De Gaulle Asks U.S. To Arm France As First Defender Of Western Europe

(By The Associated Press)

PARIS, March 30 — Gen. Charles De Gaulle wants the United States to arm France at once as the principal defender of western Europe under the North Atlantic pact.

For one thing, he said, another conquest of France and bombardment and reinvasion to liberate her, would destroy the country both morally and physically.

He demanded that the United States promptly make definite strategic commitments in the event of attack on west Europe, and stick to a schedule of arms shipments to the French.

Rather cryptically, and without further explanation, De Gaulle hailed the North Atlantic treaty as a stride toward a federation of Europe which might seek cooperation with Russia in unification of the continent, even if that might mean a change in the Russian regime. He did not explain how he thought such a change might come about.

The general got in a dig at France's middle-road coalition government, suggesting it might be "quite natural" for the United States to hesitate to rearm his country under a regime "incapable of inspiring or directing a defense worth of the name."

De Gaulle, who led the Free French movement during most of World War II, heads the rightist political party, Rally of the French People (RPF). The RPF in elections on the last two Sundays emerged as the country's strongest single party, but a minority in comparison with the three-party bloc which makes up Premier Hen-

Buildings Are Razed; Homes Torn To Bits

(By The Associated Press)

CANTON, Okla., March 30.—Tornadoes struck four times in northwest Oklahoma today, killing two, injuring 25 and causing heavy property damage.

Canton, Longdale and Blackwell were hit. A tornado also dipped down five miles north of Enid, and wrecked a small airport.

The greatest damage was to the first two—Canton, a town of 1,200, and nearby Longdale, 400.

The dead were in Canton and Longdale.

Entire Town Damaged

In canton the storm hit hardest in the northwest residential area and the business district, but the entire town was damaged.

The tornado in Blackwell struck the south and southwest residential areas of that city of 12,000.

Six persons were taken to hospitals in Blackwell and two were soon released. None of the others was reported in critical condition.

With the coming of dawn rescue workers found the damage in Canton and Longdale not as great as first reports had indicated.

Hits Without Warning

The first tornado started winding up in the farmlands southwest of here ripping open some isolated ranch buildings. It smashed into Canton, a town of 1,200, at 12:20 a. m. (CST) without warning and went right through the home and business sections.

Moments later it crashed into little Longdale, located seven miles northeast of here with 400 people.

Less than three hours later another twister of lighter force struck the south side of Blackwell, population 12,000, and injured six. The Canton area is 75 miles northwest of Oklahoma City, and Blackwell is near the North Central border.

Texas Buffeted By High Winds

Damage Reported In The Panhandle

Two cold fronts and a warm front wandered over Texas today, a very daffy situation, the Weather bureau in Dallas said.

A small twister followed a hail storm in the Amarillo area Tuesday night, blowing over several small buildings in Amarillo when the wind reached a velocity of 62 miles an hour.

At Pampa, the United Press said winds of 90 miles an hour were reported. A lumber yard roof was lifted and an oil derrick blown down across the highway. Roofs of several Pampa homes were also reported blown away.

Dust Kicked Up Here

Hail stones at Amarillo ranged from the size of a pea to that of a golf ball. A small greenhouse at Amarillo was scooped up by the wind and blown 50 feet before crashing to the ground.

In Lubbock this afternoon dust was kicked up by winds of 30 miles an hour, punctuated by gusts reaching 38 miles an hour. The temperature was 56 degrees at 2 p. m.

An airplane pilot reported scattered thundershowers northwest and west of Lubbock Tuesday night. The minimum temperature was 32 degrees here last night.

Explanation Is Given

The Associated Press reported the Dallas Weather bureau explanation of a complicated weather situation:

First there was a warm front from the Gulf, heading northeast and then the warm weather was quickly replaced by rain and cool air as the first cold front struck. A second cold front blew away the showers about dawn. Both cold fronts were traveling towards the southeast.

Dalhart reported 26 degrees and Amarillo, 29.

The weather was fair from Wichita Falls and Abilene westward.

Light rains fell in a number of areas, including: Beaumont, .57 of an inch; Waco, .12; Amarillo, .13; Fort Worth, .01; Dallas, .01; Palestine, .03; Junction, .03; Victoria, .02 and Bryan, .01.

Temperatures over the state included: El Paso, 43; Brownsville,

Price Slashes Sweep Nation

HST Anti-Inflation Plan Believed Dead

(By The United Press)

WASHINGTON, March 30—A wave of price reductions across the nation appeared today to have destroyed President Truman's last hope of getting his anti-inflation program through Congress.

Government experts themselves now are sharply divided over the need for inflation controls.

A few economists still agree with Mr. Truman that inflation yet could be a problem. But even they now talk of filing any new inflation control powers away for future reference—if they are enacted. The President has asked for standby wage-price controls and rationing authority as weapons against runaway inflation.

Inflation Not Threat

Many economic experts now feel that the inflation threat is a thing of the past and that the trend is the other way.

Just this week, price cuts have been announced on the following items:

Refrigerators reduced by one manufacturer by $20.

Automobiles reduced $198 to $333 by Kaiser-Frazer Corp., the largest cut in the automotive field since before the war.

Radios built by Westinghouse Electric Corp., reduced 20 to 50 per cent.

Steel Price Cut

Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp. reduced the price of its hot rolled bars from $71 to $67 a ton to stay in competition with other manufacturers.

Vegetable shortening prices reduced 1½ cents a pound by Proctor & Gamble.

No Production Drop

Lead prices suffered the third drop since March 8; were 17 cents a pound compared with 21½ cents four weeks ago.

Automobile battery prices were

Special Session On Education Is Urged

House Foes Of Gilmer-Aikin Bills Ask That Action On Program Be Deferred

(By The United Press)

AUSTIN, March 30—House opponents of Gilmer-Aikin legislation today urged that all action on the sweeping educational program be delayed for consideration by a special session of the legislature.

A resolution, readied for introduction by Rep. William A. Miller, jr., of Houston, carried the signatures of 25 House members.

It called for postponement of all work on the controversial plan at this session.

Instead, the resolution urged, a special session should be called after the regular session of the legislature adjourns.

At that time, Miller's resolution said, the House should sit as a committee of the whole to hear arguments on the education bills.

The resolution referred to three bills embodying recommendations of the Gilmer-Aikin committee which have already cleared the Senate.

The first of the three measures would abolish the post now held by State Superintendent of Schools L. A. Woods.

The three proposals, Miller's resolution said, "are highly controversial, are far-reaching ,are revolutionary in character, and would drastically change our state educational program and are complex and difficult to comprehend . . ."

"The taking up of these . . . controversial bills," the resolution added, "would jeapordize much good legislation which should be passed at this time."

Guy C. Victory Heads Rotary

Guy C. Victory, general agent, traffic department of the Ft. Worth and Denver railroad, was named president of the Rotary club today at a directors meeting following the regular club session. Victory succeeds Irving Jones, retiring president, who automatically becomes a member of the board of directors.

Arch G. Lamb, was chosen first vice-president; Bill Hord, second vice-president; Rex Webster and W. C. Cole were re-elected secretary and treasurer respectively. In addition to the officers the board of directors consists of Jones, James G. Allen, Robert E. Maxey, R. P. Fuller, Walter Clark, Neil Wright, jr., J. Lawrence Green and D. W. Sherrill.

Official installation of the new officers will be held at a later date.

Ladies' Night Set

President Jones announced that the club would not have a regular meeting next week but would consider the Ladies' night, scheduled for Thursday, April 7, as the official meeting.

The program today was in charge of Earl Hennersdorf who introduced Dick Richards and the Texas Tech Glee club. The group sang a number of selections and Mrs. Stuart Schafter sang two soprano solos.

WASHINGTON, March 30—Senate foreign policy leaders of both parties stood pat today against a move by Senators Taft (R-Ohio) and Russell (D-Ga) to whack about 10 per cent off the $5,580,000 European recovery program.

But Senator George (D-Ga) threw his powerful weight behind the Taft-Russell proposal with the assertion that unless some cut is made this country may face "a serious financial deficit."

Defeat Is Predicted

Senator Connally (D-Tex), who heads the Senate foreign relations committee, predicted defeat for the Taft-Russell proposal. But the Texan admitted the vote might be close.

The committee's top Republican, Senator Vandenberg (Mich) would not comment publicly. But he was reported to have told colleagues he is sticking by the full authorization.

Vandenberg has taken the stand that the economic cooperation administration should have elbow room to defend before the appropriations committees later the

Sanity Hearing Delayed For Twins Starving Amid Plenty

(By The United Press)

PAOLA, Kans., March 30.—A sanity hearing was postponed indefinitely today for 65-year-old twin spinsters who nearly starved to death in a house of plenty while they guarded the body of their 73-year-old brother for two weeks.

The body of Albert Stachling was found in bed late Monday when Sheriff Kenneth Cook smashed his way into the barricaded family home. Coroner William Brown said Albert had died nearly two weeks earlier, apparently of starvation. The sisters had locked themselves in another bedroom.

There was no explanation for his death, nor for the emaciated condition of the sisters. The six-room frame farm home was cluttered with bed clothing, oil cooking stoves, antiques and refuse piled nearly to the ceiling but there were several boxes of canned food in the house.

Investigators found gold, bonds and currency totaling $8,299.97.

Fight On Black Market Is Due

HST Is Expected To Sign Measure

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 30.—Capitol Hill heard predictions today that the new rent control extender will set off a government crackdown on a rent "black market."

President Truman was expected to sign, in plenty of time, the "home rule" legislation that continues rent controls for another 15 months.

Bill Is Praised

Just two days before the present controls are set to die at midnight Thursday, Congress late yesterday tossed the new compromise bill to the White House by overwhelming votes. Then:

1. Rep. Patman (D-Texas) said it will mean a "rollback of illegal rents," as well as increased rents on some properties where landlords are not now showing a profit. He said it will put an end to the rent "black market" that Tighe Woods, rent administrator, reported to be growing throughout the country.

2. House Democratic Leader McCormack (Mass) said in his opinion there won't be any big increases in rent for anyone, and most rents probably won't be increased at all.

3. Paul V. Betters, executive director of the U. S. conference of mayors, predicted no major city will drop rent controls under the "home rule" provisions of the bill, that allows states or localities to throw off the controls.

Truman Said Elated

Mr. Truman was described by friends who talked to him as "elated" over the legislation, although it falls short of what he asked. They said he regards it as an administration victory, and is sure to sign it. Rent controls are in force on 14,350,000 dwelling places. Mr. Truman wanted a two-year extension.

The Senate approved the bill 78 to 11 and the House stamped on a 262 to 143 vote, after weeks of bitter debate.

Patman predicted "thousands of suits" will be brought to collect treble damages for rent overcharges.

"Heretofore," Patman said, "illegal rents have been collected be-

Stringer pursued his wife from the rear of the American Dry Cleaning company plant to the front of the shop where he fired several shots at her, wounding her mortally.

Between 50 and 60 workers were in the plant when the shooting occurred.

"I'm just about speechless," said the 39-year-old actor shortly after he was notified of the award, probably unprecedented to any American in the acting profession. He said he was "taken completely by surprise" by the joint notification from the British consulate here and in Washington.

"It's a tremendously fine gesture," declared Young Doug. "I am only representing the feelings of the average American in the work I have been doing."

Two Brothers Crash Victims

WACO, March 30. (U.P.)—Officials at Waco Air Force base today identified two brothers who were killed in the crash of an AT-6 plane last night on the west shore of Lake Waco.

They were Morris A. Holloway of Dallas and T/Sgt. Davis R. Holloway, attached to the station hospital at Waco air base.

The brothers were sons of Mrs. Lula P. Holloway of Roane, Tex.

The public information office here said Morris A Holloway, attached to the 2596th air reserve unit at Hensley field, Dallas, was the pilot of the plane.

Had Visited Brother

The brothers had flown to San Antonio to visit another brother and were returning to the Waco base when the crash occurred.

Cause of the crash had not been determined early today, but a board of officers was conducting an investigation.

Wreckage was scattered over an area 500 feet long, the two bodies, burned and mangled beyond recognition, were found about 30 feet apart in bits of flaming debris.

CONSULTATIONS SLATED

WASHINGTON, March 30. (U.P.)—Secretary of State Dean Acheson today announced plans for a week of consultations with western European foreign ministers which he said will cover the peace of the world.

(By The United Press)

FRANKFURT, March 30.—U. S. Air Force headquarters announced today that Maj. Gen. Clayton L. Bissell, former assistant Army chief of staff, has been charged under the articles of war and may be court-martialed.

The announcement said Bissell's alleged acts while he was military and air attache at the U. S. embassy in London were being investigated to determine whether he should be brought before a court martial.

Charge Nature Unknown

Bissell has arrived in Europe for the investigation the announcement said. The only article of war mentioned in the Air Force statement was 46-B, which provides for a pre-trial investigation.

Under Army regulations, a charge is preferred before such an investigation. However, there was no indication of the nature of the charge against Bissell.

The announcement was signed by Lt. Gen. John K. Cannon, Air Force commander in Europe. It said Bissell would be represented during the investigation by John E. Hughes, Washington and Chicago attorney.

Bissell was in command of the 10th Air Force at the outbreak of

More Defense Funds Sought

WASHINGTON, March 30. (U.P.)—Chairman Carl Vinson of the House armed services committee said today that President Truman has cut next year's defense budget so low it endangers the national security.

Breaking sharply with Mr. Truman on defense policy, the Georgia Democrat asked Congress to reverse the President's military cuts. He said extra funds should be supplied to keep the Army and Navy at not less than present strength and to continue a step-up in air power.

"It looks to me that we are already returning to our historic practice of failing to maintain even adequate force in time of peace," he warned in a statement.

Must Look To Chiefs

Vinson said Congress must start looking to the joint chiefs of staff, rather than the President, for the "most authoritative advice" on defense matters.

He proposed that Congress give the Army, Navy and Air Force $1,599,600,000 more than the $14,765,000,000 which Mr. Truman said they should have next year.

The biggest share of the extra funds would go for air power expansion, both in the Air Force and the Navy. Ground and sea forces would get enough to maintain their strength at not less than Jan. 31, 1949, levels under Vinson's proposal.

As a result of the President's budget cut the Air Force, which

Senators Propose New Medical Plan

WASHINGTON, March 30. (AP)—Five senators today offered a new "voluntary health insurance bill" intended to make hospital and medical care available to all persons.

Senator Hill (D-Ala), one of the sponsors, said the new plan, based on state and local controls, is a substitute for what he called "compulsory system" advocated by President Truman and some members of Congress.

The bill calls for the use of federal funds "to assist the states to survey, coordinate, supplement and strengthen their existing health resources."

Johnson May Resort To White House If Authority Challenged

By ELTON C. FAY
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, March 30. — Louis Johnson, new defense chief, probably will invoke White House prestige if any of the armed forces challenge his orders to quite quarreling and get going on complete unification.

This must be his only resort in such cases unless and until Congress approves legislation to changes the existing service unification law and give the Defense secretary specific authority.

Johnson now is clothed with no more legal authority than James Forrestal, the first Secretary of defense secretary's office and any official of the Air Force, Navy or Army:

Go to President Truman and say the man must be fired, if a civilian; transferred out of his job if an officer.

Views Made Plain

Johnson made plain in a news conference yesterday there would be no room in the Pentagon for those who didn't go along with his promise that "there will be unification." And he followed this up with the further declaration that "there will be no vying between the three services for headlines, no release of things that are secret."

This was as close as Johnson came to mentioning directly the long controversy between the Air Force and Navy over their respective capabilities to wage air warfare against enemy cities and industries.

For the year and a half that Forrestal worked to get the complicated machinery of unification into motion he was caught between the arguments of the two services.

He sought to end them by personal appeals to the principals in the arguments, by conferences with the joint chiefs of staff, by appointment of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower as a mediator. But in public print and on Capitol Hill the opposing views of the Air Force and Navy continued to appear.

Johnson Sets Forth

Johnson yesterday set forth to achieve immediate and complete unification of the armed forces by bringing their primary offices and officers physically together in a vast rearrangement of Pentagon space and functions.

It was learned today that this will mean a cutback of about 35 per cent in the number of persons, military and civilian, now working on public relations for the military services in Washington.

The latest official count of public relations personnel showed slightly more than 500 officers and civilians assigned to various duties.

Less Than Half Of Men Wear Long-Handles

Agriculture Officials Learn About U. S. Males' Wardrobe

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, March 30.—Your Department of Agriculture, which knows all about oats, peas, beans and barley and how much wool you can scrape off a lamb's back, has come up with a startling announcement.

Viz: 100 per cent of the men in America wear underwear! Not only that, but 42 per cent pull on the long fleece when winter comes.

All of this interesting stuff and a lot more is contained in a 16-page, single-spaced document (printed on both sides) which the department just got out.

The agriculture people said they were working in the interest of the cotton, wool, rayon and nylon folks. During a six-weeks period, agents of the department surveyed the male population (cross-section-wise, by actual count, 2,203 from all walks of life) for information about who wears what and who buys it.

Half Wear Pajamas

The ag survey people got pretty nosey. They asked about business shirts, summer sports shirts, extra pants, summer suits, socks, underwear, pajamas, robes and raincoats. The department figures the cross-section speaks for some 50,000,000 males over the age of 16.

In a summary, it says that while all men own underwear, socks and at least one Sunday-go-meetin' suit, only about half have a wool shirt, or a bathrobe or a cool suit for summer.

Of the cross-section, it says on page seven, only 53 per cent of our men folk own pajamas. Apparently 47 per cent sleep in the raw, although my agents say "this may vary from California to Arkansas, to Texas."

Select Own Clothes

Sixty per cent of our men are prepared when it rains, although it isn't known how many have the raincoat at home or at the office when it rains in the morning and vice versa. Thirty-six per cent wear any old thing in the rain and the other four per cent interviewed didn't know whether they owned raincoats or not, not having looked in the attic or basement recently.

Climax of the report was most fascinating.

The table was a result of the question: "Do you select most of your clothing or does someone else buy it for you?"

Fifty-nine per cent of those polled won't let the little woman go along to help 'em pick out a suit. As a matter of fact, except for pajamas and bathrobes, most guys don't want mama anywhere near when they pick out things to wear.

Take Daughter Along

Some of the fellows admitted that they took their mothers along, but our agents said most of these guys were the 'teen-agers in the survey.

Others even admitted that they took their small daughters along.

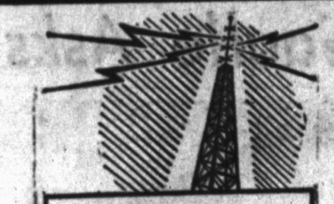

I am one guy who has never been polled for anything—to name a political candidate, to accept a give-away prize on the radio, or to say whether I eat hay or eggs for breakfast.

And when I go out to buy a pair of underwear shorts, which all us guys are supposed to wear, I just ask for size 42 and leave mama at home.

After all, she doesn't take me along when she wants to buy a new girdle.

Peace Conference Delegates Declare Tour Of U. S. Still On Despite Contrary Orders

NEWARK, N. J., March 30 (AP)—Stripped of its Russian star attractions by State department action, a projected nationwide tour of "world peace conference" delegates faltered today.

The State department ruling in effect told 18 iron curtain visitors to go home, now that they have completed their mission to last weekend's cultural and scientific conference for world peace in New York City.

Despite the decision, author Millard Lampell said last night "this tour will go on." Lampell acted as master of ceremonies at the first of the proposed series of "no more war" rallies here. Other speakers indicated the tour will be carried out.

Appeal To Acheson

A proposed itinerary listed New Haven, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Detroit, St. Louis, Denver, and Los Angeles.

The State department said the U. S. visas of the Communist delegates were good only for the New York meeting.

A conference spokesman in New York said a telegram had been sent to Secretary of State Dean Acheson asking him to revoke the order.

The department has maintained the New York gathering was designed as a sounding board for Communist propaganda—a charge denied by the sponsors.

The Council of the Arts, Sciences and Professions, sponsors of the tour, hastily reshuffled last night's program. The order banning the Communists was issued less than 12 hours before the rally began.

Still on the playbill were delegates from countries outside the Soviet sphere of influence—Great Britain, Cuba, and French West Africa.

Pickets March Outside

But gone from the list was the rally's heralded star feature—Russian composer Dmitri Shostakovich.

