnish high command reported that the red army, entering the fourth month of its offensive, was forced to pay dearly for every inch of ground gained in this area while continued assaults on the eastern side of the isthmus were said to have been repulsed with heavy losses.

Reds Thrown Back

Elsewhere, the Finns said Russian attacks were thrown back northeast of Lake Ladoga, in the vicinity of Pitkaranta, and that more enemy strong points were captured at Kuhmo, in central Finland where some Russians are encircled.

Heavy fighting raged unabated above the Arctic circle in the Petsamo region but the result was not disclosed here.

The defenders, who have been withdrawing gradually to their more formidable positions between the bay of Viipuri and the Vuoski river, in the western part of the Karelian isthmus, yesterday withstood assaults by wave upon wave of red troops. In addition to inflicting tremendous losses on these forces, the Finns said they smashed 14 soviet tanks.

No Bombs Dropped

At the eastern end of the Mannerheim line, in the Taipale area, three Russian mass attacks have ended in complete failure.

The Russians in three months of fighting have penetrated a distance ranging from about 38 miles on the western part of the isthmus to about 12 miles on the east, with most of their gains resulting from their furious and sustained February drive.

The Russians were reported today to have hurled fresh troops—estimated in some quarters at fully 19 divisions, nearly 300,000 men—into the isthmus fighting.

The Russians attempted three air attacks on Helsinki during the day. The raiders were driven off without dropping any bombs.

Livestock Shows

Exposition and Fat Stock show at Fort Worth, March 8-17, is the oldest and largest. Prizes will total $27,000 for livestock, $20,000 for the rodeo, $9,000 for a horse show and $600 for poultry. Livestock entries from 12 or more states will reach about 6,000, a record. The Southwestern Cattle Raisers' association convention, March 12-14, will swell the crowd to an anticipated 300,000 visitors.

Hundred Participants

Livestock prizes aggregating $12,339 will be offered at Houston's fat stock show and livestock exposition March 23-31. This show has served to demonstrate to South Texans the possibilities of breeding and feeding livestock without shipping it to the corn belt for finishing. The rodeo which last year drew 200,000 persons will be repeated.

El Paso's Southwestern Livestock show, March 29-April 1, will offer $1,700 in premiums. A hundred rodeo hands will vie for $5,000 prize money. A sheriff's posse dance will be held March 30 to finance the El Paso show.

Business Men Chip In

The Amarillo Exposition and Fat Stock Show, Inc., March 4-7, will put up $1,900 in livestock prizes. Amarillo business and civic leaders will pay premium prices at auctions. For example, 236 club calves last year averaged $13.02 per hundred. The auction of the Panhandle Hereford Breeders association sale last year totaled $16,000.

The South Plains Fat Stock show in Lubbock, March 25-27, is open only to 4-H club or Future Farmers of America chapter members. Lubbock business men have raised $2,000 to purchase animals while $566 in prizes is offered.

Plainsman's Desire For Revolving Doors Will Be Fulfilled

The Plainsman need no longer lament lack of revolving doors in Lubbock—plans for the eight-story office building now under construction for Lubbock National company include not one, but two, such doors.

Incidentally, one of Lubbock's top-flight contractors says there is a whopping big reason why there are no revolving doors here. They cost plenty.

He related that one of the larger business firms in Lubbock was considering installation of such a door a while back. He investigated costs.

The very cheapest he could find which would meet requirements, he said, was priced at approximately $1,000. So they said to heck with it, or words to that effect, and the revolving doorless era continued.

But—it won't be long now.

WTCC Budget Plan

City; Frank Locke, Stamford; C. J. Brasher, Lubbock; J. Warren Day, Fort Worth; P. D. Fredman, Dallas; George R. Donnell, San Antonio; and Berry Brown, Abilene. Formal announcement of the complete program is expected to follow the meeting.

D. A. Bandeen, WTCC manager, sketching the plan today, said the community taxpayers' committees and the budget analysis staff will be wholly non-political bodies. Besides offering assistance in formulation of budgets of political subdivisions and making recommendations on them. They will assist in organizing public hearings. Some permanent organization already in existence in each community, preferably the local chamber of commerce, will be asked to assist in creating, and to sponsor, the local committees.

Avenue in Lubbock about 8:30 o'clock tonight.

Leonard Scott, night watchman here, who helped in the investigation, said that Byars reported all three men wore dark suits, the one carrying the gun being small in stature and having on dark colored glasses.

At midnight, officers scouring the plains by car and radio had found no trace of the trio.

Band Clinic At Littlefield Will Be Conducted Today

LITTLEFIELD, Feb. 29—Second annual band clinic sponsored by the Littlefield high school will be held Friday here. Littlefield Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring the affair and has arranged for prizes to be awarded in the down town parade.

D. O. Wiley, head of the band department at Texas Technological college, will judge the parade. Fifteen schools were invited to send bands.

NLRB Hearing

tapped telephone wire in a Dallas apartment house to "conversations of that lawyer that got beat up. It was supposed to have been the telephone of W. J. Houston."

Houston, an attorney for the CIO here in 1937, at the time the alleged practices are claimed by the labor board to have occurred, testified he had been pinioned, struck, kicked and stomped by a gruop of men, a number of whom were named in the NLRB complaint as Ford employes.

Counsel for Ford objected frequently to the testimony, principally on the grounds that there was no evidence to link the concern or its agents with the affair, and again challenging the labor board's jurisdiction in matters of assault.

Brought No Charges

W. J. Houston of Seattle, now a field examiner for the Civil Service commission, but an attorney for the international union of United Automobile Workers of America here in 1937, when an attempt was made to organize Ford employes, said he brought no charges following the attack.

"I told police I may not prefer charges," he explained, "because these men who are so active against the union may become its best members when you convince them of the value of the union."

Trial Examiner R. N. Denham first ordered the explanation stricken from the record, on his own volition, then reversed the order when a Ford attorney objected to striking it out.

Social Sessions

Houston identified several spectators in the courtroom as having participated in the assault. From photos submitted as exhibits by the board, he identified others named in the complaint as having participated.

Edward A. Bailey, an employe of the plant, told of plans made to overhear possible conversations between Ford employes and CIO representatives. He said he had been selected as captain of a group who were to contact him if any member were approached by a union agent.

Ford attorneys contended that gatherings of the groups mentioned were innocent social sessions.

Turkey's Premier Explains Stand In Emphatic Terms

ANKARA, Feb. 29 (AP)—Premier Refik Saydam told his countrymen emphatically tonight that Turkey's relations with soviet Russia were "normal and good."

His broadcast address was interpreted immediately by diplomats, watching the Near East for signs of spring military action, as notice to the British-French Allies and Russia alike that Turkey was determined to stay out of the European war unless her own security should be threatened.

Saydam denounced "evil intentioned propaganda" against Turkey's peace policy, and disavowed "aggressive intentions" by his country against Russia.

Mercury Climbs

degrees was set in 1908.

Austin's all-time heat record for February was equalled when the mercury climbed to 92 degrees. It was the hottest in the state capital since February 1917. San Antonio reported 92 degrees, also.

Dallas sweltered under an 85 degree temperature and Houston, where the mercury climbed to 89.7 degrees yesterday felt practically the same temperature today after the sun beat through a fog that hovered over the Texas coast late in the morning.

Boon To "Flu" Sufferers

Other high temperatures reported were Laredo 99, Alpine 85, Brady 90, Brownsville 88, Del Rio 89, Corpus Christi 79, Navasota 79, Palestine 82, and Wichita Falls 86.

The weather is serving more than one purpose other than raising spirits, it is revealed.

The warm, spring-like days are routing influenza which reached epidemic porportions in Texas this year, the health department reported in Austin Thursday.

Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer, reported 3,448 new cases in the week ended Feb. 24, a reduction of 1,095 from the number reported the previous week.

Cases reported this year totalled 25,991 compared with a normal 15,000.

Month Of Extremes

Commenting on the unusualness of the weather, Don L. Jones, superintendent of the state agriculture experiment sub-station, remarked that high temperatures during this time of year were more prevalent than not. One of the highest readings recorded other than the two mentioned was that of 86 in 1917, a period of high temperatures over the entire country.

It will be remembered that it was only three weeks ago today that one of the worst "blizzards" in history was sweeping across the South Plains, paralyzing traffic and finally causing the deaths of two Lynn county men.

