United Transport Co. Leaving Floydada!

Affects 40 Families And Large Payroll

According to a report from United Transports they will begin moving out of Floydada August 1, 1974 automobiles that would have come here for delivery will come to Amarillo and United Transport families will be moving to Amarillo.

The move was not United's choice, but was caused by a change of scheduling trains by the Frisco Railroad Company, who has decided to meet Santa Fe lines at Avar, Oklahoma instead of Floydada.

The change affects some 40 families who now live in Floydada, and a payroll estimated at over $750,000. It means a layoff of four or five workers at both the Santa Fe and QA&P depots here also.

The move also affects Quanah, Texas, where some 35 trainmen will be moved.

QA&P will be leaving some 12 acres of paved area and unloading facilities that it owns in Floydada. The offices and truck headquarters on the Silverton Highway are owned by United.

Rail Service to Continue
A Hesperian reporter interviewed by phone an official of the Santa Fe Company in Amarillo Monday and he said that Santa Fe would continue to send freight trains into Floydada as the business required.

It was thought by the local QA&P agent that Frisco would also continue train service into Floydada.

It is anticipated that both companies will maintain depots and agents here.

At present two trains come into Floydada each day.

Civic Leaders Concerned
Floydada's Chamber of Commerce president Wayne Russell, president of the Floydada Development Company Bill Hale, and other civic leaders have worked, and continue to make contacts with other towns affected by Frisco's move in trying to keep United in Floydada.

Phone calls have been made to the president of Frisco lines, meetings have been made with representatives of towns like Quanah and Paducah, and many phone calls and correspondence have taken place with officials in public office in Washington.

It appears that only a last minute miracle could change the plans of Frisco and the moving of United's families from Floydada.

Agri-Business Concerned
Floydada area grain elevator and cotton businessmen are concerned that the downturn in train schedules will some day lead to a complete removal of the tracks and cancellation of all train schedules.

Homes For Sale
Approximately 25 homes will be sold by United employees who will be moving.

Election Slate Complete

The number of candidates in contested April elections in Floydada remains at 16, with no additional candidates filing for the Caprock Hospital District board of directors. Monday was the last day for Caprock candidates to file petitions.

The four Caprock District director candidates are Bill Daniel and Jay S. Hale Jr., both for re-election, John Fowler, and Dallas Ramsey.

Six candidates have filed for two places on the Floydada city council: Boone Adams (for re-election), Wilson Bond, Leroy Burns, Mrs. Kay Flynt, Lee Neff, and Jerry Thompson. Adams' and Ed Hammond's council terms expire in April.

Parnell Powell is the only candidate for the mayor's post, being vacated by Jimmy Seay.

Candidates for Howard Gregory's and Louis Pyle's positions on the Floydada school board include Richard Bertrand, Jim Jackson, Travis Jones, Arnold Ratheal, Allen Rendon and Lawrence Stovall.

All three elections will be held April 7.

Davis Farm Supply, Inc. To Be Olin Fertilizer Distribution Point

The Olin Corporation, a broad-based U.S. corporation, has leased the dry fertilizer bulk storage facilities of Davis Farm Supply, Inc. in Floydada. The Olin Corporation operates Olin-Mathieson Fertilizer Company and several other companies including Winchester Arms and Ammunitions.

The Davis warehouse is now being doubled in storage capacity to handle the Olin storage. Davis Farm Supply, Inc. will be the West Texas terminal distribution point for shipments from the Olin Corporation. All fertilizer coming into Floydada will come in by rail in hopper bulk fertilizer cars.

It will be unloaded in the Davis facility and loaded back out on trucks that come in from West Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma, owner Lon Davis said. Distribution will be primarily within a 250-mile radius of Floydada.

Davis will operate the storage facility for Olin. Specialized handling equipment to unload and load out the bulk fertilizer is now being fabricated by Fertilizer Marketing Facilities of Dallas. The equipment is due to be delivered in Floydada the third week in March, according to Davis, and completion date for the entire construction is about April 15.

Davis said the storage facility would certainly increase truck traffic through Floydada and probably would be a great asset to the QAP (Frisco) Railroad, whose cars will carry the bulk fertilizer to Floydada.

A little early in the year, Floydada's city council voted to go ahead as it contracted for the mosquito protection through aerial spraying.

Bids on the contract were bid on the council voted to go ahead as it contracted for the mosquito protection through aerial spraying.

The council agreed to use last year's contract for the 3,000 square feet of approximately 100 spraying.

It was anticipated that it will be eight sprayings for the year program.

The new 60-passenger buses, equipped with automatic transmission, power steering and oversize brakes, were requisitioned from the State Board of Controls. Buses go up for bids in April on a statewide basis, and local school officials hope to take delivery of the new vehicles by August or September.

The trustees granted permission to the district's tax attorneys to file some 40 suits for collection of delinquent school taxes.

The trustees voted to participate in "Plan A", a special education program, on a co-op basis with other area schools. The program is being formulated and has gained preliminary acceptance from the state. Superintendent A. E. Baker said more information would be forthcoming on the special education program soon.

The board voted to adopt textbooks for the coming school year.

Present at the Monday meeting were board members Jerrold Vinson, Thomas Warren, Flo Davis, Howard Gregory and Louis Pyle, superintendent A. E. Baker, and business manager Claude Estes. Trustees Betty Holmes and Gene Arwine were absent.

LET'S TALK ABOUT "Religious Emphasis" next week. This is a special week set aside for the community to go to church. There are three or four meetings scheduled next week.

Hopefully you'll attend the church of your choice next week truly a Spiritual Retreat in your life.