The audience of some 3,000 persons was told of the government action. The house lights were dimmed. Then a single spot light shone on the empty piano.

Later concert pianist Ray Lev filled in for Shostakovich. She played a piece by George Gershwin and three short compositions by Shostakovich. He had been scheduled to play the second movement of his own fifth symphony.

About 40 pickets marched in orderly lines outside the auditorium. They represented the Catholic war veterans and other veterans groups who protested the rally as Communist inspired.

A conference spokesman said the telegram to Acheson charged the State department with "notifying the world it has slammed shut the door to the exchange of cultural relations between the United States and other countries."

Reds Forbidden

In Washington the department said notices were sent early yesterday afternoon to the Russian, Czechoslovakian, Polish and Yugoslav embassies.

Delegates from those countries have a different status from those of other nations. American law forbids admission of Communists. That law was relaxed so delegates from Communist-controlled nations could attend the New York conference.

The department said that now that the New York conference is over, it assumed the delegates will leave within a "reasonable time."

There were 19 delegates from iron curtain countries at the New York parleys. One, Jiri Hronek of Czechoslovakia, has been authorized to remain to serve as an observer at a meeting of the international organization of journalists.

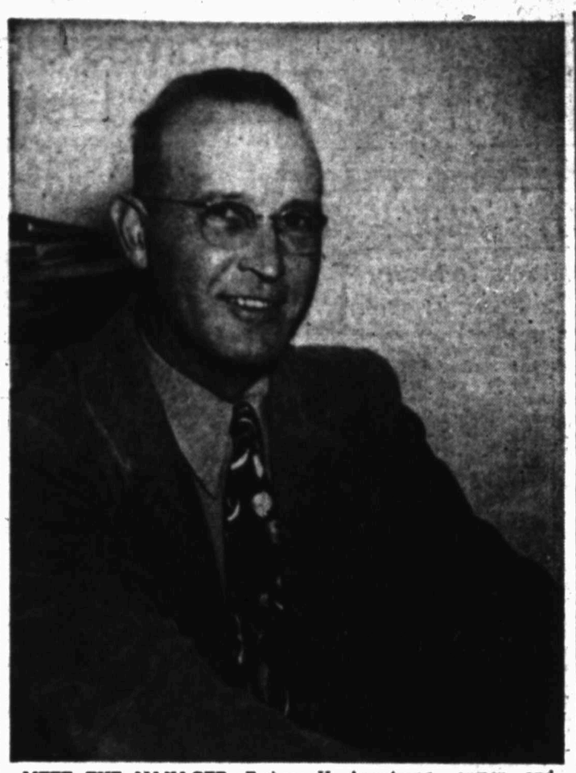

Speakers Named

Speakers at last night's rally generally attacked "war policies" of groups in the United States. They pleaded for peace. The speeches were often interrupted by applause. Only one dissenting "boo" was heard from the audience. There was no disorder.

Besides Lamhpell, the speakers were Guy Emery Shipler, editor of "The Churchman," Albert Kahn, author, and Dr. Philip Morrison, atomic scientist.

From Cuba came Myrta Aguirre, author; Domingo Villamil, lawyer; and Nicholas Guillen, poet. French West Africa was represented by Dr. R. E. G. Armotte, director of an anthropology research center in North Ireland.

English psychologist William Olaf Stapledon concluded the speaking program.

MEET THE MANAGER—Embree H. Armstrong, owner and general manager of Armstrong's Supply company, was born at Cement, Okla., Jan. 4, 1905. He received his schooling at San Jon and Tucumcari, N. M., and later attended Texas university. He entered the radio business as a salesman in 1934. In 1934 he started his own radio repair shop here. Gradually his business expanded to the fields of appliances, commercial refrigeration, heating and air conditioning. He has been in his present location at 1111 Main since 1938. Armstrong is a member of First Methodist church, the Masonic Lodge, South Plains Shrine club and Lubbock Country club. When he has time he likes to play golf, fish and hunt. Mr. and Mrs. Armstrong and two daughters, Bettye, 16, a senior in high school; and Anne, 10, a student in Dupre school, live at 3304 Twenty-third street. (Staff Photo.)

Kindly Priest Who Inspired Film Dies

SANTA MONICA, Calif., March 30 (AP) — Death has taken Msgr. Nicholas Conneally, inspiration for Leo McCarey's academy award picture "Going My Way."

The kindly, humorous Irish priest died yesterday at the age of 70. He had served the Roman Catholic church for 42 years and was pastor of St. Monica's church, of which Film Director McCarey is a member. The priest was a native of Galway, Eire.

McCarey said Father Conneally was a constant visitor at his home. And the priest's many anecdotes about his work in the parish and St. Monica's school gave the director the idea it would make a wonderful story.

It did, winning "Going My Way" seven academy awards in 1944. McCarey himself won two, for the best direction and the best original story.

Bing Crosby won the best actor's award for his performance. And Barry Fitzgerald, who portrayed a priest much like Father Conneally, was judged the best supported actor.

Australia has a glassware glut.

King William II of Britain, an unjust and grasping ruler, invoked the wrath of the church by selling church offices or keeping them unoccupied so he could keep the revenue for himself.

TEXAS LADY LOSES 47 POUNDS

The following remarkable story shows conclusively that Barcentrate DOES take off fat.

It contains nothing harmful. In fact, it contains ingredients that make you feel better. No starvation diet—no weakness—no hunger. Barcentrate, the original grapefruit juice recipe, takes off fat quickly, safely and you can eat plenty.

Here is proof

Here is what Mrs. H. P. Bishop, Route 2, Stamford, Texas, wrote us:

"I am very glad to endorse Barcentrate, so please accept my sincere thanks and appreciation for the great benefit I derived from its use. I not only lost weight, but also looked and felt better in every way.

"I had to have a very serious operation and was told that I must lose a lot of weight before the operation could be performed. I went on a diet and tried very hard to reduce, but wasn't losing much weight until I heard of Barcentrate. I began taking it and could soon tell the difference in the way I felt and the weight I was losing. I weighed 200 pounds when I started and I lost a total of 47 pounds and was able to undergo my operation. I can truthfully recommend it to others, since it did so much for me."

At all druggists

If you are overweight and want to take off ugly fat, just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Barcentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take just two tablespoonfuls twice a day. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, safe way to take off weight, return the empty bottle for your money back. adv

Students Notified Teacher Not Dumb

PHILADELPHIA, March 30. (AP) — Sometimes humor crops up within the ivied hall of higher learning.

Temple university students taking a recent mid-year examination were startled to come across this question:

"One gets lonely while thinking by himself and finds solace in resting his eyes on someone else's paper. True or false?"

The marriage of Miss Roberta Gray Niblack and John Clarence Brockman of West Columbia was solemnized Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock at the Broadway Church of Christ with Dr. M. Morvel Young performing a double ring ceremony before a spring garden setting of daffodils.

A musical program of wedding selections was presented by the A cappella chorus of Abilene Christian college with Mrs. J. C. Hejl of Austin as soloist.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Niblack, sr., of 1628 Ninth, was given in marriage by her father. She wore a blue gabardine suit with navy blue accessories and a white straw hat adorned with a halo of white flowers. She carried a white orchid on a white Bible which belongs to her sister, Mrs. R. B. Olson.

Miss Billie Brockman of West Columbia, sister of the bridegroom and maid of honor, wore a beige gabardine suit with a tan straw hat, balenciago accessories and a daffodil corsage. The bridesmaid, Miss Jo Reagan of Brownwood, was dressed in an aqua gabardine suit with a pink hat, pink and black accessories and a daffodil corsage.

Student Veteran Hesitates To Marry Before Completing College Education

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: Like many other young men of my generation, my preparation for adult living was delayed several years by Army duty. I am now 25 and I will be three years more before I complete my education.

I have been dating a girl who is a fellow student at the local university for almost two years, and we are very much in love. If I were to follow my impulses, I would marry her today; but I must face facts.

Next year my federal subsidy for veteran-education will expire, leaving me two years to go before I get my final degree, and in that time it would be impossible for me to support a wife and stay in school. Yet Jean and I feel a great need of each other; and she wants us to marry now, that we may enjoy the true companionship of married life.

GIRL WOULD BE HAPPY TO HELP

JEAN will graduate this year and she says she will be more than glad to work and finance our domestic upkeep until such time as I can assume a husband's financial obligations. I don't believe it would be fair to accept support from Jean while I finish school! but she insists that it is the course that would make her most happy.

I am torn between intense desire for her, and equal desire to keep my self respect by waiting until I am financially able to marry. what do yo uthink I should do?

Signed C. B.

WISE MEN ADJUST TO NEW CONDITIONS

DEAR C. B.: Your emotional dilemma brings to mind James Russell Lowell's lines in a poem titled "The Present Crisis," written in the last century. He says, "New occasions teach new duties. Time makes ancient good uncouth. They must upward still, and onward, who would keep abreast of Truth."

Altogether this is a wonderful poem, pulsating with spiritual power, lighted by lofty vision, a message to strengthen the soul of any thoughtful man, underscoring eternal values and giving clear perspective on vital choices of action. So dig it out of the school library and study it now, as an antidote to your nearsighted confusion.

But back to Lowell's statement that "new occasions teach new duties." His observations seem to me to apply especially to the prevalent question of whether veteran-students ought to marry in mid-course of education. If it means accepting partial support from bride or parents, or parents-in-law.

MAN IS ANCHORED TO ANCIENT CODE

MANY So-Called conservative persons tend to feel as you do, that such a choice isn't compatible with self respect in the man. But in general, that assumption is borrowed from ancient thinking, from outlived folkways, when "nice" women had no means of livelihood except support from a man—either a husband, father or other "honorably" related male provider.

The gentle female's only alternative, otherwise, was to be a dependent slavery in somebody's household; because it was "unthinkable" for her to compete with men in the educated professions or in the so-called busines world. Her opportunities to be self-supporting in such respected citizens roles represent a hard-fought social gain of the 20th century—which a few brave women down through history pioneered at expense of great ridicule.

Increasingly since the 1920s, women have tackled salaried detail-work in the professions and trades; and since World War 2, a tidal wave of young women are wage-earning to make marriage possible—for precisely the reasons that Jean is arguing. They wish to marry in normal season; they are facing new economic problems, and they are willing to accept the "new duties" indicated. And the man in our shoes, who gamely cooperates in that modern trend has nothing to apologize for. M. H.

Following the musical program, Chaplain Early Daniel led a prayer and Mr. Casey presided for business. Yearbooks which are dedicated to Mr. and Mrs. Casey were presented to the club as a courtesy of Mrs. Baker.

From Lou To Louella...

DEAR LOUELLA: During Westerner Round-Up day staged Tuesday at Lubbock High, the favorite attire of boys and girls alike were boots, blue-jeans and a colorful shirt. Big and little Stetsons lined the aisles during classtime, and a few cowbells and jingling spurs added a Western musical note to the generally happy atmosphere of the day.

COWGIRL BEAUTIES

Twin beauties, Francyne and Edda Lynne Cox wore identical black riding pants, white shirts and red boots, but people could tell them apart, because Fran's hat was white and Ed's cowgirl headgear was black.

Peggy Givens looked her usual attractive self in brown riding pants and boots, a blue Western shirt and a frontier style leather packet. Joyce Moody won the prize for being the most typically dressed girl with a brown riding habit and matching brown satin shirt.

COWBOY CAPERS

M. L. Williams looked ready for a ride across the prairie with his practical costume. The good looking young man chose the favored blue jeans and a big old-West Stetson for his Round-Up day apparel.

Alfred Adair was a rustler-fighting sheriff personified, complete with an official looking unofficial badge.

Bassel Wolf won a prize for making the best posters advertising the LHS annual Western day, and Durston Gillean was awarded the title of most typically dressed boy.

• • •

WESTERN STYLE TEACHERS

Mrs. R. A. Studhalter, looking petite and prim as a pioneer lady in a long full skirt, white blouse and an old-fashion sunbonnet, won the prize as the best costumed LHS teacher for the day.

Mrs. R. B. Luker and Miss Bessie Bullock, a good-natured and full-of-fun twosome of teachers sported bright plaid shirts for the occasion.

AROUND THE CORRAL

Bright-eyed Rita McIlroy chose a forest green riding habit for her Western day costume . . . Joyce Worrell won first place in the Round-Up day song writing contest, and Liz Stanley was second place winner . . . Frances Crowder and Frank Clark were among the dating couples at the Round-Up Tuesday night.

• • •

"GO WEST YOUNG MAN . . ."

Arbie Lee Freeman, escorted by Donald Decker during the old-West goings-on and looking very pretty, wore black riding pants and a white Western shirt and hat.

Jan Dorn would have taken a prize on any dude ranch in her riding habit of dark and light green, brown boots and hat.

LaJuana McWhorter wore a black riding costume and red trimmed black boots. Her white hat was trimmed in red also.

LOU.

Legislation To Change Texas Labor Laws Killed In House

AUSTIN, March 30 (AP)—Labor's only bill to modify restrictive labor laws was killed in the House today by a 71-60 vote. It was the first direct test of labor strength this season.

Rep. Blake Timmons sought to have his bill recodifying 11 Texas labor laws printed on a minority committee so it could be considered by the House.

The vote against the bill came on the motion of Rep. Max Smith of San Marcos to table Timmons' motion to print the bill. This had the effect of killing any further House debate on the measure.

Minority Want Control

Rep. Don Lewis of Midlothian asked to let the bill reach the floor regardless of whether they were for or against it.

A farmer, Lewis said he was not prejudiced in favor of labor or management.

"If there's anybody in the House that can sit on the sidelines and watch the parade go by, I think I'm that man," he said. He said 30 per cent of the people of Texas are "trying to pass laws against the 70 per cent who are laborers."

"Do you think it's right and fair to require a man to have a union card and pay union dues before he can get a job?" asked Rep. Douglas E. Bergman of Dallas.

Pharmacists' Bill Killed

"The Texas Bar association requires examinations and fees. It's the worst closed shop in Texas, and I believe you're a member," Lewis replied.

The House also chilled a bill that would let pharmacists licensed out of state but who have lived in Texas the past six years receive a Texas license without asking an examination. The vote was 64 to 61 against letting the bill be printed on a minority committee report.

Lieut. Sansom Lost In Japan

First Lieut. Altus B. Sansom jr., 24, son of Mr. and Mrs. Altus B. Sansom of 2507 Twenty-second, has been reported "missing" on a bomber flight in Japan, according to a War department message received by the parents late Tuesday afternoon.

Reports at first indicated that First Lieut. Sansom, widely known and popular Lubbock High and Texas Tech graduate, might have been aboard a B-26 light bomber which was reported to have crashed Sunday on Mount Fujiyama.

Four Believed Killed

Wire service reports had said that four men aboard the plane which crashed at the 9,500-foot level were believed killed. However, a story Tuesday afternoon and again last night quoted authorities as saying only three bodies had been found near the wreckage.

A new snow storm today again blocked efforts of ground crews to bring out the bodies the Associated Press reported.

Whether Lieut. Sansom was aboard this plane or was involved in some other plane mishap not yet announced by the War department was not known last night.

Two parties reached the wreckage Tuesday and found three bodies the story said. Original Air Force reports said the plane carried four men. The two small, tired groups said they were unable to carry the bodies down Tuesday through the deep snow and a raging storm.

Far East Air Force Headquarters spokesmen were quoted as saying that it might have been possible that the body of the fourth man was thrown from the plane and buried in the deep snow. The possibility that the fourth man might have left the plane at some time before it crashed was suggested here.

The two ground parties, including Japanese mountaineers, are led by Capt. Louis Johnson of Royalston, Mass., and Lieut. V. H. McGovern of Newark, N. J. They planned to camp last night at the timberline of the famed mountain and go the remaining distance today.

Lieut. Sansom is a graduate of Lubbock High school and Texas Tech. He studied at the State Medical School at Galveston and served at the Philadelphia General hospital, friends said here last night. He entered the Army in October of 1947, it was reported, and was serving in the Medical branch of the Air Force.

Mr. Sansom is owner of the Sansom Paint and Paper Co. stores in Lubbock.

Four other Tuesday judgments were deferred for periods ranging to as high as two months, newsmen found in studying them.

Alsup's car, arresting members of the police said, had a case of beer, 15 cans of beer, one quart of whisky and three half-pints of whisky in it.

Three judgments were taken on pleas of guilty late Tuesday in the county court:

J. M. Williams was fined $15 and costs on a plea of guilty of liquor law violation.

FLOYDADA, Mar. 30 (Special) Winners in the Floyd County Junior Fat Stock show were to be announced at mid-afternoon after completion of judging, show officials said early this afternoon.

The announcement was to be followed by an auction sale at which the young exhibitors might sell their livestock if they desired.

Ray C. Mowery of the Texas Technological college agriculture department was judging the sheep and swine divisions of the show. Chester Eliff of Tulia was judging dairy cattle.

Stock Classes Given

Floyd county 4-H club and FFA boys entered 20 dairy cattle, 20 sheep, 30 hogs and 52 fat calves in the show, Bob Crowell, manager of the show.

Four hundred persons, including the boys and their parents, were on hand for the opening of the show at 8:30 o'clock this morning, it was estimated.

The show was held in the rodeo association show barn at the Floydada rodeo grounds.

Classes being judged were fat calf, light and heavy weights, milk-fed and dry lots of both weights, grand and reserve champions and best group of three by one boy, either milk-fed or dry lot.

Fat lambs, breeding ewes, best group of five and grand champion are included in the sheep division.

Washington Enmeshed In Word Puzzles On State Of Business

WASHINGTON, March 30 (AP)—Washington is having word trouble, mostly over what to say about business conditions.

The economic word game was going along fine until recently. "Inflation" with its pressures, forces, influences, tides, etc., had a clean monopoly, and seemed pretty well understood by everybody alike after a few years' run.

Then new economic problems came along and today's trouble is, "what's the situation we're in?"

"Disinflation," said Dr. Edwin G. Nourse, head of the three-man economic advisory council to the President which the Hoover commission calls a "multi-headed body" and smarties call "the three wise men."

"Recession," said Marriner S. Eccles, a member and former chairman of the Federal Reserve board.

Some States Healthy

"Depression," said Robert R. Young, president of the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad, using a Washington news conference to import a word that makes this politically conscious city wince.

"Deflation" has become a chorus or community word, with no special titleholder.

It may be that one man's "recession" is another's "disinflation." Or maybe "deflation." And even "depression."

"Disinflation," according to Nourse, takes "pressures off prices" while "deflation" might mean a "price collapse." Only if people get "jittery" will disinflation "snowball into a recession."

Nourse described disinflation so far as "healthy," which happens to be exactly what Eccles said his "recession" has been so far, especially since "some recession is desirable."

President Rather Quiet

Young, stuck with a word that is unlikely to go over as "desirable," didn't bother to assess the state of health indicated by his entry.

The general impression seemed to be that if things got a bit worse, they'd be better; if there's less "prosperity" at one time, there may be more of it spread out over a longer period.

President Truman has been keeping pretty quiet about economics since "inflation" was on everybody's lips.

The last economic comment he risked, at a news conference, was to the effect there may have been some "leveling off."

Nourse said the next day he couldn't accept that since "leveling off" might imply things will "stop at a certain point" when the chances are there may be further "dips and recoveries."

Congress Has Trouble

Having difficulties over rent "decontrol" and "recontrol," some senators cooked up a phrase about what a landlord should get.

"Fair net operating income," they called it, but Senator Taft (R-Ohio) and others complained nobody could tell just what that was. But it was accepted as better than "reasonable return on a reasonable value," which was the House bill's phrase.

Connoisseurs of undefined language say there has been no time like it here since early New Deal days, when the dollar was "revalued" instead of "devalued," and "reflation" was coined to oust "depression-deflation."

Blind War Veteran Helps Deliver Baby

BEAVER FALLS, Pa., March 30 (AP)—Louis Androlia, blind Canadian war veteran, was wounded three times in action but he said it was nothing compared to what he went through today.

Androlia, 30, became a father for the third time and he had to help deliver the baby because neither the doctor nor the ambulance got there fast enough."

His wife, the former Catherine Jackson of London, England, and his new son were reported doing fine. The couple have two other boys, Bryan, 3, and Christopher, 1.

Ducats For Varsity Show Now Available

Tickets are on sale for "Milestones in Melody," annual Texas Tech Varsity show which will be presented for three nights beginning Monday in the Lubbock Senior High school auditorium.

