FARM EXPERTS CONTINUE TRIP OF INSPECTION

MANY MACHINES SEEN TODAY IN VISIT AT FARMS IN COUNTY

Spending the day inspecting mechanical cotton gathering machines, the Myrick farms and their equipment, and studying, first hand, the information available on South Plains farming conditions, Loring A. Schuler, editor of The Country Gentleman, and his party of 28 agricultural authorities were continuing their survey of Texas farms today.

After visiting the Myrick farms, near Shallowater this morning, where they watched combining of sorghums and inspected the extensive machinery, members of the party went to the state experiment station, three miles east of the city where they saw mechanical pickers in action. At noon they gathered at the Tech cafeteria, the guests of the Board of City Development, at luncheon, returning to the station at 2 o'clock, where cotton ginning, so effective in this section last year, was to be demonstrated.

Party to Electra

The party was planning to leave today, Mr. Schuler said, enthusiastically this morning, as he watched the mechanical pickers move along the rows of cotton at the state farm and his remark was again voiced at noon today by Dan Scoates, of College Station, agricultural engineer at Texas A. and M., and the conductor of the visiting party.

City officials, however, reiterated their statement of a few days ago that due consideration is to be given every applicant, but that the one who in their opinion is best suited for the place will be named. It was considered inevitable that the most capable man with the most experience would be named for the post.

X-RAY PICTURES FAIL TODAY TO REVEAL MORE INJURIES

Narrowly escaping death when a five passenger biplane of the El Paso Airways, Inc., crashed to earth in a nose dive from an altitude of about 200 feet late yesterday afternoon, two passengers, Miss Anna Burson, 17, Tech freshman student, of Silverton, with a crushed right cheek bone, severely bruised right eye, cuts and bruises on the face and arms and a fracture right arm; a Clinton Reese, 17, of Ballinger, Tech freshman student also, with a broken nose and left leg and bruises and cuts on the face, and the pilot, Lee Amosetto, 21, of Newcastle, Wyoming, with two deep gashes in the face, a fractured nose and possible internal injuries, were reported by attending physicians to be resting as well as could be expected today at noon.

All three victims rested fairly well last night, and have a good chance for recovery, doctors said today. Miss Burson is the most seriously injured of the three, her position in the plane being such that she received the greatest jolt from the fall. She was seated in the right side of the ship which struck the ground first when it took a sudden nose dive as the pilot attempted to land it after a flight over the city.

Texarkana Drops Probe Into Case Of Mystery Death

TEXARKANA, Texas, Nov. 10.—Failing to find anything to aid in identifying the skeleton of a woman found in a dry creek bed three miles north of Texarkana, Wednesday, Bowie county officials Thursday had dropped their investigation into the case.

In dropping the probe they expressed the belief that the skeleton was that of Susie Sanders of Wynnewood, Okla., who disappeared from a tourist camp at Spring Lake park, near where the skeleton was found, in July 1926. The body of her companion, believed to have been J. H. Brady, 59, was found with a crushed skull, a bloody ax nearby. They had been camping together for some time at the park.

Officers have their opinion that the skeleton was that of Susie Sanders upon the fact that the bones were found within a few hundred yards of where the body of Brady was found, that the body had been buried in the creek bed and washed partly to the surface during rainy weather and upon the fact that a check of records failed to reveal any woman missing here in years. Examination of the skull by a physician showed that bones in the upper part of the right eye cavity and the membrane back of the cavity had been broken as if from a blow with a sharp instrument.

EQUALIZATION FEE IN BILL PROVES STUMBLING BLOCK AS TRIANGULAR MEET ADJOURNS

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—The equalization fee of the McNary-Haugen bill has again proved a stumbling block for an agreement on farm relief between three of the major agricultural organizations, and a meeting here today to effect a compromise was adjourned for further consultation.

The meeting was called by the American Farm Bureau federation, the Farmers Union, and the National Grange in the hope of reaching a decision as to what type of farm relief measure should be advocated in the next congress. It was learned that there was no disagreement between the three organizations as to the carrying out of such agricultural policies as the eradication of bovine tuberculosis, farm education and production processes but when it came to the question of formulating a comprehensive farm relief proposal the equalization fee again loomed up to balk their efforts.