But, seasoned weather observers maintain that such extremes are not so unsual, though that recorded during the month of February perhaps set some sort of record.

Reynolds Says Britain Will Not Return To U. S. Markets

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29. (AP) — Senator Reynolds (D-NC) expressed belief in the Senate today Great Britain had permanently left the American market for tobacco and cotton.

Recalling that England had stopped buying these commodities in this country because of the war, Reynolds said he believed Britain would strive to become self-sufficient by encouraging production of tobacco and cotton in her colonies.

Man Learns He's Been Paying Poll Tax For His Dead Father

HOPKINSVILLE, Ky., Feb. 29. (AP) —Walter McIntosh never bothered much about what was on his tax bill—until lately.

He said today he'd just found out he'd been paying a poll tax for his father for 35 years. The elder McIntosh died in 1905.

The poll tax bill came along each year with the bill for taxes on the farm his father left him, McIntosh said.

FOR NO REASON

NEW YORK, Feb. 29 (AP)—D. J. Smith, vice president of Pan-American Refining corporation, today announced the purchase by the corporation of 160 acres of land in Texas City, Tex., "for no specific purpose."

BIRTHDAYS SCARCE

SHAWNEE, Okla., Feb. 29. (AP) — "Uncle John" Ferguson, 104 years old, celebrated his 25th birthday today by shaving, having his picture taken, and eating pancakes for lunch. He was born Feb. 29, 1836, in Smith county, Tex.

IDEAL HOME SIX ROOMS

2427—27th Street

If you are interested in something that is really nice, then this brand new six-room home should appeal to you. In addition to an extra large living room, there are large bedrooms and a "bunk room" finished in knotty pine with "built-in" bunks for the kiddies. You will just "rave" over the pretty kitchen and bath, and, you will like that nice 70-foot north front lot too. LISTEN—It only takes $600 to buy this and the balance is in the FHA loan with low monthly payments of approximately $36 which includes taxes and insurance. You may not fail to see "Gone With the Wind" but if you fail to see this "good buy" soon, it will be gone.

REST OF STOCKS BALK

NEW YORK, Feb. 29 (AP)—A few rails, steels and farm implements staged a little rally all their own today, but the rest of the stock market refused to go along.

The Associated Press index of 60 selected stocks declined .1 of a point to 49.6. Transactions totaled 621,640 shares compared with 567,710 yesterday.

The upward tendency of the previous session carried over into the opening hour today, but transactions failed to increase at sufficient rate to maintain any but scattered improvement.

Steels, however, held steady all through the session behind the leadership of U. S. Steel which, at one time, was up more than a point. This advance was whittled to ¾ by the end of the day.

Such rails as Santa Fe, New York Central, and Pennsylvania improved in step with Bethlehem, Republic and Youngstown.

Inasmuch as the decline in steel mill production seems to be leveling off and automobile manufacturers report better-than-average operations, analysts professed to see signs of improvement in the industrial future.

This, in turn, was largely responsible for harvester and caterpillar shares advancing.

Bond prices were uneven at the end. Overseas, Paris quotations were a bit higher; those at London and Amsterdam were uneven.

On the downside in the New York market were Loft, Allied Chemical, Pan-American Airways, General Motors, Chrysler, Consolidated Edison, American Smelting, General Electric, Sears Roebuck and Montgomery Ward.

Lower in the curb, where 160,000 shares changed hands compared with 121,000 yesterday, were Duke Power, Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Non-Voting, and Electric Bond and Share. Higher were Consolidate Gas of Baltimore, Illuminating Shares "A," and American Cynamid "B."

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Feb. 29 (AP)—Cotton futures ignored the "go" signal flashed by active textile markets today and closed unchanged to 3 points lower.

While cloth markets were enjoying some of the fastest trading in weeks at stiffening prices, the futures ring seemed caught in one of the lulls that often follow a period of activity.

Minor gains were scored at the start when Bombay bought, apparently working straddle business by buying here and selling in the East Indian market at favorable price differences. Liverpool favored near months.

Hedge selling gained momentum late and sufficient professional pressure developed to keep the list slightly lower most of the last half of the session.

The pick-up in cloth buying, long-awaited in Worth street started late Wednesday when converters and industrial accounts placed small orders at current prices after unsuccessfully under-bidding the market.

Larger orders appeared this morning and while actual sales were not unusually heavy, selling agents were optimistic.

Exports Wednesday 20,722 bales; season so far 4,922,705. Port receipts 20,452; port stocks 2,975,122.

AVERAGE PRICE

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 29 (AP)—The average price of middling 15-16ths-inch cotton today at ten southern spot markets was 3 points lower at 10.89 cents a pound; average for the past thirty market days 10.74; middling ⅞ths-inch average 10.71 cents a pound.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Feb. 29 (AP) — Buyers and sellers took turns sending small lot orders into the rather turbulent range and closed ½ to ⅝ lower than yesterday.

An early fractional rise was followed by a slump of almost a cent. Then the market advanced 1¼ to 1½ cents to new highs for the day only to react again before the close.

This unsettled trade reflected pressure of loan wheat coming to market, lagging domestic demand for wheat and flour and virtual stagnation of export business as well as a bearish government summary of the wheat situation. On the constructive side were absence of moisture in the southwest, approach of the windy March season of crop scares, reports of wheat damage in Russia and other sections of Europe and war news.

The lower close carried May wheat to $1.03@1.02⅞ and July to $1.01@1.00⅞. Corn was unchanged to ¼ cent off, May 56⅞@56¾, July 57¼; oats ⅛ lower to ⅛ higher; rye ⅛ to ½ down and lard 5 to 8 lower.

Hotel Bought By Texwash

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29 (AP)—Purchase of the Washington Hotel — where Vice President Garner resides while in the capital—was announced today by Leas Campbell, general manager of the National Hotel company, Galveston, Texas.

Campbell said the consideration was between $2,500,000 and $3,000,000, and that the exact amount would not be known until inventories had been made. The hotel contains 400 rooms.

In addition to the vice president and Mrs. Garner, the hotel has among its regular guests Associate Justice Frank Murphy of the supreme court, and A. J. Wirtz undersecretary of the interior, a Texan.

Started As Bellboy

The hotel was purchased from the National Capital Hotel corporation. Ownership will rest with the Texwash corporation, Leas Campbell, president. It is an affiliate of the National Hotel company.

Clark Thompson, former member of Congress, who has a financial interest in the National Hotel company, joined Campbell in announcing the transaction.

Thirty-seven Southern hotels are under the management of the National Hotel company, said Campbell, a native of Republic county, Kansas who started his career in the hotel business as a bellboy in a hotel at Beloit, Kas., in 1916.

Nickel Sewed On Letter In Place Of Stamp Does Work

Postmaster John A. Werner said the letter addressed to Albuquerque had been picked up by a rural mail route carrier.

PREPARING FOR "THE DRUNKARD"—The camera caught Henry Kight and Mrs. Bert Collard painting scenery for "The Drunkard", production to be presented in Lubbock next week. Kight is scenery chairman.

* * * * * * *

Tickets Go On Sale Today For Play To Be Given Here

Tickets will go on sale this morning for "The Drunkard", uproarious production scheduled for Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights next week.

Although announcement had been made reservation could not be made until this morning, members of the Lions and American Business clubs already have received numerous calls asking them to lay tickets aside.

Less than 400 seats will be available at each performance and those sponsoring the production anticipate "sell-outs" for each night. Those attending will be seated at tables. They may "boo" the villian and cheer the hero to their heart's content.

The ticket booth will be open from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. daily in the lobby of the Hilton hotel. Prices will be 75c and $1.

The production will open at 8:30 o'clock each night in the armory at Tenth street and College avenue. Proceeds will go into funds for a boys' club.

Mrs. Jack Mistrot is directing the play.

Friends Say Garner Will Not Enter Primary In Ohio

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29. (AP) — Friends of Vice President Garner said today it was highly unlikely that he would enter Ohio's May 14 presidential preference primary.

Although Garner had expected to go in the Ohio race, these informants declared that he had decided tentatively against doing so although his decision was not final.

They explained that some of the delegates on the slate headed by Charles Sawyer, the state's national committeeman, would be favorable to Garner and there thus would be little reason for him to make a primary race.

