U. S. Senators To Seek Probe Of Nazi Activities In Nation

Burke And Borah Propose Action After Article

Chicago Newspaper Says Nazi Organizations Plan To Get Control Of Government

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9—Two senators—Borah (R-Ida) and Burke (D-Neb)—declared today congress should investigate Nazi activities in the United States.

They made their proposals in commenting on a Chicago Daily Times article declaring German-

WARNING ISSUED AT CONGRESS

NUERNBERG, Germany, Sept. 9. (AP) National socialism's annual congress heard the democracies of the world vigorously berated today by two of Naxidom's highest spokesmen.

Dr. Paul Joseph Goebbels, fiery minister of propaganda, in the course of a vituperative attack on Communism and the Spanish government, criticized the democracies and "some leading American political personages" who, he said, sympathized with the Madrid-Valencia regime.

Dr. Otto Dietrich, chief of the Nazi regime's press bureau, scathingly attacked the freedom of the press in western democratic nations.

American Nazi leaders are organizing American citizens with intent to seize control of the nation.

Plans To Introduce Resolution

"On the first day of the next session, special or regular," Burke said, "I am going to introduce a resolution proposing a senate committee investigation."

The Idahoan, who charged on the senate floor last session that Nazi groups were training American youths in anti-American principles, said he deemed the matter "sufficiently important" to call a special inquiry.

Wise To Inquire Into Them

While stating he was not "greatly alarmed" by such activities, Burke said investigations of his own convinced him it would be wise to inquire into them.

"I don't believe our future is seriously imperiled because of subversive activities. But as prudent citizens we should constantly be on guard."

German-American Leaders Quickly Deny Accusations

CHICAGO, Sept. 9 (AP)—The Daily Times' copyright story of a Nazi army being organized in the United States for a counter-offensive "when the Communists' revolution starts" was quickly denied today

Radio Commission To Undergo Probe

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Sept. 9. (AP)—President Roosevelt began work on his Constitution day speech today after ordering a full investigation of the administration of the federal Communications commission.

He also gave some preliminary thought to a proposal to utilize the nation's election machinery in carrying out the recently authorized unemployed "census" and asked John D. Biggers of Toledo, Ohio, to direct the registration job.

Biggers, who is president of the Libbey-Owens-Ford Glass company, will delay a reply to the offer until he has discussed the matter of leave of absence with his company.

The need for reorganizing the Communications commission, torn with internal strife for months, was discussed by the president at luncheon with Frank R. McNinch, federal power commission chairman who has been given a temporary assignment on the Communications commission to overhaul it.

The president talked with McNinch after his conference with Biggers.

Gale Winds Whip Atlantic East Of Florida Coast On Thursday

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Sept. 9. (AP)—Gale winds whipped the Atlantic ocean east of the Leeward islands tonight and marines were warned to steer clear of the tropical disturbance.

Four hundred miles northwest of St. Martin was the position of the center of the whirling winds at 1 p. m., the United States weather bureau at San Juan, Puerto Rico, reported.

The spot, roughly, is 1,600 miles east southeast of Miami.

'Ferry' Is Name Suggested For Ferry Baby

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 9. (AP) A woman, bearing an expression of mingled fear and pain, clung to the arm of her husband early today as he drove their car onto the Algiers ferry across the Mississippi river.

At mid-stream a five-pound, five-ounce baby girl, was born to Mrs. Grace Orgeron, 22, wife of Claude Orgeron, a truck farmer.

Rough deck hands turned quickly into gentle attendants as they sought to make the mother as comfortable as possible. A quick telephone call to Charity hospital from the New Orleans side brought doctors and nurses and the mother and her babe were whisked to the hospital.

Tender nurses suggested the name of "Ferry."

New Postoffice For Brownfield Is Approved

(Special To The Avalanche)

COLORADO, Sept. 9.—Congressman Geo. Mahon announced here today he had received word from Washington of the approval of an allocation of $75,000 for a new postoffice building at Brownfield.

The building had been unofficially promised earlier in the year but final approval by the postoffice and treasury department was made today.

Had Highest Receipts

"Brownfield was awarded the building because of its record of postal receipts," Mr. Mahon said. "The office had more than $16,000 in receipts and was the largest in the district without a permanent building." He said the office was awarded on this basis alone.

Last year, Lamesa was awarded a new building on the same basis and the year before Big Spring got an office in this district.

Littlefield, with $15,500 was a close second with Snyder, Post and Slaton next in line.

Chamber's 2-Year Campaign Brings Results Thursday

BROWNFIELD, Sept. 9. (Special) Efforts to secure a permanent postoffice building here have been waged by the Brownfield Chamber of Commerce for the past two years and today's announcement of its approval saw fruition of that campaign.

A site on the southeast corner of the square has been tentatively approved but final action must be taken.

J. E. Shelton, secretary of the chamber of commerce, said he was notified of the allocation by Senator Tom Connally.

Mahon Is To Visit In City Next Week

George Mahon, congressman for the 19th district, who recently returned to his home in Colorado City from Washington, is to be in Lubbock four days next week for a visit with friends here and conferences with various leaders in this area, it was learned here yesterday.

The congressman is expected to arrive here Monday and stay through Thursday.

Six CCC Camps In Texas Will Be Abolished On October 1

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9, (AP)—The Civilian Conservation corps announced today it would continue to operate sixty-five camps in Texas, beginning October 1, a decrease of six from the number now in operation.

Camps would be discontinued, he said, at Pennington and Cold Springs in Sam Houston National forest, Fabens in El Paso county, Palmetto State park, Gonzales county, Lake Worth Metropolitan park in Tarrant county, Lake Sweetwater Municipal park in Nolan county and at Fort Bliss Military reservation, El Paso.

Man Charged With Unlawfully Transporting Cotton Pickers

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 9. (AP)—John Vrana of Jourdan was charged here today with unlawfully transporting cotton pickers from Texas to Mississippi to meet the demands for workers in that state. The complaint filed in county court at law No. 1 by B. E. Cavenaugh, deputy labor commissioner, was reported by members of the district attorney's staff to be the first of its kind to be filed in courts here.

Expansion Plans For Fair Given O. K. Thursday

Agriculture Building Is To Be Enlarged; Stables Added; To Start Good Will Journeys

PLANS for one of the largest building expansion programs since the modern Panhandle-South Plains fair came into existence were approved at a meeting of directors of the fair association at which other business of major importance was transacted Thursday.

Other matters included tentative approval of plans for three extensive good will trips, first of which will be next Thursday, to advertise the fair, and the signing of "Michael's Big City Circus" which will present the night "thriller" programs in front of the grandstand. The attraction was described as being one of those most in demand now playing fair circuits.

Fair association officers and board members are Don L. Jones, president; S. C. Arnett and Alex McDonald, vice presidents; W. T. Gaston, treasurer; A. B. Davis, manager; J. H. Brock, assistant manager; and Parker Prouty, C. E. Hunt, E. L. Klett, Dr. I. E. Barr and N. H. Wright, directors.

To Extend Building

The building expansion program calls for the addition of 30 feet to the agricultural building, which will make a structure 170 feet in length by 50 in width, and the construction of approximately 50 stables which will increase by approximately one-half the facilities for caring for race horses.

The building program was approved following the report that more space has been sought in every department than can be supplied. Typical of the cited evidence that the fair will surpass any ever held was the report that notifications already have been received from 12 counties that they will have exhibits competing for cash prizes totaling $475.

First Trip Mapped

First of the good will trips, it was announced, will be to towns south and southeast of Lubbock. Included in the itenerary will be Slaton, Southland, Post, Tahoka, O'Donnell, Lamesa for lunch, Seminole, Seagraves, Brownfield, Meadow and Ropesville. The trip will be made

Four Killed In Marshall Blast

(By The Associated Press)

MARSHALL, Sept. 9.—A boiler explosion that shook this East Texas town today killed four persons and injured four other employes of a sawmill.

A. T. Jacob, negro truck driver, died in a hospital tonight to bring the death toll to four. The three others who died in the blast were J. G. Moore, 54, of Longview; Raymond Castle, 22, of Marshall, and George Davis of Marshall, negro teamster.

Others Critically Injured

Brown Narramore was not expected to survive burns and injuries. William Arthur McDaniel was in critical condition with burns from his head to his hips. Crawford Mayfield, negro employe, was badly burned. Luther Pitts, negro, sufferred slight injuries.

Davis' body, both legs blown off, was found in a field about 50 yards away. The bodies of Moore and Castle were buried under debris.

The explosion occured at at the W. H. Killingsworth sawmill in the southwest section of the city, a negro residential area. The force of the blast was felt throughout the city.

Jones Says He Heard No Talk Of His Seeking Presidency

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9. (AP)—Chairman Jesse H. Jones, of the Reconstruction Finance corporation smilingly reported today he had heard no "Jones for president" talk on a recent western trip.

Questioned at his press conference, he said he "kept an ear cocked" but heard nothing.

Asked if he would be for his fellow Texan, Vice President Garner, for the 1940 nomination, Jones replied:

"I'd be for Mr. Garner for most anything."

OIL SALE ANNOUNCED

Corporal Makes Call On Surgeon As Instructed

TAYLORVILLE, Sept. 9. (AP)—Almost nineteen years ago, Corporal William C. Sparks of Tyler, Tex., was taken to an emergency hospital in France.

The surgeon who removed nineteen pieces of shrapnel from his body pinned this note in Sparks' helmet:

"If you ever get back to the United States, look me up."

Today Sparks called on the surgeon, Dr. S. B. Herdman of Taylorville, making a special trip to tell about the two years he spent in government hospitals and his job as district clerk of Smith county.

More Revenues Are Demanded By Governor

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Sept. 9. — Governor James V. Allred pounded on his desk today and declared oil pipelines and utilities ought to bear a larger share of the expenses of the government.

Simultaneously he reiterated that the state needed millions in additional revenue and the legislature should buckle down at the special session beginning Sept. 27 and provide it.

Going To Find Out

"It looks as if the utilities and pipelines may have taken over the government," he said, "and I am going to find out at the special session if it is so."

The governor said the franchise tax on the pipelines was reduced on the theory that those businesses had to pay also an intangible assets levy.

Collections Very Small

Yet," he said, "the latter has been tied up in the courts and collections have been very small."

He suggested a possible way to "make the pipelines pay more" would be to levy "a little income tax on them," adding that some states have corporation income taxes and there was no doubt in his mind they were constitutional.

McCraw Suggests Plan For Improving Government

AUSTIN, Sept. 9. (AP) — Wisecracking William McCraw, a probable candidate for governor, gave the senate's economy and efficiency committee a few suggestions today for improving the government and added he likely would have more to say on the subject "a little later."

The attorney general would not divulge his tax program but came out strongly for abolition of all special funds and redistribution of the money then available in the general fund in an effort to effect substantial economies. He appeared in response to an invitation from the committee.

Mounting Cost Cited

"The mounting cost of government must be halted," McCraw said. "We've been going 'hog wild', establishing one bureau after another. It must be brought home to the average man that the government creates nothing, that he must pay for expanded governmental services.

"Let's put all the money in one pot and divide it up again. Let's eliminate duplications and cut expenses wherever we can do it without impairing efficiency."

McCraw maintained that a "crying need" in Texas was a "civil service system with real teeth in it."

Americans Are Urged To Leave Chinese Areas

U. S. Officials Make Appeals In Face Of Increasing Perils From Attacks By Japanese

(By The Associated Press)

SHANGHAI, Sept. 10. (Friday)—United States citizens in nearly all the principal seaports of China today were urged to evacuate in the face of increasing perils from Japan's air and naval attacks along all China's 2,150-mile coast line.

Ambassador Nelson T. Johnson at Nanking ordered the American

HULL SENDS REASSURANCE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9. (AP)—As long as American citizens are in danger in China, American naval and military forces will be there to protect them, Secretary Hull said today.

With this one statement he sent reassurance to Americans in Shanghai, who have been uttering distressed protests at this government's policy, and he refused the demand of peace organizations that American armed forces be withdrawn at once.

consulate at Swatow, in Kwangtung province, closed and all Americans there evacuated. Previously Johnson had authorized closing of the American consulates at Amoy and Foochow, formerly thriving ports of Fukien province.

Urged To Leave Tsingtao

Several hundred Americans at Tsingtao, chief seaport of Shantung province, were urged to get out as soon as possible. United States officials indicated they feared Tsingtao soon would be a field of hostilities. The Japanese army and navy, it was believed, would attempt a landing there for an expedition to strike at Tsinanfu, the provincial capital.

Capture of Tsinanfu would cut the Tientsin-Pukow railway, main line of communications between Nanking and North China.

Lives Gravely Endangered

American lives were gravely endangered Thursday at Shanghai, Amoy and Swatow. Japanese warplanes and warships subjected Amoy to a terrific two-hour bombardment, causing American residents to seek shelter in dugouts. The American naval vessel Asheville was caught in the bombardment; several air bombs fell close to her and her crew took shelter below decks to avoid a hail of shrapnel.

Fighting continued furiously on the v-shaped front north of Shanghai, along the banks of the Whangpoo and Yangtze rivers.

Crop Estimate In State Upped

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Sept. 9.—The U. S. department of agriculture reported today favorable conditions on September 1 indicated a Texas cotton production of 4,622,000 bales, an increase of 308,000 over the August 1 estimate.

The report said August weather which featured a mixture of dry and wet days resulted in less than average decline in condition and considerable increase in prospective yield.

The estimated production compared with 2,933,000 bales last year, 2,956,000 in 1935 and 4,560,000 for the five-year period ended in 1932.

Condition of the crop, 76 per cent of normal compared with 52 at the same time last year, indicated a lint yield of 175 pounds per acre compared with 121 in 1936, 130 in 1935 and 139 for the 10-year period ended in 1932.

American Wife's Plea Wins Promise From Gen. Franco

By EDWARD J. NEIL
Associated Press Staff Writer

BURGOS, Spain, Sept. 9—A young American wife's written plea of "please don't destroy my happiness" won a promise of life and freedom today for her imprisoned aviator husband.

Insurgent Generalissimo Francisco Franco read her letter, studied the picture of herself which she enclosed, and decided to exchange 26-year-old Harold Dahl, Champaign, Ill., war pilot, for any insurgent aviator held captive by the Spanish government.

Mrs. Dahl wrote from her temporary residence in Cannes, France, asking life and freedom for her husband, whose Spanish government war plane was shot down behind insurgent lines July 12.

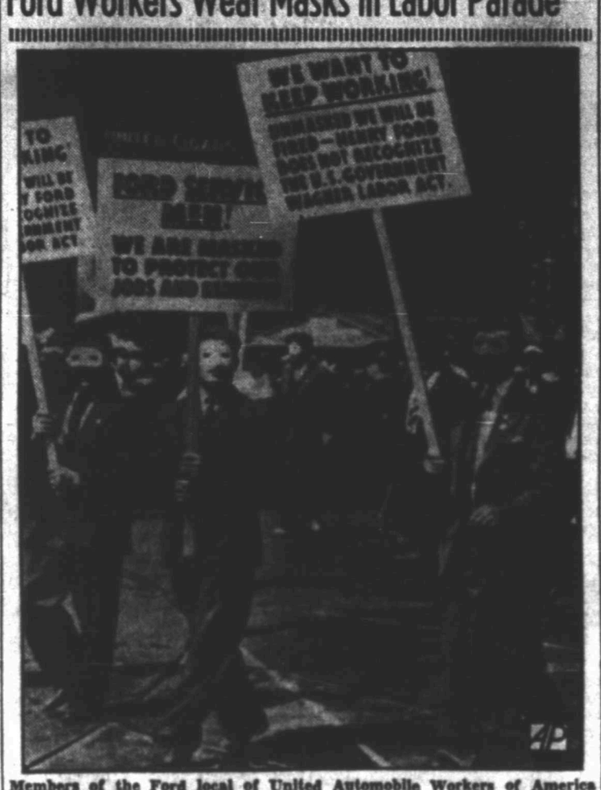

In quaint, studied Spanish she addressed the generalissimo as "Chief of Fascism," a term Franco dislikes.

What offset the mistake was Mrs. Dahl's picture—a photograph of a tall, beautiful, young American girl with blond hair and sparkling eyes.

"I know you are an intelli-

Extension Of Metered Zone In City Being Considered

Convinced that parking meters are in Lubbock to stay but expressing the positive conviction that $56 per meter is entirely too high as a purchase price, members of the city commission moved at their semi-monthly meeting at City hall Thursday afternoon to extend the metered zone with devices bought on a competitive bidding basis.

The action was taken in response to the insistant demand of business men on the edge of the metered district either that devices be placed

PRESENTS 21-YEAR-OLD BILL

B. W. Kieran, pioneer of Lubbock, isn't a man to do things in a rush but he thinks an honest debt should be paid, no matter how old it may be.

Thus he explained his position as he appeared before the city commission meeting Thursday to ask payment of a $65 debt contested, he said, by the city 21 years ago.

In 1916, he related, he laid about 400 feet of two-inch water pipe, agreeing to accept payment from the city in water. But, six months later, he continued, he moved to his ranch and never used the water. The $65, he added, is the balance due without interest on the transaction.

