Schools To Have Important Role In Bond Drive

According to an announcement from Ed DuBose, county chairman of the Seventh War Loan Drive, work will begin in the very near future on the county's drive, with a possibility of it starting the latter part of this week here.

Reports from DuBose indicate that between April 9 and May 9, the drive will center around Dawson County Schools, and school officials and students will be asked to cooperate wholeheartedly in the campaign. Several awards to those selling the most E bonds will be given.

Chairman DuBose states that captured German equipment will be secured for prizes, and reports that probably some cash prizes and bonds will be other awards.

Letters signed by General Dwight Eisenhower and Gen. Patton will also be presented to outstanding bond sellers in the big Seventh War Loan Drive.

He states further that Henry Norris and J. D. McPhaul have been selected to head the Lamesa portion of the drive, and community chairmen and quotas will be announced soon.

The over-all quota for Dawson County has been set at $750,000 and the E bond quota assessed the area is placed at $445,000, an increase over past E bond quotas. All series E, F, and G bond sales made between April 9 and July 7, will be counted in on the drive.

It is especially important that the E bond quota be met, according to Chairman DuBose, who states that every effort will be put forth to complete the quota in the early stages of the campaign.

In order to present this Infantry show effectively, a large number of tree branches and boughs will be needed, and anyone in the county who plans to trim their trees is asked to contact J. R. Earnest, who is helping with the Seventh War Loan Drive. Your trimmings can be used in the Infantry Show, and arrangements will be made to collect them.

Pat Leslie Aten, Electrician Mate Third Class, is the 23 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Grover C. Aten, who entered the Navy September 30, 1942. He received his training in San Diego, California and St. Louis, Missouri, and for some time was stationed at Key West, Florida. For several months he has been on sea duty in the Pacific area. Seaman Aten attended the Lamesa High School, where he was a member of the football team, and graduated in 1939 from O'Donnell High School. Prior to his entry into the Navy he did general cable work in Oakland, California. A brother, Cpl. Buford Aten, was recently reported killed on Iwo Jima volcano islands.

A feature of the drive has already been announced. It is planned for an Infantry Show to be brought to Lamesa on June 1 to stimulate bond sales.

A personnel of 35 men are to be included in the show, and they will demonstrate usages of the newest types of weapons for the war, and show how pillboxes are taken.

All these men are to be veterans of the present conflict, and will be able to present a particularly informative program.

Plan now to support the big Seventh War Loan Drive. These drives have been staged in the past to help gain funds for carrying on the war to a victorious end, and have been successful.

You will want to help put Dawson County over the top in bond purchases by supporting the drive to the utmost of your ability.

Dean Describes Car of Tomorrow

By DAVE WILKIE
Associated Press Automobile Editor
CAMBRIDGE, Mass — The modern automobile, in the opinion of Dr. George Russell Harrison, dean of science at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, is a "complex monument to scientific frustration." The noted dean, whose school has produced many of the automobile industry's leading engineers, believes some fundamental discoveries regarding matter and electricity will change the whole conception of automobile designing. Though he does not profess to know when that time will arrive, he visualizes a car powered wholly by electricity and driven by a small motor on each wheel. Taking the modern automobile apart, Dr. Harrison says: "It consists of a comfortably stuffed wagon loaded down with gadgets. "The present gasoline engine will not start itself, so we add an electric motor. This cannot suck energy from gasoline, so it needs a source of power of its own, and we add a battery. This must be charged, so an electric generator is added. Since this generator at times delivers too much current, we provide it with a cutout. . . . "How much simpler it would be to run the whole car with electric power—then we could throw away the radiator with its thermostats

The Proposed City Charter Is Being Sent Lamesa Voters

It is called to the attention of all Lamesa voters by the city council, that a copy of the proposed charter which was recently prepared as the new document setting forth rules and regulations by which to govern the city of Lamesa has been mailed to all voters. Should you fail to receive a copy of the proposed charter, you are urged to call at the City Hall for the document. Persons above poll tax paying age, and people under 21 years of age on January 1st, are asked to call at the office for their copies. These documents should be studied previous to the May election, at which time Lamesa citizens will be asked to cast their votes to decide whether the new form of government will be adopted here.

and anti-freeze, the ignition system, engine, muffler, clutch, transmission, and differential—in fact almost everything except chassis and wheels.