Bill Reid of Goodnight who is business manager of the show said tickets could be purchased in the lobby of both the Lubbock and Hilton hotels; in Dunlaps department store and in Hemphill-Wells department store. They are also on sale in all of the main buildings on the Tech campus. Admission prices are $1.50 for adults and $1 for children and students.

Dress Rehearsal Set Friday

The show itself has reached its last week of rehearsals. According to Bill Parsley, director of the show, dress rehearsals will begin Friday. There will be a final session Sunday afternoon. Parsley said the cast was enthusiastic and everyone was working hard to make the show a success.

"Milestones in Melody" was written by Ruth Cook, a senior home economics major from Orehard. It follows no particular plot and the action takes place in three "exposes" or scenes. Scene one features two Tech students on vacation in New York City. They stop at Madam Toujour's Date Bureau and get dates and become involved with a host of beautiful women.

'Dream' Sequence Ends Show

Scene two switches back to a building on the Tech campus, and a sentimental old janitor who likes to recall the "good old days." Through a series of day dreams the audience is brought from 1925 when he first came to Tech down to the present. Many favorite songs and dances of the days of the "sheiks and flappers" are featured in this scene.

The third and final scene is a dream sequence in which a Tech student finds himself the judge of a beauty contest. Through the aid of his trusty friend, an impish sandman, he gets the job done after a few minor difficulties.

Pecos Girl Saves Seniors $400 Cash

Monday she took the senior class fund, $400, from the school safe and carried it home with her. She is class secretary.

That night burglars broke into the safe. The burglars took what they found—$650 in cash and checks.

Junior Track Meet Set Here

Odessa Heads Entry Roster

Approximately 25 schools will be represented Saturday for the nineteenth annual Junior High Track and Field meet at Chapman field.

The meet is sponsored by Lubbock Public Schools, and entries will be accepted through Friday, April 1. Schools should mail in their entries as soon as possible.

Competition will be held in three divisions — seventh, eighth, and ninth grades. Any student in these grades may enter the meet in the same division. Only three track events may be entered, and not more than five events altogether by one individual.

Preliminaries At 10 A. M.

Preliminary events will be held starting at 10 o'clock Saturday morning, and finals will begin at 1:30. There will be 13 events in the ninth grade division, 10 in the eighth grade division, and six in the seventh grade. Ribbons will be awarded the first, second, third, and fourth place winners.

E. J. Lowrey, athletic manager, said Tuesday that he expected 400-500 boys to enter the meet. The exact number is unknown at this time, but it is expected to be large.

Three Local Schools Entered

Lubbock will have three schools entered. They are O. L. Slaton, Carroll Thompson, and J. T. Hutchinson Junior High schools.

One of the strongest schools expected to enter is Odessa Junior High school. Last week at the Odessa Relays the home school won the meet, and it is especially strong in the 50-yard dash, 100-yard dash, and 220-yard dash.

Other schools expected are Midland, Lamesa, Brownfield, Levelland, Whiteface, Andrews, Seminole, O'Donnell, Plainview, Floydada, Post, Slaton, Littlefield, Morton, Seagraves, Tahoka, Muleshoe, Sudan, Sundown, Meadow, and Ropesville.

KINER BEANED BY LINE DRIVE—Ralph Kiner, Pittsburg Pirates left fielder, lies on the ground after being knocked unconscious by a line drive off the bat of Les Fleming in the seventh inning of their exhibition game with the Chicago White Sox in Pasadena, Calif. Kiner had singled and was advancing to second on Fleming's drive when the ball hit him on the back of the head. He is surrounded by members of both teams and later recovered enough to walk to the dressing room. The Pirates won the game 15 to 11. (AP Wirephoto.)

Sale Of Grid Ducats Opens

A long line was expected at the athletic office in Jones Stadium at Texas Tech today, when tickets for the intrasquad football game April 9 went on sale.

The combination football game and fun night is expected to attract the largest out-of-season crowd in history, with a fast-moving game and entertainment between the halves as the main attraction. It will be a preview of the 1949 Red Raider eleven, a squad that is shaping up as one of the best in recent years.

No Reserved Seats

Arch Lamb, general chairman, a milk and ice cream man himself, says that it will be like selling ice cream in winter to sell a football game in the spring. But the public response does not bear him out. Interest around Lubbock appears high and the Double T Sports Parade, as the show has been named officially, promises to be a complete success.

There will be no reserved seats for the game, with adults being admitted for one dollar and high school and Tech students for 60 cents apiece. Children under 12 will be admitted without charge. The show is being advertized as "the five dollar show for only a dollar" and it appears to be an apt slogan.

Double T men are assisting with the program, which is being lined up by D. M. McElroy, executive secretary of the alumni association. McElroy has secured a number of stunts and demonstrations, mainly on the athletic order, and it appears to be a night that will be long remembered.

Players Sell Ducats

Many firms around town have indicated that they intend to buy blocks of tickets to give to their employes, as well as to friends. Tech officials and committees working to put on the Sports Parade hope that a large number of local firms will take to this idea as a method of rewarding the work of their employes.

Thursday afternoon Texas Tech football players, who don't resume spring training until Monday following three weeks of work, will canvass the business districts of Lubbock. Each Raider player will be wearing a distinctive lapel badge to identify him.

Players To Make Calls

Having the players make personal calls will accomplish two things; it gives the businessman an opportunity to meet some of the players informally and it naturally helps to sell tickets. At the same time, businessmen are urged not to buy a single ticket just because the players approach them. It isn't a high pressure act; if the business firm wants to see a first rate show, fine.

Coach Glenn Lewis of the Farmers and Coach Bill Kelley of the Ranchers both are claiming that their teams will win. There is an unsubstantiated rumor that both are attempting to line up assistants who will make it possible for their respective teams to win.

Programs, bearing the numbers of all the players and with information about each one, will be sold at a nominal cost in the stands. And a public address announcer will keep the spectators informed about the various players.

Opening Day Sale Of Tickets For Bout Between Henderson And Guerrera Brisk

Sled Allen's arena apparently will be jammed to the rafters April 8, when Lightweight Bill Henderson meets Paul Guerrera of Juarez, Mexico, in a 10-round main event.

It will be the top bout on a five-bout card, for which tickets went on sale yesterday. O. C. Foster, who is making his first boxing promotion debut, said that people were waiting in line yesterday afternoon to buy tickets.

As a result, most of the ringside tickets were sold on the first day and a good hole was eaten into the reserved seat ducats. Tickets are obtainable daily at Foster's Gym, 2417 Main street. They are selling at $3.60 for ringside, $2.40 for reserved and $1.80 for general admission.

LaVern Roach, former middleweight contender, will referee the bouts.

Henderson will be making his first appearance since his loss to Jean Mougin in El Paso. He is taking road work every morning and working in the gym every afternoon. Foster says that he looks sharp and that the fight with Mougin didn't hurt him.

The other Lubbock fighters who will appear on the card, Lightweight Charley Neff, Welterweight Bill Pollard and Heavyweight Gene James, all are working out daily and working hard. James is anxious to make a good showing against Jack Wortham of Amarillo, since it will be his first pro fight.

Pollard, who has been up and down since fighting pro, is eager to turn in a good showing before his home town folks. He has fought a lot in Dallas, but this will be his first bout in Lubbock as a pro.

Neff also is eager to make a good showing in his first pro fight before Lubbock fans. He worked out yesterday against Roach, with the latter giving him a good boxing lesson.

Bowling Results

Ben Brown, Westerner Cafe kegler in the Major Bowling league, did it again. That is, he rolled another 289 single game and another 700 series.

Last week the slender student of Texas Tech totaled a 717 series by virtue of a 289 third game, and last night he came up with a 712 triple and another 289 game.

To avoid any appearance of a Monotonous performance Brown did it a little different this time. Last week he waited until the last game for his 289. This week he knocked it off in the first game of the series. To vary it still further, he had the first ten strikes last week and then left the ten pin, which he picked up for his 289 game. This week he spared in the first frame and then cleared the boards ten straight times, leaving the eight pin on his 12th ball.

Brown's super performance sparked his Westerner Cafe team to a clean four point sweep over Mission Orange and pulled them up to a third place tie with Walton's Men's Store, who split a 2-2 decision with the league leading McFarland-Maisen quintet.

In the third match of the schedule, Hemphill-Wells walloped the Hub Clothiers for four points to climb within two points of the league lead.

Hemphill-Wells scored a 1038 single first game for team game honors. The Westerner's 2963 was tops in team series.

Other noteworthy individual scores included T. J. Brown, Mission Orange, 258-639; E. A. Christensen, McFarland-Maisen, 241-638. Tubby Reed, Mission Orange, 225-595 and Mac McCallum, Hemphill-Wells, 247-585.

The league standings by points: McFarland Maisen, 72; Hemphill-Wells, 70; Waltons, 150; Westerner, 60; Mission, 48; Hub, 38.

GEORGE OVERHAULS
Will Wrestle Tonight

★ ★ ★

Tag Team Bout Features Card

A re-match of an Australian tag team match and a rugged first event will furnish plenty of action at Sled Allen's arena tonight on the wrestling card.

By request of the fans, Buck Weaver and George Overhauls will tackle Rod Fenton and Pat O'Dowdy again in the team match, and it should provide many thrills for the fans that like fast, rugged wrestling.

Weaver Downed Fenton

In a previous match O'Dowdy and Fenton defeated the other pair in three falls, but Fenton was helped by O'Dowdy in downing Weaver in the last fall while the referee was not looking.

To prove that the match should have gone the other way Weaver took Fenton to the cleaners last week in a very good bout. But Fenton and O'Dowdy have been boasting that they could lick any two men in the area in a team match and Overhauls and Weaver stepped forward to dispute the claim.

Arturo Ruiz, who gave Pat O'Dowdy a rough night last week in the semi-finals match, will meet Billy Sandow in the first event tonight. The match will be two out of three falls with an hour time limit.

Ruiz demonstrated to local fans last week that he was rugged and could take care of himself under any circumstances. Anybody who can hold O'Dowdy to a draw is bound to have a lot on the ball. For the rugged Pat loves to win, and he doesn't care who gets hurt while he is doing it. But Ruiz surprised the Irishman.

Sandow is a clever grappler himself and should make a good showing against the native of Mexico.

Tickets are on sale at Wylies Drug for the matches which begin at 8:15 tonight.

Lubbock, Tech Clash

Diamond Tilt Slated Today

Lubbock High school's Westerners square-off against Texas Tech Independents in a practice baseball game at 4 o'clock today at Chapman field diamond.

In a game earlier this season the Westerners defeated the Tech club, 10-7, in a six inning game, but since that time the independents have improved very much and picked up better pitching. So the high school nine should be in for a rough game this afternoon.

The Westerner batters have not faced a good pitcher in games thus far this season although Jackie Martyn of Boys Club pitched a few good innings against them. But if reports are correct, a left-hander for Tech should give the high schoolers a lot of trouble in today's game.

Extensive fielding practice was given the Westerner team Tuesday by Coach Fred Taylor in a long workout that had the boys puffing and sweating. When practice was over the whole squad ran laps around the field before going to the showers.

The infielders looked especially good and showed lots of hustle in their workout. Few bad throws were made, and the boys seemed to be picking up grounders better than usual.

Sikes Has Black Eye

Neil Sikes was the victim of a bad hop and suffered a black eye while chasing grounders at third base. Charles Galey, who was hit on the right knee by a pitched ball Monday, seemed to be in good shape, and Bobby Brown is still bothered by an injury to his right ankle.

Probable starters in the infield for the Westerners will be Morris Turner, catcher; Jessie Fullerton, first base; Galey, second base; Powell Hinson, third base; and Dan Adkisson, shortstop.

In left field will be Jimmy Richards. Garnet Reeves in center field and Jimmy Sexton in right field round out the outfield. The starting pitcher will be Bennie Day, Jimmy Hamilton, or Jim Wilson.

Included in the Independent lineup will be Bill Cannon, Bob McNeil, Dick Mittanck, J. D. Miller, Bill Reeter, Dicky Robinson, Van Welch, Bill Shelton, Sam De Stefano, and Archie Campbell.

Cards To Try Erv Dusak As Pitcher

BRADENTON, Fla., March 30 —Erv (Two-Sack) Dusak, whose weak hitting has all but cost him his job as a St. Louis Cardinals outfielder, will take the mound today against the Boston Braves in a bold bid for a job as a pitcher.

Card Manager Eddie Dyer indicated he would give the 28-year-old righthander a full chance at a pitching berth when he announced that Dusak would be the starting hurler.

The Braves were encouraged by the work of Outfielder Pete Reiser and Pitcher Johnny Sain.

In yesterday's 6 to 5 win over the Cincinnati Reds, Reiser, the ex-Dodger, hit an inside-the-park homer and Sain pitched all the way without issuing a walk for a seven-hit victory.

GIANTS TUSSLE PIRATES

PHOENIX, Ariz., March 30. (U.P) —Giant Manager Leo Durocher, beset by the same pitching miseries that bedeviled former skipper Mel Ott at the start of last season, had to send his shaky mound staff today against the Pittsburgh Pirates, the hottest team on the citrus circuit.

Caliber Of Loop Play Claimed Better

Texas League President Sees Close Flag Chase This Year

DALLAS, March 30 (U.P)—After its natural post-war letdown in caliber of play, the Texas league definitely has "arrived" as a Class AA baseball circuit, league President J. Alvin Gardner said today after completing a tour of spring training camps.

In fact, the veteran diamond enthusiast, said he believed the clubs could hold their own with the AAA-league members.

"The Texas league has been getting stronger each year," Gardner said, "and I believe this will be the season which will prove that the caliber of ball played here in the Southwest will match anything outside the majors."

Gardner said that he couldn't pick any favorite from the seven clubs he had seen in action. (He didn't get to Florida to see the Fort Worth Cats).

"I didn't see any one club that looked much better than the others," he said.

"Of course, seasoned pitching at San Antonio and Houston makes those clubs look a trifle ahead of the others now, but time should level out any such superiority.

"With hot weather, the older players—especially the experience-packed Dallas Eagles — should begin to show some of the form they have proven themselves capable of," he added.

"I look for a well-balanced race with attendance hitting a new high," he said. "Especially, if we don't have the bad breaks on weather during the opening games in each city."

The league president said he was impressed with the showings made by the two new managers in the league — Del Wilber at Houston and Joe Vosmik at Oklahoma City.

"They appeared to be getting along fine with their new charges, particularly the rookie prospects," he said.

Gardner said almost every club in the league had done some improvement work on their parks, but he especially mentioned the new clubhouse facilities at Shreveport and Beaumont and Dallas' revamped stadium.

The Texas league season opens April 13.

Michigan State College placed three players on the Penn. State all-opponent football team for 1948. Halfback George Guerre was a unanimous choice.

Ben Hogan To Leave Hospital This Week

EL PASO, March 30 (AP) — Golfer Ben Hogan, mighty midget of the fairways, has his sights set on Friday.

The doctor said Hogan, hospitalized here since a traffic crash last Feb. 2, can leave for his Fort Worth home about noon Friday. He will arrive in Fort Worth at 4:30 p. m. (CST) that afternoon.

Hogan's wife, Valerie, announced the moving plans. She herself has recovered from minor injuries suffered in the crash.

Mrs. Hogan said Ben will use a wheel chair for the trip from Hotel Dieu, the hospital, to the train.

World Series Films Will Be Shown Here

Pictures of the 1948 World series between the Cleveland Indians who will play at Rosenthal Field next Tuesday, and the Boston Braves, will be shown Thursday night at 8 in Chapman field house.

Curtis Barrett, recreation department director said that he had secured the films and that they would be shown without cost. Adults and children both are invited.

Between The Lines. . .

By Joe Kelly

Like the Air Forces, nothing can stop the Texas Softball League from opening April 30—except the weather. And this year even the weather doesn't appear to be inclined to band against softball activities. So far everything has gone as planned, except that there will be only eight teams in the league. That isn't a bad number, all things considered, and the way plans have been made for operation of the loop, it will be better at that number.

• • •

Hugh Welch, president of the league and, in his spare time, sports editor of The Standard-Times at San Angelo, hoped to have 10 teams in the circuit this year. So did several of the other members. But this grandiose plan fall through when a couple of the clubs balked at the terms set forth. For the league it actually was better that the teams backed out. Those that are in intend to carry through with the program. Those that backed out would only have been questionable finishers.

• • •

Last year there were nine teams in the loop and it worked out fine, but eight or ten, even numbers, were more adjustable. For instance, there could be no double round robin with nine teams and it was questionable with 10, without dragging out the season and interfering with various tournaments. But with eight clubs, the league can be—and has been—divided into two parts, an east and west. The western half appears, at the present, to be stronger, with Fort Stockton, Crane, San Angelo and Lubbock. The other section has Cisco, Stamford, Abilene CFW and Abilene Christian college.

• • •

The teams will play a double round robin in each section with the two top teams in each half meeting at the end of the season in a Shaughnessy playoff. Winner of that will be the Texas Softball League champion and open to an invitation to attend a national tournament. Members of the league, meeting Sunday in Big Spring, decided to open April 30, close July 23 and have an open week on June 18. The open week will make it possible to stage a tournament among teams in the league the week end of June 18. The early closing date also makes it possible for various teams to enter state and national tournaments.

• • •

Fred Russ, known only too well to softball followers for his colorful umpiring, attended the meeting Sunday. He made an eloquent plea—eloquent for an umpire, that is—for the league to hire umpires from the organization he was setting up. He will have nothing but approved umpires, men who will take tests to determine whether they may belong to his umpire's organization. They will be dressed uniformly and they will be able to conduct a game in professional style. And they'll be paid professional wages, if his price scale was heard correctly. Five cents a mile will be paid to each for transportation, plus a rate of $18 and $10 per doubleheader. In other words, $28.

• • •

Actually, the need for (ugh) umpires in softball, as well as baseball, is without question. The better officiated your sport is, the more popular the game. It's good for the players and for the spectators. How many times do you hear it said that umpiring makes or breaks a game? It's no exaggeration. A sport is only as good as its officiating and too much of the time, school officials are wont to hire cheaper officials to save money. They may save an actual cash outlay at the time, but they save nothing in the long run. You pay for what you get and you get only according to the price you pay.

• • •

Incidentally, we know you will be glad to hear that Ralph Bumpass was boosted from secretary-treasurer to vice president of the league. Sam Baize of Stamford was elected to Ralph's former position and Marcus Welch of San Angelo retained the job of league statistician. We're happy to see Ralph get the deserved recognition. He's enthusiastic about softball, so much so that cost means nothing to him. He's worked hard and he is nothing if not conscientious about anything he does. When and if Hugh decides to step down, the TSL could go farther and do worse than to put the destiny of the circuit in Ralph's hands.

• • •

THE ROUNDUP: The Indians and Giants arrive here Tuesday morning at 8:30 a. m. and leave at 6 p. m. on a Santa Fe Special . . . German Fishermen Accused Of Piracy

BERLIN, Mar. 30. (AP)—There's a small war of words going on between the German fishermen of the Russian occupation zone and those of the British zone. The Russian zone fishermen are accusing their western countrymen of "piracy" in the Baltic fishing fields. They claim the westerners are coming within the three mile limit of Soviet zone ports and stealing eastern nets.

Recently a group of fishermen from Macklenburg, Soviet zone, got together for a protest meeting. They adopted a resolution demanding "adoption of measures to stop this piracy" which they claimed was "hateful action intended to sabotage our tireless efforts at reconstruction and raising our living standards."

Man Fined $218 For Illegal Duck Shoot

Garland W. Thomas has about decided that it's cheaper to eat hamburger than it is wild fowl.

It cost Thomas, about 30, $218 for a pair of ducks that he shot out of season. That's $109 each, or roughly 218 pounds of hamburger per duck at the current rate on the market. Thomas paid the fine to C. E. Lynn, justice of the peace.

He pleaded guilty in two cases of complaints sworn to by L. J. Dugger, a game warden of the state, accusing him of "unlawfully hunting and killing a wild game bird, to wit: one wild duck, at a time of year not during open season provided for killing of said game bird."

Officials For Fight Sought

NEW YORK, March 30 (AP) — Eddie Eagan, chairman of the state athletic commission, thumbed through his files today in search of three "Solomons."

He's going to need three officials with something close to the Biblical monarch's wisdom plus strong sets of nerves to judge Friday's ten-round, none-title bout between lightweight Champion Ike Williams and welter contender Kid Gavilan in Madison Square Garden.

