The SDN Column

Writes Tommy Hart in the Big Spring Herald

"It's difficult for people in this land to keep things in the proper perspective. We're apt to go overboard on horses, religion, crockery sets, collections of jade, or football."

And, often we have short memories. If you don't think so, quickly, without looking it up, what was the score of last year's Snyder-Sweetwater game? Three of four people who were asked that question point-blank gave answers ranging from 21-6 to 32-7. The actual score was 21-13.

Of course a loss to Sweetwater may be worse than one to someone else, regardless of the margin. But the year before (1968) it was 48-0. So, if we can make as much progress this year over 1969 as we did last year over 1968, the victory tonight should belong to Snyder.

If you want to go to the Fourth Annual Ski Ball on Oct. 29 in the Waldorf Astoria Hotel, you can hob-nob with some of the political elite for a mere $75 per plate. The event is held each year to raise funds for the U. S. Ski Team. The Russians, of course, get their's from the government.

Anyway, party lines apparently are erased when the Ski Ball is held. This year's distinguished honorary chairmen include such political notables as Gov. Deane C. Davis of Vermont, Sec. of Interior Walter Hickel, Sen. Jacob Javits, New York Mayor John V. Lindsay, Sen. Warren Magnuson, Sen. Charles Percy, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, Gov. Calvin Rampton of Utah, Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York, Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Thomas, and others of equal stature.

There'll be table gifts of gold wrist watches for the women and carved crystal ash trays for the men. And each table will feature "complimentary liquor, dinner wines, cigarettes and after-dinner cognac with cigars." Also, everone there will have a chance to win 10 acres of land in New England. —WACO, McNAIR.

Fair Goes On Despite Unusually Cold Weather

A strong north wind and plunging temperatures held down the crowd at the opening day of the Sixth Annual Scurry County Fair Thursday, but there were a number of entries in the sheep division and in the agricultural exhibits and womens exhibits.

Weldon Beck, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Beck, who live east of Snyder, showed the grand champion lamb and also the reserve champion lamb. The grand champion was a Southdown lamb. The reserve was a Hampshire. Weldon is a member of the Hermleigh FFA.

Champion of the breeding lambs was Weldon Beck's aged fine wool ram while Joe Beck, his brother, showed an aged fine wool ram for reserve honors.

There were only five entries in the calf division, and two brothers and a sister copped top honors. Johnny Joe Eicke, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Eicke, showed the champion heifer. It's name is EHR Lady Onward 3, and it was born Jan. 3, 1970. J. N. Eicke is the breeder. Johnny is in the Snyder 4-H Club.

Sahala Eicke, 17, a senior at Snyder High School, had the champion steer, and it was bred by Jesse Koonsman.

Eddie Eicke, 20, showed the champion bull. Its breeding is Real Onward, and the animal is 18-months of age.

All exhibits were to remain in place through Saturday night. The Fair is open from 10 a.m. until 10 p.m. The carnival also continued to remain open despite high winds.

Senate Passes Penalties Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — In a burst of anticrime activity, the Senate has passed legislation providing heavier penalties for terror bombings, increased protection for the president and members of Congress, and more federal aid for state and local police.

What started off as a batch of separate bills and ended up in one big legislative package also includes extra jail sentences for federal crimes carried out with a gun and special presidential awards for valorous conduct by law enforcement officers.

The vote on final passage Thursday, after eight hours of debate, was 59 to 0—the low count indicating only that a lot of senators are out campaigning for re-election in a year when law and order is a prime issue. The package now goes to the House.

First off, the Senate passed 68 to 0 a bill broadening and strengthening federal laws against bombings and permitting the death penalty in cases causing fatal injuries. It authorizes use of wiretapping under court order when criminal use of explosives is suspected.

An amendment by Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., to strike out the death penalty was rejected 46 to 22.

The bill makes it a federal crime to damage or destroy with explosives any federal property or the property of any institution receiving federal funds. This opens the way for the FBI to investigate bombing on virtually any college campus.

Another bill passed by voice vote is designed to provide increased protection for the president when he is away from Washington.

Its effect is to permit the Secret Service to cordon off areas for the president's protection, without having to rely on state or local trespass laws.

Also passed by voice vote was a bill making it a federal offense to assassinate, kidnap or assault a member of Congress or a congressman-elect.

Still another bill passed by the Senate permits the government to appeal federal district court rulings dismissing criminal prosecutions when there has been no verdict of acquittal. It also permits appeal of rulings that suppress evidence before trial.

These separate bills were added to still another measure authorizing a vastly increased program of federal grants to assist state and local governments in improving their polive forces, courts and correctional systems.

Cambodia Now Is Republic

By JOHN T. WHEELER
Associated Press Writer

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — Cannon thundered a ragged salute, thousands of youths paraded in a variety of uniforms, and the ancient kingdom of Cambodia became a republic today in the middle of a war.

Leaders of the government that ousted Prince Norodom Sihanouk as chief of state on March 18 moved up in military rank in honor of the occasion: Premier Lon Hol to four-star general, Vice Premier Sisowath Sirik Matak to lieutenant general, and Im Tam, president of the National Assembly, to major general.

Im Tam recalled an old Cambodian saying, "crazy like the king," and said the new republic ends more than 1,000 years of "often cruel, capricious rule by the monarchy."

"We solemnly proclaim on Oct. 9, 1970, that from this hour onward Cambodia is a republic, one and indivisible," he said. He declared that the people's rights had not been respected by Sihanouk, now an exile in Peking, "the dictator who was a hypocrite and an excellent demagogue."

Lon Nol, Sirik Matak and Sihanouk's successor as chief of state, Cheng Heng, walked to the square in front of the former royal palace and there raised the flag of the republic—blue with three white stars on the lower left and above it the temple of Angkor Wat outlined in white on red above. The stars symbolize nationhood, republicanism and happiness, and Buddhism and justice.

Cambodian Air Force T28s, MIG15s and Fougat jets made low passes overhead.

