OFFER CATTLE, CROP LOANS

Organization Formed Saturday To Make Loans For Planting Spring Crops

As an aid to farmers and cattlemen, the Lubbock Production Credit association was formed in Lubbock Saturday, R. C. Wood announces. The purpose of the organization is to make crop and cattle loans, and loans to take up existing notes.

An office will be maintained in Tahoka with Deen Nowlin in charge to receive applications for such loans. G. M. Stewart will act as inspector. Mr. Wood has been appointed director for Lynn county.

The association set up in Lubbock Saturday is a branch of the Production Credit Corporation of Houston, which, in turn, is sponsored by the Federal government. This association includes Lubbock, Lynn, Garza, Terry, Gaines, Hockley, Cochran, Crosby, and Yoakum counties.

Sim O'Neal was elected secretary-treasurer and general manager. Claude Donaldson, Tahoka, will be assistant secretary. Mr. Donaldson has been granted a leave of absence from his job as secretary of the Farmers Co-operative Gin Society of Tahoka to accept the district office.

Mr. Wood states that the association has a capital stock of $150,000 and will be capable of doing $750,000 worth of business. The organization is now accepting applications for loans.

Missionary Tells Indian Stories

Rev. A. E. Butterfield, who calls Childrens his home, was here this week, having filled the pulpit at the Methodist Church Sunday morning and night.

For many years Rev. Butterfield did missionary work among the Kiowa, Comanche, and Apache Indians in Oklahoma. Beginning his work among them in 1892, he served without intermission for nine years as the missionary for his church, and has served intermittently since. The cities and towns of Anadarko, Snyder, Lawton, Hobart, Mountain View, and others are in the territory he covered, while Chickasha and Duncan mark the eastern boundary of the territory.

His ministry met with considerable success among the Indians. He says that there are now in this section twelve full-blood Indian preachers of the Methodist faith, seven of them having regular work and five of them being local preachers.

Rev. Butterfield's life and work have been wonderfully interesting. He has himself had many colorful experiences and can relate from first hand knowledge many events of considerable historical importance. In fact, he has written down these experiences with the view of preserving them for the future historian. They make a most interesting story. Among his friends of the other years was the noted Quannah Parker, and he says that one of Quannah Parker's sons is now a Methodist preacher in Oklahoma. Rev. Butterfield also has some interesting Indian relics, among them a quiver of arrows given him by the wife of the famous Geronimo.

B. R. Holcomb of New Lynn dropped into the News office Wednesday to request that we state that his announcement as a candidate for sheriff will appear in this paper next week. He will have a personal statement to make to the voters of the county.

Work Started On Pit Type Toilets

One hundred and five orders for pit type toilets have been received by A. D. Sanders Jr., CWA official in charge of this work, he said this morning.

However, construction has just started. One has been completed for J. A. Sanders at Edith, and five more are under construction. Workmen will get to the others just as quickly as possible.

Several rural schools of the county have asked for these toilets, Sanders said.

Several Businesses Change Locations

The partition in the Larkin building at the southwest corner of the square is being removed and set over much nearer the north wall this week, greatly enlarging the space occupied by Houston & Larkin's second-hand furniture store.

The smaller space on the north side, heretofore occupied in part by Larkin's Grocery store, will hereafter be occupied by the Maassen Produce Company. Mr. Maassen, who now occupies the corner building next door to the News office, will remove his business this week into the Larkin building.

The Knight building heretofore occupied by the City Bakery is also being remodeled. The east compartment is being fitted up as a garage and will be occupied by the All-Service Garage, with Shorty Brown as proprietor. Mr. S. R. Willoughby is retiring from the bakery business and will conduct a cafe in the central compartment of this building next door to the Phillips Service Station.

Panhandle Youth Earning His Way Playing Cowboy

Panhandle, Jan. 24—Because people in Chicago like to hear about cowboys and life in the west, a Panhandle boy, Winston O'Keefe, is making his way through Northwestern University at Evanston, Ill. O'Keefe lectures and gives dramatic interpretations before women's clubs, civic groups, boys' organizations and in department stores where cowboy furnishings are for sale. He will receive his M. A. degree from the school of arts and speech in June, and for two years he has made his lectures pay all his expenses.

"People in Chicago and farther east are hungry for knowledge of the southwest," O'Keefe said in explanation of his success.

"The adventure-loving east is eager to learn more about it." Winston, who was brought up in the cattle country, knows cowboys, and his interpretations are authentic. Only his attire is exaggerated. To the customary chaps, spurs, and big hat he adds an ornamented leather jacket, heavy leather belts, holster and six-shooter. Standing well above six feet with ruddy complexion and red hair, it is not difficult for O'Keefe to imitate the cowboy in appearance and characteristics awkwardness.

His "act" consists of an historical lecture, spiced with the romance and adventure of Indians, cow trails, buffalo and half-breed fights. When he reaches that phase of his lecture which treats of the loneliness of frontier life, O'Keefe strums a guitar and sings ballads which originated around the campfire, atop a cow pony riding herd or on the trail, explaining that "these ballads are the only original contribution of America to literature."

O'Keefe will write his thesis on the influence of the cowboy in drama and literature.

Bragg Buys Interest In Barber Shop

Cody Bragg announces that he has purchased the interest of Ben G. Morton in the Hub Barber Shop and will hereafter be associated with Jim Dye in the operation of this shop, beginning today.

Mr. Bragg has had a number of years experience as a barber here in Tahoka and elsewhere. He invites his former customers to come in and see him.

HIGHWAY WORK NEARING END

Dirt Work On No. 9 Project Almost Complete To South Side Of City Limits

The Panhandle Construction Co. has just about completed all the dirt work on that sector of highway No. 9 extending from the Lubbock county line to and through the city of Tahoka. They have been grading south of the court house to the southern limits of the city this week. A little "blue-topping" is yet to be done and the job will be finished. Fifteen more days will see the work completed if the contractor is not interrupted by bad weather, Sid Cathey says.

