Deferred Tax Payment Bill Goes To Sterling After Final Action Of Solons

Home Town Talk

By B. D. D.

Applications for Red Cross aid are being received from rural residents of Wichita county at the rate of 30 to 40 a day, according to a report from county Red Cross officials.

Those in need are being given orders for food but as yet no provision has been made for clothing of which a number of applicants are in need. Persons having clothing which they can donate are asked to bring it to the Memorial auditorium or to get in touch with parent-teacher organizations in the rural districts.

While the Red Cross is carrying on its relief work in the rural districts, the Will Rogers benefit committee is pushing its sales of tickets for Mr. Rogers' benefit performance here Friday afternoon. Already tickets have been sold aggregating a larger amount than have been realized for a number of Mr. Rogers' appearances in Texas and while the goal of $15,000 may not be reached a very large proportion of that sum will be raised for relief work in Wichita and other counties in this section.

In all the counties joining in the benefit the proceeds will first go to meet the Red Cross quotas of those counties and the remaining amounts will be disbursed by local committees. In Wichita county this plan is being carried out, the amount above the county's quota of $1,000 being distributed among local organizations in Burkburnett, Electra and Iowa Park ratably according to ticket sales in those communities.

Following the death of Amos J. Mitchell in an automobile accident near Houston Sunday morning it has been learned that he was unknown man who for several years has provided Mrs. Davidson, travelers aid at the Union station with a special fund for providing food for unfortunate travelers. Mr. Mitchell attempted to keep his identity hidden even from Mrs. Davidson and it was only quite accidently that she learned who he was. Mrs. Davidson made known his identity only after his death.

Mr. Mitchell was a man who had known privation himself. What a thrill he must have gotten out of his secret benefactions to those who were hungry like he himself had been. Talker did not have the good fortune of acquaintance with Mr. Mitchell. He would like to have known him.

More face creams and lipsticks are used per capita by the women of Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, Texas, Virginia and the Carolinas than the women of other states, according to Ruth D. Maurer, nationally known beauty authority. The women of these states, it is said. Pay three tenths of annual national cosmetics bill of $2,000,000,000, although the population of these states is less than one-fourth the population of the United States.

"There are two reasons for the heavy sale of cosmetics in the South," Mrs. Maurer said. "For one thing, climatic conditions demand the free use of creams and lotions which will prevent dryness of the skin. Then, the southern woman has an innate femininity which she expresses in a characteristic daintiness of dressing and manners."

Not so many years ago a statement that they were spending more than their sisters in other states for cosmetics would have been considered a reflection upon southern women. Now the fact that they do is considered a tribute to their femininity.

Ambitious young Americans of whom proud relatives have said, "That boy will be governor some day!" had better take serious thought of the profession they will enter. By far the majority of governors during the last 15 years have been lawyers, according to a study of the careers of these executives by Samuel R. Solomon of Syracuse university, writing in the forthcoming issue of the National Municipal Review.

Of some 200 governors, 86 started out as lawyers, 18 as teachers, 15 as financiers and 10 as farmers. Seven were manufacturers and six were engineers. The gubernatorial ranks have numbered only five editors in 15 years, although one newspaper reporter was elected. Only four real estate men and two doctors were successful. However, two

COMPROMISE ON TWO MEASURES GIVES RELIEF

Adopted Plan Allows Until Oct. 15 for Settling State Levies

APPROVAL ASSURED

Bill Provides 10 Per Cent Interest After Feb. 1; Split Allowed

AUSTIN, Jan. 28. (AP)—Final action on tax payment relief in Texas was left with Gov. Ross S. Sterling today after both houses passed a bill drafted by a free conference committee calling for a deferred payment play in collecting 1930 taxes.

The bill as adopted was a compromise between the Oneal and Weinert bills. The house passed the bill by a vote of 136-6. The senate voted 29-0 for the measure.

Members of the legislature expected Governor Sterling to sign the bill tomorrow. They pointed out he had advocated a semi-annual tax payment plan.

Oct. 15 Is Limit

Under the provisions of the bill passed today 1930 taxes if paid by Oct. 15 would escape the delinquent tax penalty. Interest of 10 per cent per year would be charged from Feb. 1. After Oct. 15, a delinquent tax penalty of 5 per cent would be imposed on all unpaid taxes.

Taxpayers would be privileged to make payments of half their taxes at a time.

The bill would not in any manner interfere with schedules of tax payments in school and water districts already using a system provided by law.

The bill would apply to 1930 taxes only. Under the present law, all taxes must be paid by Feb. 1.

BILL PROVIDES SPLIT PAYMENT

AUSTIN, Jan. 28. (AP)—Three days before the final date for paying taxes under the present law, the legislature today passed a bill which would keep taxes from becoming delinquent until Oct. 15.

The only thing which stood between the proposal and its enactment into law was the signature of Gov. Ross S. Sterling, and propo-

Studies Valley

Dr. W. E. Paulson, marketing expert of Texas A. & M. college, will tour the Wichita irrigated valley today before addressing a meeting of truck and fruit growers here. Dr. Paulson will make the tour in company with G. A. Remington, general manager of the district, in order to familiarize himself with local conditions.

TRUCK-FRUIT GROWERS MEET

Valley Farmers to Discuss Problems Today

The problem of establishing a dependable market for truck and orchard products of the Wichita irrigated valley will be tackled vigorously at a meeting of valley farmers, called for this afternoon at 2 p. m., at the city council room in the Memorial auditorium.

Dr. Walter E. Paulson, marketing research specialist of Texas A. & M. college, a recognized authority on farm marketing problems, will be the principal speaker.

It is expected that a permanent organization will be effected at the meeting. The meeting was called by G. A. Remington, general manager of the water improvement districts. It is the first definite move taken in several years to solve the marketing problem, the lack of a solution of which has deterred development of the valley.

All valley farmers and land-owners and any others interested will be welcomed.

Dr. Paulson holds the degree of doctor of philosophy from the University of Wisconsin. He has been engaged in teaching and research work since 1909, having interspersed teaching with his college studies until the completion of the latter in 1923. He holds membership in the American Farm Economics association, American Economics association, National Association of Marketing Officials, National Association of Teachers of Marketing and Advertising, and the Agricultural History society.

Since coming to Texas, Dr. Paulson has devoted the major part of his time to a study of vegetable marketing in the lower Rio Grande valley. He has paid particular attention to mixed car movements, cooperative marketing, methods of sales, quality of products and the general development of the vegetable industry in that section of Texas.

SUIT ATTACKS VALIDITY OF WATER VOTE

Personal Responsibility for Future Distress Laid To Bond Opponents

INJUNCTION SOUGHT

Unemployed Express Faith In Integrity of Election Officials

Opponents of Wichita Falls' program of water improvements will be "personally responsible" for the distress of families of unemployed men if they persist in their plans to fight the recent bond election in the courts, according to resolutions adopted Wednesday night at a mass meeting of unemployed at the courthouse.

Suit Only Delays Work

The resolutions asked the withdrawal of a suit filed late Tuesday afternoon in the 89th district court attacking the validity of the bond issue.

Speakers at the meeting, among them Jack Ballard, Henry B. Ellis and Laverne Somerville, expressed confidence in the integrity of city and election officials, and declared that any effort to fight the bonds in the courts is expected to result only in the delay of the much needed improvements here. The city can dispose of its bonds and carry out its program at present more advantageously than at any time in years, it was pointed out, and at the same time can furnish employment to scores of men who are vitally in need of work. The resolutions adopted at the meeting follow:

Confidence in Officials

"Whereas, we have explicit confidence in the honesty of the men and women holding the recent bond election for the city, and

"Whereas, we have explicit confidence in the city administration and their fulfillment of the pre-election statements, and

"Whereas, we feel that any contest as filed will accomplish no community good but will only delay the starting of the proposed work and thereby withhold from the unemployed the right and privilege of earning wages from which we may provide for the distress of our families,

"Therefore, be it resolved by those present, representing the unemployed of Wichita Falls, that those filing the contest of the election be requested to withdraw said contest, and should they fail to do so, it is the sense of this body that they shall be looked upon as personally responsible for any further distress forced upon us by the delay."

The group voted to start a fund to provide gas for destitute families, to hear all protests of unemployed laborers at the offices in the Staley building, and to hold another mass meeting next Wednesday night at the Memorial auditorium.

OPPONENTS FILE INJUNCTION SUIT

Suit was brought in the 89th district court here late Wednesday afternoon by Mack Thomas et al. against the city of Wichita Falls through its various officials for an injunction restraining the defendants from "ever issuing or selling" water improvement bonds voted in the election held here on Jan. 20.

Sartin and Cox File Suit

Filed by B. D. Sartin and P. B. Cox, local attorneys, on the heels of a notice sent to Attorney-General James V. Allred Tuesday announcing purpose to protest the recent bond election, the petition asks for hearing on the action before Judge P. A. Martin in the term opening on April 6, which is the next regular term. Questioned Wednesday night relative to the matter, city officials stated that an

Butler Gets Life Term For Torch Slaying

FORT WORTH, Jan. 28. (UP)—H. D. Butler swapped two years for 99 when he pleaded guilty to the torch murder of Roy Hawthorne, in the criminal district court here today.

Butler was pardoned of a two-year manslaughter conviction, by Governor Ross Sterling, Tuesday so that he might testify in the trial of Herbert Stanley, also charged with the torch murder. Stanley received a 99-year sentence late Tuesday. Butler testified that he saw Stanley enter the bathroom where Hawthorne was and then heard blows. Stanley submerged Hawthorne's head in water "to be sure he was dead" Butler said.

DO-X Brazil Flight Scheduled Saturday

LISBON, Portugal, Jan. 28. (AP)—The German flying boat DO-X will begin its South Atlantic flight toward Brazil at 7 o'clock Saturday morning instead of tomorrow, as had been scheduled. The postponement was decided tonight at a meeting of delegates of the German ministry of transportation.

Officials said they were not quite satisfied with the behavior of the 12 American motors in today's test flight, although they asserted a record had been established for heavier than air machines by carrying for the first time a weight of 55 tons.

Deep Oil Test May Be 'Shot'

Nitroglycerin will be set off in the KMA deep oil test if the swabbing operations now under way do not prove the well a commercial producer, officials of the Deep Oil Development company said Tuesday night.

Bailing and swabbing of the sandy lime in the well, No. 1 Munger, continued throughout Wednesday with no decrease in the amount of oil extracted. In 12 hours the test showed 50 barrels and in its present condition may be considered a 100-barrel well, the operators said. This amount, however, would not make such a deep well profitable and if the swabbing does not increase the output a "shot" will be made in the oil bearing formation.

The well is located north of KMA in southwest Wichita county. It will be swabbed further and the hole cleaned out thoroughly before being shot, the drillers said. The sandy lime was topped at 3719 feet and drilled to 3740 feet.

NOTED SINGERS JOIN ROGERS

Many Good Seats Left For $1—$2.50

The General Motors company quartet, one of the leading groups of entertainers on the NBC radio chain, will join Will Rogers in his program in Wichita Falls Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock, according to a telegram Wednesday from Rogers to Walter D. Cline, chairman of ticket sales here.

Travel by Plane

Only unusually severe weather will prevent the appearance of the quartet, the telegram said. The addition of the quartet will provide the fourth nationally famous number for the Wichita Falls program. In addition to Will Rogers and the quartet, Jimmy Rodgers, the yodeling brakeman of movie and radio fame, and Chester Byers, world's champion trick rope artist, will appear. Capt. Frank Hawks, is piloting Rogers' plane while Earle Halliburton has provided a tri-motored Ford plane for the use of the other entertainers.

There are many excellent seats available for the public at $1 and $2.50 for the program at the Memorial auditorium, Mr. Cline said. Many of the $2.50 seats are on the first floor. From the purely commercial viewpoint, Wichitans will seldom have the opportunity of hearing so many famous entertainers for such prices, Mr. Cline pointed out. Every dollar of the money will go for the relief of drouth and unemployment victims. Will Rogers and the other entertainers are providing their own expenses on the tour.

Graham Leads Sales

Attendance of out-of-town residents at the program Friday is expected to break all previous records, according to those in charge of the ticket sales. Graham has been the largest purchaser of tickets. Rev. J. E. Montgomery of that city was here Wednesday and turned in $300 for 84 tickets. He stated that the Graham committee had not completed its sale. Seymour has purchased almost $300 in tickets and expects to sell more.

'JACK' WALTON INDICTED FOR MAIL SWINDLE

Former Governor and 17 Others Charged With Oil Fraud

JOURNALIST NAMED

Henry Knight Miller, Richard Enright and S. E. J. Cox Face Charges

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 28. (AP)—A federal grand jury climaxed a sensational session with mail fraud indictments of J. C. (Jack) Walton, ousted Oklahoma governor; Richard E. Enright, former New York City police commissioner; Henry Knight Miller, editor of the magazine Psychology, S. E. J. Cox, one-time associate of Dr. Frederick A. Cook, and 15 others, late today.

The indictments were returned in connection with alleged promotion operations of the now defunct Universal Oil and Gas company here. Cox and eight others have been free on bond for months on the charges. Walton, Enright and Miller have not been arrested.

Defendants Named

Roy St. Lewis, district attorney, gave the names of those indicted as Walton, Enright, Miller, Cox, Mrs. Neil E. Cox, T. A. White, Watt Edwards, H. A. Kroeger, W. F. Collins, J. Garfield Crawford, and James Dunn.

Eight others indicted have not been apprehended and their names were withheld.

Lewis said fraudulent operations of the company involved $750,000. Investigation of the company has been under way for nearly a year under direction of Lewis, Fred A. Wagoner, assistant U. S. attorney, and E. R. Cochran, postal inspector.

135 True Bills

The jury returned 135 true bills and one no-bill when it reported to Federal Judge Edgar S. Vaught at the end of the three-day session this afternoon.

Cox, recently acquitted of mail fraud charges in Texas after serving a previous term with Dr. Cook, Arctic explorer and promoter, is alleged to have been the unofficial head of Universal.

Miller, Lewis said, was to have been paid 5 per cent of brokers' commission for advertising the company.

Enright had been questioned previously concerning the "membership advertisements" of the company's pre-organization syndicate.

Walton Seeks Office

Officers said a letter bearing his alleged signature said: "I will feel proud of my association with the men who compose your board of directors."

Walton, who yesterday filed his candidacy for mayor of Oklahoma City, had been mentioned prominently in connection with the company's promotion.

Lewis said Walton was the first chairman of the Universal organization board and the author of a pamphlet "Why Investors Lose in Oil" which was circulated by the company and which was the basis of the mail fraud charges.

Crosses Murray

Lew Wentz, millionaire Oklahoma highway commission chairman, Wednesday was removed from office by Gov. W. H. Murray. The governor said Wentz, a Republican, would not work harmoniously with other members of the commission. Wentz was one of Murray's most active foes in the election campaign and his removal had been expected.

