LIBERAL DEFEATED HERE SUNDAY

THE CLOSEST GAME OF BALL PLAYED THIS SEASON WAS BETWEEN PERRYTON AND LIBERAL. SCORE 1 TO 0

One of the most interesting games of the season was played at the baseball park Sunday afternoon between the home team and Liberal, Kansas. Wheeler was billed to play here on this date but called it off at the last moment and in so doing undoubtedly showed good judgement whatever may be said of their nerve.

The final score was 1 to 0 in favor of Perryton. It was a pitchers battle from start to finish with Ward having a shade the best of it and the better support. Perryton made its lone score in the 9th inning, Ward getting on by a hit and completing the circuit on errors. The box score follows:

LIBERAL	AB	R	H	PO	A	E
Caylor, H. c.	4	0	1	5	0	0
Bradford, 1st.	4	0	1	5	1	0
Gardner, 2nd.	4	0	0	2	2	2

THE REVIVAL MEETING AT THE CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Large attentive and appreciative audiences are hearing Evangelist Chas. A. Chasteen at the Christian Church each night. The Sunday audiences fill the Church to capacity. There were fourteen additions to the Church the first week and many more are expected this week. Baptismal services are frequent.

Evangelist Chasteen is a great preacher. His messages exalt the Christ. He pleads to the highest and best in men. His sermon Saturday night on the Resurrection of Christ would have convinced any doubter and Sunday night men were convinced that this life consists not in the abundance of the things which he possesses.

These Sermons are worthy your hearing.—Come. The following sermons are announced:

- Friday "Lies and Hypocrites"
- Saturday, "The Fatal Night"
- Sunday morning, "Christ, The One Foundation"
- Sunday evening, "Seeking the Lost"
- Monday, "The Unpardonable Sin"
- Tuesday, "The Greatest Scene of All Time"
- Wednesday, "At the Throne of Grace"
- Thursday, "The Great Patriot"

Services each night at 7:45, bring your friends.

Russia on a cold water basis, stopping the sale of vodka absolutely. This column then suggested that absence of whiskey would mean more cold thinking by Russians, and that one result of such thinking would be the absence of the Czar. That prophecy was fulfilled.

Now Bolshevism restores vodka to its old alcoholic power—about forty per cent.

Men to whom thinking is new dislike the unpleasant sensation and effort.

Winners in Doll Contest

Above is the likeness of the three little ladies, who won first, second and third prizes in the sewing contest recently put on by The People's Supply Company of our city. From left to right they are Katherine Sealey, aged eight, first prize winner, Clarice Allen, aged twelve, second prize winner, and Mary Coffey, aged eleven, winner of the third prize.

The work of these youthful seamstresses, and six others was so beautifully done that the judges had them to go to the store to prepare a "sample" so that there would be no doubt that all the work was done by the exhibitor; those thus honored, besides the prize winners were Opal Pittman, Viola Shearer, Lura Mae Sharp, Elizabeth Manning, Ella Rae Kutch and Ava Dunlavy.

Those given honorable mention by the judges were Ella Rae Kutch, Dorothy Hudson and Elizabeth Manning.

All the garments went to the judges with no identification mark other than a number, so the judges had no idea to whom they were making the awards.

This contest was a splendid means of cultivating a taste for sewing and many mothers confess that they were surprised at the work their little daughters could do.

RAINFALL DURING WEEK

The drought in the Panhandle was broken early last Thursday morning when a good shower fell. This rain was accompanied by considerable lightning and thunder but not much wind. Thursday at noon another rain began falling and this time it was a regular "soaker." The weather remained unsettled and on Monday night there was close to a half inch of rainfall.

These rains were general throughout the Panhandle of Texas and Oklahoma and extended up into Kansas.

The rainfall for the week as shown by the government gauge is as follows:

Thursday a. m.	.38 inch
Thursday noon	1.29 inch
Monday night	.45 inch

BANQUET FOR BOY SCOUTS

No more fitting farewell to vacation days could have been devised than the banquet tendered the boys of this community Thursday night, September 10th by the citizens of Perryton.

At seven o'clock the boys met with Mr. D. D. Shanks, Scout Master, in their hall going from there, in a body, to the Christian Church, where to the stirring strains of "Onward Christian Soldiers" they were ushered to seats which had been reserved for them.

Rev. Chasteen of Dallas, who is conducting a meeting here delivered a most inspiring sermon, going back into the Old Testament, he told of the deceit practised by Jacob on his old blind father and how in later life he, Jacob, suffered by being deceived, showing that "as ye sow so shall ye reap."

