Samnorwood Water Supply Corporation stockholders elected 1968 officers in the annual meeting Tuesday night, Jan. 30 in the school auditorium.

Willie Knoll, who has headed the corporation since its organization, was re-elected president. Jim Ray was elected secretary-treasurer and a vice president has not been elected. W. R. Breeding is currently serving in that capacity.

Three new directors were elected: Douglas Coleman, Rudie Tate and Worth Shields. They succeed E. E. Darrow, Robert Dwight and Mr. Breeding.

The Samnorwood Water Supply Corporation serves an area approximately 20 miles from west to east and 10 miles north to south in the northwest part of the county.

Jack Neeley to Head Easter Seal Appeal

Jack Neeley will serve as the Easter Seal representative and treasurer for the 1968 Easter Seal Appeal in Collingsworth County, it was announced by Robert W. Milam, M.D., of McAllen, president of the Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults of Texas.

Residents of Collingsworth County will receive the annual Easter Seal Appeal letters in the mail beginning March 1. The Easter Seal Appeal, conducted yearly to provide disabled persons and their families treatment and service adapted to specific community needs, will be conducted until Easter Sunday, April 14.

Mr. Neeley is one of 169 men and women throughout Texas who are serving in this capacity. The cost of the state-wide program is over one million dollars, financed mainly by the Easter Seal Appeal. Almost 90 percent of all funds raised by the Easter Seal Appeal remain in Texas to support the growing needs of the disabled in the state.

Special emphasis is being given in the 1968 Easter Seal Appeal to the disabled citizen or his family in Collingsworth County who may need assistance and not know where to obtain it. Any disabled person can contact Mr. Neeley at the Wellington State Bank in Wellington, who will refer the request for services to the Easter Seal Society. A determination of the extent and type of assistance needed and the most efficient means of obtaining that assistance will be made.

Arrangements for the needed treatment or service will be made by the Easter Seal Society.

Dr. Milam stated that funds received as a result of the annual Easter Seal Appeal now aid 17,622 disabled Texans but that there are many more not currently being aided. These disabled citizens and especially those in Collingsworth County

Missionary at City Church

The Rev. Russell C. Human, a missionary to Swaziland, South Africa, was scheduled to speak at the Church of the Nazarene Wednesday, Feb. 14, at 7:30 p.m.

Rev. Human and the Rev. Ronald Crosley were personal friends in Bethany Nazarene College.

The missionary, with his wife and two young daughters, are on their first furlough since being assigned to Africa in 1963. The family is living in Oklahoma during their furlough year and he is holding services among Churches of the Nazarene.

After a period of language study, Rev. Human served for three years as head of the mission station in Idalia, Swaziland, and since January, 1967, he has worked in Stegi, Swaziland.

His service here will feature the work of the Church of the Nazarene in Swaziland.

MOST COURTEOUS

Carroll Daves, right, receives the plaque designating him as the most courteous person in a sales position in Wellington during 1967. A tradi-

Block Ginning

Cotton Quality Meeting Will Be Held Friday

The advantages which Collingsworth cotton producers can receive from a quality cotton lint block program will be outlined in detail at a meeting called for 2 p.m. Friday, Feb. 16 in the Farm Bureau meeting room.

The meeting is sponsored by the Extension Service, with County Agent Sammy Helmers in charge.

Representatives from two major seed companies will be present to tell the growers how a producers quality lint block can be organized.

This type of program, sometimes referred to as a block ginning program, can mean as much as 5 cents per pound more for the grower when he sells his cotton, Mr. Helmers emphasized.

A considerable amount of Collingsworth-grown cotton sold at a premium in 1967 because of its quality, and this already has sold many growers of the area on the idea of shooting for quality.

A quality block program is not complicated, Mr. Helmers continued. Growers of any given area or community agree to grow a single variety of cotton, which after being harvested will be ginned together. This may be as many as 40 or 50 bales at one time, or it may be fewer.

Such factors as soil type, irrigation practices and planting dates are to be considered. In irrigated areas, those in the program should agree on starting and cut-off dates.

If cotton farmers in this area agree to go into a quality cotton lint program, it will not be

When asked his opinion of the war, Cpl. Sanders said: "The war is necessary, but the United States is fighting the war for the Vietnamese. We are told to fight, but they will not let us. We are fighting a defensive war which, for my part, I do not feel is right."

Funeral for W. O. Combs, 80, Conducted Here

W. O. Combs, 80, who supervised the municipal water system of the City of Wellington for 25 years, died at 6:25 a.m. Monday, Feb. 12, in Palo Duro Convalescent Home in Claude. He had been a patient there about four years.

He retired in 1957, and after a few months which he and Mrs. Combs spent in California, they moved to Amarillo, which was his home until he became ill.

William Owen Combs was born Jan. 23, 1888, in Melbourne, Ark., the third of eight children of Henry and Ida Conrad Combs. His father was a farmer and lumberman of that area.

He was married to Miss Maude Ada Franks on Sept. 20, 1908, in Melbourne. She passed away March 15, 1967.

The family moved to Collingsworth County first in 1913, after staying about a year in Oklahoma. In 1917, they moved back to Arkansas and stayed until 1919, when they returned to Wellington.

Many improvements were made in the city's water system during Mr. Combs' tenure. This included drilling new wells, installation of new machinery and storage facilities.

Mr. Combs was a member of the Methodist Church.

Funeral services for Mr. Combs were held at Kelo Chapel Wednesday at 2 p.m., and conducted by the Rev. Ellis Todd, pastor of First Methodist Church, and E. J. Fletcher, Minister of the Church of Christ.

8-Inch Snow Blankets Collingsworth Area

A snow blanket totaling approximately 8 inches covered Collingsworth County Monday and Tuesday nights, Feb. 12 and 13. This is the first snow in any appreciable amount to fall here this winter.

So far, it has brought the county nothing but benefit, and the ground season it will give is already spreading optimism among farmers and area merchants alike.

The moisture started as a drizzle, then turned to snow late Monday. From three to four inches fell during the night, and there was additional moisture as the snow melted as it fell for several hours.

An additional four inches fell Tuesday night, with the snow ending at 5 a.m.

Only one traffic accident was reported due to the snow. Sheriff John Rainey reported that a pickup driven by Frank Fuson collided with a Highway Department maintainer blading snow off the road about 8 p.m. Monday. Mr. Fuson was admitted to St. Joseph's Hospital but his injuries are not believed to be serious, the Sheriff said.

There was considerable damage to the 1964 half-ton pickup, which was traveling south, but none to the northbound maintainer, he reported. The accident occurred about three miles north of Wellington.

State Highway Department maintenance personnel worked all night Monday clearing both main line and FM highways, and the snow was off early in the day. Bridges were sanded.

Blading the snow started again with Tuesday night and major highways through the county were open by around 8 a.m. Blading then started again on FM roads.

Maintenance crews were patrolling the highway through the day.

City street maintenance crews likewise cleared the streets in record time, then workmen began removing snow around the square by truck.

Around an inch of ice remained on the roads and streets and Sheriff Rainey warned all drivers to use care.

Wellington and Dodson schools were dismissed Monday, but classes were held at Quail and Samnorwood. The Wellington school opened again Tuesday, although several buses were late getting in, according to E. W. Clement, high school principal.

