VOLUME XXXIV | Wellington, Collingsworth County, Texas, Thursday, August 13, 1942 | NUMBER 5

Pioneers Gather Thurs. For Reunion-Rodeo

August War Bond Quota Is $26,900

Collingsworth County's War Bond Quota for August is $26,900, it was announced Tuesday, following the release from Washington of quotas for all counties of the nation.

The August Quota for the nation was set at $815,000,000; that of Texas at $27,250,000. In arriving at the county quotas the Treasury Department took into consideration major factors affecting incomes which in turn cause significant variations in sales during the twelve-month period.

Hereafter actual Bond sales in the various states will be compared with quotas on a cumulative basis. The amount by which sales fall short of or exceed quotas in any month will be added to or subtracted from quotas for future months.

The quotas of other counties in this section of the state include:

Childress, $43,900.
Donley, $19,200.
Hall, $42,400.
Gray, $132,900.
Armstrong, $8,200.
Cottle, $21,500.

Outstanding Ropers Here For Contests

The pioneers of Collingsworth County, their stories, and their memories will take first place in county life Thursday, August 13, when the Annual Old Settlers Reunion and Rodeo is held at Wellington.

Plans for the event are complete, according to Dave Thomas, president of the Old Settlers, and Cameron Beam, vice president of the Wellington Rodeo Association, sponsors of the rodeo division of the entertainment.

Activities have been limited to one day only. The Old Settlers Reunion will be held at the accustomed meeting place, the LaHue Grove, four miles east of Wellington. This will be for only those persons and their families who lived in the county 30 or more years ago, or those who have lived here a slightly shorter period of time, but who feel that their part in the development of the county makes them eligible.

Pioneers will register at the Wellington Leader office before going to the reunion grounds.

This group will gather about 10 o'clock Thursday morning. A basket dinner will be spread under the trees at noon, and the remainder of the day will be spent in visiting among the old timers. Those attending from this county have been asked to bring well filled baskets to care for out-of-county visitors.

Although this is the first year that a rodeo has been given in connection with the reunion, plans have already been made to include this as a permanent feature in the old-timers' celebration.

Two rodeo performances will be given, at 3 p. m. and 9 p. m.

A parade of all contestants and all other horsemen who care to take part will be held at 2 p. m.

The concluding feature will be a street dance Thursday evening.

"We have some mighty fine ropers for the rodeo performance," Mr. Beam said, "and we are expecting acceptances from a good many more who have not yet answered our invitation to take part."

Both amateurs and professional ropers will take part.

Three events are scheduled, roping, ribbon racing, and barrel racing.

Among the outstanding ropers to appear is Odus Riddle, of Vernon, who several years ago was one of a group of rodeo performers to appear in London, England. He is regarded as one of the outstanding stars of this section of

A threatened drouth over parts of the county was definitely ended Friday night, when good rains fell throughout most of this section, pushing hopes for cotton and feed crops still higher.

Although the amount of moisture varied, practically every part of the county reported enough to prove beneficial to crops.

In general, the rainfall was heavier through the southeastern section of the county. The official rain gauge at Wellington registered nine-tenths of an inch, but in several sections south of town and near the county line, as much as two inches was estimated. This section had also received good rains only a short time before.

West of Wellington, in the Buck Creek vicinity, the rainfall was lighter, with only about one-half inch reported, but at Quail, the rain was estimated at approximately an inch, and other reports indicated this amount fell in the section between Quail and the Donley County line. Heavy rains also fell in the Lillie and Salt Fork vicinity.

North of Salt Fork, heavy rains were reported in the Samnorwood, Plymouth and Aberdeen areas. Eastward, nearer the Oklahoma line, the rain was lighter, with

Fall Garden Planting Time Near In County

By ROSE ERISMAN

For those families whose spring gardens failed to take care of the family's needs for fresh vegetables for table use and canning, should be thinking now agout their fall gardens. Every gardener should strive for tasty, juicy baby beets and carrots, fresh leafy mustard, spinach, lettuce, swiss chard, and turnips. These will give to fall and winter meals that tantalizing taste of things fresh from the garden.

In purchasing seed for the fall garden, it is advisable to secure one-fourth more seed for this planting than for the spring garden. The germination of seed in the fall is poor, consequently the extra quantity of seed will ordinarily be necessary to get a good stand.

