'RIDE 'EM COWBOY'
Bronc busting is one of six major events on the program

Attendance Lags, Excitement High

By JERRY MONSON

Although attendance lagged behind that of the opening night, some 2,000 persons gathered in the Rodeo Bowl Thursday night for the 35th annual Big Spring Cowboy Reunion and Rodeo saw fierce competition in at least two events — calf roping and girls' barrel racing.

A total of 162 cowboys and cowgirls are vying for over $8,000 in prize money, and among this group are big names in rodeo throughout this country and Canada.

FRANKLIN TOPS

At the end of the first go-round, Glenn Franklin, House, N.M., was tops in the calf roping competition with a total of 23 seconds time for both Wednesday and Thursday nights. While official tabulations are not yet completed, top ropers in Thursday night's contest are Jim Bob Altizer, Del Rio, 11.0; T. Prather, Post, 11.7; M. Foster, Sterling City, 12.3; and Morris Walker, Cotulla, 13. Twenty-two tried for the money after the rodeo performance.

The weather conditions were ideal for Thursday's activities, although thick dirt in the arena itself seemed to hamper one contest in particular, that of the girls' barrel racing.

Little Ann Lewis, a 10-year-old, 50 pounds of dynamite from Sulphur, Okla., thrilled the crowd with her lightning speed and time of 17.70 Thursday night in the girls barrel racing, which was enough to give her the win in the first go-round.

OTHERS

Others who placed in the go-round in barrel racing were Martha Josey, Karnack, 18.04; Debbie Ferguson, Petersburg, 18.05; and Mildred Farris, Addington, Okla., 18.10.

The saddle bronc riders had a tough time of it with rodeo producer Tommy Steiner's rugged stock, and most cowboys gingerly picked themselves up from the ground in Thursday's contest. The official go-round has not yet been completed, due to a couple of re-rides, but as of this morning, the tabulations stack up this way: Jim Moore, Balmorhea, 60; Johnny Gass, Lubbock, 57; and Guy Weeks, Abilene, 51. Wednesday's winners were Roger Carrier, Fort Worth, 62; Billy Weeks and Guy Weeks, both of Abilene, who tied with 49; and Gass, who totalled 39.

Tony Haberer of Andrews appears to have taken the lead in the first go-round in the bareback bronc riding contest, with 64 points. In second place is Jim Moore, Balmorhea, 62; followed by Gary Tucker, Carlsbad, N.M., 60; and Leonard McCravey, Memphis, Tex., 61.

STEER WRESTLING

In the steer wrestling competition, Dan Harris, Orange, holds a hard-to-beat 6.6 seconds time over his nearest competitor, Rex Blant, Abilene, who showed 9.1. Others were Jim Hardy, Midland, 9.4, and Rex Loftis, Odessa, 10.4., in the first go-round.

Due to a couple of re-rides, the first go-round in the bull-riding event had not been tallied, but unofficial totals placed George Paul, Del Rio, in line for first slot with 66 points. Close behind were Tony Haberer, Andrews, with 64; Robert Crowell, Seymour, 63; and Gene Lyda, Helotes, 62.

Allen Kinney, a Coleman cowboy, was a bit shaken up during the bull riding event, however, and suffered a gash on his fore-

THEFTS, RAPES

Quits, Complains Of Camp Crimes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Violence and crime are hurting the Poor People's Campaign, says a Washington helper, and "if the leaders don't do something soon, this is going to be known as blood city instead of Resurrection City."

Alvin Jackson, 35, quit as chief security marshal for the encampment, complaining that there is no discipline. He said he has tried without success to meet with the Rev. Ralph David Abernathy, the campaign leader, and other officials to plead for a change.

TIRED

"The reason the population of this city is going down is not mud, poor food, rain or lousy homes," he said. "The reason they leave is that men are getting tired of coming home from a day's picketing to find their belongings stolen or their wife raped."

Grant Wright, acting chief of Park Police, estimates that about 100 assaults and other violent incidents have occurred inside Resurrection City since it was built in mid-May.

At least 20 visitors have been robbed, beaten or stabbed by residents outside the snow fence surrounding the encampment, he said.

But he said the marshals and residents of the camp city generally refuse to cooperate with police officials when incidents occur within the camp. They are dismissed as "internal matters," he said, which police are told do not require their intervention.

Jackson, the disillusioned Negro marshal, still is convinced of the justice of the poor people's effort—"a great campaign and a just one, and it has just goals," he said in an interview with a Washington Post reporter.

DONATIONS

"I am ashamed to say this," he said, "but the only thing that keeps this camp going is donations of goods and work from white people.

"If it were left to us it just wouldn't last. I just can't understand my black brothers. Many of them are able to cause trouble at night because they sleep around all day while the white residents work."

Advertisement Soon For Base Medical Center

Bids for the construction of the new medical center for Webb AFB may be advertised by August, Rep. Omar Burleson said today in Washington, D.C.

The Air Force informed him, said the congressman, that contractural awards for the base hospital had been set for October. This means that bids for the two-million-dollar structure likely will go out sometime in August.

Design requirements for hospital facilities are so much more strenuous than conventional military construction that they have to be reviewed by more authorities than for the average project, the Air Force advised Rep. Burleson.

The project is part of a $2,296,000 appropriation approved and signed into law by President Johnson last December.

There were two other items for an automatic sprinkler system and for a data processing plant. In April, the Corps of Engineers was authorized to proceed with plans for constructing the sprinkler system, and $100,000 of the appropriation was freed for this work. The medical center at Webb is set up for $2,121,000 to replace the rambling frame facilities which were established originally in the crash program to get the old bombardier school into action here in 1942.

Here's How Much More You'll Owe

WASHINGTON (AP) — Here are tables showing the amount of additional income taxes a person will pay under the 10 per cent surcharge approved by the House Thursday.

Gun Toll: 109

By The Associated Press

Guns have killed 109 persons in the United States since midnight Sunday, an Associated Press survey showed today.

Homicides accounted for 57 deaths, suicides for 42 and accidental shootings 10.

The FBI has reported that approximately 6,500 persons were killed by guns in 1966—an average of 125 homicides by firearms each week. Homicides by stabbing, strangling and other means totaled 10,920 in 1966, the FBI said.

Raymond Odom, 19, was approached by five or six youths along a street on Chicago's South Side Thursday night. One of the youths pulled a shotgun, fired and killed Odom, police said. There was no apparent motive, officers said.

The Associated Press is making a one-week survey of gunshot deaths, from midnight Sunday, June 16, until midnight Sunday, June 23.

How Dickson Voted

Temple Dickson voted for the one per cent increase in the state sales tax, and to table a corporate tax bill in action Thursday in the House of Representatives.

House members voted 90-57 in a roll call vote for final passage of the bill raising the state sales tax from two to three per cent.

Members tabled Rep. Carl Parker's tax bill amendment to levy a 10 per cent tax on the amount of federal income tax paid by Texas corporations in a 110-36 roll call vote.

Dickson represents the 72nd District, which includes Howard, Mitchell and Nolan counties. This district becomes the 63rd District under the redistricting which goes into effect this year, but the counties will be the same.

Warren Quitting?

No Comment From Johnson, Chief Justice Unavailable

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chief Justice Earl Warren is leaving the Supreme Court which he has headed during 15 years of controversy over the court's liberal decisions such as those on race discrimination and police powers, authoritative sources reported today.

Efforts to reach Warren were unsuccessful and at the White House press secretary George Christian, asked about the report, said he had "no comment on it at all."

DECLINED

Christian also declined to comment on reports that Justice Hugo L. Black may be leaving the bench or that U.S. Appellate Court Judge Homer Thornberry of Austin, a former Texas congressman, may be in line for the high court.

Warren said on his 75th birthday two years ago he thought there should be compulsory retirement for all public officials but did not specify at what age.

"I believe that the strength of our system in this country depends on the infusion of new blood into all our institutions," he explained then.

There is now no compulsory retirement for federal judges although they may step down at 70 after 10 years on the bench and receive a lifetime pension equal to their full salary. Warren's salary is $40,000 a year.

Usual procedure for a Supreme Court justice wishing to leave his post is to notify the president of his desires. It normally would be up to the president then to announce the retirement.

The big Californian was named to the top post on the Supreme Court in 1953 by President Dwight D. Eisenhower. At 77, he is known to have long felt it was time to step aside.

EARL WARREN

President Johnson, who expects to leave office himself when his term ends in January, will be able to name Warren's successor before he leaves. The appointment is of critical significance on a court where appointees commonly serve for decades and the relative strength of the liberal and conservative factions can be reversed by the departure of a single justice—depending on the politics of the president who chooses the man to fill the vacancy.

The Warren years on the court have been marked by unrelenting controversy. From the historic 1954 decision on school segregation up to the equally sweeping housing discrimination handed down just this past Monday, the court's actions have been headline-makers.

Ultraconservatives, while generally outraged at the court in general, have had special dislike for Warren. For years there have been "Impeach Earl Warren" billboards in sections where anticourt sentiment runs strong.

Through it all, the man in the eye of the storm has, to all appearances, been unflappable, retaining the outgoing and unpretentious manner that stood him well in his three scandal-free terms as governor of California before he was named to the bench.

LAW-TRAINED

Warren was trained in law at the University of California but never sat as a judge until, at age 62, he was picked to be the nation's highest jurist. He was no stranger to courtrooms, however, having laid the foundation for his political career with seasoning as a racket-busting district attorney and attorney general.

He was the vice presidential candidate on the 1948 Republican ticket headed by Thomas E. Dewey. When the GOP lost the election in spite of virtually unanimous forecasts that it was headed for victory, Warren explained the upset this way:

"Mr. Truman just got too many votes."

Income Tax Hike Given Approval

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate passed and sent to President Johnson today the long-debated bill adding a 10 per cent surcharge to individual and corporation income taxes and ordering a $6 billion federal spending cut.

The roll call vote was 64 to 16.

The Senate vote completed congressional action on the first federal income tax increase since 1951, at the time of the Korean war.

Johnson is expected to sign the bill into law promptly although he has said repeatedly he does not favor the spending restrictions in the legislation. The Senate was told in the final debate on the compromise measure that it was stern fiscal medicine necessary to prevent inflation leading to financial chaos.

OPPONENTS

Opponents contended that it would mean drastic reductions in spending on social programs and that the result would be cutback in already inadequate efforts to help the nation's poor.

HOUSE PASSED

The House passed the measure Thursday night 268-150.

Its key provisions originally were adopted in the Senate 53-35 April 2 as an amendment to a House bill.

Johnson has said spending restrictions may force cutbacks in federal programs he considers already at rock-bottom levels.

The surcharge is retroactive for individuals to April 1 and for corporations to Jan. 1. It is scheduled to expire June 30 next year unless the new administration and Congress decide to extend it.

The increase, to go into effect 15 days after presidential approval, will apply to all individuals except those at the bottom of the scale—single persons with $1,000 or less of taxable income and couples with $2,000 or less.

The surcharge, along with other tax provisions in the bill, will bring in an estimated $15.5 billion in extra revenue to help improve the government's dismal fiscal picture in the next year.

VARIETY

The measure also includes a variety of other provisions retained by Senate-House conferees out of a wide-ranging series of riders tacked onto the legislation in the Senate.

One of the most important of these will put off for a year, to July 1, 1969, the freeze provision on federal matching for aid to families with dependent children included in the 1967 Social Security Act.

Leaders Try To Cool Off Violent Campers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Poor People's Campaign leaders, pleading for nonviolence, managed early this morning to cool off demonstrators angered by the campaign's first serious clashes with police.

Wielding clubs and firing tear gas, police Thursday night arrested 77 demonstrators during tense and angry confrontations.

PLEADED

Several top Southern Christian Leadership Conference officials, including its president, the Rev. Ralph David Abernathy, pleaded at a Resurrection City rally that lasted past midnight for adherence to their nonviolent philosophy.

But none had been on hand during the two most serious incidents, a shouting, shoving contest between police and demonstrators near the Department of Agriculture, and the tear gasing of a crowd after some youngsters threw bottles and sticks at police.

"I am pleading with you to say violence is not the way," Abernathy, president of SCLC, told an after-midnight mass meeting in a Resurrection City almost under siege by helmeted, rifle-carrying police.

"This is exactly what they want, they're trying to get us out of here," said The Rev. Andrew Young, SCLC executive vice president. "All they need is a little incident like this to get a court order and slap us with a $50,000 or $100,000 fine."

The violence came just 24 hours after a 50,000-person Solidarity Day crowd prompted Abernathy to promise that civil disobedience would begin in earnest later this week.

The first hints of trouble came when some of an estimated 500 demonstrators at the often-attacked Department of Agriculture blocked main doorways in midafternoon.

Warned by police that such interference was against the law, they refused to budge and went limp to be hauled away by police.

Then, about 100 demonstrators started to march around the block-long building and got into a shouting shoving match with police, some of whom used their night sticks freely.

BLOCKED

Blocked from surging into the street at the busy intersection of 14th St. and Independence Ave., they began a series of hit-and-run harrassment tactics that kept police hopping and commuters frightened.

Moving rapidly down 14th street in a line that swelled by the minute, they would rush into the six-lane thoroughfare and sit down, thoroughly snarling traffic.

Then, as police bore down on them with nightsticks held at the ready, they would rise at a signal, rush back to the sidewalk, and repeat the maneuver at another intersection.

Col. Luby Turns Over Reins Of 3561st PTS To Col. Wall

Col. Edward W. Luby, commander of the 3561st Pilot Training Squadron at Webb AFB, turned command of the squadron over to Lt. Col. Robert M. Wall, Tuesday.

Col. Luby has served as commander of the unit since April 1. Prior to the squadron reorganization at that time, he had been commander of the 3560th Pilot Training Squadron since March 26, 1966.

Col. Luby leaves Webb soon for an assignment to the Air War College. Scheduled for an Aug. 9 reporting date, he will complete work at the college, May 29, 1969.

During his tenure as a pilot training squadron commander, his squadron has received "excellent" ratings on seven major inspections and evaluations. A veteran of 24 years of Air Force service, Col. Luby entered the Army Air Corps in January, 1944, and was graduated from Aviation Cadet School as a navigator in 1945.

After receiving his commission, he served in Trans-Pacific Operations for four years as a navigator. He flew C-54 Skymasters out of Shanghai, China and Tokyo, Japan.

Col. Luby entered pilot training in 1949, training at Randolph AFB, Tex., and Williams AFB, Ariz. After he received his pilot's wings, he was assigned to Germany in 1950 where he flew the F-80 and F-84 Thunderjet fighters. During his German assignment, the colonel served as a flight commander and went to Korea on temporary duty, where he flew 20 missions in the F-84, for which he received the Air Medal.

From 1953 until 1957, Col. Luby served his first tour at Webb. During the period, he served as an instructor pilot, academics instructor, flight commander, section commander, squadron operations officer and group operations and training officer.

From the ATC assignment here, he moved to SAC and the B-47 Stratojet in 1967. As an aircraft commander, he logged more than 2,500 hours in the B-47, spending the majority of that time as an IP in the standardization division. His last assignment was commander of a bomb squadron.

Following assignments at McDill AFB, Fla., and Plattsburg AFB, N.Y., he returned for his second tour at Webb.

A command pilot, Col. Luby has logged more than 5,300 hours as a pilot and 2,300 as a navigator.

The Luby's have two sons, Edward Jr., and Joseph.

Col. Wall arrived at Webb in February from a tour of duty in Thailand where he completed 100 missions in the F-105 Thunderchief. He has served as special assistant to Col. Luby since that time.

Entering the Air Force Cadet program in 1949, Col. Wall received his wings in 1950. His first assignment was as an instructor pilot at Vance AFB, Okla., training pilots for the Korean War. A fighter pilot at heart, he flew the F-84G Thunderjet in Korea in 1954. The next five years, he spent at Cannon AFB, N.M., where he flew the F-86H Sabre and the F-100D Super Sabre.

After serving three years overseas in Japan flying the Super Sabre, Col. Wall rejoined ATC, serving as instructor pilot and stationed at Laredo AFB, training pilots in the T-33 and T-38 Talon.

In September, 1966, he was assigned to duty in Thailand. Flying the Thunderchief, he was connected with the "Wild Weasel" mission. His duty was to search out and destroy enemy SAM missile sites. He calls the experiences in Southeast Asia "very rewarding — the opportunity to put everything learned in 20 years of flying out in front."

Col. Wall's decorations include the Distinguished Flying Cross with one oak leaf cluster, and the Air Medal with nine oak leaf clusters. The colonel and his wife, Margret, have three children, Christine, 17, Dennis, 16, and Joann, 14.

Webb Graduates 49 Pilots Saturday

Forty-nine new jet pilots, members of graduating Class 68-H, are scheduled to receive their wings and certificates of aeronautical rating in ceremonies on the flight line Saturday, at Webb AFB, starting at 9:30 a.m.

Included with the 45 Air Force officers graduating are the first three Marine officers to receive pilot training here and one Norwegian officer.

Two guest speakers have been invited to take part in the weekend activities. Col. Daniel James will address the graduates at tonight's dining-in at the Officer's Open Mess. Tomorrow morning, following graduation ceremonies, Brig. Gen. Robert G. Owens Jr., U.S. Marine Corps, will speak at the commander's coffee.

Also included is a special aerial demonstration by Bob Hoover; test pilot. Hoover will present an aerobatic show in an F-51 Mustang just after the graduation exercises are completed. Time for his show is approximately 10:15 a.m.

Col. William C. McGlothlin, commander of Webb's 3560th Pilot Training Wing, invited Howard County residents to visit the base and view the activities.

Rector Elected For St. Mary's

Rev. Harland Birdwell, vicar of Sweetwater and Colorado City Churches for the past three years, has accepted election as rector of St. Mary's Episcopal Church here, effective Aug. 7.

Announcement was made by senior warden J. R. Anderson in a letter to the parish. Rev. Birdwell is expected to arrive in Big Spring Aug. 1.

A native of Snyder, he has been associated with St. Stephen's Episcopal Church in Sweetwater and All Saints Episcopal Church in Colorado City since August, 1965.

His wife is the former Charlene Smith of Sweetwater. They have two children, Cindy, 17, and Scott, 15.

Monday Holiday Bill Passes Senate Panel

WASHINGTON (AP)— A bill to change several holidays to Monday, thus creating long weekends, has been approved by the Senate Judiciary Committee.

The measure, unchanged in Thursday's action from the version passed by the House, provides for observance of Washington's Birthday, Memorial Day and Veterans Day on Mondays, and makes Columbus Day a federal holiday for the first time.

Columbus Day also would be observed on a Monday.

Since Labor Day already falls on a Monday, the effect of the bill would be to have five three-day holiday weekends each year.

The bill would go into effect Jan. 1, 1970, giving state legislatures a chance to pass corresponding measures and also to give calendar markers a chance to adjust.