District Scout Meetings Set

Comanche District Boy Scout leaders will hold two meetings in Wellington during the coming week.

The Scout Leadership Round Table will be held at First Christian Church Thursday, Feb. 15 at 7:30 p.m., according to Dave Agnew, district Scout executive.

Plans and preparations for spring activities and summer camp will be started.

On Tuesday evening, Feb. 20, the district committee meeting will be held in the Greenbelt Electric Co-operative, Inc., beginning at 7:30 p.m.

All district officers, members at large and institutional representatives will be present.

50-YEAR MASONIC PIN

Jake Tarter, right received his 50-year pin and certificate denoting 50 years membership in the Masonic Lodge on Thursday evening, Feb. 8. With him here is Cal Hurst, District Deputy Grand Master.

Thursday Evening

50-Year Masonic Pin Presented Jake Tarter

A pin and certificate denoting 50 years membership in the Masonic Lodge was presented to Jake Tarter Thursday evening, Feb. 10 by the Wellington Lodge, A.F. & A.M. No. 763. He became a member of this same lodge Jan. 26, 1918.

Mr. Tarter recalled the officers who installed him.

J. M. Strong, still active in the lodge, was the worshipful master, serving in the place of the regular holder of that office, the Rev. C. A. Newman, pastor of First Baptist Church.

Dr. D. L. Worley was the senior warden and Elswick Sherwood was the junior warden.

Mr. Tarter, a farmer also noted for his support of those farm organizations that work for the improvement of agriculture, and for his work establishing the county fair, served 15 years as county agent of Wheeler County. During those years, he was a member of the Lodge at Wheeler.

Upon returning to Wellington in July, 1945, he again became a member of this Lodge.

He also belongs to the Royal Arch Chapter here, having become a member in 1921.

Mr. Tarter has held a number of offices, including that of senior warden.

Community Effort Is Urged by Speaker

Pointing to community effort as the route by which things get done, Berl Huffman, freshman football coach of Texas Technological College, Lubbock, addressed the Collingsworth Chamber of Commerce at its annual banquet Thursday night, Feb. 8.

Mr. Huffman's talk was one of several high points that came during the evening.

Two awards were presented, both traditional parts of the Chamber banquet.

Carroll Daves was named the most courteous salesperson in Wellington during 1967. He is an employee of City Grocery.

Wayne Cudd, outgoing C-C president, presented Mr. Daves with a plaque.

The Outstanding Farmer Award, presented by Salt Fork Soil Conservation District, went to Merlyn Carter of Dodson, who farms the place where his family settled more than 60 years ago. Mr. Carter was unable to attend due to illness in his family. Otis Emmert, member of the board of supervisors of the SCD, made the presentation, which was received on Mr. Carter's behalf by another board member, Ted Wheeler.

After opening his talk with a series of lively stories and down-to-earth observations, Mr. Huffman defined a Chamber of Commerce as people getting together to do something they cannot do alone.

"Service to our community is rent we pay for our space on earth," he told the group.

Recalling his childhood, when his family drove by to attend revival meetings under a brush arbor, he told the group that the Huffman's lantern alone hung under the tabernacle gave only a dim light, but those of the neighbors, also hung there, gave plenty of brightness.

"We are all coming together to hang our lanterns under some tabernacle, and as we do, we are building our community and our country."