Hardy varieties of vegetables should be planted to withstand heavy frost. Long Standing Bloomsdale is the hardy variety of spinach recommended for fall gardens here. For carrots, Danvers Half Long is a variety that will withstand light frost. Detroit Dark Red or Crasley's Egyptian are both hardy varieties of beets for planting in this section of the state. Shogoin or Purpletop turnips, Tendergreen or Florida Broadleaf mustard, and Lucullus Swiss Chard are excellent varieties for fall gardens.

With the excellent condition of the soil this year and the recent rains, fall gardens should be responsible for getting more home canned foods on the pantry shelves and more fresh vegetables in the daily diets of all the farm families of Collingsworth County during the late fall and winter months. Make balanced meals your insurance for health and Victory.

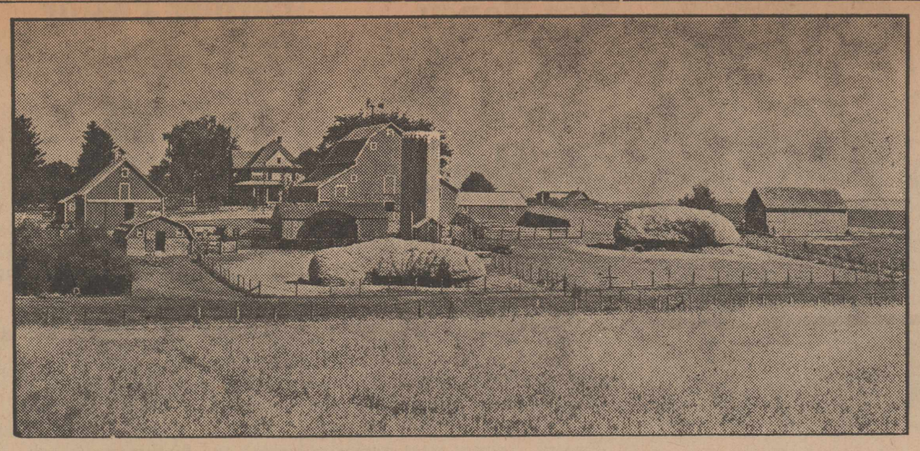

Elm Valley And China Grove Schools Opened

Two additional schools of Collingsworth County that have opened their year's work are Elm Valley and China Grove, both located on Elm Creek in the northern part of the county.

Mrs. Raymond Brown began work as teacher at China Grove Monday, August 10. She taught in this school several years ago. Mrs. Brown has been attending West Texas State College.

It is estimated that approximately 90,000 Texas farms have turned primarily from horse and mule power to the tractor during the last ten years.

FARM INCOME SETS NEW RECORD

Farms, like this one in Grundy county, Iowa, earned a higher cash income from marketing in 1941 than in any year since 1920. Gross farm income in 1941 is estimated at just under 14 billion dollars. Increase resulted both from heavier marketings and higher prices.

Unusual Corn Grown On Edgar Lockhart Farm

Three ears of corn joined at their bases were brought to The Leader office Monday morning by A. S. J. Lockhart of Wellington. The corn was raised by his son, Edgar Lockhart, east of town.

The center ear is considerably larger than the other two, which form a V, and Mr. Lockhart stated that he believed the unique growth formed a V for Victory symbol, with the middle ear the "heart" of the V.

Mr. Lockhart said that the patch from which this corn was taken will yield approximately 50 bushels per acre.

Keep Up The Homes We're Fighting For

SAVE

Whenever I read in the paper or hear over the radio a talk on "Save, Buy Bonds and Stamps," I begin to reminisce and think back in the past about "Saving."

The first "saving" I did was to buy our furniture before we married.

Then before the babies were born I saved for the doctor bills. By the time these were paid I began saving to send the kids to school.

The going really got tough when I started saving to send them to college. When I was getting near where I could see daylight and college days were three-fourths over, this awful war hit us, so here I go trying to save some more to buy bonds and stamps.

I figure the next saving would be for old age, so Bonds and Stamps are the best savings accounts I can have.