Mr. Cathey also says that a new survey has been made recently through the city of O'Donnell, following more closely the railway, which is much more satisfactory to the people there and especially to the land owners whose property is affected.

We have no information as to when contracts will be let for paving highway No. 9 from Tahoka to the Lubbock county line but it is expected to be done some time soon.

New Home Man Asks Re-election

County commissioner Jim Isard of New Home announces this week as a candidate for re-election to the office.

Mr. Isard is now serving his first term and has therefore been in office just a little more than a year. So far as we know, he has given commendable service and general satisfaction in the performance of his duties. He is rather modest in speaking of his record, however, and asks that we not give him too much praise. He would like to serve the people another term and promises honest and faithful service.

Mr. Isard is a conservative, careful business man, well acquainted with the problems that confront the commissioner's court, and is alert in looking after the interests of the people he serves. He will appreciate your vote and influence in the July primaries.

Fry Is Moving To Larger Building

The Fry Auto Company, Ford dealer, has moved into the Dance Palace building on the east side of the square.

This building contains much floor space and a large show room and will afford ample facilities for the Company to store and display its cars. The volume of business being done by this company made it almost imperative that it have larger quarters.

W. T. Jones was a business visitor in Dallas the first of this week.

FIRST COTTON CHECKS ARRIVE

189 Checks Totaling $43,000 Are Received By Farmers Of Lynn County

The first payment, consisting of 189 checks amounting to $43,000, on the cotton option agreements for Lynn county has been received, according to V. F. Jones, county agent. The first man to receive a check was Wiley Day, who resides out east of Wilson.

Mr. Jones states that cards have been mailed notifying farmers that their checks are here and that a farmer who has signed a 1934-35 reduction contract, or who is ineligible to sign, may call and receive his option check. Jones states that cards will be mailed immediately when checks are received, and "you can help a lot by not calling for your check until you receive a notice that your check has arrived and you have signed the acreage reduction contract."

Mrs. Gooch Seeks County School Job

The name of Mrs. Paul Gooch of O'Donnell will be found in our announcement column this week as a candidate for the office of county superintendent of schools.

Having been engaged in school work for a number of years and having served as county superintendent in Dawson county, Mrs. Gooch is thoroughly familiar with the duties of the office. She has gained an enviable position among the teachers of the county by reason of her proficiency in the school room and her devotion to duty, and would doubtless make good in the position to which she aspires. Read her announcement below.

To The Voters of Lynn County:

I desire to place my candidacy for the office of County Superintendent of Lynn County, Texas, before the voters of my county. I ask to be elected strictly upon my qualifications as one who knows the work and can render a service in preparing boys and girls for future citizenship.

I have been connected with the O'Donnell Public School for seven years, serving as principal of grammar school for five years, and having served as County Superintendent of Dawson County, Lamesa, Texas, three years. I feel that this experience fits me for this position, and if elected, I will earnestly and faithfully strive to make an efficient officer, and repay the confidence and trust of the electorate.

Soliciting your vote upon this basis, and asking of you a fair and impartial consideration, I will be content with your decision.

Sincerely, Mrs. Paul Gooch

Strong Man Gives Exhibition Here

Jack Kern, self-styled "iron man," gave an exhibition of his unusual strength in Tahoka last Saturday before a large crowd of people.

Kern pulled a truck carrying a total load of five tons, 500 pounds; first with a rope around his neck and hitched to an automobile; then with an innertube around his stomach. Also, he used his body as the connecting link between the automobile and the truck, with his head against the truck and his feet on the car bumper, the car pushing the truck.

Kern's performance was sponsored by a group of Tahoka merchants.

Barton Is In Race For Commissioner

R. W. Barton of New Lynn has authorized the announcement that he will be a candidate for commissioner of precinct No. 1 subject to the action of the Democratic primaries, and his name appears in our political announcement column this week.

Mr. Barton is a real dirt farmer and has been residing in the New Lynn community the past seven years. During this time he has been active in community affairs and is recognized as one of the progressive citizens of the county. He has never been a candidate for office before but has always taken a lively interest in public matters. He says that he feels capable of handling the business that will come before the court and that if elected he will do his best at all times to serve the interests of his constituency and the people of the county generally. He will appreciate your vote and influence in the Democratic primaries.

Mr. Barton came to Lynn county from Coleman county, where he resided 27 years.

New Chevrolet Is On Display Here

The Connolly Chevrolet Company received their first car of the new model Monday and have been displaying it here this week. It is a sport coupe, and the editor had the pleasure of a ride in it Tuesday.

This new coupe is a thing of beauty as well as utility and economy. Chester Connolly says that it has a speed of 80 miles per hour and has numerous other improvements over former models. But the big feature of the new car is its "knee-action," which eliminates jolts on rough roads. There is no doubt that the new Chevrolet is the best car the company has ever put on the market and is one of the most elegant cars made. It will doubtless have a big sale.

Clairemont Woman Proud Of Canning

Clairemont—"Just look at what we have done," I said to my husband, as we stood in our cellar, giving our pantry the 'once-over' just a few hours before the pantry achievement tour. He agreed with me that we had accomplished something of which we could both be proud. The addition of $289.63 to our yearly income is going to be appreciated, and that is the value of our pantry." Mrs. N. A. Ward, pantry demonstrator of the Clipper Home Demonstration Club reported to Miss Veralee Jones, Kent county home demonstration agent. The 22 varieties of canned and preserved foods consist of 350 quarts of canned foods, and dried beans, cured meats, lard and corn meal.