Seed Purchased In Plains Area

Edmund Keesee, formerly agriculturist in the Ropesville community and now agriculturist in charge of Valley Farms, a pretentious agricultural project in the vicinity of Hobbs, New Mexico, is in the Lubbock area purchasing seeds for their 1940 crop which he states will consist of around 500 acres seeded to corn, grain sorghums, pinto and navy beans, field peas and onions.

Keesee reports an unusually good spring season for the Southeast New Mexico area and predicts that one million pounds of beans will be produced on the experimental farm, near Monument, New Mexico, this season.

Voting Scandal Found Under Capitol Dome

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29. (AP)— A ballot box scandal has arisen right under the Capital Dome.

It involves the "Little Congress," an organization of secretaries to senators and representatives. Three hundred members voted in an election for "speaker," but 340 ballots were found in the box. The whole election was thrown out.

W. M. (Fishbait) Miller of Pascagoula, Miss., a House doorkeeper, explained that the extra ballots had been cast by some over-enthusiastic supporter of Willie C. Brown of Mississippi, elevator operator running on a "clean sweep" ticket.

All were in the same handwriting, Miller said, but the "Little Congress" officials haven't identified it.

"They will, though," he added darkly.

Engineers state that automobile fires most frequently are caused by backfires into an air cleaner and intake silencer that happens to be filled with gasoline from overchoking the carburetor.

Comparison Of Wars Given

(By The Associated Press)

The European war is six months old tomorrow and is tame by comparison with the World war at this stage.

Great Britain, France and Germany know they are in a serious war, but they have not yet had to go through what they did in the first six months of the World war. Then:

Germany, Austria-Hungary and Turkey were in on one side, and Britain, France, Belgium, Russia, Japan, Montenegro and Serbia on the other . . .

Comparison Given

Germany had smashed across Belgium and through France to within a few miles of Paris . . .

The Russians had invaded Germany . . .

Slaughter at Tannenberg and in the first battles of the Marne and Ypres was history . . .

Japan was seizing German colonies in the Far East, Britain invading them in Africa . . .

Ships were sunk on the seven seas, three British cruisers going down in one memorable day . . .

Ahead On Sea

Now, quarter century later, March 1 makes the present war six months old. Germany invaded Poland on Sept. 1, Britain and France declared war on Germany on Sept. 3.

In this six months Britain and France have fought a war of attrition against Germany, content to hem her in and hurt her economically. As long as this goes on, they feel they are winning.

So far, Germany also has waited.

In one phase—the war on Allied and neutral merchant shipping—the current conflict is running ahead of the World war, a daily average of about 6,000 tons having been sunk as compared with about 4,500 in the World war.

Statistics Compared

Available statistics give the following picture of the European war to date:

The French say Allied casualties on land—in the spasmodic small-scale action on the western front—total about 1,500 killed and 7,500 wounded, with German casualties "slightly higher;" the British list army casualties to Dec. 31 as 40 killed and wounded and 720 dead of accident or disease.

The German invasion of Poland was far more destructive. Hitler listed German casualties there up to Sept. 30, after most of the fighting in Poland was over, as 10,572 killed, 30,322 wounded and 3,404 missing. Polish casualties were much higher but indefinite. A Quaker relief commission estimated that the number of persons killed in the siege of Warsaw, the bloodiest phase of the campaign, at 50,000.

Compare this with the 100,000 Allied soldiers and 250,000 Germans killed at Ypres alone, and with the 70,000 Russians killed and wounded at Tannenberg.

The naval war is largely a fight between Britain's great surface fleet and the submarines of Germany, although the French navy, Europe's second largest, is effective in the blockade against Germany and has sunk some submarines. The Allies together claim to have destroyed about 50.

Loss Admitted

The only French warship acknowledged to have been lost was the mine-laying cruiser Pluton, sunk in an accidental explosion with a loss of 100 lives. The British, however, have lost 30 naval vessels, including 15 naval trawlers, and 2,602 officers and men who were killed and 69 taken prisoner.

Aside from the trawlers British naval losses were one aircraft carrier, one battleship, ot. merchant cruiser, six destroyers, four submarines and two minesweepers.

French air casualty figures are indefinite but the British list 738 men lost. The 20th casualty list, issued last night, contained 42 names.

Figures Released

Merchant shipping losses reported through Feb. 28 were:

Country	N. of ships	Gross tonnage
Britain	175	657,846
France	17	78,290
Germany	32	168,698
Neutrals	177	470,007

The strain on neutrals, particularly in Scandinavia, the lowlands and in the Balkans, has been great. The plight of Belgium and the Netherlands, planted directly among the warring powers, is obvious. Commerce on the high seas is a chief problem from Scandinavia, while the Balkans are fought over diplomatically as a source of important raw materials sought by both sides.

Would Be Hindered

Since Russia became embroiled in Finland Nov. 30, the threat of action in southeastern Europe, and particularly against Russia's oil-rich Caucasus, has been hard. Turkey, non-belligerent ally of Britain and France, is on a virtual war footing. The Allies have massed thousands of troops in the Near East.

Italy, who at the beginning of the war pictured herself as ready to remain neutral and profit from increased trade, now is not so happy. What she wants now is a peace of compromise so that she can wield some influence. She fears that if the war ends with either side a definite victor she would be relegated far to the background and never would attain her long-sought "peace with justice."

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29 (AP)—Maj. Gen. Julian L. Schley, army engineers, today named Roger G. Powell, division engineer, New Orleans, La., to review a report on the Sabine-Neches waterway, Tex., to determine if any modification of the existing project is visable at this time.

THREE WEST TEXAS SEASONS ARE THREE WEST TEXAS REASONS FOR

Gulfweight

Spring, Summer, Fall . . . where is the suit that weathers them all?
It's here!
It's Gulfweight!
It' Hart, Schaffner & Marx' solution to the light-regular-weight suit problem. . . . For Gulfweight is a suit tailored of superfine lightweight worsteds that are about three ounces lighter, per yard, than the fabrics usually used in regular weight clothing. That's why Gulfweight is the one suit that you can put on and wear in comfort every day from March until October.
An entire Gulfweight suit weighs only 48 ounces . . . yet Gulfweight is not a "summer suit" . . . for it looks like a business suit . . . and is the ideal three-season garment for West Texans.

Conditions Comparable To Those In "Grapes Of Wrath" Reported By Agency

Farm Security Administration Describes Plight Of Workers

By FRED BAILEY
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29.—Between 10,000 and 20,000 migrant families along the eastern seaboard exist in poverty, squalor and disease comparable to conditions described by John Steinbeck in the "Grapes of Wrath," the Farm Security administration revealed today.

The administration released a detailed report of the plight of these families and single workers engaged in "rush period" farm labor from Florida to New Jersey.

There are hundreds of families who travel in old trucks, in jalopies, in freight cars, and live in ditch-side camps totally lacking in sanitary facilities, the FSA reported. They work 12 to 18 hours a day and move north with the season.

Many In One Room

Highlights of the report were:

1. Typical housing—Two to 10 persons living in each room of a 14-room shelter in Florida, each room renting for $1.50 a week; a single, open-pit toilet for four to eight shelters.

2. Disease—More than 50 per cent and in some sections 80 per cent of the migrants are syphilitics. "Nothing less than a miracle" has prevented epidemics of contagious diseases.

3. Education—Few children attend school. In Florida, "education is in competition with beans."

Common Law Marriages

4. Social conditions—Common law marriages "of a seasonal nature"; unattached women sharing rooms with two or more unattached men; children left in disorderly houses for lack of any other place.

5. Food—Cooking facilities non-existent; whisky bottles out-numbered milk bottles.

Most of the migratory workers, having harvested the Forida winter vegetable crops, will start northward soon. They will chop cotton and pick peaches in Georgia, work the strawberry, tobacco and vegetable areas in the Carolinas, thin apples in the Shenandoah valley, work on truck farms on the Maryland and Delaware shores, and pick cranberries in New Jersey bogs.

Most Are Negroes

Most of the migrants are negroes. Almost all are native-born Americans who have been "tractored" off Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi and Tennessee farms. Some are northern workers who cannot find factory jobs.

