Strong Sentiment Develops For Farm Acreage Control

Payments To Be Made On Basis Of Tilled Total

House Committee In General Accord Over Legislation; To Continue Soil Plans

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—Strong sentiment developed in the house agriculture committee today for controlling the acreage a farmer plants, but leaving him free to raise and market as much as he can on this limited acreage.

Chairman Jones (D-Tex.) reported the committee "generally understood" benefit payments to farmers under new legislation asked by President Roosevelt would be made on a basis of tilled acreage.

To Continue Soil Program

Other features on which he said there was a general accord included continuation of the present soil conservation program, under which benefits are paid producers complying with prescribed planting practices, and establishment of the "ever-normal" granary for those crops to which it is most adaptable.

The scheme to place added emphasis on controlling acreage in cultivation was advanced by some committee members as an effective means of avoiding controversial proposals for marketing quotas and accompanying penalties for non-compliance.

Would Fix Acreage

Representative Fulmer (D-SC), head of a subcommittee writing legislation for cotton, told reporters on an acreage basis farmers would be permitted to grow and sell all they could produce, without restriction, on a fixed amount of the total tillable acreage.

He recommended cotton farmers abiding by the acreage limitations be given soil conservation benefits, a subsidy of three cents a pound on their product, and perhaps benefits to be paid from proceeds of a small tax on the processing or manufacture of cotton.

"The accumulation of benefits

Big Transport Is Landed On One Wheel

NEWARK, N. J., Oct. 29. (AP)—American Airlines transport, with damaged landing gear, circled Newark airport for an hour and a half this afternoon while eight men and five women on board wondered whether they would land safely.

While airport attendants, police, firemen and ambulance crews waited anxiously on the ground, Pilot B. C. (Dinty) Moore, of Chicago, and his co-pilot, Kenneth Case, of Marshfield, Mo., tried desperately to lower a jammed landing wheel.

It was no use, and so Moore, a veteran of twelve years of flying, brought the ship down in a perfect one-wheel landing, rolled across the field for 600 feet without damage to plane, crew or passengers, and modestly shrugged his shoulders.

Moore and Case became aware of trouble when they shot in on schedule and their wheels touched the ground. The plane bumped heavily and Moore sent it into the air swiftly.

Lewis Adds New Wood To Labor Dispute's Fire

Another CIO Raid On AFOL's Membership Is Launched In Midst Of Peace Efforts

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—John L. Lewis announced another C.I.O. raid upon the membership of the A. F. of L. today, when peace negotiations between the rival labor organizations already were near collapse.

The chairman of the Committee for Industrial Organization called a "national unity conference" of all unions in the furniture, bedding and allied trades "for the purpose of uniting all furniture workers into a single industrial union affiliated with the C.I.O."

Green Has Comment

William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, immediately commented:

"This move can only be interpreted by us as another war-like gesture by the C.I.O. It is bound to have a disturbing effect upon the pending peace negotiations. It seems to us indicative of the insincerity of the C.I.O. position."

Conference In Recess

Lewis' statement was issued during a particularly tense phase of the peace negotiations. A peace conference was in recess after both sides had dejected proposals of the other.

It was noted, however, Green made no mention of breaking off the discussions. Just prior to Lewis' statement, both C.I.O. and federation officials had said emphatically their delegations would be present when the conference resumed next Thursday.

Called For Nov. 27

The C.I.O. leader's call for a meeting here Nov. 27 was addressed "to all local industrial unions of the C.I.O. in the furniture industry; to the upholsterers, furniture, carpet, linoleum and awning workers itnernational union, and A. F. of L.

Sizzling Snakes Have Edged Out Sizzling Steaks So To Speak In Old San Antonio

By WILLIAM E. KEYS
Associated Press Staff Writer

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 29—Sizzling snakes have replaced sizzling steaks, so to speak, in the city's reptile garden.

As a boon to attendance in a country replete with rattlesnakes, officials decided to offer free reptile steak. To start the thing off they "bribed" two youths to volunteer as snake eaters on a forthcoming Sunday but widespread publicity brought hundreds of visitors who gobbled the delicacy before the "prop" eaters got a mouthful.

Now it's a Sunday institution and boys and men scour the countryside for more snakes. The garden pays 25 cents a pound for them.

You simply pick your snake—fat or slim—an attendant beheads it and skins it, chopes it into slices and tosses them into the frying pan—and, presto!, a rattlesnake sandwich with mayonnaise or mustard.

"How awful," say the less daring ones, but Mrs. Ellen S. Quillin, director of the museum of which the snake house is a part, points to the depleted supply of turtles on the Galapagos islands.

It seems ancient mariners, desiring fresh meat, almost cleaned out the turtle population. The shelled creatures also

Nearly 300 Are Here For State BSU Session

Representatives Of 28 Colleges Are In Attendance; Every Area Of State; Closes On Sunday

LATE tabulations Friday night showed 283 young persons had registered for the Texas Baptist Student union convention which opened Friday morning and will close Sunday noon. Many other students are expected to arrive early today, according to officials of the organization.

Delegations representing 28 colleges and universities are expected from every section of the state.

Opening Service Last Night

Theme of the entire program will be "Today and Tomorrow With Christ." The opening service was held at the First Baptist church here last night with more than 800 persons in attendance.

First session today will be at the College Avenue Baptist church at 7:30 o'clock this morning. After a 30-minute prayer service there, representatives of the Texas Technological college student council will conduct the visitors on a tour of the campus and the buildings.

Meeting At 9 A. M.

They will return to the First Baptist church for a meeting at 9 o'clock. Music will be under direction of Carlyle Bennett, director of music, Broadway Baptist church at Fort Worth. The devotional program on "The Meaning of Loyalty will be directed by Dr. Baker James Cauthen, pastor of the Polytechnic Baptist church at Fort Worth. After a roll call of Baptist Student Uuion delegations, informal reports will be given by groups from each campus represented.

A play, "The Perfect Plan," will be presented at 9:50 o'clock by the Baylor University BSU under Miss Julia Saccas. Eleven conference leaders will conduct group meetings at the morning session dealing with "BSU Technique." Special music will be by a boys' quartet from Wayland college at Plainview.

'Inner Mongolian Nation' Set Up By Conquerors; Puppet Prince Designated As Head

(By The Associated Press)

PEIPING, Oct. 29.—The foundation of an "inner Mongolian nation," divorced from China and under the protection of the Japanese army, was proclaimed today at Kweisui, hitherto capital of Suiyuan province, but henceforth capital of the new "nation."

The birth of the new state was announced at the conclusion of a three-day session by a "national assembly" of 500 inner Mongol delegates gathered under direc of the Japanese conquerors. delegates came from Chir.a's inner Mongolian provinces, Suiy and Chahar, already under c plete Japanese military control.

Other Provinces Not Include

Warning Issued By Jap Leader

(By The Associated Press)

SHANGHAI, Oct. 30, (Saturday)—The Japanese navy today gave China's "lost battalion" in Chapei until tomorrow to surrender and warned American and British defense units and residents of nearby sections in the International settlement to take precautions.

Unless the Chinese give up their warehouse stronghold just across Soochow creek from the American defense positions, the Japanese said they would blast them out.

Japanese Patience Exhausted

Rear Admiral Tadoa Honda, Japanese naval attache, officially declared Japanese patience was exhausted with the "more or less heroic stand" of the "do-or-die" unit of the crack 88th division.

He warned all residents living in the International settlement near the sector and the American and British defense units in close proximity to take precautions to avert possible casualties and damage.

Rear Admiral Honda did not disclose exactly when the Japanese planned to take action against the battalion if it would nt surrender but inferred the deadline would be after midnight tonight so noncombatants might move out of the danger zone.

Final Approval Of REA Project Expected Soon

Final approval of an initial allotment of $100,000 for a $188,000 rural electrification project in Lubbock county is expected within a day or so, the Associated Press from Washington said Friday, quoting aides of Rep. George Mahon of Texas.

Lloyd Croslin, secretary to the congressman, said the application had been approved by all necessary divisions of the rural electrification administration and lacked only the signature of the administrator.

Contracts Are Signed

Croslin said 658 persons had signed contracts for domestic service on the 201 miles of power lines to be constructed. Power will be furnished by Lubbock public utilities, he said.

Hubert L. Allen, general manager of Texas-New Mexico utilities here, said he had been informed by Harry N. Roberts, rural electrification engineer, approximately 100 of the proposed 201 miles would be constructed under present plans and that the remaining construction would come later.

Allen cited the first sector would require sub-stations, involving disproportionate costs as compared with costs of the second 100-mile sector. The sub-stations would be utilized in serving the second sector when it is completed.

Filed By Five Counties

A half million dollar rural electrification program had been drafted as a result of being sponsored in the main by vocational agriculture teachers of the section. Applications for aid from the REA had been filed by mid-July by five counties, Lubbock, Lamb, Terry, Lynn, and Garza.

At that time, it was estimated there would be 482 miles of electric high line built, serving 1,535 farms and providing power for 169 irrigation wells for watering 24,419 acres.

Lubbock's application was filed as the South Plains Electric Coop-

Bandit Changes His Confession

After thorough investigation and "checking and double-checking," officers here late Friday announced that the Hanna-Pope and Co. and the first Nineteenth Street Pharmacy burglaries remained unsolved and that B. H. Huddleston, more commonly known as the "Singing Bandit," did not perpetrate the crimes as he had confessed.

The noted outlaw was returned here Wednesday secretly and has been questioned since. He will be returned to Waxahachie today, said Sheriff Tom Abel. Abel, Grady Harrist, deputy sheriff, and Bill Mabray, police identifications officer, transferred Huddleston here late Wednesday and the same three will leave here early today to meet Waxahachie officers who will take Huddleston into custody and return him to the jail from which he escaped twice.

Held In Secrecy Here

When here, he was kept in secrecy to avoid outside interference.

"We have checked Huddleston's every move since he broke jail from Waxahachie and have found that he could not be implicated in the Hanna-Pope burglary here when several hundred dollars in cash and jewels were taken," Sheriff Abel said.

"The Hanna-Pope job was pulled Sept. 18 or 19 and we have checked and found that Huddleston was not here either of those night," he said. "On the night of September 18 Huddleston gambled with an-

Mischief To Hold Sway Tonight

By SYLVIA SMITH

ABNORMAL, oafish, eerie, aidolonistic, necromantic....

It's a new way to spell Oct. 31!

And the spelling is the least of the significance. They'll celebrate Halloween tonight!

Originally, the eve of the festival of All Saints, the occasion long was consecrated in England and America to harmless fireside revelries.

But, alas and alack! Times change.

Tonight there will be a polychromatic bunch of sprites, ghosts, devils, witches, and whatever else the imaginative can contrive in makeup. There will be long noses, headless horsemen, broomsticks, leering pumpkins, and startled dogs.

And there will be missing garbbage cans, transported gates, caterwauling kids, scared old maids, and apoplectic freeholders.

What makes it so peculiar is that All Saints' day was a holy time on calendars of the Greek, Roman, Anglican, and Episcopal churches. Chrysostom said it was celebrated by eastern churches as early as the fourth century; the western church began its observance in the 17th century.

In the Anglican church, All Saints' day remains in the ritual but, in most other reformed churches, it has fallen into disuse.

From All Hallow's day, the term gradually became All-hollowe'en, hence Hallowe'en, then Halloween.

All that, naturally, assumes no importance to the urchins with a penchant for ruffling the temper of those property owners who long since have

FDR Has Hopes Of Raising Income And Buying Power Of Substandard One-Third

(By The Associated Press)

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Oct. 29.—President Roosevelt, starting a series of conferences on budget balancing today, placed great emphasis on his hopes for increasing the income and purchasing power of a third of the population he said were living substandard.

He said the wages and hours and surplus crop control measures, principal items of business of the special session of congress meeting November 15, were steps planned to lift purchasing power.

Had Omitted Reference

At another point, he said newspaper stories speculating on possible revision of the capital gains and undistributed surpluses taxes had omitted references to that portion of the population with little to live on.

Particularly, the president added, the speculation omitted mention of increasing the purchasing power of 30 to 40 million persons who lack a decent standard of living now.

Confers With Officials

The president talked to newsmen a short time before beginning an evening conference with Secretary Morgenthau and Under-Secretary Magill of the treasury on the budget.

They studied ways and means of making the treasury's books balance and Mr. Roosevelt, answering a question, said beforehand taxes would be among 50 subjects that probably would be discussed.

Daniel W. Bell, the budget director, will come here Monday for another of the budget conferences.

Calls For Trades Survey

Before his meeting with treasury officials, the president called on Aubrey Williams, youth administrator.

"People kept reminding me that I was born just when the war stopped," McMichael said, "so I decided to join the army and see what soldier life was like."

Graves Is Named To Justiceship

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Oct. 29 — Harry N Graves of Georgetown, veteran lawyer and resigned member of the legislature, today became an associate justice of the court of criminal appeals.

Long an outstanding figure in the house of representatives, Graves was appointed by Governor James V. Allred to the place of O. S. Lattimore, who died Wednesday and was buried yesterday.

Is Administered Oath

Shortly after the appointment was announced, Graves, who served in the house nine years and in this legislature had been chairman of the appropriations committee, was administered the oath of office by Judge Morrow.

Some question has been raised, however, as to whether Graves was eligible for the honor. The constitution says no senator or representative shall, during the term for which he is elected, be eligible to any civil office of profit "which shall have been created, or the emoluments of which may have been increased during such term."

The general session of the legislature increased the salaries of judges of the criminal appeals and supreme court judges from $6,500 to $8,000.