TERRELL HEADS RAIL BOARD

Seniority Rule Put Back Into Force

AUSTIN, Jan. 28. (UP)—The Texas railroad commission today adopted a senority rule making C. V. Terrell, chairman. He suceeds former Gov. Pat M. Neff of Waco who was made chairman when he was appointed to fill a vacancy caused by death of Clarence Gilmore. Under the order Terrell will be chairman for two years, Lon A. Smith then will be chairman two years and Neff then for two years.

Terrell and Lon A. Smith, third member of the commission, signed the resolution making the change.

The resolution follows:

"Whereas it has been the practice of the Texas railroad commission up until the death of Chairman C. E. Gilmore to elect the senior member of the commission as its chairman, and,

"Whereas when ex-Governor Neff was appointed commisioner to fill out the unexpired term of Mr. Gilmore, out of respect and friendship for Mr. Neff, Commissioners C. V. Terrell and Lon A. Smith, both being senior members yielded their seniority right and elected Mr. Neff as chairman of the commission for the unexpired term of Chairman Gilmore, deceased, and,

"Whereas said term has expired and inasmuch as said established rule of seniority has been broken, we think it fair and just to all members of the commisison and to the people of Texas that the chairmanship of the railroad commission of Texas be hereafter rotated among its members. This is a practice followed by many other state commissions and particularly by the Interstate Commerce commission at Washington, D. C.

"Therefore, be it resolved that the senior member of the Texas railroad commission be and is hereby elected chairman for a term of two years, beginning this, the 28th day of January, 1931, and at the expiration of said two years, the next senior member of the commission shall be elected chairman for two years, and at the expiration of his two years as chairman the third or junior member of the commission shall be elected chairman for two years.

Neff had been chairman of the commission since his appointment about a year ago. Terrell has been a member of the commission since 1924.

SAM R. HAWKS APPOINTED TO HEAD BOARD

Expected Move Attributed To Inharmonious Relations

INQUIRY ORDERED

Senate Secretary Charged With Aiding Business Of Step-Son

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 28. (AP)—Gov. W. H. Murray's long-expected removal of Lew Wentz, Ponca City multimillionaire, as chairman of the state highway commission, came late today.

Murray issued an executive order directing that Wentz be reduced to membership of the commission, and that Sam R. Hawks, Clinton, newly appointed member, head the board.

Wentz will remain a member of the commission at least for the present, Murray indicated.

The governor said "the relation between the chief executive of this state and the present chairman are of such nature that agreement, concurrence and a harmonious cooperation are impossible under present conidtions."

Wentz is a Republican, Hawks a Democrat.

Legality Questioned

The effect of a bill pending in the Oklahoma house, which would provide that the governor might designate the chairman of any state board or commission, was nullified in committee today through an amendment, which would not permit the governor to remove Wentz until his term expired.

The legality of Murray's move, which is questioned by friends of Wentz, is expected to receive further substantiation by action of the two Democratic commissioners.

Hawks and S. C. Boswell the third member, are expected to reorganize the commission as Murray wishes.

Wentz had no comment to make, receiving the report of the governor's action with apparent good humor.

Hawks Silent

Hawks said the commission had not been notified officially of the order and that no statement would be made.

Wentz indicated he believed the governor had no right to remove him from the chairmanship.

Friends of Wentz believe he will remain on the commisison despite removal from the chairmanship.

He was appointed by ex-Governor Holloway for a six-year term in 1929. The commission bore the designation as chairman.

"I take this action because Wentz will not work in harmony with me nor the rest of the board," was Murray's only statement.

Probe Ordered

An investigation was ordered late today into alleged activities of C. H. Pittman, secretary of the senate, in using his influence to promote

Gas Tank Blast Injures Boy Here

Seriously burned about the legs and body and with the possibility that he may lose his left eye, Carl Calvin O'Cleary, 6-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. O'Cleary, 1219 North Eighth street, was at the Wichita Falls Clinic hospital after he had struck a match to the gasoline tank of an abandoned automobile in the back yard of his home late Wednesday afternoon.

The automobile, it was said, had been wrecked and placed in the back yard. The child had been playing about the car and enough gasoline had been in the tank to cause an explosion when he struck the match near it. The tank was blown from the automobile and burst into flames, which were extinguished when fire equipment answered an alarm to the place.

Twenty-Three Miners Die As Spark Ignites Blasting Powder

LINTON, Ind., Jan. 28. (AP)—More than a score of coal miners were killed when 600 pounds of black powder exploded in the Little Betty mine near here late today.

About 25 men were in the north main section of the mine when the blast occurred. Two of the men, critically injured, were brought to the Linton hospital. One of them is expected to die.

Dr. C. C. Hamilton, who was dispatched to the scene from the Linton hospital, reported tonight that rescue workers had all of the blast victims and that all were dead.

The explosion was believed to have been the result of a spark igniting the blasting powder sent down for the shot firers as the day shift was coming off duty.

Don Burris, who was conscious when taken from the mine told the story of the explosion.

He said he was at his usual work as a trip rider on a conveyor when the explosion occurred. Although he was a mile back from the shaft opening, Burris said the blast upset the conveyor and broke the trolley. He was knocked to the floor of the mine.

Calling to several men near him, he told them to grasp the conveyor trolley and use it as a guide to the entrance. Burris said he did this himself and set off in the pitch darkness. Later he was overcome by gas and knew nothing more until after he was rescued.

The rescue workers were hampered by poisonous aid and in calling for reinforcements the volunteers were warned they were risking their lives in going into the shaft.

The mine was badly damaged, which further blocked efforts of the workers.

SECTIONAL ROW MOVES DEMOS

House Members From Dixie In Line for Big Posts

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28. (UP)—Democrats are confronted with the bugaboo of sectional jealousy as they look forward to the possibility of organizing the next house of representatives, a possibility that is being treated almost as a reality by those ambitious for place and power.

Party members from other sections are talking much, privately, of the prospect of Southern control of the key posts in event Democrats should have a majority and organize by the time the new house meets.

Southern Democrats would get virtually all the important committee chairmanships if the rule of seniority were followed as usual. Six Texans would be at the helm of leading committees, and a Texan, Representative John N. Garner, is conceded the speakership if Democrats organize. Then, too, only Southerners have been mentioned for the next most powerful post, that of floor leader.

The Tammany Democratic delegation from New York, never very friendly with the Southern wing of the party, is most resentful over the prospect. New York would get only two important chairmanships, the immigration and postoffice committee posts. The state considers itself entitled to more.

Only four votes now separate the two parties, with the certainty that Democrats will fill vacancies caused by death in two strong Democratic districts in New York. This will cut the Republican margin to two votes. The lineup is 218 Republicans; 214 Democrats, one Farmer-Labor, and the two New York vacancies. About 10 members on an average die during a year, and this leaves the final lineup in doubt.

Supreme Court to Rule on Osage Tax

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28. (UP)—The supreme court today was asked to rule on the right of the federal court to impose income taxes on many of the Osage Indians who have acquired wealth since the discovery of oil on their alloted lands.

T. J. Leahy, Pawhuska, Okla., counsel for Henry Chouteau, a competent Osage, told the court that his client is exempt from the tax under previous court rulings which have held Indians to be separate from other classes of natives.

Solicitor General Thayer argued that Chouteau's income is taxable since he was "fully emancipated except as to homestead" when he received a certificate of competency.

The circuit court held that Chouteau was subject to income taxes and at the same time ruled that white beneficiaries of Indian income must also pay them.

HOLLIS, Okla., Jan. 28.—Through the efforts of Congressman James V. McClintic of the seventh district, aid from the Red Cross has been secured for the destitute people living on the 28,000-acre strip between Oklahoma and Texas which was awarded to Texas some few months ago through a supreme court decision and the funds will be distributed through the Red Cross chapter of Hollis. For the past year these people have been living on a "no man's strip of land" as both Texas and Oklahoma failed to recognize them as citizens of either state and no taxes have been paid by them or has either state offered aid or assistance in any way.

Memphis Legislator Asks Federal Officials to Restore Dollar Value

AUSTIN, Jan. 28. (AP)—A resolution asking congress to assume control of the volume and value of money and restore it to a "value approximating the value it had when our debts were assumed," was introduced in the house of representatives today by Representative Bryant of Memphis. Bryant said that change in currency values affected all commodities.

The resolution stated issuance of credit by private corporations under authority of congress had caused the value of a dollar to double in value in the last few years and had doubled the burden of person and bonded indebtedness. Bryant termed the condition the greatest injustice ever done a free people.

The resolution was referred to the committee on federal relations.

A resolution by Representative Farmer of Fort Worth memorializing congress to make provisions for federal loans to states and municipalities for roads and other public improvements was referred to the state affairs committee. The loans would be made on non-interest bearing bonds on the states and municipalities. Farmer offered the plan as an unemployment relief measure.

Farmer said that under the national bank system, the banks had a monopoly of the money and an undue advantage over the people. The resolution would pledge Texas to take $500,000,000 of this currency to building roads and bridges in the next 10 years.

Yesterday's Dandy Far Worse Than Today's Collegian

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 28. (AP)—The modern collegian may have his faults, but the "dandies" of another day were worse, Dr. W. J. McGlothlin, president of Furman university, Greenville, S. C., said today in an address before a Baptist Sunday school clinic.

Dr. McClothlin, who was elected president of the Southern Baptist convention here last year, said: "I'm not saying there isn't a lot of drinking and that there aren't a lot of drunkards. There always were. But there aren't as many complete alcoholics among young men as there were, all reports to the contrary. The modern business pace, the keen competition is too great for the average young man to think that he can drink much and get ahead."

He said the modern college girl probably outdrinks her sisters of the '90's, who probably didn't drink much at all. He blamed "the new freedom—not prohibition."

WOODUL WOULD HIKE SALARIES

Officials' Pay Increase Is Asked in Bill

AUSTIN, Jan. 28. (AP)—Under the provisions of proposed constitutional amendments offered today by Senator Woodul of Houston, the salary of the governor would be raised to $12,000. The governor now gets a salary of $4,000 per year.

Other proposed constitutional amendments introduced asked for salaries of $7,500 each for the comptroller, treasurer, and commissioner of the general land office. The salary of each per year is now $2,500.

Under the provisions of another resolution, the attorney general's salary would be fixed at $10,000 per year.

The resolution characterized the attorney general's present $4,000 salary as "niggard compensation."

Another resolution called for a state supreme court of nine judges. Three judges now sit in the supreme court.

Dr. Brinkley Wins Point in 'Comeback'

TOPEKA, Kan., Jan. 28. (AP)—Dr. John R. Brinkley, Milford, Kan., goat gland specialist, won a point today in his effort to set aside revocation of his license by the Kansas state board of medical registration and examination.

In an order filed in federal court here, Judge John G. Pollock ruled that the federal district court had jurisdiction over injunction proceedings brought by Dr. Brinkley in an effort to regain his right to practice. The state had questioned the jurisdiction.

The state board found Dr. Brinkley guilty of gross immorality and unprofessional conduct after hearings last September. The charges against him involved, in part, his claims of success in transplantation of goat glands into human patients to cure various ailments and to restore youthful vigor.

Memphis Farmers Plant Feed Crops

Special to The Record News.

MEMPHIS, Texas, Jan. 28.—According to County Agent E. W. Thomas, if plans are carried out as outlined at this time, many farmers will plant acres of oats and barley for early feed. The best time to plant this grain, according to experienced farmers, is the early part of February. For oats require about two to two and one-half bushels to the acre, and barley from one and a fourth to one and three-fourths bushels to the acre.

The farmers of this county in the early fall planted thousands of acres to wheat for pasturage purposes mostly, and many farmers report that they have not fed their stock a bundle of feed during the winter so far, and that their stock is rolling fat. This has proved to be worth thousands of dollars to this county in the saving of feed, and also keeping many stock from dying.

Electra Council Votes to Meet Insurance Rules

Special to The Record News

ELECTRA, Texas, Jan. 28.—During the first part of January the city of Electra received a letter from the Texas fire insurance department stating that since the 1930 census showed that Electra had a population of more than 6,000 the officials would have to redistrict the town and two night watchmen and two time-punching clocks used instead of one as has been done heretofore.

John Houser, city secretary, in a reply, wrote that a large number of people had moved from the town and the number now would probably be under 6,000. He requested that they would not enforce the ruling.

J. W. Deweese, fire insurance commissioner of the state department, wrote a letter which was read before the city council Monday night. He explained that the department had to govern by the 1930 census and stated furthermore that Electra could not retain her class A rating and the 39 cent insurance rate unless the requirements were met. The council voted to purchase an additional time clock and to reorganize the force in order to place two night watchmen on duty but no additional men will be used at present.

Mr. Deweese also mentioned that a penalty which would be an increase from 39 cents to 42 cents in the insurance rate would be given unless two paid firemen were kept in the fire department. The council voted to meet the requirements in order to keep the class A rating and the 39 cent insurance rate.

Hall County Makes War On Pests of Fields

Special to The Record News.

MEMPHIS, Texas, Jan. 28.—The commissioner's court of Hall county has ordered poison grain for distribution by County Agent E. W. Thomas, for the purpose of poisoning prairie dogs and pocket gophers. Thomas reports that many farmers are complaining of the damage being done by the pests. Especially are the gophers doing much damage in alfalfa fields. The gophers also do much damage in the terracing by cutting under it and causing breaks.

Experiments have proven very satisfactory where the poisoned grain has been placed in the runs of the gophers in between fresh mounds of dirt.

Special to The Record News.

HENRIETTA, Texas, Jan. 28.—Miss Audrey Hall, home demonstration agent for Clay county, escaped with minor bruises when her coupe overturned three times on the highway five miles northwest of Henrietta Tuesday night. The car landed top down in about a foot of water, and Miss Hall was forced to kick out a window and crawl through. A passing driver took her to Henrietta.

Miss Hall was returning from Wichita Falls when the accident occurred. She was blinded by approaching lights and turned into soft dirt just off the pavement. This is believed to have caused the car to overturn.

Does COFFEE Give You Sleepless Nights?

COFFEE (also other drinks and foods) often keep you awake. Frequently this is due to an acid condition they create. The next time you raid the ice box before retiring, eat two or three Tums (often only one Tum is enough) to relieve the Heartburn, Sour Stomach, Gas, Acid Indigestion, which cause many sleepless nights. Easy to prove—get a roll of Tums at any drug store and try them. Only 10c.

For Acid Indigestion

ACID after meals

Get rid of your dread of pain after eating. Eat without fear of "indigestion," sour stomach, disagreeable gas or headaches.