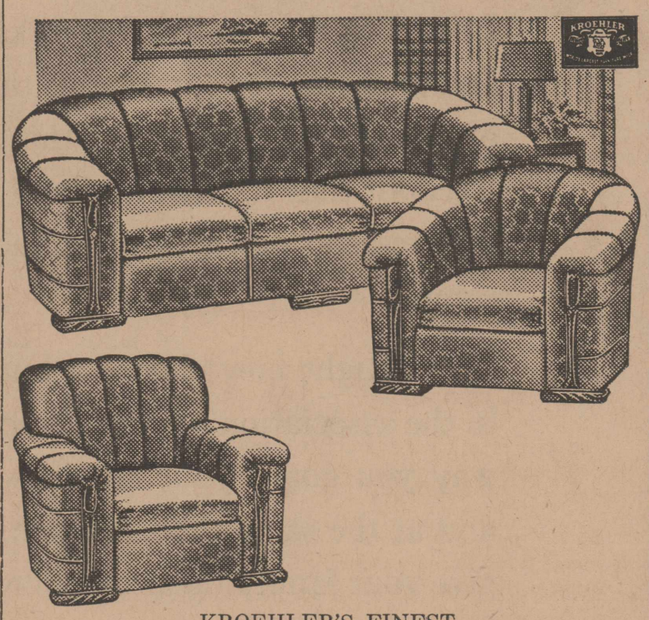

From the looks of things now the entire county will make a bumper crop. Everyone will be so busy this fall they won't have time for anything.

Scrap Iron Drive

The government is asking every person in Collingsworth to aid in the drive for scrap iron, rubber brass and copper, and every one in this county has some of this scrap around their place—10 pounds, 20 pounds, or whatever you have. Won't you please bring it to scrap dealer so he can ship it before winter so they can keep the mills running.

An old sweep or cart, cook stove, rubber shoes or tires will be a big help. Contact A. B. Mears for information about the Scrap Drive. Don't wait. Act now for you will have more time before you start to gathering your crops.

BABSON SAYS . . .

In the Dallas News yesterday, Babson in his column talks of the "Scarcity of Many Things." "Certainly," he says, "those who wish to buy any hardware, pots and pans, and cooking utensils should do so. Some say this will also apply to furniture except nursery equipment. Most household electrical appliances may soon be impossible to obtain under any conditions while rugs, carpets, chinaware and linoleum may be on the rationed list. Buy now, as the minister says, or forever hold your peace. Certainly prices will not be lower."

All are articles that Babson says will be out soon.

Deck's DIDACTICS

—By S. R. Pinkston

You said, Deck, that you were never going to ask me to write (in) your column again. But I am. I believe you have a member of your family that knows that you are laying up in bed doing nothing but reading and growing together. You may have to have a lot of straightening out when you get out of that front room, because you are being waited on just a little too much. It could easy become a habit with you. I know a lot of things that I could say that might make you get up, but I want to see you lay there and grow back together real good. I miss you coming around wanting to see me one of those trick ads you are always devising.

When you do get out, Deck, and get to driving around slow in order to conserve your tires, I want you to drive that block on 10th street from the Methodist parsonage east. Just stop your car before you get alongside the Legion Hall and take a look at that magnificent new community hall that Bura Handley is just about to complete. It's a sight for sore eyes, Deck, viewed from that street. You know you have never seen the building much except from the back door of the Leader office. And there's another thing, Deck, it's a splendid example of what a community can do when it gets the spirit to do. You know, that spirit was pretty low here once, but some three or four of our citizens just kept talking and trying until the interest was aroused sufficient for the thing to come about. There's some more things that can be done there yet, Deck, and I am going to talk to you about it some day when you get through growing together.

I guess you've been reading lots of war news, Deck. I know you've been listening to the radio for I saw one right beside your bed. I can't tell much about it, can you, Deck? One thing they've been telling us is that we are going to have to get down. That we are going to have to do without a lot of things, and make lots of changes in our way of living. Well, Deck, I can't make it out what they want us to do. I listen to the radio, and I hear them tell us to drink the victory size and save tin and help win the war. Well, Deck, a lot of the boys are doing that. And they tell us to take mild, speedy Sal-Hepatica to feel fit to help win the war, and to smoke modern designs of some things on the land, in the air, and on the sea to Victory. But, Deck, I haven't heard much else that we are supposed to do. Maybe you can make it out.

Anyway, I hope you are soon growed together and will be out among us. You'll be hard to get along with at first, for I know how easy it is to spoil a person by taking their meals to them, saying nice things to them, when they haven't got anything to do but lay in bed.

I went over to Memphis yesterday evening, Deck, to hear our common citizen candidate for Senator make a talk to the common citizens of Hall County. I went right up to shake hands with him, and when he saw me he turned right around and stuck out his hand and said he could tell a common citizen as soon as he saw one. He said tell Hez McCaskill not to worry about the outcome.

