HART, CASTRO COUNTY TEXAS JULY 23, 1981

'Hart Days' Now Underway

Little Miss Hart and Miss Hart will be crowned tonight (Thursday) in opening festivities of the annual Hart Days Celebration. This year's observance is the fifteenth annual celebration. Honored pioneers, to whom the celebration is dedicated, are Zella Scott Rice and Ira McLain.

Monica Alcocer, daughter of Connie Lara, Leticia Lee Centeno, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Antonio Centeno, D'Lynn Hankins, daughter of Paula Hankins and Stephanie Shield, daughter of Clark and Pat Dobbs, are competing for Little Miss Hart.

Miss Hart hopefuls are Linda Booe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Horton, Robin Bowden and Tamera Bowden, daughters of Mr. and Bob Bowden, Emma Castillo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Zaragoza Castillo, Diane Martinez, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elias Martinez, Norma Morales, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Federico Morales, Sheryl McLain, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cleve McLain, Vickie Ann Ponce, daughter of Isaias Ponce and Mrs. Edward Ramirez, and Linda Washington, daughter of Minnie Mae Washington.

Lions Club members will be selling charcoaled "Lionburgers" Thursday and Friday from 7 to 10 p.m. and Saturday from 11:30 to 2 p.m. and 2 to 10 p.m. Latin American Organizations will be offering popular Mexican foods.

Saturday will be packed with activities with registration beginning at 9 a.m. in the community of Farmers

State Bank. Good Neighbors Club members are official hostesses.

Parade entries will gather at 9 a.m. for their trek down Broadway at 10 a.m. Parade marshals will be Danny Carson and James McLain. Mrs. Rice and Ira McLain will be officially recognized at this time.

Fiddlers will play the bow at 11 a.m. in a contest to see who's the best. Jimmy Ray Davis is contest chairman. Merchants must have drawing boxes at the drawing site just prior to 1 p.m. when the annual Merchants Drawing will begin. Persons, or their spouses, must be present to win the valuable prizes to be offered by hometown businesses. Prizes which are to be picked up at the place of business, must be claimed by Aug. 25 or will be forfeited. Zealot Club members are sponsors of the drawing.

A free watermelon feed is scheduled for 2 p.m. under the sponsorship of the Hart Day Committee with arrangements by Punk Hamby.

The day will conclude with a poker tournament sponsored by Chi Psi sorority, a teen dance with music by Z-93 and square dance.

Numerous valuable gifts will be given away during the day Saturday including a self-propelled lawn mower, cast iron barbecue grill, gasoline, basket of groceries, food processor, hand crocheted afghan and official Dallas Cowboy football.

Ira McLain & Zella Rice

Two Are Honored

Ira V. McLain and Zella Scott Rice will be honored pioneers when the Hart Days Parade rolls down Broadway Saturday.

Mr. McLain, second son of John Carter and Daisy McLain, will be 85 in September. He has lived a little more than 77 of those years in the immediate vicinity of Hart. Ira was approximately seven and a half years old when he arrived with his parents here in March of 1904 in covered wagons. They first settled in a dug-out located just across from the present site of the Hart Schools. He attended school at the Killough and Lone Star schools.

Ira and Angie Henderson were married Christmas Day, 1916. Their marriage was filled with hard work and steadfast devotion to each other and their children. Angie, his beloved companion of nearly 62 years, died in November, 1978.

The McLains had three children, Lionel Verean, who died near age three of diphtheria, Marjorie McLain King, now living in Lubbock, and Laurence, who lives in Hart. Mr. McLain also has four living grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren. He attends the Church of Christ in Hart.

McLain has seen this area change from vast acreages of beautiful ranch land to the now rich oasis of fertile farmland, from cold hard winters filled with the never ending task of tending animals, milking, etc., to mild winters now experienced, and farming change from heavy hand labor and horse drawn machinery to the complex mechanized methods utilized today. Many of the changes have been good, but the closeness of family life experienced in the earlier days has been sacrificed, it seems, with the advent of the mechanical age, and that is truly a great sacrifice.

Mr. McLain has lived in his present home, a lovely brick dwelling located just south of the Castro County line in Lamb County, since 1951. He maintains the premises of his home in his characteristic fashion of neatness, and one would have to look hard to find a weed growing taller than mower height. A lovely bed of petunias, which he and Angie delighted in, greets the eye of any passerby, located at the approach to the front door. He doesn't claim to be a master cook but does prepare his own meals, does the laundry and keeps house. All of these chores keep him busy only because arthritis and hip surgery have slowed him down somewhat.

Only a toddler, Zella Scott Rice, can still remember her family's move by covered wagon from Grayson County to Castro County. They arrived here Dec. 20, 1906, just in time for Christmas.

Coming to the new six-room home just south of Hart were J.M. and Malinda Scott and their six children, Iley, Perry, Winnie, Herman, Zella and VeLena.

