Annual Samnorwood Basketball Tournament Slated December 7-9

Samnorwood School will host its annual basketball tournament Thursday through Saturday, December 7, 8, and 9, offering 16 games with some of the finest action to be seen in the Panhandle.

Play will start at 9:00 a.m. Thursday and continue through the day, and there will be a full day of games Friday also. Third places and finals in both championship and consolation brackets will be played Saturday, starting at 12:00 noon.

Plans were announced by Samnorwood Coaches Dale Morris and Kenneth Martindale.

Following the championship finals Saturday night, trophies will be awarded in five categories for both boys and girls: championship, second place, third place, consolation and sportsmanship.

These trophies are given by the businessmen of the area. "We always appreciate the support Wellington and Quail has given us, along with the fans from Samnorwood, and we invite and encourage you to attend as many of the 1978 tournament games as you can," said Coach Morris.

Those who hold season tickets for the Samnorwood games will be eligible to buy tournament tickets at a reduced price. Others will buy session tickets, good for three games. The price will be $1.00 for adults and 50 cents for students.

Referees will be Robert

Jones, Herb Johnson and Don Allred, all out of the Amarillo chapter of the Southwest Basketball Officials Association.

In the girls division, Wellington Rockettes, the defending champions, were seeded No. 1, while Allison girls rank No. 2, Mobeetie,

WHS Basketball Opens Nov. 28

Wellington Rockettes opened the 1978 basketball season, meeting Wheeler girls in Rocket Gym Tuesday, Nov. 28. Game time is 7:00 p.m.

The Skyrockets are taking a few days breather from football, before starting their season at the Samnorwood tournament Thursday through Saturday, Dec. 7 to 9.

They met at the football field Monday, to watch the bi-district game and turn in football gear.

The Rockettes first two games were cancelled but both opponents, Childress and Wheeler, like Wellington won their district football titles and were in bi-district play.

Coach Robert Hicks said he hasn't had an opportunity to evaluate this year's cage team.

The Rockette-Paducah varsity girls game scheduled here Friday, Dec. 1, was cancelled by Paducah. An attempt is being made to schedule another game, although at press time an opponent had not been found.

The Wellington girls have an open date Tuesday, Dec. 5, so they will not play again until Thursday, Dec. 7, when they meet Quail girls in the Samnorwood tournament.

Wellington JV girls will play in the Paducah tournament this weekend, meeting the Vernon JV girls at 1:00 p.m. Thursday.

Debbie Chisum, girls coach, has 9 girls on the varsity and 10 playing junior varsity ball.

Six Rockettes are returning letter players. Three seniors are Pam Ingram, Laura Gragson and Vanessa Ingram. Susie Chandler is a junior and rounding out the letter players are two sophomores, Kathleen Reeves and Mary Sue Thompson. Three non-letter

Santa Claus Makes Longest Visit Here on December 2

Santa Claus will visit Wellington Saturday, December 2, paying the longest visit he has ever made with the boys and girls of this area.

Sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, this visit is part of the welcome which Wellington merchants are giving holiday shoppers to open the Christmas season.

Santa will reach Wellington at 4:00 p.m. and remain until 8:00. Throughout that time, he will be in the porch area on the west side of the court house.

Wellington merchants will keep their stores open until time for Santa to leave at 8:00 p.m.

Already, Wellington's Christmas lights are on around the court house, and decorative lights are ablaze along 8th Street east of the business area and on Highway US 83 through Wellington.

And Wellington's Christmas star is lighted atop the court house, just as it has been for most holiday seasons for around 35 years.

There'll be a specially decorated Santa's Chair for the jolly gentleman from the north pole, big enough for a youngster to snuggle in with him while the two of them discuss such major question as what he's going to bring packed on his sleigh Christmas eve night.

Also, there'll be plenty of time for every child to tell his wants for Christmas, and those working with Santa's visit encourage parents from Collingsworth and all surrounding counties to visit Wellington Saturday for this special event.

The big Christmas celebration will be held regardless of the weather, said Watson. If it is bad, or extremely cold, Santa and his young friends will simply move inside.

Santa Claus has sent word down from his North Pole Workshop that parents are encouraged to bring their cameras and take pictures of their children talking to Santa. There will be no professional photographers present.

The Chamber of Commerce will furnish sacks of candy and Santa will give one to each child he visits with.

Sacking the candy will be members of the RSVP volunteers.

Members of Wellington Lions Club will assist, also, and they will see to it that there isn't a single child who fails to visit with Santa.

Never have the local stores been filled with such an array of merchandise just right for Christmas giving.

"I believe we will all agree that we have available here the same merchandise which is offered in towns and cities many times our size. Our merchants have been most discerning in their selections," said Bob Watson, Chamber of Commerce Christmas chairman.

Industrial Park Approved on US 83

Creation of a 19.20 acre industrial district south of the southeast corner of Wellington on US 83 South was given approval by the city council in a called meeting Wednesday, Nov. 22.

This lies immediately north of Owens Auto Salvage, owned by Robert Owens, and part of it will be used in the expansion of his business.

The remainder will be available for the location of new or expanded industry locating in Wellington, subject to approval of the city council, according to Glen Taylor, city secretary.

