SHANGHAI, Feb. 19. —(Friday)— China piled up her troops, guns and ammunition today in adamant defiance of a Japanese threat to drive the Chinese soldiery from Shanghai with all the power at Japan's command.

While valuable hours rapidly slipped away before the Japanese unloosed their strength of arms, the Chinese gave no indication of running before the ultimatum.

Soldiers Determined

Although the Chinese government had not yet decided on its reply to the ultimatum that its forces be withdrawn from the Shanghai battlefront by sundown Saturday, its soldiers seemed determined to face the Japanese onslaught almost certainly destined to begin some time after 5 p. m. tomorrow.

China's nineteenth route army dug deeper into its positions about Shanghai and away toward Woosung, massing reserve troops, strengthening defenses and rolling up ordinance of all available kinds.

Japs All Set

Inspection of the Japanese positions indicated that the thousands of soldiers who poured into Shanghai over the last week-end were all set for whatever action their high command might decide.

It was estimated 14,000 Japanese soldiers occupied a long line stretching from the northern borders of the international settlement to Woosung, site of Chinese forts 16 miles away. Others were held in reserve.

"The Chinese apparently intend to remain where they are," a Japanese officer at headquarters said.

Demands Intolerable

The Chinese government temporarily located at Honan-Fu received the demands and indicated it had HOMESTEAD, Fla., Feb. 18. (AP)—Quick thinking by a girl postal clerk was credited today by police for the capture of A. C. McRae, wanted on charges of burglary in Texas and in Mississippi for passing stolen money orders.

Lucille Rogers, a clerk, saw McRae last night when he asked for mail at the general delivery window. She recalled seeing his pictures on a poster offering a reward for his arrest.

She pretended to search through mail packages for letters, she said today. "Just wait a minute," she told him. "I remember a package in the rear of the building." While McRae waited, Miss Rogers left the postoffice by the rear door and called police.

Schwab Holds Confidence In U. S. Recovery

Emperor Of Steel And Doctor Of Optimism Declares That He Holds Nothing But Belief In Future

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—Charles M. Schwab, emperor of steel and doctor of optimism, scratched No. 70 from his list of birthdays today and let it be known he wasn't through yet.

Furthermore this happy and hearty chairman of Bethlehem Steel corporation vigorously asserted his belief that America wasn't through, either. He wouldn't say prosperity was only a block or two away, nor would he attempt to predict the probable duration of depression.

Sees Only Prosperity

"I can't," he told reporters, "see anything but ultimate prosperity and success for this country. I've always been an optimist. You know that. Why, we've spent money like water in this corporation because we believe in America. We may have a long period of depression, but I know that the normal level of consumption is going to be well above what it is today. Perhaps this trouble may teach us lessons which will be for the ultimate good of us all.

"Sentiment is better — there's no question about that—but we in this business have not seen a material reflection of it in demand."

Mr. Schwab announced he had retired from all except three of his directorates. He is retaining membership on the boards of Chase National bank, the Metropolitan Life Insurance company and, of course, Bethlehem steel.

"I'll never retire from Bethlehem steel unless they kick me out," he chuckled. "I'll still be around here for a long time."

Jimmy Rodgers Loses In His Suit Involving A Daughter

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 18. (AP)—Judgment of $2,600 against Jimmy "Cowboy" Rodgers, radio entertainer, for maintenance of his 14-year-old daughter, Katherine, was awarded Mrs. Stella Harkins, his former wife, today by Edgar S. Vaught, United States district judge. In her suit Mrs. Harkins asked for $5,000 as past maintenance expenses for the daughter, and $250 monthly for the child's future support, until she is 18 years old. She alleged Rodgers abandoned her shortly after they were married in 1917.

The singer testified he did not learn he had a child until two years ago. He denied he was making an enormous salary.

Murray Is Acclaimed As Next President Of U.S.

Address Indicates Oklahoman Is Planning To Make Race; Would Represent People

(By The Associated Press)

COLLINSVILLE, Feb. 18.—This town, where Governor William Henry Murray of Oklahoma was born, hailed him today at a homecoming celebration as "the next president of the United States."

His address explaining his political credo left the impression it was the platform on which he would seek the Democratic presidential nomination.

Announcement Expected

Friends close to the Sooner state executive predicted that he would formally announce his candidacy next Sunday, after the Oklahoma state convention on Saturday. "If the Oklahoma state convention makes me chairman of its delegation to the Democratic national convention," he declared, "I'll write a plank in the party platform, even if I have to bring out a minority report, that will represent the real will of the people and scuttle the ship of any Wall street candidate who asks for the party nomination."

Colonel William E. Easterwood of Dallas introduced the governor as "Alfalfa Bill Murray—the next president of the United States." R. B. Hood of Weatherford, candidate for congressman at large, told of boyhood days at Springtown, Tex., when he and Murray were schoolmates.

Crowd Stands In Rain

"Barto Hood is asking you to send him to congress," Murray remarked as he began his address. "If I go to Washington, I certainly would like to have him there."

The Oklahoma governor spoke to a crowd which stood in a drizzling rain about the square of this hamlet, where Murray was born 62 years ago, in a log cabin near "Toad Suck" schoolhouse. Dalph Huffaker, Collinsville editor, presided. Mayor J. P. Ball presented the governor a huge "key to the city." The women of Collinsville gave the governor and his wife a home-made quilt. Mrs. Murray also spoke briefly to the audience.

"The year 1932 will determine whether the people of the United States will control the government or whether the great corporations will do it.

"Some of these candidates are

Tinkham Hurls Challenges At Bishop Cannon

Congressman Dares Clergyman To Permit Trial Courts To Establish Truth Of Charges In Libel Case

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—Representative Tinkham (R., Mass.), against whom Bishop James Cannon, jr., has filed a $500,000 libel suit, challenged the clergyman today to permit a trial court to establish the truth of his charges.

Tinkham told the house that "in order completely to expose this spurious self-designated moral leader and ecclesiastical whitened sepulcher, I challenge him to try his libel suit against me."

Charged As Violator

The Southern Methodist churchman filed the libel suit against Tinkham in the District of Columbia supreme court on June 3, 1931. Tinkham had charged in the house and in a later public statement — "divested of my congressional immunity"—that Bishop Cannon was a "shameless violator of the federal corrupt practices act."

Recently, this court sustained the clergyman's demurrer to an indictment charging him with violating the law in 1928 by failing to properly report $65,300 in campaign contributions to his anti-Smith Democrats committee from E. C. Jameson, New York Republican.

"Unless Bishop Cannon's statements are made under oath when he is subject to cross-examination, they will be utterly worthless and will merely be a travesty upon the truth."

Collins, all charged with violation of the prohibition law; Estelle Wofford, Jack Todd, both charged with forgery and passing; Johnnie Price, Lonnie Anderson and Richard Wallace, robbery with firearms; Jeff Puckett, Alonzo Moore, burglary; Max Lee Fann, attempted burglary; Fred Norton, assault to murder; Dan Neal, false swearing.

Negro Given Death Penalty For Slaying Garland Woman

DALLAS, Feb. 18. (AP)—Preparations were made late today to take Jake White, Alias Rockwall Slim, convicted negro murderer, to the death row at the state penitentiary at Huntsville immediately.

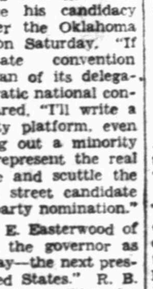

White a few hours earlier was assessed the extreme penalty by a jury in district court here for the murder of Mrs. Sarah Gray, 66, of near Garland. District Judge C. A. Pippen set March 25 as the electrocution date.

Dorothy Gish Quits Screen

Declares That She Is Tired Of Her Face; Says That Her Job On Broadway Is Child's Play And Enjoyable

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Feb. 18. — Dorothy Gish says she's never going to make another movie—and one reason is that she's tired of looking at her own face.

DOROTHY GISH

"What a relief it is not to watch yourself doing crazy things on the screen," she said with a sigh as she sat in the star's dressing room of a Broadway theater today issuing orders to her maid, signing letters and listening for the cue that would send her back onto the stage.

"If someone could grant any wish I made, I'd ask for a new face. I've been putting makeup on this one for so long I'm sick of it.

Envied Lon Chaney

"I used to envy Lon Chaney a lot. He could change his face anytime."

"The main reason I'm not going back in the movies is because it's too hard work. The public thinks the life of a Hollywood star is one beautiful bed of roses but it's really worse than digging ditches. You slave from morning 'til night until you think you'll go insane.

"I'm thankful to the movies. Now I'm going to reap the reward. It's child play here on Broadway compared to Hollywood."

Highways And Farms In Texas Being Inundated By Rapidly Rising Rivers

(By The Associated Press)

HEAVY downpours had resulted Thursday night in streams in many parts of the states leaving their banks, interrupting highway traffic and inudating bottomland farms.

The Trinity river at Dallas was at 36.8 feet, about two feet below the stage of the second January flood. Weather observers said the raging stream was about at its crest unless additional heavy rains fell during the night.

In the vicinity of Texarkana the Red river and other streams were rising rapidly. R. V. Hall, highway engineer, was called to Garland City by reports that 200 feet of levee near there was being endangered by the caving of the Red river's banks.

Highways between Idabel and Broken Bow, Okla., and De Queen, Ark., were under water as the Little Washita and other streams in southeast Oklahoma rose.

Two fire trucks and 50 city and private automobiles were commandeered to rescue several hundred children marooned at a school in south Waco by flood waters which filled a street.

State Emerges As Victor For Rich Oil Land

One Of Most Important Land Suits In Texas History Is Ended Thursday; Title To 2,468 Acres Involved

Pecos County Lands Valued At More Than $200,000,000 Are Awarded; West Texan Given Full Title To Land

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Feb. 18.—The state today emerged victor in one of the most important land suits in Texas history.

District Judge C. A. Wheeler, in Travis county district court awarded the state judgment against all defendants in its suit to quiet title to 2,468 acres of rich oil land in Pecos county, brought against R. B. Whiteside and approximately 150 other defendants.