Two Close Battles

The stir created by Eagan's indefinite suspension of two officials following the Jake LaMotta-Robert Villemain fray last Friday, has focused attention on the thorny problem that will be handed the three arbiters this week.

They will be asked to decide between two battlers with contrasting styles who have fought two of the closest fights in recent years.

Williams won the first one in Feb. 1948. The flashy Cuban evened the count last Jan. 28.

Hale Center Wins Tournament

HALE CENTER, March 30 (Special) — The finals in the Hale Center invitational boxing tournament were held last night, and the local school won first place with 27 points.

In second place was Springlake with 14 points, and Hart made eight. Grade school winners received silver gloves and medals.

Both boys are from Hale Center. In the other match Wayne Beaver of Hart, 124, fought Bill Chapman, 120, of Hale Center to a draw.

The Hale Center boxers were predominant in the fight card tonight, failing to appear in only three of the bouts. Only two of the fights were won by technical knockouts, and the rest were decided by the decision of the judges.

Judges were Toby Wagner, New Deal, Gene Gray, Earth, and Leonard Duncan, Hale Center. All bouts were fought in Watley Memorial gym, under the direction of Coach Ralph Huntington.

In two of the fastest fights of the night Jimmy Lamb, 124, scored a TKO over Larry Smith, 123, another Hale Center lad, and Jerry Johnson, 131, stopped Bill Odom, 132, with a TKO in the first round. Johnston is a local boy and Odom is from Cotton Center.

Benefit Cage Clash Slated

RALLS, March 30. (Special)—This city Thursday night will be host to the world famous girls basketball teams known as the Red Heads of Cassville, Mo.

The Red Heads, who will make a one-night stand, will play the Ralls Independents, a man's team, in a benefit game for the Ralls Parent-Teachers association. Tickets, to be sold at the door only, will be 75 cents for adults and 30 cents for children.

The game is scheduled for 8 p. m. in the city auditorium and a capacity crowd of 1,000 persons is anticipated.

The Red Heads play only men's teams on their tour of the nation and they will be facing one of the better independent teams in this section in the Ralls Independents. They have several outstanding local players, in addition to fine former college players.

Orwell Moore, former court star and Arkansas mentor, is serving as both coach and manager of the Red Heads, who have built up a fabulous reputation throughout the years. Each season they tour the nation, playing teams of men on equal terms. They first of all are good basketball players and they also manage to inject humor into their games.

The local game is being staged under the direction of O. D. Stephens, chairman of the finance committee of the Ralls PTA. He will be assisted by members of his committee, including Burl Griffith, Marvin McLaughlin, Mrs. Tim Lyle, Emmett Lynch and Earl Tinnin.

Europe Chiefs Arrive In U. S.

NEW YORK, March 30 (AP) — Foreign ministers of four western European nations arrived here early today aboard the British Liner Queen Mary.

Key purpose of their mission is the signing of the Atlantic pact in Washington next week.

Also aboard the ship were several U.N. delegations and officials, including Andrei A. Gromyko, first deputy foreign minister of the Soviet Union and head of the Soviet's U.N. delegation.

For Opening Of UN

They are here for the opening of U.N. assembly sessions in New York City April 5.

The liner docked about dawn.

British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin.

Belgian Premier and Foreign Minister Paul-Henri Spaak.

Dutch Foreign Minister D. U. Stikker.

Luxembourg Foreign Minister Joseph Bech.

Tornadoes

Canton. "It's ripped to bits."

The two dead were 12-year-old Larry Arnold, son of a widow storekeeper at Longdale, and Charles Stowers, 32, Canton.

Longdale was so badly hit that sheriff's deputies and patrolmen put up road blocks to keep the curious away and speed rescue work.

The Canton twister knocked out lights, power and telephones, and all through the early morning hours rescue work went in the fitful light of auto headlamps and flashlights.

Two ambulances, themselves almost wrecked in the blast, carried the injured to hospitals in nearby Okeene and Watonga.

Brick Buildings Go Down

Brick buildings as well as frame houses went down in Canton like card-castles. The brick Mormon church and a brick warehouse were leveled.

"Longdale was almost blown away," said Nova Jean Schiska, 17-year-old telephone operator who manned her switchboard after the tornado.

"It came here with no warning—hardly any rain and hail. . . just bang!"

First word of the Canton disaster was phoned to the Daily Oklahoman by R. H. Burnham, publisher of the Canton Record, over the only telephone line left to the town. The Associated Press relayed the call to the state highway patrol, the central disaster headquarters for Oklahoma, and aid was ordered to the scene.

Escaped 30 Years

Canton is only 40 miles southwest of Woodward, Okla., where the worst tornado on record struck on April 9, 1947, killing 106. Canton has escaped the twisters for 30 years, although they have hit all around.

The Blackwell blow was only glancing. Police Sgt. George Morgan said it knocked down houses, a grade school and powerlines in the south part of town. There were five injured there. A report of another tornado at Medford, Okla., apparently was erroneous.

A tornado dipped down five miles north of Enid—in northwest Oklahoma—about 3 a. m. and demolished a hangar and several airplanes at a field operated by the Hirst Air Service.

No one was hurt.

Besides his CARE post, Fairbanks is vice president of the United Nations association in this country. He has been prominent in various civilian diplomatic missions, starting with duty as special envoy for the late President Roosevelt.

During the early years of the war he served with Lord Mountbatten's commandos, and later duties as commander in U. S. Navy destroyer forces brought him many honors. Medals he has already received: the British gallantry award, French legion of honor and croix de guerre with palms, the Italian cross of valor and the American silver star and legion of merit. Now knighthood, which has come to only a handful of Americans, General Dwight D. Eisenhower and Winthrop Aldrich among them.

But it won't be Sir Douglas. That's for Britons only.

Car Wreck Is Said Revealed In Vision

PROCTORVILLE, O., March 30. (U.P.)—Raymond Boggs told Sheriff Peter A. Burke that he had a vision while praying that his son Charles, 22, and Ernest D. Swindler, 16, had been in a car which plunged off the highway one mile north of here.

A searching party went to the spot to discover the car containing the two bodies under 20 feet of water in Bent Creek. The sheriff said the auto apparently left the road and went into the creek during a heavy fog.

Daily Markets

Stock Market

GAINS TURN IRREGULAR

NEW YORK, March 30 (U.P.) — The stock market opened with a rush of buying orders today as dealings began under the new Federal Reserve board margin regulations, but initial gains were small and after the first rush of overnight orders had been filled the list turned irregular.

The Federal Reserve board Monday night cut its margin requirement to 50 per cent from the 75 per cent rate that had been in effect since Feb. 1, 1947.

Prices were moderately higher at the outset of trading but following through buying did not develop and mild profit-taking turned the market irregular around noon.

Good business news, highlighted by disclosure that automobile production in March will set a 20-year high for the month, attracted some new buying shortly before the close but late demand was not particularly aggressive.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, March 30 (AP) — Cotton futures advanced today on trade and commission house buying, along with short covering by locals.

The unexpected 13 point advance in the mid-March cotton parity touched off aggressive buying, with the new crop deliveries leading the upturn. On the basis of the March parity, the loan would figure at 29.66 cents a pound on 15/16 inch middling, with new crop futures as much as three cents a pound under that level.

Texas Area In Flood Danger

ORANGE, March 30. (AP)—A flood situation was developing in this area today.

Strong southerly winds and heavy rains the past several days have inundated at least one major highway.

The highway department said motorists had reported backwater from Calcasieu lake was over U.S. highway 90 at several points west of Lake Charles.

Route Still Passable

The route was still passable, but motorists were cautioned to proceed carefully between Orange and Lake Charles.

The U. S. weather observer here said the Sabine river below the interstate bridge had reached a stage of 3.9 feet, the highest since the 1944 flood. The stream was still rising.

Keys To Pantex Plant Will Be Transferred To Tech Thursday

Keys to the Pantex ordnance plant properties near Amarillo are to be delivered to Texas Technological college Thursday morning, but the action will not represent official transfer of the properties until and unless sanctioned by the board of directors of the college.

Announcement of the pending ceremony was received at Amarillo chamber of commerce from Duncan Meyer of the War Assets administration, Dallas office, who said he would meet Dr. D. M. Wiggins, Texas Tech president, at 11 a. m., Thursday at the Herring hotel and that they would proceed immediately to the Pantex plant for the ceremony.

Board Must Approve

Dr. Wiggins said in Lubbock today that he and W. L. Stangel, dean of agriculture, would go to Amarillo to meet Meyer, who plans to deliver the keys.

The properties cannot be formally transferred, however, without approval of the board of directors, the president pointed out.

Board members individually are considering copies of the contract, as prepared by the War Assets administration.

The board will not meet again until April 11, when a session is scheduled in Austin, and cannot officially act upon the contract until that time, said Dr. Wiggins.

Purchase Of Horses Problem For City

PITTSBURGH, March 30 (U.P.)—The city law department was in a dilemma over how it could purchase legally a pair of work horses at a bargain price.

The two horses belonged to the late Dr. L. H. Mayer, Jr., of Timber Top Farm, near Ligonier, Pa. His widow refused to sell the horses separately because they were brothers, although she had been offered a total of $3,000 for the pair from separate bidders.

She offered them to the city for $700. But the law doesn't allow the purchase of anything over $500 without first accepting bids.

Councilman Frederic C. Weir asked the legal department to see whether it was all right to buy one horse one day for $350 and buy the other the next day for another $350.

Jury Selected In Traffic Case Here

A county court jury was selected this morning for trial of Harvey Knight, 42, on a charge of aggravated assault with a motor vehicle.

Judge Walter Davies asked the jury, witnesses and counsel to return at 2 p. m., when testimony will commence.

Knight, of 2412 Fourteenth, was driver of a light five-passenger coupe that, the state alleges, plowed into the rear of a cattle truck the night of March 6 on the Lubbock-Slaton highway, injuring Gloria Lee Volz, 7.

The child's mother, Mrs. Jo Volz, 25, and her sister, Camelia Rose, 6, also were injured, but not so seriously as Gloria Lee, hospital reports showed. All were riding in the car.

Knight pleaded innocent when the complaint was read just before the noon adjournment of court. He is represented by attorneys Sam Allred and Gordon Treadway. County Attorney Waggoner Carr and assistant County Attorney Dudley Brummett will prosecute.

"DIRTIEST SHIP I EVER SAW"—Two seamen examined the battered furniture in a wardroom of the Milwaukee, lend-lease cruiser recently returned to Philadelphia by the Russians. A naval doctor reported that the 7050-ton vessel, which served five years in the Russian navy, was the "dirtiest ship I ever saw." Inspectors found filthy crew quarters infested with rats and vermin and the galley coated with a greasy film.

Rites Set For Eddie O'Neal

Funeral services for Eddie Joe O'Neal, 12, accidental shooting victim, will be conducted at 2:30 Thursday in First Central Baptist church.

Rev. J. T. Clinton, retired Baptist minister, is to officiate.

Burial will be in Tech Memorial park, under direction of Sanders Funeral home.

The boy, son of Mr. and Mrs A. L. O'Neal of Lubbock route 5, died in St. Mary's hospital about 30 minutes after he was wounded in the neck by a bullet from a .22 caliber rifle.

Accident Described

The accident occurred near the boy's home, three miles south and slightly west of Hurlwood.

Justice of the Peace C. E. Lynn indicated today that he would file a verdict of accidental death. He said the victim's younger brother, Elton, told him that he (Elton) was handling the rifle at the time of the accident. Lynn said that Elton stated that Eddie Joe was playing with an old cigarette lighter when the lighter suddenly sputtered and flashed.

The noise and the flash frightened him, Lynn quoted Elton as saying, and in his excitement he discharged the rifle, which he had not thought loaded.

Taken To Hospital

The bullet pierced the large blood vessels just below Eddie Joe's throat. He was taken immediately to Plains clinic by his grandfather, G. E. O'Neal of 2112 Twenty-seventh, who was visiting at the rural home at the time.

The boy was pronounced dead by the time he reached surgery in St. Mary's hospital.

Survivors include the parents; the brother; the paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. G. E. O'Neal; and the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John G. Wright of Brashear, Hopkins county.

Pallbearers will be R. E. Hill, S. R. Hale, W. A. Martin, Luther Williamson, Ernest Marquis and H. P. Barnett.

Ranger T. E. Seay Monday night filed the charges against Ollie Kent, 34, and Edwin Crocker, 21. They are accused of killing a prize bull belonging to Harl Thomas and taking part of the carcass. It is alleged the theft occurred on Thomas' ranch in extreme south Kenedy county.

The last felony case requiring grand jury action in the county was on Jan. 4, 1945. Adan Flores was indicted in the slaying of Manuel Riojos. The case was transferred to Kleberg county, where Flores was given a five-year prison term.

Dr. Edwin Nourse Has Resigned Post

WASHINGTON, March 30. (AP) Dr. Edwin G. Nourse said today he had handed in his resignation as chairman of the President's council of economic advisers. But he said he plans to stay on the job "as far as I've heard."

Nourse talked to reporters after a call on President Truman. He said the resignation had been in Mr. Truman's hands for at least a couple of months but he had never discussed the matter with the President.

Nourse has been at odds with his two colleagues on the council, Leon Keyserling and Dr. John D. Clark, over handling of the administration's anti-inflation policy.

Nourse said he and Mr. Truman did not discuss the two-to-one council split in which Nourse is the minority voice. He is known to oppose the type of "standby" anti-inflation powers urged on Congress by Mr. Truman. Keyserling and Clark have testified in behalf of the administration stand.

to it as the milking parlor style. One man can easily handle a small herd.

At the present time Rhodes has seven cows in his dairy herd. Some are Holsteins and some are Jerseys. Eventually he hopes to build up a fine registered herd of Holsteins. He just got started this year and has been doing all of the work himself. He built the nice farm home in which he lives; the barn and milking shed, and installed the ramp. All since his discharge from the service.

His barn is about 30 by 50 feet and has a 10 by 30 cooling room at one end. This room also contains a chlorine bath to keep his equipment clean and sterilized, an automatic hot water heater and the milking apparatus when it is not in use.

Rhodes hopes to install more ramps and more milkers as quickly as he builds up his herd. "I'm sort of feeling my way along and trying to learn as much as I can about the business before I get too big an investment," he said.

In addition to his dairy enterprise, Rhodes is farming 160 acres on which his dairy is located. In time he hopes to make the dairy his major project and the balance of his farm will be more or less a side-line. Instructor Elliott says the work that Rhodes has accomplished in the short length of time he has worked on his dairy is remarkable and illustrates what an energetic young veteran, or for that matter, anyone, can do if he really wants to apply himself. The Veteran's Administration and agriculture extension services are giving every possible assistance to get them started and keep them going, Elliott said.

Rail Workers Strike Slated

SAN FRANCISCO, March 30 (AP) The Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen has called a strike against the Southern Pacific railroad for 8 p. m. (CST) Saturday, April 2.

The walkout was called because of 89 unsettled grievances, union leaders said.

It would affect the railroad's operations in seven western states —California, Arizona, New Mexico, Texas, Nevada, Utah and Oregon.

C. W. Moffitt, western general chairman for the brotherhood, announced the strike date. He said about 3,500 brotherhood members would be affected. Some of the union grievances have been in dispute since 1940, Moffitt said.

Up To Truman

He added that the only possible way to avert the strike now is for President Truman to invoke the "cooling off" procedure of the railway labor act. This provides for appointment of an emergency fact-finding board, which would automatically postpone the strike for 60 days.

The union broke off mediation hearings yesterday. These hearings had been in progress with the company since December in the presence of William F. Mitchell of the national mediation board.

The strike originally had been set for last December, at which time there had been 296 unsettled grievances. The union, however, postponed it month by month as the hearings progressed.

Cattle Loss Blamed On Wheat Poisoning

AMARILLO, Tex., March 30 (U.P.) —Wheat poisoning was blamed today for the loss of an estimated 1,500 head of cattle in 34 Panhandle counties.

Participating in the survey of the cattle loss were Dr. F. D. Davis, a biochemist with the United States Department of Agriculture's experiment station at Beltsville, Mo., and Dr. Clyde O. Morgan, director of research at the Pan Tex Texas Tech research project here.

The two officials are co-operating in treating stricken animals with calcium glutinate. They reported rapid recovery of stricken animals.

Offsetting the livestock loss, wheat growers in the same counties reported crop prospects at this date are "extremely good" and are forecasting a record yield this season.

amount it says it needs.

If the authorization in the pending bill is cut, ECA would have to stay under that ceiling in its bid for actual funds to carry out its program.

Meanwhile, Senator Malone (R-Nev) charged that Marshall plan countries helped by the United States are actually using that aid to "rearm Russia for the third world war."

"The recipient nations are shipping everything from locomotives to jet engines to Russia and Russian satellite countries," Malone said in a speech prepared for delivery as the Senate resumed debate on the authorization bill.

"Those supplies are produced with the raw material and money furnished by the United States through ECA while we are severely restricting our own exports to the iron curtain countries."

George told a reporter he is backing the proposed 10 per cent cut because he thinks prices are leveling off and a dollar of American funds will buy more materials to ship to Europe next fall than was estimated when the ECA budget was made up last November.

Senator Lucas of Illinois, the Democratic leader, opposed the cut, contending that the full amount is needed.

TEC Expects 1949 Balance In Farm Labor Supply, Demand

By EDWARD WELSH
Journal Staff Writer

"The Texas Employment Commission expects to keep the farm labor supply and demand in perfect balance this year," Vernon O'Farrell, farm placement representative for TEC, said today. "We achieved this happy situation last year and our preliminary surveys indicate that we will be able to accomplish it again in 1949."

Most of the year-around farm labor has already been placed but demands for the seasonal or migratory workers have started coming into the TEC office and the demands are expected to accelerate as the season advances, O'Farrell said.

Survey Completed

One of the surveys just completed under O'Farrell's direction was to determine the overall available farm labor supply. It also catalogued the specific types and qualifications of the various individuals contacted.

"We know well in advance what the approximate requirements will be in our district and we wanted to find out for sure that the workers will be remaining when farmers and growers begin making calls for them," O'Farrell explained.

The Lubbock office services an area covering nine counties. Cochran, Hockley, Crosby, Dickens, King, Lubbock, Garza, Kent and Stonewall are included in the area. Actually the Lubbock office cooperates closely with all other sections of the state in trying to maintain a balance in the various agricultural sections. When labor is not employed here it is reported to other areas where workers are needed. Often it is necessary to state that any workers drawn from this area will be available for a stipulated length of time.

Families Available

Recently offices in South Texas were advised that a number of farm families were available here who could work in the valley and southern counties until June 1. At that time their services will be required here again. In this manner farm workers can be more or less constantly employed by shifting around.

Then too, there are heavy demands from out-of-state. Some of these calls are for large numbers and in a few cases run to several thousands. Such requests are always referred to the state office in Austin. All state requirements are filled first and then if there is a surplus of labor they are released to other states.

Calls in the last few days have come from Montana, Kansas, Colorado, Wyoming and Nebraska. A majority of these calls are for sugar beet workers. Last year licensed labor recruiters took 667 workers from the Lubbock area for planting and thinning of sugar beets. They were employed for periods averaging from four to six weeks. Sugar beet labor is in the heaviest demand at this time of the year, O'Farrell said.

Give Clear Picture

"Years ago we could not be sure that we would have a sufficient labor supply when the demand became heavy," O'Farrell said. "Now we have records and figures which give us a clear picture of the situation well in advance and we can take steps to correct any of the troubles that might arise."

"I wouldn't say that we have cinched the problem because the itinerant worker is still, to a certain degree, a question mark in our planning," O'Farrell added. "The year-around labor is well indexed but we have less than 25 per cent of the migratory workers on file. These are usually contacted in groups and crews. We deal through their appointed leaders and with the heads of families."

Griffin, who was recently named to the Texas Supreme court, resigned his co-chairmanship at the meeting, but arrangements for the program continued.

Plans for the rally will be announced within a few days as soon as confirmation of a speaker can be secured.

Those attending the meetipg included: Mrs. J. W. Walker of Plainview, committeewoman from this district; C. T. McLaughlin of Snyder and Truett Smith of Tahoka.