The tract is owned by Owens young sons, James Robert Owens, Jr., and Stephen Lynn Owens, with Lee Hibler, Jr., as trustee.

The new industrial park lies on the west side of the US 83, between the highway and the Ft. Worth and Denver Railroad track. It does not touch on the city limits of Wellington, but under Texas Law, the city has extra-territorial jurisdiction to create an industrial park up to one-half mile outside its city limits.

The contract between the city and the property owners calls for it to remain an industrial park for a term of seven years, and that any construction done in the future on it shall be subject to approval of the City Council.

Mayor Bill Hatch pointed out that this is one of the most desirable industrial locations in the immediate Wellington vicinity, with frontage on a major US highway and a rail line along the back. Hatch is of the opinion this will attract new industry to Wellington.

In the Wednesday meeting, Bill Spillman, acting as attorney for the city, read the law covering designation of an industrial district, and drew the meets and bounds of the tract.

Councilman Tom Wilkins made the motion for the city to create the industrial district within its extra-territorial jurisdiction, and this was seconded by Lyndon Crelia. Councilman Wayne Cudd joined them in voting for the district.

Two council members abstained. Ralph Owens is a brother of Robert Owens who is developing the industrial park. Willie Gragson is an employee of the Texas Department of Highways and Public Transportation, which is at present in litigation with Robert Owens, to determine if he will have to place a solid fence around his salvage company.

KHAKI-COLORED COTTON

Collingsworth County's perennial farm experimenter is at it again. This year on May 11 John Brim, right, planted a 100-foot row of khaki-colored cotton from seed given to him (some by Mrs. F.F. Popwell and some by county extension agent Don Reeves, who had gotten that seed from Frank Ford). Seventeen stalks survived the hard rains of late May. The hand-watered stalk above made 159 bolls of 5-lock cotton. Above, Brim shows the cotton to John Coleman, a former extension agent himself.

Kathleen Reeves led the scoring with 26 points; Susie Chandler had 17 and Pam Ingram 16. Wheeler's high point player was Kerri Hefley with 9.

"For our first game there were fewer turnovers than might be expected, and we controlled the boards. I think that made the difference," said Coach Debbie Chisum.

Wellington's field goal percentage was 51 and the girls allowed only 38% for Wheeler.

QUAIL-MOTLEY BOYS

Quail teams traveled to Matador Monday, Nov. 27 but dropped their games to Motley County boys 65-42.

Car Washes, Car Vandalized

Two car washes, both in the east part of town, were vandalized Sunday night, Nov. 19 and at both, all hoses and nozzles were broken. Attempts to get into the money boxes of the two failed, Chief Deputy Jerry Settle reported.

Herbert Duncan was owner of the car wash located on US 83, while the other was owned by Leo Popwell and located at 9th and Galveston Streets.

Vandals also cut four tires on a 1974 Ford Tudor belonging to Sue Sosa, which was left on the parking lot at Gibson's Discount Store. The windshield was also broken.

players are Jennifer Pendleton and Tammie Hernandez, juniors and Sylvia Hunnicutt, a sophomore. Jeanne Morris is their manager.

"What's going for us is a little bit of quickness right now," said Miss Chisum. "We're fortunate to have all three forwards back, Suzy, who averaged 19 points per game last year, Pam 17.9 and Kathleen, 14.

The Rockettes are changing to five-player teams this year.

"The junior varsity is lacking in height. They're probably the shortest JV team in the Panhandle, and they also lack experience on the high school level because we have so many freshmen," said Coach Chisum.

The team has one junior, Wanda Thomas. The three sophomores are Sandy Morris, Lynna Nunnelley and LaVonda Thomas.

The six freshman are Melanie Pendleton, Sandi Seale, Lynette Spillman, Jannon Thomason, Kim Riley and Vernita Shrubs. Managers are Liz Brewer and Kaylo Johnson.

Either one or two junior varsity games will precede all varsity games, and this will determine the starting time. Girls varsity games are scheduled for 7:00 p.m. with the boys games coming immediately afterwards.

Rifles, Motorcycles Taken Here Recently

Two rifles were taken in the burglary of as many vehicles recently, a tire and coat were taken from a third, and two motorcycles were stolen from the homes of their owners, Chief Deputy Jerry Settle has reported.

One rifle was later recovered. None of the vehicles were locked, Settle said.

A Remington .243 rifle with scope was taken from the Ford Mustang belonging to Channy Wood while it was parked at the high school ag building during a noon hour, according to the deputy.

Settle said a shotgun was also in the car but it was not taken. Value of the rifle was set at $350.

A witness across the street told officers he saw a pickup stop beside the car and saw the gun removed and put in the pickup. He added that he thought it was someone who was supposed to get the gun.

He was able to furnish officers with a description of the pickup, but it has not been located, Settle said.

About the same time, a tire and brown coat were taken from the pickup belonging to Jack Campbell. It also was parked at the school, according to Settle.

Earlier, a .243 calibre rifle with scope owned by Eddie Hale was taken from his pickup, which was parked beside his house at 1401 Bowie Street, the deputy reported. Its value was $250.

"If people are going to leave valuables in their cars and pickups, the sheriff's department urges strongly that you lock your vehicle whenever you get out of it," said Settle.

All of these are felony thefts.

Two motorcycles were reported taken Saturday, Nov. 18.