THAT IVE SORTA GOT MY BREATH after realizing United Transport families are leaving Floydada. I was asked about that 12 acres of paving where the new cars would make a real big square dance, or a good helicopter area, or several tennis courts, or miniature car race when the world hands you a lemon...you make it.

Religious Emphasis Here Next Week

Next week is Religious Emphasis Week in Floydada, with at least three local churches holding revival services. The observance is sponsored by the Floydada Ministerial Alliance.

Floydada schools have cleared their calendars for the week so that families may attend meetings, and other organizations are requested to hold off all meetings possible next week to enable everyone to attend the church services.

Spring Revival Scheduled At First Baptist

The First Baptist Church of Floydada will be in revival the week of March 18-25. The revival is planned to reach all the people of all races in the city and area. Services are at 7:30 p.m. and 12 noon. Lunch will be served each week day at 12:30 p.m.

The evangelist is Dr. Charles McLaughlin of Dallas. He is serving as Director of the State Missions Division of Texas Baptists. The services will be translated into Spanish by Rev. Dan Gonzalez, Associate Pastor of the host church. A special section of the auditorium will be reserved for those who do not speak English.

Several special features will be presented during the revival. A youth group, "Seven Days A Week", will sing during the worship service on Monday evening. They will present a concert following the regular service. On Tuesday evening the Della Plains Youth Choir will sing. Other special events will be conducted throughout the week.

Mr. Ric Hunt, church music and youth director, will be in charge of music. A forty-voice revival choir will sing at each evening service. The choir will present thrilling special music. Other special numbers by various individuals and groups will be given each night.

First Baptist Church is happy to participate in a community-wide week of religious emphasis. The entire membership is deeply appreciative of the school and other organizations who give special recognition and emphasis to this annual city-wide spiritual event.

God sent John the Baptist as a witness to the fact that Jesus Christ is the true Light. John himself was not the Light; he was only a witness to identify it. Later on, the one who is the true Light arrived to shine on everyone coming into the world.

VITAL INFORMATION FOR VETERANS

(Editor's Note: Veterans and their families are asking thousands of questions concerning the benefits their Government provides for them through the Veterans Administration. Below are some representative queries. Additional information may be obtained at any VA office.)

Q. I know I read it somewhere, but can you tell me when I will receive the 1973 dividend on my "V" - prefixed National Service Life Insurance policy?

A. The dividend will be paid automatically on the anniversary date of your policies still in force. The same holds true for veterans with "K" - prefixed United States Government Life Insurance policies.

Q. My wife and I were recently divorced, and I am in school under the GI Bill. When will my allowance be cut to the amount for a single veteran?

A. Your allowance will be reduced at the end of the year, or at the end of your current term, whichever comes first.

Q. I am a married female veteran with three children. I am 50 percent disabled, and drawing compensation and allowances for my children, but not my husband. Why can't I receive such an allowance for him?

A. You should contact the Veterans Administration immediately. A law passed last October (PL 92-540) now entitles you to claim him for an allowance.

La Ventana Club Meets In Lockney

La Ventana Study Club met for their Americanism program Tuesday, March 6, at 10:30 a.m. in the Lockney High School home economics room.

Mrs. Frizzell called the meeting to order and announced that the Caprock district convention will be held March 30-31 in Lubbock. The president appointed Mrs. Henderson, Mrs. Trapp and Mrs. Drake on the nominating committee to nominate officers for 1973-74.

Following this discussion, Mrs. Henderson brought the devotional reading from Proverbs 22:17-18. Mrs. Raymond Teeple was program chairman.

After all business was discussed, Mrs. Frizzell introduced the speaker, Mr. Johnny Peck, Superintendent of Lockney Schools, who gave the program on education, stating that we have the ability to cultivate the minds of children through the respect of our country, church and school should start in the home. A discussion followed Mr. Peck's talk. Then roll call was answered by "How Can We Show Our Enemies the Real America."

After the program was dismissed the following club members went to the high school cafeteria for lunch. They were: Mes. W. D. Nance, Bailey Henderson, W. W. Trapp, Clois King, Reed Lawson, H. C. Huffman, Raymond Teeple, Linda Prater, H. E. Frizzell.

The Study Club thanks Mr. Peck for their program and touring the members through the school.

New Hair Frosting Method

An advertisement in last week's Lockney Beacon told of a new technique to create the popular "frosting" effect in hair styles. Barbara Cawley, who saw a demonstration of the new technique at a Dallas hair show last month, has already frosted her hair.

She says that an advantage to the new method is that it is not painful. This is good news to the many ladies that enjoy wearing their hair frosted. It is also somewhat faster, and will make touch-ups much easier. Charge is $15.

Hair to be bleached is selected. Strands are inserted into specially designed, plastic cup bases. Then the hair dresser slides the cup body over the strands of hair onto the cup base. The cup is securely positioned, and bleach is then applied. The small cup prevents seepage of bleaches and permits precise color control. The hair is then processed to achieve the desired color.

Another advantage to the new key to creative haircoloring, is that the bleached line will be much closer to the scalp.

'Winds Run In Lubbock Meet

The Floydada Whirlwind track team ran in three events in a AAA-AAAA meet Saturday in Lubbock, competing there against five triple-A schools after the Levelland Track Meet they were scheduled to run in was cancelled.

The Whirlwind runners competed against Odessa Ector, Monahans, Lubbock Dunbar, Estacado, Brownfield, and a strong, cold north wind.

Whirlwind Jay Jones took first place with a 4:51.4 timing in the mile run.

The Whirlwinds finished fourth in the sprint relay with a time of 45.6 seconds, and third in the mile relay in 3:49.9.

Sprint relay team members were Tony Soto, Bill Norman, Mark Vinson and Rex Rose. Vinson, Rose, Lynn Becker and Danny Quisenberry ran in the mile relay.