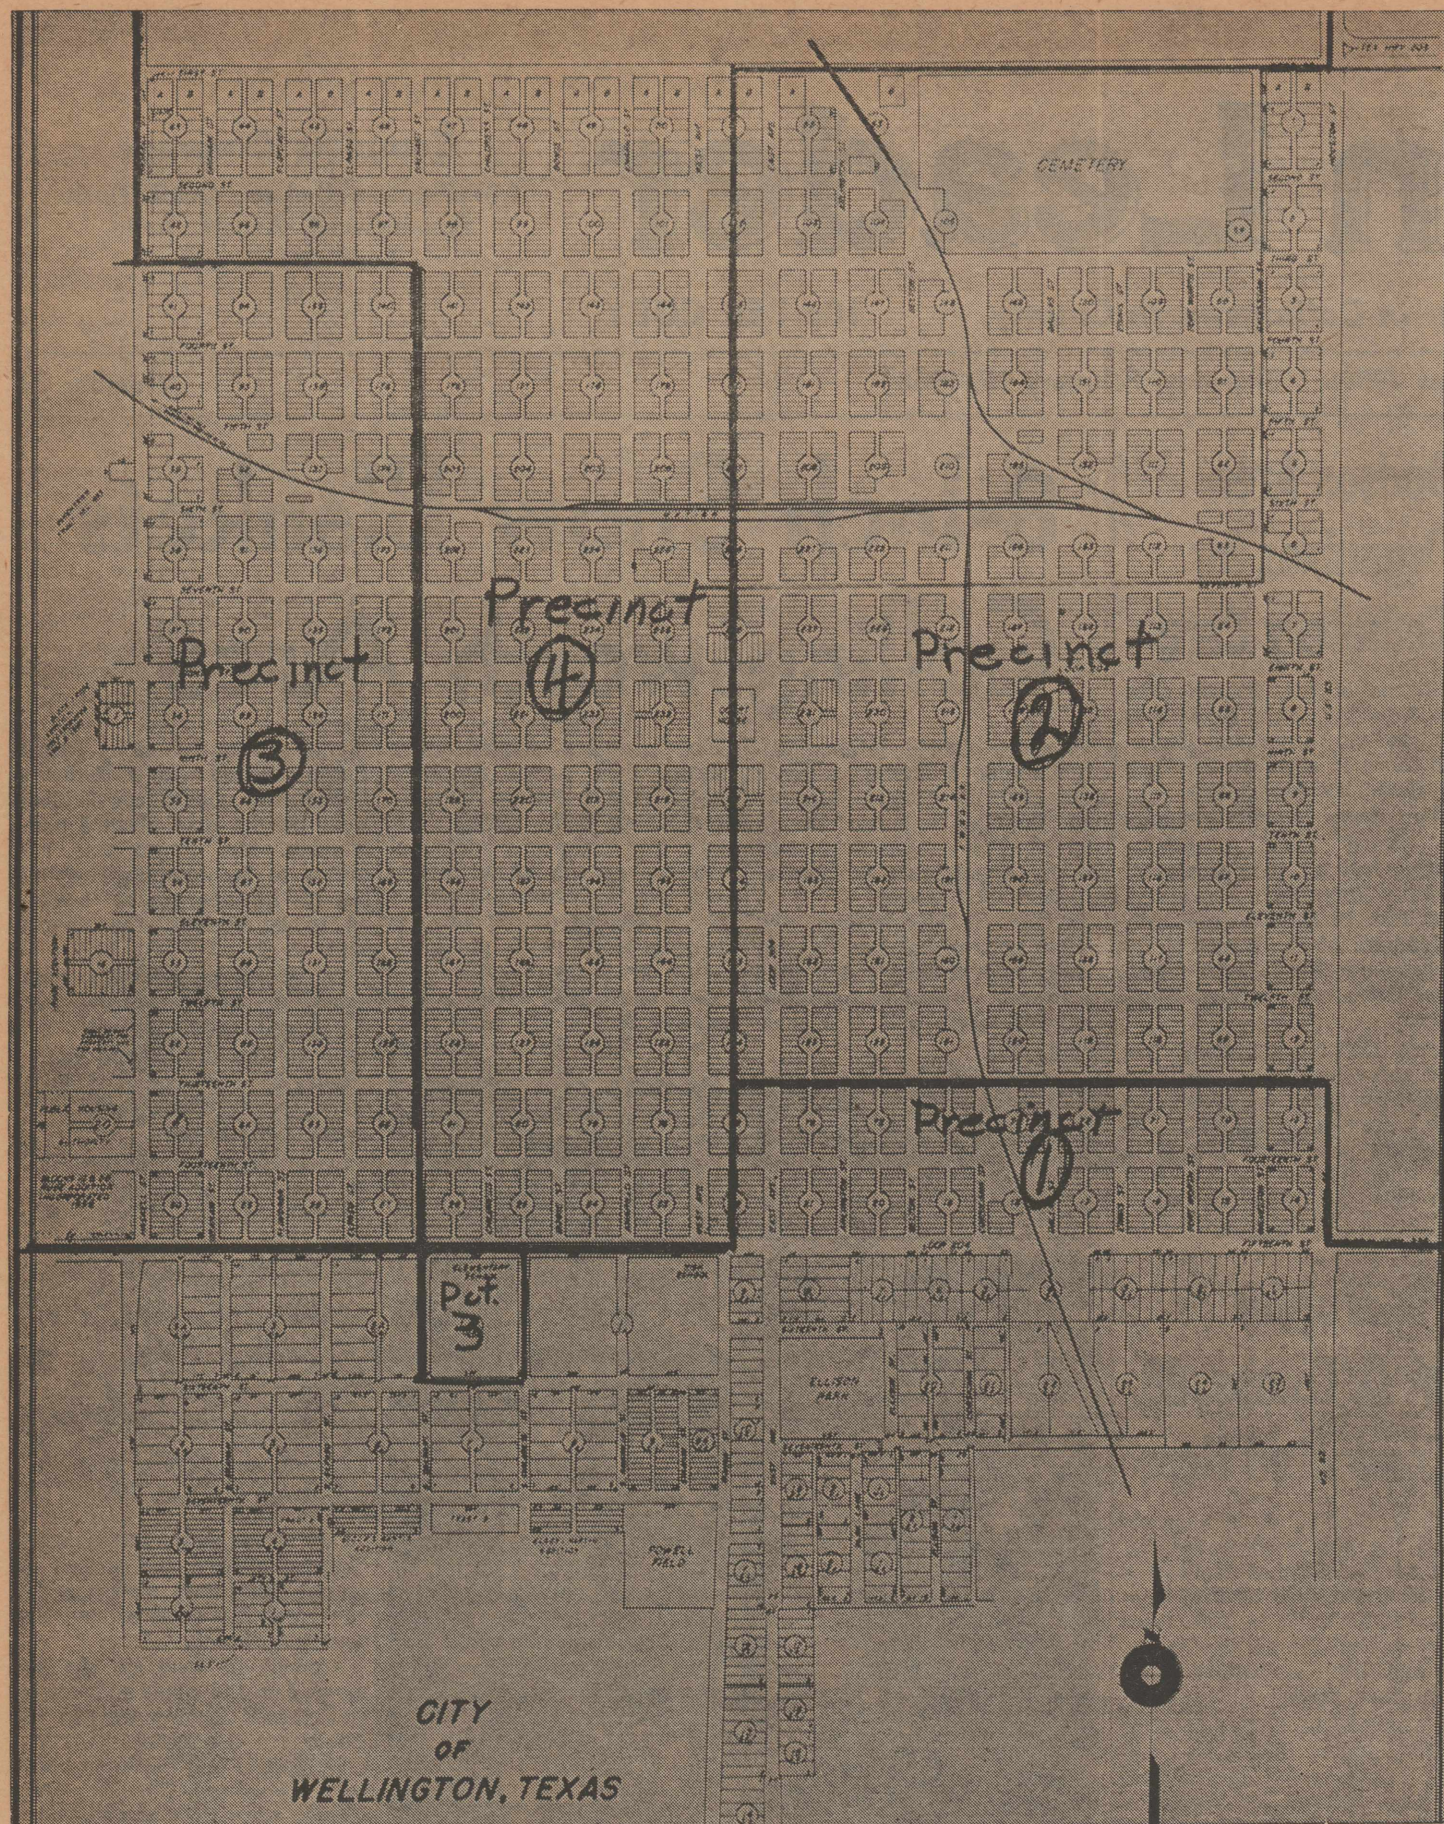

Musical entertainment was by the Horns a Plenty, a lively high school group made up of Chris Hubbard, Billy McAlister, Dickie Johnson, Barry Johnson, and George Kopp.

In taking their victory, the Wellington girls won over the team that defeated them in the first game of the season. This time, Wellington took an early lead and held it through the game.

TB Association Begins Work

The Top of Texas Tuberculosis Association, with Amarillo as headquarters and extending across a 26-county area, will begin its operations April 1. Collingsworth is one of the counties in the Association.

Attorney Tom Seay was named chairman of the organizational steering committee by Dr. John Selby of Lubbock, president of the Texas Tuberculosis Association. At a Saturday luncheon meeting in Amarillo civic leaders from Potter and surrounding counties. Mr. Seay named three subcommittees. They, with chairmen, are as follows: Personnel, Rip Underwood of Amarillo; Constitution and Bylaws, Mrs. J. B. Howe of Panhandle; Nominations, Dr. G. Mason Kahn of Amarillo.

Mrs. Pauline K. Matthis and Curt Lambert of Austin, executive director and field consultant, respectively, of the Texas Tuberculosis Association, met with the group.

Mrs. J. L. Scott, longtime executive of the Potter-Randall association, will continue on the staff of the area association as managing director. Mrs. Helen Duke will continue as secretary. Two new positions will be filled — a Christmas Seal campaign director and an executive director.

Counties include Armstrong, Briscoe, Carson, Castro, Childress, Collingsworth, Dallam, Deaf Smith, Donley, Grey, Hall, Hansford, Hartley, Hemphill, Hutchinson, Lipscomb, Moore, Ochiltree, Oldham, Parmer, Potter, Randall, Swisher, Sherman, and Wheeler.

Lice Spread in Winter

Cattle lice may not create much of a problem in the warm months but it's a different story during the winter season, reminds County Agent Sammy Helmers. Closer confinement aids the spread of lice from infested to clean animals.

By the time lice are easily seen, much of the damage may already have been done. The time to treat lice is while the infestations are light, says Mr. Helmers.

Four species of lice suck blood from cattle and one feeds on hair and scales. Cattle infested with lice have a rough coarse appearance and do not make normal gains. The pests, explains the county agent, are more abundant during winter and spring when the hair is long.

Because of the restrictions on the use of the various insecticides available for treating cattle, the county agent suggests that a copy of MP-691, "Texas Guide for Controlling External Parasites of Livestock and Poultry" be picked up at his office.

The guide lists the various chemicals along with the amounts to use and the restrictions on their use. Formulations for both dusts and sprays are given.