In announcing the appointment, the governor said precedents justified it fully, citing the case of Jesse James of Cameron, a representative who resigned last summer to become chief clerk in the treasury department. Graves also resigned before his appointment.

It is understood on good authority the attorney general's department

Gonzales' Memorial Building To Be Dedicated Amid Pomp

GONZALES, Oct. 29. (AP) — Gonzales' $68,000 memorial building, commemorating Texans who started a revolutionary movement here 100 years ago, will be dedicated tomorrow, with Gov. James V. Allred delivering the address.

Claude Teer, chairman of the state board of control, will present the structure to the public. Coke Stevenson, former speaker of the Texas house of representatives, will make the acceptance speech. L. L. Kemp will review Gonzales' part in Texas history. "The Women in the Texas Revolution" will be the subject of an address by Mrs. Maude W. Pensions Facing Cut Of Fifteen Per Cent Soon

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Oct. 29—The average Texas old age pension grant likely will have to be cut around 15 per cent because of the legislature's failure to provide additional revenue, Claude D. Teer, chairman of the board of control, said today.

He pointed out the estimate was optimistic because he was not considering the possibility the board would have to start repaying a $1,650,000 loan to a Dallas bank in the immediate future.

Confers With Officials

John F. Wallace, member of the board, conferred today at Dallas with officials of the bank. He will disclose results of that conference at a board meeting Monday, at which time an effort will be made to formulate a policy for November.

The state's 50 per cent of pension grants and administrative expense amounted to approximately $827,000 this month. The average monthly revenue is around $720,000. Teer said expenses must be trimmed to a point within the revenues, and he favored making the cut in the checks to be mailed November 15 instead of waiting until the colder winters months.

Average Only $13.71

The average payment this month was only $13.71. The constitution allows grants up to $30 and many persons have contended the average should be $16 to $18.

Representatives of the federal social security organization will attend Monday's conference. Teer said they were willing to cooperate in every possible way but under the law could not suppdy more than 50 per cent of the funds.

Stock Market Cuts Up On Eventful Day

NEW YORK, Oct. 29. (AP)—The stock market celebrated the eighth anniversary of the 1929 crash today with a determined rally to higher prices, a fair-sized setback from the day's upper levels and a mild recovery near the close.

The final results were gains of from $1 to $3 or more a share for the majority of stocks. Steel shares headed the upward movement.

At the finish, U. S. Steel, which had been as high as $65.75, stood at $64, a gain for the day of $1.87. Chrysler, which sold during the morning at $77.50, ended at $75.25, up $1.75. Others to gain included Allied Chemical, at $165, up $4. J. I. Case, $105, up $3, duPont, $126, up $3.50, Westinghouse $105.75, up $2.75, Phillip Morris, $87.50, up $3.50, Bethlehem Steel, $54.87, up $3.87, Coca Cola, $117, up $2.50 and Santa Fe, $42, up $1.

Declaration of a $3 dividend on the common stock by Chrysler corp. came after the close of the market. It was about in line with expectations.

Tech Graduate, Back From Two Post-War Years In China, Sees A More Closely-United Nation If Chinese Can Stand Off Japanese

BY OPAL McMAHON
Avalanche Staff Writer

TRAINS on which scowling Japanese soldiers invaded the privacy of his compartment, boats, and automobiles transported Ogden King on a relay round-the-world trip which ended in Lubbock this week, three and one-half years after he left here.

On his leisurely trip he gained two years' experience as professor of farm management at the University of Nanking at Nanking, China, and a year's training at Cornell university, where he was awarded a doctor of philosophy degree.

Dr. King is a graduate of Texas Technological college and a son of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. King of 2119-B Seventh street.

On their recent trip from New York, Dr. and Mrs. King enjoyed the absence of military operations such as they often had encountered in Europe and Asia. The trip was their first across the country since their return from China.

A several-hour wait before Japanese soldiers who examined their camera and baggage, a night trip through Manchoukuo, and the common sight of thousands of Chinese soldiers and of forts and trenches were among their contacts with pre-war conditions, before Chinese and Japanese had opened present hostilities.

When Dr. and Mrs. King left China in July of 1936, they encountered Japanese distrust. In their baggage was a camera, a suspicious object in a country where military operations were guarded from inspection. The camera was examined when the

The nattily attired cheering squad, in official colored sweaters, skirts and calots; stickers; band, and the small army of rooters—there were more than 800 in all—made for a color riot, and more than a bedlam, in a parade over Lubbock streets.

Cheer leaders were Frances Noblitt, Katherine Barrett, Ed Winnie Gilbert, Tommie Lee Close, Betty Rains, and Jean Gillispie. There were 210 girls in the squad.

The departure was as noisy as the arrival. The Pampans had done what they came to do—"wrecked the Westerners."

Argument Continues Over Past Session

AUSTIN, Oct. 29. (AP)—The argument over who "scuttled" the legislature's tax session went merrily on today, with Rep. Herman Jones of Decatur blaming the senate majority, and Sen. Frank H. Rawlings of Fort Worth placing responsibility on Governor James V. Allred.

The Governor himself was expected to say something in detail on the subject in the next few days.

Jones said the "thoroughly discredited senate 'economy' committee and its 'non-official' supporters, by means of innuendoes and half-truths, were able to lay a smoke-screen behind which the majority of the senate played ostrich while the 30 days speedily passed."

Rawlings accused Allred of sitting by "nonchalantly" on the session's last night while the tax bill was scuttled in the house "by his lieutenants, and, so far as I am informed, without one word of protest from him."

Hillsboro Women Return To Their Homes After Weeks' Visit Here

The Woman's Angle

By Margaret Turner

WE used to have Halloween one night a year. Now we have it all month. The Stores have been full of gadgets for tonight's celebration for weeks. Several garbage cans in the neighborhood mysteriously disappeared lately; unquestionably we've heard signs of tick-tacking and children have been wearing masks and those grotesque faces for ten days.

America takes its holidays in too-big bites. Easter used to be Easter and the Fourth used to be on the Fourth. Now children stuff on eggs for a month before Easter and light sparklers for weeks. By such tactics they take the edge off of the enjoyment when the big date arrives.

REMEMBERING WHEN

WE believe most of the residents we know can "take it" on Halloween night. The men remember their own boyhood when the postern gate was left on its hinges at your own peril Mr. Man won't mind his doorbell ringing once or twice and one naturally supposes he should watch for the milk man on Halloween to take the milk in before it is swiped by roving hoodlums.

The pranks to which we are opposed are the hazardous ones when real destruction is worked and policemen are called. While it may be fun to deflate tires on somebody's else automobile if a youngster finds the trick has been tried on his own car he won't find it so funny. We remember soaped windows that remained marked for weeks after last year's Halloween night. And, few if any, merchants enjoyed that!

IN THE MAIL

DEAR Miss Turner. The letter of your disgruntled critic in a recent column prompts this. I know that for your one carping critic you have hundreds of admiring readers. I often marvel how you write with so few violations of the rules for good English amid the noise and interruptions of a newspaper office.

It is said that Joseph Conrad often wrote one paragraph many times before it suited his literary tastes. If you hastily turn out a daily column as one of your chores you may thank your stars if on reading it after it is published you find only a few minor errors. I would not have the courage to read in print one I turned out under like circumstances.

I am enclosing, as an addition to your collection, a Celtic cross or crucifix. It is made of Irish horn and was brought from Ireland. It was originally attached to a rosary and so was often pressed by the reverent lips and fingers of former owners to whom it was an eloquent symbol of divine love and salvation.

I obtained a correspondence course in Braille but I am progressing rather slowly, as my fingers seem terribly stupid. Perhaps they will become more sensitive with practice.

If you should use any part of this letter, please do not print my name. Your critic might think I desired some free publicity."

Thank you for your encouraging letter and for the gift which makes the fifty-seventh in our collection. We have thought of you often since you asked about the Braille correspondence course. The best of luck to you always.

TARGET PRACTICE

If you should see vari-colored balloons floating overhead long about 4 o'clock this afternoon you might get out your trusty .22 and shoot a few down for a surprise. They'll be released from the Palace theater.

AN IDEA

THIS is Mark Hellinger's story: It was a miserable night. A steady, disheartening rain had cleared the streets of human activity.

Two gangsters stood in the shelter of a hallway, watching the rain bounce on the pavement. Finally, one broke the silence.

"What a night," he sighed. "It's a perfect night for romance—or a murder!"

The other gangster shrugged.

"Let's flip a coin," he suggested.

Visitors Honored With Courtesies

Mesdames Fred Grimes and Tom Turner left Friday morning for their homes in Hillsboro after a week's visit with Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Crenshaw in their home at 1901 Twenty-ninth street.

A series of parties, breakfasts, and luncheons marked their Lubbock visit.

Early in the week, their hostess, Mrs. Crenshaw, entertained with a bridge-luncheon in the home of Mrs. F. R. Friend, 2005 Broadway. Mrs. L. H. Walter, also of Hillsboro, who is visiting her daughter Mrs. Wesley Read, 2208 Sixteenth street, was a special guest.

Other guests were Mesdames R. S. Rodgers, W. D. O'Brien, F. A. Kennedy, Wallace Rix, Bass Arnett, S. C. Arnett, W. O. Stevens, M. H. Woodruff, W. D. Wilson, W. G. Murray, W. H. Meador, J. S. Johnson, Fred Snyder, E. L. Pitts, S. S. McKay, and Miss Delia Wilkinson. Mesdames Read, W. H. Bledsoe, George W. Dupree, and Roscoe Wilson were luncheon guests.

Mrs. E. L. Pitts entertained in her home Thursday morning with a bridge breakfast for Mesdames Grimes and Turner. There were 12 guests.

Mrs. Crenshaw's guests also were included in various social activities through-out the week that had been scheduled before their arrival.

Program Is Honor To Pastor, Wife

A special program at the Broadway Church of Christ Thursday night was dedicated to Mr. and Mrs. John T. Smith, who are leaving next week for San Angelo where Mr. Smith will become pastor of a church there. He has been pastor of the Broadway Church of Christ since 1926.

After a program, B. Sherrod made a presentation speech and gave the couple a chest of sterling silver, service for eight, the gift of the congregation. An engraved plate bore the inscription "Broadway Church of Christ, October 28, 1937."

The program was opened with numbers by a double quartet; Paul Sherrod discussed the financial growth of the church since Mr. Smith has been here; Miss Ruth Stanfill sang; Raleigh Martin discussed the spiritual growth of the church within the last few years; the double quartet sang and Mrs. J. W. Wallace presented the Smiths with a book of snapshots of church members. There were over 300 pictures in the book and others will be added.

Mr. Smith responded to the courtesies and Liff Sanders pronounced a benediction.

J. C. Rigney was master of ceremonies.

The church has extended Mr. Smith an invitation to conduct its fall revival in 1938.

Duo-Pianists In Concert Here Tonight

Pierre Luboshutz and Genia Nemenoff, duo-pianists, pictured above, who will be presented in concert tonight at 8 o'clock at the Senior High school auditorium, have been ensemble players since childhood. Their appearance marks the initial number of the South Plains Civic Music Association schedule this year.

Month-Old Secret Marriage Of Brother And Sister Is Annulled; Relationship Unknown To Either Person Until Three Days Ago

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Oct. 29.—A month-old-secret marriage between brother and sister, in which neither of the principals was aware of the blood relationship until three days ago, was annulled yesterday by the Wright county court at Hartville, Mo.

Ben Ipock, 23, and his sister, Mary Lee, 21, on whose foster father's farm he was employed, were married September 27.

They were the children of Mr. and Mrs. Grant Ipock, both of whom died in 1918 on a Wright county farm leaving the children homeless.

They were placed in the children's home at Jefferson City. The girl was adopted by Mr. and Mrs. Ben Williams, who live on a farm in Johnson county. The boy was reared by Mr. and Mrs. Sod Yocum, of near Mountain Grove, Mo.

Ipock secured a job on the Williams farm last summer. Mrs. Williams suspected the relationship when she learned the youth, who usually went by the name of Yocum, was really named Ipock.

Lubbock Girl Scouts Have Costume Party

A chamber of horrors was a feature of the costume party attended by approximately 60 Girl Scouts Thursday night at Shaareth Isreal house.

Folk games and dances were directed by Elsie Smith's and Eloise Tucker's troops. The horror chamber was arranged by Miss Tina Mae Wright's troop, and recitations were given by girls in Mrs. A. H. Maes troop. A skit on Juliette Lowe, who founded the organization 25 years ago, was presented by girls of Mrs. Sam Newman's troop.

The refreshment table was covered with a yellow cloth and centered with a huge pumpkin filled with fruit. Yellow tapers in pumpkin holders furnished light.

Cookies and cocoa were served by Mesdames W. D. Wilson, H. F. Godeke, M. C. Overton and W. L. Stangel, council members.

A luncheon that the council had planned for this afternoon honoring Mesdames Roy Cullum and Daffen Lowry G'Istrap of Amarillo has been postponed for a week.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29. (AP)—Ogden L. Mills, former secretary of the treasury, left the bulk of his fortune to his widow, Mrs. Dorothy Randolph Mills, his will, filed today for probate, showed.

At the same time the will provided $200,000 each to Harvard college and the Home for Incurables of New York, $100,000 to the Metropolitan Museum of Art, and $25,000 each to the Charity Oranization Society of New York City and to the National Cathedral in Washington, D. C.

The latter bequests were made by his power of appointment over the principal of a trust fund created by his father's will. The bequest to Mrs. Mills is left in trust for life.