Mrs. Rice began early to assume the role of homemaker along side her

Mrs. Calvin Alexander Dies, Funeral Services Held Saturday

Services were held at 2 p.m. Saturday in First Baptist Church for Mrs. Calvin Alexander, 45, lifetime resident of Hart.

Officiating were her brother, the Rev. Jerry Phillips, pastor of Tascosa Church of Amarillo, and the Rev. Buddy Payne, pastor of First United Methodist Church. Burial was in Hart Cemetery under the direction of Lemons Funeral Home of Plainview.

Mrs. Alexander died Wednesday in Central Plains Hospital in Plainview. A victim of cancer, she had been ill since January.

The former Janie Phillips was born Nov. 5, 1935 in Hart, she attended Hart schools and was married to Calvin Alexander, Aug. 25, 1951. in Clovis, N.M.

Mrs. Alexander was a member of First United Methodist Church and had served as rural mail carrier from Hart to Olton since 1956. She was a member of the Star Carriers Association.

Survivors are her husband; one daughter, Mrs. Butch (Kathy) Waller of Dimmitt; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M.E. Phillips of Littlefield; four brothers, Bill Phillips of Altus, Okla., Dean Phillips and Rev. Phillips, both of Amarillo, and Monty Phillips of Littlefield; one sister, Kathleen Cox of Amarillo and three grandchildren, Jason, Katrina and Ty Waller of Dimmitt.

Pallbearers were Punk Hamby, Tom McLain, Clinton Holliman, Jim Stanford, Doyle Underwood and T.R. Warren.

Hart Days Celebration Got Start 15 Years Ago

Hart Days observances began fifteen years ago with the designation of Aug. 11, 1966 - opening day of the Castro County Diamond Jubilee Celebration - as "Hart Day."

Six local lovelies joined in the contest to see who would be named Jubilee Queen. Competing with 33 other Castro County misses were Connie Bailey, Rosemary Carter, Janet Elliott, Pam Houston, Ollie Pearl Wade and Robbie Rice.

Hart Junior Riding Club won awards for the first parade.

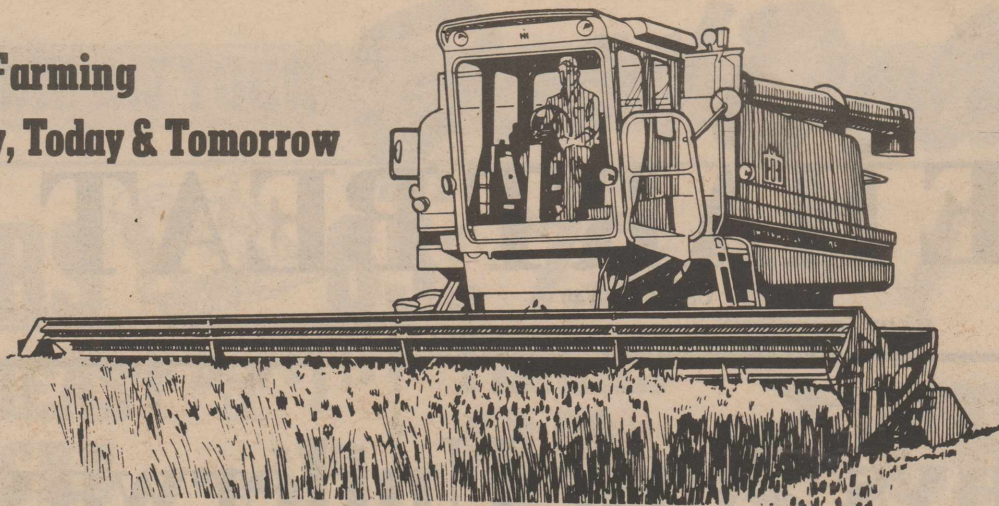

"Help Make Hart Day A Better

Day" was the slogan adopted in 1967. As preparations began, organizations and businesses began talking about parade entries and the possibility of floats to compete along riding clubs. Hart Lions promised participation and Good Neighbors came forth to host a reception and registration for old-timers.

When Tuesday, Aug. 15, 1957 arrived and ended, folks stored memories of a "big success." Soila's Beauty Shop won best float honors with trophies

American Legion

Seeking Members

One day, soon after the end of World War I, a group of American veterans got together and decided to form a organization pledged to promote Americanism, to work for peace and justice, and to help its comrades. The first meeting was held in Paris, March 15, 1919. A second meeting was held at St. Louis, Mo. in November of that year which resulted in the beginning of the American Legion Organization.

From that time until this, the Legion, together with other veterans organizations, has fought for veterans bonuses, pensions, medical care and many other benefits. Many of World War I and II veterans have gone on now, and many small town posts have discontinued because of a lack of interest. We do not want this to happen at Hart, Post 311.