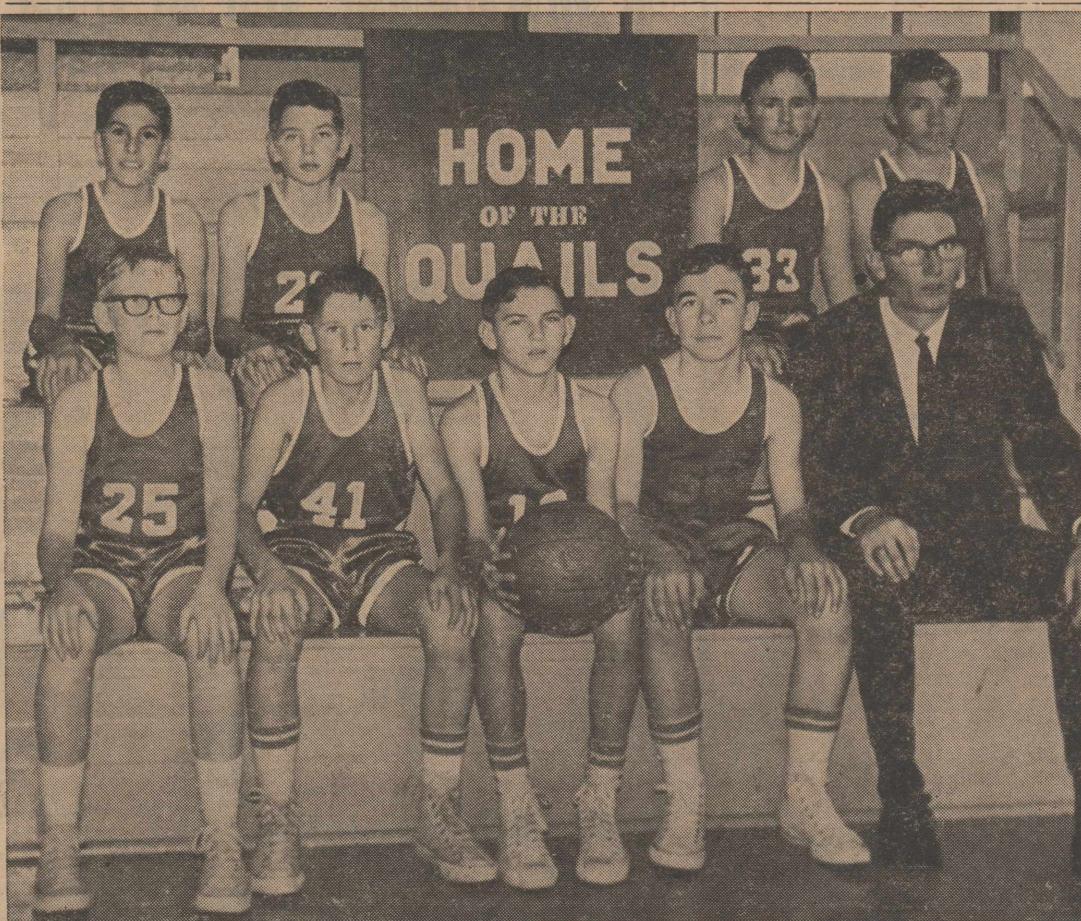

In addition to information on lice, the guide also lists control measures for many other livestock and poultry parasites and also a dilution chart for mixing sprays and dips.

LETTERS from the People

Dear Mr. Wells:

I read your recent editorial concerning the carnage of the quail population of Collingsworth County.

It would be necessary to classify me as one of those "aliens" that come into the county and take part in the mass slaughter of the quail population. I feel that your remarks will not serve to endure you to former residents of the county.

My wife's parents (Z. J. Neeley) and my parents (T. R. Cunningham) have lived in the county 40+ years. I, therefore, consider it my privilege to return to the county to visit. This also includes a few days of hunting if the season is open. This past season I hunted during the Thanksgiving and Christmas holidays. I hunted with my father and father-in-law during those two periods. We hunted for a total of approximately four days. We hunted over the western and northwestern parts of the county. I cannot remember seeing another hunter in the field during the entire period of hunting. I can't believe the hunting hordes are too severe.

I am enclosing a copy of an article concerning seasons, limits, etc. I feel it proper to become as well informed as possible before being too critical of our Biologists of the Parks and Wildlife Department. Those men are truly professionals and generally know what is best concerning the harvesting of the game of the state of Texas.

I have read your paper since I learned to read. It has always been an excellent weekly paper. You are to be commended for the superior job you have done through the years. I do feel though that this is one time that you failed to do your research and become knowledgeable about a situation prior to making a stand.

Estes on Fall Honor Roll

A Wellington man was one of 18 students on the Director's Honor Roll at the conclusion of the fall trimester of James Connally Technical Institute at Waco.

He is William P. Estes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Truman Estes.

Each of the 18 made straight "A's" in all subjects taken, and this is a ratio of one out of 66 students enrolled in the Institute.

The 161 students with an overall "B" average were on the Dean's Honor Roll.

Mr. Estes, who entered the school in September, is a graduate of Wellington High School

Rockets Battle Seymour to 61-48 Victory

One of the Skyrockets' exciting games of the season came against Seymour there Tuesday night, Feb. 6, and although Wellington took this game 61 to 48, their opponents fought all the way.

Seymour took a lead early in the game and was able to hold on. Andy Henard picked up three personal fouls early and was replaced by Chuck Wilbur, according to Coach James Stavenhagen. The score was tied 14-14 at the first period.

During the second quarter, Wellington's defense tightened and the Rockets picked up 15 points while limiting Seymour to 4.

Seymour came storming back after the half and narrowed the gap. Wellington again scored well in the fourth period and was again able to pull away during the last minutes of play.

Harold Jones of Wellington led the scoring with 26 points, while Steve Martin's 12 was high for Seymour.

The B team game saw the lead switch several times, but Seymour was ahead where it counted, at the final buzzer.

Seymour led during the first period, then Wellington was ahead in the second and third quarters. Late in the game, Seymour narrowed the lead and went ahead two points in the final seconds.

Nicky Watts scored 10 points for Wellington's high, while Raphert had 14 for Seymour.

City Election Slated for April 6

Wellington's 1968 City Election will be held on a new date and in a new location.

Under the newly enacted election laws, the election will be held on the first Saturday in April, which is April 6. (City elections formerly were held on Tuesdays.)

This year the election will be in the Club Room of the community building, rather than in the fire station.

Voters will name three members of the city council this year, and those whose terms are expiring are Leon Hartman, Bobo Castleberry and Ernest Harwell. The latter was elected in 1967 to serve an unexpired term.

In a meeting of the City Council Monday, Feb. 5, Earl Hunter was appointed election judge and Joe Terry assistant.

Mrs. Mish Dukeminier Tells Club of Visit to North European Nations

Mrs. Mish Dukeminier was guest speaker at the Domestic Science Club Thursday afternoon, February 8, showing slides and describing a trip she had made through Britain and several of the North European countries.

Mrs. J. B. Stevenson was the hostess.

Opening her talk with the first country she and others of her tour party visited, Mrs. Dukeminier recalled Ireland as a beautiful country, with delightful people and good food. The traditional Irish songs they heard everywhere left a lasting impression.

"Scotland is very progressive and a beautiful — a strange and wonderful land," she said. All banks carry "Linen" in their name, harking back 300 years to the establishment of a linen exchange before there was a money exchange.

After a brief discussion of London, she told next of Norway, which had only 4 hours darkness each 24 during the summer.

"The average farm consists of about 200 acres, but rarely ever is there more than 25 acres in cultivation." She showed pictures of Oslo, Viking capital dating its origin to 1048, and of drives through mountains and along fjords.

