Mass Meeting

Mass Meeting Wednesday
To Climax Preliminary Movements

Climaxing their preliminary campaign with a county-wide mass meeting in the auditorium of the First Methodist Church here Wednesday night at 8:30, the dry forces of Collingsworth County will present Dr. Atticus Webb of Dallas in the biggest prohibition meeting that the county has seen this year.

The mass meeting will be sponsored by the United Federation of Prohibition for Collingsworth County, which was permanently organized at a meeting held in the Nazarene Church here Tuesday evening. Rev. D. W. Simpson was elected as chairman of the organization and C. C. Bishop was elected as secretary.

The organization of the local unit followed the expansion of the prohibition forces in a series of talks on the streets of Wellington, Dodsonville and Quail Saturday afternoon. Sunday, the following speakers also appeared: Houselog, Rev. Greenwood; Prairie View, Rev. D. W. Simpson; Cottonwood, Rev. T. M. Johnston; Fresno, Rev. W. C. Hankins; Lillie, J. D. Wilson.

Following the organization of the permanent county unit, it was announced that an executive committee will be appointed in Wellington, consisting of the pastors, Sunday School superintendents and four representatives from each of the churches. Several other committees will be appointed.

Quail Nine Loses To Hollis Sunday

The Quail baseball nine played and lost the first game of the season Sunday, 7 to 5, when they met the Hollis team at the Powell Field diamond, two blocks south of the high school building.

Ira Morgan, manager, said today that the team did not have a game scheduled for next Sunday, but that they would meet an Amarillo team within the next few weeks. The game Sunday was the first that Quail has played this year and due to absence of several Quail players, the game was hardly representative of the possibilities of the team.

Three Rains In Past Week Prove Beneficial Here

Total Rainfall Of One
And One-Eighth Inches
Recorded Here

Crops Improved

Few Parts Of County Still Dry As Most Communities Get Showers

Relief from the intense heat, which for the past month averaged over 100 degrees each day, came to Collingsworth County this week in the form of three rains, which also did much toward improving the crop prospects of the county.

The three rains totaled one and one-eighth inches in Wellington, according to the reports taken from the J. M. Strong rain gauge. The rain Monday gave Wellington .6 of an inch; last Friday, .4 inch; last Thursday, one-eighth of an inch.

The Monday rain fell in the middle of the afternoon and although it did not extend far north, the rain was reported to be general elsewhere and fell slowly, in such a manner as to be of great benefit to local crops, but some parts of the county are still needing moisture.

The rain Thursday was accompanied by slight storm damages, but the report of four injured persons of near Buck Creek was the only serious results of the storm. Mr. and Mrs. Freeman and Mr. and Mrs. Musick, living on the Judge Templeton farm, received slight injuries when their residence was blown away.

The rain Thursday was more scattered than that Friday and fell in short downpours, at different points over the county. (Continued on Page Five)

Vacation Tours Hold Interest

Dr. and Mrs. W. R. Orr left Monday for a month of travel, during which time they expect to visit in Nevada, Wyoming, and several other western states, before visiting the World's Fair in Chicago and returning home.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Dorn and Mrs. Earl Hunter returned home from Chicago, after visiting the fair, this week. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Starr, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Starr and daughter, Pauline, who accompanied the other members of the party to the fair, continued their journey on to Washington, where they will visit before returning to Wellington.

William Worth McClaskey, Dale Watkins and Richard Carter left Tuesday morning for Wyoming, where they plan to attend the Frontier Day Rodeo at Cheyenne, July 26, 27 and 28. They also plan to visit in Yellowstone Park before returning here in about two weeks.

Over 500 Books Change Hands In Library Saturday

Recent hot weather has caused large numbers of Collingsworth County people to resort to reading, according to the announcement of Mrs. C. C. Ryan, assistant librarian, who stated that more than 500 books were listed as returned and loaned out through the county library Saturday.

The number was about 30 more than usual and climaxes a general increase over the past twelve months. The majority of the books were light fiction, which offered rapid action and fast reading.

Western novels play a definite part in the life of the county library, while love stories also form a major part of the loans made through the division.

Is Grateful

Mrs. Barney Walker, whose neighbors, during the illness of her son, visited the Walker home this week and lent helping hands in getting the Walker crop in condition, says after all there is nothing like real neighbors.

Neighbors

Friends Of Mr. And
Mrs. Barney Walker
Plow Cotton Crop

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Barney Walker in the Plymouth community met at the Walker home Tuesday to demonstrate that neighborliness still exists in Collingsworth County by plowing and hoeing the Walker crop. Knowing that Merle Walker, 20-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Walker had been sick for the past three weeks with typhoid fever and that Mr. Walker had been incapacitated a good part of the season as a result of a tree falling on him, neighbors brought twenty-three teams and plowed out the entire crop in one day, while others chopped out the cotton crop.

Besides the good feeling that comes from a kindly act, the friends of the Walkers had another reward. Upon seeing what the neighbors were doing for his son-in-law, W. H. Montgomery barbecued a hog and his wife got busy as well. As a result over fifty people were served with an old fashioned picnic dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Walker are deeply grateful for the thoughtfulness and kindness of their neighbors, and they say that some day they hope they will have the opportunity of showing their appreciation under circumstances that are more cheerful than those that surround their family at the present time.