Colonial Needle Club Has Social In Parks Home

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Parks entertained members of the Colonial Needle club and their husbands with a Halloween party at their home, 2206 Eighth street, Thursday night. Halloween and forty-two games were played.

Guests were Messrs. and Mesdames Bryan Landers, R. D. Harris, W. V. Lewis, Edwin Heald, B. F. Foster, G. L. Sutton, C. D. Puckett, Mesdames Nora Markham, Mary L. Gardner, F. N. Eaves, J. D. Ritchie and Miss Marcia Lee Bowers of Tatum, N. M.

Pauline Williams Is Breakfast Honoree

A breakfast at the Mexican Inn Friday morning honored Miss Pauline Williams who will become the bride of W. T. Rogers this morning at 9 o'clock at the Broadway Church of Christ.

Hostesses were Mesdames Hildron Rogers and W. C. Davis, Misses Geraldine Fox, Para Cobb, Eva Johnson and Elizabeth Niblack.

Guests were Misses Bethel Rogers, Kathlene Noell and Katherine Davies, Mesdames W. J. Rogers, H. P. Williams, Bryan Edwards and Clifford Williams.

SENTENCED TO 5 YEARS

HENDERSON, Oct. 29. (AP)—C. A. Sorrell was sentenced to five years imprisonment today for the slaying last June of Grover Dowlearn, well-known East Texas contractor. The jury studied the case 41 hours.

PRISONER IS IDENTIFIED

MARLIN, Oct. 29. (AP)—Sheriff L. O. Hay announced today Felipe Ybara, sentenced to 20 years for the slaying of Pedro Fernandez Sept. 11 had been identified through fingerprints as Catarino Ybara. He said records showed Catarino Ybara escaped from the Texas prison at Huntsville April 14, 1930 while serving a term from Atascosa county for assault with intent to rape.

CMA Season To Open Tonight

Pierre Luboshutz and Genia Nemenoff, duo-pianists, will appear in concert at Senior High school auditorium tonight at 8 o'clock as the initial number of the South Plains Music association series for this year. Admittance will be only by membership card.

Their program has been announced as follows: Overture to "The Magic Flute" (Mozart); Now Comes the Gentle Savior (Bach); Sonata in G Major—allegro and tempo di menuette movements (Bach); Scherzo (Mendelsohn); Variations on a Theme of Haydn (Brahms); Invitation to the Dance (Weber); Oriental (Cui); The Flight of the Bumble Bee (Rimsky-Korsakoff); March of the Pixies dedicated to Luboshutz and Nemenoff—(Portnof); Valse Tzigane—a dedication—(Levitzki); Carmen "Fantasy" (Chasins).

The next program for the association will be the appearance of Joseph Bentonelli, American tenor of the Metropolitan Opera company, on November 23. Amarillo will open a similar season on December 1 when the noted violinist, Zimbalist, is presented in concert.

Cities May Face Legal Actions

Suits threatened against a score or more Texas cities by the National Electric Signal company of Dallas alleging infringement of patents on traffic lights will be discussed at a meeting of mayors, commissioners and city managers at the Adolphus hotel in Dallas Nov. 5, according to notice received by Lubbock officials from the Texas League of Municipalities Friday.

While Lubbock is not included among cities threatened with suit, several others in West Texas are. Among them are Plainview, Amarillo, Abilene, San Angelo, Vernon and Electra.

Use Amber Light

Notice from the league of municipalities said that the alleged infringement grows out of the use in the cities of an electric switch which puts traffic signals on the amber light so as to establish a lane for emergencies such as ambulance, fire or police runs. Lubbock does not use that system, having found from experience, officials said, that fixed sirens are more effective.

Communication from the league said the signal company has offered to settle at least some of its claims on the basis of $100 per light. If suit is brought, however, the notices were said to have added, it will be on the basis of $100 per light per year actual damages plus exemplary damages of twice that amount.

In the letter to Lubbock officials, however, federal district and circuit court rulings were cited in a similar case in which damages sought from the city of Waco were refused.

BUTLER MAN NOMINATED

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 29. (AP)—Dr. F. D. Kershner of the college of religion at Butler university, Indianapolis, today was nominated without opposition for president of the International Convention of Churches of Christ (Disciples).

Nominations for the three vice presidencies included Jesse Holt of Sherman, Texas.

Officer's Life Is Saved By Negro

(By The Associated Press)

MIDLAND, Oct. 29—A convicted killer frustrated a jail break today when he slew Clyde Moon, 30-year-old convict, and possibly saved the life of a deputy sheriff.

As Moon brandished a pistol taken from Deputy Bud Estes, Lucius Davis, negro convicted of murder, seized another pistol from Mrs. A. C. Francis, the sheriff's wife, and shot Moon.

Fellow-officers said the deputy was attacked by Moon and another prisoner when he opened the main jail door at breakfast time.

Estes knocked down the convict several times with a heavy key ring but Moon managed to obtain the officer's gun.

Mrs. Francis appeared with a pistol and Davis asked her for it. She gave it to him and the negro killed Moon.

Moon and the prisoner who also attempted the break had sawed their way out of their cells shortly before they surprised Estes at the door.

NEGROES ARE KILLED

WEATHERFORD, Oct. 29. (AP)—Two negroes, Levi and Carson Bond, of Hodge, La., were killed last night while they slept on a railroad right-of-way near here. A companion, Jesse Lewis, who was not hurt, said the trio were on their way to West Texas to pick cotton. Shortly after they stopped to rest the Bond brothers were mangled.

Harvesters Administer 21 To 8 Licking To Westerners In Thrilling Game

Jumbo Webster Is Chief Star For Lubbock

By COLLIER PARRIS
Avalanche Sports Editor

From the physical and mental wreckage of an earlier defeat came a fighting, slashing Lubbock High school football team yesterday that did full justice to itself and its fine coaching staff but which lacked the tonnage and experience required to win in double-tough District 1 schoolboy competition.

The Pampa Harvesters, pointed for two weeks for the game, lived up to advance notices and took a well-deserved 21 to 8 victory, setting them on top of the District 1 race with additional indication of championship favoritism. Although tied with the Borger Bulldogs for the district lead, each with one victory, both against Lubbock, the Pampans look more than ever like the team to beat for the gonfalon.

Webster Is Lubbock Star

Pampa won the ball game because of superior talent, and that only. The Harvesters won without the lion's share of "breaks;" won with a fighting team with a varied attack built around the clicking heels of Claude Heiskell, a 139-pound halfback with stuttering feet and a will to win. Pampa also had a great little guard, J. P. Mathews, who played his heart out and stayed in there with a badly bent knee until he could go no longer. An end named Harry McMahan, a handy fellow at catching passes, Center Arthur Harding and the big tackle, Carl Brown, stood out like sore thumbs and played wonderful ball for the Harvesters.

For the Westerners, Walter "Jumbo" Webster, bearing the brunt of offense in the absence of little Coulson Paxton, played himself a great game. He handled the ball 80 per cent of the time, and his 94-yard runback with a kick-off for touchdown was THE high spot of the ball game. Melvin Cooksey, limber-legged halfback, and Wayne Johnston, punter and passer, did their dead level best in the backfield, exhorted by Quarterback Harold Parsons and his relief, Leete Jackson. Parson almost got his name in lights when he turned out to be a better than average passshagger.

End Play Is Weak

In the line, Weldon Chapman's great little guards, Jerry Nash and Lloyd Sanders, did themselves proud, slashing and blocking like little giants. H. P. Ford, Herb Leaverton and Melvin Billings played their line positions with all the physical force and never-give-up spirit that could be asked of any team. Lubbock was weak at ends, strong in the middle of the line.

After the first seven minutes of the game the best team showed itself up. The Westerners battled hard on defense, and Johnston got off one of his good punts. Pampa took it on the 28 and started back down the field. Graham, little left handed passer and kicker, passed to McMahan for 16 yards, Pampa gained ten more on a couple of offside Lubbock penalties, then Graham and Smith and Karr divided time carrying the ball to the 25. Smith passed to McMahan for 18 yards, Smith ran to the one-yard strip from the 7, and then over for touchdown. Graham passed to Heiskell for the extra point.

Webster Scats 94 Yards

Heiskell kicked off then, Webster gathering in the ball on his 6-yard line. He was on the east side of the field. He cut to the west, with good blocking, then tore down the sidelines. He was momentarily stopped but, never downed, once in the long run, but he caught his breath, pushed his way through four tacklers, and led them on to the goal line. Babe Ritchie missed the try for point, and the Westerners trailed by a point.

The quarter ended soon afterward, and early in the second, Pampa staged a sustained drive, helped by passes to the Lubbock 29 before the Westerner line stiffened and held.

Johnston got off a 45-yard punt then, and after Pampa had driven back to the 14, he got off another fine punt. This time the Harvesters drove from their own 40 for a touchdown, passes from Graham to Smith and Graham to McMahan getting the touchdown job done. The counting pass was flipped from the 25-yard line, McMahan running 15 yards for touchdown. Graham booted the extra point.

Play In Pampa Territory

Lubbock had started a drive, gaining 30 yards, and had the ball on its own 45 when the half ended.

The third quarter saw the ball in Harvester territory most of the time, after a fine exchange of punts by Heiskell and Johnston. Early in the fourth, Lubbock cut loose with passes for the first time, Johnston taking the ball from Webster on reverse plays and tossing mainly to Parson. Aided by a penalty, the Westerners marched to the Pampa 5-yard line, and a touchdown seemed almost invitable the way the boys were clicking. But a most important pass was caught, then fumbled, and the officials ruled that Pampa had recovered on its own 1-foot line. There, for some reason or other, Pampa gave up an intentional safety, the Lubbock line smothering Smith just behind the goal line. It gave the Westerners new life and a better chance to win, and they threatened for the duration of the period with passes and nice line plunges.

Pass Play Boomerangs

But in the end, backed up by a long Pampa punt, the Westerner passing attack proved a boomerang. Johnston shot one intended for Billings that was intercepted by Hejskell on the Lubbock 30. The little lad headed straight for the goal, received nice help from blocking partners, and went over standing up. Graham kicked the extra point.

Lubbock received the kick-off, renewed its passing attack, but one of Dutchy Cawthon's fine heaves was intercepted and taken back to the Lubbock 28 by Smith. After a penalty and another play, the game ended.

As a parting thought, the fans of Lubbock have no kick coming for the fine efforts expended by the Westerners yesterday, and no kick coming against Weldon Chapman's coaching, who has undertaken a difficult job and succeeded in getting the most out of it.

Webster Picks Up Nice Gain In Pampa-Lubbock Go

Fullback Jumbo Webster, who was Lubbock's offensive star yesterday, is shown at the end of an 8-yard journey as he is tackled by Smith, Pampa backfield standout. The play took place near the end of the third quarter just before a Westerner pass was intercepted. Halfback Williams (No. 40) and Center Harding (No. 52) are shown getting in position to head the Jumbo off.

(Special To The Avalanche)

PLAINVIEW, Oct. 29. — The Golden Sandstorm of 1937, swirling along with all the force and finesse of Golden Sandstorms of former years, blotted out the Bulldogs of Plainview High school with an avalanche of touchdowns to win a District 1 "conference" football game 39 to 0 here tonight before a crowd of 3,500 fans.

It was Amarillo High in its football heights. The team that dropped a 33-0 upset to Port Arthur a week earlier had things its own way, played its own forceful game, overpowered and outmaneuvered its struggling opposition and forged its way into a three-way tie for District 1 leadership with Pampa and Borger.

The Sandies, without expending unusual effort, were the masters all the way, although outfought in the first period by a Plainview team that asked and gave no quarter. Coach Vernon Hilliard's Bulldogs, a good-looking team dressed in red and black, had the Sandies on their heels for the first fifteen minutes, poured into the Amarillo line and secondary with running plays that threatened to provide touchdowns and wheeled up a defensive wall that held against Amarillo's running and passing.

Amarillo All The Way

But this was for the first quarter only. In the second, Thompson scored a touchdown for Amarillo on a wide end run after a long and successful drive down the field. Martin missed the try for point. A few plays later Winfield, Amarillo center and a fine defensive man, intercepted a Plainview pass on the Bulldog 25 and ran for a touchdown. Martin kicked the extra point. Winfield intercepted another pass in the same period and scooted for a touchdown, Martin kicking the extra point.

From then on it was Amarillo all the way. Coach Bull Lynch used his second team in the last half nearly half the time, and the subs looked almost as potent as the regulars. The Bulldogs kept up their battling spirit, never giving up, but the Sandies had too much, offensively and defensively, stopping a Plainview threat deep in Sandie territory late in the game and driving back to scoring grounds before the final whistle.

Flomot Knocks Off Floydada, 6 To 0

FLOYDADA, Oct. 29. (Special)—Flomot's big fullback, Ammonette, spoiled an otherwise good afternoon for the Whirlwinds with a 20-yard touchdown dash here a few minutes before the game, played before 1,000 spectators, ended.

Ammonette circled his own right end to sprint over for a 6 to 0 win for the Longhorns. Flomot had 14 first downs to Floydada's 13, with yardage gained almost even.

The 165-pound fullback was outstanding for the visitors, Willson, Hollingsworth and McClung carried the brunt of Floydada's running attack. Ranier and Martin starred in the Whirlwind line.

The defeat ruined an undefeated record for the locals, giving a beating to every member of District 4B.

Linesup: Floydada: ends, Smith and Orman; tackles, Ranier and Williams; guards, Jarboe and Martin; center, Montgomery; quarter, Beard; halfbacks, Willson and Hollingsworth; full, McClung. Flomot: ends, Bynum and Wedeman; tackles, Martin and Clay; guards, Gilbert and Landry; center, Thomas; quarter, Brown; halfbacks, Moreland and Marler; full, Ammonette.

