Most Will Pay Less Taxes

City Council Revises Tax Rate, Valuations

A blanket revaluation of city property for taxing purposes and a lowering of the tax rate was announced by Mayor L. B. Bratten Tuesday, August 28, following action by the city council Monday night.

The Council has taken a 100 pre cent valuation of all property, then by ordinance has set the taxable value of the property at 40 per cent of the actual value. In this manner, the council believes that taxes will be fair and equitable on all property in the city.

The next step was to lower the tax rate from $1.25 per hundred valuation to $1.00.

"It will work out that most tax payers will have an increase in valuation of the property, but an actual lowering of the amount of taxes they will pay to the city," Mr. Bratten said.

Total property valuation in the city will come to around $7,900,000, and the valuation for taxing purposes will be $3,160,000.

Judge Morrison Visits Wellington

Judge W. A. Morrison of the Court of Criminal Appeals, Austin, was in Wellington Tuesday afternoon, August 28, meeting local attorneys and business men.

This was the 250th Texas County that Judge Morrison has visited. Purpose of his visits are to get acquainted with Texans and learn their attitudes and trend of thinking. He said that Collingsworth voters gave him such hearty support during the last election that he wanted to meet some of them.

Judge Morrison's home is at Cameron, where he served as district attorney and district judge before being elected to his present post.

New Water Record Set, 19,000,000 Gallons Used

For the second successive month, Wellington water users broke all previous records, City Manaber Bura Handley said Tuesday, August 28.

During the month of July 21 through August 20, 19,000,000 gallons was consumed, 3,000,000 gallons more than was used the month previous, when a high to that date was set.

The record of 800,000 gallons for Saturday, July 21 still stands as the most water ever used in one day.

"We're still pumping ahead of the users, and we are thankful for that, because most of our neighboring towns have had a water shortage the biggest part of the summer," Mr. Handley said.

Good for This Time of Year

X-Rays Given 1749 in Week by Mobile Unit

The number of persons having chest X-rays this year dropped sharply from the 1950 figure, but technicians operating the unit from the State Department of Health said that the results were good for this period of the year, just before the opening of most schools.

Altogether, 1749 persons had chest X-rays, Jack Gibson, general chairman, said.

"The men with the mobile unit tell us, that while these results were lower than we had hoped for, the percentage of eligible population X-rayed was considerably higher here than in many other Texas points, some of them in this part of the State," Mr. Gibson said.

Results from the X-rays will be mailed to each individual within a few weeks. Those persons whose X-ray shows negative results will receive a card to this effect, cards of any who may have a chest ailment showing up by X-ray will be sent to the individual's family physician.

"We sincerely appreciate the help of everyone who had any part in the work with the unit while it was here, and we also appreciate the effort of every person who was X-rayed," Mr. Gibson said.

Attend Water Works Course

COLLEGE STATION, August, (Spl) — Eleven water plant employees from Hollis, Oklahoma, Estelline, McLean, Dodson, Clarendon, Quanah, and Wellington are enrolled in a water school being conducted in the Wellington city hall by James G. Lynch of the Texas Engineering Extension Service, a part of the Texas A. and M. College System. The school began August 13 and will continue through August 31.

The employees are studying Unit I of the Service's Water Works Operation and Maintenance Course, which has seven units. Class members meeting the minimum requirements of the twenty hour course will be awarded certificates from the Service. Any water plant employee who completes any four of the seven units of the course is qualified to take the state licensing examination for Certificates of Competency. State law requires that all water plant operators have one of these certificates.

Wellington men enrolled in the school are Ray Willis, helper, Russell Yates, water plant superintendent, and Chester G. Montgomery, maintenance mechanic.

Wellington, After Five Years Hospitalization

Paralyzed War Veteran to Hold Open House in New Home Sun.

Wellington's newest home, designed and built for a young World War II veteran now paralyzed and confined to his bed or wheel chair, will be the scene of an open house Sunday, September 2, when Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Hunter and their sons, Chester Hunter and Eugene Hunter, are hosts.

Eugene Hunter is owner of the home, located at 1212 Bowie St., built for him by Henry Stall and Mooney Stall.

The open house hours Sunday will be from 2:00 p.m. to 5:00 p.m., and the family is inviting all friends and others interested to attend.

Eugene Hunter served three years in action in the European area during World War II. Soon after returning from overseas, he was stricken with paralysis covering the lower half of his body. Since then he has been in Veterans Administration Hospitals in Amarillo and Memphis, Tennessee. After five years of hospital life, he returned to Wellington to make his home.

Although he is confined to his bed and in constant pain, he is cheerful and has a smile for everyone. His older brother, Chester Hunter, has cared for the young veteran during his entire illness.

Eugene Hunter's service to his country which caused him to be disabled for life entitled him to this new home, partially financed under a government program for paraphlegics, and because of this, it had to meet strictest specifications.

The new home is of modified ranch style, constructed of white brick with white asphalt tile roof. There are nine rooms, two baths and double garage. The house is insulated, has central air conditioning, two floor furnaces, and wall to wall carpeting. In one end of the living room is a large attractive fireplace.

The one way in which it differs from the home of a healthy person is that ramps instead of steps are provided at the south entrance to the house and at the garage-house entrance.

The house is papered throughout with gay, decorative wall paper. The living room, dining room, guest room and hall have imported crystal light fixtures, and those of the other rooms were chosen in contrast.

Furnishings throughout are in 18th century mahogany.

The living room and dining room are done in green and rose, with beige carpeting, while the guest bedroom is in rose and grey. Chester Hunter has a room carpented in beige with furnishings carrying out the color scheme of chartreuse and brown. Mr. and Mrs. Hunter used soft green, rose and white in their bedroom.

The owner's room is a combination bedroom and den. It has rose carpeting, blue walls and rose curtains. His comfortable chairs and divan are in gold, beige and blue. At one end of the room is the carved mahogany mantel.

The main bath is done in blue and yellow, with built in closets and dressing table, while the other is in green. The kitchen is bright and cheerful in yellow, green and tan.

The recreation room, done in knotty pine, is also the owner's exercise room.

The back yard is being landscaped to be beautiful and livable. A large concrete terrace leads to the brick barbecue pit and concrete [illegible] surround the premises.

John Stoneman Dies Sunday of Accident Injuries

John R. Stoneman, 27, farm and ranch foreman for the Doneghy Estate, died Sunday, August 26, at 5:00 p.m. of injuries received Saturday night when his car overturned near his home at the Doneghy Turkey Farm about nine miles southwest of Wellington.

His small daughter, Linda, about four, was with her father but was uninjured.

The accident occurred as the family was returning from Wellington. Mrs. Stoneman, who had gone ahead in another car, reached home without being aware of the accident, but when her husband failed to arrive, she returned to see if there had been car trouble. Two men living in the Rolla community had also reached the scene shortly after the accident, which took place after Mr. Stoneman had left the county road and driven onto the farm.

He was rushed to St. Joseph's Hospital.

Members of the sheriff's department, who went to the scene of the accident, said that although the car had landed upright on its wheels, there was no doubt in their minds that it had overturned.

The Stoneman family came here in the spring of 1950 for his practice teaching in vocational agriculture under an agreement between Sam Houston State College,

Skunk Bites Bell Youth

Paul Bell Jr., 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bell, was bitten on one thumb by a skunk Tuesday evening near Marian Airpark Swimming Pool.

