FIRST BALE

The county's first bale of 1978 cotton was grown by D.D. Miller, right, on land inside the Dodson city limits, and ginned by Glover Graham, left, manager of Davis Gin. Miller had 2100 pounds of seed cotton and got this 543 pound bale with 900 pounds of seed. Miller is also superintendent of the Dodson Water Works.

Unscored on, Rockets and Childress Meet There Friday

It's going to be a tough one—and probably one of the best football games in the Panhandle this week.

Wellington Skyrockets have their traditional encounter with Childress Bobcats Friday, Sept. 29, on the Bobcats field. It is Wellington's first game away from home this season.

Game time is 7:30 p.m.

Neither team has been scored on. Class AA Childress has run up 87 points in three games, although these have been against Class A schools. After winning over Memphis 21-0 in their first game, the Bobcats went on to defeat Quannah 34-0 and on Friday, Paducah 32-0.

Wellington in two games has scored 49 points against two Oklahoma teams, emerging victorious 35-0 over Hollis and 14-0 over Elk City. The latter is a team comparable to most Class AA teams of this area.

If the first two games of each team are considered, Wellington's 49 points are only one touchdown behind this week's larger opponent.

"Childress' Coach Johnson says this is one of the best teams he has had and they have had some strong ones in the past, so evidently they have a good one," declares Wellington coach James Williams.

Williams saw the Paducah game last week and noted that Childress has some big boys who play on defense, but are not in the offensive line up. On the other hand, there are 8 offensive players who do not play any defense at all, he said.

Childress has an excellent thrower in Perry Morren, and Ricky Anderson, left half, is probably one of the better running backs in this part of the state.

Eggers, Bobcat middle linebacker, is one of the outstanding players on defense.

"The only advantage we have right now is that we have had two weeks to get ready for this game," the Rocket coach commented.

Childress was ranked the No. 11 AA team in the state last week and their rating is expected to go higher this week.

"It's a real challenge for our young football team to go in against theirs," Williams added.

"We have kids with lots of leadership, good attitudes, and who know what they want to get out of the season."

"We're not going to let it wreck out season if it doesn't turn out like we want it to. We still have two more non-conference games and our entire district schedule ahead of us."

If the Skyrockets can get through Wednesday practice in pads, they will be without injuries except for a few bruises so far this season.

Board members say that if

Jay Naman, President of the Texas Farmers Union, will be the Speaker when Collingsworth FU holds its barbecue and annual meeting Saturday, Sept. 30.

The barbecue and business meeting will be held in Bura Handley Community Center, with serving to start at 7:00 p.m. according to Dan Henard, Jr., acting president.

During the business session, FU members will elect a

$150,000 Hospital Bond Election Called October 17

Collingsworth General Hospital District board voted Thursday, Sept. 21 to call a $150,000 bond election for Tuesday, October 17.

Two separate propositions will appear on the ballot. Proposition 1 offers the issuance of $105,000 in hospital bonds. Money from that bond would be available for repairs and improvements on the building, and equipment repairs and purchases.

Proposition 2 offers the issuance of $45,000 in hospital refunding bonds which can be used to pay back loans made against equipment and building improvements that have already been purchased.

No money from either bond can be used for operating expenses.

During the current fiscal year, the hospital has borrowed approximately $45,000 that is attributable to capital improvements. That $45,000 will be paid back by proposition 2. Other money which the hospital has borrowed to meet operating expenses must be paid back out of hospital income and taxes.

Acting administrator Anne Langford told the board that during the next fiscal year the hospital must spend approximately $50,000 to meet federal Medicare requirements that have already been mandated by inspectors, and to replace equipment that is worn out. Proposition 1 money in the amount of $105,000 would be available for these expenditures and for other capital improvements.

Board members say that if the bond election passes they expect to raise the tax rate from the current 70 cents per $100 valuation to 75 cents per $100 valuation, the highest allowed by Texas state law.

Current hospital bonds which the district floated when the hospital was purchased in 1972 will be paid out in 1982. The bonds proposed in the current election would be paid

$577,348 Budget Given Hospital Board Approval

Collingsworth General Hospital board approved a $577,348 budget for the fiscal year beginning October 1, 1978 at regular meeting Monday, Sept. 25.

The budget is approximately $36,000 less than the '77-'78 budget of $613,000. But the hospital will still operate at a $2,198 loss according to the budget presented this week.

And the budget includes no provision for capital improvements. The hospital board said that it expects to pay for needed capital improvements out of $150,000 in bonds if the bond election on October 17 passes.

Estimated revenues for the hospital total $472,853 and estimated taxes less 5% for uncollectable taxes and less 4.5% for collection fees to the county) are $102,297, giving the hospital an estimated total revenue of $575,150.

Absentee voting began Wednesday, Sept. 27 and will continue through Friday, October 13, at Collingsworth General Hospital business office. Edi Williams is absentee clerk. The absentee voting box will be open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday during the voting period. Voters must present their voter registration card.

Those who are unable to come inside the hospital may be driven to the curb, and the absentee clerk and a witness may bring the ballot to curbside for the voter.

And voters who are unable to be driven to the hospital may call or write to the hospital and request an application for the ballot by mail. When the application is completed and returned to the hospital, the absentee clerk will mail the voter his ballot. The ballot must be mailed back to the hospital and it must be received by the hospital by Saturday, Oct. 14, the day after absentee voting ends.