Mr. Ward says he is going to be a member of the club, on the side, for with both of us working in the pantry, we ought to have a pantry next year worth twice as much as the present one," Mrs. Ward said. "I have been canning for years, but I have learned many new methods of canning foods since I have been doing club work. I hardly ever have anything to spoil now; also I have improved the quality of my products. Being a pantry demonstrator has helped me in making out the family budget and the filling of the budget so that our family has had the foods that are needed," she added.

SIX ARRESTED BY OFFICERS

Thieves And Bootleggers Thrown In Jail; Stolen Car Recovered In Fort Worth

The sheriff's office here was advised Tuesday morning that Ralph Adams, accused of having stolen a car at Big Spring a few months ago which belonged to Sam Frank, then of O'Donnell, had been arrested and placed in jail at Fort Worth.

Mr. Frank was a business man at O'Donnell at the time the car was stolen but has since moved away. He had just purchased the car in Lamesa, brought it to his home in O'Donnell, and then driven it to Big Spring when it was stolen.

If indicted, Adams will be tried in Big Spring.

E. C. Roberts and C. E. Key were arrested and placed in jail here Monday charged with the theft of some harness recently in the New-moore community.

Bob Cox, who is charged with stealing $57.00 in money from Grady Burkhardt, was also placed in jail a few days ago. Burkhardt claims that Cox took his money from his pants.

Two brothers bearing the name of Brown were arrested and placed in jail last week on a charge of violating the state liquor laws.

All these charges will be investigated by the grand jury which will convene here the second week in this month.

Miller Announces For School Place

J. B. Miller, principal of the New Lynn school for the past five years, announces this week as a candidate for county superintendent of schools.

The fact that Mr. Miller has held the same position for five years is evidence of the fact that he has given general satisfaction to the people he has been serving. Not only is he appreciated in his own community but he is popular throughout the county and is generally regarded by school people as one of the outstanding school men of the county. Quiet and reserved, he has the faculty of growing in the esteem of his acquaintances the longer and the more intimately they know him. Mr. Miller's announcement follows.

I wish to take this means of announcing my candidacy for the office of County Superintendent.

I came to this section of the State in 1922, having previously taught in the schools of Denton county for two years. For the past twelve years, with the exception of one year spent in Alabama, I have been teaching in the schools of Lynn county and the adjacent county of Garza. The first two of these years were spent as principal of the Hackberry School; the next four as superintendent of the Southland School; and the past five years as principal of the New Lynn school of this county.

There has been nothing extraordinary of spectacular about my record in the above schools to which I may refer the voters of the county. I can say, however, that I have never left a school except of my own volition. I further believe that my many years of experience in the schools of this immediate section has given me a practical understanding of their problems and some knowledge of their solution. We now have a splendid system of schools in our county but I feel that there is still room for improvement.

If elected to this important office, it will be my purpose to inaugurate each school year certain definite steps which I shall consider to be for the improvement of the schools under my supervision. With the cooperation and assistance of the teachers and patrons of the county I shall hope to carry them through to completion.

My present duties at New Lynn will prevent my seeing many of the voters at this time, however, I shall endeavor to see each one in person. Until that time, any consideration you may give my candidacy or any influence you may extend in behalf of my candidacy will be highly appreciated.

Respectfully yours, J. B. MILLER.

M-G-M'S NEW MUSICAL HIT

The appearance together in a picture of Joan Crawford and Clark Gable is an unmistakable sign of screen entertainment above the ordinary run. The popular pair are again seen opposite each other in "Dancing Lady." Metro-Goldwyn-

Mayer's filmization of the widely-read James Warner Bellah novel, which will be the feature attraction showing Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at the English Theatre.

From all indications Metro has outdone itself in providing its top-notch stars with a vehicle which from the viewpoint of lavishness, spectacular detail and casting strength leaves practically nothing to be desired. Miss Crawford, who in "Dancing Lady" starts out as a cheap burlesque chorine and ultimately ends up with her name in bright lights on Broadway, has a part which gives her every opportunity for dancing, singing and plenty of displays of emotional fireworks.

Gable, likewise has a "meaty" role as the musical comedy director who at first considers the pushing Miss Crawford as the biggest pest of all the chorines, but is eventually brought to realize that there is more to the girl than a striking figure and particularly adept dancing legs.

The unusually fine supporting cast grouped together for this production includes the fast-rising Franchot Tone, May Robson of "Apple Annie" fame, the irrepressible Winnie Lightner, the world-famed dancer Fred Astaire, Robert Benchley and Ted Healy and his stooges. Also in the prominent roles are Gloria Foy, Art Jarrett, Grant Mitchell, Maynard Holmes, Nelson Eddy and Sterling Holloway.

Sammy Lee and Eddie Prinz supervised the musical ensembles of the picture which features a chorus of one hundred dancers. Songs heard in the production include "Let's Go Bavarian," "Heigh Ho," "Everything I Have Is Yours," "That's the Rhythm of the Day" and "Dancing Lady" as sung by Miss Crawford, Art Jarrett and Nelson Eddy.

"Dancing Lady" is the first picture to be directed by Robert Z. Leonard since his recent box-office success, "Smilin' Through."

INDIAN MISSIONARY IS HEARD BY METHODISTS

The Reverend A. E. Butterfield of Childress, Texas, former worker among the Indians in the Oklahoma reservation, made two most interesting missionary addresses at the local Methodist services last Sunday. His morning talk was along the general line of the life and customs of the Indian peoples, while their religious beliefs and practices formed the theme of the night message. He carried a collection of handwork relics, etc., which comprised an interesting display in connection with his talks, black-board sketches, etc.

The Young People's Division had an unusual attendance at the night meeting, and prizes were made to conduct the church night program this mid-week; likewise, to attend the District Young People's Rally to be held at Lorenzo February 3 and 4. Quite a number expect to go from Tahoka and nearby communities.

The church school record is keeping up nicely. Shall we make a new mark next Sunday.—Reporter.