Although it was cold and windy, coaches felt the 'Winds' needed to run, and thought the effort would help the Whirlwinds to "jell" into a team, even though times were not outstanding.

The Whirlwind track team is entered in the Wayland Invitational Meet Saturday at Plainview. Other schools in the meet will include Tulia, Frenship, Lockney, Littlefield, Olton, Muleshoe, Abernathy and Tahoka.

Preliminaries begin at 10 a.m. Finals in the field events will be at 1:30 p.m., and running finals start at 2 p.m.

Floydada Second In Tennis Tournament

The Floydada Invitational Tennis Tournament, started Friday morning on seven outdoor courts, was finished late Saturday night indoors in gymnasiums at Junior High and Della Plains schools.

Nazareth nosed out Floydada for the "A" division team title, with 12 points to the Whirlwinds' 11 1/2. The Nazareth team also took first place in the "B" division, half a point ahead of Lakeview, 11 1/2 to 11.

Floydada, playing only seventh and eighth graders, was third in the "B" division final standings with 9 1/2 points.

Seniors and varsity players competed in the "A" division.

"B" division competition was among junior varsity, freshman and junior high players.

David Martin of Matador defeated Floydada's top-seeded Blair Davis in the "A" boys' singles finals, 6-1, 6-4.

In the boys' doubles finals in the "A" division, Lynn Ehly and Richard Birkenfeld of Nazareth beat Mark Craig and Mike Ramsey of Floydada. It was a close match, with Craig and Ramsey taking the first set 6-3, the Nazareth team winning the second 6-2, then taking the match on a 7-6 decision that went down to a best-of-nine-points tie-breaker.

Floydada needed a victory in either the boys' singles or doubles to win the "A" team title.

In the girls' "A" singles title match, Kim King of Nazareth defeated Patti Hochstein, also of Nazareth, 8-5 in a pro set.

Floydada's Linda Norman and Elizabeth Farris upset the tournament's top seeds in the early rounds, then went on to meet and defeat another Floydada pair, Donette Marble and Debby Johnson, in the finals, 8-6. Finalists from the same town played pro sets for championships Saturday.

In the "B" division, Joe Nagy of Lubbock Evans Junior High beat Gary Beatty of Evans 8-4 for the boys' singles title.

Huseman and Huseman, a freshman and sophomore from Nazareth, beat Alonzo Gonzalez and Thiess Brown of Floydada Junior High 8-4 in the "B" division singles finals.

Two Lakeview girls met in the girls' "B" singles title match. Connie Fowler won, 8-4, over Karen Cofer.