All honorably discharged veterans of World Wars I and II, the Korean and Vietnam wars are eligible for membership. We invite new members, and urge all members of the post to renew their memberships. We especially encourage all Korean and Vietnam veterans to join. Let's continue to promote that for which we served.

The Legion is requesting citizens of the Hart community fly the flag; especially on national holidays.

By Post Commander,
James Kennedy

MRS. KELLY JONES

Miss Brantley-Mr. Jones Wed In Candlelight Ceremony

Miss Billie Jo Brantley and Kelly Jones recited wedding vows Friday evening in a candlelight ceremony in the sanctuary of First Baptist Church.

Officiating the double ring service was the Rev. Jack Lee, pastor.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Bill Brantley and Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Jones. Grandparents, honored guests at the wedding, are Mr. and Mrs. Bert Lamb of Slaton, Chester Brantley of Wewoka, Okla., Lois Whitt of Duncan, Okla., Mr. and Mrs. Worth Jones of Harry and John H. Alldredge of Dimmitt. George Rouser of Plainview, great-grandfather of the groom, was also a special guest.

Vows were solemnized before an archway decorated with apricot daisies, greenery, baby's breath and apricot satin bows. Beneath the arch was a memory candle featuring an embossed wedding announcement and picture of the betrothed couple. Family candles were lighted by the bride and groom's parents as they entered the church. Each mother was escorted to the altar area by the bridegroom. As the candles were lighted, Mrs. Mark Bennett sang "The Rose."

Fifteen branch brass spiral candelabras flanked the arch and were adorned with apricot tapers, silk greenery and apricot bows. Baskets of fresh apricot tipped gladioli, greenery bows also provided decor. Completing the setting were fig trees and green potted plants. Pews were marked with apricot bows with beige babies breath. Alternate pews were graced with brass hurricane lamps with apricot candles tied with apricot bows and babies breath.

Nuptial selections were presented by Mrs. Carl Rambo, pianist, and Mrs. Weldon Davis, organist. They accompanied Mrs. Bennett who also sang "Twelfth of Never" and "We've Just Begun."

Escorted by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of French Chantilly lace fashioned with twin rows of satin ribbon accenting the ruffled lace over the shoulders, forming a v-yoke at center front and back waistline. Seed pearls enhanced the stand-up collar and full bishop sleeves.

Her tiered skirt featured twin rows of satin ribbon with overlays of lace ruffles with pearls. Her cathedral train also going to Mrs. Fred Hamm and T.R. Davis for best costumes; James Webb, old car; Kelly King, best decorated bicycle and Gayle Reed for a unique entry, her unicycle.

Play Day activities helped wrap up the big day. Trophy winners were Dana McLain and Harley Malone, Pee Wee Division; Nelda Henderson and Terry Nicholas of Littlefield, Juniors; Gay Nicholas of Littlefield and Margie Arnold of Tulia, tied, and David Dalton, Seniors.

Saturday was the big day in 1968. Play day activities drew 253 entries with Riding Club Queen Margaret Swindle presenting ribbons.

Mrs. John McLain was selected best dressed along with Hamm who was again best dressed man.

"The Hart Beat," Aug. 14 1969 issue writes "Almost 1000 person lined up Saturday to watch the annual Hart Day Parade which launched the 1969 Castro County Roundup Week."

Kittrell Electronic's entry was named best float with best decorated bike honors going to Betsy Berry. Best dressed "pioneers" were Joby Sanders and Bob Reed.

Portrayal of an old-fashioned "shot-gun wedding" was the theme of the 1970 winning float, the combined effort of Chi Psi and Xi Mu Iota sororities.

Matt King rode the best decorated bicycle with Laura Miller claiming her third consecutive second place win. Hart Junior Riding Club with their Queen, Sharla Carson, was second place in the mounted entries.

Mrs. Oford King, whose pioneer costume was complemented with 125 years old stockings which had belonged to her grandmother, was named best dressed woman. Tom McLain was best dressed man.

A new category, "best dressed hillbilly girl and boy," was won by Janet Black and Kevin Parker. Mrs. Ira McLain claimed honors for having lived in the Hart area the longest period - since 1902.

The first Miss Hart Day was named in 1971 with Becky King winning the crown and bouquet of red roses. Runners-up were Nancy Reed and Nelda Henderson.

Parade entries were divided into four categories: civic and organization sponsored, queen contestants, bicycles and old cars. Cub Scouts won the organizational entry with a "Keep Hart Clean and Beautiful" entry.

Teresa Kittrell won best bike with Wayne Arnold driving the best old car entry - a 1912 Buick. Wozencraft Agency, Miss King's sponsor, won first place in the queen's division.

Dressed in a hooped skirt costume, Mrs. John McLain was selected best dressed.

Lauded "best ever," 1972 Hart Day festivities saw the crowning of Suzanne Holley as Miss Hart Day. Runners-up were Karen Foster and Jean Foster.

