Crash At The Goal Line

Colorado City's Keaton Grubbs (black jersey and pants) is buried under a crashing trio of Levelland tacklers who arrived too late as the Wolf quarterback pushed over right tackle for his team's final touchdown Friday night in their 32-0 District 3-AAA triumph. Hitting Grubbs high, low and in the middle are Mike Johnson (71), Odie Smith (80) and Lanny Modawell (62).

WOLVES ROMP 32-0 IN OPENER

Lobos Tasty AAA Dish

That AAA atmosphere is invigorating, ain't it!

Coach Truman Nix and his Colorado High Wolves stepped up into the higher classification Friday night and it was like an extra dish of ice cream.

All the Wolves did was knock Levelland Lobos flat for a 32-0 victory while flashing the most versatile offense for Colorado City in years.

The success, first of a full 10-game schedule in District 3-AAA championship play, hoisted the Wolves right up out of AA competition into a tie with Sweetwater, Lubbock, Dunbar, Lubbock, Estacado and Slaton for 3-AAA leadership.

By land and by air the Wolves did the Lobos in, scoring in every quarter while netting 424 yards all total for their evening's work. They might have done it by sea, too, but threatening clouds held their moisture until after the last whistle.

Fifty-five yards, no more, were all Coach Bobby Hayworth's Levelland club could earn for keeps against a strong, stingy Wolf defense. Two first downs, 50 yards on the ground and 5 yards passing, if you want a complete breakdown of how the Lobos were hobbled.

They were completely beaten, right down to the last bone. And while Colorado City fans were still talking about the Wolves all-around offense which mixed potent accurate passing with a quick striking ground attack, Levelland coaches remained behind in their dressing room for a few minutes gazing in silent question at the wall while their boys boarded their bus in a cooling drizzle.

Every Wolf in uniform saw action. Reserves were moving into the line-up in the first half and the stream of substitutions continued to increase as the lead and game drew long.

Colorado Dandy Dan Steakley started the rout before the first quarter with the game only 3:14 old when he took a pitch-out, spurred around the Lobo end then race tight-rope down the sideline for 25 yards and a touchdown.

Quarterback Keaton Grubbs quickly booted the Wolves' two extra points for a 7-0 lead.

They could have halted it all right there, but they would have denied C-City fans from witnessing an offensive spree keenly engineered by Quarterback Keaton Grubbs, the young gent who moved into the spot at mid-season last fall and left no doubts about his leadership for this season.

Steakley, who earned all-state recognition on defense last year while gaining 1,420 yards, ran right down Levelland's throat again with a touchdown romp from the 5 yard line. Grubbs' pitchout was wide, but Steakley grabbed it on the bounce back on the 13, then raced the sideline for the score.

It was part of 129 yards gained running during the game for 6.8 average.

C-City's Albert Lujan covered Grubbs on-sidekickoff and the Wolves were at it again from the Lobo 47 yard line.

Grubbs' pass to Kenny Key was broken up by Lobo Larry Crupper, who played a fine defensive game. Another pass missed Jim Dockrey, a third was long to Steakley on the 10.

But on fourth down from the 42, Grubbs connected with Randy Parker, C-City's splendid senior slot back, on the 25 near the west sideline, Parker, whose moves were outstanding pass patterns all night, spun out of the hands of a Lobo defender and rambled ahead for touchdown No. 3 as the defensive back jackknifed into the turf.

Those two touchdowns - without any extra points tacked on the scoreboard, came in a span of 41 seconds.

Steakley almost stretched it to three scores in 51 seconds as he intercepted Mike Stagner's pass on the Colorado 40, racing back before finally being knocked to the ground on the Lobo 10 as the half ended.

Less than 4 minutes remained.

Whistle Stops Loraine Short

It was one of those nights Friday when Loraine won everything but the game.

They doubled Hermleigh in first downs, yardage gained, repeated touchdown runs and had scores called back.

After it was all over, Loraine walked off their home field on the short end of a 23-28 count, losers in their season opener.

The Bulldogs hurried to a quick lead before their home folks, scoring in three plays after receiving the opening kickoff.

Stanley Hackfeld ripped the Cardinals defense for 23 yards, then 24. Terry Brewer struck pay dirt on the next play, traveling 24 more yards on a reverse that tangled Hermleigh's defense.

Tim Hamilton's kicking attempt for extra point was an omen for bad luck ahead as the ball hit the goalpost and bounced away, leaving Loraine in a 6-0 lead.