Cliff Campbell, 62, Area Rancher, Dies

Cliff Campbell, 62, prominent rancher living 12 miles south of Wellington, died at 4:30 a.m. Tuesday, Sept. 26, soon after arriving at Childress General Hospital. He became ill at his home a short time earlier.

Mr. Campbell was the third generation of his family to operate ranches in the Loco area, and a member of one of the first families to settle in this part of the Panhandle.

The first W.T. Campbell came from Bosque County in 1886, a year before Childress County was organized and four years before Collingsworth was formed. He filed on land in north Childress County that was to become part of the family ranch, which he enlarged with land purchases.

His son, Walter T. Campbell, the father of Cliff Campbell, continued to enlarge the ranch holdings.

He and his wife, the former Minnie Leslie, member of another pioneer family, later moved to Wellington, for their children to attend school.

Their youngest son, James Cliff Campbell, was born here May 25, 1916, and grew up in Wellington and on the ranch. He graduated from Wellington High School in 1933.

He was married to Miss Rachel Rainer on October 22, 1938, in Altus, Okla.

Mr. Campbell was elected commissioner of Precinct 4, Childress County, in a special election in 1955, and took office January 1, 1956. He had served continuously in that office.

He was a Mason, member of the Scottish Rite body and a Shriner, with membership in Khiva Temple, Amarillo.

In addition to his ranching operations, Mr. Campbell was also a rodeo producer in the late 1960s and early 1970s, as a partner with Fred Cordell of Childress.

Church and civic organizations knew him also for his ability in preparing barbecue for special occasions.

Mr. Campbell had been a member of First United Methodist Church since early in life, and he formerly belonged to the Kiwanis Club.

Funeral services were conducted at First United Methodist Church at 3:00 p.m.

State FU President to Speak At Barbecue, Business Meeting

Jay Naman, President of the Texas Farmers Union, will be the Speaker when Collingsworth FU holds its barbecue and annual meeting Saturday, Sept. 30.

The barbecue and business meeting will be held in Bura Handley Community Center, with serving to start at 7:00 p.m. according to Dan Henard, Jr., acting president.

During the business session, FU members will elect a county president for the coming year, along with four new directors to serve three year terms, and one director to fill an unexpired term of one year.

The FU vice-president, secretary and treasurer will be elected at the next meeting.

The membership will vote on the adoption of resolutions to be included in those introduced at the state convention later in the year.

Naman, long-time president of the state organization, has visited the Collingsworth organization many times, both at the annual meetings and for special meetings during the year.

He has not announced the subject of his talk, but it will concern problems facing agriculture and especially the family farm.

He has been an outspoken supporter of the small farmer on both the state and national through a long period of leadership in the Farmers Union.

Approximately 200 pounds of pit-cooked barbecue will be prepared, Henard said. Barbecue Chairman are Kirby Campbell, Rudie Tate and Dan Langford, while Henry Sullivan will be in charge of the cooking.

Mrs. John Birkey will

Country Club Golf Course Opens for Play Saturday with Tournament Planned Sunday

The Wellington Country Club Golf Course will be opened for play Saturday, September 30, at 1:00 p.m. and on the following day, Sunday, the club will host its first tournament.

This will be a Florida Scramble event, and everyone wanting to enter should sign up by 9:00 a.m. Sunday at the pro shop, said Mrs. R.L. Mabery, who is working on the opening.

The country club is located two miles east of Wellington on state highway 203. A number of Hollis golfers are due to play Saturday, helping Wellington members to open their new 9-hole grass green course.

Wellington members who have been playing on the Childress Country Club course are due to bring home their golf carts in procession either Friday evening or Saturday.

Club members have voted to open the course to anyone wishing to play, on payment of green fees. These were set at $4.00 per day on week days and $5.00 per day on Saturdays, Sundays, and holidays.

The new concrete-block pro shop is due to be completed by the opening date. This is the first building in the series that are planned.

The building will have the pro shop in one end and the club room and kitchen in the other. Present plans call for volunteers to operate the shop possibly until the end of the year.

Alvin Horton and Ernest Harwell provided much of the material for the shop building and Steve Davis was in charge of its construction.

The course is 3,084 yards on the front 9 and 3,113 yards on the back 9.

Land on which the country club is located was acquired by the City of Wellington earlier this year in a trade with Hubert Brooks and leased to the country club under a long-term arrangement.

Bill Long, first president of the new organization, and now vice-president, laid out the golf course.

"It looks like this will become one of the better golf courses in the area," said Mrs. Mabery. "We have the type of soil for good grass and trees and shrubs and it should become a beautiful course."

In a meeting Monday night, Sept. 25, Bob Goforth, president, appointed these committees:

Finance-Mrs. Mabery, chairman, Howard Holton and Long.

Building-Weldon Cleveland, chairman, Steve Davis, Alvin Horton, Goforth, and Dick Pendleton.

Tournament-Long, chairman, Willie Gragson and Mrs. Wayne Martin.

Greens and grounds-Wayne Martin, chairman, Hubert Mauldin, Long, Lonnie Neeley, and Herbert Bearden.

Landscaping-Mr. and Mrs. John Sherman.

Membership and admissions-Goforth, chairman, Mrs. Sherman and Henry Wells.

House Committee-Mrs. Cal Hurst, chairman, Mrs. Jones Singley and Cal Hurst.