Mrs. Bell said her son and a friend, Don Scott, had found and caught the skunk about 6:00 p.m. The Scott youth was rubbing the animal, and when Bell reached out to pet it, it caught his thumb, puncturing but not tearing the skin.

The boys let the skunk go and reported the accident to John Lee, swimming pool manager, who tried to find the animal but could not.

Mrs. Bell said her son is being given rabies shots as a precaution.

It is located two doors north of the Wellington State Bank.

Formal opening has been set for Friday, August 31, when free ice cream will be served between the hours of 2:00 and 4:00 p.m.

"We extend a cordial invitation to all our friends to come in and see us, and to those who are not yet our friends to come by and get acquainted," Mr. Smith said.

This business was formerly operated as Keith's Confectionery in another location.

It was also announced that Mrs. Smith is moving her sewing shop from her home on East Avenue to Bill's Place and will operate it there.

First of 1951 Crop Cotton at Wellington and Dodson

Frank Faulk, who farms just south of the southwest corner of town, brought in the first bale of 1951 season cotton, Friday, August 24, delivering one of the earliest bales to be ginned here in recent years.

The first bale ginned at Dodson came in Tuesday, August 28 about noon. It was brought in by L. C. Leathers, who farms seven miles southwest of Dodson and was ginned by the Davis Gin.

These two bales start off the county's 1951 short cotton crop, still suffering from hot weather. J. W. Thomas, county agent, said that there is still lots of cotton on sandy and mixed land that will be greatly benefitted by rain, and some fields scattered over the county have never stopped growing.

While there appears to be no bale-to-the-acre cotton in the county, Mr. Thomas said that in the Dodson area there are fields that will make from two-thirds to three quarters of a bale, and there is a considerable acreage over the county that is likely to make from a third to a half bale.

Some late tight land cotton is suffering badly, and unless it receives rain, it will not be picked, Mr. Thomas added.

Mr. Leathers had 1920 pounds of seed cotton and got a 425 pound bale and 880 pounds of seed, Marvin Wynn, manager, said.

The cotton was strict middling, twenty-nine thirty seconds, and described by Mr. Wynn as good considering the year, although it was pretty green and coming from the tight land, had been burnt.

The bale was bought by the Davis Gin for 35 cents, about a cent above the market price for that grade and staple.

Nine Dodson merchants raised a premium of $40 and presented it to Mr. Leathers: Farmers Gin, Fillpot Station, Dodson Dry Goods, J. C. Howell Grocery, Dodson Cafe, West Drug, Whitfield Station, G. T. Owens Grocery and the First State Bank. The Davis Gin ginned the cotton free of charge.

Mr. Faulk had 1950 pounds of pulled seed cotton and got a 465 pound bale with 880 pounds of seed. The bale was ginned at the Farmers Co-op Gin about 5:30 Friday evening, Dick Sweat, manager, said.

The bale was strict middling 13/16 and was bought by the gin for 35 cents, a little above the market price.

A premium of $183 was worked up by the Chamber of Commerce among merchants of the town and presented to Mr. Faulk.

"It was a mighty nice bale," Mr. Sweat commented.

Mr. Faulk pulled over about 17 acres to get the bale, he told the gin manager. It is of Lockett 140 variety.

Business firms contributing to make up the premium were the Wellington Chamber of Commerce, Loyd's Cafe, French Tailor Shop, Busy Bee Cafe, Lewis Grocery and Market, The Diamond Shop, Stevenson Implement Co., Ritz Theatre, Wellington Plumbing,

Jess Cook, C. B. Anderson Insurance, V. P. Robertson Tailor Shop, Wells & Wells, Smith-Clement Real Estate, City Grocery, A& J Cleaners, The Hub, Harrell's Ben Franklin Store, Nored Parts & Supply, The Fashion Shop, The Toggery, Pruden Drug, Hatch Dry Goods,

WHEN WELLINGTON GOES TO THE GULF

Two of the fish caught by a party of Wellington people who fished recently out from Port Isabel are held here by Mr. and Mrs. John King, two of the fishermen. Both are red snapper, and the one held by Mr. King weighed 23 pounds and that Mrs. King holds 17 pounds. The group went out in one of the boats owned by A. W. Upchurch of Wellington, and in two hours of actual fishing, caught 350 pounds of red snapper. They fished at a bank approximately 35 miles out in the Gulf, and the round trip required eight hours on the water. Members of the party were Mr. and Mrs. King, Beryl Faulkner, Bobby Jack Watson, Wayne Henard and Jackie Strong.

Bobby Brown, 6, Drown In Farm Tank Near Loco

Bobby Brown, six year old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Brown of Loco, was drowned in a pond near the family home Tuesday morning, August 28.

Parents of the child were away from home at the time, and the boy was at home with sisters. He was missed about 9:30 a.m., when his dog returned to the house without him. The girls looked for the child, and after the return of the parents, they went to the tank where his clothes were located, and the boy's body was found about noon.

Friends were told that he was fond of playing in the tank, and had been permitted to do so when with older members of the family.

An inquest was held by Judge L. C. Elliott, justice of the peace at Childress, who returned a verdict of accidental drowning.

The boy was born April 28, 1945, at Loco and had lived there all his life.

Funeral services will be Thursday at 4 p.m. at the Assembly of God. The Kelso Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

Bobby is survived by his parents and twelve brothers and sisters.

Drivers License Is the Aim

DRIVER EDUCATION COURSE ONE OF MOST POPULAR FOR NORWOOD

The new driver training program has been opened at Samnorwood, and like that of preceding years, it is one of the most popular courses offered at the school.

The class is limited to 12 students and the course is taught by Winston Connors. It is open to sophomore students and will last until mid-term, while another class will be organized. Students, who must be fourteen years of age when they enroll, receive one-half credit toward graduation and their drivers license — if they pass the course successfully.

Both actual driving and class work is included in the course. The boys and girls study the official handbook issued by the State Department of Safety, and the textbook, "The Man in the Motor Car."

They took their written tests Tuesday, August 28, and will receive restricted drivers licenses, permitting each one to drive on the highways provided a licensed driver is in the front seat with the student.

The practical road test will come at the end of the course.

The car for this course is a Dodge sedan with dual controls provided the school by Jack Dekle of Shamrock. It is used only in the driving course, and each year a new car is provided. Last year, the student drivers put 4,300 miles on the speedometer.

"It's one of the most popular courses in school," Mr. Connors said, "and you should see the boys and girls when one of them has successfully passed his driving test. They laugh and joke and congratulate the lucky driver. You just don't see that sort of thing when a student passes an exam in other courses.

Enrolled in the present course are Janie Oldham, Shirley Montgomery, Sue Pritchard, Kay Newkirk, Orbie Joyce Offutt, Shirley Jean Brown, LaDawn Mayberry, Garland Lamb, Billie Irene Seago, Effie Benton, Sue Vaughn and Douglas Devinney.

Come Out and Watch, Says McKnight

Heat Doesn't Stop 39 Scrimmaging Rockets

In spite of hot, sluggish August weather, Wellington Skyrockets are working up a lot of enthusiasm out at Powell Field twice every day, and members of the sidewalk quarterback club are invited out to watch the boys work, although no shady spots for spectators are furnished, Coach Maxey McKnight said Tuesday.