"I got busy on the ranch and just never got around to presenting the bill," he explained.

The commission promised that if official or factual evidence of the obligation can be found, it will be paid.

in front of their establishment or that police-enforced two-hour parking be put into effect. The report that two policemen at a total salary of approximately $250 monthly would be needed to enforce a parking limit without meters was an important factor in convincing commissioners that the meters would be the more satisfactory and more economical plan.

Have Brought In $1,900

Discussions of meters and other problems of traffic occupied a considerable portion of the four-hour session—one of the longest in months. The talk concerning the meters brought out the incidental information that they already have produced a total of more than $1,900 in revenue since they were installed July 27, and that during the last week, several have been opened with

School Children On 'Sit-Down' Strikes

LORAIN, O. Sept. 9. (AP)—A "sit-down strike" at the closed Murray Ridge two-room school went into its third day today with 40 pupils and their parents appearing with lunches and books to while away an hour on the building's steps.

Parents and pupils protested against orders of the Loraln county school board that the children attend Lake Elementary school three miles away.

REFUSE TO RIDE BUS

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 9. (AP)—Fifteen sidents of Woodale grade school remained steadfastly on strike against modernity today while the Knox county school board just as firmly refused to reopen their one-room frame schoolhouse.

The children, who range from six to 16 years of age, sat down in front of their padlocked schoolhouse Tuesday and refused to ride a bus three miles to the more up-to-date Carter junior high school.

Officer's Slayer Is Identified

(By The Associated Press)

JENA, La., Sept. 9. — A nude body found on a roadside near here today was identified as that of W. L. Harrison alias "Goldie" Hairston believed one of the men who shot and killed patrolman J. O. Wolff in Gulfport, Miss., Tuesday.

The identification was made by Murphy Roden, assistant superintendent of the state highway police, through fingerprints. Roden said Harrison, wanted for killing in Texas and Arkansas, escaped from jail in Longview, Tex., last May 14.

Sought To Question Men

Wolff was shot down when he and another patrolman, Edward Van Zandt, sought to question two men about an automobile they left at a garage.

One of the men opened fire immediately, felling Wolff. Van Zandt and Wolff, the latter mortally wounded, shot back, but the killer drove off in the car and the other man fled on foot. Van Zandt said he believed the driver was wounded.

B. F. Curthirds, Gulfport chief of police, said the man who shot Wolff left here with two other men and, after gunfights with two posses, escaped.

"If the desperadoes were trying to get back to Texas from Gulfport they would take the route through here," Sheriff Barlow Thompson of La Salle parish said. "We believe they kept their wounded companion with them until he died and then threw him out of the automobile."

Judge Orders City Officials Of Muskogee, Okla., Suspended

MUSKOGEE, Okla., Sept. 9. (AP)—District Judgt Enloe V. Vernor, acting on the recommendation of a Muskogee county grand jury, today ordered the immediate suspension of Muskogee's mayor, John Reynolds, City Manager P. B. Bostic, Police Chief Ed Corbin, and three of the 16 members of the city council.

Councilmen ordered suspended are R. T. Sypert, Harold Cartwright and Paul Whitlock.

Accusations retured by the grand jury, which has been in session intermittently since Aug. 9, charged the city manager and chief of police with failure to enforce gambling and liquor laws of the city.

The purpose of the Workers Defense league, he said in an address at City hall was to help the victims of such attacks.

Britain, France Determined To Employ Force

International Fleet Ready For 'Punitive Action' Against Mediterranean Marauders

LEAGUE FACING PROBLEMS

GENEVA, Sept. 9. (AP)—A world political situation which statesmen admitted holds greater perils to the peace of the world than at any time since the Great War tonight confronted the League of Nations on the eve of its annual sessions.

The league council will convene tomorrow and the assembly next Monday.

strongly by the sharp cleavage with the Fascist powers on the eve of what may prove one of the most vital meetings in Europe's recent history.

To Use "Punitive Action"

Britain and France were in complete harmony on the use of their warships for "punitive action" to safeguard Mediterranean commerce. They agreed to discard a "preventive plan"—a system of restricted areas in which submarines would be forbidden—that would have been proposed had Germany and Italy attended.

The use of warships called for organization of a nine-power international fleet with orders to sink any submarine threatening a neutral merchantman. Besides the men-of-war of Britain and France, the international fleet would include those of the other seven nations participating in the parley—Greece, Turkey, Yugoslavia, Soviet Russia, Egypt, Rumania and Bulgaria.

Assured Of Support

French foreign office officials said they already had received assurances from Turkey and Greece of their support.

Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden flew to Paris today and conferred with French Foreign Minister Yvon Delbos while a committee of naval experts drafted plans for the international fleet.

Although there were no new incidents of aggression against Mediterranean shipping, the French naval ministry, incensed over the shooting down of a French mail plane near Gijon, Spain, prepared a protest to the Spanish insurgents and ordered four destroyers from France's Atlantic fleet to bolster her full Mediterranean force.

Germany and Italy acted in concert in rejecting invitations to the parley, both refusing to sit with Soviet Russia because of Moscow's sharp notes to Rome accusing Italy of sinking two Soviet merchantmen and demanding redress.

Both submitted as a counter-proposal that the Mediterranean issue be ironed out in the European "Hands Off Spain committee."

That proposal, however, was rejected. Britain and France contended the issues, involving the whole Mediterranean basin, were too large for the inactive neutrality committee and that speed was best served in Switzerland where diplomats are gathered for the League of Nations sessions.

WOMEN AND WEALTH

IN no other country in the world do women own or control so much wealth as in the United States. They hold title to 40 per cent of all the real estate in America. They are beneficiaries of 80 per cent of the 65,000,000 life insurance policies. They own 65 per cent of all the saving accounts and 48 per cent of the stock of all public utility companies.

WHAT TO WEAR?

IN between seasons present a baffling clothes problem and the few weeks preceding fall weather are the worst we believe. In the spring you can wear a coat if you acquire a summer costume and the temperature drops, but in the fall coats are too warm. Light weight woolens feel all right in the early morning hours but by noon they are uncomfortable and by night they are too warm.

A pieced costume doesn't go very far toward making the wearer feel smart. We see women with new hats and shoes that scream newness but which lose their appeal by topping a last season's dress. Some men are still wearing linens and straw hats, escorting wives with new fall outfits. (On second thought, prehaps that's why the men still are wearing summer clothes.)

Women who work seem to have decided that wearing comfortable clothes comes ahead of being the first to appear in fall wear. That means a few days more of washable, summer silk dresses.

ALAS, THE MILK MAN

UP in Vancouver, Wash., milk men have two complaints. One: Housewives are too long-winded when they write notes. Instead of simply saying, for instance, "no milk for two week," the average housewife goes into details about the vacation trip and wastes 15 minutes of the milk man's time while he deciphers her handwriting. Two: During prohibition, say the milk men, they were almost always offered a drink when they arrived during a late party. Now, with liquor legal, nobody ever offers them any.

ANSWERING QUESTIONS

IN order to be a successful PBX operator down here one needs to keep up with the world, have an encyclopedia handy, a clock, a calendar, a thermometer and a lovely disposition. We give you a few examples of the type of questions:

Why can't I get my paper over here, I have my bill paid?

Will you please let me speak to the manager? I didn't receive my paper tonight. Later—Never mind about the paper, the dog had taken it in the back yard.

The boy threw the paper next door, but he missed me.

Where's the fight?

Who won the ball game? (This one is usually asked when there are at least thirty games in progress over the section.)

What time is it?

Can you tell me if it rained in Fort Worth while ago?

Where was the fire wagon going?

Where did the ambulance go on that call?

Did you hear about a wreck?

How do you spell pique?

And so on ad infinition.

SHE ISN'T WORRIED

PARISIAN designers have the blues because the Duchess of Windsor, who gave "Wallis blue" and pencil slim styles to the world of fashion last spring is ignoring the question of acquiring fall clothes. They are left without an outstanding model to copy since she abdicates the fashion throne.

It is pointed out by those who have gone into the matter that when the former Mrs. Simpson chose her wedding trosseau she ordered nearly everything in woolens which will insure her to be comfortably outfitted for months to come.

We wonder if the most talked of woman in the world last winter is as interesting a person now that the romance has culminated in marriage. We believe she is definitely demoted to second ranking in point of interest whether it be as a fashion setter of news source.

Mrs. Wallace Is Speaker

A comprehensive program for the year on "The Art of Living" was begun by the Lubbock Woman's club at a luncheon Thursday afternoon in the Hilton hotel Chimayo room. The vice-president, Mrs. A. B. Brown, presided in the absence of Mrs. F. A. Kleinschmidt, president, who recently underwent major surgery.

Invocation was by Mrs. J. E. Hamilton. The main talk on the program was by a guest speaker, Mrs. J. W. Wallace, who discussed "Education for Living." She emphasized the value of teaching children little courtesies and to appreciate the little things of life as both are essential means of happiness.

Opening feature of the program was marimba music played by Jack York. Mrs. Roscoe Cowart, who with Mrs. W. B. Sides and Mrs. H. H. Bidwell, designed the year's study discussed aims and purposes of the outline and told how members could get the most it had to offer.

The luncheon table, T-shaped, was decorated with two large bowls of orchid and pink asters arranged with fern and lilies of the valley and pastel place cards. Large vases of giant dahlias and other garden flowers of the season were other decorations in the room.

Mesdames L. D. Thomas, Clyde F. Elkins, C. E. Moreman, Grady West and R. F. Hinchey were introduced as new members. Mesdames Roy Riddel and Lloyd A. Johnson, also new members, were unable to attend.

Guests were Mesdames Jennie Flyane of Fort Worth, W. S. Clark, Knox Thomas and Sherrill Boyd. Twenty-seven women were present.

Sanders P-TA Has First Fall Meet

The new superintendent of city schools, W. B. Irvin, addressed the Sanders Parent-Teacher association at its first meeting of the new season Thursday afternoon at the school building.

The association elected Miss Beulah Starnes first vice-president to replace Miss Bonnie Gary who is teaching this year at George M. Hunt school. Kary Mathis was elected auditor to take the place of J. H. Freeland who is not teaching this season.

The meeting was opened with a program which included a song by the group, prayer led by Mrs. E. B. Speck, and vocal solo, "I'll Take You Home Again, Kathleen," by Mr. Mathis.

The program for the year will be arranged by a committee of which Miss Starnes will be chairman.

Attendance prizes went to Mr. Mathis' room on the second floor and to Mesdames C. L. Donaldson's and Willie Lee Holloway's room (tie) on the first floor.

COOKIES ARE MADE

POSEY, Sept. 9. (Special)—Eight members of the Posey Home Demonstration club met Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. S. N. Gentry for a cookie baking demonstration by the hostess who is food supply demonstrator in the club. She showed how to make ice box and sugar cookies and "Hermits." The cookies were served with punch at the close of a business discussion. The club will meet September 21 with Mrs. Willie Wilkie.

Milk Fund Is Aim Of Local Group

A milk fund to help underprivileged children in local public schools will be established this year by the Lubbock Business and Professional Women's club which discussed the project at a meeting Wednesday night at the Hilton hotel. Miss Ruth E. Ford presided.

Mrs. R. E. Wylie was elected historian and was elected club representative to the City Federation.

Mrs. W. O. Harbison was appointed chairman of the finance committee and Miss Lavenia Williams was appointed chairman of the International relations committee.

Four members were received. They were Miss Violette McBurnette and Mesdames Mary Turner, Willie V. Thomas and E. E. Barrier.

It was announced that the local club has been asked by the state membership chairman to assist in organizing clubs at Levelland and Ralls.

Others at the meeting were Mesdames Ben F. Maxey, J. J. Smelser, Lottie Hilton, Harry Urguette, Floe Swenson, Misses Ruth Craig, Edith Franklin and Elsie V. Link.

Hunt P-TA Leaders Plan For Season

Executives of the George M. Hunt Parent-Teacher association met at the school building Thursday afternoon to plan activities of the new season. They decided to have general meetings on second Thursdays instead of third Thursdays as they have been held in the past. Parents of first and second grade pupils will meet at 2:30 p. m. in their children's rooms and parents of third grade pupils will meet at 3 p. m. in third grade rooms. The first meetings will be held September 16.

Attending the executive meeting were the president, Mrs. Virgil Williams, the school principal, Miss Mary Meador, and Mesdames P. F. Smith, John Crawford, H. L. Burgess, Clay Ross, O. L. Peterman and C. M. Guess.

Rummage Sale Will Benefit Charity

For the benefit of charity, the Lubbock Junior Welfare league will conduct a rummage sale next week, beginning Monday, at the corner of Avenue H and Eighth street. Proceeds from the sales will be used to buy new shoes and other essentials for local needy persons.

Anyone having any old clothing, jewelry or other articles, suitable for the sale, which he wishes to contribute is asked to call Mrs. O. L. Slaton, jr., telephone number 2, the committee chairman has announced.

The sale will be conducted in several large vans lent by the Dalby Motor Freight Lines.

Charles Crenshaws Are Complimented

A reception honoring Mr. and Mrs. Charles Crenshaw, jr., of Washington, D. C., was given by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Crenshaw, Wednesday night in the home of Mrs. F. R. Friend, 2005 Broadway.

The guest list was limited to a younger group of friends who called between 8:30 and 9:30 o'clock.

In the house party were Mr. and Mrs. William H. Crenshaw, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Slaton, the hosts, the honor guests, Miss Etolle McLeod, Mrs. Jane McArthur and Charles Maedgen.

Mrs. Friend poured coffee. Misses Joan and Barbara Hale, Ann Crenshaw and Francine Young assisted in serving.

The refreshment table was centered with a turquoise bowl of yellow roses and chrysanthemums.

The Crenshaws will be here until September 17.

Miss Lois Watson Honored Thursday

Mesdames Ralph Wyatt and H. H. Holmes entertained with a party and linen shower Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. F. R. Friend, 2005 Broadway, as a courtesy to Miss Lois Watson who Sunday will become the bride of Clint Paul Herring of Lawton, Okla.

Each guest was asked to write a menu and give the recipe for one dish.

The guest list included Mesdames Tom Cammack, J. H. Stiles, Aubrey Edwards, Kirk Dean, Sam Jondahl, H. J. Turner, J. C. Rigney, J. B. Edwards, Lloyd Zellner, Clark Jones, Jess Sherfey, Ray Moore of Muleshoe, H. A. Watson, Misses Ellen K. Clapp, Mary Ross Edwards, Nancy Ruth Leaverton, Lena Belle Brown, Katherine Klett, Kathryn Weaver, Frances Snyder and Billie Bloom.

"Black-Eyed Susan" May Be Seen Two Places Tonight

"Black-Eyed Susan," a musical comedy in three acts will be presented at Shallowater and Idalou tonight. The Shallowater entertainment, which is sponsored by the Shallowater Parent-Teacher association to benefit the school library, will be staged in the community club house, beginning at 8 o'clock.

The Idalou play, at 8:15 o'clock in the Idalou club house, is being presented by the Methodist Women's society of that city.

Homebuilders Club Meets In Home Of Mrs. J. C. Dean

Mrs. J. C. Dean, 1926 Twenty-eighth street, entertained their Homebuilders club Thursday afternoon. Refreshments were served at the close of a business discussion. The meeting was the first since May.

The American Geographical Society of New York is the oldest geographical society in the country. It was founded in 1852.

News Briefs...

Condition of Ed Hambright of 1707-B Eighteenth street late Thursday night was reported as "considerably improved," according to authorities at West Texas hospital where he is receiving treatment after having gone minor surgery about a week ago.

Four fishing licenses permitting use of artificial lures and 16 hunting licenses Thursday afternoon had been issued at the office of Ed D. Allen, county clerk. Authorities of that office said that copies of the new Texas Game, Fish and Oyster commission's rules and regulations had not yet been received here. Fishing licenses, costing $1.10 are valid in any county in the state as are the hunting licenses, costing $2. Either of the licenses may be obtained at most of the Lubbock gunshops, sporting goods houses, and hardware stores, officials said. Both expire Aug. 31, 1937.

Miss Virginia Barr, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. T. E. Barr, who was seriously injured in an automobile collision here Aug. 30, is improving so rapidly that she may be removed from West Texas hospital to her home at 2112 Fifteenth street within a week or 10 days, friends were advised Thursday.

Rogers Willett, vice president of the Amherst National bank was here on business yesterday. Lamb county crop conditions are excellent at this time, he said.

A trench silo demonstration for Lamb county farmers will be held Tuesday at the Herbert Haberer farm, 14 miles north of Sudan, said J. W. Hammock, Sudan farmer, yesterday. E. R. Eudaly, College Station, will conduct the demonstration and will talk on the value of ensilage. Hammock will be in charge of cutting of the ensilage.

At the Minnesota state fair horse show being held in Minneapolis this week, Anacacho Revel, owned by L. E. Davis of Lubbock, won first place in competition for three-gaited horses over 15 1-2 hands high and also championship sweepstakes. Davis received a telegram Thursday telling of the horse's victories.