At the close of the services all were invited to the dining hall, in the church basement, which the Parent-Teachers Association had transformed, with festoons of the National colors, into a bower of beauty. Tiny American flags were at every plate and the most cunning center piece was a doll dressed in the regulation Boy Scout uniform.

An excellently and daintily prepared dinner was served by a bevy of the younger set, prettily aproned and capped for the occasion.

After invocation by Rev. Huckabee and the singing of America by those assembled the following program was rendered: "Toast to the Boys"—Rev. Jasper Bogue; "Toast to a real Dad"—Beal Puckett; "Scout Demonstration of First Aid"—Cyrus LaMaster and Cromwell Rogers. Three candidates were admitted into Scoutdom by the beautifully impressive Scout initiation ceremony, after which, if entered into seriously, it seems as though it would be impossible to be other than Al boys (as all good Scouts are).

Talks on various subjects, of interest to boys, were given by Messrs. B. B. Kent, Jack Allen, F. P. Rogers, Chas. Callaway and Scout Master Shanks but the talk in which we older ones were more particularly interested was the address of Mr. Harry E. James of Amarillo, Boy Scout Field Executive, who, in addressing the parents told of the origin of the Scout movement in America and its remarkable growth from its incorporation in 1916 to a membership, today, of over 800,000. Think of it! Eight hundred thousand! What a mighty army of good citizens in the making!

Music for the occasion was furnished by the Municipal Orchestra, under the able leadership of Prof. Hyde.

SCHOOL OPENED MONDAY SEPT. 14

PERRYTON PUBLIC SCHOOLS OPENED MONDAY UNDER VERY AUSPICIOUS CIRCUMSTANCES

The opening of the Perryton High School Monday morning was the most significant in the history of the school. The enrollment nearing the 500 mark.

A larger number of parents were present, and a spirit of cooperation was manifested by the faculty and parents.

Superintendent Irvin in a few well chosen words outlined the work for the year, stressing the necessity of co-operation and frank discussion of school problems between parents and teachers.

Rev. Chas. Chasteen, Christian Evangelist, pronounced the invocation beseeching Divine guidance for teachers, parents and pupils.

Mayor F. P. Rogers in his own inimitable way welcomed the faculty to the city, promising support for the faculty and urging obedience upon the part of the pupils.

Mrs. S. D. Johnston, acting as spokesman for the school board briefly, but pointedly, told of the necessity of Christian education in local, state and national affairs.

Mr. Fremont Meade of the Canyon Normal, but formerly a member of the faculty of the Perryton Schools, brought a message from the Normal and predicted for Perryton its most successful school year.

Miss Owens of the expression department gave a number of readings including: "Happy Cause I'm Here," "Home" and "The Meanest Fellow," proving herself an artist, serious or humorous as the occasion required.

Music for the occasion was furnished by the High School Orchestra which is under the efficient management of Prof. Hyde.

CONCERT FRIDAY NIGHT, SEPTEMBER 25th

The Perryton Municipal Band, is shaping up and making splendid progress in preparation for the big band contest which they have entered at Amarillo, to come off September 27th.

This will be a great event not only for our home band, but for the city of Perryton, and every citizen of our town and county should lend every word of encouragement and moral support possible to help our band to win. In the two year band class, there are two other bands entered besides Perryton, Brownfield Concert Band, and Lubbock High School Band. First prize in this class, $150.00 cash, a handsome Drum Majors Baton and a Music case.

On Friday night of next week, the band will play an open air concert from the band stand if weather is favorable, or in School Auditorium if weather is not favorable for outside playing. The public is invited to be present and hear this concert. The contest pieces of music will be played, also the one March, that has been selected by the contest committee of Amarillo, that will be played by all of the musicians together, who participate in the band contest. There will be fifteen bands present. Win or lose, Perryton, will have no occasion to feel ashamed of her Municipal Band, and a good delegation of our town citizens should accompany the band to Amarillo, and help boost the best town, and the best band in the Panhandle. Attend the concert, Friday evening September 25th.

BAPTIST CHURCH NOTES

Last Sunday was the end of the fiscal year of the pastorage of Rev. Pannington and the church voted unanimously to re-elect him for an indefinite period.

Next Sunday there will be Sunday School at the regular hour but there will be no other service that day so as to permit our members to attend the Dedication Services at the Christian church in the morning and the Revival services in the evening.