COUPLE GETS SHOWER AT BAPTIST CHURCH

A reception and shower honoring Mr. and Mrs. E. I. Hill, newly-weds, were given by the adult members of the Baptist Church in the basement of the church last Friday night, accompanied by a program of fun and entertainment. The room was tastefully decorated with a flock of blue birds.

Following the reception, Miss Eunice Mullins sang "I Love You Truly" and this was followed by a burlesque wedding, which afforded much merriment. Mrs. Skip Taylor acted as groom and Mrs. Ed Welch as bride, while Mrs. Buddie Knight as clergyman pronounced the solemn words that made them husband and wife. Best man was Mrs. K. Stacy and bride's maid was Mrs. Borden Davis. Guinelle Davis was the flower girl and Wanella Willoughby the train bearer.

After R. E. Key led in singing "The Fight Is On", selected because of its appropriateness and rendered in such manner as to provoke much laughter, a burlesque reception was held, all those in the receiving line being given fictitious and ridiculous names, which all were required to remember. Upon failure to do so they were required to do some ridiculous stunt, the honorees of course bearing the brunt of the fun-making.

Mr. and Mrs. Hill were the recipients of many beautiful and valuable gifts, for which they expressed their appreciation.

Punch was served to about seventy-five guests.

Dr. J. H. McCoy, who has been quite seriously sick, was thought to be somewhat better Tuesday.

Miss Barbara Maddox is in Dallas taking training for service in CWA work.

65,722 Bales Are Ginned In Lynn

With the gins still running here one day each week, 65,722 bales of cotton had been ginned in Lynn county prior to January 16, from the 1933 crop, according to E. W. Holway, crop statistician for Lynn county. Up to the same date last year 53,043 bales had been ginned from the crop of 1932.

The above figures make it certain that the crop of 1933 will slightly exceed 66,000 bales, the largest crop ever raised in Lynn county.

MRS. JIM BURLISON HOSTESS TO TABOKA MUSIC CLUB

Mrs. Jim Burlison entertained the Tahoka Music Club Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. E. E. Callaway.

The club is still studying Charles Wakefield Cadman, and the program was short due to several of the members being sick.

Mrs. Story played beautifully the piano solo, "In the Palace Garden." Mrs. W. O. Henderson wrote a very interesting paper on "Cadman's Music," which was read by Mrs. K. R. Durham.

A supply night of back numbers of which members have been unable to render will be given tonight in the home of Mrs. Lawrence Hays.

Mrs. Burlison served a lovely refreshment plate.

MESSES. TURRENTINE AND HANEY HOSTESSES TO CLUB

The Phebe K. Warner Club met Jan. 26th at the Club room with Meses. Turrentine and L. C. Haney hostesses.

After a short business session the following interesting program was rendered.

1. Roll call-characteristics of O'Henry's short stories.
2. "Defeat of the City"—Mrs. E. W. Fenton Jr.
3. "The furnished Room"—Mrs. H. C. Smith

Before adjournment the hostesses served a lovely refreshment plate.

The next regular meeting date is Feb. 9th.

CHURCH OF CHRIST REPORTS GOOD DAY LAST SUNDAY

Last Lord's day services increased over the Sunday before in attendance and attention. The morning audience was the largest at regular services for some time.

Elder Drennon gave a lesson in the morning on the eldership with a view of preparing the congregation for selecting two more elders. This selection will take place on next Lord's day.

The evening service is being given to the developing of the young people. Brother Drennon is giving a series of sermons to them. The subject last Sunday evening was "Money—How to Make and Spend It."

Every member is urged to be present at both services next Lord's day. The public is also invited.—Reporter.

Mr. Morgan says that they are never without turnips at his house. They raise spring and fall crops each year and keep turnips on hand the year round. His crop this fall and winter was unusually fine.

Miss Margaret Wetsel, student in Texas Tech, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Wetsel, several days between semesters.

J. R. Houston of Wilson was a business visitor at the News office last Saturday.

Almee Semple McPherson is to have a debate with an atheist, Charles L. Smith, founder of the American Association for the Advancement of Atheism, on Friday of this week at Abilene. Why should any Christian minister debate with an atheist? Ninety-nine people out of every hundred in this country doubtless believe that there is a God. No atheist could get more than a handful of people in Abilene or any other Texas city to hear him argue against the existence of a God were there not some other attraction. Almee Semple McPherson is merely furnishing to this atheist an audience. She will convert no atheist, but on the other hand this atheist may raise doubts in the minds of many young people that will be a handicap and a source of unhappiness to them through life.
Wise and good people sometimes do foolish and hurtful things. In fact, we think that Mrs. McPherson has already done the Christian religion much more injury than she has ever done good. Radicalism and sensationalism and theatrical performances by notoriety-seeking evangelists have done more to discredit Christianity in the minds of thoughtful young people than the arguments of all the atheists.

Jim Ferguson, acting through the nominal governor, has called a special session of the legislature to authorize the issuance of more relief bonds. This proposal will probably meet with hard sledding. Last summer the people of Texas authorized the legislature to issue as much as 20 million dollars of relief bonds if it should see fit. At the special session last year it authorized the issuance of $5,500,000. Just half of this amount or $2,750,000 worth, has been sold. There is much doubt as to whether some of this has been wisely expended or not. It is probable that much of it has been wasted. With $2,750,000 yet unsold, why should the legislature at this late day be called upon to increase the amount?

BAPTIST PASTOR ANNOUNCES SUBJECTS FOR SUNDAY

We had the best day last Sunday perhaps we have had in months.
There were 270 in Sunday School and a packed auditorium for the morning worship hour. The evening attendance was hardly as good, but at that we had a comfortably filled house. There was one addition at the morning hour. The day's offering amounted to more than a $100.