Hermleigh bounced back in the same first quarter with Burton Sandefer scoring up the middle from the 4 after a long drive following the kickoff. Two 15-yard penalties aided the Cardinals no little.

Tommy Chorn put Hermleigh in the lead, 6 to 8, when he ran for a two-point conversion.

Loraine wasn't to be denied, either. They came marching right back with the kickoff and didn't stop until Hackfeld, on a reverse from Brewer, sped 11 yards for another touchdown. Hackfeld ran for two points more, making it 14 to 8 for Loraine.

If that wasn't enough fire works, Hermleigh in the second quarter added a touchdown with Chorn running off right tackle. The Cardinals extra point run failed, leaving the score tied 14-all.

in the third quarter, when Colorado lengthened its lead to 25-0. Grubbs found Steakley running open on a straight flag pattern over the end, with defending backs split by two other Wolf receivers. Steakley grabbed the aerial on the 10 and waited across the goal with nobody in waving distance.

First Sales Tax Check For City Brings $11,990

Colorado City's first sales tax check came in from Austin Saturday.

It amounted to $11,990.08 net cash for the municipal budget.

The income, collected by the state with the state sales tax and returned to the city, is for the municipal one-cent sales tax during April, May and June of 1968.

City Manager J. A. Sadler, Jr. said the check was net from a gross Colorado City sales tax of $11,990.20 less a two per cent service charge of $239.80 for the state and less 4.3 per cent reserve held in Austin and amounting to $559.32.

This $11,990.20 gross sales tax on 1-cent of sales in Colorado City subject to sales tax (food and medicine are not included) indicates that sales here for the second quarter of 1968 (April, May, June) amounted to approximately 2 million dollars.

Sadler said the check was a "little more" than the city has estimated for its budget.

Other sales tax checks channelled to West Texas cities for the same quarter include $263,339 for Abilene; Anson, $5,574; Big Spring, $71,574; Breckenridge, $15,665; Brownwood, $47,807; Clyde, $1,386; Hamlin, $5,921; Knox City, $3,474; Merkel, $3,124; Mineral Wells, $22,626; and Sweetwater $28,947.

Parade To Hail Fair Opening

Mitchell County Fair, 1968 version, comes up this weekend with a big downtown parade to herald the three-day event, at 6 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 19.

The income, collected by the state with the state sales tax and returned to the city, is for the municipal one-cent sales tax during April, May and June of 1968.

Eddie Braxwell, parade marshal, announces that there is still time for organizations throughout the county to enter the float contest for cash prizes of $50, $30, and $20.

Nine organizations have already planned to enter floats. They are Fairview Home Demonstration Club, Looney HD Club, Plainview HD Club, Mitchell County 4-H Club, Quarterback Club, Kiwanis Club, Lorraine FFA, Colorado City Jaycees, Boy Scouts sponsored by Lions Club.

Lorraine Lions Club will feature Miss Mitchell County Cotton Queen, Gaye Green, sponsored by them in the queen contest. Little Miss Cotton will ride on the 4-H float.

Color Guard from Webb Air Force Base will be here for the parade which will also be spiced with three bands, Wolf Band, Junior High Band, and the Lorraine High School Band.

New fire truck will lead off the parade and the antique fire engine owned by the Masonic Order will be among the other vehicles.

Participants in the parade,

Assembly points for parade entries are on East Highway 80 business Route. Farm implements and vehicles are to begin the parade route from Roundtop Cafe.

Bands will meet just east of the Lone Wolf bridge with floats to meet due east of the bands.

Quarterback Club meeting, set for Tuesday evening at 7:30 in the high school cafeteria, will mark the end of the club's current membership drive.

Prizes will be presented to members who enlisted the most members.

Top prize is four tickets to the Texas Tech vs. TCU football game, plus four tickets for the Colorado Wolves vs. Escalante High in Lubbock.

Second high member will be awarded season tickets for all

Colorado High home games for the season.

Film of the Levelland vs. Colorado High game, played Friday, will be shown and a scouting report heard.

The club has also ordered 10 new blazers, needed by the squad, said Truman Bodine, QB president.

His letter informed his father and mother "I got pieces of Charlie's (Viet Cong) toys

Betty Barnes who grew up in Colorado City. Survivors of Pfc. Wright in addition to his wife and parents are two sisters, Phyllis Novell of Irving, and Dorothy Cowley of Pueblo, Colo., and his maternal grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Joe Brochack, also of Pueblo.

