May Slated as Clean-Up Month in Wellington

May is Clean-up Month in Wellington, and under Chamber of Commerce sponsorship, plans will be mapped this week.

Billy Moseley heads the work, and member of his committee are Mr. and Mrs. John Sherman and Mrs. Creed Hill.

"In our first meeting, we will take up plans for a number of projects which we believe will be effective and will help our town," said Mr. Moseley.

One of these, he added, is the selection each week of the most outstanding and attractive lawn from the standpoint of care.

This will be wide open to everyone, so that the owner of the small home will have just as good a chance to win as the one who has an expensive house, it was explained.

"We intend to tie this in with the city and county governments, utilizing everything we have at our disposal," said Mr. Moseley.

Four Injured in Accident

Four Wellington men were hospitalized after a one-car accident about 7:10 p.m. Saturday, May 1, approximately .9 mile east of Wellington on Highway 203.

According to Patrolman Don Gosnell, who led the investigation, the four were: Isodoro (Shorty) Cortez, 27, identified as the driver of the car, who remains in St. Joseph's Hospital with a broken right leg and broken left collar bone; Robert Saldana, 17, and Arthur Castor, 18, who were treated for bruises; and Mario Sosa, 19 who has a shoulder injury. Castor and Sosa were released Monday.

Patrolman Gosnell said the car was traveling east when the driver lost control and it went off the pavement on the north side, turned over twice, struck a telephone pole and came to rest on its top in a plowed field. The men were thrown out. The telephone pole was broken off.

The accident was discovered by Larry Kane, who brought two of the men to town and notified officers.

The 1967 model car was a total loss, according to Mr. Gosnell.

Quail FFA Sends Two Teams to State

Two teams from the Quail Chapter, Future Farmers of America, competed in the State FFA contests in College Station Saturday, May 1.

Neither the livestock judging team nor the dairy products team placed in the top ten in that event.

These teams qualified for state competition by placing in the top 10 in the Region I judging at Texas Tech, Lubbock, on April 24.

This also served as both the Greenbelt District and Area I contests, according to Doyle Messer, advisor.

The Quail livestock judging team placed 8th out of a field of 131 teams in the region, and Laron Peters was 8th high individual among the more than 400 boys in the contest in Lubbock.

Other members were Jerry Barton and Lonnie Needham with Redgie Souder as alternate.

The team was third among teams from Area I and first from those in the Greenbelt District, said Mr. Messer.

The dairy products judging team placed 9th in the regional contest and was the other team to compete in the state event. It was sixth in Area I and second in Greenbelt District. Team members were Tommy Oatman, Terry Canada, and Joel Ross, with Jerry Alston as alternate.

A team from Mr. Messer's other chapter, Hedley, placed third in dairy products regional competition, second in area and first in district. This Multiple Sclerosis Drive Opens Mon.

Girls of the Wellington Chapter of Future Homemakers of America will be knocking on doors Monday, May 10, collecting funds for the National Multiple Sclerosis Society.

The national campaign is scheduled to open on Mother's Day, Sunday, May 9.

This drive seeks funds to support needed services for MS patients and their families in the Panhandle.

On the national level, funds will enable the Society to support promising medical research in an effort to find the cause, prevention and cure for MS. Multiple Sclerosis is a disabling disease of the central nervous system—brain and spinal cord, it was pointed out.

It results when myelin, the tissue that protects the nerve fibers, deteriorates and is replaced by scars.

It is estimated that 500,000 Americans from ages 20 to 40 years are affected with MS and related neurological diseases.

Contributions collected in Wellington by the Future Homemakers will be sent to Amarillo headquarters for distribution in the area.

Four-H Members Raise Funds on State Center

Collingsworth County 4-H members will be calling on local citizens to purchase giant bars of chocolate in May as part of a statewide effort to raise funds for a Texas 4-H educational center.

Mrs. Bill Lowe local 4-H leader, who is heading the county sales campaign, says the county sales goal is 15 bars per 4-H member.

"A State 4-H Center is badly needed since the Texas 4-H program does not own any type of training or camping facility," said County Agent Don Reeves. "The proposed center is being developed by the Texas 4-H Foundation. It will accommodate about 175 people. The center will be a focal point for camping-type programs, 4-H leader training, citizenship seminars, leadership training labs, international 4-H activities, project training and other Extension Service activities. When not in use by 4-H, the center will be available to other groups with educational programs."

While the 4-Hers themselves make their contribution, a state wide development council composed of business leaders will help raise the balance of the funds.