The first was a 1974 Honda 100 cc dirt bike belonging to Roy Sellers at 1108 West Avenue.

Probably taken about the same time was a 1973 Suzuki belonging to Craig Darter of 1202 East Avenue. The houses are about a block apart.

The world's most accurate time-measuring device, the U.S. Naval Research Laboratory's system of twin atomic hydrogen masers-is off one second every 1,700,000 years.

Rockets End Season With 8-3 Record

Wellington's Skyrocket football team closed the books Friday night on one of the most exciting football seasons in decades. And 15 of this year's Skyrockets played their last game for WHS last Friday night.

"I thought our seniors were an outstanding group and gave a lot of leadership, and they're going to be hard to replace," football coach James Williams said this week. "They've worked hard through the years—not just this year, but all the way through."

"This year's district championship is the second for the Rockets in 4 years.

"This was probably the toughest non-district schedule we've had," Williams said. "We played some real tough teams and I couldn't be prouder of our kids. They were a good football team and good boys to coach."

"Overall it was one of the better offensive teams we've had," Williams said. In the regular 10-game season the Rockets put 280 points on the scoreboard compared to 95 for their opponents. And the Rockets gained 3,163 net yards compared to 1,298 in 10 games for the opponents.

"I want to take this chance to say thanks to my fine coaching staff, to our excellent booster club and to the whole community for your backing during the season," Williams said. "The community has really supported our athletic program and the students and coaches really appreciate it."

This season leaves Williams 6-year record at WHS at 43-17-2. By years, the game totals look like this: '73: 4-5-1; '74: 6-4; '75: 9-1-1; '76: 8-2; '77: 8-2; and '78: 8-3.

The Wellington Skyrockets fumbled 5 times in the second half to kill their scoring opportunities and lose 3-0 in a tough bi-district defensive battle to Stratford Friday, November 24 in Borger.

Stratford put the only points of the night on the board with 2:14 remaining in the first half. A 45-yard halfback pass set up the Elks on the Rocket 27. The Rockets played tough defense as they did throughout the game, and fourth down found Stratford still on the 27. Stratford's Toby Wisdom backed off and sailed the kick just over the bar for the 3 points.

It surprised observers on both sides that that was the only score of the game. Almost everybody had expected the game to be close but few expected a low-scoring affair.

Rocket fans' hopes were still alive with only 2:10 left to play in the game. The Rockets moved from their own 23 to the Stratford 47 in just 16 seconds with passes from Carl Taylor to Robert Powell and Kevin Hall.

Then Ricky Jones broke loose and rambled to the Stratford 30, but is turned out to be just another verse of the same song. When Jones was hit the ball popped loose and Stratford recovered with 1:33 left to play.

The Rockets owned the ball 7 times in the last half and on five of those occasions they turned it over to Stratford on fumbles. And one punt was blocked. But although the Rockets gave good field position to the Elks, some of the Rockets best defensive work of the year kept them from the goal line. Jon Sessions killed one Stratford drive that reached the Rocket 5 yard line with an interception in the end zone for a touchback. Robert Chambers intercepted another Stratford pass in the second half and Robert Powell came up with a fumble recovery.

The Rockets deepest penetration of the night came after the fumble recovery on the Stratford 31. But second down from the 28 another Rocket turnover ended that drive too.

Once in the third quarter Stratford made it to the Rocket 11 yard line, but wound up having to settle for a field goal attempt from the 25. That one fell just a foot short of the bar.

Wellington coach James Williams had said last week that the team that made the fewest mistakes would win. "And that's what happened," Williams said. "When you get out of district, you have two good football teams going against each other."

The Rockets closed the season with an 8-3 record, losing before bi-district only to AA Childress and Floydada.

Classes Observe First Thanksgiving

Students in three grades of Wellington Elementary School observed Thanksgiving by coming to classes dressed as pilgrims or Indians.

They were Mrs. W.P. Estes and Mrs. Dan Henard's first grades, Mrs. Jack Campbell's third grade, and Mrs. Edith Carter's fourth grade.

This is a tradition Mrs. Carter has carried out with her students over many years teaching, first at Arnett, then Quail and now Wellington.

The Thanksgiving story was told several times for the children to learn of the settlers who came to Plymouth Rock on the Mayflower, how they survived for a year, then joined friendly Indians in giving thanks and eating the Thanksgiving dinner.

Girls in the three grades wore long dresses and Pilgrim bonnets, while the boys wore Pilgrim hats. Indians came and were especially friendly.

Thanksgiving songs were recorded and played on the school inter-com by these youngsters and fourth grade teachers, Mrs. Carter and Duane Dodson, assisted by Principal Bob Copeland.

by Mrs. Clara Mote, County Librarian

Collingsworth County Library will receive $1,076, from the Texas State Library for the purchase of books in 1979, Mrs. Clara F. Mote, librarian, has announced.

Mrs. Mote, recently attended a workshop at McLean Library, conducted by a representative McNaughton book publishers.

Through an arrangement with that company, Collingsworth County Library has $80 of their volumes on its shelves at all times. At regular intervals, books are returned and replaced with new publications.

Attending the workshop were librarians from Clarendon, Canadian, Wheeler, Pampa, Panhandle and McLean.

