MACK LANCASTER

Lancaster Wins Zone In PP&K

Mack Lancaster, 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Lancaster, won first place in his division in zone competition at Lubbock Saturday for Ford company's Punt, Pass and Kick contest.

Lancaster, along with the other five zone winners, will receive a plaque award and go to Dallas later this month for district competition.

While in Dallas the PP&K contestants will be guests of the Dallas Cowboys, professional football team.

District winners will qualify for area competition at Albuquerque, N.M., and area winners will compete in the national finals at the championship National Football League game later in the year.

Lancaster and the other five winners from Olton were sponsored at the zone competition by Fisher Ford.

Other Olton winners, who did not qualify for district competition, at Lubbock, were Mark Hodges, 8; Tim Givens, 9; Marlos May, 10; Mike Parsons, 11; and Mike Gullett, 13.

The Olton boys made a good showing at Lubbock -- with everybody finishing high in the competitive standings.

Homecoming Activities Claim Olton Spotlight

Parade Slated At 4 P.M. Friday

BY MIKE READ

Autumn brings chill winds, chrysanthemums, football and homecoming to the South Plains area each year.

And this week in Olton it is time to turn attention to the last two items in the list -- homecoming and football.

Homecoming usually is centered around football, and this year is to be no exception.

Homecoming activities by the score have been planned -- beginning with a Thursday football pep rally and climaxing with a Friday football game between the Mustangs and the Abernathy Antelopes.

The highlight of the Thursday pep rally -- set for 8 p.m. -- will be the crowning of the Football Queen, in the gymnasium.

The crowning of the queen on Thursday is a change from the procedure of past years. Candidates for queen are Jan George, Frankie Adams, and Cherry Langford.

Following the pep rally and crowning of the queen, the entire group at the pep rally will turn out to snake dance through Olton's downtown section.

The regular pep rally prior to the football will be at 2:30 p.m. Friday in the gym. School will be dismissed at 3 p.m., following the pep rally.

The Homecoming parade will start at 4 p.m. Included in the parade will be seven floats, and a pep squad entry -- the car carrying the queen and queen candidates.

The float themes and sponsoring organizations are Wizard of Oz, junior class; Ten Commandments, F. T. A.; Alice in Wonderland, FHA; Around the World in 80 Days, sophomore class; Bride of Frankenstein, National Honor Society; Rome Adventure, senior class; and Kissing Cousins, freshment class.

Noon Friday will be the deadline for ordering corsages from the annual staff. The mums -- priced at $2.50 and $3.50 -- will be distributed in the school lunchroom from 4 to 7 p.m. Friday.

The annual ham supper, sponsored by the PTA, will follow the parade. Supper will be served from 5 to 7 p.m. in the lunchroom. Adult tickets for the supper are $1, while children can eat for 75 cents.

Pre-game ceremonies will begin at 7:10 p.m. A band concert will preceded the homecoming game with Abernathy.

The Boy Scouts will again operate a parking lot on the west side of the football field -- across the street from the stands.

The "victory" over Abernathy will climax the day's activities, but the homecoming gatherings will continue.

The Class of 1955 will have their reunion at the ORC following the football game.

The Class of 1960 will get together in the PCA party room for their reunion after the game.

Husbands and wives of the graduates are welcome at the reunions, and further information can be obtained from Mrs. James Martin (1955) or Mrs. L. H. Carson (1960).

With the conclusion of the reunions, so ends another homecoming at Olton High School, and peace and tranquility can return for another year.

HOMECOMING QUEEN CANDIDATES

ONE OF THESE THREE Olton High School lasses will be crowned Homecoming Queen tonight at a pep rally at the school gymnasium. The candidates are, from left, Jan George, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leon George; Frankie Adams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Adams; and Cherry Langford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Langford.

GOLDWATER TOPS STRAW VOTE

Demo, GOP Praises Heard At Olton Political Meeting

Somebody shut the door and left the Demo donkey out in the cold at a political meeting here Tuesday night when Glen Exter and Bill Thomas spoke on "Door to Politics."

In contrast to slightly more "official" polls across the nation and much to the surprise of some, an impromptu straw vote taken at the close of the Tuesday meeting brought a triumphant trumpet from the GOP elephant.

Results of the vote revealed that the group had "elected" Barry Goldwater by a three to two vote and George Bush took about a four and a half to two lead over Sen. Ralph Yarborough.

New Century Study Club sponsored the meeting and invited other local women's club members and husbands to hear the political review.

Exter, who was elected as a delegate to the Democratic state convention, gave a brief history of the Democratic party and said:

"I will be glad when Nov. 3 is come and gone because anything that divides a great nation like ours is wrong. I know people here (in Olton) -- good friends -- who are not speaking because of this election and that is wrong.

"This is not the kind of example we need to set for our boys and girls. After all, you may be raising a future president."

He urged everyone to go to the polls Nov. 3, spoke on the value of a free press and then turned to the question of federal aid.

"I agree we need a reduction in federal support but you can't cut it off all at once. Our national economy wouldn't stand it."

Turning to the coming election, he praised Lyndon Johnson saying:

"If a man is ever prepared for the Presidency, I don't see how a man could be more prepared than Lyndon Johnson.

"Here is a man who advocates equal opportunity for all our people."

He spoke on Cuba briefly, saying:

"I deny that the Cuban situation was bungled."

On Barry Goldwater, he had this comment:

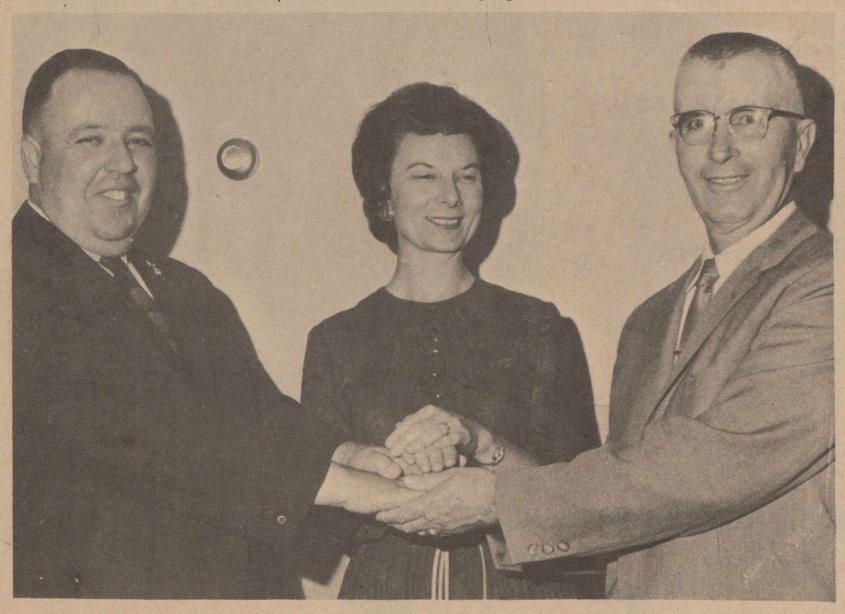

"I think Goldwater is a good man, an honest man, a man of integrity, but I do not want him for my President."