Class B Eleven Run Over Bulldogs By 13-6 Count

(Special To The Avalanche)

BORGER, Oct. 29.—A fighting band of Class B gridders from Perryton came into town today and went back home with a 13 to 6 triumph over the Borger Bulldogs, conquerers of Lubbock, last week.

The locals played ragged football throughout the game, but it is to 3 Perryton backs, Flowers, Lewis and McWilliams, averaging 131 pounds to whom the palms belong. The Rangers got off to a whirlwind start, counting in first 5 minutes of play.

Borger had 13 first downs against 12, only department in which they prevailed. Perryton amassed 270 yards from scrimmage, the Bulldogs getting but 158.

Armstrong Lifts Featherweight Boxing Crown

NEW YORK, Oct. 29. (AP)—Henry Armstrong, sensational Los Angeles negro fighter, gained undisputed possession of the world featherweight boxing title tonight by knocking out Petey Sarron of Birmingham, Ala., holder of the National Boxing association crown, in the sixth round of a 15-round match that inaugurated the Mike Jacobs regime in Madison Square garden.

In a sudden and unexpected finish to a whirlwind slugfest, Sarron took the count of ten, on all fours, after capturing four of the first five rounds and boxing his way to a decisive margin on points. The Little Syrian weakened without warning under a heavy barrage of blows to the head, staggered half-way across the ring, then went down from a short right to the chin.

Sarron was counted out after 2 minutes 37 seconds of the sixth round had elapsed without apparently knowing just how it all happened.

Still on his knees, he looked inquiringly at Referee Arthur Donovan and remained in a complete daze as Armstrong's hand was raised in token of victory.

Armstrong, rallying from an erratic start that seemed to justify the fears of his backers that he had been weakened by making the feather limit, turned the tide in the fifth after being outboxed, outsmarted and outpointed decisively during the first four rounds.

Slaton Tigers Give Levelland Thumping

LEVELLAND, Oct. 29. (Special)—Coach Stump Hamilton's Slaton Tigers took another fall out of the Lobos here, displaying a variety of laterals to prevail, 44 to 12.

With Bradley and Henry sparking the Bengal attack the locals were snowed under before a large crowd. The Slaton attack became more fierce as the game wore on.

Bullard got off to runs of 72 and 56 yards for touchdowns, and Henry scored three times, once on a 45-yard jaunt. Slaton had 13 first downs to 6 for the locals.

Bradley, ace passer, and Wright led the Lobo offensive while Stacey and Bolton were standouts on the line.

Lineups: Slaton—ends, Waldrep and Stotts; tackles, Saint and Gregory; guards, Halliburton and Maxey; center, Clack; quarter, Henry; halves, Dickson and Bullard; full, Ward. Leveland—ends, Hill and Stacey; tackles, Cooksey and Crawford; guards, Bolton and McCaslin; center, Carlton; quarter, Bradley; halves, McCann and O'Bannon; full, Wright.

Brownfield Bow To Golden Tornadoes

BROWNFIELD, Oct. 29. (Special)—Brownfield High school's eleven, on their own gridiron, this afternoon bowed to Lamesa High 7 to 0 before the largest crowd to attend a game here this season. The attendance was estimated at more than 800 persons.

Although statistics showed the elevens about equal, it was the Lamesa backfield that showed the scoring punch when Allison, in the third quarter, found a gap in the Brownfield line for a yard and a half and the afternoon's only touchdown. Hill converted.

Most thrilling point of the tussle was a 20-yard pass from Brownfield's quarterback, Chambliss, to Young who lateraled to Pickett who loped 35 yards before being stopped.

Brownfield made 9 first downs to Lamesa's 7, gained 95 yards to Lamesa's 122 by the land route and 57 to 10 by air. Lamesa penetrated Brownfield's 20-yard line four times and allowed their own to be crossed not once.

Line-ups were—for Brownfield: Ellis and Rowden, ends; Jenkins and Murry, tackles; Pickett and Grider, guards; Noble, center; Chambliss, quarter; Hill and Young, halves; and Fore, full; for Lamesa; McKinnon and Hogg, ends; Morgan and Holliday, tackles; Steele and Jacobs, guards; Mitchell, center; Hill quarter; Jones and Allison, halves; and Schmidt, full.

Leaders Face Easy Tests; Bruins Favored Over TCU

WACO, Oct. 29. (AP)—Not a member of Baylor's undefeated grid machine was under the weather on the eve of tomorrow's classic with Texas Christian before the largest collegiate football throng in Waco history.

Down along the Baylor line, the "difference" in the Bruins' amazing showing to date, every man reported ready after Coach Morley Jennings called in his charges from their final practice.

A homecoming day crowd of 18,000 expected to tax Municipal stadium to the limit, had promise of "Cooler and Fair" weather for the expected hurling duel between Bullet Bill Patterson, Baylor's "fair-haired boy," and Little Davey O'Brien, the 150-pound iron man of the Christian backfield.

In direct contrast to Baylor's good health was the crippled condition of a great Christian team that has played, in succession, Ohio State, Arkansas, Tulsa, Texas A. and M. and Fordham. End Durwood Horner, Tackle Allie White and Fullback Linnon Blackmon were not listed in the probable starting lineup, and Tackle I. B. Hale, the all-American candidate, was in ragged condition from hurts received in the Fordham game.

Missfires Of Conference To Meet Today At Fayetteville

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Oct. 29 (AP)—Two powerhouses that missed fire, Texas A. and M. and Arkansas, meet here tomorrow before the Czarks' largest football throng in a pathetic Southwest conference game between two fallen favorites.

It's suicide for one or the other and a tie could almost positively eliminate both.

Ranked 1-2 at the start of the season by critics, Arkansas and the Aggies have disappointed. Whipped by Baylor and tied by Texas Christian, the Razorbacks started feebly. However, two victories over Texas and Southern Methodist kept the spark alive.

In even worse condition are the Aggies after a loss to Baylor and a tie with Texas Christian and a weak pass defense against Arkansas' sky raiders tomorrow.

Cellar Contenders Battle On Methodist Gridiron

DALLAS, Oct. 29. (AP)—The Southwest conference's cellar dwellers—Southern Methodist and University of Texas—clash here tomorrow before a home coming day crowd of 20,000 to see who will come out of the dungeon.

Neither team has scratched a victory in conference competition and full season records of the Methodists and Longhorns are unimpressive. The Texans, under D. X. Bible for the first time, have only a Texas Tech victory in the books. A tie with Oklahoma and losses to Louisiana State, Arkansas and Rice, fill out their record to date.

Rice Owls To Tangle With Unbeaten Auburn Plainsmen

HOUSTON, Oct. 29. (AP)—Undefeated Auburn's football warriors frisked in practice today as they prepared to meet Rice institute tomorrow in what many expect to be a rough and tough battle.

The Plainsmen are ready, Coach Jack Meagher said. So are the Owls. Coach Jimmy Kitts replied. The fans are cocked and primed for a big afternoon because Kitts succeeded Meagher as the Rice coach at the end of the 1933 season. It is the first time teams coached by the two have met. Kitts was freshman coach under Meagher.

The weather man tonight indicated the field would be dry and just made for fast traveling tomorrow.

Ralls Leaves Basement To Post With 7 To 6 Victory

RALLS, Oct. 29. (Special)—Coach Bill McWilliams' Ralls outfit left Post sole occupant of District 5B cellar tonight, eking out a 7 to 6 score over the Antelopes.

Play in the first half was scoreless, ending with the Jackrabbits in possession of the ball on Post's one-yard line. The Hares had 2 penetrations at that time, and prevailed in first downs, 5 to 1.

Both teams scored, however, in the final half, Reed's toe providing winning margin. Land scored Ralls' touchdown. The locals displayed a smooth passing attack and outplayed Post throughout.

Sooner Aggies Are Set For Red Raiders

STILLWATER, Okla., Oct. 29. (AP) Oklahoma Aggies' light horsemen were steeled tonight for a supreme effort to shrug loose the hide of the underdog tomorrow and rope, throw and hog-tie Texas Tech's powerful football forces.

Tech's Red Raiders, prime favorites because of their 20-0 victory over the University of Arizona two weeks ago, were scheduled to come on here tomorrow from an overnight stop at Oklahoma City.

Kickoff will be at 2:30 p. m.

Fear Tech's Line

The Aggies, beaten 22 to 13 by the Arizona club, have been storing up plays packed with dynamite all week designed to storm Tech's formidable forward wall which has yielded virtually no ground at all in the last two games.

The Aggies took it easy today with a well-deserved rest. The A. and M. club emerged from its bruising defeat at the hands of Tulsa university in a Missouri Valley conference battle last week in fairly good condition.

Tomorrow's encounter may take on the appearance of Indian civil war for both squads are studded with players whose ancestors were native to the continent.

The Aggies have Amos Goodfox, and Jim Cleghorn, fullblood Pawnees. Lewis Alexander, a Texas Tech center, is a Creek only a few years off the reservation, and Buzz Barnard, Tech halfback, is a vanishing American whose grandsire was one of the last chiefs of the Plankashaws.

Probable starting lineups:

Tech	Pos.	A. and M.
Ramsey (c)	LE	Orloski
Murphy	LT	Sharp (c)
Owens	LG	Patton
Overton	C	Vogler
Jones	RG	Anderson
Davis	RT	Williams
[illegible]	RE	Goodfox
[illegible]	QB	Carlile
[illegible]	HB	Rivers
[illegible]	HB	Cowline
Colburn	FB	Webb

Officials: Jimmie Higgins, Southern Methodist, referee; Grady Skillern (Oklahoma), umpire; John Dunlap (Oklahoma), head linesman; Jeff Farris (Arkansas), field judge.

Spur Runs Rampant Against Quitaque, Winning 34-0

SPUR, Oct. 29. (Special)—Signalizing their return to form expected of them at the start of the season, the Bulldogs ran roughshod over Quitaque for three quarters tonight to pile up a 34 to 0 count.

Halfback Hahn made two touchdowns early in the game and Elkins, substitute halfback, added another before the first quarter ended when he intercepted a Panther pass and ran 65 yards to score.

Fullback Garner, who scored the fourth touchdown in the second period, added 4 extra points from placement. The Bulldog line held Quitaque to 30 yards from scrimmage, while making 325 in their own right. They had 19 first downs to 7.

Tahoka Wins Second Straight Game By Defeating Longhorns

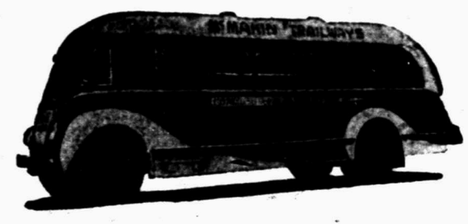

TAHOKA, Oct. 29. (AP)—The Bulldogs made it 2 straight in District 5, Class B, today by downing Olton, 29 to 12, in a thrilling contest.

Tahoka got off to an early start scoring 2 touchdowns and a safety in the first few minutes of the game. The Pup passing attack was working smoothly all afternoon. Fullback Snowden heaving a 20-yard aerial to Quarterback Walker for the first score. Patty, end, intercepted an Olton pass and stepped off 35 yards for the second.

A safety resulted when alert Bulldog forwards broke through to nail a Longhorn punter behind the line. Snowden climaxed a 65-yard drive in the second period with a touchdown, and passed from his 5 to Patty on the 27, the latter scampering downfield for a touch in the third. Poteet scored both touchdowns for the losers.

Soil Conservation Work Turned Over To Counties And Farmers Themselves

Leadership Now Up To Farmers

(By The Associated Press)

AMARILLO, Oct. 29—The "dust bowl" was in the throes of being shuffled into small pieces today in a new move toward effective soil conservation.

Stepping into the background but extending a helping hand and making available all information obtained in extensive surveys and experiments, Uncle Sam's various agencies turned over to the counties and the farmers themselves the leadership in the work.

Roy I. Kimmell, coordinator of all government agencies in conservation work in the dust and drouth areas of Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico, Kansas and Colorado, announced that the particular needs of each county were being studied and that methods suited to each county would be put into effect through local governing boards working with the federal groups.

To Put Practices Into Effect

The purpose of the county system, Kimmell said, is to place a conservation finger on definite problems in limited areas and to put into effect the practices found to be successful in general demonstration and experimental work.

Back of the idea, said the coordinator, is the hope that all land owners in the region will join in efforts to stake down the plains and conserve moisture. Demonstrations by the soil conservation service, he said, have proven various practices will bring back and conserve even badly blown lands. But since a section of untreated land can start a dust storm that will injure treated land, the government agencies hope to interest all land owners in a coordinated program of conservation and to place the reins in their hands.

Counties Have Leadership

Leadership, Kimmell said, will be in the hands of the counties and each county will deal with its own problems, select the practices suited to the county and apply them in the most effective manner.

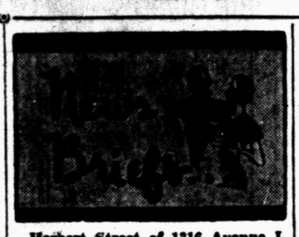

Since 1934, the year the velvety silt of the drouth-plagued high plains took to the air in billowing gusts and collected in the desert-making black blizzards, the soil conservation service has been working in the area, gathering information, making extensive surveys, experiments and demonstrations, Kimmell said effective practices had been developed.