Sub-committees will be set up under these committees as the need arises.

Markers from the old Green Acres golf course will be used until after it has been played on for a while to see how the distances work out. New markers will be put in, possibly next spring.

Collingsworth Homemakers to Attend THDA Annual Meeting

Five Collingsworth County homemakers will attend the 52nd annual meeting of the Texas Home Demonstration Association (THDA), Oct. 3-5, in Dallas.

They are Mrs. Dudley Phipps of Wellington, Mrs. Cecil Masten of Wellington, Mrs. E.H. Harwell of Wellington, Mrs. Bill Hill of Wellington and Miss Jean Chandler of Wellington.

As delegates to the state meet, the local homemakers will spend more than half of the three-day meet attending in-depth educational workshops, according to Mrs. Elna Preston of Llano, Texas, THDA president.

Workshops will focus on THDA major program areas--subjects that make up part of Home Demonstration Club work throughout the state.

Topics include family life, safety, health, citizenship, 4-H and youth, and cultural arts and recreation.

Throughout each year, Home Demonstration Club members study these subjects and build them into local programs and projects designed to serve the residents of their respective counties.

Other workshops will concern the state organization itself, Mrs. Preston said.

Keynote speakers for the conference will be Glenn Scott, staff specialist public relations, Southwestern Bell Telephone, Dallas and Dr. William Entzinger also of Dallas, a marriage and family therapist and adjunct assistant professor in the department of Child Development and Family Living, Texas Woman's University, Denton.

Scott will address the association on "The Solid State Connection," a futuristic look at communications. Entzinger's topic will be "Creative Communication in the Family."

During recognition ceremonies, Mrs. Preston will present two national awards to the association from the National Extension Homemakers' Council.

Among special events will be a performance by the Texas Chorus--THDA Members who prepare and rehearse several musical selections at the conference itself each year.

Other activities will include two tours--one to Dallas' "Old City Park," featuring restoration attractions, and two to "Olla Podrida," a working-craftmen's marketplace. Dallas County Home Demonstration Clubs will hostess the tours.

This year's conference theme is "Home--Our Hope in a Changing World."

WHS Classes Name Officers for Year

The four classes of Wellington High School met Thursday, Sept. 21, to elect officers for the present school year.

Seniors elected David Baumgardner president; Jeanne Morris, vice president; Beverly Orr, reporter; and Darla Seitz, secretary-treasurer.

Named to the student council were Tina Young and Mike Ray.

Class favorites are Jeanne Morris and Harold McKinney.

As its fund-raising activity, the class will present the Miss Wellington pageant in the spring and will have another event not yet decided on. Money will go for the class trip at the end of the year.

The junior class elected Sharee Bailey president, Terri Thomason, vice president; Karen Goforth, secretary; Craig Darter, treasurer; and Renessa Cardwell, reporter.

The student council members are Terri Thomason and Danny Wischkaemper. Favorites chosen were Marty Warrick and Renessa Cardwell.

The sponsors are Mrs. Ruby Hodges, Miss Debbie Chisum, Rodney Myrick and Phil Bailey.

The class is presently in a fund raising project to give away a quilt. One of the most distinctive seen in Wellington recently, each block is different, but all are representative of WHS.

Langford told the board that the hospital payroll had been trimmed from 52 full and part-time employees last year to 39 full and part-time employees this year.

In other action the board voted to file for judgements in small claims court against debts owed to the hospital that are 90 days or more overdue. The hospital previously had sent its bad debts to a collection agency which charged a fee of 50% of everything it collected.

The action came after members of the Volunteer Ambulance Service who were present for the budget hearing told the board that they had a collection rate of over 90% because they took debtors to court.

The hospital has lost about $78,000 in bad debts since operations began in 1972. Acting administrator Anne Langford said that bad debts are not to be confused with indigents who cannot afford to pay, and whose costs the hospital regularly absorbs.

One-Day Salvation Army Fund Drive Slated on October 4

A one-day, county-wide Salvation Army fund drive will be held Wednesday, October 4, opening with a kickoff coffee at 8:00 a.m.

Dr. Charles Michael is the drive chairman, and he will work closely with County Judge Zook Thomas, board chairman of the Salvation Army Service unit here.

The goal is $1,000. Captains working under Michael include Billy Moseley who is also county Salvation Army treasurer, Bobo Castleberry, Melvin Cardwell, Guy Owens, and Buster Hughs. Each man will name his own team members. Cardwell, principal of Wellington high school, will draw high school students into the campaign.

In Wellington to assist Michael in setting up the drive was Dale Maret, Salvation Army field representative from Amarillo.

In discussing the Salvation Army and the fund drive, Michael pointed out that "this is the Salvation Army on the local level, just as it is in all towns, where there is no corps."

Of the $1,000 sought here, Michael said one-third of the money will remain in this county, while two-thirds will go to the Salvation Army for its disaster service.

Maret, who has 42 service units, explained that 93.6 of the money collected goes to disaster service.

"None of the money collected goes to the Salvation Army Church and none to support the corps (the Salvation Army organization in larger towns where uniformed workers are assigned)."

Both the church and the corps get their financial support from the towns in which they are located.

A drive organizational meeting was held Thursday night, Sept. 21, and another will be held Thursday, Sept. 28, to finalize all plans.