WESTERNERS EXPECT HARD BATTLE WITH PLAINVIEW FRIDAY

BULLDOGS ARE RATED HIGHER PERCENTAGE

COACHES DRILL FIGHT TO BOTH SQUADS, ANCIENT RIVALS

Plainview Bulldogs have smarting somewhat after their loss from the Amarillo Golden Gophers and will be here with inspired eleven for the conference game against the Westerners on the Texas Tech gridiron tomorrow afternoon. Since the ruling of the eligibility of Vernon on the part of the Lions tramping the Bulldogs by a 29 to 9 count Plainview has been awarded a forfeit and the Bulldogs in the West are higher than the Westerners.

Coaches Drill Fight
The Bulldogs are rated higher than the Westerners. Trunks and Del Morgan, hard high school grid warriors, are hoping and aspirations for the Bulldogs. At the time in Plainview, Duckie Morgan high school coach of Amarillo is working daily with the roster of gridsters, and will be in the morning a convocation will be at the high school auditorium for the final pep rally before the Bulldogs meet the Westerners.

During this meeting, the high school players of the Bulldogs are coming for exes of the school in the history of the Bulldogs. Several of the old high school warriors will make short of the benefit of the Westerners and in each instance they will be the lads to battle.

Next News Is Close
The Bulldogs will be close to the holiday declared in the city of Amarillo on November 11, 1918. It is expected that the largest crowd since the Texas Aggie game will flock to the new stadium of the Matador field the old contest between the old high schools. The first kick-off will be at 3 o'clock. A strong game is expected of the Bulldogs tomorrow as Allen has in the field three of the fastest players in the conference in Cross, Magill and Schroeder and all of these men are captains and are very shifty.

Westerners have had some rest as their last game was with the Wichita Falls Coyotes on October 23. But not a minute rest has been given the lads and nearly every practice has worked far into the night.

TAYLOR MEETS TOUGH FOE IN MUSTANG TILT

REVERSAL OF FORM BY BOTH CLUBS BRINGS FIGHT PROSPECTS

DALLAS, Nov. 10.—After Baylor's near win over Texas and S. M. U.'s unexpected loss to the Aggies, sport fans are predicting a real battle when Baylor tangles with S. M. U. at Owenby Stadium in Dallas Saturday.

Two weeks ago it looked as if the Mustangs would swamp the Bears, but since the reversal of form shown by both clubs last week the talk is different. The Bears came up and the Mustangs went down, worn out after having flashed so beautifully against both Missouri and Texas.

MATADORS ARE DRILLED HARD FOR A. C. C. TILT

DEFENSIVE TO BLOCK WILDCAT DRIVE IS GREATLY STRESSED

The Matadors will take their last workout today before meeting with the highly inspired Wildcats, of A. C. C., on the home-coming event of the Christian institution during the national Armistice holiday at Abilene tomorrow afternoon. Ewing Freeland throughout the week has warned his Bullfighters of the Wildcat offense and most of the week's work has been devoted to setting the defense for the smooth working Purple and White backfield, which has trampled every T. I. A. A. conference team, with the lone exception of the West Texas Buffaloes, of Canyon.

Jennings Not Present
The feat that will be sent in for the beginning of the fracas Friday afternoon for the Texas Tech possibly be the same that was used throughout the game with the Hill Billies, of Daniel Baker, last week. However, Leslie "Al" Jennings, formidable wingman of Freeland's ranks, will not be swinging in the play with the Cats, as he is in Kansas City attending the American Royal Livestock Show, representing the college as a member of its stock judging team. To replace the services of Jennings at end, "Preacher" Calloway, who has played from the pivot position on out to the wing for Freeland, will be placed at the left side of "Tuffy" Vermillion, husky tackle. "Chubby" DeWitt, who was forced to remain out of the racket with the Billies, is back with the Torador line and charging with plenty of drive. Grady Higginbotham's selection for the backfield tomorrow appears to be: Floyd Woodriddle, quarter; Nicholas, full; Brothers and Hodges halves, which was the same four that carried on the work for the Picadors very successfully last week. It is possible that Higginbotham will throw in Levi Walker, dashing halfback, in the latter part of the contest to gain renewed speed in the offense; the reserve list will consist of Waller, Bayhurst, Sears and Taylor. Three of the Matador backfieldmen, J. B. Hamilton, Pickett and Hardy, will perhaps be eligible for the game, however, as yet they are ineligible.