The 101-gun salute was a flop. The cannon blew up after less than a dozen rounds, injuring two sailors. The gun was on a gunboat on the Mekong River near the palace, and a military spokesman said he did not know what caused the explosion.

The ceremony began three days of festivities that will include a demonstration against gambling and corruption, "good deeds" by youths and traditional dances at the foot of the phnom, or hill, or Madame Penh, the site of the 16th century temple for which the capital is named.

The Senate and National Assembly voted Monday to end the monarchy and make Cambodia a republic. Lon Nol had been promising the change since he and his associates deposed Sihanouk, and normally the ceremony would have been held on a significant date in Cambodian history. But it was scheduled now in an attempt to bolster Cheng Heng when he goes to New York this week to attend the U.N. General Assembly.

Guard Trucks Are Set Afire

AUSTIN (AP) — Four National Guard trucks were set afire early today by rag fuses stuffed into their gas tank openings, District Fire Chief C. J. Adams said.

Federal Bureau of Investigation agents began an immediate investigation of the incident, which occurred shortly after midnight at Camp Mabry inside the Austin city limits.

Adams said one large military truck was destroyed, two others heavily damaged and a fourth received minor damage.

Caps had been removed from all the gas tanks and rag fuses stuffed in the opening and ignited. Gasoline from a five-gallon can had been poured inside the cabs of the trucks, Adams said.

Adams said FBI agents found a package of cigarette papers imprinted with an American flag near the scene.

153 Is Top Number For Local Board

Local Draft Board No. 96 Executive Secretary Mrs. Gena H. McGill announced today that random selection number 153 is the highest lottery selection number reached in 1970.

However, the board spokesman said, it may be necessary to go to a higher random selection number than the previous high number in order to satisfy the remaining 1970 draft calls.

Mrs. McGill said that in compliance with the White House Executive Order announced recently, all registrants of Local Board No. 96 who hold the highest reached number or numbers below the highest reached number and who have not been issued orders for induction due to any circumstances, will be considered for carryover into the extended priority selection group if they are classified in Class I-A as of Dec. 31, 1970. Such young men will have their liability for induction extended for the first three months of 1971.

The local board spokesman said that the Executive Order states that registrants who held numbers above the highest reached number of Local Board No. 96 and are classified in Class I-A on Dec. 31, will be placed in a lower draft priority group on Jan. 1.

Local Board No. 96 serves Scurry, Fisher and Nolan Counties.

Scurry Girl Is State Champion

COLLEGE STATION—Lou Alice Mathis, a Scurry County 4-H'er with a hard-headed notion of never giving up, has been named state 4-H champion in home improvement for 1970, the state 4-H Club office has announced.

As state winner, Lou Alice will receive an expense-paid trip to the National 4-H Congress in Chicago, Ill., Nov. 29 to Dec. 3. At the Congress, she and other state winners will compete for $800 educational scholarships to be presented to a blue award group of six by the S&H Foundation Incorporated, of New York, N. Y., donor for the home improvement awards program.

Lou Alice, 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayland Mathis, was involved in a car accident four years ago. The doctors said she would miss at least a year of school and that she might never walk again.

Lou Alice did not miss a year of school, and she can walk. Also, she has continued to be active in 4-H work and 10 projects completed.

"One of my major projects has been home improvement," she said. "It has been my very favorite because it has shown the best results so far." Lou Alice, who has redecorated most of her family's home as part of her project, has won district for her home improvement record. She has also given a demonstration on antiqueing.

LOU ALICE MATHIS

"4-H has been a major part of my life," she said. "It helped me decide that I wanted to major in home economics this fall in college."

"Lou Alice is a fine young lady with a fine attitude toward life," said one 4-H leader. "She has made great contributions to our county 4-H program." Miss Ruby Butts, county home demonstration agent, and the local 4-H Club leaders have helped Lou Alice with all her 4-H activities.

Israel Claims Buildup Proof

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A military spokesman in Tel Aviv said today that Israel has definite proof that Soviet crews are manning antiaircraft missile sites on the Egyptian side of the Suez Canal.

"We have photographic and other evidence proving that Russians are manning SAM3 missiles at the canal," the spokesman said.

The spokesman refused to say what "other evidence" Israel possesses, but observers believe it may include radio traffic between Russians and Egyptians which the Israelis intercepted.

The Soviet government on Thursday denied its personnel were manning the missile batteries it has supplied Egypt. It countered with charges that Israel is making "almost daily" intrusions into Egyptian air space, that Israeli troops are "continuously building fortifications" along the east side of the Suez Canal, and that Israel and the United States are stalling Middle East peace talks.

The statement coincided with Israel's 22nd complaint that Egypt is violating the Middle East cease-fire by deploying Soviet missiles in the standstill zone along the canal.

In Beirut, the right-wing newspaper Al Hayat reported that President Gamal Abdel Nasser had issued orders a week before he died for the withdrawal of the missiles. The paper said as soon as Nasser died, a group of junior army officers apparently prevailed on Gen. Mohammed Fawzi, the Egyptian commander in chief, to reverse the order.

Sources at the annual convention of Britain's ruling Conservative party in Blackpool, England, said today that Foreign Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home plans a new backstage bid to revive the Big Four discussions for Middle East peace guidelines.

They said that in private discussions next week at the U.N. General Assembly in New York and later in the month with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko in London, he hopes to convince Big Four officials that Britian maybe in a good position to find a way out of the impasse between Washington and Moscow.

The United States withdrew earlier this week from talks the Big Four's deputy representatives at the United Nations have been holding.

Their children married, life seems meaningless

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I are "alone" again, after raising, educating and marrying off two children. Our house is paid for, we have no debts, and with our combined incomes we have no money worries. Now that we can take life easy we should enjoy the happiest days of our lives. But we're not. Life seems boring and empty. We have taken a few trips, but you have to come home sometime.

