Boettcher Released As $60,000 Ransom Is Paid

Denison Willing To Resign Place

Temple Man Would Avoid Prolonged Court Discussion Over Highway Chairmanship

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, March 1.—F. L. Denison of Temple whose appointment to be highway commissioner by Governor Miriam A. Ferguson has caused a controversy betweeen the chief executive and the senate, has expressed a willingness to resign if the attorney general desides he is not legally qualified to hold the office.

James V. Allred, attorney general, today released the text of a letter received by him from Denison in which the appointee said if Allred "should decide that I am not legally qualified to hold the office, then I want to tender at once my resignation to Governor Ferguson, and thus avoid any prolonged discussion in the courts or otherwise."

Allred suggested to Denison that the matter be submitted to the courts in a friendly test suit, "but you stated that you would prefer to leave to this department the final decision as to the law."

Governor Ferguson was claiming the office for Denison in spite of action of the senate at two different times in refusing to confirm his appointment by a two-thirds majority vote. The chief executive contends only a majority vote was needed and that he received a majority. The senate's vote on confirmation was taken in executive session each time and no record of the division for and against has been made, or officially divulged. It was said the first vote was 19 to 11 and the second 18 to 13.

Saturday Will Mark The Final Day For Lame Duck Session; Emergency Proposals Being Given Right-Of-Way

Accept Compromise

Bankruptcy Revision Bill For Widespread Relief Is Given President; Cotton Bill Is Also Sent Up

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 1—With an anxious eye on its March 4 deadline, congress today bent resolutely to its task and sped toward enactment a variety of legislative proposals intended to aid hard-pressed individuals, railroads, farmers and municipalities.

To the White House went the drastic emergency bankruptcy revision bill for the relief of railroads, individuals and farmers and the Smith cotton measure to bolster the income of the southern farmer.

Awaits House Action

A while later, the senate swiftly approved the Hull-Walcott mortgage foreclosure moratorium bill to give small home owners a breathing spell against indebtedness. The measure now awaits house action.

Committees in both branches of congress moved nimbly toward a final decision on legislation providing for bond moratoriums by municipalities. Mayor Frank Murphy of Detroit said favorable action was "absolutely necessary."

Enactment Is Asked

In the house, Chairman Steagall of the banking committee asked quick enactment of his bank deposit guaranty bill. He expressed opinion there was little likelihood

Youth Demands Loan Of $1,000

(By The Associated Press)

ATLANTA, Ga., March 1.—A threat against the animals in Asa G. Candler, jr.'s private zoo if he refused to grant a $1,000 anonymous loan resulted in detention of a young man booked on suspicion as John Lee Butler here today.

Postal inspectors and city detectives said they arrested Butler last night when he picked up a package left under the seat in a theater on directions in a letter Candler received.

The letter said the $1,000 was desired for a girl friend who was very ill and that it would be repaid in three months with $500 interest. There was no signature but the officers said Butler admitted he was the writer.

"If you don't do this," the note read, "I will kill all the animals in your zoo to show you I am not bluffing."

Stocks Score Good Advance On Wednesday

Financial Markets Start The New Month By Giving Good Account Of Themselves And Starting Upward

Cotton Advances

Gain Of 45 To 60 Cents A Bale Registered While Wheat Also Recovers; Action Of Market Said Reassuring

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, March 1.—Financial markets started the new month today by giving a good account of themselves.

The stock market advanced for the second successive day, with a number of advances ranging from $1 to $2 a share. In bonds, there was some selling of U. S. governments, and corporate issues, in the main, held fairly steady. The dollar held up well in foreign exchange markets.

Cotton Advances

In commodities, cotton advanced 45 to 60 cents a bale, and wheat at Chicago recovered after a moderate sag, to close off 1-8 cent to up 1-2 cent a bushel.

Leading bankers said the action of the markets was highly reassuring, in view of banking restrictions in some states, and the strained situations in Germany and the far east.

In stocks, Eastman rose $2.50 to $5; 50; American Telephone $1 to $98; American Tobacco B, $1 to $54.50; General Motors, 75 cents to $10.75; General Foods $1.50 to $23.50; National Steel $1 to $16.25; New York Central, $1.37 to $16; U. S. Steel, 50 cents to $24.75. Trading was quiet. The market sagged a little in the middle of the day, but came up strongly in the last hour.

Payroll Of County For 1932 Jumps To $35,000

Two Officials Get $5,500 Maximum

TWO of Lubbock county's major office holders received maximum salaries of $5,500 in 1932, while for others the decline from the peak was as much as 41 per cent. The county received more than $10,000 in excess fees from office holders.

Annual reports of county and precinct office holders were filed yesterday in the district clerk's office, according to law. Four copies of the reports were made, one being filed with the district clerk, one being retained by the office holder, and one each being sent to the county auditor and to the state comptroller.

Fees Pass $71,000

Lubbock county fees in 1932 were in excess of $71,000, not including ex-officio salaries, the reports showed. Major county officers drew $31,743 in salaries, and precinct officials about $3,200. Deputy hire was the principal expense item, outside of salaries for the office holders. Deputies and assistants drew about $21,000.

The tax collector's office cleared the most money during the year, according to the report of Mrs. Lola M. and A. J. Clark. The joint report showed that $6,358.92 in excess fees, including $1,000 allowed for ex-officio salary, was returnable to the county. The sheriff's office, under Wade Hardy, was the only other officer making the maximum salary of $5,500. Hardy's rebate to the county, including $1,000 ex-officio salary, was $3,102.68.

Return Excess Fees

The county attorney, district clerk, tax assessor, county clerk, and county judge were entitled to $5,500 salaries, provided the fees of of-

Police Net Spread Over City As Denver Broker Returns To His Home After Long Absence

CHARLES BOETTCHER II
See Story To Right

Victim Says He Has No Idea Where He Was Held Captive Or Who His Abductors Were; Held In Basement

Kept Blindfolded

One Man Stood Guard Always; Says He Was Informed That He Was Going On Long Ride And Would Not Be Hurt

(By The Associated Press)

DENVER, Mar. 1.—Charles Boettcher 2nd, wealthy Denver broker kidnaped February 12, was released tonight by his abductors and returned to his home at 10:15 p. m.

He was brought to the back door of his ornate residence at 777 Washington street by a police car.

Reports Conflicting

It was from the driveway of this house he was taken by the kidnapers who carried him away after thrusting a note into the hands of his wife demanding $60,000 ransom.

Reports as to whether the ransom was paid were conflicting. The Denver Post said the money was paid. Police Chief Albert T. Clark said it was not. In Kansas City, Harry Haley, uncle of young Boettcher, said he was informed by telephone by his wife in Denver that the kidnapers had obtained the ransom. He said her authority was James Newton, a business partner of Boettcher.

Father Is Excited

Just after young Boettcher arrived at his home, his father, Claude K. Boettcher, arrived at his big stone mansion at 400 East Eighth street.

The elder Boettcher was excited and refused to answer questions. He hastened into the house accompanied by a friend.

Police upon learning of Boettcher's release rushed to the home to question him in hope of learning identity of the kidnapers and the place where he was held captive more than two weeks.

Police Net Spread

Determined not to let the kidnapers escape, police threw a cordon of officers around the city.

The kidnapers drove by automobile two nights and a day after abducting Boettcher Feb. 12 before making him prisoner in a house, Chief Albert T. Clark said tonight after a conference with the young broker.

The chief said whether the house was in Denver and certain other details made known to him could not be released at this time. The officer expressed his opinion, however, the abduction was a "legitimate kidnaping."

Goes On Long Ride

According to the story Chief Clark said Boettcher told him, the kidnapers told the young heir he was "going on a long ride," and that if he was "good" he would not be injured.

The abductors drove all night of the kidnaping, all the next day and most of the next night. Boettcher was blindfolded after the kidnapers' car had progressed only a block from the Boettcher home, scene of the abduction.

Boettcher remained in the house throughout his absence, Chief Clark said.

The wealthy society favorite was released on Gaylord street between

Main Defense Cracks Under Jap Offensive

Chinese Strongholds Go Over To Invaders; Brisk Fighting Reported; Jehol Commander Gives Up To Japs

(By The Associated Press)

SUICHUNG, Manchuria, March 1.—The two great Chinese strongholds which blocked the path to Jehol City, capital of Jehol province, fell to the Japanese invaders today.

