Rain enables commissioners to repeal burn ban

Tommy Wells
Colorado City Record

In his career as a county judge, Ray Mayo has made more than a few announcements about Mitchell County. Probably none have made him any happier than the one he delivered Monday morning.

The matches can be taken out of the safe ... finally.

Backed by recent rains and a greening topography, Mayo and members of the Mitchell County Commissioners Court voted unanimously to repeal the emergency burn ban immediately. The move enables residents in the rural parts of the county to burn their garbage for the first time in months.

"It was unanimous," said Mayo. "The burn ban is completely gone."

Mitchell County, with the backing of the Texas Forest Service, had been under a burn ban since July 17 due to extremely dry conditions. The ban on all open flames was the second one the commissioners had imposed on the county this year due to drought.

Recent rains changed that, however.

"We think there is enough moisture in the ground, and that it (the county) has greened up enough that there is a not too terrible danger of wildfires right now," said Mayo.

Despite the removal of the ban on outdoor burning, Mayo urged residents to be careful when working with fire, saying the threat of a blaze, though dramatically reduced -- was still a threat to everyone.

"We want to urge everyone to be careful when they're burning," he said. "We would like to encourage everyone to contact the fire department when they are doing large burns just so they can know what is going on. People still need to be careful when it comes to fire."

Residents of Colorado City are not affected by the removal of the county's burn ban. City residents are still under a modified ban in which all flames must be in an enclosed container. City council members voted previously to modify its ban to allow for barbecues.

Interest in soccer continues to soar among county's youth

Crusher's forward Corbin Lewis probably couldn't tell you the difference between Pele and Morten Anderson, or even who won the World Cup.

What he can tell you is what is becoming more and more apparent to adults in Mitchell County. That other futbol game is cool.

Mitchell County Youth Soccer Association officials can attest to the fact soccer is becoming a popular sport locally with youngsters. The league has more than doubled its number of players over the past three years.

"I think it speaks a lot about the popularity of the sport," said MCYSA board member George Hardegree. "I think it also speaks a lot

'06 Cook-Off registration now under way

Tommy Wells

World Championship Boer Goat Cook-off officials have a simple message for those who want to participate in the annual event: If you wait until the last minute, you might get burned ... and not get paid.

The 2006 World Championship Boer Goat Cook-off is now registering teams for the annual event, which is slated for Oct. 6-7 at Ruddick Park. The field is limited to the first 50 teams to enter the annual Colorado City Volunteer Fire Department fund-raiser.

"We're encouraging everyone to sign up as early as they can this year," said Tom Carroll. "There is only going to be enough goat for the first 50 cookers. If people want to ensure they can get in, they really need to sign up early. We always have those that try and register at the very last minute that don't get to participate."

The entry fee for entering the boer goat division of the event is $100 per team. Each team can have no more than three cooks. Entry forms can be obtained at the Colorado City Fire Station, in this edition of the Colorado City Record or via the Internet at www.wcbgc.skyprohosting.com.

Teams entering the cook-off can pay a $25 deposit when turning in their registration form to hold a spot.

MC Soil and Water Conservation District to hold PDG meeting

The Mitchell Soil and Water Conservation District invites the public and any agencies with interest to participate in a Program Development Group meeting to be held at the C.C. Thompson Room of the City National Bank. This meeting will be held on Sept. 14, at 9 a.m.

The purpose of this meeting is to request participation and invite comments from a broad range of local agencies, organizations, businesses and especially farmers and ranchers that have an interest in natural resource conditions and needs.

The discussion in the Program Development Group will hold the Local Work Group (LWG), led by Steve Shrode, USDA Natural Resources Conservation Service (NRCS) District Conservationist, to address county-based funding for the FY2007 Environmental Quality Incentives Program (EQIP). The LWG will make recommendations on resource concerns to be addressed, eligible practices, cost share rates and ranking for county-based funding.

One of the guiding principles of the 2002 USDA Farm Bill is that conservation programs are locally led. Through Stakeholder meetings the public is given an opportunity to help local conservation leaders set program priorities. These meetings are open to the public.

The Environmental Quality Incentives Program was established in the 1996 Farm Bill to provide a single, voluntary conservation program for farmers and ranchers to address significant natural resource concerns. Nationally, it provides technical and financial assistance to address natural resource concerns. Administered by the Natural Resources Conservation Service, EQIP was reauthorized in the 2002 Farm Bill and awards cost share assistance to agricultural producers who will apply cost share and incentive practices which provide significant environmental benefit. In Texas, NRCS provides funding to each county to address local high priority resource concerns.