When your food ferments, "disagrees," lies like a lump in your stomach, it's a sign of too much acid. You need not resort to crude methods—take instead an anti-acid that will correct the condition. Phillips' Milk of Magnesia.

A spoonful of this pleasant-tasting, soothing fluid neutralizes many times its volume in acid. It restores the proper alkaline balance to an acid-soaked stomach and bowels—assists these organs to function as they should.

Phillips' Milk of Magnesia is what you need when a bad breath, coated tongue, headaches, nausea or biliousness indicates an over-acid condition. Take a spoonful today and for several days and see how it sweetens the system. You won't be nearly so liable to colds or sickness. All drugstores—25c and 50c bottles.

Genuine Milk of Magnesia is always a liquid—never a tablet. Look for the name Phillips on the bottle.—Adv.

Wednesday Women's Clubs Study Interesting Topics

Breadth of vision is shown in the studies outlined in yearbooks of Wichita Falls study clubs. Not only the older women but young matrons and even unmarried girls arrange programs that are not merely of interest but that require intensive study. History and psychology, travel, politics and literature were featured in Wednesday programs. French provinces were studied by members of the Century club when they met at the home of Mrs. Pierce Langford.

The program included an unusual paper on "Joan of Arc and Normandy" written by Mrs. Dick Davis and read by Mrs. John Barnard and Mrs. Arthur Clark followed the custom of the club members in a brilliant oral discussion of "Brittany" and "The Chateau District."

A delicious refreshment plate was served to Mesdames John Barnard, Arthur Clark, H. B. Dudley, J. C. Foster, Almond Gates, Misses Helen Grisham, Mary Jo Kell, Elizabeth Carrigan, Mesdames Anderson Kemp, Van Lesley, King Smith, J. C. Strauss Jr., Warner Zimmer, Eugene Guthrie and the hostess.

Sorosis Club

Members of the Sorosis club were led in a particularly interesting study of "Gypsies" by Mrs. M. H. Glover with Mrs. R. E. Hilburn giving an unusual paper on "Famous Vagabonds." The review of "Leyla," by Conrad Bercovici, with brilliant side lights on the author's life, was a feature given by Mrs. Glover. "The Gypsy Love Song" concluded the program in a pretty musical climax when Mrs. J. D. Harris sang it with Mrs. Guy Airey accompanying on the piano and Mrs. Howard Renfro on the violin.

A delightful refreshment plate was served to Mesdames A. H. Burnside, M. H. Glover, J. D. Harris, O. R. Haynie, R. E. Hilburn, I. W. Karrenbrock, W. P. Lowry, E. M. McCarty, Guy Airey, Howard Renfro, Burke Taylor and W. E. Timblin.

New Century Juniors

Mrs. A. R. Dillard was hostess to members of the New Century Junior when Southern politics formed a subject for lively discussion. Mrs. Joe B. Carrigan told of the history of the Democratic party and Mrs. Dwight Ross presented a real picture in her answer to "What Is a Democrat?" "Prominent Democrats of the South" were discussed by Mrs. Eugene Clark.

After a delightful social hour, refreshments were served to Mesdames Overton Abernathy, Dillard Anderson, Ray C. Arnhold, Joe B. Carrigan, Eugene Clark, A. R. Dillard, Miss Marguerite Fisher, Mesdames S. M. Gose, O. B. Kiel, Miss Elva Killingsworth, Mesdames Ted R. Krohn, Paul S. Oles, Dwight Ross, Gordon West, Chester Wynne, W. B. Richeson and one out of town guest, Mrs. Hamlin.

Junior Travel Club

After bridging the Panama canal, members of the Junior Forum began the study of Argentina Wednesday when they met at the Forum clubhouse. Mrs. E. T. Duff was the charming leader for the day's study and roll call was answered by causes of progress in the country studied.

Mrs. Duff discussed "The Country and the People" in a splendid paper and Mrs. A. L. Lane discussed "Patagonia; Association With Two Great Scientists—Darwin and Hudson."

Members present included Mesdames O. T. Ailes, W. H. Caldwell, F. T. Datson, E. A. Deaton, N. H. Downing, E. T. Duff, D. G. Gray, John Humphrey, Grover C. Johnson, D. O. Johnson, A. L. Lane, Thelbert Martin, W. A. McCarty, J. A. McFall, W. J. Morgareidge, W. P. Smith, G. H. Watson, G. K. Wilson, O. W. Wilson, and H. C. Lankford.

Unity Junior

Mrs. G. W. Gutzman was hostess to members of the Unity Junior club when a program given by Mesdames W. S. Abbott and J. L. Jackson Jr., discussed marriage and the modern woman. PEEPS AT PEOPLE

By MRS. L. N. CASON

Pavlowa died; she seemed to pass like an April wind through a cloudy world. Whether she danced for princes or provincials, her innate artist's soul spoke in exquisite rhythm.

There was no breath of scandal clouding that dancer's name. She was beauty personified in art—a white cloud, a bird song, an ecstasy.

So different the tragic death of Alma Rubens, who resplendent once as a star; had the last years of her life darkened by scandal. Her passing was the only thing that could have kept a poor crippled butterfly from being once more pinned for public dissection.

It looks as if it takes fine moral fiber to be a stainless character in Hollywood. Work at high pressure—play at high pressure and then a code of morals of their own. The ten commandments seem to be an obsolete thing there.

American mothers are careful that their children shall make no ideals of loose characters, and personality stands back of a talkie more than ever it did back of a simple movie.

Two actresses with a Mona Lisa smile who have won their place on the stage are Marlene Dietrich and Greta Garbo. One is German and the other Swede and to this date, neither has been given an unsavory reputation. Each lives a comparatively retired life.

There is no doubt that Garbo is an artist. She is able to make one feel the beauty of first love, the tragedy of loss and the dignity of suffering as she depicts these feelings in the play "Inspiration."

Garbo is an artist. But as we said mothers of children are crying out for artists in plays that will give no false ideals to their children. Yvonne, the beautiful model in the Strand play has an unbelievably noble moment at the close of the play, unbelievable at least for a woman who has been a miscellaneous sweetheart.

"Our Gang" is always funny—at times more so than others. But an "Our Gang" comedy does not seem to fit on the stage with a noble courtesan.

In "Inspiration," Yvonne has one clever friend; the woman who is always defending her against the bitter words of her jealous rival. We forgive that actress her pup for her love of Yvonne.

And we would go again to see the play; to watch the graceful movements of the star; to admire her clothes and the artistic settings.

However we would like to know why when an artist of Garbo's capacity is under contract with any company, do they not give her plays to convey her talent that both old and young may safely see.

Is it a fact that pictures do not go over unless they are based on the conflict of sex? Just last week in "Half Time Wife," at the Majestic, one of the cleanest, most touching dog stories we ever read was massacred. People liked the "half-time" idea—even with all its suggestiveness. But the boy and the dog were the real show and the Saturday Evening Post story was all boy and dog.

National woman's organizations are beginning to take a hand in the banning and recommendation of plays. The D. A. R. recommends those plays which the organization feels preserve history and traditions of America.

In Edna Ferber's "Cimmaron," soon to appear at the Strand, a little strip of land that is now Oklahoma is the background for the play. It is a picture which historical organizations urge their members to see and have their children see.

One of the best moving pictures we ever saw was "Little Minister." It did not go over. A friend told us the other day that the best play she ever saw was "Sentimental Tommy." It did not go over. Barrie has never written anything but the cleanest and most touching of stories. Why is it the world does not care for them?

Fakers Must Fail
In Their Absurd Appeals
To the Fat

Fakers have flourished in their appeals to the over-fat. Not many remain. Some of their methods were harmful, some absurd. All have perished quickly in the test.

One reason is that medical science has found a great cause of excess fat. It lies in a lacking gland secretion which must be supplied. Doctors the world over now supply it, and excess fat in late years has been going fast.

A world-famous medical laboratory embodies this factor in Marmola prescription tablets. Not to oppose doctors, but to supply their best help in a very economical way. Thus Marmola opens this right way to millions who might otherwise go wrong.

Marmola has been used for 24 years—millions of boxes of it. The use has grown and grown, while the frauds disappeared by the scores. Now in every circle you can see the results. Your own friends can recite them. Slender figures are the vogue.

Marmola, in every box, gives the formula complete. It also tells you why the fat goes, why new vim appears.

If you have been enticed by fakes, by silly claims, go now and use what doctors use. Combat your fat in the right and scientific way. Gain normal figure, normal vim in Nature's way. Then tell your friends about it—they should know. Go now and order a $1 box from your druggist. Read the book, watch the many good results.

Check 'Artist' Causes Big Charity Donation

CANTON, Ill., Jan. 28. (AP)—Several Canton merchants indulged in a little charitable work yesterday that was as unexpected to them as it was to the recipient.

A well filled basket of groceries and a load of coal were delivered to a poor woman. She was sure she had been singled out for relief by some charitable organizations.

The merchants got together today, found that a "William Wright" had ordered the supplies, that he had left town and that none of his checks was good.

AIR DOESN'T WEIGH MUCH

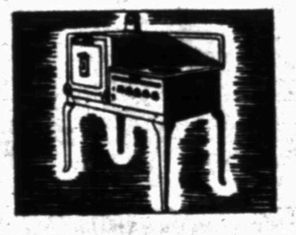

WHEN you buy soap, the only way you can tell how much you're getting for your money is by the weight of the package. Size means nothing. A large carton full of soap flakes or bubbles can contain actually less soap than a carton of White King Granulated Soap half its size!

That's because White King Granulated Soap is condensed. It packs closely in the carton, like sugar. And it's absolutely pure and safe . . . for blankets, dishes or lingerie. It's made from fine vegetable and nut oils.

White King Granulated Soap is not only the safest but the most economical soap you can buy. A little of it goes a long way. A teaspoonful to the basin of water, or a cupful to the tub—no more! Your grocer has it.

Mrs. 1931 Cooks Electrically

General Electric Hotpoint Fully Automatic Electric Range . . prepares your meals just as you want them, cooking with a steady, maintained heat, kept at exactly the temperature required for the food that is being cooked.

Westinghouse Fully Automatic Electric Range . . prepares your meals just as you want them, too, cooking them with a modern application of the old Dutch oven principle, that of residing heat. Your meal is cooked after the current is turned off.

Times have changed since Grandmother was the busy housewife. Her household tasks were endless. Grandmother's place was in the home, for by the time her cooking and housecleaning work was done, the day was over and no time was left for recreation or outside contacts.

Her granddaughter, however, conducts her homelife very differently, and to good advantage, too. She counts her outside activities and diversions as important as her home-making duties, and rightly so. Her health, charm, disposition, humor and general physical and mental welfare have been improved greatly by such activities.

Her automatic electric range, fully capable of taking care of itself all through the cooking period, is the greatest single aid available for making such a routine possible. All she has to do before going to the club, links, theatre or wherever it is she goes, is to place the meal in the range, set the controls and go ahead. She returns to a meal perfectly done, economically prepared and fit for a king.

GRAHAM LEADS TICKET SALES

Four Famous Acts On Drouth Relief Program

Vernon responded with cash sales exceeding $200. Honors for the largest sales outside Wichita county appear now to rest between Seymour and Graham.

Total sales had reached approximately $6,000 Wednesday afternoon, Mr. Cline said, and purchases are expected to increase rapidly Thursday and Friday morning. The largest fund so far raised in any town was $7,000 in San Angelo, and Wichitans are hoping to exceed the San Angelo total by several hundred dollars.

Burnett Given Plaque

Gift of two plaster plaques of Will Rogers to sales workers was announced by the ticket sales committee Wednesday. The plaques were made by William Ort, 1605 Kemp boulevard, and will be autographed by Mr. Rogers. One of the plaques will be presented to Tom Burnett of Iowa Park, whose individual purchases of $200 in tickets exceed those of any other individual. The other plaque will be given the member of the Junior Forum or Junior chamber of commerce who sells the largest number of tickets. Mr. Ort, who designed the plaques, is well known here as an artist in producing models.

WILL SEES LITTLE HOPE FOR DEMOCRATS

ABILENE, Texas, Jan. 28. (AP)—Will Rogers delivered his wisecracks to some 1,500 persons here this morning, in an extra engagement he made up after rain delayed his arrival for a scheduled performance Tuesday afternoon. He departed shortly before 1 o'clock for Breckenridge, where he was booked for a matinee engagement before going on to Dallas tonight.

His benefit here netted $4,500, the fund to be shared by nine counties in relief programs.

Will's humor, touching a range of subjects from the Wickersham report to his own operation, ran unabated for nearly two hours. It was received uproariously.

"Hoover is appointing a commission," Will said, "to find out what the Wickersham commission reported. I have a scheme on this prohibition business. Just have a voting machine for voters to blow into when they cast their ballots. The breath must be the same as the vote."

"Sure, times are bad," he philosophized. "Everybody is blaming the Republicans, but no Republican could think up all the things this country has faced. The Democrats have their years, but they're always off years. By next election, the Republicans will bring prosperity, and we'll elect 'em for that."

Tax Relief Bill Up to Sterling

ments of the bill expressed confidence he would approve it, probably tomorrow.

In order to encourage tax payments as soon as possible the legislature included in its bill a provision that the taxes would start drawing 10 per cent interest Feb. 1. Another provision, for persons who can pay half but not all of their taxes at this time, sets out that the taxes may be paid in two installments.

Big Concerns to Pay

Most of the large corporations are expected to pay their taxes before Feb. 1, in order to avoid the interest charges. Several of them already had promised prompt payment.

The bill was drawn by a free conference committee after the senate and house had differed on the plan. The bill received only six dissenting votes in the house today and the senate a few hours later gave its unanimous approval.

Passage of the tax bill overshadowed everything else in the legislature today, but there was the usual flow of bills and resolutions and the house had another argument on prohibition before declaring itself for the 18th amendment.

Income Tax Proposed

Representative Dodd of Nash proposed a state income tax. The income tax was defeated by the last session, although it was advocated by former Governor Moody. In addition to taxing Texans, Dodd's bill would levy a tax on income from property owned and business transacted by out-of-state residents.

This was an addition to the group of bills which has been introduced to replace part of the present ad valorem tax with other levies. Taxes on sulphur, intangible assets, and chain stores already had been proposed.

Representative Farmer of Fort Worth, offered a resolution memorializing congress to authorize federal loans to states and municipalities for roads and other public improvements. The resolution would pledge Texas to take $500,000,000 of these loans in the next 10 years.

Representative Young of Wellington offered his proposed constitutional amendment to remove any possible constitutional inhibition against the state reimbursing the counties for expenditures on state roads. Young's plan does not contemplate a state bond issue.

Senator Thomason proposed in a bill that highway commissioners be placed on a full time basis and given $10,000 a year.

How's This? Corns Lift Out
With Fingers—No Pain!