WEST TEXAS UTILITIES CO.

Greetings To The Pioneers Of Collingsworth County

- This West Texas country today has many times MORE power than during the last war when small, isolated oil engine light plants were the rule rather than the exception.
- America, as a whole, today has five times more power in back of every U. S. soldier . . . more than the combined total of ALL the Axis dictators plus their conquered nations.
- 1942's American soldiers are backed by the most dependable, efficient electric system the world has ever known.
- Instead of a "power shortage," as predicted many months ago by socialistic groups in Washington, our wartime industries today are turning out the needed guns and tanks, ships and planes, with ample electric power.
- The tremendous new wartime loads have been met with the electric industry's total generating capacity working only 50 per cent of the time!
- Here in West Texas our transmission lines bring a surging, endless supply of power to 166 communities, giving all an opportunity to offer Uncle Sam abundant electric facilities for training camps, flying schools, or war industries.
- For that you can thank the trained and experienced men and women of this organization who have dedicated themselves to the future of West Texas—and the American way of living.

War and rationing and priority has failed to touch one thing in Collingsworth. That is hospitality. And the county will again play host to its pioneer settlers at the annual Old Settlers Reunion Thursday, August 13, at the LaHue Grove. With happiness plain on their faces, the early settlers will visit and swap stories of the old times, and in general keep posted on those of their friends who helped them develop this county.

This will be an informal affair, limited to those who have been in Collingsworth 30 years or longer, or who lived here before that time.

There will be one other event, however, in which all residents can enjoy with the pioneers. That is the Rodeo.

Sponsored by the Wellington Rodeo Association, this is to be one of the finest entertainments offered in this city during the summer. While Thursday's performance will be the most elaborate given by the Association, it will compare with many that have been given regularly for several years.

Both outsiders and local ropers and riders will contribute to the fun.

Spectators who attend this event should remember that the rodeo is entirely the work of local men, who planned it and put it into operation solely for their own pleasure and the pleasure of those who like to watch this good old Western sport. It is backed by Wellington business men, who have helped liberally in financing the project.

This event, along with the regular roping contests held three nights each week, are definite proof that fine entertainment can be provided at home with a little work and planning.

Both events, the reunion and the rodeo, deserve the heartiest support and co-operation of every person in the county.

Rip These Ties

ON THE Home Front

While our armed services and those of the rest of the United Nations are fighting on the far-flung battlefronts and while the civilians are giving vigilant co-operation on the Home Front, it is well now and then to think of what we are fighting for. And, although victory may be far off, it also is well now and then to think of what will come after the war and make such plans as we can for that time, both as individuals and as a community of nations.

One year ago Friday, on August 14, President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill announced that they had signed a common statement of aims and principles for the kind of peace free men can make. That statement, which became known as the Atlantic Charter, gives the answer to what the aims of the United Nations are.

The Atlantic Charter has become the central statement on the kind of peace on which we plan to build. It has eight points. Their purpose is establishment of the kind of peace that will:

Afford to all nations the means to live in peace and safety within their own borders.

Assure to all people the opportunity to choose their own government and to "live out their lives in freedom from fear and want."

With that purpose stated in points No. 3 and No. 6, the Charter provides for:

No seizures of other people's lands.

No territorial changes except by choice of the people concerned.

Restoration of sovereign rights and self-government to those forcibly deprived of them.

Equal success for all peoples to the trade and raw materials of the world.

International action toward securing for all a higher standard of living, improved labor standards and social security.

Freedom of the seas for all men.

Disarmament of the aggressors followed up by the setting up of a permanent system of international security that can keep the world at peace.

Under the system of helping our friends and allies, known as Lend-Lease, we are sending supplies and finished weapons to all parts of the world. But we also are depending on our friends and allies—especially those in Latin America, but elsewhere, too—for a great variety of vital war material.

In the last week, WPB announced that some 500 items imported from every corner of the globe had been placed on an emergency list, so that they might be sure of space in ships bound for America. The list is a long one, including metals, wood products, chemicals, lumber—an altogether imposing catalog of things we must have, and for which we depend on our friends.

Here on the Home Front, the U. S. A. has pretty well ended all output of things not needed for war, but now and then the War Production Board still finds places where we can tighten up further. Among recent moves of this nature are the orders against use of iron and steel in mattresses, sofas, lounges, etc., and other orders which will virtually eliminate civilian use of shellac.