Field By Field Basis

Now the propostion of tacking down the soil and keeping the water in it has been turned over to the counties and their citizens under the new plan. Under the program, the business of conserving soil and moisture, of bringing back blown lands and protecting the yet unharmed sections, will settle down to a problem by problem and almost a field by field basis in each county in the region.

At a series of conferences in Kimmell's office here, representatives of the five states formulated the plan. Within the next six weeks a group from each state will meet at its respective state agricultural school and work out plans for each county.

The plans will be submitted to county coordination committees, consisting of the county agent, commissioners court, bankers, business men and representatives of the chambers of commerce, the soil conservation service, the farm security administration, the AAA and other agencies. The plans will be given further study and then put into effect with each county giving its attention to its own problems.

15,531 bales of cotton were ginned in Lubbock county from the crop of 1937, prior to Oct. 18, as compared with 23,299 bales for the crop of 1936, as shown by census reports received from the department of commerce.

Plainview Busy With Activity

By J. SAM LEWIS
Avalanche Staff Writer

PLAINVIEW, Oct. 29.—Plainview, the oldest city in the Panhandle-Plains area on its original townsite, is expected to start well on an upward swing before spring. Business men are prepared for the move which may put Plainview ahead in many lines.

Evident here on all sides is a feeling that when the time comes for building of homes to house new residents, that it will bring with it more solid prosperity. For this city is ready for growth.

Next To Be Building

"Our next boomlet, when it comes, will be, I hope, building," said Captain Winfield Holbrook, of the Texas Land and Development Co., "Every store and every residence is occupied—it is hard to get a place to live. If something should come that would bring 30 or 40 families here, I don't know what we will do. Rents are higher than for a long, long time. We need buildings now."

Every industry here seems to be working more than for years. The Harvest Queen Mills, one of the outstanding plants of the entire Southwestern wheat section, is working day and night, to capacity. The mill has been one of the few in the southwest that has made money in operating during the past six or seven years. The Wisdom of its builder, Albtrt G. Hinn, is manifest in its success.

Has Three Shifts

The cotton oil mill is likewise working night and day. On its third week of operation, the mill has three shifts and seed is coming in very fast, indicative of a probable long run. Demand for cake and meal had cut deep into the mill's reserve before the season opened.

Other local industries, the Plains Cooperative, Inc., for example, are also busy. The coop has both a cheese factory and a butter making plant. Roy B. Davis, manager, has extended his fields of operations to cover a wide section of the plains.

Farm land is selling. Captain Holbrook reported his company had sold five or six places this summer, an unusual situation in that the company's sales program has been lagging for several years, due to distress property sales of other concerns.

In Spendid Shape

Mayor Tom Shelton says the municipality itself is in splendid shape. The public works program has added to the resources of the city itself. Something like 100,000 square yards of paving, or 66 full city blocks, valued at 100,000, has been put in during the PWA program. In addition a 17,500 sewer line extension, a 35,000 city park improvement program and a new water system valued at 100,000 have added 252,500 to the assets of Plainview.

The PWA program valuation is "very conservative," the mayor said, adding the work done could not be duplicated for any such a figure now.

Fifty building permits, not including moving permits, etc., have added $84,601 in property value. Largest permit was for a 23,000 seed house at the cotton oil mill.

Loans Being Paid

S. J. Burrows, active vice president of the City National bank, reports his bank's note case was made considerably slimmer by the wheat crop and will be even more so when the cotton and feed crops are sold. "Our cotton is late, just now we are beginning to get returns; farmers are paying off their notes, and it looks like we will be out from under a heavy debt burden soon," he added.

The two hotels here, the Hilton and the Ware, have been turning away people at night. "Best business we have had in a long, long time," said Mart Pool of the Hilton, a former Lubbock hotel man. "We have enjoyed a nice business. Ed Hart of the Ware said: "Traveling men have begun to get out. We have not had as many the past several weeks as we had had before, but our business is very good and will be improved soon."

J. M. Crews, president of the Hale County State bank, said his concern was well satisfied with prospects and with present conditions. Farmers are paying off debts, he pointed out." The wheat money enabled many of them to pay debts of long standing. I believe Hale county farmers are a million dollars better off today than they were a year ago."

Everybody Is Busy

Just the appearance of the town indicates an upward trend. Most of the cars parked down town are late models; store clerks are busy all the time; businessmen report better stocks, higher priced goods are in demand and in all there seems to be a buying trend.

Crops in the vicinity of Plainview are excellent. Cotton on irrigated farms is the best ever; the grain crop is excellent and fall wheat pastures are away ahead of other years.

Cotton is going through the government loan, more eight cent than seven cent cotton is reported. The county is expected to exceed 30,000 bales, probably 32,000 to 33,000 if frost holds off. Most of the grain is mature and a frost will not damage it.

Around Plainview are some 45,000 sheep, ewes and lambs, on feed. More are expected to come in. Likewise, cattle have been arriving in car load lots for feeding. This additional income is proving to be the needed impetus to business.

Hale county has many small crops that provide extra cash for its irrigation farmers. Alfalfa growing represents a considerable item, as does sugar beet growing. The poultry business is large.

The coming dressed turkey show in December will stress the place Plainview occupies in the turkey industry. It leads the state in that respect.

ORDERS GAS METERING

AUSTIN, Oct. 29. (AP)—The Railroad commission today ordered the metering of all gas sold for drilling purposes.

The order also stipulated estimates and reports must be made on unsold gas used for lease purposes such as lease houses, boiler stations, crude oil heating and treating plants and salt water disposal plants.

Nation's Brewers Adopt Code Of Practice To Ban Evils

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 29. (AP)—The brewers who produce nearly half of the nation's beer and ale pledged themselves today to a code of practice designed to eliminate so-called evils of their industry.

The code, adopted by the United Brewers Industrial foundation, called for:

1—Strict observance of the law; 2—Cooperation with authorities; 3—Maintenance of high standards of production; 4—Promotion of "moderation and sobriety" among drinkers; 5—Cooperation in the elimination of anti-social conditions surrounding the sale of beer to consumers; 6—Truth in advertisements; 7—Cooperation in preventing sales to minors or intoxicated persons; and 8—Encouragement to dealers to sell beer as "law-abiding citizens."

GREATER EARNING REPORTED

TULSA, Okla., Oct 29. (AP)—Consolidated net earnings for the third quarter of $1,911,022.39, equal to $1.80 a common share was announced by Skelly Oil company and subsidiaries.

The earings for the period compared with $1,307,594.62 for the same quarter of the previous year. Net income for the nine-month period of 1937 was $5,346,939.97, equal to $5.02 a share.

The Scrubs On Life's Gridiron

WE Americans have the success bug, and we pour out admiration on the man who can lead the field. This is a pretty good trait, as it creates an atmosphere which produces successful leaders; but we might well spend a little time paying tribute to the great army of second stringers who make the success of the leaders possible.

A pointer comes from—of all places—the football field of Yale university.

When this season ends, some time in November, the inglorious members of Yale's "scrub" team are to be formally banqueted; and then one of them will be given a big silver football about the size of a pumpkin, to honor him, his teammates, and the whole mute line of scrubs who have gone unhonored and unsung through many football generations.

The scrub leads a tough life. He has to get out on the field four or five days a week all through the season and take his bumps while the varsity polishes up its play. He never has the slightest hope of actually playing in a regularly scheduled game. His classmates never honor him with their cheers. He gets all the grief and none of the glory. But because of him the first team is able to win games.

ALL right; that's part of the game, and the scrubs love the game or they wouldn't be playing it. But the football field isn't the only place you'll find scrubs. The world is full of them. Most of us are scrubs; part of the great army of second stringers who contribute what we can to victories for which we can never get either fame or fortune.

John Jones may become famous as president of a transcontinental railway. But he himself would be the first to admit that he doesn't run the railroad single-handed. Under him there are innumerable section hands, firemen, train dispatchers, master mechanics, shop foremen and so on. If they didn't do their part, John Jones wouldn't be a famous railroad president.

Bill Smith may be a steamship captain, acclaimed for the heroism of his rescues in mid-ocean storms. He didn't make those rescues unaided. He had stout guys down in the engine room with sweat rags around their grimy necks, keeping his ship a jump ahead of Davy Jones in its fight with the storm; skilled seamen in the deck force, ready to take a small boat across tossing waves at their captain's command. Bill Smith gets the glory; the scrubs made it possible.

AND so it goes. It is true in every walk of life, from banking to politics, from coal mining to war. A few men have the gifts to be leaders—the star halfbacks, as you might say, of the game of life. The great majority have to stay on the scrub team. They'll never be either rich or famous, and they know it and don't mind much. They do their jobs and do them well and the gifted ones get the cheers.

But the service the lowly scrubs render is something that should never be overlooked.

The One-Minute Sermon

Behold, God will not cast away a perfect man, neither will he help the evil doers:

Till he fill thy mouth with laughing, and thy lips with rejoicing.

HALLOWE'EN

The Pantheon in Rome is the noblest and best preserved of all ancient Roman buildings. It was built as a heathen temple in the time of Emperor Hadrian between 117 and 138 A. D., who dedicated it to all gods. In 612 Pope Boniface IV converted the Pantheon into a Christian place of worship consecrated to all saints. The eve of this consecration was the first Hallowe'en of the Christian era.

Madman's Island..... By Nard Jones

CAST OF CHARACTERS

KAY DEARBORN—heroine who inherits a yacht for vacation.

METILA HOWARD—Kay's roommate and co-adventurer.

PRISCILLA DUNN—the third adventurer.

FORREST BROTHERS and GRANT HARPER—young scientists whose expedition turned out to be a rare experience.

Yesterday: Kay and Grant learn that the madman is DeWitt Montgomery, eccentric who was sentenced to life imprisonment several years earlier for a series of strange deaths on the island.

CHAPTER XVI

"Yes," the man went on, "it is true. Two years ago I escaped—and for at least five years before that I had been making my plans. Plans for escape from prison, and plans for revenge upon the woman who had desecrated my teachings and caused my misery."

Kay and Grant were speechless. True, as the madman's story progressed they had become more and more certain that he must be DeWitt Montgomery. Yet the shock of his confession, and his frightening pride in it, had struck them with a terrible impact. Harper's manner changed instantly, for he realized now that there would be small chance to humor a man so obsessed.

"You may imagine my disappointment," Montgomery went on, apparently oblivious to their new attitude, "when I discovered, after my escape, that the woman I sought was already dead. But I am a man of resourcefulness. There are many ways in which to revenge oneself." He made a sudden contrite gesture. "But I am boring you with my personal feelings, and that is not the way of a good host. If you have rested sufficiently, I should like to show you the rest of my poor home."

Almost imperceptibly, Harper nodded toward Kay. All during Montgomery's story he had been studying this room while he listened, and he was convinced there was no escape from it. Perhaps in the movement from one room to another he would have an opportunity to better his position, catch Montgomery off guard.

"Here is the library of which I spoke." Montgomery swung open a paneled door, revealed a square room whose walls were lined with old volumes. The smell of book cloth and paste, there in that slightly damp atmosphere, drifted heavily to Kay and Harper. "Please go in," the man said. "I will let you browse a bit, for you must excuse me once again."

Before they could reply the door shut swiftly. Wordless, the two faced each other. This room was more of a prison than the last. With a little cry, Kay Dearborn ran to Harper's arms.

"I'm afraid," she whispered. "He's going to kill us. I can see it in his eyes."

Grant Harper gripped her shoulders. "Steady, Kay. Nothing very bad has happened to us yet, and I still hope that if we show enough interest in this fellow, feed his ego a little, he may forget his intentions."

"But why did he leave us? Where is he now?"

Harper smiled down at her. "At least while he's gone, we're safe."

He walked to one of the walls of books, ran his hand over a row of titles. "Obviously, the man was well educated. Probably when he first came to the island his mind was balanced, then the loneliness released some hidden spring and he got off on this idea of a new religion. Then the prison, and his obsession for revenge, aggravated his condition."

"I can't think he was very well balanced if he wanted to live underground like this."

"I don't know. There've been lots of cases where men have built strange living quarters which the average man would think eccentric. The curious thing to me is that newer cabin above ground—where your friends tell me you found that woman. I wonder why he built that? It's possible that—"

Harper stooped suddenly, glanced toward the ceiling. "Kay! Wouldn't that cabin be almost above here?"

"Why—why, it could be! And that would explain how she disappeared."

"You're quite sure she was dead?"

Kay nodded. "I'm sure of it . . ." She shuddered, moving closer to him. "He must have taken the body down here somewhere while we were on the 'Chinook'."

"If that's true, then there's some entrance to the cabin from below." Hurriedly he began walking past the shelves of books, testing them with his fingers, looking intently at the facing of the shelves. But he could find nothing which would indicate a secret exit from DeWitt Montgomery's library.

Suddenly he stopped, bent closer to the wall. "There's something moving beyond here," he whispered.

Kay rushed forward started to tap against the paneling, but Harper grabbed her wrist. "It may be Montgomery. If it is, we don't want him to know we think there's anything beyond this wall. Can you hear it?"

Kay listened. Unmistakably there was someone moving in a space beyond. Once she thought she heard a low voice, almost like a groan, but she couldn't be sure that her ears were accurate so anxious was she to discover a way out of their seemingly hopeless dilemma.

Fascinated, she watched Grant Harper remove one of the books, carefully test the partition beyond. "Try to signal," she begged.

Harper shook his head. "It's too dangerous. If—"

The door at the far end of the room opened, and DeWitt Montgomery stood watching them.

"Have you found a volume which interests you?" he inquired, smiling.