Funeral arrangements had not been announced last night for Miss Francise Britton, 23, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Britton of 1924 Fourth street, who died in a Los Angeles hospital Wednesday night. Death was attributed to pneumonia which developed after she had been critically injured in an automobile accident Aug. 28. Mr. and Mrs. Britton had arrived in Los Angeles Saturday morning before her death. Miss Britton, an employe of a Los Angeles paper company, visited her parents here last summer.

To conduct research in nutrition at Teachers College, Columbia university, Miss Mina Marie Wolf left Thursday for New York. Miss Wolf, who received the first master's degree in home economics at Texas Technological college, also holds a B. S. degree in chemistry from Tech. Upon her graduation in May she was granted a research fellowship from Columbia. Miss Wolf, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Wolf of Stamford, was an instructor in foods and nutrition at Tech the first summer semester.

Dr. L. T. Patton Has Article In Magazine On Automobile Deaths

"Napoleon Versus the Automobile," a comparison of number of deaths in Napoleonic wars and in highway accidents in the United States, appearing in the September-October issue of The Military Engineer, was written by Dr. Leroy T. Patton, head of the geology department of Texas Technological college.

The magazine is published in Washington, D. C., by the Society of American Military Engineers.

He gave figures to show that Napoleon, "whose slaughter of his enemies and whose sacrifice of his own men have stood for more than a century as a supreme example of the ruthlessness of war," could not compare with the automobile as an agent of destruction.

State Securities Officials Are In City Thursday On Visit

D. Leon Harp, state securities commissioner, of Austin, and Horace Sessions, Midland, investigator for West Texas, were in Lubbock Thursday contacting registered dealers and seeking to locate those not licensed.

Harp said that a meeting of oil men of all West Texas would be held Friday night at 8 o'clock at the Scharbauer hotel in Midland at which time he would explain provisions of the new state securities law. All dealers in such instruments are required to be licensed by the state, failure to do so making them liable to a fine of not more than $1,000 or 2 years in prison or both. Harp urged all dealers who have not registered to write him at Austin.

It is estimated that an acre of Meadowland will contain on the average about 15,000,000 insects.

Capital Considers Extraordinary Early Appearance Of FDR's Third Term Talk

Politicians Are Studying Case

(EDITOR'S NOTE: There is talk in Washington on the subject of a third term for President Roosevelt. The writer of the Washington Associated Press bureau tells of some phases of this talk).

By MILO THOMPSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—Third term talk is now interesting Washington politicians, commentators and students of government who think it extraordinary this talk should appear during the first year of a president's second term.

Some explain this is because no president heretofore has had so overwhelming a representation of his party in congress, so great a concentration of power in his hands, so many innovations in governmental procedure, and so much popular support on a personal-rather-than-party basis.

They infer it is high time to consider what shall happen to this inheritance of power and prestige.

But there are others who assert all this is false reasoning.

In the first place, say these people, the third term talk is not appearing prematurely but is natural, once a president is inaugurated for a second term, for speculation to begin promptly concerning his successor.

History seems to bear them out. Grant was not through with his first term when such talk led to the adoption of a Democratic platform plank favoring, not merely a two-term limit, but a one-term limit.

McKinley, who had scarcely begun his second term before his assassination, had already had occasion to still wagging tongues by saying flatly he would not be a candidate for a third term.

Theodore Roosevelt, who finished out the McKinley second term, met the issue immediately after his first election to the presidency, by saying: "Under no circumstances will I be a candidate for or accept another nomination."

Coolidge Statement Recalled

Calvin Coolidge's "second" term was about half gone before he considered the third term talk sufficiently demanding to put out that "I do not choose to run" statement.

The more practical politicians hereabouts are not amazed at the earliness of third term talk. They say they expect persons interested in launching candidacies to start the talk early. They add, too, that persons opposed to a president twice elected lose no time moving obstacles into the path of his third election.

At the same time, being practical politicians, they say they do not expect Roosevelt to make an early declaration. They put it this way: a president endeavors to hold his administrative strength and his party leadership to the last ditch; he wants no lame duck stigma; he is unwilling to be read out of office before his term has run; he knows he will be handicapped if backers, co-workers and subordinates start giving more than one eye to his probable successor while he is trying to work with them. What can he do, they ask, but avoid committing himself.

Long-Time Resident Of Post Is Buried

SWEETWATER, Sept. 9. (Special)—J. E. Adams, 63, a long time resident of Post, died at the Sweetwater hospital Wednesday after being admitted Sunday suffering from a stroke of apoplexy. He was visiting a daughter, Mrs. J. B. Drake, at the time.

His wife, 12 children, 10 grand children and one great grandchild survive. Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon.

Survivors are: V. E. Adams, Fort Worth; B. B. Adams, Dallas; J. F. jr. and E. O. Adams, Post; Mrs. W. K. Regeon, Sudan; Mrs. Earl Odom, Justiceburg; Mrs. Drake and Mrs. Charles Fry, Sweetwater; Mrs. Ruben Fain, Gatesville; Mrs. Fric Smith, Fort Sumner, N. M., and Misses Geneva and Ala Des Adams, Post.

Loan Officials To Meet Today

Officers and directors of some 20 National Farm Loan associations in 30 counties in this area, will gather at the Hotel Lubbock today to hear A. C. Williams, Houston, president of the Houston Federal land bank.

He will be accompanied by several officers of the bank. They will discuss phases of the work and the program for the coming year said R. S. Rodgers, secretary of the local bank who made the announcement. Williams has visited Lubbock a number of times since he took the presidency of the bank some years ago.

The meeting will begin at 10 o'clock. Lunch will be served at 12:30 and the afternoon session will close about 4 o'clock.

Rodgers, a director of the Houston bank as well as secretary-manager of the local association, will preside. He is in charge of arrangements. An attendance of some 75 men from out of town is expected.

Abilene Fair To Offer Racing "On Its Own Merits" Alone

ABILENE, Sept. 9. (AP)—A three-day racing meet will be held Oct. 7-9, the closing days of the West Texas fair here, but the sport, promoters say, "must stand on its merits.' Purses totaling $1,500 have been posted by the fair association, plus a special award of $150 for running of the handicap the closing day.

Ropesville Project First Bale Ginned

(Special To The Avalanche)

ROPESVILLE, Sept. 9.—First bale of cotton for Ropesville and this section of Hockley county was ginned here this afternoon. It was brought to town by T. A. Preston, of the Ropesville community project of the Federal Security administration.

Fifteen acres of Acala cotton was picked over to get 1,300 pounds of lint. The bale weighed 450 pounds.

Staple lenth was 1 1-32 inch. Preston did not sell his bale. Business men raised about $35 in premiums for the first bale.

Most of the nearly 2,100 acres in cotton on the project is of the Acala variety. "We will get from 750 to 1,000 bales of cotton, most of it long staple, if the killing freeze stays off until after Oct. 25," Manager James P. Williams said in announcing the first bale.

Names to be inscribed in the Hall of Fame in New York are chosen every five years.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Ready to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

Laxatives are only makeshifts. A mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up". Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. Stubbornly refuse anything else. 25c

Brownsville Sheriff Charged With Permitting An Escape

BROWNSVILLE, Sept. 9. (AP) — Sheriff J. A. Coolsby posted $1,000 bond here Thursday morning on an indictment charging him with negligently permitting a prisoner to escape.

The indictment grew out of the disappearance from county jail here of Edward Rhom, who was being held for penitentiary authorities after conviction on charge of theft.

More Oil Wells Are Started In California Than Since 1929

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 9 (AP) — Oil drillers are filling California's crust full of holes more rapidly than in a decade.

Already this year, more wells have been started than in any full year since 1929.

New wells started or planned since Jan. 1 totaled 1108 at the end of last week.

Bureau Reports To Be Widened

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Sept. 9. — The University of Texas bureau of business research hopes to increase the scope of its statewide reports on business conditions.

Dr. F. A. Buechel, assistant director, said in order to meet demands for more comprehensive reports the bureau will mail schedules to 10,000 firms in 30 cities before the middle of September. Formerly only 2,000 companies contributed information.

From the monthly reports of cooperating firms the bureau compiles data on trends of employment and payrolls. The increased mailing list will include almost every representative wholesale and retail business house in the state.

Houston, with 1,000 firms to be contacted, leads the list with Dallas, Fort Worth, San Antonio and El Paso next in order. Other cities included in the research are Abilene, Amarillo, Austin, Beaumont, Big Spring, Brownsville, Corpus Christi, Corsicana, Denison, Galveston, Harlingen, Laredo, Longview, Lubbock, Lufkin, Marshall, McAllen, Palestine, Paris, Port Arthur, San Benito, Sherman, Temple, Tyler, Waco and Wichita Falls.

The Tate house in Portland, Me., built in 1755 by George Tate, contains eight fireplaces and fine 18th century woodwork.

Few Oddities Of Texas Are Pointed Out By State Planning Board From Its Studies

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Sept. 9. — The state planning board which culls a few oddities from its findings on Texas' industrial, economic and cultural advancement points out these:

Texas is so big persons in Brownsville call Dallas folks Yankees and those in El Paso chide citizens of Texarkana for being effete Easterners.

There is a jail house inside the walls of the Texas penitentiary.

Texas' highest mountain has three names, Signal peak, Guadalupe, and El Capitan. The lofty peak, in Culberson county, is 9,500 feet.

The first Bermuda onion in the world makes its appearance each spring in Texas.

Parker county produces more watermelons than any like area in the United States.

The mess hall at Texas A. & M. college is the largest in the world. Nine thousand meals are served daily to the cadet corps.

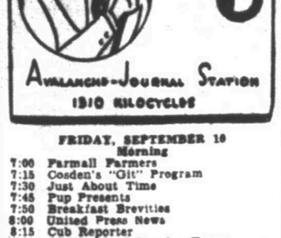

It is 150 miles farther from El Paso to Texarkana than from Chicago to New York. Fort Worth is nearer St. Paul, Minn., than Brownsville.

Slight Improvement Is Shown In East Texan's Condition

TYLER, Sept. 9. (AP)—A slight improvement was reported today in the condition of Herbert L. Payton, Tyler oil scout who lost an arm in a highway accident Tuesday night.

Payton was hurt when his car and a truck sideswiped each other a few miles from here. Wendell Phillips of Longview, charged with failing to stop and render aid, remained in jail.

Plenty Of Gins To Be Available For Lynn County's Cotton Crop

TAHOKA, Sept. 9. (Special) — There is no danger, apparently, of a gin shortage in Lynn county in spite of the bumper cotton crop.

There are 27 gins in Lynn county, divided thus: five at Tahoka, five at O'Donnell, three at Wilson, two at Grassland, two at New Home, and one each at Draw, Gordon, Hackberry, New Lynn, Wayside, Lakeview, Petty T-Bar, Wells, and Needmore.

Most of the plants are equipped with modern and highly efficient machinery, and necessary repairs have been completed. More than 200 men will be employed by the plants.

ABERNATHY BUDGET

ABERNATHY, (Special) — Abernathy's school budget for the current term is $53,343. Tax rate for 1937 is 90 cents, an increase of seven cents. Increased enrollment necessitated the additional tax.

LAMB GETS NYA JOBS

LITTLEFIELD, (Special)—Twenty-seven NYA jobs have been allotted to Lamb county white school students by the NYA, P. O. Boles, county superintendent, has been advised by J. C. Kellam, Texas NYA director. One negro job also was awarded.

SET COUNTY RATE

PLAINVIEW, (Special)—The 1937 tax rate for Hale county was set by the commissioner's court at 65 cents on the $100 valuation. It is five cents under last year.

HAPPY RELIEF FROM PAINFUL BACKACHE

Caused by Tired Kidneys

Many of those gnawing, nagging, painful backaches people blame on colds or strains are often caused by tired kidneys—and may be relieved when treated in the right way.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, lumbago, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness about the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

South Central States Lead Nation In Relative Improvement In Farm Income

Texas Crops And Livestock Gain

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—Farmers of the south central states have a lot more money today than they did at this time last year.

The agriculture department reports that receipts from sales of farm products in the south central area, composed of Arkansas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Kentucky, Tennessee, Alabama, Oklahoma and Texas, jumped 18 per cent in the area during the first seven months of 1937 compared with the same period of 1936.

Greatest Relative Improvement

It described the increase as the greatest relative improvement in farm income of any section of the United States.

Total sales receipts for the south central section for the first seven months this year were announced as $61,896,000 compared with $37,454,000 for the same period of 1936, and $38,395,000 for livestock and livestock products compared with $33,118,000.

Comparisons Given

Receipts from crops and livestock for 1936 and 1937 comparative periods included:

Arkansas: 1936—crops, $1,787,000, livestock $2,272,000; 1937—crops $2,715,000, livestock, $2,490,000.

Louisiana: 1936—crops, $725,000, livestock, $1,288,000; 1937: crops $1,121,000, livestock $1,575,000.

Oklahoma: 1936—crops $9,881,000, livestock $6,046,000; 1937—crops $22,395,000, livestock $6,378,000.

Texas Gain Large

Texas: 1936 — crops $14,417,000, livestock $11,970,000; 1937 — crops $19,366,000, livestock $15,061,000.

The department said the wheat crop in Oklahoma and Texas "is more than twice as large" as in 1936 and moving with favorable prices and that the cotton crop is especially improved and increased income from corn is in sight in those states.

Discovery Of Wetter Water Is Latest Of Chemical Miracles; Made With Alcohol

BY HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Sept. 9.—Wetter water—answer to the prayers of millions for something to take dust out of the air like nothing else ever did—became a reality today.

This latest miracle of chemistry was announced to the American Chemical Society by B. G. Wilkes of the Mellon Institute of Industrial Research, Pittsburgh, and J. N. Nickert of the Carbide and Carbons Chemical corporation, South Charleston, West Va.

It's no pun, but "wetter water" is made that way with alcohol. There's nothing intoxicating about the stuff. The alcohol is a new "synthetic," something that does not exist in nature. It is made from waste gas of oil wells. The new feature of this alcohol is the giant size of its molecules.

They have a most peculiar effect on ordinary water. A few drops of this "oil well hootch" added to a gallon of water actually makes it "wetter."

That is, the water wets whatever it touches almost instantly. Things like yarns that would take an indefinite time, many minutes as a rule, to wet through in water, soak in a few seconds in "wetter water."

Most spectacular was a dust laying experiment. In a work room where the dust was hazy thick and breathing risky, an ordinary water spray fell through the air without relief.

"Wetter water" Mr. Wilkes said, made the air almost entirely clear, and solved the health hazard. The wet water simply soaked instantly every dust particle it touched where ordinary water drops had been "glancing off."

Fine sprays of ordinary water are the main reliance of architects and engineers for cleaning the dust out of air-conditioned buildings, homes and railroad coaches.

The "wetter water" enchances the deadliness of most bug and insect syrays. It makes these lethal liquids spread faster and farther.

The main uses of wetter water are industrial. These were named as including bleaching, mercerizing, conditioning cotton yarn and fabric, dyeing and felting of wool, and uses in leather, paper, ceramics, paints, metals, pharmaceuticals oils and cosmetics.

Treasury Issues Regulation On New Anti-Marihuana Measure

WASHINGTON, Sept 9. (AP)—The treasury has issued new anti-marihuana law regulations.

The act requires federal licensing of marihuana dealers and dispensers and permits of sale of marihuana for medical and commercial purposes only.

The law was enacted after federal narcotics agents said they traced many crimes to the use of marihuana.

Trees For Area Are Suggested

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Sept. 9.—The U. S. Soil Conservation service reports the Osage orange, red cedar and Chinese elm are the trees best suited to the semi-arid conditions of the southern Great Plains.

M. T. Bunger, jr., forester for the service, recently completed a survey of tree planting of all common species in the Panhandle of Texas and Oklahoma, southwest Kansas and southeast Colorado.

Trees were counted only where it was definitely determmed they had been well established and survived the recent drouth period. The survey included sites of all kinds on well drained slopes and on high flats. Low creek sites where excessive moisture was available were not included. Approximately 6,500 trees were counted.

The approximate percentage of survival, or those alive in 1937, was: black locust, 67 per cent; Osage orange, 85; red cedar, 93; Chinese elm, 87; Ash, 5; mulberry, 42; Thorny locust, 48; black walnut, 18, and seedling apricot, 7.

The survey, Bunger says, shows that black walnut, seedling apricot and ash have not been able to withstand the drouth. Mulberry and thorny locust survived fairly well, although the first suffered seriously from winter killing, and the latter from ravages of the tree borer. This leaves the Osage orange, red cedar and Chinese elm the most favorable species.

Sudan Rotarians Are Served Home-Made Meal; All Items On Menu From Shaffer Farm

SUDAN, Sept. 9. (Special)—Salt, pepper, flour, and sugar were the only "store-bought" ingredients in a luncheon served to Rotarians here recently. All items on the menu came from the R. H. Shaffer farm.

The luncheon consisted of chicken, squash, corn, tomatoes, okra, beans and potatoes. Jelly made from home grown grapes, pickles from home raised cucumbers, grape juice, butter and milk from the Shaffer farm garden, dairy, and vinyard added to the meal. The dessert was home-made ice cream.