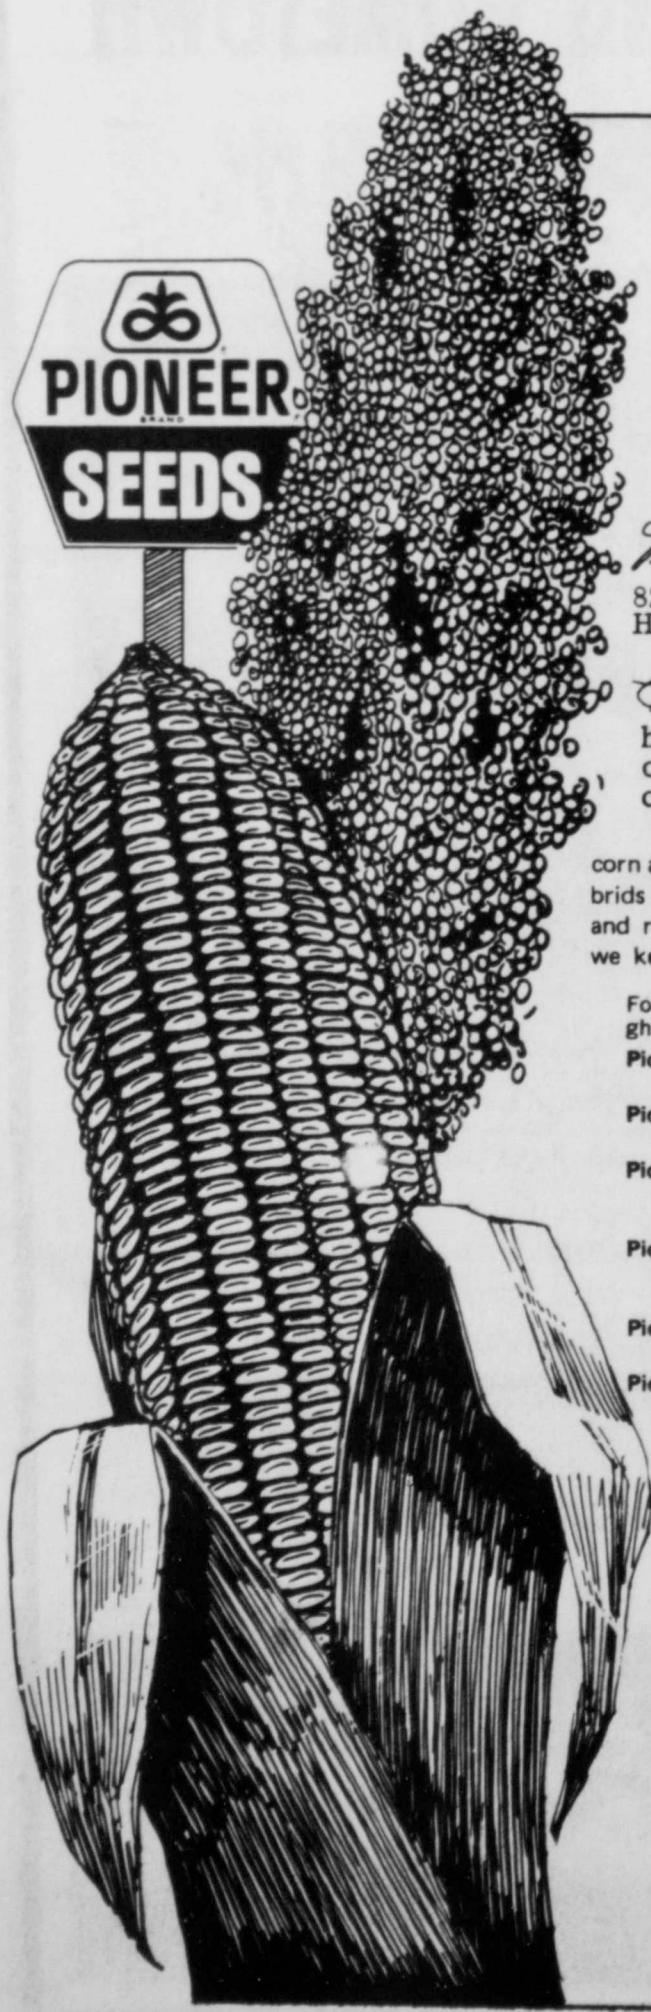

In the girls' "B" doubles, Hochstein and Klemm of Nazareth defeated Byars and Byars of Lakeview, 8-5. That match decided the "B" division title and was the last match played, winding up about midnight Saturday.

Several other Floydada players played well but didn't make the finals.

Tracy Brown lost to the eventual boys' "B" champion in the semifinals, 8-1. Len Wood was defeated by Matador's Buck Marvel in the first round, 6-1, 6-3. We're proud our seeds have earned the trust of farmers like these...

Mark Peterson recorded a yield of 7870 pounds on 100 acres of Pioneer brand 820. It'll be Pioneer brand 820 again next year for Mack Hickerson, 507 W. Georgia, Floydada, Texas.

C.C. Whittle has been planting Pioneer brand 846 for seven years. Last year his yield was 7000 pounds. "The yields are usually 6500 on 3 irrigations, it is a consistently good yield," according to C.C. Whittle, Rt. 1, Floydada, Texas.

Because we were the first company to commercially produce hybrid corn and with 17 years of work on sorghum, we know a lot more about hybrids and how to make crosses that really yield. We've had longer to test and re-test our varieties. We've stuck with some of our early crosses, and we keep developing new ones to fit every growing condition imaginable.

For the Southern Panhandle and Plains area we recommend these sorghum, corn and forage hybrids...

Pioneer brand 846—excellent drought resistance—consistent high yields—MDM and smut resistant—medium maturity.

Pioneer brand 820—good yielder under stress—outstanding with plenty of water and fertility—MDM resistant—full season.

Pioneer brand 8417—new yellow endosperm sorghum—champion yielder in medium maturity class—large open heads—does well on all types of land.

Pioneer brand 3369A—a corn with outstanding seedling vigor—tolerant to blight—good roots and stalks—good ear retention—heavy grain yield.

Pioneer brand 3306—excellent for grain or silage—drought resistant—single cross—well-suited to narrow rows.

Pioneer brand 988—sorghum sudangrass hybrid for pasture, green chop, hay or haylage—ready to cut or graze in a little more than a month—regrows again and again all summer with adequate moisture and fertilizer.

When you choose a hybrid for your land, choose one from the company that started it all...

Golden Gloves Tournament Begins Today In Plainview

For the first time in more than a decade, Golden Gloves boxing will be staged in Plainview this Thursday and Friday at 8 p.m. in Hutcherson Center.

The Plainview Boys Club will host the two-day event that is expected to attract about 100 fighters from Lubbock, Amarillo, Olton, Sweetwater, Levelland, Dimmitt, Hereford and Canyon. The Plainview Club will have 17 boys fighting.

This is expected to be an outstanding tourney since it is the final one before the West Texas AAU Junior Olympics at Amarillo which qualified winners to advance to regionals in New Orleans and many fighters will want to get in some prep work for the AAU event.

The Plainview club was reorganized two years ago and features three outstanding fighters in 139-pound Charles Martinez, 125-pound Bobby Nevares and 110-pound Henry Goss. Martinez was named Outstanding Fighter in a recent tournament in Amarillo. Nevares won a similar award the previous week in Lubbock and Goss won a gold medal in the regional tournament at Granbury last year.

Coaches Keith Billington and Joe Martinez Sr., both former boxers, have built the program from the ground up and are hoping for a financial success in order to put the local club on a sound footing. The Amarillo Boxing Club will provide much of the assistance for the tournament and will be aided by the well balanced. Brenda Moeller leads the team with 217 points, followed by Janice Beach - 200, Peggy Provence - 175, Becky Shaw - 164, Marcia Shield-knight - 147 and Mary Williams with 116.

Floyd County Resident Receives Conservation District Award

F. G. Jones, Jr., who farms north of Lockney, has been selected as the Resident Conservation Farmer for Floyd County by the Floyd County Soil and Water Conservation District. Gilbert Fawver, chairman of the board, stated "Mr. Jones was selected for this award based on the complete program of resource conservation and practices applied on his farm."

Fawver also announced that a summary of his accomplishments has been submitted to the Texas Conservation Awards Program, which is sponsored by the Ft. Worth Chamber of Commerce, to be judged for regional and state honors.

Mr. and Mrs. Jones' 337-acre farm is located north of Lockney. Jones has been in the farming business all his life. He had lived on this farm for the past twenty years and was familiar with all the problems that were present, but was unable to do anything about them. "I realized that something needed to be done," Jones replied.