Harper faced those wide, mad eyes. "Every one I've picked up interests me", he said evenly.

"Perhaps I shall let you spend some time here. It has been many years since I have shared my library." He came to the center of the room, leaned indolently against the table. "But first I want to finish my little story—about DeWitt Montgomery."

"Of course."

"As I say, I was greatly disappointed when I found that my betrayer was dead when I escaped from prison. But I discovered that she had a daughter. That was when I returned to the island here with the daughter's address carefully kept against the time I would use it. I built the little cabin which you see above. Then I write, saying that I was an old friend of her mother's and wanted most eagerly to do something for her. I wrote her that all I possessed was a beautiful little island on which was a cabin. I told her that I was old now, and wanted her to have the place. Montgomery chuckled at the memory. "You see, I could depend upon the fact that her mother would have been secretive about her own visit here."

"And this girl," urged Harper. "Did she accept the gift?"

"Indeed. As I knew she would I even sent her the money with which to come."

At this revelation Kay Dearborn stood trembling. In a horrible flash of recollection she saw that inert figure in the cabin. She could restrain herself no longer in the presence of his mad monster.

"Then she was the woman you killed!" she screamed. "I saw her—there in the cabin!"

Montgomery's face grew suddenly livid. Impelled by blind anger he rushed at her, and was stopped by the impact of Harper's fist.

General Motors To Stage 'Parade Of Progress' In City

General Motors corporation's "Parade of Progress" a touring exhibition described as the largest of its kind in history, will visit Lubbock from Nov. 21 through 24, according to announcement at a meeting of dealers in General Motors products at the chamber of commerce here Thursday.

G. P. Kuykendall was named chairman and J. Ray Dickey secretary-treasurer of the group which will make arrangements for the exhibitions. Other committeemen are L. E. Grimes and D. A. Davis.

The group decided, among other plans, to call a meeting of all dealers of the South Plains to be held at Hilton hotel here at 7 p. m. Nov. 4 to discuss detailed arrangements for publicizing the event through more than a score counties in the territory. Lubbock, Amarillo and Abilene are the only cities in West Texas at which the Parade of Progress will exhibit this year.

The parade, consisting of 41 motor units eight "stream-liners" described as the largest motor vehicles ever made to travel the highways, is designed, according to announcement, "to bring industry to the people by showing the individual citizen in his home community what the contributions of industry mean to him and his family, to establish a basis of mutual understanding and friendliness, and at the same time to increase confidence in the future progress of America."

The layout of the "parade" when setup was described further as consisting of a big top seating 1,500 people as well as exhibits contained in six of the huge silver-topped streamliners.

The caravan has been on tour for two years, has visited every state and includes Lubbock on an immediate itinerary extending from California to the Atlantic coast.

The National Whirligig

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT's abandonment of his original theories on prices is best illustrated in the disappearance of consumers' representatives from Washington. The only one left is John Carson of the Coal commission, and his proconsumer views have been completely disregarded by his own agency and the Interstate Commerce commission.

In the campaign the President provoked bitter attacks by insisting the nation could achieve full economic recovery only through a system of high wages and low prices. In his recent "fireside chat" the same idea dominated, though it wasn't advertised. He proclaimed that America's richest market consists of well-paid home buyers of cheap goods. Last spring he inaugurated a deflation policy by terminating P.W.A. projects lest durable goods reach too high a peak.

The demands of labor and farmers have forced F.D.R. to reverse his field. Increases in railroad workers' pay necessitated the I.C.C. approval of higher rail rates, which will be passed on to consumers. New processing taxes, to finance the $500,000,000 cost of the proposed farm program will again boost the price of food. The explanation lies in the fact that workers and farmers are organized, consumers are not. The politicos can afford to neglect them—and they do.

INSPIRED: The reasons for Vittorio Mussolini's midnight departure from Hollywood were economic as well as emotional. The movie magnates' rough treatment of Il Duce's son will hardly improve relations between Rome and Washington.

American screen stars did feel a human resentment against the Italian's boast that bombing defenseless towns appealed to him as a "sport." Socially, they gave him the cold and hoity-toity shoulder on the lot and in the night clubs. But behind their bitterness—and their employers'—lay the realization that young Mussolini would utilize Hollywood's production and distribution secrets to build up his father's motion picture plant just outside the Eternal City. So they ran the prospective competitor out of town.

The majority of producers and distributors and financiers bear no love for the Italian dictator, who made the blunder of fraternizing with the anti-Jewish Hitler at the very moment his son was cultivating his new friends. A concerted advertising campaign to discredit Vittorio had been started in movie trade papers, and it would have destroyed the market for any pictures he produced.

TRIANGLE: Friendly enemies of the President on and off Capitol Hill have hatched a quiet conspiracy to kill off the new legislative reforms he has proposed for the special and regular session of Congress. The ring-leaders are supposed to include Vice-president Garner, R.F.C. Chairman Jesse H. Jones and Senate Finance Chairman Pat Harrison.

An extremely close friend of Mr. Garner and Mr. Jones tipped off the plot on the night of the special election in Arkansas that saw an anti-New Dealer elected to the Senate in place of the late "Joe" Robinson. In a gloating mood and voice he phoned columnists, politicos and radio commentators to advertise the enormous extent of the Roosevelt reverse. He furnished details that only an interested observer of the contest would have known. Washington suspects he would not have inspired anti-administration articles unless it was pleasing to his conservative Democratic buddies. The underlying idea was to the convince Congressional rebels that they could defy F.D.R. with immunity.

Recently Messrs. Garner and Jones conferred at the former's home in Uvalde. The general belief is that their conversation augured no good for F.D.R. Mr. Garner headed last session's revolt, and the same legislative problems will bob up again. Mr. Harrison, still sore over White House backing of Senator Barkley in the leadership battle, holds the whip hand over the President on taxation and appropriations fronts. And he's a Garner-Jones man.

JIMMIE: The President's promotion of Son James Roosevelt to chairmanship of the economic cabinet has provoked intense dissatisfaction among the heads of the eighteen independent agencies the youngster now controls.

Second-day thoughts convince some of the eighteen key figures that their new role makes them look ridiculous. It didn't soothe their dispositions when friends joshed them with the remark: "Oh, I see that you're now a member of Jimmie Roosevelt's baby cabinet." In the past such men as Maritime Chairman Kennedy, Federal Reserve Chairman Eccles and Reliefer Harry Hopkins have been accustomed to barge into the big man's office with only a few minutes' warning. Now they must deal with "Jimmie."

The new system also presents a serious problem. Despite his ability, some of F.D.R.'s aides doubt whether "Jimmie" can decide whether a certain question should be submitted to his father of handled by himself. Messrs. Eccles, Kennedy and Hopkins often dash to the White House with matters which only the President or the Cabinet can settle satisfactorily. But now they must Jimmy their way in.

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

SOME New Deal circles have chosen to interpret the support which came into the stock market when last week's panic was at its worst as a Wall Street "vote of confidence" in the administration. The politicos who feel that way are doing a grand job of kidding themselves.

As we have previously reported, investment trust buying helped turn the tide. Why did the trusts go in at that juncture? Certainly not for the love of Roosevelt. Two separate motives lay behind their action.

1. Certain bankers, who assuredly had not thought of saving Mr. Roosevelt's face, urged them to step in. Their viewpoint was purely practical. They figured the collapse had gone beyond reasonable bounds and was approaching a point where it threatened to damage their interests.

2. Delicate intimations were conveyed to the trusts that their patriotic intervention would be duly appreciated by such potent agencies as the Federal Reserve Board and the Securities and Exchange commission. They were not averse to courting the good will of these bodies—but that's hardly equivalent to endorsing the New Deal.

WELCOME: The Interstate Commerce commission's approval of freight rate increases estimated at $47,000,000 was forecast here as sure to follow the recent wage concessions made by the railroads to the operating brotherhoods. Informed New Yorkers figure that the rate ruling was delayed a bit so that the connection between the two would not be too obvious.

The added revenue is helpful to hard-pressed carriers, but it won't cure their financial headaches by a long shot. Forty-seven million doesn't begin to cover the increased costs saddled on the railroads this year. The wage bill alone has risen by $135,000,000. Social security and other new taxes add millions more, and material costs are sharply up.

The real encouragement to rail leaders is the clearly expressed I.C.C. attitude that the railroads should be placed in a position to earn a reasonable return on their capital. The administration is understood to feel the same way about it. Such kind words from Washington have a strange but welcome ring to New York ears. In effect, the Commission has invited applications for further rate increases, and the roads will loss no time in accepting the invitation.

DOUBLE-PLAY: The prize sample of a political two-timer is a gentleman who is on Jerry Mahoney's payroll to write speeches. Last week he went around to Fusion headquarters—not revealing his other connection—and volunteered to write speeches for them without pay. They took him on, but at last accounts he was still collecting from the opposition.

Asked how come by a friend he replied: "I want to get in right with these Fusion people. Maybe they will give me a job after election. Loyalty to a lost cause won't feather my nest.

Boys Leading In Tests In Music

All boys have made the low 100 per cent grades recorded in the 1,200 musical ability tests given this week for boys and girls of Lubbock's public schools, according to H. A. Anderson who is in charge of the examinations.

However, tests have shown that the average grades for boys and girls are about the same, Anderson said.

Anderson is conductor of the Lubbock school band and in charge of the five saxette groups in the grade schools. He is assisted in administration of the tests by Burgess Brown of Abilene.

Hundreds To Be Made

More than 400 tests will be made before the end of the week bringing to a total of 1,600 the number of Lubbock children taking them. Every boy in Junior High school took the tests.

Tests have shown that the children here taking the examinations rank above the average in musical ability and that many pupils not studying music, and never have, rank with other children who have taken music.

Letters will be mailed to parents of children who have shown an unusual aptitude urging that the children be given musical instruction.

Cooperation Is Asked

Parents wishing their children to take tests are asked to notify school principals, Anderson said. The tests give information about the students' musical ear, their ability to discern musical patters and rhythm arrangements.

Later musical grades will be compared with grades made on intelligence tests, Anderson said, since teachers wish to know the relation of musical aptitude and intelligence.

In some cases tests may not prove entirely satisfactory in testing a students' aptitude so grades made will not be used entirely in picking students musically inclined Anderson said.

A dash of lemon juice or extract often will add a tang to cakes, cookies or frostings flavored with vanilla.

Gly-Cas' Action Changed Entire Outlook On Life

Rheumatic Pains, Soreness And Stomach Regulated Too; Like New Swelling, Driven From Her Body Again

"Gly-Cas wasted no time in giving me splendid results," said Mrs. J. W. Jenkins, Rt. 2, Longview, Texas. Rheumatism had settled over my body and was so distressing.

MRS. J. W. JENKINS

It was impossible to get any relief, soreness and swelling developed and at times the pain was dreadful. Of course my stomach became disordered, foods would sour after eating and bloating was entirely too frequent. To sleep at night was out of the question. I tried many different kinds of medicines in my stubborn case but met with little if any success. Finally I put Gly-Cas to the test in my case.

"Almost before I realized it, my health troubles were vanishing," continued Mrs. Jenkins. "It has completely changed by entire outlook on life. I hardly have a single symptom of rheumatism anymore. My stomach has been regulated too, gas, bloating and souring of foods has ended and I feel the best I have in months. Every sufferer should give Gly-Cas a fair trial, for this new remedy should not be compared with the ordinary medicines of today. Gly-Cas is the first medicine I have ever taken that did not disappoint me."

Gly-Cas is sold by Mark Halsey Drug Co., 1219 Broadway, this city, and by all the leading drug stores in surrounding towns.—Adv.

TARZAN'S QUEST, No. 85 By Edgar Rice Burroughs

Nkima followed the strange pair, pretending that he was stalking them, until they passed from the forest onto a plain where a forbidding village nestled at the foot of a lofty cliff. Nkima halted, for even to him there was something fearsome in the scene.

The tall gates of the palisade opened to admit the couple, then closed. Thus was the beautiful and delicate Annette received into the mysterious confines of the Kavuru village. Hundreds of girls had entered that sinister domain; none had ever returned!

Nkima whirled and scampered away toward Tarzan and his Waziri, but night overtook him and he spent the dark hours clinging to a high branch, shivering from cold and terror. But at noon of the next day he dropped, screaming and chattering, to Tarzan's shoulder.

Now the paper in Nkima's cleft stick fluttered under the ape-man's eyes. On it he saw—Jane's handwriting! A clue at last to his beloved mate! "Where did you get this, Nkima?" he demanded. The little monkey scratched his head. He could not remember.

RECOVERY TEMPO QUICKENS

NEW YORK, Oct. 29. (AP)—The recovery tempo quickens in today's stock market as speculative and investment forces were further heartened by implications of the recent slash in margins.

While a late selling wave cut down many early gains of 1 to 7 or more points among leaders, closing quotations were well up in all departments.

Transfers totalled 2,803,740 shares compared with 2,457,560 yesterday. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks added 1.3 points at 50.3 to its Thursday's advance. It was well above the high mark for the comeback posted prior to last week's slide.

The list tripped up near the final period on an unconfirmed news ticker report from Hyde Park that the president had intimated no change was contemplated in the much-disputed undistributed net income and capital gains taxes.

There was a subsequent moderate rally when it was learned the chief executive only said at his press conference he had noted newspaper stories speculating on a possible revision of these tax measures.

At the same time the financial sector seemed to hold the belief the Federal Reserve's margin decrease indicated further steps would be taken, if necessary, to reassure "big business" and encourage capital to come out of hiding.

Cotton..