Worth $200,000,000

George T. Wilson, assistant attorney general who handled the litigation for the state, said it had been estimated that property involved in the suit was worth in excess of $200,000,000.

J. H. Walker, commissioner of the state general land office estimated that the permanent school funds royalty interest in oil already produced and yet to be recovered from the pool underlying the land, would aggregate $20,000,000. The state receives one-sixteenth royalty. It had collected about $3,000,000 before the litigation started.

$25,000,000 In Escrow

The Humble company alone has $25,000,000 in escrow. The total amount impounded from all sources pending final determination of the litigation amounts to approximately $50,000,000 in cash at this time, Wilson estimated. This money will be distributed to the state, land owners, lease holders and royalty owners, Wilson said.

Judgment in favor of Ira G. Yates against the Douglas Oil company, claimant under Whiteside interests aso was awarded. The oil company had filed a cross action against Yates in the suit. Yates, under the court decision, was given full title

Three Murder Convictions Appealed To Higher Court

AUSTIN, Feb. 18. —(AP) —Three murder convictions, one carrying the death penalty and another ninety-nine year imprisonment, were appealed to the court of criminal appeals today.

Louis Rogers was given the extreme penalty in Caldwell county for slaying G. W. Mann.

The ninety-nine years sentence was against Frank Bracken, convicted in Cooke county for the slaying of Bill Johns. Annie Caldwell, Stephens county, appealed from a 15-year sentence imposed for the slaying of Theresa Johnson, killed with a knife.

Measure To Legalize Beer Being Talked At Capital

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18. (AP)—The combined support of house Republican and Democratic anti-prohibitionists will be sought shortly for a measure that would legalize 2.75 per cent beer and establish a tax of three cents a pint on the new beverage.

It will be presented to the full groups probably next week. Anti-prohibitionists estimated it would raise about $50,000,000 annually in taxes and create a market for upward of 150,000,000 bushels of grain a year.

William G. McAdoo Will Support John N. Garner

Former Treasury Secretary Has Praise To Offer Texan And Predicts His Election

(By The Associated Press)

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 18.—William Gibbs McAdoo today announced a preference for John N. Garner for the Democratic presidential nomination. The former secretary of the treasury, who was himself a candidate for the nomination in 1924, said that under the speaker of the house all elements of the party should be able to unite and in that case his election would be certain.

"I have received so many inquiries as to my attitude toward the forthcoming Democratic presidential nomination that I take this method of answering them," said a formal statement from McAdoo.

"I favor John N. Garner, speaker of the house of representatives.

Knew Him Intimately

"During the six years I was secretary of the treasury I had, of necessity, close official relations with the ways and means committee of the house, of which Mr. Garner was a leading member. I came, therefore, to know him intimately and to have the opportunity to judge, under the severe test of complicated problems, the quality of his mind and the measure of his ability.

"I was greatly impressed by his sound judgment, by his broad comprehension of political, social and economic problems, by his integrity —moral and intellectual—and by his high character and practical ideals. His elevation to the speakership was not a matter of chance, but a recognition of 29 years of able and distinguished service in the house of representatives.

"Mr. Garner has unusual knowledge, acquired by hard work and experience, of the problems of government. He would bring to the presidency just the equipment that is sorely needed to direct the affairs of the people of the United States in these extraordinary times.

"Moreover, Mr. Garner is not involved in any party schisms that threaten success on election day. He is beyond the reach of those sinister and subtle influences which work unceasingly against the interests of the masses of the people.

"Under Garner all elements of the party should be able to unite.

"In that case his election would be certain."

Committee Is To Be Chosen

Eaton And Ellis Probably Are To Name Three Men Today To Pass On Rehabilitation Farm Loans In Area

A committee of three to pass upon rehabilitation farm loan applicants probably will be named today by County Agent D. F. Eaton and L. C. Ellis, key banker for this county.

Amount of federal money to be available for the loans in Lubbock county and other details are not known here now. It is estimated, however, that between five and six million dollars will be released through these loans in Texas.

The committee is to be made up of a banker, a merchant and a farmer who is not eligible for a loan. Last year C. E. Maedgen, Earl Davis and J. C. Edwards served. Mr. Ellis last night indicated that possibly F. R. Friend, local banker, might replace Maedgen on the committee and that the others would continue to serve.

Requirements last year limited loans for seed and feed purposes and farmers who could not gain funds from any other source were the only ones eligible. One of the requirements was that the applicant must have spent the previous year farming. Names of the local committee members will be sent to O. B. Martin at College Station, director of the A. and M. extension work in Texas. Martin in turn will send the selections to Washington.

Rescue Effort Of Heroine Is Fatal In Fire

Aged Nun Defies Flames In An Effort To Save Her Little Charges; All Children Are Carried Out Safely

(By The Associated Press)

HAWTHORNE, N. Y., Feb. 18.—Defying flames that ate through St. Hyacinth's school today, an elderly nun groped her way from room to room to be sure all her little charges were safe, and went to her death while the rescued children looked on.

When the fire started in the Catholic institution shortly before dawn, the 20 nuns carried or guided the 25 children, ranging in age from 3 to 12, to safety.

Then Sister Rosa Alma, in charge of the school, made a hasty check and found Sister Lowell Bernard, 67, was missing.

A shout went up from shivering, scantily clad children as they saw Sister Barnard through the flames. She was methodically going from room to room on the second floor to be sure no one had been left behind.

The huddled figures below shouted that all were safe, that Sister Bernard should flee for her own life.

But the aged nun was deaf. Unaware that she was alone in the burned building, she continued her errand of mercy. She was still searching when the building collapsed.

Murder Suspect Released From Prison Without Bail

HOUSTON, Feb. 18. (AP)—Victor Maddi, charged in Kansas City, Mo., with the murder of a police officer in a robbery attempt, was ordered released from custody without bond by Criminal District Judge Whit Boyd.

Governor Ross S. Sterling's refusal to permit the extradition of Maddi predicated the court's decision. A habeas corpus hearing for Maddi, scheduled for Saturday, was made unnecessary.

Mediation Of Houston Milk War Now Looming As Remote

HOUSTON, Feb. 18. (AP)—Mediation of the Houston "milk war" appeared today to be a long way off, if it ever comes.

The South Texas Producers association, whose members set up their own distributing plant arrangements rather than accept a price cut from the major distributors, continued selling milk at retail at five to seven cents a quart. The opposition continued selling it at nine and ten cents.

Organized Agriculture Is Supporting Debenture Plan

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18. (AP)—The persistent twins of farm relief—the export debenture and the equalization fee—bobbed up again today in congress with the strong support of organized agriculture.

Committees of both house and senate heard them urged by spokesmen for the National Grange and the American Farm Bureau federation as a cure for the present evil plight of the farmer.

Federal Judge Declares Rule To Be Invalid

Permanent Injunction Granted By Judge Bryant; Governor And General Wolters Named In Court Order

Railroad Commission Likely To Take Up Duties In Oil Field At Once; Injunction Outgrowth Of Suit

(By The Associated Press)

TYLER, Feb. 18.—A federal court decision entered here today held in effect that Gov. R. S. Sterling had exceeded his authority in enforcing proration in the East Texas oil field by military orders.

A permanent injunction restraining Gov. Sterling, Brig. Gen. Jacob F. Wolters and Adjutant General W. W. Sterling from interfering with "prudent and reasonable" operation of the plaintiff's wells was granted by Judge Randolph Bryant of Sherman. J. C. Hutcheson of Houston and William I. Grubb of Birmingham.

The plaintiffs were Eugene Constantin and J. E. Wrather, oil men, who previously had obtained a temporary injunction against the governor and other state officials.

Deprived Of Rights

The court held the defendants had been illegally depriving the plaintiffs of "their undoubted right to operate their own properties in a prudent and reasonable way."

"From such further interference," read the decision, "and pending the final disposition of this suit, they must be enjoined."

Discussing the declaration of martial law in the field, effective last Aug. 17, the court held the troops were called out to act as civil officers. It said specifically it was not inquiring into the propriety of calling the troops.

Discussion Is Given

"We hold not that we may, or that we do, inquire into the propriety of the governor's calling out the troops to enforce the law," the decision said, "but that they were called out to act as civil officers, with no greater power than civil officers would have, that in their actions they are amenable to inquiry as civil officers are, and that neither the proclamation of martial law, nor the purported military character of the actions constitutes

Former King Of Saxony Is Dead

BRESLAU, Germany, Feb. 18. (AP)—Former King Friedrich August of Saxony, "the royal philosopher of Sybyllenort," died tonight from a stroke of apoplexy. He was 65 years old.

He was found in his bed in Sybillenort castle, near Breslau, this morning in a critical condition and failed to regain consciousness before death came at 10:15 p. m. An examination by his physician, Professor Erckleruz, disclosed a brain hemorrhage.

King Friedrich August III, one of the most popular rulers of his time, was noted for his wit, which stood him in good stead in the revolution of 1918, when he lost his throne.

Two Benefits Are Scheduled In Lubbock Society

The Woman's Angle

BY BLANCHE E. BEAN
Avalanche Woman's Editor

IF THESE trees grow that are being set out as a part of the Washington Bicentennial celebration, Lubbock is going to be a prettier town some 10 or 15 years from now. Parent-teacher associations, the American Legion and auxiliary, Garden club and various other organizations are having programs during the next few days and setting out trees dedicated to Washington and various other people.

There are few things that Lubbock could do in the way of such a celebration that will contribute more to the beauty of the city one of these days than plant trees. Given water and reasonable care, trees will grow here and they mean a lot in a prairie country such as this.

SAVE THE AFTERNOON

THIS IS a little early for the announcement, but it is a reminder, save Friday afternoon, February 26. That is City Federation afternoon in Lubbock and a meeting will be held at the Hilton hotel. What the program will be I do not know now but there will be an announcement in the next Sunday paper. This much I do know, it will be worth attending.