For more information, call the USDA Service Center office in Colorado City at 325-728-3473. Service Center locations and program information can be found to the Texas NRCS website at www.tx.nrcs.usda.gov.

Perkins' Apothecary to hold health screenings on Sept. 22

Perkins' Apothecary will be hosting a discounted health screening program on Friday, Sept. 22 for local residents. The screenings, which will range from $10 to $35 in price, will be held from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Among the screening processes that will be conducted will be those for cholesterol, bone density, arterial elasticity, liver function, body fat composition, prostate, and thyroid.

CISD reports enrollment of 1,033 at its 5 campuses

Tommy Wells
Colorado City Record

Colorado Independent School District officials received some welcome news Monday evening at their regular meeting. The message was simple ... the numbers are good.

Principals at each of the district's five campuses reported solid numbers through the first two weeks of the 2006-07 school year. In all, the district is serving 1,033 students.

"We're glad to have them," said Colorado ISD Superintendent Jim White. "We wish we had a few more to go with them."

Kelley Elementary reported the largest number of students. Kelley Principal Denise Farmer informed members of the CISD Board of Trustees that her campus sported 302 students, including the new Head Start numbers.

Colorado High School sported the next highest total. CHS Principal Jeremy Ross said his campus was currently serving 266 students.

Hutchinson Elementary and Colorado Middle School both head into the first report card date with enrollment numbers of 221 and 220, respectively.

Hutchinson's student numbers is dramatically larger than a year ago, according to Hutchinson Elementary Principal Kitten Arthur. When the school year ended last May, the campus had just 198 students.

District eyes upgrades to 'The Pit'

Tommy Wells
Colorado City Record

A few years ago, venturing into the Colorado Middle School athletic facility was generally regarded as the pits.

Thanks to the Colorado Independent School District, "The Pit" may become posh ... and one of the nicer athletic venues in West Texas.

CISD officials on Monday indicated they were looking to make several upgrades to the venue, including expanding the restroom facilities and the overall look of the building.

"We know we need to do something," said CISD Superintendent Jim White. "I think it (any upgrades) will be a positive step for the school and community."

White said local contractor Virgil Stone was asked to inspect the facility and recommend improvements to the CISD Board of Trustees, possibly as soon as its next meeting in October.

CISD had spent the past year making improvements to the old facility, including resurfacing the gym floor, repainting the interior and repairing windows. The district also installed air-condition-agricultural operations in Mitchell County. The tour, a longtime tradition in the county, will begin at 8:30 a.m. at the C.C. Thompson Room.

"This tour serves several purposes," said Senter, who has guided the past seven events. "It raises the awareness of the importance of agriculture in the county, and it allows agriculture producers to get time information. Basically, it is a way to try and create an atmosphere where ag producers can get together and meet in a way that will help everyone better their operation."

According to Senter, the tour will start with a coffee and doughnut session at the C.C. Thompson Room. At approximately 9 a.m., tour participants will depart on the tour.

One of the biggest changes in this year's field will be the amount the top team brings home. Thanks to a donation by Rick Alvarez of Fuller Foods, the top prize for the cook-off will be $1,500 - up $500 from previous years.

The second- and third-place teams in the boer goat division will receive $500 and $250, respectively.

Boer goat won't be the only delicacy on tap during the weekend. A separate division will be held for beans, pork ribs, brisket and dessert. The entry fee for each of those categories is $15 with the first-place winner taking home half of the entry fees in each group. The only requirement for entries into the smaller categories is that all items must be cooked on site.

A cooks meeting will be held Saturday, Oct. 7 at 8 a.m. It is mandatory that all cooks attend the meeting to discuss rules and guidelines.

Carlock said Colorado City Volunteer Fire Department officials would be recognizing several camps during the two-day cook-off, including those named winner of Best of Show, Friendliest and Classiest Camp.

Several other vendors will also be on hand at the event. Tex Blankenship and members of the CCVFD will be cooking boer goat for sale to the general public throughout the weekend, while vendors from throughout the area will be on hand. Individuals or businesses that would like to establish booths at the cook-off should contact the CCVFD at 728-5252 for details.