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 29. (AP)—Steady outside markets buoyed cotton here today although prices continued to fluctuate within an extremely narrow range. The close was steady at net advances of 1 to 3 points.

The trade bought in small volume and shorts covered for over the week-end. Hedge selling appeared throughout the session but was absorbed at small setbacks. Longs continued to liquidate but offerings from this source were not large and did not affect the price trend, trend to any great extent.

Weather conditions were favorable, but the weather did not enter the market as a factor.

Foreign markets were better than expected and went a long way to offset the bearish weather implications.

Closing prices were slightly off from the best but were several points above the day's lows. Dec. closed at 8.21@8.22, Jan at 8.18, March at 8.16, May at 8.17, July at 8.18, Oct. at 8.24-bid and Dec. (new) at 8.29.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Oct. 29. (AP)—The price deadlock in cotton was unbroken today. After moving after a range of 5 to 10 points, the list closed 1 point higher to 1 lower. March which had eased from 8.12 to 8.02, ended at 8.07.

The market opened 2 to 4 points lower under hedging despite steadier Liverpool cables but prices soon moved up on a little foreign and local buying. Southern offerings were light, freer and accompanied by reports of a somewhat easier basis in the Mississippi valley. Otherwise there was little change in the situation generally. The market declined in the early afternoon in sympathy with a partial reaction in securities but turned steadier toward the close on a little covering.

AVERAGE PRICE

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 29. (AP)—The average price of middling cotton today at ten southern spot markets was 8.11 cents a pound; average for the past thirty market days 8.15 cents a pound.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Oct. 29. (AP)—Moderate net losses formed the outcome of Chicago wheat trading today after the market had several times nervously changed its general trend.

Outstanding factors on the side of lower prices were sharp downturns of Liverpool quotations, together with cables saying crop prospects in Argentine were being maintained, and that official estimates of Argentine wheat acreage had been decidedly increased.

Contributing to late downturns of wheat values were setbacks that various securities curretly showed from the day's top.

At the close, Chicago wheat futures were ¼ to ⅞ cents under yesterday's finish, Dec. 96@96⅛, May 95¼@95⅜, July 90⅞@91, corn unchanged to ⅜ lower, Dec. 58⅞@59, May 59⅝, July 60⅜, oats ¼ to ⅜ up, Dec. 30⅜, and rye varying from 1 cent decline to ¼ gain, Dec. 73¾. Provisions results were unchanged to 15 cents higher.

Roosevelt's Hopes

for a nationwide survey on what trades and professions are overcrowded.

The survey would be for guidance in training young people in the future. Mr. Roosevelt made the request of Williams after an informal meeting with national, regional and state directors of NYA. He shook hands with some 50 officials, talked with several about their problems, but made no speech.

No Direct Comment

The president made no direct comment on the speculation as to possible repeal or adjustment of present taxes on capital gains and undistributel surpluses, but said he wished to emphasize the speculative stories were from the point of view of the people who have and not from the viewpoint of the substandard population.

He said no mention was made in the speculation of the taxes the substandard group must bear.

Hopes For Future Increases

He expressed hope of great future increases is the income of the total population, saying that from $65,000,000,000 the national income probably would go on to $70,000,000,000 and might later continue to $90,000,000,000 or $10,000,000,000.

He said in that connection a labor department study showed direct government action had decreased the national income $2,500,000,000 this year as compared with last. A $1,500,000,000 item was eliminated from federal payments to citizens, because there was no soldier bonus item on this year's budget. The remaining $1,000,000,000 cut was due to a decrease in the money the government made available for relief purposes.

Sizzling Snakes

classed as reptiles, says the director, provided fresh meat for long voyages.

The snake idea is spreading beyond the garden. Mrs. Quillin says scientific field expeditions, taking the tip, have in some instances lived almost exclusively on rattlesnake meat in countries that offer little else for the dinner table.

Some Texas restaurants feature the meat—up to 1.25 and order, depending on how you like it cooked.

But the free sandwiches are still the main attraction in San Antonio.

"A cross between frog legs and Chicken," or between "fish and frog legs," say those who eat it. It's always a combination of gustatory reactions. No one has suggested that it tastes like any one thing they have eaten before, nor has anyone advanced the theory that it tastes like rattlesnake meat.

Completion Of Paving At Tech Is Expected To Be Made Today

Completion of 9,325 square yards of paving driveways with three-course rock and asphalt and placing of a seal coat on 20,000 square yards on the campus of Texas Technological college is expected today, according to officials of the Works Progress Administration Friday.

The seal coat is being placed on much of the old paving on the campus, said H. B. Jordan of the district WPA office here. The paving is the same type that is under construction by the City of Lubbock.

Fifty-seven men have been working on the project since Tuesday morning under supervision of Dick Awbrey, Jordan said.

Most of the other WPA projects on road construction have been suspended temporarily until after the need for seasonal labor in harvesting of cotton.

State BSU Meet Is On In City

Dr. R. C. Campbell, state executive secretary of the Baptist General conference, will deliver the main address on "Faithfulness, Christ's Only Requirement for His Followers."

"Challenge of Faith" will be the devotional discussed at the afternoon session which begins at 2:10 under Dr. Cauthen. Group discussions will be conducted at 2:30 on "Conclusive Christian Thinking and Consistent Living." A feature "Booketeria" program will begin at 3:20 under direction of Miss Thelma Brown of the Baptist Sunday School board at Nashville, Tenn. Dr. C. E. Hereford, pastor of the First Baptist church here, will speak on "A Dare to Campus Discipleship."

The night session will open with a talent program with informal presentations by the attending delegations. After special music Dr. Cauthen will lead a devotional on "Dynamic of Love." A musical tableau, "My Best for Christ," by the Denton BSU under direction of Miss Mary Alyce Scott will be one of the features of the night program. Dr. Frank Weedon of the First Baptist church at Denton will speak on "The Marks of a Maximum Christian." The BSU delegation from West Texas State Teachers college at Canyon under Miss Mary Jo Brown will give a master minority presentation.

Social Hour Tonight

A social hour in the young people's department, which had been scheduled for last night but which was postponed will be conducted tonight. Moving pictures of Ridgecrest and the Baptist World Youth conference will be shown.

Dr. Bradford Knapp, president of Tech, presented the welcome address at Friday night's session. Miss Lillian McCullough of Mary Hardin-Baylor college responded. Dr. Cauthen led the devotional on "The Joy of Discipline."

A number of students spoke in connection with "Christian Victories in Student Life Today." Special music was by two men's quartets. The main address was by Dr. J. W. Storer, pastor of the First Baptist church at Tulsa.

Texas Given $3,000,000

At the time the application was made, Roberts explained that Texas had been allotted approximately $3,000,000 for 1937-38.

"Within the next ten years it will be almost impossible for one to rent a desirable farm that is not equipped for electrical appliances."

Lubbock's first application bore the names of 1,081 persons as possible clients. Two supplemenal lists brought the total to 1,270. Lamb county at that time indicated it had 468 possible customers for 152 miles of line, Meadow 197 for 62, Garza 158 for 45, Lynn 282 for 88 and Hockley county had sent in approximately 300 blanks.

In Lubbock county lines would be run out of Idalou, Slaton, Monroe, and a point between Lubbock and the city, according to earlier maps. Slaton would be connected with Woodrow.

Three In Lynn County

Lynn county would have three connections, one from Meadow in Terry county to the west, another through Garza county from Grassland to Wilson and a third from O'Donnell. A short line would be out of Tahoka.

Post and Southland would be centers for Garza county, with an extensive system and a connection between the two points.

Lamb county has several centers, Littlefield, Amherst, Sudan and near Olton. Hart's Camp and Spade, east of Littlefield, would be served from Littlefield.

Increasing Bitterness Against Japs Evident In Britain

LONDON, Oct. 29. (AP)—Increasing bitterness against Japan was evident in informed circles tonight as a result of the mounting list of British casualties attributed to Japanese attacks in the battle for Shanghai.

Official quarters showed great indignation at the killing of three soldiers of the Royal Ulster rifles today while guarding the International settlement.

Informed sources said these deaths coming so soon after a British sentry was machinegunned to death Oct. 24, increased the resentment at the continuance of incident despite Japanese assertions they were taking steps to prevent them.

was reviewing an opinion it gave some time ago holding the chief clerk of the treasury was an "employe" and not an officeholder in the sense the constitution intended. In the Graves case, the question also enters as to whether the court was itself the judge of eligibility of its members. Presumably the appointment would have to be confirmed by the senate.

Should he want the position again, Graves would have to stand for election in 1938. The constitution provides an appointee of that type must face the electorate at the next general election.

News Briefs

An all-collegiate Halloween party, sponsored by the YM-YWCA organizations at Texas Technological college, will be held in the college gymnasium tonight, according to announcement Friday. The entertainment will start at 7:30 o'clock. All students are invited and may wear "old clothes or costumes" if they wish, it was announced. There will be no charge. Entertainment will consist of group games. Miss Dona Huff will be in charge of recreation at the party and will be assisted by members of the physical education classes and by John McCarver and Herbert Foster.

Weldon Bennett, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Bennett of Acuff, is one of eight students at Abilene Christian college at Abilene whose names will appear in the 1938 edition of "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities," according to information received here Friday. Bennett is active in college journalism, forensics, and religious activities on the ACC campus. He is a member of the James A. Garfield chapter of Alpha Chi, national scholarship fraternity; and of the "A" club, honor organization for men in Abilene Christian college.

Condition of Leland Wiseman, 18, of Dallas, last night was reported satisfactory by authorities at West Texas hospital where he was taken for treatment of injuries suffered when he fell 40 feet Friday morning at the Farmers Cooperative Oil Mill company in southeast Lubbock. He is an employe of the Texas Automatic Sprinkler company. He suffered three fractures of the right arm below the elbow, a skinned nose, and minor cuts and abrasions. He was taken to the hospital in a Sanders ambulance about 10:30 o'clock.

Two men, one from Louisville, Tex., 27, and the other from Lubbock, 30, were arrested by police at 12:20 o'clock this morning for investigation of theft of three blankets, one hat, a raincoat, two shirts, and two sample bags taken from cars on downtown streets, said M. N. Davidson, night sergeant on the police force. Arrest was by O. E. Rush, Melvin Alvey and W. J. Tucker of the police department, and two special officers.

L. H. Hungate Is Illness Victim

Funeral rites will be conducted here probably Monday afternoon for Louis H. Hungate, about 60, transportation inspector here for the Santa Fe railroad more than 20 years, according to information received Friday.

Hungate died Friday morning at the home of a son, Louis Hungate, in Memphis, Tenn., friends here were notified.

Mr. and Mrs. Hungate went to Memphis last Aug. 19 on what was intended to be a two weeks' visit with the son and the father was stricken while there. Mr. Hungate's health had not been good, the result of high blood pressure for several years.

After apparent improvement in his condition, he suffered a relapse and little hope had been held for several days for his recovery.

Hungate had been connected with the Santa Fe as agent in Carlsbad and Vaughn, N. M., for several years before coming to Lubbock in 1917.

Additional to the widow and son, he is survived by a sister, Mrs. Wright, of Littlefield.

Confession Changed

other man in a Pampa hotel and he slept all the next day. On the night of Sept. 19 Huddleston robbed a hotel at Borger.

Not Satisfied With Stories

"That eliminates him from the Hanna-Pope job," Abel said.

"We were not satisfied with the stories told by Huddleston when he was here before so we brought him back. He told us he burglarized the store and gave a portion of the jewels to two Lubbock men whom he hired to watch for him. We investigated his story and questioned the two men and found stories told by them and by Huddleston didn't coincide. We are convinced they had nothing to do with the burglary.

"The first Nineteenth Street Pharmacy burglary was Sept. 15 and the Hanna-Pope burglary was on the night of Sept. 18 or 19 and we are positive Huddleston's first visit to Lubbock was Sept. 22."

Confessed To Aid Officers

Huddleston told officers he confessed to the robberies of Hanna-Pope and Nineteenth Street Pharmacy to assist them in keeping their records clear and because he knew it would not hurt himself.

"But we prefer to have the crimes remain unsolved than to lay the blame on a person who did not commit them just to have a clear record," Sheriff Abel said. "These two burglaries still are unsolved and we will continue to work on them."

Connected With Second

Huddleston definitely was connected with the second Nineteenth Street Pharmacy robbery however, officers said, because part of the merchandise taken was identified after it had been found in an automobile deserted by the bandit.

Other burglaries of this area, including those at Lamesa, Brownfield, Sudan and other places, were perpetrated by Huddleston, officers said. He confessed to them shortly after he was arrested at Roswell, N. M., Oct. 17 and was transferred here the next day. Later that week he was taken to Waxahachie and was brought back here Wednesday.

Huddleston, blond and cocky, has penitentiary sentences against him which number more than 200 years for burglaries and thefts in several sections of the state.

Eagle Scout Awards Are Presented To Trio Last Night

James and Junior Moss and Billy Tucker, Boy Scouts of troop 3 of Lubbock, were presented with Eagle awards at the monthly court of honor held Friday night, in the district court room of the courthouse, according to information from Earl M. McClure, executive of the South Plains council.

John Carter Byers of troop 6 was given Eagle recognition. Life recognition went to Scoutmaster Jay E. Gordon of troop 11 and Star rank to Maurice Hood of troop 5, Charles McCoy and Jimmy Bledsoe of troop 9, and Ross Gee, jr., of troop 13.

George W. Dupree, court of honor chairman, presided at the session, attended by approximately 400 persons. W. G. McMillan showed moving pictures of a hunting trip into the Northeast. Approximately 50 merit badge awards were presented.