A record number of entries formed the "best yet" parade with first place float going to the Zealot Club entry.

Chad Black rode the best decorated bike. Weldon Bradley won most unusual entry with his 1915 Mogul tractor.

Becky Miller was named Miss Hart Day during the 1973 celebration with runner-up honors going to Karen Foster and Nelda Henderson.

Best float went to Farmers State Bank for the queens' contestants division. The "Neighborhood Gang" took first in the open division. Wayne Arnold repeated as old car winner. Brad Murdock of Dimmitt and his grandmother, Mrs. W.H. Felder, won first and second places in the decorated bicycle division.

Costume winners were Mrs. John McLain and Sonny Hochstein of Nazareth. An old fiddlers contest was offered for the first time with honors going to Wesley Nivens of Spearman.

Hart Days 1974 were climaxed with the coronation of Karen Foster as Miss Hart. The eventful day saw Jack George winning with his antique car entry in the parade. Castro County CowBelles won first in the commercial float division; Hart Oil, first in the queens' entry.

Carol Armstrong and Martha Bauman were the belles of the 1975 celebration. Miss Armstrong was crowned Miss Hart with Ms. Flapper honors going to Mrs. Bauman. Bob Ott of Sunnyside took top honors in the antique vehicle division. Christi Rowland rode the best decorated bicycle.

Chi Psi Sorority's queens' division float won first place and also featured the sorority's "Woman of the Year," Mrs. L.C. (Marguerite) McLain.

In 1976, a new event was added with the coronation of two-year-old Amy McLain as Little Miss Hart. Vivian Davis received the title of Miss Hart. Runners-up were Tammy Gilcrease and Jana Mapp.

Harold Bob Bennett was named "Ugliest Man" in yet another new event. J & J Variety received first place for window decorations.

Best dressed pioneers were Martha Bauman and Charles Black.

LuDonne Bonsal became Miss Hart with the 1977 celebration. Jana Mapp and Sherry Booe were runners-up. Rebecca Richmond was named Little Miss Hart.

Festivities were held on the school grounds for the second year. Parade winners were Xi Mu Iota, queens' division; B&B Farm Supply, commercial; Jimmy Ray Davis, farm equipment; Marty Malone, most unusual entry and Judy Rhynes, best bike.

Most votes in the Ugliest Man contest were given to Bill Rich who also won the poker championship sponsored by Hart Jaycees.

A street dance climaxed events. Winners of the twist contest were James and Debbie Jackson. Tammie Gilcrease and Bryan Irons won the "freeze" contest.

Billie Jo Brantley received the glittering tiara as Miss Hart 1978 with Diane Davis and Betsy Berry as runners-up.

Five-year-old Robin Brooks was chosen Little Miss Hart.

Parade recognition and an engraved heart shaped plaque were presented to Percy and Edna Hart, honored pioneers.

Hart Home Demonstration Club took top honors in the float division. Charles Place won most unusual entry; Paul Armstrong, antique vehicle. Judy Rhynes had the best decorated bike.

Stick Horse Race winners were Brian Huntsinger, Don Johnson Jr. and Brad Martin in separate age divisions.

Three beauties were chosen in 1979 with the addition of Junior Miss Hart. Crowned in Thursday night ceremonies in the first July Hart Days observance were Teresa Mapp, Miss Hart; Melinda Wilson, Junior Miss Hart and Stephanie Farris, Little Miss Hart. Miss Congeniality was Janet Black.

First place float was by Tide Products. D'Lynn Hankins won best bike; Paul Armstrong, best antique car; Thomas Brooks, best antique tractor and pioneer honors went to Mr. and Mrs. W.A. Hawkins Sr.

Honored pioneers of the 1980 celebration were Myrt Loman and Martha Bauman. Miss Hart Day title went to Cindy Brooks; Tanya Lee was named Little Miss Hart.

Dusty Upshaw won best decorated bike; Randy Popejoy, best beard. Roy Lilley's 1937 Ford won best antique car. Most Unusual entry was Bill Warren's home-build three wheeler. Barto Riley of Childress won the fiddlers contest.

Other events that helped make 1980's celebration great were water polo, hot air balloon lifts, carnival fun, teen and square dance and the taste bud pleasing foods served by Hart Lions and the Latin American Organization.

YOUR SENSATIONAL TASTE BUDS

Thousands of taste buds cover the surface of the tongue, serving as receptors registering the taste properties in everything we eat and drink.

The taste buds transmit information about the chemicals in food to the nerves. Some chemicals are more easily tasted on the front of the tongue, others on the back or the sides.

It is because of these acute "sensors" that we may notice the subtle difference in the flavor of foods under different conditions. Take milk for example. When milk has been exposed to light for a short period of time, its flavor begins to deteriorate. That's one reason why it's so important to keep light from milk—even when it's refrigerated.