Tivoli Gardens in Copenhagen were Walt Disney's inspiration for Disneyland, said Mrs. Dukeminier, as she showed slides of Denmark.

Sweden, she showed the club members and guests, is a land of beautiful scenery, it is progressive and modern and is one of the most socially advanced nations of Europe.

Mrs. Dukeminier devoted a considerable part of her program to the last country the group visited—Russia.

They found Lenninograd to be a beautiful city with wide streets, and the home of the Hermitage, one of the famous museums of the world, known especially for its collection of Renaissance art.

In Moscow, the capital of Russia, they saw the Kremlin, with its 19 towers, and found the city to be a center of scientific thought and education, as well as one of many museums and theatres.

While Mrs. Dukeminier was there, a new hotel was under construction that would house 6,000. The University has an enrollment of 30,000, she noted. The group found, also, that more than half the doctors are women and most of the educated older men are scientists, while the younger men are in military service.

"Women do most of the street cleaning and it was one of the cleanest cities I have ever visited," she said.

Two of the high points came when Mrs. Dukeminier and others of her group spent an evening at the Bolshoi Ballet and another at the Moscow Circus.

Agriculture Continues to Offer Challenges and Opportunities

This week we focus attention on a select group of teen-agers, the Future Farmers of America, who have chapters in all of the 50 states. Three of those chapters are in Collingsworth County.

"Challenging Youth in Agriculture" is this year's FFA Week theme. No group is better able to tell its own story.

Although farmers and their families are leaving the land at the rate of almost a million persons a year, agriculture in its various ramifications continues to employ more people than any other industry. Its importance mounts.

A man employed in agriculture is not necessarily one who drives a tractor or works a herd of cattle. —He may design ever-improved farm machinery or work in a factory that makes it.

—He may be a part of the fast-growing chemical industry related directly to farming.

—He may teach agriculture, in an obscure high school or a powerful university.

—He may sell one of several of these agricultural products.

—With Dr. in front of his name, he may be a specialist or researcher, sometimes working in the very dirt of the earth.

—He may be a bank official who specializes in agriculture.

—He may be an engineer, working with soil problems or irrigation projects.

—He may be an employee of the federal or state government in one of the departments related to agriculture.

Men who were once Future Farmers in Collingsworth County are all of these. All of them can tell you of the importance of agricultural industry to America and the world. All of them can tell you of the mighty challenge it presents today and the opportunity that go hand in hand with that challenge.

The New Neighbors

AUSTIN.—Eleven Democratic and three Republican candidates for governor squared off for an action-packed May 4 primary election as filing deadline closed last week.

Most of the interest centers in the gubernatorial contest.

Only one Democratic incumbent in statewide office, Comptroller Robert S. Calvert, has primary opposition. The lieutenant governor's office and two Supreme Court places being vacated by incumbents are contested by Democrats.

While Republicans provided candidates for all state-wide offices except judicial, only in the governor's column is there a GOP primary race. The rest are unopposed.

Here's the way the primary ballots will look:

Democratic

Governor.—Lt. Gov. Preston Smith of Lubbock; John L. Hill of Houston; Waggoner Carr of Lubbock; Eugene Locke of Dallas; Gordon McLendon of Dallas; Dolph Briscoe of Uvalde; Pat O'Daniel of Dallas; Don Yarborough of Houston; Johnnie Mae Hackworth of Brenham; Edward L. Whittenburg of Houston and Alfonso Veloz of Houston.

Lieutenant Governor.—House Speaker Ben Barnes of DeLeon; Rep. Don Gladden and Gene Smith, both of Fort Worth.

Comptroller.—Robert S. Calvert and Dallas Blankenship of Paris.

Supreme Court, Place 1.—Matt Davis of Texarkana and Sears McGee of Houston.

Supreme Court, Place 2.—Tom Reavley of Austin and James G. Denton of Amarillo.

Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin, Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler, Agriculture Commissioner John White, Treasurer Jesse James, Railroad Commissioner Jim Langdon, Supreme Court Associate Justice Zollie Steakley, Court of Criminal Appeals Judge W. A. Morrison and Leon Douglas, a candidate of the Court of Criminal Appeals have no Democratic opposition.

Republican

Governor.—Paul Eggers of Wichita Falls, Wallace Sisk of Houston and John R. Trice of Dallas.

Republican candidates with no primary opposition are: Lieutenant Governor, Douglas DeCluitt of Waco; Attorney General, Sprousser Wynn of Ft. Worth; Treasurer, Manuel Sanchez of Brownsville; Comptroller, John Bennett, San Antonio; Agriculture Commissioner, E. H. Schuchart of Dalhart; Land Commissioner, Millard Neptune of New Ulm; and Railroad Commissioner, Jim Segrest of San Antonio.

Drink Battle Renewed

Gov. John Connally told a press conference that he may renew his effort to strengthen state liquor laws and legalize and tax liquor by the drink at the special session of the Legislature he must call this year.

Connally said the liquor proposal he made in 1967, which was killed by the Legislature, may well be a part of his program for raising the $150,000,000 to $190,000,000 which will be needed to operate state government next year.

He renewed his attack on the "subterfuge" of the private club, and said that his efforts dren whose parents were in the "migrant stream" when school started, it would in future cover those whose parents left itinerant agricultural work up to five years earlier.

Courts Speak

State Supreme Court agreed with lower court verdicts that a 76-year-old San Antonio man, who was pardoned after being sentenced to death in the electric chair, should get $20,000 in false imprisonment compensation. Catch is the governor last year vetoed appropriation set aside by the Legislature to pay the oldtimer, Anastacio Vargas.

High court also upheld the jury award of $75,000 to owners of property condemned by city of San Marcos to expand Southwest Texas State College.

Third Court of Civil Appeals affirmed a ruling that the 1963 law limiting state-licensed lenders to 60 offices is constitutional and denied the request of a Midland-based finance company for license of its 61st Texas office. Court said the firm is in poor position to attack the constitutionality of an act that permits "the privilege of making loans at rates of interest which would be and are usurious and illegal to lenders not licensed . . ."

Attorney General Rules

Attorney General Martin has held that the state comptroller cannot make payments on state building contracts which exceed appropriated funds and must certify sufficient money is available to cover project.

In other recent opinions, Martin held that:

—State depository board may accept both guaranteed "preliminary loan notes issued by public housing authorities" and "participation certificates" of Federal National Mortgage Association as collateral for state deposits.

—Second or alternate retirement program may be established for state-supported college and university employees.

Tax Suit Filed

Wholesome Dairy Inc. of El Paso filed suit in the 53rd District Court against the State of Texas in an attempt to keep the State Health Department from blocking the sale of "Farmer's Daughter High Protein Drink," a mixture of dry and powdered milk, vegetable oils and other materials.

State law prohibits the manufacture or sale of "filled milk," any milk or milk product mixed with fat or oil other than milk fat.

L.C.B. Makes New Rules

Texas Liquor Control Board issued new rules for it agents, including a bar against LCB agents bidding for purchase of confiscated cars or trucks. A

CROSSROADS REPORT

Dear Editor:

News is that since England went broke, some of their mossier mossbacks are thinking social welfare handouts had ought to be cut off from folks who are not needy.