Valuations To Be Over $6,500,000

W. D. Aldridge, county tax assessor, said Wednesday that valuations for this county were estimated more than six and one-half million dollars for the coming year.

Mr. Aldridge is almost through with valuation estimates and said that he believed he had visited most of the owners in the county, but where anyone had been missed they were urged to come by his office and report on their evaluations.

The valuation sheets will be submitted to the commissioner's court on July 24, and the tax rolls will probably be made the latter part of August.

Plans Complete For Big Singing Convention Here

Meeting July 22-23

Women Urged To Bring Pies For Free Convention Barbecue Sunday

Plans for the biggest singing convention ever held in Collingsworth County were complete today as H. H. Lowe, president, said that the convention to be held at the high school building here Saturday night and Sunday, July 22 and 23, would include outstanding singers and quartets from Texas, Oklahoma and Arkansas.

A crowd of 2,500 is expected to attend the convention and 700 of these guests will come from distant points, according to Mr. Lowe. The guests will include many quartets and singers, among which will be quartets from Lubbock, Amarillo, Carnegie, Okla., and Hartford, Ark.

Want Song Books

One of the principal features of the convention will be a free barbecue at the noon hour Sunday. Convention leaders plan to barbecue two hogs and will furnish all of the additional food except pies. "Every woman in this county who attends the convention is asked to bring one or more pies," Mr. Lowe said, "this is all we are asking the local guests to furnish for the meal and as many pies as we can get will be appreciated."

Due to the large number of persons coming from distant points we would also like for as many persons as possible to register their names with us to furnish beds for the guests Saturday night. We are sure that all of the hotels will be full and the guests will have to have somewhere to sleep."

All communities attending the convention were also requested to (Continued on Page Eight)

Officials Find Past Week Dull

Other than the arrest of two men on charges of vagrancy, local officers reported a quiet week. The "vag" arrests resulted from the capture of two men just after they had poured out the contents of a half gallon whiskey jar.

Only three men were said to be in the county jail. Last week 27 chattel mortgages, no deeds of trust, no county, justice or district court cases were filed and only one marriage license was issued. Things were buzzing around the courthouse, however, as farmers called throughout every day to apply for cotton acreage reductions.

Boy Scouts Enjoy Three Days Outing Despite Showers

Members of both troops of Wellington Scouts went on an outing to Nell's Swimming Pool near Hollis over the week end. The boys left Thursday morning and returned Saturday morning. Transportation to and from the camp was furnished by Shamburger Lumber Co. and by J. B. Clark.

The scout activities included camping, swimming, hiking, and indoor baseball. Several times during the camp the Scouts were forced to find shelter due to downpours which beat down suddenly.

Scouts who attended were: R. M. Horn, Henry Sullivan, Allen Rayl, Marvin Harris, Burton Love, Joe Langford, Robert Strong, Billy Rainer, Bud Scruggs, Billy Glasgow, G. L. Farrar, Jr., Elmer Goforth, H. C. Hite, and J. L. Anderson, Scout executive.

Rain Delays Playing Of Three Games In Soft Ball League For Past Week

The soft ball league schedule was set back six days as rains left "no game" for three teams during the past week. The Outlaws and the Merchants, scheduled for July 13; Methodists and Utilities, July 14; Baptists and Methodists, July 17, were all delayed and will have to be played at a later date.

The one game played this week was between the Firemen and the Utilities and went to the Utility ten with a final score of 10 to 6 Tuesday night.

The game was one of the best of the season and featured plenty of good plays as the Firemen attempted to maintain their threat

Farmers Warned Not To Plow Cotton Until Authorized

That permits for the plowing of Collingsworth County cotton have already been mailed and that some farmers of this county should begin plowing their cotton by Monday, was announced late Wednesday by John O. Stovall, county agent, who received a telegram today from Washington, D. C.

"Under no condition, however, are the farmers to plow any of their cotton until they have been authorized through this office and given an official permit from the government," Mr. Stovall said. "It is almost certain that some of the permits will be issued by Monday and some of them may be issued the latter part of this week."

The acreage yield of this county was reported to be right in line with the government five-year average estimate Wednesday as the committee had tabulated 1,000 of the applications and still had 500 to be tabulated. The figures showed that they had 1,000 applications included approximately 30,000 acres with an average yield of 178 pounds of lint per acre. The government average was 182 pounds, placing this county in the right bracket.

"There is absolutely no doubt but what the county will have its quota of 39,768 acres in the right yield bracket," Mr. Stovall said. "Some of the applications in the 500 not yet tabulated are above the average and may not be accepted, but the county will reach its quota."

"The committee would like to see and talk with all farmers whose contracts were not accepted (Continued on Page Eight)

Salt Fork is also expected about the first of September. The commissioners, assisted by Senator Clint C. Small, worked three days in Austin and brought back the report, which indicates an early completion of the road. Childress County was also assured of the paving contract north from Red River to the Collingsworth line, the last remaining gap on highway 4 in that county.