Shortly after nightfall General Heijiro Hattori's 14th brigade entered the city of Lingyuan, only about 75 miles from the capital. Brisk fighting, the Rengo (Japanese) news agency correspondent reported, preceded the occupation.

Another City Taken

Earlier in the day the Japanese announced that the fourth cavalry brigade, commanded by Major Kennosuke Mogi, had seized Chihfeng, which is about 100 miles northeast of the capital.

Previous dispatches from the scene of operations said that main Chinese defense forces were concentrated at Lingyuan and Chihfeng. In Peiping great importance was attached to these two cities, as they are situated at key passes leading through the mountains to Jehol City. Some Peiping observers expected the Chinese to hold the two cities several weeks, as the terrain is excellent for defense.

Breakdown Expected

Only the southern fringe of the western mountain wastes of the province remained in Chinese hands tonight. Japanese leaders spoke of the possibility of a complete breakdown in the defenses which would enable them to complete the subjugation of the province before March 10, the army's memorial day, and thereby better the time set down in their offense schedule.

Chihfeng, transportation center of the province, fell without offering any resistance, the Japanese reported. They asserted that the oc-

Both pleaded guilty.

Chambless, who surrendered in Pampa, his home, after a trip to California, was assessed two years for theft of the automobile after the robbery of the Cedar Hill bank in Dallas county.

Faith In Model T Manifest But Officers Make Capture

Faith in Ford's model T was manifest Wednesday night when two New Mexico men, with liquor for delivery, attempted to outrun city and county officers.

The officers confiscated four half gallons of liquor and the car and arrested the men. The arrest was made on north Avenue H, after Bill Mabray, patrolman, and Deputy Sheriff Baxter Honey had fired one shot to stop the fleeing car. Others in the raiding party were Sheriff Tom Abel, Deputy Cap Moore, and Policemen Grady Harrist and H. B. Brown.

Man Held For Perpetrating Forgery On A Santone Bank

EDINBURG, March 1. (AP)—W. C. Steffins was held here tonight on an indictment charging him with perpetrating a forgery scheme by which he obtained $12,000 from a San Antonio bank.

The indictment alleged he took a note for $12,000 which was not put into effect, changed the name of the payee from a Brownsville bank to to himself and obtained the cash from the San Antonio bank.

Plot Of Civil War Is Bared

Communist Material Is Seized In Germany Calling For The Capture Of Berlin By Force After Election

(By The Associated Press)

BERLIN, March 1. — Hermann Goering, minister without portfolio in the Hitler government, declared in a speech tonight that the incendiary fire at the reichstag building Monday night was meant to inaugurate a series of violent acts culminating in a communist revolution.

For this reason, he asserted, the government was justified in promulgating its drastic decrees of the last two days, which have greatly increased penalties for treason and have placed Germany under virtual martial law.

Civil War Rumored

The communists, the cabinet minister said, have spread handbills calling for the formation of groups for so-called self-protection but really intended to provoke civil war.

Communist material which has been seized, he continued, disclosed forged orders to national socialist storm troopers to be in readiness after the election next Sunday to seize Berlin by force. Captain Goering interpreted this as an obviously intended threat to terrorize the population. He declared that the lives of communists and socialists were not endangered so long as they kept strictly within the law.

Huey Long Is Defendant In $500,000 Suit

Brigadier General Ansell Asks Damages From "Kingfish" As Result Of Word Attacks In Senate Chamber

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 1. — For having been called a scoundrel, crook and liar by Huey P. Long of Louisiana on the floor of the senate, Brigadier General Samuel T. Ansell, retired, today sued the self-styled "Kingfish" for $500,000 damages.

Long had said he would waive congressional immunity for his remarks, but the senator, informed of the suit, said his waiver applied to Louisiana courts only.

Past Upon Immunity

Ansell filed the action in the supreme court of the District of Columbia. Under the circumstances, this court or higher ones may have to pass upon whether Long actually did intend to waive immunity, and if so whether a member can by a declaration cast off the protection given him in debate by the constitution.

Ansell was counsel for the senate committee which inquired into the election to the senate of John H. Overton of Louisiana. He charged before that committee that Long's political machine controlled that election by widespread irregularities.

Denunciation Launched

Long, later opposing attempts to continue that investigations, launched into a personal denunciation of Ansell in the senate. He said that this former judge advocate general of the army was "run out of the army for fraud."

He said plenty more. Senator Bailey of North Carolina, from whose state Ansell hails though he practices law in the capital, demanded of Long whether he would waive his immunity.

The Congressional Record quotes Long in reply:

"No sir, I do not claim any privi-

Humble Cottage Becomes Scene Of Holocaust For A Mother And Children

Officials Pray For Clear Day

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 1—Everything is just about ready for the inauguration. The one thing lacking is assurance that the weather will be warm and bright.

A definite forecast will not be available from the weather bureau until Thursday, but the general outlook for the Middle Atlantic states is rain Friday or Saturday accompanied by a cold spell.

History records many rainy and snowy inaugural days. So there are anxious prayers as Washington prepares for the day of days, with thousands of visitors to make it a gala one.

Child Sobs Story Of Tragedy; Six Are Dead In Flames

(By The Associated Press)

TULSA, March 1. — The humble cottage of a cotton mill worker early today become the funeral pyre of Mrs. Ernest C. Kepner and five of her 10 children, despite the frantic efforts of the 34-year-old mother to save her offspring. The tragedy occurred in Sand Springs, a Tulsa suburb.

While the father and a 17-year-old son, Earl, were working in a Sand Springs cotton mill, the happy family retired early as usual, but the mother's screams, shortly before dawn heralded the holocaust that was to follow within a few terrifying moments. A wood stove was blamed for the tragedy.

Others Are Dead

Besides the mother, the dead included Robert and Charlotte, 13-year-old twins; Jewell, 11-year-old daughter; Wayne, 10, and Frank, 7, sons.

The story sobbed to newspapermen by Magel, an 18-year-old daughter, who with several others of the children escaped or were rescued, gave a terse but pitiful picture of the tragedy. She said:

Tragedy Is Described

"Last night, we went to bed early, just like we always do; everything was as it always has been. And this morning! Mother gone, and Bobbie and Charlotte and Jewel and Wayne and Frank,—and our home burned down."

Magel recounted details of the fire while consoling her 18-months old sister at the home of her grandmother. She is a high school junior and part-time cotton mill employe.

"Mother's screams awakened me. I smelled smoke, started into the front room and saw flames; I couldn't open the window so I broke the glass.

"Then I tried to pull someoue out —couldn't tell who in the smoke;

Acreage Slash Drawing Favor

Resolution Calling For A 30 Per Cent Reduction In The Cotton Acreage Favored By Governor's Committee

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, March 1.—A resolution calling for a 30 per cent reduction in acreage throughout the cotton producing area of the country was adopted by the governor's advisory committee on crop production loans here today.

The committee favored the reduction as a means of affording producers a better return. The resolution was adopted by unanimous vote.

Another Is Passed

Another resolution grew out of consideration of the department of agriculture 1933 regulations for crop production loans, by which a farmer must agree to a 30 per cent reduction of his cotton acreage in order to be eligible for a loan.

Loans from the Agricultural Credit corporation, although often made upon crop liens as security, do not require the decrease in acreage. The crop production loans are limited to $300 to an individual farmer, or $1,200 to a farmer with four or more tenants.

Texas Observes 97th Anniversary Of Independence From Rule Of Mexicans

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, March 1.—A full program of work had been mapped out for tomorrow by the Texas legislature, even though the day will mark the 97th anniversary of the declaration of Texas' independence from Mexico.

The legislature admittedly was face to face with one of the gravest crises in the state's history, many members comparing present times with those of pioneer days when Texas declared itself an independent nation and embarked upon the war of freedom under the leadership of Sam Houston.

Although the question of freedom from Mexico was paramount 97 years ago, the legislature was struggling with the problem of effecting economies to relieve its citizens of burdensome taxation and at the same time obtain sufficient revenue to overcome a heavy deficit and provide for operation of the state government.

There was no special observance of independence day planned at the capitol. All departments of the government, except the legislature, were ordered closed during the day. Public schools also were due to be closed.

Mrs. J. O. Haymes Entertains For Officers In Methodist Societies

The Woman's Angle

BY BLANCHE E. BEAN
Avalanche Woman's Editor

BY a sort of instinct, school children know when the time arrives to spin tops and start jumping the rope.