In 1970 Mr. and Mrs. Jones purchased the farm from his father and made up their minds to do something to make this farm an economic unit and to stop the removal of precious topsoil. In August of 1971, Jones became a cooperator with the Floyd County Soil and Water Conservation District. After discussing the different alternative treatments, a complete conservation plan treating every acre on the farm was prepared as a guideline for future work.

In August of 1971, Jones entered into the Great Plains Conservation program to receive cost share on his project. He had already set as his goal to accomplish all this work in one year.

Under this program, irrigation pipeline, tailwater recovery systems, native grass, and parallel terraces were installed. Jones and his family were living in one of the original houses on the farm. "It was in need of a number of expensive repairs and was too small for my family. My wife and I had always dreamed of a new home and since I had set my goal to improve the farm in one year, plans were drawn up on a home also," replied Jones. After arrangements had been made, construction began in January of 1972 and was completed in June of that same year. His ultimate goal had been accomplished. A complete renovation of his farm with all projects planned and carried out in one year.

Besides working on the farm, Mr. Jones and his wife have spent a great deal of their time in outside activities. They are both active in youth work, having been 4-H Club Adult Leaders for four years, and he was president of the Adult Leaders Association in Floyd County.

In 1969, Jones was named Outstanding Adult Leader in Floyd County for his 4-H work, and received the Gold Spur Award. His wife, Nita, received the same Gold Spur Award for her work in 1971.

Jones has been on the county fair board and president of the Delaine Sheep Association in 1970-72. Working with the South Plains Development Association, he was chosen to be on the Swine Task Force committee, and worked with the Extension Service on the county program builder's committee.

In all these activities, Mr. and Mrs. Jones take every opportunity presented to promote conservation and the District program, and have been a great asset in conserving their natural resources for future generations.

This is why the directors of the Floyd County Soil and Water Conservation District have selected F. G. Jones for this honor.

R.B. Gafford New Rural Carrier

R. B. Gafford of Turkey has been transferred to Rural Route #2 in Floydada. Gafford is a Postal Service veteran, having served in Turkey as Postmaster for 20 years prior to transferring to the position of Rural Carrier seven years ago. He is also a veteran of World War II.

Mr. and Mrs. Gafford are making their home at 812 West Grover and are anxious to meet the Floydada people. They are members of the United Methodist Church.

This transfer is incidental to the retirement of Lorin Leibfried from the Floydada Post Office in June, 1972. Positions in the Postal Service are frozen and it has been the policy of the Postal service to see if consolidation can be made without detriment to rural service.

The Postal Service feared the four Floydada routes could not be consolidated, so the next area to investigate was in the Sectional Center, 792 or Childress area.

It was found that a Rural Route out of Quitaque and Turkey could be consolidated. This was done and it involved a move based on Rural Carrier seniority. Gafford was junior in Rural Service with seven years and was transferred to the Floydada vacancy.

This consolidation will save the Postal Service about $6,000.

cancer cells are growing and dividing, they are more vulnerable than normal cells. For this reason, radiation is useful for treating large tumor masses or widely dispersed tumors that would be extremely difficult to remove surgically.

RADIATION

AND SURGERY

When surgery is required, the tumor may be irradiated first to shrink it. The radiation can also treat areas adjacent to the tumor to lessen the chance that the tumor will spread.

Post-operative radiation may be used when it is not possible to remove all of the tumor. Radiation often follows breast cancer surgery to treat potentially cancerous lymph nodes not removed by the surgeon.

For the patient with an advanced cancer, radiation can often relieve symptoms and even prolong life.

CANCER AND YOU

RADIATION THERAPY

Radiation therapy is an effective means of treating several types of cancer. It can be given as the sole treatment or as a supplement to surgery. The type of treatments and machines used depend on the location of the tumor.

Radiation was first given with low-energy machines called orthovoltage equipment. The machine gives off x-rays which primarily affect the skin surface and they are still used to treat cancers of the skin and lip.

In the mid-1950's, supervoltage equipment was developed. This equipment is higher in energy and is more penetrating. Deeper tumors can be treated without the skin irritation that results from large doses given by orthovoltage machines.

Cobalt, used in supervoltage machines, has a build-up depth of 0.5 centimeters. This means the beam of radiation is most effective 0.5 centimeters below the surface of the skin.

TREATMENT PLAN

When a person is referred to a radiation center by his physician, he first is given an X-ray. This picture of the tumor is recorded for the radiation therapist to use as a reference point throughout the treatments.

The patient is given a normal physical examination. After the therapist determines the size and spread of the tumor and the depth beneath the skin surface a treatment plan is drawn up by the radiation therapist and the physician.

Because the beam of radiation diminishes as it travels through the body a patient may receive radiation in several locations or "fields." The number of fields needed depends on the size and location of the tumor.

For example, a tumor in the lung might be irradiated from the front, back, and side of the person. The physicist calculates the dosage based on the number of fields that will be irradiated.

SCHEDULE

A person's radiation schedule specifies the amount of energy he will receive at any one visit. The schedule is modified according to the patient's age, physical health and the progress of the tumor.

Treatments are usually given three or five times a week and are given for periods of from four to eight weeks. A follow-up examination is given two weeks after treatment is completed. During the two week interval, the irradiated cells are replaced in the body. Irradiation does some damage to all cells, but because the

GS 61Y MID-SEASON

An outstanding yellow endosperm hybrid — developed from GS 60 blood lines. Very good standability, medium height, large fast drying heads frequently outyields much later maturing hybrids. Successful on both dryland or under irrigation, produces large plump seed. Classed as a medium maturing hybrid in Kansas — early in the Texas panhandle.