Thomas, Republican precinct convention chairman, then took the floor and gave a background on Republican candidates in the coming election.

Noting that it is often said that Republicans don't like labor he pointed out that Goldwater was one of the first to institute a profit-sharing plan for employees.

He said that Goldwater is a

VOTE NOVEMBER 3RD!!

THE VIEWS of these three people may differ widely, but they all had the same message in mind when they posed for this picture Tuesday night. Glen Exter, left, spoke for the Democratic Party, and Bill Thomas, right, spoke for the GOP at a political meeting at the ORC. At center is Mrs. Archie Sorley, president of New Century Club, who joined the handshaking to remind everyone to go to the polls and vote on Nov. 3.

Olton Boy's Southdown Tops At Fair

A lamb owned by J. Curtis Hall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hall of Olton, was named the Champion Southdown at the State Fair of Texas, Dallas, Wednesday afternoon.

The lamb was shown for J. Curtis by Marlana May, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Archie May.

Another high Olton placing at the show was that of Marles May, brother of Marlana, who exhibited the second place Dorset lamb.

Mustangs Battle Abernathy Eleven

The annual homecoming football game is the frosting on the homecoming cake, so to speak. And this year the Mustangs will try to make frosting out of the Abernathy Antelopes.

The job should not be impossible, but the Antelopes will not be the cinch they were last year, when Olton downed them, 28-14.

The Antelopes didn't win a game last year, but the picture is a little different this season.

In the only district tilt so far this year, however, the Antelopes fell to the Floydada team 26-6. But that was better than last year's 33-6 loss to the same team.

The Mustangs and the Antelopes have played only two teams in common -- Hale Center and Morton.

Hale Center edged the Ponies 14-13, and downed Abernathy 22-16. Morton downed the Antelopes 36-14, but fell to the Mustangs 21-6.

Abernathy will enter the contest with an 0-1 district record. The Mustangs will be trying to enlarge a 1-0 record. At the moment -- with only one district game having been played by each team in the conference -- Olton is standing in the three top teams, and the Antelopes are on the bottom of the ladder with Lockney and Dimmitt.

It will be quite possible for the Antelopes to start nothing but returning lettermen against the Mustangs Friday.

Abernathy had 20 returning lettermen this year. These included three ends, four tackles, four guards, three centers, two quarterbacks, two wingbacks, a halfback and a fullback.

So Friday's action will tell the tale of whether or not the Olton Mustangs have a good recipe for Antelope frosting.

County Has History Of 'Going Democratic'

How fixed is the average voter in Lamb County in his allegiance to a particular politcal party?

Can the county vote for president, in the forthcoming election, be forecast on the basis of previous performance?

Interesting findings on the subject of party loyalty and the extent of shifting that has taken place in the past have been turned up by the University of Michigan's Survey Research Center and others. They were based on personal interviews in all parts of the country.

The conclusion reached is that a person usually picks his party early in life, generally before age 30, and that this attachment is amazingly stable thereafter. Only one out of five voters in the United States changes parties during his lifetime.

To what degree has this been true in Lamb County?

In the 1960 election, the county vote was 2,764 for the Republican candidate and 3,089 for the Democrat. In 1952 count showed 2,913 for the Republican hopeful and 2,748 for the Democrat. In 1956 it ran 1,840 Republican and 3,325 Democrat.

Summing up the results of the three elections, county voters gave a total of 7,517 votes to the Republican candidates and 9,162 to the Democrat opponents.

It amounted to 45 percent Republican and 55 percent Democrat.

In the State of Texas as a whole, the figures show that the Republicans received 52 per cent of the votes cast for the two parties during that period and the Democrats, 48 per cent.

Whether or not past experience will serve as a dependable guide to the outcome of this year's elections is the big question.

Even though the mass of voters may be frozen in their affiliations, as "The American Voter" contends, the "volatile voting behavior of independents" often plays a decisive role.

Most people, it is held, decide early which way they will vote and pay little attention to campaign oratory thereafter.

Yet, one out of ten remains undecided up to the last week or so. That explains the last minute efforts of both sides.

Solesbee Buys Olton Delinting

C. C. Solesbee, formerly of Littlefield, has purchased Olton Delinting Plant from C. J. Mills and has begun operation of a saw delinting plant there.

Solesbee, who farmed more than 30 years near Littlefield, before coming here, said he plans to add acid delinting equipment by the first of the year.

Curtis Hall Wins Grid Contest Again

Curtis Hall became the first repeat winner of the year in the Enterprise football contest last week as he picked 15 of the 18 games correctly.

Two others gave him a close chase -- Truitt Sides and Roy Long -- as they missed only four games.

Sides edged out Long for second place because he was closer on the tiebreaker.

It was Hall's second time to win this year, as a result, he will receive a check for $10. Sides will get $6 and Long $4.

Three others ran the top three a close race last week. They were Eldon Franks, A. A. Smith and Howard Hall, each of whom missed only five games.

But most of the contestants had a real rough week. Many of them fell to the upsets and missed as many as half the games on the sheet.

A new contest is under way this week and contestants may enter by picking up a copy of the Oct. 15 Enterprise. All you do is pick your winners on the contest form and turn in the entry blank to one of the participating merchants by 4 p.m. Friday.

Protect That Nut!

As the heat of the coming political election rises, and some tempers along with it, we can't help wondering if some of us aren't forgetting what this election is really all about.

The fact that we are having an election signifies that we in this nation have a choice.

This, of course, implies that a difference of opinion exists.

Who would want it otherwise? This is the very foundation of our way of government. Yet, it is just this that often tends to bring us to the boiling point.

We all believe in freedom of speech...we say. Or maybe it depends on who's doing the speaking.

Since we know that we are right, we fully expect the other fellow to give us his respect and attention.

But do we extend the same courtesy? Of course, we know that the other fellow is all wrong.....perhaps.

The point we are forgetting is that he has a RIGHT to be wrong if he so chooses. Who knows, there's just a slight possibility that he may feel the same way about you.

We sometimes get so wrapped up in our politics and our convictions that we forget what it is we're really fighting for.

Regardless of the outcome of the Nov. 3 election we will still be the greatest nation in the world. If you don't believe this, take a look at some of the other nations around you, and ask yourself if you would care to change places with any of them.