SLUMBER PARTY

On last Thursday night Mrs. Jas. E. Barbour entertained, with a slumber party, a number of girls for her daughter, Lola Belle. The young ladies spent the evening in a merry fashion by playing games and with music. In fact more time was spent in fun-making than in slumbering. In the morning Mrs. Barbour served a delicious waffle breakfast after which the girls departed to their respective homes.

DEDICATION SERVICE SUNDAY

NEW CHRISTIAN CHURCH TO BE DEDICATED SUNDAY SEPTEMBER 20TH

The Dedication of a Church is a very impressive and beautiful service. With great rejoicing the multitude of Israel gathered to dedicate the great Solomon Temple to Jehovah.

The congregation of the Christian Church have set Sunday, September 20th, for the dedication of the beautiful church edifice, the community with the Congregation have builded.

The church is to serve the entire community in things of Righteousness. The entire community is asked to assemble Sunday September 20th at 11:00 o'clock for this most impressive and sacred service. Evangelist Chas. A. Chasteen will conduct the dedication services.

P. T. A. NOTES

The banquet furnished by the P. T. A. for the Boy Scouts on Thursday night, September 10th was well attended considering the rainy night and fifty dollars was turned in to the treasury therefrom. Mrs. Shanks, our hard working president, asks that through these columns we extend our thanks to all who were so generous with donations to this banquet and for their help in every way, also to the Christian Church for the use of their basement for this occasion.

Our regular meeting was held in the Auditorium of the school building on Monday night, September 14th. Only a short program had been arranged for this meeting as it was more for the purpose of Teachers and Parents getting acquainted. We were favored with some fine selections from the orchestra. Mr. LaMaster gave a short but well worded address of welcome to our school faculty and Miss Navis Witt rendered a beautiful Piano Solo, after which an informal reception was given the teachers. From a large bowl on a table artistically decorated with flowers the committee served punch to one of the largest crowds that has ever assembled at a P. T. A. meeting. Everyone seemed to enjoy the visiting with one another and getting acquainted with the teachers and the teachers with the parents.

Enrollment to the P. T. A. was also made at this time. Parents who are already members of this organization remember the dues should be paid to the treasurer, Mrs. A. C. Nies by the 15th of October and those who are not already members but who desire to be, remember this also. Dues are twenty five cents a year.

TURNER-NORWOOD

Miss Robbie Turner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Turner of west of Ochiltree, and Mr. George Norwood, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Norwood, of near Perryton, were united in marriage by Judge J. M. Grigsby on Wednesday afternoon of last week. The bride was a graduate of the Ochiltree High School in the class of 1925 and is a popular young lady in that community. The groom is an industrious young man and is employed by the Farmers Oil Company here. Both Mr. and Mrs. Norwood have lived in or near Perryton all of their lives and we are glad to welcome them as citizens. The Herald joins with a host of friends in wishing them much success and prosperity.

BIRTHDAY DINNER

On last Sunday at 12 o'clock, Mrs. J. H. Neufeld entertained a number of young girls at her lovely home in the west part of Perryton, with a chicken dinner, for her daughter, Ruby, in honor of her 13th birthday anniversary. After the delicious dinner the girls enjoyed innocent past times throughout the afternoon. Those who helped Miss Ruby celebrate her birthday were: Misses Dorene Williams, Lola Belle Barbour, Lorene Coffee and Elizabeth Richardson.

YIELD OF LINT IS BEST FACTOR

Yield of lint per acre is much more important than percentage of lint or gin turn-out, according to conclusions reached in Bulletin 321 of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, which discusses variety tests at the Main Station, College Station, Texas, with about 150 varieties or strains of upland cotton during the eleven years from 1912 to 1922. Length of lint is not as important as yield of lint but it is more important than percentage of lint provided the staple is longer than 3/8 inch, and the farmer selecting a variety to plant should consider first its productive power as regards pounds of lint per acre; second, length of staple; third, quality of lint; and fourth, percentage of lint.

The bulletin presents a table showing the yields in pounds of lint per acre of each variety for each year for all varieties grown in the test during the period from 1912 to 1922. An average for the eleven years shows Lone Star, Mebane, and Rowden leading in order named. The seven-year average shows Truitt, Rowden, Lone Star, Durango and Mebane leading in order named. A six-year average shows Lone Star, Rowden, Mebane, Durango and Snowflake leading in the order named. Another group of six years shows Acala, Lone Star, Rowden, Durango, Mebane and Kasch leading in the order named. A four-year average from 1919 to 1922 inclusive shows Bolton, Truitt, Acala, Lone Star, Rowden, Durango, Kasch, Mebane Bennett leading the order named.

A group of tables is presented showing the yield and rank of the ten high varieties each year of the test.