Line Reserves
Coach Freeland's line reserves are: Castleberry, Barber, Tolson, Fikes, McWilliams and Harris. The services of Westerfelt, one of Freeland's strongest reserve linemen, will be greatly missed. Westerfelt was injured in the Hill Billie game and will no doubt be out for the remainder of the season.

The probable line-up of the Wildcat-Matador game will be:

PORKERS MEET OKLAHOMA AGS IN HARD FIGHT

HOME-COMING DAY TO BRING RECORD CROWD OFFICIALS ASSERT

PAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Nov. 10.—With the eyes of sport fans in this state turned upon the University of Arkansas, preparations are going forward to handle the largest crowd to ever witness a game on Razorback field here Saturday when the porkers will clash with the Oklahoma Aggies in the former's annual homecoming day contest.

Coach Schmidt and his squad of 22 grid warriors returned to Fayetteville Monday from their victorious invasion of Texas where they ended the two-year reign of the Texas Christian university Horned Frogs over Arkansas.

Now Hold Second Place
The Razorback 10-3 aerial victory over the Frogs entrenched the Porkers in second place in the Southwestern conference standing with the championship remaining as an outside possibility. Although Arkansas has completed her conference schedule with a record of three victories and one loss for a percentage of .750, it is possible for the porkers to come out on top or tie for the title.

Monday the Razorbacks began a week of intensive drill in preparation for the invasion of the Oklahoma Aggies. Providing no further accidents occur in training, for the first time this season Coach Schmidt will have the full strength of his team at his disposal. Injuries, illness, ineligibility having at one time or other prevented the mastering of all the Arkansas gridsters. In last Saturday's game, which resulted nevertheless in victory, the Arkansans entered the contest minus the services of a regular halfback and a regular tackle.

Aggies Powerful
Reports from Stillwater, where the Maubatch eleven has been enjoying a week of rest in preparation for the Arkansas tilt, are that the Aggies are more powerful than they were last year when they won the Missouri valley conference title.

Veterans occupy ten of the starting positions, and a wealth of reserve material is said to be available. Last year the porkers invaded the Aggies stronghold with odds against them, but gave the valley champions their worst lacing of the season by a score of 24 to 2. The previous year, when the Aggies were the guests of an Arkansas home coming, the porkers won their fourth victory in nine starts against the Sooner farmers, 9 to 7.

One Home Coming Defeat
In eight or more years of homecoming day celebrations at Arkansas university, only one defeat has been marked against Arkansas. That one came last fall when the Texas Christian university Horned Frogs broke the tradition to win 10 to 7. Arkansas' revenge for that blot on its 'scutcheon was avenged last week. The coming week will witness another powerful cardinal and white combination to begin anew the tradition.

A victory over the Aggies will establish the 1927 edition of the Razorbacks as one of the greatest eleven in the southwest, in the opinion of fans here. Victories over Louisiana state university, Baylor university and Texas Christian university have more than erased the memory of the season's single backset at the hands of the Texas Aggies.

Reservations Pour In
Reservations are pouring in at athletic headquarters here, it was announced today by Prof. E. N. Wilson, faculty manager of athletics. Railroads have granted special rates for the occasion, while all highways leading here are ready to accommodate the hundreds of old grads and friends of the university who are expected to travel by automobile. A mammoth parade, featured by two score floats, will precede the game.

District Court's Decision In Row Is Upheld Today
(By Associated Press)
PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 10.—The United States circuit court of appeals today upheld the federal district court in the opinion that the question of the existence of senate committees, is a matter for the United States senate to decide and not the courts.

The decision was in the case of the senate special committee, of which Senator Reed of Missouri was chairman. This committee was appointed by the senate to investigate primary campaign expenses in various states. The committee tried to obtain ballot boxes in Delaware county containing the vote cast at the last senatorial election in which William S. Vare, republican, defeated on the face of the returns, William B. Wilson, democrat. Wilson contested the election.