Is there something the matter with us? Or does this happen to other people our age? M & J

DEAR M AND J: It happens to lots of people. You need to come out of your insulated world and face a few more challenges. Become involved in projects, and causes, and people to whom you can devote your energy, time and money. (You won't have to look far.)

Happiness doesn't come from "taking life easy." It comes from making your time count for something. The most miserable people in the world are those who don't have anything to get up in the morning for. Don't join that club.

DEAR ABBY: I never thought I would ever write to you, but if "Chastity Belt" isn't a hoax, it beats everything I've read thus far.

Therefore, please accept the limerick below as my reply to Ernie's Girl:

"Rather than suffering the indignity
Of steel encased virginity
Serve this maniac of chastity
A dose of psychotherapy."

SINCERELY, G. W. D.

DEAR G. W. D.: 'Twas no hoax, I assure you. Name, address and documentation was provided by the correspondent.

DEAR ABBY: You gals sure do stick together! About the couple who were dining in a fine restaurant. It seems the strolling musicians offered to play their favorite tune. The gentleman didn't tip the musicians, so the lady wrote to say she thought the gentleman was a cheapskate. And you agreed with her.

I can name several reasons why a gentleman wouldn't want to have a band of strolling musicians stand by his table and play his favorite song. For one thing, maybe he doesn't want to suffer the grins and stares from a roomful of smirking morons.

Also, it's possible the gentleman didn't know what an appropriate tip for such a favor should be.

Or he could have been just plain resentful for having been hustled by the musicians.

Your attitude is enough to drive a man into gay lib.

NO PATSY

DEAR NO: I can understand the gentleman's wish to be inconspicuous, and I respect it. But not knowing what an appropriate tip should be is certainly no excuse for not tipping at all. When in doubt, a dollar will do.

DEAR ABBY: It's late and I have to be to work early in the morning, but I just had to write this to "Undecided" who saw one of her best friend's husband out with another woman.

"Keep your mouth shut! Do you think the wife will stop loving him because of this? No, she won't. She may leave him, and even if she doesn't, things will never be the same between them. One thing, for sure, she will never thank you for having told her. In time she will resent you for telling her."

I know what I am talking about, Abby, because tonight I sit alone in a house, not a home, for I had one "friend" too many.

LONESOME

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

3 Texas Banks Hit Thursday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Holdup men raided banks on opposite sides of Texas at close to the same time Thursday, striking at Houston and Beaumont on the coast and at Happy in the Panhandle.

Only the unarmed man who took a mere $100 from the Union State Bank in Beaumont failed to make a getaway. He was nabbed just outside the door.

Three tellers were forced to put $20,000 to $25,000 in pillow slips at Houston's Northside National Bank for a man carrying a sawed-off shotgun. A second robber stood at the entrance with an automatic pistol. The pair fled in a black Chevrolet.

Receptionist Betty Bulanek, 19, quietly pressed a button with her knee and started a movie camera at the Houston bank. Police said most of the holdup was photographed.

Only three months earlier the Northside National was relieved of $30,000 by three holdup men. This robbery was the third at Houston in nine days.

An undisclosed amount of cash was taken from the First State Bank of Happy by two masked men pointing .38 caliber pistols. They sped away in a black and white Pontiac, which later was found abandoned south of Amarillo, which is 50 miles north of Happy.

Authorities said they believed there was a woman in the car with the bandits.

At Beaumont, a man who said he was a disabled veteran needing to reenter a hospital handed teller Jeanette Gilcrease a demand for money—but promised to repay it later. She pushed an alarm button while surrendering the money in $10 bills.

Garbed in knee length pants and a dirty tan shirt, the man walked from the bank before employes knew there had been a holdup. A vice president of the Union State, Donald Havens, followed, and the man returned to await police without resisting.

FBI agents identified him as Nicholas Hurkala, 49, formerly of Phoenix, Ariz., where they said he was a recent hospital patient. He was charged with bank robbery.

Loyalty Oath Is Removed

By STAN BENJAMIN
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Civil Service Commission today ordered federal agencies to cross off the loyalty oath which still appears on a form each new federal employe must sign.

In 1969, the Supreme Court ruled the requirement of a loyalty oath for federal employment was unconstitutional, but the government has not replaced the forms.

The Civil Service said today printing and distribution of a revised form, omitting the loyalty oath, will be completed within three months.

Since the court decision, government job recruits have been told they could delete the loyalty clause from the form before they sign it; now, it will be deleted in advance.

Also to be removed is a section which pledged the federal job applicant not to "assert the right to strike against the government" or to belong to any government employes' organization asserting that right.

That deletion, too, results from a Supreme Court decision.

The federal employe still must pledge, however, not to actually participate in a strike against the government.

Known as Standard Form 61, the "appointment affidavit" formerly consisted of four parts: An oath of office; the loyalty oath officially titled "affidavit as to subversive activity and affiliation"; the no-strike clause; and a statement that the applicant, in effect, didn't bribe anybody to get the job.

Here is the text of the "loyalty oath" being deleted as unconstitutional:

"I am not a Communist not Fascist. I do not advocate nor am I knowingly a member of any organization that advocates the overthrow of the constitutional form of the government of the United States or which seeks by force or violence to deny other persons their rights under the Constitution of the United States, I do further swear or affirm that I will not so advocate nor will I knowingly become a member of such organization during the period that I am an employe of the federal government or any agency thereof."

Tax Collector Claim Rejected

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Carl F. Mesing figured his tax collector's job kept him busy only two months of the year. So he went to court to try to get Social Security for the other 10.

U.S. Dist. Judge Rabe F. Marsh rejected the claim Thursday. He said the 70-year-old Mesing get $11,000 a year for collecting in suburban Baldwin borough and that actual time spent on the job was secondary.

Cold Front Chills Texas

By the Associated Press

A wintry chill spread over nearly all of Texas today and as much as 5 inches of snow helped send thermometers nosediving in the Panhandle.

Except for clouds over extreme South Texas and a little overcast near the Red River around Laredo on the Mexican border and along the Upper Texas Coast, skies cleared behind a wet and blustery cold front which swept the length of the state Thursday.