Twenty-four A squad Rockets and approximately 15 on the B squad were out for the opening practice Monday morning, August 27, McKnight said.

He and Assistant Donald Briggs are holding two practice sessions twice a day, from 8:00 to 10:00 a.m. and 4:30 to 6:30 p.m.

Tuesday afternoon, McKnight and Briggs put the boys through their first scrimmage, and scrimmages will be held at each afternoon practice session. Mornings will be devoted to practice work.

"The boys look pretty good, in fact, they've a lot of enthusiasm. We'll get our pace, considering the weather, and really get down to work in the next few days," Coach McKnight said.

The Child Labor Law is Still on the Farmers

Cotton farmers who last year found themselves face to face with a stringent Child Labor Law will confront this same law again when they start to pull their cotton. Efforts of southern congressmen and farm leaders, including a number from surrounding counties, has not brought about relaxation of the law.

Growers in this section understand the law, and three school districts, by their traditional practice of dismissing for cotton picking automatically take care of the situation, but there are still a large number of farmers who will be affected. Strict enforcement of the law is promised by William J. Rogers, regional director of the Wage-Hour and Public Contracts Division of the U. S. Department of Labor in Dallas.

He pointed out again today that the law applies directly to farmers whose crops or products, either directly or indirectly, go into interstate or foreign commerce. He illustrated the matter with the case of a farmer who sends his product outside the state or delivers his product to a ginner, processor, canner, or dealer who will send it outside the state—either in its original form or as part of another product.

The law does not apply to a farmer's own children under 16 years working on their parent's farm, he said. But if farmers hire other under-age children during school hours, the farmers themselves are responsibile, he declared.

By "school hours" is meant the hours when school is in session for the district where the employed children under 16 currently are living, he explained. That includes children hired either as individuals or as part of a family group directed by labor contractors, processors, or others. It includes both citizen and alien children.

The Federal law sets no minimum age for the employment of children in agriculture before or after school hours on any school day, or at any time on school holidays, or during school vacation. But most states have attendance laws whichever statute, Federal or states, sets the higher standard governs the matter in any given state, he says.

Any person who wilfully violates the child-labor provisions of the Federal law is subject to a miximum fine of 10,000, or after a second conviction for a similar offense, a miximum fine of $10,000 or imprisonment for as much as six months, or both, he said.

Although the law works a definite hardship on many — both the cotton grower and the family of the child, which often times must depend on his help in seasonal labor to keep them off relief rolls during some portion of the year—they are saddled with it, and until some action can be gotten at Washington, agriculture is going to have to make the best of it.

More Taxes

It makes us downright mad everytime we read of another tax of one kind or another imposed on the automobile owner. Every time some knothead lawmaker wants to raise money, he immediately thinks of the man who owns a car and piles another chunk on his old sore back.

Now we have more taxes for the automobile owner, effective September 1 in Texas. This one keeps the "transaction" tax of 1.1 per cent when a car changes hands, and even when it is an even swap, the tax is now $5. If a person gives another person a car, the lucky one pays a state tax of $10. When a person makes application for the initial certificate of title he now pays a $15 tax.

Another tax that goes in September 7 is the compulsory inspection certificates, which all motorests must have in order to get license plates next year. The standard fee for this one is $1, although we understand some of the local service stations are going to do it free.

Congress has a bill in the hopper to increase the excise tax on new cars, adding about $50 to the cost of a car. Total increase in taxes that the car owner is supposed to shoulder will be $502 million in the nation.

Taxes now take from 24 to 28 cents of every automobile dollar, according to the National Automobile Dealers Association, and in the case of gasoline, amount to about one third the retail price.

It seems that our lawmakers want to reduce the automobile once again as a machine only for the wealthy. We remember asking an English friend at Manchester in 1944 why there were so few cars there. He said that the tax, which amounted to about $8 per horsepower each year, kept most Englishmen on their biicycles — Van Stewart in The Ochiltree County Herald.

OTHER EDITORS SAY:—

Objectives Are Good to Keep

Readers of this page may wonder why we keep referring to yardsticks in attempting to evaluate just where we rate among other communities.

Our answer goes something like this: Let's try to look at our own community from the other fellow's point of view. It's easy for us to become accustomed to local conditions at which a visitor might throw up his hands in horror.

Chambers of Commerce all over the Valley are seeking answers to our present lack of diversification. We need industries and payrolls, they say, as they cast longing eyes at some other community which have been fortunate in more or less stabilizing their incomes.

In making a bid for these, how does our town stack up?

Not long ago the American Society of Planning Officials asked a number of big industries what they considered essential in a community before locating a plant there.

Here are ten things that industry representatives list as being needed by a community to attract plants:

(1) A clean general appearance with a good police and health record. Generally, the record of job absenteeism can be expected to be lower in these cities and the plants and grounds better maintained.

(2) An aggressive town spirit, in which the townspeople are entered in doings for their community.

(3) A local government that is alert, progressive and businesslike. Industry also prefers cities with balanced budgets and a comparative low debt per capita, but with a reputation for good municipal facilities.

(4) A good educational system with an adequate, well-equipped library, as well as other cultural facilities .

(5) Churches representating all denominations.

(6) Adequate health services and hospitals.

(7) Adequate recreational facilities and places of congregation where people can play or visit together.

(8) Suitable housing at costs which employes can afford.

(9) Good shopping places.

(10) A local paper that does a good job of keeping the people informed, especially on local and nearby news.

This indicates that people are interested in their own community — Mission Times.

Hold That Line

The Buck Creek Philosopher

Editor's note. The Buck Creek Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Buck Creek is trying to lean on the President to excuse his own shiftlessness, his letter this week reveals.

Dear editar:

I was walkin along out here yesterday with nothin on my mind, just lettin my brain relax and drift, when I stumbled over a copy of the Dallas News which some picnicker had wrapped his lunch in, the Dallas News is considered one of the most ant-proof newspapers in Texas, although the Fort Worth Star-Telegram has the edge on it when it comes to dryin off after a swim, and to be fair the Houston Chronicle works better on a tractor seat, while the Houston Post is hard to beat in rainy weather to keep from trackin mud in the house, although I guess more weekly papers are used to line pantry shelves with than all the dailies put together, when you stop to thing about it, one page of a weekly is just as thick as one page of a daily, and since I needed to bend over anyway to tie my shoe I went ahead and bent over and picked up the paper and took it over to the shade and read where work on repairin the White House in Washington is behind schedule.

Over the years, they tell me, the White House has been goin to wrack and ruin, and I know exactly how it is. My place out here at Buck Creek is the same way. Looks like a man just hasn't got time to do any global thinkin and keep his house up at the same time, and I am proud to know the Presidents of the United States for the past fifty years have been on my side in this matter. You haven't caught any of us stayin at home with a hammer and saw when there was a crisis to be met, don't make no difference whether it was at Potsdam or the store in town. There are some people out here who criticize me because I can take a pole and go fishin right in the middle of plowin or visit the store when my gates are saggin, but who do you think has been cruisin on Chesapeake Bay or relaxin in Florida while the White House foundations have been saggin and the plaster crackin? A man has to learn to put first things first, and I'm pleased to know I have been in the presidential category in this matter.