The action on shellac will mean fewer phonograph records. Record makers up till now have been able to get 30 per cent of the shellac they normally use, but now the need is greater for the protection of munitions.

Folks in the Southwest had an opportunity this past week to find out what Washington OPA officials were saying about the battle on the Home Front, with a visit to the Dallas regional office by John Hamm, senior deputy OPA administrator, and Paul Porter, deputy administrator for rent.

Mr. Hamm talked mainly of the danger of inflation. Said he: "People just can't realize how critical this problem of inflation is. The amount of goods available to the consumer is gradually declining but the national income is swiftly rising, and as these draw further apart, the danger of inflation increases. By the end of 1942, our standard of living faces a return to the worst of the depression years, simply because our production of consumer goods will be so low. We must explore the methods open to us to whip this inflation problem and use them to the fullest extent."

Man has now conquered almost everything dangerous in nature—except human nature.

Your Town And Mine

—By CHARLES L. ALLEN

"A thing of beauty is a joy forever." Thus wrote the poet, and he meant it. To him a beautiful object or a beautiful sound was an indescribable pleasure. It needed no substance, no form, no reason for being. The sheer delight that his poetic soul received from beholding the object or hearing the sound was reason enough.

Charlie Allen

Most of us common people are not poets. We do not have the faculty of enjoying beauty in the abstract, nor can we afford to indulge our souls and our fancies to the extent of investing in objects of beauty that have no other useful purpose. In the main, we have to spend our money for things that have a utilitarian value over and beyond their innate beauty. We must make our money buy both beauty and utility.

When you come to think of it, moreover, there is nothing, or almost nothing, in nature that exists just because it is beautiful. Flowers were not made just to give people delight through their colors and fragrances. The rose adorns the thorn because it will attract the busy bee, who in turn will fertilize the flowers and thus perpetuate the species. In nature, everything must serve a useful purpose. If it may best serve that purpose through its attractiveness, well and good; but beauty is not an end in itself.

You may wonder how this little reverie on beauty brings me to talk about Mary Ann, for she really was not such a beautiful child. I remember her, in fact, along about the fourth grade in school, when she wore pigtails, had freckles on her nose (which was a bit too short, I thought, and turned up before it got well started), and when there wasn't a boy in our grade who looked at her twice. But even then there were at least two people who thought Mary Ann was the sweetest and prettiest thing ever born. They were Mary Ann herself, and her mother. And neither one of them ever let anybody in Our Town forget it.

As it often happens, Mary Ann's parents had somewhat more money than most of the mothers and fathers in our village and they spent it on their little daughter. Mary Ann always had a new dress for every party. She had one of those new-fangled permanent waves when the other girls her age were just learning to snap their gum—and enjoy it. She had the first good bicycle in her grade and when she got through high school her dad bought her a nice new shiny roadster as a graduation present.

It was my fortune to see Mary Ann a year or two later, when she got to college, and I suppose that if I had ever had a penny in my jeans I might have been tempted to try to take her somewhere. But in college, as in earlier life, Mary Ann was not much interested in studies or otherwise developing her talents. She still played the lady, with fine dresses, over-accentuated make-up, and a mixture of boldness and coyness that attracted a certain kind of male companion.

I knew the man she married, too, shortly after the Dean told her it would be a fine idea for her to leave school before her marks caught up with her. He was exactly the kind of chap you'd expect him to be.

Somehow I feel that Mary Ann now realizes the futility of trying to be beautiful without substance, dazzling without the light from within. When you have no accomplishments, no developed talents, no innate capabilities, and no capacity for enjoying other people, all the artificial beauty in the world is of little comfort. I happened to run into her the other day down in the city and I'm glad I saved my pennies, 'way back there in college.

Sam Houston's much-debated reason for retreating so long before facing the Mexican army at San Jacinto was one of discipline—to allow laggards and deserters to drop out, leaving only the small but dependable force he could control, suggests Lt. Col. William T. Riviere of the U. S. Army in the July issue of the Southwestern Historical Quarterly, published at the University of Texas.

The Wellington Leader
Wellington, Texas
Dear Deck:

Just to let you know that I have been receiving the paper OK. I am always glad to receive it. I am changing my address to Iceland so please continue to send the paper to me. Guess you could use some of the cool air from there now.

This is a nice country here. I like it fine and hate to leave. The people here surely are nice to us. So long until. Thanks again.