"Then we need only mount a small motor on each wheel, and operate these from a central storage battery.

Why does not this remarkable new motor vehicle, in which other inventors have unfortunately anticipated me by a few years, sweep gasoline-operator cars from the highways? Merely because of one fact — one pound of gasoline will give more than 20 times as much energy as one pound of the most fully charged storage battery we yet know how to make.

"Develop a storage battery which will drive a car 200 miles on one charge, yet weighs no more than half an engine plus 15 gallons of gas and the job is done.

"Does anyone believe that the lead storage battery is the lightest that ever will be discovered? Edison didn't think so, and if anyone else does, they might have a clue to a battery for better and cheaper cars."

Before Aachen fell to American forces, more than 300,000 105-mm shells in addition to other ammunition were poured into the city.

Library Goes To People

Good reading is reaching the rural people of Midland County as the result of a plan for distributing books and periodicals worked out by the county librarian and County Home Demonstration Agent Dalton B. Hall. Using the Valley View community to illustrate how the plan works, Miss Hall reports that the librarian arranged to leave a selection of books at the school house at intervals. The building now is used only for meetings of the local home demonstration club, Red Cross serving and other community gatherings.

The home demonstration club took the responsibility for keeping a record of the books, and appointed one of its members to have charge of checking the volumes in and out on days when other groups use the building. On the meeting day of the home demonstration club, the assistant librarian accompanies Miss Hall to the former school building and takes charge of lending or receiving books and magazines returned, and taking requests for others.

The library personnel is lending further assistance for the entertainment of rural people. Twice monthly, Miss Hall says, the assistant librarian accompanies her to the Prairie Lee school where she tells stories to the smaller children while the girls' 4-H Club meeting is being held. "The teachers are well pleased with this arrangement," Miss Hall observes, "and mothers in the community report that their children are profiting from the practice."

Mrs. Snyder, Red Cross Worker, Has Varied Duties

Editor's Note: The following letter was written by Mrs. R. A. Snyder, who is employed in Walker Reed General Hospital, Army Medical Center, Washington, D. C. Accompanying the letter was a most interesting description of a visit to Mrs. McLean's mansion in Washington. Mrs. Snyder, who is a Red Cross worker, is the daughter of Mrs. Leah Higginbotham of Lamesa. She is the former Miss Toylee McClendon, and taught in the Lamesa Schools several years ago. The letter is as follows:

March 21

I got your letter yesterday and also the paper this morning. Haven't had time to read all the details but did look at the pictures and read some of the shorter descriptions. Heavens, it must have been simply terrible. Hard to imagine such damage in Texas. That paper I want to show to the workers here who are constantly surprised when I say it gets cold in Texas. They all have visions of balmy breezes everywhere there. The other day one of the executives asked if I had ever seen snow before I came up here, and was wide eyed when I told her what kind of weather we have there in the winter.

Summer has certainly arrived here—much too soon to suit most of us. All last week the temperature hung in the upper 80s. Awfully sticky, depressing kind of heat. I certainly dread the really hot weather. The trees are all budding here and many predict the cherry blossoms will be out for Easter (even as early as it is this year) if another freeze doesn't get them. I surely wish you could be up here to see them when they are in full bloom. I have never seen anything more beautiful.

We stay so busy these days I hardly have time to decide how I feel. Almost every day now brings one or two large convoys of new patients. They mostly are being flown directly here from the European theatre and of course each convoy means many hours of physical and mental exertion on the part of the Red Cross staff. We eat, sleep and dream convoys. We are at least getting the full horrors of war in every way. It is discouraging and heartbreaking and yet it inspires one to forget all about petty illnesses and redouble all efforts to help in some way. I'm working from 8 to 16 hours a day and of course can't hope to regain weight or strength on that schedule but each day I feel much better and more able to take it. Still going to the doctor twice weekly for treatments and taking pills and tablets and liquids every day, but my work is so absorbing that I don't take much time out to think about all that.