There was still 5 inches of snow on the ground at Perryton in the northeast corner of the Panhandle, and the mercury dropped to 26 degrees.

Dalhart on the opposite side of the Panhandle also received 5 inches of snow but most of it had melted, and much of a 2-inch fall disappeared at Amarillo. Snow flurries but not enough to measure ranged as as far south as Plainview.

Early morning marks at other points included Amarillo, Dalhart and Lubbock 30 and Plainview 31, while it was still 68 at Brownsville on the southern tip of the state. Readings were mostly in the 40s and 50s elsewhere.

The frontal system surged as far south as the Brownsville area before dawn, stretching from there across the Gulf of Mexico into Louisiana. Icy winds still blew in some sections, gusting up to 38 miles per hour at Wichita Falls.

Brisk thunderstorms developed in many areas as the storm blew through, and the sighting of a funnel cloud in the air 10 miles south of Houston caused a tornado warning to go up for parts of Harris and Liberty Counties. It apparently did not touch ground.

Rainfall fell at the rate of 2 inches per hour along the coast from Texas City to Port O'Connor, and lighter amounts were recorded in other coastal areas.

Near-blizzard conditions lasted most of Thursday in the Panhandle, where temperatures climbed to only 34 degrees at Amarillo and 41 at Dalhart.

Summery warmth before the cold front's arrival sent the mercury climbing to 90 at Brownsville and Lufkin, 92 at Alice and 93 at McAllen.

Forecasts promised fair weather in all sections but another cold night, with lows in the 30s over West and North Central Texas and the 40s in other sections.

Plane Missing

CARLSBAD, N.M. (AP) — An oil company jet airplane with a flight crew and an undetermined number of passengers aboard was reported missing today, by the Civil Air Patrol, in the area of the Guadalupe Mountains on the Texas-New Mexico border.

CAP officers said five search planes were put in the air after the twin - engine airplane was confirmed missing.

CAP Maj. Charles Nichols of Alamogordo said the aircraft was identified as a twin-engine Focker F28 jet capable of carrying at least 30 persons.

The Carlsbad police department said the plane was reported missing by the Far Eastern Oil Co. of New Orleans, La. A police dispatcher said a company official identified as Reginald Smith telephoned to say the pilot reported trouble after crossing into the United States on a flight from Mexico City.

Maj. Nichols said he was told the missing airplane was en route to Alaska.

Some quotable quotes from women during the week:

"We were taught to believe that you took from society and you have to give to society." — Laura Nader, sister of consuner crusader Ralph Nader, in an interview.

"I suppose you would like me to say I disagree with my husband on this. But I think Sam's exactly right. I think he's trying to help women." — Margaret Ervin, wife of Sen. Sam Ervin, adamant opponent of the equal rights amendment.

'LET THEM OUT FROM UNDER THEIR ROCK!'

Peace Proposal Opens Door To Bargaining

By FRANCES LEWINE
Associated Press Writer

KEY BISCAYNE, Fla. (AP) — President Nixon says he has made some new, flexible peace proposals that open the way for the North Vietnamese to make new proposals in return.

"If they do," he told newsmen Thursday, "we can make progress." And, he added: "That is the way we are going to play it."

The President said he hoped Hanoi would take the proposals "as seriously as we intend them." He said he was not discouraged by initial adverse reaction from North Vietnam and the Viet Cong.

Nixon said he was waiting for "the official response from Hanoi" at the public session of the Paris negotiators next week.

"We hope that it would indicate progress," he said.

Nixon said his five point plan included "some new proposals," including an offer of "total withdrawal of all our forces, something we have never offered before, if we have mutual withdrawal on the other side."

Nixon came to Florida Thursday for the weekend after a European tour and the launching of his Indochina proposals in a nationally televised broadcast Wednesday night.

He stopped en route to dedicate an oceanographic science center on Skidaway Island near Savannah, Ga., and got an enthusiastic welcome from thousands on the main street of Georgia's oldest city.

In Savannah, Nixon hailed "my good friend" Hal Suit, Republican candidate for governor of Georgia, and took Suit along on the motorcade and boat ride to Skidaway Island.

Democratic Gov. Lester Maddox, on hand to greet the President, complained to reporters that Nixon was "down here for political purposes."

When Nixon halted his limousine to get out and shake hands in the throng, Maddox alighted from his own car and hoisted youngsters above his shoulders. When Nixon climbed atop his car to give two-handed waves, Maddox kissed babies.

Maddox, who under Georgia law cannot succeed himself, is Democratic candidate for lieutenant governor.

Nixon discussed his Indochina proposals before a crowd of about 1,000 at the island dedication.

Noting that he had read comments the Vietnam war was so unpopular "that our best young men have gone to Canada," Nixon commented:

"I can tell you that it would not have been possible to have made that offer (the peace proposals) unless it had been for the fact that hundreds of thousands—yes, over two million—young Americans, in a very difficult war, instead of deserting their country, decided to serve their country."

QUESTION: How was gold first mined in the U.S.?

ANSWER: Liquids and gases, bubbling up from the earth's interior, are believed to deposit gold in cracks and fissures. It is a beautiful metal with a most attractive sheen and color. It can be easily worked, resists chemicals, does not rust or tarnish. There is something about gold which makes it desirable beyond its physical qualities. In search of this something, men have fought their way over deadly deserts and crossed bitter oceans, many giving up their lives trying to possess it. After gold was discovered in California in 1849, hordes of would-be miners spread through the West. We illustrate two of the methods most widely used by the early gold prospectors. Gold nuggets could frequently be found in stream beds, carried there by floods. The miner at top is panning, swirling gravel around, looking for the heavier bits of gold. More efficient was the rocker or cradle, below. Filled with gravel and water, the miner rocked this back and forth, hoping that some heavy bits of gold would be trapped by the riffle. Some fortunes were made, but many an old man staggered back East with little to show but a bagful of hopes and dreams tied up in an old battered shirt.