Milk in a paper gallon two-pak keeps its refreshing flavor longer than milk in plastic or glass because paper does a better job of blocking light rays. Milk packed in a glass or plastic jug can show a marked deterioration in flavor after only 12 hours exposure to fluorescent lights in supermarkets.

In fact, one panel of trained tasters who conducted a flavor comparison test found that as little as ten minutes exposure to light can produce a discernible difference in the taste of milk not packed in paper. On the other hand, milk in paper containers took some 48 hours to register flavor changes.

The new paper gallon two-pak—two, half gallons of milk held together by a handy carrying handle—is a made-to-order solution for the problem of flavor loss. That's why more and more dairies are now offering it to consumers.

So the next time you drink a glass of milk from a paper carton, your taste buds will tell you that you're getting the great flavor you expect.

Tips On Toys

Helpful Hints for Fun,

Teaching Tenderness

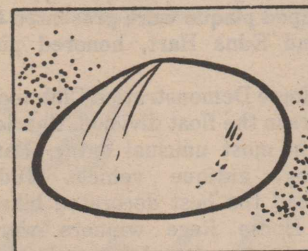

Few adults realize it, but when they watch a child give a teddy bear or a doll a big hug, he or she is actually learning to love. Youngsters learn to love partly from loving their toys.

When your child is playing "mommy" to her doll she is also learning to be more responsive to the needs of others.

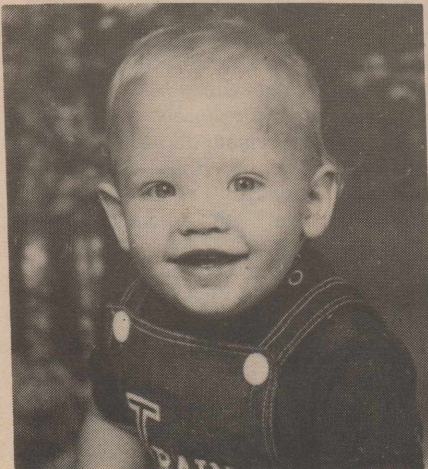

Toys have traditionally provided companionship, security and served as love objects for children. The Toy Manufacturers of America point out that a favorite doll, teddy bear or other special toy has helped many children cope with difficult moments in their young lives.

Toys help children get along better with others and to be more responsive to the needs of other people. Children gain a sense of values from their toys. By themselves, toys cannot shape a child, but they can help to reinforce the lessons we teach them.

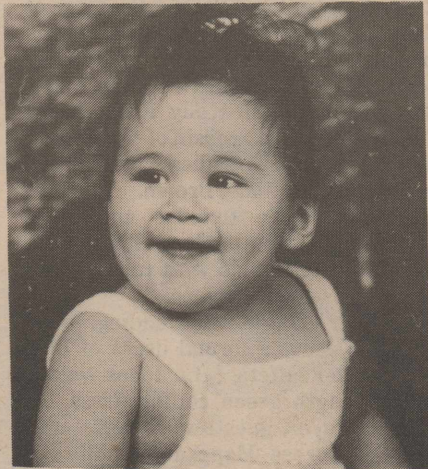

You can identify a tender summer squash. Its skin will be glossy instead of dull and the surface will not be hard. Winter squash should have a thick, tough rind.

was encircled with a pearl enhanced ruffle.

She wore a Derby hat of French Chantilly lace adorned heavily with pearls. Flowing gracefully from the center back was a waltz length veil of tulle attached by a large matching bow. She carried a ball shaped cascading arrangement of white daisies, white silk baby's breath and apricot roses with white bridal bows and streamers tied in love knots.

As the bride and her father walked down the aisle, she paused to kiss each of her grandparents and to present apricot roses to her grandmothers and mother. After the ceremony, she did the same for the groom's parents and grandparents.

Maid of honor was Pennie Pierce of Hardin. Bridesmaids were Kim Blankenship of Plainview and Darshan Jennings of Lazbuddie. Flower girls were Bridget Massey of Lubbock, cousin of the bride, and Amber Ethridge of Houston, cousin of the groom.

Feminine attendants were dressed in identical gowns of apricot organza over taffeta featuring off the shoulder ruffles with apricot satin ribbon at their waistlines. Accented with apricot silk daisies, a full bustle flowed into the lower ruffle of their skirts. Each carried matching beige lace parasols trimmed with apricot lace with apricot silk flowers covering the top of the parasols.

Male attendants were Scott Jones, brother of the groom, as best man, and Ricky Rowland and Steven Brantley of Canyon, brother of the bride, as groomsmen. Guests were seated by Scott Butler of Plainview, Vic Hart, Carey McLain and Kelly King. Brent Talley of Lubbock, cousin of the groom, was ring bearer. Candles were lighted by Ware and Blair Brown. All were attired in beige tuxedos and wore apricot daisy boutonnieres. The groom wore a white tuxedo with tails and an apricot rose boutonniere.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Brantley chose a formal dress of blue chiffon over taffeta. Mrs. Jones wore a formal length green chiffon dress.