Thanks to a new discovery made from a Japanese product your foot troubles can be quickly ended.

Ice-Mint as this new preparation is called is said to shrivel up hard corns, soft corns or corns between the toes so that they can be lifted out easily with the fingers. It's wonderful! Think of it! only a touch or two of Ice-Mint and real foot-joy is yours.

There is not one bit of pain or soreness when applying it or afterwards and it doesn't even irritate the skin.

If your feet are inclined to swell or pant, or if you have calluses or bleeding toes, it will draw the inflammation right out and quickly heal the sore and tender places. It is the real Japanese secret of fine, healthy little feet and is greatly appreciated by women who wear high heel shoes and by men who have to stand on their feet all day. Try it. Just ask to any drug store for Ice-Mint and learn for yourself what solid foot comfort really is. There is nothing better.—Adv.

Jury Completed in Vernon Court To Try Pampa Man for Murder

Special to The Record News.

VERNON, Texas, Jan. 28.—The selection of a jury to try Emmett Thompson of Pampa, charged with the murder of Homer Crabtree near LeFors in Gray county on Nov. 5, 1930, was completed in district court tonight.

The list of jurors: Dale Baldwin, farmer; John White, farmer; H. H. Self, furniture salesman; M. A. Byars, farmer; M. M. Dunson, farmer; W. H. Olive, farmer; O. A. McCaleb, produce merchant; T. P. Al Smith Evinces Sorrow That Hoover Is Now Left Holding Bag

NEW YORK, Jan. 28. (US)—Discussing prohibition and prosperity, former Gov. Alfred E. Smith, at a luncheon of the Advertising club today, said:

"The Wickersham committee did one good thing. It was at least unanimous in finding that the thing is not right. Seven of them are against it even today. Four of them merely want to give it another chance. Senator Borah said some time ago that we must please all.

"The wets have the liquor and the drys have the law under present conditions.

"I feel sorry for the president. He sits on top of capitol hill holding the bag."

The former governor referred ironically to "a certain political party, the name of which I will not mention, which kept telling the people they had the key to prosperity in their pockets and finally the people believed it."

While touching on prohibition, Smith regaled his hearers with the story of the waiter who dropped a bottle of liquor on the floor of the senate restaurant and was fired "for carelessness." Seriously, he said the 18th amendment, ratified in hectic post-war days, could not be ratified now.

He predicted, also, that the country would fight in its way back to prosperity.

K. of P. Lodge to Use Historic Bible in Initiation Ceremony

At the meeting Wednesday night of the Pioneer lodge, No. 49, Knights of Pythias, arrangements were completed for the entertaining of a large crowd expected to attend the Rathbone Bible class here Friday. Delegations from all lodges in the Wichita Falls area, including Oklahoma lodges, are planning to attend if the weather will permit.

A very large class of candidates is promised from the combined efforts of the various lodges which will bring their applicants for the obligating on the highly prized Rathbone Bible. This Bible was presented Justus H. Rathbone, the founder of the order Knights of Pythias, and was used in the institution of the order at its first meeting and has been the property of the order since. At the death of Mr. Rathbone the Bible was presented to the supreme lodge for safe keeping and was placed in a beautiful silver case and is only carried about for these classes by some member of the official family of the supreme lodge.

Harry M. Love, supreme keeper of records and the seal, will be here with the Bible and will confer the obligation to the candidates.

In addition to Mr. Love there will be several of the grand lodge officers and members present at the meeting.

'FLYING HIGH' DRAWS 2,000

George White's Show One Of Best in Years

Playing to a packed house, George White's musical comedy, "Flying High" gave Wichita Falls one of the rarest treats it has had for several seasons in the form of a musical comedy when the show was presented at the Memorial auditorium Wednesday evening at 8:15 o'clock.

The plot of the play is centered around the breaking of the transcontinental air record by the two rivals, Tod Addison and Gordon Turner, who are both in love with the same girl, Eileen Cassidy. While they are making arrangements to take off for the flight, "Rusty" Krause accidentally starts one of the planes and breaks the endurance record before crashing. However young Addison finally wins the flight and incidentally, Miss Cassidy.

Probably the most entertaining scene was that in which "Rusty" was being examined to become an aviator. Wisecracks in quick succession kept the house in an uproar.

One of the features of the performance was a novelty dance by Bunny McHugh, who proved to be an artist in her line. Other outstanding performances were given by "Sport" Wardell, Pansy Sparks and the ladies and gentlemen of the ensemble.

Beautiful scenery and costumes, combined with snappy musical and vocal selections made the play a great success. Approximately 2,000 persons attended.

Court Asked To Halt Bond Sale

effort probably will be made to obtain a hearing of the case at the earliest possible date. It was indicated that a meeting of the city council would be held some time Thursday for discussion of the matter, and formulation of a plan of procedure.

Plaintiffs in the suit are listed as Mack Thomas, J. D. Avis, H. E. Crain, W. R. Little, J. M. Childress, W. E. Petty, H. C. Fitzgerald, C. C. Jones, R. D. Bone, and W. L. Neal. The action is brought against Walter Nelson Jr., mayor, George D. Fairtrace, city manager, Thelbert Martin, city attorney, and C. E. McCutchen, R. O. Harvey, J. M. Spoonts, E. H. Eddleman and J. N. Preihre, commissioners as officials of Wichita Falls, Texas, a municipal corporation.

Various irregularities in the bond election of Jan. 20 are alleged by the plaintiffs in their petition. The principal allegations follows:

Irregularities Charged

That persons not qualified to vote were permitted to vote for the bonds, and that qualified voters were not allowed to vote.

That election officials were intentionally limited to those favoring passage of the bond issue, and that an opponent of the bond issue was removed from such official duty during the afternoon of Jan. 20 when his opposition became known.

That numerous voters who would have voted against the bond issue were prevented from casting their ballots by the fact that no voting box was maintained north of the Wichita river, and that other similar districts were neglected in the provision of polling boxes.

The petition also asks that all records of the election, including the ballots, be placed in charge of the sheriff for safe keeping pending hearing on the action. Request is also made for a court order requiring election judges at each box furnishing attorneys for the plaintiffs with correct lists of voters at each box in the bond election of Jan. 20.

Results of the election were canvassed officially by the city council last Monday night, and City Manager Fairtrace was authorized to advertise at once for bids on the first unit of the proposed water system improvements. He announced Wednesday morning, prior to the filing of the suit asking enjoinment, that plans for selling the bonds and inaugurating actual work would be pressed with all possible speed.

TO BREAK UP A COLD IN A JIFFY

Feel Like a New Person In Just a Little While

People have found out that new-fangled ideas and notions don't break up colds. So millions have turned back to first principles and use what they know breaks one up in a jiffy. Even a "little" cold is too dangerous to trifle with.

The thing to do is to get Hill's Cascara Quinine at any drug store. Take two tablets now. Then follow directions on box. Drink lots of water, too—that's all.

Soon you'll start to feel like a new person. Things will loosen up, your head will clear; aching go—you'll be back on the job with a wallop.

Get Hill's now. It is a scientific formula made to do one thing well: to knock a cold—not to cure a thousand ailments. Get your money back if it doesn't work with twice the speed of anything else you've ever tried.

BRITISH LABOR WINS FIGHTS

MacDonald Weathers Two Critical Storms

LONDON, Jan. 28. (AP)—Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald's Labor government fought off two Conservative attacks late tonight with the aid of the Liberal party and thus remains in office, whereas defeat probably would have meant its immediate resignation.

Both victories were on motions offered by Stanley Baldwin, leader of the Conservatives and former premier, against the hotly-contested trades dispute bill.

The first was to reject the bill on second reading and this, with most of the Liberals abstaining, brought a vote of 277 against 250, or a margin of 27 for the Labor government.

Sir John Simon and a few other Liberals who are opposing the measure in all its stages voted with the Conservatives, but with the majority of the balance-of-power party abstaining, the administration had sufficient strength to weather one of the most dangerous crises in its more than 19 months of life.

No sooner had this result been announced than Baldwin again jumped up, offering a motion that the bill should be considered in committee of the whole instead of a small standing committee, as proposed by the government.

This time the Liberals lined up with the government instead of abstaining and the result was 306 against 244, or a margin of 62 for the prime minister's forces.

Scenes of great excitement marked the voting, for the house had been in session all day and knew that a fateful division was approaching as the hour neared midnight. The government would almost certainly have resigned had it been beaten.

Although split tonight, the Liberals are unanimous in their intention to propose a number of amendments in the ensuing committee stage.

Lillard Jackson Heads DeMolays

Lillard Jackson was elected master councilor to serve for the next three months at the regular quarterly election of officers of Hope chapter, Order of De Molay, Wednesday night at the Masonic temple. Other officers elected were Daryl Daniel, senior councilor and Edward Washington Napier Jr., junior councilor.

Preceding the election, a ceremonial was held conferring the De Molay degree on the following candidates: Roscoe Robinson, Harry Ayers, Robert Young.

The annual De Molay banquet and dance will be held at the Wichita club Friday night at 7:30 o'clock. All De Molays are requested to make reservations before Friday noon. Gordon Shay's orchestra will furnish the music for the occasion.

A program of out-of-town trips has been planned for the coming season, similar to the one during the spring of last year.

The degree team is already making preparations for entering the competition at the state convention which will be held in Beaumont in the early part of the summer. The team expects to capture the cup which it so nearly won last year at San Anegelo.

The Price of Beauty
Tragic Alma Rubens
Philandering Princes
Miss Miller's Mistake

By EMILE GAUVREAU

There are few things more sorrowful in life than the death of a beautiful young woman. There are few things more pitiful than to look upon the face of such a woman and see why death was so impatient to claim her.

Alma Rubens, screen star, the lover of life, is dead in Hollywood, the home of her triumphs, the grave of her aspirations, at the age of 31. She need not have died so young. But, as was said of another, she also loved not wisely but too well. Lighting the candle at both ends did not seem to furnish enough brightness for her. She called to her aid the phantasmagoria that narcotics induce in the brain, illusions of happiness which she could not find anymore in the world about her.

It is said that those whom the gods love die young. It is also said that the most beautiful women are the most unfortunate, unhappiest and loneliest. The world loved Alma, but the gods evidently loved her more. Those who walk the straight and narrow path will read in the story of Alma Rubens' life and death the story of a woman of all women who, dowered with an immortal gift, had to pay richly for it.

An Eastern parallel to the philanderings of King Carol of Rumania is revealed in the person of the ex-ruler of Indore, the Maharajah Sir Tukoji Rao Holkar, who recently married with much pomp and ceremony Miss Nancy Miller of Seattle.

A suit for $70,000 damages filed in Bombay brings out the fact that the Indian Lothario not only carried on a love affair with the beautiful Mumtaz Begum, a Mohammedan dancer, who cost him his throne, but kept captive in his palace for a period of 11 years an Indian operatic singer, Mrs. Rajpurkar, and her daughter, both of whom he sought to add to his roll-call of mistresses.

That princes are dissolute is proverbial. But it was believed that Hindu princes were different. Evidently they are not. Miss Miller did not make such a good bargain after all. She married a ruler who is not a ruler, and a man who is not a gentleman.

Faced with the acutest labor shortage in its history, the Soviet issues its new decree—no work, no food. And because it recognizes that there are labor-slackers whom no threats of punishment will stir from their sloth, women are to be impressed into industry. As for the slackers, if they die of starvation, they will have to dig their own graves first and tumble into them afterwards, as the Soviet will have no time to give them burial.

A situation almost exactly the reverse of that obtaining in Russia exists here. If we have our quota of slackers, they represent only a handful out of the millions who want to work and cannot find any. The solution stares us in the face: Since we are so anxious to keep foreigners from coming in, why do we not offer free passage to Russia to all foreigners within our borders who wish to go? Russia will be glad to get them, and we will be glad to be relieved of them. It will also give our United States ships something to do and some place to go.

Twelve players of the Pittsburgh Pirates had their tonsils removed. It's a pity that big leaguers should be involved in minor operations!

Heritage of the Meek

THE most interesting thing about the recent Britsh plan for self-government in India is not the fact that it would bring India close to dominion status, or that it would cut away the last vestige of its old imperial tradition from the British empire. It is the fact that the success or failure of the entire scheme rests chiefly with a half-naked little prisoner in an Indian jail.

Many months of study by distinguished Englishmen preceded the drawing up of this plan. Many months of negotiating between British and Indian leaders went into its phrasing. In a certain sense, the future of the whole empire is at stake. The lives of a great many people hang on the outcome.

But in the last analysis, it is the gentle, unassuming little man in jail who will settle the fact of the proposal. If he approves of it, it will have an excellent chance of working; if he disapproves, it is a lost cause.

The man in question, of course, is Mahatma Gandhi; and the significance of the power he holds is something which we have obtrusely ignored. It is one of the most amazing things in history.

Measure things with any material yardstick you choose, and Gandhi is nothing. Over him is the very real, substantial power of the world's greatest empire. The fleet that has ruled the ocean for 300 years grips India like a steel fist. The army that has won victories in every part of the glome stands on guard. The wealth of the world's banker and the world's manufacturer is in reserve; and the whole is directed by the ablest colonial administrators on earth.

Against this Gandhi can offer—what? Nothing whatever. He wears a loin cloth, he has no money, he has no army and would not use it if he had one, and he lies under guard in prison. There could be no greater contrast between strength and weakness.

And yet, today, we see this personified weakness dictating terms to this massed strength. Gandhi, the powerless, will tell Britain, the mighty, what it can do in India. The steel fleet and the bronzed army and the treasure chests of London will weigh less, somehow, than the words of this one man.

That is why the Indian situation is so surpassingly interesting. We are getting, through it, a demonstration of the error in our scale of values. What we take for strength is not strength. In 19 centuries the belief that mankind can live by the law of the jungle has received no more striking contradiction. If we watch, we shall see how it is that the meek shall inherit the earth.

THE bristling eyebrows of Mussolini have knitted themselves into an ominous frown, with the United States as its target, but do we quake?

Many will see in Italy's sharp remonstrance against a recent speech by Maj. Smedley D. Butler of the marines only a definite indication that Premier Mussolini wears not only epaulets upon his broad shoulders, but quite sizable chips as well.

An extreme sensitivity to remarks purportedly made about one's self generally bespeaks a lack of confidence in the stability of one's position. In other instances, it reveals a consciousness that one's position may have been gained by means not wholly commendable. To bluster noisily at one who withholds cowering allegiance is inevitably the mark of the bully.

Libelous and slandering statements about any person are deserving of suppression. General Butler may have quoted Mussolini without having verified the accuracy of the quotation. It also is true that the habit of blustering quite often results in quick indiscretions which saner contemplation would recall. Signor Benito's frequent sessions before the ubiquitous sound picture camera have not served to lessen the impression that he sets his heels down heavily, barks mentally as well as vocally, and otherwise would let the world know that Mussolini is on guard.