Disaster Dogs The Yes Man

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — There's a big difference between what happens to a girl who can't say no and a fellow who can't say no.

The girl is wined and dined and taken everywhere, and may end up married to a successful lawyer or even—if she plays the game well—to a rich pro basketball player.

A different fate, however, awaits a fellow who can't say no. Disaster dogs his step as he plods from woe to woe.

Here, for example, ar a few invitations which, if accepted, lead only to sorrow:

"Let me appoint you chairman of the committee. Don't worry, I'll see that somebody else does all the work."

"We want to throw a surprise party for old George on his birthday. How about using your apartment? If there's any damage, we'll all chip in and pay for it."

"If it wasn't a hot mink coat, do you think I'd be selling it to you in an alley? But my wife needs an operation, and I'm desperate. If I knock the price down to $50, will you take it?"

"I could tell you were a classy guy the minute you stepped into the bar, mister. How about buying a lonesome girl a teentsy-weentsy drink?"

"Just because he's wearing a uniform and a badge, you're not going to let him get away with talking to you like that, are you, Rodney? Tell him who you are."

"I think there's a pheasant in that patch of tall grass just ahead. Why don't you try to flush it, and I'll stand back here and wing it when it flies up?"

"Maybe your luck will change if we raise the ante to $5. Okay?"

"My yogi showed me an exercise that will make a new man of you. Here, just bend over and start to stand on your head, and I'll—."

"This restaurant looks so quaint and small I'm sure it couldn't be very expensive. Let's go in."

"The only way to impress a boss is to speak up to him. How about telling yours that he has to give you a merit raise or you'll peddle your wares elsewhere?"

"Go on and pass him. You're not chicken, are you?"

"You hold the nail—I'll do the hammering."

"The best way to win respect from one of these teen-age kids is to take him out in the back yard, put on the gloves, and show him who's who. I did it with mine, and now he calls me mister. Do you want to borry my gloves?"

"Things are going so well I probably can pay back the $1,000 long before it's due. You don't mind being my cosigner, do you?"

Panel Sets Exhausts Deadline

By MIKE SHANAHAN
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Disregarding auto industry pleas that it can't be done, a House-Senate conference committee has set Jan. 1, 1975, as the deadline for eliminating harmful exhaust from new cars.

The date agreed upon by the conferees Thursday is part of a tough new air pollution bill which its chief sponsor, Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, D-Maine, says still requires some work before a final measure is agreed to.

But Muskie called the 1975 target date the bill's most controversial element. The deadline prompted the chiefs of the big three major auto makers to descend on Capitol Hill in an unprecedented personal lobbying effort two months ago.

General Motors President Edward N. Cole spoke out publicly, saying the goal, "as far as we know now, simply is not technologically possible within the time frame required."

Specifically, the bill requires that 1975 model cars have a 90 per cent reduction in exhaust pollutants from 1970 levels. It provides authority to close production lines, raising the specter of the end of the internal combustion engine.

A one-year extension could be permitted by the secretary of Health, Education and Welfare if the auto makers prove they have exhausted all possible efforts to meet the deadline. Such an extension would make Jan. 1, 1976, the absolute deadline.

Muskie counters the auto producers' complaints by saying the bill will force them to find the technology, or perhaps find some other way, to power the family car.

Over-all the bill is designed to protect public health from air pollution from various sources.

Muskie said the conferees also approved language authorizing the National Academy of Sciences to oversee the auto industry's progress in developing a pollution-free engine by 1975.

The HEW secretary must rely on the academy's advice before deciding on whether to grant a year's extension.

The conference will meet again Nov. 18 to thrash out still unresolved differences between the House and Senate versions of the bill.

Travis 9th Hits Brahmas, 26-6

BIG SPRING--Travis 9th grade walloped the Brahmas 26-6 here Thursday night in an exciting gridiron match.

The Brahmas took the opening kickoff and marched 60 yards for a touchdown, but the older Blue Devils were able to score in each period to sack up the verdict.

Willie Smith blocked a punt to set up the first touchdown. Tommy Welsh scored it, going nine yards and then 11 yards to pay dirt.

Lee Costello recovered a fumble in the end zone for Travis' next touchdown. The recovery occurred in the second period.

Costello plunged across from the four to cap a short drive after a fumble recovery in the third quarter. Mickey Gonzales kicked extra point.

The Blue Devils drove 65 yards in the fourth quarter for their last touchdown. A fumble recovery set the drive in motion.

Ralph Lewis collected the 6-pointer on a 46-yard romp. Again, Gonzales' kick was accurate.

The Travis reserves handled most of the action in the fourth quarter.

Next Thursday, the Blue Devils will be in Big Spring for a clash with the Toros.

Nicklaus Vs. Tony

By JOHN FARROW
Associated Press Sports Writer

VIRGINIA WATER, England (AP) — Jack Nicklaus, American holder of the British Open title and winner of all the big ones in golf, said today:

"Well, this should be quite a go-around against Tony."

The 28-year-old Columbus, Ohio, professional was referring to his semifinal match today against Tony Jacklin, British holder of the U.S. Open title, in the Piccadilly World Match Play Championship at Wentworth.

The last time the two met was in the Ryder Cup at Birkdale last year, when Jacklin sank an incredible 50-footer to square the match at the 17th. They came down to the last green and Jacklin had to sink a three-footer to keep the match all square.

Nicklaus, in one of the most sporting gestures in professional golf, conceded that putt and the match ended all square—and so did the series between Britain and the United States.

In the other semifinal today, Dave Stockton, 28-year-old United States PGA champion, was paired against Lee Trevino, former U.S. Open champion. Both matches were over 36 holes in this tournament, which is one of the last big match play affairs in the world.

Stockton defeated defending champion Bob Charles of New Zealand 2 and 1 Thursday.

Trevino survived a late charge by Billy Casper, the U.S. Masters champion, to win one up.

Jacklin defeated South African Gary Player, two up.