Since Wellington and the county are served by a Salvation Army Service Unit, Maret explained what this;

"The Salvation Army Service Units are the valuable right arm of the Salvation Army," he said. "They are comprised of dedicated and compassionate civilian volunteers in towns that have no Salvation Army Corps. They are civic leaders who recognize their community's need for the special kind of help that the Army brings."

"In these Service unit areas they function in performing the same service of helping those in need as their uniformed counterparts in Corps cities. When the distress of citizens in their service area must be met, they assume the responsibilities of their own decisions on how best to ease the problem, while avoiding duplications with other agencies."

The Salvation Army can help needy travelers or those who have lost their possessions in a fire, or who need medical help. It is not a welfare agency.

The Salvation Army's disaster mobile canteens and equipment are ready to go, at any time, day or night, and this is the service many people are most familiar with.

The Salvation Army, with 41 corps and 346 service units in Texas, also operates men's social service centers, a low-cost residence for young women, a home and hospital for unwed mother, youth centers, Camp Hobletzelle at Midlothian, the Salvation Army Home for Girls, detoxification center, prisoner pre-release center, Harbor Light Center in Houston, and Friendship Houses for Senior Citizens.

This does not include the thing for which many men who have served in the U.S. since World War II--the Salvation Army's kindnesses to service men, both overseas and at home.

Series Sets Out Pros and Cons of Proposed Constitutional Amendments

City Gets $10,916 Sales Tax Rebate

Texans will vote on nine proposed constitutional amendments on the general election ballot on November 7, 1978.

The 65th Legislature, in the 1977 regular session, proposed 15 amendments for voter consideration. Seven of the proposals were submitted at a special election in November, 1977. Texas voters adopted five of the seven.

The remaining eight will appear on this year's general election ballot. In addition, Texas voters will have the opportunity to adopt or reject the "The Tax Relief Amendment" approved by the 65th Legislature in the 2nd Called Session this summer.

The Texas Legislative Council, composed of 5 senators and 10 state representatives, has compiled brief "pro" and "con" arguments on each of the nine proposed constitutional amendments.

During the weeks before the November 7 general election, The Wellington Leader will present these "pro" and "con" summaries for each amendment.

This week arguments on the "Tax Relief Amendment" are presented. Because of the variety of subjects covered by the amendment, the usual practice of grouping together all "for" and "against" arguments is not followed. Instead, arguments concerning each topic in the amendment are given, followed by a "for" and "against" argument for the amendment as a whole.

"TAX RELIEF AMENDMENT"

Taxation of Intangible Property

For:

Intangible properties are almost impossible to assess and tax fairly. Removing them from the mandatory tax base would eliminate a major obstacle to achieving equitable property tax administration and public school finance.

Against:

Although intangible assets may be difficult to assess and tax, they can be taxed fairly if the appropriate administrative procedures are provided. Eliminating them from the mandatory tax base will help wealthy persons and large corporations, who own the greatest portion of intangibles, at the expense of middle-class homeowners and other small property owners.

Personal Property Exemptions

For:

The current $250 limit on the tax exemption for household and kitchen furniture is unrealistically low in view of today's inflated property values. Exempting all household goods and personal effects not used to produce income is a more rational and workable approach. Permitting the legislature to further exempt property that is exempt from forced sale will, among other things, authorize legislation to exempt personal motor vehicles from property taxes, a form of tax relief that will help the average citizen most.

Against:

Tying personal property tax exemptions to the statute exempting property from forced sale is unwise. Future legislatures may broaden the coverage of the statute to permit tax exemptions for all sorts of personal property, and in doing so they would not only provide excessively broad tax exemptions but would also impair the ability of creditors to collect judgments against debtors.

Taxation of Agricultural Land

For:

The provision that requires the legislature to provide for taxation of farm and ranch land on the basis of productivity, rather than speculative market values, would result in needed tax relief for the state's financially troubled farmers and ranchers.

Against:

Under the amendment, timberland could also be taxed on the basis of productivity, rather than market value. It is doubtful that the timber industry needs this tax break, and its implementation by the legislature could seriously erode the tax base of many counties and school districts and result in a greater tax burden for the average homeowner.

Homestead Exemptions

For:

A major tax break would be provided the state's overburdened homeowners with the mandated homestead exemption of $5,000 for school tax purposes. Homeowners over 65 or disabled, for whom the property tax is particularly burdensome in proportion to income, could also be provided an additional homestead exemption by the legislature.

Against:

The amendment does not provide significant tax relief for the average citizen. The tax savings for an individual homeowner from the $5,000 homestead exemption have been estimated to be only about $30 a year for a $40,000 home, based on a 60 percent assessment ratio and a $1 per $100 school tax. In addition, the disability homestead exemption is tied to qualification under the federal Old-Age, Survivors, and Disability Insurance program, and will exclude a great many of the state's disabled citizens.

"Truth in Taxation"

For:

This provision would assure homeowners an adequate opportunity to voice their sentiments about property tax increases and, therefore, should lead to smaller tax increases in the future.

Against:

A constitution should be a flexible document in which the fundamental powers of government are established, limited, defined, and distributed. This provision is statutory in nature, and its inclusion in the constitution merely adds to the already excessive verbiage of one of the longest state constitutions.

State Spending Limitations

For:

The provision restraining state spending increases should force the legislature in the appropriation process to be more conscious of the necessity of proposed government programs and the value of existing ones.