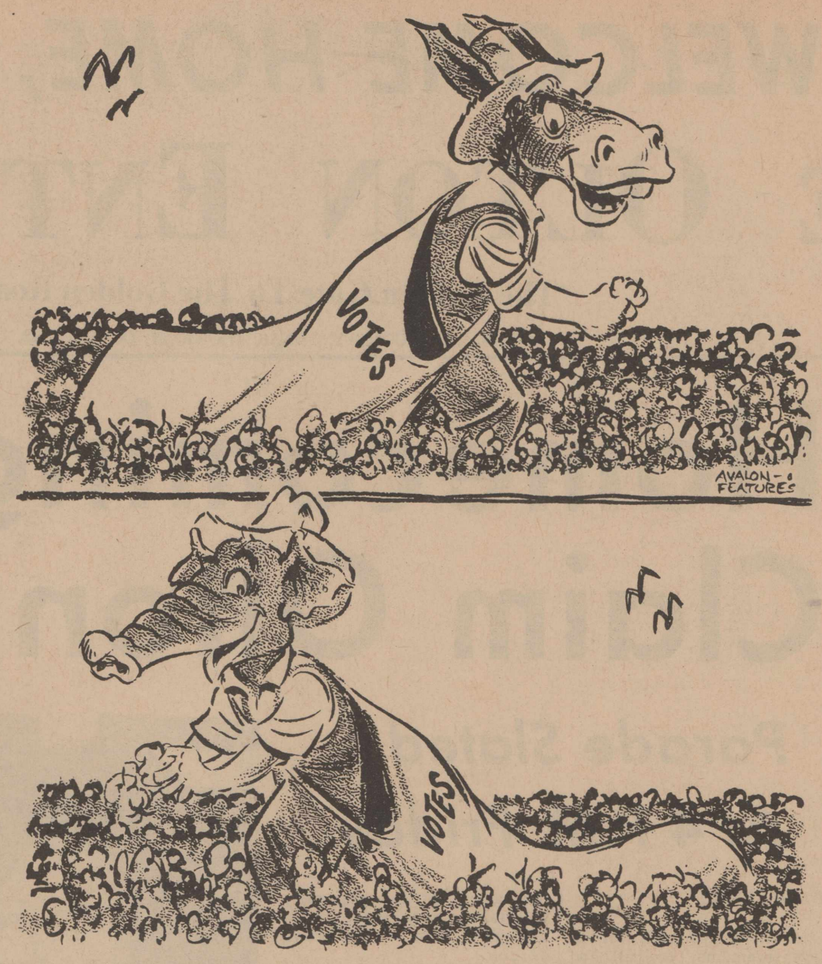

We believe that it is this right to disagree that will keep us out in front.

Concern, of course, we need. This is always a healthy sign.

Panic, we can do with out. Unfortunately, this type of unreasonable over-concern tends to bring about the very conditions it is trying to combat.

So have your opinions, voice them, vote them.....all well and good.

But, remember, the very existence of that nut down the block is your protection.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

The Editor
The Olton Enterprise

I have heard that a fine citizen of Olton has been called a Communist because she defended the principles of the John Birch Society.

It is saddening to know that anyone who would have firm convictions concerning our God, our glorious constitution and a belief in individual freedom and responsibility would be reviled by an American Citizen.

Of course, it is natural that a JBS member should be reviled and spit upon by the ignorant masses who deceitfully believe in socialism, who make the "goviment" their god and who close their minds to the truth. These people cannot be helped because they have closed minds. They are the enemies of our nation -- the ones responsible for the crime, corruption and race toward Communisim.

Although the people who stand for what is right and speak the truth will not be popular in this world they will receive a just reward. Jerimiah was quite unpopular but this did not stop the march of the slaves to Babylon.

The principles and beliefs of the John Birch Society are much the same as those of the founding fathers. Today these beliefs are unpopular because the people have gone off after the false gods. They have prostituted their heritage.

But I assure the person who spoke the vile words that if the JBS does not save the nation, there is absolutely no other force in the world that can stop Communism. I also assure him if the JBS does fail he will see his smaller children and grandchildren thrown into bonfires, the females of his family raped by the savage Mongolians, and a darkness over the world never before known.

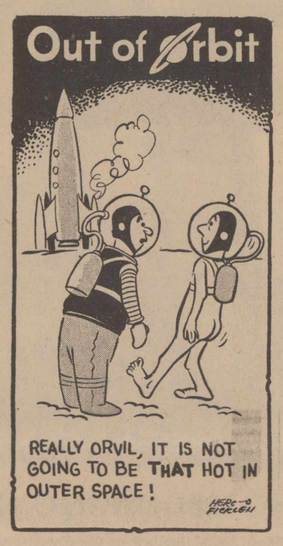

I would remind the accuser that "No people deserve a better government than for that which they will stand."

I would also remind him the hour is late -- perhaps too late for even the JBS to save the nation.

Perhaps God is going to give us what we deserve.

I do not write this out of hate for this poor, misguided soul but with pity and understanding. Members of my own family have also run after the two False Gods of the Americans -- "Gimme" and "Whatsinitferme."

RUNNING WATER PHILOSOPHER

Questions Campaign Length

Editor's note: The Running Water Philosopher on his careless weed farm on Running Water Draw asks a puzzling question this week.

Dear editar:

I haven't got room to list them all, but among the enormous number of things I don't understand is international relations.

For example, I read in a newspaper last night that Russia is charging the United States is trying to wreck the United Nations.

This is a serious charge, especially since we went to all the trouble and expense to put up all those United Nations buildings in New York where Russian leaders like to take off their shoes and get comfortable, so I read the article first, ahead of the day's campaign dope.

As it turns out, Russia is behind its dues to the outfit and the United States is insisting it pay up or lose its vote as the rules demand, and this, Russia says, is an attempt to wreck the organization.

This is what I'm talking about, It's like me telling a bank it's trying to wreck this careless weed farm because I won't pay off a note, and if I could find banker who would take such an argument seriously, I'd sure do some business with him.

Another thing I don't understand about the world is the difference between England and the United States. Over here, it takes nearly three months for both political parties to get through saying what scoundrels each one is, while in England they can do it in three weeks.

Of course it's like two lawyers lambasting each other in court all morning and then going out and having lunch together, but it ought to hurt our pride that an Englishman can think up all those words for liar and crook in three weeks while it takes us three months. The fault probably lies in the failure of the public schools to give proper grounding in vocabulary back in the lower grades. Something ought to be done about it.

Yours faithfully
J. A.

Ask Amy

BY AMY ADAMS

Dear Amy:

My boyfriend Tommy received his school ring this year and I've been after him to let me wear it. His mother says no because he didn't pay for it, she did. I have given him four reasons why I should have it, and he has given me four why I shouldn't. His reasons are just as good as mine and vice versa.

He thinks he's found an answer. I have the ring for a week and he has it the next. I think it's silly but I've gone along with him. Should I get to keep the ring, give it to him to wear all the time, or go along with his plan?

No matter what I do, it won't change the way I feel about him. I'm 16 and I think it's a good argument.

Pat

Dear Pat:

You have a nerve to attempt to force your will upon this boy and his family. Unless this boy wants you to wear his ring of his own free will and with his parents' approval, you have no right to expect to wear it, let alone ask for it.

In my opinion, your demanding and pushy attitude will only serve to lose friends and destroy friendships.

Dear Amy:

I am writing for the benefit of all hayfever victims and in reply to the school teacher from Parma, Ohio. A sneeze is something to release — not to prevent. After sneezing seven times in a row, one does not feel up to concealing the final sneeze. A sneeze is a way for the body to clear the lungs and nasal passages, and you'd do a fine job of breaking your eardrums if you stifle too many sneezes. A sneeze is not an instrument of attention because I get no proud feeling of walking around with my eyes watery and my nose as red as a stoplight and constantly pulling out a tissue.

For a child who says "God bless you", he has at least begun the road to being polite. In our society a "God bless you" is just as expected as a "Thank you" or "Please." Our life is not based on such trivial matters as the philosophy of a sneeze. Let's fix some of the major problems first!