County Agent Lemons expects to caution against the too-early use of chemicals.

"We feel that at least 80 percent of the cotton crop should be open and ready for harvest before sprayed for defoliation," Lemons said.

Dr. Metzger will explain reasons for proper timing of chemical application at the Tuesday night educational meeting.

"Timing of Application," with exploration of that important phase of proper defoliation of cotton will be the subject for Dr. Metzger's lecture.

Also to be discussed will be the choice of chemicals to be applied for the killing of cotton foliage.

Crops Committee, in calling the meeting, expressed as one goal "Helping farmers of the area decide whether or not to defoliate and helping farmers decide which of a variety of 17, and Susie, 11. The family was transferred here by Sun Oil Company. Mr. Stricklin is a Sun engineer.

Colorado City and West Texas New to Bob Stricklin Family

When Bob and Pat Stricklin Colorado City last month four and their children moved to members of the family began a new experience — that of living in West Texas.

The Stricklins' four younger children — Terri, 16; Gay, 12; Susie, 11, and Sam, 6, are living in West Texas for the first time.

And for Bob Jr., 17, it's just about the same, because he and his parents lived in Odessa when he was a baby.

The Stricklins, who reside here at 1109 Hickory Street, have lived in Freer for the past 14 years. Mr. Stricklin, an engineer for Sun Oil Company, has been employed by Sun for 16 years.

They are members of the Catholic Church.

Family hobbies for the Stricklins include working with bee hives and playing touch football.

Electronics is a hobby for Bob Jr. that has developed into more than a past time. He worked with electronics this summer with Industrial Electric in Freer. He is a senior student in Colorado High School.

Terri, a junior in CHS, is a dance enthusiast and did student teaching of modern jazz this summer in Freer.

Gay, Susie and Sam enjoy swimming. Mrs. Stricklin is a bridge enthusiast.

Gay is a seventh grader; Susie, a fifth grader and Sam started to school this year.

Wistrands Visit in Arlington

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Wistrand were in Arlington the first of the week visiting their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Chris Cooper, and their baby daughter, Christy Lynn, who was born Monday.

Mr. Wistrand returned home Wednesday. Mrs. Wistrand will remain for a longer visit.

Primary Parent-Teacher Meet Scheduled Tuesday Evening

First Primary Parent Teacher Association meeting of the school year will be Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in the school auditorium.

Miss Dorothy Prince, coordinator for elementary education and grouping in the Odessa school system, will be guest speaker for the evening.

Her topic will be "Growth Through Flexibility — Study in Grouping".

Six programs planned for the current school year are designed to involve parents, fathers as well as mothers, in coping with crises of expanding education, Mrs. Curtis Latimer, president, said Saturday.

Mrs. Tom Neff is vice president; Mrs. W. J. (Dub) Waldrip, secretary; Mr. Gerald Harrell, treasurer; Mrs. Bob Shamburger, reporter-historian; Mrs. Eddie Braswell, parliamentarian.

Theme for PTA programs this year is "Understanding Our Changing Families".

An excerpt from the state program guide book about the year's theme is as follows:

"Basic to all man's social organizations is the family. It is evident American family life, has undergone vast changes brought about by social, economic and scientific advancement.

"Change need not be viewed, however, as a danger to family life, but rather a challenge to evaluate importances of family solidarity, family goals and values.

"Chief function of today's family is development of strong sturdy, wholesome persons capable of withstanding stresses and strains of modern life and able to make a constructive contribution to society. "It is in the family that children learn techniques, customs and expectations of their cultural heritage.

"Fathers and mothers who participate in programs of education for family living sponsored by their education for family living sponsored by their parent-teacher associations are manifesting their belief that the most important job is the world is building a home which produces healthy, happy, useful citizens."

CONVERSATION CORNER

FOR NO REASON that could be captured in words the story of the 4-H PlayDay and its class for little Shetland pony riders brought a smile, a long buried memory.

Time was when the wish for a Shetland pony was stronger in this heart than the thought of going to college or getting rich or joining a gypsy band or someday marrying Douglas Fairbanks.

Never got around to owning a Shetland pony and the wish was forgotten ever so long ago. Almost, that is.

And that proves something or other. When you want what you want and don't get it, you don't die. You just change wishes. Wait long enough and you'll even wonder why you wanted what you wanted.