Which would be a sign that backwardness is sneaking up on the world again and trying to take the politics out of government charity.

But, of course, a country would have to be lots worse than just broke for the politicians therein to stop giving alms checks to the non-needy who have learned to love same, because it might alienate their votes.

D. E. SCOTT.

Dallas LCB agent's purchase of a confiscated truck was one of the incidents that kicked off the Board's current self-examination.

New rules warn agents against revealing any details of investigations, and tighten accounting procedures for keeping track of illicit alcohol that has been seized.

Visitors to Austin

Tourists from all over the state and from every area of the nation visit the State Capitol Building in Austin. Its doors are open day and night.

Something new has been added for the visitors' pleasure: It's a beautiful 170-page, 7x10 book in gorgeous colors entitled "The Texas Capitol — Symbol of Accomplishment."

If you're contemplating a trip to Austin, write the Texas State Highway Department for a copy of this $2 book. You'll double the pleasure of your visit by having background information on what you're going to see.

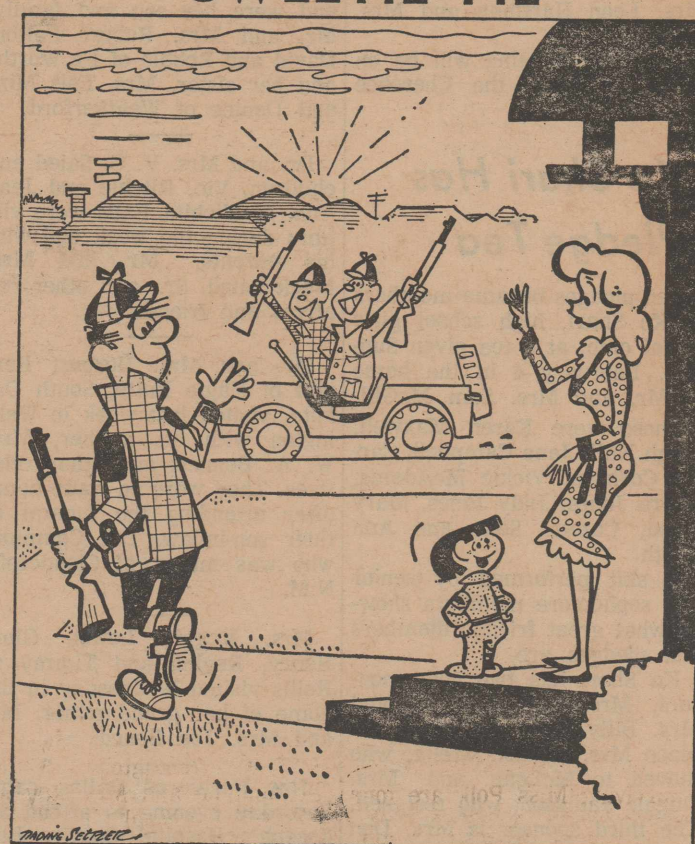

Retarded Children

Retarded children (some as old as 60) at Travis State School in Austin are having the time of their lives potting and planting more than 9,000 flower, shrub and tree cuttings which will be raised for transplanting at other state schools and state hospitals over the state.

The idea of beautification project for the grounds of state institutions for the mentally ill and mentally retarded was sparked by MH-MR Commissioner John Kinross-Wright who donated and potted some of the first plants. Since then, others have been donated by gardeners who heard about the landscape program by word of mouth.

Progress Reported on Lakeview Watershed Improvement Project

Good progress is reported on a nearby watershed improvement project similar to that which is being sought on Buck Creek by Salt Fork Soil Conservation District.

This is the Lakeview Watershed project in Donley and Hall counties.

Dorman Bush, work unit conservationist of the Soil Conservation Service at Clarendon, reports that the final land-rights maps should be completed by the Texas Association of Soil Conservation Districts soon and returned to Hall and Donley counties for review by the sponsors.

The next step will be submission of the project to Congress for approval, possibly in the current session.

Tentative plans call for 14 permanent storage dams, approximately 6 temporary dams and several miles of channel improvement.

The federal government will pay all the cost of construction. The local people must furnish the land where the dams are built and maintain the structures. After Congress appropriates money for the work, at least 75 percent of the effective land treatment measures must be installed on the area above each dam before it will be built.

These measures include terraces, diversions, waterways, brush control, proper range use, etc. This will be the responsibility of each land owner.

Quail Boys Repair FFA Livestock Barn

National FFA Week, Feb. 17 to 24, finds Quail Future Farmers with several projects under way.

These were not adopted with FFA Week in mind, but they are a part of the series of activities that continue through the year.

Al Walker, vocational agriculture instructor, directs the work.

One of the major projects is repairing and renovating the Quail FFA Stock Show barn on the school campus.

The boys have built stalls into this converted army barracks. They painted the inside and made panels with which to move the stock around. There are stalls for both calves and hogs.

From 35 to 40 animals can be accommodated as needed.

The small show ring inside the building was torn out and a new outside ring will be put in, where stock in the annual Quail Stock Shows can be judged.

The Quail vocational agriculture department is the only one in the county to hold its own livestock show in the spring.

In other activities, Quail Future Farmers have assisted with repair on the roof of the school building.

They recently collected scrap iron around the school campus and will sell it, with proceeds going into the chapter fund, according to Clarence Long, president, and Benny Carson, reporter of the FFA chapter.

The large permanent "Welcome" sign just east of the intersection of Highways 203 and 1056 has been repainted. New signs were installed on 203 toward Hedley and 1056 toward Memphis.

Earlier, Clarence Long, chapter president, showed a steer in the Amarillo Stock Show.

Officers, in addition to Long and Carson are John Blevins, vice president; Steve Tension, secretary; Gary Barton, treasurer; Lanny McGill, sentinel; and Mr. Walker, advisor.

1967 Bond Sales Total $92,449

Eight Texas counties had no banks Jan. 1, 1966, the latest date available. Hartley was the Panhandle county without a bank.

What this man started ...

... Benefits all mankind today

Thomas Alva Edison in his lifetime — even after 1097 inventions — never could have imagined the many jobs flameless electricity does today.

In your home alone, 166 electrical appliances are available to save time, reduce work, and do a better job faster and more economically.

The average American family has nearly doubled its use of electricity in the past 10 years. And at such a low cost, it is today's biggest bargain in your budget.

Here at WTU we keep pace with the increasing use of electricity in industry, in business and in the home. It's a way of life with us, for we know that electricity powers progress.

WHS Aggies Observe National FFA Week

Vocational agriculture students in Wellington High School will join Future Farmers of America members throughout the nation in activities to focus attention on the importance of agriculture during National FFA Week, Feb. 17-24.

"Challenging Youth in Agriculture" is this year's FFA Week theme. The message that these young agriculturists are trying to impart to the nation is simple. They seek to inform the public of the importance of the agricultural industry to America and to the world, the value of good citizenship development, and the role of Future Farmers of America in helping meet the challenges in world food production that face America today.

"Because of the many predictions of world hunger in the future, many people have stopped listening," said Don Lacy, voward will go to a local man who has helped the FFA. Membership in the FFA is made up of students of vocational agriculture in high school. The organization's activities are designed to help develop rural leadership and good citizenship and to stimulate the students to better achievements in their study and work toward successful establishment in farming and other agricultural occupations.