Choosing Lubbock people who are informed on subjects, the City Federation program committee is offering a series of lectures to Lubbock club women this winter. The talks are on countries that are drawing international attention now so that any one can be assured that she has some interest in what is being said. Even though we may read a great deal, there is something else to know through listening to the talks that are being made at City Federation meetings this winter.

Another point is the brevity of the meetings. One musical number and one talk are scheduled each time. These with the business session constitute the program. Save that Friday afternoon and attend the Federation meeting this month.

WORTH HEARING

THERE is another date to keep on your social calendar for this spring. That is the evening of March 7 when Rabbi David Lefkowitz talks on "Modern Trends in the Jewish religion." He is being brought here by the American Association of University Women and the faculty club at Texas Technological college but others may hear him talk.

There are many of us who know comparatively little of the Jewish religion, just as we know very little of many other creeds with which we have had little contact. What he has to say should be of particular interest to a lot of Lubbock people at this time. Rabbi Lefkowitz is a man who is recognized throughout the United States as an able speaker and he talks frequently over the radio.

Most of our bigotry is due to ignorance. It behooves us to have an acquaintanceship with the creeds and beliefs of other people and this will be an opportunity for Lubbock people. By the way, this date was set before the recent controversy here.

Few of us can attend all of the good things that come to Lubbock but most of us can attend a few of the things. That is one reason these reminders are being made. Social calendars fill up rapidly and in advance and some dates need to be marked early.

THIS DEBUNKING

THIS being the year of the Washington Bicentennial, there is hardly a magazine that does not carry some story of America's first president. In keeping with the current trend of things, some of these stories paint the man as an outlaw, a heavy drinker, a gambler and a lot of other things. The writers would have us believe that another of our heroes has feet of clay.

This debunking has gone about far enough. One by one, our great men and women have been the subject for such stories. There is no one worthy of our admiration, the stories would have us believe, and now George Washington is being attacked.

There may be truth in the tales. And, again, there may not be. Anyway, why bring it up? A few ideals are not going to hurt us any and it is a lot better to believe that the nation's first president was a hero and lived up to the things we have been taught to believe of him. We know that he did enough to warrant our admiration. If he had faults that would detract from this admiration, we can afford to forget them now.

Charles Qualles, postmaster of Post, and Hershell Brown, also of that city, spent Thursday in Lubbock transacting business.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Benson, jr., left Thursday for Austin where Mr. Benson is to transact business.

Business and Professional club women are selling tickets to a benefit bridge and forty-two party this evening at 8 o'clock at Hotel Lubbock. Proceeds will be used in defraying expenses for Business Women's week.

CIA Club Has New Officials

Reunion Banquet Is Held On Wednesday Evening; Guests Come From Other Towns To Be With Chapter

An election of officers featured a banquet attended by 44 former students of the College of Industrial Arts at Denton Wednesday evening at the Hilton hotel. The reunion occasion was in observance of "pancake" night and included in the guests were a number of women from near-by towns.

Mrs. N. L. Peters is the new president of the society, succeeding Mrs. W. L. Bradshaw. Mrs. Charles H. Smith and Miss Sallye Bean were elected vice-president and secretary-treasurer, respectively.

Other retiring officers include Miss Gertrude Daniel, vice-president, and Miss Blanche Bean, secretary-treasurer. Another meeting of the chapter will be set by incoming officials.

Mrs. W. L. Bradshaw was toastmistress for the evening and made a short talk explaining the significance of "pancake" night. Mrs. G. N. Atkinson, a C. I. A. graduate, sang two songs, accompanied at the piano by Miss Margaret Huff. Each one present was asked to introduce herself and several were called on for impromptu talks. Mexican Gets Prison Term

Martin Alvarez Is Sentenced To Two Years By Jury Here On Charge Of Assault; No Counsel For Defense

Found guilty by a 99th district court grand jury of assault to murder with malice, Martin Alvarez, a Lubbock Mexican who allegedly cut another Mexican here, was sentenced to two years in the state penitentiary, Thursday.

Alvarez was without counsel. Oscar S. Norling, United States immigration inspector, asked clemency for Alvarez. Norling also served as interpreter at the trial, which began and was completed, except for the jury's verdict, Thursday morning. District Attorney Durwood H. Bradley's argument was less than five minutes long.

The jury left the box at 11:30 o'clock to begin deliberations, and Judge Clark M. Mullican declared a recess until 1:30 p. m. The verdict was returned as soon as court had adjourned in the afternoon.

Trial of S. E. (Slick) Melton, facing a liquor law violation indictment, probably will be opened today, and other cases possibly will be tried, District Attorney Bradley said.

Because of the illness of two witnesses for the prosecution, the case of A. T. Block, also charged with liquor law violation, was not tried as scheduled Thursday and will not be tried today, the prosecutor said.

Washington Will Be Paid Tribute In Lynn Schools

By Staff Correspondent

TAHOKA, Feb. 18—Practically all of the rural schools in Lynn county will observe the 200th anniversary of the birth of the Father of His Country during February with special programs, in the opinion of H. P. Caveness, county superintendent of schools.

"I am working up material for all of the districts," Mr. Caveness said. "The national centennial committee has sent me a copy of a suggested program. I am using this as the basis for a program.

"Most of the schools have asked for some literature or suggestions. I think that all of them will."

Congressman Marvin Jones has sent the county superintendent a large picture of George Washington for distribution to schools. He is giving each school, as he visits it, one of these.

The Wilson school has asked for George Washington material, Mr. Caveness said. He explained he had had no report from the other independent districts, Tahoka or O'Donnell, but thought both would have special celebrations also.

No indications have been received by the school head as to the suggested planting of trees for the celebration. "I think our main trouble would be to have the trees taken care of during the summer months when school is not in session." Mr. Caveness said. "Unless we could get some one to agree to water and care for the young trees in the school yard, I do not favor much of a planting program. That has been our experience, that it is hard to keep the trees well watered and cared for in the summer time."

Sixteen Cars Of Hogs Are Shipped By Abernathy Man

(By Staff Correspondent)

ABERNATHY, Feb. 18. — During 1931 about 16 car loads of hogs were shipped from Abernathy by J. Riley, local shipper.

"I believe that I will handle many more hogs in 1932 than in 1931," he stated. "Last year was the lowest year I have ever had. One year I handled over 100 car loads."

Mr. Riley explained that based on talks with farmers and those who raise hogs, there are more in the Abernathy territory at this time than for several years. Plenty of cheap feed has made farmers raise hogs to consume their surplus crops, he stated.

Discovery That Revolutionizes Home Medication

Pharmaceutical Chemists Rob Calomel of Nauseating and Dangerous Qualities. New Tablets Named "Calotabs."

Calomel, the most popular and by far the most useful of all home medicines, has at last been robbed of its objectionable qualities. The new calomel tablets bearing the name "Calotabs" are available at drug stores and according to druggists are rapidly taking the place of the old-style calomel tablets. For biliousness, constipation and indigestion and for all other conditions where calomel is essential Calotabs is considered a practically perfect remedy.

One Calotab at bedtime, with a glass of water, that's all—no taste, no griping, no nausea, no danger. Next morning you are feeling fine, your liver is clean, your appetite splendid. Eat what you please.

Beware of imitations! Genuine Calotabs are sold only in "checkerboard" (black and white) packages bearing the copyrighted trademark "Calotabs." The large, family size sells for thirty-five cents; vest-pocket size, ten cents. All dealers are authorized to refund the price if you are not delighted with Calotabs.—adv.

Women Are As Perverse As Ever

They Wear Light, Collarless Coats In Winter And Change To Furs For Spring, Smart Jackets Being Featured

BY JANE EADS

NEW YORK, Feb. 18. (AP) — Women are as perverse today as ever.

When Jack Frost first blew the trumpets of winter they stepped out into the cold in collarless coats of lightweight woolens. Now with spring just around the corner they appear clothed in furs from head to hem.

Not satisfied with a single scarf of fur they are wearing two, sometimes three or four, twined luxuriously about their throats. Most of the new spring coats have huge collars of blue, beige, silver, platinum or pointed fox.

With the collarless coat, or suit, still preferred, smaller furs twined together are high fashion because they help to give the desired broad-shouldered effect. One particularly flattering scarf is of sable twisted in a swirl and fashioned on one shoulder with the head of the bewildered little animal biting one of his toes like a contortionist. The two-skin length is smartest this season.

Fur jackets are also prevalent. They are a little longer—hip-length—than they were earlier in the season and are perhaps a bit more tailored in line.

Thief Likes To Be Accompanied

CHICAGO, Feb. 18. (AP)—There appears to be something new in the way of holdup men here.

When-ever a certain robber goes on a foray he takes his family, or at least part of it, along with him.

During the past few weeks he has held up a half a dozen gasoline filling stations, always taking two girls, one about two years old and the other four.

He made his latest appearance last night. While the children sat in an automobile, looking on indifferently, their father whipped out a pistol and held up the two attendants at an oil station.

Tax Collections Showing Up Good

(By Staff Correspondent)

LITTLEFIELD, Feb. 18.—Tax collections for the 1931 roll of the Littlefield Independent school district so far have been better than the collections for the 1930 roll, according to J. S. Hilliard, business manager of the district and collector.

Mr. Hilliard said he anticipated payments would be between 65 and 70 per cent this year, or about the same as last year.

Meantime the district is expecting to have a full nine months school year. The school was closed for several months during the cotton picking season. Now, with that work over, sessions are being held as usual.

"We are not considering school sessions on Saturdays," Mr. Hilliard explained. "We do not think as good work can be had as with five days a week. Neither teachers or pupils seem to do good work on Saturday."

Dempsey Comeback Plans Are Shaken As Levinsky Wins Unofficial Decision

Abbreviated Bout Is Slugfest Won By "Kingfish"

BY CHARLES DUNKLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO STADIUM, CHICAGO, Feb. 18. (AP)—Jack Dempsey's pugilistic comeback ran into a stone wall tonight.

The old Manassa Mauler dropped an unofficial decision, after four furious rounds of fighting to King Levinsky, the Maxwell street fish peddler, who was credited with outslugging the former heavyweight champion of the world.