ORGANIZATION

By Gaylord Cook

The New Testament knows no organization higher than the local congregation of believers. In New Testament times when one obeyed the Gospel of Jesus Christ, he was added BY THE LORD to the church. (Acts 2:47) The church, as it is spoken of in the New Testament is then simply a group of baptized believers who work and worship together. As they work and worship together they are overseen by a GROUP of men known as elders (Acts 20:28). The elders are assisted in carrying out the work of the local church by men known as deacons (Phil. 1:1). The qualifications for those who are elders are given in I Tim. 3:2-7 and Titus 1:6-9. The qualifications of deacons are given in I Tim. 3:8-13. Elders are also called bishops, pastors, presbyters and shepherds. Never is there any record of ONE man being THE elder or THE pastor of a congregation of God's people. We believe that since this was true in New Testament times, it ought also to be true today.

Indispensable Minority

Farmers are perhaps the most important minority this nation has. Yet this farm minority is being given a bad image by two major trends - the rising cost of living, and the growth of federal subsidies.

Farmers are not to blame for the rising cost of food. Their prices have not increased to any comparable degree, and on some products have even dwindled in the past five years. Food prices start out low; it is the trip from the farm to the table that hikes your grocery bill.

producing this nation's abundant food in a vital service, and producing it efficiently and cheaply is a mark of excellence on the record of American Agriculture.

But even more vital is the fact: The farmer is custodian of this nation's most important resource, the land. Without his care, future Americans will starve. Because everybody in this nation must depend on preservation of our soil, everybody in this nation should logically share the cost. And we do, with the farmer paying much more because it is "his" land, at least during his lifetime. All Americans owe this debt to the future, and this is why soil conservation "subsidies" are logical and just.

Abortion Semantics

Listening to the emotional diatribes of opponents of Maryland's liberalized abortion bill, one could easily get the impression that the opponents are not nearly as concerned with the rights of the unborn fetus as they are with some perverse sense of justice for the sexual union that caused it.

For instance, if opponents truly consider abortion to be equivalent to murder, how can so many of them make exceptions for rape and other specific cases? Is the fetus in these cases somehow guilty of complicity?

It should be remembered that abortions are already legal in Maryland. The new legislation would merely liberalize the current law by dropping the necessity for a woman to demonstrate that childbirth would be detrimental to her mental and physical well-being. The requirement is ambiguous. It is also discriminatory, allowing a woman who can afford the medical consultation fees to get an abortion far easier than one who cannot afford the fees.

No woman should be forced to bear an unwanted child. Such a birth can be a detriment to all individuals concerned, and to society as well.

Maryland's liberalized bill is a sensible approach to an often clouded issue. It does not require any doctor to perform abortions, nor does it require any woman to have an abortion. It leaves abortion strictly a personal matter, which is what it should be.

--Star Democrat, Easton, Md.

AUSTIN, Tex. -- Tax bill action switched back to the House this week after Senate passage of a $562.3 million revenue measure.

Senate passed its version of the tax bill 22-9 after rejecting six separate attempts to insert a corporation profits levy by narrow (usually 16-15) margins and six other amendments. Only amendment of substance attached in floor debate was a half-cent-a-gallon increase in diesel fuel levy to make it the same as the gasoline tax.

Here is what the bill (HB 730) now calls for and its estimated biennial yields:

Increase sales tax rate from 3.25 to four percent, $288.5 million.

Increase motor vehicle sales tax to four percent and bring auto rentals under levy, $79.4 million.

Raise corporation franchise tax from $3.25 per $1,000 to $4.50, $102.6 million over three year period.

Increase cigarette tax three cents a pack to 18.5 cents, highest figure in the nation, with one cent dedicated to park development, $46.7 million.

Increase beer tax from $4.30 to $6 a barrel, $28.8 million.

Raise the gasoline tax from five to seven cents a gallon, $102.1 million.

Increase diesel fuel tax one half cent, to seven cents, $4 million.

Stripped from the House bill were taxes on hotel rooms, stock transactions, jet fuel, admissions and entertainment and sand, gravel and shell. Senate also more than doubled the House version of the franchise tax.

COURTS SPEAK -- State Supreme Court agreed to set a hearing on the issue of whether district attorneys can file a garage of suits to prevent stores from using various devices to get around Texas' Sunday closing laws.

A Houston clinic an be sued along with a doctor-partner in it for alienation of affections, Supreme Court held in a split decision.

High Court, reversing an intermediate court, held that the Austin suburb of West Lake Hills is a legally-incorporated city, but its attempted annexation of territory to the north of its original boundaries is invalid.

Third Court of Civil Appeals held that six Texas A & M University employees cannot draw state salaries and serve on the College Station City Council at the same time.

Same Court reversed the state savings and loan commissioner's finding that a charter should be granted to a savings and loan concern in Pasadena.

A new trial of the disputed sale contract involving a Killeen radio station was ordered by the Third Court.