Although technically limited to only federal employes and the District of Columbia, it is expected that states would follow suit.

In other action by Congress:

—The House Appropriations Committee voted to bar use of funds allotted the Department of Health, Education and Welfare to force busing of students or to force any student to attend a secondary school against the wishes of his parents.

The effect of the action would be to allow schools to continue with planning and budgets while negotiating controversies with the department.

At present, funds are delayed until the school volunteers a satisfactory proposal for compliance with desegregation regulations.

The action was taken as the committee reported its HEW appropriations bill to the floor, trimming $847.8 million out of the amount requested for education. Even so, education funds of $14.38 billion are $3 billion greater than the current year.

—The Defense Department appealed to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee for passage of a proposed $296 million authorization bill to finance or guarantee credit sales of arms to friendly countries.

The bill is tailored this year to avoid criticism in Congress that the Defense Department has too much freedom in arranging and helping to finance arms loans for underdeveloped countries.

—The Senate Judiciary Committee approved what would be the first federal legislation providing criminal penalties for burning or otherwise desecrating the American flag.

Under the bill, anyone who knowingly casts contempt on the flag by publicly burning, mutilating, defacing, defiling, or trampling on it would face a year's imprisonment or a $1,000 fine or both.

Most states now have such a law.

Lad Strays From Hospital, Copters Help Locate Him

CAMARILLO, Calif. (AP) — From a helicopter overhead came his mother's voice:

"Mark, come out, Mark—it's time to go home."

Huddled in dense underbrush near a lemon grove, the boy, 7, searched the skies for the source of the voice.

Finally, two Navy Seabees, among 220 searchers, found Mark Yundzel, three days after he had vanished from Camarillos State Hospital.

His ordeal had special poignancy for in the institution, Mark's mental age is listed at three.

Although doctors say Mark is unable to recognize food or drink, he survived.

The search launched Tuesday was getting nowhere until John Strobel, public affairs officer for the U.S. Naval Construction Battalion Center of Port Hueneme, Calif., talked with Mark's mother, Mrs. Paul Yundzel of Garden Grove, Calif.

Mrs. Yundzel said Mark, frightened of people and obviously hiding, might respond to the sound of her voice. "And he loves helicopters," she told Strobel.

The mother's plea for Mark to come out of hiding was recorded by Jim Mitchell, news director for KVEN Radio in Ventura, and rushed to Point Mugu where the Navy helicopter was based. The loudspeaker system mounted on the copter is the same as those used in Vietnam to broadcast messages to enemy troops, Navy spokesmen said.

The blond-haired child apparently climbed a five-foot fence to escape. He was covered with scratches and insect bites and, besides some dehydration, may have suffered infection, doctors said. He is being X-rayed and kept under medical care for two or three days.

Thieves Steal Mia's Jewels

WEYBRIDGE, England (AP) — Two men broke into the home of American actress Mia Farrow late Thursday night and escaped with jewelry after tying up her mother, actress Maureen O'Sullivan.

Miss Farrow, 22-year-old estranged wife of Frank Sinatra, was out when the men raided her house near this Surrey town.

The value of the stolen jewelry was not immediately disclosed. The raiders ransacked two bedrooms and also stole a passport.

"There were two men, one of them wearing a stocking mask," Miss Farrow told newsmen.

"Apparently the thieves were looking for my engagement ring, which isn't even in this country."

Miss Farrow has been living and filming near London for several months.

Miss O'Sullivan, now 55, was alone in the house. She was bound to a chair with stockings. She managed to struggle free after half an hour and telephoned the police.

Legislators Optimistic They'll Finish Up Job

AUSTIN (AP) — Optimism spread among legislators today that they could wind up their taxing, spending and liquor regulation chores without the need for another special session.

There were signs the leadership of both houses was determined to wind up the session's work by the July 3 deadline as lawmakers adjourned Thursday for a three-day weekend.

The 10-man House-Senate conference committee on appropriations held its first meeting Thursday afternoon, but contrary to assurances from Speaker Ben Barnes and Lt. Gov. Preston Smith, it met secretly in Barnes' Capitol apartment.

Neither Barnes nor Smith was there.

"Progress" was reported by the senior conferee, Sen. A.M. Aikin, Paris, Senate Finance Committee chairman. He claimed the meeting, attended by eight conferees, was not formal, and therefore not covered by Barnes's and Smith's promises.

A major obstacle to the session's success fell when the House quickly passed a $124 million revenue bill Thursday that raises the general sales tax and the motor vehicle sales tax from 2 to 3 per cent. The Senate State Affairs Committee immediately scheduled a 9 a.m. Monday hearing so the full Senate could take up the bill early in the week.

Gov. John Connally's mini-bottle liquor by the drink bill was heard by the Senate Committee on Counties, Cities and Towns. It was referred to a subcommittee, with instructions to report back to the full committee Monday at 10 a.m.

The appropriations conferees will meet Monday at 8:30 a.m., in public this time.

Some lawmakers were suggesting cautiously that the session could end as early as next Saturday if things continue to run smoothly.

More than likely, a conference committee will be needed on taxes, since the Senate is likely to make changes in the House bill which representatives won't accept.

This way taxing and spending conferees can work in tandem and come out with bills that balance—"We'll have to hold up for the tax bill," Aikin said.

The liquor bill probably will make it to the Senate floor, but it is highly questionable whether it can muster a majority.

The appropriations conferees must work out numerous differences, which add up to about $6 million, between the House and Senate versions of a total $2.5 billion spending measure for the year starting Sept. 1. The Senate bill requires $138 million in new taxes, the House measure $132 million.

Riots Murder Trial Reset

VICTORIA, Tex. (AP) — The murder trial of Charles E. Freeman, a former Texas Southern University student, has been postponed until Oct. 28 by Dist. Judge Joe E. Kelly.

The Port Arthur youth is one of five charged with murder and assault to murder following riots at the Houston school May 16-17, 1967. One policeman was killed and another injured in the riots.

The trial, which was to have started here Monday, was postponed by Judge Kelly Thursday after defense attorneys had filed a motion for continuance. He set Oct. 4 as the date for hearing pretrial motions.

The judge also took under consideration a motion from defense attorney Raymond Brown to move the trial from Victoria.

The case had been moved from Houston to Victoria by Dist. Judge Wendell A. Odom April 30 after eight witnesses testified they felt neither Freeman nor the other four former students indicted after the riots could receive a fair trial in Harris County.

The other defendants are Douglas Wayne Waller, 21, Houston; Floyd Nichols, 26, Dallas; Trazawell Franklin Jr., 21, Houston; and John Parker, 20, Galesburg, Ill.

Travel fine in p.m.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) That business person who has been eluding you lately can now be contacted and advice you want obtained. Get busy on that budget later. Those bills that are due should be given precedence.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) You have the right gimmicks for getting what you desire now, without permitting others to bother you. Then dress in good taste and be off to the social fun you really like. Stop being so reticent.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) You had better start getting prepared now if you are going to get ahead on the particular practical plan, so dig up the facts, figures. Others require help from you. Be sure you give it without deliberating so much.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Talk over with real pals just how far they are willing to go to assist you with plans you now have. Contact those individuals who have the wherewithal to help you to advance from the social angle. Show you have imagination.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Why don't you show associates that you really have their interests at heart and carry through with agreements to the letter? Then success comes more easily. Get those confusing points cleared up intelligently.

Soft Spoken Organizer To Follow Brown In SNCC Post

NEWARK (AP) — Philip Hutchings, a soft spoken, young black organizer in Newark has been chosen to succeed Rap Brown as leader of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee.

An informant in the Negro community here said of the change, "SNCC seems to want to get away from the cult of personality that Brown and Stokely Carmichael developed and go back to the unglamorous but necessary job of organizing grass-roots people around specific programs."

Hutchings, 26, is reliably reported to have been elected at a meeting last weekend in Atlanta, the group's headquarters.

SNCC has refused to confirm the story for "the white press," but those who have worked closely here with Hutchings for the past three years have confirmed it. Hutchings himself has been unavailable for comment.

The post itself has been changed to signal the new direction of the financially hard-pressed Black Power organization.

Hutchings will be "program coordinator," not "chairman," a post which has been abolished.

Brown, who served as chairman since May, 1967, reportedly did not seek re-election. He was recently sentenced to five years in prison on a federal firearms charge. The sentence is under appeal.

That Hutchings' name is unfamiliar is not surprising.

He has worked quietly in Newark on the sort of grassroots organizing that was SNCC's primary activity before Carmichael took over two years ago.

Hutchings came to Newark three years ago following a brief stint as a SNCC field worker in Georgia and Tennessee. He had previously dropped out of Howard University where he was a classmate of Carmichael.

His initial work in Newark was with SNCC's white counterpart on the New Left, Students for a Democratic Society and its founder, Tom Hayden. Then he became the head SNCC field worker in Newark.

Hutchings appears to depart from Brown and Carmichael on the question of working with whites. Since Brown and Carmichael took over, no whites have held staff organizing positions with SNCC.

Damage Action Asks $35,000

Mrs. Norma Sunday has filed a damage action in 118th District Court against Mrs. R. E. Martin and Terry Edens asking $35,000.

The petition does not state the incident on which the damage action is based, but says it occurred Dec. 20, 1967. She charges negligence on part of the defendants and claims she was injured.

A check of the records shows that Mrs. Sundy and Terry Edens were involved in a two-car mishap north of Big Spring on Birdwell Lane on that date.

Piccadilly Circus To Be Streamlined

LONDON (AP) — Piccadilly Circus, London's tourist and night life center with a naked statue of the god of love in the middle, will be streamlined with underground traffic, new buildings and hotels, the Greater London Council announced Thursday.

The plan to give the downtown traffic circle a new look will keep the present bright lights and the famed statue of Eros—a winged figure with a bow and arrow.

The work will begin, the council said, in about three years.

A Devotional For The Day

Behold, what manner of love the Father hath bestowed upon us, that we should be called the sons of God. (I John 3:1)

PRAYER: Our loving Father, we thank Thee for countless gifts and mercies; but above all else, for the life, love, death, and resurrection of Thy dear only Son, for present salvation and eternal life. May we so live that our thoughts and actions express gratitude for this great love and ever glorify Thy name; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

(From the 'Upper Room')

Plight Of Private Colleges

Like so many of the problems of today, the plight of the private schools is so acute and vexing that it requires both the wealth and the wisdom of a Solomon to solve.

Recently private college presidents in Texas laid their sea of troubles before a study group of the Texas College and University Coordinating Board. The report boiled down essentially to the conclusion that unless some means of effective state aid can be worked out, over half of these colleges and universities will have to be closed or else have their character changed drastically.

Their trouble is basically financial. Lacking in the state subsidy that makes possible lower charges in tuition, fees, etc. for most state schools, these private institutions of higher learning have reached a breaking point in raising student charges. Their own source of subsidy — private philantrophy — has not kept pace with rising costs, either for endowment or operation.

One idea advanced was a state contract to put state students into private colleges. The rationale for this and for other proposals of state support is that the private schools are taking care of students which the state otherwise would have to educate, and that these schools are doing it at a far less cost than the state could afford to build and maintain schools to accommodate these students.

But this runs into one formidable obstacle because a goodly number of the private colleges and universities are church-owned and operated. This poses the old issue of separation of church and state. Once this was solved, at least by the more fundamental bodies, by simply avoiding any sort of help.

Now most chief administrators and many board members of these church-supported colleges are warning that a fresh look must be taken at this because survivals of the institutions may be at stake. They argue, with some logic, that all citizens are taxed to educate children and young people, hence the state has an obligation regardless of the locus of the secular portion of the education. Only last week the U. S. Supreme Court said that parochial schools could borrow textbooks (excluding religious works) from public school reserves. This decision has been both assailed and praised, yet it cannot help but have some bearing upon the matter of aid in the higher level of education.

Nearly everyone agrees that the private schools, and particularly the church related schools, need to be saved because not only of their educational service but because they furnish much of the moral and ethical ferment in American life. But how can and shall this be done? That is the question.

'ALL I WANTED WAS TO SHAKE ZE HAND . . .'

Around The Rim

But Will They Take An Overdraft?

We've all seen those ads where the well-dressed gent, obviously on some type of trip, says, "I never carry more than $25 in cash with me." Then, of course, the pitch is made for a particular brand of traveler's checks.

While few of us even have $25 to carry around in the first place, the day is fast approaching when carrying any type of negotiable notes at all will be the exception, rather than the rule.

WITH MODERN computers invading us like Atillan hordes, and with these "electronic brains" virtually able to perform any type of function—particularly when it comes to problem-solving — a day will come when our pay checks will go directly to a centralized "processing plant." This, then, will replace the present system of paying in cash, checks or having one's pay sent to a bank or other institution.

The computer will pay our bills — adjusting our statements and forwarding data to other computers owned by our creditors.

The employer, upon hiring an individual, will forward all necessary data, i.e., amount of salary, amounts of different bills such as rent, car payment, insurance premium, various deductions, etc., to this processing plant.

WHEN PAYDAY arrives, the accounting department of the company will simply "key in" payroll data to the processing plant via remote computers at the company and everything from there on will become automatic.

Since computers have such vast storage capabilities, everything about one's financial status may be entered and maintained permanently, with incredible speed and accessibility. Of course, provisions will be allowed for necessary changes such as raises, additional deductions, change of jobs, etc.

For example, Joe Snorkle works for Apex Co. and earns $500 per month. His bills include $110 for rent, $75 for auto payments, $30 for insurance and $50 for savings. Of course, there will be other bills such as utilities, groceries, charitable contributions and miscellaneous expenses, but I'll discuss these later.

FOR ALL of the fixed amount bills, the computer will automatically deduct these from Joe's pay and forward the respective amounts to the computers of the creditors. The utility companies, also possessing computers, will get their amounts when their machines extract the specific amounts for these bills from Joe's balance.

Since all businesses will have these computers which will be connected to the processing plant, the grocer, the baker and candlestick maker will simply "key in" the amounts of Joe's purchases there in the store and his financial statement at the plant will be automatically adjusted accordingly.

WHAT ABOUT the times when Joe needs a haircut, a pack of cigarettes from the corner store, or wants to give his son a $1 for Cub scout meeting? Joe, for a small service charge, could have a small remote computer unit at his home — as will the small corner store, the barber shop and his son's pack mother. This will allow the small amounts to be handled with a more personal touch.

For the die-hards who insist on running their sticky fingers over that "green," however, some provisions will be made for them, too. For example, Joe could predetermine that he will need $100 per month for miscellaneous expenses and have this amount deducted from his salary before the computers are turned loose on his finances.

ALAS, for die-hard Joe, his "miscellaneous" money will be issued in the form of a negotiable IBM card.

Thorn Among The Roses

In 1940, less than three decades ago, the average life span in Mexico was a mere 39 years. That was 23.9 years less than average longevity in the United States at the time. Today, according to Arizona State University's Latin American Digest, Mexico's average life span has jumped to 67 years, only about three years behind the U.S. figure.

This is a remarkable illustration of what can be done through improvement in nutrition and public health practices. Yet though the change is a fine thing for the Mexican people, it also can be taken as a reminder of something less pleasant.

This process of extending the average life span is going on, at varying speed, all over the world. The unfortunate consequence is that, with birth rates more or less constant, population is increasing much faster than ever before.

It is good that people whose parents could expect to live only about 40 years can now look forward almost to the biblical span of three score and ten. But as the human life span increases, society is under increasing pressure to curb birth rates. The alternative is a disastrous rise in population — disastrous because demand outpaces supply of food and everything else required for a decent life. It is not alarmist, but merely realistic, to note that civilization is on a collision course with the population explosion. Unless birth control measures are adopted on a global scale, mankind will soon confront the gravest crisis in history.

Insist On Vacations

NEW YORK (AP) — "I want you to take a couple of weeks off, Fastalk, and I want you to get out of the city to some nice spot and I don't want you to even think about the office," Mr. Big, the president, told his sales manager.

Fastalk protested: he had too much work to do, he wasn't tired, he loved his job. "That's an order," Big barked, and so Fastalk slunk away to his summer vacation.

THE SCENE might not be common, but it does occur in many large companies, for one of the most persistent problems in scheduling vacations, which generally are being liberalized, is to get the executive to take the time due him.

Rest, relaxation, recreation—just time away from the office—are being regarded increasingly as the route to greater efficiency and productivity. But ironically, some of those very executives who first spotted this route are the least able to follow it.

A report to member companies by the American Management Association, a nonprofit research and educational organization that does a continuing study on vacation policies, contains this observation:

". . . the predominant problem appears to be the difficulty in persuading executives to take the vacations to which they are entitled and to take enough consecutive time to take maximum advantage of the rest which is intended to be the purpose of vacations."

THE STUDY shows also that some companies now insist that executives not only take longer vacations but follow them with shorter periods away from the office, and that time off "be taken away from home and uninterrupted by business."

The management association reports that "these companies have reported improved efficiency and productivity as a result of such policies." But there are other reasons also behind the insistence on vacations.

In some companies, for example, the executive's understudy is expected to develop his abilities during the boss' vacation.

AT LEAST one company requires that every executive take a two-week vacation every six months.

While executives are resisting long vacations — and in some instances are said to be choosing multiple small vacations or long weekends — most companies seem to be liberalizing their policies for salaried workers.

In almost all corporations, the management association says, length of service is the determinant of vacations. The general pattern for salaried workers is one week after six months and two weeks after a year.

The liberalization appears most noticeably in the shorter time needed for three-week vacations. Some companies which once required 15 years of service, the management association says, have now lowered the requirement to 10 years.

OTHER COMPANIES have lowered the ratio to three weeks for five years, and a tendency is now appearing to grant a month after 15 years or even 10, instead of after 25 years of continuous service.

For top executives, however, a different policy usually applies, with three or four weeks generally granted regardless of service length.

What Humphrey Has Worked For

WASHINGTON — The popular image of Hubert Humphrey is well established — bouncy, resilient, coming on strong with humor often turned against the same self-confident image.

If this is a caricature of a public man more complex and many-sided than the swinging extrovert of the cartoons, it is because Humphrey chose that public face. In the difficult and anomalous position in which he found himself after the assassination he took lonely and somber counsel with his own thoughts at his country retreat in Minnesota. What he said to a close friend immediately after the tragedy of Los Angeles expressed his feelings:

"I FEEL confident I would get the nomination. I was doing everything I could to get it. But God knows I didn't want it this way."

Inevitably perhaps the adulators are making Robert Kennedy in death larger than he was in life for all his extraordinary vitality, spirit and zest. And it is against this larger-than-life hero that his rivals are now being measured and found wanting.

In this view the Vice President is put down as a mere echo of the President. His very real services in furthering a variety of domestic programs are ignored or written off as feeble palliatives.

ASSIGNED BY the White House to act as liaison with the country's mayors Humphrey almost literally saved the poverty program from extinction. He proved to the big-city mayors that Federal resources were available to fight the evils of the ghetto and that they were not being cut out of the action. At a time when the very existence of the Office of Economic Opportunity was in question he converted the mayors into the most powerful lobby for the poverty program.