In the foyer, guests were registered by Miss Teresa Mapp at a table laid with an apricot cloth with overlay of apricot organza dotted Swiss. A picture of the couple graced the table with a bridal book adorned with apricot daisies and babies breath. Back of the table was a fan arrangement of apricot roses in a brass urn with a large opened Bible. Guests registered with an apricot feathered pen.

Apricot scrolls with printed programs were distributed by Ware and Blair Brown and Marc Cardarella of McAllen, cousin of the bride. They also handed out bags of bird seed to be thrown on the departing couple.

A peach lattice trellis covered the wall providing a background for the bride and groom's table at the reception in fellowship hall. English ivy and baby's breath decorated the trellis with a large champagne colored bow and streamers lettered in gold with the couple's names. Beige satin with an overlay of apricot organza dotted Swiss covered the long table. The overlay was tied at vantage points around the top with apricot daisies, babies breath and champagne satin bows. Wedding bells graced the top of the pale apricot accented cake with a bride and groom at the second tier with stairsteps down to a separate two layer cake and transcended to a two layer cake decorated with dolls dressed as the wedding party.

Apricot lattice candles holding a peach votive, nestled in apricot silk flowers graced the table. It was surrounded by brass candlesticks with apricot tapers and matching apricot silk candle rings. Hors d'oeuvres were served from the groom's portion of the table. Brass punch bowl, coffee service and accessories completed the table decor.

Presiding at the table were Theresa Kittrell, Stacy Averitt, Laurey Franks, LuDonne Bonsal, Lori Barnes and Suzhan Rowland. Members of the houseparty were Clara Beth and Cindy Blankenship and Mmes. Leo Robertson, aunt of the bride, Everett Heller and Theron Morrison, all of Plainview; and Mmes. Rambo, Bill Rich, Arnold Gilcrease, Richard Franks and DeWayne Brown, who did reception decorations.

For a wedding trip to Dallas, the bride chose a two piece hot pink suit with matching accessories and straw hat with hot pink and purple band and nosegay of hot pink silk flowers.

The bride and groom are graduates of Hart High School. The groom has attended West Texas State University the past two years and this fall will be employed with Haliburton Oil Company in Amarillo. Mrs. Jones plans to enter Amarillo Junior College.

Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Jones hosted a rehearsal supper Thursday night at their home. Tables were laid with linen cloths and centered with straw baskets filled with ivy and silk flowers.

Hereford Country Club was the setting Wednesday for a bridesmaids luncheon hosted by Mrs. Leo Robertson of Plainview, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. DeWayne Jones. Apricot cloths covered the dinner tables with apricot silk flowers for centerpieces. Placecards were miniature parasols.

The bride was also honored with a brass luncheon July 11 at the home of Mrs. Royce Blankenship of Plainview at her home southeast of town. She was assisted by her daughters, Kim, Cindy and Clara Beth. Tables were laid with white linen cloths with brass accessories and centerpieces of yellow and white daisies.

MRS. JERRY MATHIS

A recent newcomer to Hart, Mrs. Jerry Mathis, shares recipes this week with Hart Beat cooks.

Nancy's recipes not only sound tempting - her husband verifies they are very good and that Nancy is a terrific cook. The recipe for Potatoes Romanoff is one she got from a friend at work. The mouth-watering cake, with its unusual name, was given her by Jerry's sister, Dorothy Williams.

Wife of Hart High School's vocational agriculture teacher, Nancy is looking forward to the stock shows and all the busy activities that go with FFA. Jerry joined the Hart faculty at midterm last year and came back to the high school where he did his practice teaching in 1964.

Nancy grew up in Lubbock and says she's had no time for hobbies since she'd always worked. She looks forward to the busy life of just being wife and homemaker and all the roles that go with that vocation. Jerry grew up in Olton.

She enjoys crafts, especially ceramics. She also likes working in her yard.

Nancy's eldest son, Robert, is 20 years old. He and his wife, Karen, live in Lubbock. Tad, 17, will be a senior at Hart High School when school begins. Traci is thirteen and will be an eighth grader at Hart Junior High.

The family attends First Baptist Church.

SON VISITS

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Sanders of San Marcus visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Sanders Wednesday to Monday.

UNIFORMS MISSING

Nine band uniforms are missing from Hart schools. Anyone having a uniform is asked to return it.

IN SAN ANTONIO

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Kittrell attended a Texas Electronics Association meeting in San Antonio Thursday until Sunday.

BROTHER VISITS

Beverly Reed and children, Roy and Angela of Corpus Christi are visiting his brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Reed and Leslie.

Jerry Mathis

Completes Workshop

Jerry Mathis, vocational agriculture teacher for Hart High School, recently completed a general agriculture mechanics workshop in Lubbock for certification to teach agriculture mechanics.