A copy of this bulletin may be had free by writing B. Youngblood, Director, Experiment Station, College Station, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Audie Black were in Perryton last Saturday, shopping and visiting friends.

THE LEOPARD

"What do you think of us as you pace back and forth, back and forth, over that zoo cage of yours?" asked a little girl as she stood before the leopard's cage in the zoo.

"Your eyes look far over my head," she continued, "and you look as though you were thinking of something interesting."

"Won't you tell me, please, Mr. Leopard?"

But the leopard went on walking, and the leopard continued to look over her head and would not look at her.

For he was not thinking of little girls, or of one special little girl who was trying to talk to him as she stood before his cage admiring him and wondering what his story was.

He was thinking of other things.

Then, as the little girl still stood watching him, he began to roar.

His great mouth opened and his eyes looked angrier than ever. They looked so wild, so very wild.

He was telling his story though, even if the little girl could not understand the words he used.

They were the words used by leopards, their own language, and which, if turned into English, went something like this:

"I was so quick. Oh, I was so quick."

"When they charged at me I was ready. I used to hunt. I used to kill."

"Oh, those days when I was wild, when I could be as wild as I chose."

"Oh, those days when I used to hunt."

"I used to think, yes, I used to think how I would escape if anyone or anything came upon me suddenly."

"I moved so quietly and quickly. I knew just how to go about doing things."

"Those were the good old days when I was free, way, way off from the zoo."

"Won't You Tell Me, Please, Mr. Leopard?"

and people and children and keepers and crowds who rudely stare at me!

"What do I care for the crowds who stare?"

"Nothing!"

"I look over their heads."

"I won't show them the honor of looking at them, for they are beneath me."

"They can't hunt as I have hunted, they can't move so quickly and so cleverly, they can't hide and seek except in a foolish, childish way!"

"I am glad I'm not a child."

"I'm glad I'm not a grownup."

"I'm glad I'm not a keeper."

"But those are almost the only things I am glad about."

"For I long for the freedom of the forests and the jungles."

"I long for the stillness and the noises that are beautiful."

"I hate these clattering noises that are here. Silly, clattering noises of people and their actions."

"And here in the zoo my happiest hours are spent in thinking of the wild days, the glorious wild days."

"Those wild days are what I am thinking about when I look over the heads of the people who come to the zoo."

"I am dreaming of the days that are gone and wondering if ever again I will see the parts of the world that aren't filled with clattering noises made by people, inhabited by people."

"I don't like people and their silly voices and their silly stares and their silly looks."

"I don't see anything to this world which they call the civilized world—I hear them talking about it."

"No, I don't see anything to it at all."

"I shall continue to look over the heads of every one of you."

"At least I can do that!"

Teaching the Office Boy

The office boy rushed into the boss' office with his hat on one side of his head and shouted, "Hey, boss! I want to get off to go to the ball game."

"William," said the boss, "that is no way to ask. Sit here at the desk and I will show you how."

He went from the room and returned with his hat in his hand, saying, "Please, Mr. Smith, may I go to the ball game this afternoon?"

"Sure, said Billy, "here is 50 cents for a ticket."

Rheumatism, Not Sympathy

Teacher—Willie, did your father whip you for what you did in school yesterday?

Willie—No, ma'am; he said the licking would hurt him more than me.

Teacher—What nonsense! Your father is too sympathetic.

Willie—It's not sympathy, ma'am; it's rheumatism.—Exchange.

POWER ON THE FARM HELPS FARM LIVING

W. M. Jardine, secretary of agriculture, in a recent discussion of power on the farm, pointed out that farms conditions in this country are constantly improving, says the Texas Public Service Information Bureau.

The substitution of power for human effort has undoubtedly had a marked influence upon progress in all civilized countries, particularly in the United States," says Mr. Jardine. The standard of living on farms in the United States is as high as anywhere in the world. If this standard is to be maintained or improved the equipment on our farms must be made as efficient as it is mechanically and economically possible to make it, and in considering new and increased uses of power it must be borne in mind that the farm organization is peculiar. Each farm is a home and an independent manufacturing establishment combined.

While great progress has been made in increasing the efficiency of farm workers, not all of the labor and power problems of agriculture have been solved. Agriculture today is passing through an important transition period in relation to its power.

The use of mechanical power in agriculture began about 1870. It progressed but slightly until 1890, when the use of steam engines for threshing began to increase rapidly. The use of gas engines also commenced at about this time, while the beginning of the utilization of electric power followed a few years later.