The lack of healthful recreational and social opportunities was said to be "striking" in Belle Glade and Pahokee, Fla. The report described the over-development of the "opposite type" of social opportunities—"for whites, the raucous Silver Dollar across from the packing house, fully stuffed with 'hostesses' and such roadside 'jukes' as Little Cuba, the Glades Club and the Jeep."

More Whisky Than Milk

The superintendent of schools in Palm Beach county, Florida, was quoted as saying: "Education is in competition with beans in this county—and beans are winning out." The report commented that "education apparently is not trying to give beans much competition."

Workers subsist on cold and ready-prepared foods such as bread, crackers, cheese, baked beans, sliced sausage, salt fish and the like, washed down with diverse pops and soft drinks.

"Whisky bottles are encountered far more frequently than milk bottles in the vicinity of the quarters," the report said.

Once Doomed, Killer Is Nearing Freedom

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Feb 29. (U.P.)—Twelve years ago, Werner Stenbeck stood before a Salt Lake county district judge and heard himself condemned to death before a firing squad for the murder of his common-law wife. As he was about to be sentenced, the court appointed an attorney to represent Stenbeck in any further legal moves.

The attorney, who had accidentally wandered into the courtroom a few minutes before, became interested in Stenbeck's case, appealed it to the state supreme court; obtained a new trial and in the second trial Stenbeck was found guilty of only second degree murder.

Stenbeck was sentenced to 15 years in prison. His behavior in prison has been, according to Warden Owen Nebeker, "beyond reproach." As a result of this model behavior—and Utah's indeterminate sentence law—Stenbeck will be released automatically March 27, just slightly more than half his sentence served but the crime fully expiated. He will be the first convicted murderer in Utah history to be released.

NEW SUPPLY HOUSE

LEVELLAND,— Jarecki Manufacturing Co., Erie, Pa., one of the larger oil field supply houses, has leased an acre of land from J. H. Goodrich in the western part of town. A branch warehouse will be built, construction to start soon. The house will be north of the Halliburton camp.

Editor Says Boys On Staff Easier Handled Than Girls

(By Associated Press Feature Service)

TUCSON, Ariz., Feb. 29.—Three years ago everybody at the University of Arizona told Ella Ida Tarbell a girl couldn't be elected editor of Wildcat, the university's semi-weekly newspaper.

But Ella has the job. She's the first regularly elected girl editor the paper has had.

"It took a lot of work, a lot more tact and, sometimes a thick skin," she says. "But I think I have proven that a girl can manage a staff of college men and women (there are 48) and make them like it."

Ella is a grandniece of Ida M. Tarbell, biographer of Lincoln and a crusading journalist of a generation or so ago. Ella doesn't go in for crusading, but her editorials have stirred campus discussions without leading to run-ins with students or with the university administration.

"The boys were a problem, and sometimes still are," she says. "But you can manage them better than you can the girls, who can't always rise above personalities. With the boys the trick is to steer clear of seeming bossy. I use the conference method and the boy makes the suggestion I was waiting for.

"I'm not a feminist but I think girls have as much ability as editors as do men."

She Favors Pictures

Miss Tarbell, 26, is a senior, majoring in political science. She would like to become a political writer, but thinks a girl can be as good at straight reporting as any man.

As an editor, she uses all the pictures her budget can stand and encourages reporters to take their own pictures; she thinks a student newspaper can pioneer in style, make-up and policy, where a commercial paper cannot.

Her father, F. Scott Tarbell, has a cotton farm near Roswell, N. M., where she went to school and edited the high school annual. She hasn't much time for sports but refuses to let the Wildcat cut in on her social activities. She likes swimming, horseback riding, and dancing, but is no jitterbug.

The Wildcat had one other girl editor. In 1918-19, Gladys Twedell edited the paper with an entire woman staff. Men students were too busy with war-time military training.

Anne Morgan Repeats Her 1917 War Role In France

By ROSE WILLIAMS
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Feb. 29 (U.P) — Twenty-three years ago, a tall, attractive woman was leading thousands of war-stricken French orphans out of a devastated land.

Today, Anne Morgan, still as energetic as ever, is helping those same children, two decades removed, out of the uncertainties of another war, but now they are the young mothers of France.

It is a bit difficult to realize that the daughter of J. Pierpont Morgan and the sister of J. P. Morgan, is in her early 60s. Her actions are decisive, her decisions quick and her energy boundless.

In 1917 Miss Morgan headed the American Committee for Devastated France. Now she has organized a similar setup, known as the American Friends of France. In this, she hopes, with the help of America, to strengthen the fiber of the French morale.

All War Not At Front

"There is a bigger war being fought in France than on the battle field," she said in an interview at her home here.

"This is a war of nerves, of brutal readjustment for the women. It is up to them to carry on, to plow the fields, to herd the cattle. The eligible men are in the army. Those at home are too old and feeble to help. But in spite of this, these women, some with three and four sons and a husband at war, blot out their emotions for a philosophical stoicism that is magnificent."

Miss Morgan's expressive and unringed hands gestured excitedly.

"They know this is a war to the finish and they are prepared for whatever might come. We are trying, in our small way, to lighten the burden."

To Provide Canteens

Recreation rooms, reading rooms, organized lectures, entertainment and a well-provided canteen are just a few of the high spots outlined in the program set forth by the American Friends of France. The organization is providing for approximately 30,000 evacues.

The French evacues, now 1,300,000 strong, are crowded into areas meant for only half their number. Two-family groups living in one-room houses is common practice. The clashing of patois and the friction of strange and unrelated children present even more problems.

But the French people remember Miss Morgan from a quarter of a century ago. She is "maraine" (godmother) to them.

Perhaps it is this trust that helps her carry on. Her hair is snowy, her face is richly lined, but her black eyes still sparkle. Her clothes are modish. She tints her finger-nails. And she smokes her cigarettes in a long, black holder.

Garner Advocates To Fight Rep. Sullivan

NEW YORK, Feb. 29. (AP)—Managers of the Garner-for-president organization disclosed today they would make all efforts to defeat Rep. Christopher D. Sullivan, leader of Tammany hall, as a delegate to the Democratic national convention from the 13th congressional district.

Tammany has indicated its support of President Roosevelt for a third term, if he wants the nomination.

Garner headquarters also made known that they might run former Rep. John J. O'Connor, a casualty of the Roosevelt "purge" of 1938, and State Senator John McNaboe against Rep. James Fay and George W. Loft, Tammany designees as delegates.

It was Fay who, with the White House blessing, ousted O'Connor from the House.

McNaboe recently introduced in the state Senate a resolution memorializing Congress to pass legislation declaring against presidential third terms.

Three Slaton Youngsters Go For Hike Without Consent

A widespread search resulted yesterday when three Slaton tots, Donnie Deen Dobson and Jennie Ruth Dobson, 3, and a 4-year-old boy, went hiking without telling their parents.

The Slaton police chief called Lubbock police department. Report the children were missing was broadcast over KFYO.

The three were found, nonchalantly playing, three miles east of Slaton early Thursday afternoon.

WON'T RUN AGAIN

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 29. (AP) — Matthew A. Dunn, veteran blind U. S. representative, announced today he would not seek re-election because he had been overtaxed by pleas from constituents whom he could not help.

Veterans Apply For Treatment

Application blanks for hospitalization in the new Veterans hospital which will be opened in Amarillo about March 15, may be obtained by former service men writing Floyd L. Sloan, field representative of the Veteran's state service office, post-office boy 265, Amarillo.

Eight former service men residing in Lubbock have applied for hospitalization and one application has been received each from Idalou, Lorenzo and Slaton, said Sloan.

For General Purposes

He added that the hospital will be for general medical and surgical purposes and that any former service man in the Lubbock area who requires hospitalization is entitled to it there regardless whether the need for treatment has a service connection. He explained, however, that those suffering from illness or injuries with a service connection will be given preference. Capacity of the hospital will be 143 bed patients.

Sloan left for his headquarters after having spent two days in Lubbock conferring with those who may have claims against the government growing out of military service. He planned to spend a half-day each in Floydada and Lockney en route to Amarillo.

District Judge Asked To Rule

FORT WORTH, Feb. 20. (U.P) — District Judge Bruce Young was asked today to decided whether a flying instructor's airplane, sold at a sheriff's sale, was a "tool of trade."