Dear Amy:

I have a question that could not get answered to the other evening. We were serving guests dinner and asked them to please pass the food to their left. They said it was improper to pass to the left, it should go to the right. I was always under the impression it should be to your left.

Just Wondering

Dear Wondering:

When food is brought to the table, it is set down at the guest's left and removed from the guest's right. When passing food around the table, the host or hostess proceeds to pass the food to the guest on the immediate right. Therefore, passing food around the table is from right to left.

Dear Amy:

For sometime now I have been going around with a boy who seems to be taking advantage of my money and my car. (He doesn't know how to drive so I do the driving.) I'm always lending him money and lots of times end up paying when we go places. Yet, all I get is a "Thanks." When his friends are around, he treats me cold — laughing and making fun of the things I say and do. However, when we are alone (sometimes, that is), he says the sweetest things and makes me want to love him.

What do I do? Is he using me or is it just my imagination?

Confused

Dear Confused:

Unless you have a vivid imagination, he's using you. Lock, stock and limousine!

Dear Amy:

I know four girls whom I am very fond of. My father is pushing me to get married. I guess I can't blame him because I'll never see 30 again. Anyway, I can't decide which one to marry. So I flipped a coin twice and eliminated two. It worked out well because the two who were left I like the most.

Now the problem is how do I choose "THE ONE?"

Joel

Dear Joel:

If you have to depend on a coin to choose "THE ONE," keep looking. When the right one comes along, YOU'LL flip!

and measure the difference!

Baked or fried — you can't beat chicken cooked electrically. Ever notice how the best restaurants use electric deep fat fryers for chicken and sea food? Gentle electric heat keeps the fat at properly controlled temperatures — reduces fat breakdown which keeps fried things tasty tender. To borrow an old saying "The proof of the pudding is in the eating" and on that thought we rest our case — take a bite and measure the difference — you can when you cook electrically.

FARM WANTED
Owner of some very excellent property in Lubbock free of debt and bringing in $3600.00 per month wishes to contact landowners who might trade. Would prefer 320 acres free of debt, but would consider trading "up" on a larger tract. This is not a motel or an apartment house, and it is a very good deal for someone wishing to retire from active work. This place is not listed with any real estate agents, and it has never been offered for sale before. Write to Drawer E, Olton.

A letter to our Congressman from JOE B. PHILLIPS

The Hon. George Mahon
Congressman, 19th District
1211 New House Office Building
Washington 25, D.C.

Dear Mr. Congressman:

This letter is concerned with issues which are vital to our particular section of the country. I have some very definite convictions about certain matters, and I would welcome the opportunity of discussing these issues face to face if your schedule could be arranged to do so.

In my opinion the economic growth of West Texas has been retarded by the foreign investments of our federal government. Through the Oil Compact, Texas has been forced to absorb a great percentage of foreign oil, while our own wells have been allowed to produce on the maximum of only 10 days a month. In my opinion, this is not fair to our area.

I believe that the cattlemen in our district have a just complaint over the importation of foreign beef, and that the farmers of our area have been denied support and encouragement to raise sugar beets and other crops because of foreign imports.

I am concerned that our district has lagged behind in the development of Interstate Highways, and in industrial development until this political year.

Very truly yours,

JOE PHILLIPS

The historic Fort Worth and Denver No. 401 and its tender -- a total of nearly 80 feet of railroad history -- will officially become property of Tech and the Museum at 2:30 p.m. Saturday in a ceremony on the Tech spur.

H. C. Murphey, president of the Burlington Lines, and other of the railroad's personnel will be present along with Tech officials and board members and members of the Museum board. Tech board chairman Wright Armstrong of Fort Worth is a former vice-president of the Fort Worth and Denver Railroad.

MUSTANGS BUMP LOCK IN DISTRICT TILT, 21-6

Don't count those Olton Mustangs out yet, boys!!

The Ponies won their first district ball game of the year in Lockney last Friday night, 21-6.

It was a big one for Coach Walter Bryan and crew, who hadn't seen their way in quite a spell.

After consecutive losses to Hale Center and Canyon, the Mustangs came roaring back to stamp themselves at least a nai threat in the district wars.

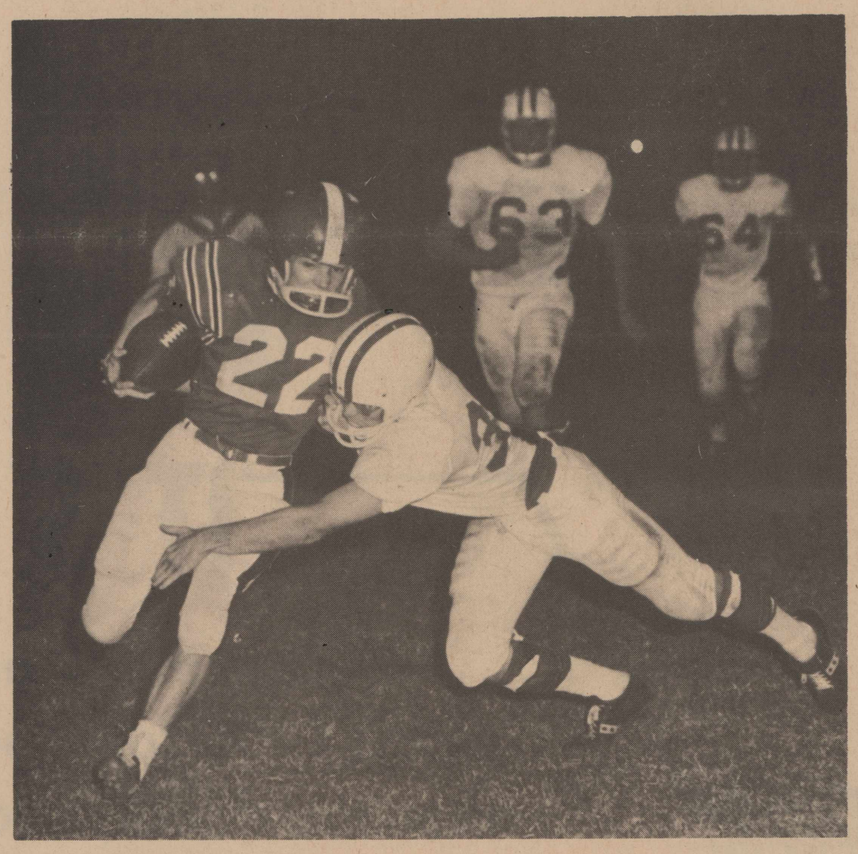

Friona and Floydada now wor carry the favorite's banner, but the the Mustangs must concentrate beg on another dangerous one, firs Abernathy, the foe this Friday two night.

Lockney offered less resistence than expected, as the Mustangs struck for a touchdown in the first quarter, two in the third and should have had another in the first.

The scoring honors were evenly divided, with Olton's touchdowns coming on a 19-yard pass from Richard Hall to Charles Church, another 19-yard aerial from Joe Priest to Hall, and a three yard run by Joe Costello. Priest kicked the extra point after each TD.