Not every leader who rises to high political office has the wisdom of ancient Gamaliel, who sagely reminded the Sanhedrin that words of emptiness may safely be left to reveal their own emptiness; but that if they be pregnant with truth, attempted suppression becomes but a futile gesture.

Mark Twain and the River

THERE came to light recently an old-time Mississippi river man, who had known Mark Twain in the days when the famous writer was a steamboat pilot; and this man remarked, to everyone's surprise, that Mark Twain had not been a very good pilot.

Mark Twain's own description of the difficulties of the pilot's job in the old days leaves one with the feeling that in order to be a good pilot a man must have been extraordinarily gifted, and probably Mark Twain himself would have admitted that his own attainments left a good deal to be desired. But the thing that strikes us now is that it is lucky for the country that the man did have his faults.

For if Mark Twain had been one of the river's best pilots, he might not ever have left the river. He said, once, that he was happier on the river than anywhere else; if his skill had been greater, isn't it likely that he would have remained a pilot to the end of his days? And if he had done so, American literature would be very much the poorer.

'Foeman and Friend'

THERE is something very appealing in that story about the Confederate veterans at the Georgia Confederate home, in Atlanta, who unveiled a bronze plaque the other day to Alexander H. Wray of Pachogue, N. Y., a veteran of the Union army in the civil war.

Ever since 1907, Wray has given his entire federal pension to the Confederate home—a total of more than $5,000; and the plaque expressed gratitude to "a brave foe who was in heart a friend."

One feels that it would be nice to know this man Wray. How much trouble, misunderstanding and suffering could not have been avoided if all of his comrades in arms had felt toward their former foemen as he felt!

THE LOVELY LIAR : BY ROB EDEN

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Poppy Prior, 18, runs away to New York to escape a domineering mother. She is arrested for the theft of Celia Nixson's diamond bracelet, which she has found on the train and considered paste jewelry. Fearful that her mother may learn of her arrest, Poppy lies to conceal her real story, and is convicted. Kevin Wallace, writer and a friend of Celia, assures Poppy of his sympathy and asks her to call on him if she needs help. Poppy, committed to a girls' detention home, succeeds in a break for freedom, and goes to Wallace. Astonished to learn of her escape, Wallace takes Poppy to his Connecticut cabin. Celia arrives unexpectedly and Poppy hides in the bedroom. Celia is furious at Poppy's getaway and refuses to drop the affair. Wallace takes Celia back to town and Poppy is left in the care of his Chinese servant. She burns the apron from the home and dons some of Wallace's clothes.

Now Go on With the Story

CHAPTER XIV

Two days later, when Max came back from the village, he brought a big package, addressed to him, but obviously for Poppy.

"Mr. Wallace, he send it. Clothes, I think."

"No letter from him?" Poppy asked anxiously.

"No, no letter. But every day when I go to the store I telephone him and tell him you are fine."

"Does he say anything about coming out here?"

"No."

Poppy opened the box, and took out the garments it held, one by one. A beige knitted suit, a small beige turban, a lizard leather purse, gloves and a few pieces of underwear, brown high heeled pumps, and three or four pairs of stockings.

Kevin had marvelous taste, unless he had found some girl to buy the clothes for him.

The suit she put on immediately. It fitted exactly. The pumps were a size too large but wearable, after she found some cardboard for an insole. When she looked in the glass with the whole outfit on, she felt like a human being again for the first time since she had taken off her own things at the home, in front of Miss Rippe.

Real clothes. Pretty clothes. Wasn't it somebody else she was seeing in the glass? Some other girl. The beige was vastly becoming, too.

Kevin had been too good, too kind, getting these things for her. When he mentioned clothes she had thought he would send her one dress that she could wear in the cabin. Something presentable. But this whole outfit. Tears filled her eyes. She could never pay him back for these clothes. Never. Nothing she could do would repay him.

The purse she picked up and examined, holding it against her new pumps, admiring it. Then she opened it, and found a small vanity case, a lipstick, and an envelope.

The envelope, unsealed, was addressed to her. With fingers that were not steady, she took out the bit of paper it contained, and saw pinned to the note a 50 dollar bill.

"Poppy," the note began. "I don't know whether the clothes are right or not. I did my best, but a man's best, especially when the man knows as little about feminine apparel as I do, is apt to be pretty much wrong. A saleslgirl took pity on me, however, when I told her I wanted some clothes for my little sister.' A gift, you know. I haven't worked out my plan for you yet, but I'll be out in a few days and talk everything over with you. Until then be careful, will you? I though you might need money, so am enclosing some. Kevin Wallace."

Poppy put the bill in the purse again, and re-read the note a dozen times. Kevin was so sweet. She'd pay him back some day. Find out just how much the clothes had cost. When she had gone to him to help her, she had never dreamed he would do so much. She hadn't thought when she left the home, that she'd be in Kevin's debt this much.

Kevin's Work

The days went on. One day, two days. Poppy looked for Kevin anxiously. Hadn't he said he'd be out in a few days? Three days, and he hadn't come.

"Did you call Mr. Wallace today?" she asked Max the third day after the parcel had come.

"Yes, Miss. I call him, and tell him you fine."

"Did he say anything about coming out today?"

"No, but he will. He writing story now. Pretty busy, you know, or maybe you don't know how hard he work. Big novel. Publisher, he has to have it by November first, I know. Mr. Wallace he tell me."

Of course, that was it. Kevin was busy. Poppy had told Max to thank his master for the clothes when he phoned, and Max had.

"Mr. Wallace has contracts he has to keep with publisher," Max went on. "All the time, they bother him for story, story, story. He come out, but I won't know when."

The days passed slowly. Poppy read the books which Kevin had left, and the magazines. Some of them contained his stories. These she read and re-read. Simple stories but well told, the characters real, understandable. She had never known anyone who wrote before, so the mere reading of a story that Kevin had done was mysterious, beautiful. She found out from Max that he had been writing for years, and that he received big money for his work. He specialized on short stories but once a year turned out a novel.

The purse she picked up and examined, holding it against her new pumps, which matched it perfectly.

She also found out that Kevin was always doing something for somebody. Then she wasn't the only one who had imposed on him. For she had imposed. More than that. She had insisted he help her. What would she have done if she had had no one to go to from the home! Would she have thought of running away if she hadn't counted in Kevin's help? He was so earnest, so serious, that day in Mr. Roger's office.

When she wasn't reading, she was outdoors, sitting on the rustic seat under the trees, or walking a short distance down the road, or plunging into the woods back of the cabin. She loved them. It was a pity she couldn't explore farther, but she was remembering Kevin's warning.

No one came near the cabin. Once she had heard voices when she was on the rustic bench and had run into the house, and had watched from the window. But whoever the people, they were in the woods at the back.

One day after she had been there

The first permanent settlement in the Virgin islands was effected on the island of St. Thomas on May 26, 1672, by an expedition of the Danish West Indies company under Gov. Jorgen Iversen. He quotes, however, C. E. Gallagher, of Youngstown, Ohio, who wrote in 1921: "Let Her Go, Gallagher!" was first seen by the writer (Mr. Gallagher) on posters advertising a dance at Salamanca, N. Y., about 35 years ago. My father was postmaster at that place and working in the postoffice were a number of very popular young ladies, who were always active in the social affairs of the town. These posters referred to the girls who worked for Gallagher."

Q.—Why is a woman's allowance sometimes called pin-money?—D. E.

A.—Pin-money got its name because years ago pins were costly and the sum allowed a wife for their purchase was relatively large.

DUNCAN VOTES CLUB ADDITION

Facilities of Oranization to Be Enlarged

Special to The Record News.

DUNCAN, Okla., Jan. 28.—Construction of a $2,500 addition to the Duncan Golf and Country clubhouse has been authorized by members. Work is to start immediately.

The addition will provide members facilities for giving dinners and other social functions and will be valuable to the city from a civic standpoint by providing a suitable place to entertain conventions, Warren Clark, president, said.

At present the clubhouse has only a large ballroom, with no kitchen facilities. The addition will include a completely equipped kitchen, a men's lounge room and a women's lounge. Work of laying gas mains to the clubhouse is already under way.

The club began the present year out of debt and with a surplus for the first time in its history.

'Yellow Kid' Weil Orates His Way Out of Bastile

CHICAGO, Jan. 28. (INS)—"Yellow Kid" Weil, aging a trifle, and his clothes mussed a bit from eight days in jail, today summoned all of his eloquence and talked himself out of jail.

The Kid, who once persuaded a visitor to the loop to invest several thousand dollars as first payment on the art institute, held a crowded courtroom breathless with his passionate plea for justice and freedom. Striding up and down before Judge Frank Paden, the Yellow Kid declined the offer of counsel and pleaded his own case.

"They say I am a con man, your honor," the Kid declaimed. "I am not a con man. I was once but I've gone absolutely straight now. I wanted to come into this court for I am an innocent man seeking the hall of justice. I'm not a hypocrite but if I am to be accused of this and that and harassed and persecuted we might as well go back to living in a primitive cave, and this fine court might as well deliver justice with a club."

Judge Paden dismissed the charge.

Huey Long Shows Tendency to Modesty

BATON ROUGE, La., Jan. 28. (AP)—At last Gov. Huey P. Long has bended a knee to modesty. Last year he thought nothing of receiving guests in pajamas, green pajamas, red pajamas and multi-colored pajamas. He even received a German naval commander in them and then went aboard the German ship in formal dress to apologize.

But to show that fashion meant nothing to him, a few months later he received a general of the United States army on a courtesy call in his underwear and let the general watch him do his morning toilet.

Yesterday the governor was feeling badly and went to bed. A delegation of friends from upstate called to ask him to build them a road. But before receiving them he donned a dressing gown and bedroom slippers and invited them in.

Health and Diet Advice

Eliminating Rheumatism

Gentle eliminative measures are not much value in eliminating rheumatic toxins. It is true that any measure which will expedite the throwing out of rheumatic poisons may bring about at least a temporary relief. Sweat baths will relieve some of the load of morbid material, and remedies which relax the pores will temporarily help, but it takes more than these remedies to effect a real cure.

If the rheumatism has only reached the muscular stage, it will disappear very quickly on a fast of citrus fruit, that is, oranges, lemons or grapefruit and plenty of water to drink. However, if the toxins have accumulated around the joints in any form of articular rheumatism, the cure will be much slower and may take weeks or even months. In the case of these forms of rheumatism, it is sometimes necessary to take an extended fast lasting from three to four weeks if one expects a cure. A short fast will bring about some satisfactory results. As the system is freed of some of the impurities, the soreness of the joints will become lessened. However, if there are any of the rheumatic poisons remaining in the body, the trouble is sure to show up again in some joint, and the trouble will keep on reappearing until the system is completely rid of the toxic material.

In the treatment of muscular rheumatism hot applications can be used to free the congested circulation. One or two immersions daily in a tub of hot water, to which has been added a handful of Epsom salts, will aid in bringing about a more rapid recovery and usually the muscular soreness will disappear in two or three weeks after beginning the fast.

In articular rheumatism great benefit will be enjoyed at the beginning of the fast, but because of the bone changes which have taken place you must not expect any quick recovery. In this form of rheumatism it is always a good plan for the patient to remain quietly in bed and pack all of the joints in flannel after rubbing the skin with oil or wintergreen which will assist in producing copious perspiration. The circulation will be helped if a hot water bottle or electric pad is placed at the foot of the bed. The joints should not be moved any more than necessary, as any irritation will only delay the progress of the cure.

If one fast does not bring about a complete cure, it may be necessary to live on a restricted diet for a short time and then return to the fast again. Following or between the fasts, it is a good plan to take large quantities of the non-starchy vegetables, both cooked and uncooked, and in fact it is often advisable to stuff on these vegetables to provide plenty of harmless bulk for the bowels.

The principal point that I want to bring out in this article is that a permanent cure depends entirely upon the proper functioning of a clean, healthy colon. The colon must be in a good position so that there are no pockets or kinks to hold accumulations of poisonous fecal matter. The least return of rheumatic pain will show that the elimination has been retarded. When this happens, it means that more enemas and another fast should be used. For a time it is well to eliminate all sugars and starches. Do not be anxious to take up exercises too quickly after the cure seems to have been achieved, as this would only irritate the inflamed regions and might encourage the return of your former trouble.

If you desire instructions for your particular case, I will be pleased to have you write to me in care of this newspaper, enclosing a large self-addressed stamped envelope. Be sure to state the exact type of rheumatism with which you are troubled.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Pimples

Question: I. T. C. asks—"If one eats too many apples will it bring pimples out on the face? I have been eating three or four apples daily, and pimples have come on my chin."

Answer—Any acid fruit taken in wrong combination may produce skin eruption. I would advise you to take an apple fast, just eating as many apples as you want each day and continuing this for about one week. Then balance your diet so as to overcome constipation. It would then be all right to eat an apple just before going to bed at night, which will help to cure the constipation.

Craves Browned Coffee

Question: L. M. writes—"I have a constant desire and longing for coffee right out of the can. I just love to crunch the crisp grounds, and sometimes when I eat too much it distresses me. Does my system require something of that nature, or is it just a habit?"

Answer—I am sure it is just the same kind of habit as chewing tobacco. There is little food value to coffee and nothing which is nourishing that is not found in ordinary foods. To break the habit, try chewing a half dozen raisins after each meal.

Name and Address

Answer to Mrs. R. M. N.—Your long letter and many questions cannot be answered in this column, as there is not space enough. Please send me your full name and address on a large stamped envelope so I can answer you by letter. Other readers please note this advice.

JACK SPEER LEADS QUALIFIERS IN SAN ANTONIO OPEN WITH 73

CHICAGO STAR RATES SECOND

Amateurs Try Out in Rain as Tourney Opens

SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 29. (AP)—Jack Speer of San Antonio, former Texas amateur champion, shot a 73, two strokes over par, to lead a field of almost 200 amateurs in a qualifying round for the Texas open over Willow Springs course today.

John Dawson, Chicago star, placed second with a 74. Considering that the round was played in a drizzling rain that had soaked the course, the scores of the two were considered exceptional. Speer had a 39-34; Dawson 38-36.

Other low scorers were Bill Humes, Del Rio, 76; Lee Davis, Fort Worth, 76; Gus Moreland, Dallas, 78; Bud McKinney, Del Rio, 79. A vast majority of the scores ran over 90, and many passed 100.

The best 110 in today's qualifying round will be eligible to compete in the 18-hole pro-amateur event tomorrow at Brackenridge park.