The match, billed as four-round exhibition, was a vicious toe to toe battle with Levinsky, a crude fearless walloper, hitting the old champion almost whenever he pleased and taking everything that Dempsey had to offer in the way of an offense.

As the bout was an exhibition with no official decision, a poll of the newspaper experts was necessary to determine the winner. They voted in favor of Levinsky, and the crowd, too, thought the reformed fish peddler was the victor, judging from the ovation he received when he left the ring.

The bout, with Dempsey as the magnet, drew a record-smashing attendance of 23,322 paid admissions with the gate receipts of $74,199.95. This eclipsed previous attendance records for an indoor boxing show.

Tommy Armour Goes Pro; To Make Series Of Instructions

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 18. (AP) — Walter Fritschy, Kansas City concert impresario, announced today he has Tommy Armour, British open champion, under a 3-year contract for golf exhibitions and class instruction.

The first "master class" instruction will be presented here indoors for two weeks starting April 11. After defending his British open title, Armour will conduct another series of classes, either at Minneapolis or Indianapolis, Fritschy said, and then will embark on an exhibition tour under Fritschy's direction.

Fritschy said his contract with Armour might run indefinitely. Heretofore Fritschy has applied the "master class" system for years to voice and piano instruction.

Armour will continue his connections with the Tam O'Shanter club at Detroit and with an exclusive winter at West Palm Beach, Fla., where he is now, Fritschy said.

Girls' National AAU Meet To Be Held At Shreveport

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 18. (AP) — Because of failure to agree on a contract for holding the 1932 girls' National A. A. U. basketball tournament in Dallas March 21 to 26, L. Di Benedetto, secretary of the Southern A. A. U., today announced the tournament will be held in Shreveport, La., on the same dates.

The tournament will be sponsored by the Lions club under the supervision of Grover C. Thames, president of the club and director of recreation for the city of Shreveport.

The Shreveport contract, Di Benedetto said, was signed yesterday while Joseph C. Cresner, president of the southern A. A. U., was in Shreveport. It calls for 65 per cent for the National A. A. U., 25 per cent for the Lions and 10 per cent for Southern A. A. U. promotion and overhead expense.

Joe Merka, Aggie sophomore center, won scoring honors with nine points. His defensive and tipoff work also featured. McLaughlin, guard, led the Pony scorers with three points.

Two New Rules Start Request For Some More

Bedichek Says New Rules On Transfers And Players Who Stay Overtime Mean Public Want Complete Overhaul

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Feb. 18—A general overhauling of the rules of the Texas Interscholastic League, reputedly largest high school association in the world, is being urged after adoption of two rules recently to bolster the League's athletic standards.

The rules, one of which would prohibit a student who has attended high school for eight semesters from participating in interscholastic athletics and the other bar a transfer student from playing for one year, were adopted by substantial majorities.

Commenting on the vote, Roy Bedichek, an official of the League, stated "the overwhelming majority given each of these rules leaves no doubt in anyone's mind of the determination of responsible public school authorities of Texas to reclaim high school sports from the disastrous ways into which they were drifting."

Now a movement has been started to revise the amateur rule of the League.

Under the present amateur rule, an athlete who wins a footrace at a firemen's picnic and receives a small monetary prize is barred from interscholastic competition, even though money is made from the athletic exhibition and no admission is charged.

Picnic Is O. K.

Bedichek pointed out that a firemen's picnic, or other similar event, was a wholesome community meeting of a truly folk flavor and should be encouraged.

The rule could be made more effective and better strike at the roots of professionalism by revising it so that students who participated in athletic meets, outside the regular league schedules, at which admissions were charged would be barred. This would permit athletes to engage in harmless meets without having the odium of "professionalism" attached to them.

Bedichek stated that gate receipts were the basis of true professionalism and that genuine professionalism could not obtain a foothold without hearing the clink of money as the turnstiles revolved.

Discussing the recent changes in the rules, Bedichek stated that athletics could not survive as a school enterprise unless used in behalf of bona fide students.

The one year transfer rule was advanced as a cure for the evil of proselyting and subsidizing among high school athletes. Numerous instances had been called to the league's attention where fans from one school were alleged to have induced the star athlete of another school to quit his first love and cast his lot with the second school.

The other rule was aimed at the lesser of the two evils. It will discourage an athlete from the practice of falling a year or dropping out of school for two semesters to obtain an advantage over a student who passes his work regularly by putting on a little weight and age without endangering his eligibility.

League officials stated the old rules encouraged a student to fail in his studies for a year or to drop out, the procedure acting as a deterrent to the athletic ambitions of a student who passed his courses as they came only to himself outweighed and out-experienced when he tried to obtain a place on the team.

Bedichek stated it has been the experience of other states that unless school authorities took action to insure clean sports that the public intervened, through its legislatures, and forced enactment of drastic regulations. This is especially true in states wherein schools participate for state championships.

Two Courses Open

"Only two courses are open," Bedichek stated. "One to lessen the drive; or, two, to increase the control. A high powered car needs better brakes than a low powered car. The Interscholastic League has chosen the latter alternative. It has chosen to enact two rules that can be enforced because in the majority of cases, the facts will be a matter of record. We believe that these brakes will work."

Criticism of the practice of buying large amounts of sports equipment by high schools also has been voiced by officials of schools that are members of the league. Heavy buying has caused schools to become lax in meeting their accounts, one official estimating that within the last ten years sporting goods companies had been forced to charge off more than $200,000 in bad school accounts and that these same dealers are carrying between $300,000 and $400,000 in accounts from 60 days to two years overdue.

Tech Matadors Throw Fright Into Tall Buffs To Provide Most Exciting Game Of Year

Leon Fisher Almost Ties Big Comer At Scoring And Out-Jumps Fortenberry Halfway As Tech Loses, 45-35

(By The Associated Press)

CANYON, Feb. 18. —The West Texas Buffaloes were hard pressed tonight to beat a determined team of Texas Tech Matadors, 45 to 35, in the most exciting basketball game played here this year.

The Matadors rose to supreme heights to throw the Gosh-awfulest scare into Buffalo camp. They tied the score 9-9 shortly after the middle of the first half, and then reached the pinnacle of their season in the second half by catching the Buffaloes at the 10-minute mark with a 31-31 count.

Comer, sharp-shooting Buff forward, was high point with 11, while Fisher, brilliant Tech center, ran him a close race with 10. In addition to his scoring Fisher broke even with Fortenberry, six feet, seven inch center of the Buffs, at the center tip-off. Every man on both sides had a hand in the scoring.

Tonight's victory gave the Buffaloes a clean sweep of the season's four game series and a 25 to two margin for the all time record.

Big Spring Steers Defeat Abilene To Even Big Series

ABILENE, Feb. 18. (AP) — Big Spring High school evened the District 8 championship series tonight with a victory of 25 to 16 against the Abilene Eagles.

Dave Hopper, tall forward, exhibited a sure rebound shot, and led the score sheet with 13 points. Abilene was held to five points in the first half and to six in the first three quarters.

The third and deciding game is scheduled here Saturday night.

Two Sheriffs Serve County

Commissioners Court Appoints Wife Of Convicted Man And District Judge Names Man To Take Job

HUNTSVILLE, Feb. 18. (AP)—Walker county had two appointed sheriffs today.

The question as to which will ultimately serve apparently remained for the courts to decide. Mrs. N. L. Speer, wife of the former sheriff, who is under theft conviction, appeared to have the inside track in that she already was acting as sheriff.

The matter became involved when County Judge P. H. Singletary of Walker county unofficially was notified District Judge W. F. Robertson at Austin had appointed L. L. Leonard. The Walker county commissioners court previously had named Mrs. Speer who said Judge Singletary, "still is sheriff so far as the commissioners court is concerned."

"We appointed Mrs. Speer; Judge Robertson appointed Mr. Leonard," Singletary said. "As far as we are concerned, Mrs. Speer is the legally appointed sheriff, and will continue so to act. Of course, if the parties—Mrs. Speer and Mr. Leonard—want to engage in litigation over the office that will be their affair. But pending such litigation, if any, and the settlement thereof, Mrs. Speer is and will be sheriff."

Speer was convicted in Judge Robertson's court at Austin for theft from the state in connection with fees of office. Judge Robertson held he, and he alone, had authority to appoint another sheriff, pending disposition of Speer's appeal from the verdict. Under that theory, Judge Robertson named Leonard The Walker county commissioners selected Mrs. Speer last Saturday, and she immediately took over duties of the office.

TROUBLED ALL LIFE WITH CONSTIPATION

But Kellogg's ALL-BRAN Brought Real Relief

If you are subject to headaches, loss of appetite and energy, sleeplessness and other effects that so often result from constipation, read Mrs. Turner's voluntary letter.

"For the past six months I have been eating Kellogg's ALL-BRAN, and cannot praise it too highly.

"Am fifty years of age. All my life have been troubled with constipation. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN has not only helped me, but has cured me.

"I thought I couldn't like the taste of bran, but Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is delicious."—Mrs. C. J. Turner, 507 Hanover Street, Fall River, Mass.

Tests show ALL-BRAN contains two things which overcome constipation: "Bulk" to exercise the intestines; Vitamin B to help tone the intestinal tract. ALL-BRAN also supplies iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that of lettuce. Inside the body, it forms a soft mass, which gently clears the intestines of wastes.

Certainly this is more natural than taking pills and drugs—so often harmful. ALL-BRAN is not habit-forming. Two tablespoonfuls daily will correct most types of constipation. If you have intestinal trouble not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Get the red-and-green package at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

It's A Man's World After All; Sailor Hats Become The Rage For Next Season

NEW YORK, Feb. 18.(AP)—It's a man's world after all, fashion experts once again have conceded.

The tendency toward a tailored silhouette was an outstanding surprise of the spring showing of the Retail Milliners' association of America which closed today.

The sailor hat, tilted rakishly on the left side of the head, predominated.

The feminine fussiness that characterized last spring's millinery was noticeably absent.

Two types of hat prevailed. One was the sailor, from the regular shape to the little breton with the brim turned up. The other was the little close fitting chapeau, such as the turban, toque or beret.