Yours very truly,
Stopper.

Dear Deck:

Well, Deck, here I am a soldier in the army of the good ole U.S.A. This made my third try and I have always heard that the third time is a charm. So guess it was a charm for me, at least it seemed that way. I went to Fort Sill on the 23rd of July and stayed there one week and was transferred over here. We left Fort Sill Thursday morning and arrived here Friday morning about seven o'clock. Otis Melton and I were the only two that came here out of our bunch. There were eight of the boys that left the day before we did, but I have not found where all of them are yet. George Graham and Ervin Kersten, I think, are in Virginia.

We are north of Little Rock about eight miles. We are up in the mountains where there are lots of trees and very little air. It sure is hot here during the day, especially when we are marching. We had a full pack this morning including our gun. We will be here eight weeks for our basic training. We have not been assigned to any certain thing yet. We are in the 72nd Bn., Co. B, 15th Regt., 1st Plt. B.I.R.T.C. The B.I.R.T.C. means Branch Immaterial Replacement Training Center.

Well, it is about bed time so I guess I had better sign off for this time. Tell all my friends in Collingsworth County hello for me and to keep their chins up for what I have seen so far here in this camp, I know we will win this war, for the boys here put their whole heart and soul into their drilling.

Your friend,
Earl Box.

Dear Deck:

Just a line to let you know I am getting along OK. I am now stationed somewhere around Boston, Mass.

This is really a beautiful country up here. Soldiers are few and far between, so you see the boys are having a good time. There are a thousand things you can do for entertainment around here. You can go to horse races, prize fights, baseball games and also the beach is a good place for entertainment. I like to see baseball games, so I drop over to Fenning Park. The Red Sox are having a home stand now.

The people up here are really nice. They might be "Yanks" but they are OK.

I really enjoy reading The Leader. I can't wait for it to come, so I can see what is happening in Collingsworth County.

Yours truly,
Edwin Sanders.

A JOINT RESOLUTION

proposing an amendment to Article III of the Constitution of the State of Texas by adding a new section thereto to be known as Section 49a, requiring all bills passed by the Legislature on and after January 1, 1945, appropriating money for any purpose, to be sent to the Comptroller of Public Accounts for his approval, and fixing the duties of the Comptroller with reference thereto; authorizing the Legislature to provide for the issuance, sale, and retirement of serial bonds, equal in principal to the total outstanding, valid, and approved obligations owing by the General Revenue Fund on September 1, 1943; providing for the submission of this amendment to the voters of this State; prescribing the form of ballot; providing for the proclamation and publication thereof; and providing for the necessary appropriation to defray necessary expenses for the submission of this amendment.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Article III of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended by adding thereto, immediately after Section 49, a section to be known as Section 49a, to read as follows:

"Section 49a. It shall be the duty of the Comptroller of Public Accounts in advance of each Regular Session of the Legislature to prepare and submit to the Governor and to the Legislature upon its convening a statement under oath showing fully the financial condition of the State Treasury at the close of the last fiscal period and an estimate of the probable receipts and disbursements for the then current fiscal year. There shall also be contained in said statement an itemized estimate of the anticipated revenue based on the laws then in effect that will be received by and for the State from all sources showing the fund accounts to be credited during the succeeding biennium and said statement shall contain such other information as may be required by law. Supplemental statements shall be submitted at any Special Session of the Legislature and at such other times as may be necessary to show probable changes.

"From and after January 1, 1945, save in the case of emergency and imperative public necessity and with a four-fifths vote of the total membership of each House, no appropriation in excess of the cash and anticipated revenue of the funds from which such appropriation is to be made shall be valid. From and after January 1, 1945, no bill containing an appropriation shall be considered as passed or be sent to the Governor for consideration until and unless the Comptroller of Public Accounts endorses his certificate thereon showing that the amount appropriated is within the amount estimated to be available in the affected funds. When the Comptroller finds an appropriation bill exceeds the estimated revenue he shall endorse such finding thereon and return to the House in which same originated. Such information shall be immediately made known to both the House of Representatives and the Senate and the necessary steps shall be taken to bring such appropriation to within the revenue, either by providing additional revenue or reducing the appropriation.