One of the newest books on the library shelves is Agatha Christie's "An Autobiography," which is presently much in demand.

Wise Care of Clothing Can Cut Utility Costs

Practice wise clothing care methods to conserve energy and possibly cut utility costs.

The greatest savings can occur with reduced water temperatures for laundering, points out a clothing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Heating water accounts for three percent of all U.S. energy usage, Becky Culp reports.

Reduce energy consumption in doing home laundry 50 percent by using warm water for washing and cold water for rinsing rather than using hot water temperatures.

In fact, between 1970 and 1976, studies show that the number of loads washed in warm water increased by 15 percent while the number washed in hot water decreased by the same amount with about 50 percent of households using warm temperatures.

However, the general rule still holds true—use hot water (130 degrees F., 70 degrees C.) for the most difficult cleaning jobs or for sanitation. Also, use warm water (100-110 degrees F., 38-43 degrees C.) on fabrics with greasy, oily stains by first

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS
By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — Republican Governor-elect Bill Clements has launched surveys and transition conferences with state officials preparatory to taking over the governor's office.

Clements returned to Austin this week to resume the planning after spending three days at the Republican Governor's Conference.

He also conferred with top state officials from Gov. Dolph Briscoe to regulatory agency heads last week.

Clements said his conversations included the budget, revenues, appointments, energy problems, reduction of the bureaucracy, citizen power to initiate legislation and needed prison system improvements.

He also suggested in talks with House Speaker Bill Clayton and Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby that consideration be given to dedicating a cent of the state's four-cent sales tax toward further school property tax reductions.

And he again advocated eliminating the state's 10-cent property tax for college buildings.

Clements said he was assured of "leadership cooperation in the legislature," and repeatedly predicted no difficulty in dealing with majority Democrats.

The governor-elect has established a transition headquarters near the state capitol, and has staff members interviewing job applicants.

He also has an inauguration headquarters established in his old state campaign command post.

Suit Filed

Texas, Oklahoma and Louisiana filed their federal court suit to overturn key portions of the Natural Gas Policy Act of 1978.

"Issues go to the heart of the question of where state sovereignty ends and federal authority starts," said Oklahoma Atty. Gen. Larry Derryberry.

The three major producing states sued the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission in Oklahoma court.

They challenge provisions of the federal act allowing the federal government to control price of natural gas sold within a state and which require states to take part in enforcement.

The case is expected to take at least 18 months for a final decision.

Atty. Gen. John Hill said he is optimistic Texas can make a strong case for freedom from federal controls over pricing on state-owned lands, because the state reserved its public lands when it entered the union.

Employees Counted

As though in answer to Governor-elect Clements' recommendation to reduce the state employee work force by 25,000 over a four year period, Comptroller Bob Bullock said Texas government ranks below the national average in employees per 10,000 residents.

Bullock said there are 83,917 non-academic employees, 62,058 university and college employees and 22,944 part-time and seasonal workers.

That comes to 129 employees per 10,000 residents. The 1977 national average was 134 fulltime equivalent state employees per 10,000 population.

Courts Speak

The Court of Criminal Appeals reversed the murder conviction and 66-year prison sentence of a Dallas man in the death of a store clerk.

Texas Court of Criminal Appeals affirmed the involuntary manslaughter conviction of a Fort Hood couple in the starvation of a five-months-old girl.

Third Court of Civil Appeals disapproved a State Board of Dental Examiners suspension of an Austin dentist's license for allowing an unlicensed assistant to give "laughing gas" to patients as a relaxer before cleaning teeth.

The Court of Criminal Appeals upheld the sentence of a Houston man who allowed his 11 year old son to be subjected to such severe radiation burns that he was partially castrated.

Lawmakers Gather

Texas legislators gathered early in Austin this week at their biennial orientation conference for the 1979 Legislature.

The three-day sessions were held at The University of Texas Thompson Conference Center, under sponsorship of the Lyndon B. Johnson School of Public Affairs in cooperation with Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby and House Speaker Bill Clayton.

Lawmakers received information on legislative rules, the state budget, "sun-set" review of state agencies called on to prove their existence, energy and utility rates, tax relief and reform, products liability and public school education programs.

Short Snorts

Gross sales in Texas climbed to $44.2 billion during the second quarter of 1978, an increase of $1.8 billion over first quarter sales.

The Railroad Commission set a November 27 hearing to receive oral arguments on jurisdiction in the application of United Parcel Service

Inc. to transport packages of less than 50 pounds.

The commission approved increased gas rates by Entex Inc. for 143 residential and 16 small commercial customers in Kilgore and nearby unincorporated environs.

Congratulations Skyrockets!

A valiant and courageous Skyrocket Team has packed thrill upon thrill all season for a sports-loving Wellington, but at no time were they more to be admired than when they met Stratford in the bi-district game at Borger Friday night.

The game loss by three points was a disappointment to these gallant young men and their fine coaches, and to the town as well. But it can take away nothing from the hard-fought, sportsmanlike game they played.

Each is to be commended. And across the field, the opponents coach, Jackie Needham, must have remembered when he was a red and white clad Skyrocket, also playing his heart out.

They deserve our best wishes. If the Wellington Skyrockets cannot become the State Class A champions this year, we would like to see another Panhandle team have the honor.