Mr. and Mrs. Shaffer, who have been diversifying since they moved to their farm south of Sudan in 1924, are active in club and demonstration work.

Old Fashioned Square Dance To Be Held At Roaring Springs

ROARING SPRINGS, Sept. 9. (Special)—Motley-Dickens Counties Old-Settlers association will sponsor a square dance tonight to make up a deficit in the association treasury.

The deficit resulted from purchase of a tabernacle in which to hold the annual gathering.

A string orchestra has been employed, said C. C. Haile of Afton, the president of the association.

MEETING IS SCHEDULED

LONGVIEW, Sept. 9. (AP)—The fall meeting of the East Texas chapter of the American Petroleum Institute will be held in Kilgore Oct. 5. The use of malodorants and the plugging back of wells in the East Texas field will be important subjects discussed.

Tahoka Area Soaked By 33.07 Inches Of Rain In Year

TAHOKA, Sept. 9. (Special)—A total of 33.07 inches of rain has fallen in the past 12 months in this area, once designated in geographies as semi-arid.

The county's excellent crops must be attributed to that factor and to the fact rain came at fortuitous intervals.

Most In Two Months

Most of the fall came in two months, 21.1 inches having fallen in September of last year and August of 1937.

Precipitation by months:

September	13.88
October	1.42
November	.76
December	.29
January	.08
February	.01
March	1.44
April	1.04
May	3.11

EAST EATS LAMB

CHICAGO, Sept. 9. (AP)—The Institute of American Meat Packers said today 46 per cent of the lamb consumed in the United States is eaten in New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania alone.

Per capita consumption in the entire nation was 6.6 pounds in 1936.

Half-Mile Extension Is Made To Rotan Field In Fisher

ROTAN, Sept. 9. (AP)—A half mile extension was added to the Rotan field of northwestern Fisher county today when the Tide Water Association No. 1 E. A. Waddell drilled into top of the basal Noodle Creek dolomite to flow 125 barrels per hour.

Estimated to be 19 feet higher on structure than the nearest producer, the test topped oil saturation at 3,492 feet. The 125-barrel hourly estimate was given after it had drilled to 3,494 feet and operators said it was increasing in production as it drilled deeper to bottom at 3,496. Core corelations had fixed the expected top of pay at 3,495 feet.

Search For Fliers Might Be Continued Until Next Year

South Plains Baptists Attending Sessions Here; Milburn Named Moderator

Young People In Meeting Also

First Baptist and College Avenue Baptist churches are centers of conference and associational activities today.

The thirteenth annual session of the Lubbock Baptist association began at 10 o'clock Thursday morning at College Avenue church and will continue through this afternoon. Approximately 225 persons from the 56 churches in the Lubbock district registered and the number is expected to increase today.

To Plan For Conference

Baptist young people began a student conference at First church Thursday night which will close Saturday at noon. Texas Technological college students and student nurses from West Texas hospital and Lubbock sanitarium are cooperating in the meeting which they hope to make an annual one. Theme of the session is "The Supremacy of Christ" and considerable time will be devoted to plans for the state Baptist Student Union conference which will be held here Oct. 29-31.

Senator G. H. Nelson will lecture to the associational group on civic righteousness at 10:25 this morning and the program otherwise will consist of lectures by Rev. E. B. Fulton of Plainview; L. L. Trott of Levelland, Dr. C. E. Hereford of Lubbock, Rev. J. N. Campbell of Meadow and Rev. J. H. Agee of Lubbock will have charge of the devotional.

New Office Is Created

In a business session Thursday a new office, that of assistant moderator, was created and Rev. Boyd P. Milburn was elected to fill it. Other officers were re-elected to serve this year. They are Dr. W. F. Fry, moderator; Wilbur Lemon, recording clerk; and Rev. W. H. Jackson of Abernathy, corresponding secretary and treasurer.

Rev. Jackson delivered the evangelistic sermon on the Thursday night program and W. B. Irvin, superintendent of Lubbock schools, talked on brotherhood.

Litton Is President

James Litton of Lubbock, president of the Baptist Student union, and W. P. Clement, registrar of Texas Technological college, and faculty advisor of the union, are presiding at conference meetings for the young people.

On Thursday night's program Miss Josephine Scaggs substituted for Mrs. Elkins L. Lockett, missionary who was unable to attend. Miss Scaggs is a student at Southwestern Baptist Theological seminary, Lattimore Ewing, president of the state young people's organization, who attended the World Youth conference in Zurich, Switzerland this summer, also spoke on the night program.

Persons slated for lectures today are Miss Scaggs, Ewing, Dr. C. E. Hereford, Miss Ann S. Maxwell, Dr. B. F. Malone, Leo E. Waite, Mrs. Waite, Mrs. Hereford, Miss Bonnie Thomas, graduate of Texas Technological college who is now studying at Southwestern Baptist Theological seminary, and Miss Ruby Atwood.

Two Juvenile Girls Charged In Shoplifting At Local Stores

Charges of theft were filed against two juvenile girls Thursday in connection with shoplifting at several Lubbock department stores Wednesday, and the two defendants late last night were in county jail.

Complaints, sworn to by Tom Cannon of the police department before Hugh Anderson of the county attorney's office, set out one girl took a sweater valued at 98 cents and the other took stockings valued at 25 cents.

John Lemond, deputy constable, swore to a complaint against Hugh Jordan, negro, charging he illegally carried a pistol. He had been transferred from the city jail to the county jail. Anderson prepared the complaint.

Police Thursday were asked by J. E. Ray of Abilene to be on the lookout for a hitchhiker who, Ray said, stole a spare tire and wheel from him.

Grady Harrist, deputy sheriff, Thursday transferred to a state reform school at Gatesville a 14-year-old boy sentenced by Judge J. J. Dillard to remain there seven years. He already had been under suspended sentence, it was pointed out.

CONFERENCE CALLED

Soil Field Day Is Scheduled

(Special To The Avalanche)

LITTLEFIELD, Sept. 9.—A one-day field trip to several farms in Lamb and other counties to show the effectiveness of terracing, strip cropping, tree-planting and other soil conservation practices, will be conducted Friday by officials of the CCC camp here.

It is expected there will be Amarillo CCC headquarters representatives here also.

All Interested Are Invited

Farmers and others interested in terraces, strip cropping, tree planting and other forms of soil conservation as demonstrated by the Littlefield camp are invited to attend, Kleber W. Wells, one of the officials, said. "Camp will furnish truck transportation, talks will be made by several farmers on whose places the practices are now in effect."

The party will leave camp at 9 o'clock, return for noon and leave at 1, returning at 4:30.

Itinerary Is Outlined

Leave Camp 9 a. m.; arrive Glenn D. Young farm at 9:20 a. m., show fresh terraces, with strip-cropping on terraces, and wind-break tree planting. Leave at 9:35 a. m.

Arrive at J. S. Hilliard farm (W. A. Langford, tenant) 9:50 a. m., show terraces, 45-ft. wide constructed with 9-ft. blade and 60 h. p. caterpillar tractor; leave 10:10 a. m.

Arrive C. O. Griffin farm (C. L. Tubbs, tenant) 10:30 a. m.; show terraces constructed with 12-ft. blade and 60 h. p. cat. tractor; second year in operation, farmed with rows parallel with terraces and strip-cropped.

Arrive John I. Bowling farm 11:15 a. m.; show small terraces on very sandy soil, together with strip-cropping and pasture furrows.

Arrive Camp 12 noon.

Leave Camp 1 p. m., arrive Dock Heard farm at 1:25 p. m.; show point rows put in with tractor.

Arrive Spade 1:50 p. m.

Arrive G. G. Gilliland farm 2:40 p. m.; show terrace maintenance and trench silos; pasture furrows with pasture terraces.

Arrive D. O. Williams farm 3:00 p. m.; show conservation practices with four-row tractor.

Arrive A. C. Wright farm 3:30 p. m.; show water trap, tree-planting.

Between these specific locations other demonstrational work on various farms will be shown.

Arrive Camp 4:30 p. m.

WPA Staff Here To Be Reduced

Administrative presonnel of Lubbock district No. 17 of the WPA will be reduced from 42 to 24 employes by Oct. 1 or before in line with economy cuts to be put into effect throughout the state, according to announcement at district headquarters here Thursday.

The reorganization program, insofar as it affects the district, will mean the establishment of area offices, each under the direction of an engineer, at Spur and Lubbock, and of sub-area offices, each under the direction of an assistant engineer, at Hamlin and Littlefield, the announcement said further.

Jones Still In Charge

Lubbock likewise will continue as headquarters for the district of 24 counties, with J. O. Jones, present district director, continuing in charge with the title of district administrative field officer.

Engineer in charge of the Spur area office will be L. A. Rodenhiser and H. B. Jordan will have a similar assignment in Lubbock. John T. Johnson will be assistant engineer in charge of Hamlin sub-area office and R. L. Thurman of the sub-area branch at Littlefield.

District finance and statistical department, in which 10 persons now are employed, will be moved to San Antonio state headquarters, with the probability that A. L. Burden, now in charge of that division here, will be assigned there. Under the reorganization setup, it was explained, the payrolls and reports of area and sub-area offices will go direct to San Antonio instead of being sent to Lubbock as in the past.

Many Details Remain

Uncertainty still existed as to just when the reorganization will go into effect, although district officials were of the opinion that it will be sometime after Sept. 15 and probably not later than Oct. 1. The making of the changes, which are being put into effect in each of the 12 district offices in the state, were described as being a task of multitudinous detail which will require much time. Among the other tasks will be those of transferring voluminous records to state headquarters and the shipping of furniture no longer required in the district divisions to San Antonio.

District officials here explained that the reduction in administrative personnel came as no surprise, although no one knew definitely until recently just when it would be made. The changes, it was explained further, are in line with the policy of effecting WPA operating economies as the task of providing temporary labor relief gradually is shifted from government agencies.

Second Economy Move

The new reductions are the second similar economy to be effected within a space of approximately three months. Last June 30, the number of district offices in the state was reduced from 20 to 12, effecting an economy in administrative expenses estimated at $30,000 per month by H. P. Drought, state administrator.

The cuts in administrative personnel, officials said, have kept pace with the reductions in case load carried by the state WPA. The peak case load has been reduced from a maximum in the state of 120,000 to a present total of 51,000.

In Lubbock district, the case load on last June 25 was 4,833, but of that number, only 3,385 actually were available for employment. At the present time, the case load for the district is 4,284, of whom 2,753 are available for jobs. The reduction of load in this district, officials explained, is in face of the fact that prior to last July 1, the district was comprised of only 15 counties. At the present time, it contains 24 counties, nine having been added July 1 from abolished districts.

Jones said this morning it probably will be several days before he completes the new district organization, but among those who will be retained are Dr. I. E. Barr, present assistant district director; W. E. Burke, present supervisor of operations; and Miss Adeline Ziegenhals, present district recreational supervisor. It still is uncertain, however, as to what their official titles will be.

Suit Filed Against Billy Rose For Use Of "Gone With The Wind" Sequence In Fort Worth Fiesta; Rose Shrugs Shoulders

(By The Associated Press)

FORT WORTH, Sept. 9.—Kinetic Billy Rose figuratively shrugged his shoulders here after learning Margaret Mitchell and her publishers were legally after him for "pirating" material from her best-selling "Gone With The Wind."

In the name of Mrs. Margaret Mitchell Marsh and the MacMillan company, New York, publishers of the novel, a suit was filed here against Rose, the Frontier Fiesta association and the Territorial Producing corporation. The plaintiffs sought an accounting and a restraining injunction.

Claim Parts "Pirated"

Rose, master, master-mind of the Fort Worth Casa Manana show, divided his revue into four parts, one of which was titled "Gone With The Wind." The plaintiffs said defendants "pirated," illegally copied and used parts of the novel in a dramatization for the show.

The New York producer thought otherwise. "It doesn't worry me in the least," he said. "We have nothing that is in any way peculiar or original with the book. We have used none of the original dramatic episodes. We have a Southern plantation. There have been Southern plantations before. We burn a house, but houses were burned before Margaret Mitchell was born. The rest is music and dancing. Characters; we have no such characters."

Mrs. Marsh demanded defendants "account for and pay over" to her "all gains, profits and advantages derived or realized by respondents" from infringement on the copyrighted literary composition. The suit also would impound dramatic sets used in the "Gone With The Wind" sequence.

No hearing was set on the injunction petition.

All Medicines Had Failed Completely —Gly-Cas Amazes

Gentleman Has Full Use Of Hand And Leg Again, Able To Walk To Town; Regained Health After He Had Given Up Hope

"It is a pleasure to tell others how they too may regain their health through Gly-Cas' use," said Mr. Balzle, Rt. No. 2, Harlingen, Texas. "Two years ago I was paralyzed in my left side and right leg and had not been able to use my hand at all, there was simply no life there and I could hardly walk. I became so nervous I could not sleep, walked the floor the biggest part of the night. My appetite was gone, could not eat the foods I wished and worried continually about my condition. I was losing weight and energy and could not find any medicine to help me in the least. Gas pains in my lower bowels were a constant cause for distress with me too which simply added to my already miserable condition. But once I gave Gly-Cas the opportunity to help me I was soon started on the road to recovery.

"Within two weeks time I began to show a wonderful improvement and the use of my hand and leg came back to me," continued Mr. C. H. Balzle. "The poisons were removed from my system and I can now get around with ease, even walked to town which is two miles from my home. My appetite has been restored too, eat anything I wish, sleep the full night through and have gained six pounds in weight. This new remedy, Gly-Cas, has been worth everything to me."

Gly-Cas is sold by Mark Halsey Drug Co., 1219 Broadway, this city, and by all the leading drug stores in surrounding towns. Adv.

Course In Criminology Worry To Youth Held In Theft Case

TULSA, Okla., Sept. 9. (AP) — It was a course in criminology that worried a boy who said he was J. W. McCarmack, Dallas youth, when he was brought before Common Pleas Judge Bert Johnson here on a charge of theft of a typewriter.

"But, judge, I've got to be back at Southern Methodist university Monday," he protested when the court named Sept. 14 for trial and set bond at $1,500.

"I'm studying criminology, psychology, sociology and penology and it's sure hard to pass that criminology course if you miss a day."

Location Of Tech Cooperative Cottage Changed By Committee

Location of a cooperative cottage, construction of which began Thursday on the campus of Texas Technological college, was changed by the building committee to a plot directly north of the home economics practice house, facing College avenue between Broadway and Thirteenth street.

The cottage was to face College avenue at Sixteenth street, according to original plans.

Construction is to be completed within 90 days. Jess Williams is contractor. The structure, which will house a group of girls on a cooperative basis, will be constructed and furnished with a $14,999 legislative appropriation.

Thousands Attend Tahoka's First Annual Round-Up Closing Events Thursday

Free Barbecue Is Featured

(Special To The Avalanche)

TAHOKA, Sept. 9.—Tahoka's first annual roundup drew an estimated crowd of 10,000 or more today and tonight's closing performance was expected to draw that many in attendance.

Between 9,000 and 9,500 persons were fed at a free barbecue at noon down town, merchants of the town furnishing the feed. It was estimated that a thousand or more persons did not eat. There was some barbecue remaining.

Crowd Nearly Doubled

Charlie Copeland's rodeo on grounds north and west of the high school attracted a crowd estimated at nearly double the number who attended the opening performance. Charlie and his judges, Milt Good, Dickens; Bud Spilsbury, Big Spring and Yates Howell, Tahoka, handled the performance. Carl Dykes, Fort Worth, assisted Copeland.

Wednesday night's attendance was not as large as that in the afternoon. Tonight's performance was expected to see a record crowd.

Winners Announced

Winners in the first day's events were not announced until noon Thursday. By events they were:

Bronc riding, Texas Kid, jr., Fort Worth, first; A. C. Wike, San Angelo, second; John King, Coperas Cove, third.

Brahma steer riding, Harold Dickson, Carlsbad, N. M., first; Job Wilkinson, Throckmorton, second; Mitt Ray, Houston, third.

Bulldogging, Bud Spilsbury, Big Spring, first, (time 10.1 seconds); Vernon Paschal, Brownfield, second; Bud Hancock, Roswell, N. M., third.

Calf roping, Curley Daugherty, Olton, and Roy Sewalt, Brooksmith, tied for first, 17.3 seconds; Frank Hosier, Cameron, third.

Wild cow milking, Doc Spence, Belton, first, 14.2 seconds; Roy Matthews, Fort Worth, second; Bud Spilsbury, third.

Jack pot calf roping, Son Hancock, Roswell, first, time 15.5 seconds; Buck Standefer, Olton, second, time 19.6; Matthews, Fort Worth, third.

Three Gins At Holland In Bell County Run Until Midnight

HOLLAND, Bell County, Texas, Sept. 9. (AP)—Three gins, doing the work four did last year, have been operating about five weeks and completed more than 1,000 bales. The fourth gin was burned two weeks before the operating season began but representatives say it probably will be rebuilt next year. The machinery was salvaged.