FAIR WEATHER PROMISED TODAY

By GAYLE TALBOT JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 28.—More than a hundred of the country's leading professional golfers, here for the 10th renewal of the $6,500 Texas open tournament starting Friday, were forced to remain idle today while a slow, drizzling rain soaked the fairways and greens of Brackenridge park municipal course.

A partial lapse in the downpour and clearing skies late today lent promise of fair golfing weather for the pro-amateur event tomorrow, preliminary to the tournament proper, but was slight consolation for the money shooters who had hoped to polish up their game today. Most of the entrants had arrived last night and today from California and had not had an opportunity to regain their sea legs.

Amateurs Play

Members of the amateur legion, hopeful of drawing partners for tomorrow's event, braved the moisture to slush through an 18-hole qualifying round over the Willow Springs course. There were almost 200 of them, with approximately 110 places open. First prize for the winning professional in the pro-amateur event was $100; a medal for the winning amateur.

A majority of the big shots who competed on the west coast have entered the local event, grand-daddy of all the money tournaments. Among them were John Golden, winner of the Agua Caliente open, and Ralph Guldahl, youthful Texas professional, who popped into the public print with a victory in the movie industries match play meet last week at Los Angeles.

Other well known threats included Harry Cooper, Wiffy Cox, Al and Abe Espinosa, Charles Guest, Willard Hutchison, Tony Manero, John Rogers, Horton Smith, Denny Shute, Joe and Mike Turnesa, Frank Walsh and Craig Wood.

Shute Arrives

Shute, winner of last year's Texas open, dropped in unexpectedly yesterday after laying out the event in California and Mexico. The slim young star shot four rounds of sub-par golf to win the $1,500 first prize a year ago.

Tournament officials received word today that Ed Dudley, winner of the Los Angeles open, would not be able to compete here. He and Tommy Armour, former national open champion, were forced to hurry through to Florida for an engagement there.

Other familiar faces that will come up missing when the 72-hole grind starts Friday included Bill Mehlhorn, Walter Hagen, Bobby Cruickshank, Gene Sarazen and Joe Kirkwood. All except Kirkwood have won the Texas open at one time or another.

George Von Elm, "business man" golfer who tied with John Golden in the Agua Caliente open and then was defeated in the play-off, was listed among the entrants but had not appeared late today.

Barring a postponement, which did not seem likely, the first 18-hole leg of the money competition is scheduled for Friday, with 18 more Saturday and the final 36 holes Sunday. A possible play-off would be held Monday, and Jack O'Brien, tournament manager, today reiterated his assertion there would be no prearranged splitting of the purse if he could figure out some way to prevent it.

New Bill Legalizes Boxing in Delaware

DOVER, Del., Jan. 28. (AP)—Governor Buck today signed a bill passed by the legislature several days ago to legalize boxing in Delaware. The measure permits not more than eight rounds in a single match and not more than a total of 30 rounds in any boxing show.

There were 85,199 dairy cows in Montana in 1930, a slight increase over the number for 1929.

Woman To Guide Tulsa's Club In Western League

By CLAIRE BURCKY
NEA Service Sports W. er

The civic-spirited, baseball-minded citizenry of Tulsa, Okla., owe Mrs. Lucille R. Thomas an oil well for restoring that city to good standing in the Western baseball league. If she gives them a pennant right off the bat, they might throw in another gusher to show their appreciation.

Tulsa, center of one of the world's wealthiest sections, was humiliated when its baseball franchise slipped over into Topeka, Kan. Several tried to bring it back but ran against political resistance within the city. Mrs. Thomas' calculating business head and winning personality surmounted this obstacle.

But Tulsans won't know the game Mrs. Thomas' employes are going to play. There will be an entire change of scenery and a new cast of characters.

First of all, Mrs. Thomas is supervising construction of a new baseball plant. The city confiscated the other site, which made necessary the original move to Topeka.

Second, the game will be night baseball. Mrs. Thomas made careful study of night games in the Western league last season. She was impressed by the way fans supported the evening entertainments. Her plans for lighting the new Tulsa plant are copied from the Topeka park.

Third, the fans will be guided to their seats by attractive, neatly-uniformed usherettes. Whatever peanut and pop purchases they make during the contests will be done from winsome sales girls. Mrs. Thomas believes spectators, at least those of the male sex, will vote this combination theater-night club idea an excellent one.

Fourth, the Tulsa team will provide "family" entertainment. Her athletes will be instructed to fight "like everything" to win but with a minimum of jockeying, razzing and rowdyism.

Tulsa's baseball magnetess, the second in organized baseball and actually the first to buy her way in, is the wife of an oil operator and a business woman in her own right. She taught school in Wichita, Kan., and later operated a string of moving picture houses in Missouri and

MRS. LUCILLE R. THOMAS

Kansas. After moving to Tulsa, Mrs. Thomas opened a chain of drug stores and directed their activities.

Mrs. Thomas has always favored baseball. She played the game in her girlhood. Later on, convention restricted her interests to those of a spectator. The Wichita franchise took her eye last summer but Owner Art Griggs' price halted the negotiations. Then Phil Ball, owner of the St. Louis Browns and holder of the Topeka club as a farm for his young players, indicated a willingness to sell. She bought the franchise and 21 Topeka players and extracted a promise from Ball to send her on option several embryo big leaguers.

From Wichita Mrs. Thomas selected her manager. He is Howard S. Lindimore, veteran minor league infielder who once belonged to Detroit but never played a major league game.

Lindimore's job is cut out for him. Mrs. Thomas has ordered a winner. In addition, she has demanded that Tulsa players show gentlemanly spirit and say "I have it," instead of "I got it."

ARMY 'HIRING' CHARGE DENIED

New Yorker Refutes Story Of Recruiting

NEW YORK, Jan. 28. (AP)—When he first initiated efforts to obtain an appointment for Kenneth Goff, Rhode Island State backfield star, to West Point, W. T. Wrightson, New York business man and member of the Army Athletic association, did not know the boy was a football player, nor was he interested in "recruiting," gridiron talent for the Army force.

This statement by Wrightson, whose name has figured conspicuously in the Providence Bulletin's disclosures of alleged recruiting on behalf of the military academy, followed the publication of several additional statements and letters today, all revolving around the case of the Brockton (Mass.) boy who as late as yesterday wrote his friend, Cadet Paul Carroll, that "I do hope to get the chance to enter West Point."

Goff will not enter West Point, but the unofficial attempt to obtain an appointment for him, thought Congressman Stobbs, of Worcester, Mass., has developed something of a teapot tempest.

The Providence Bulletin today published another letter from Cadet Carroll to his ex-classmate at Rhode Island, Carroll indicating Major Ralph Sasse, West Point football coach, had taken an interest in the case to the extent of suggesting what Goff could do to further his chances of appointment.

At West Point, Major Philip B. Fleming, the graduate manager, issued a statement saying the charges of proselyting an army were "decidedly far fetched," and giving the details of exchanges between Carroll and Goff, showing Major Fleming said, it was a clear case of "boyish enthusiasm, and admiration for his school, together with an effort of a civilian to help a deserving boy get into the military academy."

Meanwhile Wrightson told the Associated Press quite frankly his part in the case, exhibiting the correspondence he had with Goff and others. He denied he was actuated by any move other than a desire to see an ambitious boy enter West Point.

ALLEN AVERS

By JACK (RED) ALLEN

Golf enthusiasts of the city will regret the passing of the Country Club pro, Bill Strachan. The jovial golf teacher has taught many would be golfers the art of hitting the ball with that coveted easy swing. His successor, Phil Hesler, present Municipal links pro, is also a popular favorite with the golfers of the surrounding towns as well as the "City That Faith Built." We hate to see the friendly Bill go, but we wish Phil Hesler a successful reign at the club.

The heavyweight fight situation promises to find a solution sometime in the near future. Max Schmeling, the German Dempsey, arrived in the country of Uncle Sam and seems confident of taking the championship of the world to Germany. Next June the lithe Uhlan will scrap with W. L. (Young) Stribling in a title bout. Max was awarded a verdict over Jack Sharkey last year, and Stribling and the foreigner are the two most powerful contenders for the heavyweight title of the world.

Carnera, the monster from Italy might have a look-in on the crown. The giant Italian does not rate as one of the foremost contenders for the title, however. Jack Dempsey, idol of the American public, is keeping in training by punching wrestlers on the jaw who don't agree with his decisions. Then there's the crafty Gene Tunney, retired champion. The speedy marine champion entered a big battle when he entered married life.

Another team has been looking great in recent games. Jacksboro, one of the foremost contenders for cage honors in Jack county, played hosts to the Olney Cubs and handed them a 18-16 lacing. Previously the Cubs had shown off before the home crowd by walloping the Tigers by an impressive count. The victory gives the Jacksboro tossers a place in the favored section. Vernon, Jacksboro, Olney and Nocona will be serious contenders in the district championship which will be played here about the middle of February.

Spring is just around the corner. That hackneyed phrase is music to the ears of the tennis and golf enthusiasts all over the nation. Before long it will be time to drag out the clubs and racquet and limber up the muscles that have been waiting to be exercised all year.

A three way tie seems certain in the cage standings of the county round robin tournament. Clara, Cashion, and Valley View are likely to be in a three-way tie for first place when the schedule ends Friday. The playoff for the championship should produce some thrilling games.

Allendale Defeats Fraternity Cage Team

The Allendale High school cage team defeated the Pi Delta Koppa cage team last night in a fast game, 23 to 19, on the Presbyterian court. Evans of the school team was high point man of the game with 13 points. Hobbs was high man for the fraternity boys with 8 points from the field. The game was tied at the third quarter, and it was a hot battle in the last quarter.

VERNON LIONS TRIM COYOTES

Weir's Crippled Outfit Wins, 39-27

Special to The Record News

VERNON, Texas, Jan. 28.—Playing without their captain and star forward, the Vernon Lions outpointed the Wichita Falls High school Coyotes here Wednesday night, 39 to 27, in a fast exhibition of spirited basket ball. Capt. Otto Love was ruled ineligible because of over age and was removed from the team before the game. He will be lost to the team for the rest of the season.

Coach Weir's home team swept into a big lead at the outset and maintained the pace all the way. Lockhart found the loop with startling regularity and put his team in front with goal after goal. In the first half the visitors were clearly outplayed, trailing 24 to 11 at the intermission. The red and black clad team started a belated rally soon after the second half had opened. They threatened to overtake the speeding Lions, but the odds were too great, and the Pack had to be content with ruling the game during the second half.

Lockhart played a brilliant defensive and offensive game for the winners, collecting seven sinks from the floor and four charity tosses for a total of 18 points. Burchfield, had a finger in the pie of victory with a total of 10 points. Orion Janeway was the big noise in the charge of the Coyotes, collecting 11 points and turning in his usual sensational defensive game.

It was just another bead in an already long string for the victors. The Red and White dribblers have lost only two games this season and have conquered some of the best teams in the country. The county tournament is only a few days off and the Vernon tossers will be hard pushed to win the county title after losing the services of their captain. Oklaunion offers the biggest threats to the Lion's hopes for a county crown, boasting of one of the two scalps that the Lions have lost.

Murray Shunts Highway Leader

business for his step-son, Jack Ashworth, Oklahoma City bonding company representative.

After a caucus, the senate named seven committeemen to investigate the charges. Members are Chairman Bob McDonald and Senators Garvin, Fidler, Williamson, Ray, all Democrats, and Risley and Blakely, Republicans.

When Gov. W. H. Murray heard of the charges he promptly demanded Pittman's resignation. Pittman, close friend of the governor and fellow colleague in the constitutional convention, refused to resign. He contended his actions had not been unethical. He admitted soliciting friends to do business with Ashworth but denied asking state officials.

Eugene M. Kerr, former Muskogee newspaper publisher, was mentioned as a probable successor should Pittman be ousted.

The investigation occupied the time of the senate. The house spent the afternoon in debate on a proposed bill removing ice plants from control of the state corporation commission.

The house voted to substitute the minority report of the committee which would repeal the existing law placing the plants under the commission. The vote on the substitution, which asked passage of the bill was 73 to 21. Three were absent.

The house also withdrew a similar bill removing cotton gins from the commission's control from the commerce and manufacturing committee and placed it for consideration by the committee of the whole.

P.-T. A. at Seymour Makes 1930 Report

Special to The Record News.

SEYMOUR, Texas, Jan. 28.—The Seymour grade school Parent-Teachers association has completed its year's work, and reports from the various committees show up very satisfactorily.

Aside from the regular work of obtaining playground and library equipment, many children have been clothed that they might attend school. The health committee has been on the job every day, taking care of playground accidents. Since the cold weather began, they have warded off sore throats and colds by treating an average of 15 throats a day.

The welfare committee sent Christmas baskets containing staple groceries, fruits, clothing, and toys. These things were donated by Seymour citizens without solicitation. A small sum from the P.-T. A. general fund was spent for new toys.

Next month founders day will be observed. A pageant is being planned showing the growth of parent-teacher work from the first mothers club down to the present national organization.

The grade school P.-T. A. is in its infancy as yet. It was organized in the spring of 1929, functioning in the school years of 1929-30 and 1930-31. There are 43 paid members, with an average attendance of 40 mothers and teachers. Interesting and instructive programs are given at each meeting.

Blast Wrecks Santa Fe Tank Car at San Angelo

SAN ANGELO, Texas, Jan. 28. (AP)—Train schedules over the Santa Fe line from San Angelo to Brownwood were at a standstill all day after eight tank cars left the track and were destroyed by fire and explosion, seven miles west of here, early this morning. The blaze was not extinguished until this afternoon and the tracks are expected to be cleared early tonight. A wrecking crew from Brownwood extinguished the flames with mud.

The wreck is thought to have been caused by a spreading rail. The exploding oil reached as far as the pavement adjoining the scene of the wreck where 300 yards of track were torn up. No one was hurt.

$80,000 to Be Used to Improve Wichita National Game Preserve

Special to The Record News.

LAWTON, Okla., Jan. 28.—Eighty thousand dollars from an emergency fund of the forestry service will be expended in the Wichita National Forest and Game preserve northwest of Lawton in accordance with the program urged by the Isaac Walton league, according to a telegram received here from Washington today.

An emergency bill passed by congress carried $85,000 for expenditure by the Denver district of the forestry service and officials in Washington have agreed to recommend that $80,000 of this sum be spent in improvements on the preserve as follows:

Sixty-five thousand dollars for seven-foot wire fence around the entire preserve, a distance of 65 miles; $2,000 for improvements of supervisor's headquarters and the balance in other needed improvements. Congressman Johnson will recommend that the balance of $13,000 be expended in construction of dams.

The money will be immediately available and it is being recommended that local labor be exclusively employed on the projects.

Robinson Says Congress Will Find Own Agencies for Repudiated Aid

Refusal of Red Cross to Administer $25,000,000 Fund Brings Bitter Attack

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28. (AP)—A threat that congress would find its own relief agencies came today in answer to a flat refusal by the Red Cross to administer the $25,000,000 relief fund proposed in the senate.