OPINION & COMMENTARY

TUMBLEWEED SMITH

The most photographed hotel in the world

I lived in the northeast for about six months when I was just out of college. I didn't have a lot of money, but gas was cheap and I had a car, so I did a lot of driving on weekends. One time I ventured up to Quebec City. It felt like I was in France. The old part of Quebec has narrow cobblestone streets, little sidewalk cafes you just can't pass by, interesting stores, historic buildings with classical architecture and acres of parks. The Saint Lawrence River flows by the city.

On a hill overlooking the river is the Hotel Frontenac. It looks like a fairytale castle when you first see it. The sight is intriguing and makes you want to see it up close, to walk in it and absorb the ambience.

When I was there for the first time I didn't even ask about the cost of a room. I knew I couldn't afford it. When I left the grounds of the hotel on my first visit, I knew I would return. I carried the images of Quebec with me for nearly fifty years. I saw clearly the green grass, the colorful shops, the inviting restaurants, the couples holding hands, the beautiful flowers and, of course, the Chateau Frontenac.

We have been busy this year, thank goodness, with lots of speeches, video projects and various other activities. The other day my wife, Susan, said it was time for us to go to Quebec. So I made reservations at the Frontenac for a long weekend.

Quebec isn't the easiest city to get to. We had to fly to Montreal, rent a car and drive for three hours to get to Quebec. But it was certainly worth any extra effort we made. The hotel dominates Old Quebec. Its location on a hill makes the hotel visible for miles. Ships passing by on the river have a fabulous view of the Chateau Frontenac.

We had a corner room that gave us a view of the river and part of Old Quebec. Our room was ideal and the hotel was everything a luxurious hotel should be. The concierge, Ann McKenna, is the very best and has an uncanny knowledge about Quebec. She did send us to some great restaurants where we dined on stag, buffalo, caribou, shells from the St. Lawrence (we dug the meat out with needles), sole with vanilla sauce, salads with lavender and orchids, seasoned with rosemary and tarragon. At the Frontenac I had the best meal: halibut with mango salsa.

We listened to jazz, swam, rode the funicular up and down the steep hillside, walked, shopped along the inviting streets and had coffee and chocolate at a sidewalk cafe while listening to a street musician play romantic tunes on his accordion. Since the hotel is within walking distance to everything we needed, we didn't move our car until it was time to leave.

Chateau Frontenac, with 618 rooms, is part of the Fairmont group of hotels, which also has the resort hotel Chateau Lake Louise at Banff. The Frontenac was built in 1893 by the Canada Pacific Railway, named for a flamboyant French governor.

I will go back to Quebec. But I won't wait fifty years to do so.

The second time around is much easier

OFF THE BEATEN PATH...

By
TOMMY WELLS
EDITOR

The joints hurt a bit more than they used to. The eyes are a little weaker, and the hair is considerably thinner and shorter than it once was.

But, believe it or not, the second time venturing into the lair of She-Who-Must-Not-Be-Made-Mad was much easier on me than the first. I didn't even have to do laundry when I got home.

A long time ago, back when the Man in the Moon was still in training pants and Mona Lisa was still too young to pose for Leonardo, I took my first sports writer position at the Breckenridge American. Fresh out of school, I expected to be the next Marvin Zindler - another old guy who is more famous than anybody knows - or Grantland Rice. I was ready for the big time, baby.

My boss, Don Treul who now serves as the editor of the American, wasn't so sure. He decided to give me the job of covering the smallest school in the area, Woodson - but only after he could try me out on another unsuspecting victim ... the Albany Lions.

The 1985 football season began for me in a familiar place. After my parents had decided John (my younger brother) and I had served enough time in Odessa, we moved to Ranger to finish our indentured servant status. While in Ranger, I was a not-so-proud member of the Ranger Bulldogs' football program ... which had a well-documented run of bad luck in the early 1980s.

Needless to say, we lost more than a few games to teams such as Cisco, Eastland and Albany. I will be the first to admit, losing is hard. It got so bad my senior year, I went to the Eastland Mavericks' home games and sat on their side just so I would know what cheering was.

Anyway, after that first week, Don said I was ready to find my destiny. Little did he know, that would happen in more ways than one.

The second week of September, I sloshed my way onto the field at Cowboy Field to cover the first-ever six-man football game I had ever seen. It was raining cats and dogs and more than little cold ... and that was before I even got out of the car.

