Parks And Wildlife Plans Artificial Oyster, Fishing Reef

The Texas Parks and Wildlife Department proposes to construct an artificial oyster and fishing reef off Rockport Harbor.

This was revealed at the latest meeting of the Board of Navigation and Canal Commissioners when Ernest G. Simmons of the Parks and Wildlife Department reviewed details of the project.

During the discussion Navigation District Chairman Charles J. Schindler said the Navigation District would assume some responsibility for maintenance.

The Board also made the suggestion that a pier be built out to the reef at such time that it might be approved by the Parks and Wildlife Department.

Commissioner Ted R. Little made a motion that a letter of approval be submitted to the state organization of the Wildlife Department expressing the Board's recommendation for a reef and pier off the bulkhead of Rockport harbor.

Other matters on the agenda of the Navigation District were —Schindler read a letter of resignation from S. W. Atwood, superintendent the past two years, effective May 1, 1967. The Board accepted the resignation.

—The Board voted to call an election for July 8 to elect one Navigation and Canal Commissioner for a term of six years.

—J. C. Brown and Fred Cloberdants of the IOOF Lodge appeared before the Board in regard to the band shell on Rockport Beach. This was a project of the Junior IOOF, which is no longer active.

Brown and Cloberdants reported that their organization is not financially able to maintain the band shell in good repair and had voted to release control of it to the Navigation District.

After some discussion the Board voted to take over the band shell without restrictions.

There was discussion of a letter from Chief of Police Bob Hewes concerning what he termed unsafe parking conditions observed over the weekend. Hewes recommended that posts along the roadway be moved back, creating more parking space.

B. C. DeForest reported that parking signs designating parallel and head-in parking had been removed by someone. They have now been replaced and this information was conveyed to Hewes by telephone.

—In a progress report, DeForest said new plumbing fixtures had been installed in beach restrooms after damage was caused by vandals. Leaks have been repaired in water lines at Fulton and Rockport beaches. Several cabanas have been re-roofed and repainted.

U.S. to Whisk Away Eggs Of Whoopers for Pampering

In a new effort to increase the population of whooping cranes, eggs are to be removed from nests in northern Canada and flown to Maryland for hatching in captivity.

Secretary of the Interior Stewart Udall announced the new plan Friday.

Udall said the plan was adopted after six years of intensive study of whoopers and related species of sandhill cranes carried out by both Interiors Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife and the Canadian Wildlife Service.

At Aransas Refuge

"The survival rate of young whooping cranes has been poor during 25 years of checking," Udall said. "Only 120 young birds have returned to wintering grounds at the Aransas National Wildlife Refuge in Texas during that period, and the total adult wild population was only 43 last winter. All have started northward.

The close check on the number of whooping cranes has shown that the wild flock increased from 14 birds at Aransas in 1938-39 to 42 in 1964-65, a record 44 in 65-66 and was 43 in 1966-67.

The studies the last six years have included development methods of removing eggs from nests and transporting, incubating, and hatching the eggs under bantam hens or in mechanical incubators. They also covered brooding, rearing, and all other facts of crane care.

Canadian wildlife service biologists will locate as many pairs of whooping cranes as possible in their remote nesting area near Great Slave Lake.

When the eggs reach the proper stage, a Canadian pilot will fly a team of United States-Canadian biologists to the sites by helicopter. Whoopers normally lay two eggs. The pickup team will remove one egg from up to six nests.

Three hours after egg removal, the nest will be resurveyed and if the adult birds have not returned to incubate the remainder, those eggs also will be removed.

The eggs will be flown to Ft. Smith, Northwest Territories, where they will be placed in a portable, electrically operated incubator. U.S. biologists then will transport the eggs by air in insulated containers to the Pautuxent Wildlife Research Center near Laurel, Md. The eggs will be under 24 hour surveillance until hatching is completed.

The estimated value of all properties available for taxation by Aransas county is $1,015,500 higher than in 1966.

Shrimp Season Closed May 17 Thru June 30

Unusually rapid growth of juvenile brown shrimp in their bay nursery areas has prompted the Parks and Wildlife Commission to set an early closing date on the Gulf shrimping season. The closed 45 day period for trawling has been set for May 17 through June 30, the earliest possible time within the framework of the Texas Shrimp Conservation Act.