"For the purpose of financing the oustanding obligations of the General Revenue Fund of the State and placing its current accounts on a cash basis the Legislature of the State of Texas is hereby authorized to provide for the issuance, sale, and retirement of serial bonds, equal in principal to the total outstanding, valid, and approved obligations owing by said fund on September 1, 1943, provided such bonds shall not draw interest in excess of two (2) per cent per annum and shall mature within twenty (20) years from date."

Sec. 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of the State of Texas, at the next general election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1942, being November 3, 1942, at which election all voters favoring said proposed amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots, the words:

"For the Amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas, requiring appropriation bills passed by the Legislature to be presented to and certified by the Comptroller of Public Accounts as to available funds for payment thereof, limiting appropriations to the total of such available funds, providing for issuance of bonds to pay off State obligations outstanding September 1, 1943, and fixing the duties of the Legislature and Comptroller of Public Accounts with reference thereto."

Those opposing said proposed Amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots, the words:

"Against the Amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas, requiring appropriation bills passed by the Legislature to be presented to and certified by the Comptroller of Public Accounts as to available funds for payment thereof, limiting appropriations to the total of such available funds, providing for issuance of bonds to pay off State obligations outstanding September 1, 1943, and fixing the duties of the Legislature and Comptroller of Public Accounts with reference thereto."

Sec. 3. The Governor of the State of Texas is hereby directed to issue the necessary proclamation for said election and have the same published as required by the Constitution for amendments thereto.

Sec. 4. The sum of Five Thousand Dollars ($5,000.00), or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of any funds in the Treasury of the State of Texas, not otherwise appropriated, to pay the expenses of such publication and election. 3-4-c

Adventures of THE TOTTIES

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE AND PASTE IN YOUR SCRAPBOOK)

"My, what an interesting sight,
To see starfish come out at night."
Said Windy, "My wish will come true.
I'll wish that we see something new."

Then Shrimpy laughed and said, "Well, son,
I do not like to spoil your fun.
You do not have to wish a thing.
Just ask and see what thrills I bring."

Just then the starfish swam away.
Said Duncy, "Night has turned to day.
We'll let wee Shrimpy take us to
The spots where we'll see something new."

Soon Coppy shouted, "Well, look here.
Some fat balloon fish have come near.
The fish are tame as tame can be.
They'll pull us up so merrily.

The fish were very, very strong.
They pulled the Totties right along.
Wee Duncy gladly followed one
And so did Coppy—my what fun.

NEXT WEEK: A turtle helps the Totties out.

Beard Gives Enrollment Plans Of City Schools

Final arrangements for the opening of the Wellington Schools Thursday, August 20, were announced this week by J. L. Beard, superintendent. The following instructions have been given to the parents and also to the students.

"The activity period will continue much in the same manner it was carried out last year. The period will be devoted to assembly, programs, club work, home room activities, pep squad, band, glee club, choral club, and school newspaper," he added.

"The student body will enjoy even a wider range of choice in subjects due to the addition of new ones. The following courses were added last year: Home Nursing, Solid Geometry and Adult Education. New courses to be included in the curriculum this year will be Trigonometry, Vocational Agriculture III and Pre-Flight Aviation which will be offered as an accredited unit for both boys and girls in the Junior and Senior classes. The school has 42 credits to offer students at the beginning of the year and will add three more this year. This gives as good a curriculum for students to select courses in as can be found in any high school the size of Wellington.

Students will enroll according to the following schedule:

All high school students must secure their books, obtain a copy of their schedules, make any necessary changes in their schedules or enroll if they have not already done so.

Buses will run Thursday but will not be on the route Friday. Students who ride the buses may register on Thursday regardless of which class you are in. This is to save one trip for the buses.

Seniors (12th grade), from 9 o'clock until 12 o'clock Thursday morning, August 20.

Juniors (11th grade), from 1 o'clock until 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon, August 20.

Sophomores (10th grade), from 9 o'clock until 4 o'clock Friday morning, August 21.

Freshmen (9th grade), from 1 o'clock until 4 o'clock Friday afternoon, August 21.

Junior high school students will enroll:

Eighth grade from 9 o'clock until 12 o'clock Thursday morning, August 2.

Seventh grade from 1 o'clock until 4 o'clock Friday afternoon, August 21.

Enrollment in the two elementary schools will begin at 9 o'clock Thursday, August 20, and will be completed by 12 o'clock.

It is necessary for all high school students to enroll at the time mentioned above, because classes will be filled and enrollment completed for each class at the time scheduled.

No student may classify as a senior in the high school who does not have at least eleven credits. Juniors will be required to have at least seven credits and sophomores at least three.