Golly, I wish I could get away from all this for a few weeks and come out there and gather eggs, watch the turkeys to their nests, cut weeds along the garden fence, fuss about how hot the kitchen is in summer—in short just live the peaceful, every-day life as we did before the world hit this bloody whirlpool. All that type of living seems a million years ago and on another planet. Nothing now seems real but anesthetics, mangled bodies, the terrible odor from leg casts, day and night shifts of overworked doctors and nurses and hospital attendants. Grab the paper and read the headlines hurriedly, turn on the radio to see if they have crossed the river, dash out to a nearby hamburger stand for a sandwich and cup of coffee because you have gotten so tired of army chow you can't stand another meal of it, take a sleeping powder and go to bed only to see the faces of the boys who just arrived in the latest convoy and were in great pain, decide you must get away from it all before you go batty and grab a taxi to go downtown for dinner and a movie—only to find you are too tired to eat when the food comes and you can't see the movie for thinking about all the things you should be doing back at the hospital. It is all sort of a nightmare life, and yet I don't know of a single person here who would quit for anything in the world. We are all anxious for it all to end so we are no longer needed but no one could think of walking out now.

The only thing which makes it endurable at times is the fact that we now and then take a bunch of convalescents out on parties of various kinds and for one brief afternoon or evening we sort of forget everything. Being here in the Capital does offer us more opportunities than other spots in the country. I have gone to several parties in the homes of socially prominent persons here, and also take a group of patients to the White House for tea almost every Sunday afternoon. Last Saturday night I went to one of the most interesting affairs yet. It was in the home of Mrs. Evelyn Wash McLean, the third wealthiest person in the U. S. and the number one social leader of Washington. Her millions were made from silver mines in South America and she spends much of it on beautiful jewelry and rare things from all over the world. She owns the famous Hope diamond (which she paid over two million dollars for). It was originally in the forehead of an idol in a temple in India. It was stolen from there and passed to various persons throughout Asia and Europe. The story goes that everyone who has touched it has died some sort of horrible death. Mrs. McLean has had it for about fifteen years now and she does not fear it — because she says she has had it blessed by the Pope and now the curse and blessing can just fight it out between themselves. It is dark blue and about the size of the top of a Vick's salve box. It is made into a necklace and while we were there she passed it freely about for us to look at but asked everyone not to put their fingers on it—because of the curse. She is not afraid to touch it herself but doesn't like for others to. Of course most of the fellows did anyway, when she wasn't looking. In fact many of them wore it around their necks during the evening. I wrote Dick the details of the evening and thought you might be interested in it too so I made a carbon copy. I'll send it along. When you have read it you might send it on to Mother as she might be interested in it too. Don't have another copy.

Well, it is time to go to work. Don't think I have forgotten you when I don't write often. I think of you two more than anyone and of all the good times I have had there with you all. Even Dick can't compete with my memories of you, because I've shared more experiences with Mother and with you two than I have with him. So when I'm tired I usually think of Texas rather than of Pennsylvania. Get so dogged homesick when I have time to think about it—which isn't very often, thank goodness.

Thanks for sending the paper, and also for your letters.

Love,
TOYLEE.

Shoe Rationing Extended Over All Infant Sizes

Shoe rationing will be extended May 1 to include the entire size range of infants' leather shoes—an action taken to help build up critically needed supplies of infants' leather shoes in the larger sizes already rationed. Defense OPA Shoe Rationing Officer Oscar J. Walker has announced.

At present rationing covers infants' leather shoes in sizes 4 1-2 to 8 the size range most babies need when they begin to walk. There is an acute shortage of these sizes in many sections of the country. The new provisions will put the smaller size 0 to 4, which are in relatively plentiful supply and are worn chiefly by infants in arms, on the rationed list beginning May 1.

Largely because sizes 0 to 4 have not been rationed, demand for them has soared out of proportion to actual needs. The result has been that these shoes have absorbed too much of the manpower and production facilities and too much of the scarce types of leather suitable for making the much more urgently needed toddler's sizes, Walker explained.

It was emphasized that only infants' shoes using leather will be affected by the new provision and that it is believed that non-leather types of shoes should be adequate to take care of the footwear needs of infants not yet at the walking stage.

