

On The BEAM

By J. W. King, Sr.

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Fire Department is doing a great job at City Park. Pecan trees have been set out and most of them are growing and grass has been started on part of the park area.

Up to now the ladies have been doing a good job of watering the trees and grass with the limited facilities. In the near future they will have a better system for watering as the City is having a sprinkling system installed that will enable a larger area to be watered at one time. This way the entire park can be watered in a short time and plants will not have to suffer between waterings.

The park right now does not look so inviting to picnickers but when the trees get a little more growth and the grass is thoroughly set it will afford a picnic area for a number of people.

The thing we need to do next is to provide playground equipment for children, barbecues pits and tables etc. At the moment we know of no project that would be more worthwhile for the Lions Club than to raise money to equip the park, and have it ready for use next spring.

Loraine has had the park ground ever since the town was started but up to this year not much had been done to improve it. Trees were set out around the park several years ago but they were not taken care of because the City had not made water available for watering. All of those trees died and have been removed. Pecan trees that are now growing will be much better than the elms though it will take longer to make large trees.

A nice little park is a big asset to any town and ours will be no exception.

The special postcard form, 2240, is the proper one to use to submit fuel claims, says Logsdon, and they have been mailed to operators who reported in 1962. New farmers and those who have not received the Form 2240, may obtain them from the office of the County Extension Agent or the area offices of Internal Revenue Service, he says.

Logsdon reminds that claims are subject to audit, just as other reports submitted to the Internal Revenue Service and records should be kept to support refund claims. The Agent emphasizes that the deadline for reporting claims is September 30.

Tax Refund Claims

Due September 30

Farmers and ranchmen are reminded that claims for the Federal Gas Tax refund must be submitted before September 30, says Buddy C. Logsdon, County Agricultural Agent.

The refund is on the four cents per gallon excise tax paid on gasoline and diesel fuel used by operators on their farms during the period July 1, 1962 to June 30, 1963, says Logsdon. He explains that this refund has no connection with the claim for refunds sent to the State Comptroller's office.

The gasoline used on an operator's farm by custom contractors is also eligible for the refund, points out Logsdon, but fuel used in highway travel is not.

The special postcard form, 2240, is the proper one to use to submit fuel claims, says Logsdon, and they have been mailed to operators who reported in 1962. New farmers and those who have not received the Form 2240, may obtain them from the office of the County Extension Agent or the area offices of Internal Revenue Service, he says.

Farm Facts

Production of sugar beets, sugar cane, and refined sugar in this country broke all records in 1961, according to the Crop Reporting Board, USDA. Estimated refined sugar production for the 50 states was 4,089,000 tons. Per capita consumption is 98 pounds. Production of sugar beets was estimated at 17,000,000 tons, nearly a million tons above the previous record of 1959.

Sugar cane production was estimated at 8,649,000 tons, the largest crop of record. Hawaii growers harvested an estimated 9,581,000 tons to bring total U. S. sugar cane production for the year to 18,230,000 tons.

This record harvest from 1,526,100 acres indicates an increase in acreage for the sucrose-producing crops, and more self-sufficiency for this segment of America's food needs. A large share of the U. S. sugar supply historically up acreage now producing has been imported from Cuba, commodities that are surplus.

It is a well-known fact among farmers in this area that farmer owned gins are doing a better job for the farmer. We'd like to gin your cotton this fall-and every fall.

ETIQUETTE

Pat is not exactly certain just what this word connotes. He does know it is a very important trait of character. He also knows it deals with man's relationship to man.

Etiquette distinguishes between a considerate person and just an ordinary clothopper. A considerate person will think sometimes twice before speaking or performing any act that might be considered rude or ordinary. The ordinary clothopper only asks, "Is this convenient for me?"

Etiquette also prompts one to think of others. A wise man once said, "I would not enter on my list of friends he who would needlessly set his foot upon a worm." To Pat, this is just another way of saying, "I would do nothing which would cause pain of body, mind, or spirit to my fellow man."

Selfishly: Etiquette causes one to think of himself. "What will this or that word or act make others know about me?" is a guiding principle here. You see, none of us want to make a "bad impression". Since this is true, weighing our words and acts become tremendously important. This is why Emily Post, and like writers, are listened to. Yes, we want to "look good" and make a good impression.

Finally, etiquette reveals just how refined we really are. Someone said, "What you do speaks so loudly, I cannot hear a word you say". Therefore the practice of good etiquette is not in the category of being hypocritical but is just a certain rule of deportment which helps us to be what we really desire above all else.

Yours for good living and good revelation of Character.

Veterans News

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q. My regular non-government pension is to be increased by $15 per month. In view of the possibility that the increase might make me ineligible to receive my veterans pension, may I refuse the increase and remain eligible for my VA pension?

A. No. Your refusal to accept the monthly increase in your pension would constitute a waiver. Since such a waiver is not authorized by Federal statute, the additional $15 must be counted as income for pension purposes.

Q. What is the eligibility requirement for a veteran to receive a physical examination from the VA?

A. He must need the medical examination in connection with applying for certain benefits such as VA compensation, life insurance, or hospital or domiciliary care and he must be discharged or retired under conditions other than dishonorable.

Q. How can a veteran's former wife get his insurance benefits after he dies when he had a later wife who gets nothing? I know that this occurred.

A. The veteran evidently had named his earlier wife as his insurance beneficiary and did not change either because (a) he intended for her to get insurance benefits or (b) he forgot to change the designation of his beneficiary to his later wife. The VA is required by law to pay insurance benefits to the designated beneficiary.

Today's MEDITATION

The World's Most Widely Used
Devotional Guide

Read John 6:25-35
They that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength.
(Isaiah 40:31.)
In our living room we have a philodendron. It stretches part way across the room. We noticed that the farther it extended itself from the container in which it is planted the more it diminished in thickness and strength.

Here and there along the vine's length nodules appeared at the point of fuller life. The plant lover in our home conceived the idea of putting these nodules, without severing them from the vine, into a series of additional containers filled with rich earth. The plant has taken on new life from this supplementary feeding.

It is a long step from Sunday to Sunday, and it is a longer step from Easter to Easter. Too many persons who have professed Christ as their Savior and united with the church neglect to feed the soul between these special days. We all need to bear in mind that, just as supplementary feeding aids the growth and development of the philodendron, daily prayer, Scripture reading, and meditation will assure growth and development for our souls.

Prayer: Our Father, we look to Thee in faith, asking forgiveness of our sins. Feed us this day on

OUTDOORS IN TEXAS

B. VERN SANFORD

There are a few well known axioms. Like, for example, "every cloud has a silver lining" and "for every bad there must be some good."

A couple of years ago Hurricane Carla swept across the Texas coast, with a terrific rain storm in its wake. Thousands of acres of lowlands were inundated. All small game, including the bobwhite quail, perished.

Next morning Tom Waddell, retired game warden from Eagle Lake, went out in a boat almost from his very back door to the Gulf of Mexico. He reported seeing only a few birds on the hummocks that hadn't quite been covered with water.

Later on Game Department biologists and sportsmen verified that thousands of quail had been destroyed. Despite all the planting of multicolor roses and other cover plans-the birds had been wiped out.

Opponents of the state-owned quail hatchery at Tyler, including some biologists who work for the state, thought it was a bad investment. But that quail hatchery during the past several months has poured some 21,000 quail back into the Coastal area. Barring another disaster there will be a great comeback of the wonderful bobs next year.

Matagorda County, one of the heaviest hit by the hurricane, received the bulk of these transplanted quail with a total of 4,870.