Cotton in the Holland trade territory is spotted by dead patches, due farmers say, porbably to rain in July which usually adversely affects early planting. Late cotton, however, shows no loss. Picking has been so rapid gins frequently have run until midnight.

Snyder To Be Host Saturday And Sunday To Singing Convention

SNYDER, Sept. 9. (AP)—More than 200 West Texas singers have been invited to the four-county singing convention here Sept. 11 and 12. More than 3,000 persons are expected. T. H. Westbrook of Sweetwater is president of the organization, which includes Scurry, Mitchell, Fisher and Nolan counties.

John J. Pershing is honorary president of the American Society of the French Legion of Honor.

Instructions For Eligibility For 1937 Crop Payments Are Announced By AAA

Certificates Of Sale Important

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—The Agricultural Adjustment administration announced today that cotton producers who wish to share in the $130,000,000 congress provided for payments on this year's crop must file regional sales certificates or receipts with county AAA associations.

AAA officials said these must cover "all cotton sold from the 1937 crop" and show "the date of sale, name and address of producer, number and gross weight of bales and signature and address of buyers."

Must Obtain Certificates

If cotton already has been sold, the AAA said producers must obtain sales certificates, or receipts, and file them with secretaries of county AAA associations "not later than September 30, 1937."

If cotton is sold in the seed, the AAA said the receipt must show "number of pounds of seed cotton and number of pounds expressed in terms of lint cotton, rather than number of bales and gross weight."

Receipts for lint cotton sold but not bales must "show pounds of lint, rather than number of bales and gross weight."

Must File Receipts

On the cotton sold after September 15 the AAA said receipts must be filed "not later than 15 days after date of sale."

Evidence of sales may be mailed to the secretary of the county AAA association, or delivered in person. Producers were advised to retain duplicate sales certificates, or receipts.

The AAA said payments would be made "on 65 per cent of a grower's 1937 base production, providing the cotton is sold prior to July 1, 1938."

May Be Larger Basis

If funds remain from the $130,000,000, officials said a payment will be made on a larger percentage of the base, or past production.

The payments will be the difference between 12 cents a pound and the average price of 7-8 inch middling cotton at the ten spot markets on days of sale, with an upper limit of three cents a pound.

Adjustment payments cannot be made before late next year because cotton growers must comply with crop control regulations to be enacted by congress.

This was part of the bargain between President Roosevelt and congressional leaders when he agreed to adjustment payments and a cotton loan after congressmen promised to consider general farm legislation as first order of business at the January session.

Officials of the Commodity Credit corporation, which will underwrite the loans, said they expected loan forms to reach the cotton belt early next week, with lending to start then.

Fair To Be Expanded

on buses and Lubbock High school band will be aboard.

Other trips will be Sept. 21 to Abernathy, Hale Center, Plainview, Lockney, Floydada, Matodor, Roaring Springs, Dickens, Spur, Crosbyton, Ralls, Lorenzo and Idalou, and Sept. 23 to Shallowater, Anton, Littlefield, Amherst, Sudan, Muleshoe, Clovis, Enochs, Morton, Levelland and Smyer.

To Work Out Full Plans

Plans for the trips will be worked out in detail at a meeting of the chamber of commerce good neighbor committee Monday morning at 9:30 o'clock, according to the announcement Thursday of Chas. A. Whitacre, chairman.

Among various reports to the association directors was one that the number of horses here for the race meet will be limited only by the facilities for stabling. The number probably will range from 175 to 200, to compete during the six days of racing for cash prizes totaling $3,000.

Signing of Michael's circus, association officials said, insures the finest list of attractions ever to be presented before a grandstand at a fair here. Acts of the unusual quality, it was explained, were financially possible only because the fair here falls near the end of the season.

Six Troups Are Signed

Contracted for the exhibition here were six troups of entertainers, each to present at least two distinct acts. The groups include "Three Rolling Ramblers," stage and motion picture attractions to be presented in roller skating acts; the "Five Flying Lavans," flying aerialists; Ahrendt's dog, pony and monkey circus; Elmer Madden, daredevil speed driver who, among other stunts, crashes through a blazing board wall on his motorcycle; the Lemoind trio, consisting of two women and a man whose act includes slack wire, balancing and juggling; and the Harrison trio, consisting of two men and a woman, advertised as "America's best cycling act."

Other grand stand attractions will include acts to be presented before and between races in the afternoon and a fireworks display each night.

All Space Is Sold

Further indication of interest in the fair were given by reports to directors that all space in the Industrial building has been sold and that more is in demand which cannot be supplied; that more exhibit space for implements and road machinery has been contracted than ever before so far in advance of a fair; and that more concessions have been placed than ever before.

Indicative of the interest was receipt of word Thursday afternoon from Charles Franz, manager of Tierra Blanca farms near Canyon that his entries will include two carloads of hogs numbering between 70 and 80, one carload of Jersey cattle numbering about 25, and one carload of Holsteins.

Assurance was given that there will be no slackening of energy in publicizing the fair. Dick Shinkle and Joe Bryant, of the association staff, it was announced, will continue their visits to towns throughout Lubbock trade territory, extending personal invitations of county agents, home demonstration agents, chamber of commerce officials, editors and citizens to attend.

Woman Wasn't At Home; She Told Officer So Herself, But Cap Wouldn't Believe It

Maybe Annie, "who didn't live here anymore" got by with it, but a woman on whom Cap Moore, deputy sheriff, served a citation Thursday didn't.

She wasn't at home. She told him so herself.

The woman's father called into another room.

"Here's an officer with a citation."

"Tell him I'm not here," came the woman's voice, not guarded enough to prevent the officer's hearing.

"Well, tell her she's served, anyway," said Moore, tossing the instrument on a chair and leaving.

The story was found on the return endorsement written on the instrument by the deputy.

City May Add More Meters

the aid of a fingernail file and that an undetermined sum, totaling not more than a few dollars, has been stolen.

High spot of other matters before the commission was the presentation by a committee of automobile dealers of an ordinance which, they explained, is designed to protect them and the public from the operations of "fly-by-night" automobile salesmen who usually flock to this region when crop money begins coming in to offer cars at what appear to be bargain prices. Established dealers complained that the automobiles thus sold often do not have a satisfactory title, that they break down quickly, and that the salesmen remain here only long enough to skim a portion of the cream of the business, and then disappear without having paid taxes, without having contributed in any way to the upbuilding of the community, and without providing any of the safeguards to those victimized by "high pressure" tactics.

Ordinance Not Approved

The commisison adopted the ordinance these proposed on first reading and called a special meeting for possible final action at City hall next Monday night at 7:30 o'clock. Then, after the committee departed, the commission and City Attorney Durwood H. Bradley studied the proposed ordinance in detail and decided unanimously but without taking a vote that they would not approve it as it stands. They concurred with the city attorney's opinion that it would not stand up in court.

Joining in the conclusions were Mayor Ross Edwards and Commissioners J. A. Fortenberry and A. J. Richardson. Commissioner W. G. McMillan has not returned from a big game hunt in the Canadian Rocky mountains and Commissioner W. B. Price was out of the city during most of the afternoon.

To Confer With Dealers

Edwards, Fortenberry and Richardson concurred in the expressed belief that the legitimate resident automobile dealer and, more particularly, the public should be protected from the operations of irresponsible operators. They were equally unanimous in their agreement that the proposed ordinance would be unsatisfactory and invalid, and suggested that City Attorney Bradley confer with dealers and draft another to accomplish the ends desired.

The ordinance suggested, but doomed for rejection, proposes, among other things:

The creation of a commission of five members, composed of two dealers in new and second hand cars, two dealing exclusively in used automobiles and one person outside the automobile business; to require payment of an annual license of $150 with a renewal charge of $50 to engage in the automobile sales business in Lubbock; to give the special commission sole authority to say whether a license shall be granted or shall be revoked, subject to appeal to district court; and to require that the city secretary issue or refuse a license to a dealer, in accordance with how the automobile commission may dictate.

Hub Jones, George P. Kuykendall and J. H. Beasley, heads of automobile companies here, were spokesmen for the committee of approximately 12 who appeared before the city commission. Ten of the larger motor firms of the city were represented in the group.

Plan Two-Hour Regulations

General discussion of parking meters and other problems relating to traffic began when an amendment to an existing ordinance was offered proposing to establish police-enforced two-hour parking on certain streets now without meters. In each case, the commission was informed, urgent demand has come from affected business men asking that regulations be put into effect.

The streets named in the amendment were: on Thirteenth from Avenue H to the half-way point between Avenue J and K; Broadway from G to L; Main from G to K; Texas, J and K from Main to Thirteenth in each instance; G from Main to Broadway; Thirteenth from Texas to L Texas from Thirteenth to Fourteenth; Main from J to K; J from Main to Tenth; and Texas from Main to the first alley on the east side of the street.

Attitude Said Favorable

The suggestion that the problem be met by installing additional meters was furthered when Commissioner Richardson expressed the opinion that public attitude toward the devices has become increasingly favorable, adding that he has become convinced, personally, as to their merits. Richardson was open and emphatic in his skepticism at the start, although ne voted to install the meters for the 120-day test period which will end November 27. He added that he knows of several persons originally opposed to the devices who since have become enthusiastic for them.

Although members of the commisison reiterated their intent to call an election at the end of the test period if there is any possible question as to public attitude toward meters, they were unanimously of the opinion that they have passed the crucial test. The mayor's remark, however, that "we ought to rip down on the price; $58 apiece is entirely too high," found the commission in complete agreement.

To Contact Manufacturers

The upshot was the city manager was instructed to contact all manufacturers of meters and invite them to submit bids.

The 315 meeters now in place were bought on conditional contract from Dual Parking Meter company of Oklahoma City at $58 each, the amount to be paid with 85 per cent of the revenue derived from the devices. At the end of the test period, the city commission may order them removed without obligation, but will receive credit for all money paid if they are retained.

To Install Signs

Pertaining to other traffic matters was an order to install traffic signs at Fifteenth and Sixteenth streets, in each instance on Avenue Q, and on Fifteenth at Avenue T. Police Chief Don Reeder was authorized to decide whether stop, slow or danger signs will best serve the needs at the intersections.

The commission also discussed the installation of two traffic lights which are not in use, but held in abeyance decision as to where they should be placed. Likely intersections, however, are Broadway and Avenue Q and at Sixteenth and Q.

Discussion of the drainage problem on Nineteenth street at Avenue T approaching Senior High school gave promise of early solution. Children crossing the intersection, the commission was informed, now must wade after rains. Richardson suggested, if no other plan is adopted, that a portable sidewalk be built to be placed when needed. Another suggestion, which probably will be adopted, was that more adequate drainage be provided.

Opening Street Discussed

The commission also considered, but deferred action, on the request of J. K. Miller that something be done to open Nineteenth street from Texas to Avenue H. A question of title, commissioners were told, has risen concerning the property, on which houses and a business structure have been built. The city attorney was asked to study the matter.

An ordinance creating loading zones adjacent to five places of busines swithout egress on alleys was adopted.

The commission also adopted an expected resolution directing the advertising of notice that public hearing on the city budget for the present fiscal year will be held the afternoon of Sept. 23. The budget has not yet been completed, the commission was informed, but will be ready in time for the hearing.

P. O. Brock, 504 Avenue R, appeared to protest that his water bills, which show a usage averaging more than 50,000 gallons monthly since March at his small home appears excessive. Test to determine whether his meter is defective was ordered.

Nazi Activities

by German-American leaders.

The Times said officers of the two groups subjected to "exhaustive investigation" by three reporter-investigators over a period of months — the Amerikadeutscher Volksbund and Deutscher Volksbund—gave this explanation of the purposes of their followers:

Not Plotting Revolution

"We are not plotting a revolution, but we are going to be prepared to wrest control from the Communist-Jews when they start their revolution. We will save America for white-Americans."

August Klapprott, head of the Amerikadeutscher Volksbund (German-American bund or club) Camp Nordland in Sussex county, N. J., described the assertion as "the greatest joke in history."

The Deutscher Volksbund is a Chicago organization of German citizens.

The Times said the Amerikadeutscher Volksbund had an inner organization known as the "Ordnungs Dienst" and described it is "an exact replica of the Hitler storm troops."

Klapprott said the Ordnung Dienst (known as the "O. D. Z.") had no resemblance to the storm troopers.

Dr. Emil L. Baer, German consul general in Chicago, commented on the Times' article:

"The idea that anyone is attempting to form a Nazi army in America is ridiculous."

SHEEP BEING BOUGHT

ABERNATHY, (Special)—Several Abernathy farmer-feeders have gone to San Angelo to buy sheep for feeding. Shipments are expected to be coming in by Sept. 10 to 15. At least 30,000 head will be fed out.

gent man with a great heart and much courage. I promise you he will fight no more if you have the compassion to give him his freedom and send him back to me in France," she wrote.

Franco wasted no time with the problem, once he got the letter away from general staff officers who were reluctant to give up the photograph.

The generalissimo wrote Mrs. Dahl to ask the Spanish central government to arrange for the release of any captured insurgent aviator and said that when such release was granted he would send Dahl to France immediately.

WHEAT LAND READY

HAPPY, (Special)—Wheat land in northern Swisher and southern Randall counties is ready for sowing. Farmers are waiting on the volunteer wheat to be high enough to be killed out. Conditions are good.

ANDREWS PLANS FAIR

ANDREWS, (Special)—Plans for a county fair here, some time in October, are under way. County Agent H. L. Adkins is in charge. As soon as he returns from College Station assembling of exhibits will begin.

Bees will fly eight miles from the hive in search of food.

Texas Tech Red Raiders Start Bearing Down In Practice Beginning Today

Small Squad But A Fighting One Due To Report

With seven days to go before the playing schedule opens, Texas Tech's varsity football forces hit the dirt in the first official, supervised drill of the season in a double workout today at the Red Raider practice field.

A squad of less than forty—slimest in point of numbers in seven years — is expected to report to Coaches Pete Cawthon and Dutchy Smith and their aides for the first serious drill since spring training. Most of the varsity eligibles have been on the campus since late last week, having been ordered to report for work on Sept. 6, the date originally scheduled for fall practice. Permission to begin a few days earlier than the Border conference rules allow was withdrawn, however, and the varsity candidates took it upon themselves to "limber up" with calesthenics and informal workouts until today.

Pleased With Spirit

Head Coach Pete Cawthon, who did not even look over his prospects until Wednesday afternoon, then as a sideline spectator, does not lament the size of the squad as much as the loss of thirteen lettermen, including the entire backfield, with first string replacements, and several notable linemen of the 1936 outfit.

The mentor is cheered, however, by the pre-season spirit and enthusiasm of his athletes. "I believe we'll have one of the fighten'est teams in history," Cawthon avers. "The attitude of the boys so far is very pleasing. They seem to have the desire to play ball, to cooperate and string along together. And that's nearly nine-tenths of the game. If the boys feel right, and if they want to go, the team goes."

Maybe This Backfield

As a result of spring training and after watching the boys go through informal practice this week, Cawthon is of the opinion that his starting, or regular backfield, might stack up something like this: Ed Smith of Del Rio, quarterback; Allen Plummer of Beaumont and Charles Calhoun of Lubbock, halfbacks, and Elmer Tarbox of Higgins, fullback.

Raymond "Babe" Curfman of Electra and Thomas "Cotton" Neeley of Sayre, Okla., are sure to give Smith a race for quarterback honors. There is a shortage of left halfbacks, Calhoun having for competition Gene Barnett, the former Lubbock star who was forced out by illness last year, and a newcomer, Bob Holmes of Miami, Okla., a junior college transfer.. Two newcomers and two veterans are running at right half, or probably will. The veterans are Miles Chapman and Maurice Chernosky. The newcomers to the varsity are Buzz Barnard of Tulsa and Lewis Cole of Levelland.

Regular Guards Return

Line Coach Dutchy Smith probably will indicate after today's workouts his starting forward wall. He has six letter men returning, including Captain Herschel Ramsey at end and Line Captain Lewis Jones at guard. The other guard will be Pete Jones. Frank Gusick is the only returning letterman at center, although Elber Overton of Yeso, N. M., out with injuries last year, is looking good as a center. It has been rumored that Gusick may be transferred to a backfield position. Two lettermen at ends, Ramsey and George Philbrick, will be available, as well as two others off last year's squad—Henry Moseley and Ralph Balfanz. The other letterman lineman is big Abe Murphy, tackle from Beaumont and the only sophomore to letter last year.

Other tackles expected to try hard are Leonard Latch, G. B. Wimberley, Lloyd Taliferro and Clyde Wilson off last year's reserve roster, and Norman Holmes, a transfer, and Raymond Steitle of San Antonio and Bull Russell of Robstown, from the freshman squad.

Prospective guards, in addition to the lettermen, Owens and Jones, are Holt Waldrep of Slaton, Phillips Harmon from Idalou, Wilmer Green from Gainesville, Dixie White of Lubbock and Phillips Gonsales from Sherman. Waldrep and White are sophomores. Out for center to contest Gusick and Overton are Chester Hemsell of Greenville and Rex Williams from Sherman.