Walker also stated that inclusion of the infants' smaller size leather shoes on the rationed list was suggested by the industry itself.

According to a furlough report from the Public Relations Office, Dallas, Cpl. Thurman D. Phillips, has returned from thirty months overseas in the European Theater of Operations where he served with the 12th Air Force.

While overseas he served as a sheet metal worker with the air crew.

Cpl. Phillips arrived at Ft. Bliss prior to visiting his mother, Mrs. H. G. Phillips, who resides on Route 4 in this county.

Baseball is not a sport according to the laws of Missouri, New Mexico and Tennessee, while in Oklahoma it is considered a "public sport" and all who engage in it on Sunday are liable to prosecution.

First Lieutenant Marshall Formby of McAdoo, now stationed in Paris with the Chief Engineer's office, welcomed the visiting Texans to the French Capitol at the meeting.

Vaudeville's Back — With Napkins

AP Newsfeatures
NEW YORK — Vaudeville's corpse is picking up again — in dozens of New York cafes and nightspots where entertaining waiters dish out song and dance along with more solid fare.

The entertaining waiter, a modern version of the old singing waiter, does more than just sing. Years ago, he was a vaudeville performer, maybe a headliner. Today, he's playing an instrument, dancing, spinning yarns, and singing for your supper.

But like vaudeville itself singing-waiting isn't what it used to be.

"Years ago," says white-haired Eddie Delaney, former vaudevillian singing waiter, and now business manager of New York's Entertaining Waiters' Association, "things were different. It was a better business. A singing waiter didn't have to bother with food. You put a rubber sandwich on the table, and three months later it was still there. People ordered a beer, or a highball — one of these fancy-sounding modern drinks."

Employment of singing waiters has gone up since the Entertaining Waiters' Association was formed in 1936. Eddie says, to help former vaudevillians get jobs. It started out with 200 members, and today has about 1,000 on the rolls, although all but 80 are in the armed forces.

The "boys" (as Eddie calls them) who are left are mostly in their 60's, and can net about $60 a week. They get a minimum of $25 for a six-day week, and make the rest in tips. Ten dollars was the weekly minimum when the association was formed in 1936, and that was ten more than singing waiters were paid previously.

Survey of Food Preservation Prospects Made

Home preservation of foods in 1945 is more necessary than last year, due to a combination of war-time circumstances.

Inventories in home pantries and in stores are considerably less than last year, and in addition there will be considerably more demand for processed foods from the armed services and from lend-lease. Higher point values of many foods this year also may prove an incentive to many families, in the opinion of Mrs. Winifred J. Leverenz, specialist in food preservation for the A. & M. College Extension Service.

With these facts in mind, the average family needs to arrange now for the sources of its food, such as a Victory garden or a poultry flock. The average family eats half of its food fresh and half preserved. About 125 containers, or 300 pounds of food, should be stored for each person in the family, and these figures should be taken into account in the family planning, Mrs. Leverenz says.

She urges homemakers to include plenty of canned or frozen meat, fruit, and vegetables in the diet, rather than putting up a preponderance of pickles, relishes, preserves, and jellies. Last year's reports showed most families are planning more balanced food preservation budgets than before the war, and this is most encouraging she says.

On the whole, the outlook for equipment and supplies in the preservation field is fairly promising. There will be less sugar than last year, but enough to get by on. Tin cans and glass jars are expected to be plentiful and the jar closures available now are superior to those manufactured earlier in the war. Pressure cookers will continue to be scarce, and practically no new sealers will be offered to the public. Mrs. Leverenz says this means more people will have to can together, share equipment, or take advantage of community food preservation centers.

'Juke Box' Puts On Quiz Show

AP Newsfeatures

OTTOMWA, Iowa — A cross between a juke box and a pinball machine is used at the naval air station here to teach flight students ship and aircraft recognition, aviation safety, and general navy lore.

The device, an "automatic recorder," is a mechanical quizmaster with 400 sets of multiple choice questions printed on cards containing six possible answers to each question. They move at 20-second intervals before a glass-enclosed space in a manner similar to a juke box swinging records into place. To indicate the correct answer the testee pushes one of six buttons.