Nicklaus knocked out Gene Littler, another former U.S. Open champion, 5 and 4.

Atlanta Is Favored Over Dallas Cowboys

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Detroit, Los Angeles and Denver are the only unbeaten teams in the National Football League after three weeks of play and only the Broncos appear to be in danger this weekend.

The emotional high spot of the week should be the return of Paul Brown to Cleveland with his expansion Cincinnati Bengals. Although the Bengals knocked off the Browns in preseasorr 31-24, they may find things a bit different in regular season.

Last week's 8-5 record brought the season mark to 23-15-1 so let's try again, the last time around for the old Handpicker.

Saturday Night

Miami 23, New York Jets 21—Jets are favored in home opener but came out of Buffalo game in bad shape with Matt Snell out for year and defense all shook up. Bob Griese-Paul Warfield combo could give Dolphins first win ever over Jets.

Sunday

Los Angeles 27, San Francisco 17—Rams are fired up to go all the way with Roman Gabriel running the show and Les Josephson back in harness. Look for 49ers to bounce back strong after tough loss in Atlanta.

Denver 23, Oakland 20—Although favored Raiders open at home without a win, still smarting from tongue lashing from Al Davis, a Denver team that could whip Kansas City should handle the desperate Raiders with another big defensive effort.

Detroit 30, Washington 14—Unless the Lions have trouble getting up for Redskins after tough Monday night game, they should be able to make it four in a row. That Lion defense will stop Larry Brown, forcing Sonny Jurgensen to take chances.

Minnesota 20, Chicago 13—Bears hung in tough against Detroit Monday night special while Vikings couldn't get offense moving against Green Bay. Gale Sayers still questionable. Gary Cuozzo may have to do it through the air with Dick Butkus roaming the range on the ground.

Houston 17, Baltimore 14—Another upset with Oilers squeaking home on superior defense. Loss of Tom Regner tough blow for Houston which will be playing at home. John Unitas will keep the ball in the air while Oilers try to punch it out on the ground.

Pittsburgh 17, Buffalo 14—Despite Bills' fine upset win over Jets on combo of Dennis Shaw's passing and O. J. Simpson's running, it is time for Terry Bradshaw to win one and this could be it. Give Steelers the nod in close one on home field edge.

Atlanta 21, Dallas 17—Either the upset bug has a big week or this picker goes down the drain. Cowboys still haven't rung the bell in this corner and Falcons proved they can handle a good ball club in win over 49ers.

Cleveland 27, Cincinnati17—Browns ruin Paul Brown's return to Cleveland, especially if Bill Nelsen and Leroy Kelly can make it. Virgil Carter will get the call for the Bengals after last week's relief job against Houston.

St. Louis 17, New Orleans 7—Saints' attack anemic and Cards well-balanced offense is conservative. Cid Edwards and MacArthur Lane should grind it out while Jim Hart tosses an occasional pass.

Kansas City 24, Boston 10—Chiefs should be ready to tear somebody's head off after 1-2 record in first three starts. Although Len Dawson was on crutches in mid-week and Mike Livingston will start, they are long overdue for Super Bowl-type effort. If Joe Kapp gets into action for Pats, the Chiefs may think they're back in New Orleans. Loss of Jim Nance tough on Pats.

New York 17, Philadelphia 14—Some one of these days the giants are going to win one. Giants should have enough by the end of the half to last through the second half famine.

Monday Night

Green Bay 17, San Diego 14—Pack coming off upset of Minnesota and Chargers hope to bounce back after bombing by Rams. Bart Starr still hurting. Look for San Diego to try to throw the ball.

Lamar 9th Rips Big Toros, 16-8

Lamar 9th grade scored a 16-8 triumph over the Big Spring Toros in Tiger Stadium last night.

It was a close, hard fought contest from start to finish. Lamar scored in the first quarter, boosted the count to 10-0 in the third period, and both teams tallied touchdowns in the third period.

Richard Gorman went 10 yards up the middle for Lamar's first touchdown after a fumble recovery at the Toro 20. John Boren crashed the barricades for the two bonus points.

The Toros blocked a Lamar punt in the second period and attempted a field goal from the 25 but the ball fell short of the crossbar.

An interception on the 5-yard line halted a Lamar drive in the second quarter, but the Texans scored a two-point safety on the last play of the first half to take a 10-0 advantage into the dressing room.

Earl Reynolds shook loose on an 80 yard touchdown run for the Toros in the third quarter, and the same runner collected two extra points on another run.

John Boren went across from 10 yards out late in the third stanza, but the try for extra points failed. The touchdown was set up by a long pass, Tim Jones to Boren, and a run by Lee Melot.

Tim Jones intercepted a Toro pass at the Texas 40 late in the third quarter.

Lamar recovered a fumble in the fourth quarter but had one of its drives halted by a fumble.

Kuhn Calls Press Confab

CINCINNATI (AP) — Speculation concerning a press conference by Commissioner Bowie Kuhn swept baseball circles today on the eve of the opening of the World Series between Baltimore and Cincinnati.

The unexpected conference, set for late afternoon at World Series press headquarters, was announced abruptly in New York Thursday night close to midnight.

Joe Reichler, aide to the commissioner, made the announcement before leaving for Cincinnati. He termed it a "very important press conference."

It was the emphasis on the words "very important" that led to the speculation about what the commissioner would announce.

"You can speculate all you want, but I am bound not to say anything about the nature of the conference," Reichler declared.

He was asked "did something happen Thursday to account for this sudden calling of an important press conference the day before the series?"

"Yes," Reichler replied. He declined further comment.

Travis 8th Whacks Runnels

BIG SPRING — Travis 8th grade whacked Runnels 14-6 here Thursday in an exciting Junior High football clash.

Welton Cobb scored the Blue Devils' first touchdown on a 68 yard run in the first quarter. Danny Brumley ran across for the two extra points.

In the second period, Runnels scored read: Travis 8, Runnels 6.