Even More Good News

Mexico may soon be the world's No. 1 owner of oil reserves. It may be, that is, if projected reserves prove out in development.

The latest discovery announced is located between Veracruz and Tampico. It increased Mexico's claimed reserves to 300 billion barrels, almost twice the reserves of Saudi Arabia, the world's present leader.

For the United States, these discoveries could be particularly important, since we apparently are committed to living on imported oil. Reliance on Mexican oil would be far safer from a strategic standpoint than depending on Middle East petroleum because of the reduced transportation factor.

But U.S.-Mexican relations are at a low ebb. The Carter administration scuttled one natural gas deal because it didn't like the price that a group of private companies agreed to pay the Mexican government. Disagreements over the handling of illegal aliens and tariffs also have cooled relations.

Some experts think that the United States should make its technical expertise available to expedite development of Mexico's oil reserves.

An even more useful move, however, would be to begin treating Mexico like a full partner in development. We could begin by paying our southern neighbor realistic prices for its natural resources. As Mexico's petroleum reserves grow, reality must be faced — and the sooner the better.

New Rubber Industry?

Insistence on using only wild guayule plants, the supply of which soon was depleted, prevented growth of a domestic natural rubber industry early in the 20th century. Texas Sen. Lloyd Bentsen said a bill he introduced to study potential of guayule rubber was passed by the 95th Congress.

Guayule, a desert scrub bush, produces natural latex. When Cortez arrived to conquer Mexico in the 1550s, the Aztecs were playing with rubber balls made from the guayule bush.

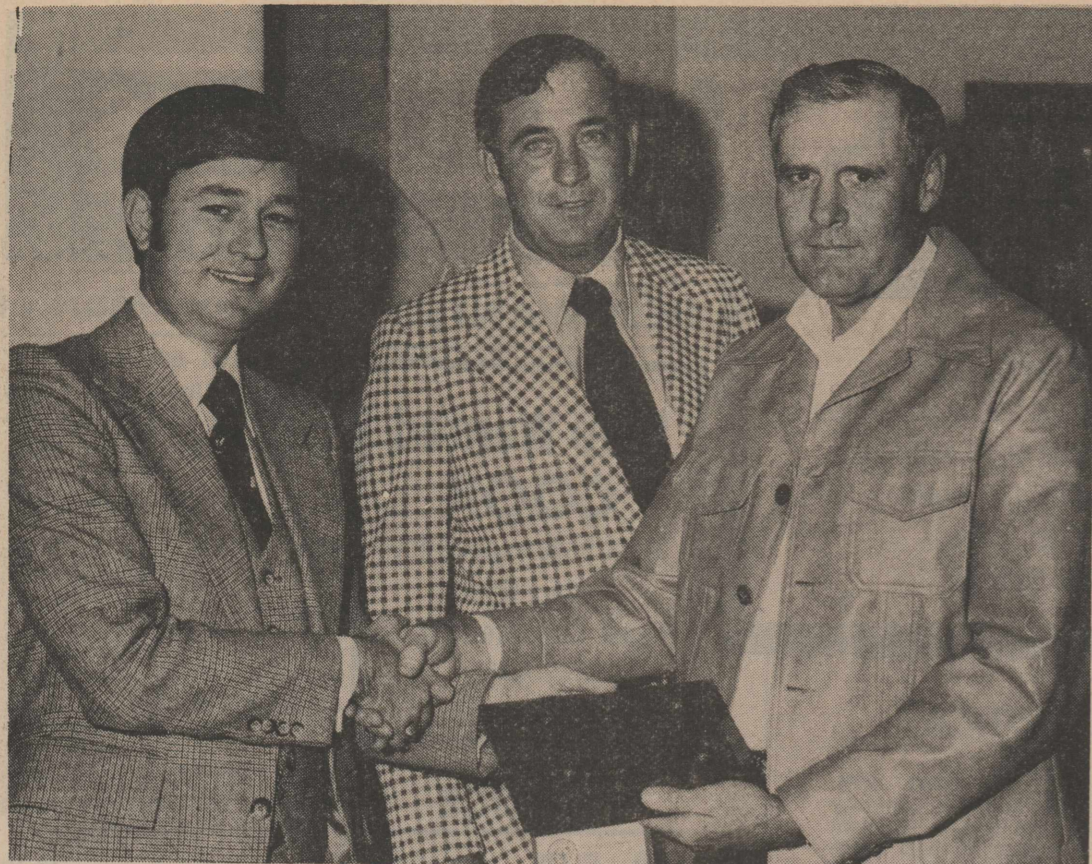

Early in this century, a dozen factories were built in Mexico and Texas to extract guayule runner, but the rubber barons didn't believe in cultivating the plant to assure a supply of raw material and wild stands of guayule soon were harvested. The rubber plants closed.

In the 1930s, Maj. Dwight Eisenhower studied guayule for the Army as a potential substitute for Malaysian rubber but his advice to develop guayule rubber was ignored. When the U.S. entered World War II, a crash program was begun that produced three million pounds of guayule rubber before the conflict ended, and petroleum-based synthetic rubber replaced guayule. But with the supply of petroleum shrinking and becoming more expensive, guayule rubber may yet have a future, and Bentsen's bill reinstated the guayule research project. In the future, when aridland farmers may have to abandon deep well irrigation due to water depletion, perhaps guayule then will fill the crop void and a thriving new industry will grow up in the Southwest.