Flashing lights and buzzers indicate elapsed time as the student makes up his mind which answer is correct. When his choice is made, more lights indicate whether it is correct or not and the machine, taking into account the elapsed time of the answers and the correctness, automatically computes the student's score as a pin-ball machine would record scores.

Q. I was just discharged from the Army. Some people tell me that I have 40 days in which to apply for my old job and some say 90. Who is right?

A. You have 90. Last December the time limit for applying for reinstatement in former positions under the Selective Service Training and Service Act of 1940 was extended from 40 to 90 days.

Q. Is there any way that we could represent the number of honorably discharged veterans in our organization, just as we show the number of our men in the service on our service flag?

A. Yes. The same flag is used. The War Department has announced that honorably discharged veterans may be represented on the service flag by a design in gold cloth similar to the lapel button worn by such veterans. When used, it replaces the blue star on the flag. When both servicemen and veterans are represented on the same flag, the discharge insignia replaces stars nearest the fly end of the flag.

Q. Can an illegitimate child receive a family allowance from his father in the service?

A. Yes. If the service man declares in writing that the child is his, if the court declares that he is the child's father, or if the court orders him to contribute to the child's support, a family allowance in favor of the child will be paid.

GEOLOGISTS ELECT NEW OFFICERS—These men will direct activities of The American Association of Petroleum Geologists during the coming year. They were elected at a business committee session in Tulsa, Okla. Seated on the left is Ira H. Oram, Chicago, retiring president and now a member of the executive committee. Facing him is M. G. Cheney, Coleman, Texas, new president. Standing, left to right, are: Edward Koester, Wichita Kan., secretary; Gayle Scott, Ft. Worth, editor of the associations Bulletin; and M. G. Gulley, Pittsburgh, Pa., new vice-president.

Seed Treatment Increases Yield

Treating cotton seed shortly before planting with proved chemical preparations is an inexpensive approach to putting more cotton per acre in the sack, says E. A. Miller, agronomist for the A. and M. College Extension Service.

Obtaining a better stand is another benefit, especially if conditions are unfavorable for a quick germination. In addition the treatment tends to reduce damage from damping off and other seedling disease as well as injury to plants from angular leaf spot and bacterial boll rot.

Test covering two years at the Temple sub-station with ceresan, arasan, spergon, yellow cuprocid and other proved chemicals gave an average yield increase of 168 pounds of seed cotton an acre with fuzzy seed at an expense of about 10 cents an acre for chemicals, Miller says.

The chemical may be applied to the planting seed either with a commercial seed-treating machine or improvising one from a container with a tight-fitting lid, such as an oil drum, arranged so that it can be revolved on an axis. Directions on the container of the chemical should be followed closely.

Seed treatment also achieves better germination for grain and sweet sorghums, and improved stands and yields for peanuts. If kernel smut is present in the seed of the two varieties of sorghum, treatment is imperative, Miller says. Treatment pays, too, even when smut is absent, especially with hegari and feterita which do not germinate well unless moisture and soil temperature conditions are favorable.

For treatment sprinkle two ounces of 10 per cent powdered copper carbonate, arasan or spergon, or three ounces of dusting sulphur per bushel on the seed and revolve it in a tight container until every seed receives a coating of powder. On peanuts, especially machine shelled seed, two ounces of arasan, or three ounces of two per cent seresan or spergon per 100 pounds give desired results. For planting on land not inoculated, the seed may be treated with spergon and then inoculated. But it should be planted within four hours after inoculation.

Plans Made For Boys State Meet Slated For June

Joe Spikes Boys State executive of this city, attended a meeting in Austin Saturday and Sunday, March 24 and 25, at which plans were made for the Boys State meeting to be held there from June 9 to 16.

On Saturday he met the board of directors and on Sunday met with advisors of the organization.

It is stated that present plans are to accommodate a maximum of 300 boys at the Boys State session which will be held in the State deaf and dumb school in Austin. An allotment of 15 boys has been set for each district in the state.

In order to qualify for attending the meeting a boy must have completed his junior year in school, and must never have attended a Boys State meeting before.

The Boys State is sponsored by the American Legion for the purpose of giving boys citizenship training.