Against:

The "limit" on state spending is meaningless and will be as ineffective as the "permanent" federal debt ceiling, which is continually raised by Congress. Only a majority of the state's lawmakers would be required to declare an emergency and authorize an appropriation in excess of the limit.

Property Tax Administration

For:

Property tax reform has been stalled in previous legislative sessions partly because of fear that it might lead to statewide property tax appraisals. The amendment's prohibition of such appraisals should, therefore, eliminate a major obstacle to long-needed reform of property tax administration.

Against:

The prohibition of statewide appraisals of real property and the requirement that enforcement of uniform appraisal standards must originate at the county level would perpetuate the current inequities in the administration of the state property tax and thwart meaningful tax reform in the future.

"The Tax Relief Amendment"

For:

The amendment is a balanced tax relief package that could total over one-half billion dollars in tax reductions over the next three years. More important, the amendment will have the long-range effect of preventing an increased dependence on property taxation for government revenue.

Against:

The amendment is a hodgepodge of loosely-related proposals that should have been submitted separately to the voters. In addition, total government spending will not be substantially reduced by the amendment. Much of the revenue lost by local governments must be replaced by the state, a situation that could lead to a state sales tax increase within a few years.

Hospital Bond Election

Collingsworth County voters will have an opportunity to express themselves Tuesday, October 17 on a $150,000 bond election for Collingsworth General Hospital.

The hospital needs the additional money to make improvements and repairs on its building and equipment. The rate at which the hospital district can tax is limited by state law and the special law that set up the hospital district ties the district to county valuations. The combined effect is to prohibit the hospital's tax money from keeping up with inflation--and health care costs have gone up faster than almost any other area of the economy.

When the hospital district was organized the district voted a $150,000 bond to purchase the hospital from the Dominican Sisters and make some improvements. That bond has been paid down until the hospital now owes only about $60,000.

The total indebtedness of the hospital after the bond election would still be minute compared to other hospital districts which have built new hospitals in recent years. And the indebtedness would be small compared to local school indebtedness.

Of the $150,000, $45,000 would be in the form of refunding bonds that would pay back loans made on equipment and improvements already purchased. The remaining $105,000 would be available to the hospital to make building and equipment improvements that are needed to keep the hospital operating under federal regulations.

A vote for the hospital bond election on October 17 is a vote for health care that the community cannot afford to be without.

American Agriculture and Texas Democrats

...During the spring months, the militant American Agriculture movement decided to "enter politics" and attempt to influence decisions in Washington by beginning at the grassroots level and following through.

They quite wisely worked within the system which is the thing to do. They urged all their followers to attend their precinct and county political conventions which is where the political process begins.

As anybody knows, most Americans can't be budged off their fannies to exercise this important citizenship responsibility. Any neighborhood minority can take over its precinct convention by making a half dozen telephone calls in most instances.

In Swisher County, AAM dominated the precinct and county conventions in May and obviously dominated the Swisher delegation to the state convention. And the same thing happened in most all agricultural counties of the 31st district and beyond.

And they all showed up at the state convention. Their objective was to get their own resolutions adopted and hopefully to win delegates to the national convention, state committee posts, representation at the Democratic mini convention to be held in Memphis, Tenn., and the like. They also hoped to get a farmer appointed to each state convention committee...

...Since both the "Moderate-Conservatives," or "Shivercrats," and American Agriculture had something in common, a hunger for power, they decided to team up and combine forces...

...By aligning themselves with the Shivercrats, the farmers may have alienated several other groups in future conventions. The Mod-Pro (moderate progressive) faction which has about the same strength as the Mod-Cons, also lacks strength to control the party...but it votes opposite to Mod-Con and likely will vote anti-AAM next time it gets a change.

By accepting the "association" of Mod-Con which did little more than "use" the farmers, the farmers also inherited all of Mod-Con's enemies!

...Irony of it all is that the state Democratic party has generally been pro-farmer. About the only "enemies" the farmers and small towns had, if we could call them enemies, were Dallas and Houston oil! And this, ironically, was what AAM tied its kite to!

In politics you just don't form alliances unless the alliance formed becomes a majority. And it will be a cold day in hell when the Shivercrats and their successors plus AAM become a majority in Texas Democratic politics.

A safer course is to seek support from everybody, even those you don't particularly like, but without alliances. The Republicans taught us a long time ago that you don't win public office by telling Negroes, Mexicans, labor, Catholics, Jews, and all the other non-white Protestants to go to hell!

Letters from the People

Editor:

I have just finished watching the T.V. program, Pro News Magazine, and the story about the Quail school. I feel very deeply about this, as my grandfather, William M. Barton, was one of the first settlers in the Quail community. He had a young daughter named Coreana, for whom the city fathers wanted to name the town. It was submitted when a post office was applied for. They were informed there was already a post office registered for a Texas town named Coreana. They couldn't agree on another name, and as they came up out of the half-dugout, a large covey of quail flew up, and that was it-- Quail had its name.

I was about twelve years old when the school was consolidated. That was my first year of high school. That year, while the building was being constructed, we had classes just about everywhere. Some of the frame buildings from the seven communities which were consolidated, were brought in and used in conjunction with the small existing brick building. Our study hall was the Church of Christ building located between the school campus and the cemetery.

You cannot imagine how proud we were of our new school. At that time, there were about six-hundred students registered. I was in the fourth graduating class after the school consolidated.