REP. DANNY HILL DON REEVES TROY GENE THOMASON

Thomason Honored for Farm Demonstration Work

A select group of farmers from the Texas Panhandle were honored here Tuesday, Oct. 31, in observance of Farm Demonstration Month.

Honored from Collingsworth County was Troy Gene Thomason.

The program at the Texas A&M University Agricultural Research and Extension Center here commemorated the 75th anniversary of the first successful farm demonstration in which a volunteer producer applied new scientific methods to improve local production.

The introduction of this teaching method in 1903 on the Walter C. Porter farm near Terrell, east of Dallas, led to the formation of the nation's Cooperative Extension Service. It has been credited with making America's agriculture the most bountiful in the world and has been adopted by countries around the globe.

Honored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service Tuesday were farmers in each of the 20 counties of Extension District 1. They have been leaders in each of the 20 counties of Extension District leaders in conducting agricultural demonstrations to introduce new methods to their communities.

Thomason has planted cotton variety demonstrations with the Northwest Texas Research Demonstration Program continuously since 1964. Guar varieties and guar-cotton rotation trials have also been planted and evaluated on his farm.

Besides his leadership in the farm demonstration program, Thomason is a community worker and leader in his church.

Each honoree received a plaque. Presenting them were State Reps. Bob Simpson and Danny Hill.

Kenneth Holloway, Moore County Extension agent and director of the Texas County Agents Association, was master of ceremonies. The recipients and guests were welcomed by Gaines Franks, Potter County Extension agent and vice president of the TCAA.

District Extension Agent Paul Gross related the origin of the farm demonstration method and its history in the Texas Panhandle. A documentary film, "I Am Thinking of the Harvest," traced the history of the Porter farm demonstration and the organization of the Extension Service.

Reporting on research and demonstrations conducted in the Panhandle were area Extension specialists Dr. Frank Petr, agronomy; Dr. Ray Sammons, economist-farm management; Dr. Gene Cope, animal health; Dr. John McNeill, beef cattle; Dr. Carl Patrick, entomology, and Dr. Tommy Welch, range management.

Gross and Holloway noted that the farmers being honored were representing the hundreds who had assisted Panhandle agriculture over the years.

"This is a two-way street," responded Carl Jahnel, honoree from Hemphill County. "There hasn't been a demonstration carried on at the Jahnel farm that we haven't gotten more from it than anyone." He also noted that it was an early Extension agent who had encouraged him to go to college.

Mrs. Sims Delegate To National Meeting

Texans meeting in Austin on November 18 sent a message to President Carter. They asked him to declare 1980 National Libraries Year.

The 200 delegates to the Texas Conference on Library and Information Services on November 16-18 selected 19 persons to attend the White House Conference on Library and Information Services as delegates from Texas. Also attending the October, 1979, session in Washington will be eight alternates. Among the alternates will be Mrs. B.M.

Sims. The 33 resolutions adopted by the Conference addressed issues that range from urging public libraries to abandon the idea of user fees to requesting state and federal government to up their share of support for libraries. Mexican American, Black, and handicapped delegates spoke out for resolutions to establish programs for persons who share their special information needs.

The Texas Conference is one of a series of 54 being held in the states and territories in preparation for the White House Conference. In accordance with National Commission for Libraries and Information Sciences guidelines, it represented all geographic and demographic groups as well as others with special needs.

School Administrative Offices Move to Elementary Building

The administrative offices of the Wellington Schools face their moving day into the new Elementary building, and this should be completed by Thursday, December 7, Supt. E.W. Clement said this week.

This includes his office and that of the tax and business office. They will also get a new telephone number, 447-2511.

The office of High School Principal Melvin Cardwell will remain in the high school and he will also retain the familiar telephone number, 447-2527.

Remodeling of the front area of the old Elementary school has been completed.

Clements will move his office into that vacated by Elementary School Principal Bob Copeland. The tax and business office, headed by Mrs. Nita Brantley, will go into the room formerly occupied by Mrs. Nan Henard's grade, immediately across the hall from Clement's office. These are just inside the north, (front) door.

It is considerably larger than the present tax office. The superintendent's and tax offices will share the new telephone number, 447-2511.

Copeland, Elementary principal, has already moved his office into the new elementary building. There will be no change in his phone number, 447-2353, or that of the cafeteria, 447-2182.

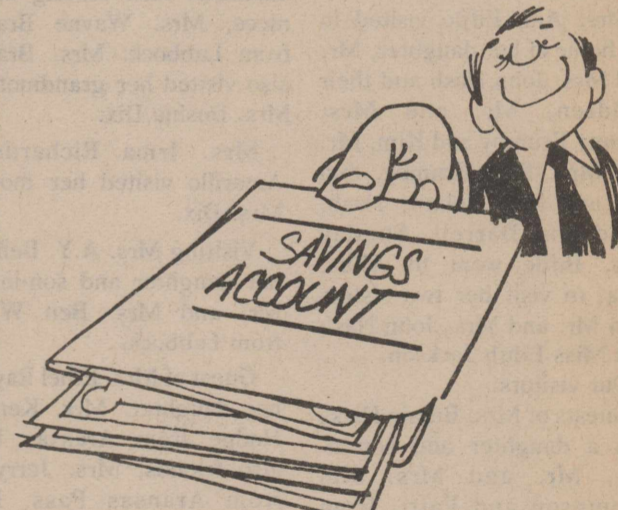

The new combined school board room and conference room is located immediately south of Clement's office.