Further announcements concerning the event will be made later.

Music Program Feature at Friday Rotary Meeting

A musical program under the direction of Richard Young, local bandmaster, was a feature of the Rotary Club program held Friday, April 30. The program consisted of a base horn solo given by Truitt Jones, a piano solo by Nancy Hollingsworth, a violin solo by H. L. Crouch, and a piano solo by Mrs. Richard Young.

In addition to the musical numbers of the program, H. L. Crouch gave a poem for memory. The poem was of his own composition, and was entitled "Tubs". It was reported to have been especially good.

Upon conclusion of the program, Rotary president Clyde Branon, announced the nominating committee for the club which will nominate officers for the next club year. The committee is composed of F. T. McCollum, chairman, Rev. D. J. Murray and Jack McLaughlin.

Visitors at the session were Leon Landin of Abilene, John Simmons of Sweetwater, Ted Chapman of Wichita, Kansas, and Electrician Mate Bewley who is visiting here on leave.

Priority Groups Only To Receive Passenger Tires

A preferential list of occupations for use in selecting persons to receive passenger car tires has been prepared by the Office of Price Administration in cooperation with the War Manpower commission, the district OPA announced today. This list will be used in channeling the reduced quota of tires to persons whose transportation needs are regarded as most essential to the war effort.

Under the new plan the number of eligibles is not reduced but classified into four preference groups for the aid of local War Price and Rationing boards in issuing tire certificates.

Establishment of priority groups is necessary because allocations by the Rubber bureau of the War Production board amounted to only 1,000,000 passenger tires to civilians in the nation for the month of April OPA said. This is less than 65 per cent of the 1,000,000 March quota and marks the first time since last May that the monthly quota has fallen below 1,500,000.

OPA added that, in accordance with regular tire eligibility standards, each individual tire applicant must establish his need for a tire even though he is rated in a high preference group.

Pfc. Nobe Briggs Is In The Burma Area

GENERAL SULTAN'S HEADQUARTERS, BURMA — A soldier from Lamesa, Private First Class Nobe A. Briggs, South Main Street, is a member of the Mars Task Force fighting the Japs in Burma who have made a record for foot slogging GI's in the other theaters of war to shoot at.

Since February 1944, these infantrymen, the only American ground combat unit in action in Southeast Asia, have marched more than 1,000 miles over what is described as some of the worst terrain in the world, to drive the Japs out of North Burma and down toward Lashio, starting point of the old Burma Road.

Volunteering for service with the Marauders during the early stages of the North Burma campaign, they marched more than 700 miles in four months, much of it through trackless jungle and mountains. In November the men, now part of the newly constituted Mars Force, hit the road again, and marched more than 300 miles, going into action at Tonkwa and again a month later in Central Burma, where they caught the Japs in a surprise attack on the Burma Road itself. The men participated in an action that resulted in the capture of the Jap strongpoint of Loi Kang, a village 2,500 feet above the floor of the Nosi Valley.

Manila: Almost Everybody's Battleground

AP Newsfeatures
BATTLES for Manila started in prehistoric times when waves of invaders in outrigger canoes swept into the islands. They have continued to the present with many of the world powers taking an amphibious hand.
 Fernando Magellan, although he never reached Manila, was killed in one of the barbaric wars which set town against town and tribe against tribe all over the islands.
 Ruy Lopez Legaspi captured Manila in 1571. The Chinese pirate, Limahong, failed to take it in 1774.
 Moro pirates menaced it for 250 years. The Portuguese opposed early Spanish occupation and the Spaniards fought several battles with the Dutch.
 One of the most important attacks against Manila never happened. Koxinga, Chinese empire builder demanded its surrender in 1662 but died before he could strike.
 British captured the city in 1762, then gave it back to Spain by treaty. Rebels threatened it in 1872 and again in 1896 prior to U. S. Adm. Dewey's attack in 1898.