When I started to school little girls were very little different from those who are romping around over the Lubbock ward school grounds now. For with the first warm spring days this year, the little girls in pink and blue gingham dresses are out jumping ropes all over the school grounds. The same thing was happening then.

The same routine is followed, too, for rope jumping remains simply that. "High water," "hot pepper," "running in" backward and forward and all the other tricks are indulged in now as then. Rope jumping comes out every spring with the regularity that willows bud and the time is almost as certain. For while spring may turn a young man's fancy to love and other things, it prompts the small girl to hunt up a rope.

PROMISE OF COLOR

UNLESS some unusual weather happens along within the next few weeks, Lubbock is going to be a city of blossoms.

Tulips pushed through the top of the soil several weeks ago. Daffodils, hyacinths, crocusses and all the rest of the early bulbs are showing green sprouts and promising buds soon. Fruit tree buds are beginning to swell and violets are showing purple even though only a few green leaves have sprouted since the cold weather in February.

The yellow star flower was in blossom when cold weather blighted blossoms a few weeks ago.

Unless another freeze nips these buds, Lubbock should be a city of color before March has passed by.

SEEKING ADVENTURE

SUE VINSON, who writes over at Childress, is disillusioned over the discovery that adventure and romance are not confined to remote and ancient cities or countries, but are things that happen to people everywhere in just ordinary life.

The person who is discreet and foresighted at home probably will find no adventure in a foreign land, she has discovered, while his brother who recklessly gets into jams at home might find himself involved in almost any sort of a scrape abroad.

So, since we are all perennially seeking adventure and romance, that probably explains why so many people weave thoughtlessly in and out of traffic down a crowded street; why others dash heedlessly into through streets without slowing down for even a casual glance at the approaching traffic; why people are so willing to contract debts that can't reasonably be repaid in a life time; way people commit the thousand and one reckless acts every day of the year.

Lacking romance abroad, we suppose, these people are finding adventure at home.

ON REDUCED INCOME

DURING a time when many families are living on reduced incomes, the nutrition experts of the government are urging people to make the most of their money when buying food. They have issued a chart giving the necessities for each family every day and week.

At every meal, according to the nutritionists, there should be milk for children and bread for all. Every day there should be cereals in porridge or puddings, potatoes, tomatoes (or oranges) for children, a green or yellow vegetable, a fruit or additional vegetable, milk for all. Two to four times a week there should be tomatoes for all, dried beans and peas or peanuts, eggs (especially for children), lean meat, fish or poultry, or cheese.

Man Moves Into Local Home Recently Occupied By C. C. Lindsey; Craves No Bombs

Samuel S. Rosenthal, manager of a Lubbock clothing store, Wednesday was moving household goods to the house formerly occupied by C. C. Lindsey at 2017 Main street.

Rosenthal publicly announced he was to occupy the former Lindsey residence, in the yard of which a bomb was found February 11. Cold weather evidently had kept the bomb, a time-contraption, from exploding. Lindsey is a member of Lindsey theaters, inc., owners here of two theaters, both of which have been bombed.

The clothing store manager, Rosenthal, asked that the press announce his occupancy of the Main street home. Rosenthal wants no bombs, and evidently feared plotters otherwise would not know who lived at 2017 Main street.

So that people everywhere could prove for themselves the quality and amazing economy of Vicks Vora-tone—five million trial bottles were supplied to druggists below cost—a 25c value for 10c! The demand, however, has been enormous and many druggists report that their stocks are exhausted. If your own druggist's supply has gone, do not hesitate to get the regular 10-ounce size of Vicks Antiseptic. It is an even bigger bargain.

In addition, Vicks Antiseptic has this unique advantage over other quality antiseptics. Born in a depression year, it is priced accordingly—big 10-ounce bottle—a usual 75c value—for only 35c. adv.

Petersburg Is Banquet Host

New Officers Of Petersburg Chamber Of Commerce Take Office At Annual Gathering Tuesday Evening

(By Staff Correspondent)

PETERSBURG, March 1.— With probably the largest crowd that ever attended a similar affair here, new officers of the Petersburg Chamber of Commerce were inducted into office in the high school gymnasium here last night. Approxamately 200 persons were in attendance, including delegations from Lubbock, Abernathy and Plainview.

Jack D. Wester, superintendent of schools, presided as toastmaster and started off the administration of E. R. "Hoot" Gibson, the new president, with a bang. Other officers named were: Clyde Martin, reelected vice-president; Royce Goodwin, secretary, and John Gregory and Roscoe Reynolds, directors. Mr. Gibson, editor of the Petersburg Journal, succeeds W. C. Foote, president the past two years; Mr. Goodwin succeeds Albert Clubb and Gregory and Reynolds succeed Charles Shuler and R. A. Jefferies.

Women Serve Meal

Women of Petersburg both served the meal and decorated the school gymnasium and auditorium. Nearness of Texas Independence day gave that tone to the decorations, which included numerous "Lone Star" flags on the tables and on the stage the six flags under which Texans have served. The menu-program was a folder cut in the shape of the state, with the red, white and blue arrangement.

While the audience was filing into the room music was furnished by an orchestra and during the program there were duets and quartets by local singers.

Visitors Introduced

Rev. J. W. Partin, new pastor of the Baptist church, gave the invocation, followed by the audience singing, "The Eyes of Texas." The toastmaster introduced the visitors, including Grady Shipp, secretary of the Plainview Chamber of Commerce and Mayor R. P. Smyth and ten other Plainview residents: Ray Pinson and former Mayor F. W. Struve of Abernathy and three others and George W. Dupree. Durwood H. Bradley and Garnet Reeves of Lubbock.

Robert Elliott, member of the senior class, introduced the class of 11 others as special guests.

Welcome Extended

R. A. Jefferies, banker, in extending a welcome to the visitors, said for himself and Petersburg, "we are more than happy to have you here with us tonight." Miss Billie Eaves gave a reading, "Gertie Gets Golf."

Taking his cue from the decorations of the banquet hall, George Dupree traced the history of Texas "under six flags," paid a glowing tribute to the pioneers and the heroes of the Alamo and also the rank and file of Texans of today. "This is the only state in the Union that has existed under six flags," Mr. Dupree said in calling to mind the flags of France, Spain, Mexico, the Texas Republic, the Stars and Stripes and the Stars and Bars of the Confederacy.

MARKET REPORTS

Cotton

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, March 1. (AP) — Cotton values improved today on completion of congressional action on the Smith crop curtailment bill, closing at or near the top with net gains of 7 to 12 points after early uncertain fluctuations.

The opening was firm as Liverpool cables were a shade better than due. Private cables reported scattered selling including Bombay, offset by local support. Manchester cabled business was fair but India trade nervous owing to decline in raw cotton.

The market turned firmer in the afternoon on news that the senate had concurred in the amendments to the Smith bill. Stocks also were firmer and helped the advance which carried prices to new highs near the end with March at 5.96, May at 6.05 and December at 6.46 or 11 to 13 points above the lows. The close was steady and at or near the top, March showing a net gain of 12 points and May and July 10 points each.

Liverpool is due on New Orleans tomorrow 2 to 3 penny points up.

Port receipts 10,938, for week 65,109, for season 7,206,650, last season 8,556,562. Exports 18737 for week 64,494, for season 5,557,351 last season 5,871,840. Port stock 4,582,527, last year 4,735,706. Combined shipboard stock at New Orleans Galveston and Houston 170,612, last year 188,469. Spot sales at southern markets 6,10, last year 20,148.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, March 1. (AP)—Cotton advanced about 50 cents a bale today, partly in sympathy with the firmer stock market.

May closed at 6.06 with the general market closing very steady at net advances of 9 to 12 points.

The market became more active in the late trading. Losses from the early advance were just about recovered with near months making new highs for the day. March sold to 5.98, and July to 6.20. Closing quotations were within a point or two of the best.

Cable advices from Shanghai to the New York cotton exchange service said that owing to the North China conflict, practically no yarn business was doing and stocks accumulating with prices poor, and that Japanese owned mills in China were considering curtailment.

Fertilizer tag sales for six southern states in February were estimated at 166,000 tons compared with 183,000 last year and 284,000 two years ago.