Lone Star Gas has already laid the groundwork for your energy future.

The jobs of more than 100,000 Texans employed in plants served by Lone Star depend on gas for heat processing or as a product ingredient. Long-term gas supplies are needed to preserve existing jobs, create new ones, and meet the requirements of our residential customers. Fortunately, Lone Star is in an excellent position to continue energizing our area's economy.

Lone Star has an 11,400-mile gas gathering and transmission pipeline system that connects with basins estimated to contain 50% of the remaining onshore gas reserves in the United States.

This same network also enables Lone Star to accept gas deliveries from growing offshore production in the Gulf of Mexico.

No other gas company in Texas has a pipeline network as extensive or versatile as the one we've put together and constantly modernized during the 69 years Lone Star has been in business.

No other gas company in Texas has the built-in opportunity to buy gas as selectively, to bargain as well for the best prices on new gas, as Lone Star.

Our pipelines can have an important effect on your energy future, because it's here where Lone Star is strongest that gas companies from across America will be shopping hard for new gas reserves.

Here's your key to the energy storehouse.

We fully understand the efforts of other gas utilities and transmission companies to get new gas supplies. Their areas also want this most economical of fuels for industrial use.

Nevertheless, Lone Star's obligation is to the million-plus residential, commercial and industrial customers who depend on us to meet their energy needs in the decades ahead.

We're determined to meet our obligation in full by getting our area's fair share of new gas reserves as they enter the market in volumes large enough to be handled economically.

It can be done because of Lone Star's pipeline system.

Our gathering system goes into areas where other gas companies haven't begun to build. Our far-reaching transmission network gives us excellent capabilities. Our underground storage system often lets us take deliveries when many companies cannot.

All we need to buy the gas you'll need in the decades ahead is your understanding that we must recover the actual cost of the new gas we buy.

Give us that, and we'll deliver you the best gas bargains that money can buy. But the longer we wait, the more expensive the bargains will be. And we're eager to get on with the job.

Lone Star Gas Company

Cow, Two Cars Collide Sat.

Two cars, driving in rain and fog, struck a black cow 8.4 miles east of Wellington on FM 338 Saturday, November 25, heavily damaging one vehicle and killing the animal.

DPS Trooper Herb Duncan said the cow, which was on the pavement, was first hit by a car driven by Walter Sanderson of Dodson.

It crumpled the hood then rolled off in front of the car driven by High School Principal Melvin Cardwell, who was returning from the Wellington-Stratford bi-District football game at Borger.

Duncan said there was considerable damage to the Sanderson car, while the Cardwell vehicle sustained less damage. No injuries were reported.

Deputy Sheriff Gary Thomas assisted Duncan in the investigation.

County's 1977 Farm Income $28 Million

Collingsworth County farmers and ranchers received $28,213,000 in marketings and government payments during 1977, the Texas Department of Agriculture has announced.

This was up almost $6 million from 1976, which was $22,497,000.

The total included $18,591,000 in cash receipts from all crops and $8,874,000 from livestock and livestock products. Government payments made up $748,000 of the total.

Of the total cash receipts from crops, the 1977 figure was up from $13,210,000 in 1976 and livestock was up from $8,651,000.

The County received $748,000 in government payments in 1977, up from $636,000 in 1976.

Some farmers may question the figures given in the breakdown into individual crops.

The county had 64,700 acres of cotton planted and harvested 64,100, according to the statistics. The yield averaged 374 pounds acre for an approximate 50,000 bale crop.

Wheat accounted for 55,300 acres planted but only 28,000 acres harvested, with a yield of 21.6 bushels per acre for total production of 605,500 bushels. Small grain farmers also planted 800 acres of oats, harvested 400 with an average of 15 bushels for total production of 6,000 bushels.

They produced more rye: 1,900 acres of which they harvested 1,000 which yielded 13.8 bushels per acre for 13,800 bushels.

As to grain sorghum, Collingsworth growers planted 21,500 acres, harvested 14,400 which yielded 41 bushels per acre for a county crop of 590,400 bushels.

Alfalfa hay accounted for 2,200 acres harvested, yielding 2.5 tons per acre for a 5,600 ton crop.

Other hay excluding sorghum was harvested from 3,100 acres, yielding 1.2 tons per acre or a 3,800 ton crop.

Growers harvested cowpeas from 190 acres, with a yield of 320 pounds per acre totaling 60,800 pounds.

No statistics were given on peanuts, although this is a major crop in the Quail area.

Only 4,500 acres of cotton land was irrigated, according to the report, and all of this was harvested. The yield was 619 pounds per acre compared to the 356 average on dry land cotton.

Irrigated wheat accounted for 2,200 acres, with only 1,000 harvested. Yields were set at 36.9 bushels compared to 21.1 for dry land wheat.

Irrigated grain sorghums were harvested from only 500 acres, averaging 85 bushels per acre compared to 39.4 bushels for dry land crops.