GS 66Y MID-SEASON

Bred for the farmers who like the high yields of GS 76Y and the standability of 61Y. Medium in plant height - rich full yellow berries, highly palatable, sweet forage for grazing or baling. Very responsive to high fertility levels and water supply. A money maker for the good farmer in the medium maturity range. A fast starter in cold soil.

GS 76Y FULL SEASON

This yellow endosperm hybrid has the potential yield factor for: tremendous production. Large plump seed carried on big semi-open heads, rapid drying, medium tall plant with very satisfactory standing ability for such high production. A very popular hybrid with livestock feeders. Ideal for the farmer that wants the absolute tops in yield capacity, classed as a full season maturity hybrid in the Northern Texas panhandle.

GAS Central AIR Conditioning

Bullish on central air conditioning? Consider investing just a little more in a long-term, blue chip Gas air conditioning system.

Only a Gas air conditioning system pays you regular dividends for many happy years. That's because the heart of a Gas cooling system is a simple gas burner, rather than an electric, mechanical compressor. A clean-burning gas flame doesn't wear out — so there's less to go wrong, fewer maintenance calls, a longer life with no loss of original cooling capacity. And because natural gas is the prime energy source, you'll also save money on operating cost.

CENTER NEWS by Mrs. J.E. Green

CENTER, March 12 — Spring is just around the corner and we are having more than usual early rains. Farther east tornadoes have begun. How we wish we could do without those! But all we can do is prepare for them. Our best preparation is the communication with the All Wise.

My! didn't we have a rain Friday night! We missed church Sunday. Our car got stuck in the mud. Later some good friends and neighbors got it out. Many thanks!

Speaking of tornadoes, shortly after we had of the one in Hubbard, the home town of our daughter and family, the Doc Ryman, we received a message that she and her family were not injured. We keep hearing of other storms and much rain over the state. How good that areas hit are soon offered a helping hand in disaster, by those more fortunate.

We notice from the news that, in spite of snags in the turnover, our POW's are still being released and are coming home. That is good, and we are thankful.

Bro. Payne was sick Sunday and not able to preach, so Calvary Baptist pulpit was filled by Dr. Fred Howard, professor of religion from Wayland College. Joey Payne was also staying in, recovering from chicken pox.

A family get-together was held Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Ava Jackson, her sisters and husbands and her brother and wife, all of Floydada. These are Mr. and Mrs. Claud Carpenter, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Frizzell, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Frizzell. All were present for the noon meal.

Thursday dinner guests at the Carpenter home were her brothers and wives, the Russell Smiths of Lone Star and the Glen Smiths of Lockney.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fulkerson were in Lubbock Friday, visiting their daughter and husband, Charlene and Don Finkner. They enjoyed hearing of the Finkners' recent trip to Europe with a group — to Vienna, Austria and other points.

Mr. and Mrs. Carpenter visited Friday in Plainview with her sister, Mrs. Grady Hall.

Mrs. Ava Jackson, Mrs. Lois Durham, and Mrs. Flora Warren visited Mr. and Mrs. Leo Frizzell Sunday p.m.

Weekend guests of Letha and Travis Lightfoot were her sister and family from Dallas, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Dan Whitworth. Other Sunday dinner guests were Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Buske of Kress, Mother Lindley, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Campbell and Laura and Mr. and Mrs. John Campbell, Floydada.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Miller were in Lubbock Saturday where Dale saw his doctor.

Sunday p.m. visitors at the Millers were Mr. and Mrs. Lee Maupin of Turkey.

Mrs. Frank Dunn visited in Lubbock Thursday and Friday with her children and families, son Jimmy, and daughter Margaret Balios.

Mrs. Dunn and Mrs. Minnie Fay Thomas visited Mr. and Mrs. Roe Jones Sunday p.m.

Mrs. Earl Cooper of Lockney visited Sunday p.m. with her mother, Ma Finley.

Sue and Milton Mensch of Lubbock spent over the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hal Thomas. All spent Sunday in Post seeing Mr. Thomas' brother, Albert, in the Post Hospital and a sister and other relatives.

Ideas For Improving Cotton Yields

Research data obtained in herbicide incorporation studies in the past several years at the High Plains Research Foundation may provide some answers for area farmers concerning their particular weed control programs. Two of the most important considerations farmers must make when deciding which herbicide to use is its effectiveness for weed control and the possible restriction or limitations upon his crop rotation program.

In 1969 tests were initiated to determine if incorporation methods of some currently registered preplant herbicides could affect these two factors. Results of these studies have indicated that in fields where weeds and grasses are a severe problem, herbicide incorporation with a rolling cultivator will provide adequate weed control and increased cotton yields. According to Jim Schrib, associate agronomist, on a three year average, cotton grown where Treflan had been incorporated with the rolling cultivator produced 56 pounds of lint per acre more than the tandem disk incorporation.

Banded applications of Treflan also incorporated by rolling cultivator also produced higher yields than the herbicide applied broadcast and disk incorporated, Schrib said. Annual broadleaf weed control under both methods was about equal, Schrib added. "However, the tandem disk incorporation gave better grass control." "Since grass pressures tend to increase in double-rowed grain sorghum and cotton rotation programs, it might be necessary for herbicides to be disked in," Schrib said.

Research studies also indicate less residue carryover the following year where the herbicides were incorporated with rolling cultivator.

The 1972 Annual Report will be released shortly and will contain complete data on this

Installment Debt In Floyd County $6,277,000

period of tight-

that installment debt at the beginning of this year reached approximately $129 billion, or about $19 billion more than in January, 1972.

It was equivalent, on the average, to about 16 cents out of every dollar of family income, after taxes.

In Floyd County, based upon the latest local income and spending figures and upon national studies by the Federal Reserve Board and others, the amount of installment debt outstanding is estimated at $1,890 per family.