The mandatory closed season was established to protect the still undersized brown shrimp as they move through the shallow Gulf waters. Since the shrimp have grown more rapidly than usual this year, they will attain fishing size earlier, and their period of protection will correspondingly end earlier.

The Commission's action was based on the recommendations of the Department's marine biologists who make regular checks of the size and numbers of shrimp in all of the Texas bay systems.

Along with the early size, biologists report numerous shrimp in their samples, indicating the possibility of a good season.

DRAFT DIRECTOR URGES COLLEGE STUDENTS TO GET CLASS STANDINGS

Austin.—The state director of Texas draft boards Friday advised nearly 100,000 draft-age college and university undergraduates classified in Class II-S to take action before the end of the spring semester on an "important matter for their possible benefit."

Col. Morris S. Schwartz, state Selective Service director urged these students to request their College or university registrars to send their class standings for the 1966-67 school year to their local boards as soon as these standings are available after the spring semester ends.

"If these class standings are not sent in for the 1966-67 school year, it is likely that a lot of these students will get reclassified into Class I-A next fall because their draft boards don't have this information," the state draft director said.

"Some colleges and universities will report these class standings without requests from the students," he continued, "but others will do it only when the student asks that it be done."

Because class standings were not sent in on many college students in Class II-S during the summer of 1966 for the 1965-66 school year, approximately a third of them in Texas were reclassified into Class I-A.

"Eventually nearly all of these were restored to Class II-S," Colonel said, "because they took extra steps to get the standings upon reclassification; but some had to undergo the armed forces physical-mental examination and some got orders to report for induction into the armed services before the certificates for class standing reached their local boards."

College and university registrars will be able to report the class standings during the summer after all grades are reported and compared.

The standings are reported to local boards by the registrars on Selective Service System Forms Nos. 109 or 109-A, or on forms designed by the colleges and universities themselves.

Class standings are not reported on graduate students and students of professions such as medicine, denistry, and law. Only satisfactory or unsatisfactory performance is reported on these.

An Investor-Owned Business Serving a Million People

When you look for the most room and the smoothest ride and the best value, you'll end up with a Chevrolet wagon everytime.

Chevrolet Impala, roomiest in its class. While extra roominess is perhaps the best reason for buying a Chevrolet wagon, consider, also, these bonuses: Body by Fisher, Chevrolet dependability, flush-and-dry rocker panels and Magic-Mirror finish. Chevelle Malibu, smoother, quieter ride. A Malibu not only gives you a Full Coil suspension ride, but the body mountings are double-cushioned. And Chevelle carries plenty. It opens wide. 54.6 inches, to be exact, 28.5 inches high. Flip the second seat down and you've got 86 cubic feet of cargo space for all your gear. Chevelle was built to take a lot. Chevy II Nova, best equipped for the money. All-vinyl upholstery is standard. Flush-and-dry rocker panels that clean themselves are standard. Separate panels beneath each fender to inhibit rust are standard. Mono-Plate rear suspension to smooth the ride is standard. Price? Below standard.

JUNE DRAFT CALLS FOR 915 TEXANS

Austin.—State draft boards will be called upon to furnish 975 men for the armed forces in June, Col. Morris S. Schwartz, state Selective Service director, said Tuesday.

This compares with quotas of 885 for May, 675 for April, 761 for March, 674 for February, and 1,110 for January.

The Selective Service boards will forward approximately 4,000 men in June for pre-induction examination, Colonel Schwartz said, and they have scheduled 3,000 for this examination in May.

Local board quotas for induction and pre-induction examination are scheduled to be mailed from state Selective Service headquarters on or about May 10. May calls for the local boards already have been assigned.

The Texas quota of 975 for June is the state's share of a national call of 19,800. This manpower is for the army.

Tourism Billion-Dollar Industry

The Texas Highway Department's 1966 Visitor Industry Report reveals that tourism entered the select circle of "billion-dollar" industries last year. A record 19,236,000 persons came to Texas by all forms of transportation spending a total of $1,080,000,000.

Again in 1966 the automobile was the overwhelming choice of transportation for the Texas visitor. The Department's survey shows a total of 14,157,000 out-of-state persons traveling by automobile visited the State in 1966 spending $723,847,000.