The grading, drainage and bridge structures will be built from the Federal funds allotted Texas and the paving will be constructed by the state department. (Continued on Page Eight)

Local Boys Tells Parents Of Life With The Marines

(Editors Note: The following account is written by Marcus Lemley, local boy, who is serving in the U. S. Marine Corps and was directed to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Lemley, of this city.)

By MARCUS LEMLEY
I guess I am off to see some of the West Coast country. We are now in the pretty little city of Santa Barbara and have been here for several days, and will probably be here over the Fourth as we are going to parade on that date.

Last week four battle ships were here, but they shoved off leaving us here alone. Santa Barbara is sure a pretty place; it is built in a valley extending from the beach back into the mountains and is quite a Spanish town. Most of the buildings are constructed along Spanish types of architecture and a large number of Spanish people live here—but most of them are the higher class and some are quite wealthy.

We are leaving here Wednesday. I do not think any of the Marines care to leave, but you should hear the sailors cry to get away. They don't seem to get over so big in this place and it sure hurts them to see the marines take the town. You seldom see a marine on the street. After they leave the landing they usually walk only a few blocks before some swell car pulls up and someone asks if they want to ride over the city or take a drive into the mountains. Of course if you knew marines better, you would know that they don't hesitate to take a ride into the mountains every chance they get. After the sight seeing trip they are taken to the home for entertainment and you should see the homes they are taken to. Well, that is what burns up the sailors. There isn't much love between the marines and sailors to start with.

As I said, we are shoving off Wednesday for Seattle and will be underway for seven days. It does not take that much time to make the trip, but we have some battle problems to solve on the way up. We are in Seattle to the 25 and in Billingham to the 31; in Tacoma to August 7; in Port Angeles to the 9, underway to San Francisco from August 9 to 12 and in port there to August 21; then back home to Long Beach.

After a short rest at anchor we will start our short range practice, which will last through September.

He was for several years editor of the Alkalde, University ex-student magazine, but resigned to devote his full time to study and to his position as tutor in the University department of government. He will be accompanied to Chicago by his wife, formerly Julia Texie Boggess, also a University graduate.

Body Of Derrick Found On Railway Track In Alabama

The mangled body of Boyd Derrick and Esmond Sherrill of Scottsboro, Alabama, were found near their home on a railway track, where they had been run over and killed by a train.

Derrick worked in Wellington last year while the Denver depot was under construction and left after the building was completed. While here he visited Emmett Sumner of this city.

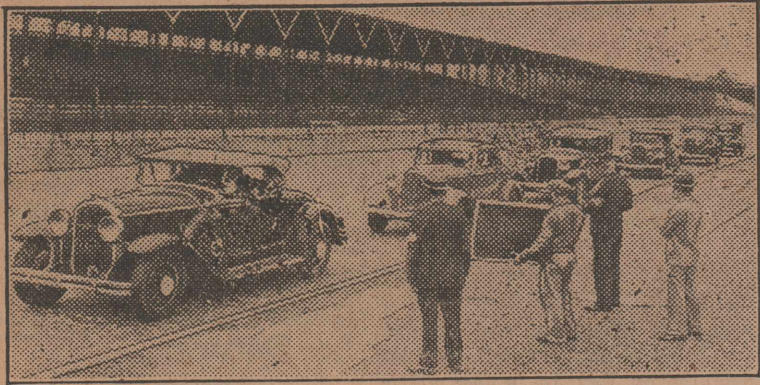

Indications showed Derrick to have been killed instantly. His car was found near the scene of the accident, empty of gas, and it was thought that the two men ran out of gas and took a short cut to secure fuel, coming on the tracks, sat down and went to sleep.

Advances in Oil Refining Result in Higher Mileage

Cars picked at random from the streets, lined up on Indianapolis Speedway before starting four-day test of new high-mileage motor oil.

Because the average motorist is becoming more and more concerned with motor oil performance, the refining industry has recently been turning its attention to improved refining methods designed to meet the public's demand for better lubrication from the medium priced lubricants.

For years the main problem confronting the industry was reduction of carbon deposits, and like matters, but today the important problem is how to provide better lubrication.

Very definite and satisfactory progress has been made along this line, as shown recently in mileage tests conducted at the Indianapolis Speedway under supervision of the Contest Committee of the American Automobile Association. These tests showed that a new high-mileage oil, produced by the Gulf Refining Company, gives 28.5 per cent more miles to the quart than any of the other three popular, medium-priced oils tested against it.

The cars used in the test were low and medium-priced autos picked at random from the streets of Indianapolis. Each car was run 450 miles with each of the four brands of oil, the test lasting four days, during which time each car covered 1,800 miles.

Oil consumption was carefully checked by contest officials of the A. A. A., and it was found that the new high-mileage oil was 28.5 per cent cheaper to use, the figure being an average based on the oil's performance in all the cars used in the test.