FROGS BATTLE CENTENARY IN FRIDAY'S GAME

CONFERENCE PRESTIGE INVOLVED IN CLASH AT SHREVEPORT

FORT WORTH, Nov. 10.—The T. C. U. Horned Frogs will declare war anew Friday when they meet the Centenary College Gentlemen in an Armistice Day contest at Shreveport. Their loss Saturday to Arkansas and subsequent elimination from a chance to finish high in the Southwest Conference race has fired the Purple to take out vengeance on their two remaining opponents, Centenary and S. M. U.

The Christians will take their last hard workout today in preparation for the game in Shreveport. Practically the entire squad will make the trip and discounting any possible injuries in practice, the Frogs should be in fine condition for their battle with the Gents. Except for bruises, the Purple came out of the tussle with Arkansas unhurt physically.

Coach Matty Bell's men will have the prestige of the Southwest Conference resting on their shoulders when they meet Centenary. The Gents have already downed three Southwest eleven, including the prancing Mustangs of S. M. U. and it is up to the Frogs to get revenge for the embarrassment caused by the outsider. However, should the Gentlemen make another victim of the Frogs it is likely that their chances of becoming a member of the Southwest circuit will become much stronger. Centenary has applied several times but has been steadily refused admission.

The Frogs were to leave here Thursday morning arriving in Shreveport Thursday afternoon for a light workout.

250 Tickets Sold For Special Train To Wildcat Lair, And Officials See Biggest Excursion Ever To Leave Here

It looks as if the Avalanche-Journal Matador special train for the Armistice day game with A. C. C. Wildcats will be the biggest special excursion to leave Lubbock for a gridiron classic. E. A. Tusha, traveling freight and passenger agent of the Santa Fe, who will have personal charge of the train, reports that more than 250 tickets for the trip have been sold already. "There will be many last minute fans and it looks like a train of 400 now," Mr. Tusha said this morning.

Many A. C. C. Exes to Go
Together with the fans the boys and girls pep squads will be on the special train and Ewing Y. Freeland and his three teams. Too many of the Abilene Christian college ex-students will take the excursion trip for the Wildcats annual homecoming event. There are many of the exes in this section and since the Morrisismen have chosen the Matadors for their homecoming conflict hundreds of them will gather in Abilene for the occasion.

Among the personnel of the Avalanche-Journal Matador special will be E. A. Tusha of the San Fe company, who has faithfully worked in the interest of every special train that has carried the Matadors fans to foreign fields of play; Prof. J. W. Michie, Prof. Cecil Horne, Mrs. R. M. Chittwood, Miss Ivo Wilson of the college, and possibly Dr. Paul W. Horn, president of the Tech, will be with the fans, however, he has not definitely decided on the matter. D. D. Roderick, general manager of the Avalanche-Journal, and Chas. A. Guy, managing editor of the local publications, will also be numbered among the four hundred fans on the Abilene trip.

Four and Half Hour Run
The schedule for the trip calls for a 4 1/2 hour run to Abilene. The special will leave Lubbock at 7:30 in the morning and arrive in Abilene at noon. The train will leave at 7 o'clock after the game and arrive in Lubbock 11:30 Friday evening. This is the third special train run out of Lubbock carrying Matadors to Abilene games.

Waners Sign With Pirates For 1928

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 10.—The baseball act of Waner and Waner is all set for the 1928 season. Paul and Lloyd Waner, sensational Pirate outfielders, now doing a turn in vaudeville, signed contracts for next year after a conference with Owner Barney Dreyfuss yesterday. Advances over last year's contract were given both players, but neither divulged the terms of the new documents nor the salary boosts and Dreyfuss retained his usual silence on such matters.

Ruth And Gehrig To Remain With Yanks

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Nov. 10.—George Herman Ruth and Lou Gehrig, slugging twins of the New York Yankees, will not be separated next year, Miller Huggins, manager of the world champions declared here yesterday. Huggins said that he would keep both his home run hitters until either one or the other was let go to strengthen, not weaken his club.