The day after the tornado, my husband and I drove out to see it. There is no way to describe the emptiness I felt, as I looked at the utter devastation. Besides my personal hurt and sorrow, I felt as if part of my family history had been destroyed completely.

I'm sorry to say I am not informed on the issues, and I do not believe in "taking sides" unless and until I am fully cognizant of the issues on both sides. It makes me very sad to see the citizens of Quail and Wellington so bitter against each other. As far back as I can remember, they have been friendly communities.

I have no reason for writing this letter, except that I was so disturbed by the things presented on the program. Quail will always be home to me--my roots are there. I will always be concerned for the welfare of the people there.

I do admire you for your impartial stand. I am sending a copy of this letter to channel 7 in Amarillo. Thanks for listening.

Sincerely,
Amadee (Barton) Vallance

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

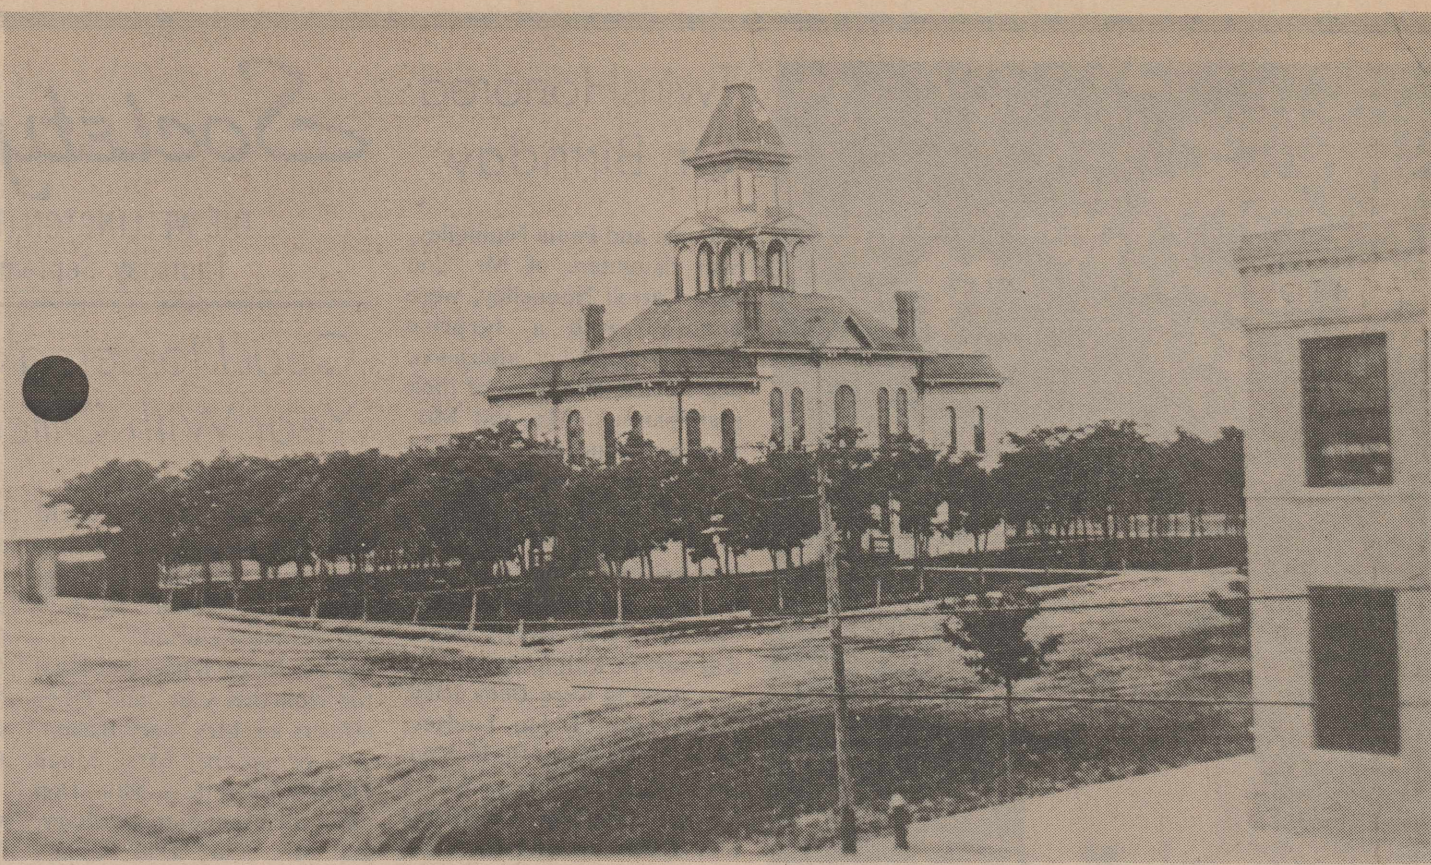

AUSTIN — Republicans are fielding a record number of candidates in congressional races.

Highest GOP hopes are pinned on George W. Bush, 31, of Midland, and Tom Loeffler, 31, of Mason.

Bush is running against State Sen. Kent Hance, conservative Democratic nominee for the 19th West Texas district seat held by retiring U.S. Rep. George Mahon of Lubbock.

Loeffler is contesting former State Sen. Nelson W. Wolff of San Antonio, Democratic nominee for U.S. Rep. Bob Krueger's 21st district seat.