In the period from 1890 to 1924 the primary horse-power used on farms practically doubled while the area in crops increased only about 50 per cent. It is interesting to note that while the amount of animal power has increased but slightly during this period, the amount of mechanical power used has increased from less than two million horsepower in 1890 to about twenty-eight million in 1924.

Del Talferro and daughter, Miss Gorda, were Perryton visitors last Saturday. Miss Gorda remained here to attend the High School this winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Kramer Keith spent the week end visiting relatives at Shattuck, Oklahoma.

FAMOUS FORTS IN U. S. HISTORY

By ELMO SCOTT WATSON

Where "Star-Spangled Banner" Was Born

It is doubtful if ever America had known a darker dawn than the morning of September 11, 1814. Washington had been captured and burned by the British; our small navy had been driven to port by superior numbers; our army in Maryland had been defeated, and on that morning a British fleet sailed into the Patuxent river, headed for Baltimore, which the enemy hoped to capture.

The only obstruction to this scheme was a little fort three miles below Baltimore at Whetstone point on the Patuxent. Fort M'Henry was its name. A small fortification had been built there in 1776 and a more pretentious structure erected on the site in 1794. The only defensive force it could muster was a body of untrained troops, who would be called upon to defend their post against British veterans fresh from the continental wars—Wellington's Invincibles and Nelson's marines, winners at Trafalgar and the Nile. So the outlook was gloomy enough, for if Fort M'Henry fell, Baltimore fell, and America lay at the mercy of the invaders.

Early on the morning of September 12 the battle began with an attempt by the British soldiers to storm the earthworks which had been hastily thrown up to aid in the defense of Baltimore. That attack was repulsed by a storm of shot, slugs, scrap iron and nails from the American guns, which killed or wounded more than 600 British. The next morning the fleet advanced to bombard Fort M'Henry. All day long the battle raged, but the defenders of the fort under Col. George Armistead held their own.

Among the many who watched the progress of the battle was Francis Scott Key, who had gone to the British fleet to obtain the release of a friend, a civilian, arrested by the British on a charge of firing on them. All day long and far into the night he followed the fortunes of the fighting forces with painful intensity. He did not believe that Fort M'Henry could possibly hold out.

Then "at the dawn's early light" Key looked toward the fort and through the smoke and mist of morning he saw that "our flag was still there." With a heart overflowing with joy he sat down and wrote the words of the song which a nation has ever since been singing—"The Star-Spangled Banner."

HOT? 7,677 DEGREES

What is said to be the highest temperature yet produced by man is reported to have been reached at the University of Leeds, England, by the use of ordinary manufactured gas and oxygen, according to the university's "Fuel and Metallurgical Reports." These reports state that a temperature of 7,677 degrees was reached.

The impracticability of manufactured commercial oxygen on a large scale is one of the barriers to wide use of manufactured gas and oxygen, a combination which American Engineers claim will solve a great many industrial heating problems.

THE METHODIST CHURCH

There were 211 in Sunday School last Sunday, although the weather was a little threatening. Were you in that number? If not, you are missing a great deal by not meeting with those who are studying together or the word of the Lord. We find it necessary to have our eleven o'clock service next Sunday morning, as the following Sunday, the Presiding Elder will be with us for both morning and evening services, and to hold the fourth quarterly conference, and we need to get things in readiness; so let all members try to be present. The theme will be "Sin Bringeth it's own punishment, and righteousness it's rich reward."

There will be no evening service on account of the meeting in progress at the Christian church. All other services will be held at the usual time.

STATE OF TEXAS,
OCHILTREE COUNTY ss.

We the undersigned Jury of Freeholders, citizens of said Ochiltree County, Texas, duly appointed by the Commissioners' Court of Ochiltree County, Texas at its August Term, 1925, to view and establish a first class Road from point designated below and having been duly sworn as the law directs, hereby give notice that we will, on the 19th day of September 1925 assemble at beginning of said proposed road and thence proceed to survey, locate view, mark out and establish said road.

Beginning at a point in the West line of Section No. 137, about the S. W. Cor. of said section, Block 10, running in a Northeasterly direction, along the south property line of the N. T. & S. F. Ry. Co., across Sections 137, 138, 139, 126, 125, 124 intersecting at a point in the west line of Sec. 123, same block at Smyser Street in the town of Hantoon, running along Smyser Street;

Thence jogging to the South property line of the Railroad, running parallel in an Easterly direction across Sections 122, 121, 120, 119, there intersecting with the first Street South of the Railroad, being the North line of Out Lot No. 15, in the town of Booker, to the Lipscomb County line. All above described sections being in block 10, Ochiltree County, Texas.