As it happened, it only got rainier and colder as the game progressed. Like my fingers ached from being so cold.

So, I did just what any self-respecting sportswriter would do ... at the half, I went to the concession stand and bought a cup of hot chocolate and plunged my fingers in.

Aaaaaah!

Just about the time I was wondering if my feet would fit in that cup, it happened. A skinny girl wearing a WHS letter jacket bumped into me and spilled HER hot chocolate all over me. I was not upset, her drink was considerable warmer than mine - plus, I still had mine for the toes.

As fate would have it, that girl eventually became She-Who-Must-Not-Be-Made-Mad.

Five thousand years - and four children later, She and I returned to the scene of "The Accident." Last Friday, we returned to Cowboy Field to watch Woodson face off against their biggest rival, the Throckmorton Greyhounds.

Much to her surprise, She-Who-Must-Not-Be-Made-Mad had a good time in returning to her childhood home. She ran into more than a few relatives, former teachers, coaches and friends. She had the opportunity to introduce our three youngest children (our oldest, Whitney didn't make the trip) -- to her former colleagues.

At the half, she asked if I wanted to go to the concession stand.

As we headed toward the site of "The Accident," she asked if I knew this was the 210th anniversary of our meeting.

"Of course," I said. "I remember it like it was yesterday. It was cold that night and Woodson really beat the snot out of Paint Creek. I think the score was something like 70-22. And then there was that girl that spilled hot chocolate on me ..."

"It sure seems like a long time ago," she said. "I'm sure glad we don't have to do that again."

"Me, too," I said quickly. "I didn't bring any extra clothes."

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Letter to the Editor:

I just want to say thank you for the online edition of the Record. As a former Mitchell County resident it's really nice to be able to keep up with the happenings of my hometown. I still consider Colorado City to be home. I look forward to the day I can return and again be a part of Colorado City and Mitchell County!

Thanks again

Letter to the Editor:

I know I'm late, but wow, did C-City and surrounding towns miss out on a wonderful night! The Relay for Life is back in its original fun-filled night.

I would like to thank Amy Merket, Leesa McNeese and all others, too many for my memory to mention, for volunteering to help us again this year. A special thanks to the survivors for walking the Survivor Lap. One last thank you to the teams that attended, you were all awesome!

Folks, we all would like to encourage you to help this annual cause and help pick it up to be a big even for C-City once again. This disease is not partial to anyone, nor is it a forgiving disease and the phrase "you might be next" really means what it says. It's never too busy to invade our bodies, so we need not be too busy to help arrest it!

Thanks again to all who participated and helped with this relay. Please help keep it going!

Lake Colorado City citizens form group to address problems

A group of concerned homeowners has formed a committee to address the growing problem of deteriorating docks and other shoreline attachments on Lake Colorado City. Our greatest concern is for the safety of water enthusiasts that take advantage of this lake.

Group representatives have photos documenting approximately 100 shoreline attachments that are overwhelmingly hazardous to anyone on Lake Colorado City. These include sinking or deteriorating docks, mud poles, walkways and fishing houses.

The property owners in Mitchell County and residents of Lake Colorado City take pride in the community and property and sincerely wish to make this lake a safe and appealing place for our families, friends and visitors to enjoy.

The group hopes to work with controlling authorities to create, enforce and maintain some type of a permitting system for any shoreline attachments on Lake Colorado City.

The anticipated power plant construction proposed by TXU for the Morgan Creek Plant at Lake Colorado City will bring many jobs and families to the area. The group hopes to have a safe lake community for those newcomers, current Mitchell County residents and visitors.

All concerned citizens are invited to sign a petition, being circulated by the group, as a show of support for the above mentioned efforts. The public is also invited to attend the next meeting Sept. 19 at 7 p.m. at Just Stop Convenience Store, I-20 West and FM 2836.

Mitchell County Reunion to be held Sept. 30

Plans have been finalized for the Mitchell County Reunion for 2006. This reunion was first held in 1931 in Colorado City and will be held this year Sept. 30, in the Colorado City Civic Center, 157 W. 2nd St.

There will be registration and a reception from 10 a.m. to 12 noon with the luncheon to follow. Tickets will cost $8 per person and may be purchased at the Colorado City Area Chamber of Commerce, P.O. Box 242, Colorado City, TX 79512 or by phone, 325-728-3403. Checks should be made out to the Mitchell County Reunion and reservations should be made by Sept. 22, 2006.