New Beer Makes No Difference At All To Forestry Army

By JOHN S. HOLT
DAVIS, Okla.—Despite the fact that practically everyone in Oklahoma is 3.2 minded since the election last Wednesday, the C. C. C. boys are going right on with their work just as if nothing had happened—and the 3.2 makes no difference at all with us.

Everyone is working hard and I am sure that the park is going to look a lot different by the time our six months is up.

All the Wellington boys are getting along fine—except Alvis Hudson, who took up the boxing band and happened to meet an experienced boxer. The other fellow treated Alvis' chin a little rough and Alvis has been in a daze since, but is alright now. Anyway, he is going in for some other sport, henceforth.

Our company received a new shipment of tools and supplies this week and we were all a little peeved when we saw that big truck load of picks, axes, etc., but when we started unloading the truck we found that it contained baseball equipment, a radio and other playground equipment mixed in with the tools—and we were all pretty well pleased. It isn't so bad putting in a hard day's work if you know that you can spend the evening playing ball and having a good time.

Survey Discloses Blondes Outnumber Dark Haired Coeds

Denton.—The Southern Beauty, long celebrated in song and story as creamy skinned with dusky hair and eyes, finds herself in the minority at the Texas State College for Women as she is outnumbered by her titian-haired and blonde sister, traditional inhabitants of a northern climate.

An informal check taken of the student body revealed that three out of every five students of the college are light-haired, and one of the three light-haired ones is an extreme blonde. It was further shown that one out of every seven is red-haired.

It would seem that while gentlemen may prefer blondes, that blondes also prefer a college for women.

Deck's DIDACTICS

By H. D. W.

Two things happened this week which gave me a warm glow on the inside. The first was the action of neighbors of Barney Walker when they met and plowed out his crop. Such consideration is worthy of note. Things like that go a long way toward restoring community life, and there is nothing that we need more in Collingsworth County at this time. Too often we think of interesting living as being connected with some large city or some far away place, but the fundamentals are always right at home. After all the principal things in any person's life are births, deaths, work and weddings. And the qualities that lend them significance are kindness, tolerance, neighborliness and cheerfulness. And of these none is more precious than neighborliness. Those people who met at the Walker home knew this in their hearts whether they thought it in their minds or not.

The second event that made me feel good was the celebration of the fiftieth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Ball. In this day when the daily papers are filled with accounts of divorces, and when the divorce rate in towns the size of ours is not to be passed over lightly, it is refreshing to learn of a couple who have lived together through good times and bad times for fifty years. Making a success of marriage is no mean accomplishment, for it requires qualities that must be developed. People who make such a success should be given credit for it just as we credit those who succeed in money making, politics or church work. The only thing is marriage is more important than any of the others.

A telegram was received by the cotton committee this week saying that orders to plow up cotton in Collingsworth County had been mailed out and should be received in Wellington this week. However, I want to put in one word of warning to the farmers. Don't plow up your cotton until the proper officials notify you to do so. Even if your neighbors are plowing up theirs, don't start on your own until you have been specifically told to do so.

Collingsworth County should feel proud of its county judge and the members of the commissioners Court. In the past few weeks they have done two things that will have a tremendous bearing upon living and business conditions in this community in the next six months. Upon short notice they set up the machinery that made the cotton plan a success in this county, and the future result is too clear to everyone to need elaboration. They have also, with the help of Senator Small, secured the assurance of the continuance of the road work in Collingsworth County. Both of these enterprises mean better business, better living conditions and work for people who have had little or no work to do.

The business of The Wellington Leader is rotten, but I am not doing so bad personally. There has been plenty to eat at my house the last few days. John Savage brought in a plump Buff Orpington fryer that his wife sent me, and I sure did appreciate it. And right on top of that my wife's mother brought in two that were already dressed. That is the best way to bring a chicken to an editor or is to bring it already dressed. I know people will think I have no appreciation at all, but I firmly intend to speak to John Savage about this and see if the next time he won't dress the chicken that Mrs. Savage sends me.

Saturday and Sunday you will have a chance to hear more singing than you ever heard before. The Collingsworth County Singing Convention will have a session at the High School auditorium Saturday night and all day Sunday. With the exception of the time they take out to eat at noon they intend to sing all day Sunday. If you like singing here is your chance to get an earful.

Harold Allen and Miss Alta Monroe were children's visitors, Sunday afternoon.

Three Rains In--

The Friday rain was probably the most beneficial rain to fall here this year. Four-tenths of an inch was reported in Wellington from observations of the Strong rain gauge, but other communities over the county reported as much as two inches of rain, which were said to have been badly needed.

The rain began Friday afternoon and extended on through Friday night in a slow downfall. Quail was among the communities which received a rain—and was badly in need of moisture as the hot winds were greatly endangering the crops in that section.

Fresno, Rolla and Dodsonville also received good, general rains which will be highly beneficial to the feed and cotton crops of those sections. Lutie reported general rains accompanied by slight storm damages.

Florida Prison Outbreak Brings National Guards

BROWNSVILLE, Fla.—National guardsmen hurried to Tooke Lake prison camp July 6 in a determined offense to smash an armed mutiny.