And we do hereby notify any and all persons owning lands through which said road may run, that we will at the same time proceed to assess the damages incidental to the opening and establishment of said road, when they may, either in person or by agent or attorney, present to us a written statement of the amount of damages, if any, claimed by them. Witness our hands, this 19 day of August 1925.

Tire Prices Are LOW—CRUDE RUBBER HIGHEST IN YEARS

Buy Now and Save Money!

The unprecedented demand for Firestone quality and mileage has more than doubled the sales of Gum-Dipped Cords to car owners so far this year, enabling us—because of this tremendous volume—to keep prices low.

Experienced car owners insist on tires that deliver the greatest mileage at the lowest cost per mile, because such tires last longer—make the restricted rubber supply go further—reduce crude rubber costs—and help maintain the present low tire prices.

Gum-Dipping, the Firestone extra process, is also one of the biggest and most important economy factors in tire performance. This method of treating cord fabric, developed by Firestone tire chemists and engineers, insulates every fiber of every cord with rubber, and gives the sidewalls the extra strength to withstand the extra flexing strain—insuring maximum safety, comfort and economy.

Buy now—make sure of economical transportation by obtaining these outstanding Firestone superiorities at present low prices.

fall will be in the neighborhood of 46,400,000 acres, if farmers carry out the intended increase of 9.7 per cent. Allowing for the average abandonment the area to be harvested next summer would be about 40,424,000 acres compared with 32,813,000 acres harvested this year.

Should the yield be the same as this year, 12.7 bushels per acre, the lowest since 1904, the crop would reach 513,000,000 or 23 per cent more wheat than was harvested this year. A crop of 586,000,000 bushels or about 40 per cent more than this year would be produced should the yield per acre equal the average of the past ten years, which was 14.5 bushels.

The spring wheat crop has averaged 253,000,000 bushels in the past five years which added to 586,000,000 bushels of winter wheat would make a total of 839,000,000 bushels. This would produce an exportable surplus of from 160,000,000 to 240,000,000 bushels in the face of an upward trend in world production.

European countries have been gradually expanding wheat areas to the point that the area in 19 European countries is now 92 per cent of the estimated prewar average. The wheat areas in Australia, Argentine, and Canada have also been increased, so that the wheat average in these three countries combined is now about 53 per cent above the prewar average.

Farmers, in planning their planting, the department says, should consider not only the outlook for total wheat crop but also the outlook for the class of wheat produced. In recent years the United States has consumed for feed, seed, and in mill grindings, approximately 230,000,000 bushels of soft red winter, 200,000,000 bushels of hard red winter and wheat, in addition to practically all the hard red spring wheat produced. The experience of the past few years indicates that these quantities of these classes can be disposed of within the United States without competing in foreign markets.

BE READY FOR THE #### "COLD SNAP"

Two growers at Mabton, Wash., have sold their Anjou pears for $100 a ton. Both men heated their orchards freely to ward off spring frosts. Their price is from $20 to $35 a ton better than that paid for most other pears. Moses Sampson, Indian farmer on the reservation at White Swan, Wash., has sold his hop crop for a better price than that paid for most other hops; he has the best cultivated yard in Yakima County.

Hard luck may come to the best farmer, as it comes to the best business men in other lines. But the man who really tries to raise better crops almost always does it. There is the story of the shiftless farmer who objected to the young extension lecturer in his community: "What's the use of talking to me about better farming? Why, I don't even use what I do know about good farming."

Frosts are certain to come in business or farming and the wise operator will have his heaters and his resources ready for the "cold snap."

PAY THE COUNTRY PREACHER MORE MONEY

One occasion that does bring farm folks together much at this season of the year, and under most wholesome influences, is the annual revival or "protracted meeting" at the local church. Its spiritual influence is, of course, always the supreme consideration, and yet it may not be improper to mention also its social values. It promotes fellowship and friendships and neighborliness in incalculable degree.

And this reminds me to say, based on what I know of our country preachers both in the neighborhood of Hilltop Farm and in the old neighborhood where I was reared, that it is a pity they are not better rewarded for their efforts. I am right much inclined to agree with what my friend J. A. Sharpe said the other day:—

"There is an evil which hath been observed under the sun. It is the traveling professed evangelist who bloweth into a town uninvited, maketh large professions with his mouth, bloweth his own horn shamelessly, talketh much for a few days, and departeth with much money contributed by local brethren—much more money than is contributed for much longer and more uplifting service by faithful local servants of the Lord who labor in season and out of season in the Lord's vineyard, who comfort the people in sickness, bury their dead and share their sorrows; men whose lives are an open book, read of all men, shining lights in the community, pointing to God and heaven and good citizenship."