Cobb scored again in the third quarter, this time on a 2-yard plunge to cap a 63 yard drive.

The Blue Devils rolled up 157 yards total offense. They completed one of three passes for 20 yards. One touchdown for 73 yards was called back due to aholding penalty.

Welton Cobb, Ray Alvarez, Norman Sanchez, and Alfonso Rodriguez were outstanding defensively for Travis. Larry Johns did a good job of offensive blocking, and Brumley ran well.

Hermleigh Jr's Win

HERMLEIGH — Hermleigh's Junior High bested McCaulley Junior High 12-8 in a football collision here Thursday afternoon.

Ronnie Roemisch passed 25 yards to Tony Sosa for the first Hermleigh touchdown in the second quarter. It capped a 50 yard drive.

Adolfo Luna scored on a 10 yard run to climax a 45 yard march, also in the second quarter.

McCaulley got its only touchdown in the third period on a two-yard run.

McCaulley was unbeaten before this game. Hermleigh's record now stands at 4-0.

Mustangs, Tigers Vie

Snyder's Tigers and Sweetwater's Mustangs were to tnngle at 7:30 p.m. today in Mustang Bowl in the first District 3-AAA football contest of the seson for both teams.

The game rates as a tossup. Coach Joe Boyd of Sweetwater and Coach Wayne Tyrone of Snyder both have big, tough teams and victory could go to the team with the better passing attack.

Larry Smith, a 225-pound tackle, who played fullback against Snyder last year and gained 170 yards, is expected to see action only on defense this season. Expected to operate in the Pony backfield are quarterback William Hunt, a junior who can run; halfback John Houston, a junior with 9.9 speed; and, fullback Jack Brown, who has size and speed; and, halfback, Tim Hendrix, a dependable performer.

Snyder will counter with Butch Buchanan at quarterback, Jackie Murray at fullback, Stewart Sims at tailback and Gary Patterson at wingback. Sims is a senior. The others are juniors.

Snyder employs a Power I type offense while Sweetwater uses the Texas Wishbone T. The Ponies will have a split 6 defense while Snyder probably will use a 4-3-4.

Snyder hasn't beaten Sweetwater in seven years and the local Booster Club and the Jaycees have been drumming up support for the Tigers for this game. There was a pep rally at the high school this morning, and a car caravan will leave from the school at 5:30 p.m. today to go to Sweetwater for the game.

Lamar 8th Falls 8-0

Goliad tripped Lamar 8th grade 8-0 in Tiger Stadium last night with a cold wind blowing out of the north.

The first half was scoreless, but Padilla went across from the five yard line in the third quarter for the Big Spring team. Jones' pass to Treadaway missed on the conversion play

Dennis Young got good field position for the young Texans with a kickoff reuurn to midfield, but an interception halted the Texans.

Then in the fourth quarter, following a blocked punt, Barry Canning went 20 yards to the goal, but a penalty nullified the touchdown. Goliad scored a 2-point safty with 54 seconds on the clock.

Minimum Salary Set At $15,500

NEW YORK (AP) — The public never knows just how much the superstars like Wilt Chamberlain or Jerry West make, but it can be sure that when the National Basketball Association season opens next Tuesday each player will be making at least $15,500.

This minimum salary, the highest in a pro sport, was agreed on Thursday by the owners and the NBA Players Association.

The NBA minimum will be boosted to $17,500 with the start of the 1972-73 season under the agreement announced by Commissioner Walter Kennedy and Lawrence Fleisher, counsel for the players association. The pact also calls for a hike in the playoff pool and meal money.

$2 Million Awaits Owner

DALLAS (AP) — There's a cool $2 million lying around in a Dallas bank just begging somebody to take ownership.

This unclaimed fortune takes the form of stock certificate No. 390 of the Texas Pacific Land Trust, and the Mercantile National Bank would like to get rid of it.

"It sounds like a soap opera," said the bank's trust officer Paul Rains, who drew the job of hunting the owner because he's a former FBI agent.

"We've been trying to find the owner of that certificate for 10 years. We've advertised all over the world, but to no avail."

His research goes back to 1884.

"Texas needed railroads back then but it didn't have a dime to promote them," Rains recounted. "So it was decided to give land to the Texas & Pacific Railway Co. (no connection with the modern day Texas & Pacific Railroad) to get the railroads built.

"The railway company, however, was having money problems and had to mortgage the land. It finally went broke. The property was turned into the Texas Pacific Land Trust."

That led to the issuance of five separate stock certificates, each worth $10,000 and containing 100 shares. New York brokers handled the transactions.

During the panic of 1885 the value of the certificates dropped to less than $75. Four eventually were turned in and only No. 390 remained out.

There was no concern, however, until 1952, when the Texas Pacific Land Trust struck oil.

The land trust started sending the dividends to Blake Brothers & Co., the New York firm which handled the original No. 390 transaction. Although at first puzzled because there was no record of this transaction, Blake Brothers sought to claim the money.

A New York court denied the claim, holding Blake Brothers couldn't provide sufficient evidence of ownership and probably served only as a clearing house while someone else owned the stock.

In Dallas a state court refused in 1959 to allow a Blake Brothers claim. It turned the money over to the Mercantile Bank to invest while seeking the rightful owner.

"We've had hundreds of would-be heirs," Rains said. "They've all turned out to be false."

Men's Lobe For Sideburns

WASHINGTON (AP) — Women's Lib might fight for equal rights but Men's Lobe is for the sight—of sideburns, that is.

"It's a movement to assure male civilian government workers the right to wear sideburns down to the ear lobe," says the National Association of Government Employes.

Kenneth T. Lyons, president of the union, said "Men's Lobe" was formed "to combat harassment of the 42,000 civilian technicians of the National Guard Bureau by various Guard officers."

Lyons said a number of Guard adjutant generals have ordered their civilian technicians to trim their sideburns or face dismissal. He said the union is preparing to take one such case in Nevada to federal court.