Young Wingmen Threaten

While Ramsey and Philback are given inside track on end jobs, there'll be three sophomores questioning their ability. They are Truman Bostick of Brownwood, Jake Cerron of Whitharral and Doc Madry of Levelland, all of them tall, heavy fellows who seem naturally built and who promise Texas Tech a lot of good wing play before they're through.

While listed above by positions, there's no way to tell, until the season gets well under way, whether the players will stay where they're listed or not. There will be changes, no doubt, as centers are shifted to tackles, ends to guards, linemen to the backfield, and vice versa, etc.

The Red Raiders must struggle along this year without the services of five young men, eligible for varsity duty this year and heavily counted on, who have withdrawn for one reason and another. J. W. West, end; Jesse Browning, tackle; Jim Brown, end and tackle; George Winters, back, and Fred Byrd, back, will not be with the Red Raiders this season, although each had another year of eligibility.

Play Lumberjacks First

Business of building another backfield and replacing valuable men in the line will occupy the coaches for perhaps the first half of the season, and particularly at the beginning. Demp Gannon, Jim Neill, Charley Duval, Winny Baze and George Winters are gone from the backfield, and Tox Wiginton, Broadway and Jesse Browning, J. W. West, Bill Holcomb and Alton Owens must be replaced in the line. It's a big job for the coaches and the available players.

And the Arizona State Lumberjacks of Flagstaff come here for a Border conference game on Saturday afternoon, Sept. 18. A week later the Red Raiders invade Austin for a go with the University of Texas. And a week after that, University of Montana's strongest team in years comes to Lubbock to play Tech. After which come more "setups" in Detroit university, Arizona university, New Mexico university, Oklahoma A. & M., Loyola, Duquesne, Centenary and Creighton. What a schedule!

Hubbell Is Defeated But Giants Win Nightcap To Gain On Losing Cubs

(By The Associated Press)

BROOKLYN, Sept. 9.—The pace-making New York Giants cushioned the defeat of their southpaw ace, Carl Hubbell, by shellacking the Brooklyn Dodgers, 9 to 2, in the second half of the double header at Ebbets Field toady. The even break, while the Cubs were losing to St. Louis, increased the Giants' lead to three full games in the National League pennant chase.

Young Luke Hamlin's six-hit flinging and superb control in the pinches were too much for the Giants in the opener. Big Babe Phelps' clouting, including a three run homer in the first inning, helped the Dodgers to a 5-1 decision.

Led by Mauling Mel Ott, who smashed four hits, the Giants came back to take the second game with a substantial show of power. Their own starting pitcher, Lefty Al Smith, lasted only three innings, but the league leaders pounded Roy Henshaw, Jim Lindsey and Ben Cantwell for 14 safeties and won going away.

Lon Warneke Turns On Old Mates To Win For Cards

CHICAGO, Sept. 9. (AP)—Through the combination of steady six hit pitching by Lon Warneke and a 16-hit blast against Charley Root and Roy Parmelee, the St. Louis Cardinals finally routed their Cub "jinx" today and whipped the Chicagoans, 8 to 2.

It was the first defeat for the Cubs in 12 meetings with the Redbirds and sent them back an additional half game behind the league leading Giants, who now boast a three-game margin over them.

The 38-year-old Root, making his first appearance in 12 days due to arm weariness, held his former colleague, Warneke, even for six innings in a 1 to 1 pitching duel, but then tired visibly.

Warneke's triumph was his 17th of the season and his second over his ex-mates.

Diegel And Cooper Take Leadership In Canada Joust

TORONTO, Sept. 9. (AP)—Two veteran members of the American pro golfing brigade, Leo Diegel and Harry Cooper, took the lead in the Canadian open golf championship today with first round scores of 67, three strokes under par for the St Andrews golf club course.

Two strokes behind the leaders were Ed Oliver of Wilmington, Del., and Bill Burke, Ohio professional and former U. S. Open champion. Lawson Little, whose sensational 271 took the crown last year, was well in the rear of the leaders with a 74.

Slammin' Sam Snead, the pre-tournament favorite, also fell away from the leaders. Sam carded a 75.

El Paso Baseball Manager Is Opposed To Jaurez Entry

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Sept. 9. (AP)—Manager Jimmy Zinn of the El Paso Texans said today he was opposed to a movement to put Juarez, Mexico, into the Arizona-Texas baseball league.

Regarding rumors that Juarez will seek a franchise, the El Paso manager said he feared a lottery would be started on A-T teams below the international boundary if the Mexico city was admitted.

Slaton Host To Olton Tonight

SLATON, Sept. 9. (Special)—Opening the Class B conference schoolboy gridiron race in District 5, teams of Slaton and Olton will clash here tonight in a game calculated to draw a large crowd and help determine a district favorite.

Olton, claiming the best prospects in many seasons, will be coached this year by R. E. Everett, succeeding J. Elmer Moore, who will still be a faculty man and vitally interested in the club. A squad of 22 players, Coach Everett says, will average 160 pounds. Co-captains of the Olton club are Poteet and Givens.

Coach Everett announced the following probable starting lineup:

Montgomery and Smith, ends; Inglis and Hulsey, tackles; Cates and Bley, guards; Nance, center; Harrison, quarterback; Black and Poteet; halfbacks, and Givens, fullback. Only two of the squad, Black and Harrison, are seniors.

Slaton lost a large number of its second place team last year, but may turn up with a fair ball club under Coach Stump Hawilton.

Favorites Advance To Semi-Final In National Net Go

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Sept. 9. (AP)—Two contenders who had not lost a set kept those records clear and two others who had encountered early difficulties came through with ease today as the vacant semi-final brackets were filled in the combined men's and women's National singles championships at the Wide Side tennis club.

Four impressive performances were supplied by J. Donald Budge, as strong a favorite as his hair is red; Jadwiga Jedrzejowska, the pulverizing Pole; compactly-built Frankie Parker and Helen Jacobs.

Budge Meets Parker

Budge mopped up the 19-year-old junior champion from Los Angeles, blond Joe Hunt, 6-2, 6-2, 6-4, and tomorrow will go up against Parker, his Davis Cup singles mate, who took a 6-2, 12-10, 6-2 decision from Johnny Van Ryn, the Austin, Tex., doubles ace.

Miss Jedrzejowska defeated Ruth Mary Hardwick, another hard hitter from England, at 6-4, 6-2. "Ja-Ja" thus moved into a meeting with Miss Jacobs, perennial contender and four-time former champion who won out at 7-5, 6-3 over Kay Stammers, petite English miss who was unable to keep her southpaw shots under control.

Riggs And Von Cramm

Tomorrow's other semi-final matches will pair Bobby Riggs, second seeded American from Los Angeles, against Baron Gottfried Von Cramm, Germany's last foreign survivor, and Anita Lizana, next to Miss Jedrzejowska on the list of favored invaders, against Dorothy May Bundy, the Santa Monica, Calif., youngster who yesterday dismissed 1936 Champion Alice Marble.

Budge and Miss Jedrzejowska, moving on toward the finals, have not dropped a set in four matches nor been extended to the extra effort of winning a deuced set.

Ralph Flanagan Breaks Four Records In One Swim Race

CHICAGO, Sept. 9. (AP) — Ralph Flanagan, 20-year-old Olympic veteran from Miami, Fla., crammed four record-smashing performances into one race today as he outclassed his field to win the Amateur Athletic union's one-mile swimming championship for the third straight year.

Flanagan stole the show on the opening day of the A.A.U.'s annual title meet, successfully defending the title he won a year ago, by 200 yards over young John Patton, jr., of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., and erasing four marks set up by Jack Medica, great free-style powerhouse from Seattle, Wash.

Flanagan shattered the world and meet record of 20 minutes, 57.8 seconds, established by Medina in 1934, by 15.6 seconds. En route, he lowered Medina's 1,320-yard American record from 15:41.2 to 15:28 and trimmed the Westerner's American 1,500-meter mark from 19:20 to 19:18.2.

Cooper And Draw Play Free Game At Cooper Grid Today

The Class C football teams of Cooper and Draw will meet this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in a free game on the Cooper High field.

Coach Fred Rich of Cooper, who has been forced to schedule most of his games away from home, hopes to boost football interest in the Cooper community by offering a "free gate" this afternoon.

Texas Longhorns Bear Down In Grid Workouts

AUSTIN, Sept. 9. (AP)—Coach D. X. Bible of the University of Texas today turned from easy limbering up exercises to grimy, "bite the dirt" tactics for his aspiring—and perspiring—gridmen.

Offensive blocking featured the third day's workout with assistant Coach Bully Gilstrip overseeing the guards and tackles, Blair Cherry the ends, Jack Gray the centers and Bible, himself, the backs.

Aggie Mentor Finds Punter Among Center Candidates

COLLEGE STATION, Sept. 9. (AP) Aggie Coach Homer Norton tried a new tack in his search for a punter today and got results.

He had his centers drop back to kick and uncovered Zed Coston, 225-pound letterman pivot from Dallas, as one of his best distance punters.

Norton said team scrimmage probably will not be held until early next week.

Mustangs Run 43 Plays In Dummy Skirmish Thursday

DALLAS, Sept. 9. (AP)—The Southern Methodist university Mustangs galloped through 43 plays in their dummy scrimmage today, the third day of training.

Because they started practice three days earlier this year and their first game is a week later than last year, Coach Matty Bell is letting his charges take their stride. The first game is Sept. 25 with the North Texas Teachers college Eagles.

Mickey Cochrane, With Job Safe, Off To Europe

DETROIT, Sept. 9. (AP)—Gordon S. (Mickey) Cochrane signed a contract today as non-playing manager of the Detroit Tigers in 1938 and 1939, and prepared to leave tomorrow night for Europe to complete his convalescence from a recent skull fracture.

Dr. Roy D. McClure, head of Henry Ford hospital here, who treated Cochrane after he was injured by a pitched ball this summer, will accompany him to Europe. They are close personal friends.

Walter O. Briggs, jr., who made the announcement, said that Cochrane planned to be a bench manager.

Briggs did not announce the salary terms.

Landon Says People Must Be Only Power Over Judiciary If Democracy Survives

Kansan Scores Recent Move

(By The Associated Press)

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Sept. 9.—Alf M. Landon declaring "it is not democracy to do away with the judiciary by carpetbagging methods," said here tonight a "remedy" is at hand—amend the Constitution, if that is the will of the people.

The Republican nominee for president last year, in a speech prepared for delivery before the national convention of Phi Delta Phi, legal fraternity, said in discussing President Roosevelt's court reform proposal, "on a matter so fundamental, there must be a common ground on which all can meet."

"Just Witnessed Demonstration"

He said America has "just witnessed a practical demonstration" of what he termed the "effectiveness" of this nation's "theory of government."

"The Constitution is a great charter of liberty under law," Landon said. "It has served us well during a century and a half of progress without parallel in the history of the world. Nevertheless, it is not unchangeable.

Must Have The Right

"In any government, where men and women are free, they must have the right to change their form of government. Otherwise, they would not be free. The Constitution itself contemplates change. It provides methods of amendments by the people.

"Its great principles, like the precepts of the Ten Commandments, do not change. But its genius lies in its flexibility. Over and over again, the Supreme court has held that the principles of an ordered liberty under the law must be applied to conditions as they are today, not as they were yesterday."

People Must Be Power

Landon said "the people must be the only power above the judiciary if our democracy is to survive."

"When any group tries to rush important changes into our government, when important facts are misstated or significant information is withheld, or thoughtful deliberation is shut off in the name of emergency, the public has a right to be suspicious," he declared.

At another point the former Kansas governor said: "the conflict between the president and the congress or between congress and the Supreme court . . . has a wholesome retarding effect." It leads, he said, to "legislation carrying out the final decision of the people."

Landon urged "more of the old optimism."

"We come of a race that was willing to bet on America, that was proud and boastful of itself and of its country," he said. "Now we are prone to devalue ourselves and our country."

All-Day Service Sunday To Celebrate Sixth Anniversary Of Central Baptist Church

REV. JEFF D. WELCH

An all-day serive, to celebrate the sixth anniversary of the Central Baptist church, will be conducted Sunday at the church building, 1211 Eighteenth street. A basket lunch will be served at noon.

Elder W. H. Day, of Waxahachie, who is manager of the Texas Baptist orphanage, will deliver the principal sermon of the meeting at 11 a. m. With him is a girls' quartet from the orphanage. Elder Day also will speak over radio station KFYO at 8:40 a. m.

The regular community song service, conducted by the church monthly, will be held from 2 to 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon and Rev. Fred Blake will deliver the evening sermon at 8 p. m.

Rev. Jeff D. Welch, pastor of Central Baptist church, came to Lubbock six years ago when the church was located at 2205 Avenue Q and was known as the South Side Baptist church.

Muleshoe Child Dies Of Heart Ailment In Hospital Thursday

In a Lubbock hospital since Aug. 23, Juanita Bigham, 12, died Thursday morning of a heart ailment. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Bigham of Muleshoe. A Clovis funeral home has charge of arrangements, which were not announced here.

Independence hall in Philadelphia is open daily to the public without charge.

Dean A. H. Leidigh Is Speaker At Kiwanis Club Thursday

"What Texas Technological college means to this community?" was discussed by Kiwanian A. H. Leidigh before the club yesterday noon at its weekly luncheon in the Hotel Lubbock. Dr. A. T. Stewart was program chairman for the day.

Earl McClure, chairman of a committee working with underprivileged boys, reported the commitee had bought 12 pair of overalls for boys so they might attend school. The committee was given $100 for use by the board of directors, President Sherrod said.

Dean Leidigh quoted figures on enrollment, faculty membership and methods of instruction; compared present size of the faculty with that 12 years ago when the college started and explained operation of the college employment service. He praised the support of the school's employment service by local business men.

TEACHERS SALARIES RAISED

LAREDO, Sept. 9. (AP)—The board of trustees of the Laredo independent school district recently adopted the 1937-38 budget with proposed expenditures of $290,895. This assures a five per cent increase in teachers' salaries for the term which began Sept. 7.

Leases Filed On 557.9 Acres Of Land In County Thursday

Mineral rights on 557.9 acres of land have been transferred by oil and gas leases and assignments of oil and gas leases filed Thursday at the office of Ed D. Allen, county clerk.

E. B. Green obtained rights on 327.9 acres, a part of 476 acres known as the south three quarters of section 2, block D, Public Free School land, a part of which is in Hockley county. He obtained the rights from the Federal Life Insurance company, a corporation, and in turn conveyed them by assignment to Chas. J. Wohlford.

Fred Childers assigned exploration rights on the southeast quarter of section 37, block 20, HE & WT railway company grantee, certificate 474, abstract 394, less two acres. Obtaining the rights was the Superior Oil company with an office at Houston.

The Gap In The Assembly Line

WITH the opening of Texas Technological college—and various other Texas institutions of higher learning — just around the corner, it is well, we think to take stock of the educational situation as it prevails the nation over.

So stealthily is the burden of civilization shifted from the aging generation to the backs of its children that a change rarely is perceptible. Fortunately, there are a few distinct mileposts along the road to the future, and one of them—the opening of colleges and universities for fall terms—is directly at hand for close observation.

If every adult properly fulfilled his duty to posterity, he would interest himself in the processes by which thousands of high school graduates are permitted to proceed with higher courses of training for service as leaders in the arts, professions, trades and sciences.

Along with the thrilling experience of actually seeing the wheel of time and circumstance start a new revolution, the observer would get an eyeful of just how much progress we are not making in teaching boys and girls how to live and make a living.

THERE is, for instance, the report of an eastern college after its study of about 500 applications for admission. The 1937 model male freshman, the report says, will be 18 years and six months old, five feet 10 inches tall, and will weigh about 152 pounds.

These figures, showing an increase in physical proportions over freshmen of previous years, will be great news for the athletic coaching staff. But their significance for the rest of the faculty, for the student himself, and for civilization in general is negligible.

Beyond listing the physical measurements and seeing that high school grades meet certain standards, the registrar's figures usually leave the freshman an unknown quantity as far as his affinity for building bridges, researching in botany or mastering constitutional law is concerned.

And the likelihood is that he will remain an unknown quantity until he muddles through one or more years of his course, or until he blunders onto his "chosen" field or is led to it by rare teacher who regards his job as somewhat more than a daily 50-minutes lecture to each class.

THE college performs a great service in spreading its groaning table of intellectual fare before the freshman. And the 18-year-old contributes his part, in most cases, with ambition and determination to make good at something or other.

Failure to pin down that "something or other" is the gap on the production line in mass education. The job is only half done when the physician's staff weighs and measures the newcomer and the college prexy welcomes him at the orientation assembly.

The wheel of progress will turn ever more swiftly and more efficiently when institutions of higher education seriously attempt to learn what's above a prospective freshman's neck as well as what's below it.

With Our Contemporaries

"Nearly always the grandstand coaches will practically guarantee they can do as good a job as the fellow out in the field," Jimmie Rankin asserts in the Ralls Banner. "But don't get that way around a rodeo. You may have to prove it." (Are you referring to Dr. P. W. Cawthon's downtown coaching associates?)