Speaker this year will be Elsie Ann Ramsdell Scaife, a former resident of Mitchell County and a member of the Class of 1944.

There will be a Cowboy Breakfast at Kiwanis Park, downtown Colorado City, from 7:30 a.m. until 9:30 a.m.

their positions over the incident. A disciplinary hearing was scheduled for Thursday, Sept. 14, for the remaining officers.

According to Michelle Lyons, a spokesperson for the state, bringing alcohol onto prison grounds is a criminal offense.

"Our units are tobacco and alcohol free," Lyons said.

Several correctional officers involved in the incident are in the process of being notified they would have to appear before a disciplinary board.

Booth was a huge performer in the 1970's and 80's with such hits as "The Keys in the Mailbox."

Tickets for that show are also priced at $20 each.

A Christmas show has been booked for Dec. 14 with Justin Trevino and Curtis Potter slated to perform. Though the show will have a Christmas theme there will be a mix of old Christmas tunes as well as country and western music.

The new year will get off to a great start as "The Platters" will be bringing their talent-laden show to Colorado City on Jan. 25 for a two-show performance.

Grape Creek deals Wolves 34-6 setback

By Carl Graham

Colorado City Record

SWEETWATER--In what had been built up to be a duel between two evenly matched teams did not live up to the tag.

In fact, it didn't live up to any hoopla.

Grape Creek scored the first 20 points in the Second Annual Sammy Baugh Classic on Thursday evening at the Mustang Bowl and rolled to a 34-6 win over the Wolves, who had entered the game as a slight favorite.

The only Wolves' score came early in the third quarter when senior Jerrod Ward, playing in his first game of the season, scored on a 58-yard touchdown gallop with 11:33 left in the frame. The ensuing extra point attempt was blocked, leaving Grape Creek holding a 20-6 advantage.

Ward ended the game with 113 yards on six carries. Colorado City quarterback Kolby Free wound up with 92 yards on 20 carries.

Free completed three out of 10 passes for 18 yards, including passes to Ryan Gainey for eight yards and another to Nathan Hawkins for 10 yards.

Wolves to face Sonora in final non-district match

By Carl Graham

Colorado City Record

The Colorado High School Wolves will enter Friday's showdown with the Sonora Broncos with something on the line. The Wolves will be desperately seeking a win in their final non-district game in order to gain some momentum heading into their open week.

Sonora, under the guidance of seventh year head coach Jason Herring, returns four offensive and four defensive starters from a team that went 10-2 last year. The Broncos were 6-1 in district play a year ago. In all, 15 lettermen return this fall, including running back Justin Northcott, a 5-foot-11, 185-pound senior.

Others that will contribute should be quarterback Caleb Ramos, a 5-foot-10, 175-pound senior, wide receiver Evan Gulley, a 6-foot-3, 195-pound junior, offensive lineman Dustin Duhon, a 6-coach Frank Johnson said the team still has a lot of wrinkles to work out before district play begins on Sept. 29 against the Haskell Indians.

"Until we learn to play with better technique, and learn to play better as a team we are not going to win any games," said Johnson. "When we do something wrong we begin to self-destruct. We have to move beyond this."

"We had the ball inside the red zone three times, and only came away with six points," said Johnson. "This is a game I thought we could have won if we had taken advantage of the opportunities we had. Momentum is a huge thing in a game, and we had chances to swing the momentum in our favor."

During the half-time festivities, the No. 21 Sammy Baugh had worn during his high school

In the second quarter, the flood gates opened up as the Bulldogs put up 30 points while allowing Klondike 12.

CMS gridders open season with sweep of Grape Creek

By Carl Graham

Colorado City Record

The Colorado Middle School seventh and eighth grade football teams opened their season last Saturday at Wolf Stadium with wins over the Grape Creek Eagles.

In the seventh grade game, Derek Gainey, the son of Colorado City coach Dan Gainey, had a hand in every score as he ran back a punt 60 yards for a touchdown, passed to Tyler Hammond for a 35-yard touchdown, and to Jason Rodriguez for a 45-yard strike, and scored on a 40-yard quarterback keeper for another.