Liverpool cables reported a small market with traders awaiting clarification of conditions aboard. Exports today 18,737 making 5,645,385 so far this season. U. S. port stocks 4,634,407.

Grains

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, March 1. (AP)—Suggestions of huge abandonment of damaged United States winter wheat acreage lifted grain prices late today, more than offsetting earlier market downturns.

One leading private crop expert, who issued an estimate ahead of the majority of unofficial summaries due tomorrow, indicated an abandonment of 6,257,000 acres of wheat in Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas. This would be about 28 per cent loss from the government forecast of Dec. 1.

Wheat closed firm at 1-8 off to 1-2 up, compared with yesterday's finish, corn unchanged to 1-8 higher, oats varying from a shade decline to 1-8 advance, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 5 cents.

THIRD TIME A CHARM

HOUSTON, Tex. — Perseverence mixed with a desire to defraud, gained a man $18.50 from D. Grossman, dry goods store owner. Police, piecing together reports from three different sources, discovered that the man had tried to pass a bogus $20 bill at two different stores, but each time he was rejected because the bill was a poor imitation. Grossman, however, gave the man $18.50 change when he made a small purchase.

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

BY JOHN L. COOLEY
Associated Press Financial Writer

NEW YORK, March 1. (AP)—Stocks made it two rallies in a row today, edging upward toward the close after early unsettlement and finishing with an average gain that virtually duplicated yesterday's.

With rails again leading, it looked as though passage of the bankruptcy bill by the house had given sentiment a flip that was sufficient to offset further banking restrictions and evidence of trade curtailments incident thereto.

During the afternoon Wall street heard that Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Woodin were to confer on general financial affairs; and speculative quarters seemed disposed to adopt a more cheerful attitude toward immediate prospects.

Covering shorts found supplies of stocks more plentiful than yesterday, with the result that extreme gains were moderate. Volume, at 789,641 shares, was the smallest in a week. Bonds, except for U. S. governments, tended to stady. Federals yielded substantial fractions in rather active trading.

There's A Big Difference

WITNESS a little drama. There is a marked-down sale of men's clothes. Every suit is a bargain, and the store is filled with people who wish to buy—nearly all of them men. Look around you; you'll see it, right here in Lubbock.

A few men stand near the counters, making selections. Many more stand behind them, impatient but well-mannered, awaiting their turn. Any one of them had rather miss a bargain than make a scene.

A dozen or more women are present, halving in two husbands or sons. These dear creatures, impatient of delay, calmly plough through the crowds of waiting men, seize piles of garments and return in triumph to their male property. If they need a clerk to answer questions, they seize one by the arm as he scurries past.

In short, they get service and get it promptly while mere men cool their heels.

An unthinking observer would say: "These women are superior to men. They get what they want."

The truth is that if any man should begin to elbow his fellows aside in complete disregard of the rules of fairness and good sportsmanship somebody would disarrange his face. Men are courteous to one another because courtesy is the first part of discretion.

A woman can, in the language of our day, get away with murder—solely because she is a woman—solely because men of our day, almost without exception, aspire to be gentlemen, and the bedrock of gentility is chivalry.

Chivalry is a ball and chain in competition. Where women are concerned, any man who is reasonably decent pulls his punches.

Eventually women may boss the world by reason of sheer merit. But until chivalry is dead they won't get a chance to show what they can do in a fair fight.

That is, if the men have their way!

THE RAILROAD REPORT

The report on the state of the country's railroads prepared by the special committee appointed by large investors in railroad securities is important not because it contains anything new in the way of findings of recommendations but because it lends weight to what has already been said. It was not the purpose of the committee to discover but rather to codify and analyze.

Two general principles are set forth in the report. They are that government regulation should not discriminate against the railroads and the railroads must make further economies and strive for greater efficiency.

The committee is opposed to government operation of the railroads, to excessive government regulation and to regulation which gives competitors of the railroads an undue advantage. The report argues that buses and railroads should be subject to the same regulations, but doesn't disclose whether the committee went into the question of no regulation. The railroads have asked for bus regulation whereas less railroad regulation might be the best thing for everybody concerned.

Railroad economy, in the opinion of the committee, must proceed along the lines of consolidation, suspension of unprofitable branch lines, wider use of the bus to "feed" the railroad lines or to supplant them, elimination of ruinous competition between parallel lines, and financial reorganization.

HISTORY OF CHEAP MONEY

When and if the United States debases its currency, let it do it in manly fashion, without trying to deceive itself about the object. There is but one excuse for currency deflation and that is to repudiate in part the debts people owe. To circumvent creditors. To carry the country through bankruptcy without calling a spade a spade. How much the currency would be deflated depends on how much debtors want to pay on the dollar.

An Iowa farm editor laments because England "played us for a bunch of suckers" by going off the gold standard. That may be, but, while that may have been the British game, the real suckers were the English themselves. They struggle in their own trap.

Currency deflation is no cure-all. It may look fuzzy and warm to some but that is merely to lure the unwary victim. Underneath are spines which can be cruelly sharp.

Is there any country in the world better off today for having gone off the gold standard or for having debased its currency by other methods? The United States should be guided by the answer to that question. If it can be answered in the affirmative, then it is an experiment the country might safely try. If investigation discloses that deflation has never effected a cure, then it would be folly to plunge heedlessly into the same bottomless pit.

Foremost On Economics

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, March 1.—Senator Cordell Hull of Tennessee, who will step into the secretary of state's post March 4, unquestionably is America's foremost authority on economics—either nationally or internationally considered.

Cordell Hull

As head of the administration's department of foreign affairs, he naturally will deal with them, during the next four years, mainly internationally.

However, he has had much to do in shaping domestic fiscal policies.

Long a member of the house of representatives' ways and means committee, in which all taxation measures originate, he was author of the income tax system of 1913, of the revised act of 1916 and of the federal inheritance tax of the same year.

Expert On Tariff

On tariff legislation he is Washington's premier expert.

The high import levies of recent years — coupled with other countries' imitation of the American system, the growth of international exchange inequalities and the erection of a maze of trade barriers and obstructions—he regards as primarily responsible for the world depression.

Only by their removal, he argues, can prosperity be restored.

Even though war debts may be satisfactorily adjusted, he adds, of what avail can it be?—if commerce is still to be prevented by an impassable wall at every frontier or port of entry?

As a beginning, he urges a 10 per cent reciprocal tariff cut, with the United States, as, he frankly says, the first offender, taking the lead in negotiations.

That a move in this direction is to be the Tennesseean's initial undertaking in his new position there can be no doubt; he has been for several years on intimate terms with the president-elect, and that he was picked by the latter as the ideal chief assistant to conduct the movement toward exchange stabilization and trade restoration is beyond controversy.

High tariff apostles may dispute the soundness of the senator's reasoning, but they are agreed that a better qualified representative could not have been found to present the program he advocates to foreign governments, in an effort to enlist their co-operation.

The Tennesseean's mastery of his subject not only is complete; his patent fairness and consideration for mutual rights and interests is admittedly such as to win the confidence of the plenipotentiaries with whom it will be necessary for him to deal.

His Personality

The senator's appeal, as a personality, is not at all to the emotions. There is absolutely nothing of the spell-binder in his make-up. He addresses himself dispassionately to the intelligence of those with whom he has business to transact, and carries conviction by force of sheer reason—though he is no mere cold-thinking machine, but one of the most amiable and likeable of individuals.

In appearance he is the typical "lanky Tennesseean"—very tall, spare, white-haired, clean-cut and conspicuously handsome, with a dignified old-fashioned southern elegance of manner.

He was mildly a "presidential possibility" in 1924, again in 1928, a third time in 1932—but his geography is not right for the present generation. He has every other presidential attribute.

WOODIN A "GOLD BUG"

William H. Woodin, who is to hold the treasury portfolio in the Roosevelt cabinet, is practically unknown among politicians. At least for the present he unmistakably is being classified by them as "big business'" representative in the new official family. Currency expansionists (they are numerous on Capitol hill) refer to him as, probably, what was known as a "gold bug" in the 90's. Union labor's spokesmen point significantly to the fact that the American Car & Foundry company, of which he is head, is an "open shop" industry.