The course included work with small gas engines, surveying, welding, electrical work, wood construction and other topical subjects.

RECENT GUESTS

Visiting recently with Mr. and Mrs. Lester Lancaster were his sisters, Jaunita Franklin of Lubbock, Agnes Martin of Wellington and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mauldin of Fort Worth. Other guests were their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Tomy Lancaster, Shane and Shad of Roswell. Shane and Shad stayed over for a longer visit.

GOOD PSYCHOLOGY

Moderate fatigue is not harmful to you or your work, psychologists say, but extreme fatigue should be avoided. Experiments show it takes three times as long to rest up from being overly tired as from ordinary tiredness. Short rests, however, and relaxing with a refreshment like a glass of iced tea can help keep you up to par.

Unscramble "Scrambler"

A new Jeep called the Scrambler is the inspiration for a new contest.

Let your mind ramble on a bit on the many words scrambled up in the word "scrambler." The people at the American Motors Corporation, who make the new Jeep Scrambler are sponsoring a contest they hope will be as much fun as they believe their new Jeep to be. The person who's able to come up with the most words made up of the letters S-C-R-A-M-B-L-E-R may bear off a new Webster's Dictionary. Only English language words appearing in Webster's Dictionary count. Words must be four or more letters and plural words, five or more letters in length, don't count. Proper nouns and slang words don't count, either.

All entries should be printed or typed and must be post-marked by September 15, 1981. They should be sent to American Motors Corporation, Scrambler Contest, Room 2294, 27777 Franklin Road, Southfield, Michigan 48034. Enclose a self-addressed, stamped, number ten envelope if you would like to receive a complete list of the Scrambler words after the contest is ended.

mother who was not well. She still remembers the busy bustle of activities in her mother's kitchen and they prepared three meals a day for hungry threshers.

Getting together with friends after church and all-day singings are precious memories Zella has of her early years in a still-young community.

Zella married John Daniel Rice July 20, 1921 in Plainview. They became parents of two sons and three daughters. L.J. and his wife, Joyce, are parents of three children and make their home in Hart. Royce and his wife have two children and live in Amarillo.

June is Mrs. Doyle Davis. Mother of two children, she lives in Hart. Marion married Dick Stolcis and lives in Livermore, Calif. She has two children. Virginia, Mrs. Ralph Myrick, makes her home in Amarillo. She also has two children.

Zella is the proud great-grandmother of eleven.

When her husband retired from farming in 1965, the garage of the Rice home was converted to a small flower and gift shop. Zella continued to operate the shop after John's death in 1970 until the fall of 1977 when she sold it to her daughter, June, and LeAnn Lathrop. Owned now by June, Zella continues to help out by answering the phone, accepting orders and in other supportive ways.

DEFENDING YOUR RIGHTS

The Civil Justice System

American Civil Courts, say the experts at the Defense Research Institute, have "been and remain the best method for accomplishing the proper purpose of our substantive civil law." Nevertheless, that Institute has some suggestions on how those courts might be made better, to the benefit of us all.

Why does the system excel? This is spelled out in the first report of its kind — "Administration of Civil Justice Position Paper."

The paper cites these and other reasons why the system excels:

- It encourages and strongly supports settlements.

- It provides maximum opportunity (in non-criminal cases) for parties to a dispute to present and challenge evidence.

- It provides mechanisms for minimizing the impact of prejudice by the decision-maker.

- The system is flexible enough to provide adequate remedies.

"The goal of the adversary process," the paper contends, "is to resolve disputes fairly, efficiently and promptly — at affordable cost [to the consumer]."

After establishing its case, the Institute's paper offers a number of proposals to improve the administration of civil justice.

The position paper calls for each state to develop a "unified court system designed to administer effectively and efficiently the business of the courts." It also calls for "Professional court administrators . . . to assist the judiciary in improving court productivity."

Our excellent Civil Courts may soon be even better.

Mindful of overcrowded court calendars, the Institute offers various other ways to relieve the pressure on the courts and increase their trial time. One approach, says the position paper, would be to "increase the use of auxiliary judicial officers, such as magistrates and court commissioners, for judicial functions of a routine . . . nature."

This method, the paper observes, has had effective results in civil and criminal matters within the federal court system.

Through meetings of judges and others within the system, court productivity could be further increased. The dual benefits of these conferences? Says the Institute: they would "tend to improve the quality of justice within the court system."

A summary of the proposals offered in the paper is available on request to: Defense Research Institute, 1100 West Wells Street, Milwaukee, Wisconsin 53233.

Red Meat, Poultry Consumption Highest In U. S. History

AUSTIN—In schools, in restaurants and in their homes, Americans ate more meat and poultry per person last year than at any other time in history, Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown has reported.