Man Recovering After Coal Fall

POTTSVILLE, Pa., Feb. 18. (AP)—Joseph Petorick was recovering today from bruises and exposure which resulted from his 24-hour imprisonment in a coal and rock fall in an abandoned anthracite mine tunnel near here.

Tugged free last night from the rocks and earth by rescuers who pulled on ropes fastened about his body, Petorick was conscious and not badly hurt.

Petorick's head was uncovered yesterday morning and the miners sent to help him dug feverishly to remove the rocks and coal which trapped him. One attempt to pull him out by ropes failed when he cried out against the pain and a fresh slide covered him again. Dug free the second time, he endured the pain as he was tugged to the surface.

Pender Speaks At Kiwanis Program

Prof. H. C. Pender of the department of government of Texas Technological college Thursday told members of the Kiwanis club at Hotel Hilton that principles of government, especially those pertaining to policies in foreign affairs, advocated and practiced by George Washington still are outstanding influences on American administration of today.

"A stern realist and a man of few facts Washington was not a theorist and a doctrinaire and did not try to establish unattainable problems." Mr. Pender said, "but he adopted very important policies in foreign policies of the United States which are still brought forward in relations with other nations today. He was an advocate of impartial neutrality and laid the foundation of one of the greatest neutralities the world has ever known. He also advocated isolation, realizing the necessity of internal development in this great nation of ours. His policy of non-entanglements is still one of the most forceful in American foreign relations.

"He was a strong advocate of adequate preparations for national defense and maintained an army for which he was criticized but he maintained his policy."

Citing the two schools of biographies of Washington, one of which paints him as an idealist and a great man while the other tries to humanize him too much, Mr. Pender declared in closing that "disagreement does not deny the fact that these policies of Washington exert a deciding influence over the foreign affairs of the United States today."

F. I. Boggs of Dallas and C. S. Elliott of Fort Worth were visitors at the luncheon and both made short talks.

Durwood Bradley, vice president, presided in the absence of President Geo. P. Kuykendall.

Name Is Found Tattooed On Man's Arm; Is Unconscious

SAN BENITO, Feb. 18. (AP) — A magnifying glass today enabled hospital attendants to read the name J. Martin tattooed on the arm of an aged man found badly beaten in a pasture near town yesterday. He was still unconscious today.

Officers believed he had been beaten, robbed and left for dead. They said he had appeared here recently and without giving his name asked permission to camp at a baseball park. He had about $65 at the time.

Fire Report Is Completed Here

A report compiled by the fire prevention committee of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce from information received from the city fire prevention board, Fire Chief W. E. Twitty and Fire Marshal Wiley Metcalf is being mailed to the National Fire Waste council in Washington. Guy L. McAfee is chairman of the CC committee.

The compilation shows that the city had 111 fires in buildings last year as compared to 137 in 1930, and as compared to an average of 140 fires annually from 1926 to 1930. Chief Twitty estimated last year's loss at $31,500, as compared to a yearly average of $78,127.35 from 1926 to 1930.

A survey made in the city shows that 2,927 local residences have shingle roofs, 1,062 have composition roofs, 342 gravel roofs and 290 crushed brick roofs. Fire prevention literature was left at 4,626 homes last year, the report shows. It also is pointed out that the city's reward for conviction on a charge of arson had been raised from $150 to $1,000.

Members of the city's fire prevention board are: Jack Parson, Wesley Read, Gregg James, Chief Twitty and Fire Marshal Metcalf.

He Wasn't Drunk But Just Groggy

EVANSVILLE, Ind., Feb. 18. —(AP)—Police had the idea Sari Baumgartner, 54, was intoxicated when he tried to negotiate a corner in his automobile and ran into a house, but they were mistaken.

They took him to a hospital where they learned the truth.

"This man," said a hospital attache, "is still under the effects of an anaesthetic."

And he was correct in his conclusion. Baumgartner had just had three teeth pulled and the dentist had made the pulling painless by using an anaesthetic.

Three of Baumgartner's ribs were cracked in his collision with the home of Jacob Kramer.

Schools Planning For Observances

(By Staff Correspondent)

LAMESA, Feb. 18.—Programs to commemmorate the 200th anniversary of the birth of the first president, George Washington, will be conducted in nearly all of the rural schools of the county, in the opinion of W. T. Webb, county superintendent of schools.

"I am sure that in all of the districts where there is an auditorium, we will have a special program during February," the school man said. "Through the kindness of Congressman Jones, each school will have a large picture of George Washington.

"I am delivering these now. They are being framed and will be hung in the schools."

Not all of the school districts will have a tree planting program in connection with the anniversary, Mr. Webb explained. In several of the districts, about all of the space that can be devoted to trees on the school grounds, has already been taken up. In some districts it has been found necessary to have the grounds fenced in, in order to have trees grow and to protect them.

The McCarty, Key, Higginbotham and Munger districts have all planted trees the past several years and have about all of this work they can stand, Mr. Webb said. Several other districts have planted trees in recent years also.

Overalls and gingham have been established as the official graduating attire for seniors at Martin, Tenn., high school.

Get Behind John Garner!

THE Abilene Morning News, which, like The Morning Avalanche, is faithfully urging nomination of John N. Garner, prints another item of comment which we believe worthy of reproduction here. The News points out again that the Texas Speaker of the House of Representatives believes in finishing one job before starting out on another—a talent we believe would serve him well in the Presidency.

Under the caption "Can't Budge Him," The News declares:

"When a newspaper correspondent asked John Garner if he approved the joint statement of Senators Sheppard and Connally in endorsing him for the Presidency, the Speaker of the House said, amiably:

"'How can I okay it when I haven't even seen it? I don't give a damn.' Then, as if to remove any possible sting from his refusal, the Speaker added: 'That's about all I can say, old chap.

"While Mr. Roosevelt writes magazine raticles (ably abetted by his wife, who also writes magazine articles, and by his daughter, who appears on a commercial radio program); while Mr. Murray travels extensively and advocates his candidacy assiduously; while Mr. Smith throws a monkey-wrench into party harmony with a 'willingness to serve' statement; and while various and sundry other candidates leave no stone unturned to advocate their cause, John Garner sticks to his knitting and refuses to take any part in the movement to nominate him on the Democratic ticket.

"That gentle expletive which Mr. Garner gave to the newspaper correspondent just about sums up his attitude. If the Democrats want him, well and good. Meantime he has a job of work to do, and he is doing it with extraordinary success and attention to details—as the smooth-working machinery of Congress will attest. And this attitude, perfectly natural to John Garner, is the strongest of all arguments in his favor. The country can use a man who refuses to go after the office of President as one would go after the office of mouse-trap inspector."

The Morning Avalanche is for ohn Garner for the Presidential nomination. We have been for Garner ever since his actions first stamped him as a leader and we intend to be for him until nomination is made at Chicago. We aren't trying to ride the Garner bandwagon into any local, minor office. We have no idea of being favored in any way because of our support. We're for him because we think he's the best man for the job and we hope a large number of Lubbock and South Plains citizens will be on hand Saturday at the organization of the "Garner-For-President Club" here.

THE ANNUAL DAIRY SHOW

Directors of the Panhandle-Plains Dairy association will meet today in Plainview where they will lay plans for the association's annual show, to be held in the next few weeks.

While directors of the organization expect to curtail the show to a certain extent, they still expect to hold it—a decision which The Morning Avalanche can commend in no little terms.

Too many fairs, expositions and shows have fallen by the wayside during the present economic era but those which will push forward, undaunted by conditions, will increase their usefulness, effectiveness and prestige by so doing.

The Panhandle-Plains Dairy show is just as much of a territorial feature as the Panhandle-Plains Poultry show and the Panhandle-South Plains fair. We are glad that its directors intend to maintain it in good times and bad.

A Chicago surgeon says American boys and girls are crazy for a good time. A lot of stock market investors have found out they were crazy for nothing at all.

A sensational new element, No. 87, has just been discovered by scientists at the University of Illinois, and no doubt given a sweater with its number on the back.

Practical Health Problems

CURE OF INGROWING TOENAILS EASY

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN
Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, And of Hygeia, the Health Magazine

THE feet are among the most abused portions of the human body, and are probably responsible for about as much agony as human beings can sustain.

Fashion takes no account of foot comfort or foot health. Modern shoes, particularly for women, bring about extraordinary malformations. Hiking crazes cause large numbers of people to undertake long walks with poor equipment. Motor cars keep most people from walking enough to give the feet even adequate exercise.

When a foot which has been largely neglected from the point of view of hygiene develops a complication like ingrown toenails, the owner of that foot is in for an exceedingly painful time.

The large toenail is the one usually concerned in the ingrowing procedure. Almost everyone thinks himself competent to advise on the handling of ingrown toenails.

Therefore, as Dr. Harold Dodd points out, the patient usually has tried all sorts of poultices, antiseptics, and ointments on his toe before coming to the physician.

When he finally does come, the nail and the toe will be found red and swollen, with pus not infrequently exuding from under the nail.

Not infrequently the infection is brought about by the practice of clipping the toenails with a sharp scissors that is seldom sterilized before use.

DR. DODD provides some simple suggestions for treatment. First, stop all attempts at the use of poultices, liniments and soaking of the foot in baths.

Apply tincture of iodine daily, but in relatively small maounts, to the infected portions of the nail where it comes in contact with the skin.

Do not attempt to manicure the nail in anything like the intricate technic used for fingernails.

Dr. Dodd suggests the use of a pair of surgical scissors with rounded ends, which will not lacerate the skin or do much damage if the scissors slips. In order to cause the middle of the nail to catch up with the corners, he suggests cutting a shallow "v" or "u" in the center of the nail. This slows the growth at the side of the nail and takes the pressure off the corners.

As dressing for an ingrown nail, it is merely necessary to have a piece of surgically clean gauze, to wear stockings thick enough to afford protection, and shoes loose enough to prevent pressure, but not so loose as to cause rubbing.