Science Puts Lazy Eyes On the Spot

By H. W. BLAKESLEE
AP Science Editor
SOUTHBRIDGE, Mass. — An eye test to show a person when one of his eyes is too lazy to do its share of looking has been devised by the American Optical Co.
 Both eyes are supposed to work, but many people use one eye mainly, and in time this habit becomes fixed so that the single eye in use is always the same one, and the effect is like being one-eyed. Depth perception is poor.
Optical Homerun
 The new test uses four colored dots, set at the points of an imaginary diamond. The home base dot is white. Second base is red. First and third bases are green.
 The person looking at these dots wears a red spectacle over his right eye and a green one before his left eye. The right eye cannot see the green dots and the left cannot see the red ones, because the respective glasses blot them out.
 The person using only one eye to see, will think he sees three green dots, if he is using only his left eye. With the green glass over this eye he is seeing the two green dots and the white dot which appears as green. His right eye should be seeing the red dot at second base.
Seeing Spot
 If the left eye is the lazy, unseeing one, then the looker will see two red dots, the red second base, and the white home plate, which appears red through the red glass. The lazy left behind the green glass should be seeing two green dots, first and third bases, if it were on the job.

Wallpaper Money Helps To Curb French Inflation

AP Newsfeatures
PARIS — France is famous for its wallpaper money — great tissue shiplasters representing as little as ten cents — but curiously this may help the little men of France, now trying to make ends meet amid severe inflation.

The paper money tears and wears out easily. Being in small denominations, instead of being turned in at banks for new ones, bills often just disappear. That is the equivalent of the holder kicking that much back into the treasury. How much disappears this way would take a money census to find out. But, since the last census in 1857, until the German occupation, paper currency worth about three billion American dollars was issued. Occupation saw the presses turn out at least $10,000,000 a day to pay Nazi impositions.

It is estimated that perhaps a tenth of all the outstanding paper has been destroyed, thus helping keep money out of circulation and hampering inflation.

Treaty Article To Check Robots Made In Germany

By JAMES J. STREBIG
 AP Aviator Editor

WASHINGTON — State Department records show that Germany originated the proposal that nations agree not to fly pilotless aircraft over each other's territory without special permission.

Such an agreement was incorporated in the proposed treaty written at the 54-nation civil aviation conference in Chicago. The wording was identical with that put into the Paris Air Navigation Convention as revised in 1929.

The 1929 Paris meeting was called at the suggestion of Germany that, if certain changes were made in the 1919 Paris convention, it might be possible for the Reich to join. The record shows that Germany proposed the restriction on "robot" aircraft, and this and other changes became effective in 1933.

Actually, flying bombs are not covered by the article, since provision is made to suspend portions of the agreement in wartime. The Chicago delegates made some reference to robot bombs in discussing the provision, but their interest centered primarily on the possible interference with scheduled airline operations and the danger to persons and property in territory over which "blind" aircraft might be flown.

DRINKING STANCE IS RESEARCH PROJECT

LONDON (AP) — Behavior of the average citizen while drinking his pint or sipping a dry martini is under investigation by Thomas P. Bennett who has the strange job of wandering from pub to pub and getting paid for it.

Do Britons prefer to drink standing or sitting down? Mr. Bennett, architect responsible for the design of a large number of Britain's modern public houses, wants to know.

The general tendency, he finds, is to stand up in pubs which are in business areas and sit down in those in residential areas.

IS LIGHTNING ? ZIG-ZAG

YES NO

Old Jupiter's lightning was Z-shaped. Today's lightning-fast cameras prove that it really flashes beautiful curves. Shows how weather bears watching, and now in Spring, so does the car that must last you! It's time to drain unfit Winter oil, and you'll get far more than an oil change by having your engine's insides OIL-PLATED.

All you need is Conoco Nth motor oil to bond OIL-PLATING direct to working parts—really a built-on layer of lubricant. This special wear protection—a great research achievement—is surfaced to metal by Conoco Nth oil's strong "power of attraction." And Nth oil provides tough liquid film, too.

OIL-PLATING and oil film are both fighting wear every mile.

Then after stopping, when acids want to gnaw any engine, they're curbed by OIL-PLATING—the foe of corrosive wear!

What a big lot of safety from wear! . . . to stretch engine life . . . to make oil and gasoline last you . . . to minimize carbon and sludge . . . to help power! Yet Conoco Nth oil costs little more. Fast as lightning, change for Spring. Continental Oil Co.