HE CALLED together the hundred leading employers in California to urge that industry be established in the core cities. One result was the first new industrial plant in the history of Watts.

He worked tirelessly to open up government channels to get wider distribution of food in Mississippi after revelations of dire hunger and even starvation among dispossessed field hands and their families.

ABOVE ALL what Humphrey is not forgiven by those who talk about sitting out the election is his support of the Administration's Vietnam policy. The accusatory question is: Why didn't he speak out if he has any disagreement with this policy? The answer is that he was loyal to his chief in an office in which the alternative is either to resign or accept oblivion as the presiding officer of the Senate.

THE ASSUMPTION, of course, is that opinion of the war at the policy-making level was monolithic and that the Vice President simply concurred in all the decisions that were taken. If the record is ever disclosed it will show that again and again he sided with the former Secretary of Defense, Robert S. McNamara, and others arguing for restraint so that the war would not be escalated beyond a point of no return. That private position, as against the public enthusiasm he often displayed for the Vietnam policy, is no answer to many who feel passionately about the war.

Whether he takes a different public Vietnam stand, as Bill Moyers predicts, is in a sense irrelevant. If Humphrey is nominated he will in the fall campaign carry the burden of the war.

Keeping Tabs On Rockefeller

WASHINGTON — The team of Secret Service agents assigned to guarding Gov. Nelson Rockefeller had trouble identifying their ward the other day when he addressed the National Press Club.

"I thought that guy was supposed to be a Republican," said one agent. "But he made a 2-minute speech, and for 15 minutes of it he eulogized the political philosophy of a Democrat, the late Sen. Bob Kennedy. He even got in a plug for another Democrat, Sen. Eugene McCarthy, whom he praised for doing so well in the New Hampshire primary. Was that really Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, Republican?"

"LOOK, STUPID," said a fellow agent, "even the village idiot knows that Rocky is no Republican. The man we're supposed to tail and protect is much better known as the Spoiler."

"Yup," the first said, "I did notice all those dead cats he was throwing at Richard Nixon. Said Nixon was the same sort of segregationist as George Wallace, didn't he? Said Nixon couldn't win the big city vote. Slapped Nixon right across the face, didn't he, as not caring about the Poor, as not being sympathetic with ghetto-criminals, as not having enough respect for the Supreme Court? It sure does fit the description of Spoiler, all right."

"MORE LIKE a Switcher," a third agent observed. "I thought we were to keep tabs on a guy who was trying to pick up support in the GOP Convention, but that's not how his Presidential speech came through to me. Bob Kennedy left almost 400 delegates behind him, and Rocky sounded as if he were trying to snatch them for use at the Democratic Convention."

"It sure is a crazy mixed-up assignment that the Chief sent us on this time," a fourth agent grumbled. We're supposed to guard a Republican governor, but he was muffled to the ears in the martyrhood of a late Democratic senator. He kept quoting the late senator's lines. If I were Hubert Humphrey or Gene McCarthy, I'd be worried about Rockefeller's switching parties and slashing his way to nomination in Chicago."

"YOU FELLOWS are just setting up a lot of excuses," said the agent in charge of the Rockefeller protection unit. "It doesn't make any difference whether the governor is a Spoiler, a Switcher, a Slasher or whatnot. We're still responsible for keeping him alive. All right, he doesn't talk or act like a Republican — so what? He may try to give us the slip and get lost by infiltrating the other party — so what, again? There are other marks of identification on this man. There are clear behavior patterns. Regardless of what disguises he wears, or what aliases he goes by, Rockey always remains his true self."

"THAT'S RIGHT," replied another of the Secret Service men. "You can count upon it that Rocky will play it rule-or-ruin. There isn't another politician like him when it comes to that. Anytime we see a campaigner in the process of making sure that nobody else but himself can win, that's bound to be Rocky."

"Good," said one of this man's buddies. "If we should happen to lose sight of Rocky in a crowd, we can always get Barry Goldwater to help us out. We'll just walk Goldwater into the throng, and when Goldwater's old wounds from 1964 start to bleed, that's a sure sign Nelson Rockefeller is nearby. It may be a medieval way of finding a killer, but it still works."

Billy Graham

What does the word "evangelism" mean when it is associated with you and your work? J.B.

The word "evangel" was in use before apostolic times. The Roman Emperors sent heralds to proclaim some welcome announcement to the Greek speaking provinces in Asia Minor. The news they brought was called "good news," or an "evangel." Naturally, in the Greek world it was adopted to describe the good news of the Gospel.

Evangelism is simply telling the good news of God. It is not the teaching of Christian ethics, the expounding of Christian doctrines, or Bible teaching. The Bible says, "He gave some to be teachers, some prophets, some pastors, and some evangelists."

The message of the evangelist is old, simple, and to some, trite. It is the proclamation of the news that Christ died for our sins, and rose again for our justification. I am not a great preacher. I make no effort to be eloquent, flowery, or dramatic in my preaching. My job is to bear the glad tidings of God that the hope of the world is in Christ. That is the purpose of evangelism, and the mission of every evangelist.

The Bible teaches that every Christian is to be an evangelist — bearing "Good News."

What Others Say

Students at the University of Massachusetts have devised a method to help Negroes — and it doesn't involve messing up university buildings or holding deans or anyone else captive. The Student Senate has voted to assess all students three dollars a year and to use the proceeds to finance a tutoring project for underprivileged Negro students at the university . . .

It won't turn the university inside out, or shake the administration . . . But we suspect it may have more lasting value, and do more for the students' attitudes, than the turmoil that is disrupting Columbia University.—PROVIDENCE JOURNAL.

'No Tedium As Eternal . . .'

NEW YORK (AP)—Everyone praises the excitement of life too much and under appreciates the importance of boredom as an escort and companion of longevity.

FOR THE last two generations almost every graduating class of every high school and college in the land has been sternly admonished by every commencement speaker to "live dangerously."

It is as meaningless today to advise people to "live dangerously" as it would be to give them a merit badge for jaywalking. Every human being now is born into danger and his big sweaty-palmed hope is how to get his being away from that disturbing condition.

HOW CAN you make your existence more wholesomely boring? Well, for example, you might—

Make an interesting collection of nonusable items such as packaged soap from torn down hotels and the timetables of passenger trains that no longer run.

School yourself to play croquet not adventuresomely but defensively.

When other guys at a cocktail party are going into the kitchen to sneak a kiss from their neighbors' wives, stay in the living room and wonder aloud what the world is coming to.

AVOID TAKING any action. Instead, offer advice to those who are considering taking actions.

Make it a policy never to be the first to enter into a bar when it opens or the last to leave before it closes. The middle hour is usually safest of all times.

Be wary of inciting yourself by your own emotions. If anything thrills you for any reason, take two aspirin tablets. Lie down, take a nap.

Got the idea? Okay, remember if you want to enjoy the feeling that life is endless, it is up to you to be sure that you manufacture your own boredom.

No tedium can be as eternal as the one you make for yourself.

Technicality Over Morality

WASHINGTON — The Supreme Court of the United States has just rendered a decision that appears to make adultery profitable and seems to disregard laws designed to discourage immorality.

By a unanimous decision, the high court takes the position that aid to dependent children may not be denied to a mother who indulges in illicit sexual relations with a "man in the house" who is not the father of the children.

THIS SURPRISING opinion by the judges certainly was not intended to condone adultery. But too often the high court justices become immersed in technicalities and forget that the highest principles of morality ever written were contained in the Ten Commandments and in the Sermon on the Mount as well as in the doctrines of several religions of Asia founded 10,000 years before Christ was born.

THE ISSUE is a simple one. The state of Alabama has a law which contains a "substitute father" regulation that — under the federal program of aid to families of dependent children — denies financial assistance to a mother who "cohabits" inside or outside her home with any able-bodied man, single or married.

The Supreme Court unanimously held the Alabama law to be invalid because it is inconsistent with the federal Social Security Act. Eighteen other states and the District of Columbia have laws similar to Alabama's, and they now are presumably invalid also.

THE NEW ruling concerns a problem which is by no means of minor importance. The Department of Health, Education and Welfare estimates that there may be between 50,000 and 100,000 families affected, and that between 200,000 and 400,000 persons not at present eligible might become recipients of aid because of the decision.

The Supreme Court did not base its decision on constitutional grounds. It merely held that the Alabama regulation was inconsistent with the language of the federal law — a ruling not unusual in these days of dedication to technicalities rather than to moral principles.

THE CHIEF justice, who wrote the opinion for the unanimous court, said: "It is simply inconceivable . . . that Alabama is free to discourage immorality and illegitimacy by the device of absolute disqualification of needy children." He added that "we believe Congress intended the term 'parent' . . . to include only those persons with a legal duty of support."

States and cities have welfare departments. It is illogical that the granting of federal funds should have become involved in the enrichment of "substitute fathers," while the poor children suffer the tragedy of being reared under circumstances that can hardly contribute to their future well being.

THE WHOLE thing has gotten tangled up, however, in the technicalities of the Supreme Court, which seems much more interested nowadays in the equivocal phrases of law than in adherence to accepted principles of human behavior.

To Your Good Health

Easing Problem Of 'Restless Legs'

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: Can you explain why my husband's legs and feet jump and kick when he goes to bed and relaxes in his sleep?

The doctor says his blood pressure is normal and heart good. Could this be poor circulation in the legs? Some nights are worse than others. — A.H.

Studies show that about five per cent of the population is affected (usually after middle age) by the restless leg syndrome, often called "jitter legs" or Ekbom's syndrome.

The cause is not known, but it is not entirely a matter of poor arterial circulation. Poor circulation in the veins has been suggested as a factor, but that has not been proved.

There may or may not be tingling of the legs in addition to the restlessness.

In one study it was found that about 50 per cent of patients appeared to suffer to some degree at least from depression, which I dare say could be a clue of some value.

Various treatments have been tried. Muscle relaxants help some patients. Others have been made more comfortable with the use of tranquilizers such as diazepam.

For temporary relief, getting up and walking around will relieve the symptoms, but if one of the medications will prevent the trouble, that is more to the point.

• • •

Dear Dr. Molner: I had radioactive iodine for an overactive thyroid gland. Then the doctor gave me digitalis and said I should keep on taking one tablet a day.

We have moved to a strange new city. How does one go about finding a satisfactory family doctor? Do you think I should be under the care of one? — Mrs. M. E.

Yes, you should have a periodic checkup with your type of treatment.

When about to move to another city, it is wise to ask your doctor if he can recommend someone in the new city. Often he can. (Or, now that you have moved, write back and ask him.)

Alternatively, you can always write or call the local medical society for the names of physicians of the type you are seeking in your new locality.

Shingles can be a painful disease! To receive a copy of my booklet, "The Facts About Shingles," write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

FLEDGLING COMMITTEE DRUMMING UP SUPPORT FOR REPUBLICANS

Seizure Of Pueblo Is Becoming A Campaign Issue

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nearly five months after the North Korean seizure of the U.S. intelligence ship Pueblo and its men, the incident is becoming something of a campaign issue.

A Republican party document lists the Pueblo affair as the most dramatic illustration of its charge that America's might has weakened and its prestige abroad crumpled under Democratic leadership.

A fledgling Remember the Pueblo Committee is trying to drum up support among Republicans and candidates for its call to use force if necessary to free the ship and its imprisoned crew.

Secretary of Defense Clark Clifford says patient negotiations, not precipitate action, will ultimately win back the vessel and its 82 surviving crewmen.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, running for the Democratic presidential nomination, has seen "some indication" the North Koreans may release the captives but has not gotten into specifics.

The administration reports no progress in the lengthening negotiations of Panmunjom over their return.

According to the U.S. version this is what happened in the crisis-provoking incident of Jan 23:

The 906-ton Pueblo, a World War II Army cargo ship recently recommissioned with the latest electronic eavesdropping gear, was patrolling 17 miles off North Korea's Wonsan harbor at midday when a North Korean sub chaser showed up.

The gunboat signaled "Heave to or I will open fire."

The Pueblo's reply: "I am in international waters".

An hour later three more North Korean naval vessels joined the sub chaser. With MIG jet fighters zooming overhead, the sub chaser then backed toward the Pueblo and an armed boarding party went aboard the American ship.

The Pueblo was armed only with 50-caliber machine guns and had been under instructions to keep her weapons covered. The captain, Cmdr. Lloyd M. Bucher and his men did not engage in a naval battle, but there was apparently some fighting during the boarding.

Before Pueblo's radio went silent, it reported several men were wounded. The crew destroyed all the secret equipment they could.

Fireman Duane D. Hodges of Creswell, Ore., wounded during the takeover of the ship, died. All other members of the ship's company are believed alive.

Friendly forces were not near, ready or strong enough to save the Pueblo in the brief time available after receiving the ship's SOS, Washington says.

After fruitless efforts through the United Nations, the Soviets and other diplomatic channels, to win return of the ship and crew, the U.S. government focused on direct talks with the North Koreans at Panmunjom, the Korean War Truce site.

The Panmunjom sessions—17 of them have been held to date, counting the latest on May 28—have been a standoff so far.

The Communists claim the Pueblo was engaged in criminal spying as close as 7.6 miles off the North Korean coastline. They say their territorial waters extend 12 miles off shore.

A U.S. confession and apology is their price for freeing the prisoners.

The U.S. negotiators have steadfastly denied the Red charges. They say the Pueblo was in international waters well outside even the 12-mile limit.

There has been no North Korean response to the latest U.S. proposals. Washington sources said the North Koreans have rebuffed one alternative, a U.S. offer to let an impartial body investigate the incident while a neutral country holds the prisoners.

While the talks drag on the North Koreans have moved the ship from Wonsan. It is now reported to be further north, probably at Chongjin, about 180 miles further up the North Korean coast toward the Soviet border.

Whether the crewmen have been moved too, and if so where, is not known with any certainty by Washington authorities.

Some South Korean sources say the prisoners have apparently been divided into three groups, each in a different city.

U.S. officials are aware of these reports but also have some conflicting evidence that the men are still together.

From propaganda photographs distributed by the North Koreans, U.S. authorities deduce that the men are in relatively good health but they acknowledge they do not have independent evidence to support this.

The North Koreans have refused to "let" the International Red Cross or any other outside party visit the men. Nor is there any evidence that mail and parcels sent to the captives are being delivered to them, U.S. officials said.

The North Koreans did take advantage of the mails to mount what U.S. authorities regarded as a propaganda drive designed to put further pressure on the United States.

Nearly 300 letters signed by Pueblo crewmen have been received in this country by family members and by government officials, according to the most recent count. One was an open letter to President Johnson, purportedly signed by all of the prisoners.

The gist of the letters is similar to Pyongyang's propaganda line. A Washington apology is needed before the captives can be freed, the letters say.

An Associated Press check of a number of families of the prisoners showed they, like Washington officials, regard the mail as written under direction of the captors.

In recent weeks there has been a significant drop in the amount of mail from the prisoners. The only recent letters found in the AP check was received early this month by the parents of Ralph Bouden, a communications technician chief.

Washington authorities suggest that the Reds have cut back on the mail because they have found the propaganda did not pay off. However the North Koreans are still circulating films and documents abroad giving their version.

Mini-Bottle Bill Put Back To Age A Few Days

AUSTIN (AP) — Senators put the mini-bottle bill on a back shelf Thursday to age a few more days.

After hearing three hours of testimony on the House-approved plan to legalize sale of liquor by the drink in two-ounce bottles, the Senate Committee on Cities, Counties and Towns sent it to a five man-subcommittee and instructed the committee to report back at 10 a.m. Monday.

"I'm not for the bill but I think you can safely say it's not going to get bottled up in any subcommittee. And I'd guess that it will finally get to the floor for debate," said Sen. Jack Hightower, Vernon.

The House passed the bill 78-67 Tuesday.

Other members of the subcommittee are Sen. Joe Christie, El Paso, sponsor of the measure that was originally proposed by Gov. John Connally; and Sens. Jim Bates, Edinburg; David Ratliff, Stamford, and J. P. Word, Meridian.

The same subcommittee is considering a Senate bill by Bates that would prohibit operation of private clubs in dry areas.

Opposition witnesses Thursday claimed the legislature did not have authority to redefine "open saloons" which are prohibited in the state constitution, in a way to allow sale of the drink-size bottles.

Retire Revolvers

Youth Burns Draft Card In Downtown Saigon

SAIGON (AP) — Mark W. Rankin, a young American from Annapolis, Md., publicly burned his draft card in downtown Saigon today to protest "the American involvement in Vietnam."

Shortly afterward two truckloads of South Vietnamese police, wielding truncheons and loaded machine pistols, broke up a small crowd of newsmen and photographers around Rankin and arrested him.

The youth accompanied them without protest. Asked why Rankin was being arrested, the police officer in charge of the squad said: "I have no need to give any explanation."

Police sources said they had received an anonymous tip that American students were planning an antiwar demonstration in front of the national assembly building.

Rankin, the tall, mustached 23-year-old son of an Annapolis physician, remained cool and collected throughout his one-man demonstration and its noisy conclusion.

The police knocked cameras from the hands of several photographers.

Rankin explained to the newsmen why he was burning his current "notice of classification."

"This is my own protest against the American involvement in Vietnam," he said as he set fire to his card with a green cigarette lighter. "I have nothing against the South Vietnamese government. But the American role here has to stop."

He said he came to Vietnam with a tourist visa and spent two months visiting 10 different U.S. bases in all parts of South Vietnam, earning his keep by playing his guitar for the troops.

"Most American soldiers are against the war," he said. "They just want to go home."

Rankin, a civil engineering student at the University of Maryland, said he had no intention of staging a public antiwar demonstration when he came to Vietnam on April 14.

"I wanted to see for myself," he said. "I wanted to talk to the little guys in this war. I have a feeling the congressmen and other important people who come here are shepherded around by the brass."

He said he was neither pro-Viet Cong nor anti-American.

Authoritative sources said Rankin would probably be deported.

Says Freak Shows For 'Uneducated'

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — The "Freak Show," an annual attraction at the North Carolina State Fair, may be dropped this fall due to the efforts of 15-year-old Carol Grant.

Miss Grant, whose arms and legs have been deformed since birth, wrote a letter to State Agriculture Commissioner James A. Graham this week to tell him, "people are realizing that handicapped persons are people, too, with feelings and opinions like everyone else."

"The freak shows," she added, "are geared to ignorant and uneducated people, who perhaps have a more serious problem—that of having no education."

'Twain' Talks For Kiwanis

Al Scott's impersonation of Mark Twain delighted the Big Spring Kiwanians at their luncheon meeting Thursday. Scott, a member of the Big Spring Little Theater, used material from Twain's stories and lectures as dialogue for his performance. He was given an ovation by the club.