That is the average. It ranges from no debt at all, in some families, to considerably more than average in others. For the local population as a whole, the amount of installment debt at the end of the last fiscal year was close to $6,277,000.

The largest part of it consisted of loans for automobile purchases. The remainder was for other installment buying, for personal loans and loans for home repair and modernization. Not in this category are mortgage debt, charge accounts and single payment loans.

Making repayments at a regular rate takes nearly $1 out of every $6 that a family has left after taxes.

In Floyd County, that amounts to $160 per month per family, on average.

The big question among bankers and credit men is whether the American public is taking on more debt than it can carry.

Their experience has been that most people use their credit with discretion and do not go overboard.

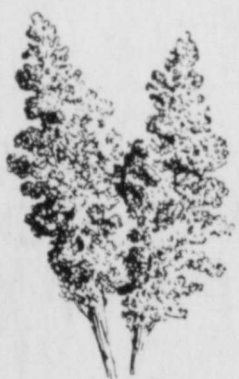

Cotton Harvest Nears Completion

The South Plains cotton harvest neared completion as favorable weather enabled farmers to return to fields, according to W. K. Palmer, in charge of the Lubbock Cotton Classing Office of the USDA.

Over 95 percent of the crop is now out of the fields.

Most harvest activity was in the counties east and south of Lubbock but some harvesting continued in all counties. SEE COTTON, PAGE 6

If you can make liver a delight, you just might win $500.

Texas cooks should be warming up all their special recipes this month for a possible $500 grand prize in the annual Grain-fed Beef Cook-Off, coordinated by the Texas Department of Agriculture, Commissioner John C. White has announced.

Entry blanks for the beef contest should be in local grocery stores this week.

Twenty-four state finalists will be chosen to compete for the grand prize and category prizes of $200 each. Each finalist will receive $50 and an expense-paid trip to Austin for the Cook-Off May 19. The Agriculture Department will publish a booklet of the 24 winning recipes, Commissioner White stated.

The three categories of the contest are tender cuts, such as steak; less tender cuts, such as stew meat; and variety cuts, such as liver and kidney.

Deadline for submitting recipes is April 30. Entrants may send in as many recipes as they want, but each must be on a separate entry blank. Contest rules appear on the entry blanks.

In the final Cook-Off each recipe must be prepared by the original entrant, exactly as submitted. Judges will include food editors for major Texas newspapers: Julie Belen of the Dallas Morning News, Ann Worley of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, Mary Cook of the Texas Star, and Ann Criswell of the Houston Chronicle.

Other judges will be Elizabeth Smith, the State Home Economics Director, and Sheila Gurliger of the City of Austin Electric Company.

The Grain-fed Beef Cook-Off is sponsored annually by the Department of Agriculture, Texas and Southwest Cattle Raisers Association, the Texas Cattle Feeders Association, the Texas Meat Packers Association, and the Texas Cow Belles.

Cotton Growers Seek Better Deals For Their Cottonseed

NEW ORLEANS — Cotton producers are becoming increasingly alarmed about the gap between the prices they receive for cottonseed and the prices cottonseed meal and hulls bring at resale, Dr. H. L. (Hal) Lewis of Raleigh, N.C., told Mississippi Valley oilseed processors here.

Lewis is director of agricultural research for Cotton Incorporated, the research, sales and marketing company sponsored by America's cotton growers through their dollar-per-bale program. He advised delegates to the 22nd oilseed processing clinic that unless things change, cotton producers may be forced to seek new and more profitable markets for their cottonseed. Lewis cited figures showing that prices paid to producers for cottonseed have remained constant since last September at $42-$50 per ton. During the same time the prices for cottonseed meal containing 41 percent protein have risen from $90-$95 per ton to $120-$176, and prices paid for hulls have doubled, from $11-$13 a ton to $22-$27.

"This sort of relationship between the business of the cotton producer and the business of the buyer of his cottonseed disturbs us at Cotton Incorporated," Lewis told the oilseed processors.

He said Cotton Incorporated hopes a better business relationship can be established. "Certainly if a satisfactory profit cannot be shared by all parties," he said, "then there is no reasonable basis for doing business."

The scientist said a vast, untapped market exists for cottonseed food products, and he challenged the oilseed processors to develop and exploit it.

Over 300 food products are manufactured items containing protein, Lewis said. They are distributed in what food marketers label as 16 major food groups.

"Of those 16 major groups, 13 already use some form of vegetable protein," said Dr. Lewis. "And let me remind you that cottonseed protein is vegetable protein."

He reported that a 1970 study by Cornell University identified a potential market of 3.1 billion pounds of processed foods containing protein. The market already existing today is more than 2 billion pounds.

"It is big business, make no mistake," Lewis said. "Food processing and related activities constitute the largest single domestic industry in the United States."

He pointed out that a modern American supermarket carries over 8,000 different food items, of which over half are new products, introduced within the last ten years.

"This indicates that the American consumer is willing to accept new food products," Lewis said. "Moreover, it also shows that the American food processing industry can speedily adopt new technologies to develop more highly sophisticated food products."

All told, Lewis declared, the stage is set for cottonseed processors to develop their product and cash in on waiting money-making markets for new foods containing cottonseed protein.

But there are serious flaws in the way the overall picture shapes up, said Lewis, for it is not cottonseed processors who are taking action, but cotton producers. Yet producers are not getting a fair return on their investment.

"Cotton Incorporated is spending $300,000 a year of cotton producer funds on cottonseed research," Lewis said, "while the cottonseed industry spends less than ten percent of that amount. This fact disturbs us, too," he said.

"Cottonseed profits are going up, and we at Cotton Incorporated intend to see that the cotton producer gets his fair share of the new profits."