In addition, the Texas Tourist Council, an Austin headquartered association of travel-related businesses, estimates another 5,079,000 persons visited the State last year through the facilities of commercial carriers. The Council estimates the commercial carrier contribution to the total spending at $356,155,000.

In its survey to secure data on the State's rapidly developing Visitor Industry, the Texas Highway Department analyzed information from nearly 12,000 questionnaires returned by automobile visitors to Texas. These questionnaires were given to incoming tourists of the Department's port-of-entry Tourist Information Centers and were returned following completion of their trip. They provided data regarding expenditures, length of stay, purpose of visit, number in party, income groups, age groups and other key information.

While the total automobile visitors represented an 11.6 percent gain over 1965, the biggest gain for Texas was in their expenditures which increased by 18.1 percent or $110,699,000.

Average spending per person was $8.90 per day, while the average spending per tourist party was $25.52 per day. Spending per visitor increased 93 cents per day over the average in 1965.

MEDICAL INSURANCE UNDER SOCIAL SECURITY

"Medical insurance does not come between you and your doctor," H. M. Cleveland, social security district manager in Corpus Christi, pointed out. He made the statement in an effort to clear up some misunderstanding concerning the role of the doctor in the medical insurance part of medicare.

Under the medical insurance, (which helps pay doctor bills and other medical expenses) a person chooses his own doctor.

"Whether you pay the doctor directly and then claim payment of the insurance, or whether the doctor accepts assignment of the bill, is decided by you and your doctor," Cleveland pointed out. "If your doctor accepts assignment, he will bill you for only 20 percent of the reasonable charges and any portion of the $50 deductible that you may not have met in the year. "Every person of age 65 or over should read his Medicare Handbook carefully; if the doctor accepts assignment and files the claim, the handbook helps the patient understand the extent of his coverage and what he is personally responsible for. If the doctor requires payment from the patient, the handbook explains how the patient may file a claim. In Texas, the claim should be mailed to Medicare, Group Medical & Surgical Service, P. O. Box 22147, Dallas, Texas 75222.

"The people in the social security office will be pleased to help applicants to fill out their claim, especially the first one," Cleveland concluded.

If you need help, take your itemized, receipted bills when you see the social security people. Your doctor may prefer to put this information on the lower half of the claims form.

TEXAS' 4 TYPES OF POISONOUS SNAKES OFTEN NEAR HOMES

The old saying about all the comforts of home has a definite meaning also for Texas' bountiful snake population, cautions the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

This ancient adage gets into the reptilian act because most snake bites occur around the home for the ironic reason, the Department notes, that are made to feel welcome, unintentionally, or not.

The Department's popular poisonous snakes bulletin No. 31 spells out how to discourage the trespassers from moving in:

"Rock piles, trash piles, stacked lumber, tree stumps and other forms of debris near or under houses often harbor rats and mice which form the principal food of most snakes. In addition, this trash furnishes cover for the reptiles and offers them protection from enemies and bad weather. Therefore, of lal rubbish is removed from the premises, the food and shelter which attract snakes are largely eliminated and the snakes are forced to seek a more suitable environment. Dense, low growing plants may also supply cover for snakes."

In any event, the Department suggests that people watch their step nowadays whether around the houses or afield. It urges all to have a standard snake bite kit handy and that snake bite victims be rushed to the nearest hospital. The Department suggested that precious time may be saved by meeting the physician at a hospital rather than wasting time going first to his office.

Texas poisonous snakes are rattlesnakes, copperheads, water moccasins and coral snakes.

One commonly mistaken for a rattler is the harmless diamond back water snake. It is marked almost identical to the rattler but its pointed, rattlerless tail is the easiest distinguishing mark. Naturalists rate it along with the other do-gooders species as a valued defense against rats, mice and other undesirables.

CIRCLE 3 MEETS

JOHN KINSEY

A salute to Mrs. Connie Hagar, 81-year-old nationally known ornithologist, was published in the May issue of "The Western Tanager," publication of the Los Angeles Audubon Society.

The article opens with a quote from the Mar. 9 issue of The Rockport Pilot which published a news story on Mrs. Hagar being named "Outstanding Citizen of the Year" by the Chamber of Commerce.