In the afternoon, at a meeting of the Finance Committee, the feeling was that such committee recommend to the church an intensive campaign for the raising of money to pay the last note against our building. At the evening hour the church heartily accepted such recommendation and elected a chairman to lead the campaign.

The pastor will preach Sunday morning on "The Gospel Trumpet".
There will be special music at both hours.

Sunday evening the subject will be "Spiritual Suicide." We are happy to have a large host of visiting friends and strangers in the services. "Come this way and we shall do thee good."

Baptist Training Service at 6:30.
Welcome, Thrice welcome.—Lawrence Hays, Pastor.

hereof, in some newspaper published in your County, if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not, then in the nearest County where a newspaper is published, to appear at the next regular term of the District Court of Lynn County, to be holden at the Court House thereof, in Tahoka, on the Second ruary A. D. 1934, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 5th day of January A. D. 1934 of said Court as No. 993, wherein of the state of Texas for a period of twelve months, and has resided, in the county of Lynn a period of six months, next preceding the filing of fendant is unknown to plaintiff.

Plaintiff alleges that she and defendant were legally married in June 1st, 1927, that said separation was caused by no act or omission ant abandoned plaintiff with the intention of finally separating and living apart from her, and has con-said separation and abandonment has endured over a period of three years. Plaintiff further alleges that defendant has failed to provide the necessities of life for her and their is a fit person to have the care, custody and education of said children; have judgment for divorce, that she be awarded the care, custody and education of the said children, for such other and further relief as the court shall deem proper, with

CHEVROLET
FOR 1934

CHEVROLET It's here now, for the first time: the car that all America has been standing by to see and drive—Chevrolet for 1934! And if you aren't among the first to attend the gala introductory showing, you're going to miss one of the biggest, most exciting events of the whole motor car year. There never has been a new Chevrolet model with so many basic and sweeping advances as this one. It's different—totally unlike anything you've seen or anything you will see in motor cars for 1934!

Relief Agencies Aid In Recovery

By Miss Barbara Maddox
What is happening to the bread lines once so necessary and indispensable in both large and small American cities? What has become of that long list of human beings once so commonly termed "paupers"?

Let us take a glimpse backward into Biblical history. Many thousands of years ago it was no uncommon incident for hundreds of vermin infested and diseased beggars to infest the high roads, the market places, and the city gates canteing and crying for alms. Such an ordinary sight this was that it created no emotional reaction in the hearts of those meandering past.

If a beggar chanced to be one of the most unfortunate among his lot by having a more repugnant appearance than some of the other beggars, or if he chanced to be a bit more aggressive than others in his status, an occasional passerby might toss the aggressive one a small coin to be rid of him, and in turn, upon viewing the repulsive victim groveling at his feet, would possibly kick him out of the way in utter disgust. The unfortunate's cry of mercy was answered in a most heartless fashion, if answered at all. And so on down to the Middle Ages in the Eastern countries, where the peasants' struggles and calls for aid were answered only too casually if at all.

In our Western civilization we have heard and are hearing the cry for mercy, but in quite a different manner, and with quite a different reaction.

Some years ago, and even today, though to a lesser extent in all of the cities of the U. S., it was no uncommon thing to read of thousands in the bread lines. When we read of this we made casual mention of it, and might remark something about the economic condition of the large cities. But a few years ago we were awakened from our state of apathy by the unfortunate and national stand-still of capitalism and labor. This world-wide crisis which affects both the capitalist and the laboring man has changed our attitude and our aspects to a great degree.

In taking a retrospective view of our American heritage, in the year 1600 an act was passed in the English Parliament which enacted the passage of the first poor relief law. This statute provided that the various parishes should be responsible for their poor and relief could be administered through governmental offices. When the colonists immigrated to America, they brought with them certain laws from England, some of which included this "poor relief law."

From 1600 to the present the state has attempted, through their legal statutes, to care for their dependants in their particular communities through both public and private facilities. We have been passing through an era of history, economically speaking, which is seeing a condition of over-produ-

New "Knee-Action" Chevrolet Gives Passengers Ride Like a Glide

In the design and development of the new 1934 Chevrolet, particular attention has been given to driver and passenger comfort, all annoying sensations of disagreeable sound and feeling having been eliminated. The upper photo shows the new Chevrolet coach with its long sleek lines. Wind rush has been eliminated by the Fisher No Draft Ventilators and the new streamlined bodies. Chevrolet's "Knee-Action" wheels enjoy the advantage of being completely enclosed in a weatherlight housing; the coil springs and shock absorbers ride in a bath of oil. William E. Holler, Chevrolet's general sales manager, is shown at the left holding a chart which shows the internal construction of the system. The radiator of the new car has added beauty through its graceful and sharply pointed design. Smartness has been the theme in every line of this year's Chevrolet.

The driver and passengers in the new 1934 Chevrolet get a ride like the glide of an airplane. One of the main factors in improving the riding qualities of the new car to such a great extent is the "Knee-Action"—or independently sprung front wheels, to use the technical term.

So much has been written about independent springing that the public has doubtless concluded that it is something too technical to understand. As a matter of fact, there is nothing complicated about either the principle involved or the construction of the system. Chevrolet's "Knee-Action" enjoys the advantage of being enclosed in a welded weatherlight housing in which the entire spring mechanism and shock absorbers ride up and down in a bath of oil.

An automobile gives a perfect ride when both the front and rear springs have the same "frequency," or tension. Actually this has been impossible to carry out in the past because the front springs had to be over twice as "stiff" as the rear springs in order to hold the front axle, wheels and brakes in place. In independent springing, the wheels and spring mechanism are rigidly attached directly to the frame and there is no front axle. By relieving the front springs of the task of carrying wheels and axle, therefore, it became possible to make the front springs as "soft" as the rear springs. When the new Chevrolet strikes an irregularity in the road, both front and rear move up and down with the same frequency—there is no inclination on the part of the rear end of the car to leap into the air and throw the passengers forward and upward.