He also kicked four extra point attempts for good measure.

dous job for us Saturday," said coach Jerold Epperson. "He may be small, but he sure is quick. He can do a little bit of everything."

The team won, 34-6.
In the eighth grade game, it was "The J.C. Johnson Show" as he shredded the Grape Creek defense with his moves.

Johnson opened the Wolves scoring on an 8-yard quarterback keeper. He then tossed the two-point conversion.

Johnson went on to register four more touchdowns on runs of 18, 44, and 21 as well as passing to Tracy Russell for a 32-yard touchdown strike.

"I was pleased with both the seventh and eighth grade teams' play last week," said Epperson. "If we continue to work hard and improve each week we will be very competitive this season."

This Thursday, the CMS teams play host to Sonora.

The Colorado Middle School seventh grade will start at 5 p.m. while the eighth grade football team is slated to kickoff its game at 6:30 p.m.

The CHS JV drew first blood on a 10-yard scoring pass from Manuel Garza to Tyler Higgins to go up 7-0 early in the game. A.J. Hill toed the extra point.

The touchdown pass was just one of seven receptions made by the Higgins, a freshman who has been brought up to the varsity this week. Sophomore Michael Mauldin hauled in six passes. Overall, Garza completed 17 out of the 25 passes he threw. The Eagles scored the next 28 points to win the contest.

"Turnovers killed us throughout the game," said JV coach Dan Keeton. "We moved the ball well, but fumbled the ball about five times. We just fumbled away our opportunities. We have to correct that problem before we do very well."

Colorado City Bass Club honors its top anglers at awards program

The Colorado City Bass Club held its annual awards banquet on Sept. 6, at the Sportsman's Club and Restaurant at Lake Colorado City. The club celebrated another successful year of fishing, completing in 12 tournaments.

After a delicious meal for the anglers and their wives, Sam Huffman served as the Master of Ceremonies. He gave a brief summary of the club's history before presenting this year's awards.

Byrle Chapman was awarded the 2006 "Angler of the Year," while Ray Ellis was named the "Runner-up Angler of the Year." Bo Merket was awarded with the "Big Bass of the Year."

All three were given plaques from the sponsors, with Byrle and Bo also winning checks from the club.

Guthrie reels off 45-0 win over Wildcats

Carl Graham
Colorado City Record

The Westbrook Wildcats lost their second game of the season last Friday when they dropped a 45-0 decision to Guthrie.

The Wildcats have been hampered with injuries early this season. The news didn't any better against Guthrie as starter Colton Nobles went down. Nobles will join the injured Tate Burleson this week on the sidelines when they face the Sands.

Nobles has a pulled hamstring muscle, but should be ready to play next week against Loraine. Burleson is also expected to be cleared in time for the Loraine contest.

"We just didn't play very well," said coach Jim Hill. "We can't expect to beat anyone when we don't block or tackle. If these kids would do the things that we tell them, we could probably be a pretty good team."

The Wildcats will travel to Sands for a 7:30 p.m. to face the Sands Mustangs.

turned its way, cutting the lead to 22-12.

The "Stefan Limones Show" began from there. Limones scored on the next three LHS possessions -- once from 21 yards out and from nine yards out to help Loraine race to a 38-12 halftime lead.

Limones scored his third touchdown on a 60-yard romp with 4:34 left to go in the third. Robert Cantu, a sophomore center, caught the extra-point try that pushed Loraine ahead 45-12.

Klondike came back with another two unanswered touchdowns minutes later to cut the Bulldog lead to 45-28 with 19 seconds left in the third.

Loraine answered right back -- this time with three touchdowns in a row.

The Bulldogs' first TD came when Gibson scored from 19 yards out with 10 minutes left to go in the game. That put the Bulldogs up 53-28 after Hermosilla had tacked on the extra-point attempt.

Gibson came back a few minutes later with a 36-yard romp to increase the lead to 61-28.

Loraine's final touchdown came with 2:39 left in the contest when senior end Jimmy Grissam plunged into the end-zone on a one-yard run.

Klondike scored 14 seconds later on a 45-yard run to close out the scoring.

Limones led all rushers with 198 yards and three TDs on 17 carries. Martinez had 84 yards on only four carries, scoring once, while Gibson had 71 yards on only seven carries. He tallied three touchdowns.

Sophomore quarterback Jacob Sanchez completed only one of five passes, with senior Miguel Acevedo grabbing that one for 21 yards.