Slayer Of City Bus Driver Faces Death

HOUSTON, March 30. (U.P.)—A death sentence today confronted William Milton Smith, jr., 21-year-old negro who shot and killed city bus driver Leslie D. Gibbins last Dec. 22.

Smith was found guilty 11 minutes after a criminal district court jury received the case late yesterday, ending the rapid-fire trial proceedings that lasted only one day.

Smith claimed from the stand, as he had previously, that the bus driver's arm hit the weapon, discharging it "accidentally."

A companion in the crime, James Willie Blackmon, 23, was granted severance and will be tried later.

Rites Set For Church Leader

HOUSTON, March 30. (U.P.)—Final rites were to be held at 3 p. m. today for Dr. Paul W. Quillian, nationally known leader of Methodism and pastor of the First Methodist church here for the past 13 years.

The 53-year-old pastor, who gave up a prospering business in Pine Bluff, Ark., to enter the ministry, died suddenly Monday afternoon in the locker room at the River Oaks country club.

Successor Announced

Only a few hours earlier, his successor to the pastorate here was announced by Bishop A. Frank Smith. Dr. Quillian announced his resignation March 9, saying he would leave June 15 to teach at the Perkins Theological seminary on the Southern Methodist university campus in Dallas.

Dr. Kenneth Pope of Austin's First Methodist church, who graduated with Dr. Quillian from Perkins seminary in 1922, was named to succeed him June 1.

Ten Conduct Services

Three friends of the late pastor's were to conduct the funeral services, which will be simple. Participating will be Bishop Smith, the Rev. Clyde J. Verheyden, Dr. Quillian's associate for the last 12 years, and Bishop W. C. Martin of Dallas.

The body will lie in state from 10 a. m. today until time for the funeral. The family asked that no flowers be sent, but that contributions be made, instead, to the Paul Quillian memorial fund.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Eula Quillian; one daughter, Mrs. R. E. Goodrich of Dallas; a sister, Mrs. Harry Cleveland of Coral Gables, Fla., and four brothers, Dr. Warren Quillian of Coral Gables, Guy and Claude Quillian, both of Miami, and Ralph Quillian of Atlanta, Ga.

Increase Of Cancer Cases Among Vets Threat, Solon Says

WASHINGTON, March 30. (INS)—Sen. Magnuson (D) Wash., warned today that the number of cancer cases among veterans threatens to more than double in the next ten years.

Magnuson issued the warning at a meeting of the congressional cancer campaign committee, a group of legislators who will aid the national fund drive of the American Cancer Society next month. He said:

"This year an estimated 25,000 veterans are suffering from cancer. Within ten years the figure will mount to more than 50,000 as our World War II veterans reach middle age."

By 1960, he added, the veterans administration may be called upon to spend as much as 40 to 50 million dollars annually to take care of cancer patients.

The senator pointed out that one bright spot in the cancer picture is the intensive research being done on the cause and treatment of the disease. He urged "wholehearted support" for the American Cancer society drive for $14,500,000 this year.

The money, along with public funds secured through the U. S. Public Health service, is used to attack the cancer problem.

Magnuson and Rep. J. Percy Priest (D) Tenn., are co-chairmen of the congressional cancer campaign committee.

Babson Predicts Minor Recession

WINTER HAVEN, Fla., March 30. (AP) — Economist Roger Babson predicts a minor recission from now until 1953, and offers this advice to business men:

Prepare for competition, buy on a hand-to-mouth basis, keep expenses down, keep out of debt, and store cash.

Babson told a civic club yesterday that the recession will be less severe than the one in the early thirties because there are too many cushions—subsidy pensions, government mortgages, high bank deposits, and rental ceilings.

City, State Officers Join To Seek Kansas City Murderers

KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 30. (AP)—Aroused by Kansas City's record of 20 unsolved murders in slightly more than three years, city and state officers joined forces today to find the murderers of Man-About-Town Wolf Rimann.

The most important law enforcement officers in the area met in a hotel suite last night and pledged cooperation during a four-hour conference.

The meeting came after Gov. Forrest Smith ordered the Missouri highway patrol and the Kansas attorney general's office into the investigation and told the Kansas City police board he wanted the case solved immediately.

Group Is Named

The session was attended by Police Chief Henry W. Johnson, Chief of Detectives Frank Collins, Attorney General J. E. Taylor and three assistants, Sheriff J. A. Purdome, Paul Hamilton, president of the police board, and Dwight M. Brantley, special agent in charge of the local office of the FBI.

In a letter to Hamilton, delivered personally by Col. David Harrison, new state patrol commander, the governor demanded a shakeup if the local police department was not operating efficiently.

Smith's letter specifically mentioned Rimann's murder by two killers and a getaway driver at an eastside intersection last Thursday and the unsolved slaying of Leroy Crist several weeks ago.

Half Gang Slayings

The governor noted that there have been "20 unsolved murders in Kansas City" since October, 1945. He said half of them were gang slayings.

Taylor said he and his assistants would stay in Kansas City to participate in the crime fight and Harrison indicated he would be here from time to time.

Taylor said in a formal statement:

"We have fully agreed to cooperate with each other and to pool our resources. All law endorsement officials have agreed to furnish me with prompt reports of investigations to date and in the future.

Taylor Convinced

". . . I'm convinced that all law enforcement agencies in Jackson county have been working hard and diligently to solve the murders which have been committed. The state patrol and I agreed to furnish local officials with every assistance possible. We sincerely trust that our unitd efforts will result in solving the Rimann and other murders and we earnestly solicit the help and cooperation of every law-abiding citizen."

City detectives were checking Rimann's business activities, including liquor, taverns and coin machines enterprises, but found no leads to the killers. Rimann, manager of the fashionable Hillcrest Country club, once was a well-known golf professional here.

NEW REPUBLICAN DEFEATS SEEN

Lucas Declares GOP Attacks Mark Return To Isolationism

WASHINGTON, March 30 (AP)—Senator Lucas (D-Ill) said today that GOP attacks on United States foreign policy mark a return to "the isolationism that has lost Republicans elections before."

The Democratic leader told a reporter he thinks the voters will defeat senators who have levelled criticism at the European recovery program and the North Atlantic treaty scheduled to be signed here April 4.

"The country is behind the bipartisan foreign policy as it is being carried on by President Truman and Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich)," Lucas said.

"These attacks on the pact and on the European recovery program come from the same kind of isolationism that has lost Republicans elections before."

Lucas singled out Senators Donnel (R-Mo), Watkins (R-Utah) and Taft (R-Ohio) as among those he predicted will be defeated the next time they face the voters. Donnell and Taft are up next year and Watkins in 1952.

Donnell and Watkins have denounced the pact and demand the right to question witnesses. Taft has indicated support of the treaty but moved yesterday to cut recovery funds 10 per cent.

Senator Wherry of Nebraska, the Republican floor leader, retorted that Lucas was "just talking politics."

Opinion Mixed

"There is mixed opinion among both Republicans and Democrats about the proposed security treaty," Wherry told a reporter. "Just because a senator wants to know how it will work and what it will involve doesn't mean he's an isolationist.

"There are a lot of people who think the way to prepare against the next war is to put our money in building up our defenses here and not into building up land armies in Europe that couldn't stop the Russians if they attacked."

Wherry noted that Donnell had voted for the Vandenberg resolution passed by the Senate last year, which laid the groundwork for the signing of the treaty. Watkins opposed this resolution, but voted for the European recovery program last year. Taft didn't vote on final passage of either.

Chairman Connally (D-Tex) of the Senate foreign relations committee agreed with Lucas that the country generally supports the North Atlantic agreement.

He said mail to senators proves this, and he added a prediction that the pact will win Senate ratification by a "substantial" vote. Approval of two-thirds of those voting is needed for ratification.

There was evidence that some Republicans were inclined to agree with Connally that the proposed treaty and the recovery program are popular with the people.

Cat Replaced By Railroad

OXFORD, La., March 30. (AP)—A passenger train made a long, unprecedented stop at this little Louisiana town today. The railroad wanted to give a girl a new cat.

The cat, black as midnight, went to 13-year-old Marlene Wendt. Thus, the Texas and Pacific railroad replaced a cat belonging to Marlene which was killed by one of their engines last month.

William Ray Hargrove, 60-year-old red-haired engineer who had piloted the train that destroyed Marlene's cat, made the ceremonious presentation today.

Letter Was Received

The girl wrote the T&P March 1, saying: "Dear Sir: My cat was killed by one of your engines on Feb. 20. He was a black cat named Cinder. I would appreciate another cat."

The railroad thought that one over a few days and then pushed the throttle full steam ahead.

"In the near future we will see that you have a cat to replace Cinder," the T&P wrote Marlene.

Eight railroad employes at Fort Worth built a sumptuous cage, brass hinged and with special water and food receptacles. And on top of the cage, they printed a name: "Cinder II."

Search Was Started

Meanwhile, other employes of the railroad scurried around to find a cat to suit Marlene. "Cinder didn't have any white whatsoever," she had said in a second letter to the T&P.

"Cinder was a big pet. I mean you could pick him up anytime and pet him."

At the home of J. H. Hefner in Fort Worth, the railroad's scouts found a seven-months-old tomcat that fitted specifications, except for a single white whisker. The railroad bought him for $15 and put him in the new cage.

Cinder II still sported his lone white whisker—and a bright red ribbon—when Engineer Hargrove handed him over to Marlene.

Crippled Children Society Starts Drive

Palsy Center Will Share In Proceeds From Easter Seals

Part of the proceeds received by Lubbock Society for Crippled Children in the sale of Easter seals will be given to Lubbock Cerebral Palsy Treatment center, according to announcement Tuesday afternoon.

Letters were mailed Tuesday to Lubbock county residents, stating, "There are over seven hundred children in this area afflicted with cerebral palsy as well as hundreds of other children who need your help. You are being given the opportunity through the purchase of Easter seals to help these children to a more normal way of life."

Of the total raised, 75 per cent will remain in Lubbock county and 25 per cent will be sent to the Texas Society for Crippled Children.

Of the 75 per cent remaining in the county, half will be given to the Cerebral Palsy Treatment center, which is conducting a drive to raise money to construct a building for the center.

The Easter seal shows a girl on crutches and bears the appeal, "Help Crippled Children." Price of a block of seals, such as that enclosed with letters, normally is $1. Residents have been asked to send as much as possible to the treasurer, Lubbock Crippled Children's council, Drawer 1121, Lubbock.

The drive will continue until Easter, April 17.

The Crippled Children's society does not restrict its work to children suffering a particular type of handicap, but helps those suffering bone defects, brain injury and various other types of defects.

Assistance Given Children

Direct financial assistance has been given to 40 children in the last year. Aid ranged from purchasing braces and special appliances to providing clinical and hospital care for children who could not afford it, said J. J. Wiley, treasurer for the Easter seal drive. In many cases, money has been provided to pay transportation of children to and from the specialists.

Wiley said the society is striving to raise a large amount, since money will be shared with the School Favorites Are Selected At Annual Round-Up

Almost the entire Senior High school student body, clad in blue jeans, gaudy shirts, boots and broad-brimmed western hats, jammed the high school auditorium last night to climax the day-long Westerner Round-Up.

Highlight of the assembly program was announcement that Charles Galey and Kara Sam Dunn had been selected all-school favorites, and would preside at activities in the gymnasium.

Frank Poyner and Joyce Worrell were selected as attendants to the favorites and were accorded places of honor on the baled hay "throne" with Galey and Miss Dunn.

Galey is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. H. Galey, 1517 Twenty-fourth. Miss Dunn is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Sam G. Dunn, Levelland highway. Miss Worrell is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Worrell, 2915 Twentieth, and Poyner is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Poyner, 3724 Twenty-sixth.

Program Is Presented

Before the favorites were revealed, members of the student body presented several musical numbers, and a "kangaroo" court session at which Poyner was defendant against a charge of "running through a hedge at the high school."

Waggoner Carr, county attorney and a 1937 graduate of the school, acted as judge.

Following the assembly program, the all-school favorites led the home favorites in a grand march to the gymnasium. The student body followed for the festivities.

In the gymnasium, the all-school favorites took their places on improvised thrones of baled hay.

Annual Dinner Is Held Here

Highlighting the monthly meeting of the board of trustees of Lubbock Independent School district last night at the school business office was the election of the 1949-50 slate of teachers and other school officials for the schools of the district.

The business meeting followed the board's annual pre-election dinner for members and their wives, held this year in the cafeteria of J. T. Hutchinson Junior High school.

The board, in addition to approving the election of a long list of teachers, accepted the resignation of four faculty members and announced that 11 others would not be available for the coming school year.

Resolution Is Passed

Resignations were accepted from Daisy Chausse of Guadalupe school, Mrs. Joreen Ludeke of Hunt school, Miss Marjorie E. Byrd of Overton school and Mrs. W. L. Metcalfe, Central Ward school.

The following announced that they would not be available for the coming school term: Mrs. Emily S. McConnell, Chris Harwell school Mrs. Betty J. Mills, J. T. Hutchinson school; Mrs. Clemettie Arthur, McWhorter school: Mrs. R. B. Luker, Senior High; Mrs. Nancy Webb, McWhorter; Mrs. Rosa Gamblin, Sanders school; L. M. Handley, Senior High; Mrs. Helen F. Sheehan, Senior High; Mrs. Jo Anne Hunt, McWhorter school; Mrs. J. Neuel Bryan, J. T. Hutchinson school; and Mrs. F. Greer, Hunt school.

The school board passed a resolution expressing to the above teachers its appreciation for the fine services rendered and extended its wishes for success in the future.

Bands To Attend Meet

The board agreed unanimously to allow the junior high school bands to attend the Interscholastic League meeting at Canyon on April 29 and 30, providing the members pay their own individual expenses for the trip.

Previously the board had rejected a petition asking that the junior high bands be allowed to go to the meeting at school expense, pointing out the expense involved to the school district.

The board studied a petition from parents in the Dunbar school area asking that a truant officer be appointed for the school. Members of the board were in concensus that such an officer should be secured before the start of school next fall. About 170 names were signed to the petition.

Salary Setup Discussed

The trustees agreed that no action would be taken immediately

THE QUESTION

How can parents and teachers cooperate for the good of the child?

THE ANSWERS

MRS. J. T. SHAVER, 1801 Fourteenth, first grade teacher in Central Ward school: "Each must make a definite effort to understand the child. Visits to the schoolroom should be made often by the parents to see their child as he progresses with the group. Teacher and parents should be free to call for conferences in which not only the problems are discussed, but the characteristic talents of the child may be considered. The team of teacher, parent and child should make every effort to bring the child up to his fullest capacity."

MRS. J. B. ADAMS, 1921 Thirteenth, who has two sons: "Through visitation in the school and knowing the teacher better you would know what she expects of your child and you could cooperate through seeing that the child did what the teacher expected him to do."

MRS. F. F. BREAZEALE, 2015 Tenth, who has two daughters: "The parent should be interested enough in whatever the child is doing to attend school events. Every conversation with a parent helps the teacher to understand more about the child and cope with the situation that might exist. I don't think any teacher ever wants parents to tell them what to do, but they do welcome suggestions. I think entertainments for Junior and Senior High school children would be nice once a month. They might be sponsored by a group of parents each time and attended by some of the teachers. In grade school, parents help with room parties."

MRS. T. F. WIESEN, 2216 Broadway, Mother of two children: "The parents should visit the school and find out what some of the problems are. Teachers and parents can discusse their problems together. Each ought to try to see the other person's viewpoint."

MRS. DEALVA ROBERTS, 2203 Twenty-eighth, social studies teacher in Carroll Thompson Junior High school: "Both should have the interest of the child foremost in their mind and plans. Each needs to have a philosophy of education and psychology of handling children that doesn't conflict. If the parents visit the school and understand what the school is trying to do, they come nearer cooperating with the school. That works both ways. If the teacher understands the type of home the child comes from, the teacher can cooperate with the parents."

MRS. A. W. YOUNG, 2014 Fifteenth, mother of three children: "I think just by an exchange of ideas, they can cooperate. If the teacher knows the background of the child, it's easier to make progress and she will understand the child better by knowing his background. If parents are sufficiently interested to get acquainted with the teacher, the teacher can do more. I think the responsibility in getting acquainted is more on the parent than the teacher, because the teacher can't be expected to visit all the homes, but the parent certainly can go to school."

ACTOR MAY TURN TO WRITING

Days In Jail Set Mitchum To Thinking Of New Career

LOS ANGELES, March 30. (AP)—Movie hero Robert Mitchum, who gets his freedom today after a 50-day trick in the county jail, has his eye on another career—writing.

The boby sox idol, about five pounds leaner than when he started his jail term on a conviction of conspiracy to possess marijuana, added, however, he has a few more pictures to make.

But he talked seriously of the writing idea in an interview shortly before his release. "I would like to exploit and express ideas of my own," he said. "I would like to go back to writing, if I had the time and the courage. He paused and added: "And I think I have the courage."

Feels No Bitterness

The 31-year-old Mitchum, looking tanned and fit from making cement blocks at the sheriff's honor farm, said he felt no bitterness about serving time. His immediate plans, he said, were for home, food, bath and maybe a drink or two.

Actress Lila Leeds, convicted with Mitchum, also completed her jail term of 50 days today. She told reporters: "I'm going to be a very good girl from now on."

Mitchum, Miss Leeds, dancer Vicki Evans and real estate agent Robin Ford were arrested last Aug. 31 when narcotics officers raided the secluded Canyon cottage of Miss Leeds. All but Miss Evans were convicted and sentenced to jail. Miss Evans was acquitted by a jury.

Mitchum said that he will first go back to work on the picture "The Big Steal" which was interrupted by his imprisonment, he said he will go to Mexico April 16 or 17 for ten days of shooting.

Visited By Boss

He said one of his bosses, Howard Hughes, visited him in jail and outlined some plans. One is for a picture this summer teaming him with Jane Russell. "Something sexy," explained Mitchum. He wants to develop a team something on the order of the Harlow-Gable combination."

As to a writing career, Mitchum explained: "I disagree with so much movie writing. I've been the subject of so much bad writing." He said he would like to write for pictures as he believes that is one of the best mediums of expression.

His mother, Mrs. Ann Morris, told probation officers that at one time her son "was considered to be the child prodigy of Bridgeport, Conn.," his hometown, because of essays and poetry he wrote as a boy.

The actor said the jail term didn't bother him and that his troubles couldn't compare with those of "other boys in jail who see their business or job going to pot and their family breaking up while they're in."

With that he stretched his tall frame and returned to a pinochle contest with "the boys."

NEW ATOMIC SITE — The Atomic Energy Commission announced it has chosen 400,000 acres near Pocatello, Ida., as the best site for its mammoth new atomic power reactor plant. Rites Set In Dallas For Lubbock Soldier

Graveside reburial services for Cpl. Wayne H. (Rusty) Johnston, former star Lubbock High school athlete who was killed in action during World War II, were to be conducted at 2 p. m. today in Dallas.

Rev. Harrison Baker, pastor of the Oak Cliff Methodist church, was to officiate at the services in Laurel Land Memorial Park cemetery. Assisting was to be Rev. Earl Johnston, of Calvary Baptist church, a cousin of the deceased.

Burial was to be under direction of Lamar and Smith Funeral home of Dallas.

Knife And Fork Club Hears About Mexico

Describing his travels in Mexico as "a light-hearted journey in a land of fiesta," Robert Friars, world traveler, last night took members of Lubbock Knife and Fork club on a "Holiday in Mexico" via motion picture.

The Knife and Fork club, which met for its monthly dinner meeting at 7:30 p. m. in Hotel Lubbock, prior to the showing of the technicolor movie which Friars and his wife made on Mexican jaunts, heard Friars comment on his world travels. Possibly the most amusing incident which he told was of his trip around the world, which came about as the result of joking $5 bet which he made with a friend at University of Michigan.

Started Tour With $82

Friars, who lacked only part of a semester before completing requirements for a degree, took the friend's bet, and departed within 48 hours on the round-the-world tour. He started his trip with only $82.

Running comment and explanation was made by Friars throughout the full-length movie.

Highlights of the picture included scenes taken at fabulous Acapulco; at Guadalajara, second largest city in Mexico; at Salino Cruz, now a ghost city, which at one time seemed destined to become Mexico's largest and foremost seaport until a sand bar closed the mouth of the harbor, and, of course, in and around Mexico City.

Volcano Is Shown

Most thrilling episode of the entire movie, however, was that of Paricutin, the volcano which literally rose from level ground into a peak of molten lava and flaming ash, covering villages and destroying verdant forests.