Announcement was made that just a few under 1,600 men, women and children had shared in the club's barbecue Wednesday night, and that all of the 1,800 pounds of choice beef selected for the dinner had been consumed.

No final report on revenue derived from the event was available, but it was believed that the barbecue would be one of the club's more successful enterprises from a financial standpoint.

Announcement was made that no club meeting will be held July 4, due to the holiday. Instead all Kiwanians who desire to maintain their perfect attendance record are urged to be at the club directors' meeting on the night of July 2 at Coker's.

In observation of the July 4 holiday, the club will hear a patriotic program next Thursday, Jim Thompson, program chairman, has promised.

Prisoner Escapes In His Wheelchair

VENTURA, Calif. (AP) — Authorities say Richard G. Mendoza, 26, has escaped from the Ventura County Hospital prison ward in his motorized wheelchair.

They said he "just slipped out of the detention ward and hasn't been seen since." Mendoza, who is paralyzed from the waist down, is believed to have fled Wednesday night. He was awaiting trial on a narcotics charge.

Police Shut Down 'Adult Only' Show

SANFORD, Maine (AP) — Police ordered the closing of a movie Thursday at a local drive-in theater because it could be seen from the roadway. Police Chief John C. Pride said the movie, entitled "Mondo Freudo," was removed because it could be seen from the main highway and was considered adult entertainment only.

Vice Presidential Hopefuls Moving Into Nixon's Camp

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican vice presidential hopefuls are moving into the camp of front-running GOP presidential contender Richard M. Nixon with antiwar Sen. Mark O. Hatfield of Oregon the latest recruit.

Earlier fellow freshman Sen. Howard H. Baker Jr. of Tennessee had abandoned his "favorite son" status and lined up his state's 28-vote delegation behind Nixon.

Sen. Charles H. Percy, while not supporting Nixon directly, recently dropped his Illinois favorite son status opening the way for much of the state's big 58-vote delegation to back the former vice president.

Hatfield, Baker and Percy are all considered possible running mates if Nixon holds his present lead over New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and captures the GOP nomination at Miami Beach in August.

Similarly, Govs. Spiro T. Agnew of Maryland and John A. Volpe of Massachusetts have received indications from the Nixon forces they are prime vice presidential material and are leaning more and more toward Nixon.

And Texas Sen. John G. Tower, also considered in the running, has been praising Nixon's stand on various issues while keeping neutral as the favorite son head of his state's delegation.

Although Hatfield delivered the nominating speech for Nixon in 1960, some reporters at his news conference Thursday indicated surprise at his endorsement of the former vice president, a firm defender of the U.S. stand in Vietnam.

But the Oregon Republican said that, while he does not consider Nixon a dove, "I believe he is the man who can lead us out of Vietnam."

Hatfield said he thinks Rockefeller and Democratic presidential hopeful Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, while courageous, have little chance to be nominated and the election will be between Nixon and Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey.

Ocean Voyager Drifts Off Course, Welcome Waits

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — The lonely ocean voyage of Hugo Vihlen, so close to triumphant conclusion, apparently fell prey to the swift current in the Gulf Stream Thursday night and as his six-foot sailboat went bobbing north of his destination.

Vihlen planned to end his 4,700-mile solo trip across the Atlantic today in Biscayne Bay near Miami. But the Gulf Stream carried him miles north, past Fort Lauderdale.

As his family and an armada of well-wishers waited, Vihlen and his six-foot boat were reported seven miles off the Florida coast and five miles north of Fort Lauderdale—about 30 miles north of his target. Nobody was quite certain where to set up the welcome party.

"We can only make guesses as to where and when he'll land," a Coast Guard officer said. "If he's having trouble getting out of the Gulf Stream, he could go as far north as Palm Beach before making land." Palm Beach is 75 miles north of Miami.

The officer said he may have thrown out sea anchors and sat out the night rather than attempt a landing on an unfamiliar point on the coast.

The last sighting came as dark fell Thursday when a civilian airplane radioed that the tiny boat was sailing smoothly and that her bearded captain made no signal for assistance.

The Coast Guard said the commercial airline pilot's sudden appearance off the south Florida coast, after being reported Wednesday as being 200 miles away, was made possible by the Gulf Stream.

The April Fool is 5 feet, 11 inches in length and 5 feet in beam.

It is equipped with two sails rigged so that Vihlen can set the sails and rudder, allowing the boat to maintain course by itself.

The sails are fixed to a rotating mast so Vihlen can let the sheets in or out simply by turning it.

Reports Beating By Vending Firm

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP) — A tavern owner testified Thursday he was severely beaten June 8 after he attempted to have Fort Worth Vending Machine Co. machines removed from his bar.

The vending machine company was mentioned in testimony Monday when Dist. Atty. Frank Coffey of Fort Worth appeared before a House committee in Austin.

Coffey told legislators that vending machine firms control some 85 per cent of the taverns in Tarrant County (Fort Worth).

A.C. Merchant told Justice of the Peace John Forbes Thursday he was attacked by three men at his club, the Fun Bar, in Grand Prairie.

Evidence of the head wounds was still visible, reporters said.

Merchant was brought into court by a suit filed by Fort Worth Vending Machine Co. which sought to obtain control of the Fun Bar.

Attorneys claimed that the vending firm had obtained control of a lease on the bar several months ago from a previous owner. Merchant told the court he bought the bar from the own Jan. 16.

Merchant said he paid off $600 in loans which the owner had obtained from the vending company previously. The loan money, he said, was used to buy furnishings and other equipment when the bar first opened.

However, Judge Forbes ruled that the vending machine firm did not have enough evidence to show that it should be given control of the tavern.

The district attorney's office in Fort Worth has been looking into vending company operation and their link with taverns in the Dallas-Fort Worth area.

The Dallas Times Herald Sunday quoted a state official as saying vending machine companies hold a monopoly on taverns in Dallas and Fort Worth.

Ciff Cassidy of Dallas, a member of the three-man Pubic Safety Commission that governs the Department of Public Safety, said such companies customarily lend a tavern owner money to finance his initial expenses.

Then, he said, when the owner failed to pay back the loan, "They take over."

Lutherans Pick New President

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The Rev. Dr. Robert J. Marshall of Chicago will serve out the unexpired term of the late Dr. Franklin C. Fry as president of the Lutheran Church in America, the nation's largest Lutheran group.

Dr. Marshall, at 49 the youngest of the principal contenders for the office, was elected Thursday on the third ballot at the denomination's biennial convention.

He will serve until 1970 when he must stand for re-election. Dr. Fry died two weeks ago.

Dr. Marshall said he would move immediately to New York to begin work at the national headquarters of the 3.2 million member denomination.

To assume the presidency he vacates the office of president of the Illinois synod which has 225,000 members.

Dr. Marshall is best known among church members for his book, "The Mighty Acts of God," used as a studybook for parish education. An old testament scholar, he has also written numerous articles for periodicals.

BRIBE TO BUY RACIAL PEACE?

Million Dollar Grant Under Senate Investigation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate investigators charge that the Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO) has refused to produce records concerning a grant of nearly $1 million for programs involving two Chicago gangs—money the investigators say was a bribe to buy racial peace on the city's streets.

The accusations came in hearings Thursday as Winston Moore, warden of Chicago's Cook County jail, told the Senate Permanent Investigations subcommittee the OEO grant perpetuated an antisocial gang structure and may have helped create a "Black Mafia" in the city.

John Walsh, the subcommittee's staff investigator, said the OEO allowed members of the Blackstone Rangers and the Devils Disciples, two warring Negro street gangs, to take complete control of the program, staff four centers and take over all teaching.

"It was a case of dropouts teaching dropouts," Walsh said.

He said that neither OEO officials nor leaders of the Woodlawn Organization—which got the $927,241 education and job-training grant—exercised control or supervision of gang-member trainees.

Moore, a psychologist and former Chicago youth worker, said the gangs forced school students to drop out in order to collect a $5 a head recruitment bonus.

He said trainees were forced to turn over an average $25 of the $45 weekly salary they received to attend classes. He said the money was put in a fund "to be used as bond money to help each other get out of jail."

Two Chicago detectives testified that after they reviewed arrest records and criminal indictments against gang members with the OEO's chief investigator he told them he would do nothing to embarrass the organization or its chief, Sargent Shriver.

"Could you believe what you heard?" Sen. John McClellan, D.-Ark., asked.

"I didn't know what to think," replied James Houtsma, now deputy warden of the Cook County jail. "I really didn't."

Walsh told the committee of several unsuccessful attempts to get trip records and other documents for OEO officials in Washington.

He said the refusals were based on grounds the records were "internal documents of the Office of Economic Opportunity."

"However, it would appear the true reason for this refusal to turn over these documents for the inspection of senators on this subcommittee is an effort to conceal waste and inefficiency on the part of the Office of Economic Opportunity," Walsh said.

"I think we'll get them," McClellan said. "That is, if they haven't been destroyed."

Walsh said the committee's investigators produced this information:

—The educational level of trainees was between the second and third grades and that of gang members acting as instructors was at the fourth or fifth grade level.

—Since the program began, dozens of gang members have been arrested for murder, assault, rape, armed robbery and other felonies. Staff aides said members of the two gangs have been involved in at least 24 murders in Chicago since Jan. 2.

—Although the conditions of the grant called for continuous outside evaluation as a protective device, a University of Chicago professor—paid more than $63,000 to prepare periodic reports on the program—has done "practically nothing."

McClellan and Walsh said that the grant, coupled with OEO travel expenses and other related financing, brought the total involved to more than $1 million.

The program was supposed to provide 800 youths with basic education and job skills over a one year period. Walsh said that of 499 youths recruited, only 83 found jobs and of these, only 53 remained employed last month.

If only the 53 still employed are counted, McClellan said, "It cost taxpayers $11,900 to get each of them a job."

"To give them complete control of a program like this is an insult to the Negro community," said Moore, a Negro. "I don't think the OEO would fund a program like this in a white community."

"How would you evaluate the program?" McClellan asked.

Moore: "If they were being trained to go into organized crime, it was a very good program."

McClellan: "When this program stops, what happens then?"

Moore: "The ante will go to $2 million. When you start paying blackmail—you pay more, not less."

head after he tumbled from his Brahma. An Alert ambulance, on duty at the grounds, took him to Malone and Hogan Clinic, where he was treated and released.

At the microphone during the evening was Tom Hadley, veteran rodeo announcer who provided a colorful and fast-moving description of competitors during the performance.

CLOWNS

The "Kajun Kidd" and John Routh, rodeo clowns, were at their best during the bull riding contest, diverting the attention of the enraged bulls from the fallen cowboys to themselves — and they had a few narrow escapes.

If the Big Spring State Hospital had rodeo fans before, it has a lot more now.

More than one-third of the patient population of the hospital went to the rodeo Thursday evening. They were the guests of the rodeo management and were transported to the rodeo grounds in BSSH buses.

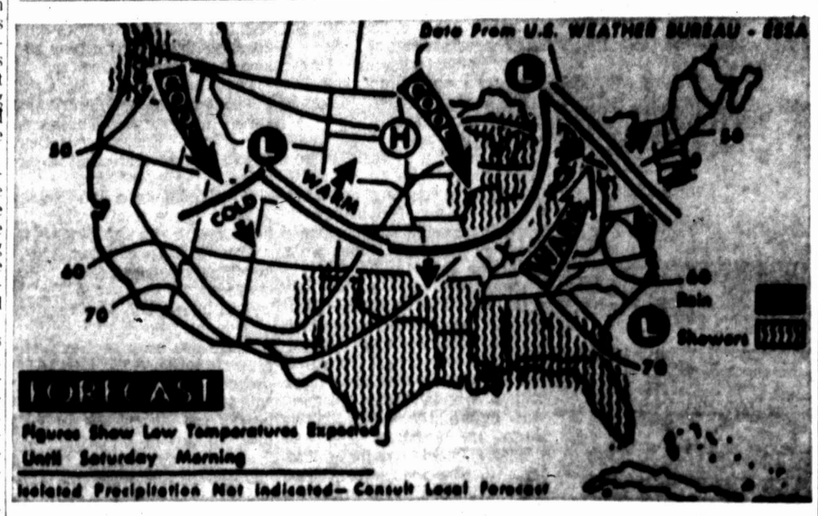

Friday, the rodeo was the topic of conversation all over the hospital. The patients thought it was about the greatest thing they had seen.

There will be performances again today and Saturday at 8 p.m. in the Rodeo Bowl, which is located on old US 80 west, just south of the intersection of Air Base Road.

Summer, Thundershowers Arrive Together In Texas

By The Associated Press

Summer arrived in Texas on a violent note today as heavy rains hit portions of Harris, Brazoria and Galveston counties forcing evacuation in some homes.

Unofficial estimates of the rainfall that began at midnight reached five inches by early this morning.

Police said some roads had been closed by high waters and a few homes in La Porte and Lomax were taking in water. Streets in Alvin, Webster and Baytown were flooded.

The thundershowers arrived along with summer, which officially started at 3:13 a.m. today.

The Harris County Flood Control District sent men and trucks to La Porte to aid in possible evacuation. La Porte police said they removed persons from the lowlands during the hours before dawn.

The main road to the Manned Spacecraft Center was closed from the Gulf Freeway east to the Old Galveston Road at Webster for a period of time.

Galveston reported 4.51 inches of rain, with almost four inches reported between 5 a.m. and 7 a.m. A total of 2.68 inches was reported at Houston International Airport.

Galveston Police reported 75 per cent of the city's streets were flooded as residents tried to get to work today.

The last day of spring was marked by a 5.50-inch rain near Rio Hondo, in the Lower Rio Grande Valley, and sightings of three tornadoes and a water spout elsewhere in South Texas.

Skies were clear generally in the northwestern two-thirds of the state today.

The Weather Bureau said the morning showers today extended 80 miles out into the Gulf from Corpus Christi and northeastward to Houston and Beaumont.

Mrs. Vera Deane, who lives three miles east of Rio Hondo, said she measured 5.50 inches of rain Thursday afternoon. Some minor flooding was reported at Reynosa, Mexico, after about two inches of rain.

No damage was reported from two twister sightings near San Benito, another near Corpus Christi and a waterspout in the Gulf.

Scattered showers were expected in eastern and southern portions of the state again this afternoon.

Danny Rodriquez Is Meningitis Victim

Danny Rodriquez, four-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfonsio R. Rodriquez, died at 1 p.m. Thursday in a local hospital apparently the victim of cerebral spinal meningitis.

The infant was admitted to Cowper Hospital about 4 a.m. Thursday. The child had signs of meningitis, the doctor said. He described the child as "critically ill" when it was admitted.

The doctor said the baby had a heart condition and that another child of the Rodriquez family had died from a heart condition. The child was semi-conscious when it was admitted to the hospital. Family members said the baby had been ill for a week.

Physicians said the child died of cerebral spinal meningitis but it was not believed to be the epidemic type.

The child had been in isolation at the hospital since he was admitted.

Funeral will be held at 10:30 a.m. Saturday at St. Joseph's Catholic Church, Coahoma, with the Rev. Leo St. John of St. Thomas Catholic Church in Big Spring officiating. Burial will be in the Coahoma City Cemetery, under direction of the Nalley - Pickle Funeral Home.

He was born Feb. 6, 1968, in Big Spring. Besides his parents, he leaves five brothers, David R. Ernest, Rudy Joe, Ralph and Raul Rodriquez, of the home; one sister, Mary L. Rodriquez, of the home; the paternal grandfather, Cruz Rodriquez, O'Donnell; and the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Gutteriez, San Antonio.

Two Are Held In Booze Case

Police are holding two men for making alcohol available to a minor and transferred another to county authorities for possession of a prohibited weapon following an incident Thursday.

Also a 19-year-old youth pleaded guilty to a charge of minor in possession of alcohol in connection with the same incident.

Police officers stopped a 1957 model car in the 100 block of Goliad in connection with a theft report and found a pistol and alcohol in the car.

The police stopped the car because it fit the description given them by Gus Tatum, 1502 E. 5th, who reported a theft of more than $50 and a roll of redeemable stamps from the Gus Tatum Texaco Station, Gail Route. However, none of the missing property was found in the car, police said.

Sheriff's Posse Back For Rodeo

Howard County Sheriff's Posse, which rode in the parade on Wednesday and in the opening ceremonies on Wednesday night, at the Howard County 35th annual rodeo, will be in the grand entry again tonight and Saturday night, Ed Cherry, president, said today.

The riders were not on hand Thursday night because they had a previously accepted engagement to take part in the Brownfield Rodeo, where the posse won first prize.

CAREENS THROUGH KANSAS

Maverick Locomotive Leads Merry Chase

KINSLEY, Kan. (AP) — A maverick locomotive started by a mysterious malfunction took off without its engineer and careened 98 miles through the Kansas countryside Thursday, leading a Keystone Kops chase by deputies, police and spectators.

The two-unit diesel Santa Fe locomotive, which averaged a better than mile-a-minute clip during its 84-minute ride, was purposely derailed near Kinsley to end its unscheduled excursion.

During its run highway patrolmen, sheriff's deputies and police raced against time as they tried to block crossings ahead of the wild runaway that sped through nine towns at speeds up to 90 miles an hour.

No one was hurt but there were several narrow escapes. Along the route officers had to contend with crowds of sightseers who flocked to the tracks for a glimpse of the speeding maverick.

The engine nearly hit a pedestrian and several automobiles at street crossings.

J. R. Fitzgerald, division superintendent, promised a thorough investigation.

It all began about 4 p.m. when the locomotive, freshly serviced and with its engine idling, quietly rolled off a roundhouse spur at Hutchinson onto the branch line that sweeps along the Arkansas River.

Apparently something went wrong with the "dead man's throttle"—designed to prevent the unit from moving unless a man's hand is applying pressure on the lever. Suddenly the train started moving.

Picking up speed on its way out of Hutchinson, the engine nearly hit one pedestrian and several automobiles at street crossings.

On the western edge of town, Harold Crain, a track supervisor from division headquarters at Newton, was operating a motorized handcar as he inspected the track.

Suddenly he looked up to see the locomotive charging at him.

"I lifted one end of my car off the tracks, but I could see there wasn't time to finish it, so I just stepped back and waved it goodby," Crain said.

He said smoke was boiling off the brakes "then the brakes burned out and the engine really took off." Sparks from the scorching brakes ignited grass fires for several miles outside Hutchinson.

Station agents were alerted over the railroad's voice network and Stanley Stout, the Sterling agent, started logging the times.

Santa Fe workers sent a chase engine in pursuit out of Larned, but the wild one had a five-minute head start on the 26-mile run to the connection with the main line at Kinsley. They knew there wasn't time.

So the Newton dispatcher sent the order:

"Derail it at the Y east of Kinsley."

Don Cargill, Kinsley agent, relayed the order to George Stone, section foreman, who threw the switch three-fourths of a mile from town.