Whatever in this world would I be doing with a Shetland pony now?

IT'S POSSIBLE to die of want (as in the tragedy of Blafra) but hardly anybody ever dies of wanting.

That red ostrich-feather fan waved by a vaudeville singer was so beautiful!

"I shall have one when I'm a lady," thought at least one little girl in the audience.

But when she was grownup the only money she ever invested in a fan was spent for a rotating electric fan with three speeds.

See what I mean?

MOSTLY, to be perfectly truthful, things really wanted as a girl came along eventually through loving parents...books and music lessons...the patent leather hatbox...dresser set with nail buffer...silver slippers and taffeta evening dresses.

Gowns were what people slept in back-then. They went to parties in evening dresses.

What ever happened to nail buffers...shoe hooks...and dresser sets, for that matter?

What ever happened to lavallieres with birthstones?

As nearly as possible the true wants came true.

That Shetland pony and that red ostrich never did.

NEVER did get that seaskin muff with violets pinned on it like the music teacher had.

Never got to wear a winter picture hat trimmed in monkeyfur.

Never did get to sit in blue velvet on a chaise lounge like Billie Burke.

Never had a riding habit with derby like Mary Pickford's.

NOW THERE'S a pointed lesson here somewhere. Even if I found Aladdin's lamp complete with genie I'd be rubbin' and wishin' for something else - none of those things.

Maybe, translated into the simplest terms the lesson is this - stick around long enough and you just won't want a Shetland pony any more.

And that probably holds true for nearly everything you ever wanted.

So be of good cheer. Whatever it is you're "dying for" right now will make you smile some of these days.

CLOUD NINE is wrapped around the shoulders of John Russell and hovers over the rest of the family, too.

Marilynn, first Russell daughter, and her husband Randy Hicks are parents of a son, their first child, born to them in Lubbock Saturday, Sept. 7.

Marilynn was teacher of math in Junior High last year. Her husband will receive his degree from Tech in January. Marilyn starred in the "Playhouse 94" Abner musical. Remember?

SEEN LATELY included Elmer Martin, county judge, happy over a visit he and wife Billie made to his very first school teacher the other evening.

She is Mrs. Frank Wilson of China Grove-Hermelgharea, and was hospitalized here for a few days. When she taught at the old Lone Wolf School she was Miss Hettie Appleton.

Did you know that Juanette Gentry, wife of Kent Gentry, is a former Home Demonstration Agent? The Gentrys are new C-Citians. He's manager of Higginbotham-Bartlett here.

BRIEF ENCOUNTERS brought an introduction to a living doll, Rhona Elanie Ringer, here from Denison with her mama Sandy (Mrs. Herman) Ringer daughter of the Willie Landaus.

Chatted with glamorous Carolyn Howell, daughter of Graydon and Inez Howell, here for the weekend. Carolyn has an executive position with Texas State Welfare Department in Austin.

"Came home to see the dentist and get my hair frosted," she said mischievously. She's loving Austin.

Arlene Morris was saying that when he and Katie took son Dale to Baylor University campus, Tuesday, they met up, first thing, with Rusty Steakley and next with Jimmy Selcraig, son of former First Baptist pastor Jack Selcraig and his wife Vi.

DOWNTOWN scene brought glimpses of Inez Hook, Amarie Hall, and Mae Dunn together.

'Sound of Music' Opens Today

The Austrian Alps and the city of Salzburg was setting for the filming of "The Sound of Music", which begins Sunday (today) at the Palace Theatre.

Julie Andrews stars in the movie as Maria, a postulant at the Abbey in Salzburg.

All too often she is late for her duties at the Abbey because she has strayed to the mountains. For her, the hills are alive with the sound of music.

She later becomes governess for the family Von Trapp which consists of a widowed captain, played by Christopher Plummer; and seven children, portrayed by Charmian Carr, Nicolas Hammond, Heather Menzies, Angela Cartwright, Duane Chase, Debbie Turner and Kym Karath.

Maria's introduction to the children is difficult.

As a postulant Maria is horrified when she realizes she is in love with the captain and returns to the Abbey. The couple is finally married with the blessing of the children and then comes the Anschluss. The Salzburg Festival gives the family their final chance to escape the Hitler ultimatum to the Captain to return to naval duty.

Also appearing in the film are Portia Nelson, Daniel Truhitte, Eleanor Parker, Richard Haydn and Peggy Wood.