The only fruits reported were peaches, and production was set at 1,100 bushels.

On January 1, 1977, there were 45,000 head of cattle in the county, including 19,000 beef cattle that had calved. Also, there were 5,300 head of hogs. No sheep were listed, but other figures show the county produced 3,000 pounds of wool, and that the owners received $640 in government payments on them.

A breakdown in the government payments for 1977 shows these figures: drought and flood conservation program, $477,777; feed grain program $20,760; the wheat program, $60,441; and upland cotton program, $95,278; wool, $640; Great Plains Conservation Program, $39,750, and rural environmental assistance program $53,801.

Across the state, agriculture added $7.1 billion to the economy last year, Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service surveys showed, with receipts from all crops almost balancing those from livestock and livestock products. Livestock receipts totaled $3.5 billion, followed by $3.3 billion for crop receipts. Government payments made up $206 million of the total, including over $120 million through drought and flood assistance programs.

"With improved livestock prices this year, particularly cattle, we are optimistic that 1978 cash receipts will be higher," commented Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown. "These figures only tell half of the story, however. In any discussion including agricultural statistics, the true picture is only presented when you can balance the cash receipts against the actual production costs. During last year, unfortunately, those production costs outstripped most of the profit margin for many farmers and ranchers."

Texas maintained its third place national ranking in cash receipts, despite problems throughout the year. Other first place rankings included: number of cattle and calves, 14.5 million head; Upland cotton production, 5.5 million bales; wool production, 21 million pounds; mohair production, 8 million pounds; number of farms and ranches, 197,000; and farm and ranch land, 139.8 million acres.

The state ranked second in the production of grain sorghum, grapefruit, cantaloups, carrots, rice, green peppers, cabbage, onions, American-pima cotton, pecans, honeydew melons and cucumbers.

EAGLE PALMS

These three Explorer Scouts are already holders of the Eagle Award, and Saturday, Nov. 25, they were awarded the Eagle Palms. They are, from left, Neal Van Pelt, Gary Isaacs, and Craig Darter.

Awards Given at Court of Honor

Three Boy Scouts received Eagle Awards in court of honor ceremonies Saturday evening, November 25, while other members of Troop 432 received badges or other awards.

Gaining the Eagle, highest earned award, were Brent Long, Tim DeVoss and John Birkey.

The program was a slide presentation of the 200 mile Canadian Canoe Trip made by a group of Adobe Walls Council Boy Scouts last summer. Three were from Wellington, Gary Isaacs, Brent Long and Tim DeVoss. A fourth member of their group was Dan Curl of Memphis, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Fain.

Most of the slides were made by the boys themselves and showed notably the rugged Canadian country and the rivers they covered, but the other camp activities as well.

County Judge Zook Thomas conducted the Eagle ceremony and participating were the parents of the three young men, Mr. and Mrs. Billy R. Long, Mr. and Mrs. Lee DeVoss and Mr. and Mrs. John Birkey.

Judge Thomas also awarded Eagle Palms to three who are already Eagle Scouts. These represent additional badges earned. Gary Isaacs and Neal Van Pelt received bronze palms and Craig Darter the gold palm.

Isaacs assisted Scoutmaster Glenn McLain in presenting second class awards to Jay Anders, Dell Davis, Leroy Hudson, Heath Ingram, Darren Jones, Charles J. Kennedy, Shawn Kennedy, Barry Moseley, Darrell Nash, Alfie Seeley, Eugene Mote and Bryan Wilbur.

He presented first class awards to Seeley, Anders,

Hudson, Nash, Wilbur, Paul Estes, Shawn Kennedy, Mote and Moseley.

Recipients of Star awards were Paul Estes and Jeff Langford.

Lee DeVoss, assistant scoutmaster, made the merit badge presentation. Tommy Binford a former member of the troop who returned for the court of honor, received two; Shawn Kennedy 6, Alfie Seeley 6, Leroy Hudson four, Jay Anders 9, Darrell Nash 5, Bryan Wilbur four, Barry Moseley two, Brent Long two, Paul Estes two, Channy Wood one, Jeff Langford one, Tim DeVoss one, Charles Kennedy one, Gary Isaacs one, and Sidney Herring four.

Boys who received badges for completing the mile swim at summer camp were Anders, Hudson, Long, Seeley, DeVoss, Isaacs, Binford, Shawn Kennedy, Charles Kennedy, Wilbur and Nash.

The 50 miler awards were given to the three who made the Canadian Canoe trip, DeVoss, Isaacs and Long.

Receiving life guard awards for work at summer camp were DeVoss, Long, Isaacs and Binford.

N.E. Childers, representing Wellington Lions Club, presented checks for $25 to the Boy Scouts, Cub Scouts, Girl Scouts and Brownies. Receiving them for the organizations were Mrs. Lee DeVoss and John Alf Thomas. These will be annual awards.

Childers, a deputy sheriff from 1970 to 1976, noted that in that entire time, he never had to arrest a Boy Scout.

Eagle Scouts present for the court of honor included those who received the award, Long, DeVoss, and Birkey, also Isaacs, Van Pelt, Craig Darter, Chuck Darter, Jimmy Morgan, still members of the troop, also Ted McLain and Lynn