Friars' photography of Paricutin and it course of death, destruction, and desolation, was further enhanced by his "on the spot" descriptions of this modern wonder.

And while Friars' photography of places and things was impressive, his skillful interpretation, via the movie camera of the character, inherent beauty, and "flavor" of the Mexican people themselves lent credence to the subjectivity and authenticity of his production.

Veteran Awaits Death While Parents Try To Clear Record

DAVENPORT, Ia., March 30. (INS)—While Donald Walker, 34-year-old wounded veteran of World War two, awaits death from tuberculosis in Pine Knoll sanitarium in Davenport, his parents today were feverishly at work to wipe a dishonorable discharge from his Army record.

Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Walker, of Davenport, enlisted the assistance of Art Sunderbruch, Davenport American legion service officer, in their efforts.

Wounded On Christmas

They said Donald was wounded Christmas day, 1944, in Luxembourg where he had volunteered for front line duty with the medical corps. He suffered shrapnel wounds in the head.

He was hospitalized in France, later returned to an Army hospital in the United States, and then given a furlough to visit his parents.

Instead of going home, Donald reportedly went AWOL and cashed a no-funds check for $500 in St. Paul, Minn. When arrested in Omaha, Neb., he was considered a mental case and sent to a hospital.

Later he was found guilty on check charges at a court martial and sentenced to Fort Benjamin Harrison for a year.

Released From Army

He was released Nov. 5, 1946, with a dishonorable discharge and took up his civilian profession as a musician. In 1948, he learned he had tuberculosis and entered Pine Knoll sanitorium where diagnosis showed the disease was in an advanced stage.

"He came home to us late August to dies," his mother said. "He left his wife and two children in Florida."

The Walkers reported their son was in five major engagements and received the purple heart for his wounds, and the bronze star for bravery.

Mean Thief Steals Gift For Children

PADUCAH, Ky., March 30. (U.P.)—Paducah residents are wondering what a "mean" thief did with his loot.

Mrs. Jake Childers had saved Christmas cards for the last five years. She decided to put them to some good use.

She packed them carefully in a cardboard box which had held a man's suit, put them in her car, and intended to take them to the day nursery so the children might play with them.

But on the way she stopped at the drug store. When Mrs. Childers returned to the car, she found that someone, probably thinking the box contained a suit, had stolen it.

Boy Wanted As State Witness

PITTSBURGH, March 30. (U.P.)—District Attorney Clyde Fillmore of Wichita Falls, Tex., will seek court permission today to return a 14-year-old to testify as a state witness in the trial of his wealthy father for the slaying of his mother.

Ben Langford, jr., who was "spirited" away from his Wichita Falls home by relatives following the shooting last Jan. 3, now is living here with his paternal aunt, Mrs. George Harrigan.

Guardianship Sought

Fillmore, who came here with two local police officers, said he would ask common pleas court Judge Harry M. Rowland to name him temporary guardian so the boy could be returned for the trial, which opens April 4.

Ben Langford, sr., prominent in both Texas banking and oil circles, was accused of shooting his divorced wife, Lafon, 34, as she lay in her bed. At the time, the boy told police he slept through the slaying. He admitted hearing a revolver shot, but said he did not become alarmed because his father had fired through the ceiling a couple of times during the afternoon while cleaning the weapon.

Erection Of Jail At Lamesa Studied

LAMESA, March 30. (Special)—Lamesa and Dawson county wrong-doers may be confined in brand new quarters in the near future.

Members of the 106th District court grand jury for the March term inspected the county jail on the top floor of the courthouse this week and found it wanting.

The grand jury's report recommended that the jail be "cleaned up and painted immediately," and asked the county commissioners' court to "investigate the possibility of erecting a new county jail."

Country School Has Courses In Aviation

WEED PATCH, Cal., March 30. (U.P.)—A little country elementary school here is believed to be the only one of its kind in the country offering aviation courses.

The Sunset elementary public school uses a discarded C-46 Commando transport for a classroom. Along with other sections of the school's 1,550-foot dirt air trip are another C-46, two AT-6 advance trainers and a Fairchild primary trainer.

New Oil Field Discovered From Canyon Lime In Borden County

Seaboard Oil Company of Delaware and Pan-American Production Company have discovered a new oil field from the Canyon lime of the Pennsylvanian at their No. 1 T. J. Good, in Southwest Borden County, six miles northwest of the nearest production in the Vealmoor field of North-Central Howard County.

The oil was found in a drillstem test at 7,222-40 feet. The tool was open one hour and 40 minutes. A one-half inch bottom hole choke was used.

Gas showed at the surface in three minutes. Drilling mud started flowing out at the top in 38 minutes. Oil began flowing to tanks in 42 minutes.

It flowed for the remaining 58 minutes of the test at the rate of 22 barrels of oil per hour. No water developed. Operator is preparing to run casing, make production tests and try to complete the new discovery.

It is located 1,985 feet from south and 2,004 feet from west lines of section 37, block 33, TP survey, T-4-N.

The first oil in this new field opener was developed during a 70-minute drillstem test at 7,910-20 feet.

Gas showed at the surface in 19 minutes. Recovery was 450 feet of clean oil and 20 feet of oil and gas cut drilling mud. Open flowing bottom hole pressure during that test was zero. Shutin bottom hole pressure, after 15 minutes was 3,100 pounds. The zone at 7,920-40 feet, drilled extra soft.

Formation Tested

An unidentified sand and shale formation above the Canyon-Pennsylvanian was being drillstem tested at J. L. Collins, et al, No. 1 G. E. Parks, wildcat in North-Central Scurry County, eight miles north of Snyder and 1,980 feet from north, 330 feet from west lines of section 442, block 97, H&TC survey.

The strata was cored from 6,202 feet to 6,222 feet, recovering 11 feeet of sand with shale streaks, showing good oil prospects, and four feet of shale with sand streaks. The test now being taken is to the bottom of the core hole.

Commercial production from the Clear Fork, lower Permian, is apparent in South-Central Gaines County.

George P. Livermore, Inc., No. 1 Head, outpost to the recent Ellenburger discovery in that area to open the Flanagan field, drillstem tested the Clear Fork for two and one-half hours at 7,184-7,249 feet, showing gas in six minutes. Recovery was 4,069 feet of 38.5-gravity oil and 720 feet of heavily oil cut mud, estimated at from 40 to 60 per cent oil.

Minimum flowing pressure was 350 pounds. Maximum flowing pressure was 1,150 pounds. After 15 minutes, bottom hole pressure was 1,850 pounds.

Section Extremely Soft

It is 631 feet from north and 610 feet from west lines of section 12, block A-23, psl survey.

This Clear Fork pay recently flowed oil for Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1 Flanagan, also offsetting the Flanagan pool, 1,980 feet fro mnorth and 660 feet from west lines of section 9, block A-23, psl survey.

This venture was drilling ahead below 7,535 feet in lime.

The Ellenburger discovery of the field, Shell Oil Company, Inc., No. 1 Hawkins, recovered about 5,000 feet of free oil from the Clear Fork when drilling through, but no flow developed.

Lamesa Lions End Minstrels

LAMESA, March 30 (Special)—The local Lions club show, "Minstrels of 1949," Tuesday night closed a highly successful two-night stand in Lamesa High school auditorium.

Another capacity crowd of about 650 p rsons saw last night's performance. The Lions club netted an estimated $1,100, which will be used for club projects.

Lions officials said several hundred more tickets probably would have been sold had more seating space been available.

Crawley Director

Featured performers in the show were Dallas Whaley and R. B. Parkinson, of the Lubbock Lions club. Approximately 65 persons were in the cast. Richard Crawley was director, and Ernest Moody was associate director. Crawley also played a role in the show, and led the "Slumtown Symfunny," versatile 10-piece orchestra.

It was the second annual minstrels production of the local club. Tracy Campbell, club president, thanked all persons who helped make the show a success, particularly Lubbock Lions who helped in the event.

Sea Water Test For Irrigation Uses Reported In California

BY PAUL F. ELLIS
United Press Science Writer

EL CENTRO, Cal., March 30 (U.P.)—Secret government installations in the Imperial Valley are causing new reports here that attempts to convert the Salton Sea into a reservoir of fresh water may be made in the future.

The U. S. Atomic Energy Commission has denied that it intends to use the Salton Sea installations for any such purpose, but it has been suggested that if any large scale conversion of salt water to fresh ever is attempted, then atomic energy might be applied.

Salton Sea is about 40 miles long and 12 miles wide and is located some 35 miles north of El Centro at one of the lowest points in the United States. Its bottom is 273.5 feet below sea level, compared with 279.6 in Death Valley, lowest point in the country.

As of now, the sea serves as a drainage pond" for waters from the Imperial Valley irrigation district. In this valley, one of the richest in the world, there are 5,219 farms, which turn out about $96,000,000 in crops each year. The irrigation water now comes from the Colorado River.

Saltier Than Sea

Waetrs from the Salton Sea cannot be used for irrigation because they soon become salty—slightly more than sea water. However, the reports here say that the sea might be used as an "experiment sea," and if successful then sea water could be pumped the 45 miles from the Gulf of California and converted into fresh.

Such an unlimited supply of irrigation water not only would be a boon to the Imperial Valley, but to the entire west coast, including San Diego and Los Angeles, both of which obtain water from the Colorado River, some 300 or more miles away, it was pointed out. The technique, of course, could be used on the east coast as well.

The trick of turning salt water into fresh is not new. During the last war, special devices were issued to American service men to be used in emergency. For instance, the entire supply of cooking and drinking water for more than 30,000 Army and Navy personnel on Iwo Jima was produced by various types of distillation units.

The cost was about $5 a pint, which considering the emergency, was cheap enough Such a cost would be prohibitive for irrigation purposes, but the Imperial Valley farmers, if they ever were cut off from their Colorado River supply, might pay $5 or more a pint to keep their now fertile land from turning back to the desert it was years ago.

Refiners Meet In San Antonio

SAN ANTONIO, March 30 (AP) Col. Ernest O. Thompson, Texas railroad commissioner from Amarillo, described the oil picture for the remainder of 1949 at the noon session here of the convention of Western Petroleum Refiners association.

The Texas Railroad commission is the oil production regulatory body in Texas.

The refiners were expected to pass a resolution this afternoon opposing congressional bills which would divorce large oil companies and their subsidiaries.

One of the bills would prohibit major oil companies from operating or holding interest in pipe lines.

Rate Reduction Cited

Gordon C. Locke yesterday said pipeline companies are the only common carriers which have reduced rates in the last few years. Locke is general counsel and executive director of the newly formed committee for pipeline companies.

Locke said divorcement bills had been proposed "13 or 14 times" in the last few years, but none had ever been reported favorably by a congressional committee.

The four pending bills are now in committee or sub-committee.

The association elected new officers yesterday.

R. W. McDowell, executive vice-president of Mid-Continent Petroleum corporation, Tulsa, president. He succeeds H. T. Ashton, Midwest sales director of Socony-Vacuum, St. Louis.

Vice-presidents, F. L. Martin, Sunray Oil corporation, Tulsa; R. L. Tollett, Cosden Petroleum corporation, Big Spring; H. E. Zoller, Derby Oil company, Wichita Kas., and Roland V. Rodman, Anderson-Prichard Oil corporation, Oklahoma City. All are new except Tollett.

A belt of calm wnds north of the equator is called the "horse latitudes" because, many say, in the old days many sailing ships laden with horses ran short of water and were forced to throw the animals overboard.

Dissatisfaction Seen As Red North China Honeymoon Ends

By CLYDE FARNSWORTH
Special Correspondent

SHANGHAI, March 30.—The Communist honeymoon is over in North China—if there ever was one.

In Peiping, Tientsin, Shantung and elsewhere including rural areas where the Chinese Reds have started their "reforms," the situation is summarized in this way by travelers from those areas:

Commerce and trade have dwindled.

Wages in terms of what people can buy have been cut.

Taxes have been raised.

There are increasing signs of dissatisfaction among the people, including some who thought Communism would bring them everything they wanted.

First-Hand Accounts

Among those who have brought first-hand accounts of conditions in North China is James Ivy of Bisbee, Ariz., former regional director for the Economic Co-operation administration in Tientsin.

Mr. Ivy said thousands of coolies and other workmen engaged in port work in Tientsin had been thrown out of their jobs by the virtual cessation of shipping. Some 6000 of Tientsin's excellent police force which numbered 10,000 were dismissed by the Communists.

Tientsin manufacturing, dependent upon the free flow of raw materials and finished products, is virtually at a standstill—except for six "state-owned" cotton mills and four private ones. They're running on a two-year stockpile of domestic cotton and with 10,700 bales of confiscated ECA yarn as an additional reserve.

Now Limping Along

Some factories now limping along would like to close, Mr. Ivy said, but they can't afford the six months' severance pay for their workers which is now required by the Communist regime. Dismissal of the 6000 policemen without such severance pay wasn't considered a precedent for private employers.

Mr. Ivy told of a rug manufacturer who let out 400 workers last fall because the war had ruined his business. After Tientsin fell, these workers complained to the Communists who backed them up and insisted that the workers be put back on the payroll.

Their former employer—a foreigner—protested that he couldn't sell rugs now even if he could buy wool to make them—which he couldn't because he wasn't exporting his stuff and therefore couldn't get remittances from abroad.

Would Not Believe

The Commies wouldn't believe that. Why, they said, the Tientsin branch of the Chase bank was still open so why couldn't the rugmaker simply go there and ask for foreign remittances? He invited Red officials to go along with him and discuss the matter at the bank, but they declined.

Mr. Ivy said the Communists often sought the advice of former executives to help them out of their snafu, but generally they didn't like to accept the advice of non-Communists.

In southern Hopei province, where the Communists have had land ownership "equalized" for many months, the Reds have been collecting higher taxes in kind than the Nationalists ever got.

Up To Seven-Eighths

"Where the Nationalist might collect 50 per cent of the yield," Mr. Ivy said, "the Commies now are taking as much as seven-eighths."

The food supply continues plentiful in Tientsin, he said, but the basic diet is millet instead of flour.

Workers and students who seemed enthusiastic over the arrival of the Communists now have cooled off, Mr. Ivy said, and there is growing opposition among the population as a whole.

Mr. Ivy cited a slogan painted by night on walls in Tientsin. It said, "we know Chiang Kai-Shek is a very bad man but under him we got two bags of flour a month. We know Mao Tse-Tung (Communist leader) is a very good man, but under him we get only 16 pounds of millet a month, which isn't enough."

$21,695 Reported In Red Cross Drive

A total of $21,695.91 raised in the annual fund drive of the Lubbock county chapter of the Red Cross has been turned in to Red Cross headquarters, it was announced Tuesday afternoon.

The goal is $26,000 and officials are hopeful that goal will be reached when all workers have completed solicitation and turned in reports.

Women who canvassed the residential areas had a goal of $3,500 and have raised $3,300 and expect to go beyond their goal.

Two representatives of the Red Cross took clothing given by Lubbock residents to Desdemona last weekend, in answer to an appeal for aid. Those going were Ernest F. St. Clair, chapter chairman, and Dick Jackson, disaster chairman of the chapter, who studied some of the disaster problems so he might be prepared in event of disaster in Lubbock.

Purposeful Man May Be Thwarted By Fools

Crowd Marching On Palace To Greet King Turns Into Mob

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK.—It began at the carnival—in fun.

They marched and marched, and then somebody called, "where are we marching?" . . . And the emboldened clown replied:

Called Out Guards

He consulted his record in office and quickly called out the guards, and said to his proconsuls:

"Gents, this is it. The common man suspects the worst—which may or may not be true. Man the machine guns, but don't fire unless you feel I feel it is necessary."

"Halt!" said the first guard who didn't hear the crowd's cry, "God save our merry king!" On the glad group came.

"Why are we against the king?" He screamed rhetorically, and turned to the dazed men:

"What are we short of—food, beds or freedom?"

When the deed was done, and sorry doubt was turning the mob back into a group of people again, the stranger stepped forth and said:

"I am your king now—I accept your will and it shall be done."

"March!" said the new stranger king. 'Step . . . step . . . step . . . step . . . step . . .' and the people marched. The clown, just for fun started to go "step-and-a-half . . . step-and-a-half" . . . and they shot him down.

No Cocktail Parties; Wife Seeks Divorce

PITTSBURGH, March 30 (AP) — The wife of a Belgian diplomat asked for a divorce in common pleas court today because, she said, "he never wanted to go to any Washington cocktail parties."

She charged cruel and barbarous treatment. The action was filed by Mrs. Virginia A. T. Delzaert, American-born wife of Fernand J. P. Delzaert, assistant to the chief of the Belgian economic commission. Mrs. Delzaert now resides with her parents here.

Korea Finds Formula To End Guerrilla War

SEOUL, March 30 (AP) — One government's formula for ending guerrilla warfare:

That's what the new republic of Korea has done. And military observers said today—with fingers crossed—it appears to have pretty well stopped the trouble in South Korea and Cheju island.

"Locomotive Sunk," He Wasn't Kidding

WITTERSHAM, Eng., March 30 (AP)—"My locomotive has sunk."

That was the report sent by an engineer to the head men at the Kent and East Sussex railway, and he wasn't kidding.

Future Of Academy Awards Big Talk In Movie Capital; This Year's Ceremony May Be Last

HOLLYWOOD, March 30. (AP)—Big talk in the film capital today is: Will there be any more academy awards?

Jean Hersholt asserts that the New York offices of picture companies oppose the awards idea and that the Association of Motion Picture Producers will withdraw its support after this year. At the same time, Hersholt announced his retirement as president of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences, sponsor of the annual "Oscar" presenations. He added he won't remain on the academy board of governors.

"I don't think the academy will go out of existence," said Hersholt, who has served as its president four years. "But unless the studios take a more active interest . . . and agree to make financial contributions, the 1948 awards will be the last."

He declared that without the support of the Association of Motion Picture Producers, which Eric Johnston heads, "it will be difficult if not impossible for this program to proceed."

Hersholt said he was speaking in answer to an undercurrent of criticism heard in the industry after the awards ceremony last Thursday. And he declared:

"Voices in the industry say they don't want academy standards foisted upon us. They say 'we want to make commercial pictures unhampered by considerations of artistic excellence'."

The veteran actor said certain producers feel that "too much time and money are wasted trying to make pictures of academy award caliber." They think academy standards are too high.

No Lower Standards

Hersholt emphasized that the academy, in reality the cultural and educational branch of the industry, will not lower its standards. The coveted gold statuettes, presented for 21 years, are awarded for the highest achievements in the motion picture art.

Before this year, the presentation ceremony was an annual Hollywood spectacle with crowds up to 7,000 attending. This year, to cut the usual cost of the affair in half—to 50,000—it was held in the academy's own theater, which seats less than 1,000.

There was criticism in the film industry about holding the awards ceremony in so small a theater this year. The industry also was surprised that the academy should choose the British film "Hamlet" for its best picture award, the first time a foreign film has been so recognized.

Several major studios, including Columbia, Universal and Republic, did not even contribute this year, Hersholt said.

Not In Sympathy

B. B. Hakane, vice president of Columbia, declared his studio "has not been in sympathy with the manned in which the awards have been handled in the past few years." William Goetz, head of Universal, and Herbert Yates, president of Republic studio, had no comment.

Perry Lieber, RKO publicity director, said "either the academy gets the full support of the producers and exhibitors or there should be no academy."

Y. Frank Freeman, president of the Association of Motion Picture Producers, declined to enter into the controversy.

Upholding the awards, Hersholt declared the presentations make the world cognizant of "our finer aims and ambitions and our devotion to the cause of good pictures."

One species of solitary wasp will feed only on spiders; another requires a certain type of caterpillar, and others dine exclusively on beetles, grasshopers, ants, crickets or cockroaches, to name a few specialties.

AWAKENS AFTER 360 HOURS—Ronald McGilvray, Jr., three, lies in his Haverhill, Mass., hospital bed, fully conscious and able to speak, after ending a coma which lasted 360 hours. Still on the danger list, but reportedly on the road to recovery, the boy had lain unconscious since March 9 when his tricycle collided with a truck.

Ex-Stage Beauty In Mental Institution

LOS ANGELES, March 30 (AP)—Marion Elizabeth Watson, former Ziegfield follies beauty, is in a mental institution today.