Chevrolet's "Knee-Action" has additional advantages all contributing to a comfort in riding never before thought possible in a motor car. There is a decided improvement in handling, steering, safety at high speeds and tire economy.

In design, the front spring is a neat, compact and efficient unit, as Mr. Holler points out in the above picture. The entire spring mechanism is attached rigidly to the frame. From this enclosed unit the wheels spring vertically at the ends of strong, steel horizontal arms.

tion, yet not enough capital with which to purchase.

The year of 1929 witnessed the end of homesteading and re-settlement for two obvious reasons; first, the land was difficult to get into a state of production, from both a financial and physical standpoint; and secondly, there was no market for production. So the year of 1930 saw the centralization and jamming of population.

Since there was no market for produce, eventually there could be no market for services. This situation could but invariably bring about the condition of a vast number who began seeking aid from welfare organizations and so in this year there brought about an enormous appropriation of money by the cities, parishes, and then the counties for such relief. The states then in turn assumed the responsibility to care for those who by their own efforts were no longer able to care for themselves.

The Reconstruction Finance Corporation then set aside, by means of an enactment of a bill, a sum for unemployment relief, though this appropriation was and is only a temporary condition. The RFC can advance money to the state by means of these states having made application for such loans. Some states, because of certain provisions in their constitutions can borrow no money except for purposes of war, and so the Federal Government, to evade such provisions, advanced such states money on highway and educational projects. The governors, in turn, set up boards and county organizations to administer such funds.

These administrative bodies, thru no fault of their own, have displayed a somewhat marked ignorance of their administration of funds. Due to the fact that relief administration was and is a quite new development in Texas, as well as some of the other states, the executive bodies and the administrators could not help but fumble in their actions. They have no previous knowledge of case work, no standard for adequate investigation, no knowledge of adequate budgets, and no way to keep in touch with families in need. My readers may judge for themselves the result of such inadequacy.

In 1933, with the inauguration of President Roosevelt, the U. S. was a spectator of the congressional proceedings which passed the first bill relating to a program of Federal relief. The senators at this legislative assembly called in social workers, economists, and farm and governmental experts to testify as to the condition of the situation and as to the need of a law of permanency. This bill, to summarize briefly, holds the local communities responsible legally to do its share for its own citizens with the Federal Government co-operating financially when counties are not capable of caring for their charges.

The Federal Emergency Relief Act was passed upon recognition of the national disaster, and provided for the use of a discretionary fund to be used at the discretion of one man, the administrator. Texas was the first state to receive money from this fund. (Col. Lawrence Westbrook says that the FERA is an army which holds the line while other forces do the attacking.) This bill merely provides for adequacy in food, clothing, medical care, shelter, etc., but it does not provide for chronic; it only attempts to care for those who through no fault of their own can not find work.

The National Recovery Act was passed in view of assisting industry to help itself. It attempts to regulate labor and wages. In doing this it allows for no employment of children, and provides for only adults who are physically able. At almost the same time a bill was passed which provided for the National Employment Service, the purpose of which was to establish employment offices in various cities and counties. Out of some of these bills, the Home Owners' Loan and Farm Loan Corporation were propagated, whose purposes was to refinance and protect property by the extension of loans. The Public Works Administration's purpose sets up money for those people who are not employed by private employers and who cannot find employment. Its program is to build and construct by means of making loans, and giving counties long time payments at low interest.

The Civil Works Administration comes between the NRS and the FERA. This is also a public works act. The CWA, however, effects its purpose by manipulation of small local projects. Its policy is to use men, first who are residents of the county, and state, in need of relief, secondly ex-service men with dependents, and thirdly, aliens. This act is designed on the basis of statistics and will attempt to employ only one third of the idle or unemployed men. One half of this one third is to be taken from the relief rolls and one half from the NRS. In view of this act, no social case worker or administrator has authority over those receiving direct cash relief, yet there is to be no supplementary aid given to persons receiving cash. If the cash earned is sufficient to meet the demands of the budgets, nothing can do, in so far as sub workers of the Texas Relief Commission is concerned. When cash relief is given, the case is closed automatically, however, if requested by the members of the case, in other words the client, social case work service may be rendered.

Upon the creation of the Texas

Relief Commission, Texas saw for the first time a program of employment of county nurses. We saw for the first time a program of pit toilets, and typhoid control, and we saw for the first time a program of small pox and diphtheria immunizations, (although the state of Texas on the basis of her own reports, has three times as much diphtheria as all the other states in the union combined.) Ninety five thousand dollars are expended monthly for relief of the teaching profession. We have begun a program for the first time of the collection of statistics of undernourished children, a program of malaria control, a community program of garden planning, and canning.

We see the importance and necessity for development into permanency for such programs, and now, what is our county going to do about these programs when Federal funds are withdrawn? The Federal Government has expended millions of dollars in effecting, and perfecting, and organizing such institutions which are and will be capable of carrying on such a program. The government understanding the state of over production, with the power of consumption limited greatly because of lack of capital, purchased quantities of food stuffs rotting in the valley and cattle and hogs that were gradually starving in the drought stricken areas and is disbursing this to such communities who lack such an abundance of food stuffs. Taking these facts into consideration, what are we, as a community and county, going to do about the distribution of the surplus commodities? What do we intend to do about man's leisure time since his working hours are shortened so greatly? What does the small pox and typhoid program mean to us?