As I understand it, they had planned on gettin the White House finished by November 1, but are not gonna be able to do it, and while this may lead some critics to lambast the Administration for another example of bunglin and stumblin, I would like to come to the defense of the President.

I know exactly how it is, Harry. For years I've been behind schedule in fixin up my place out here on my Johnson grass farm at Buck Creek, but a man just don't do everything at once. For example, there's a board on the back step that's loose and I've been aimin to fix it, but you know how it is. Can't find the hammer or if you do the nails are missing and besides if steppin over a loose board saves me time to devote to thinkin about this country's future, I say step over it, or use the front door.

Since last winter I been noticin some loose bricks in my chimney and while there are some men who can climb to the roof of their house and fix a chimney while the world is facin a crisis, it ain't no trouble for me to put my country ahead of my chimney.

And also, the hen house door fell off its hinges in 1948, I know it was 1948 because that was the year President Truman was elected, and while I know there are men who couldn't sleep until they'd fixed it, I can sleep about as well with a hen house door lyin on the ground as hanging on its hinges. Maybe better, it don't flap against the wall in a high wind like it is.

I tell you, Mr. President, don't let em stampede you. If you ain't right up to schedule on fixin up your place, you ain't by yourself.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

The Voice Of God

A photographer who was recently swept off a sailboat and spent almost two days bobbing in shark infested waters said that at his most profound moment of despair he seemed to hear a voice call to him and encourage him.

Such claims of personal word from God are centuries old. In fact, Jeremiah and other ancient prophets prefaced their predictions with, "Thus saith the Lord."

In the Bible there are many instances—the book of Job for one—of God speaking as one of the characters. But it is one thing to profess to speak for God to make Him a voice in a dramatic writing and quite another to actually express the words and will of God.

There can be little doubt that the prophets heard God for their lives were so completely devoted to truth and righteousness that they were rendered incapable of falsifying.

It is only as men live near to God that they can presume to speak for Him. But men can, and do, speak for God when their words are in accordance with God's character and His revealed will. It is when men attempt to exalt their own beliefs by professing to bear the divine word of the Lord that the greatest sacrilege has been committed.

We cannot hope to be worthy of speaking for God until all of our beliefs, opinions and convictions are completely in accord with the eternal truths of the Holy Scriptures.

Only then will we have sidestepped the danger of becoming misrepresentatives, rather than representatives of God.

Looking Ahead With George S. Benson

AN ARGENTINIAN WRITES AMERICANS

In many things history does repeat. The evolution of totalitarian government has a pattern that has not varied fundamentally through the centuries of human history. First, individual liberty is handed over bit by bit to a paternalistic government in return for handouts; economic planning and control expands, taxation becomes crippling and the living standard dissipates. Police state measures finally must be applied to the citizenry; then the totalitarian dictatorship takes over everything.

We of this generation have seen the beginning of the deterioration of England's once great strength through the evolutionary process of State Socialism, the second step towards totalitarian dictatorship. The historic pattern is being precisely followed. Subsidies and other forms of government handouts have been the lure, as usual, in England. There has just come to my desk a letter written by a lawyer in Buenos Aires, Argentina. He is American-born, a studious and sincere man with no axe to grind.

HANDOUTS, THE LURE

His letter was not written for publication but I have received permission to quote from it. It shows dramatically that State control of the economy, bought with handouts to the citizenry, leads a nation towards almost certain economic breakdown and opens the way to the harsher measures of control over the citizens—whether the method is through parliamentary Socialism, as in England; the perverting of "democracy," as now threatens in America; or by strong-man dictatorship rule, as in Argentina.

"In general," this observing lawyer in Argentina writes, "things here are very bad; perhaps much worse than is reported in your paper. Personally I do not see any hope of a change until the masses here learn through bitter experience that an economy directed by totalitarian government just does not work. This will still take time, for private initiative and free enterprise had made a rich country of this one.

CLOCK RUNS DOWN

"This wealth, employed in a 'bread and circuses' policy has created in the minds of our masses the illusion that every manjack can live like a millionaire without hitting a lick of work. ("Bread and Circuses" was the slogan in Rome when the government paternalism included food and entertainment subsidies.—Ed.) We all admit that the coming elections will be won by the party now in power and that once this happens the present process of absorption of the individual by the State will be speeded up and free enterprise further curbed. Even as matters stand now private initiative is so harassed at every turn nobody dares to venture on any new undertaking.

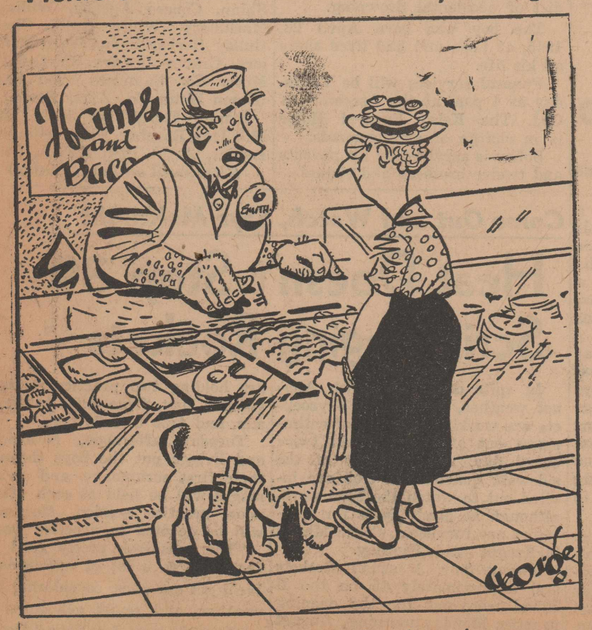

"I am obsessed with the impression that the story of this country's economic decline may be likened unto that of a fine clock whose works were in good shape and nicely wound up because of private initiative under free enterprise. It was such a good mechanism that despite all the abuse it has received from the self-styled government experts it has functioned after a fashion up until now. But at last it is running down on us and will soon stop.

WARNING TO AMERICANS

"Having enjoyed many happy years here under the blessings of freedom, I never thought the people would stand for the creeping revolution that has engulfed us now in totalitarianism. Lulled by prosperity and by the confidence that freedom was an inalienable right we enjoyed because of the sacrifices of former generations, we went to sleep while the forces of evil were wide awake. I have seen how easily it can happen in a country and for that reason I am so fanatically concerned that you in America do not let it happen to you."

Yes, it has always happened thus: "creeping revolution"—the handout State, government economic planning, paralyzing taxes, a falling off of incentive and production, then the wielding of harsh the courage to stop the trend in government power! Will we in America have the foresight and its track — NOW?

DOZIER
By MRS. E. L. RANKIN

(Intended for Last Week)

Another week passed without any rain here. We hope we can get it in time to make back the seed we planted.

These people have taken trips to New Mexico and Colorado to rest and enjoy the cooler weather. But they are home to find it is still hot. These include Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Throckmorton; Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Neece; Mr. and Mrs. Doyce Cochran and Janice and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Schaub and Children, Paul, Kay Jackie and Jane. At Eagle Nest, New Mexico the top of the Schaub car was covered with frost in the morning after having been out all night.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Riley made a short vacation trip the first of last week. They visited relatives and friends at Weathford and their son, Mr. and Mrs. Granvil Riley, at Hail Center. Mrs. Gus Gooch and son, Ronny, were "storekeepers" while the Riley's were away.