BYRD TO BE SENATOR

Considering that Senator Claude A. Swanson is Senator Carter Glass' senior in the upper house of congress by nearly a decade, it may seem odd that Senator Glass has rather overshadowed his Virginia colleague as a notability among the nation's solons. Nevertheless, it is a fact that Glass has obscured him somewhat. Not that Swanson is a senatorial nonentity. Still, it is common talk that the navy department calls him less for himself alone than to create a senate vacancy for ex-Governor Byrd. Glass having chosen to keep his seat for his own occupancy.

SWANSON QUALIFIED

SENATOR SWANSON is well equipped to direct the navy's destinies, anyway. He has long been ranking Democratic member of the upper house committee on naval affairs, and also of the committee on foreign relations—which have their bearing or probles of sea strength. He is a smallish man, with a bristling mustache and an aggressive manner; a committee worker rather than an orator or debater.

FARLEY AND POWER

Aside from Chairman Farley, who, of course, was slated, while last year's campaign was still raging, to be postmaster general, if Governor Roosevelt won it, Senator Thomas J. Walsh unquestionably has been assured of a cabinet post as head of the justice department, longer than any of the president-elect's other selections. The assumption is that the coming administration wants him especially to clear the ground for the launching of its power policies.

WALSH IS LEGALISTIC

Walsh is tolerably satisfactory as a choice for the attorney generalship, to the progressives. For all that, they do not regard him as essentially one of their group. He is intensely legalistic, and while they greatly admire his thoroughness when his ideas chance to coincide with theirs, his insistence upon technicalities often angers them almost past endurance.

What Other People Think

The decadence of its navy is a sign of the decadence of a nation.—Rear Admiral William A. Moffett, chief of the navy bureau of aeronautics.

The day of the alibi of the tired business man seems to be in its twilight. For generations he has kept our national intellectual status at low average. His alibi—no time for cultural aspects of life—is about to be snatched from him.—Miss Fannie Hurst, writer.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

SHEILA SHAYNE, 18, whose parents were well known vaudeville entertainers, is a dancer. After weeks out of a job she is hired to substitute for DAISY GLEASON, another dancer, who has sprained her ankle. While rehearsing at JOE PARIS' song shop Sheila meets DICK STANLEY and TREVOR LANE, both rich. Dick is much attracted by Sheila and urges Lane to include her in the program of entertainment at a party he is giving. Sheila declines to come but later accepts.

At the party she meets GORDON MANDRAKE, well known producer. She sees Dick frequently after that. Daisy returns to the show and Sheila again hunts a job. Then Mandrake offers her a part in a new play. Rehearsals begin at once at once. Sheila becomes friendly with JIM BLAINE, one of the principals in the play.

They go to Atlantic City for the tryout. There newspapers uncover the fact that Jim is the son of a wealthy family and has gone on the stage in opposition to his father's wishes.

MARION RANDOLPH, the star, becomes jealous of the praise Sheila receives from critics and therefore Sheila is discharged. Dick invites her to tea, telling her Mandrake will be there also.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XVI

The second important happening of the day came only two hours later. When Dick Stanley put down the telephone after talking to Sheila he walked rapidly across the living room, lighted a cigaret, tossed it aside within five minutes. Then he sank impatiently into a chair and called Trevor Lane's number.

"It's a bad break all right," Trevor replied when Dick had told him how Sheila had left the new show. "It doesn't mean that she wasn't a success, though. That little Tillie Lee who has the part now can't compare with Sheila. But Marion Randolph is bound to have her own way! Two pearly tears from those blue eyes and she could practically put Mandrake himself out!"

Dick interrupted to say precisely what he thought of that producer.

"There's no use taking it that way," Trevor assured him. "And if you want to help Sheila you won't even mention this to Mandrake. You say they're both coming to tea? Well, suppose I drift in on the party?"

He did just that.

Nothing was said about Sheila's departure from the cast of "When Lights Are Low." Sheila drank her tea, looking wide-eyed and serious, smiled and answered desultory questions. She even sang a little when Trevor asked her to sing.

While she and Dick at the far end of the room were hunting through sheets of music for the song they wanted Trevor talked to Mandrake.

Sheila was never to learn just what was said in that conversation but next morning she was again in rehearsal. The part was in the road show company of a Broadway hit. This time the contract was signed. Sheila's flat little purse contained the precious document when she met Dick after the rehearsal.

"And that's that!" he said, folding the document after he had read it and handing it back to her. "Let's celebrate!"

There was another rehearsal at 7 which would end an hour later since most of the cast were playing in another show about to close.

Until 7 Dick and Sheila drove. She had a new job. He had been hard at work on his play and only the night before had reached the turning point when every part of his drama seemed to dovetail.

"We're going to have a lot of fun this year together," he said. His eyes, straight ahead on the pavement, turned for an instant to meet hers.

"But I won't be here! I thought you knew, Dick. It's the road company I'm going in!"

"The road company?" His face was blank. "But, good Lord, Sheila, you can't take it then! The road company! Why, that means traveling—"

"Of course it does," Sheila put in. "And I love it."

He turned toward her a face so filled with dismay that her own expression softened. Her hand crept out on the wheel to pat his own.

"But, Sheila, you can't!" he insisted. "Oh, please — I want you here!"

"I've been here all the time, Dick," she replied uncertainly.

It was so exactly like a man to suddenly discover that a girl was indispensable just when she was leaving.

"I know you have, honey. But somehow I didn't know how much you mean to me until now."

They had driven far up the drive and were nearing Inspiration Point. It was barely 6:30. By choosing the least crowded thoroughfares he could have her back at the hall where the rehearsal was to be held in plenty of time.

The sky across the Palisades was rosy. The silver roughness of the river reflected every shade of the sunset. The park, high on the rocks, twinkled uncertainly with diamond-like lights, growing brighter and brighter as the sky slowly faded.

Sheila straightened. Dick mustn't tell her now that he loved her. It wouldn't do. Both of them had so many other things to think about.

But did he really love her? Did she want him to tell her so even if it were true?

"I think we should turn back, Dick," she told him, withdrawing her hand. "It's getting late."

"Just as you say." He did not raise his eyes.

Swiftly the car skimmed down the drive, crossed into the park at 110th street and picked up the winding road through the trees. They reached 45th street at 7 o'clock promptly.

"I'll be waiting when you've finished," Dick said.

Sheila ran up the stairs, her cheeks burning. Was Dick going to ask her to marry him? If she agreed what would they live on? Dick had said that he was the poor member of the family. He meant poor, no doubt, according to Trevor Lane's standards—not her own. Dick could hardly rent that lovely penthouse without a fair income. True enough, his home wasn't anything like the palatial quarters where Trevor Lane lived. Trevor's apartment was a show place—a perfect setting for the sort of parties he gave. Dick's rooms were cozy with deep, comfortable chairs, dark wood, his books, his fireplace, his cluttered tables. Dick was a fine fellow, a real friend—but did she want him to fall in love with her?

As Sheila took her place on the stage she tried to put all this from her mind. The chorus was going through its paces. Weary girls in practice suits, always willing, always cheerful under the most grueling, tortuous drilling. They looked little more than children. These girls received little pay and for that little they worked long hours, endured the bitterest critical comments from sarcastic stage managers.

Sheila watched the chorus stepping through its routine. Then the ensemble fell back against the wings and she fluttered into the open space.

"That's right!" the dance director nodded, seating himself but not raising his eyes from Sheila's feet. "See that, girls? Watch how Shayne does that step!"

The girls attained respectful attention. Black curls bent to blend frizzes and nodded approval. All eyes were on Sheila's flying feet.

Countless times the chorus went through the routine. Countless times Sheila fluttered down among them, smiling, slowing a step and repeating it for their edification.

Eight o'clock came. Half the chorus left abruptly, looking anxiously at their cheap little wrist watches. To be five minutes late might mean the loss of a pay check.

Sheila stayed on. She was not in another show, as the dance director well knew. She could hear the horn of Dick's car honking impatiently through the open window giving on the street. Then she heard the car draw away to round the block. A traffic policeman had been responsible for that no doubt! Presently she heard the car pulling up to the curb again.

Nine o'clock came. Nine-fifteen. Sheila remained fluttering, weaving, twirling, her hair flopping, her heart pounding with fatigue, her face slightly flushed but her smile and her eyes serene.

At 9:30, on Dick's fifth round of the block, she appeared in the doorway. She smiled gratefully and stepped into the seat beside the wheel.

"Tired?" he asked.

"Terribly. The air will do me good, though. So will a little food. Have you eaten?"