* * *

"Declaring that the President is planning to sell out the farmers for the benefit of the eastern manufacturers, Senator Capper of Kansas will make speeches this summer against the administration's reciprocal trade agreement policy," W. J. Hale notes in the Yoakum County Review.

* * *

"It has been discussed and suggested during the past few months that highway No. 51 be redesignated and instead of going north from Littlefield to Spring Lake, that the highway be rerouted up No. 7 from Littlefield to Amherst, thence north to Earth and from Earth to Hereford," Morley Drake points out in the Lamb County Leader.

The One-Minute Sermon

Seek ye the Lord while he may be found, call ye upon him while he is near: Let the wicked forsake his way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts: and let him return unto the Lord, and he will have mercy upon him; and to our God, for he will abundantly pardon.—Isaiah, LV, 6 and 7.

Murder On The Bluff... By Esther Tyler

SYNOPSIS: Our wild, stormy weekend at Farrington Bluff, home of Michael's aunts, opens with the mysterious shooting to death of attractive Jude Blinshop. A series of strange attacks is apparently explained when we find below the bluff the body of Michael's mad father. Then Aunt Martha is shot in the shoulder by an unseen hand, and the Skipper, Mike's tall and tweedy younger aunt, disappears. Mike stays with Gay Palmer, his fiancee, while William, the chauffeur, and I futilely search the grounds. Returning, we find Aunt Martha nearly dead after taking sleeping powders.

Chapter 33

On To The Cellar!

Michael came rushing out of the bathroom, a plain gray box in his hand. It was half full of powders; but on top was written merely, "Sleeping powder. Dr. Foster," and the date. No help there.

"Get hot-water bottles," I said. The chances were that it was the wrong thing to do, but the chances were better that if left in that condition much longer M. Farrington would be finished. I raced into the bathroom and ransacked the medicine chest. Everything from sodium bicarbonate and iodine to a nerve tonic. But no ipecac.

"Get those hot-water bottles as fast as you can, Mike," I said and tore into the hall.

One by one, I went through every medicine chest on that floor. There was enough stuff there to cause a druggist to turn cartwheels. But no ipecac. Coming out of Mike's room, I caught sight of Gay coming up the stairs with William at her heels. One glance at her face told me there would be no help from downstairs.

I shouted, "Is there any ipecac in the house? Ask Higgins! Ask—"

He nodded. "Miss Barbara had it for a dog that got some bad meat. It's in the kitchen. I'll get it."

Mike had hot-water bottles in place and was working for all he was worth. We hastened to help him. My arms were already aching by the time William appeared with several bottles and a whole trayful of glasses. Without waiting to read instructions, I poured out a dose. I knew that amount hadn't killed Hog Fowler at school, but that was all I did know.

We had difficulty in making her swallow it and when we finally got it down, there was no effect. We rubbed and rubbed and rubbed. William was obliged to take Michaels place. We rubbed some more. And then things began to happen—with startling suddenness and considerable force.

But what little vitality she had left seem to go after that. Gay tried to pour some whiskey down her throat, with no success. We all tried. Useless. Finally Mike straightened up and met my eyes.

"She's dead," he said in a still voice.

Sweat was running down my face into my eyes. My throat was hard and dry. "She can't be! She—"

William's hand coming down heavily on my back froze the words in my mouth. He pushed me to one side.

Frantic Resuscitation

I'm not quite clear on what followed. William had taken charge. We were all moving mechanically, obeying orders. As I remember it, I was holding the old lady's uninjured arm up over her head, flaying it back and forth from her sides in a sort of windmill motion. What the others were doing I have no idea. Finally beneath the wheezing noises of her rescuers, M. Farrington began to breathe—faintly, spasmodically at first, and then with more strength and steadiness. Mike and I stopped simultaneously, but William made us keep going.

Weariness was floating over me, but through it droned words. "The Skipper! The Skipper!" We must hurry. But where? Where? Just as M. Farrington's eyes flew open, I had the answer.

"Stay here, Gay," I whispered and uncermoniously yanked Michael into the hall.

"The cellar," I told him.

For once Mike didn't wait to argue. He followed me down the hall into the servants' quarters as fast as he could go. I could feel his breath on my neck all the way. We sprinted through the narrow corridor and took the back stairs three at a time.

I was fumbling at the door of the entry and the confounded thing wouldn't seem to work. Behind me there was a banging of drawers, the crash of a chair going over, an awful uproar.

The clatter on the back stairs was probably William, but I didn't turn to see. Frantically, I tried key after key on that cellar door. It was an age before one of them turned, and the door flew open. Inky black, the cellar gaped below us.

"Where the devil are the lights?" I rasped.

Mike's hand found a switch and the cellar stairs, narrow, crooked and dustry, lay ahead of us. Farrington Bluff was built in the days foundations of a house in which food and drink might be incidentally stored. We went down those stairs at top speed. As my feet left the bottom step, I heard the door above closing loudly.

"Where's William?" I snapped at Michael.

"Went back upstairs. The women are having a fit about being left alone."

On the spot, I dismissed William from my mind. By the light of the dim bulb over the stairs, we could see a good part of the vast old cellar. We were standing at the end of a long passageway, flanked on the left by the wall of the house and on the right by a room of some description, the door of which was practically at my elbow.

Under what must have been about the main hall upstairs, the passageway seemed to open out into a larger room. The beam of my flashlight picked out a wooden structure rising almost to the rafters and blocking off all but a small entrance into the center room.

"Stand here and keep your eyes open," I ordered, and pushed open the door at my right.

I was looking into what must have been the Farrington wine cellar, a large, low-ceilinged room, almost square in shape. My light disclosed tiers of bottle racks, mostly empty, completely surrounded the room. Here and there a barrel or a keg. Over the whole a perfect curtain of dust and cobwebs. Cobwebs hung in long, lacy festoons from the ceiling beams, from the racks, from the barrels. Dust lay in a thick, undisturbed carpet on the floor. Of any human being, there was not a trace.

The Preserve Closet

I let the door swing softly to. "Where does this passage take us?"

"Furnace room and fuel bins. Storage room after that."

Silently I led the way along it. Our footsteps echoed through the ghostly, empty place. After we had taken a dozen paces, the dim light over the stairs was of little use.

"Aren't there any more lights?" I whispered. There was no reason for whispering, but the atmosphere of the place already had its grip on me.

"No. Aunt Martha's stubborn about improvements." Unconsciously Mike was whispering, too. "Skipper was always telling her that Cook would break her leg down here and sue us for plenty."

I flashed by light around the furnace room. Oblong in shape, running across the entire center of the house, its left and right walls consisted of enormous coal and wood bins, respectively, piled right to the ceiling. A huge, old-fashioned furnace stood in the exact center of the room, its pipes running overhead in all directions. Some orderly had had been at work, for there was no dust, and there were no cobwebs. And no sign of the Skipper.

Apparently the wall nearest the passage was also the wall of the wine cellar which we had just left. In the center of the wall opposite it, was a door for which I made without further ado. But it was locked.

If I had fumbled with the keys upstairs, I nearly tore them apart now in my excitement.

"What's stored here?" I grunted.

"Vegetables — preserves — junk!" Michael's words were coming in spasmodic jerks. He may have been thinking the same thing that I was thinking — that with the wine cellar left unlocked, it was odd to find the preserve closet fastened.

The door opened at last.

A room about the same size and shape as the furnace room and neat as a pin, lay ahead of us. From floor to ceiling it was lined with high closets—wainscoted. In the center of the room stood a large kitchen table with an antiquated tea wagon beside it. Otherwise the room was empty.

"Skipper!" I shouted, flinging myself against the nearest door.

"Are you there? Skipper! Skipper!"

The impact of my shoulder on the solid wood of the closet sent a steadying stab of pain through me. I turned to look for a poker.

The furnace room offered better than a poker, however. Mike made straight for the wood bin. There propped against the wall, was an ax. I snatched it from him and rushed back to the closets.

The pen may be mightier than the ax, but my blows on that hard wood would have been equally effective with either. The ax glanced and twisted, and twisted and glanced.

"Use the butt of the damn thing," grunted Michael. The light was wavering in his hand.

I did. Wood splintered and crashed. There was a tinkle as of broken glass. Something wet and sticky was in my eyes. I was still trying to clear them when Mike yelled. "Try the next one!" I blinked at a closet full of broken jars. The mess drooling down my face seemed to be strawberry preserve.

Mike and I find ourselves locked in the cellar, tomorrow.

Federal Officials Are Visiting Texas Soil Conservation Work

FORT WORTH, Sept. 9. (AP) — Assistant Secretary of Agriculture M. L. Wilson, accompanied by Louis P. Merrill, regional conservator of the Soil Conservation service, Fort Worth, and Paul H. Walser, state coordinator, College Station, is spending several days in Texas this week visiting Soil Conservation service project areas.

Wilson and the group first inspected the Temple project.

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

THE Sino-Japanese war subjects our neutrality act to a test which few of its advocates sensed when it was enacted. F.D.R.'s answer will determine whether the United States is to abandon idealistic Wilsonian movements on behalf of small, struggling nations and wrap itself in a home-made mantle of national isolation.

The law was based on a desire to keep this country out of all future wars, no matter what nations they might involve. The theory behind it was that foreign wars are none of our business—a cold, practical judgment. But the very sponsors of the statute—peace groups—have always been the first to cry that Uncle Sam should lend his strength to nations seeking freedom and self-determination—China, Ethiopia, etc. They bitterly oppose the imperialistic aims of Japan, Italy, Germany, which benefit from the act.

These conflicting arguments have poured into the State department in the last few weeks. They make more difficult the problem now confronting President Roosevelt and Secretary Hull, who must decide whether we shall scrap our traditional sympathy for democracies in diapers in order to escape the costs and horrors of war. The dilemma sidelights Washington's obvious reluctance to invoke the act without serious study of the consequences.

INVESTIGATION: One Senator who wasn't fooling when he defied Mr. Guffey to defeat him is Burton K. Wheeeler of Montana, chief wrecker of the court program. The canny Wheeler has several cards up his sleeve which the Pennsylvanian could not be expected to know about.

Whether deliberately or not, Mr. Wheeler spent only a few dollars of the additional $75,000 the Senate gave him for completion of his investigation of railroad financing. The Montana man wheedled the funds out of White House bosses just before the Supreme court fight broke, held only a few hearings and then quit. His public explanation was that he was too busy with the judicial battle to conduct another sideshow at the same time. So he will resume next fall with plenty of money and power.

Mr. Guffey, peculiarly, has frequently been mentioned in connection with certain railroads and their subsidiaries. So have even more influential people, including an ex-insurance salesman now high in power. Should Senator Wheeler repeat the investigatory interest he showed when he cleaned out Attorney General Daugherty's and Alien Property Custodian Miller's offices in 1924, he might make it uncomfortable for the purgers.

HELPER: William Green's recent utterances and actions have reflected a marked improvement over earlier attempts to match wits with John L. Lewis in their struggle for control of organized labor. The new A. F. of L. attack reveals more restraint in personal flings at Lewis but greater aggressiveness in weaning public opinion away from the C.I.O. leader.

The explanation is that, after years of argument, Green has engaged a publicity man at a fat salary to write his speeches, suggest interviews, counsel him publicly and privately. The A.F. of L. President is stubborn, slow thinking, entirely unversed in popular psychology. Lewis, on the other hand, is gifted with a mind instinctive for public and political reactions, a knowledge of press and publicity arts, a mastery of eloquence. He is his own best publicist.

The battle for public opinion—for headlines—has been so unequal as to be pitiful. His aides have begged Green to seek outside assistance, and at last he capitulated. Though the new arrangement is only a few weeks old, it has produced paying publicity dirt already. The letter to ministers depicting Green as communism's greatest foe on the western continent—and Lewis as a devil's advocate—was Bright Idea No. 1 under the new regime.

REPLACEMENTS: Two men who have shared the sweets and sorrows of life for almost 20 years recently had a heart-to-heart talk in an upstairs room of the White House—Franklin D. Roosevelt and Secretary "Steve" Early. "Steve" had just announced that he had a chance to take a job paying three times his official salary—about $30,000.

Mr. Roosevelt begged him not to leave at this particular moment. He pointed out that Louis Howe had died, that Marvin McIntyre was burdened by routine duties—shaking all hands and meeting all trains—that numerous other confidential aides had departed, and that his need for an able, experienced servant in the household was never greater. "Steve", like the good friend and soldier he always has been, agreed to stay—"for a long while".

The episode is as significant as it is poignantly human. At last Mr. Roosevelt has come to realize that New Deal's loss of man-power in the last year has been terrific—and that under his system of one-man government no replacements have been developed.

LIQUOR: Internal Revenue officials don't boast about it—the South is still sentimentally solid for a Democratic President—but the only section where bootleggers still flourish is below the Mason and Dixon line. Seventy per cent of illegal stills are rounded up in the so-called "Bible Belt."

Northeastern seaboard states operate under the license system generally. Liquor is plentiful, accessible, inexpensive—sure deterrents to a bootleg market. But the paradise for elbow-benders is the Northwest—Montana, Idaho (the Borah state), Oregon and Washington. These states import their liquor in bulk, bottle it themselves and exercise great care over retail distribution. Good quality—cheap prices—and Uncle Sam gets his tax cut without any trouble.

Three years of repeal indicate that Americans are learning how to handle their likker. Despite a decade of thirst, an increased population, and the feminine fancy for hard liquor, 1937's consumption will run about 120,000,000 gallons—or 8,000,000 less than the 1910-1914 period. Old John Barleycorn seems to be under control!

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

MEMBERS of the United Automobile Workers may still roar approval when John L. Lewis thunders that Bill Green is a "traitor" to organized labor. But Green for his part extends an olive branch, and backstage indications are increasing that some sort of truce will soon become effective in labor's civil war.

One significant straw in the wind was an agreement reached between C.I.O. and Teamsters' union officials in New York to support each other's strikes. The teamsters, headed by Dan Tobin, comprise one of the strongest outfits in the American Federation. It has long been a saying in informed labor circles that you must have Tobin on your side to win an eastern waterfront strike. He can tie up the trucks—and no fooling!

Tobin has been loyal to Green right along, though he has tried to avoid direct involvement in the A.F. of L.-C.I.O. squabble. The fact that he is willing to make such a pact with the "enemy" shows a new spirit of tolerance and cooperation which may point the way to a more complete understanding.

WILLING: Then there is the strange case of Senator Joseph F. Guffey.

Guffey is generally—and correctly—regarded as an out-and-out New Dealer. He was in fact the only member of the upper house who voted absolutely 100% in accordance with President Roosevelt's wishes during the late lamented session of Congress. This perfect devotion tends to obscure the fundamental point that Guffey is a Lewis man even more than he is a Roosevelt man. He has undertaken the delicate diplomatic chore of trying to keep these two self-willed leaders at peace with each other. But if it came to a showdown, he would be almost certain to string along with the C.I.O. chief.

So when Joe speaks well in public of Bill Green and the A.F. of L., as he did not long ago, the implication is pretty clear that the C.I.O. high command is more willing to kiss and make up with the Green crowd than they care to admit publicly as yet.

Origins Of Familiar Plains Names Given In Historical Review Article By Tahoka Man

CANYON, Sept. 9. (Special) — Origins of familiar plains names which describe the country or point to some significant event are given by Frank P. Hill, Tahoka newspaper man, in the tenth volume of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Review, which is edited by Prof. L. F. Sheffy for the Panhandle-Plains Historical society.

Hill traces the name origins from Coronado's crossing of the plains nearly 400 years ago in his search for Quivera, the city of gold. The names are many, including Palo Duro, Canyon City, Blanco, Agua Corriente, Amarillo, Lamesa, Laguna de las Casas Amarillas, and Llano Estacado, from the Spanish, applying to the north plains area, and Laguna Ombligo, Laguna Sabinas, Laguna Quemada, and Agua de Toro, familiar in the South Plains and beyond. Most of these refer to the nature of the country or its watering places. For instance, the headwaters of the Colorado river were called Agua del Toro, or bull water, by the Mexicans of an earlier day. Most of the designations given by the Indians did not "stick."

Hill continues with tales of how famous early-day characters derived their nick-names.

In the same current number of the quarterly are articles on "The Big Bend of Texas," by Walter Prescott Webb; "Characteristic Similarities of Expeditions Into the Great Plains", by H. B. Carroll; "Documents Relating to General W. T. Sherman's Southern Plains Indian Policy, 1871-75", by C. C. Rister; "The Laws and Customs of the Open Range," by Boone McClure; "Prehistory in the Texas Panhandle," by C. Stuart Johnston; and reviews of books relating to the plains section.

"Van-Tage Was What I Needed"

Suffered Years With Gassy Indigestion And Rheumatic Pain; Now Relieved.