Dundee, Manager And Donald Are Banned By Board

(By Associated Press)
LOS ANGELES, Nov. 10.—The final bits of wreckage of the recent Joe Dundee-Ace Hudkins welterweight title fight fiasco here were swept up and definitely stowed away today after Seth W. P. Strelinger, local member of the state athletic commission announced his findings in the affair. Strelinger's decision included: Suspension indefinitely of Dundee and the welterweight champion's manager, Max Waxman. Dundee's $5,000 appearance money was declared forfeited to the commission. The license of Dick Donald, promoter of the fight which failed to take place last Thursday night when the title holder did not appear was automatically revoked with the cancellation of his lease on Wrigley field. The commissioner's action definitely snuffed out the possibility of staging a Dundee-Hudkins fight here November 21 as had been agreed upon previously at a conference of Strelinger with Dundee, Waxman and Donald.

SCHULER SEES BIG CHANGE IN PLAINS CROPS

PLANTATION IDEA TO SPREAD OVER AREA IN FEW YEARS

(MORE ABOUT SCHULER ON PAGE ONE)

Visualizing a new and greater era of prosperity for the American farmer, seeing South Plains cotton production in the not-far-distant future placed upon the large plantation and highly centralized method and averring that price is good, fair and in the best interests of the American planter, Loring A. Schuler, editor of the Country Gentleman and a nationally known agricultural authority is here with 28 other well known men today.

Mr. Schuler and his associates, many of them prominent figures in the U. S. Department of Agriculture and faculty members of some of the nation's leading agricultural institutions, are here as a part of a state-wide visit, during which they are viewing first hand the agricultural possibilities of Texas.

View Mechanical Pickers
Particularly interested in the South Plains as a great cotton producing section, and investigating mechanical cotton gathering methods, the men, under the tutelage of local authorities are seeing for themselves that the South Plains really is a potential agricultural empire.

Mr. Schuler, who resides in Philadelphia and who has been editor of the Country Gentleman for the past four years, is frank in his admiration for Texas as a whole and the South Plains as far as he has seen it. He has been an editorial executive for the Curtis Publishing company for more than 15 years and is making his first visit to West Texas.

"Where today the farmer is operating as an individual unit in a large machine, plantations of 10,000 and 15,000 acres will be numerous on the South Plains and will be under a central and highly efficient management," Mr. Schuler says. "Tracts of from 100 to 240 acres will be placed in the care of individuals who will be responsible for the production on them, but machinery for plowing and gathering will be operated under central management and will be purchased for the plantations as a whole."

Cotton is Money Crop
Since cotton is undeniably the money crop on the South Plains, Mr. Schuler advises the farmer to accept it as such, raising enough other crops for feed-stuffs and rotation purposes. He advocates more poultry and better care in the raising of fowls so that "high priced eggs will not have to be shipped to West Texas from California." He said he has found only one fault in Texas, that being "Texas doesn't advertise itself enough."

Mr. Schuler explained his position of favoring 20 and 25 cent cotton because of the threat that higher priced cotton may bring India, Africa, South and Central American countries into the cotton producing industry. Should these countries start raising cotton on a large scale the supply might exceed the demand, causing a low price for the staple, he states. "America should guard her cotton monopoly and should profit by Great Britain's mistake in losing control of rubber raising," Mr. Schuler warns.

SCHULER PARTY

I believe that we watched a proceeding here this morning (mechanical cotton picking) which will be read and re-read by our children and their children and that it ranks in importance with McCormick's producing first binder."

Schuler Speaks, Too.
Mr. Schuler was then called upon and he spoke briefly. "Cotton production for West Texas is assured in the future," Mr. Schuler said. "I am vastly interested in what I have seen here." He also expressed thanks for the welcome the party had received here. Visitors Are Pleased. Expressing their surprise in Texas and particularly this section of the state, the distinguished visitors arrived in Lubbock late yesterday afternoon. They left Dallas Monday night and upon arrival in Stamford were taken in tow by Homer D. Wade, manager of the West Texas chamber of commerce. They spent Tuesday night at the Spur ranch headquarters and Wednesday morning had a cowboy breakfast, saw a round-up and rodeo and left for Crosbyton, Wednesday noon found them guests of the Crosbyton chamber of commerce at a luncheon, presided over by W. M. Romaine. Following the luncheon an informal program, featured by a short talk by Mr. Schuler, was featured.