Striking convicts, numbering about thirty and described by jailors as "bad actors," were barricaded in the stockade and armed with hatchets, knives, clubs and bottles. They had defied prison authorities since Tuesday noon.

Civilian authorities predicted "real trouble" in storming the stockade. Sheriff Law said he thought the convicts may have killed one of their number, possibly for attempting to desert.

The prisoners smashed a sweat box and ignored demands for submission.

Popular Stars Featured This Week At Ritz

Thrills And Pathos Reign Supreme As Weeks Pic- tures Are Announced

Theatre patrons of Wellington and trade territory will find no let-up in the grade of entertainment offered at the Ritz during the next week. The opening attraction, "Made On Broadway," features three of the screen's most popular stars. This stellar list of performers is headed by Robert Montgomery, with Sally Eilers and Madge Evans sharing honors. "Made On Broadway" is said to contain a well balanced routine of comedy, drama and thrills. It is a fast story of the fastest street in the world, where humanity buzzes with the flicker of every dazzling light. Where heroes and heroines are made and where they are forgotten. It's the story of a man who ruled Broadway by pressing a button—who made people famous, then broke them; but one day love entered the racket. He had never figured on that, and what happens is told in a smashing climax.

Saturday Offers Another Thriller

When it comes to hard riding, mad fighting and wild shooting, Tom Keene usually manages to get right in the middle of it. But according to announcements his latest Western thriller, "Cheyenne Kid," rather out-does most of his past performances. It is recommended for people with strong spines, who can stick to their seats and dodge every bullet and every blow.

Opening At Preview

Robinson's Latest Release
Edward G. Robinson, the one personality who can boast of the fact that he has never made a poor picture, is to be starred in "The Little Giant," his latest release, opening with Saturday night's preview and running through Sunday and Monday. "Little Giant" has been popularly referred to as "Little Caesar" reformed. This famous character interpreter takes a fling at society in "The Little Giant," and the action of the play is said to present one of the finest comedy releases yet offered in feature pictures. His many admirers will doubtless await this new type of personality with much interest. The critics have hailed it as one of the best pictures of the year.

Tuesday And Wednesday Bargain Days

The Ritz management is making it possible for many people to attend the theatre regularly through their Summer Bargain Days. On Tuesday and Wednesday of each week, two adults are being admitted for the price of one. With the modern conveniences, finest of sound equipment and the choicest entertainment of the year's release, Ritz customers can have it all on Tuesday and Wednesday at twelve and one-half cents per head, by taking advantage of their two-for-one admission price on these days. The feature for the coming Tuesday and Wednesday is "Men Must Fight." The story is laid seven years ahead of our present environment, offering a challenge to the trend of affairs by establishing the setting for this drama in the year 1940. The picture affords a splendid cast including Diana Wynard, called the star who became famous over night, Lewis Stone, Ruth Selwyn and Phillips Holmes.

Ritz To Show World's Heavyweight Championship Fight

According to announcements by the Ritz management, local patrons will see the official pictures of the World's Heavyweight Championship Fight. The pictures were made at the ringside in Madison Square Bowl, Long Island, New York, and show the actual fight, round by round and blow by blow, and the knockout in the 6th round. These pictures hold more than usual interest for the reason that local fans saw the Schmeling-Baer fight pictures last week, which was won with considerable ease by Max Baer, the Californian. Now that Baer and Carnera are to fight for Heavyweight Championship honors in a couple of months, local patrons who saw the Schmeling-Baer fight, will be privileged to see Carnera in action also; allowing them to form some definite idea as to their opinion of the forthcoming fight. The Sharkey-Carnera film will be shown on Thursday and Friday of next week.

Model

Sunny Wallace (left) and Frances Allison will be two of the models in the Outdoor Style Shows to be held in Dallas on August 8, 15 and 22 by the Southwestern Style Show Association. Secretary "Andy" Anderson says an open-air amphitheatre will be constructed in front of the Fair Park Coliseum, the entrance to the theatre being used for a stage.

Ford's Lead Big In Wayne County

DETROIT, Mich.—Sales of Ford V-8 cars and Ford trucks have taken a commanding lead in Wayne County, in which Detroit, the motor car center of the World, is located. This may be taken as significant of the trend in motor car buying. Registrations for the first twenty-four days of June showed a total of 1,816 Ford cars and trucks. This is nearly twice as many as the nearest other make, which registered 963 units, while the second other make sold in the same period only 623 units.

Actors Careful As Kidnaping Becomes General

HOLLYWOOD, Cal.—Lest film-doms' millions attract a buzdard's swarm of kidnapers, Hollywood is taking its ounce of prevention.

Fear of kidnaping always present among the colony's 20,000 actors and actresses has been heightened by recent abductions in the East and Middle West.

Major studios with their private police are discussing formation of a "Scotland Yard" to protect their film stars and directors, and Los Angeles county and city officials are taking precautionary steps.

Sheriff Eugene Biscailuz announced the creation of a special group of secret investigators to handle kidnaping cases, and warned wealthy families to be on their guard.