"Technicians are civilians, not GIs," Lyons said.

No-Fault Car Insurance Blasted

By LEE JONES
Associated Press Writer

AUSTIN (AP) — No-fault car insurance, which is getting serious national consideration for the first time, was blasted Thursday by a spokesman for the state's plaintiffs' attorneys.

In another step concerning Texas' insurance problems, a State Insurance Board member proposed that his agency be given power to block mergers of insurors with holding companies.

"You can trace every major insurance company failure since 1953 to the holding company concept," board member Charles Mathews told a House insurance study committee.

Tom Webb, public relations chairman for the Texas Trail Lawyers Association, held a news conference in the association's paneled offices here to denounce the no-fault concept.

No-fault car insurance pays the out of pocket medical expenses and part of the lost wages of accident victims, regardless of who caused a mishap. Present Texas law allows payment only to innocent parties.

The state AFL-CIO recently recommended a no-fault law for Texas, and a no-fault bill has been introduced in Congress.

"It is just abhorent to the average American . . . for a man to be compensated for injuries when he caused the accident," Webb said.

No-fault insurance, Webb continued, is "good for the irresponsible, the careless and the negligent."

Only Massachusetts has a no-fault law, and it sets a limit of $2,000 on payments without regard to fault. Beyond that, an injured person would have to sue to recover further damages.

Webb called the relatively mild Massachusetts law "an obvious gimmick. They are going to institute it (complete no-fault) by degree."

He said the bulk of present car insurance costs are those from property damage coverage, such as collision, which is not included in no-fault plans.

"The wrap-around windshield did more to increase the cost of insurance than any other factor," Webb said.

He also complained because some no-fault plans do not provide any money for pain and suffering.

Trial lawyers represent accident victims, generally for 30 or 40 per cent of what their clients are awarded by juries.

Yom Kippur Begins Tonight

NEW YORK (AP) — Yom Kippur, the most sacred day on the Jewish calendar, begins at sundown tonight. The 24-hour period, known as the Day of Atonement, is devoted to fasting, prayer and repentence.

The sounding of the shofar, the ram's horn, at sunset Saturday will mark the end of the High Holy Days, which began with Rosh Hashanah, marking the Jewish New Year of 5731.

Miss America Back Home

By MIKE COCHRAN
Associated Press Writer

FORT WORTH (AP) — Looking lovely and lighthearted and professing to homesickness, Miss America was back in Texas today and proclaiming, "It's great to be home."

Crying a little, laughing a lot and exchanging quips with newsmen, Phyllis George of Denton flew into Fort Worth Thursday for a gala round of homecoming activities.

Among the foremost events for the brown haired, brown-eyed beauty is a Miss America grand ball tonight, a champagne and dinner and black tie affair at Shady Oaks Country Club.

Saturday, she will accompany Gov. Preston Smith in officially opening the State Fair of Texas in Dallas.

Although she touched down briefly in Texas once since winning the Miss America title last month, Thursday was homecoming, and a wet, wintery blast did little to dampen the enthusiasm.

"It's good to be back in the best state in the union," she smiled, brushing away a tear and announcing, "For those of you that know me, I cry a lot."

Among her first acts on arrival was to crown her successor as Miss Texas, Odessa's Bellinda Myrick, who said:

"I never thought, even as a little girl, I'd ever get to meet a Miss America. And now...."

Performing at a luncheon in Miss George's honor, Bellinda sang the hit song "Raindrops Are Falling on My Head," which Phyllis, a pianist, played in both the Texas and Atlantic City pageants.

As Phyllis prepared to place the Texas crown atop Bellinda's head, she told the audience, "Everybody keep your fingers crossed. I'll try not to drop it."

As television viewers recall, the crown toppled from her head moments after she won the Miss America title last month.

Miss Myrick recounted an incident she said occurred after her elevation from first runner-up to Miss Texas, wherein a "tipsy gentleman" asked her if she did not consider herself "second best."

She said she replied, "I don't think it's too much of a slam to be runner-up to Miss America, do you?"

Miss George told a news conference her goal as Miss America, and a representative of youth, would be to attempt to influence the conduct and values of young people.

"It's only right that youth should have its say," she asserted, but added that she was disturbed at the means by which young people sometimes assert themselves.

She said she eventually will use the $10,000 Miss America prize to complete her senior year in college and probably obtain her masters degree.

She would like to continue to work in the radio and television field making commercials and industrial films, she added.

Studies show that dumped mercury waste has contaminated streams and lakes in at least 23 states. Science long assumed the dumping was harmless because being heavier than water, the liquid metal should sink to the bottom, and being inorganic, it should not decompose. But organisms in the water converted it to organic methyl mercury allowing it to enter the food chain where it is poisonous.

Man Pays Fee For Parade

HOUSTON (AP) — A bearded young businessman, dressed in blue jeans and a T-shirt, plunked down $2,500 at City Hall Thursday so the American Legion could have its Veterans' Day parade Nov. 11.

"I believe Americans have the right to see a patriotic parade and get involved in them and especially little children who are just learning what it is all about," said Jerry Jones, 31, who operates the Houston Blacklight & Poster Distribution Co.

The American Legion has said it could not have the parade this year because of the excessive fee and had appealed to the City Council to find a way to skirt the ordinance.

The ordinance was passed after a peace coalition group took the city to court, winning two federal decisions which supported their contention that they had a right to parade in the streets.

Jones, an Army Special Forces veteran and former paratrooper, said his store sells "psychedelic posters, American flags, peace flags and all kinds of good things."

Parade Chairman Walter Lee praised Jones' "very kind and generous offer" and said he is confident it will make the parade possible.

Jones said he was a junior high school dropout at 15, joined the Army on his 17th birthday, earned his high school education in the service and later received his general education diploma from the Galena Park High School.

He also operates a clothing store which features blue jeans and T-shirts. He said he is annoyed by bumper stickers that state "America, Love It or Leave It."

"We can't tell America to go away; we have to work to solve our problems," he said.