These programs have been started to the tune of one million dollars expended monthly from Federal funds. This is what is happening to our bread lines! This is the method used in the elimination of that race known as paupers! Carl Marx's prophecy of a revolution in which there would be a new distribution of wealth is coming to pass, though it is a natural revolution! But the responsibility of the continuance of such a program is fast reaching the standpoint of county burdens and problems. What are we doing to consider as important in the tax dollar. It is an accepted procedure for counties to appropriate money for improvement of roads and highways, and what is behind such logical appropriations? The answer is, purely and indisputably economic and material interests. In the appropriation of our tax money are we, as members of the human fraternity, going to short sightedly let material interests usurp our interests in humanity?

Mack Wilson

(The Service Station Owner)

Tells . . .

"MY CUSTOMERS TALK ABOUT 'GAS' AND GAS"

MACK WILSON, the service station owner, discovers a lot about people in his daily contact with motorists, but one thing he can't understand is the difference in attitude toward the price of natural gas and the price of gasoline. He says that over the period of a few months the price of gasoline will fluctuate several cents, and there is never a murmur from his customers, in spite of the fact that gasoline is the only fuel that operates the common automobile.

He couldn't understand it because there are several fuels that people can turn to for general household purposes. Mack took the trouble to find out why they continue to use gas. He discovered that they would use gas if it cost several times the amount asked because it still would be the best bargain in fact. He found, also, that people with automobiles spend more for gasoline than they do for gas for cooking and water heating.

You need not be a dealer in gasoline to appreciate Mack Wilson's attitude on gas rates. Consider gas for its value and you will recognize it for the bargain it is.

4-H Girls Tell Club Work's Importance

DRAW GIRL DECLARES CLUB WORK A GREAT ADVANTAGE

By Reva E. Veach
(Draw Club)

The 4-H club is a great advantage to the girl who does not have home economics taught her in school. This is an advantage which I have enjoyed.

Some girls will not join the club, because they think they do not have time to do the work. The many things a girl learns to do while she is a member of the club will pay for the time it takes.

In my first year's work I made the garments required. I made a dress, a pair of pajamas, and a slip. When the garments were judged I won first place on the slip.

In my second year's work I also did the work required. Although I did not get to have them judged I enjoyed making them. I made a dress, pillow protectors, a comfort protector, and a dresser scarf. My 4-H club work has enabled me to make most of my clothes.

I can also operate a pressure cooker as a result of my club work. I find the work very interesting and intend to put forth my best efforts to complete my third year's work.

B. H. Jones, Howton Hale and W. P. Lester stormed the News office Wednesday and demanded that we send them our paper for a year. Boys, we like to see new subscribers come in three at a time, or even one at a time. We have taken in many new subscriptions this year. These gentlemen are farmers of the Gordon community.

ZELMA THRAILKILL TELLS OF SIX YEARS CLUB WORK

By Zelma Thrailkill
(Grassland Club)

I joined the 4-H Club again this year to begin my seventh year of club work. I feel like I could not get along without it.

I am the oldest girl of the family so naturally I was expected to help with the family sewing, cooking, canning and many other things first so I joined the club to learn how to do these things best.

I chose poultry as my project and began with chickens of all kinds but later I bought some White Plymouth Rock eggs and have raised White Plymouth Rocks the rest of the time.

I have learned lots in sewing by machine and by hand. Some of the decorative stitches I have learned are: single and double hemstitching, fagoting, Italian hemstitching, and bound buttonholes. For the last two years I have been wardrobe demonstrator in my club. I make my own clothing besides helping with the rest of the family sewing. I also sew for my grandmother.

Club work has meant lots to me in learning how to cook. I had learned to cook very little when I joined. The first demonstration I received in the club was on how to make biscuits. We also cooked soft custard and several other dishes and then studied how to serve a meal. Later on, I learned how to make light bread, salads, salad dressing and many other dishes.

The first jars I ever canned were canned for exhibit in my first year's work. We cannot irrigate our garden and for several years we did not raise much to can. The last years we have raised some in the garden and by canning on the halves we have managed to can enough to supply our family of five. I certainly enjoy canning and am always glad when canning season comes. I have carried our cooker and sealer to several of the neighbors and helped them can.

My fifth year's work consisted mostly of bedroom work. I joined the bedroom contest and won second place on my room. I repapered my walls, stained the floor, built a closet and remodeled the furniture. I added book shelves, writing desk, covered chair, magazine rack and a little stool made from an old chair with the bottom woven of binder twine which I had learned how to weave in the club. I plan to remodel our kitchen this year.

I have won several prizes both in the county and at Lubbock. I won a trip to an A. & M. short course but did not get to go.

I have not begun to tell the many things I have learned in these seven years of work. It would be almost impossible to write it all. I have worked under four agents and enjoyed the work under each.

Begin Taking Cards Today If You Suffer Like This Lady Did

"WHEN I was a girl, I began taking Cards," writes Mrs. Maggie Stanfield, of Randall, Ga. "I was very irregular for twelve months. Nothing did me very much good until my mother began to give me this medicine. Then I got all right, stout and well."

"After I was married, I was in bad health. I began taking Cards again. I was troubled with my back a lot. Was awfully restless. I could not sleep well. I just weighed 90 pounds when I began taking Cards. I improved rapidly. Before long I weighed 125 pounds. I felt fine. I was able to do a good day's work."

Draw

There was an attendance of 75 at the Draw Methodist Church January 28. Everyone enjoyed the Missionary program which was delivered.

There were ten League members present at the usual hour for League Sunday afternoon. Everyone enjoyed the program, the subject of which was "The Job's the Thing."

The cotton plow-up committee is making its rounds in our community. Almost everyone is signing up. Little Lorene Dabney, who has been ill for the past week is reported to be some better.

The Draw Longhorns have been preparing for one last hard drive to victory this week. For some teams, this will be the last few days of basket ball, so, teammates, we must strive onward to a place of prominence.

The Longhorns have made a fairly good record this year in spite of this stiff competition they have met from large schools. We must cheer our girls team, for up until the present they have a perfect record in basketball.