Roy B. Taylor, Fort Worth aviator, filed suit against O. B. Brokaw of Dallas, Sheriff A. A. King and Deputy R. E. King of Kilgore to recover his airplane and damages totaling $4,450.

Taylor's petition said that his "Taylor Cub" airplane was sold at auction by Sheriff King at Kilgore last year to satisfy a debt of $49.50 that he allegedly owed Brokaw. Brokaw himself bought the plane at the sheriff's sale, Taylor said, for $125 although Taylor declared it was worth $1,000.

The pilot-instructor said that seizure of the plane deprived him of a livelihood because he was earning $7 an hour from each of 23 persons taking flying lessons from him. Because he had no plane, Taylor said, he lost $3,450 in instructor's fees and suffered other damages estimated at $1,000.

Local atorneys said they knew of no similar case and that the airplane was sold by the sheriff to satisfy the debt under the assumption that it was a "passenger vehicle of transportation" rather than a "tool of trade."

Italy Negotiates For Supply Of Bituminous Coal From U. S.

ROME, Feb. 29 (AP)—Italy was reported in commercial circles today to be negotiating in the United States for the purchase of approximately 3,000,000 tons of bituminous coal to replace imports she usually receives from Germany by sea and which Britain has threatened to blockade.

The negotiations were said to have been conducted by private interests. A government decision concerning them is considered likely within a few days, either approving or rejecting terms. This decision, it was said, probably will be influenced largely by credit facilities, which might be extended by the Import-Export bank.

Political Calculators Predict Republicans May Control House After Vot

Ohio Elections Used As Basis

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29 (U.P.) — Political calculations indicated today that the House of Representatives would be restored to Republican control next November if returns from two Ohio by elections accurately foretell the shift in voting sentiment since 1938.

The returns coincided with publication of a newsweek poll of Washington political writers which named President Roosevelt, Secretary of State Cordell Hull and Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg, R., Mich., in that order, as the three men best qualified to be president.

Roosevelt Leads

Mr. Roosevelt ran away from the field in first choices and point score in this poll. But choices were widely scattered. He had only 16 first choices as against 36 distributed among 14 other persons. Vice President John N. Garner was 13th and New York District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey was 16th. Gov. John W. Bricker of Ohio was No. 28. The poll considered only qualifications for office and not the relative chance of nomination or election.

While candidates pondered these returns, Republicans were jubilant and some Democrats were uneasy over the congressional district voting in Ohio.

Proportion Increases

The Ohio figures, for what they may be worth, show that the Republicans increased their proportion of the vote by seven per cent in Tuesday's 22nd and 17th congressional districts. They won both seats, of which one had been Democratic since 1930, when the G. O. P. suffered its first post-World war reverse in national politics.

The G. O. P. lost Ohio's 17th in 1938 by a margin of less than three per cent of the total vote cast. There were 42 other Republican congressional candidates in 1938 who polled more than 47 per cent of the total vote cast, but failed to obtain a plurality, and 22 others who polled between 45 and 47 per cent of the total vote.

Need 49 More

"You can realize," said House Republican Leader Joseph W. Martin, jr., of those figures, "that there are 65 districts to be carried with an increase of only five per cent in the Republican vote.

"On top of this, an increase of 10 per cent in the Republican congressional vote would give us an additional 29 seats—over and above the 65 which are within the five per cent group. An increase of 10 per cent in the Republican congressional vote would give us 94 additional seats in the House."

The Republicans now have won one of those 94 seats in Ohio and they need 49 more to obtain a bare majority.

How They Ran

On the general political front, the Republican rack for presidential nomination still is wide open and the Democratic contest is confused by uncertainty over President Roosevelt's plans.

Here are the first 16 in the newsweek poll on qualifications for the presidency, with their first, second, third place scores and total point rating (3 points for first place, 2 points for second, 1 point for third):

	1st	2nd	3rd	Total Pts.
Roosevelt	16	2	2	54
Hull	4	9	6	36
Vandenberg	3	6	8	29
Jackson	5	4	3	26
Hoover	6	1	2	22
Taft	2	4	1	15
Martin	2	2	4	14
Farley	2	1	4	12
McNutt	0	6	0	12
Wadsworth	3	1	1	12

Today's Bad Man Is Tame, Say Ex-Two-Gun Sheriffs

By DAVE DRYDEN.
United Press Staff Correspondent

CONCONULLY, Wash., Feb. 29.—To a pair of chip-jawed sheriffs of the day of the "hoss-hair-trigger" today's gangsters and band men wouldn't rate a second glance.

"Bad Bills? Humph, they're Sweet Williams," say these two men in whose day the usual historian of a gun duel between the law and the outlaw was the man who was fastest with the gun.

Both ex-Sheriff George Tindall and his successors, Fred Thorp, rate as historians.

Tindall, a native of Oregon, began his career as an officer in 1887 when he was a deputy sheriff and U. S. marshal. In 1902, he became sheriff here and that year was the beginning of the end of horse thiefs and cattle rustlers in this territory.

Fred Thorp was his successor and he is the man known all over the Northwest as the sheriff that brought in his man, dead or alive.

Rustling Easy Then

When Tindall assumed office, the average population of this region was one person per square mile—a situation that made cattle rustling a profitable affair.

A conviction of a charge of cattle thievery was hard to obtain, some old pioneers even alleging that many jurys had members that were mixed up in the rustlings.

But 10 months after election, Tindall had changed the complexion somewhat. Teaming with a fighting prosecutor, Tindall brought about conviction and prison terms for 22 men in that time—a record never equalled.

Probably the high point of the sheriff's career was the cattlemen and sheepmen war. It began when Tindall aided in the arrest of one "Wild Bill" Hughes, a reported murderer.

A deputy sheriff was shot the next night, supposedly by a friend of Hughes—and the war was on.

A verdict of suicide was returned by a coroner's jury, since no-one could be found to testify. The westerners suddenly were cursed with bad memories.

Match Sent As Warning

And the events similar to the night riders of the tobacco states began. Bands of men rode the hills at night, armed with guns, knives and clubs. Grazing sheep were slaughtered and sheepmen would receive matches in the mail.

The next night after the match had been delivered, hay and feed would go up in smoke. It was the end of sheep raising in this region until comparatively recent times.

When the war had quieted down Tindall left office and Thorp became sheriff. He was quiet but of firmer clay than the hardest criminal in the west.

A peace-loving man on the surface, Thorp was known as a man who could—and did—fight it out if need be.

While his career lacked some of the color that filled the term in office of his predecessor, Thorp joins with Tindall in contempt for present day criminals.

"They're not so tough," they say.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

CCC Camp Will Remain Here

Officials of the chamber of commerce were informed Thursday that existence of the CCC camp here is certain only until Sept. 30.

The information resulted from inquiries made in Washington after rumors had been circulated here that life of the local camp had been prolonged indefinitely.

Contradicting Reports

Original reports here several weeks ago, it was explained, were that the camp was scheduled to be moving away on June 30, which is the end of the federal government's fiscal year. Officials of the chamber, of the American Legion and numerous other civic leaders immediately joined in an effort to urge that the camp be retained.

They explained that the continuation of the improvement program in Mackenzie state park depends upon retention of the camp, and that if it is moved away, most of the work that has been done will be lost.

Number To Be Reduced

New information, officials said, is that provision has been made for operation of the camp during what is termed the "15th semi-annual work period" of the CCC. That period ends on Sept. 30. On that date, the chamber was advised, the number of CCC camps now in operation is to be reduced.

Officials of the chamber declared that every effort will be made to keep the camp here off the list of those to be abolished. However, the procedure to be followed in the endeavor cannot be decided upon until Congress disposes of certain appropriation bills it now is considering.

Meanwhile, assurance was received from Congressman George Mahon that he is keeping in close touch with the situation in Washington.

School Census Work Starts This Morning

School census work over Texas is to start this morning with each district, whether common, rural or independent, selecting its own enumerators, County Supt. Claude L. Hale said yesterday.

"We urgently ask all parents in Lubbock county rural districts to take care in giving the correct ages of their children," Hale said. "This is important."

Children who reach the age of six years before Sept. 1 and who have passed their 17th birthday at that time, are included in the census. Those who are 18 years of age before Sept. 1 are not to be counted, it was explained.