AG OPINIONS -- Legislation permitting the transfer of persons convicted of a felony at their request to the state prison system pending appeals of criminal cases is constitutional, Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin has held. Martin warned that constitutional problems may arise if such prisoners are required to work or disciplined as convicts.

In other recent opinions, Martin concluded that: A coin operated machine delivering trade discount tickets and options to purchase other tickets is an illegal gaming device.

City or county bond interest and sinking funds may be used only for paying interest on bonds or redeeming them.

Travis County may employ an ambulance service for residents outside audience and use city streets for transporting patients to hospitals without a city franchise if all safety standards are met.

LIVESTOCK EXPORT RECORDS SET -- Agriculture Commissioner John C. White pointed to a dramatic increase in breeding swine and beef cattle exported from Texas during the first quarter of 1971.

White said Texas producers are continuing to set the pace for the nation in swine exports to foreign countries.

Swine exports jumped 240 per cent over the previous year during the first quarter, and beef cattle exports 140 per cent.

Mexico continues to be the best market for export sales, although shipments are made to 20 countries, White said.

WELFARE ECONOMIES URGED -- Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes followed through on his warning that Medicaid welfare spending may "bank-

CROSSROADS REPORT

Dear Editor:

Great cry these days, especially from Presidential prospects and other public burdens, is to quit spending money on defense and give it to the Poor.

They say it's silly for us to waste money on the military because Russia is just building its submarine base and installing ballistic missiles in Cuba to protect herself from China.

But when the Kremlin bosses tell us to crawl or else, and take over the U. S. the poor folks problem will be solved permanently. Bullets are cheaper than bread, and their effect lasts longer.

My outdated neighbor says he pines for the good old days when the country was run by holding elections every other year and spare-time belly-aching in between.

He says the modern style popular government, holding marches and demonstrations in the streets and attacking the police all year around, takes a lot more time and trouble.

He says a citizen who works and pays taxes just doesn't have time to participate in government by mob, so we're lucky to have throngs of people on public charity with time to do this job for us.

rupt" the state with proposals for trimming the bill an estimated 25-30 per cent for 1972-73.

Barnes suggested these steps: A limit on the time welfare patients can stay in the hospital.

A limit on the cost of hospital rooms.

A fixed fee schedule for doctors on welfare cases.

A surgical benefit schedule as in private health insurance plans.

SMITH REQUESTS PARK FUNDS -- Governor has urged federal authorities release more than $3.2 million in Bureau of Outdoor Recreation funds for 20 state and 34 local park-rec projects.

He accused the Republican administration of delaying funds "for partisan political reason." Smith said the BOR is awaiting advice of federal solicitor and U. S. District Attorney Segal Wheatley of San Antonio before approving projects signed by Pearce Johnson, Parks and Wildlife Commission chairman as state liaison officer in parks matters.

PATENTED BALL-BEARING SUSPENDED LOUVERS

America's most completely adjustable grille! Permits wide variety of airflow patterns. Horizontal and vertical louvers are locked together by ball bearings, yet pivot independently. A dial in each grille section moves vertical louvers in unison. Horizontal louvers also move in unison when any louver is adjusted.

NO DUSTY HOT AIR START-UPS

Control switch includes "Pump Only" position to pre-saturate cooler pads before turning on blower. This washes dust from pads and allows only clean cool air to enter room at start-up. Control switch also includes "Cool" settings (with pump) and "Ventilate" settings (without pump) for each blower speed.

MICROGLAS LINED TRAP DUST

A blanket of fine-spun fiber glass covers the inside surface of the aspen fiber cooling pads. This Microglas filter provides a microscopic fiber barrier which prevents insects, dust, dirt and other irritants from entering your home. Aspen pads are Corobex-treated† to stay odor-proof and mold-proof.

Deck's DIDACTICS

—by Deskins Wells

MOST COLLEGES and universities are so crowded that they have students hanging out the windows and studying on the grass. Few have enough buildings to take care of the scholars. This is not the case with Texas State Technical Institute which is located on the grounds of old Amarillo Air Force Base. TSTI has 396 students in its first year of operation and it has 400 buildings in which classes could be held if needed.

All the buildings were left in a state of excellent repair by the Air Force. The buildings were sealed and fumigated and the water was blown out of all pipes so there would be no bursted pipes. In addition to the 400 buildings, Texas State Technical Institute also acquired 500 residential houses when they acquired the base. Faculty members live in a few and others are being rented by professional people. Most are vacant.

EDITORS ATTENDING the meeting of the Panhandle Press Association last week were taken on a tour of the college. We visited the farm repair school where young men were taught to repair all kinds of tractors and farm equipment. In another building they were learning to be carpenters, and they were constructing wooden buildings of a type used by contractors as an office on a building site. In another place boys and girls were learning to be draftsmen and in another were the easels of those studying to be commercial artists. In another they were learning to operate business machines.