THE MUSTANGS CLOSE IN on Lockney End Paul Barker after Barker caught a pass for a seven-yard gain in the second period.

LOCKNEY SCATBACK Roger Dorman was tackled by Joe Priest after a five-yard pick-up in the second quarter.

Lockney's lone score came with less than four minutes to play, on a 19-yard run by Mel Sissney.

Big Joe Costello was the game's leading ground gainer, picking up 146 yards in 25 carries, while Hall added 42 yards in 11 tries.

Olton rolled up 288 yards to Lockney's 179 and seemed to have things in hand most of the way as the Ponies chalked up win No. 3 against three losses.

The going appeared rough in the first quarter, as Olton failed to capitalize on a fine opportunity.

Lockney took the opening kickoff and rolled out to midfield, but there the Longhorns ran into all sorts of trouble.

Olton Guard Dennis Givens nailed Lockney's 114-pound scatback, Roger Dorman, for a four-yard loss, and then the Horns took a five-yard penalty.

On fourth down, Olton's Don Sopher trapped Lockney punter Dale Galloway for a 20-yard loss back to the Longhorn 25, after Galloway had trouble finding the handle.

Richard Hall, taking a pitchout from QB Tommy Hall, raced for five and then Costello added four. A five-yard penalty moved the ball to the 11 and a first down.

Costello moved for four more, but R. Hall was dropped for a two-yard loss. Costello added four and the Ponies faced fourth and four at the five.

Tommy Hall almost made the tally on fourth down, getting to the one, where the officials ruled, without a measurement, that it was Lockney's ball.

On third down after that, Galloway quick-kicked out to the Lockney 35.

Five plays later the Mustangs had a touchdown.

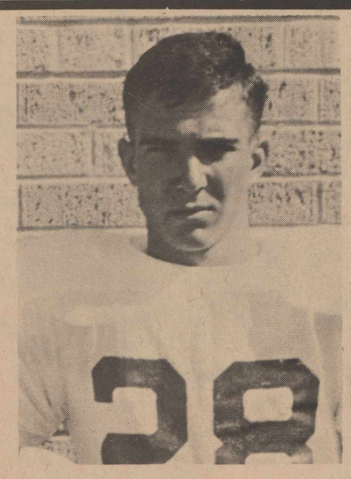

Priest started it with a nine-yard run to the Horn 26. Then Costello added eight for a first down at the 18.

After two plays gained only four and a five-yard penalty moved the ball back to the 19, Richard Hall passed the distance to Church for the touchdown. Priest kicked the extra point and it was 7-0, with 1:36 left in the first period.

Lockney got its first opportunity on the final play of the quarter when Tim Hartman recovered a Mustang fumble at the Olton 29.

That threat was broken up on third down, from the 25, when Olton's Jackie Burkhalter quarter, the Mustangs had time for another one.

Tommy Hall recovered a Lockney fumble at the Longhorn 36, but the Ponies failed to get past the 28 and lost that opportunity.

A few plays later Lockney punted to the Olton 30 and the Mustangs began a touchdown march.

Richard Hall raced for 15 yards to the Olton 46. Costello picked up seven and a 15 yard penalty against the Longhorns moved the ball to the Lockney 31.

There it was Costello for seven, Hall for five, Costello for 10, Priest for six and then Costello three for the touchdown. Priest kicked the extra point to make it 21-0, Olton, with 1:54 left in the third quarter.

Lockney came storming back and drove 65 yards to the Olton 19-yard line, with good running from Bobby Webster, Dorman, and Francis Montandon, plus a couple of 15-yard penalties against Olton.

The Ponies held, ran the ball for three downs and then fumbled, with Lockney's Paul Barker recovering at the Olton 27.

Sissney broke for 11 to the Olton 14, but a five-yard penalty moved the ball back to the 19, spoiling Galloway's pass connection with Barker at the Olton three.

A second down pass fell incomplete, but on third down Sissney ran beautifully for 19 yards and a touchdown.

The extra points try was no good and Lockney was behind, 21-6, with 3:52 left in the game.

Olton couldn't move after the kick-off and Charles Smith returned Priest's only punt of the game to the Olton 44.

Two Lockney passes were broken up, and two running plays gained only three, so Olton took over and ran out the clock.

Olton got excellent defensive play from Priest, Tommy Hall, Richard Hall, Don Mitchell, Don Sopher, Givens, Steve Moss, Burkhalter, Church, and Curtis Hall.

Food Industry Recognized

"Food is a Bargain" time being observed in Texas 19 through 31 by official clamation of Governor John Connally.

Leslie L. Speir of Groves, sident of Texas Retail Asso tion said the Governor's pro mation recognizes the hievement of food producers, anufacturers, wholesalers d retailers during the past o decades.

The "Food is a Bargain" ampaign is being conducted n a nationwide basis by the ood industry.

The Governor's proclamation cited the fact that "consumers in 1964 spend only 19 cents of the after-tax dollar for food, the lowest percentage required for adequate food in history."

"The food industry has worked diligiently to bring the consumers better foods and fairer prices and in so doing has rendered the highest degree of service and provided for the welfare and well-being of all our people," Connally said.

Short Snorts -- State Savings and Loan Commissioner James O. Gerst postponed until December 15 the hearing on an application from Portland Savings and Loan Association.

Attorney General Carr filed two more suits alleging slant-hole oil well activities in five Rusk County wells against H. L. Long and J. K. Maxwell, both of Kilgore.

A highway program even larger than the present one will be needed for Texas in 1972, according to T. Lawrence Jones, deputy federal highway administrator.

WT Buffaloes Meet Trinity

This is "get even" week for the West Texas State Buffaloes. Joe Kerbel's squad, now 2-3 for the season after Saturday's 41-0 belting by Memphis State, can even both its season record and the series record with Trinity University by beating the Tigers this Saturday in Buffalo Bowl.

This will be the fourteenth meeting of the two Texas schools. Trinity holds a 7-6 edge in the series, but West Texas State has won all four games played under Joe Kerbel by scores of 28-0, 29-28, 61-0, and 24-2. Trinity's last win came in 1959, when they edged the Buffs 14-8 at San Antonio.

The Tigers, although not as formidable as the Memphis State Tigers, are not being taken lightly in the Buffalo camp.

"Obert Logan is perhaps the finest halfback we'll face all year," said WTSU scout C. E. "Dirk" Dierking. "Quarterback Les Obie completed 15 of 19 passes against Arkansas State last Saturday and their passing attack netted over 200 yards. They are a much better ball club than their record indicates and they'll beat us if we are not ready."

The Tiger offense has jelled in recent weeks as evidenced by a 275-yard performance against Lamar Tech and the superb passing effort against Arkansas State.

The Buffaloes threw 36 times against Memphis State and completed 12 for 127 yards, but had five throws picked off by the alert Memphis State defense.

Russell Munday was not only the big gun, but nearly the only gun, in the ground offense. Of the Buff's 81 yards in 24 rushed, Munday made 70 in 14, a five-yard average, and moved into the West Texas State 1,000 Yard Club with 1,054 career rushing yards. With five games to play and good health, Mundy could move well into the top ten among the all-time Buffalo rushers.