Officials of the Lubbock chamber of commerce accompanied the men to Lubbock and last night they were the guests of the Board of City Development at a banquet at Hotel Lubbock. After the banquet, which was presided over by R. C. D. President Spencer A. Wells, the meeting was turned into an informal discussion of agricultural conditions, pertaining particularly to cotton growing, gathering and marketing on the South Plains.

A number of Lubbock men, versed in different subjects concerning the cotton industry, were on hand to furnish information to the visiting men who questioned their hosts at length. The informal session lasted until after 11 o'clock.

SUPER SERVICE STATION ADDS NEW FEATURES

ANOTHER UNIT TO OPEN FRIDAY OFFERING ALL NEW EQUIPMENT

Answering the demand for a centralized station for motorists needs, a new unit of the Super Service Station will be opened tomorrow at Broadway and Avenue M, giving the city of Lubbock one of the most complete motor service stations on the South Plains. Formal opening will be observed Friday and Saturday at the new unit, a tour of the new plant and various forms of entertainment featuring each day. In opening the new unit of the station, D. H. Mansell, manager, is furnishing the public with thorough motor service, six separate and complete departments comprising the two units of the plant. The original station located across the street west, will be continued. The double station will be divided up into a tire-sales and repair department, a motor service department, battery service department, oil and gas sales department, car laundry department and motor sales and equipment department. A new automobile agency, the Packard, will be added to Lubbock's industries with the opening of the new plant. Complete servicing equipment on all cars will be maintained by the station.

Court Is Halted As Officers Fail To Unlock Prison

A mix-up in the combination of a cell in the county jail locked the wheels of justice in the 99th district court yesterday afternoon and as a result one man scheduled for trial still remains behind the bars. Officers, answering the call from the court, were attempting to bring a defendant of a case from the cell when the lock jammed. Efforts to unlock the cell proved futile and the prisoner remained, the court dismissing the jury for the afternoon. Deputy sheriff Vernice Ford, returning from an out-of-town trip last night, had but little difficulty in unlocking the cell, the other officers being mixed up on the combination.

Inability to obtain a witness for the case this morning caused dismissal of the court for the week.

That Girl on Broadway says you can't keep a good man down—

The office of city manager is vacant and The Plainsman, while he is ignorant of the individuals involved, has it upon good authority that more than 20 applications have been made to the commission by various men seeking the place.

The Plainsman has never been able to understand why a man will apply for and expect to hold a city office to which he is entirely unqualified when he wouldn't expect to do anything of the kind in private business.

Look at the matter sanely for a moment. Suppose the president of any one of Lubbock's three banks died. Would there immediately be a better-qualified man to take his place?

As The Plainsman sees it the city's business should—and, thank Heaven in this case probably will—receive the same consideration as that of a private concern.

We hear a lot of "hurrah" and "prophets" about preference being given by ruling heads to applicants who are already citizens of Lubbock. All well and good.

When we lose interest in our work, we are losing a vital part of our beings. For our work is what we are.

With Our West BY JAMES L. DOW Contemporaries

"Does prohibition prohibit?" is a question that has been asked, and answered in differing ways, so many times that the attention of the reading public must be attracted in an unusual way if an opinion on the question gets a reading.

There are those who do not want prohibition to succeed, for they are hopeful that they may get booze back into general use in the United States, and there are those who believe in it.

WINTER WHEAT IS EXCELLENT REPORT SHOWS

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. Nov. 10.—Winter wheat in the heavy producing sections of Texas and Oklahoma is in excellent condition, according to a report of the car service division, American Railway Association, reviewing general business and crop conditions in the Southwest during the last half of October.

Because of heavy yields in Canada and the Northwest, exports of wheat through Texas ports have been considerably reduced and bookings are light, not so abundant as in the past.

All Texas ports have exported less wheat since July 1, 1927, as compared with the same period for 1926, the report shows. At Galveston, 11,678,756 bu. were exported in July, August, September and October of this year against 30,187,325 bu. during the same period in 1926.