Mrs. Sam Seago, who underwent surgery in the Groom hospital recently, is home and improving nicely.

Miss Marie Carraker came home last week after having spent the summer attending he University of Fairbanks, Alaska. She liked the country, her work, and was enthusiastic about airplane travel having made the trip both ways by plane.

Recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Sechrist were old friends, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Wilks, of Raton.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Warren of McLean visited her aunt, Mrs. Ella Phillips, and family last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Clark of Arvin, Calif., spent a week recently in the home of their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Blackie Sechrist.

Rhonda Carol Sechrist, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Boots Sechrist of Wellington, is visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Sechrist.

Miss Effie Rankin, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Rankin and Mrs. Annie Bird of Shamrock went to Sayre, Oklahoma Sunday to the annual birthday dinner and family reunion of Miss Rankin's great aunt, Mrs. Lucinda Easterling, who this year is hale and hearty at 85.

We attended the old settlers reunion Friday. Not too many attended this time. Perhaps the heat kept many from going. However, it was pleasant at the grove and we enjoyed meeting and visiting with the people who did come.

There were several whom we had not seen in many years. Those include Luther Brewer and Sanford Pearson, both former pupils of mine when I first began to teach; the former Nellie Gragg and Susie Bradley whom we had hod not seen since they were small children, now they are both interesting middle aged women.

We enjoyed a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Oscar White who went to New Mexico when they were first married and settled around Roswell. They have accumulated holdings of ranch land and irrigated farm land. Their children have taken over the management of the farm and the Whites now live in Roswell. Mrs. White was the former Mary Sherrill who went to Buch Creek to school when she was a grade school child and did her high school work at Memphis where she met her husband, who is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Sam White.

proposing an amendment to Section 49-b, Article III, Constitution of Texas, so that the total amount of bonds or obligations that may be issued by the Veterans' Land Board is increased to One Hundred Million Dollars ($100,000,000); providing for the issuance of said bonds and certain conditions relating thereto and the use of the Veterans' Land Fund; providing for an election and the issuance of a proclamation therefor.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Section 49-b, Article III, Constitution of Texas, be amended so that the same will hereafter read as follows:

"Section 49-b. There is hereby created a Board to be known as the Veterans' Land Board, which shall be composed of the Governor, the Attorney General, and the Commissioner of the General Land Office. The Veterans' Land Board may issue not to exceed One Hundred Million Dollars ($100,000,000) in bonds or obligations of the State of Texas for the purpose of creating a fund to be known as the Veterans' Land Fund. Such bonds shall be executed by said Board as an obligation of the State of Texas, in such form, denominations, and upon the terms as are now prescribed by Senate Bill No. 29, Chapter 318 of the Acts of the Fifty-first Legislature (provided, that when the limitation of Twenty-five Million Dollars ($25,000,000) is used in said Senate Bill No. 29, the same shall hereafter be construed as One Hundred Million Dollars ($100,000,000), or as said Act may be hereafter amended, or by other laws that the Legislature may hereafter enact; provided, however, that said bonds shall bear a rate of interest not to exceed three per cent (3%) per annum, and that the same shall be sold for not less than par value and accrued interest.

"In the sale of any such bonds, a preferential right of purchase shall be given to the administrators of the various teacher retirement funds, the Permanent University Funds, and the Permanent School Funds; such bonds to be issued as needed, in the opinion of the Veterans' Land Board.

"The Veterans' Land Fund shall be used by the Board for the sole purpose of purchasing lands suitable for the purpose hereinafter stated, situated in this State, (a) owned by the United States, or any governmental agency thereof; (b) owned by the Texas Prison System, or any other governmental agency of the State of Texas; or (c) owned by any person, firm, or corporation.

"All lands thus purchased shall be acquired at the lowest price obtainable, to be paid for in cash, and shall be a part of the Veterans' Land Fund.

"The lands of the Veterans' Land Fund shall be sold by the State to Texas Veterans of the present war or wars, commonly known as World War II, and to Texas Veterans of service in the armed forces of the United States of America subsequent to 1945, as may be included within this program by legislative act, in such quantities, and on such terms, and at such prices and rates of interest, and under such rules and regulations as are now provided by law, or as may hereafter be provided by law.

"All moneys received which have been received and which have not been used for repurchase of land as provided herein by the Veterans' Land Board from the sale of lands and for interest on deferred payments, shall be credited to the Veterans' Land Fund for use in purchasing additional lands to be sold to Texas Veterans of World War II, and to Texas Veterans of service in the armed forces of the United States of America subsequent to 1945, as may be included within this program by legislative act, in like manner as provided for the sale of lands purchased with the proceeds from the sales of the bonds, provided for herein, for a period ending December 1, 1959; provided, however, that so much of such moneys as may be necessary during the period ending December 1, 1959, to pay principal of and interest on the bonds heretofore issued and on bonds hereafter issued by the Veterans' Land Board shall be set aside for that purpose. After December 1, 1959, all moneys received by the Veterans' Land Board from the sale of the lands and interest on deferred payments, or so much thereof as may be necessary, shall be set aside for the retirement of said bonds and to pay interest thereon, and any of such moneys not so needed shall not later than the maturity date of the last maturing bond or bonds be deposited to the credit of the General Revenue Fund to be appropriated to such purposes as may be prescribed by law. All bonds issued hereunder shall, after approval by the Attorney General of Texas, registration by the Comptroller of the State of Texas, and delivery to the purchasers, be incontestable and shall constitute obligations of the State under the Constitution of Texas. Of the total One Hundred Million Dollars ($100,000,000) of bonds herein authorized, the sum of Twenty-five Million Dollars ($25,000,000) has heretofore been issued; said bonds are hereby in all respects validated and declared to be obligations of the State of Texas. This amendment shall become effective upon its adoption."

Sec. 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitors of this State at an election to be held throughout the State of Texas on the second Tuesday in November, 1951, at which election all voters favoring the proposed Amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots the following words:

If it appears from the returns of said election that a majority of the votes cast were in favor of said Amendment, the same shall become a part of the State Constitution and be effective from the date of the determination of such result and the Governor's proclamation thereof.

HEALTH THOUGHTS

Many people wonder why a Chiropractor is so interested in the spine when often the complaint may be located in the stomach, kidneys, eyes, legs, etc.

Chiropractors are interested in the spine because it houses the main channel of life force . . . called the spinal cord. The spinal cord may be likened to the great trunk of the tree from which many branches and sub-branches come forth.

The spinal cord and nervous system comprise the main communication system in your body carrying messages to and from the brain to every microscopic cell.

Then there is an open line, so to speak . . . that is, when the messages get through, all is well and health is abundant providing that moderation is the keynote of liging. When there is a block to that life energy output it means that one or more of the bones of the spine is displaced slightly from its normal position.

Now you can see why the Chiropractor is so vitally interested in your spine. He is scientifically trained to locate and remove that block to life energy . . . bringing you health and happiness.

Miss Diane Wells, Ansel McDowell Jr. Marry Saturday in Impressive Ceremony

Vows uniting in marriage Miss Lucy Diane Wells, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Deskins Wells, and Ansel McDowell Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Ansel McDowell, were spoken in a ceremony of beauty and dignity at the First Methodist Church Saturday morning, August 25, at ten o'clock.