Dick looked toward her in mild rebuke. "We're going to have dinner together," he said gently. "Now and always, Sheila! Give up this crazy road idea, won't you, and stay here? Please!"

Eight Members Of Tech Cage Squad To Get Letters

Seven Veteran Cagers Return For Next Year

Captain Dunn Only Graduating Member Of Team; Led Outfit To First Conference Title In Successful Season

Eight men who helped give Texas Tech its most successful basketball season and won Tech's first basketball championship were honored yesterday when the athletic council accepted the recommendations of Coach Dell Morgan and awarded varsity letters.

Cy LaMaster of Perryton also was voted a letter sweater for his services as manager of the club.

Of the eight letter men, only one will be lost to Coach Morgan through graduation next year. He is Captain Harvey Dunn, active guard, who piloted his team to its first Border Athletic conference championship and through fourteen victories during the season.

Won 14 Games

The Matadors lost seven games, finishing the season with a percentage of .667. Four of the losses were sustained at the hands of the West Texas Teachers Buffaloes, who swept the Lubbock series Monday and Tuesday nights after winning two games at Canyon. Although roundly outplayed and outscrapped by the hustling Matadors, the Buffs took advantage of superior height to take both games here.

In the course of 21 basketball games, the Matadors amassed a total of 758 points as against 643 for their opponents. Outside the West Texas Teachers defeats, the Matadors lost one game to the House of David quintet, one to the Southwestern Oklahoma Teachers and one to the Southeastern Oklahoma teachers.

Six Games, Six Victories

One of the most sensational winning streaks occurred on the road, when the Matadors played and won six games on six consecutive nights, cinching the Border conference championship with a double victory over the University of New Mexico in the final games of that trip.

Players who shall receive letter sweaters as a token of their work on the painted court this season are Captain Harvey Dunn of Ralls, guard; Alvin Crews of Wilson, forward; Polk Robison of Lubbock, center; Wilson Gilmore of Olney, forward; Lawrence Priddy of Gainesville, guard; Truman Green of Portales, guard; J. C. Thomas of Holliday, guard; and Henry Loter of Kirkland, forward.

Morgan Is Pleased

"We'll miss Dunn very much next year," Coach Morgan commented last night, but we ought to have a pretty fair team anyway. Guess they did pretty well for a bunch of youngsters. We won't have any more basketball until about the middle of the spring term. Then we'll have some spring basketball training, calling in some of the best looking prospects from the freshman team to work out with the varsity men."

Crews and Loter have one more year on the team, all the others, with the exception of Dunn, have two more seasons.

Orcutt Leads Favorites In First Round East Coast Play

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., March 1. (AP)—Despite high winds that prevented low scoring favorites, led by Maureen Orcutt, defending champion, swept through the first round of the Florida East Coast women's golf tournament today with easy victories.

Miss Orcutt encountered real opposition for a time in the youthful Mary Rogers, Jacksonville, who was only one down at the turn. Superior form enabled Miss Orcutt to increase her lead on the second nine, however, and she finished with a 3 and 2 victory.

Kathleen Carnham, one of the English entries, who captured the tournament medal with an 81, trounced Mrs. Marion Harbaugh, Cleveland, with an easy 5 and 4 win, after being three up at the turn.

Diana Fishwick, British women's closed and French open champion, and Barbara Pyman, another English player, also marched to victory, as did Miss Frances Williams, De-Leon Springs, Fla., who won the recent South Atlantic tournament at Ormond Beach.

THE TABLES TURNED

EL PASO.—The tables were turned on a burglar who tried to rob a cleaning shop of a complete outfit of clothing. The man had disrobed preparatory to donning a new suit and other clean clothing when he was surprised by the watchman. Not having time to dress, the man fled from the shop in the nude.

DOUBLE CHECK GETS $7

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. —J. B. Johnson, street car conductor, had no doubt that he had been robbed. A negro got on his car and, pointing a gun at Johnson, told him to keep the car going while he searched his pocket. The negro got $7. At the next stop, another negro entered the car and also went through the motorman's pockets.

The first American almanac was published by William Pierce of Cambridge in 1639.

Major League Baseball Camps Swing Into Spring Activities

Hold-Out Troubles Hang Over Several Important Clubs As Big League Players Trek To Spring Camping Grounds

By ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, March 1.—The major league baseball caravans deployed today on a widespread front, marking the full swing of another spring training campaign, and only four of the 16 clubs still appeared to be harassed seriously by holdouts in the rear guard.

So long as this list constitutes such notable figures as Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig of the Yankees, Wes Ferrell of the Indians, Frank Frisch and Dazzy Vance of the Cardinals and Hack Wilson of the Dodgers, it will be a major problem in front-office tactics.

Bugle Call Brings 'Em

Nevertheless, it is significant that the actual sounding of the bugle calls at camps scattered from Catalina to Miami has prompted many of the balkiest troops to snap into line.

For example, Charles (Red) Lucas, iron-man of the Cincinnati pitching staff, has come to terms after shouting defiance. George Earnshaw, beguiled on the Pacific Coast into thinking it looked "like a breeze" for the Yankees again, not only has signed with Connie Mack but says he has turned over a new leaf.

The players holding out the longest may fare the worst when it comes down to the actual signing of documents, according to information obtained by the Associated Press from sources close to baseball's inner sanctums. Prospects for another tax "in the red," tax problems and other worries have combined to convince the magnates they must now trim expenses even more sharply than they first figured.

No Compromises In Sight

It seems certain now the Yankees will make no compromise offers to Ruth, Gehrig or their other star holdouts, Bill Dickey, Red Ruffing and perhaps Tony Lazzeri. The understanding is that Colonel Jacob Ruppert, when he makes his annual visit about the middle of March to the Yankee camp at St. Petersburg, not only will make no overtures to Ruth but has no idea now of raising his original offer of $50,000 for a 1933 contract.

The salary of Commissioner Landis having been reduced voluntarily to $40,000 and the scale dropping rapidly in every department of the business, the feeling is that the Babe will be lucky to draw as much as $50,000.

Brooklyn hasn't decided yet whether it will even allow holdouts to report to camp at Miami, said Secretary Dave Driscoll. However, he added Joseph A. Gilleaudeau, one of the owners, would go south soon and if necessary deal personally with such recalcitrants as Hack Wilson, Joe Stripp, Al Lopez and Dan Taylor.

Cleveland and the St. Louis Cardinals are the only other clubs with serious holdout problems. The Senators, Browns and White Sox may also have a few difficulties to straighten out but they do not seem serious now. The Athletics, Red Sox, Giants and Pirates all have signed.

When picked from the tree the coffee berry looks like a red cherry, each berry containing beans.

Yankees Together First Time Since Winning Pennant

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 1. (AP)—The New York Yankees got got together today for their first drill since they won the world's championship last fall. Eleven pitchers and two catchers were on hand. Two more moundsmen, Vernon Gomez and Wiley Moore, failed to turn up as expected while Pitcher Charles Ruffing and Catcher Bill Dickey remained away to argue over salary terms.

The first practice was light, consisting of a few limbering up exercises, some informal batting and fielding and bunting game. Don Brennan and Walter Brown were notably overweight.

REDS HEAD FOR TAMPA

CINCINNATI, O., March 1. (AP) — An advance guard of the Cincinnati Reds started for Tampa, Fla., and spring training today, cheered by word that "Red" Lucas, ace of the Redland pitching staff, will sign his contract and join them there.

Word Lucas would sign reached Manager Donie Bush from Nashville, barely five minutes before the train bearing the advance guard left Cincinnati, and details of the agreement were not revealed. Lucas had protested a salary cut of $2,500 after what he considered his best year in baseball, and after taking a $2,500 cut the year before. If the cut stands, his salary is $11,500 or thereabouts.

Still to be signed as the squad went south were Joe Morrissey of the infield, "Dutch" Henry and Larry Benton, pitchers, Taylor Douthitt of the outfield, and "Big Jim" Bottomley.

PHILS GET ULTIMATUM

WINTER HAVEN, Fla., March 1. (AP)—Three unsigned pitchers today received from President Gerald Nugent of the Philadelphia Nationals announcement the club had gone as far as possible in the matter of salaries.

The three hurlers — Flint Rhem, Ed Holley, and John Berly — are among the 14 pitchers on hand in the spring training camp. Holley is the latest to line up with the unsigned players — making it clear, however, that he is not a holdout.