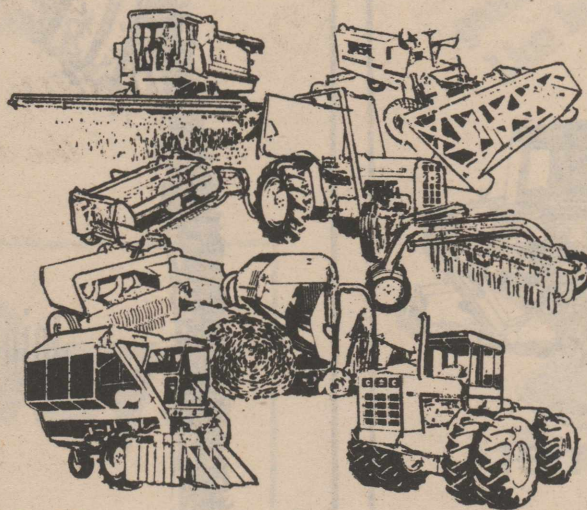

Brown was lead-off speaker for the recent Texas School Food Service Association's annual convention.

"Preliminary estimates place the total per capita consumption of red meat and poultry in the United States at 247 pounds per person in 1980," said Brown. "Despite the recession and despite a number of scare stories concerning meat in the diet, it's obvious that Americans aren't about to take meat off of the dinner table."

Brown said that Americans have enjoyed bargain prices on beef, pork and poultry, especially when compared with meat prices in many other countries. According to a survey by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, consumers must pay $5.60 a pound for sirloin steak in London; $4.10 a pound for pork chops in Tokyo; $2.21 a pound for chicken in Stockholm; and $2.26 a dozen for eggs in Paris.

He also pointed out that food prices were one of the major moderating factors in the U. S. inflation rate in 1980. "Food prices in general rose only two-thirds as much as they did in 1979, and showed the smallest increase in three years."

Swimming Safety

Swim with safety in mind. According to National Safety Council figures, more than 7,500 people drown every year—making drowning the third leading cause of accidental death in this country, the second leading cause among the active ages of one to 44 years old.

Experts at Speedo Swimwear and at the United States Lifeguard Association suggest these tips before taking to the water:

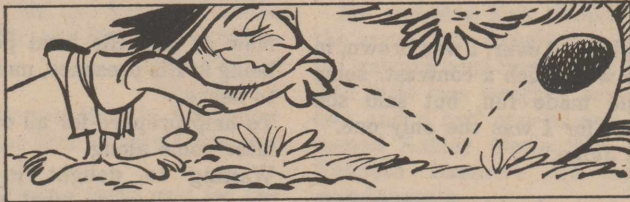

- Never swim alone.
- Swim only in life-guarded or supervised areas.
- If caught in a "rip" current, don't panic. Relax and swim into shore at a 45-degree angle across the current. Do not swim against the current.
- Don't swim near piers or pilings. They cause dangerous currents and have sharp surfaces.

- Don't dive into unknown waters; explore the area completely before entering the surf.
- Check the depth of any pool before diving. Never dive into the shallow end of any pool.

Keep these tips in mind and like 75 million other Americans you will enjoy one of the finest fitness sports in the nation. Free information about swimming or swimming safety is available by writing Speedo, 500 Airport Blvd., Burlingame, CA 94010.

Spanish explorers visiting Mexico found the natives playing a game with a ball made of a strange substance that caused it to bounce. The Mexicans put this same material on their coats to turn away the rain. They had found rubber.

'That Was Janie'

Editors note: The following poem, read at the funeral of Janie Alexander, was written for her by her brother, Jerry. Another brother, Dean, also paid tribute to his sister with the hymn, "In the Garden."

How do you describe in mere words that special someone who has always taken your side, even when you were wrong. Even in the beginning, she was my appointed protector, my defender, my mainstay.
That was Janie.

When I broke my toy, she gladly gave me hers;
When I lost my things, she hunted till found
Then surrounded the prize back to me.
That was Janie.

She was white all over, I was brown, in school we were such a contrast, some teased and made fun, but said she didn't care, for I was the only one.
That was Janie.

The lessons at school to me were dull, reading, writing and arithmetic, I could hardly bear;
But before every deadline, every scare, Janie always seemed to be there.
That was Janie.
As we grew older, of course, things got to be a chore.

She fell in love with Calvin and proceed to serve him more.
That was Janie.

It seemed her family always come first, always making sure they were happy and feeling fit.
Never seeming to mind her own inconveniences but always providing that extra little bit.
That was Janie.

Not too many years ago Janie discovered another one to love;
His name was Jesus, the greatest master on this earth or above.
She tried to serve him best she could doing good to others and baking lots of bread.
That was Janie.

Now at last His total peace is hers, being in His presence, more than eager to serve.
To help prepare for all of us who will later come along.
Waiting to delight in this union showing all of us what she's done.
This is Janie.