"The switch headed it into the siding," Cargill said. "It was going so fast it couldn't make the curve. It rolled over on its side and tore up some track and knocked down some telephone poles."

Odessa College To Get Funds

AUSTIN — Sen. Dorsey B. Hardeman, San Angelo, has succeeded in shepherding through the Senate finance committee a $2,200,000 construction appropriation earmarked for Odessa College.

He got this through the Legislative Budget Board in a meeting in April, but subsequently this ran into trouble. It was to have soaked up a good portion of the $3,428,811 earmarked for the junior college system for area school construction.

The appropriations bill approved by the House allotted $1,728,000 for area school construction, some to come out of the $6,476,000 over-all junior college appropriation. The Senate committee's figure is the same in the over-all amount, except Sen. Hardeman succeeded in obtaining an earmark of $2,200,000 of this for Odessa.

The Senate adopted the committee's report and now the matter is on conference committee. Earlier, most Texas public junior college presidents took a somewhat dim view of the maneuver. Tom Spencer, Pasadena, president, said he had no objection to the Odessa appropriation provided every other Texas junior college also had its full requests honored by the legislature. In that case, the legislature would be called on to provide a lot more money.

Court Docket Still Doubtful

How many cases may be announced ready for trial in next week's criminal jury docket in 118th District Court remained in doubt Friday morning. A number of the 35 complaints which had been set down on the docket will definitely not be ready. Judge Ralph Caton was sounding the long docket this afternoon.

Wayne Burns, district attorney, said this morning he felt sure some of the cases would be ready and added that the state is prepared to go to trial Monday on any which may be called before the bar.

A jury panel has been notified to report to the court at 10 a.m. Monday. Burns said he had some indications that several of the defendants on the long docket planned to plead guilty to the indictments against them, and that it was possible one or more pleas might be heard today.

Accident Victim In Good Condition

Faye Smith Galloway, Southland Apartments, is in good condition at Hall-Bennett Memorial Hospital following an automobile accident Thursday. She was taken to the hospital by Alert Ambulance following a two-car mishap at Fourth and Douglas.

Her 1960 model car was involved in a collision with the car of Sidney Middlebrook, Anson.

X-rays indicated that she did not sustain broken bones, but she is still under observation at the hospital.

Vandals Reported

Police are investigating a report of vandalism which occurred during the night. Terrie McDonald, 1501 E. 5th, reported that a car windshield had been broken sometime Thursday night.

Fireworks Can Damage Eyes

"Unsupervised fireworks displays are a menace to the sight and safety of youngsters throughout the United States," says the Texas Society for the Prevention of Blindness.

In a pre - Fourth - of - July safety message, Sen. Criss Cole, chairman of the Texas Society, advised parents to closely supervise childrens' playtime activities during the national holiday period.

"After every fourth of July," says Sen. Cole, "the Texas Society receives far too many reports of young eyes damaged or blinded in fireworks accidents. These accidents can be avoided only if parents accept their responsibilities and cooperate with the authorities in enforcing fireworks laws."

The Texas Society offered these hints to parents for a safe holiday celebration:

1) Do not allow children to buy fireworks in the mail or from illicit dealers; 2) help children to realize that fireworks are dangerous; 3) do not buy or use fireworks yourself; 4) take your family to a public fireworks display where they can enjoy the show in safety.

Police Recover Television Set

Police have recovered a television set valued at $515 which was taken in a burglary at the home of Mrs. Ruby King, 203-A NW 3rd, sometime Sunday. According to reports, the officers located the set in a neighboring city.

A stereo valued at $70 was also taken in the theft but has not yet been recovered. Police are continuing their investigation.

Local Posse Wins Brownfield Trophy

Howard County Sheriff's Posse added another trophy to its growing array of such mementos Thursday when members rode in the grand parade opening the annual Brownfield rodeo. The local posse was rated as best of the number of riding groups.

Ed Cherry, president of the posse, said that Morton Riding Club won second and San Angelo, which had won first in Big Spring Wednesday, came in third.

The local riders took part in the initial perfermance of the Brownfield rodeo last night.

SHIPS MISTAKEN FOR ENEMY HELICOPTERS

Faulty Radar Reports Cause Of Attack

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. sources indicated today that misreading of radar signals may have caused erroneous reports of enemy helicopter sightings around the demilitarized zone and triggered mistaken American attacks on allied warships in the area.

The sources said it was "highly probable" that American planes and artillery fired last weekend on allied ships, which on radar scopes appeared to be low-flying helicopters. A U.S. patrol boat was sunk and an Australian destroyer got 200 holes from American missiles.

The U.S. Command had no further comment today. A spokesman said only that an investigation is still going on and no official comment will be made until it is completed.

The reported sightings of moving aerial lights and radar traces interpreted as enemy helicopters began last Saturday and continued all week. South Vietnamese sources claimed that 12 Russian-made 'copters were shot down below the demilitarized zone by American planes or artillery. But despite intense air reconnaissance, there have been no reports of any wreckage.

All the reported activity has been at night and unconfirmable by visual observation.

The U.S. Command, apparently dubious of the helicopter reports, has ordered its fighter-bombers and artillery to hold fire in the area to avoid hitting any more allied surface vessels.

One source said that surface craft showing up on radar scopes could appear to be low-flying helicopters, especially at night.

The moving lights that were sighted were observed through telescopes which electronically increase the available light so they can be used at night. The lights appeared to be six or eight miles away, but it is difficult to determine distances through these night scopes, and helicopters reported over or south of the demilitarized zone actually could have been flying north of the zone.

On the Saigon war front, meanwhile, the U.S. Command accused the Viet Cong of another indiscriminate rocket attack during the night on the capital. Six civilians were killed and 23 wounded. Some rockets hit near two hospitals. It was the heaviest bombardment of Saigon in 10 days. The U.S. Command sent waves of Air Force B52s to pound enemy rocket storage areas and distribution points 35 miles north of Saigon. More than 20 of the big bombers dropped 500 tons of explosives.

While U.S. headquarters termed the attack indiscriminate, the enemy gunners apparently were aiming for Tan Son Nhut Air Base, which includes Gen. Creighton W. Abrams' "Pentagon East" headquarters, and the adjoining South Vietnamese military headquarters.

Four of the rockets overshot the base 150 to 600 yards and landed in civilian areas.

U.S. fighter-bombers flew 129 missions Thursday against North Vietnam's southern panhandle, concentrating on trucks and supply boats. Pilots reported damaging or destroying 35 trucks and 12 supply boats and setting off 20 secondary explosions, indicating hits on ammunition and fuel.

The U.S. Command in its weekly report on American aircraft losses announced that a total of 856 American warplanes have been downed in combat over North Vietnam.

SUBCOMMITTEE STUDY OF LIQUOR BOARD

Public's Right To Know Given Big Boost

By GARTH JONES
Associated Press Writer

The public's right to know what goes on in state government got a big boost with the report of a House subcommittee after three and a half months' study of the Texas Liquor Control Board investigation.

The liquor law study group, headed by veteran Rep. R. H. Cory of Victoria, found that a lot of the TLCB's much publicized troubles arose from its lack of communication — both with the public and its own widely scattered employees.

Cory's committee recommended to the legislature that the TLCB be required to open all records of all violations of state liquor laws, complaints, hearings and decisions to the public.

The study committee also said it "specifically advises against the establishment of a super gestapo-like and-or secret intelligence section of the agency other than absolutely necessary for the assistance of the field agents in the normal scope of their work."

As long as most Capitol reporters can remember it has been difficult to get information on TLCB operations. Board lawyers asserted that records were protected by law and they could not even confirm the spelling of names. After the recent "reorganization," a top agency official told newsmen he "had better things to do than talk on the phone with reporters" and hung up.

The attorney general's department recommended to Cory's committee that "more forthright practices of making known what the board has done might be advisable. . . . The public is entitled to know what goes on."

Cory's subcommittee recommended that present law be amended to read that any rule or regulation of the board that regulates the multi-million dollar liquor and beer industry must have been mailed to each person or firm affected at least 15 days before it becomes effective.

"This recommendation arises out of a strong feeling on the behalf of this subcommittee that a great deal of the troubles that have arisen from the actions of this board have arisen by reason of a failure of communication," the report said. "We find a failure of communication between the various departments, between the Austin office and the agents in the field, and in particular between the Austin office and the permittees and licensees."

The subcommittee pointed out instances of TLCB auditors checking private clubs and "advising them their books were incorrect as the regulations had been changed several months prior to an audit although no notice had been sent from the Austin office."

"We think this is one of the most important recommendations of this subcommittee," the report said.

The subcommittee recommended that present liquor law declaring all notices, orders, records and publications to be confidential be amended to keep secret only private records such as income tax records, sales volumes and price standards.

"The subcommittee recommends that records of all violations, such as complaints, hearings and decisions be open to the public," the report said.

It also recommended that the names of all minor or juvenile violators convicted of buying or consuming alcoholic beverages be released to the press.

And the report recommended the employment of a public information officer "whose function would be to work with the press and other media for the purpose of releasing information concerning violations and convictions and the activities of the board, as well as education concerning the work and scope of the board's employees" to the public.

STAYS UNTIL SEPT. 22

Summer Has Arrived, After Congenial Spring

Spring came to an end at 3:13 a.m. today.

With the termination of Spring, Summer began—a reign which is to continue until 5:26 p.m. Sept. 22.

Most Howard County folk will remember Spring, 1968, with pleasure. They only hope Summer will be as congenial. Of course, in its latter period, Spring did stir things up somewhat with a series of threatening storms, which shook folk up to a considerable degree. And it did batter the town with a damaging hail storm.

However, it brought many gentle rains and caused the entire countryside to blossom forth in a veritable flower garden, which left the spectator agape at its beauty.

It caused the fields to burst forth with green and flourishing crops and kept them growing steadily.

It brought no prolonged hot weather; it produced a minimum of traditional West Texas dust storms. The days have been generally delightful; the nights have been those of summer resorts.

There has been only one really hot day. On May 30, it was 102 degrees. To compensate for this little flurry of temperament consider the subfreezing morning of March 21 — the very day that Spring began — when it was 28 degrees.

For the books, the maximum rainfall on any one 1968 Spring day was 2.39 inches (this was the gauge at the U.S. Experiment Station, mind you) May 9. For other folks, the rains of last weekend were the heaviest of the season.

Rescuers Rescued

RONKONKOMA, N.Y. (AP) — The Ronkonkoma Volunteer Fire Department was practicing water rescues on Lake Ronkonkoma when it had to call in the Suffolk County police rescue helicopter to save three of its men. Two volunteers were dumped in the water Wednesday as they struggled to pull their "victim" into their small boat.

Festive Canopies Up For Wedding

OAK BLUFFS, Mass. (AP) — The festive reception canopies are up and the family has begun to gather for the wedding Saturday of Remi Brooke, daughter of the first Negro U.S. senator since Reconstruction days, to a white college student.

The 19-year-old Northeastern University sophomore is marrying Donald R. Hasler, 18, of New Milford, N.J., at the Brooke family summer home.

Remi is the oldest daughter of Sen. and Mrs. Edward W. Brooke, R-Mass. Many of the senator's political friends and colleagues are among the 300 invited guests.

They include Gov. John A. Volpe of Massachusetts, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, and Sen. Charles Percy, R-Ill.

The ceremony is planned for the ballroom of the Brooke summer home in this island community of Martha's Vineyard where Remi's father has roots that go back to his childhood days.

The Rev. Donald A. Couza, pastor of Sacred Heart Roman Catholic Church of Oak Bluffs, will perform the wedding ceremony.

Remi's sister, Edwina, 16, will be maid of honor. Two of the other five bridesmaids are their cousins.

Hasler, who is transferring to Northeastern, is scheduled to work on an airport construction job this summer before returning to school. Miss Brooke is working as an airline ground hostess under Northeastern's co-op program, and is to return to classes in December.

Clifford Reveals His Difference In Views

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Clark M. Clifford has revealed for the first time a significant difference in views from his predecessor, Robert S. McNamara.

The dispute came to light Tuesday when Clifford told a news conference that the United States should push ahead with development of the Sentinel antimissile system, something opposed by McNamara when he was secretary of defense.

The $5 billion Sentinel program, the so-called "thin missile" system, is designed to protect the United States from the relatively small-scale Red Chinese nuclear attack thought possible by the mid-1970s.

"I believe we should have a defense against the Chinese system other than just a massive retaliatory attack," Clifford said in opposing current moves in Congress to cut funds for the Sentinel program.

McNamara's position was that the United States should concentrate on building the strength of its offensive missile program to the point where neither China nor the Soviet Union would dare attack.

He argued that there were only "marginal grounds" for concluding that a relatively light antimissile system would be effective.

When McNamara finally gave his authorization to the program last September it was with evident lack of enthusiasm and after President Johnson reportedly forced the issue.

There are grounds to believe that Clifford, then as now a close advisor to Johnson, threw decisive weight with the President in behalf of the go ahead.

However, Clifford, who succeeded McNamara March 1, appeared to agree with the former secretary in his opposition to a more complex and heavier antimissile system designed to protect against Soviet attack.

McNamara had said such a system would cost up to $40 billion and still would be relatively ineffective in saving American lives.

Clifford said Thursday that "I am informed by our experts that there is no known defense at this time to a massive attack from the Soviet Union."

But he departed from McNamara in another respect; that U.S. installation of an antimissile system might trigger another round in the nuclear arms race.

He said he hoped the Russians had realized "the time has come for us both to . . . act reasonably" and agree on nuclear arms limitation.

But, Clifford said, the United States cannot let the Soviet Union think it is stronger than America.

"If the Russians develop, as they are now deploying around Moscow, an effective ABM system, and we do not deploy an ABM system, I believe that could very well place them in the position where they could misconstrue the relative strength of the two countrys."

At another point, Clifford said that proceeding with deployment of the Sentinel, "places us in a better posture negotiating with them and, hopefully, reaching a broader arms agreement."

Nixon Does Not Plan To 'Retaliate In Kind'

By The Associated Press

Richard M. Nixon is using the soft answer technique to parry Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's demands for more head-to-head fighting in their rivalry for the Republican presidential nomination.

Rockefeller said Thursday in Cleveland he wants Nixon and him to be judged side by side, trading charges and countercharges, challenges and rebuttals.

The New York governor said he wants to "sharpen the differences between us, if he gives me the chance."

Nixon shows little interest in offering Rockefeller such opportunities. Political observers rank Nixon as the front-runner in the race, Rockefeller as the one who has to come from behind.

"As far as Gov. Rockefeller is concerned," Nixon told newsmen in Chicago, "he can continue his attacks. I will not retaliate in kind."

As part of his campaign to draw Nixon into returning fire, Rockefeller began criticizing him by name for the first time Thursday. He suggested the former vice president, on the basis of his losing try for the presidency in 1960, has shown he can't win the city vote.

"Dick did well in Missouri until he got into St. Louis," Rockefeller told the GOP meeting in Cleveland. "He did well in Pennsylvania until he got into Philadelphia. He did well in Michigan until he got into Detroit. And he did well in New York until he got into New York City."

Nixon said he is sticking to his position of refusing to debate Rockefeller.

"The only real winner of a Nixon-Rockefeller debate, particularly the kind of debate that seems to be developing, would be Hubert Humphrey," he said.

Vice President Humphrey, appearing at the National Press Club Thursday, said national club priorities need to be re-examined—changed if necessary.

"It must be clear that violence, crime, looting, burning cannot be condoned and must be stopped," he said. "It must be equally clear that the conditions that breed crime and violence have to be sought out—and then rooted out."

As for his readiness to develop his own presidential style if given the chance, he said: "Hubert Humphrey as a vice president is a member of a team. Hubert Humphrey as a president would be captain of the team. There's a lot of difference."

Humphrey's rival for the nomination, Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy of Minnesota, told a meeting of publishers and editors of Negro publications in New York City Thursday there must be a "redistribution of power" in political and economic institutions.

"Black people are poor because they are powerless and powerless because they are black," he said.

While the major party contenders were all at work north of the Mason-Dixon line, George Wallace, the American Independent Party candidate, continued his fund-raising tour of the South and struck it rich in Jackson, Miss.

Bureau Hunts For Hurricane

MIAMI (AP) — A hurricane hunter plane was sent out today to check on a tropical depression about 150 miles southeast of the South Carolina coast.

The Weather Bureau reported the depression was near latitude 32 north and longitude 77 west at 6 a.m., EDT, moving northeast at about five miles per hour. Little change in intensity was forecast.

Highest winds were estimated at 35 miles per hour and extended out 200 miles in the eastern semicircle. Higher winds are likely in some of the heavier squalls, said forecaster Raymond Kraft.

Small craft from Savannah to Cape Hatteras were advised not to venture far from shore.

SOVIET MISCALCULATION COST STALIN PRESTIGE

Berlin Airlift Was Big Cold War Victory

BERLIN (AP) — U.S. Air Force Gen. Curtis LeMay was incredulous. Army Gen. Lucius D. Clay was on the telephone asking if airplanes would haul coal, tons of it. And food supplies. Enough to support a city of 2.2 million people.

The Soviet Union had decided it would squeeze the Western allies out of Berlin by starving West Berliners and cutting off their fuel and power.

It was June 24, 1948 and the Berlin blockade was on tight.

Now, 20 years later, it is clear the Allied airlift that broke the blockade's back was a Cold War victory, perhaps the greatest.

The blockade attempt was a Soviet miscalculation that cost the Kremlin inestimable prestige.

When the blockade ended May 12, 1949, West Berlin, 110 miles inside the Soviet zone of Germany, was on the way to becoming a going concern, a window to the West behind the Iron Curtain. Morale was never higher. West Germany, where the airlift planes took off, had set out on the road to becoming a firm Western ally.

The grit and courage of the Berliners who stuck it out under tremendous pressure did much to rehabilitate the image of Germans generally, only three short years after World War II. And Stalin's power play rallied the West as perhaps nothing else could have, short of war.

It was 48 hours before LeMay at U.S. Air Force headquarters at Wiesbaden was able to act on the order from Clay, then the U.S. governor of Germany, to start hauling coal and other vital supplies in airplanes to West Berlin.

When the first twin-engine C47 "Gooney Birds" with 2½ ton capacity landed in West Berlin, the Russians may have snickered.

By the end of 1948 the Russians seemed to be having second thoughts. But it was not until April 16, 1949, that the Soviets knew they had failed.

On that day, the airlift hauled 12,000 tons of supplies in 1,383 flights. The "Gooney Birds" had been replaced by C54s of 10-ton capacity, and other larger aircraft. The basic requirement of 3,500 tons a day had been outstripped by far.

The incredible had happened: An isolated metropolis was successfully being supplied from the air in fair weather and foul.

Although the blockade formally was ended in secret negotiations at the United Nations between Soviet Ambassador Jacob Malik and U.S. Ambassador Philip Jessup in May, 1949 it was not until September that the last airlift plane had landed.