R. E. Steckel, chief of police, ordered his men to keep a finger on bootleggers who have been forced out of business by repeal of liquor laws, and has issued orders to shoot to kill in combatting kidnapers.

Hollywood's concern is not one of idle appreciation.

Two men convicted several years ago of contriving a plot to abduct one of the most famous of its film celebrities, Mary Pickford, are serving sentences of from 10 to 50 years.

Marlene Dietrich, the German actress now in Europe, had bars put on her Beverly Hills home, and later hired guards for her young daughter 24 hours a day. An armed guard accompanied them to Europe.

Ann Harding has a special guard for her daughter, Jane Banister.

Harold Lloyd, the millionaire bespectacled funster whose estate is a showplace, has a guard for his three children. So has Gloria Swanson.

One studio already is perfecting an under cover organization in its private police system to keep an ear close to the underworld movements which might embody evil for its stars.

So marked has become the apprehension of film personages they are accompanied by bodyguards even when they attend theatre premieres and other public functions. When a star travels, studio officials frequently arrange with police departments en route to afford them special protection.

Expert Says Every Field Of Corn Is Full Bin Of Coal

If elimination of the surplus corn crop will help the farmer, it would be cheaper to burn it on the cob than to transform it into alcohol and burn it as motor fuel, in the opinion of Dr. George G. Brown, of the University of Michigan.

Dr. Brown figures there are 600,000 British thermal units of heat in each bushel of corn on the cob, whereas corn transferred into alcohol provides only 200,000 Btu.

"The compulsory blending of alcohol in the proportion of 10 per cent in motor fuel," he explains, "requires the consumer to pay $1.10 per bushel to burn corn that can be purchased for 25 cents and burned immediately. The addition of one bushel of corn to every ton of bituminous coal used in this country would remove just as much corn with no capital expenditures, no delay for building new plants, and at less than one-sixth the annual cost."

It is estimated that if the corn surplus be eliminated by fuel blended with corn alcohol forcing motorists to use motor fuel blended with corn alcohol the nation's motor fuel would be increased $400,000,000 to $600,000,000 annually.

COLLIN COUNTY TERRACING

According to figures of the U. S. Census and Extension Service there are 516,920 acres of land in Collin county and of this total, 59,000 acres have been terraced. It is estimated that this amount of terracing is worth $419,300 to the county.

Farm Implements Go 'Tire-Minded'

Farming and farm implement industries are going "tire minded." The increase in speed, economy and comfort brought by the new Firestone Low Pressure Tractor tire is attracting attention everywhere. This new development has made the farm tractor an all purpose machine.

Enthusiastic reports are coming from all parts of the country in general farming and specialized fields. The "Farm Implement News" recently stated it has been observed that in potato farming the use of low pressure tractor tires eliminates ground packing and injury to vines, adding 68 bushels to the acre.

Prof. C. W. McCuen of the Agricultural Engineering Department of Ohio State University has made some interesting tests that show the amazing performance of these big tires. "It is practical to do work in high gear with the Firestone low pressure tractor tire," he reports, "that could be done only in second or low gear with the steel lug equipment. With the new low pressure tire it took only 75 per cent as much gasoline for second gear as with steel wheels. Speed was increased 36.7 per cent on sod and 29.9 per cent on plowed ground."

He also found rolling resistance was only 31.1 per cent on plowed ground, which meant less power consumed in moving the tractor and more power available at the draw bar. For plowing, fuel consumption was reduced 23.33 per cent and area plowed in a given time was increased 27.2 per cent. The tires will not pack the seed bed.

These soft tires make the tractor much more comfortable for the farmer and prolong the life of the tractor. The tractor is always ready for comfortable and efficient travel or hauling. Golf courses have made glowing reports of its advantages for plowing, hauling and preserving the valuable grass of the fairways in all kinds of weather.

The cost is extremely low—in fact a set four tires, wheels and rim for the replacement change-over will soon pay for themselves in saving of fuel and maintenance cost.

This tire carries only 12 pounds of air pressure. With rated load it has the enormous ground contact area of 150 square inches. This large diameter tire fits into the plow furrows as the contact area is considerably longer than it is wide.

Removeable weights are provided for this new tractor tire equipment, giving 400 to 500 pounds extra weight per wheel for heavy plowing. The rims are similar to the drop center passenger car type but much larger.

Combining as it does increase economy, speed and comfort, with an amazingly widened scope of tractor activity and usefulness, these tires make an appeal that cannot be withstood by the man who sees a demonstration and who likes to do things.

Two Texas Clubs Scrap 22 Innings In 3-3 Deadlock

OZONA, Texas.—From 2 o'clock until dark here last Sunday afternoon the baseball teams of Abilene and Ozona made futile efforts to break a deadlock. At sunset each team had scored three runs, and a West Texas endurance record was claimed for their 22-inning tie.

For the first 20 innings Mark Hanna, veteran Abilene southpaw, and Hersel "Slim" Kinzy, T. C. U. star playing for Ozona, fought it out on the mound without relief. Debs Ethridge and Bill Duncan finished for them. Kinzy fanned 22 batters.