Another close race pits Waco oil and gas distributor Jack Burgess, 40, against Democrat Marvin Leath, 46, Marlin banker, in District 11. The seat was held for 40 years by Rep. W. R. "Bob" Poage of Waco.

Some Republicans see an outside chance for Wes Mowery of Fort Worth against ultra conservative Democrat Phil Gramm of College Station in District 6 which is being vacated by Rep. Olin "Tiger" Teague.

Still others feel Bill Fisher, 34, of Abilene, could possibly defeat Democrat Charles W. Stenholm of Stamford in District 17 which was represented by Rep. Omar Burleson of Anson since 1946.

Other Republican congressional candidates include Leo Berman, 42, of Arlington against Martin Frost, 35, of Oak Cliff and Dallas lawyer Tom Pauken, 33, against Rep. Jim Mattox, 35, of Dallas.

Veteran Republican Congressmen Jim Collins of Dallas and Bill Archer of Houston are safe for re-election.

Republicans contested Democrats in 21 districts out of 24.

Tax Repealed

A hundred and twenty five Texas cities notified Comptroller Bob Bullock they will repeal the one per cent local sales tax on residential gas and electric bills effective October 1.

Another 127 informed Bullock they will retain the tax. Some 900 cities levy the local-option, one per cent city sales tax.

Bullock estimated Texas homeowners and renters will enjoy a $150 million tax break with repeal of the state's four per cent tax on residential utility bills.

The one per cent city sales tax on utility bills will be automatically repealed in all Texas cities effective October 1, 1979, unless they vote by May 1, 1979 to continue the tax. Cities were given the option of repealing the tax by October 1 this year, the same day the state tax was lifted. San Antonio, Dallas, Fort Worth and Austin were among ma-located. The department operates from five locations here now--three of them leased.

Building Sought

The Texas State Department of Highways and Public Transportation again is trying to build a new headquarters in Austin--this time a $10 million structure in the Camp Hubbard area.

The department several years ago picked a site in downtown Austin south of the capitol and directly across the street from the governor's mansion. Loud protests were raised by conservation and historic groups, claiming the structure would dominate the capitol and increase traffic.

Building plans finally were abandoned on order of the legislature after the site had been cleared. The old site is now a parking lot, with some public park features.

DHPT officials told Legislative Budget Board it will seek a $10 million appropriation for a multi-story building near where several department units already are

AG Opinions

The Open Records Act does not require release of names of rape and attempted rape victims, Attorney General John Hill said in a new opinion.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded:

Statutes do not authorize Gaines County to provide day care to all children, although the county may provide day care to some children, or under some circumstances. Legislation would be necessary to authorize counties to provide general day care services to all children.

A county clerk has a duty to provide mailed written notice to all assumed certificate holders under the Business and Commerce Code, and he is not relieved of the duty by budget limitations. Commissioners courts have a duty to provide adequate funds.

County Four-H Members Will Celebrate National Week

The 4-H members in Collingsworth County will be among 5.5 million across the United States celebrating National 4-H Week Oct. 1-7 points out Jean Chandler, county agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.
This year's National 4-H Week is designed to reflect of the fact that 4-H offers youth of all backgrounds an opportunity for personal growth and development and, at the same time, to broaden their interests and concern for others, points out Jean Chandler.
In Texas, the 4-H program is conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service of the Texas A&M University System.
4-H continues to be a highly flexible program and continues to expand and adapt to the changing needs and interests of young people. Project areas continue to expand, providing youth with many "learning-by-doing" experiences that will help them grow into members of society. 4-H helps youth learn skills to cope with real-life situations today as well as to prepare for the years ahead, emphasizes Jean Chandler.
The 4-H members in Collingsworth County are as follows: Lisa White, Stacy Scott, Nicole Keller, Patricia Fourmentin, Paula Reynolds, Carla Caison, Darla Butler,

Firecrackers Drop Game To Shamrock

Junior High Firecrackers provided the only football action of the weekend, and that was away from home.

The team lost 8-0 to a much larger Shamrock 8th grade team on El Paso Field Thursday, Sept. 21.

Junior Varsity and seventh grade games were cancelled due to rain.

"It was a real good game with a good effort on the part of Wellington," said Coach Jim Yarnell. He added that because of the type of ball the Firecrackers played, he felt they didn't really lose their game.

Shamrock scored in the early minutes of play, but the Firecracker defense stiffened and held Shamrock for the remainder of the game.

The offense, moved the ball well, and twice had scoring opportunities that they let get away. Once a pass was dropped and the next time penalties kept the Firecrackers from scoring.

John Paul Munn distinguished himself with his ball carrying as well as defensive play.

The three teams, Rocket JV, Firecrackers and seventh grade, will meet Clarendon teams at Powell Field, Thursday, Sept. 28.

Will Lone Star Gas still be saving your family money in 2028?

You can be sure we're planning to help your children's children control their energy costs exactly the way we're helping you—with economical gas service.

Economical? Absolutely, because even at current prices natural gas is providing an energy bargain in home heating, water heating, clothes drying and cooking.

The reason, of course, is that gas is a natural energy that you use in its original form. Gas flame provides heat with remarkable efficiency. And these big household jobs require heat.

Your direct use of gas in appliances actually conserves energy. But, even with the wisest use of gas, can you really expect our area's natural gas supplies to last until 2028? You can.