Scholastic census is used as the basis for making a state apportionment of funds. For the current year $22 per scholastic was set and $9 of this amount has already been paid.

Lynn Club Girl Receives Honor

The record she achieved in 4-H club work has given Miss Reba Phillips, member of the Midway 4-H club, the honor of being the 1939 Gold Star girl of Lynn county. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Phillips.

Reba has not only learned to make her own clothing, but she now helps her mother with hers and the little sisters. During this year she made twelve tea towels, seven pot holders, five handkerchiefs, one pair pajamas, one pair overalls, one bonnet, one smock, four scarfs, five aprons, one shirt, six dresses, and remodeled three dresses. To improve her clothing storage, she added a hat stand, and shoe rack.

In bedroom work she made three scarfs, four sheets, one quilt lining, five quilt blocks and curtains for three windows.

With the help of her parents, she raised five hundred baby chicks and cared for the family flock, which produced an average of 140 eggs per day. She at all times followed improved recommendations in poultry management.

Reba's club sponsor is Mrs. R. L. Littlepage.

Cuttings From Hedges Asked By Demonstration Agent

Householders and others who plan to thin their hedges during March are being asked by Miss Elizabeth Brooks, assistant home demonstration agent and girl club leader, to save cuttings for the 4-H girls of the county.

"The girls are starting their cuttings and they need trimmings," said Miss Brooks. "If persons who are willing to give the trimming to us will call me at the office here, telephone 1102, I will be glad to arrange for their being picked up.

Miss Brooks said that setting of hedges is one of the major projects of club girls this year.

President John Quincy Adams once taught rhetoric at Harvard.

NYA Project Is Aid To Students

The NYA resident center project sponsored by Texas Technological college has been the means of twelve West Texas farm boys starting to college.

The project, which started in March, 1938, accepts boys from farm families between the ages of 18 and 24 years otherwise qualified for places on NYA rolls, trains them in practical application of vocational agriculture as suited to prevailing conditions in the areas where they live and enable them to earn while receiving instruction, sufficient for their room, board, laundry and medical attention plus $12 per month for spending money.

From an average of 50 boys assigned to the project twelve of the youths have, after being on the project a while, managed to find jobs in private employment that enabled them to drop off the NYA project, work part time and enroll in regular college at Texas Tech according to A. V. Bullock, district director of NYA.

The boys having left the project to enter college are: Billy F. Niven; Roby; Vivan Britton, Paducah; W. C. Mauzey, Blackwell; Paul Kuchinsky, Higgins; H. C. Harper, Paducah; Charles Cox, Floydada; Leo Comer, Lockney; Gilford Cox, Lubbock; Merle Holley, Swearingen; Jack Nelson, Hawley; and J. W. Brunson, Woodrow.

The project is under the general supervision of Dean A. H. Leidigh of the Tech agricultural department and R. L. Chappelle, head of the division of agricultural education.

In a recent statement J. C. Kellam, state NYA administrator, said "We are thoroughly pleased with the project and the progress being made." And in commenting on NYA work in general he said "Although the NYA has not been able to reach all the boys and girls in Texas who ought to be back in school, it has alloted all available funds to help the maximum number to obtain additional education and work experience to better fit themselves for life."

Inopportune Criticism

CRITICISMS of the Texas custom of electing state officials at intervals of two years are not new. Many astute observers long have leaned to the opinion that the interests of the state would be better served if Texas officials, including governor, were elected to four-year terms.

However, even those who believe in the four-year term idea will be apt to question the propriety and the political wisdom of Gov. O'Daniel's attack a few days ago upon the biennial election requirement.

The criticism is peculiarly inappropriate, source considered, because it comes at a time when Mr. O'Daniel is faced with an early public decision as to whether he will seek a second term of two years as governor. It comes at a time when he is faced with the certainty of vigorous opposition—at a time when he, unlike most first term Texas governors, is far from a certainty of re-election if he should be a candidate. He gives the impression of waiting until the game is almost over to squall about the rules, and of preparing to blame upon those rules any failures with which his administration may be charged.

Perhaps it is true that quadrennial elections would mean greater efficiency and more economy in our state government than has resulted from the biennial plan. But of all the men in Texas public life who might advocate such a change, Gov. O'Daniel should be last.

Banquets Provide Proof

BREAKING of records is not new for Texas Technological college.

In the matter of enrollment, it came into existence with the most numerous student body of any institution of higher learning in the history of education. So far as available records disclose, its enrollment at the beginning of its 15th session last September was the largest of any American college or university at the same age.

Another record, more significant than any dealing with mere size of the student body, is about to be added to the list. It will be made Saturday night when graduates and former students of Tech's engineering department gather in reunion about banquet tables scattered from the Atlantic to the Pacific oceans.

They are the proof that Tech is accomplishing more than a quantity production of young men and women possessed of diplomas. These banquets will afford the proof that Tech is fulfilling a mission without which there could be no justification for the expense of higher education. It has produced a quality product—young men and women who are writing records of personal achievements and of service to mankind regardless where they may be placed or of the competition with which they may be faced.

We do not believe that any college or university ever has sent so many young people so far—in both the geographical and the materialistic professional sense, in so short a time as has Tech. The record is, indeed, one to justify pride.

Expressing Our Sentiments

ANNOUNCEMENT that the Bermuda islands will be left off the calling list of west-bound trans-Atlantic clipper planes after March 15 may help dumb John Bull to realize that we are not lacking entirely in the means of giving expression to resentment because of invasions of our rights.

As it happens, the itinerary change will hit John Bull in a tender spot. It will hit him in the pocket book. It will tend to discourage much of the American vacation trade which has made the Bermudas one of the most prosperous little spots on earth. The residents of the islands, most of whom are as British as Bond street, aren't going to like that. And the possessions are sufficiently important in the British scheme of things to be an irritant to the empire's government.

Possibly protests from the islands to the British cabinet may serve a most useful purpose in improving the relationship between Uncle Sam and England. It may be the means of convincing the British that if the end of our patience should be reached, we are quite capable of doing something about it.

With Our Contemporaries

"Our private opinion publicly expressed is that as a statesman Governor O'Daniel is a pretty good Christian gentleman," Eee Eye Hill says in the Lynn County News, Tahoka.

CAST OF CHARACTERS

MARIE LA PORTE — Model in exclusive dress shoppe, lives on a barge.

DAN DONOVAN—Playboy son of a rich Irishman, in love with Marie.

TOMMY RYAN — Leader of the truckers fighting Marie's father.

LYNDA MARTIN—Society debutante, wants to marry Dan.

BAPTISTE LA PORTE—Marie's father, owner of a fleet of barges.

YESTERDAY: Mrs. Donovan lunches with Mrs. Martin, who suggests Dan's marriage to Lynda as the best way to unite the Donovan and Martin fortunes. Lynda interrupts the conversation. She is hardly settled when Dan arrives, with Marie.

CHAPTER XXIV

"Now, you and I are going to have nothing but fun for the next two hours," said Dan to Marie, as he reached for the menu. "But before I even so much as order the clams, I'd like to hear your views on the situation." He twirled the menu card and waved the waiter aside. "Remember, though, every minute is precious. You've put your own time limit on this."

Marie smiled, but her eyes were serious. "I know, that's why I don't see what made you bring me here. You'll spend all your time talking to friends."

Dan drew crazy patterns on the table cloth with a fork.

"I suppose it does seem cockeyed coming to this nosey place, but it's home to me. I think I'd turn up here if I'd committed murder and the district attorney were sitting at the next table. I guess it's a habit."

He included the entire room with a single gesture. "Now, take these people here today. Ex-husbands and ex-wives are sitting table to table. Sweethearts and wives in the same party. Old husbands and new ones at the bar." He glanced around. "The Colony is sort of like a public place for confessing your sins and your pleasures."

He looked directly at Marie as he uttered the word, "pleasures."

"You are my pleasure, you know," he said. "But you're more than that, you're every breath I draw."

Marie was about to speak but the waiter interrupted.

Dan looked at her, mouth quirked up at the corners.

"I intend to start this thing off the right way." His eyes twinkled. "I'm going to do the ordering." He laughed. "I hope you like it. You can tell me later."