All new students are requested to bring their transfer of credits when they enroll in the high school. This does not apply to students from schools in this county as the county superintendent's office will furnish transfer of credits to the high school office.

An ink fee of 25 cents in the junior and senior high schools will be required when the enrollment is made. To parents it was explained that this is the fee for the entire year, and that the student needs no ink of his own, and that every student who has attended this school before knows the economy and convenience of this arrangement.

Of interest to patrons with children in the grade school division was the announcement that the dividing line for the ward schools will again be drawn at East Avenue and will run entirely across the Wellington Independent School District. First, second and third grade pupils living on the east side of East Avenue will go to East Ward School, and all on the west side of East Avenue will go to West Ward School. No exceptions can be made along this line. If transfers are necessary in order to balance the teaching load of the instructors, such changes will be made at a later date, and not during enrollment.

A list of subjects for which the students of the different classes may enroll includes:

Seniors, English, speech, chemistry, typewriting, shorthand, bookkeeping, economics, sociology, vocational agriculture, home making, band, music, physical education, commercial geography, Spanish I and II, and Texas history. Physical education is a required subject.

Juniors: English, vocational agriculture, American history and civics, bookkeeping, chemistry, commercial geography, home making, speech, music, band, physical education, plane geometry, Spanish, shorthand, typewriting, and Latin. English, American history and civics, and physical education are required subjects for students of this class.

Sophomores: Home making, algebra, world history, biology, commercial arithmetic, English, junior business, Latin, Spanish, music, band, physical education, occupations, vocational agriculture and commercial geography. English and physical education are required subjects of this class.

Freshmen: Algebra, vocational agriculture, home making, general mathematics, commercial arithmetic, general science, commercial geography, Spanish, English, junior business, music, band, occupations and physical education. English and physical education are required subjects of this class.

In listing the requirements for graduation, Mr. Beard pointed out that this included 16 accredited units, three of which must be English; two in mathematics; one in laboratory science for which agriculture or home making may be substituted; two in history and social science, one of which must be American history or one-half in American history and one-half in civics; and physical education.

All of the subjects offered in Wellington High School are accredited. It is recommended that all students expecting to go to college take English IV.

have a large dining room that will take care of 240 at the same time. A good lunch will be served at the minimum cost of only ten cents. If every pupil eats in the lunch room, it will help keep the cost at a minimum. So if you parents want to keep the lunch room and keep the price down, make arrangements to have your children eat there every day. It may be necessary to charge a little more per meal since groceries are so much higher than they were last year, but we are going to try to serve at ten cents for a while."

The faculty of the Samnorwood School is composed of Earl R. Ponder, superintendent, who holds a master's degree from Texas Technological College; Paul Morris, B. S., high school principal; Alvie Redden, B. S., grade school principal; Mrs. Erolene Bednorz, English; Miss Freda Hise, music; Miss Mary Gregory, mathematics; Miss Lillie Mae Armstrong, homemaking; L. E. Breeding, agriculture; Mrs. Ozette Rainey, commercial; Miss Maudie Coffee, eighth grade; Miss Lottie Clay, seventh grade; Alvie Redden, sixth grade; Miss Effie Rankin, third grade; and Mrs. Maude Ponder, first grade. Teachers for the second, fourth and fifth grades have not been elected.

Everyone is invited to attend the opening exercises Monday morning, at 9 o'clock.

An effort is being made to secure bucking stock to feature both performances.

No charge will be made for attending the rodeo, but a charge will be made for bleacher seats, Mr. Beam said.

Those who enjoy square dancing will have an opportunity to take part in this entertainment Thursday night. The dance will begin at about 10 p. m. with Pete Chandler and his band furnishing the music. The dance platform has been moved from the LaHue Grove to the vacant lot across the street west of the Rodeo lot.

All persons attending the reunion at the Grove have been asked by Mr. Thomas to bring their own cups if they plan to drink coffee.

"The Old Settlers Association and the Wellington Rodeo Association sincerely appreciate the efforts of the business men of this city who have helped so generously to make this day possible. Everyone has cooperated to the fullest extent, and we are confident that the day will be one of the best we have ever had," Mr. Thomas and Mr. Beam said.

Every pioneer in the county who is eligible to attend has been urged to go to the reunion and picnic, and every person in this and surrounding counties is invited to be present for one or both performances of the rodeo.