Acevedo also led the team in tackles with 15, while Martinez and Kenny Esquivel each were credited with 10. Esquivel also had an interception and a punt return for a touchdown. Grissom added nine tackles.

sports complex up from 9 a.m. to noon.

"The kids just love playing," he said.

The numbers back Hardegree up, too. In 2003, the MCYSA held just 96 players on 15 teams. A year later, in 2004, that number rose to 124 players on 16 teams.

In 2005, the soccer explosion began in earnest. The non-competitive league saw its numbers grow by more than 50 players -- a fact that forced the league to expand to a then-record 22 teams competing in four divisions.

The league, which is scheduled to kick-off its upcoming season on Sept. 16, will field 24 teams -- and 212 athletes -- this fall.

The growth in soccer isn't unique to Mitchell County. The sport has grown considerably in Big Spring, as well. Two years ago, the Big Spring Youth Soccer Association fielded more than 30 teams -- giving rise to the hope the high school could establish a soccer program in the coming years if interest stayed at a high level.

The Mitchell County Youth Soccer Association season is scheduled to run through Nov. 18. The league does not maintain standings or keep score in its games as part of its "all players are champions" approach.

LORAINE NEWS

By Bessie Ann Vaughn,
Loraine Correspondent

Addie Mahoney called to say that she will start teaching free classes of Spanish. The lessons will be on Monday and Tuesday nights.

You will be able to attend once or twice a week, whatever is best for you. Classes will be held from 6 to 7:30 p.m.

This is a great service that Addie is offering. I hope some of you will take advantage of it. Thanks Addie for providing a great service to our citizens!

Please don't start crying, but there are only 101 shopping days until Christmas. I may just have to trim my Christmas tree with electric bill receipts this year.

Several residents have taken advantage of the Loraine clean-up program. The dumpsters downtown are positioned for your convenience. Just think, you will make your place look neater and when several do that chore, it will make the entire community look neater and nicer.

Working at the dumpsters were Shirley Kendall, Jennifer and Arthur Zuniga, Durwood and Ina Vay McAdams, Joan Long, Jimmy Ruth and Bill Crockett. You may use the receptacles all week. Call City Hall for information.

We thank everyone who contributed their time to be there and work. Call City Hall for information about this.

Jeff Wooddell called me Monday morning about all the excitement that happened over at his house last Sunday. His wife Sissy walked into their dining room and found a small rattlesnake stretched out on the floor waiting for dinner. It was 2 1/2 feet long.

Yes, Sissy screamed! Jeff said they called Ricky Bailey because he had a snake catcher gizmo, and Ricky caught the snake.

The Wooddells inspected their house big time to see if the young snake was there with other siblings or his mama and daddy.

Jeff Wooddell said he and Shady Mitchell had been doing a lot of work on Jeff's café building. He was very appreciative of Shady's help and proud of their work.

The café is open 7 days a week from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. They put out a nice Sunday meal and a fish dinner on Friday night. You might want to check it out.

Betty Chandler had a wonderful birthday she said. Her sisters, Barbara Hall of Scottsboro, Alabama and Nadean Martin from Stephenville, came to see her Wednesday to spend the night and on Thursday, the three sisters went to Seagraves for Barbara's 50th high school reunion. Betty met with some of her old classmates as well.

She was given several birthday cards and gifts. It was a very fun time for her, and when she returned home, her mailbox was full of cards, thanks to all her friends here.

While watching the "Imus in the Morning" show on MSNBC a few days ago, I saw that one of his phone guests was Kinky Friedman whom you know is running for the governor of Texas.

He and Imus both said his poll numbers were very high.

My family members were here Sunday and we helped my daughter-in-law celebrate her 50th birthday. She thinks 50 is very old, and I now think it's very young.

I think of her most of the time as being a kid. Most everyone is getting to look like a kid to me. We had a nice day together.

Joan Long told me that she went with Durwood and Ina Vay to the second football game played by the Loraine Bulldogs. The game was against Klondike and Loraine won again.

Go Bulldogs! Congratulations! Joan, Ina Vay and Durwood will have to be present at all the games from now on. We wouldn't want to break a winning streak.