While he discussed the menu with the waiter she sat back in an introspective mood, hardly aware of the people round her save, perhaps, the three women in the front of the room. Without being told, she felt their antagonism. She knew that, whether they were looking at her this moment or not, they were thinking of her. Even a week at Varnet's had taught her something about women of this class.

But she felt strangely free of their criticism because she was neither asking nor taking away anything from them. In another hour and so many minutes she would be removed from their lives forever. That morning, after she left the barge, she had made up her mind that she belonged neither in the glamorous world of Varnet's frou-frou shop, nor Dan's sky-rocketing circle. With a maturity far beyond her years she had decided that her attempt to merge the two worlds, had caused all the trouble. She was a barge girl; a canalboat captain's daughter and nothing more. However, there was nothing to prevent her from carrying back memories with her. Dan's voice came to her suddenly.

"Snap out of it," he begged. "Where were you? I'm jealous. I'd like to be there too."

"As a matter of fact you were there." She smiled. "I'm happy, are you?"

He caught her hand under the table. "Why do you ask?"

She drew away. The thrill was so real it made her unhappy. She did not want to encourage anything so lovely, if it could not last.

"I know," he said, you don't have to tell me. I'm eating humble pie. Everything else in the world that I've wanted, I've got and now—well, I'll never ask you if you love me—until—" he stopped.

"Until what?"

"Ah, that I won't tell. It depends on you." He raised his cocktail glass. "To the happiest—"

* * *

"I'm so.ry," Lynda's voice interrupted. "Do you two object to a threesome for a few moments?" She smiled gracefully.

"Certainly not." Dan rose to his feet, but there was no enthusiasm in his move. "Won't you sit down?"

Lynda settled in a chair opposite them. "I believe Miss La Porte and have met before." Her voice was friendly, but her eyes were hard. "I've heard so much about your living on—"

Marie looked at her. "You mean my living on a barge? Yes, I guess you'd say I called a canalboat home. I was born and brought up on one—the same one," she added defiantly.

"Which is more than most New Yorkers can say," Dan added, "being born and raised in one place."

"That's true." Lynda's tone had lost none of its graciousness. "But canalboats are curious homes—where is yours Miss La Porte?"

Marie laughed. "I don't think you could ever find it. It's on the East river. Does that mean anything to you?"

"No." Lynda spoke abstractedly. "Oh, I'm sorry, I must be running on. I see your mother and Auntie going, Dan." She jumped up. "I didn't want to leave without saying hello."

"Do you like her?" Marie asked, when Lynda had gone.

"I used to think I did, after a fashion;" Dan admitted, "that is, until I met you, and then I knew I wasn't the real thing."

She was silent.

"A penny for your thoughts."

"They weren't important, just about you."

"I like that, of all the—" And then they both laughed.

* * *

The rest of the luncheon went this way, laughing over silly things that could mean nothing to anyone but themselves; discovering that they shared a common antipathy to parsnips, banana cream pie and hatless men who strolled through the streets with upturned overcoat collars, that each adored walking in the rain and that they both would rather tango and waltz than eat.

"Why, everybory's gone," cried Marie, looking up. "It must be terribly late." She glanced at Dan. "I'm not even saying goodbye. I can't, I'm just going."

She got up. He rose with a defiant, "I don't care who sees us," put his arms around her and kissed her squarely on the mouth. "I'm coming with you!"

"No, you promised—" She laughed, and slipped away.

"You may call this goodby—" he shouted, but she was gone.

Out on the street, she turned toward Lexington Avenue—bending her head as the wind swirled a cloud of snow about her. But she stopped as she heard someone, a girl, calling.

"Oh, Miss La Porte." It was Lynda Martin. "I—I don't know how to begin." She paused. "But, Dan is so young and foolish. I don't know how to explain, but—he'll break his mother's heart if—"

"If what?" Marie's tone was sharp.

"If— It's so hard to explain—"

Marie stared at her. "You mean if he doesn't marry you?"

"Yes."

Marie looked at Lynda coldly. "You don't need to worry. I'm not going to marry him. Goodby."

Lynda stood there staring after her until she had entirely vanished in the veil of white snow.

New Jersey Organizes Course For Model Airplane Builders

NEWARK, N. J., Feb. 29. (U.P.)—The state of New Jersey is organizing its own government aviation training course—for model airplane builders.

A survey is under way for the purpose of giving instruction and aid in model craft building in children's hospitals, orphanages and juvenile correction centers. Fourteen experimental instruction units were established last year and have been deemed such a success that the state will open units all over the state.

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

ADMINISTRATION liberals are quietly framing a plan designed to prevent any repetition of the "red raids" staged by the late A. Mitchell Palmer in 1917. They were deeply shocked by the Murphy-Hoover 4 o'clock-in-the-morning arrests of Detroit citizens on the stale charge of recruiting for the Loyalist forces in Spain.

Under the proposed scheme a super-judicial body would be created to pass on all cases—all arrests—involving any question of civil liberties. It would consist of a Supreme Court Justice—probably Mr. Stone or Mr. Douglas—a Federal Circuit Judge and an outstanding lawyer. They would sit as extra-legal Grand Jury charged with protecting the civil rights of any individual or organizations which appeared to be the victims of official or unofficial wartime hysteria.

For the moment the plan may be held in abeyance because of confidence in Attorney General Jackson's attitude in these matters. Bob, who defended conscientious objectors in Jamestown, N. Y., twenty-three years ago, has shown that he has no sympathy with patriotic persecutors. In dismissing the Detroit cases, he made abundantly clear that the arrests had been ordered without his knowledge and at the insistence of his predecessor—Frank Murphy.

COOPERATION: The most striking example of commercial cooperation between belligerent nations has been reported to Washington by our ataches abroad. It is an almost unbelievable instance of "business as usual" with or without a war.

As reported here previously, the French and Germans are swapping iron ore and coke by way of Belgium. In the Moselle region, where artillery activity is the heaviest, German gunners religiously refuse to bombard enemy factories within range while the gallant poilus return the compliment. A Luxembourg steel plant selling to both sides is jointly owned by Parisian and Berlin bankers, including members of the Hitler and Daladier governments. The same situation existed in 1914-1918, so it occasioned no surprise here except among cedulous laymen.

But even Washington officialdom was shocked to learn that Berlin recently offered to sell some of its most modern planes and tanks to France. Hitler's need of hard cash lay behind the proposal. Paris finally rejected the suggestion, but not until after toying with it for a while.

CHALLENGE: American business men seem to be seeing the light—and getting sense. They revealed their new attitude a few days ago when the advisory committee of the National Industrial Council staged a private huddle at the capital.

Leaders of key industries complained bitterly about the confidential news letter sent out from Washington by the National Association of Manufacturers. Most of the Council's members belong to the N.A.M., which gives point to their burst of criticism. Speaker after speaker denounced the virulence of the letter's attacks on the President and his policies. They denounced the persistent "campaign of hate". What they want from the Capital, they reiterated, is honest and unbiased information as guidance in fixing their own policies. In discussing the Glenn Frank report and the platforms of the various candidates—Republican and Democratic—they pointed out that at least 80 per cent of the New Deal reforms are here to stay.

So, they asked, why not make the best of it? The major 1940 issue, in the unadvertised opinion of solid business men, is the inauguration of better administrative personnel and practices in the national government. And, boiled down, that is the critical challenge of the G.O.P.'s tentative campaign plans.

MISCUE: Folks doing business with the federal government—business men, editors, politicos—have recently wondered why their daily batch of official releases has become so skinny. The answer is the O'Mahoney amendment to the public printing appropriation bill, which became effective last July.

Once upon a time New Deal agencies and departments distributed public documents and statements as if they were manna from a political heaven. Nary a swallow fell—threatened to fall—but several thousand typewriters and mimeograph machines swung into noisy and expensive action. So the Senator from Wyoming insisted—and Congress agreed—that no federal release is to be sent out unless it has been specifically requested in writing. And these hitherto best sellers slumped like a once-armed baseball player's batting average. On the basis of performance so far, here is the Post Office's official estimate of a year's saving, also comparative figures and costs, past and prospective.

In 1920 the annual cost of distributing departmental mail was $9,000,000. In 1939 it had risen to $38,000,000. The O'Mahoney amendment will cut this figure to about $28,000,000. The number of pieces of mail will drop from 970,000,000 to 682,000,000 each year, from 90,000,000 to 67,000,000 pounds. Note: By an unhappy coincidence and poor placement, Tom Dewey chose Joe's home city of Cheyenne as the locus of his denunciation of federal extravagance in the use of the mails.