Following was this tribute to Mrs. Hagar:

Two of us, Laura Lou Jenner and Betty Jenner, had the memorable experience of visiting this gracious lady on March 20 of this year and seeing the plaque which she so richly deserves. "Outsanding Citizen of 1966" it says, but to birders everywhere, she is the outstanding personality of any year. You have read of her in the Peterson-Fisher "Wild America," and the Edwin Way Teal's "Wandering Through Winter." It was she who first observed the extraordinary number of migrants that could be seen in the Rockport area and brought her observations to the attention of ornithologists.

Mrs. Conger Hagar is not just a "lister"; she is a keen student of the infinite variations of bird behavior. Her only complaint now is that her doctor's won't let her do as much as she'd like to. "But they send professional men in their 40's and 50's to me, and I am supposed to show them how to lose their tensions!" she says.

"Don't just look at the bird. Look at the trees, the flowers, the seashells, and see how everything is interdependent. Don't call yourself a good birder if you can't identify the bird in all seasonal change of plumage.

"People trying to see a bird sometimes say, 'The sun is in the wrong place.' Not so! The sun is where it's supposed to be. YOU are in the wrong place."

As you can tell, a conversation with Connie is stimulating; we were reluctant to leave, save for the fact that the telephone rang constantly, and we realized that her strength must be divided among many activities. She is in constant demand as a speaker at club meetings, luncheons, etc.

A salute to our country's number one birder, Connie Hagar: may she have a long life and good health!

Since the above was written, we have learned that Mrs. Hagar has undergone major surgery and is now recuperating. The good wishes of all of us go to her at this time, and we hope that she has a speedy and complete recovery.

Ready-Mix Concrete - Rockport & Lamar

$400,000 BOND—

the amount of $400,000.

James H. Sorenson, Jr., was moderator at the meeting which was attended by representatives of the City Council and County Commissioners Court as well as a number of business people and interested citizens.

Some of the aspects of the proposed program outlined by Hiller included the following:

—The City has received an interest-free $7,200 loan from the federal government for advance engineering planning for the project.

—Cost of the underground concrete storm sewer system in the south part of the city will be $195,000. The city has applied for a government grant of $157,000 to help pay the cost.

—The over-all plan calls for curb, gutter and paving on Highway 35 from the point where it leaves the beach to Market Street.

—After explaining the plans for downtown improvement, Hiller emphasized that the city's part of the cost should not exceed $6,000, and there is a possibility the city may receive $3,000 in connection with the nationwide Lady Bird Johnson Beautification program.

—Live Oak from Market to the north boundary of the city would be improved to become a thorofare 46 feet wide and including parallel parking space.

Following Hiller's presentation, Sorenson called on Emory M. Spencer to give his opinion.

Spencer said he is opposed to long term bond issues such as 30 years and recommended 15 years as the maximum time limit. He also said there is need for a program such as the one outlined by Hiller.

Gene Urban pointed out that the heavy rains here threatened to flood many homes and that some areas have no means of water draining out. He explained that the proposed storm sewer program would correct such conditions.

Tuloso-Midway Defeats A.C.H.S.

Ramiro Escobar hurled a masterful four-hitter as Tuloso-Midway came from behind to defeat Aransas County High School, 8-2, in a District 28-2A baseball game at Tuloso-Midway Friday.

Escobar fanned 12 and walked only one while aiding his own cause with a pair of singles. Jerry Green also had two singles but the big blow for the Warriors was a solo homer by Butch Merritt.

However, Tommy Herron spoiled Escobar's outstanding pitching performance with a two-run homer in the first to account for all ACHS scoring.

The win was Tuloso-Midway's second in district play against four losses and left ACHS with a 2-4-1 district ledger.

HOISINGTON FINISHES COMBAT TRAINING

Marine Private First Class Howard E. Hoisington, son of Mrs. Sam Thompson, has completed four weeks of individual combat training at the Marine Corps Base at Camp Pendleton, Calif.

During his more than 200 hours of training, he learned about weapons and combat techniques from combat veteran instructors. They taught him how to conduct combat patrols, detect and remove mines and booby traps and use the standard Marine Corps infantry weapons.

He will now receive at least four weeks of specialist training before being assigned to his first permanent unit. Marines going to combat units will get detailed training in the particular combat skill they are designated for. Those who are going into technical fields will receive their advanced training at one of a variety of technical schools throughout the country.