In addition to losing the game to Memphis State, the Buffs lost senior, two-year letterman and Woody Gilliland for an indefinite period due to a knee injury. However, Charley Daves, senior center who had started every game in the last three years until the last two, has recovered and will be ready for the Tigers.

Tech Plans Dad's Day

LUBBOCK -- Texas Tech seeks a precendent-setting third Southwest Conference victory in its Dad's Day meeting with Southern Methodist University at 7:30 p.m. Saturday.

Never has a Tech team won three SWC games, although in 1946 the Red Raiders, then Border Conference members, did knock off three SWC teams. Last year and in 1961 Tech won two Southwest Conference contests.

So far the Red Raiders hold conference wins over Texas A & M 16-12 and Texas Christian 25-10 and have been beaten in SWC play by Texas 23-0 and by Baylor 28-10. Tech also has a victory over Mississippi State to account for its 3-2 season record.

SMU has lost its only SWC start, holding Rice to a mere 7-6 win last week. Also, Hayden Fry's Mustangs have lost to Florida and Ohio State besides winning from Arlington State in accounting for a 1-3 mark.

Crippled in early-season games, the Mustangs showed against the Owls, themselves pre-schedule favorites to upset Texas, that they have shaken off the effects of their injuries.

Texas Tech will induct two more members into the Athletic Hall of Honor -- Charles Wooldridge and George Langford -- in ceremonies Saturday and will recognize the pair at the game.

Tickets will be available at the gates.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Vern Sanford

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, TEXAS -- An increase of $107,000,000 in state expenditures for higher education and doubled tutions in state colleges and universities is proposed.

Texas Commission on Higher Education recommends a $457,100,000 budget for upper level institutions during the 1965-67 biennium. Figure includes $307,500,000 for 22 state-supported senior colleges and universities.

Tuitions under the Commission's recommendation would be hiked from $50 to $100 a semester. Last increase was in 1957, when the rate was raised from $25. If the Legislature approves this hike, reenues would be boosted $33 million -- leaving some $74, million needed from tax funds.

Overall budget increase of 45.2 per cent would permit a 23 per cent faculty salary raise. Previously the Commission had asked a $5,900,000 supplemental appropriation for faculty salaries.

Commission also recommended "Phasing out" Texas Southern University's law school.

Connally Gets New Job -- Gov. John Connally returned from the Southern Governors' Conference in San Antonio with a new honor and a new assignment.

Already chairman of the National Democratic Governor's Caucus, he was unanimously elected chairman of the Southern Conference of chief executives.

In a three-day session, the governors discussed a variety of state problems and adopted 14 resolutions. Among the latter was one urging a federal constitutional amendment to permit states to take other factors than population into consideration in reapportioning their senates. Resolution was aimed at nullifying a U. S. Supreme Court decision ordering both houses of state legislatures apportioned on the basis of population alone.

Three governors blocked action on Alabama Gov. George Wallace's resolution calling on the federal government to leave operation of public schools entirely in the hands of states.

Texas Bids For National Convention -- State Democratic Committee has authorized Chairman Marvin Watson of Daingerfield to enter a bid for the 1968 Democratic Convention in Texas.

Watson will name a committee to consider possible host cities.

Courts Speak -- Court of Criminal Appeals ordered a new trial for a man convicted of murder, because his attorney filed an appeal after the deadline. Court heard argument that the trial attorney for the defendant lacked sufficient experience.

Third Court of Civil Appeals heard pleas that the new state loan shark law was applied unconsitutionally in an Austin district court. Court had ordered package store owner E. L. Parker to stop lending money at rates over 10 per cent without a license.

State Supreme Court upheld an appellate court's "time is of the essence" ruling in deciding the contract contest between Concord Oil Company of San Antonio and Alco Oil and Gas of Illinois. Court said termination of the contract by letter held precedence over a telephone promise to "wait and see."

Textbook Protests Aired -- witnesses protesting adoption of three high school biology textbooks charged that evolution is an atheistic, unscientific and materialistic theory that should not be taught in public school.

State Textbook Committee took protests into consideration after a public hearing. Actually, eight books on the list were opposed. Principal targets were the three books developed by the National Science Foundation.

Oil Production Figure Set -- Texas Railroad Commission set oil production for November at 28.4 per cent of potential.

Figure represents a slight increase over October, which was limited to 2,860,000 barrels daily under a 27.9 per cent of potential order.

Mental Health Plan Completed -- A statewide citizens committee has approved a new program of mental health services.

Earlier, a steering committee had recommended creation of a single agency -- Texas Department of Mental Health -- to administer state-financed mental health services, including all mental hospital facilities.

Missing pieces in the Texas plan included facilities, financing and administration.

Hale County Judge C. L. Abernethy, chairman of the 112-member general planning committee, said efforts will be stepped up between now and next January to inform the public and officials about the recommendations which will be submitted to Governor Connally and the 59th Legislature.

Park Land Acquisition Urged -- Parks and Wildlife Commission Chairman Will Odom said Texas may lose up to a third of its park land during the next 80 years because leases are expiring.

Odom called for a program of land acquisition to prevent loss of needed acreage when he spoke at the State Conservation Conference.

Earlier, he had lauded Gulf States Marine Commission for efforts to develop the fishing industry and bring sea resources to the public for general benefit.

Water Needs Talked -- Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr told Texas Water Conservation Association all units of government must work with private enterprise and individuals to assure a water supply adequate to meet Texas' needs.

Cotton Havest In Double Time

The variable nature of West Texas weather and cotton has been vividly demonstrated during the last week.

From a high high of 87 on Saturday, the temperature in the Olton area dipped to a rather frosty 33 early Tuesday.

The cotton harvest appears to be preceeding about twice as fast this year as it did last year. Last year 617 bales had been ginned in the Olton area by this time, but this year the six Olton gins have reported a total of 1220 bales ginned.

The ginning figures would seem to indicate that this year might perhaps be a pretty good year for cotton -- compared to last year anyway.

The word from the Larry Witten farm east of town is that the cotton is indeed "looking good." Mrs. Witten said that the cotton seemed to be "opening up real good."

West of town the report from the exel Lawson farm indicat that the cold weather cou have come at a better tie The frost killed about 1/3 the aves on the plants and wson is hoping for around 1 1/2 to 1 1/2 bales per acre.

Tl cotton on the Norris Sam farm north of town was orted as looking good and out 70 per cent open. The d weater didn't affect some the cop, but did get the t half f part of the plants

Sam said he would be glad t see another frost -- any t. He said he was expect to get 1 1/4 to 1 1/2 bales acre, ut added that he "hol to be surprised and get mo."

Quite few famers in the area e begu defoliating their con, but everal more morning of cold eather could do the j for them

But Tis weath being what it is, it ight be month 'til the next st.

County Excise Taxes Set At $1,250,000 Lat Year

A thorough-going reduction in Federal excise taxes, which cost residents of Lamb County some excise taxes, which cost residents of Lamb County some $1,250,000 last year, is now in the works.

The House Ways and Means Committee has started hearings toward that end. The Treasury Department is conducting its own study and will have specific recommendations ready to present to Congress when it reconvenes.