Only "Jumbo" Jim Elliott was missing from he battery roster as Manager Burt Shotton looked over his flock. Shotton said, however, that Elliott was "around someplace," and probably would be on hand for the team's first workout tomorrow.

TIGERS AT SANTONE

SAN ANTONIO, March 1. (AP) — Manager Bucky Harris of the Detroit Tigers, arriving here tonight with a contingent of battermen, was met by a dozen more here, and announced the first workout for tomorrow morning. It will consist merely of limbering exercises.

The main squad is not due here until March 6. The present battery lineup consists of the following pitchers: Tommy Bridges, Orlin Collier, Carl Fischer, Isidore Goldstein, Luke Hamlin, Arthur Herring, Elon Hogsett, Fred Marberry, Buck Marrow, Frank Nekola, Lhnwood Rowe, Victory Sorrell, George Uhle and Whitlow Wyatt.

The catchers in camp are: Ray Hayworth, Eugene Desautels and Frank Rieber.

HERMAN'S THUMB HURT

AVALON, SANTA CATALINA Island, Calif., March 1. (AP)—Babe Herman the Chicago Cubs' new outfielder, was put on the inactive list today with a blister on his left thumb. Too much hitting of the pitchers' offernigs was Manager Charley Grimm's diagnosis of the case, but he will be ready for the exhibitions with New York this week end.

ALL GIANTS IN CAMP

FORT MYERS, Fla., March 1. (AP) —In the first practice session of his Philadelphia Athletics, Connie Mack gave the players a "pep" talk today in which he declared he wanted a "hustling ball club."

The entire squad—28 players are in camp—then went out and in two practice sessions gave him a speedy exhibition.

Only one pitcher, Merritt "Sugar" Cain was missing from the first day's workout, but Mack said he is expected by tomorrow morning.

Baseball Club To Concentrate On Fund Drive

One Thousand $1 Shares To Be Placed On Sale Today; Must Be Sold By Sunday To Show Definite Organization

Officers of the Lubbock Baseball association and several committee members met last night, studied the ledger and discovered that the black ink department needed several more flourishes of the pen before Lubbock can definitely enter a club in the West Texas-New Mexico league next Sunday.

League officials, called together by President Wilbur C. Hawk, will meet at Amarillo Sunday afternoon for the purpose of forming a definite organization and posting forfeit money for the season.

The Lubbock treasury shows enough cash on hand to post the forfeit bond, but there lacks something like a third of the financial goal.

As a result of last night's session, it was decided to "go after" the stock purchasers with renewed determination and show enough cash on the barrell head Sunday to say that Lubbock not only will be a member of the league but will be a strong contender for the baseball championship.

Dalrymple Makes Plea

President John Dalrymple made a plea for more workers last night.

"We want a big bunch of men, interested in baseball and in seeing baseball made a success here to meet with us tonight at 8 o'clock," Mr. Dalrymple said.

The meeting will be held in Room 212, Hotel Lubbock.

It is necessary that the Lubbock club raise approximately $1,000 before Sunday in order to make a favorable report at the meeting in Amarillo.

To Sell $1 Shares

It was voted last night to place on sale one thousand shares of stock at $1 per share. The shares will represent that much property in the Lubbock Baseball association, and holders will not be assessed on the stock.

All cash taken in now will be held in escrow until there is enough to assure a complete season.

From Amarillo comes word that Albuquerque, El Paso and Amarillo are ready to post their forfeit bonds and start training seasons. It is also understood that a six-club league will be organized, since Pampa and Roswell have indicated anxiety to become associated with the league.

Oliver and Grant Stenger, brothers, are rival high school football coaches of LaGrange and Wheaton, Ill., neighboring cities. They broke even in their 1930 and 1931 games.

About 1,500 wild turkeys raised by the Missouri game department and 500 others purchased will be liberated in the state.

On football trips Dick Hanley, Northwestern university coach, does not require his players to go to bed until they have listened to Amos and Andy on the radio.

Reserved Seats For "Fun Nite" Selling Rapidly

Tickets for the first intercollegiate boxing and wrestling matches ever staged by Texas Tech athletes at home are on sale and going fast, according to reports. Tech meets the New Mexico Military Institute teams here Friday night.

Pasteboards purchased in advance, either from one of the three down-town agencies or from the Double-T club members, will entitle holders to reserved seats. All ducats sold at the door will be for general admission only. Bo Williams, Matt Hitchcock and Elva Baker are the athletes disposing of tickets.

Ladies will be admitted free to the reserved seat section if escorts purchase tickets in advance, officials say.

B. Carthage of Muskegon, Mich.; Trenton, Mo., Commercial College; Young Men's institute of San Francisco; Midland College, Fremont, Neb.; Louisburg, Kas., Shamrocks; Rockhurst college, Kansas City; St. Louis Sugar Creeks; Mopsco club of Clinton, Mo.; Kansas City Life; East Central Oklahoma Teachers of Ada; Denver Piggly Wiggly; St. Joseph, Mo., Junior college; West Texas Teachers college; Southwestern Oklahoma Teachers of Weatherford, and Rath's Black Hawks, Waterloo, Ia.

Baylor Loses To Frogs, 51 To 22

FORT WORTH, March 1. (AP) — The Texas Christian university cagers climbed back into a tie for second place in the Southwest Conference standing by defeating the Baylor university Bears, 51-22, here tonight. The game wound up the season for the Bruins and left the purple with only one game to go.

Led by big Hersel Kinzy, who scored 19 points, and the veteran Doc Sumner, who played one of the greatest floor games of his long career, the Frogs jumped into an early lead and had a 31-15 advantage at the half. Coach Francis Schmidt shuffled his lineup about to give some of his reserves a chance to play but the purple continued to pile up points.

Fort Worth Cats To Train On Mineral Wells Grounds

FORT WORTH, March 1. (AP) — The Fort Worth Cats will do their spring training in Mineral Wells, J. Walter Morris, business manager, announced tonight.

Walter Holke, manager of the Cats, will report March 10 and has requested Business Manager Morris to have the catchers, pitchers and Outfielder Vernon "George" Washington on hand March 11. He has heard that Washington is overweight.

The Cats plan to spend fully two weeks at Mineral Wells, reporting there March 14.

While gate receipts in almost every other sport were falling off during the past season, tennis enjoyed a bumper financial crop, drawing better both here and abroad than in many years.

Matador Ring Artists Meet Cadets Friday

New Mexico Military Institute Sends Complete Boxing And Wrestling Teams Here This Week For First Home Clash

BY ED McKEEVER
Tech Sports Correspondent

New Mexico Military institute will meet Texas Tech Friday night in the first intercollegiate boxing and wrestling contests ever held in Lubbock. Although the Cadets have defeated the Matadors in two previous matches at Roswell, Coach Pete Cawthon believes Tech stands a good chance at winning with a well balanced team and because of possible overconfidence of the Cadets.

"Wop" Chivemente, middleweight, is one of the best known boxers in the southwest. He has scored every one of his 65 collegiate fights through knockouts. Chivemente is not considered a professional, but less than a year ago he won a decisive victory over Eddie Murdock of Tulsa, one of the contenders for the middleweight championship. It was because of this fight that "Wop" was declared ineligible for Olympic competition.

Bringing Full Team

The personnel of the New Mexico Military institute squad includes: boxing: Whittington, heavyweight, two years at the Institute, with experience around his home town Gallup, New Mexico; Kilgore, welterweight, two years while in high school and one year as a Cadet; Benson, lightweight, two years on the team; Hill, featherweight, one year on the team; Goldstein, flyweight, two years on the team.

Wrestlers: Swope, heavyweight, one year on the team; Vaughn, light heavyweight, two years experience as a Cadet; Turner, 165 and Captain, two years at the Institute and two years in Oklahoma; Helmig, 155, two years on the team; Singer, 135, two years at the Institute and one year in Oklahoma; McKinney, 145, one year as a Cadet; Stanmire, 125, one year on the team; Taubman, 115, one year on the team.

All ladies will be admitted free with escorts.

A. C. C. Ends Cage Season In 38-22 Win Over Hill Billies

ABILENE, March 1. (AP)—Abilene Christian college's basketball season was terminated successfully, though uninterestingly, this afternoon as the Wildcats drubbed Daniel Baker, 33 to 22, in an erratic game. The victory assured the Christians of a tie for second place in the Texas conference. The runner-up position will be theirs without dispute should McMurry be upset by Austin college tonight in the last game on the circuit schedule.