The Wellington chapter has 70 members, and has the largest single teacher membership in Area I, which includes more than 100 chapters. These figures were disclosed by Walter Labay, Area I supervisor. Second in membership is Hart with 62 and Cooper, with 61, is third.

President of the Wellington chapter is Chuck Wilbur, while Gary Brewer is vice president; Tim White, secretary; Teddy Martin, treasurer; Ricky Brown, reporter; Larry Kane, sentinel; and Joe Brock, chaplain. The chapter sweetheart is Mickey Ann Kendrick, and Don Lacy, vocational agriculture instructor is advisor.

The national FFA organization has approximately 450,000 members, with 9,000 local chapters in the 50 states and Puerto Rico. Membership in Texas totals 44,000.

The week of George Washington's birthday is chosen each year for the observance of National FFA Week. Although usually recognized as a Revolutionary War General and our first President, Washington's first love was the farm. He was one of the first in the nation to practice contour planting, crop rotations, fertilization, and other soil conservation and improvement methods.

Quail, Norwood Split Double Header Feb. 6

Samnorwood girls defeated Quail girls 49 to 30 on the Quail court Tuesday evening, Feb. 6, then the Quail boys took a victory from the Norwood boys 58 to 36 in the second game of the double header.

Norwood Eaglettes led for the entire game, with the Bobwhites seemingly unable to get started.

Norwood's Karen Waters scored 21 points for game high; Paula Langley had 12 for Quail.

The story was reversed in the boys game. The Quails took an early lead and held on to it. Scoring was spread through the teams, but Benny Carson's 11 points for Quail was high for the game. Kenneth Waters had 10 for Norwood.

Playing in the girls game for Quail were Paula Langley, Joyce Johnson, Stella Johnson, Pam Langley, Reta Cummings, Janis Gosnell, Brenda Childers, Donita Pitts and Marie McGill.

Norwood players were Karen Waters, Rita Lackey, Beth Sanderson, Jan Christiner, Odessa Stice, Billie Purkey, Betty Coleman and Mary Schaub.

Seeing action for the Quails were Carey Don Neeley, Jarrel Fielding, Benny Carson, Gary Barton, John Blevins, Steve Tension, Darrell Colson, Clarence Long, Jimmy Langley, Julian Torrez, Mark White, Roger Long and Ronnie Langley.

Norwood boys were Ron Wamack, Stanley Oldham, Gary Oldham, Jimmy Breeding, Ray Dwyer, Ken Waters, Ronald Carter, Kim Janes and Robbie Dwight.

Boys Play Hearts Out

Quanah Wins Title In Thrilling Game

Superior bench strength and deadly aim at the free throw line enabled the Quanah Indians to pull ahead in the last minute of play to win the championship of District 2AA in the Rocket gym Feb. 9.

The thrill-packed game was one of the closest contests ever played in Wellington with the game being tied five times in the first four minutes of play. The early score was 1-1; 3-3; 5-5; 7-7; 9-9 with Wellington finally pulling ahead to make the score 10-9 and the scoring seasawed in this manner all through the game.

The third quarter ended with the score Rockets 47, Indians 46. Near the end of the game Quanah led by only 2 points with only one minute to play. The Rockets were minus the play of both Wilbur and Barber in the closing minutes due to fouls and the Rockets had to go out and get the ball, and as a result Quanah took advantage of the situation and forged ahead.

Both Williams and Payne, the tallest of the Indian players were close to fouling out in the third period. They were benched and other players were sent in with little effect on the playing. The tall boys returned in the last few minutes to help put on the scoring rush.

The Rockets made more points from the field than the Indians; but the Indians not only got more free shots they also made a higher percentage of their free throws. Both teams played their hearts out throughout the contest and Hendard, Barber, Wilbur and Clark did a splendid job of rebounding against the taller Indians and Harold Jones and Sandy Covey performed beautifully from their guards positions, as did Gary Brewer when he was in the game.

Williams and Payne were standouts for Quanah on rebounding; but it was the floor play and shooting of Merchison and Gholson that gave the Sky-rockets the most trouble. Jones was high point man for Wellington and Murchison high point player for Quanah.

The score by quarters was:

Wellington	17	30	47	63
Quanah	18	33	46	70

It was the largest crowd ever to see a basketball game in the Wellington gymnasium. Extra seats were installed on both ends of each side to care for approximately 120 fans.

Quail Teams Meet Dodson, Go to Groom

Quail boys and girls took a double header from Dodson in games played recently at Quail, then they traveled to Groom to split a pair of games with those teams.

The Quail Bobwhites defeated the Dodson girls 48 to 15, leading all the way. Brenda Childers and Joyce Johnson scored 15 points each for Quail's high and Nancy Gulley had 8 for Dodson.

The Quails' victory over the Dodson Mustangs was by a 68 to 37 score. Again Quail took an early lead and increased it throughout the game.

Sexton of Dodson led the scoring with 15 points, Tommy Oatman and Cary Don Neeley had 10 each for Quail.

At Groom the Bobwhites lost by only 2 points, 31 to 29. Their opponents took the lead and held it, although by a slim margin, throughout the game. Paula Langley scored 19 points for Quail's high; Theresa Bichsell had 12.

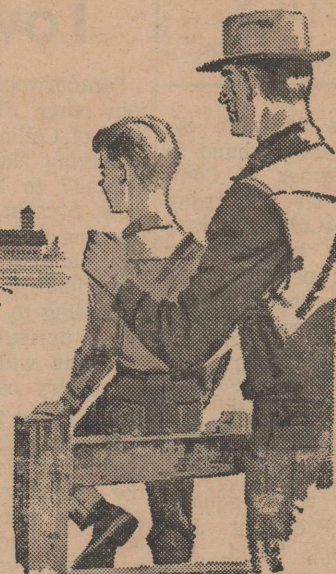

Quail boys won 62 to 49, after jumping to an early lead, which stood at 16 to 7 at the first quarter. They widened this to 31-16 at halftime and continued to maintain that distance.

Bob Goodlett led the scoring with 25 points for Groom; Carey Don Neeley had 22 for Quail.

National FFA Week is Feb. 17-24

It will take a certain type of man to lead American Agriculture tomorrow. We must have determination and stamina . . . be able to make right decisions at the right time. He must be a leader, yet able to accept suggestions and listen to reason. He must be a near genius . . . know the skills of a scientist, inventor, technician and business manager.

Future Farmers of America are helping mold such men, and Greenbelt Electric Co-operative, Inc. congratulates these boys and their instructors. Tomorrow you will be the manpower . . . and in your future there will be more farming and livestock raising with the power we furnish — Electric Power!

Congratulations are due every person who had a hand in the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet last Thursday night. It was one of those rare occasions when every actor played his part perfectly and the entire performance moved smoothly and interestingly from start to finish. Judge Charles Reynolds was impeccable as master of ceremonies and set the tempo with brevity and wit. Past president Wayne Cudd, Mayor John Coleman, Rev. Ronald Crosley were equally effective and President Jeff Wilson and Mack Saied, Jr., who introduced the principal speaker were both sharp and smooth in their performance. And, of course, Berl Huffman turned in one of his usual sterling after dinner speeches.