When each side scored once in the eighth, the count was 2-2. The next 10 rounds went by without a scratch. In the first of the 19th, Abilene took the lead, 3-2, but Ozona came back with a technical home run by Russell, the runner circling the bases while the defense made several relay throws.

BOWIE HAS PIG SURPLUS

Bowie county farmers with surplus pigs have put out gifts to 40 club boys who are to repay with half the pigs from the first litters. It is a plan for producing more home meats.

HEN MOTHERS OWL

A hen at the Park creek camp on the JA ranch, west of Clarendon, hatched and mothered a pair of owls. The foster mother, as a provider, "fell" down on the job, so Winks Adams, camp foreman, killed them a rabbit a day.

U. S. Government Seeks Means For Combating Crime

WASHINGTON.—No matter how long it takes, in the words of Attorney General Cummings, the federal government will fight the underworld until law and order prevails over the gangster, kidnaper and racketeer.

As part of that effort, the justice department continued work last week on legislation intended to give the government greater power in dealing with the lawless. This will be presented to congress in January, Cummings said, although specified proposals have not been agreed upon.

One idea, he said, is that of setting up a federal police force. But the laws would have to be changed, because in the past it has been held that the federal government can act only in things involving it, such as counterfeiting or smuggling, or in crime cases that spread across state lines.

Meanwhile, Cummings suggested that when kidnapers kidnap, the justice department bureau of investigation should be notified, all essential facts told to federal agents and officers not "properly constituted" kept out of the case.

THINK THIS OVER

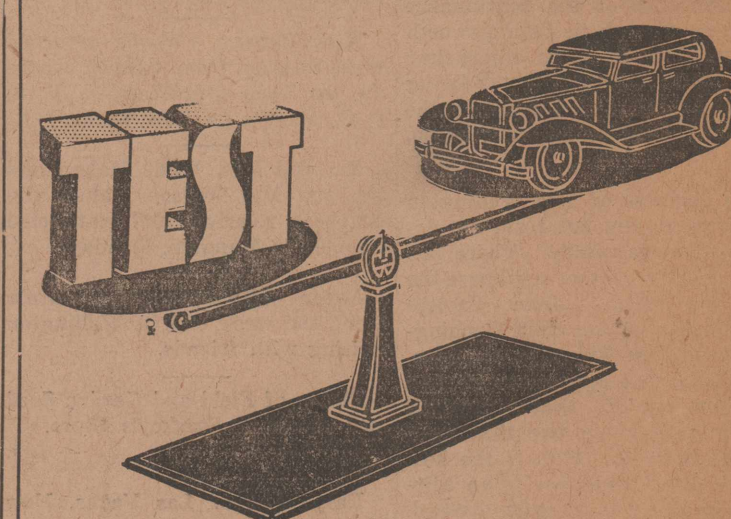

A mother took her small son to an incubator to see some eggs hatch. Finally the mother said: "Isn't it wonderful, dear, how the little chicks get out of the shell?" "That's nothing," answered the boy, "What I can't figure out is how they get there."

GULF COAST FIG CROP

It is estimated that there are now only about 1,600 acres of fig on the Gulf Coast where there were formerly about 16,000 acres and that a normal crop probably will not be obtained from more than 1,200 acres this year.

Farwell Family Has Troubles

FARWELL, N. M.—The Hunter family has tried rabbits' feet, has advertised for four-leaf clovers, and has cornered all the discarded horseshoes in town, but Old Man Bad Luck is still on the trail of members of the family.

To begin with, Mrs. Richard Hunter caught her hair in a power clothes wringer while bending over the tub of a washing machine, and she extracted herself only a section of hair had been torn out. That was several days ago.

She was unaware that she was starting a bad luck habit but next came Dick himself. Mr. Hunter is an employee of the Texas company. Last week, he was demonstrating the manner in which an employee of another oil company had dropped an oil barrel on his foot, crushing the toe. By balancing a full oil barrel above him, Mr. Hunter made the illustration convincing and effective, except that he carried it too far. The barrel slipped and dropped on his own toe, tearing away the nail.

Two days ago Dick's father, S. C. Hunter, stood in a red-bent bed while feeding hogs. He felt his misfortune before he saw. Witnesses who saw Mr. Hunter carrying say he must have been some dancer back in the days of the buck and square.

Twenty-two years after they were divorced Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Howell of Cardiff decided that they loved each other and got married again.

Chicago Gang Tactics Used

Regular Chicago beer gangster war tactics were used on two San Antonio beer parlors last week when eight charges of buckshot shattered their plate glass windows. Police say the attack doubtless was made by the beer ring in an attempt to keep the price of 5.2 beer up to 25 cents. Both places had been selling it at 20 cents. This cafe now has a new sign: "5.2 STILL 20c."

LETTERS From the PEOPLE

(Editor's Note: The Leader will gladly publish any acceptable article which is submitted by readers, provided that the articles are signed by the readers and are free from libelous or malicious contents.)