Dr. Lewis was a principal speaker at the 22nd oilseed processing clinic, sponsored by the Mississippi Valley Oilseed Processors Association, Inc., and held at the Bourbon Orleans Ramada Hotel.

WEST SIDE OF PUBLIC SQUARE IN FLOYDADA Year unknown. The above print on the back of a one cent postcard shows the public square on the west side of Floydada in early days. The buggy and wagon days are still in evidence with only one car parked to the "curb" or hitching post. The postcard was found recently by Mrs. A.G. Hinn of Plainview in her late husband's personal effects. At one time Hinn was band director in Floydada.

Samples from 27,000 bales were tested and classed at the Lubbock office during the week ending Friday, March 9. This brought the total classed for the season to 1,852,000 bales.

Grades of cotton were about the same as the previous week. Low Middling Light Spotted (52) was the predominant grade, making up 21 percent of all cotton classed. Strict Low Middling Light Spotted (42) made up 15 percent, Strict Low Middling Spotted (43) 11 percent and Low Middling Spotted (53) 16 percent.

Average staple length improved slightly from the previous week. Staples were predominantly 30 to 32. Thirty percent had a staple length of 30, 29 percent stapled 31 and 21 percent was 32.

Micronaire readings remained steady. However, only 12 percent of all cotton classed at Lubbock had micronaire readings in the premium range of 3.5 through 4.9, 8 percent "miked" 3.3 through 3.4, 29 percent was 3.0 through 3.2, 31 percent 2.7 through 2.9 and 20 percent was 2.6 and below.

The Agricultural Marketing Service of the USDA reported active trading on the Lubbock market. Prices were lower early in the week but recovered the latter part of the week. Prices ranged from $5.00 per bale over the loan for low grade, low micronaire cotton up to $60.00 per bale over the loan for high grade, premium micronaire cotton.

Average prices paid for the most predominant qualities in the 3.5 to 4.9 premium micronaire range were: Strict Low Middling Light Spotted (42) staple 30 - 26.75 cents per pound, Strict Low Middling Light Spotted (42) staple 31 - 27.15, Strict Low Middling Spotted (43) staple 30 - 22.00, Strict Low Middling Spotted (43) staple 31 - 22.30, Strict Low Middling Tinged (44) staple 30 - 18.35 and strict Low Middling Tinged (44) staple 31 - 18.45.

Cottonseed prices were steady and farmers received $45 to $56 per ton for their cottonseed at gins.

COTTON TALKS

FROM PLAINS COTTON GROWERS, INC.

Ray Joe Riley of Hart, president of Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., told the Senate Committee on Agriculture and Forestry March 9 that "The economic facts of life in the cotton industry at the moment are such that the continuation of a government cotton program is absolutely essential to the continuation of cotton production and a cotton industry."

"With cotton's current cost of production and with its necessity under the present marketing set-up for a competitive price far below production costs," he added, "any thought that the industry can remain a vital part of the nation's economy without a government program or under a pre-determined phase-out plan is an extremely dangerous thought and a thought without economic justification."

Riley was one of a long list of witnesses appearing before the Senate committee to urge an extension of the present program, which expires with the 1973 crop year.

He said "As cotton producers we need a cotton program to keep us in business. But the need extends far beyond cotton producers. The cotton industry is an industry vital to this nation's economy, and the availability of cotton fiber to consumers is a definite, measurable advantage to them in their everyday lives."

"Therefore we recommend, and recommend strongly, that the cotton section of the Agriculture Act of 1970 be extended. The Act is on the books, it has worked well for two years — and it has the potential to work better with only slight changes..."

The following are excerpts from the PCG statement on behalf of High Plains cotton producers, relating to nine specific program provisions.

"The 15-cent per pound payment, made as it is on only a part of the acreage necessary to adequate production for domestic and export markets, is the absolute minimum which, when added to a competitive price for cotton, will cover production costs and provide even the most meager return to capital, management and labor."

"The $55,000 payment limitation is wrong, period. There is absolutely no justification for it... However, political reality being what it is, we reluctantly recommend that this committee report a farm bill specifying the same $55,000 per person per crop limitation."

"Language in the 1970 Act which permits the Secretary of Agriculture to arbitrarily set the CCC loan price for cotton at less than 90 percent of the average world market price should be deleted..."

"...we recommend that this committee insist on language which will require the base acreage allotment for future years to be no less than the 11.5 million acres of 1971 and 1972."

"Sale and lease provisions of current law should be retained, preferably with provision for leased acreage to become a part of planting history on leasing farms, to the end that allotments would move, ultimately, to those areas willing and able to produce cotton."

"The current method of determining farm yields for payment purposes — using a three year average of actual yields adjusted for adverse conditions beyond producer control — has served the industry and the nation well. It should be continued as a means to even out the extreme highs and lows of cotton farmer income..."

"...PCG was in the forefront of efforts to secure the so-called anniversary-date loan under which farmers can retain control of their crops for 12 months or longer. This is one of the tools needed to promote better inventory management and it should be retained... Also needed is an 18-month re-seal privilege for cotton such as the re-seal program which has been so helpful to grain producers in the orderly marketing of their crops for the past several years."

"...PCG was one of the first and foremost advocates of Section 610 funds — the money provided the Cotton Board to carry out, through Cotton Incorporated, a part of the most promising program ever known to the cotton industry in the fields of product development, research and promotion... We urge this committee to fight and fight hard for retention of this money for the Cotton Board and Cotton sincerely believe it is one of the most prudent can be made by the U. S. Government.

"And finally, Mr. Chairman, we would urge the 1970 be extended for a minimum of five years for us to make future plans for more than 1 year time."