Some people believe we'll run out of gas in a few years.

We don't. Because we've been in the gas business for 69 years, and our experience convinces us enough gas will be available to last our service area for at least another 50 years.

In fact, the groundwork for your energy future has already been laid—Lone Star's 11,400-mile pipeline network. This gathering and transmission system: —reaches into, or connects with, basins that are estimated to contain 50% of this nation's remaining onshore gas reserves. —lets us take deliveries from offshore gas fields in the Gulf of Mexico, and areas where other companies have no pipelines. —gives us a distinct advantage when it comes to buying gas at the best prices, but this is an advantage we'll lose in time.

The race is on.

Some areas of the country have delayed the development of their own resources for ecological reasons, but they learned the real value of adequate gas supplies during the winter of 1976-1977.

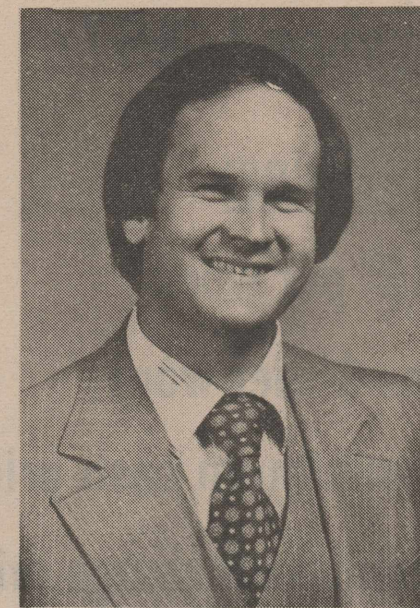

The race for long-term gas contracts is on, and it's happening in our own backyard. We can't afford to miss sound opportunities to buy new reserves in economical volumes.

The groundwork has been laid for us to buy our area's fair share of the new reserves. All we need to do is your understanding that we must recover the prices we actually pay for gas.

If you'll give us that, Lone Star will have no problem financing the energy that will save you money for decades to come.

The goal for ticket sales is 650.

The barbecue will be served in the school cafeteria and it will precede the Skyrocket-Electra football game, and serving hours will be 4:30 to 7:15 p.m., according to Danny West, Booster Club president.

Tickets may be purchased from any club member, or from West and Charlie Lee Watts, treasurer. Adult tickets are $3.50 each and children's tickets $2.00.

This is good Collingsworth-grown beef that Wellington and Electra fans will be eating, West assures.

Wellington State Bank, City State Bank, and Eddie Orr are each donating one-half beef, and the club bought a whole beef.

In aiming at 650 tickets sold milk; lunch: Irish stew, tossed salad, cheese sticks, peanut clusters, corn bread and butter, milk.

Thursday, Oct. 5: orange juice, cinnamon rolls and milk; lunch: hamburger with cheese slice, lettuce, tomato, pickles and onions, French fries, peaches and milk.

Friday, Oct. 6, breakfast: apple sauce, pigs in a blanket and milk; lunch: Enchiladas, tossed salad, corn, apricots, tostados and milk.

this year, West reminded that the club sold 530 tickets last year and members are confident they can top it by more than 100 this time.

Club members will be in charge of cooking the meat. The traditional trimmings will be served--beans, potato salad, slaw, and fruit.

Each year, money raised by the booster club goes to a project for the school athletic department.

This year, the boosters bought a new whirlpool which will be placed in the field house.

"The one they have now has been there since 1952--26 years," West said. He noted that he and a good many other members of the Booster Club who once played Skyrocket football used this old whirlpool.

As their second project, the boosters are buying a motion picture camera for use in filming games and other events.

Plans for the Booster Club barbecue will be completed within the next few days.

One of the longest wars in history was between England and France, waged off and on between 1337 and 1453, and known as the Hundred Year's war.

Religious Census Due in Wellington

Members of First Baptist Church will knock on every door in Wellington between October 8 and 22, in the first religious census held here in several years.

The Rev. Stanley Hughes, pastor, said information in regard to church affiliation and religious preference will be gathers.

Information obtained on families indicating affiliation with churches of denominations other than Baptist will be turned over to the pastors of the denominations named.

"The survey will help members of the church to better know the people of Wellington and their needs," Rev. Hughes said.

Scout Troop Has Camp-out

Eleven Boy Scouts of Troop 432, along with junior and adult leaders, held their first fall camp-out at Glenn McLean Scout Camp on Salt Fork River, Friday evening and Saturday, September 22 and 23.

They cooked breakfast and lunch and also hiked and showed new boys around the camp area.

Getting down to serious work, they completed study for first aid badges and took the required tests, said Glenn McLain, scoutmaster.

Boys on the camp-out were Jay Anders, Alfie Seeley, Leroy Hudson, Eugene Mote, Heath Ingram, Darrell Nash, Bryan Wilbur, Shane Boyce, James Benton, James Patterson, Chad Hopper, and the junior leaders, Jimmy Morgan, Brent Long and Tim DeVoss and adult leaders, Lee DeVoss and McLain.

Legend has it that aboard Noah's ark, the lions were seasick the entire 40 days and 40 nights.

The most unbeatable banana split on record, measured a mile long, combined 33,000 scoops of ice cream with 10,580 bananas, and made famous an ice cream parlor that sold one scoop at a time.