Democratic leader Robinson told the senate congress would find its own agencies for distribution of such funds as it feels should be used in the emergency "if the Red Cross refuses to measure up to the proper standard."

Robinson was speaking in reply to testimony John Barton Payne, chairman of the Red Cross, had given the house appropriations committee. Payne said his organization could not accept administration of the fund. He presented a resolution adopted by the Red Cross central committee.

The Arkansas senator called on all senators who had even an "ordinary" regard for suffering to repudiate the policy which implies a refusal on the part of those responsible to the people as a whole to take any action whatever to relieve the distress."

$10,000,000 Not Enough

Robinson said the $10,000,000 being sought by the Red Cross was inadequate, threatened an extra session if necessary to make congress "do its duty" and described the attitude of President Hoover against the $25,000,000 appropriation as "incomprehensible" even to his closest friends.

The resolution Payne presented said the Red Cross "is in a position adequately to complete the task it has undertaken in the drouth stricken areas and it hereby assumes the responsibility of completing said task without public appropriations."

The national chairman placed the blame for the delay in securing private contributions to the $10,000,000 fund directly on the proposal of Senator Robinson to appropriate the $25,000,000. The Robinson proposal, he said, came directly after President Hoover had issued the emergency call.

It was not until the chief executive, along with former President Coolidge, former Governor Smith of New York and Will Rogers, the cowboy humorist, made a radio appeal that substantial contributions began to be received whereas, he said, it usually required only 10 to 14 days to complete such drives.

Refunds Feared

Placing the contributions received to date at $3,880,000, Payne, predicted that the full amount would be received, although he warned that if congress did appropriate $25,000,000, many contributors would demand their money be refunded.

The $5,000,000 set aside for the drouth emergency from the Red Cross treasury and the $10,000,000 fund, the Red Cross chairman said "will meet the needs."

Through Jan. 27, he said, the Red Cross had expended $2,880,994 in the drouth areas confining its activities exclusively to the drouth section and the unemployment situation occasioned by it.

"No organization but the Red Cross," he said, "could give relief in the rural areas."

He added, however, that the Red Cross would destroy its private sources of income if it went into partnership with the government.

In the debate that sprang up in the senate immediately after Payne's testimony, four other Democratic senators joined Robinson in assailing the administration and its relief stand. They were Caraway or Arkansas, Copeland of New York, McKellar of Tennessee and Heflin of Alabama.

HAWKS BOW TO FAIRVIEW FIVE

Iowa Park Unable to Hit Basket; Score, 27-25

Special to The Record News

IOWA PARK, Texas, Jan. 28.—Inability to make their shots count cost the Iowa Park Hawks a victory here tonight, the Fairview cagers ekeing out a 27 to 25 victory in a practice game. The home team missed countless shots and missed goal after goal.

The visitors jumped off to a big lead and led, 15 to 5, at the expiration of playing time for the first half. Coming back strong in the final half, the Birds attempted to tame the Wildcats but the lead was always in the distance.

Cobb and J. Wilson led the attack of the losers, the former capturing nine points for high scorer. Faulk and Buntine hit the loop for the most points for the winners, the former checking in with 10 points to lead the sharpshooters of the visiting outfit.

Thursday night the Hawks will play the Holliday cagers in a practice game. Friday night the locals will close the round robin race for the county championship by journeying to Valley View to engage one of the loop leaders. The Hawks are definitely out of the race for the champion of the round robin tourney.

railway clerks, and one laborer climbed to the executive mansion.

Of the total group of 232, there were 115 Democrats, and 113 Republicans. There have been two Progressive Republicans, one Progressive, and one Independent. Sixty-four per cent of the group attended or graduated from some college or university. Nine were elected to membership in Phi Beta Kappa. Only twice have women been chosen governors, in each case after their respective husbands had occupied the chair.

But even if the survey does show a large percentage of governors did start out as lawyers, Talker wouldn't advise any young man to become a lawyer for that advantage. The fact is that a good many young men who study for the law find either themselves unadapted for it or opportunities so limited they seek other occupations. In some sections of the country it is estimated there are 10 times as many lawyers as there is profitable and useful employment for them.

Here in Texas we have a governor who was a country storekeeper, farmer and oil producer. After he became wealthy he became a newspaper publisher.

It isn't necessary for a man to be a lawyer to be a governor or to perform distinguished public service but it must be said for that profession that when some public service to being performed in most cases you will find a lawyer leading or giving help to the man who is leading.

MELLON FIGHTS CASH BONUS

Secretary Warns of 'Serious Consequences'

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28. (AP)—Secretary Mellon told the senate finance committee today that proposals for cashing the bonus certificates of world war veterans are without "economic merit" and instead of improving conditions would "deepen" the world depression.

Mellon was closely questioned as he predicted a treasury deficit of $375,000,000 and warned the cash conversion plan not only would have "serious consequences" on public credit but would "greatly disturb world equilibrium."

The veteran treasury secretary barely had concluded his statement of the administration's opposition when Senator Harrison of Mississippi, a Democratic member of the committee, told the senate "a majority of the committee is going to favor some relief."

Veto Predicted

Harrison announced he favored paying the veterans the present cash value of the certificates.

Mellon's personal appearance was considered by committee members as added evidence of the administration's strong attitude toward the proposed legislation. It increased the belief among some senators that President Hoover would veto a bill to pay the veterans the face value of their certificates.

Mellon's prepared statement, which was read to the committee by Under Secretary Mills, confined its attack to the proposal for paying the face value of the certificates which would cost about $4,000,000,000.

Later, however, Mills said the same objections would apply to a lesser degree, to the proposal to pay the present value of the certificates, the cost of which has been estimated at from $1,700,000,000 to $2,100,000,000.

Questions Fired

Members of the committee did not wait for the reading of Mellon's statement before beginning to question him. The treasury secretary and his assistant, sitting on either side of Senator Watson, Republican Indiana, the acting chairman, alternated in answering the questions.

Senator Cousens, Republican, a long time foe of Mellon, took a leading part in the questionmg.

Replying to questions by Senator Barkley, Democrat, Kentucky, Mills estimated the public debt has been retired in the last 10 years to the extent of $3,650,000,000 more than required by law.

Harrison interjected that the debt had been retired beyond requirements of law "by overtaxing the people."

"It is a strange coincidence," Cousens remarked, "that the amount by which we have retired the public debt in excess of what was required is just equal to what we now want to give our soldiers.

Denies Overtaxing

"Yes," Mellon replied, "but the country was in a better condition to pay that amount then than it is now. It was entirely different from going out now for fresh capital."

"To put it another way," Mills interjected, "it is now proposed to wipe out the benefits of sound financing by the treasury over the last 10 years."

Mellon denied Harrison's assertion the people had been overtaxed.

In his prepared statement, Mellon said the legislation would "seriously retard business recovery, and so prolong unemployment."

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Jan. 28. (AP)—A further advance in cotton at the opening today on continued covering and trade buying, was followed by reactions under realizing or liquidation and selling by spot houses which was supposed to be against purchases in the South. May contracts, after advancing to 10.71 at the start, sold off to 10.52 and closed at 10.53 with the general market closing barely steady at net declines of 8@12 points.

The opening was steady 5 to 7 points higher on a renewal of the recent buying movement which included a moderate demand from the trade and some further covering. It may have been promoted by reports of prospects for increased mill operations in Japan next April, while there were also reports of increasing mill activity in some of the southern mills.

Selling of May and July by a broker supposed to be operating for spot interests, was referred to as one of the chief features in the day's trading and seemed to create an impression that spot cotton had been offered more freely in the South with the demand chiefly from merchants who were selling hedges against it in the futures markets here. Otherwise, the selling was attributed chiefly to realizing or liquidation, while the trade buying was said to be chiefly on scale doan orders.

Liverpool cables said covering and foreign buying had been supplies by hedge selling in that market and reported fair cloth sales to the continent and Argentina. Exports today 14,156 making 4,450,195 so far this season. Port receipts 14,433. U. S. port stocks 4,076,064.

Futures closed barely steady, 8 to 12 points lower. Spot quiet; middling 10.40.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 28. (AP)—The volume of trading in the cotton market showed very little improvement here today. In the early trading prices improved owing to favorable cables and some trade buying, but later prices eased off due to weakness in the stock market coupled with lack of sustained support, losing 14 to 17 points from the early highs and bringing the price level 6 to 8 points below the previous close.

Despite the decline there was very little selling pressure, there being little disposition to trade on either side of the account. The market developed a little more activity in the late trading but continued to ease off making new lows 18 to 20 points under the early highs but ending 2 to 3 points above the lowest on some short covering. The close was steady, the general market showing net losses for the day of 7 to 11 points.

Liverpool came in 1 to 2 penny points better than due and private cables stated the market felt foreign buying and there was short covering. Manchester reported there were fair cloth sales to the continent and Argentina but yarns were inactive. First trades here showed gains of 4 to 6 points and the market continued to improve in the early trading March selling up to 10.46, May to 10.70 and October to 11.19, up 5 to 9 points above the previous close.

Later the market eased off with stocks and before the offerings were absorbed prices had dropped to 10.32, for March, 10.55 for May and 11.02 for October or 14 to 17 points below the highs and 6 to 8 points under the previous close.

The market was a shade more active in the late trading and prices continued to ease off due to selling by ring traders making new lows at 10.28 for March, 10.51 for May and 10.99 for October or 18 to 20 points under the early highs. Prices rallied 2 to 3 points at the end due to a little covering, March closing at 10.30, May at 10.54 and October at 11.01 or 8 to 11 points net lower on those active months.

Port receipts 12,132; for week 72,992; for season 7,461,263; last season 7,446,824; exports 14,156; for week 46,424; for season 4,322,178; last season 4,771,632. Port stocks 4,215,959; last year 2,518,925. Combined shipboard stock at New Orleans, Galveston and Houston 90,971; last year 123,081; spot sales at southern markets 12,464; last year 8,879.

Futures closed steady at net decline of 7 to 11 points.

Industrials Break Under Selling As Constructive Moves Fall Short

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, Jan. 28. (US)—Failure of the industrial averages to reach new highs for the month, following three successive attempts since last Friday, resulted in renewed professional selling and liquidation in the stock market today.

Industrials broke nearly four points, while the Rails and Utilities declined 1.55 points and 1.40 points respectively. Selling was not particularly aggressive, but it was evident that constructive forces were disposed to proceed with greater caution.

Although this was principally due to technical considerations, the bulk of the news was not of a nature to inspire confidence in bullish activities. For example, government bonds experienced the sharpest setback in several months, political news from Washington was unfavorable, commodities were easier, weekly Steel reviews showed an increase of only 1 per cent in operations, and the earnings statement issued by the Steel corporation after the close Tuesday hardly was of a nature to encourage aggressive bull sponsorship.

Considerable importance was attached to the remarks made by Secretary of the Treasury Mellon who testified before the senate finance committee. Secretary Mellon strongly opposed the veterans bonus plan, stating that immediate cash payment of soldier bonus certificates would be "most unfortunate." In expressing his views, Secretary Mellon stated that from the point of stimulating business "it is a plan of unmitigated inflation with the disastrous results of which the world is only too familiar."

He also emphasized the fact such a move would have a disastrous effect upon the bond market and "there would after a while be a deeper depression than the one from which the world is suffering today." These remarks had a disquieting effect upon the bond market, particularly the government issues which suffered a severe setback. The weakness in government bonds naturally exerted a depressing influence in stock market circles where sentiment also was dampened by Secretary Mellon's outspoken comments.

Railroad stocks were under heavy pressure during the greater portion of the day. Selling in this group was largely influenced by the ommission of the dividend on Wabash prefrerred "A" and "B". This action had been forecast exclusively in this column last week. Wabash preferred "A" broke 5½ points on the news, while Wabash common declined more than 4 points. Increased selling was also evident in other rails, particularly New York Central, Missouri Pacific, Atchison and Erie.

As pointed out here recently, buying in the Rails during the latter stages of the recent advance was of a speculative nature. Investment demand, however, is expected to manifest itself on further recessions when the yields, even allowing for dividend reductions, are attractive.

The widely advertised "bear raid" in Eastman Kodak was carried out unsuccessfully and the bear clique in Case Threshing Machine also achieved considerable success. Despite the general weakness, however, it was evident that short covering was taking place on a scale down.

This buying no doubt was induced by reports that better support would be extended to United States Steel, American Can and other pivotal stocks on further reactions.

From a purely techincal point of view, such a development would be entirely logical. At the close tonight, the industrial averages showed a loss of two points from a week ago and had retraced approximately 40 per cent of the ground gained since the December lows were reached. This would indicate that a further reaction would carry pivotal stocks to points where support was encountered on previous occasions.

Bethlehem Steel was sold on expectation that the earnings report to be issued after the close tomorrow afternoon will prove disappointing. The Tobacco stocks, however, displayed a strong undertone in anticipation of favorable dividend action. Directors of American Tobacco declared an extra dividend of $1 a share on the common and class "B" stocks after the close.

This action, however, had been foreshadowed and some profit taking may develop with the "good news" out of the way. Waldorf System also registered selling. Commodities in general were lower. Cotton was slightly lower and wheat and corn were under heavy pressure.

Corn followed contract values to lower ground and wheat was irregular with country shipments bringing 2@2½c per bushel above sales from elevators. No. 1 hard wheat of any protein was therefore variously priced at 77½@80c, basis delivered Texas common points.

Estimated receipts: Wheat 7 cars; corn, 6; oats, 5, and sorghums 2.

Quotations on coarse grains ranged as follows, basis carloads delivered Texas common points, freight paid:

Corn—No. 2 mixed 72@73c; No. 2 white 74½@75½c; No. 2 yellow 74@75c.

Oats—No. 2 red 32½@43c.

Sorghums—No. 2 milo per 100 pounds $1.23@1.25; No. 2 kaffir $1.21@1.23.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Jan. 28. (AP)—Under sudden fire from offerings to Chicago by other principal market centers, corn plunged down today to the lowest prices reached here since 1922. Urgent orders to stop losses of holders of corn future delivery contracts brought about a maximum fall of 2⅜ cents a bushel, with the final dealings at the day's bottom figures. Rye outdid low records unequalled as far back as 1894.

Corn closed unsteady, 2 cents to 2⅜ down, rye 1¼@1⅜c off, wheat unchanged to 1¼c lower, oats at ⅜@⅝c decline, and provisions showing 2 to 22 cents setback.

Acute weakness of corn and rye became manifest chiefly near the day's end. Persistent spring like temperatures reducing demand from feeders of livestock acted as a pronounced disturbing factor, and the effect especially on corn was aggravated by evidence that industries here were obtaining the bulk of their supplies from other terminal markets. Some hedging pressure attributed to Minneapolis sources tended further to send Chicago values down.