Called Operation Vittles by the Americans and Operation Planefare by the British, the airlift amassed volumes of statistics.

A total of 2,352,509 tons of supplies leapfrogged the Soviet stranglehold on road, rail and water routes to West Berlin. A million tons of coal were hauled.

When the airlift began West Berlin had less than a month's supply of food and fuel. When it ended, a year's supply of necessities had been stockpiled.

American planes accounted for well over 70 per cent of the net tonnage, with British planes flying about 23 per cent. Seventy-five men gave their lives in the airlift.

But statistics cannot tell all the story.

The airlift essentially was a human drama of strain and improvisation. At one point the worst fog in 20 years closed down airfields. Snow slowed the airlift. Naval experts in blind landings were brought in.

When the Soviets cut off Eastern power sources, a complete power plant was flown in.

It took more than 60,000 human beings in the air and on the ground to run the operation 24 hours a day.

A man of about 50 who has lived his whole life in Berlin was asked recently about the toughest time he and his family ever faced. "Not the war," he answered. "We always had enough to eat then. Not the air raids or even the Russian invasion. The toughest time was the blockade. Then we were hungry and cold and the airlift saved us."

Frightening Splendor

A tornado funnel churns over the countryside after leaving nine persons dead, 100 injured and extensive property damage at Tracy, Minn., recently. The destructive twister was photographed by Eric Lantz, 16, who works for his father, publisher of the Walnut Grove Tribune, a weekly newspaper. A few minutes later, the funnel disintegrated and the storm was over. The picture came to light after Lantz' film had been developed.

Storms Boom Arrival Of Summer In Midwest

By The Associated Press

Thunderstorms boomed the arrival of summer across the Midwest and Plains today, but the new season began with fair and pleasant weather in most other sections.

Spring bowed out with a flourish of heavy rain, hail and strong winds which lashed a seven-state area from the Dakotas to Michigan Thursday night. A severe thunderstorm watch was in effect for parts of Iowa, Nebraska, Minnesota and South Dakota through much of the night.

Summer began at 3:13 a.m. CDT.

Tornadoes churned out of the late-evening skies over Minnesota and North Dakota, but there were no reports of serious damage or injuries.

Large hailstones and winds of 60 to 70 miles an hour pounded Lakeland, Minn., 20 miles east of St. Paul. Hail also hit numerous other Minnesota communities.

Wind gusts of 78 miles an hour lashed Glover, N.D., late Thursday and peaked at 64 miles an hour at Pickstown, S.D.

Rainfall from one to two inches soaked many areas in the storm belt which ran ahead of a mass of cooler air descending over the Rockies and Plains.

Thundershowers lingered along the Gulf Coast into the early morning hours following an outbreak of seevre weather late Thursday.

Funnel clouds and waterspouts developed in thunderstorms along the Florida East Coast from Key West to Miami.

Before dawn, Bradford, Pa., had 36 degrees.

Church Of Christ Begins Revival

A week-long revival meeting at the Fourteenth and Main Church of Christ will open Monday with Bob Vance as guest speaker.

Services will be held daily at 7 a.m. and 8 p.m.

Vance, a graduate of Abilene Christian College, served recently as missionary to Germany from the local church. He is now minister of the Church of Christ in Commerce. His wife is the former Doris Clay of Big Spring.

Dan Conley will direct the congregational singing during the meeting.

The public is invited to attend, according to Perry Cotham, minister.

Gold Shipments To Be Resumed

CAPE TOWN (AP) — Finance Minister Nicolaas Diederichs announced today that South Africa will resume gold shipments abroad.

He said in a press statement the government has agreed to make available 19 million in gold to the International Monetary Fund for France, and $23 million to the fund for Britain, resulting in a fall in South African gold reserves held outside the country. The reserves will have to be replenished through resumed gold shipments, the minister said.

Diederichs gave no indication how or when his government would resume overseas selling of its newly mined gold, about 75 per cent of the non-Communist world's output.

South Africa "reserved its right" to act after announcement of the two-tier price system for gold. Diederichs and Prime Minister Balthazar J. Vorster criticized the two-tier system as a temporary gimmick and appealed for an increase in the official pegged price of $35 an ounce as the only realistic solution to international monetary problems.

South Africa's gold and foreign exchange reserves are at a record high, and it has no immediate need to sell gold for foreign exchange. But gold comprises 35 per cent of the value of South African exports normally and cannot be stockpiled forever.

More Production Helps In Battle

DALLAS (AP) — Dr. Joseph Hill of Wadley Institute says increased production of L-asparaginase by Truett Laboratories will enable the institute to expand its use of the drug in the battle against leukemia.

Dr. Hill emphasized that further research with the drug is necessary before it will be available for general use.

Officials of Truett Laboratories, a division of Southwestern Drug Co., announced Thursday that they have developed a new process that will greatly increase the production and reduce the cost of L-asparaginase.

They said that the new process makes possible a highly pure drug. In the past impurities in L-asparaginase had caused side-effects but Wadley officials report that they are now administering massive doses of the drug from Truett with no side-effects.

The increased supply is also expected to make the drug more effective. Doctors said that administered in small doses, the drug made possible a remission of leukemia but that patients later suffered relapses. But massive doses administered to mice resulted in cures.

MRS. MICHAEL C. MADERER

Wedding Solemnized In Church Of Christ

Nuptial vows were exchanged by Miss Angela Dawn Tidwell and Sgt. Michael C. Maderer Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in the 14th and Main Church of Christ.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Clant Higginbotham, minister, as the couple stood before an altar graced with an arch entwined with ivy and baskets of white gladioli and ferns. Candelabra holding cathedral tapers flanked the altar and family pews were marked with satin ribbon and red roses.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Tidwell, 2107 Grace, and Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Maderer, Premont.

The a cappella choir sang "More," "O Promise Me," and "Whither Thou Goest." They sang "Be With Us Lord" while the couple knelt at the altar and "The Lord Bless You and Keep You," during the recessional.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a traditional gown of white lace and organza featuring a patterned scalloped neckline. The Chantilly lace bodice was accented by tiny seed pearls and French sequins, and the long tapering lace sleeves formed petal points over the hands. The bell skirt and chapel train of organza were highlighted by sequined lace. Her bouffant veil of illusion fell from a headpiece of delicate lace, seed pearls, sequins and tear drops. She carried a bouquet of feathered carnations topped with a white orchid atop a white Bible given to the bride's mother on her wedding day by the bride's grandfather, the late Carl Tidwell.

ATTENDATS

Miss Sandra Glasgow of Odessa was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Karen Moore and Miss Marsha Kirkpatrick. The attendants chose floor-length gowns of blue dotted swiss featuring A-line skirts with scant sleeves and scooped necklines. The headpieces were blue dotted swiss Dior bows, and they carried a nosegay of blue carnations tied with matching streamers.

Capt. David Garrett was best man. Groomsmen were Russell Tidwell and Tom Kirkpatrick. Ushers were Jerry Sanders, Ricky Peurifoy and Riley Falkner.

Cilena Maderer of Houston, niece of the bridegroom, was flower girl. She wore a blue floor-length dress identical to the attendants and wore a wrist-let corsage of blue carnations.

Robbie Masters of Premont, nephew of the bridegroom was ringbearer.

Lighting the altar tapers were Gary Tidwell, brother of the bride, and Kimmy Masters of Premont, niece of the bridegroom.

WEDDING TRIP

For a wedding trip to Ruidoso and Cloudcroft, N.M., the bride wore a three piece pink knit suit trimmed in white with three-quarter length sleeves and white accessories. She wore an orchid from her bridal bouquet. The couple will be at home at 2109 Grace.

The bride attended Forsan High School and was a member of Future Homemakers of America, Thespian Club and was drum major for the high school band three years. She was selected band sweetheart last year, and played basketball and volleyball. She is presently employed at Hester's Office Supply.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Premont High School and attended Texas A&I in Kingsville before entering the service in 1964. He is presently stationed at Webb Air Force Base.

RECEPTION

Mrs. Russell Hanks of New Home presided at the guest register during the reception held in the fellowship hall. The table was laid with a lace cloth and centered with a cut glass bowl filled with blue rice bags, and the couple was joined by their parents and the feminine attendants in receiving the guests.

The bride's table was laid with a white chiffon cloth highlighted with blue wedding bells and bows. Five candles encircled by the feminine attendants bouquets graced the table. The three-tiered cake, separated by columns, was topped with a miniature bride and groom.

The bridegroom's table was covered with a white linen cut-work cloth underlaid with blue. A blue and white floral arrangement centered the table.

Members of the house party were Mr. and Mrs. Russell Christenson, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Dodd, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Howle, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Peurifoy, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Stroup, Mr. and Mrs. Avery Falkner, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Kirkpatrick, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Conley, Mr. and Mrs. Jess Miles and Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Dunagan.

OUT-OF-TOWN GUESTS

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Bob Masters of Premont, Mrs. Charles Maderer of Houston, Mr. and Mrs. David Roberson of Lubbock, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Clark of Balmorhea, Mr. and Mrs. Archie Glasgow and Vicky of Odessa.

The couple was honored with a buffet dinner Wednesday evening in the home of the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. L. Bunger. Approximately 40 guests attended the dinner, where the couple presented gifts to their attendants.

Fashion Separates Rich From Masses This Fall

NEW YORK (AP) — Fashion has always separated the rich from the masses. But never more so than now.

Indeed by fall it will be possible to tell wealthy women, not only by their furs and gems but also by the width of their skirts and the length of their sleeves. The less expensive clothes will be barer, tighter, and shorter.

This lesson in economics was taught Thursday as the New York Couture Group held its second day of fall collection previews.

Two years ago hardly more than 1 in every 1,000 women could afford to pay the prices of the high fashion houses—that is, more than $100 for a dress.

Today there may be even fewer. Union wage contract increases will result in another 7 to 10 per cent hike in prices, said Vincent Monte-Sano, president of the Monte-Sano, Pruzan Coat and Suit House.

And as modesty increases, costs go up for the couture customer. Obviously it takes more fabric to cover a female from her throat to her wrists and at least to her knees than it does a miss in a minidress with a barely-three top. Those billow bias, or pleated skirts, glamorous and graceful as they are, gobble up yardage, too. And more fabric means fancier prices.

When the low line dress manufacturers knock off the trends for the other 999 per 1,000 women, they must use cheaper fabrics. But they must also keep to a minimum the amounts they use.

Bride-Elect Feted At Gift Party

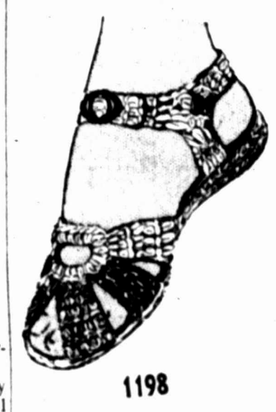

A complimentary gift party was held for Miss Robbie Smart, bride-elect of Mike Schafer, Tuesday evening in the Pioneer Gas Flame Room.

Cohostesses were Mrs. R Brooks, Mrs. Lloyd Lile, Mrs W. E. Miller, Mrs. Margaret McFall, Mrs. Marvin Callahan Mrs. Roy Smith, Mrs Teddy Merrick, Mrs Lisa Martinez Mrs. W. E. Wadsworth, Odessa; and Mrs. Joe Spencer, San Antonio.

Mrs Lile presided at the register, and approximately 200 were included on the guest list.

The refreshment table was laid with an overlay of net and centered with a rainbow-colored floral arrangement Crystal and silver appointments completed the setting Mrs. McFall and Mrs. Miller attended the punch service.

The honoree was attired in a white linen dress and was presented a corsage in her chosen rainbow colors, as was her mother, Mrs. Robbie Smart, and her fiance's mother, Mrs. Cora Lee Schafer.

The honoree was attired in a blue and white cotton dress, and she was presented a silver and blue wedding bell corsage, as was her mother, Mrs. L. C. Underwood.

The refreshment table was laid with a white linen cloth and centered with an arrangement of blue carnations flanked by blue tapers in silver holders. Crystal and silver appointments completed the setting.

The hostess' gift was a set of blue satin pillowcases.

Twelve attended.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Give Coupon Book As Gift To Mother

Dear Heloise:

I gave my Mom a gift on her birthday that she liked so well she said it was the nicest gift she had ever received.

It was a "coupon book" of things I could do for her.

Whenever she wants me to do one of them, she just tears out that page and gives it to me.

Some of the things I wrote were:

I'll help with supper; I'll empty the trash; I'll sweep the front porch and steps; I'll read a book instead of watching TV; I'll spray wax the furniture; I'll clean my room; I'll do anything you tell me to . . .

There were 10 things in all. I got the idea from my school teacher and have liked doing all of these things because it makes my Mom happy.

Of course, I also do other things when she asks me.

And since she liked this idea so much, I've decided to make another coupon book for next Mother's Day as well as on every birthday. . . . Randy, age 7

Randy, I think this is the sweetest idea I ever heard of. Yours is a lucky Mom and I'm sure she appreciates your gift much more because you thought of it yourself.

Wouldn't all of you Moms love to get a birthday present just like this? I sure would!! Doesn't cost a penny out of either your pocket or your child's piggy bank. And what a joy to have this help offered without coaxing.

A big hug and squeeze to you, Randy, from the rest of us mothers. . . . Heloise

• • •

DEAR HELOISE:

Please help me so I won't break a leg.

There are two steps in our stairs that make a loud squeak every time we go up or down-stairs. I've even been taking two steps at a time to avoid the squeaky ones. I'm careful but it probably will be my luck to fall someday.

Is there any easy way to stop those squeaks without going to the trouble and expense of replacing the boards? . . . Mrs. B.

• • •

Mrs. B., I know there must be ways to stop those squeaks. Maybe some of our friends will tell us how they managed to do it.

Come on, folks, how about it? Write to me in care of this paper and let us know. We'd love to hear from you. . . . Love, Heloise

• • •

Dear Heloise:

I'm sure many others will be canning strawberries this summer, so would like to pass on a little tip I learned.

To prevent the berries from rising to the top of the jar, lay the jar on its side until it cools, after the jar has been sealed.

Then shake until the berries are distributed all through the syrup. The berries will neither rise nor settle, but stay evenly distributed. . . . Home Canner

LETTER OF LAUGHTER . .

Dear Heloise:

I tried detergent, turpentine, kerosene, window cleaner, dishwasher detergent, alcohol and household cleaner with ammonia to remove freezer tape we put on our windows prior to a storm.

So . . . I just decided to leave 'em plastered for next year—The draperies hide it from my side anyway. . . . Vernice.

Dear Heloise:

My husband likes pajamas with a pull-over top, but the stores don't have many of them.

Now as soon as I buy a new pair, I sit down to my machine and with a zigzag stitch (because it lasts longer), I sew up the front along the open edge (through both thicknesses) and back down the other side of the buttons.

Then my husbend just slips the top over his head and we never have to worry about ripped-off buttons or a torn front.

Sure saves my temper because I hate to sew buttons. How about you? . . . C.D.

MINISTERIAL STUDENTS LEARN BY DOING

Pupils Double As Pastors

A lot of old timers in the profession, or "calling," will say you just cannot teach someone to be a minister. For the most part, ministerial students at American colleges and universities study religion, but becoming a minister and working among the people is something that has to be worked out through experience.

To help the ministerial student gain such experience, Baylor University three years ago added to its curriculum Religion 137, a course where students are not confined to the classroom.

"LAB" CLASS

Students in Dr. J. W. Ousley's class attend a lecture two days a week, but spend most of their studying time in an assigned "lab," either at Hillcrest Hospital or a local church.

The in - service training for pastors and hospital chaplains supplements lectures on what is expected of a minister and how he can best handle different situations.

Students who are pastors of churches when they take the course are assigned to Hillcrest chaplain Roy Cooper and spend several hours a week at the hospital.

Other ministerial students, such as Baylor football player John Westbrook at Seventh and James Baptist Church, are assigned as "observers" to church pastors.

DUTIES

Students at Hillcrest perform a variety of duties, from speaking in chapel services and watching operations to the painful task of informing a person of a death in the family.

Graduate student Sam Young has already finished the course. He worked at Hillcrest after spending several years fighting in Vietnam.

Young said he thought he could stand any type of situation after being in a war, but that the responsibilities of being a pastor are sometimes even less pleasant.

Young said he thought the course would be easy but changed his mind after an automobile accident when he aided Chaplain Cooper in "breaking" the news of a death to members of a family who themselves were seriously injured.

"I'll take Vietnam any day," Young said. "It was never as rough as this."

EXPERIENCE

A student assigned to a church gains experience that cannot be taught in a classroom, Chaplain Cooper said. He learns to express his ideas at church meetings and learns that some of a pastor's duties are like the administrator of a business.

While the student is working in the church he becomes a part of the congregation and the administration, Chaplain Cooper said.

"He learns to work with people in all types of situations," Chaplain Cooper added.

Latin Youth Change Image

DALLAS — A Latin American educator says the image of his people as peons is fast fading, and has predicted more involvement of Latin young people in secular and religious affairs.

Jose Rivas, professor of religious education and Greek at Howard Payne College and president of the Mexican Baptist Departmental Convention meeting here this week, attributed the new image to men like himself who now hold positions in education, medicine and law.

"More Latin American young people are going to college; and as they see Latin leadership in professional positions, the image of the peon is fading," said Rivas, who has taught 13 years at Howard Payne. "Young ones have someone to look up to that they did not have before."

Also speaking on "Christ, the Only Hope," which is the theme for the 1969 Crusade of the Americas, Rivas asked in the annual president's message, "How is the world going to know about it (Christ's message) unless Christians tell? God cannot be known except through Jesus Christ, and Christians are the hope of Christ." The crusade is a Western Hemisphere-wide evangelistic effort by Baptists.

Rivas called for a "wholehearted" dedication to the Crusade of the Americas among Latins. "Since Latin American Baptists understand Latin Americans better than anyone else, they are better qualified to reach them."

Completing his second term as convention president, Rivas expressed "hope that (Latin) laymen will take a greater part" in telling the gospel story.

Expect Change In Seminaries

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Experts today foresee a vast reshuffling ahead in the location and makeup of theological seminaries in America.

But it is expected to meet entrenched resistance.

Describing the present prevailing pattern of small denominational seminaries, widely dispersed across the country and emphasizing "sectarian isolation," a two-year study report says:

"The whole apparatus is coming to look more like a monument to history rather than an instrument designed to serve the needs of the contemporary church."

'REVISION'

In its place, the report predicts a sweeping "revision in the current map" of American seminaries, drawing them together increasingly into "a small number of major clusters" near large universities.

These clusters "will be ecumenical in character," including "groups of confessionally based seminaries" maintaining their denominational links, but with transdenominational, interlocking programs with others, the report says.

It notes that under the pressure of current conditions, the trend already is under way, with newly forming Protestant-Catholic seminary complexes in Boston, New York, San Francisco, Philadelphia, Chicago and Rochester, N.Y.