Chrystal (Graham) Brown, daughter of Carl Graham and step-daughter of Sandy, recently made a trip to Hollywood and Malibu, California. While there she was a contestant on the new game show "Set for Life" which is hosted by Jimmy Kimmell. She also got to meet Jason Lee who plays Earl on NBC's new show called "My Name Is Earl". To top it off she and her friend dined in the same restaurant with Martin Sheen who stopped on his way out of the restaurant to say hi.

At First Baptist church in Loraine Sunday morning, prior to the message was special with singing and music by Ina Vay McAdams. It was very enjoyable.

Loraine ex-students who are celebrating their 50th reunion are: Gerald McCann, Connie Liles, Billy Ray, Eddie Galvan, Gaylene Taylor, Dale Nash, Charlene Ross, Bill Narrell, Glenda Wooddell, Roy Epperson and John Miles.

In my last Loraine Ex's Newsletter, there were pictures of the class of 1913. Those in the picture were Clyde Wilson, Cary Mahan Reeder, Willie Payne, Annie Norman Rowland, Ethel Coffee James, Andrew Copeland, Mrs. Lucille Henthorne, Schuyler Faris and Willie Payne.

At the Senior Center last Wednesday, attendants played bingo prior to the noon meal. On Friday, Tommy Wright sang along with his tapes.

The Senior Center wants to thank Dub Wooddell and Virgil and Gerry Stone for all the wonderful vegetables they donated, like tomatoes, okra, squash, cucumbers and green beans.

This really is appreciated, and it helps with the nutritional program.

AG NEWS

USDA to distribute final 2006 direct payments

Agricultural producers enrolled in USDA's Direct and Counter-cyclical program (DCP) can expect their final 2006 direct payment to be electronically deposited into personal bank accounts sometime after the first week in October, announced Keith Hiser, County Executive Director for the Mitchell County Farm Service Agency (FSA). Producers who chose not to receive an advance 2006 direct payment will receive a lump sum payment for the year in October.

The direct payment for a crop equals 85 percent of the farm's base acreage multiplied by the farm's direct payment yield multiplied by the direct payment rate.

The FY 2006 crop year direct payment rates and maximum potential counter-cyclical rates:

- Wheat, 52 cents, 65 cents per bushel
- Corn, 28 cents, 40 cents per bushel
- Grain sorghum, 35 cents, 27 cents per bushel
- Upland cotton, 6.67 cents and 13.73 cents per pound
- Rice, $2.35 and $1.65 per hundredweight
- Soybeans, 44 cents and 36 cents per bushel
- Peanuts, $36 and $104 per ton
- Barley, 36 cents and 15 cents per bushel

per bushel

- Oats, 2.4 cents and 8.6 cents per bushel

"We (FSA) will accept late applications for the 2006 DCP sign-up from now through Sept. 29, 2006, if producers pay a $100 late fee," said Hiser. Producers sign DCP contracts annually and can choose not to participate in the program in any given year.

FSA reminds producers that if changes in operation potentially impacting interest in base acres have been made since signing the last Direct and Counter-cyclical Program contract, the successions-in-interest must be reported to the county committee by Sept. 29, so that a final eligibility determination can be made.

Changes that qualify as a succession-in-interest includes a sale of land; a change of operator or producer, including an increase or decrease in the number of partners; a foreclosure, bankruptcy or involuntary loss of the farm; or a change in producer share to reflect changes in the producer's share of the crop(s) that were originally approved on the contract.

If a succession-in-interest has taken place, you, as the "predecessor", are required to refund any advance DCP payments you received for the affected base acres before a payment can be made to the "successor". Not reporting a succession-in-interest can result in contract termination and a loss of program benefits for all producers involved.

For more information about DCP or other FSA programs, call the Mitchell County Office at 325-728-2651 or log on to www.fsa.usda.gov.

LOST & FOUND

My dearest material possession was lost or stolen from my home on the night of my son's 1st birthday party. A gold crucifix with a chain, that I have had for almost 15 years, was last seen on the dresser of my bedroom. I have searched high and low for this necklace in hopes that I had misplaced it, but my search has led me to believe that someone whom I welcomed into my home has taken this most precious piece of jewelry from me. If you have it, or someone gave it to you, or sold it to you, please return it to me. If you have any information or know where it may be, please let me know something. I need this necklace back. Leave a message at 325-728-8130, leave it in the mailbox at 1336 Cypress, whatever you do please just leave it with me. REWARD! Thank you, Samantha Aguilar Ramirez