If this procedure is followed repeatedly the ingrown toenail gradually becomes normal and proper hygiene thereafter will keep it in that condition.

Today's One-Minute Sermon

Woe unto them that draw iniquity with cords of vanity, and sin as it were with a cart rope.—Isaiah, v, 18.

Borah Comes To Fore

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—It is a little too soon to determine yet the full effects of the fearful lambasting administered by Senator William E. Borah to the administration over Senator Simeon D. Fess' shoulders in the course of the debate concerning the La Follette-Costigan $375,000,000 bill for direct relief of unemployment.

Senator Wm. E. Borah

The Idaho statesman undoubtedly was provoked by the characteristic crassness of the Ohio lawmaker into outdoing what even he had intended and is himself evidently still studying the popular reaction to his speech.

Should he decide to take such advantage of it as most senators unquestionably would take in his place few folk can be found on Capitol Hill to deny that he can launch a formidable presidential boom in his own behalf in opposition to Mr. Hoover's claims for a renomination.

Hitherto the most ardent progressives have been able to argue no more than that he at least would stand an outside chance of stampeding the Republican convention in his favor if he would come out definitely as a candidate against the Californian. Today there actually are Hooverites who admit that the Idahoan is capable of rendering the outcome doubtful provided he will proclaim his presidential availability.

HOOVER SUPPORTERS recognize that Senator Borah has won enormously in the number of his own supporters.

The suggestion is advanced, indeed, that should Senator Borah seek the regular G. O. P. nomination and fail to get it his prestige nevertheless has been so much enhanced as to justify considerable confidence in his success as head of a third party ticket.

Were the half or a quarter of Senator Borah's opportunity offered to any other man in public life, politicians laugh at the idea that he would not grab at it. The reluctance of the Idahoan, however, to reach for too much and risk losing his beloved senatorship is so well known that in his case much skepticism is expected despite the proportions of the prize dangled in front of him.

THE CIRCUMSTANCES of Senator Borah's speech left nothing to be desired to make it stand out as a clean-cut attack upon the administration.

Senator Fess in his post of national committee chairman, for which he was the deliberate choice of the White House, pre-eminently is Mr. Hoover's personal spokesman. He also was the first speaker against the policy of direct unemployment relief and the understanding was general that his task was to detail the president's objections to it.

What Senator Fess said in the course of his set speech was ill advised enough, but it was his attempt to debate matters with the Idaho legislator which aggravated into a major disaster what at first was no worse than an unfortunate attempt on his part.

Naturally maladroit, with every succeeding sentence he uttered Senator Fess gave an impression of seemingly more and more almost unbelievable callousness, which speedily drove his adversary completely from his own prepared remarks to the extemporaneous line of oratory where he shines most brilliantly. In this instance, Senator Borah reached heights of denunciatory passion perhaps unsurpassed in congressional history.

FROM THE FESS armor plate such shots as "we now have the philosophy of the senator from Ohio in all its naked and hideous monstrosity" and "a government which does not protect its people is flying a flag which is a dirty rag" glanced off harmlessly—but not from the defensive equipment of Senator Fess' fellow administrationists.

Plans for hastening the retirement of the Ohio lawmaker from the G. O. P. chairmanship in fact already were under discussion in the senate cloak rooms before the Idahoan had finished, but the harm was done. Possibly repairs can be made, but the most hopeful regulars do not dispute that they will have to be extensive.

In the meantime the query all hands are putting to one another is:

Will the thunders of applause which Senator Borah cannot help overhearing at last have the result of arousing in him the ambition for presidential conquest?

DEVELOPING HIGHWAY NO. 7

Lubbock is interested in the formation of the Highway No. 7 Development association by citizens of Lamb, Parmer and Bailey counties and in the selections of Arthur Duggan, Littlefield; J. O. Hamlin, Parwell, and Jess Mitchell, of Muleshoe, as the organization's officials. Constructive work on the development of Highway No. 7 will react to Lubbock's benefit as well as to that of the other counties it traverses.

It will not be many years—perhaps not more than two at the greatest—until Highway No. 7 will be paved from Lubbock to the New Mexico line. Plans are already under way in New Mexico to pave it extensively in that state.

Whenever we obtain a paved connection with Albuquerque and Santa Fe by way of No. 7 we will be in a much better position for travel than we are at the present time and so will Parwell, Muleshoe, Sudan, Amherst, Littlefield, Anton and Shallowater. Because we arr know the benefit accruing from added tourist travel, we hope the association will be successful in accelerating development of this great artery of traffic.

SEVEN IRISHMEN IN A SINGLE BIRTH:

The account of the Seven Irish Children born in one birth is contained in Aubray's "Natural History of Wiltshire." The mother of the set of septuplets was Thomas Bonham's wife, Edith, who became the mother of twins at the age of forty and then after an interval of seven years bore seven children in a single birth. This incredible event was recorded in the Parish Register of Wishford Magna, Ireland, and was commemorated by a monumental inscription in Wishford, where the seven children were brought to the font and baptized.

TRICK ADDITION:

The top row of figures in the problem will be referred to as the "original figure." The "original figure" and the figure following it are suggested by your partner. Then you add a third row, bearing in mind that rows number 2 and 3, added together, should give you (mentally) a row of nines. Your partner now may add a fourth row, which you complete by inserting row number 5 in the same manner as number 3. Every two horizontal rows adding up to a row of nines constitute a "group." The problem may contain any number of groups. When the final addition is made the sum total will be a repetition of the "original figure," except that the last digit will be reduced by a number, corresponding to the number of "groups," which number should be placed before the first digit of the original figure.

In our problem the original figure was 27429. The number of groups was 6, reducing the last digit to 3, while the 6 will constitute the first digit of the sum total, placed in front of the original figure. In other words the sum total will be 627423.

MAD MARRIAGE

by LAURA LOU BROOKMAN Author of "HEART HUNGRY," etc.

©1931 BY NEA SERVICE INC.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

GYPSY McBRIDE, 19-year-old New York typist, marries JIM WALLACE the day after she meets him at the home of her wealthy cousin, ANN TROWBRIDGE. Gypsy has been jilted by ALAN CROSBY just returned from a year and a half in Paris studying art. Wallace fiancee has broken their engagement to marry a richer man.

Jim and Gypsy go to Forest City where Jim has a thriving law practice. His relatives snub Gypsy. MARCIA LORING, Jim's former fiancee, marries BROCK PHILLIPS, millionaire's son.

Months pass and Brock Phillips is killed in a fall from a horse. Marcia returns to Forest City. She consults Jim about financial affairs and later tells him her marriage to Phillips was a mistake. Jim tries to remain loyal to Gypsy but sees Marcai frequently. Gypsy worries. Marcia asks her to give up Jim. Gypsy refuses. ABBIE MANLEY, Jim's cousin, tells of seeing him at luncheon with a girl in a blue dress whom she supposed was Gypsy. Gypsy is sure the girl was Marcia. She meets FRANK GIBSON, whom Jim does not like, and accepts his invitation to drive her home.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XLI

For an instant Gypsy hesitated. She was aware that Gibson was watching her eagerly. There was a faintly bantering light in his eyes. It was as though he were challenging her. "Are you game to go? Will you take the dare?"

The girl's chin lifted. "Yes," she said, "if there's fresh air — cool, fresh air—to be had on the Somerset road let's go there. I haven't had a breath of it for a week."

While she was still speaking Gibson had swung the car around. The rain drops were coming faster now.

He seemed to be an expert driver. Gypsy watched the ease with which he handled the car. Surely it was a new one. The brown paint glistened and the upholstery looked so fresh.

"It's a new car, isn't it?" she asked.

"Had it two weeks. Bought it as soon as I got back from the coast."

"It's too bad to have it out in a storm like this."

"That's what I got it for. I get my money's worth out of a car. Buy 'em to use 'em. Would you like to drive?"

"Oh, no! I've had a little experience with a battered up flivver but I wouldn't think of trying to drive a car like this! Jim never lets me touch the roadster."

"That so? You ought to learn. Practice is probably all you need. Any time you feel in the mood I'd be glad to come along as instructor—a poor one I'll admit."

Gypsy's smile was a bit nervous. "I'd better not," she said, "unless you want your lovely coupe to be a complete wreck!"

"Well, I'd take my chances. By the way, how is Jim these days? Haven't seen him."

"He's about as usual. Working too hard, I think. He hasn't had a vacation yet and I think he needs it."

Gibson nodded. "That always was Jim. Plunging away! You know the trouble with him is he forgets to enjoy life. What's the use of living if you have to work all the time? That's the way I feel about it—"

"Oh, Jim doesn't work all the time. He likes fun."

"Does he? Well, I'm glad to hear that. Say, he made quite a success of a case last spring, didn't he? Girl accused of murder."

"Yes. The Roberts case. It was a wonderful victory."

"I remember now. Read about it in a San Francisco paper. The girl was pretty, wasn't she? What became of her?"

"After she was acquitted she left Forest City and went back to her relatives. She has a better job now and I think she's happy. Of course it was a terrible experience. It will be a long time before she'll get over it."

Gibson nodded. "And how do you like being a lawyer's wife?" he asked, "when the customers are young—and pretty?"

She wished he wouldn't look at her that way. She wished he wouldn't say such things. It was more Gibson's tone than the words to which she objected.

But she tried to answer lightly.

Horn was commended for refusing to be stampeded by Doctor Norris' questionnaire, based upon religious beliefs of faculty members of Texas Technological college and apparently coming as the result of the controversy between Rev. R. C. Campbell and the Tech president.)

MAD MARRIAGE

by LAURA LOU BROOKMAN Author of "HEART HUNGRY," etc.

"Oh, do you think I need to worry?"

"I'll say, I don't Not you."

They were on the Somerset road. It was a narrow ribbon of highway winding a circulations route on gradually rising ground. The rain poured down steadily. As the coupe swung around the curve the wheels skidded.

It was all over after a breathless instant. Gibson had control of the car. They were moving along smoothly again.

Gypsy, who had seen it all in one terrorized moment, drew a deep sigh. "Oh," she said, "for a moment I thought—!"