The report was drawn up by an eight-member commission of Protestant and Catholic scholars for the American Association of Theological Schools, which includes 150 seminaries and divinity schools. It met June 10-13 in St. Louis.

It says the rise of the ecumenical movement for Christian unity has reduced historic differences and made clear that those studying for the priesthood or ministry must do so "in a common setting."

CANNOT RESPOND

"Small seminaries operating in physical and sectarian isolation from each other simply cannot effectively respond to the challenge of ecumenism," the report says.

The report cited a number of metropolitan-university cities where facilities exist for joint groupings, including:

Minneapolis-St. Paul, Minn.; Washington, D.C.; Atlanta, Ga.; Austin, Tex.; Denver, Colo.; Nashville, Tenn.; New Haven, Conn.; St. Louis, Mo., and several Canadian cities.

Rising costs and competition for quality faculty members also were cited as demanding cooperative seminary enterprises, rather than the past system of denominational seminaries trying to "go it alone."

The commission making the report was headed by the Rev. Dr. Arthur R. McKay, president of Chicago's McCormick Theological Seminary.

The modern pluralistic atmosphere of life, in addition to demanding that clergymen understand those of "different Christian traditions," also requires them to deal with varied "people, values, ideas" beyond churchly bounds, the report says.

This means clergymen should be trained in a context that not only is multidenominational but which also involves cultural variety and experiences, such as are available in large university centers, the report adds.

COMMON HERITAGE

In the past, it says, the "seminary has been regarded as the place in which a man must learn that he is a Lutheran, or a Presbyterian or a Roman Catholic," but the churches now recognize they share a common heritage and concerns.

LARRY STANLEY

New Music Director Here

Larry Stanley has assumed the position of music director at First Methodist Church.

Stanley, his wife, Sandra, and their three sons, Eric, Brad and Greg, moved to Big Spring from Wharton, where he was choral director at Wharton County Junior College.

He received his bachelor of music degree from Baylor University, and master of arts at Sam Houston State College. He has done some doctoral work at Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary where he had a teaching fellowship, along with one at Sam Houston State College.

Before coming to Big Spring First Methodist, he served as minister of music in several Baptist churches.

Selling Religion

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) —G. B. Stanley, minister of the San Pedro, Texas Church of Christ, has taken a sales training course so that he can "sell his church's program more effectively." He says it works.

The professional sales course, he says, showed "how to find what a person needs and wants; what his dominant buying urge is . . . and then how to motivate him to want what you have to offer."

Using the techniques, he said, have increased Sunday school attendance and offerings nearly 50 per cent.

Group Sets Meet In San Angelo

Jack W. O'Shields, local presiding minister of Jehovah's Witnesses, will head a delegation of 40 Big Spring residents to the "Good News for All Nations" district assembly in San Angelo July 11-14.

O'Shields said the meeting will be held in San Angelo Coliseum and is expected to draw approximately 5,000 delegates. It will be one of 46 assemblies to be held this summer in the United States and Canada and one of three in Texas.

Lester M. Dugan, convention manager, is already in San Angelo preparing for the assembly, O'Shields said. Dugan is from Watchtower headquarters in Brooklyn, N.Y., and serves as district supervisor for the Witnesses in Texas, Oklahoma, Louisiana and New Mexico.

Church Taxing Is Not New

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The idea of churches paying taxes, as advocated by some churchmen recently is not a new one. The Christian Churches (Disciples) headquarters here notes that President James A. Garfield, a lay preacher in the denomination, told Congress in 1874:

"The division between the church and state ought to be so absolute that no church property anywhere in the state or nation should be exempt from taxation for if you exempt the property of any church organization, to that extent you impose a church tax upon the whole community."

MAN NEEDS GOD'S WISDOM TO COPE WITH HIS PROBLEMS

Every man, when honest, will admit that he needs more wisdom than his own to come up with answers to life's problems and to be able to get along with others and help them in the best way.

God offers such wisdom, as this Sunday's International Uniform Lesson Series points out.

The verses telling about man's wisdom will remind of his insufficiency and of the contrasts between his ways and the ways of the Lord. The background Scripture, from James 3:1 and 4:12, emphasizes that God's ways and Man's ways are very different.

It lists the seven characterizations of heavenly wisdom — purity, peaceableness, gentleness, tractability, mercy, impartiality and sincerity. There is tremendous hope in these words, the lesson points out, because many people have accepted the idea that their reactions to circumstances are caused by the way they are treated or the situations they are in. But, according to the lesson, their reactions come from God.

Central truth of the lesson is that divine wisdom is pure and peaceable, and the memory selection comes from James 3:17: "The wisdom that is from above is first pure, then peaceable, gentle and easy to be intreated, full of mercy and good fruits, without partiality, and without hypocrisy."

Teacher Shortages, Costs Face Catholic Schools

By GARVEN HUDGINS
AP Education Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soaring costs and a pressing shortage of trained personnel threaten the existence of Catholic elementary and secondary education in America.

Parochial schools are closing in what Catholic educators regard as alarming numbers.

Teacher nuns, the mainstays of Catholic elementary and secondary education, are in such short supply that authorities have been forced to turn to lay teachers, who require higher salaries.

The Rev. C. Albert Koob, executive secretary of the National Catholic Education Association, says the major problem facing Catholic education in the United States is maintaining its existence.

"The solution," he said, "will have to be a happy combination of our needs and resources."

MERGE EFFORTS

Parochial schools, Father Koob says, must merge efforts for better educational programs and more effective use of manpower.

This will mean a partial withdrawal from plush suburban areas to the inner city, where many Catholic educators believe parochial schools can be of most service.

The same steeply mounting costs which have bedeviled all educational institutions over the past three years have exacerbated the financial crisis in Catholic education.

The tremendous influx of lay teachers hired to offset the shortage of teaching nuns and of seminary graduates has further aggravated the problem.

"If the religious life doesn't appeal to as many people as it did before," Father Koob said, "what are you going to do about it? We have to try and meet the higher price of having lay teachers."

Catholic educators increasingly argue that a connection between Catholic education and the public school is necessary if the Church is to maintain a meaningful education mission.

Love is trust. It is belief. It is faith, and like faith it is the substance of all things hoped for. Faith is a young man and woman standing before the altar to be united in holy matrimony. It is a little child holding his mother's hand. It is a patient looking into the eyes of the doctor. It is a mother or father sadly waving goodbye to a son, off to war.

Faith is all this and more! It is trust in divine providence, a belief in joyful reward. It is all mankind kneeling before God in quiet prayer . . . at home . . . in church . . . or under the canopy of heaven.

Church is for all of us—a place to strengthen, to increase, to confirm our faith. You can make your faith stronger by going to church this Sunday.

Record Breakers

The fantastic 100 meter dash semi-finals resulted in the world record of 10.0 being smashed by three men in the United States Track and Field Championships in two separate heats with the record time of 9.9. In the first combo Jim Hines, Houston Striders (left) edges out Ronnie Ray Smith, Southern California. Striders, both with record times of 9.9. The panel on the right shows Charlie Greene of the Huskers' AA winning his heat with the same record time, 9.9.

Hines Shares Spotlight In AAU 100

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Charlie Greene says he and Jim Hines figure they are about the best around when it comes to running 100 meters.

There are perhaps half a dozen sprinters at the Amateur Athletic Union's Track and Field Championships who are pretty good themselves, but hardly have a case to argue with Greene.

All during the finals of the dash Thursday, the times were phenomenal—Hines won his heat in a wind-aided 9.8, two-tenths under the listed world mark—so much so that when they measure the track to reconfirm the distance, some skeptics expect it to come up a couple of meters short.

In their respective semifinal heats, both Greene and Hines turned in world record clockings of 9.9 and then Greene went out and nipped Hines in the final, a race that had the first six finishers timed in 10.0.

Ronnie Ray Smith, a sophomore at San Jose State, also ran a legitimate 9.9 in taking second to Hines in the semifinal heat.

Meet records were set Thursday by Randy Matson, who defended his shot put title with a heave of 67-5; Bob Beamon, who an inch of the world long jump mark at 27-4, and Bob Day, who won the 5,000 meters in 13:50.4.

Other champion-hips went to Dick Railsback with a 17¼ pole vault, Earl McCullouch with a 13.5 in 110-meter high hurdles and Ed Burke with a 217-0 hammer throw.

Bob Gibson Notches 4th Shutout In Row

By The Associated Press

Lippy Leo Durocher is almost as silent these days as the bats his Chicago Cubs are using. Bullet Bob Gibson is, letting his strong right arm do the talking.

It was just like old times for Durocher as Gibson and the St. Louis Cardinals blanked Chicago 1-0 Thursday—but they're times the Cub manager would rather forget.

For the Cubs, it was their fourth straight shutout defeat, tying a major league record. And their string of 46 consecutive scoreless innings broke the National League mark of 45 set by Cincinnati in 1931 and is two short of the major league record of 48 by the 1906 Philadelphia Athletics.

For Gibson, it was his fourth shutout in a row and ran his scoreless streak to 38 innings. Don Drysdale of Los Angeles recently set all-time records of six straight shutouts and 58 2-3 scoreless innings.

Elsewhere in the National League, Atlanta tripped Cincinnati 3-1, Philadelphia edged San Francisco 2-1, Pittsburgh trounced Los Angeles 7-3 in the opener of a twi-night doubleheader but lost the nightcap 3-2 in 10 innings, and the New York Mets turned back Houston 5-3.

When the 1931 Cincinnati Reds went 45 innings without a run they had a good-field, no-hit shortstop named—you guessed it—Leo Durocher, who batted all of .227 that season. The Lip returned to the scene of the crime Thursday night as the Cubs flew to Cincinnati for a weekend series.

Lou Brock gave Gibson the only run he needed when he tripled with two out in the fourth off Ferguson Jenkins, 6-8, and scored on a single by Curt Flood for the Cards' 19th win in 23 games.

Milt Pappas, traded from the Reds to the Braves two weeks ago, pitched 5 2-3 innings in picking up his first victory for Atlanta, and his former Cincinnati teammates were the victims. Pappas allowed seven hits before leaving the game with a pulled side muscle.

The right-hander also contributed a key bunt single and scored the final run as the Braves broke a tie with two runs in the fifth.

A wild pitch by San Francisco's Ray Sadecki helped Philadelphia to a pair of first-inning runs and Rick Wise made them stand up by pitching a six-hitter as the Phillies nipped the Giants.

Cookie Rojas, who doubled, was on third and Richie Allen on first with an intentional pass when Sadecki uncorked his wild pitch. Rojas scored and Allen came home a few minutes later on Tony Taylor's single.

Steve Blass hurled no-hit ball for 6 2-3 innings as the Pirates won their opener from the Dodgers behind a 13-hit attack. Blass retired the first 15 batters before walking Paul Popovich. The first hit was Tom Haller's two-out double in the seventh.

But Pittsburgh's nine-game winning streak came to an end in the nightcap when pinch hitter Jim Fairey belted his first major league homer with two out in the 10th inning.

Griffin Is Low Pro At Lamesa

LAMESA — C. G. Griffin, Big Spring Country Club pro, posted low medal score among pros entered in the pro-am preceding the Lamesa Invitational Golf tournament here Thursday.

The pro-am attracted 88 players. The tournament itself, a match-play event which begins today and ends Sunday, lured 72 entries.

Griffin had a 69 to beat out Jerry Dixon of Midland by a stroke among the pros. Griffin was out in 35 and came home in 34.

He posted five birdies, including the first hole each time around the course.

The winning team, which posted a 17-under par 55, consisted of W. G. White, David Kirkland, Bill Watkins and Euliss Rosson, all of Lamesa.

Two 56's were registered. One quartet was made up of Buster Tuttle, Cecil Speck, Gene Mayes and Dr. W. R. Strahan, all of Lamesa. The other included G. W. Holmes, Midland pro; Val Collier, Midland; Donald Bethel and John Berry, both of Lamesa. Berry formerly resided in Big Spring.

Medalist of the tournament and low amateur in the pro-am was Jake Broyles of Fort Stockton, who had a three-under par 69.

Griffin's team, which included Donald Lovelady, Wayne Griffin and Morris Rhodes, all of Big Spring, was eight under par at the turn but settled for a 58.

Charley Brantley, Muny pro in Big Spring, teamed with Charley Bailey, Big Spring; Capt. Anderson, Webb AFB; and Art Aguirre, in the pro-am. They settled for a 61.

Bailey himself was hot, however, shooting a medal score of 70. He pieced together a 38-32 for his score.

C. G. GRIFFIN

Bobby Bluhm, one-time Big Springer who now resides in Odessa, is the defending titlist. He meets G. C. Barry, Roswell, N.M., in the first round.

Jess Claiborne, Southwest Conference champion and a student at TCU, rated the championship flight. He opposes Dwayne Halley, Midland.

Spike Dykes, Big Spring football coach, is a fourth flight entry in the tournament. Ray Bluhm is another Big Spring entry competing.

In all, the tournament consists of five flights.

Championship pairings:

Bobby Bluhm, Odessa, vs. G. C. Barry, Roswell; Ronnie Rosson, Lamesa, vs. Jay Haney, Midland; Joel Vaughn, Lamesa, vs. Charles Ballard, Snyder; Jess Claiborne, Lamesa, vs. Dwayne Halley, Midland; Jake Broyles, Fort Stockton, vs. Howard Hassell, Seminole; James Whitaker, Sweetwater, vs. Bill Manor, Dallas; John Berry, Lamesa, vs. Darrell Haney, Sweetwater; Buster Tuttle, Lamesa, vs. Doc Nolan, Seminole.

Daddy Wags Picks Bad Time To Hit

By The Associated Press

Cleveland waited hopelessly for a couple of months for Leon Wagner to hit a homer before dealing him off to Chicago for Russ Snyder a week ago.

The Indians didn't wait long enough.

Wagner's first round-tripper of the season Wednesday night ignited a six-run uprising that boosted the White Sox from behind and to an 8-4 conquest of his old mates.

Meanwhile, Denny McLain used a long-dormant pitch to baffle Boston with a dandy three-hitter and Mickey Stanley drove in four runs in propelling Detroit to a 5-1 victory and an 8½ game lead in the American League—the Tigers' biggest margin this season.

All other American League teams were idle.

"Man, that was a good feeling, having my first big day of the season, and it was the first installment on my White Sox pay check," said Wagner of the two-run shot into the right field stands.

It was the 211th of his major league career, but his first since late last summer.

A run-scoring single by Tommy Davis, Ken Berry's RBI double and a two-run double by pitcher Tommy John, who chalked up his sixth straight without a loss, capped the outburst that shoved the Indians from second to fourth place in the torrid battle for the runner-up spot.

Baltimore, Minnesota and Cleveland—all 8½ games out—are separated by only two percentage points.

McLain, first American Leaguer to win 12 games this season, relied on a "sidearm fastball" he hasn't used for years to tame the Red Sox for 6 2-3 innings before George Scott and Elston Howard came up with consecutive singles.

The 5-foot-11, 185-pounder, who has lost only twice, said he stopped using the pitch three seasons ago after a pulled bicep muscle in his right arm bothered him when he threw it.

"It's no miracle pitch," said McLain, "but these guys haven't seen it for three years."

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Big Spring's R. J. Englert, the nifty little outfielder who tied for second place in the District 2-AAAA batting race, is headed for Texas A&M this fall on a partial scholarship.

R. J. will have his books, tuition and fees furnished for him by the school. If he makes good in baseball, he'll get a free ride thereafter.

R. J. will qualify for that free ride, since he is a multi-talented and an attentive youth. Despite his lack of over-all heft, he is a pro prospect boasting fluid motion at the plate.

He's spending this summer working at Newsom's Food Store here, trying to get a few sheckels ahead before entering school.

He'll enroll at A&M with Gary Don Newsom, the ex-Steer catcher who will also report for baseball when Coach Tom Chandler issues the call to practice.

Gary Don laughingly tells a story about his father, Don, any Aggie would appreciate. The father is an alumnus of the College Station school and, like all former students there, will remain an Aggie at heart to the end of his days.

Gary Don says his dad told him he was free to go to any school of his choice throughout the land.

"I will gladly pay your way if you pick A&M," Don added.

Big league baseball may be having its attendance troubles but the American league's gate is up a quarter of a million, thanks to whopping turnouts in Boston and Detroit, the decision of the White Sox to play ten games in Milwaukee and the transfer of the Kansas City franchise to Oakland.

• • • •

The National Basketball Association also reported a 17 per cent increase in business at the gate the past season — up to 3,649,511.

• • • •

Jolly B., running for lessee A. E. Walker of Big Spring, found a 5½ furlong race to his liking at Ruidoso Downs last Sunday and sped home a winner.

The payoff for the railbirds who had faith in the horse was handsome — $29.40, $13.20, $8.60. It was a $2,500 claiming race but no one picked up the tender on Jolly B.

Two days before, Sound O'Music, owned by J. T. Dillard of Big Spring, finished second behind Jalapeno in the featured 11th race, a six-furlong event.

• • • •

Dick Young, the New York scribe who can get a little acid, said it:

"How about that? The New York Yankees beat Joe DiMaggio's record by hitting in 57 straight games."

• • • •

The Green Bay Packers, who were seen on nationwide TV no fewer than nine times last year, are already committed to five national telecasts this fall — and that doesn't include the playoffs.

• • • •

The Dallas-Fort Worth minor league team outdrew five big league games on a recent Monday night but attendance figures of the club are a little deceptive.

Business firms regularly buy out the house for home games of the Spurs and give away tickets to the public. And the public, let it be said, has never been known to turn down anything that was free.

Devlin, Still Links Leaders

TORONTO (AP) — Billy Casper has the gallery at the $125,000 Canadian Open Golf Championship wondering what will happen when he stops driving for show and starts putting for dough.

Casper, one of the deadliest men around the greens on the U.S. professional golf circuit, took 34 putts in the opening round Thursday and still wound up just two strokes behind the first-round leaders—Bruce Devlin of Australia and Ken Still of Tacoma, Wash.

Still and Devlin, who admitted they "played with a great deal of luck," carded three-under-par 67s over the 6,792-yard St. George's Golf Club layout.

Casper shot a 69 to tie with five other Americans and Moe Norman of Gilford, Ont., for third place in the 72-hole tournament that carries a $25,000 first-place prize. The tourney ends Sunday.

"Those greens take a lot of playing after a miss because they're so rolly," said Casper, who is aiming for his third straight tournament victory in Canada.

Although it was guilty of committing 19 errors, Sterling City managed to split a doubleheader in City Softball league competition here Thursday night, defeating the VA Hospital team, 9-8, before losing a 12-6 decision to Webb AFB.

In the first game, Sterling rallied for two runs in its final time at bat to pull out the victory. Sterling now has a 2-7 league record while the VA Hospital club is 1-7.