The Cotton Reduction Committee Since the Cotton Acreage reduction plan is well underway and is going over in this county, there is quite a lot of unjust and unwarranted criticism of the committee in charge of this work in Wellington. I cannot think of four men in the county who are better qualified for this place than these men who are serving. I've known Gibbs Glenn and John Henard for about 40 years. Neither of them would stand to petty jealousy or favoritism in a place like this. My acquaintance with Mr. Boardman has been for a shorter time, but there is no better or more conscious citizen in the county than he is. The county court should be commended for choosing John Stovall as county agent at this time. He is a graduate of A. and M. College and made an enviable record managing the Government seed loan in this district, having collected a higher percentage of his loans than any man in the state.

Our government needs a friend at this time. This committee has invited representative citizens of each community to sit and advise with them as to the merits of each crop. At this time my own production has not been passed on. If it comes in somewhat lower than my expectations and my neighbor with poorer land, is higher, I'll try not to complain. August 1 Listed As Final Date To Transfer Pupils

Cottonwood Is First Rural School To Begin Summer Term In County

That all students wishing to transfer from one school district to another must do so before August 1, was announced today by J. D. Wilson, county superintendent.

"All parents who wish to transfer their students to another school district other than the one in which they reside must do so before August 1," he said, "transfers cannot be made after that date and all persons interested should apply at the county superintendent's office and make the proper arrangements."

A large number of rural schools are scheduled to begin summer terms within the next two weeks. Cottonwood school was the first to begin its summer term in this county. Cottonwood started Monday morning, July 17, and books were checked out to the instructors. Bob Birchfield is principal of the school and Miss Lois Kayser is the other instructor.

Most of the rural schools which start early, like Cottonwood, will complete their summer terms and adjourn during the cotton picking season offering the students an opportunity to work during the busy farming season and return to school after the cotton crop is gathered.

A large number of other rural schools are expected to start their summer terms next Monday, Mr. Wilson said.

Mrs. Miller came to this county in December, 1889, with her husband and Mr. Royal. Mr. Miller was one of the first doctors to ever live in Collingsworth County, and will be recalled by many of the old timers. Both children were born in this county.

Ability to sing and listen are the only two qualifications necessary for attending the classes. Minister H. V. Hendry, pastor, said, and Minister Goble extended an invitation for all interested persons to attend the class.

Beginning Saturday night, the convention will include a business session, which will be followed by several numbers during the night meeting. Sunday will be devoted entirely to singing, featuring congregational numbers and group songs by the famous quartets and music companies.

Local talent will also play a headline role in the convention.

ier lined out a hit over left short in the first inning to score two men. It was a clean hit and came just when it was needed.

Hare, Utility pitcher, finished the game with five strike-outs to his credit and pitched one of the best games of the season. He got a little wild in the fifth inning, but the runaway was stopped by excellent support from his infield. J. Hill, a new player and a dark-horse, played a nice game in center field, rapping out a hit to center field in the second inning that scored three men. He also made a splendid running catch just at a critical moment and saved two scores. Bill Leach on left short and Son Strong on first base also played nice games.

COTTON OFFERS WILL BE ACCEPTED BY WALLACE

WASHINGTON, D. C.—More than three million bales of cotton have been offered the Secretary of Agriculture by the cotton producers of the South during the campaign which has been under way for the past two weeks and three days, it was announced today by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

Secretary Wallace announced his determination to accept such offers as meet the legal requirements and comply with the regulations and a proclamation to take such benefit payments was signed today as required by the Agricultural Adjustment Act.

A processing tax on the first domestic processing of cotton will, under the provision of the law, go into effect at the beginning of the marketing year which is August 1. Secretary Wallace in announcing that the cotton plan would be adopted and the producers' offers accepted issued the following statement:

"Incomplete reports from the 16 cotton producing States that have been received by Mr. Gully A. Cobb, chief of the cotton production section, indicate that the response of growers to the program has been sufficient for me to announce today that offers will be accepted."

"We estimate that, on the basis of the reports from the extension directors, approximately 3,500,000 bales have been offered to us under the terms of the proposals submitted to the growers. This amount of cotton represents in excess of 9,000,000 acres.

Our reports further indicate that the estimates placed on their yields by growers have been conservative and fair. Considering the elimination of land that produces under 100 pounds of cotton to the acre, the estimates that have been made on production appear, on the whole, entirely consistent with previously recorded averages.

"A processing tax will, under the law, be in effect as of August 1. The rate of this tax is fixed by law and is being computed now.

"I wish to emphasize that cotton producers should not construe this announcement as an acceptance of individual offers. Under the regulations, individual acceptances are required. These individual acceptances are being prepared just as rapidly as the individual contracts can be examined and reviewed. They will be sent to the county agents as quickly as possible. The first of such acceptances will be mailed out promptly. No producer should take steps to eliminate the acreage he has offered from cotton production until he has been instructed to do so and his individual acceptance received. It should be remembered that under the terms of the offer, we have the right to scale down the amount of acreage offered. Also it is probable that there will be offers which may be legally defective or for other reasons must be rejected or the defects remedied. Upon sufficient evidence of compliance with the terms of accepted offers—which do not become a contract until the individual acceptances have been received—the checks for the rental payments and the options on government-held cotton will be immediately forthcoming."