The Rev. Noel Bryant, pastor of the First Methodist Church at Borger, and former pastor here, read the double ring ceremony.

Forming the background before which the wedding party stood was a tall white cross, in a base of gladiolus, centering the chancel. To each side extended greenery in graduated heights. In front were baskets of white gladiolus and candelabra holding lighted cathedral tapers. White gladiolus tied with white satin ribbon marked the pews at the aisle.

The prelude of wedding music given by Benny Karnes, organist, included "Always," Berlin; "Ave Maria," Schubert; "Berceuse," Godard; "Liebestraum," Liszt; "None But the Lonely Heart," Tschaikowski; "Poeme," Fibich; "Simple Aveu," Thome; and "Traumerei," Schumann. During the ceremony he played softly "Etude, Op. 10, No. 3," Chopin, and "Clair de Lune," Debussy. The traditional wedding marches were used, "The Bridal Chorus" from Lohengrin by Wagner and the "Wedding March" by Mendelssohn.

Mrs. Edward Poole was vocalist, using "Because," d'Hardelot, "I Love Thee," Grieg, and as the couple knelt on the white satin Prie Dieu, Malotte's arrangement of "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride's father gave her in marriage. She wore a gown of white organdy, designed with a fitted bodice of embroidered organdy which came to a point at the waist. The low neckline was gathered softly at the center front, and near the side to give softness to the cap sleeves. Over the bouffant skirt was a tier of embroidered organdy which fell gracefully at the sides to form the chapel length train. The long veil, with a short overveil, was of bridal illusion, scalloped around the edge and gathered to a tiara of orange blossoms.

A white orchid centered the bride's bouquet and was surrounded by fleur d'amour and stephanotis. The white satin shower streamers were tied with stephanotis.

Miss Barbara Wells was her cousin's maid of honor. Her dress was of aqua blue net over taffeta, fashioned with a moulded bodice and bouffant skirt. Her stole was of matching net, as was her bonnet, from which fell her shoulder veil. Her flowers were a fan of pink carnations and maline, tied with ribbon streamers.

Bridesmaids were Misses Jocelyn Wells, cousin of the bride, Sally Parsons, cousin of the groom, Veda Mae Kiker, Virginia Nell White, Carolyn Bell of Houston, and Mrs. Peggy Riggs Walker. Their dresses were fashioned like that of the honor attendant, with Miss Kiker and Mrs. Walker wearing deep rose and carrying pastel green carnation fans. Miss Wells and Miss Parsons in green dresses with pink fans; and Miss White and Miss Bell in salmon pink dresses with pastel green fans. Their stoles and bonnets of net matched their dresses.

Sandy Parsons III, cousin of the groom, was best man, while the ushers were Johnny Jones, V. C. Saied, Bert Nelson of Lubbock, Hank Gilliam of Dallas, Newton Steele of Vernon and Tim Hatch of Lubbock. Men of the wedding party wore cutaway coats and grey striped trousers, with white boutonniers.

Flower girls were Ysidra Smith of Iowa Park and Carol Atkins of Cottonwood Falls, Kansas, both cousins of the bride. They wore identical white organdy dresses with bertha collars and floor-length full skirts, caught up near the hemline with pink rosebuds. They wore rosebuds in their hair and carried white baskets of rose petals.

Lighting the candles were Patricia Ann Sullivan, cousin of the bride, who wore white organdy with a long full skirt and a rosebud garland in her hair, and Jim McDowell, brother of the groom.

For the wedding, Mrs. Wells wore a dress of golden sand chiffon with brown velvet accessories. Her corsage was of talisman roses. Mrs. McDowell wore a navy lace and crepe dress with navy accessories and a corsage of white gardenias.

Reception

A reception in the club room of the community building followed the wedding. In the receiving line were Mr. and Mrs. Wells, Mr. and Mrs. McDowell, the bride and groom, and the bride's attendants. Mrs. J. W. Wells registered the guests in the white satin register.

The refreshment table was laid with a white linen cutwork cloth and centered with the three-tiered white wedding cake. Appointments were of crystal.

After the bride and groom had cut the first slice of cake, Mrs. Henry Sullivan served the guests and Miss Nancy Sullivan of Pampa and Mrs. China Smith of Iowa Park presided at the punch services. Assisting in the serving were Misses Lennie Lou Coleman, Joyce Wood and Jeanne Jones.

As the couple left for their wedding trip to points in Colorado and New Mexico, the bride was wearing a suit of light blue silk faille. Her accessories were navy and her corsage a white orchid.

The bride was born and reared in Wellington. She is the granddaughter of Mrs. Lucy B. Wells and the late Henry Wells, and of Mr. and Mrs. Temple Atkins of Shamrock. She is a great granddaughter of the late Judge and Mrs. E. H. Small, who were among the earliest settlers of this section of the Panhandle.

She graduated from Wellington high school in 1949 and attended Stephens College, Columbia, Mo., and the University of Texas. Her social sorority at Stephens was Phi Phi Phi, and at the University she was associated with Alpha Phi.

Mr. McDowell was reared in Wheeler and Wellington, and is a member of families long resident here, being the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Sandy Parsons Sr., Mrs. T. W. McDowell and the late Mr. McDowell, and the great grandson of Mrs. T. B. Sledge and the late Mr. Sledge.

He is a graduate of Wellington high school with the class of 1948 and received his bachelor of arts degree from the University of Texas in June. His social fraternity was Phi Kappa Psi and he was a member of the Longhorn Band.

After returning from their wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. McDowell will make their home at 2117 Thirty-third Street, Galveston, where he will attend the University of Texas School of Medicine and she the University of Texas School of Nursing.

Mrs. Vivian Archer and daughter, Wanda Faye, of Dallas visited her sister, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Graham, over the week end.

Wed in Saturday Ceremony

Miss Lucy Diane Wells was married to Ansel McDowell Jr. Saturday morning, August 25, in a ceremony at the First Methodist Church. Following their wedding trip to points in New Mexico and Colorado, they will make their home in Galveston. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Deskins Wells and Mr. and Mrs. Ansel McDowell.

The dinner was served buffet style from a table laid with a white cutwork cloth, and the centerpiece used for this final social event honoring the couple was that used at the tea announcing their engagement, a picture of Miss Wells and Mr. McDowell at the age of two and three when they appeared as the bride and groom at a Tom Thumb wedding here. This was set in a frame of white chrysanthemums, maline and greenery, with tiny silver bells tied at the top with white satin ribbon. Slender tapers were set in crystal holders.

Roses and crape myrtle were used in the entertaining rooms.

The place for the bride-elect was marked with a tiny hat box, filled with miniature housekeeping items, while the groom's place had a miniature medicine kit with medical supplies.

Place cards at the small tables where the guests were seated were tiny brides, and favors were tiny pieces of luggage, pastel blue for the feminine members of the party and brown for the men, filled with rice.

Assisting the hostesses in serving were Mrs. John D. Glenn and Mary Parsons.