These taxes, which amounted to more than $14 billion in the past year, are levied on a wide variety of products and services that are in common use.

They include luggage, telephone calls, fishing rods, bowling alleys, matches, fountain pens, playing cards, cigars and cigarettes, air conditioners, automobiles, electric light bulbs, sporting goods, amusements, liquor, cosmetics and innumerable others.

Many of them date back to World War days, when it was necessary to raise huge amounts of money for the war effort. The reultant accumulation of excise taxes constitute, in the words of Treasury Secretary Douglas Dillion, a "hodge-podge" that is in need of thorough overhaul.

Collections of such taxes in Lamb County last year were at the esnated rat of $176 per local fily.

This wamore than in many sections othe countr, where incomes ve lower and the rate of sding wascorrespondingly ler.

From La County as a whole the Goverent receied approximately 1,250,000 n such taxes in 19 Throughout the state of Tas, it cae to $628,488,000.

Some exc taxes ar collected direct in retail sores. A much larg amount i produced for th the Goverment via manufacters excise taxes. These are dden taxe as for as the csumer is concerned.

They are cocted at the oint of manufactur and are pased along to him the prie of the goods he bs.

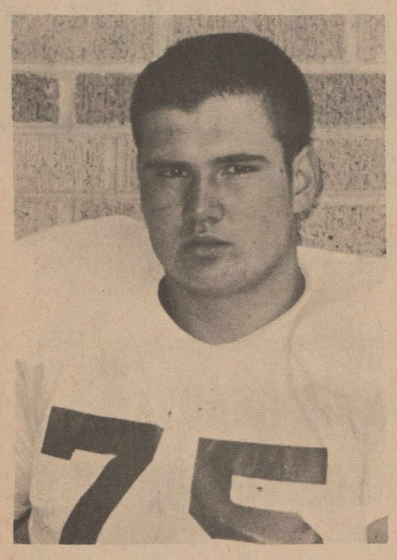

The push for vision of these excise taxes, hich are ten called "nuisa taxes," has come from rulers, maufacturerers, nsumers nd many Congressin.

The plans calor the elii-nation of some them and he reduction of othe.

Nitrogen In Soil Tests Discussed By Agronomist

BY W. F. "BILL" BENNETT
AGRONOMIST

This is the third of a series on soil test results. The first two were on soil reaction and organic matter. This week, let's discuss nitrogen and nitrogen recommendations based on soil test results.

Most soil testing laboratories do not run a specific nitrogen test. Instead, the nitrogen status of soil is determined by estimating nitrogen release plus a knowledge of the factors affecting nitrogen release.

Nitrogen release can be estimated by use of various types of tests. Organic matter content is commonly used. Another type of test determines the nitrification rate under lab conditions. Other tests include procedures for ammonium nitrogen, nitrate nitrogen and other forms of nitrogen in the soil.

After an estimate of nitrogen release has been made, it is necessary that this be related to other factors affecting production. These would include past cropping history, past fertilizer use, soil type, availability of irrigation water and yield potential. On this basis, it can be seen that information sent to the laboratory with your soil samples may be just as important as the organic matter or nitrogen release test. The soil chemist that interprets your results and makes nitrogen recommendations usually relies heavily on the information you send. So when you submit soil samples to be tested, be realistic in listing your expected yield level.

LUBBOCK -- Just as one never knows whether medicine has been worth the money -- because he can't tell how sick he might have been without it -- so cotton producers may fail to recognize the benefits of cotton legislation.

However, in the case of the one-price cotton law (Agricultural Act of 1964) it is safe to say that without this treatment cotton farmers and the industry in general would have been sick, sick, sick. It is a foregone conclusion that the decline in cotton's domestic markets and the resultant buildup of surplus stocks were heading us straight to a reduction in the 16 million acres in the not too distant future, and to all the aches and pains that would follow.

With the one-price cotton law expiring in 1966, congress will be considering its extension next year and it might be well to take a realistic look at what even a 20 percent reduction in acreage, which is about the minimum that could be expected would mean.

First hit would be the producer. A farmer with a 100 acre allotment would be cut to 80 acres. At about the national average his production would drop to 80 bales, his gross income would go down about $3000. He would be using in all likelihood the same expensive equipment with the same amount of depreciation; his time as manager would go on the same and so would the time of probably one other employee; he would have no other crop to plant on the idled acres which would produce anything like the same cash income, and for all these reasons his net would be cut by more than the 20 per cent suffered by gross. What's more, his search for some other crop for the idled acres would create problems with other surplus products, giving farmers other than cotton producers a valid reason for fearing a reduction in cotton acreage.

Then there's the ginner. Assume a ginner with 50 customers averaging 100 bales each. Instead of ginning 5,000 bales for the season, he would be cut to 4,000 bales, and again this reduced volume would be handled with the same high-priced plant at an almost unchanged depreciation rate. It is not all beyond the realm of reason that one out of five gins would simply go out of business.

And so on down the line through every business with volume dependent on the production of cotton. Compresses, cotton oil mills, bagging and tie makers, tage makers, cotton merchants -- all would come in for their share of the loss.

Other merchants, from the new car dealer through the junk dealer, would suffer to a lesser degree, depending on how much cotton contributes to the economy which stems directly from cotton is estimated as high as 80 per cent, but even at 50 per cent businesses could be expected to experience sizeable cuts in volume in in many instances this would mean the difference between profit and loss.

These are some of the unhealthy things that could have been expected across the cotton belt withouth the "medicine" supplied through the one-price cotton system established by the Agricultural Act of 1964, and ill-health in the cotton industry is still in prospect unless that Act is extended beyond 1966, its present expiration date. It would be more than a "head-in-the-sand" attitude to expect anything but a rapid and vicious decline in cotton consumption should the price of cotton to mills go up six and a half cents per pound from one day to the next at the end of the 1965-66 marketing year. And acreage must inevitably be tied to consumption sooner or later.

Assuming the continuance of one-price cotton, looking at the future is like looking through the other end of the telescope. There is every indication that the opportunity for gaining a million bales a year in consumption clearly exists, with cotton's superior performance in many major uses reasserting itself on a competitive basis. With expanded consumption can come expanded acreage; with expanded acreage looked-for day when cotton can stand on its merits, without fear of its competition and without the aid of government.

Baker Castor Oil Plant Announced For Plainview

Eric G. Orling, president of the Baker Castor Oil Company, Bayonne, New Jersey, has announced plans for the construction of a new processing plant in the Plainview area.

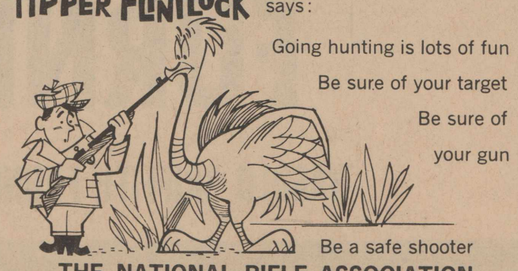

This will include facilities for crushing, refining and extracting, laboratories, office buildings, etc., to be operated by its subsidiary, The Baker Castor Oil Company of Texas.