ALL OF THE COURSES are practical and are designed to help a student to hold a job. Next August the Institute will start a course in offset printing. Some of the editors were speculating as to just how this would work out since an offset printer still needs to know grammar, spelling, punctuation, mathematics etc., just as does a letterpress printer.

BEFORE VISITING TSTI the editors visited the Bell Helicopter plant where helicopters damaged in Vietnam are rebuilt entirely. We saw them in every stage from the bodies of damaged birds that had just arrived to those that were nearly finished. It was a grim reminder of the war that is still underway on the other side of the world.

I WAS on the resolution committee of the Panhandle Press Association and was successful in securing the passage of my resolution on daylight saving time that was voted down last year. The resolution period asks that the time be limited to a period from June 1 to Labor Day instead of from April until late October. Troy Martin of Canyon, who voted against the resolution last year, was chairman of the committee this year. He announced the results in such a low voice that I am not sure of the exact figure, but it was something like 12 to 3 in the show of hands with several members not voting.

RICHARD H. COCKE writes that he retired as a practicing attorney on April 1. He

Norwood School to Test Pre-First Grade

Samnorwood School Board has approved a specialized testing and evaluation plan for all students entering the first grade for next year, according to Robert Dwight, superintendent.

This program will be administered by Mrs. Joe John Henard, a member of the Samnorwood faculty, and a qualified educational tester.

The test will be given to all students entering the first grade for the first time without charge. All others who desire the test will be charged a fee for the service, which may be arranged through the school.

Arrangements will be made for parent-student appointments with Mrs. Henard for this service. The Samnorwood Homemaking Department is planning a pre-school orientation period for these plans to spend his time at his yacht basin in Galveston or his home in the interior of Mexico. His yacht basin is the Marina Del Mar and is located at the Galveston end of the causeway. He says: "If any of you are down this way I would be tickled for you to stop by or go fishing."

LIKE ALL of the male members of the Cocke family Richard was an enthusiastic hunter and fisherman. He served in the Navy during the World War II and evidently his love of the sea was increased by the experience. He established a law office in Houston and never returned to Wellington except to visit.

THE IDEA of Richard retiring both startled and saddened me for I am at least five years older and have been eligible for social security since 1967. I had planned on working full time until I am 72 and then part time after that if the new editor would put up with this column. The accident last fall has caused me to wonder if I can hold out three more years. The thought of quitting work entirely has never entered my mind; but I have been thinking of getting out of some of the responsibilities of active management.

ON THE OTHER HAND if I should take after my Mother who died on last Christmas Day at the age of 103 years, seventy two would be a very early time to quit. Another consideration is that if I can hold out through until 1974 I will have been editor of this same newspaper for 50 years. That is a record that few men ever attain in any kind of business or profession.

Publius Syrus: He bids fair to grow wise who has discovered that he is not so.

beginners and this period will be co-ordinated with the testing program. It is anticipated the program will be conducted during the last two full weeks in June.

Mrs. Henard explained the testing more fully.

"The Wechsler Performance and Verbal test is both an intelligence test and a test of ability of the children to co-ordinate themselves and to think. It also tests their behavior," she said.

Many things in a child's performance such as walking a straight line or playing with a puppet, test the overall capability of readiness to get along in and move ahead in the school program, it was explained.

"The goal of the whole thing is to help the school meet the needs of the individual child," said Mrs. Henard.

Parents are definitely a part of the program, as is the first grade teacher. The evaluation in the end will have suggestions for working with the child.

Dodson Baptist Plans Mothers Day Service

First Missionary Baptist Church of Dodson is planning special services on Mother's Day, Sunday, May 9.

The regular services will be held, but a program will be presented at the beginning of the worship service at 11:00 a. m. by the mothers. Songs and music will be given by the young people of the church.

"It is our goal for each mother to see how many of her children she can have present for the service."

"We hope to have families from many miles away," said the Rev. Horton O. McGaha, pastor.

"Help us make this a reunion day."

Everyone will bring a basket lunch, which will be served in the old-fashioned way under the trees at noon. There will be singing in the afternoon.

Financial Facts

By Jeff Wilson.

HOW MONEY WAS NAMED

Originally money was useful material and many names of units of money reflect this fact. Consider the Greek drachma for example. Drachma meant "handful" and the original drachma had the value of a handful of iron nails.

Another way of naming money was to give it the name of a unit of measurement. An example of this is the English pound.

Useful at first, money later became more ornamental. Many coins can be found today with holes in their centers. The holes made it possible to string coins together, so that they might be used as bracelets and necklaces.

After progressing from useful to ornamental commodities, money finally came to be considered in terms of debt and debt names such as note and bill were finally applied to it.