The food was superb, hot and tasty and so far above the usual Chamber of Commerce food that it continues to be the talk of all visitors. The music of the Horns a Plenty has a quality that would be a cause of pride in a town of any size. It was Mrs. Pat Phipps' first banquet where she had to do all of the detail work and she did her work in a commendable manner. She should be given a definite title such as Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce. The title of temporary manager was o.k. for the first few weeks; but it is no longer appropriate. Mrs. Phipps has done her work well. It will add to the prestige of the organization to give her a definite title.

A meeting on block planting and ginning of cotton will be held in the Farm Bureau building this Friday, Feb. 16 at 2 p.m. This system of planting similar varieties at about the same time and ginning it in blocks has enabled growers in other cotton growing areas to increase the price they received for their cotton by as much as $25 a bale. This much difference in the revenue from one bale could represent the difference between a profit and a loss and the possibilities of the effort should be given serious consideration.

There is another field of cotton growing in which a united effort is urgent. This is the fight against the boll weevil which threatens the production of cotton in this area unless concerted action is taken to stamp out the pest. The inroads of this costly insect have been halted on the high plains—you might say at the edge of the Caprock. The Dodson group demonstrated how it can be done here by a group of growers banding together. What is needed first is to get all the cotton growers in Collingsworth County working together on a similar plan. And then expand it next year to include the cotton growers of such counties as Childress, Hall, Donley, Wheeler in Texas and Greer and Harmon in Oklahoma. That sort of a pro-

Norwood FFA Works Toward Team Places

Samnorwood Future Farmers join other FFA chapter members of Collingsworth County in observing National FFA Week, Feb. 17 to 24.

At present, the boys are working for places on the various judging teams which will participate in contests in March, according to John Dwyer, vocational agriculture instructor.

Teams will include livestock and dairy cattle.

The latter team went into the state contests in 1967, and as it did not place in the top ten, the Samnorwood chapter is eligible to enter a dairy cattle team in the district contests again this year.

High point of the chapter's activities so far came earlier in the school year, when the senior chapter conducting team won the Greenbelt District and Area I contests and placed among the top 5 in the state contest.

Twenty-seven boys hold membership in the Samnorwood FFA chapter this year, and 22 are enrolled in vocational agriculture. Most have either livestock or crops projects.

gram has paid off on the high plains and the cost is much less than individual growers trying to eradicate the pest by their own efforts.

W. O. Combs became Supervisor of the Pumping Department of Wellington's water works under the administration of Fred LeDerer. He continued in this capacity under Pink Sullivan, Ernest Lewis and those who came after them. His efficiency and diligence were such that these mayors and the members of the City Council felt a sense of satisfaction in knowing that he was there where the water had to be produced. The same degree of excellence and faithfulness marked his work until his retirement in 1957. He thought that a person should do his very best every day in any task he undertook, and he managed to implant this desire to excel in his children and they became perfectionists in their work. It is an accomplishment that is not easy to attain; but the effects go on and on.

The two snows on the nights of February 12 and 13 totaled between 6 and 7 inches and along with the 3 inches of slow rains in January gives us the best moisture we have had at this time of the year in a long time. Up until the snow farmers had been busy getting their land in shape and many of them report the conditions are ideal. Goat Hopper, who does custom plowing, has been deep breaking many fields and he says that he never saw the ground plow better.

The snow brought its problems on the streets and roads; but the Highway Department handled the roads and the city cleared the streets with dispatch. The men and the new machine did a good job quickly.

Rockettes Win Non-Conference Games in Week

Wellington Rockettes won two non-conference games Tuesday, Feb. 6 and Friday, Feb. 9, while the Rockets were engaged with teams that do not have girls basketball.

Playing at Shamrock Tuesday afternoon, the Rockettes won 47 to 36, then took an even more impressive score over Briscoe, 51 to 31, here on Friday afternoon.

"The girls really are playing a lot better basketball," Coach James Stavenhagen declared. "I think they are going to come along and hit their peak just at the right time. We hope to go ahead and win the district and go on down the road some with these girls."

The Shamrock game was close all the way, although the Rockettes led by a narrow margin during most of the play. Mary Lou Holton scored 30 points for Wellington and this was high for the game also. Tony Richardson had 13 for Shamrock.

Briscoe, a class B team, is leading their district and they have a hustling team, although not a big one.

The game was tied at the end of the first quarter, then Wellington pulled ahead to 22-13 at halftime and continued this lead through the game.

Mary Lou Holton again was high scorer for both Wellington and the game, making 24 points. June Zybach had 13 for Briscoe.

Miss Jolene Groves sponsored the Rockettes in both these games.

Norwood held a strong 17-2 lead at the end of the first quarter. Norwood scored 10 and Dodson 11 in the second period. During the last half, the margin widened rapidly.

The Eagles defeated the Mustangs by the score of 77 to 57. High pointer for the Eagles was Ron Warmack with 21. High pointer for the Mustangs was Gary Norman with 25. All of the Eagles saw action in the game.

There was only 3 points between the teams at the end of the first period and 7 at the half. During the final two periods, however, Norwood pulled out ahead and continued to enlarge the lead.

The Eagles and Eaglettes will meet Groom Tuesday night, Feb. 13. Norwood will be entering the District Tournament Feb. 22-23.

Quail Teams Defeat Hedley Friday Night

Quail Quails, leaders of District 9-B, continued their winning streak by defeating Hedley 45 to 36 Friday, Feb. 9 on their home court. The Quail Bobwhites also won over Hedley by an easy 50 to 26.

The boys game was evenly matched during the first half. Although Hedley was never able to pull ahead, the score was 12 to 10 at the end of the first period, and 23-22 at the half—in Quail's favor.

About a minute into the third period, Hedley made a field goal and went ahead one point. Not more than 60 seconds later another Quail score put them behind again, and from that point the Quails widened the margin.

High pointer for the game was Quail's Carey Don Neeley. Leon Ward scored 15 for Hedley.

The Bobwhites jumped to a 7-point lead by the end of the first period, holding their opponents to 2. The Quails continued out in front and led by 15 points at halftime and 12 points at the end of the third period.

Stella Johnson scored 21 points for Quail and this was high for the game also. Carol George's 10 points was Hedley's top score. All Bobwhites got to play.

State Organization

Squyres Heads Soil Conservation Council

Fred Squyres, work unit conservationist of the Soil Conservation Service at Dumas, was elected president of the Texas Council of the Soil Conservation Society of America at a recent general council meeting in Abilene.

The former head of the SCS in Collingsworth County, Squyres was transferred to Dumas six years ago. He is currently a member of the board of directors of the Golden Spread chapter of the Texas Council.

The Texas Council, only two years old, is young compared to the 23-year-old national organization.

Mr. Squyres moved to Dumas at the time irrigation was just getting its start on the North Plains. There, as here, he believes that conservation of all our resources, particularly soil and water, is the salvation of the area.

During the time he headed the Collingsworth County SCS, the Salt Fork Soil Conservation District gained recognition for the many awards received for outstanding work on area, state and national levels.

A native of Breckenridge, Mr. Squyres served in the Army from 1940 to 1945, enlisting as a private. He later was selected for Officer Candidate School and after serving in Europe was discharged as a captain. He now holds the rank of lieutenant colonel in the Army Reserve.

He joined the Soil Conservation Service in 1946 and has been with it since except for a two year leave of absence to complete work toward a degree in agronomy at Texas Technological College.

He is married and the couple have two children, Newell and Nancy. They still own land northwest of Wellington.