There is another thought that occurs to me in this connection and that is this: Of course, we don't want an "established church" in this country with public taxes levied to support it, as they have in England, and yet there is something in the fundamental English idea that the local church, like the local school, is an agency of civilization that should be supported by all the property round about it. Hence the time should come when the "absentee landlord," the man who owns land in the community but lives somewhere else, will be expected to contribute something to help the churches of the neighborhood where his property exists. Nor would this be philanthropy; it is only simple justice. Let the churches and their influences for good disappear from the community where his land is situated; let blind tigers bootleggers, and immorality flourish unrestrained; let a generation uninfluenced by church or Sunday School grow up around his land, and nobody would be willing to pay the landowner more than half its present value. It is only fair, therefore, to ask absentee landlords to help the country churches near where they have land-holdings.—Clarence Poe, in The Progressive Farmer.

Mr. and Mrs. Ike Henline of the Palestine community were Perryton visitors one day last week.

Father Crine, priest of the Catholic Church at Liberal, was a Perryton visitor last Sunday.

INCREASES PRODUCTION 16%

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 17.—Sustained demand and a growing list of unfilled orders has caused the Chevrolet Motor company to increase heavily its production schedule during September. The schedule revision involves an increase of more than 16 per cent in the production program originally planned for September. The new schedule calls for 63,165 motors cars and trucks in September, a Chevrolet for that month and only 3,078 less than the highest production in the history of the company. Both day and night shifts have been augmented to maintain the new schedule. The company shipped 34 cars to dealers on Aug. 31, establishing a new record 600 higher than the largest previous shipment in one day. The company, which recently made its two-millionth car, attained during August a greater production thus far for 1925 than the entire production for 1924.

Several factors have contributed to the unprecedented demand according to C. E. Dawson, assistant general sales manager of the Chevrolet Motor company.

"The August 1 reduction of $40 to $60 in the closed model prices together with the announcement of the improvements on all models caused a still further increase in the unfilled order list," said Mr. Dawson. "The greatest demand at present appears to be for the Chevrolet Coach. Increased popularity also has been gained by the new Utility Express one-ton truck which has replaced the former truck of the same name.

"Another factor in car demand is the rapid economic recovery of the south and the southwest where purchasing power is now on a par with the remainder of the country."

THE LEGISLATIVE FLOOD

Reviewing the work of legislatures in different states there is a ray of light in a few of the high water mark of new laws has been reached and flood is receding.

The Illinois legislature that adjourned the other day enacted only 302 new laws and 38 of these were appropriation and enabling acts.

In spite of having hundreds of statutes that are absolutely dead letters on the law books, Illinois added 280 more rules of conduct.

But the tide has turned and the Illinois legislature enacted 56 less bills than were ground out in the legislative grist two years before.

Several other states have made a similar record and it must be a satisfactory feeling to know that as time goes on, not only fewer new laws may be enacted, but more and more old ones may be repealed.

WINTER WHEAT OUT-LOOK FOR 1926

Winter wheat production in the United States next year will be considerably in excess of probable domestic requirements if reported intentions of farmers to increase acreage some 4,000,000 acres above last year are carried out and average yields are secured, the Department of Agriculture points out in its wheat outlook report released today.

This situation, the department says, would place winter wheat on a world market basis. The fact that our market is now on approximately a domestic basis is considered largely to have brought about the present favorable market position of wheat producers.

The winter wheat area sown this

About Your Health

Things You Should Know

by John Joseph Gaines, M.D.

DANGER IN COLD, BUT—

Cold is one of the most powerful agencies opposed to free circulation of the blood. Immerse the hands in ice-water,—blanching, stiffening and pain will result. Free circulation of the blood is the outstanding essential for good health. It is true that cold bathing is, in certain conditions, a valuable procedure, but abuse of this powerful agency is certain to produce harm. Unless there is prompt reaction after cold applications to the surface of the body, there are few measures more dangerous.

Cold contracts the capillaries and forces the blood elsewhere from the point of contact. If the surface of the body be chilled for a considerable time, the blood is driven into the lungs or other internal organs with great force, and stasis will result. Thousands of invisible bacteria find lodgement in the congested tissues, and multiply rapidly—as in pneumonia, arthritis and even meningitis. Cold is a much more deceptive agency than heat,—the latter warning its victims in time, while cold may inaugurate a fatal disease, without imperative admonition.