Webb evened its record at 4-4 by edging Sterling in the second game. Chief Goodblanket notched the mound win for Webb, rationing out seven hits to the Sterling team.

Webb exploded for eight runs in the fourth inning and coasted in from that point.

Shortstop Johnson clubbed a fourth inning homer with a mate aboard for Webb.

Bobby Myrick and Kilpatrick each had two hits for Sterling in the second engagement.

Giants Win 3rd Verdict In Sophomore Circuit

The Giants boosted their Sophomore Teen-Age Baseball league record to 3-2 here Thursday night by defeating the Cubs, 9-8.

The Giants needed an extra inning to turn the trick, after tying the score with a four-run outburst in the fifth.

Both teams sent runners home in the seventh. Hits by Elmer Foster, Scott Knight and Greg Crawford swung the issue for the Giants in the eighth.

The Giants outhit the Cubs, 14-9, with Crawford and Charley Merrick getting three blows each for the winners.

Pizza Hut Offers Variety Of Savory Pizzas, Drinks

If you are planning a party or just going out to eat, the Pizza Hut, Highland Shopping Center, is the place to go.

At the Pizza Hut many varieties of pizzas are offered on the menu. Recently they added shrimp and jalapeno to the menu. Other types of pizza offered in either size are Mozarella cheese, green pepper, sausage, mushroom, pepperoni, pizza supreme, onion, anchovy, hamburger, and half-and-half of sausage and cheese.

ACCOMMODATIONS FOR 80
Pizza Hut, Highland Center

The sauce at the Pizza Hut is made of a special blend of herbs credited with the popularity of the pizzas. The sauce and the dough for the shell are always fresh, never frozen.

Since it takes 20 minutes to prepare the pizza, call 263-3333 to place your order ahead of time if you are in a hurry. The Pizza Hut offers plenty of seating space, enough for 80 persons, so you can eat it there or take it with you.

While you wait for your order, have something to drink. They serve cold beer, tea and soft drinks. Featured are Michelob and Budweiser beers served in frosted mugs. Delicious hot coffee is also available as well as milk for the children.

Want to give a fun party? — Make it a pizza party. Ray Woolverton, manager, can give you some helpful hints and you can leave the food arrangements to the Pizza Hut. Have a party the easy way — no big kitchen clean-up job when the fun is over.

Serving hours at the Pizza Hut are 11 a.m. to 11 p.m. Mondays through Thursdays, from 11 a.m. to 1 a.m. on Fridays and Saturdays, and 4 to 10 p.m. Sundays.

There is plenty of parking space at the Pizza Hut where they serve the hottest, freshest, juiciest and biggest pizzas in Big Spring.

Whether you want to eat your pizza at the Pizza Hut or carry it home, you can be sure of getting the best at the Pizza Hut where Woolverton and his staff are ready to serve you.

The Pizza Hut is owned by H. H. Blankenship and B. Bevis Enterprises, Midland, and is one of 120 in a 10-state chain. The chain was started in Wichita, Kan., in 1956 by Frank Carne and his brother, and its success indicates the quality of pizza featured in all locations.

Blue Lustre Battles Summer Carpet Grime

Vacation time means tracked-in dirt with the children home for the summer, and the housewife is called into action in the fight against carpet soil. Now there is a modern weapon — Blue Lustre.

The problem has now been solved with the Blue Lustre method of easy home carpet cleaning care. Your Blue Lustre dealer has available a very efficient electric carpet shampooer that you can rent for only $1 per day with the purchase of Blue Lustre that makes it simple and easy to clean carpets without much fuss and bother.

This easily portable electric shampooer can be conveniently carried in your car and is designed so that twin brushes adjust automatically to the carpet nap providing excellent cleaning action. It is easy to maneuver on the floor covering and its method of dispensing Blue Lustre avoids over-wetting of carpets or rugs.

Of all types of rug-shampooers this Blue Lustre machine is really a gem in getting carpets and rugs clean with the least time and trouble.

Carpets collect soil — more than any other piece of furnishings in the home. You always notice dust on a table; it is closer to your eye. Rugs and carpets continually collect soil from busy footsteps that tramp it into the fibers, where so often it goes unnoticed, until colors get dull and the true beauty of your floor covering is lessened and finally lost.

It used to be quite a chore to get carpets really clean, but that's not true any more. Now you can bring back the beauty of colors almost forgotten, and at the same time eliminate all the soil easily and quickly. This can be done for such little cost with Blue Lustre.

It instantly brightens colors and provides deep-down cleaning for all types of rugs and carpets. It is a liquid concentrate, and only one-half gallon is necessary to clean three 9x12 rugs. It is so easy to use—you just vacuum your rug, shampoo with Blue Lustre, let dry, and then re-vacuum.

It is safe as water for any fine fabric, and so mild it may be used even on orientals, as well as on man-made fibers used in kitchen and outdoor carpeting. Blue Lustre's foaming action penetrates and cleans deeply, holding in suspension every last particle of dirt which is then vacuumed away when the carpet is dry after shampooing.

Carpet colors are restored to their original brilliance. Blue Lustre is odorless, contains no soap, and leaves no residue to cause rapid resoiling.

Don't let the children scuff up dust from carpets to settle on table tops, when you can keep floor covering free of soil. If you have never used Blue Lustre, you will be surprised and pleased with the new look of your carpets. It is available at Big Spring Hardware.

Tar, Nicotine Content Rated

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new comparison test of cigarettes on the U.S. market by the Federal Trade Commission rates Marvels as the lowest in tar and nicotine content.

The FTC reported Thursday the new tests added 68 brands to 59 for which results were announced last November.

King-size nonfilter Chesterfields had the highest tar content in the earlier test group but an even higher content for king-size nonfilter Herbert Tareytons showed up in the figures reported Thursday.

Samples of each brand tested, the FTC said, were purchased at locations throughout the nation. Ten cigarettes of each brand were puffed by machine to a butt length of 23 millimeters—or, in the case of those with the longest filters, to the length of the filter and overwrap plus three millimeters.

The research was carried out at the request of Sen. Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., chairman of the Senate Commerce Committee.

Humble Has Low Offering

Humble Oil and Refinery was apparent low bidder Thursday afternoon when city officials opened bids on six months supply of gasoline.

Humble bid .1615 cents per gallon on regular and .1815 cents per gallon on premium, with the account payable in 30 days.

Approximately 30,000 gallons of premium and 45,000 gallons of regular gasoline will be purchased in transport lots over a period of six months beginning July 1, according to Roy Anderson, assistant city manager.

Other bidders were Gulf Oil Corporation, Continental Oil Co., Mobil Oil Co., Standard Oil of Texas and Texaco Inc.

Gulf bid .1621 cents on regular and .1821 cents on premium due in 30 days. Continental bid .1648 cents on regular and .1848 cents on premium payable in 30 days.

Mobil bid .17 cents on regular and .19 cents on premium with a one per cent discount if paid within 10 days. Standard bid .1753 cents on regular and .1933 cents on premium due in 10 days. Texaco bid .1875 cents on regular and .2175 cents on premium due in 30 days.

The contract will be awarded Tuesday night during the regular city commission meeting.

Teacher Enjoys $20,000 Breeze

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP) — Victor H. Barry, a retired school teacher, was enjoying a late afternoon breeze Wednesday when the breeze deposited a $20,000 check in his front yard.

"I thought at first it was some kind of advertisement. But then I saw it was real. . .for $20,000," Barry said. Police were called and officers determined the check had been stolen. It was made out to a mining firm.

A Traffic Jam?

CITY OF COMMERCE, Calif. (AP) — A metal band broke on a truck-trailer, dumping 250 gallons of strawberries onto the Santa Ana Freeway Thursday. It took an hour to clean up the strawberry jam.

It's the things we leave out of a Volkswagen that make it work so well.

We leave out the radiator. So the engine will never boil over or freeze and leave you stranded somewhere. (Don't worry. It's air-cooled.)
We leave out the water hoses and water pump, too. Still fewer parts to break down and leave you stranded.
We leave out the drive shaft. You know: the long bulky thing that transfers power from the engine up front to the drive wheels in back. (Always losing a little power along the way.)
Instead, we put the engine in back, right over the drive wheels. Where it'll put its power right to work moving the car.
As soon as we can think of something else to leave out, we'll leave it out. Just as soon as we can decide on the best place not to put it.

Clue Found With Value In Transplants, Cancer

DUARTE, Calif. (AP) — A long-sought clue to how the body recognizes and fights invaders —with potential value in the field of cancer and organ transplants—has been found in research at the City of Hope Medical Center.

Dr. Riojun Kinosita, director emeritus of experimental pathology at the center, found the clue in working with macrophages, a type of white cell in the blood stream.

"We have learned that macrophages trap and analyze disease-causing material invading the body, then send instructions to another type of white cells, the lymphocytes, to multiply and make antibodies specifically designed to destroy the invader," Kinosita says.

"We now think it may be possible to precondition macrophages to help us in at least two ways. First, we might train time to recognize at least some types of cancer as foreign material, so that lymphocytes would make antibodies to destroy cancer cells. Second, we might also train macrophages not to react to transplanted organs such as hearts and kidneys, in other worlds, to inhibit the production of antibodies naturally, without the use of radiation or drugs."

Kinosita, credited with being among the first to show that some industrial materials cause cancer in animals, reported his macrophage work in technical papers recently and then elaborated in an interview.

"Science has wondered for a long time just how our bodies can produce disease-fighting antibodies against such a wide range of foreign materials, or antigens," he said.

"Various researchers have shown that antibodies, which neutralize invading germs, are produced by lymphocytes, but we did not know how lymphocytes were instructed to turn out specific antibodies against specific antigens."

Dear Abby

The Longhair Problem

DEAR ABBY: As I write this I am practically blinded by tears. My husband told our 17-year-old son that if he didn't come home with a haircut tonight, he didn't have to come home at all. It is midnight, and Jon is not home yet.

Why should something like the length of a boy's hair make such a big difference to a father? Jon is not a "bad" boy. All the boys he goes with have long hair.

Jon and his father have fought about this for over a year and now it has come to a showdown, because he finally pushed the boy too far and gave him an ultimatum.

If something happens to Jon I will never forgive my husband for his stubbornness.

I don't like long hair on boys, either, but at least I didn't drive my own son out of the house because of it.

Please, please put something in your column about fathers who always have to have the last word. I have given up.

HEARTBROKEN MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: There is much more involved here than hair. In a good father-son relationship, the father never gives his 17-year-old son an "ultimatum" merely because he "outranks" him. Patience and understanding should be forthcoming from the older and wiser man.

Although I also prefer short hair on men, I realize that long hair is "in," and kids have as much right to their fads as adults.

Tell Father to emphasize the more permanent and lasting aspects of his son's character, and forget the hair for now. It will grow shorter (or disappear entirely) soon enough.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I cannot for the life of me understand what is the matter with our 24-year-old daughter. She started going with a 44-year-old man, and now she says she is going to marry him! Abby, this man is nearly old enough to be her father! He isn't rich and he isn't especially good looking, but she says she "loves" him. We are just sick about it.

Our daughter has worked and supported herself since she was 18, and she dated nice young fellows her own age, but when she met this man she lost all her good sense.

How can we get some sense through her head before it's too late? HER MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Don't expect to get anything "through her head." A girl "in love" has a filter-tipped brain. If marrying this man is a mistake, she may have to learn the hard way.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: Re: the married man who had a heart attack in the apartment of another woman at 2 a.m., listen to this:

Several years ago, a friend of ours (I'll call him Larry) was involved in an automobile accident with a lady companion in the wee hours of the morning. (He was supposed to have been "out with the boys.")

The lady, who was an attractive widow and a friend of his wife, was only slightly shaken up, but Larry had to be hospitalized for several weeks. During that time Larry's wife found out that there had been some hanky-panky between this widow and Larry, although they both insisted they were only "good friends."

The day Larry was to be brought home from the hospital, his wife arranged that he be taken to the widow's home!

It was midafternoon and the widow was entertaining her garden club.

Can you imagine the scene when the ambulance pulled up in front of the widow's house, and Larry was carried in on a stretcher over his vigorous protests?

The widow, of course, told them they had made a mistake, whereupon they put Larry back into the ambulance and delivered him to his own home.

The club members went home holding their sides, the widow was mortified, Larry's wife took him back, and at this writing they are living happily ever after. SUE

Why The Chrysler-Built Automobiles Are "Unbeatables"

By DEWEY RAY

Why is Chrysler recording such fantastic advances in sales throughout the nation? Newsweek in its April 15th issue says this about the automobile industry, "Led by high flying Chrysler which registered a whacking 64% gain."

Again on May 20, 1968, Newsweek headlines its Business Section, "If the big three's a crowd, blame Chrysler." The reference, of course, is to General Motors, Ford, and Chrysler. The Wall Street Journal on Tuesday, June 4, 1968, stated, "Some marketing men in Detroit relate the surge of incentive contests (for Dealers) to Chrysler's strong advances in the market (it's estimated that Chrysler got more than 20% of the late May sales.)"

The answer to the question is obvious. Chrysler has always been noted for outstanding engineering from its torsion bar front suspension to its all steel uni-body construction and the three-speed Torqueflite automatic transmission, used in every Chrysler product, with automatic transmissions.

Let me invite you to visit our modern service department where we are servicing all makes of automobiles with part prices anywhere from ten to fifty per cent below those of other dealerships and independent garages.

OUR SALESMEN are NOT paid on a straight commission. Each of our salesmen is paid an excellent salary with a small incentive from commissions, to encourage them to follow this company's policy of absolute honesty and "low pressure sales presentation" to each customer. Our salesmen are paid to courteously assist you in the selection of the right car—not to pressure you into just any purchase.

OUR MECHANICS are paid excellent salaries with a small commission and have an outstanding profit-sharing retirement program. Most mechanics in automobile agencies are paid on a fifty per cent commission, on a piece-work basis. Therefore, it does not pay the average mechanic (except at Dewey Ray's) to spend the hours sometimes necessary to determine the solution to a particularly difficult mechanical problem.

Our policy is absolute honesty and integrity from the presentation of a used car (we put a notarized statement on each car stating its mileage and previous owners).

We do operate a very different automobile business from the other automobile businesses in Big Spring.

Why don't you join the "Unebeatables" by Chrysler, by purchasing your next car at the only modern automobile dealership in Big Spring, and see for yourself why Chrysler is using the term "Unbeatables."

Stars Of Summer Show Were Lost In The Shuffle

NEW YORK (AP) — "The Golddiggers" is a variety confection which is supposed to mind the NBC store for a few weeks while the owner of the hour, Dean Martin, has a vacation. It probably sounded like a better idea in the preshooting conferences than it seemed in the premiere.

It is basically a combination of 1968 youth in the costumes of the depression thirties and singing the old songs with a modern beat.

That mixture, presumably would catch the whole audience —the kids because Joey Heatherton and Frank Sinatra Jr. are starring, and the older crowd because it will remind them of the good old days.

The result was a rather incongruous mish-mash of amusing musical moments, one of those inescapable spoofs of "Bonnie and Clyde," some production numbers, a bit of comedy and, of course, sketches.

Somehow the stars, Miss Heatherton and Sinatra, got lost in the shuffle and when they appeared, it seemed they were guest performers.

A pair of real pros, both mature performers, dominated the hour: Paul Lynde and Barbara Heller and they had a big assist from a fresh young standup comic, Stu Gilliam.

While Sinatra and Joey were just dandy singing songs like "My Heart Belongs to Daddy" and "Exactly Like You," it was the authoritative Lynde and Miss Heller who moved in and saved the day in the sketches.

Lynde played most successfully a downcast Clark Kent deciding at long last to reveal his true identity as Superman.

This first of 10 summer shows was nicely produced and directed. It did, however, indicate that the young stars are not as yet quite able to handle such a big responsibility.

The Thursday night rerun of NBC's "Dragnet" may be the prototype of the sort of police action show we will encounter frequently next season with a de-emphasis on violence.

The first half of the show was simply an ill-concealed lecture on the responsibilities of the police officer to get along with civilians of the community. Then, in a real quickie of a story, Sergeant Friday managed to talk a traffic violator into giving himself up and face a $12.50 fine.

It was all very educational, but it sure was not the stuff that gripping entertainment is made from.

Two Schools Face Boycott

TOKYO (AP) — Students at two universities in Tokyo boycotted classes Thursday.

Some 6,000 students skipped classes at Tokyo University to protest the use of riot police to evict several medical students from an auditorium Monday.

Student leaders accused university authorities of violating the university's autonomy by calling in riot police.

About 500 students occupied a building at Nihon University to demand greater freedom on the campus and an accounting for the expenditure of more than $5.5 million which the students claim was spent without any explanation.

University officials said they are studying the student demands.

Tokyo University has an enrollment of 16,000 students; Nihon has 10,000.

Newest Fort For Apaches

LA PUENTE, Calif. (AP) — The newest fort in the West answers the dream of a 12-year-old Apache girl even though it isn't made out of highway signs.

In a ceremony attended by five little Indians and eight cowboy musicians, Pauline Chavez raised an American flag over her fort Thursday.

Two weeks ago, without telling her parents, Pauline bid $13 for 13 freeway signs the California Division of Highways had put up for sale.

"I think my dad could use those signs to make a playhouse for my sister and I, and a fort for my brothers, she wrote.

However, a grocery chain then offered a playhouse and a group of musicians built a fort.

The bidding:

West	North	East	South
Pass	1 ◇	2 ♣	2 ♠
3 ♣	3 ♠	Pass	4 ♠
Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening lead: Three of ♣

Perfect timing and complete cooperation were essential ingredients to a successful defensive effort by East and West against South's four spade contract.

North opened the bidding with one diamond, East overcalled with two clubs and South freely bid two spades. West offered a distributional raise to three clubs and North competed with three spades. South carried on to four spades and, tho his opponents had an economical one trick save available at five clubs, they chose to take their chances on defeating the major suit game.

West opened the three of clubs, North played the king and East won the trick with the ace. East observed that South had followed with the nine and, in view of West's raise to three clubs, the prospects for cashing another trick in that suit appeared somewhat remote.

Since West was marked with at least one high card for his entry into the auction, East led the ace of diamonds at trick two in the hope of obtaining a ruff. This might come about if West held either the king of diamonds, or else a quick entry in trumps.

Inasmuch as East had made no attempt to cash a second club trick, West was able to read his partner's intentions when the latter shifted to diamonds. Altho West did not have a high diamond himself, nevertheless, he signaled vigorously with the nine of diamonds, to encourage a continuation.

East returned the three of diamonds and South was in. He led a trump. West played the ace of spades and then led back a third diamond. East ruffed with the five of spades for the setting trick.

The diamond shift at trick two by East was vital to defensive strategy. If he attempts to cash a second club trick, for example, the initiative is surrendered to declarer. South ruffs in and leads a trump. West is in with the ace of spades; however, he is unable to give his partner a diamond ruff — and, when South regains the lead, he draws trump.