"So did I!" Gibson said sharply. "Well, I won't let that happen again, I assure you!"

They drove silently for a few moments. Gypsy was thinking that if the young man had been watching the road instead of looking at her the near-accident would not have occurred. Probably he knew how to drive all right when he kept his mind to driving.

"Do you notice how much cooler it is out here?" he asked presently.

"Much cooler," she agreed. "I wonder if the rain is going to last all evening. The sky doesn't seem any lighter."

"You can't tell about these summer storms. Anyhow, the longer it lasts the more pleased some people will be."

"Our garden needs it," Gypsy began and then she stopped. She wished she had not come for this foolish drive. She should have waited until the storm was over or taken a taxi. Now she was doing the very thing for which she had condemned Jim.

Suddenly she wondered if Frank Gibson had heard gossip about her and Jim. Was that why he had suggested the drive? Was that why he looked at her with that smile that seemed to say more than it should? She had always heard men were worse gossips than women.

"I think," Gypsy said, "that we should be turning back now."

"All right. Just as you say. We'll turn at the next crossroads."

Silence settled between them.

Gypsy was thinking about Jim and Marcia. She would talk to Jim after dinner that evening. It must all be settled very quickly. She began to plan what she would say.

Afterward she could never tell exactly what had happened. There was the moment when she saw the other car swerve crazily. Gibson swore. Gypsy felt the coupe reel and screamed.

She had never seen the man who was bending over her. He had a round face and wore spectacles.

"Do you think," he was saying, "that if I help you you can stand?"

Gypsy moved and a twinge of pain shot through her left foot. She discovered that she was lying on the ground. A man's coat was under her and her clothing was half-drenched. The rain was still falling.

"What—what happened?" she asked in a small voice.

"Another car crashed into yours. How do you feel now?"

"My foot hurts." Gypsy told him. "The left one." She tried to draw herself up to sitting position but the movement brought a quick exclamation of pain.

"Here—let me take your arm," the man said. "See if we can't make it easier. Are you ready now?"

Gently he lifted her. The left foot ached but Gypsy set her lips and endured it. Her shoulder pained her too. She looked down and saw that her arm was bleeding.

"That's nothing," the stranger said, noting her glance, "just a scratch. Pretty badly jolted aren't you? Don't try to stand on that foot! Lean against me."

The girl did as she was told. Her entire body seemed to be a mass of aches and bruises. She was cold. Now she was beginning to remember what had happened.

The brown coupe sprawled in the ditch at the side of the road. A few yards back stood a large touring car.

Where is Mr. Gibson?" she asked. "Was he—hurt?"

The man nodded toward a figure at the other side of the coupe. "Your friend seems to be knocked out," he said. "If we can get you into my car I'll see what I can do—"

Cautiously, leaning on the stranger's arm, Gypsy limped toward the touring car. There were questions she wanted to ask but it was all the girl could do to set her teeth and endure the agony.

"Think we'd better get you to a doctor," the man said as he noted the grimace when she settled herself in the rear seat of the touring car. "That foot pains a lot, doesn't it?"

She nodded. "You'd better — go back to—Mr. Gibson—"

A tall figure in clothing that had once been white came hobbling toward them. The stranger turned.

"Well! You look all right. I thought you'd taken the county!"

Gibson rubbed his head. "What was the damn fool trying to do?" he grumbled. "Kill us? Where's his car?"

The stranger shook his head. "The other fellow didn't even stop," he said. "Must have been drunk judging from the way he was driving. I was behind and saw him weaving from one side of the road to the other. Crash must have come when I was on the other side of the hill .I didn't see it. When I got here the other car was way down the road and yours was in the ditch."

"Roadster, wasn't it?" Gibson asked. "I didn't have a chance. The idiot deliberately ran into us." He burst into vigorous profanity.

"My name's Mason," the other man volunteered. "Fred Mason. I live in Somerset. The young lady seems to have hurt her foot badly and I think she ought to get to a doctor."

"Are you hurt, Mrs. Wallace?" Gibson demanded, for the first time showing interest in the girl.

"It's my ankle. The left one," she told him. "Otherwise I guess I'm all right."

"You'd better let me take you two into Forest City," Mason suggested. "You'll have to have help with that car anyhow. Looks to me like a bad smash-up."

"Looks like a wreck all right," Gibson agreed. "I'm Frank Gibson, Mr. Mason, and this is Mrs. Wallace. If you could take her back to town and let me off at the nearest farm house it would certainly be a big favor. I can telephone the garage and get someone out here before dark—"

Mason nodded. "O. K. with me," he said. The two men climbed into the front seat of the touring car and Mason started the engine. In 10 minutes they drew up beside a farm house. Gibson walked to the door and knocked. A moment later someone answered. He waved, signaling the others to go on, and entered the house.

Gypsy's foot was throbbing. At every jerk and jolt as the car moved along she clenched her fists and tried to keep from crying out. Tears came into her eyes and she did not bother to brush them away. Sometimes the pain was so great she could not help moaning.

As they neared the city limits Mason turned. "Where do you want me to take you, Mrs. Wallace?"

"I'd like to go to my home," she said, and gave him the address.

"Don't you think you'd better stop at a doctor's office?"

"No, thank you. All I want is to get home!" She leaned back and closed her eyes. If only this would prove to be a nightmare! If only she could open her eyes and find that the hideous afternoon had been a dream!

It was not a dream. The pain in her foot told her that. She looked out and discovered that the rain had stopped. Dusk was gathering. It must be nearly six o'clock.

"This the place?" Mason asked, slowing the car before a brick dwelling.

"No. The next house. There's a driveway leading in."

A moment later the car halted. Mason got out but before he had reached the porch the front door opened. Jim Wallace appeared.

"Who is it you wanted to see?" Jim asked. He looked at the car. "Gypsy—!" he exclaimed excitedly. "What's happened? What's the matter?"

"Mrs. Wallace was in an accident," Mason explained. "I came along a few minutes later and she asked me to bring her here. I'm afraid one of her ankles may be broken or badly sprained. You'd better call a doctor."

Jim Wallace rushed past him. "Tell me what happened, Gypsy," he demanded.

"It's — nothing, Jim I'll be all right."

He helped her from the car, his arm around her. For an instant she steadied herself against him, looking up into his face.

"It's nothing," she repeated in a weak voice. Immediately she fainted.

Cotton Prices Develop Upward Swings Livestock Steers, Yearlings On Steady Trends Grain Renewed Vigor Seen In Grains

Cotton

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 18. (AP)—The cotton market was quite active today, particularly in the afternoon and prices developed a good upward swing due to good cables, higher stocks and wheat and the reduction in the bank of England rate. Following a slight early dip of 1 to 2 points, prices pointed upward and in the final trading showed gains over the early lows of 14 to 15 points. The close was firm and at the top, the general market showing net advances for the day of 11 to 14 points.

The close was the most active in months. Prices made the highs of the day right at the end with May at 7.10, July at 7.29 and October at 7.45, up 14 to 15 points from the early lows. The close was at the top, the most active months showing net gains of 11 to 13 points for the day.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Feb. 18. (AP)—Cotton was generally higher today on a continuation of the recent buying movement which received fresh stimulus from firmness in Liverpool and the strength of the stock and grain markets.

May contracts advanced from 6.97@7.06 and closed at that figure, with the general market closing very steady at net gains of 11 to 14 points. The market reached the highest prices of the day in the late trading with March at 6.91 and October at 7.49, or 12 to 15 points net higher.

Bulls Hold Balance Of Power; Stocks Given Upturn During Afternoon Trade

BY JOHN I. COOLEY
Associated Press Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Feb. 18. (AP)—Bulls held the balance of power in today's stock market, giving prices a sharp afternoon turnup which lifted representative leaders 1 to 5 points net. Turnover, however, was the smallest in a week, amounting to 1,668,115 shares.

Early heaviness of the rails, which sympathized with a 6-point break in Southern Pacific, and little noticeable effect elsewhere and utilities and industrials generally ranged above the previous close even at their lowest. This resistance doubtless encouraged resumption of the advance, with the result that most carrier stocks more than recovered their declines.

Perhaps the market anticipated a cut in the rediscount rate following the Bank of England's reduction, but there was no change here. About a month ago Wall street was confidently expecting a lower rate at the New York reserve bank, but there have since been substantial gold losses and the directors doubtless felt a change could wait until the credit expansion measure has become law.

any defense to the plaintiffs' suit."

The decision further declared the military power of the state is subordinate to the civil and the military "can not in any state or case take the initiative or assume to do anything independent of the civil authorities.

"Ours is a government of civil, not military, forces," the decision held. "The militia in active service and in every emergency that arises in such service is subordinate to the civil powers. The soldier and the citizen stand alike under the law. Both must obey its commands, and be obedient to its mandates—we are not willing to concede that in any exigency that may arise the military is superior to the civil authorities."

calling for the repeal of the eighteenth amendment but we have reached the point where it is not a question of beer and booze but one of bread and butter."

He asserted present governmental efforts to effect economic reconstruction would "only prevent a few big banks from breaking and will not feed the hungry or help the farmer realize any more money on his crops.

"The great corporations control the Republican party and they want to control the Democratic party, too," he continued. "You can prevent that by going to your precinct caucuses and sending men to your county, state, and national conventions who represent the principles in which you believe.

"Do that and we will capture the Democratic party. Then we will put through a program that will restore the government to the people."

Rich Oil Land

to the land on which is located the Yates oil field, one of the most prolific producers in the world. Yates held title under grant from the state.

Sold To Yates

The state sold the land to Yates and others after land office showed a vacancy. The state vacancy existed between block 194 and the Pecos river survey.

When oil was discovered several years later, the right of the state to sell the land was contested, Whiteside and others claiming no vacancy existed and that the eastern sections of block 194 did not receive their full acreage quotas.

In his decision, Judge Wheeler declared the state land office surveys were accurate and that the vacancy had existed as claimed by the state.

Grain

FORT WORTH GRAIN

FORT WORTH, Feb. 18. (AP) — Cash grain demand, good.