The Draw Longhorns lost another basketball game to Slaton by a small margin Friday afternoon. The score was 19 to 22.

Free Action for all 4 wheels

plus the safety of a front axle and comfort of Cantilever Springs

A great deal of thought is being given today to springs. Various experiments are being tried in an effort to get independent action for an automobile's front wheels.

All of which is simply another tribute to the soundness of Ford engineering and the Ford V-8 for 1934. When you drive this car you get free action not only for the front wheels—but for all 4 wheels.

Ford transverse cantilever springs provide individual suspension for both front and rear axles. In the new Ford these springs have been made more flexible. This type of construction is not experimental and has the advantage of comfort plus the proved safety of a front axle.

This new Ford combines V-8 power with gasoline economy—20 miles to the gallon at a speed of 45 miles per hour, in exhaustive road runs. It will do 80 miles an hour without difficulty. At 50 or 60 miles per hour it is actually running at ease!

This reserve power means acceleration unequalled by practically any other make of American automobile, regardless of cost. Before you buy any car at any price, drive the new Ford V-8 for 1934.

ist and former railroad man in Mexico, Texas and France, who translated it from the folk-tale told him by Chato, a Mayan story-teller. J. Frank Dobie, associate professor of English at The University of Texas and editor of the Texas Folk-Lore Society publications, calls "Spur-of-the-Cock" "the best hero story in all Southwest literature," and gives us his personal opinion that it is superior to Beowulf, great Anglo-Saxon epic of the Tenth Century.

"Spur-of-the-Cock: Hero of the Maya Indians" is the story of a Yaqui-Mayan youth, Totolegoji, who grew up to become fleet of foot and swift with the arrow. The story relates how he forced his way to Chapultepec, the city ruled by Montezucuma, and proved his right, by conquest, daring and bravery to win Xochitl, the princess, for his bride. His deeds of superhuman achievement, and the feats he accomplished with the aid of his two giant subjects, Romperon and Soplon, were miraculous, and won instant acclaim from warriors of the tribe, who murmured among themselves that the three were the God of Winds, the God of War and the Fair God come to earth.

Other articles in the current Folk-Lore bulletin are "El Nino Perdido," a Christmas play, by Mary R. Van Stone and Dr. E. R. Sims, professor of romance languages at the University of Texas; "Folk Names of Texas Cacti," by David Hall, Fort Worth newspaperman and University of Texas graduate; "Cats and the Occult," by Miss Martha Emmons, teacher at the State Home at Waco; and "Old-Time Negro Proverbs," by J. Mason Brewer, Spanish teacher in the Booker T. Washington (colored) high school in Dallas.

PLANS MADE FOR COUNTY INTERSCHOLASTIC MEET

for this year. But that we still have ten divisions namely: Senior, and Junior Boys High School; Senior and Junior Girls High School; Junior Boys and Girls Ward School; Senior Boys and Girls Rural; and Junior Boys and Girls Rural School.

There is a new contest, "Story-Telling" for pupils of the third grade only. You will find this contest offers excellent training for the pupils in the third grade and there should be a great deal of interest manifest in this contest its first year in the League. I wish to say that the Executives of the County decided to carry on the "Tiny Tot Story Telling Contest" with separate divisions for boys and girls as heretofore conducted except pupils limited to the first and second grade. There is a further age limit which states that pupils who have reached their 10th birthday after Sept. 1, 1933, is ineligible to enter regardless of grade. A complete set of rules governing the type of story and other rules will be published in a few days.

All entries should be made 10 days before the date of the meet to the different directors and to the Director General. All entries for Debate must be made to the Director of Debate by Feb. 1.

Sectional meetings for elimination in Tennis doubles and singles, boys and girls, and boys and girls play ground ball in Class B and Ward School divisions will be held at the four division centers O'Donnell, Tahoka, Wilson, and New Home on March 2 in the afternoon.

The League has been gaining in interest in this County from year to year and I hope that even a greater manifestation of enthusiasm shall be put forth this year than ever before by the teachers of the County. The work of the County Meet is very worth while, the boys and girls are receiving valuable training in the different contests which training can be carried over and be made useful later in life. Contacts that are lasting are often made at these meets. It is my sincere desire that every school in Lynn County be represented in as many contests at the meet as is possible, and that we have the best meet ever staged in our County. We have only two months until the time for the Meet. Let's all begin in earnest upon these contests in all the schools.

GOOD ROADS ASSOCIATION TO BE HELD IN LUBBOCK

Lubbock, Feb. 1.—Col. Ike Ashburn, Chairman of the Texas Public Works Advisory Board, and Executive Manager of the Texas Good Roads Association, will be the principal speaker at the South Plains Good Roads Association annual meeting in Lubbock, Friday, February 2.

Leaders in road improvement efforts in this area have been advised that strenuous and united action will be necessary to obtain additional highway construction funds from the federal relief program during the present session of Congress. Plans for such an undertaking will be presented at the session.

"Unless the citizens interested in the completion of our roads unite and fight," declared P. B. Ralls, president of the South Plains Good Roads Association, "we may not get any more relief money for roads and we may also have the regular federal highway aid cut off."

"The money available from state revenue to the Texas Highway Department for new construction in the entire state is now less than $8,000,000 annually," Mr. Ralls said. "That is only enough to pave about 400 miles of road."

"With over 9000 miles of unimproved mileage in our state, highway system, we will be a long time getting it all permanently improved—unless," the road organization official asserted, "we get more federal help. That can be had if we go after it."

"All members of the Texas Good Roads Association, of which the South Plains Association is a unit, and others in this territory interested in our road program are urged to attend the meeting February 2 at the Lubbock Hotel, beginning at 2 p. m. and help get the campaign started," Mr. Ralls said.

Mrs. Rogers, mother of Mrs. N. M. Wyatt, is here visiting with her daughter and family.