Westbrook WSCS Begins Study

WESTBROOK - First lesson of the study, "That Ye May Believe" was taught for Woman's Society of Christian Service of Westbrook Methodist Church Monday afternoon in the church.

Mrs. Price Hendrix was teacher for the lesson.

Attending the meeting were Mrs. A. L. Young, Mrs. John W. Hawkins, Mrs. L. R. Messimer, Mrs. L. E. Gressett, Mrs. Hendrix and Mrs. Joe Wigner, a new member.

WSCS members will continue the study Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Fred Becham and Mrs. Miles Galloway of Big Spring visited friends in Westbrook last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Rees of Dallas and Mrs. Roy Hodnett of Sundown visited relatives in Westbrook last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Keith Williamson and son, Howard, were guests of Rev. and Mrs. S. L. Yelding near Levelland last Sunday.

En route home they visited Mr. and Mrs. Sam Stevens in Lamesa and Van Williamson who is in Big Spring Hospital.

Guests of the Yeldings Sept. 7, were Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Shackelford and children.

Office dropins included Jennie (Mrs. Dannie) Wright... Wendall Jarnagin, Jaccee district director... Dick Wistrand... Mrs. Raymond Wheeler... Isabel (Mrs. Harry) Ratliff and first son Bob.

Isabel was happy over a recent visit from second son Hubert, his wife Caroline, and baby son Brad of Houston.

VISIT of Donna (Mrs. Eddie) Thomasson of Sherman with her parents the W. H. Prescotts was saddened.

Donna brought her beautiful month-old daughter home to visit. While here she was notified of the death of her best friend's husband, Pfc. Robert Wright, in Vietnam combat.

So Donna flew to Lubbock Friday to be at the airport to meet and be with her friend Marilyn Hale Wright, married to Eddie Thomasson's good friend, Pfc. Wright, just August 3.

HEAR TELL the Quarterback Club's kickoff night, Thursday, was a howling success and no pun intended.

More boys were suited out as members of the various football teams than have reported for football in the history of Colorado High Wolves, said Truman Bodine, QB president.

Wolves that completely dominated the game.

The fact Leveland only made two first downs and managed only a total of 22 yards in any one series of downs emphasizes Wolves superior defense.

Despite the winning display, the Wolves still have plenty to prove. Leveland had only a 2-8 record last year and took it on the chin severely in its 1967 opener with Seminole, but improved later in the season.

While the Wolves were chewing up the Lobos, Sweetwater edged by Lamesa, 14 to 6; Lubbock Dunbar beat Snyder 21 to 6; Lubbock Estacado downed Brownfield, C-City's next opponent, 13 to 0, and Slaton beat Lake View, 27 to 6.

C-City, last fall, started with a bang - taking Class A Coahoma and Roscoe, 25 to 8 and 62-0, before walloping Sweetwater, 19-0. In their next four games the Wolves scored only 34 points - losing 6 to 36 (Brady), 0-27 (Ballinger), 8-26 (Hamlin) and 0-35 (Stanford), all AA competition, before getting back on the winning track Oct. 27 with a 19-6 decision over Anson.

The Wolves, with their 424 net yards, played continually in Lobo territory. They were stopped once on the one-foot line.

Sophomore Carl Devorce, the big sophomore tackle; Kenney Key, Leslie Ellis, Charles Morison, Johnny Matthews, Sammy Majors lead the fine up front work for the Wolves on defense and offense for the

When the half ended, Lorraine was on Hermleigh's one-yard line.

Sandefur put Hermleigh back into the lead in the third quarter, running 22 yards off left tackle for a touchdown. Chorn ran the extra points for a 16-22 advantage.

Lorraine fired back, scoring on Hackfeld's 25-yard romp around right end and Hamilton's extra point kick. That made it 23-22 for Lorraine. The Bulldogs did it the hard way. Hackfeld ran for a touchdown from the 20, then did it from the 25 after his first was called back for a 5-yard penalty.

Chorn scored from the 2 in the fourth to send Hermleigh into that 23-28 winning lead. Lorraine though they had stopped the Cardinals' drive when Hamilton tackled Ronnie Helm on the 2 and the ball squirted away. But the Cardinals remained in possession and Chorn did his victory trick.

Hackfeld raced 65 yards with the kickoff but the touchdown was erased with a clipping penalty.

Still, as the game ended, the Bulldogs were knocking on the scoring door against the Hermleigh 6.