By Richard Waldo
NEW YORK

INFORMATION available to European affiliates of U. S. banks continues to be anywhere from a week to a montth ahead of the versions permitted over censored cables. Where Helsinki releases report that the Russian advance was halted by new arrivals of Swedish equipment, financial channels have it that all Stockholm help came to an end three weeks ago.

Late in December an unpublicized agreement was pushed through between London and Stockholm whereby England agreed to replace barrel for barrel all the fuel oil Sweden would sell to the Finns. Those British replacements were a sine qua non before Stockholm would risk depleting fuel reserves needed for Sweden's mechanized divisions. British deliveries were fulfilled and tankers still thread the Baltic northward. But Swedish deliveries to Finland came to a complete halt a week before the big Russian push. The same sources report that several battalions of Swedish volunteers who were about to cross the border were ordered back to barracks pending solution of the neutrality fight which is splitting King Gustav's Cabinet.

On the naval side banking advices report the Finns as being paralyzed by Russian strangulation of the Baltic. Lacking even a semblance of a navy, the Finnish general staff put in an emergency order for a small flotilla of mosquito boats. This category of sea craft, whose sale would not affect Allied naval power, was the single possibility of creating an instantaneous navy by purchase. In sufficient numbers they were counted on to neutralize the handful of Russian Baltic cruisers for months. The order was taken under consideration by London and Paris, where it is still being considered.

REDEEMED: Twice within a few days the Wall Street crowd has been puzzled by operations of the Bank of England. Earlier in the week the British Treasury made the now famous sequestration of U. S. securities. Against these the English holder gets a receipt which later will be exchanged for another government promise in the way of a war bond. But for the sequestration of German paper the British owners got cash.

On September 3rd British merchants were caught, like their American colleagues, with tray loads of short-term German credits. English business had a much heavier load due to the traditional policy of the Bank of England in encouraging all sorts of monetary help to the nazis. U. S. merchants who accorded the Germans a standstill agreement will get theirs when and if the Reich is in a position to pay off. But the Bank of England has notified all holders of German credits to present them at the window where they are accepted as 100 per cent collateral against sterling loans. In effect the loans are sales to the government since the German obligations are accepted without recourse. The borrowers are charged the same 5% interest as in regular banking transactions.

By C. A. PRICE
Associated Press Staff Writer

TEXAS Today, Rome 2,000 years ago. Many problems of the modern world are not unlike those of ancient Rome, and human nature is unchanged.

Julius Caesar had trouble arranging his hair over his bald spot. He joshed with pirates when he was their captive. When he was deeply in debt he wise cracked that he needed a million dollars to be worth just nothing at all!

Proud Cicero wrote to a historian to lay it on a bit thick when he came to describe the events of Cicero's consulship. Shy Virgil sought refuge from admiring crowds, Livy gossiped, Horace disliked bores and Roman politicians, and officials generally wrestled with problems ranging from pensions to farm relief and sit down strikes.

Replete With Human Interest

These and other parallels of ancient and modern life were drawn before the Southern Classical Association at San Antonio recently by H. J. Haskell, editor of the Kansas City Star, who was a guest speaker at their annual meeting described a recent adventure into the fields of Roman history which resulted in the writing of a book on the subject.

Discoveries were two fold, first in the Roman world economic and social pressure produced results very similar to those produced by the same pressure in the world today. The second was that human nature is essentially the same yesterday, today and forever and that whatever young students of Latin may feel about it, Caesar and the other big shots of ancient Rome reveal characteristics like those of men we meet in everyday life today.

Roman history is as replete with human interest stories as today's newspaper or Texas folk lore. There was a hard boiled consul, Postumius, who while on a military campaign detailed troops to cut brush on his estate. Later he was prosecuted and fined. The WPA has had a few difficulties of this kind.

Licinius got a small holdings act passed limiting the size of holdings of the public domain. A few years later he was fined for violating his own law. He was carrying an extra allotment in his son's name. And Licinius' good wife, so the story goes, prompted him to instigate certain social legislation because she hated to think that her own social status was lower than her sister's.

Americans, Shocked At European Casualties, Ignore Traffic Deaths In U

Total Of 2,703 Die In January

CHICAGO, Feb. 29 (U.P.)—Americans, although shocked by the human slaughter in war-torn Europe, appear resigned to an increasing peace-time slaughter of thousands on U. S. highways, the National Safety Council said today.

Colonel John Stillwell, council president, reported that 2,703 persons were killed in traffic accidents in January—6 per cent more than in January a year ago and the fourth consecutive month of increases over the previous year.

"The situation is made more ironic by the fact that the attacks in Europe are made upon an enemy an inspired by patriotism, whereas here we are killing fellow citizens, and for no reason except carelessness," he said.

Rural Areas Blamed

"America is shocked to read of enemy attacks on Europe's defenseless women and children and yet it accepts with apparent resignation the fact that thousands of equally defenseless persons have been struck down and killed just as tragically in our own country.

"It is significant that the unbroken increases in America's traffic toll during the last four months began almost simultaneously with the outbreak of war overseas. Can it be that we, too, are holding human life more cheaply?"

The council blamed rural areas for the increase. Traffic deaths in all reporting cities were down slightly—less than 1 per cent—but were up about 8 per cent in rural areas.

South Dakota and Vermont showed the greatest proportional improvement among states in January with reductions of 63 per cent in their traffic fatalities. Maine reported a 60 per cent drop and Kansas, 31 per cent. States reporting reductions, their total fatalities for January, and their per cent decrease from January, 1939, included:

Arkansas 22-19; Texas, 128-2; Oklahoma, and New Mexico, no change.

Of 351 cities reporting for January this year and last year, 80 showed decreases in deaths. Increases were reported by 69, while 202 showed no change.

Oklahoma City was the largest city in the country to complete January without a motor vehicle death.

Fatigue Most Devastating Force In Individual Life

HARTFORD, Conn., Feb. 29 (U.P.)—Fatigue, in the opinion of Dr. George Ross Wells, Hartford Seminary Foundation psychologist, is "the most devastating force in individual life today."

This fatigue, he warned, is seldom the result of physical or emotional effort, but from "long periods of going too fast, and being harried by fears, of which most are purely imaginary.

"Many of us find life too hard, too drab, too difficult, because we are fatigued."

In such cases, he said, no benefit can be obtained from a change of activity. He prescribed complete rest, recreation and even loafing as the best means of combatting the distress.

"There are times," he said, "when nothing will help you but doing nothing."

Dr. Wells declared that cases of inferority complex are "extraordinarily rare," and the product of imagination resulting from a comparison of a person's estimate of his own capabilities with those of another who has made greater strides.

"The natural result," he explained, "is a feeling of lesser worth which is permitted to work upon the imagination until it distorts the real situation."

Fears are prejudices, he said, "were taught us," and "most of us were born into many of the beliefs we hold today."

A reasonably happy life can be obtained, Dr. Wells declared, by "avoiding the adverse effects of outside interference" and by pursuing a definite goal within reason.

New York Curb Report Shows "Hard Times In Wall Street"

NEW YORK, Feb. 29 (AP)—Indicative of "hard times in Wall street" which those in the financial community have been complaining of was the annual financial report of the New York Exchange, made public today.

The curb and its affiliates reported ending the year 1939 with a net operating loss of $102,714, after deducting all charges including $116,380 for depreciation. This represented an actual cash gain of $13,666, for the previous yet net operating deficit amounted to $124,399.

Jack Dempsey fought 69 ring battles, starting in 1895 and ending in 1932. He won 47 of them by knockouts.

Kiwanians Sing At Luncheon

Kiwanians yesterday were put through their paces in group singing of "pep" songs by Broughton Morgan, who recently moved here from Plainview, when he led the more than 100 present in a trio of action songs. Morgan, a chemistry teacher in Senior High school, has been an evangelistic singer and leader for a number of years.

President W. L. Stangel presided. He presented Claude L. Hale as a new member and W. C. Rylander, secretary, said a formal presentation of Kiwanis aims would be made soon.

Mart G. Pederson and Bryan McDonald were co-chairmen. McDon-