Troop 3 won the general attendance and mothers' attendance awards. In the court of honor shake-up troop 10 won first. Others in order were three, eleven, two, five, six, nine, twelve, thirteen, fourteen, eight, seven and four.

New tenderfoots were R. C. Travis of troop 2, and Billy Austin, James Campbell, John T. Read, Billy Aycock, Billy Rodgers, Malcolm Lawson, and L. D. Vessels, all of troop 10.

couple entered Manchoukuo. As they were traveling through that country, Japanese soldiers entered their compartment, pulled shades down, and although it was then night ordered them to take no pictures, and leaving door of the compartment open stationed themselves at each end of the railway car.

They had found Chinese soldiers friendly and courteous, said Dr. King. Nanking, a training center for thousands of soldiers, offered constant military spectacles, but no hostilities were seen by the couple in China. Only internal fighting happened during their visit there, and that was not in vicinity of Nanking.

If China emerges with any success from the present clash with Japan, it will be a much stronger nation because of the organization brought about between the central government and the so-called Red army, which have united to fight Japan, predicted Dr. King. Although the war is for the most part destructive, it has promoted a better feeling between the two groups and in a small degree has forwarded improvements in transportation and communication.

In speaking of friendliness of Chinese toward foreigners, Dr. King recalled homage paid to a visiting Italian official soon after Gen. Chiang Kia-Shek had received a gift of an airplane from Italy.

Trenches were being placed about Nanking and Shanghai and along railways when the couple was in Nanking.

Mrs. King was secretary of the Nanking's Women's club, composed mostly of American, English and German women, and came into contact several times with Madame Kia-Shek.

King had secured the position in China for two years through the New York office of the University of Nanking.

He spoke of difference in farming methods which he taught there and those in America. "In teaching in China, one must realize the conditions under which Chinese live and work." Labor is plentiful and capital scarce. Farms average about two and one-half acres each, while the average is near 100 acres in the United States, he said. Extremely few farm machines are used there, most labor being done by hand.

"In the United States conditions are better adapted to this country, whereas what we consider modern would not be advisable in China," he said.

Although rice is the principal crop there, few Chinese eat rice. More eat wheat products.

Dr. King was awarded his Ph. D. degree last summer at Cornell university. He plans to visit here at least until after the homecoming celebration on Nov. 11 at Tech.

Third Annual Carnival Is Held At High School Thursday Eve

Lubbock High school's third annual all-school carnival was conducted Thursday night at the high school gymnasium with approximately 1,000 students attending. A pep rally followed the carnival, said Jane Prickett, president of the student council.

The main attraction was a floor show which began at 7:30 o'clock under direction of Maurine Cunningham, Spanish instructor. Jack Giles acted as master of ceremonies.

Proceeds taken in by club booths, amounting to $36.25, went for purchase of a large "H" made of flowers for the Harvester football team from Pampa here Friday. The remainder will be used to assist in sending members of the student council to a convention in Waco in the spring.

Farm Legislation

would be so attractive," Pulmer asserted, "every farmer would want to come in on the program."

Representative Coffee (D-Neb.), of the subcommittee on wheat, said he favored a dual price level for farm products having an exportable surplus. In the case of wheat he would have some agency buy up export supplies at a price sufficiently high to maintain domestic market levels and find an outlet for them abroad at world prices.

Recalls Old Principle

This could be done, he said, either by direct use of public funds or by assessing an "equalization fee" of a few cents a bushel on wheat marketing domestically. His plan recalls the old McNary-Haugen principle of farm relief, that a commodity served should pay for the removal of its own surplus.

Coffee estimated a loss of $20,000,000 to the treasury in acquiring wheat surpluses under such a system would result in a net gain of $150,000,000 for wheat farmers.

Still A Good Possibility Of Some Acceptable

BRUSSELS, Oct. 29. (AP)—Diplomats today expressed belief there was still a good possibility the conference on the Chinese-Japanese war would evolve some acceptable peace plan despite Japanese and German refusal to participate.

Germany's decision not to accept the Belgian invitation for the Nov. 3 meeting because she was not a signatory of the 1922 agreement to respect China's territorial integrity was received with marked disappointment.

Dean Comfort Completes Series Of Lectures At Tech Friday

Dean E. N. Comfort of the school of religion of the University of Oklahoma Friday completed a series of lectures here when he spoke at a convention in the engineering auditorium at Texas Technological college on "How to Treat Pests."

Thursday morning he spoke to members and guests of the YM-YWCA in the lounge of the women's dormitory at Tech. That afternoon he spoke to a small group of consisting of approximately 30 persons. He lectured again Thursday night.

He went from here to West Texas State Teachers college at Canyon which cooperated with Tech in bringing him to West Texas. He spoke Thursday morning to an assembly of public school students at Levelland where a nephew, B. F. Minor, is schools superintendent.

Nationally Hunted Gangster Is Captured In Cleveland Friday

CLEVELAND, Oct. 29. (AP)—Cleveland police announced they captured Frank Bird, nationally hunted gangster, and his wife, here tonight. Bird was captured without a shot being fired at the home of his wife's parents.

Federal agents had surrounded the house. They had been maintaining constant watch in the neighborhood.

Bird is one of the notorious Bird brothers who have been at the head of the government's wanted list.

RELEASED ON BOND

POST, Oct. 29. (Special)—Wesley Northcut, charged with being an accomplice to murder in connection with the death of the husband of Cloe Johnson, today had been released on bond, according to authorities.

He was indicted by a grand jury last week. Mrs. Johnson, charged by indictment with murder in connection of the death of her husband who died in the flames of their shack residence near here, had not posted bond, officers said.

EXPLOSION IS REPORTED

POST, Oct. 29, (Special)—A compress explosion at the Thomas Bros. gin at Grassland late last night damaged the plant at least several hundred dollars, it was reported by operators of the gin. Cause of the explosion was not known here.

None was hurt since all the employes were in a part of the gin un-damaged by the explosion. "All one end of the gin was blown out by the explosion," it was reported.

Permits For October Go Above $400,000

Building permit totals for October surpassed the $400,000 mark Friday when Acting City Building Inspector Jim Reid issued a permit authorizing construction of a $750 lumber shed.

The month's figure climbed to $400,305 and the year's to $1,400,610, according to aggregates released last night.

The permit was to George W. Gray, owner, and O. O. Sampson, contractor, to build a lumber shed at 1520 Texas avenue at an estimated cost of $750.

Tech Theater Is Opened After Being Remodeled Past Week

After completion of alterations at a cost of approximately $5,000, according to P. E. Smith and W. O. Bearden, managers, Tech theater at 1211 College avenue was reopened Friday night.

Improvements were begun Monday night and the theater remained closed this week, but it opened at 7 o'clock last night showing "There Goes My Girl" with Gene Raymond and Ann Sothern.

Among the improvements are 200 new upholstered seats, new sound equipment, carpets, new lighting fixtures and other changes. Smith Contractor for the work was J. B. Maxey and Son.

Smith and Bearden opened the theater building in June, 1936.

Southwest Gains Lead All Areas

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—Retail distribution provided the brightest spot in trade movements this week, Dun & Bradstreet said today in the weekly review of business.

"While gains lacked uniformity," the agency said, "improvement was less scattered and more items fell within the line of demand.

Reorders Sustain Volume

"Reorders to balance fall inventories sustained wholesale volume, with holiday commitments encouraged by prospects of larger payments to Christmas club depositors than a year ago.

"Industrial progress was sidewise, the rise in automobile and seasonal goods operations failing to counterbalance the dip in steel, metal products, and some of the textile divisions."

Better Than Last Year

The agency estimated retail sales for the country as a whole at from 2 to 5 per cent ahead of the previous week and from 5 to 15 per cent better than the comparable week in 1936. Part of the enlarged turnover was attributed to promotions which featured price reductions.

Percentage increases over a year ago in the major geographic areas were: New England 5 to 12; East 4 to 16; Middle West 15 to 30; Northwest 8 to 15; South 10 to 16; Southwest 12 to 25 and Pacific Coast 3 to 6.

Tech Graduate Named To Head Iowa Park Experiment Station

Lester E. Brooks, 1928 horticulture graduate of Texas Technological college and who has been stationed at Iowa Park since 1929 as horticulturist of the Texas agricultural experiment station, recently was appointed superintendent of the sub-station at Iowa Park.

He succeeds C. H. McDowell who was appointed superintendent of the state and federal soil conservation experiment station at Temple.

Brooks entered Tech as an agricultural student when the college first opened and by attending in summers was graduated with the first agricultural class in 1928. He taught one year in Plainview High school.

Nola Luxford Of Radio, Screen Fame Sues For Maintenance

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 29. (AP)—Mrs. Nell Baurenschmidt—Nola Luxford of the radio and screen—in an amended cross complaint for separate maintenance filed in superior court here today, accused her husband, William Baurenschmidt, jr., of Baltimore of making love publicly with another woman.

Named as correspondent in the complaint was Miss Grace Keplinger, of Shreveport, La. The complaint charges Baurenschmidt made love to her in Shreveport while he was there looking after his oil interests.

Mrs. Luxford asked the court to grant her an allowance of $135 a month for one year and then $100 a month for life.

Mrs. Luxford accused her husband of announcing his intention to wed Miss. Keplinger after divorce had been obtained. She also charged that he once spent the night in a tourist camp with a waitress.

A Brownfield man saw a large goitre removed from his neck at Texas Technological college, and laughed during the operation.

No anesthetic was administered but he felt no pain when he watched the surgeon cut the abnormal growth from around his windpipe.

The operation was June 12 in a sanitarium, but the patient saw the entire process four and one half months later in a motion picture shown to 57 pre-med club members and visitors at Horn hall, men's dormitory on the college campus.

In England a billion is a million million instead of a thousand million as in the United States and France.

President Of Amicable Life Insurance Co., Says South Plains Cotton State's Best

Cotton on the South Plains not only is the best in Texas this year, it is better as a crop than has been raised on any corresponding area anywhere in the state in at least 25 years.

This was the observation here Friday of A. R. Wilson, president of the Amicable Life Insurance company, who started home Friday after a periodical three-day trip to the South Plains. He plans to reach Waco by noon today, as he said, "to see Baylor beat T. C. U. I hope." Wilson spent most of the time here in conference with Chas. A. Whitacre, South Plains agent for the company.

President For 17 Years

Wilson's comments as to cotton crops were based on connection with Amicable which began before the company received its Texas charter in 1910. He has been president of the company since 1920, a responsibility which has required that he keep in close touch with crop conditions—particularly cotton.

His comments as to present conditions and future outlook of Lubbock and the Plains placed him in the forefront of the most enthusiastic boosters this region has. As proof of the confidence his company has in the area, he cited that $3,000,000 of its assets invested in the South Plains. That is several times more he added, than in any area of corresponding size anywhere else.

Comments On Area

"I believe that a fellow could be blind-folded, buy a South Plains farm at the first asking price of the seller and still make a profitable investment," said Wilson. "It might take a few years, but eventually the buyer would make money, even under those conditions."

As evidence of conditions here he related that last year, the money invested by insurance companies of the nation in real estate earned approximately one per cent. That of his company invested in South Plains real estate, he added, yielded 4.1 per cent.

EXPORTATION FORBIDDEN

BUENOS AIRES, Oct. 29. (AP)—The Argentine government today forbade exportation of wheat and wheat flour until further notice, when consignments of new wheat arrive on local markets.

The decree was based on an unusual rise in bread prices and the limited supply of old wheat.

Rails Seeking 15 Per Cent Raise

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Oct. 29—The nation's major railroads today voted to seek increases in freight and passenger rates calculated to boost their annual income by $508,000,000.

The Association of American Railroads decided to ask the interstate commerce commission to authorize a 15 per cent hike in all freight charges except those on "coal, coke, lumber, fruits, vegetables and sugar, for certain maximums will be asked in each instance."

To Advance Coach Rates

The organization of all class one carriers also elected to petition the I. C. C. immediately for permission to advance coach fares in the eastern district from the current 2 cents a mile rate to 2 1-2 cents and coach fares in the southern district from the present 1 1-2 cents basis to 2 cents a mile.

Western lines joined in a move to obtain a $5 increase in trans-continental fares between Chicago and the Pacific coast with corresponding adjustments between intermediate points and increases in the round trip, 30 day coach fares and round trip, intermediate tourist car fares.

Revenue Is Estimated

Executives estimated the new freight scale would bring in an additional $459,500,000 annually with $48,500,000 more realized from the higher passenger schedule.

J. J. Pelley, the Association's president, issued a statement which said in part:

"This action has been forced upon the railroads because the margin between income and operating expenses has been squeezed so thin they face a real crisis.

Costs Are Increasing

"Facing the railroads today is an increase in operating costs totaling $663,303,000 annually since early in 1933. Of that amount, more than half results from new taxes . . . and from a 40 per cent increase in the prices of materials, supplies and fuel. The rest is due to restoration in 1937 of the ten per cent wage reduction originally made in 1932 and to recent wage agreements with the operating and nonoperating unions.

"The revenue for hauling a ton of freight one mile or carrying a passenger a mile stands today at ten per cent of what it was even at the low point of the depression.

"The total net income earned by the railroads, available for interest, dividends, improvements and reserves, was only 2.57 per cent on their investment in 1936. Ninety-six railroad companies are now in the hands of receivers or trustees."

The English language contains about 455,000 words.

MORE ARTIFICIAL SILK

ROME (AP)—Production of artificial silk in Italy this year is expected to be six times that of 1930.