Superior Judge William J. Byrne ordered her confined yesterday after a Santa Monica rest home physician reported she had slashed her wrists. Previously she had been treated three times for overdoses of sleeping tablets.

Mrs. Watson, a "Lady In Black" who annually visited the tomb of Rudolph Valentino, reportedly received in 1934 a $230,000 divorce settlement from Baron Rupprecht Von Boecklin. Later she was awarded $25,000 yearly in another divorce settlement from Dr. Blake H. Watson.

Testimony yesterday disclosed she was nearly broke.

TRAPPED IN FLAMES

EL PASO, March 30. (AP)—Flaming gasoline prevented rescue of Clay Lambeth who died while trapped by his overturned truck here.

Lambeth, 32, burned to death at a busy intersection yesterday. About 50 spectators were helpless to aid the screaming man.

Strapping Revived As Punishment For Youthful Offenders

TORONTO, Ont., March 30 (U.P.)—Strapping of prisoners, a form of punishment abolished or dying out in most countries, has been revived here. The intention is to combat a serious outbreak of gang violence.

In one day, seven youths were sentenced to prison terms ranging from two to five years plus 10 strokes of the strap each.

The strap was called into use as a last resort after teen-age gang battles, indecent assaults and robbery became almost a daily occurrence on the city's streets.

Since the war, youths in poorer sections of the city had been forming into gangs known by such names as the Beanery Boys, the Tips Gang, the Junction Boys and the Boon Avenue Boys.

These gangs, whose members wear some distinguishing article of dress, had developed a language of their own that accurately reflects their habits and behavior. If a gang member runs from a fight with a rival group he is a "chicken." If he "squeals" on a friend he is a "fink."

Publicity Welcomed

Newspapers have given prominent display to the activities of the gangs, and this notority was welcomed by the youthful hoodlums.

Social workers and psychologists agree on the fundamental reasons behind the formation of the gangs. They placed the blame on the breakdown of normal family life during the war and the restlessness of the post-war era.

The use of force has many supporters, while others interested in the city's youth favor more organized recreation for youths in poorer districts.

The Rev. Gordon Domm, pastor of a United Church of Canada parish in the city, has taken the lead in the drive for supervised recreation. He has allowed members of one gang to meet in his church hall. He encourages the gang to form baseball and hockey teams and to hold dances and other entertainments in the church hall.

Domm's word was welcomed by police and court officials, the same authorities who applauded the revival of strapping.

Police officers and judges, who meet juvenile delinquency daily, felt that both force and enlightened social work had their place in the solution of gang violence.

Increased opportunity for underprivileged youth to lead a useful life was vitally necessary, they said, but the strapping of serious offenders also would help in breaking up outlaw gangs.

Said J. W. Rodda, head of Britain's Union of Teachers: "I have learned to respect the farm laborer and I've heard more sound logic and common sense in the village pub than in the cocktail bar of the Grand Hotel."

CHECKS TRAINS IN ASCARTE—Lee Michael, Ascarte, Texas, chief of police, checks trains passing through the community to enforce the 20-mile-an-hour speed limit that went into effect March 20. The ordinance resulted from the deaths of two persons at Clark Road crossing, shown here.

GOOD NEWS FOR BRIDGE HOSTESS

Salted Nuts, Potato Chips Without Grease Developed

MEMPHIS, Tenn., March 30 (AP) —Science made a grand slam for the bridge hostess today.

In All Colors

Pectin contains both salt and oil but dries into a brittle coating. It gives the nut a slick, attractive surface. And it comes in all colors to match the hostess' finger nails or her eyes.

The new nuts were passed around by scientists of the bureau of chemistry, U. S. Department of Agriculture, who thought up the new lacquer idea.

They said they don't play bridge themselves, but their wives told them about the greasy card problem.

The job of these scientists is to think up new ways to make farm products more valuable. They reported on the nut idea at a meeting of the National Farm Chemurgic council, which is also interested in finding new uses for farm products — like the pectin from fruit.

The new greaseless nut is expected to be popular with persons who would munch more salted nuts if they didn't get their clothes and faces so greasy.

Potato Chips Greaseless

First, part of the moisture is removed from the potato. Then it is frozen. When it is sliced and cooked, it absorbs less grease.

This hits the jackpot in at least three ways:

1. With part of the moisture removed, the potatoes weigh less. Shipping charges are reduced.

2. The frozen potatoes keep much better than unfrozen. The quality will be as good in the spring as it is a few days after the fall harvest.

3. It takes less grease to make chips of these potatoes. The grease is a costly item in chip manufacture — so the manufacturer will save money.

Victim In Robbery Easily Recognized

ATLANTA, March 30. (AP)— The lights glared. Two men pointed to a nervous negro in the police line-up.

"That's the man," they said.

Detective Lieut. Glyn Cowan chuckled and led the two men, also negroes, off to jail where they were held in connection with a holdup. Then he he explained:

It was the usual lineup procedure in reverse. The holdup victim was put under the lights, and the pair held in connection with the robbery pointed him out.

Cowan said Taxi Driver D. M. Strickland was so nervous he couldn't pick out anyone in the line-up.

But Robert Heard and William Burch had no trouble in recognizing their victim. Both admitted the $7 holdup, the detective said.

College "Joyride" Imposition On People, SMU Head Claims

DALLAS, March 30. (AP) — Dr. Umphrey Lee, president of Southern Methodist university, believes "a four-year joyride" through college is an imposition on the public pocketbook.

Dr. Lee said nobody has an inherent right to college-for-fun "at the public's expense."

It would be foolish, he told the Dallas Technical club yesterday, "to spend indiscriminately, even in a good cause, and the amount may become prohibitive even in a rich country."

Makes Suggestions

He suggested three things for the public to keep in mind when considering government aid to education. They are:

1. "Institutions of higher learning should be supported only according to real needs. Universities and higher technical institutions should be provided for, but only for those who can and will use such funds.

2. "Junior colleges will supply the need of a large number of people and should be high in standards and open to all.

Should Be Encouraged

3. "Privately supported colleges and universities should be encouraged as a matter of public policy."

Dr. Lee told the club the report of the Hoover commission on government efficient offers a startling prospect of higher costs for education in the next few years.

on a new salary schedule proposed in a resolution of the teachers committee. Should the Gilmer Aikin proposal now in the Texas legislature become law, the salary schedule would automatically be subject to revision, it was pointed out. However, the board assured the teachers, salaries will not go below the present schedule.

The remainder of the meeting was routine, involving considerable discussion on such subjects as new school sites for the future, expense involved in repairing and remodeling parts of certain schools, and other business on which no definite action was taken.

Following is a list of the teachers and other school officials elected for the coming year and approved by the board at last night's meeting.

JUNGLE AIRLIFT—Facing a battery of news cameras, a stubborn elephant cautiously walks down the gangplank of a plane at New York's International Airport, after a 12,000-mile flight from Singapore and Siam. The modern Noah's Ark carried a cargo of 133 tropical animals destined for U. S. zoos. Only the six elephants aboard caused any trouble during the trip. They refused to leave the plane, withstood pushing and hauling, but finally were enticed out with peanuts.

Second Of Two Machines To Make Cosmic Rays Dedicated

BY HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Staff Writer

ROCHESTER, N. Y., March 30 —One of two machines in the world that produces man-made cosmic rays, the University of Rochester's giant cyclotron, was dedicated Tuesday.

It is a mass of steel weighing 1,100 tons. It is painted red except the two poles of the magnet, which are shining steel. The horizontal poles are round and their ends flat. Each is the size of a big dining room table. In the gap between them is space enough to sit on one pole without bumping your head on the other.

In this gap energies of 250,000,000 electronvolts are created. In the gap heavy particles of matter called protons swing 'round and 'round at velocities near the speed of light.

Mesons Undefined

The speeding particles are let fly, like stones from a sling, and when one of these particles hits a bit of solid matter it knocks loose a particle called a meson.

Exactly what a meson is scientists do not know. But both the 250,000,000-volt protons and the mesons are the same particles which rain down upon the earth from an unknown source in the sky and are called cosmic rays.

The mesons appear to be fragments of the energy which binds the cores or nuclei of atoms so tightly that the splitting makes atomic bombs and atomic power. These fragments seem to be bits of energy which momentarily and temporarily are changed into solid matter.

The world's other known mesonmaking machine is at the University of California. The Rochester machine was built with funds of the United States Atomic Energy commission, the office of Naval research and the university.

Others Are Honored

During the day, members of the student body and faculty members got into the spirit of the occasion by wearing western type clothes.

The "best dressed" students and teacher were named during the day. Winning the honors among the students were Joyce Moody, daughter of Mrs. M. C. Moody of 2424 Twenty-fourth; and Durston Gillean, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Gillean of 1517 Avenue F.

Taking honors in this department among the teachers was Mrs. R. A. Studhalter, biology teacher, who appeared in a bonnet and calico dress reminiscent of early days on the South Plains.

Eddalyne Cox was chairman of the contest committee. Special western prizes were awarded for the best song, the best poster, the best dressed boy, the best dressed girl, the best dressed faculty member.

Sale of tickets to the assembly program last night was in charge of a committee composed of Frances Roth, Mary Bell Perryman, Neal Friets, Norman Bantz, Martha Gillispie, Jim Laurence, Richard Allen, Donna Hall, Reg Martin and David Bullen.

Russia Shifts German Chief

MOSCOW, March 30. (AP)—Army Gen. Vassily I. Chuikov, war-time hero of Stalingrad and Lublin, became military governor of the Soviet zone of Germany today, succeeding Marshal Vassily D. Sokolovsky.

Sokolovsky was promoted to principal assistant to the new minister of Soviet armed forces, Marshal Alexander M. Vasilevsky. Chuikov's appointment also was a promotion.

Announcement of the changes, like others in the continuing shakeup of top level Soviet officials, gave no explanation of the reasons. The people were told of the shifts in a brief broadcast by the Moscow radio and a 59 word item published in the morning newspapers.

Both men are widely known to the Soviet people. Chuikov commanded the 62nd army division in the defense of Stalingrad from September, 1942, to February, 1943, receiving the high honor of order of Suvorov, first class.

New Title Given

He participated also in the captureof Lublin, Poland, from the Germans.

His new title is commander-in-chief of Soviet occupation troops and head of Soviet military administration in Germany.

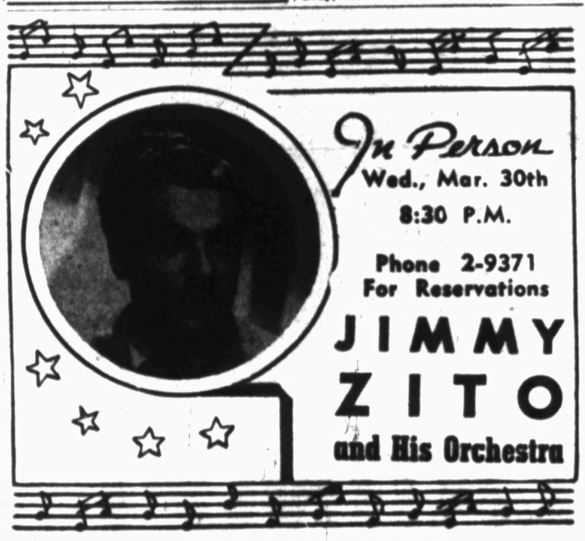

Sokolovsky also is a much-decorated war hero. He was honored for his exploits as commander of troops on the Soviet Russian front and his punishing campaign against the Germans. He became military governor in Germany in 1946, succeeding Marshal Georgi K. Zhukov.

Slaying Of Girl, Sex Orgies Shock Citizens Of Milwaukee Into Anti-Delinquency Drive

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The United Press has sent staff correspondent Robert Musel to Milwaukee to report on juvenile delinquency and what is being done to curb it. In the following dispatch he tells what church and civic leaders are doing to combat "lawless recklessness among teen-agers."

By ROBERT MUSEL
United Press Staff Writer

MILWAUKEE, March 30.—Milwaukee regarded itself as a quiet conservative city until the orgies in the sixth ward—sex and marijuana parties of white and negro teen-agers—shocked it into action against juvenile delinquency.

Now it knows that no city is safe from a postwar problem so widespread that juvenile authorities have been demanding that it be coordinated from Washington on a national scale.

For fresh in its headlines is the teen-age tragedy of Milton Babich, 19-year-old student who killed 16-year-old Patricia Birmingham to hide the fact that her sister, Kathleen, 17, was pregnant because of him.

Fight Is Planned

And strewn on its police records in the five months between these two unwelcome sensations are many other sex and drinking ofenses involving minors.

Although its record for all its notoriety is better than that of most American cities, Milwaukee knows that it faces a fight, one that must continue for years. And it is meeting it with traditional thoroughness.

Already the Catholic archdiocese has stepped out ahead of the rest of the country with unprecedented rules of behavior for the boys and girls who attend dances at its 15 high schools here.

The girls are forbidden to wear strapless gowns. The boys must not wear formal clothes. The dancers must leave by 11:30 p. m., after which the school accepts no further responsibility for their welfare. And parents are asked to stage house parties if the children wich to stay up later, rather than permit them to go to night clubs or find other amusements.

Churchman Saw Danger

Archbishop Moses Kiley saw the danger even before it smashed into the open last fall and the rules were already under discussion with parent groups.

"I don't believe anything like this has ever been done by any organized educational body in the United States," said Father Edmund Goebel, archdiocesan superintendent of schools.

"We don't want the boys to go into debt," said Father Goebel. "Sometimes that leads to troubel."

The Catholic program, which involved a recent conference of 7,500 youths, is proceding independently of, but in sympathy with the civic program under William F. Rasche, director of the vocation school and widely known practical educator.

Rache has formed a group called the youth commission which consists of five women and a teenage high school girl, and four men with a boy from the Catholic high school. Today he will take his advisers on juvenile affairs into a conference with law enforcement officials at which the selling og pistols to minors will be raised.

Cause Is Studied

"We wouldn't sell Milton Babich poison over a drug counter unless he was properly certified, so why did we sell him a gun?" Rasche said. "By the same token we don't distribute poisons to our children, yet on films and in some printed books we feed them the stuff that poisons minds."

A quiet powerful man, younger looking than his 61 years, Rasche views juvenile delinquency as a long range battle.

"It got this way over a long time," he said. "War lowered our moral standards. You can't bring large numbers of women into industry as we did, having them mix with the men in factories, without breaking up some homes. The unnatural life of the war period still lingers. That's the crux of the trouble."

Rasche's commission was formed after the disclosure of the mixed-race sex orgies.

"It's ironic," he said, "that the white girls involved should have met at a municipal social center, designed to prevent just that sort of thing. There was a good deal of racial feeling stirred up at the time but our committee on human relations did some excellent work in bringing the affair into proper perspective."

In Rasche's view these are among the causes of juvenile delinquency:

"Homes are not as stable as they used to be. Children do not feel as important to the family as, say, I used to. I held the oil lamp so my father could shave. I knew that if I didn't bring in the coal the house would be cold. Today you press a button and its all done. My mother and father were important to me, they didn't have any competition from outside. Today there's radio, and films and television—so many means of communication that this generation is learning too much too early.

Children's Court Slated

"Educating the parent is as big a job as educating the child. Juvenile delinquency starts in the cradle. Parents stay young longer than they used to and they don't have the old time patience. Children need affection. They need a feeling of security. They must have recognition for things they've accomplished. If they don't get it at home they'll look for it outside, perhaps by being the first to smoke a cigaret or take a drink."

Milwaukee gets its first full-time children's court judge at next Tuesday's municipal elections as the result of agitation by a member of Rasche's commission. The group also is working for legislation against sale of policy lottery numbers to children, for clarification of the law against minors entering bars, for a bill making parents liable for damage caused by minors, for social centers attractive enough to compete with the chromium magnetism of commercial facilities.

The United States is the leading oil-producing center in the world, with the Caribbean second and the Middle East third.

Collegiate Poll On Radio Shows Taken

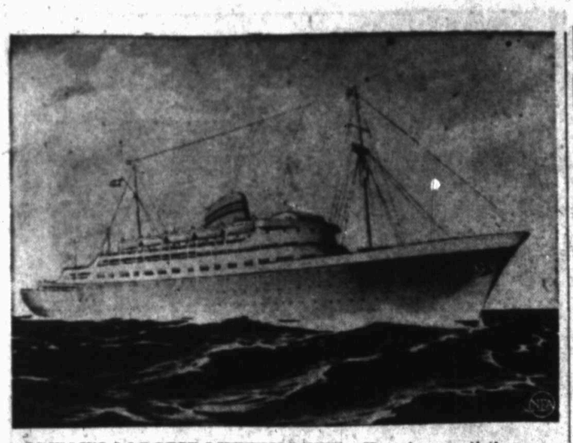

RENSSELAER, Ind., March 30 (INS)—The radio acceptance poll of college students gave a benign pat today to comedy broadcasts and turned to criticism of crime melodramas and children's programs.

An announcement from the poll headquarters at St. Joseph college, Bensselaer, cited radio comedy for its "improved good taste and all around family acceptability" on the basis of a poll of 15 weeks.

Eight other programs were termed "acceptable." They are Fred Allen, Eddie Cantor, Red Skelton, Burns and Allen, Phil Harris, Bob Hope, Charlie McCarthy and Duffy's tavern.

NORWAY'S LARGEST LUXURY LINER—Here is an artist's conception of the new 16,500-ton motor ship Oslofjord, Norway's newest luxury liner. Half-Way Mark In Long Flight Nears

MIAMI, Fla., March 30. (AP)—A pair of California pilots hope to reach the half-way mark in their goal to crack the world's endurance record at 5:44 p. m. (EST) today.

Bill Barris and Dick Riedell, both of Fullerton, Calif., have spent two weeks aloft in their Aeronica "Sunkist Lady" in the attempt to better the 726-hour endurance record set by two other Californians — Wes Carroll and Clyde Schleiper—in 1939.

Despite the crammed quarters, strict diet and constant drone of the single engine, both said they were feeling fine.

"I don't know how long we'll fly—we do know we'll stay up more than 30 days and six hours. That's the record.

"After refueling, we usually head for the ocean and fly up and down the coastline We've taken in the races a couple of times—from the air that is—at Gulfstream park. We see the dog tracks at night and watch the people swimming."

At 5:44 p. m. (EST) they will have logged 363 continuous hours. It is planned to end the test where it started—in Fullerton, Calif.

Kansan Keeps Busy Counting His Sheep

George, a stockman at nearby Thayer, reported one of his five-year-old ewes gave birth to six lambs.

In Kansas City, Glen Thomas, a livestock commissionman, said he had never heard of as many as six lambs in one birth. He said the usual number was one or two, with three, occasionally.

Payment For Candy Lands Boy In Jail

DILLON, S. C., March 30. (AP)—An eight-year-old negro boy is in jail today because he tried to buy a nickle's worth of candy.

But instead of paying cash for it, he offered a store clerk a check.

Officers who held him without charge pending a hearing said the lad told this story:

On his way to school yesterday, he found a post office box key. Going to the post office, he opened a box with the key and found a letter. The letter contained a check.

The check, payable to a Dillon auto sales firm, was for 1,145.

By EMMETT WALKER
Houston Chronicle Editor

THERE IS a growing number of people including educators, who think we may have been sugar-coating the educational pill too generously.

Somehow a theory developed in the schools that making learning like play would get the best results. So the schools of this country and England went overboard for the "play way" system.

This has been going on for quite some time now, and there is little evidence discernible by the laymen of any improvement. There appears to be some evidence to the contrary.

Dr. Alston H. Chase of Phillips Academy, Andover, Mass., in an address at a teachers conference, said that while in an army hospital during the war he was told by surgeons that the men least able to bear the pain, the shock and the horror of war were the boys from "progressive schools, who had never been made to face a harsh reality."

HE SAID that the belief that all learning must be pleasant came from "that damnable heresiarch, Jean Jacques Rousseau." But, Chase said, the process of learning is, or should be, a discipline, and no discipline is invariably pleasant.

He added: "The Greeks had a saying that the fair things in life are hard. We cannot develop the mind without effort, without a stretching of the mental muscles. . . . Strength, be it physical, mental, or moral, is gained only through effort and conflict, both of them often painful."

It was not only during the war that the results of the fallacy of making everything play was displayed. It shows now in the attitude of too many young men and women toward life.