Approximately 800,000 bu. of corn have been booked for export through Galveston during November and because of a substantial surplus of this crop in Oklahoma and Texas this season "still further exports are anticipated," the report continues.

Harvesting of grain in the northern sections of the Southwest is under way, and shipments are moving freely from other sections. Indications point to a good export demand.

Old Well Where Lincoln Drank Is Still Being Used

(By Associated Press) CHAMPAIGN, Ill. Nov. 10.—Memories of Abraham Lincoln slaking his thirst at a Champaign well one hot day in 1860 are treasured by G. W. Colvin. The well is still in operation.

Lincoln, arriving in Champaign during his campaign for the presidency, stopped at what was then known as the Houston Hotel. Colvin says he was a "bottle tike, high on three feet and a half," when he saw Lincoln come striding out of the hotel to the rear of the plot of ground where the well was located.

"He was a slim kind of a country Jake, full of fun and always ready with a sharp answer," Lincoln continued, with his trousers tucked into the tall boots he wore. The water was used for both humans and cattle, a pail and two wooden buckets being used to draw it up. Colvin says he piped up to Lincoln: "The water's in the coveyard, but it is good," and the answer came back: "I don't care. I eat cows."

The hotel has been converted into a house and moved to another site, but the two rooms where Lincoln lodged have been kept inviolate.

CONTEST WILL DECIDE CHAMP CORN HUSKERS

NEW FALL SPORT TO BE BITTERLY CONTESTED IN MINNESOTA

(By Associated Press)
 WINNEBAGO, Minn., Nov. 10.—The championship of agriculture's new fall sport—corn husking—will be settled here November 15 among the best huskers of eight states.

The staccato rattle of corn against the hangboards of corn wagons will be heard in a Fairmount county field with a dozen farmers, each the pride of his respective community, vying to see which can husk the most corn in the hour and twenty minutes allotted for the contest.

Corn husking, long a part of the farmer's routine drudgery, has been made a sport, and the interest in it rivals that shown at a golf tournament.

Fred Stanek of Fort Dodge, Iowa, won the tournament last year, husking at the rate of 217 bushels an hour in spite of bitter cold weather and a hard wind.

The tournament contenders are selected in state contests sponsored by farm papers. In this year's competition will be contestants from Iowa, Kansas, Minnesota, Illinois, Missouri, Indiana, Nebraska and South Dakota. To the winner goes a prize of $100, but there is a great lot of glory as well—in wearing the crown of champion corn husker.

The field of corn selected for the huskers to perform in is said to be unusually good with a probable yield of from 60 to 70 bushels and in a condition that should not handicap huskers from southern and eastern parts of the corn belt, where the stalks are taller and the ears larger.

It is planned to stage a national hog calling contest at the same time, to which winners of local contests during the year will be invited.

Public Hall Pays Cleveland Profit Past Four Years

(By Associated Press)
 CLEVELAND, Ohio, Nov. 10.—When Cleveland built a $6,500,000 public hall in 1923, many labeled it a gross white elephant.

But since that time the great structure of marble and granite, erected primarily as a monument to civic effort, has returned profits of approximately $500,000.

More than $150,000 has been turned back into the city's general fund, and out of the profits improvements costing $250,000 have been made to the building.

The last republican national convention was held in the hall and Cleveland is hot after the next one.

The secret of the success of the auditorium, say its officials, is that politics has been absolutely divorced from its management. Lincoln C. Dickey, who is in charge of the structure from its financing and will continue to manage it as long as he "delivers the goods."

While the hall has attracted great conventions to Cleveland, it has become also a focal point of civic interest. Any individual or organization may rent the hall for gross receipts from a theatrical performance was marked up. During a three weeks' showing $401,000 was taken in.

The white elephant has become a goose who lays golden eggs, Clevelanders say.

PROSPERITY SEEN

TURKEY, Tex., Nov. 10 (AP)—A new era of prosperity here is seen in increased building permits. The reservoir for the city waterworks also has been completed, and the work of laying pipelines will begin soon, it was announced.