Variety was added to the floral arrangement by tiny colored lights shining through the arrangement of marigolds and greenery. The salad plate featured a food-girl, with a deviled egg for a face and grated cheese her hair, half a peach and lettuce leaf made her dress, while asparagus formed her arms and ripe olives her shoes. Jim Thompson Describes Explorer Scout Trip Through North Woods

We loafed around and went swimming in the lake, even though it was like ice. The next day one group assigned a guide and food packs, as they were going on a much rougher and longer trip than the other two. The leaders of the group decided where they wanted to go and the leader of the group I was in decided to take a short trip and do some extra fishing. Incidentally, that was OK with me.

We were assigned our guide Monday morning and left right after dinner. The first meal we cooked ourselves was supper and it was pretty good. We had three cooks, two dishwashers, two firewood men, two tent men and a navigator and after three meals each man moved up a position, which gave each boy a day at each position.

We stayed by a ranger cabin the first night in order to get our fishing license, but they were out fighting fire so our guide and Truman the leaders, went to another place about 12 miles round trip and got all our licenses for us.

We shoved off right after they got back and reached our campsite for that night after crossing a few short portages about a quarter of a mile long. While we were pitching tents and getting ready for the night, Truman and Chuck Hogan, our main leader, went out and caught a nice wall-eyed pike. Right after supper they went out and caught three more, but none of the rest of us had any luck. In fact, the follow that went out with me, Jerry Floyd of Spearman, lost his rod and reel when he tried to cast it out the first time, and it slipped out of his hand and fell in water about 30 to 40 feet deep. He didn't feel much like fishing after that.

Right after we crossed a long portage we met six girls about 20 or so and our guide, Roger Norris from South Dakota, who hadn't seen a girl in about a month, offered, for us, to carry their canoes and packs across for them.

Wednesday and Thursday not much happened other than the regular getting up, going swimming, fixing meals, taking down and putting up tents and crossing those infernal portages. The portages ranged from 50 yards to a half mile,though.

Friday evening we met the other group that was taking a short trip and talked to them awhile and then made camp. We stayed in the same place planning to do a lot of fishing but the wind got so high before breakfast that you could hardly get on the lake in a canoe. Soome of the fellows caught some tho. I didn't.

We just loafed most of the day and about the middle of the evening we got in a razzberry patch and picked enough for some pies. My canoe partner, a kid from Phillips, got into something that broke him out and he sure was a pretty looking mess. When it came time to fix supper, none of the cooks wanted to fix pies so Chuck asked me to. I did and—well, we ate them.

Of course, I made a change or two. We were running short of flour, but we had too much biscuit dough, so I used that for crust.

Sunday morning we had brief church services and struck out again.

Sunday evening, after supper, three of us went fishing and got to moving around and turned the boat over. One fellow lost a $20 rod and reel and about $5 worth of tackle in a small box. I lost about $6 worth of tackle and the only fish I caught the entire trip. My rod went to the bottom, but I was using a floating plug and it came to the top and we pulled it up.

This happened about 9:00 p. m. and we yelled for another canoe and when it got there we put our stuff, clothes, tackle and shoes in it and swam to shore, pulling the canoe after us.

We left our clothes outside to dry and it rained all night and part of next day. Br-r-r-, nice wet clothes on a cool day

We got got to camp a little early next day and worked up a stunt to put on when we got back to base camp.

We got to camp at about 12:15 the next day, took care of our equipment, and then took a steam bath and shower—the first since we left, even though we did go swimming every day and were in water up to our knees, and deeper, all day every day. It sure felt good.

The base fed us a turkey supper that night and we left early the next morning. We came back over the same route that we went only we just took two and a half days coming back, staying in Des Moines the first night and Norton, Kansas, the second. We got to Borger about 3:00 Friday evening.

The whole trip didn't cost a cent over $125. That includes every thing from reservation fee to souvenirs. If anyone thinks they can make a trip like that for less, I want them to tell me. The Explorer Scout program is the only thing I know of that offers an opportunity like this, so why not join the Scouts?

I know now, after taking this trip, why some tough guys won't join the Scouts. They're afraid they can't take it, and believe me, it's hard. Think you could take it ?

They Like it a Million!

Last week Buick set a proud record.

The millionth Dynaflow Drive* was delivered to a happy owner.

That's a new peak in popularity for modern drives which take you from a standing start to any cruising speed desired with a smooth, unfaltering swoop of power.

"The biggest advance since the self-starter" is what the motorwise press called this Buick development back in 1948—and now a million owners can tell you how right that proved to be.

Here, they found, was a basically different way of delivering power.

It was the first drive to get completely away from any gears which function in a series of fixed stages—the first to apply supercharging principles that did new tricks with spinning oil.

And how folks loved it!

They loved the freedom from strain in traffic. And the new "sweetness" of ride which every passenger could enjoy.

They loved the command it gives them of every traffic situation—and the relaxation it contributes to a long day's drive.

They loved its extra safety in slippery going, and the improved control in mud and snow.

As they piled up experience, they loved the unexpected savings of rear tire wear and the reduced strain on all driving parts, from engine to differential.

And finally—they loved what it does for the value of a Buick, as reflected in the extra dollars that Dynaflow* adds to the resale price of a car.

Have you sampled this driving sensation?

There's no time like the present for discovering the thrills that more than a million Buick owners already know.

*Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on other Series.

Lord Jim Says--

By Bill Hughes

"Forgive us our trespasses as (in the same way that) we forgive those who trespass against us —." This is a part out of the "Lord's Prayer" offered by millions and millions of people. I wonder how many of you people are actually aware for what you are praying? Do you realize that God's answer here depends exactly on the true measure of your own actual forgiving of others and that your forgiving must come first by very reason of what you yourself by your own choice are asking of God? You will be forgiven as much or as little as you forgive others and then only after you have actually done it yourself first.

To the Devil, Jesus replied, "It is written, man is not to live on bread alone."

God made the human different from animals in one respect. He gave you a brain capable of unlimited development.

Now we dogs live on bread alone and that is in keeping with the Law of our nature, but you humans, by concentrating your God given mind on bread alone (dollars, jewels, politics, fame, things of any material power are all in the same class with bread) are forfeiting the higher natural law that should govern you. You are yielding your higher law for the lower law of the animal — the jungle law of, might is right and takes all. You are slipping backwards and toward destruction, because you were not born to be enslaved animals. You were born to be free to seek from the will of God the answer to your salvation.

One of the powers of the brain is free choice, another is moral courage and integrity, still another is the will to go ahead to go up, but not in terms of bread alone.

Your error today is in the trading out your birthright, freedom, for the false bread of economic security, for selling your faith in God and in yourself for dependence upon the illusionary bread of government, for spending the whole powers of your mind on bread alone.

If this were not so, you would not be parroting a prayer that is worthless until you either act upon it or change your prayer. That you do not act on it, that you do not bother to change what you are praying for is because you are devoting all of your time and all the powers of your mind to making bread, and none to the will of God and none to your own salvation.

While you are producing wealth you are permitting your governments to spend it faster than you can produce it. No government ever produced one shred of wealth. Yet you permit them to take government itself bigger and bigger, costing you more and more of your own blood, sweat, and tears.

You are so busy bleeding, sweating, and crying for more and more that you have no time to investigate nor even to select the men you send to spend all your hard earned wealth. You let them go to Washington by default and you let them stay there for life if they are able to make you feel they are spending enough money and enough of it feathers your bed.