Charles Reynolds, veteran A. C. C. forward, tallied twelve points in the game to win the conference scoring championship with a new record of 174 points. He barely nosed out Eugene McCollum of Simmons, who finished Tuesday night with 172.

A third Riley, Frank, is on his way to Northwestern university. Jack, eldest, was all-conference in 1931 and Bill starred this season. The youngest played with St. John's military academy eleven this fall.

Paul Collins, eldest son of Eddie Collins, aide de camp to Connie Mack, will study for the ministry after he graduates from Dartmouth.

Montana, which went through the last Pacific Coast Conference schedule without winning or tieing a game, will not change football coaches, but will continue under Coach Bunny Oakes.

Sutter And Mangin To Meet In Bermuda Singles Finals

HAMILTON, Bermuda, March 1. (AP)—Gregory Mangin, sturdy Newark, N. J., player, assured the United States of the men's singles title in the Bermuda tennis championships today after Virginia Rice of Boston had captured the women's crown.

Mangin eliminated the last of the English players, R. K. Tinkler in the semi-final round, 6-4, 6-4, and won the right to meet Clifford Sutter of New Orleans in the final round tomorrow. Sutter defeated J. Gilbert Hall of South Orange, N. J., 3-6, 6-1, 6-2.

Led by Mangin, players from the United States cleaned up all the major events of the tournament. The Newark star avenged Tinkler's upset defeat of George M. Lott, jr., in the quarter finals in an overwhelming fashion.

Connie Mack's Daughter A Bride

Cornelius McGillicuddy, who's better known as Connie Mack, manager of the Philadelphia Athletics, has become a father-in-law. His daughter, Mary Cornelia McGillicuddy, was married December 31 to Francis X. Reilly, of Germantown, Pa. But the wedding was not announced until the couple, pictured above, returned from a honeymoon trip.

Arrests In City 165 In February

A total of 165 arrests were made in February by police, not including those arrested for traffic law violation. Fines collected in corporation court last month totaled $906.93.

Ninety-one traffic law violation cases were docketed. Others, of a total of 180 cases in which corporation court complaints were filed, were 42 of drunkenness, 18 of vagrancy, 10 of fighting, seven of theft of less than $5.00, six of disturbing the peace, five of gambling, and one of operating a dance hall without a license.

Thirty-five cases were transferred to other authorities, county, district, or federal. Seven were cases of theft, four of burglary, three of aggravated assault, two each of fornication and adultery, and one of carrying a pistol.

Police had 16 cases of liquor law violation in February. Eight were filed in justice court and eight before a United States commissioner. Four automobiles, confiscated by police in liquor cases, were turned to custody of federal authorities.

One arrest, for automobile theft, was made for out-of-county officers by Lubbock police in February.

HUNTERS ARE HUNTED

LOS ANGELES.—Captain J. A McCaleb of the Highland Park division of police discovered that everyone who carries a gun and talks of crime is not a desperate "gunman." McCaleb heard two men with bulges in their hip pockets, talking of crime and he thought they were a pair of "gunmen." He summoned a police car and re-enforcements and the two were surrounded. They were "gunmen" all right, but on the side of law and order. They were deputy sheriffs.

A dredging company doing placer mining near Custer, S. D., this fall hit a lucky strike and recovered $1,000 worth of gold in three runs of six hours each.

lege from this scoundrel anywhere on earth under God's living sun."

Anywhere On Earth

Bailey returned to the point, the Record shows, asking if Long "invites the man accused by him to test the truth of his accusations in the courts?"

"Anywhere on earth," the reply was recorded. A few lines further down, Long continued:

"Anywhere on earth. That is, however, I invite him to sue me in any court of competent jurisdiction and I will not defend the suit except on the ground that he is a scoundrel and a thief and a rascal and a crook and has been determined to be such by all investigating committees of congress."

Bailey said: "I am content with the senator's statement that he waives all privilege and immunity."

Main Defense

cupation of Jehol City might be only the matter of a few hours.

Banners Are Flying

General Shih Wen-Hua, in command of the 10th Jehol cavalry, who was charged with the defense of Chihfeng, went over to the Japanese, proclaiming his allegiance to the state of Manchukuo, to which the conquerors intend to annex Jehol. Japanese and Manchukuo banners were flying in Chihfeng when the invaders entered.

The Japanese asserted that the 16th and 19th brigades of Marshal Chang Hsiao-Liang's troops had been smashed by the Japanese column operating in southeastern Jehol, which saw considerable action at Shamoashan and Peichangyingtze. These units of the North China war lord's army probably will not be able to put up effective defense again, the Japanese declared.

they wouldn't come."

Magel said she then jumped out of the window, followed by her mother, with the baby, and Ernestine.

"Without a word, mother handed the baby to Ernestine and crawled back through the window," Magel sobbed. "The flames were coming out both the front and back doors as I ran there. By then the fire was coming out the window through which mother had gone and I couldn't get in."

Another Girl Found

Another girl, Pauline, was found at a neighbor's home. Charlotte, she said, had put her out of the house.

"The house was too small for us," Magel said. "We planned to move but waited because we had some hay father had raised and piled at the rear of the house. He wanted to buy a house but we wanted to go back to Minnesota."

The family formerly lived in Detroit and Lakes, Minn. having been in Sand Springs about five years.

J. C. Ward, Tulsa fire marshal who investigated the fire found a metal box in which were the family Bible and insurance policies on the lives of the mother and eight of the children. The policies no longer were in force. The top was missing from the box and the policies were partly burned.

Relief Bills

of the Glass banking revision measure getting through at this session.

Meanwhile, advantage was taken of any let-up in other activities to push appropriation bills along the legislative trail. The house accepted a compromise with the senate on the $956,000,000 treasury-post-office supply bill granting broad powers to President-elect Roosevelt to reorganize the government in the interest of economy.

Amendments Approved

Final congressional action on the bankruptcy bill came with house approval of Senate amendments by a 207 to 26 vote. The measure was supported by both Democratic and Republican leaders.

Its purpose is to allow individuals, farmers and railroads to make voluntary readjustment of their debts in federal courts without resorting to formal bankruptcy proceedings.

Under it, railroads or their creditors will be authorized to submit reorganization programs to the courts and the interstate commerce commission. Approval of two-thirds of the creditors is required.

The principal senate change was exclusion of corporations from its provisions.

The cotton bill, establishing a government pool as an incentive to curtailment of 1933 production, was sent to the White House with senate approval of house amendments. There was some doubt whether President Hoover would sign it.

Army Of Unemployed Shouts Demands For Relief Funds

HARRISBURG, Pa., March 1. (AP) — Mingling cheers and jeers, an "army" of unemployed shouted its demand for immediate relief to the legislature today, then left the capitol with a promise to return "if we have to."

Singing and waving banners, some 500 of the 1,000 or more "marchers" moved into the hall of the house. There a half dozen speakers, amid alternate boos and cheers told the legislature it must appropriate $100,000,000 for relief.

34th and 35th streets, was blindfolded and instructed to count to 150 before removing the blindfold. He was told then to walk "around the block" where he would find a drug store and could communicate with his family.

Clark said Boettcher informed him that when the ransom notes were written he was placed in a corner and light placed behind him so he could not see his abductors.

Guarded Constantly

Young Boettcher said he had been held captive by three men one being with him constantly, the other two alternating on guard and attending him, coming and going in the place of captivity.

"I have no idea where I was," Boettcher said. "It seemed to me from the atmosphere that I must have been in a basement.

"I was kept blindfolded all the time. Tape and bandages were kept over my eyes.

"I never saw any one of the men who held me prisoner.

"The bandages were kept on my eyes until the moment I was released.

Placed In Car

"When the men who carried me away put me into the car the night I was kidnaped they told me they were taking me for a long ride.

"I have not the least idea where I was held prisoner."

The Rev. Dr. John Foster, friends of young Boettcher, announced at the Boettcher home the abducted broker had suffered no physical injury as a result of his experience of confinement.

Half an hour after young Boettcher reached home Dr. Foster said Boettcher had retired and that he immediately fell asleep. He said he could not be disturbed until tomorrow morning, and at that time might make a statement.