Some of the Best-Known People of This Section are praising and endorsing Van-Tage, the "Amazing New Medicine," now being introduced in Lubbock. Just a few days ago Mr. C. C. Merrill, of 509 18th St., Denver, Colo., made the following statement:

MR. MERRILL

"I had been suffering with gassy indigestion for many years. My stomach was in such an upset condition that I had to avoid greasy or starchy foods, as these things caused me to have awful attacks of heartburn. I tried all kinds of diets, and I even went on a seventeen-day fast without any noticeable benefit. I started suffering from a bad rheumatic condition caused by impurities in my system. I heard about Van-Tage and started taking it, and now I am able to eat what I choose. The gas bloating and heartburn after my meals have been relieved. And the cleansing action of Van-Tage has given me wonderful relief from my rheumatic pains. I am feeling better every day, thanks to Van-Tage."

VAN-TAGE contains 21 Great Herbs and nearly a dozen other Splendid Ingredients, which help cleanse bowels, bring forth gas from stomach and invigorate kidney action so that people say they feel different IN GENERAL. Van-Tage is reasonable in price, so don't hesitate. Get it—TODAY—at the Mark Halsey Drug Store, 1221 Broadway.

TARZAN'S QUEST No. 53

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

Brown made light of Annette's report about some mysterious thing crawling around in the hut. "Maybe the old dame was nervous," he said. "No. After I awoke I heard her make some sort of groaning, rattling sound in her sleep. But she stopped very quickly.

The aviator, however, preferred to discuss more personal subjects. He liked this chic little French girl, and he had reason to think she returned his sentiments. So, it was long after the appointed hour when Brown thought to arouse Sborov for his tour of duty.

When the prince came into the firelight, he was nervous and ill at ease. "Everything all right?" he asked. "Sure," Brown replied cheerfully as he walked with Annette toward the shelter. The girl shivered. "I dread to go back in there. There's something—!"

"Oh, you just had nightmare, and it got your nanny." "I don't know what is my nanny." "Skip it," the aviator grinned; "just sleep with one eye open, and if you hear anything, call me." . . . It was daylight when Brown was awakened by a piercing scream!

Eleven Persons Are Indicted By Jury

Seven of the 11 persons charged in indictments returned by a 99th district court grand jury which reported unexpectedly just before noon Thursday last night had either posted bond or were in jail, according to Jas. P. Posey, chief deputy sheriff.

The grand jury had been impaneled Monday morning at the beginning of an eight weeks' term of district court. After reporting Thursday, grand jurors will return Monday morning. R. P. Bayless is foreman.

Eleven Persons Named

Of the ten indictments naming 11 persons, two charged drunken driving, two murder, swindling over $50, theft over $50, three of burglary against two defendants, and one of failing to stop and render aid that carried a count of drunken driving.

Judge Pitts, who will exchange benches Monday with Judge Alton B. Chapman of the 110th district at Dickens, because Judge Chapman was disqualified to call six cases, set bonds aggregating $11,000 for defendants.

Bonds Are Posted

Mrs. Oran Wilson and Nick Smith, both charged with driving when intoxicated, Thursday afternoon posted bonds of $750 each. I. C. Green, negro, charged twice with burglary, was committed to the county jail by Posey in lieu of two bonds of $750 each.

Gaston Cobb, 23-year-old Lubbock man who had been charged with burglary, was in jail. Bond of $1,000 was set by Judge Pitts after a bill charging him with burglary of Southern Trading company store had been returned.

R. L. Dishman and Peggy Weir, alias Elizabeth St. Clair, were charged with swindling over $50. She is held in jail here, he at Fort Worth. Bond of $1,000 each was set by Judge Pitts.

Alfredo Albidrez, charged with murder of another Mexican, was ordered held without bond. He had not been admitted to bail after a recent examining trial conducted before S. E. McMillan, justice of peace.

MARKET REGAINS COURAGE

NEW YORK, Sept. 9. (AP) — The stock market regained some of its courage today and retrieved 1 to 4 or more points of its recent heavy losses.

Scanning the headlines, brokers found the Mediterranean and far eastern clouds as dark as ever. There also were plenty of skeptics on fall business prospects.

The trend reversal, consequently, was attributed principally quick-turn traders who stepped in on the belief leaders had been oversold and were due for at least a temporary rebound.

There was a little more buying from abroad.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks got back 1.4 points at 61.2. Its net drop on Tuesday and Wednesday amounted to 3.9 points.

Volume dwindled appreciably on the upswing, transfers totalling 1,411,550 shares compared with 2,257,530 yesterday which was the largest aggregate since April 28.

Steels led the upswing but virtually all other groups, including the long downtrodden rails, climbed aboard. Extreme advances were cut down in many instances before the final gong.

Bonds did better but were hardly as buoyant as stocks.

Baum Fraud Trial Continued Until November Term Here

A charge of fraud against Ned Baum which was scheduled for hearing in county court Thursday was continued until the November term of court, according to J. J. Dillard, judge presiding.

A charge of aggravated assault against Bob Sampson and Leonard Shell which had been set for Thursday earlier had been postponed until Saturday.

A jury, dismissed Wednesday afternoon by Judge Dillard until 9 o'clock this morning, is scheduled to hear liquor law violations today against Clardell Williams, Dan Albidry, Isodora Bustillos and Micoel Bustillos.

Ships carry cargoes, while cars haul shipments.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 9. (AP) — Cotton fluctuated in a comparatively narrow range today but managed to keep on the upside of the previous close. Last prices were steady at net advances of 5 to 10 points.

Following a slight opening gain on better foreign markets local prices continued to advance under covering, trade calling and some new buying attributed to sellers on yesterday's decline.

By mid-session most of the previous day's decline of over $1 a bale was recovered.

Final prices showed gains of 25 cents to 50 cents a bale. October finished at 9.14, Dec. at 9.20, Jan. at 9.24, March at 9.32, May at 9.42 and July at 9.50. Spots were 5 points higher on sales of 10,065 bales. Middling closed at 9.24.

The tense situation in Europe brought on by the Mediterranean piracy and the undeclared war in the far east caused some nervousness.

Weather conditions were unfavorable.

Hedge selling was not in its usual volume.

Liverpool said the unfavorable weather more than off-set the bearish tone of yesterday's American crop report and brought on a moderate rally in the English market.

AVERAGE PRICE

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 9. (AP)—The average price of middling cotton today at ten southern spot markets was 9.11 cents a pound; average for the past thirty market days 9.89 cents a pound.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Sept. 9. (AP)—Cotton recovered part of recent losses today on trade, foreign and commission house buying. December advanced from 9.08@9.21 but encountered late hedge selling and closed at 9.13. Final prices were 4 to 10 points at higher.

The market opened up 1 to 8 points in response to steadier Liverpool cables. Despite the increas of 303,000 bals in yesterday's government crop indication to 16,098,000 bales, selling orders were scarce.

With the weather reports showing further scattered showers over the belt, the opinion gained ground that the crop had received a setback since the first of the month.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Sept. 9. (AP)—Increasing evidence of Russian competition in the wheat export field did much today to pull Chicago wheat prices down about a cent a bushel.

The Russian grain selling agency in Rotterdam was reported to have reopened in an effort to capture enlarged export business, and announcement was made that Russia's shipments of wheat this week to other European countries were the largest in two years.

At the close, Chicago wheat futures were ⅝ to 1 cent under yesterday's finish, Sept. $1.07½@1.07⅝, Dec. $1.09½@1.09⅝, May $1.11¾@1.11⅞, with corn varying from 2⅛ decline to ⅝ advance, Sept. $1.05⅛1.06¼, Dec. 63⅝@63½, May 65@65¼, oats ⅛ off to ¼ up, Dec. 30⅛, and rye ¼ to 1 cent down, Dec. 80. The provisions outcome was unchanged to 7 cents dearer.

Contrasting with Russia's enlarged wheat export business were estimates that total purchases of United States wheat today for Europe amounted to only about 50,000 bushels, principally for Antwerp.

Chicago September delivery led the wheat price downturn. From a top of $1.08½, Sept. fell to $1.07⅛, and at the last showed but ⅛ to ¼ of cent recovery.

Corn, oats and rye averaged lower with wheat.

Soy beans dropped 4 cents, the full permissible limit.

FORT WORTH REPORT

FORT WORTH, Sept. 9. (AP)—Demand was good on the cash grain market here today; Estimated receipts were: wheat 9 cars, corn 10, oats 1, and sorghums 4.

Freight paid to Texas Gulf ports, domestic rate, or Texas common points:

Seed Breeders Meet In City

Growers of state certified grain sorghums met yesterday in the division of agriculture administration building to discuss reorganization and late in the afternoon, voted to change the name to Texas Certified Seed Growers association.

Under reoranization, a board of five directors was selected to handle affairs of the association. Directors named were: A. B. Brown, Anton; J. R. West, Wilson; Wm. Pool, Muleshoe; James T. Dunn, Lamesa and G. C. Beakley, Levelland.

To Operate Warehouse

Growers present decided on a warehouse and authorized the selection of a building for housing seed, the directors to handle the details. It was also decided to secure a state charter.

Other producers present were: J. W. Hammock, Sudan; J. I. Bowling, Littlefield; W. H. Cunningham, Littlefield; C. W. Smiley, Littlefield and A. H. Howell, Bula.

W. A. Goeth, Abernathy, a state inspector for the department of agriculture, sat with the men and advised on many matters. Question of a price for seed was discussed and figures agreed upon. They are slightly lower than last year.

It was also decided to arrange for one or two breeders to go into South Texas late this month to contact wholesale seed men and arrange for representation as jobbers.

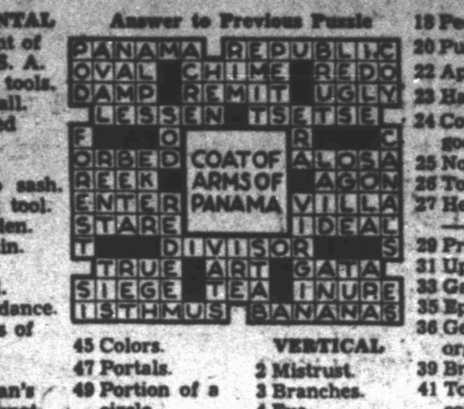

Dr. A. W. Young, member of the faculty of the college, met with the group from time to time and discussed seed matters.

News Briefs...

Funeral arrangements for R. J. (Bob) Huie, 46, brother of Riley F. Huie, Lubbock tailor, and a former employe of Lubbock Poster company, late Thursday night had not been announced, pending communication with his wife, a resident of Houston. Huie died about 8 o'clock Thursday morning in the Veterans hospital at Albuquerque, N. M., where he had been receiving treatment several months following a stroke of paralysis. Death came unexpectedly.

Failure of lawyers to appear Thursday prevented the hearing in 99th district court of a civil action on a note between Nabob Oil company and Arran Everest, said Judge E. L. Pitts. The case has been set for hearing approximately five times in the last year. It was indicated there would be default judgment in the causes of Lubbock Baseball club against Buck Lai and of Davis against Southard.

Vernon Herndon, manager of Hilton hotel, and Al Badger, manager of Lubbock hotel, plan to attend the 32nd annual convention of the Texas Hotel association in Fort Worth Sept. 19-21. Hotel associations of Oklahoma, Arkansas, Louisiana, New Mexico, and the Republic of Mexico have been invited. Alex Schneider of Pampa is president of the Texas association. A golf tournament, social entertainment, and business are scheduled.

Members of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, or the Mormon church, will meet at 7:30 o'clock Saturday night in the Chimayo room of the Hilton hotel, according to Elder Ballard Hale. Chief speaker will be Le Roy Christiansen of Houston, president of the church's Texas Missions.

When the justice court of S. E. McMillan failed to agree in the simple assault case of Leslie Payne, negro, the hearing was declared a mistrial. Malcom Dolloff, complaining witness, said the porter of a small hotel here stabbed him in the head with a knife; the negro held out he had used a can opener. Trend of questioning at one place was suggestive of earlier days in this section, when Max Coleman, attorney for the negro, asked the complaining witness if he meant to say the negro had assaulted him and that he sought redress "in the courtroom."

Three building permits, authorizing remodeling of two residences and construction of a fruit stand, totaling $1,150, sent the year's permit totals to $856,377 and the month's to $28,757, according to figures released Thursday at the office of D. J. Schlag, City building inspector. Permits Thursday went to: S. B. Bardwell to remodel and stucco a residence at 2708 Twenty-third street, $400; W. A. Herron to construct a fruit stand at the corner of Avenue S and Nineteenth street, $350; and B. N. Duff to repair residence at 2118 Eighteenth street, $400.

Miss Mary Leidigh, daughter of Dean and Mrs. A. H. Leidigh and a graduate of Texas Technological college in 1934, this week began her duties as head of the home economics department of Panhandle Agricultural and Mechanical college, Goodwell, Okla. After graduating from Tech, where she majored in foods, Miss Leidigh spent a year at Oklahoma State hospital as a dietitian. She was awarded an honorary scholarship at the University of Texas, receiving her M. A. degree this summer.

State Representative Doyle Settle will be the main speaker at a public meeting to be held at 8 o'clock tonight by the Southwest Ward chapter of the National Grange at the Southwest Ward school. Purpose of the meeting is to honor R. L. Burdette, lecturer of the chapter.

Four juveniles, two boys and two girls, early Thursday night were lectured by police authorities when they were taken to police headquarters following complaints telephoned from the 1400-block of Avenue M that children were throwing rocks.

Big Enrollment Being Expected

CANYON, Sept. 9. (Special)—Inquiries and reservations coming to the desk of Dr. J. A. Hill, president, indicate a heavy enrollment at West Texas State Teachers college beginning September 15. These have reached a volume which indicates registration for the 28th regular session may pass the total of 1,010 established last term.

Current activity about the college includes much refinishing and refurnishing, especially in the dormitories, and improvements of the athletic plant. Cousins Hall, a dormitory for girls, will have a bright new appearance when the co-eds return. Randall Hall, another dormitory for girls which is operated on a co-operative plan, is being improved and the heating plant modernized. It has a waiting list. Continuing the co-operative idea, West Texas State has purchased and is remodeling a large boarding house which will accommodate 22 girls and a matron. The girls will do all the work, including cooking. Similarly, groups of six persons—usually a married couple and four students—will live co-operatively at El Pueblo, a number of new cottages erected near the campus.

Demands Increasing

Demands for such facilities are constantly increasing. Eventually they will be greatly expanded to make it possible for students to obtain their educations at minimum cost. Stafford Hall, another state-owned dormitory, houses forty men. Downtown accommodations are regulated and approved by the college.

At the Buffalo courts, the home of the Buffaloes which has taken shape under the direction of Coach Al Baggett, work is continuing on the attractive lounge, finishing of the rooms, and landscaping. Here many of the athletes live and have their recreation. Nearby is the fine new outdoor swimming pool which, like the courts, is made of native stone and geological specimens. Workmen and students gathered petrified wood and formations from all over the southwest and beyond. They imbedded buffalo skulls and cattle branding irons, historic timbers, and other items to provide an attraction which intrigues the interest of visitors. Towering rock fences also surround Buffalo field, the new concrete tennis courts, and the grandstand at the rear. Nearing completion is a building which contains offices for the coaches and space for a laundry for the physical education department.

Many Courses Offered

In addition to its usual courses, West Texas State will offer many of wide appeal to persons other than teachers. Its department of business administration, for example, grants the B.B.A. degree without requiring work in education. Journalism courses will be offered this year with Olin E. Hinkle, former Pampa, Texas, and Lexington, Ky., newspaperman, as instructor. The regular college curriculum is supplemented by the demonstration school, correspondence work, and extension courses taught by faculty members in various towns of the Panhandle.

Registration of freshmen and pupils of the preparatory school will begin September 15 and continue two days. On September 16, sophomores and upper classmen will register. Class assignments will be given Friday, Sept. 17.

More Than $2,000 In Dawson Fair Stock Already Pledged

LAMESA, Sept. 9. (Special) — Pledges for more than $2,000 in Dawson County Fair association stock have been made by firms and individuals of the county.

The committee of the fair, which will be Oct. 14 through 16, plans to sell approximately $3,000 more in stock, the original issue having been defined as 200 $25 shares of non-assessable stock.

Stock will provide permanent grounds and buildings that can be enlarged when required, and stockholders will control the association, elect directors and officers.

A plan has been broached to draw community exhibits from throughout the county. With excellent crops this year, community booths are expected to be of unusual pride, it was announced.

Two Youths Are Indicted In An Attack Upon Woman

MARSHALL, Sept. 9 (AP)—Indictments charging Frank Hall and Claude Jett, Shreveport youths, with criminal assault in connection with an attack on a Shreveport woman, were returned by the Harrison county grand jury today.

The grand jury also returned indictments against Henderson and Roscoe Young, youthful negroes charged with criminal assault and robbery with firearms in connection with an attack on a Longview couple two weeks ago.

Hall and Jett were held to the grand jury late yesterday in an examining trial in Justice H. L. Calloway's court. Contsable Felix Jones of Hallsville said he arrested them after a motorist reported he forced a car occupied by the youths and the woman into a ditch near Hallsville, and taken her into Hallsville.

FIVE FLIERS KILLED

BORDEAUX, France, Sept. 9 (AP)—The bodies of five French army fliers were recovered today from the wreckage of a large fighting plane which crashed in flames last night near the Bordeaux airport.