Wheat was influenced bearishly by forecasts that the aggregate on ocean passage would shortly assume much larger proportions, Argentina, Australia and Canada being likely to ship on an increased scale. Absence of moisture in domestic wheat territory failed to act as an offset. Oats declined with other cereals.

Provisions reflected downturns in hog values.

Closing indemnities: Wheat, May, bids, 81½c; July 64⅜@½c, 65⅜c. Corn, March 61¼c, 63½c; May 63c, 65@65½c, July 63⅞@¾c, 66@66½c; Sept, bids, 63⅝c.

Dramatic 'Co-Op' May Be Success

NEW YORK, Jan. 28. (AP)—New York's only cooperative show is feeling stronger.

At the Hammerstein theater, where "Ballyhoo" is still running despite the recently gloomy predictions of its own producer, a profit-sharing cast is hopeful that the production will finish the winter. Arthur Hammerstein closed the show about a month ago, a "flop."

But W. C. Fields, comedian, and his co-workers—the boys and girls of the chorus, and the orchestra—decided to go on with the show themselves. Hammerstein gave them free use of the theater and waived any share in the profits.

Hall Red Cross To Give Relief To 300 Families

Special to The Record News.

MEMPHIS, Texas, Jan. 28.—It is estimated that within two weeks the local Red Cross chapter, under the supervision of J. Claude Wells, chairman, will be giving aid to around 300 families. There are now two branch divisions of the Red Cross, one at Turkey and one at Estelline, and one will be established at Lakeview just as soon as some one can be found to look after the work at that place.

The work is becoming heavier each day, according to Chairman Wells, and should the weather become severely cold, much more aid is expected to be asked for. So far the winter has been very mild in this section, which has been quite an aid in this drouth-stricken section.

The Lovely Liar

nearly a week Max came back from town perturbed.

"People wondering about you, Miss Poppy," he said after he had put his bundles in the kitchen. "Where you walk yesterday?"

"Just where I usually do. In the woods. No one saw me, I'm sure, for I didn't see anybody."

"Maybe you didn't see anybody, but anybody see you," the Chinaman replied, frowning. "People ask me today who the pretty girl is at the cabin. The girl with the black eyes and the curly dark hair. I say no girl there.

"That Mr. Wallace, he here and working. No girl. They laugh. Someone see you. Little town and wise town. They see. I'm worried."

"But, Max, I didn't see anyone!" Poppy insisted.

"I don't want Mr. Wallace, he get in trouble," Max said gravely.

"Mr. Wallace get in trouble? How could that be?"

"Well, Mr. Wallace he bring you here. You run away from prison. I know that——"

"Not prison, Max. Almost prison, though."

"Yes, almost prison. You run away from almost-prison, come to Mr. Wallace. Police they hunt for you. That why you stay in cabin. If you found here, what happens to Mr. Wallace? He get blame for hiding you when you run away from almost-prison. See?"

"I Must Leave"

"I see, Max. I—I hadn't thought of any harm coming to Mr. Wallace. I was only thinking of myself."

"I think of Mr. Wallace."

"You think I ought to—leave?"

"Mr. Wallace be angry if you leave. I know. You stay, but be careful. I call him when I hear these thing, and he say he coming out this afternoon. He be here soon."

Poppy was upset. She had had no idea that she would make trouble for Kevin. After all he had done for her—for her to endanger him. Foolishly she had thought only of herself. Not of him.

She'd have to go. That was settled.

When Kevin came late in the afternoon she greeted him quietly. He had come on the train, and Max had gone to meet him in the car.

"I think I'd better go," she said when he sat down beside her on the couch.

"From what Max tells me, I think you had, too. People in town seem to be wondering about you. There's nothing like curiosity to stimulate interest. I thought you'd be safe out here, but evidently you're not."

"Are the—police still hunting for me?" Poppy's question came slowly, fearfully.

"I suppose so. I called up a friend of mine before I left the city and she's agreed to let you stay there with her tonight. Tomorrow I'll think of something else. I'll take you to her apartment and leave you there. She's absolutely square, so you don't have to worry. Jane Rochester—"

"No, I'd rather not. I'm—I'm going home."

Kevin raised his eyebrows. "Home?"

"I never should have left it. I'll go there, and . . ." Poppy didn't finish her sentence, but she knew what she was going to do. She had planned it while she was waiting for Max to bring Kevin to the cabin. Whatever happened, she'd go home. Tell the truth, nothing about the home, of course, for they wouldn't know that, and they didn't need to know that. But she'd tell them she had never married Ted Allison. It would be hard, quite the hardest thing she had ever done, but she was through with lies. Through with them. She thought fiercely. People would think—horrible things, but she'd have to stand it. It was the only way. In New York, she'd only get in deeper and deeper trouble. Thank God, they didn't know about the Minnie Bascum home in Ashland. Know she'd been there!

"Just as you say, but I'd rather you went to Jane tonight. She's a nice girl. You can start for your home in the morning."

"No, I'll go home tonight. And some day I'll pay you back for all you've done. I don't need this money—all this money, just my fare back. That will be plenty." She arose and got her purse.

"Better keep it all. You may need it. Don't worry, I'll let you pay me back some day." He smiled, and Poppy tried to smile back, but she wasn't much in the mood for smiling. She was thinking of Ashland, and telling her mother and Grace that she hadn't married Ted Allison. Thinking of what they'd say. It would be plenty.

Road Workers Get Groceries as Pay

Special to The Record News.

FREDERICK, Okla., Jan. 28.—About 18 men are being employed graveling the streets of Frederick and are being paid in great part by the Good Fellows. Instead of being paid cash they are supplied groceries.

Luther M. Wagnon, secretary of the chamber of commerce, has been putting in nearly all his time since Christmas looking after the relief situation, but since the Red Cross has begun to function, he thinks he can soon again give his attention to regular chamber of commerce duties.

125 WICHITA FAMILIES GIVEN RED CROSS FOOD ORDERS

QUICK RELIEF PROVIDED HERE

Dietitians Wage Fight To Prevent Pellagra

Approximately 125 Wichita county families had been supplied by the local American Red Cross chapter Wednesday night with food supplies for one month, according to Misses Pearl Rorabaugh and Ethel Louise Webb, who are in charge of the distribution.

Orders Average $20

Miss Rorabaugh is secretary of the local Red Cross chapter, and Miss Webb is home demonstration agent for Wichita county. Selection of food for applicants certified by the relief committee is being made by them, the "market order" accompanying the order which may be exchanged for the stipulated supplies at any grocery in the county. The average order for provisions is for about $20.

Aside from selecting the groceries to be supplied each family, in order that the maximum amount of nutrition may be secured for the allowed sum of money, Misses Rorabaugh and Webb are furnishing suggested menus and other instructions designed to aid beneficiaries in preparation of meals for the best results. Boiling of all foods instead of frying is being urged, not only because of the lower cost of preparation, but because of the better food values thus provided, Miss Webb said. No fats for cooking are being supplied, it was said.

Menus suggested by the two dietitians are purposed to maintain a balanced ration for each member of the family in question, as well as to guarantee economy in the use of such supplies as are provided. Eight cases of pellagra among adults already have been detected in the county, it was said, inception of the disease being charged to insufficient nourishment and improper diet. Efforts are now under way, it was stated, to obtain the needed yeast for the treatment of these cases by furnishing the Red Cross with medical certification of the situation.

School Leaders Aid

Investigators in the 21 school districts of the county are cooperating with the local Red Cross chapter in commendable fashion, Miss Rorabaugh said, in placing families in need of aid in line to obtain it. Equipped with slips showing his name, his case number, and the market order prepared by Miss Rorabaugh and Miss Webb, the applicant takes his order for merchandise to the grocer of his own selection and procures supplies for one month's period. If at the end of the month, it was said, further aid is necessary, it will be provided in a similar fashion.

The emergency relief committee, headed by J. T. Harrell, chairman, is meeting daily at 1 p. m., for examination and certification of applications for aid, and for discussion of current developments in the situation. Other members of the committee are H. F. Sanderford, Mrs. William Huff, E. J. Williams of Burkburnett, G. C. McGown, J. N. Sherrill, and George D. Fairtrace.

W. O. Beeman, president of the local Red Cross chapter, is expected to return to this city Thursday, it was announced. He is expected to have visited the St. Louis Red Cross office during his absence, and to bring to the local chapter the latest information from the national organization relative to relief work.

Clothing Needed

Relief handled directly through the Red Cross office thus far has been limited to food supplies. Distribution of clothing where it is needed has been made through the office of the county superintendent of schools at the courthouse. Such garments have been provided by citizens of the community. Information given Wednesday was that the demand still exceeds the supply. Clothing for children from 6 to 15 years of age is in greatest demand, it was stated. Citizens of the community able to provide such clothing are urged to place it in the office of J. T. Hood, county superintendent.

Clara to Maintain Guard Over Home

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Jan. 28. (INS)—Friends close to Clara Bow, motion picture star, today indicated that the present guard will be maintained about the screen star's Beverly Hills home until she leaves for a three weeks' rest.

The guard was doubled last night after Miss Bow had received death threats in letters which commented on the trial of Daisy Devoe, the screen star's former secretary, who was convicted of a charge of embezzling $825 from the actress.

Following the threats it was feared that one of the writers might break into Miss Bow's home where she is convalescing from a serious cold.

Meanwhile William Beirne, attorney for Miss Devoe, was perusing all evidence in the embezzlement case in preparation for arguments on his motion for a new trial which will be heard Monday, Feb. 2.

Senators Told Of New Transport Era

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28. (AP)—A new transportation era in which speeding lighter-than-air ships will take the leading role from existing carriers was forecast today before the house Interstate Commerce committee.

Numerous witnesses endorsed the pending Parker bill, which would establish insurance liabilities for airships and permit the postmaster general to grant beneficial airmail contracts for transportation to foreign countries.

Paul W. Litchfield, president of the Goodyear Zeppelin corporation of Akron, Ohio, described the hopes of his company and the International Zeppelin Transport corporation.

"An airship building industry in the United States has advanced to the point that we may say the establishment of Zeppelin airship passenger lines to Europe and the Orient, flying the American flag, is now entirely possible," he said.

Litchfield expects airships to cut in half sailing time between America and Europe and shorten the time still more to the Far East.

MAJESTIC:- "The Silver Horde" with Evelyn Brent. Short subjects and sound news.

STATE: Eddie Quillen in "Big Money." Short subjects and sound news.

STRAND: "Inspiration" with Greta Garbo. Cartoon, Our Gang comedy and sound news.

GEM: Jack Oakie and Ginger Rogers in "The Sap From Syracuse." Comedy.

FOLLY: "Pitfalls of Passion," with Prudence Sutton and Larry O'Dell.

Louis Wolheim and Evelyn Brent bring "The Silver Horde" to two climatic, crashing peaks of excitement—Wolheim in his terse lecture to young Emerson about the relative merits of the two girls who are in love with him, and Miss Brent in her denunciation of Jean Arthur as a hypocrite.

Real thrills in the picture, however, are found more in the gorgeous photography of the salmon—the silver horde—both in their leaping in the rushing streams and when they are brought up in the net. It took more than Rex Beach to make this picture.

The fishing and the fights are real; the love scenes and arguments sound more like stage stuff. Yet, for that very reason, it will probably be well liked. Those who want it real will find enough of that element and those who want it stagey will love the melodrama.

There is a very stupid comedy on the same bill which can be avoided by studying the schedule carefully. Don't by any chance miss the delightful Mickey Mouse cartoon, however—it comes just before the feature. The person who comes in time for the news reel can leave after the feature and come a lot nearer getting his money's worth than if he stayed any longer.

Rites Friday For F. W. Lehrack

Funeral services for F. W. Lehrack, 55, father of E. B. Lehrack of Wichita Falls, are to be held at 3:30 o'clock Friday afternoon at the Newcomer's chapel in Kansas City. The elder Mr. Lehrack died at Kansas City early Wednesday morning of pneumonia after returning last week to his home following a visit with his son in Wichita Falls.

The son left here Monday and was at the bedside of his father when death occurred. Mrs. E. B. Lehrock and her daughter left here Wednesday afternoon to go to Kansas City.

Rail Board to Hear Denver's Passenger Plea

Application of the Fort Worth and Denver City railroad to consolidate its night passenger trains operating between Dallas and Amarillo is to be heard by the Texas railroad commission Monday, according to information given here Wednesday by Dudley B. Foy, traffic manager of the chamber of commerce.

The Denver's application requests permission to operate only one night passenger train, scheduled each way, between Amarillo and Dallas. The commission refused the road's application several months ago and stated that its decision was without prejudice and that a similar request might be heard after April 1, 1931. However, the commission, it is said, has set the date forward to Feb. 2.

K. of C. Leader Praises Work of Civic Clubs

Work among boys being done by Lions clubs, and among young people generally by various service and fraternal organizations, was praised by Robert A. McKenzie, national representative of the Knights of Columbus, in a talk before the Lions club at its weekly meeting Wednesday noon at the Kemp hotel.

Readings by Kenneth Charles Spell, son of Mr. and Mrs. K. C. Spell, and vocal numbers by J. S. Minton, accompanied by George Kerner, pianist, comprised a brief program of entertainment.

Judge Irvin J. Vogel described a meeting of the Burkburnett Lions club held Tuesday night.

THREE HUNDRED YEARS AGO

Just recently the scientific world observed the three hundredth anniversary of the discovery of quinine. Quinine for years was recognized as the leading medicine cabinet necessity but today aspirin has taken its place as first seller in drug stores. Just as quinine is quinine, so aspirin is either aspirin or it is not aspirin. The tremendous public acceptance of "St. Joseph's" Pure Aspirin to the tune of nine million boxes a year is due largely to the fact that the medical profession and public alike have learned that it conforms to every government standard and is as pure as money can buy.

"St. Joseph's" Pure Aspirin is sold in convenient tins of one dozen five grain tablets of guaranteed pure aspirin for 10c and thousands have learned that it is neither sensible nor necessary to pay more.

Children Flee Public Library When Mad Cat Invades Room

Pandemonium reigned for a short time during the children's story hour at the Kemp public library Wednesday afternoon when a mad cat entered the basement room where some 20 or 30 youngsters were gathered, and performed a series of antics, which under different circumstances might have added entertainment to the occasion.

Fred Fountain, plainclothes officer, responded to a frantic telephone call to police, and discovered the children gathered around the locked door leading to the room. The cat, in a final exhibition of gymnastics, was standing on its head, wedged in between a stock of books in a shelf.

As if to bear out the saying that a cat has nine lives, several shots were fired before the animal was killed.