Baker is the world's oldest and largest processor of castor oil and produces some 200 chemical derivatives of castor oil which are used in a wide variety of industrial applications.

The importance of encouraging the expansion of the production of castro beans in the United States has been recognized by the President's Commission on increased Industrial Uses of Agricultural Products. In the Commission Report to the Congress dated April 17, in the Commission Report to the Congress dated April 17, 1957, emphasis was placed on increasing the planting of certain crops, including castor beans, for the purpose of reducing the production of additional agricultural crop surpluses.

It is Baker's opinion that the domestic castro bean program is well on its way to success, and achieving self-sufficiency of this important commodity in this country is in sight. Because of its faith in castor beans as a cash crop, and confident of the support of growers in this area, Baker if going ahead with the new plant in the Plainview area, representing an investment of approximately $4,000,000. This plant will be erected either on the land which Baker now owns on the Dimmitt Highway, about seven miles from Plainview, or on another parcel of land nearby.

The target date for plant completion is the latter part of 1965, to accommodate next year's crop. John Hamer, currently superintendent of Baker's Los Angeles plant, is being transferred to Plainview, and will assume the duties of plant manager of the local plant. Additional key technical, engineering and production personnel will be sent here from Bayonne and Los Angeles with operating personnel numbering about 100 drawn from this area.

Consumption Of Alcohol Among Minors Increasing

Texas Liquor Control Board reports that the increase of reports on consumption of alcholic beverages by minors is "startling."

In 1959, spokesman said, only 1,314 criminal cases were filled 1,314 criminal cases were filed against boys and girls under age 21 for buying, consuming or possessing alcholic beverages in a public place. In 1963, the TLCB filed 4,848 such cases.

Liquor Administrator Coke Stevenson Jr. said, "We've been concerned about the increase in juvenile drinking at public places, such as beaches and dances. We are constantly reminding our agents to be on the lookout for such violations."

County 'Over-65's' Gain Over Young Folks

The "over-65's" in Lamb County are gaining on the rest of the local population.

Their number is increasing at a faster rate than are other age groups, taken as a whole.

Because of their growing size and their improved financial condition, they are becoming more and more important as consumers and more influential, politically and otherwise.

The trend is a national one according to data compiled by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. In its recent report entitled "Facts on Aging" it notes that some 1,000,000 older persons have been added to the population since 1960. The increase in their number amounts to 6.2 percent.

In Lamb County, as of the early part of this year, there were an estimated 1,733 men and women in the over-65 ranks, based on the national rate of increase.

This compares with the 1,632 recorded in 1960, when the census was taken. Of these, 793 were men and 839 women.

In most parts of the country there is a disparity in favor of the women. Of the 17,600,000 persons over 65 in the United States, 9,80 ,000 are women and only 7,800,000 are men.

The increase in the proportion of people living to age 65 and beyond reflects the great advances in medicine and in public health in the last few decades.

The American Medical Association states that "today's children, and a good percentage of their parents, can reasonably expect to live to 80 or 90--considerably more than the present average."

In Lamb County, the longer life span is very much in evidence. The proportion of elders in the local population is higher than ever, 7.5 percent.

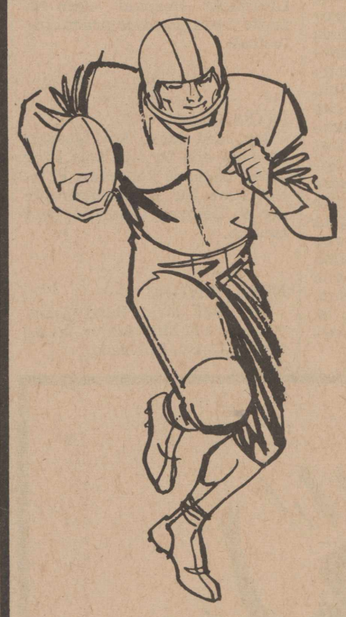

As for their economic position, although most people over 65 have much less money to spend than do younger people, they do have enough, in the aggregate, to make their presence felt in the market place.

They are retiring with larger incomes of older families, in terms of current dollars, has gone up about 25 percent.

The result is that the competition for their business is being stepped up.

New Motor Oil Is Introduced

High compression engines in new passenger cars operate at extreme close tolerances, and generate intense heat a cylinder walls at normal driving speeds.

The motor oil used in these engines has become increasingly important in the control of excess wear, and assurance of full performance.

For this reason a test known as the engine sequence test has been carried out by the American Society of Testing Materials. Its sets a standard of minimum requirements for oils used in passenger car engines.

As a result of these tests Sonneborn Cemical and Refining Co. has created a Pennsylvania motor oil designed to exceed these standards. It has announced a new low-heat oil refined from Pennsylvania crude. The oil is said to resist severe engine heat because it is refined to grade rather than blended.

This oil, named Amalie MS-5, is fortified with an additive for disbursement and suspension of both high and low temperature sludging.

Heavy Voting Seen In Lamb County

With the big 1964 General Election already in the voting stage, all indications point toward a record turnout of Lamb County voters.

Serving as a tipoff on the heavy interest is the absentee voting which began last Wednesday and will continue through Oct. 30. On the very first day for absentee voting, County Clerk Charles Jones reported 10 persons voted "in person" at the clerk's office and 57 ballots were sent through the mails to absentee voters.

The final count on the early voting absentees is expected to top the 200 mark which would probably set a new record. All together some 6,500 Lamb Countians will likely cast their ballots before the General Election polls close on the evening of Nov. 3. The county record for a presidential election year is 6,293, set in 1960.

Adding special interest to this year's election are the "free" voters who can cast their ballots only for national offices. A heavy black mark across the ballot indicates the "free" territory; those voting for offices below the mark must have paid their $1.75 poll tax this year or have secured exemptions. Persons exempted from the poll tax are those who have reached 21 years of age and voting for the first time, new residents to the state, and those who are above 60 years of age.

County Clerk Jones said there have been several inquiries about exemption certificates for those above 60. Certificates are issued only in counties that have cities of 10,000 or more population. Persons above 60 do not need an exemption certificate in Lamb County.

Persons eligible to vote in the "free" territory on the ballot, which in Lamb County will be for the offices of president, vice president, U.S. Senator, 19th District Congressman and congressman-at-large, are those who registered for vote without paying the poll tax by last March 6.

A total of 5,843 poll tax receipts were sold to qualified voters this year. This does not include the number of persons over 60 years of age nor the number of persons qualified to vote only in the "free" territory on the ballot.

When Lamb County voters go to the polls, they will be given an 18 by 12 inch ballot. In addition to the 51 candidates seeking offices on national, state, district, county and precinct levels, the ballots will contain three constitutional amendments which must be approved or rejected by the voters.

The Democrats have a full slate for 28 offices on the Lamb County ballot. The Republicans seek five national posts and nine state posts, while the Constitutional party has candidates for four national posts and five state jobs.

Which way will voters in Lamb County go in this major election year? That's the $64 question and one that will not be answered until the night of Nov. 3. In the last Presidential election year, 1960, the Democrats received 52.8 percent of the county vote. In 1956, the Democrats received 64.4 percent.