There is a tendency to shun hard work, shown in greater degree today than before within the memory of the living. Robust young men applying for work are reluctant to accept a job involving manual labor or discomforts.

Helena Page, teacher in a girls school in Exeter, Devon, England, was quoted in the March number of the Texas State Teachers Association: "I certainly believe that we are now reaping in poor results the fruits of the 'play way' method that has been popular so long.

"I also think that we may be to blame for the prevailing attitude among workers everywhere—this continual demand for more money and shorter hours."

IT IS a flat failure in the preparation of a child for life when he is led to think that studying and other work must be always pleasant; that he must be relieved of responsibility, and protected from harsh things.

Such a child is wholly unprepared for independent existence. He is utterly flabbergasted when he comes out of school and finds the world contains no provision for his continued coddling.

Knowing no other place to turn, he is likely to demand that the government, through one of its agencies, take care of him. And, oftener than not, there is some agency that will at least give him some forms to fill out.

Every school student will find some studying unpleasant work. Some subjects will not appeal to him. But it is good for him to study them anyway.

IT IS good training for the young to do things that are not just fun. Life is compounded of many things, not all of them enjoyable. Some of the least pleasant tasks are most necessary. So we have to learn to do them, fun or no fun.

There is encouragement in the fact that educators are discussing this phase of modern education. Out of the discussions should come a new appraisement of the old idea that schools are operated to prepare youth for maturity.

SEVERAL new laws intended to reduce the divorce evil have been proposed at the present session of the Texas Legislature.

There must be regulations governing the marriage contract and the granting of divorces. But successful marriages will never depend on legislation. Unless the parties to marriage have character and self-discipline, there will be no following of rules.

The forming of character in youth is the joint responsibility of the family, the church and the school. Legislators are trying to enact laws as a cure for a disease that already has worked its harm.

There has been a great deal of criticism in recent years of the decline of family life, the dwindling influence of the church, and the substitution of crackpot theories for proven methods in education.

Family, church and school are so inseparably interwoven in our lives that it is impossible to divide the responsibility and fix blame with an exactitude.

It seems unquestionable that there are more families without proper parental guidance for the children; that more and mose children are growing up entirely outside of the influence of any church, and that the schools are turning out more graduates unprepared to acknowledge the duties of maturity.

The start should be made in the home. Some way must be found to impress young people with the seriousness of the marriage contract. It might help if parents made sure their teen-age children understood the language of the marriage service.

SUCH meaningful phrases as "for better or for worse" and "until death do us part" have been quoted so often that the meaning has been lost for many youngsters. It is something said glibly and without real understanding.

But those are part of the terms of the most sacred agreement humans may enter into. They are simple words, easily within the comprehension of anyone capable of entering into a contract.

The trouble is not that so many contracting parties do not understand the service. They just give no thought to its meaning. They apply for a marriage license as casually as they would for a building permit, and utter the marriage vows with no more solemnity than they would feel in answering the question of a census taker.

These people who regard marriage vows so lightly have not been properly instructed in the home. They either do not attend church, or attend without benefit.

And the schools, particularly the colleges and universities, cannot escape their share of the blame. The divorce rate is high among the graduates of the institutions of higher learning, and the number of divorces and the number of college graduates have risen together.

IT TAKES more than intelligence and education to make a success of marriage. It takes character and understanding and a determination to make a go of it.

These are not things that are inherited. Character must be molded carefully, with wisdom. Understanding and determination are things learned, if at all, under the guidance of someone who himself possesses them.

The passage of the marriage and divorce bills under consideration at Austin likely would do no harm. Neither would they do much good. The real need is for spiritual and moral enlightenment of those contemplating marriage.

BY DREW PEARSON: DEMO MAJORITY LEADER SPANKS RABBLE-ROUSING JOHN RANKIN

House Veterans Committee Revolts Against Rankin

WASHINGTON.—Top American scientists held a private meeting with Secretary of Defense Forrestal shortly before he left office to urge that he publish the full facts regarding the Bikini bomb test—so far withheld from the public.

PEARSON

The scientists included Dr. Harold Urey of the University of Chicago, one of the originators of the A-bomb; Dr. Karl Compton, president of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology; Dr. David Bradley, author of "No Place to Hide"; and W. T. Holliday, president of Standard Oil of Ohio.

Forrestal listened sympathetically, told the scientists that the final Bikini report was on President Truman's desk waiting for him to decide whether it should be published.

This left the matter entirely up to Truman. So after the Forrestal meeting was over, the scientists conferred among themselves as to what they should do about the President.

"It would be most unwise for us to bring any pressure on him," urged Dr. Compton of M.I.T. "because if you push him, he will just get angry and spiteful and will sit on the report until doomsday."

Regretfully, the other scientists agreed that this was right. Any pressure on Truman to publish the Bikini report would probably make him stubborn, they decided, so they did nothing. Meanwhile, facts which Russian scientists already know about the way the A-bomb makes warships almost a thing of the past, remain a secret from the American people.

Note — Congressional leaders make a similar complaint about Truman. The best way to keep a man in office, they have found, is to show him up as inefficient, following which a perpetual job with Truman is almost guaranteed.

Real-Estate Lobby Again

Big realty operators, fearful of a boost in property taxes, as well as state income taxes, think they can head this off with a sales tax on consumers.

The House recently rejected a sales tax for the district by a vote of 178 to 166. However, Congressman Smith and his cohorts are keeping at it.

SPEAKER Sam Rayburn may have to settle a wide-open revolt in the House veterans affairs committee against the dictatorial capers of Chairman John Rankin of Mississippi. Committee colleagues, led by Reps. Walter Huber of Ohio and Harold Patten of Arizona, are having a showdown with Rankin this week that he must start living up to House rules in the conduct of veterans committee meetings.

Hostility against the Mississippi congressman has been at fever pitch since seven committee members angrily walked out of a meeting on Feb. 15, after Rankin railroaded his veterans pensions bill through the committee without even permitting debate.

Democratic and Republican members also are furious at him for refusing to call another meeting since the February 15 walkout. Urgent legislation is piling up in the committee, including bills to equalize pensions for World War I and II widows and orphans and to adjust disabled veterans benefits to higher living costs. But Rankin has refused to call a committee meeting for a solid month and a half.

A lot of collaborationists once chummy with Japs and Nazis are quietly easing back into power. Yet the State department, in whose hands rests the responsibility for keeping the peace, doesn't even seem to know it.

In Washington, for instance, the No. 2 man in the Philippine embassy is Emilio Abello, "minister plenipotentiary of the republic of the Philippines." The State department is supposed to know all about him. That is part of his business.

However, when Richard R. Ely, chief of the State department's division of Philippine affairs, was asked whether Minister Abello had ever been a Jap collaborationist, he answered no.

"If Abello had ever been in prison or anything like that," replied Ely, "we would know about it."

Abello himself was somewhat more frank—after being faced with the evidence. He admitted that he had been jailed for four months by General McArthur as a collaborationist, but was released when the jails were taken over by the Filipinos. He further admitted that he had been secretary to Jose Laurel, the infamous puppet ruler, put in power by the Japs.

Abello was also given an opportunity to read a U. S. Army counter-intelligence report which described him as "untrustworthy and willing collaborationist" whose "influence and responsibilities have increased under the Jap regime. Should have info on Japs' methods of political and military control of captured territory and knowledge of Jap army."

"It is recommended," said the Army report, five months later (September 1945) "that subject's internment be continued."

"All they had on me was general statements. They never were able to prove anything except that I was Laurel's secretary. There were two classes of what you call collaborationists — those who aided the Japs and those who just worked for the puppet government."

Since arriving in the U.S.A., however, Abello has been making speeches telling how "we" put up a heroic defense against the Japs, and has been urging American investments in the Philippines. Speaking before the export managers club of New York last winter, he said:

"The devastation in our country, the wrecked condition of our national economy are due to our heroic defense of your interests as well as ours and because we stood in the way of the vandals who stalked the world to destroy the United States."

"Give Me Land, Lots Of Land - - -"

BY RUTH MILLETT: TO THE LADIES

The Feminine Viewpoint

"WHAT can a housewife do to gain a feeling that she is more than just a housewife?" a reader asks me.

That is a question that keeps so many housewives unhappily searingin for and answer they never seem to find.

But actually why sould a housewife feel called upon to justify her existence beyond doing her job as well and as happily as possible?

MILLETT

After all, women with other careers don't worry about being "just a lawyer," or "just a secretary," or just a nurse." They figure that if they do their job well they have a right to be proud of it and of themselves. They don't seem to feel that concentrating hard on one job and spending most of their time at it makes them dull or is personally frustrating.

So why should the housewife get it into her head that she needs to be "more than a housewife.?" If she is making a happy home for her family she is doing a job that any woman has a right to be proud of.

• • •

SELF-IMPROVEMENT

A HOMEMAKER has all the opportunity in the world for mental growth. In fact, unless she keeps right on learning through the years, she can't even keep up with her job. She has to keep up with her husband and ahead of her children.

It isn't enough for a housewife to make a good home today. She has to keep looking to the future, for today's toddler is tomorrow's teenager. And she wants to be sure the traits of character she is trying to encourage in her child are traits that will serve him well as an adolescent and as an adult. What challenge could be more stimulating mentally to a woman than that?

So why don't we quit using that phrase "just a housewife"—even in our thinking? The housewife who makes the most of her job has no business calling herself "just a housewife"—or feeling like "just a housewife," either.

"Try And Stop Me"

JACK DEMPSEY, the Manassa Mauler, was reminiscing about his early days in the boxing game. "In one of my first professional fights," he recalled, "I was up against a tough old bird who knew all the tricks. I finally kayoed him in the eighth round, but until I fathomed his style, the going was pretty rugged.

"In the first round, fists seemed to be hitting me from all directions. I must have looked a bit discouraged when the bell sounded, because I can remember my manager whispering urgently in my ear, "There's absolutely nothing to worry about, Jack. All this bird has got is a good left and right."

"I wouldn't give it a thought—it's personality and brains that count these days."

BY ROBERT C. RUARK

Woody And Plumes Needed To Shower Featherbed Congress

NEW YORK, March 30.—It's about time, seems to me, for a reappearance of old Woody Hockaday in Washington, with his hands full of feather and his head full of scorn. The 81st Congress — the feathered Congress of these techy times—deserves Mr. Hockaday's best efforts.

RUARK

You may not remember Woody. He was around in 1936. He expressed his displeasure at the bumbling of the world by suddenly appearing at scenes of state and showering same with feathers. As a gesture of his annoyance at approaching war, he once bobbed up half-naked in the office of Harry Woodring, and pelted the war secretary with 40 pounds of plumes.

He staged a one-man moult for the benefit of Wall St., shouting his peace cry of feathers instead of bullets. He crashed an American Legion shindig in Baltimore. He danced among the banquet dishes, and fired his feather into the melting ice cream, until somebody slugged him with a chair.

• • •

Scatters Feathers

Woody scattered his feathers over representative and senator, indiscriminately, and he once sent Labor Secretary Fanny Perkins a stuffed chicken. They always popped old Woody into the psycho wards, but sometimes I get to wondering if he wasn't as sane as the people he serenaded. There is no adequate reprisal against a room full of feathers, nor an answer to the fine scorn for their targets.

As an observer of the activities of Mr. Truman's world-savers in Washington, I would nominate them permanently as the featherbed Congress, and maybe even recommend a little tar to go along with the feathers. A finer collection of procrastinators, issue-dodgers and gutless wonders never collected under one roof.

• • •

SINCE THE featherbed Congress convened, with the nation and the world hanging onto its action, they seem to have performed no noteworthy service beyond the filibuster frivolities and the monstrous veterans' pension bill, both about as vital to the moment as a bill to stabilize female hairdos. Except, of course, for the shameless waste of money involved.

Surely no greater congregation of political and moral cowards ever drew mileage in Washington. The teller vote on the ridiculous Rankin's ridiculous boondoggle—wherein the voters were allowed anonymity—proved it. Broadly against the bill when their names were not recorded, they were as broadly for it when they voted for the record.

It took the dramatic floor fights of veterans to maim the bill and send it back to committee, and even then it was halted by the hairline majority of 208 to 207. Then, before it had ceased uncrinkling its creases in the pigeonhole, up pops Rankin with another veterans' vote-bribe bill, to occupy more valuable time—and very possibly pass.

• • •

Mossbacks Favor Bill

Only the mossbacks in the major vets organization— the legatees of World War I in the American Legion—still favor a mass pension for the alumni of the recent conflicts. But chicken-hearted Congress, deathly fearful of its votes back home, will keep on kicking the thing around while Rome burns, Harry fumes, and nothing of major importance gets done.

It would be hard to compute the national disgust at the fiddling and faddling of the 81st Congress, which was supposed to lead us out of the wilderness, but it must be enormous at the moment. By comparison, the 80th Congress, which Truman scornfully used as a whipping-boy to reelection, comes up smelling like a rose.

I would love to see old Woody show up now with a bushel-basket full of feathers. Or failing that, to enforce a suggestion made while these political WPA-workers were engrossed in their filibuster fight. Namely, pay 'em piecework for so much solid legislation enacted, but let them practice their politickin' on their own time.

Today's Thought

STILL IN THE FAMILY

DETROIT (U.P.)—Marguerite Miller won the primary election for clerk of Shelby Township on the Democratic ticket, while her father, Frank, led the vote for the same post on the Republican slate.

Marguerite was disqualified, however, because she lacked two months of being the legal age or 21.

Today's Journal Editorial

WHERE NEGLIGENCE COSTS MONEY

Automobile thefts have been on the increase in the Lubbock area and throughout the country recently. Authorities expect this crime problem will get worse before it begins to improve.

Easy money isn't as plentiful as it was for a good many years, increasing the temptation to steal among the criminally inclined. And the market is reported unusually satisfactory for cars "priced right" by purchasers not overly curious as to prior ownership.

Authorities do not pretend to know any sure preventive for car stealing. But they say most of them would not occur if owners would take the simple precautions of removing switch keys and locking the doors of parked cars. Those who have been negligent about such things during recent years will be wise if they become more careful. They will reduce by at least half—and some authorities say 90 per cent—the risk of finding themselves suddenly afoot.

MURDER RAP, PAOLE VIOLATION FACE SUSPECT

Cultured Crook Who Made His Bank-Robbing Rounds In Fancy Yacht Nabbed In Phoenix

By ANDREW TULLY
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON, March 30 — The cops sure came up with a character when they nabbed that public enemy named Lloyd E. Sampsell, sr., in Phoenix, Ariz., the other day. He's the guy who used to make his bank-robbing rounds in a fancy yacht.

The main thing police want to talk to Sampsell about is a killing during a San Diego bank robbery last year. But even if he beats that rap, he still faces sundry other charges like bank robbing and parole violation, which means at least he'll be out of circulation for a long time.

And that's going to be tough on a gent who feels suffocated unless he's inhaling sea breezes.

Has Long Record

The 48-year-old Sampsell has a record that goes back to 1916 and includes a life sentence for robbery. He created a sensation back in 1943 when it was discovered he was going AWOL from a prison road gang to spend weekends with a San Francisco cutie. Also, he's made quite a reputation as one of those cultured crooks, full of philosophic bends and stuff. But to the Pacific coast he'll always be the yacht bandit, a picturesque character who did his thieving from the lap of luxury.

The yacht bandit, even then an escaped forger, operated in the '20's from Los Angeles to Vancouve. A nut on navigation, he belonged to a lot of classy yacht clubs, where he was a devil with the ladies, and he preferred to give his parties on shipboard because he couldn't stand land air.

During working hours, Sampsell would moor his yacht in a harbor which had a lot of banks to choose from. Then he'd sally forth, relieve some institution of folding money, and return to his yacht for a party with his cultured friends. Champaigne always flowed at these parties, but Sampsell kept the talk on a strictly intellectual plane. No rough stuff, like kissing games.

Wangled Parole

The gendarmes finally caught up with Sampsell in April, 1923, and he got a life sentence in California on robbery charges. That seemed to settle that.

But everybody forgot about Sampsell's winning ways. He tried 'em on the parole board and, sure enough, he got out in August, 1927, after having served only four years of the life rap. Two years later he was back in again, for having violated his parole.

Sampsell stayed in stir a little longer this time. He spent most of his day studying navigation and teaching other prisoners to spell cat, but even so he got bored. What he needed was diversion, and he saw his chance in 1942 when he read an advertisement in a San Francisco paper from a gal who wanted to meet a "slender, presentable, distinctly amusing, truly sophisticated gentleman."

That, obviously, was Sampsell. Before you could say parole board twice, he and the babe were having quite little weekend trysts in her San Francisco apartment. It took the authorities a year to find out what was going on and when they did, Sampsell was transferred indoors and the warden outdoor.

Hard To Resist

Those parole boards just could not resist Sampsell, though. By September, 1947, he was free again and "going straight" in a Los Angeles print shop. That is, until he suddenly disappeared.

Then on March 27, 1948, two men held up the Seaboard finance of San Diego and killed a man making their escape. One of the men sounded like Sampsell, but even when the police caught up with his partner, they couldn't get a line on the old yacht bandit.

After waiting almost a year, the cops finally got their break. Last Thursday a man who looked like Sampsell held up a Los Angeles bank and escaped with $8700. Two hours later, the man was reported to have boarded an airliner bound for Kansas City. Local police and FBI agents caught up with Sampsell at the Photenix airport. He had $7800 in a briefcast.

Sampsell still has that 1923 life term to serve, besides facing a murder rap in the San Diego case. The cops' only problem now is how to keep him away from parole boards.

The American Chemical Society has more than 58,000 members.

'... IT WAS FOUNDED UPON A ROCK'—Once used to save German lives, this former air raid shelter in Dusseldorf is now being used to save German souls. It has become a Catholic church. Guiding force behind the unique church is Dr. Karl Klinkhammer (inset), who gained the name of "Ruhr Priest" for his good work in the Ruhr coal area. He supervised engineers who blasted through the six-foot thick, reinforced concrete walls with explosives and burned out the steel with acetylene torches to make windows.

Few Bright Young Actors Getting Breaks In Hollywood But Youthful Actresses Progress

By BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, March 30—Mid-week medley: Highlights and sidelights on the Hollywood news.

For some time I've been noting that Hollywood's stars are getting older, with few youngsters being developed to replace them. Young people, who represent the majority of the movie audience, have had to wach 30, 40 and 50-year-old film heroes and heroines.

It's not that those ages are less interesting. Few become good actors until they pass the 30 mark. But youth deserves a break, too.

Progress Being Made

Progress is being made in this department. Not so much in the male division. One of the few bright young actor prospects is 28-year-old Montgomery Clift.

The female list is more impressive. Among the virtual cinches for stardom are Elizabeth Taylor, 17; Wanda Hendrix, 20; Shelley Winters, 26; Marta Toren, 23; Ava Gardner, 25; Ann Blyth, 20; Rhonda Fleming, 25; and Coleen Gray, 22.

Hughes Tough Guy

Howard Hughes, like many Texans, is a tough guy to tangle with. His feud with United Artists started when he was releasing his "The Outlaw" through the company. He had to agree to a lot of deals to take the picture with him when he bought RKO.

Lately Hughes has forced UA to change the ending of its big money maker, "Red River," when he claimed similarity to a sequence in "The Outlaw."

Now he's trying to old up UA's "Champion" because of alleged likenesses to his "The Set-Up." UA probably wishes HH would go back to his fight with Senator Brewster.

Tickets Too High

So far none has done so, but if any movie bigwig asked me what was wrong with theater business I'd say: admission prices.

The most movie complaints I get from readers are about theater ticket costs. They claim that theaters have priced themselves into the luxury class. The two-bit and 40-cent film houses are getting as scarce as nickel beer in most parts.

Take a look at Texas, where admissions have been kept at a low scale. That has helped make Texas the most avid movie state, as evidenced by "The Green Promise" premiere in Houston.

Prejudice Victim

John Lund is a victim of film producers' prejudice against blond actors. They claim few blond men become stars. Willing to do but no dye for old Paramount, he said he'd take a fast train back to New York if they tried to alter his locks.

Lund cited light-topped Alan Ladd, Van Johnson, Danny Kaye, Sonny Tufts and argues the proportion of blond male stars is greater than that of blond males in the U. S.

The bosses stood firm. In "Perils of Pauline" he was subjected to hair rinses that made him look a different shade in every scene. For "My Friend Irma" he just slaps some hair goo on. It makes him look dark anyhow.