That to do this costs more than you are producing is of no matter so long as you can make a profit. That you have to give back most of this profit for taxes and ever rising costs does not matter either so long as they promise you will have the profit to give back.

You are too busy to ask yourself where will this profit come from when your soil runs out of fertility, or where will it come from if it fails to rain a drop, or who is going to replenish the natural resources which our gigantic system of industrialization is gobbling up.

Remember that you and the land — not the government are producing the wealth. Can the government make it rain, can the government replenish your lost natural resources? When you cannot produce, will the government then be able to support you; and if so what are they going to use to do it with? Paper profits from social security perhaps?

Did it ever occur to you that the reason you cannot afford the kind of school you would like to have for your children at home is because what profits you are making are being taxed away to Washington to employ more people to collect more taxes, to employ more people to man more bureaus to send you more pamphlets to explain how higher taxes must be had for experiments to bring you a bigger and better watermelon seed that will grow if it fails to rain.

Did you ever wonder if these rising prices, instead of being caused by horders and greedy capitalists might not be caused because all governments, alwavs nonproductive, are being permitted to grow ever larger and more costly, because you have less natural resources that every day are more expensive to recover and because price controls and roll backs will not create rain, fertility, or replenish depleted resources but instead creates greater cost by reason of having to administer laws that do not touch the basic problem but only robs you of freedom?

Do you ever wonder if after all, perhaps there are no two legged experts regardless of college degrees, better able to take care of your own salvation than yourself? May it not be, that after all, God's will is a sounder source of knowledge and power than the will of man? Could it be that in giving each of us a brain he meant for each of us to use it to seek His will as well as our bread? Could it be He meant for each of us to work out our own salvation and not leave it to any other earthly power to do for us in return for mere bread, that faith in the power and justice of His will if the sole source for all human guidance would enable them to win peace on earth?

It might be worth your thinking about. It is something that every individual can do if he will. And you as individuals together are absolutely all that can change the direction of the course you are now on.

As for its success, just like success of any nature in any endeavor if first you do not succeed, try, try again. There is no other formula, no short cut.

abies Problem Described By City Sanitarian

By W. E. RITTER

The disease is caused by an infected virus which is contained in the saliva of an infected animal. Under natural conditions the disease is usually caused by the bite of a rabid animal. The bite makes a wound in which the virus in the saliva is deposited. However, it is not absolutely necessary that a person be bitten. Should the saliva of an infected animal come in contact with an open sore or cut, there is danger that the disease may develop. The time between exposure to the infection and the appearance of symptoms varies from fourteen days to several months. The majority of cases develop within three months. In cases of suspected rabies in a dog it should be tied up for a period of ten days.

The first symptom of rabies in dogs is usually a marked change in behavior. The animal becomes restless, nervous and very excitable. Even with its owner it may become cross and snappish. It may seek dark or secluded places and hide. Later if at liberty, it may wander away and disappear, although it will usually return home much exhausted and emaciated. If it barks or howls, a decided change in the tone of the voice may be noticed .This is due to a paralysis of the vocal cords in the throat. The muscles of the throat become paralyzed rendering the animal unable to swallow. However, it will attempt to swallow water which will cause convulsions. This is the origin of the term "hydrophobia" as the disease was once called. The word hydrophobia means fear of water.

In the furious form of the disease,, the dog will attack people, other animals or even inanimate objects. If confined in a cage, it will often sieze bars with such force as sometimes to break its own teeth. In the "dumb" form of rabies the principal symptoms are those of paralysis. The dog is not vicious or excitable and shows no tendency to bite. The most prominent sympton is paralysis of the lower jaw, as a result of which the animal is unable to close its mouth.

Many persons have unwittingly exposed themselves to infection by examining such a case with bare hands under the mistaken notion that the dog had a bone or other foreign body in the throat. This is particularly dangerous if there happens to be any cuts or broken places in the skin of the hands.

When a dog is showing symptoms suggesting rabies the first step should be to place it in secure confinement where it can be kept under observation. If the dog is really mad it surely will die in a very short time. The head should then be removed, packed in ice and shipped to the nearest laboratory for examination. IT IS A MISTAKE TO KILL THE DOG AT ONCE because the disease may not have developed to a stage where a definite diagnosis can be made. If, for any reason, it should become absolutely necessary to kill the animal, it should be shot through the heart, since if the brain is damaged, it would again be impossible for the laboratory to make a satisfactory examinatioin. Hysteria has no place in the handling of this disese.

In all matters affecting public health the golden rule is the old adage that "An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure" and nowhere is this more true than in rabies. Thanks to scientific research great progress has been made in the prevention of this disease. Experience has amply demonstrated that whenever and wherever the proper steps are taken, the disease can be pratcically eradicated. The principal measures recommended by the health authorities are:

1. The definite diagnosis of the disease and proper disposition of all rabid and suspected dogs.

2. The destruction of all ownerless stray dogs. This is conceded to be one of the most beneficial measures that can be taken. The presence of numberless curs roaming here and there, sometimes in packs, is a constant menace to the health and peace of the mind of any community. Living the lives of tramps and exposed to all kinds of vermin and infections it requires no stretch of the imagination to picture what may be the results should one or more of them contact rabies. The elimination of all stray dogs is one of the most important steps in any attempt to control the disease.

3. The use of rabies vaccine. This has long since passed the experimental stage and is indorsed by public health authorities everywhere. While no claim is made that it is one hundred per cent efficient, yet in every section where it has been used extensively, health officials are enthusiastic in their praises of it.

The first case of human rabies in this state since 1948 occured in June. The victim was a five year old Latin American boy who, according to the report of the health officer in the border county of residence was bitten by a stray dog in April. A diagnosis of rabies was confirmed by the Bureau of Laboratories, Texas State Department of Health, by examination of fixed tissue. Specimens were not obtainable for animal inoculation.

Since the first of the year, eight animal heads have been demonstrated as positive rabies from that border vicinity.

Control measures ror rabies in Texas must be centered around reducing the fox population and vaccination of dogs. Payment of a bounty for fox helps encourage hunters and trappers. Many counties are doing this. Stray dogs should be impounded, the valuable animals being vaccinated and dogs without value being humanely destroyed. These preventive measures, coupled with a six months quarantine on dogs whenever a case is definitely diagnosed in a community, will advance rabies control.

Compulsory reporting of all suspicious cases should be reported to public health officials, and mandatory vaccination of all dogs at the time the license tag is issued should be insistuted in all counties.

Notice to All City Tax Payers

Within a short time every tax payer in the City of Wellington will receive a card showing the valuation of his property.

The City Council has taken a 100 per cent valuation of all property. Then by ordinace has set the taxable value at 40 per cent of the actual value. This has been done in order that all valuations might be on a fair and equable basis.

In addition the City Council has lowered the tax rate from $1.25 per hundred dollars to $1. It will work out in this manner: Most tax payers will have an increase in valuation, but will actually pay out less tax dollars to the city.

For instance, if the actual value of your property is $10,000 the first figure on your card (the valuation for this year) will be $4,000. To figure how much your taxes will be will be simply set aside two digets. In short you will pay $40. You can compare your last years receipts and ascertain the difference. In most cases it will mean a saving in the tax dollars you pay out.