Quotations were as follows, basis carloads, freight paid, delivered Texas Gulf ports, export rate, or group three points: Wheat, No. 1 ordinary hard milling 60 3-4@62 1-4; No. 1 hard 13 per cent protein 61 3-4@62 3-4; 14 per cent 62 3-4@64 3-4; 15 per cent 66 3-4@68 3-4; 16 per cent 67 1-4@73 3-4; sorghums, No. 2 milo or kafir, per 100 lbs. 72@73.

Delivered Texas group one points: Corn, No. 2 mixed 40@42; No. 2 white 41@42; No. 2 yellow 48@49.

Delivered group three points: Oats, No. 2 red 23@24 1-2.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Feb. 18. (AP)—Advances took the place of retreats in grain values today, with wheat especially showing evidences of renewed vigor.

Indications that wheat import restraints in Germany and other European countries would soon be modified helped to augment speculative buying. There were unconfirmed advices that Germany and France had purchased some hard winter wheat to be shipped from the United States.

Wheat closed unsettled at about the day's top level, 7-8 to 1 1-8 higher than yesterday's finish, corn 3-8 to 3-4 up, oats unchanged to 1-4 advance, and provisions 2 to 15 cents down.

War Forces

no intention of acceding to them. Officials described the communication as "intolerable and absolutely in a ceptable" and General Tsai Ting-Kai, commander of the defense forces, said "I am ready to fight if the government orders me to."

The Japanese commander-in-chief's statement stipulated the Chinese army cease firing and decamp; that the forts at Woosung and Paoshan and the arsenal at Lungwha be dismantled and no defenses erected; that the Chinese retreat convoyed by Japanese planes; that the activities of Chinese "irregulars" in Shanghai be stopped; that the lives and property of Japanese citizens be guaranteed against harm.

Artillery In Action

The ultimatum followed a breakdown in renewed peace negotiations participated in by American Minister Nelson T. Johnson and the British and French ministers and was itself followed by resumption of an artillery engagement in the Chapei sector.

The Japanese informally presented the terms which they later embodied in the formal note and the Chinese rejected them even at that point. The defending army could be withdrawn only if the invaders retired simultaneously, it was said, and as for the other stipulations they were entirely outside the jurisdiction of the military.

While the parley was going on the roar of cannon could be heard from the shambles of Chapei and an intermittent bombardment from both the Chinese and Japanese guns convinced the negotiators hopes of peace still were unfounded.

Thousands Are Massed

If the ultimatum finally is rejected observers expect to witness the long overdue major offensive by the Japanese expeditionary force. They have concentrated an army of at least 25,000 men in this vicinity and have a fleet of warships in the river, manned by some 5,000 bluejackets, with which they are ready to go into action.

The Chinese too have been preparing for a death struggle and conservative figures placed their soldiers at 50,000. For the past few days they had been buttressing their lines and reinforcing their defenses to withstand a mass attack. They have airplanes at hand and an extensive aerial engagement may turn the tide of battle.

Legion's Plan Being Studied

Congressman Marvin Jones To Take Matter Up With Military Affairs Committee At National Capital

Proposal of the Allen Brothers post of the American Legion to offer voluntary enlistment in the army and navy to unemployed men and to use unemployment funds for building of cantonments which could be converted into hospitals for poor has been presented by Congressman Marvin Jones to the military affairs committee.

A letter from Jones to Judge Clark M. Mullican was read at the meeting of the post last night. Jones wrote, in part:

"Personally, while I do not see the necessity of a great standing army, I do feel that full and adequate provision should be made for the national guard and reserve units, and citizens training camps, believing as I do that this is the best form of national defense. I also believe in a thoroughly adequate navy.

Suggestion Interesting

"Your suggestion (offered by the post in resolution form) as to enlistment of the unemployed is a very interesting one and I shall be glad to talk this matter over with members of the military affairs committee."

The ex-service men last night voted to start an intensive membership drive Monday. Plans were made to place machine gun nests down as part of the drive.

Judge Mullican, in speaking last night, urged that legionnaires, and citizens stand together. He decried criticism of government officials. The Lubbock jurist expressed pleasure that the LaFollette measure for $750,000,000 as a dole had been voted down. He said he favored another bill for the same sum, which the government was to have loaned to the states, which in turn would have the money loaned to needy persons. This money was to have been repaid. This proposal also has been voted down, he said.

H. H. Bidwell was chairman of the entertainment committee. Mrs. L. J. Von Tungeln and the girls' junior high school glee club gave four numbers.

Directing the membership drive which opens Monday are J. A. Raley, jr., Tom Carter, Lloyd Johnson and W. H. Waln.

Rubbing Oil Best For Neuritis

You Don't Catch Cold

When you use Emerald Oil to banish the sharp twinges, the unbearable pain of neuritis, you need have no fear that you will catch cold after it and make more trouble for yourself.

Emerald Oil positively does not "leave your pores open." Its penetrating, soothing warmth seems to soak right down through the tissues to the very seat of your pain. Without leaving a thick coat of grease on your skin! Your skin isn't a bit sensitive after it, so you can use it freely any hour of the day or night.

Emerald Oil isn't greasy and does not stain, but it banishes pain almost INSTANTLY. Money back any time it fails, says Bowen's Drug and Bowen's Hilton Pharmacy. —Adv.

Credit Expansion Bill Is Headed For Passage Today

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18. (AP)—The credit expansion bill rode the waves of senate oratory today headed to certain passage but impeded by too many laudatory friends.

More than five hours of talk which included much criticism of the bankers as timid and fearful, failed to bring a word of opposition to the measure itself. Leaders were confident tomorrow will bring passage of the bill, which is intended to bulwark the banks of the nation with the vast resources of the federal reserve system.

Included in the German postoffice department are the government-owned telephone, telegraph, radio and postal bank services.

Garner Group To Hold Meet

Permanent Organization Will Be Made Here Saturday; All Supporters Of Speaker Are Urged To Attend Session

Permanent organization of a "Garner-for-President club" will be made here Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock when supporters of the Texas Speaker of the House of Representatives will hold a meeting in the district courtroom in the courthouse.

A preliminary meeting was held last Saturday, resulting in the elections of James H. Goodman as temporary chairman, and J. A. Humphries as temporary secretary. Much interest was shown and several short talks were made.

Proud Of Garner

"We, of Texas, can boast of having the only speaker the Southwest has ever had," Mr. Humphries said in announcing Saturday's meeting. "It now appears that the Democrats of the nation are turning to Garner of Texas to lead the great host of Democracy to victory in the 1932 campaign. Let us of Lubbock county not lag in our duty to support the man and measures that will make better our economic and political welfare. John Garner is fitted by location and training as no other man for this chief executive's position."

Proposal To Build Abernathy Water System Being Talked

ABERNATHY, Feb. 18.—Members of the chamber of commerce here are talking about a proposal to build a water system for Abernathy or to give a franchise to a utility company for one.

T. R. Price, representing the Texas Utilities company, appeared before the chamber of commerce to discuss the project. His company is prepared to go further into the matter in case the city officials desire it.

Similarly, negotiations have been started with representatives of the Santa Fe.

Abernathy does not have a city water or sewer system. The town has only a limited water supply from a well located near the business section. This well supplies business concerns and one or two residences near the center of the town.

Lamesa Operates On A Cash Basis

LAMESA, Feb. 18.—The city of Lamesa is meeting all of its bills promptly and is operating now largely on the receipts of its municipal water department.

"We are on a cash basis and the receipts of the water department, above the expenses, are enough to take care of our general needs," Mayor J. R. Lowrie explained.

"What tax receipts we get are being turned into the interest and sinking funds. I think we will be able to get along without any deficiency warrants."

The water rate for Lamesa is one of the most favorable on the South Plains, and is lower than the Lubbock rate. Three thousand gallons a month is billed at $1.50. Each additional thousand gallons carries a rate of 25 cents or less, depending upon the amount consumed.

More than enough is received to meet operating expenses.

The tax roll brings into the city's coffers around $36,000 each year.

South Plains Grower Is Planning To Sell His Certified Seed This Year

By Staff Correspondent

LEVELLAND, Feb. 18. — One South Plains certified grain sorghum grower George C. Beakley, of the Highland Seed farm here, is planning the sale of his certified seed this year in his own containers, put up on his farm and sacked in cotton bags bearing his own imprint.

The bags, each with a 25 pound capacity, have been received. They are white, with the printed text in red. A map of Texas, showing the location of Levelland, is prominently displayed. Mr. Beakley has his name, address and farm name printed in red also on the front.

Furnishes Booklet

"I am furnishing with each sack a booklet telling about the seed and how and when to plant the different kinds," Mr. Beakley said. "Each bag will bear a state certified seed tag, the red tag that insures protection to buyers.

"After considerable investigation I decided that the best size of bag is 25 pounds. If dealers have 100 pound bags and a farmer only wants 25 pounds, or 50 pounds, the dealer will break the bag and there will be a chance of getting seed mixed. It seems to me that a farmer ought to be able to buy at least 25 pounds."

Variety Is Grown

Mr. Beakley grows dwarf yellow milo, hegari, shumac cane, Texas Blackhull kafir and Creamhul Sudan. He has a large acreage of grain sorghums and is one of the more than score of state certified growers.

From 28 acres of sumac cane Mr. Beakley harvested an average of 1,500 pounds per acre, or 42,000 pounds. "My maize threshed out a ton of seed to the acre," he said.

THEY WERE TALKING ABOUT SMOKING . . . whether girls should or should not smoke; but it came out that all three of them had been smoking for a long time.

They were asking each other what made a good cigarette. And after discussing one thing and another, they agreed that a cigarette should be milder.

They thought also that it should taste just right—that is, not over-sweet, but on the other hand, not bitter—just sweet enough.

And everybody, they said, wants anything that is placed in the mouth just as pure as can be.

Then they began to think what cigarette, if any, filled this bill; and agreed that CHESTERFIELD was milder—tasted better—and was pure. The girls were satisfied, because "They Satisfy."