The subject of "winter bronchitis" will occur with the advent of cold weather. Many elderly people are afflicted with this distressing malady, and swallow barrels of cough mixtures which may or may not give temporary relief. Air your bedrooms daily, and close them at night. Aging people should not sleep in cold air, neither should they be exposed to sudden changes of temperature. There is no sense in changing a comfortable room into a most uncomfortable one, and warm air may be just as pure as cold.

WHAT'S DOING IN WEST TEXAS

Ballinger, Texas—Within a short time the cotton rush will be on in Runnels county and there will be busy times for the next sixty days or longer. The gins are humming and the daily receipts of cotton are increasing on the local market. Up to date more than thirty bales have been marketed.

Muleshoe, Texas—A fleet of seven trucks have been provided for the schools here for the purpose of conveying the children to and from school, rain or shine, regardless of weather. Muleshoe has a population of 1,000 and is located in the heart of the great plains district.

Moran, Texas—The Moran Luncheon Club met recently with more than sixty members and visitors present. The Moran Band rendered several selections before the luncheon, at which J. F. Scott, of Halleyville, Oklahoma, was the principal speaker.

Amarillo, Texas—In session last week at Fort Worth, the Texas Department of the American Legion selected Amarillo as the place for the 1926 convention. Amarillo put up a stiff fight, eliminating Houston, her strongest competitor.

Plainview, Texas—Agricultural Exhibits of Hale county will be shown this year at the Amarillo Tri-State Fair and Exposition; the Texas-Oklahoma Fair at Wichita Falls, and the State Fair of Texas at Dallas. Col. R. P. Smyth, Sam T. Scaling and plans for the developing and building of Brady and McCulloch county.

Artesia, N. M.—Plans are under way here for two additional municipal improvements. Plans for the installation of a modern street lighting system, also a paving program were submitted to the City Council at a meeting recently held.

Comanche, Texas—More than 5,000 people here heard the address of R. Q. Lee, President of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, on diversified and intensive farming. An informal reception for Mr. Lee was held and numerous farmers discussed with him the program he is advocating. Following the speaking a water-melon feast was held on the courthouse lawn and several hundred melons furnished by the local Chamber of Commerce and Lions' Club were served.

Quanah, Texas—Contact has been let for the remodeling of the Tribune Chief building here. After a 35-foot brick extension, two linotypes and three job presses will be put into the building. A concrete floor is to be laid, the walls plastered, a metal ceiling put in, and the old iron front will be replaced by a modern brick front with plate glass.

Littlefield, Texas—Water mains are now being rapidly laid on the streets of Littlefield. The two wells furnishing the water supply have been completed and pumps installed. The Chamber of Commerce is now discussing ways and means for a sewerage system and the paving of the main street of the town.

Maury Hopkins, Secretary of the Board of City Development will have charge of the exhibits.

Childress, Texas—The Fort Worth & Denver City Railway Company is erecting the second large steel storage tank in Childress. The tank is being built on a concrete and steel support with a diameter of 24 feet and more than 60 feet to the top of the cover. The capacity of the tank will be 150,000 gallons of fuel oil for locomotives.

Brady, Texas—A. H. Broad was re-elected president of the Brady Chamber of Commerce at a meeting of the directors recently held, and Wm. D. Cargill was re-elected secretary. Considerable time was given to the hearing and discussing of

A HOME-MADE MACHINE FOR DUSTING COTTON

In many areas of North Texas and the eastern coast section, following recent rains, the damage from leaf worm is becoming severe. In a large part of this area it will probably be profitable to poison for a period of three or four weeks yet, if necessary.

Many farmers are inquiring where dusting machinery may be obtained. The ready supply of such machines is limited and in most cases, before a machine can be shipped the damage will have been done; hence, the method of being used by McLennan county farmers as advised by County Agent Eudaly should be of extreme interest.

A cultivator, without shovels, is fitted up with a 2x4 placed crosswise behind the seat, of such length as to cover five rows. Lengths of 2x4 running backward from the tongue are used to raise this the necessary height above the cotton. At intervals on the cross-piece, so as to hang directly over each row, are hung bags of cheese-cloth filled with calcium arsenate. The necessary shaking of the bags is secured by rope wrapped about the tires of the wheels at two-foot intervals. In sandy soil it may be necessary to tie two-inch blocks of wood on the tires in places of this rope.

If the cotton is large, the quantity of poison applied is increased by driving the team fast, while in small cotton the team may be slowed down. The McLennan county farmers are reported as having full success in poisoning by this method.

We are attempting to keep in touch with supplies of poison and if farmers are unable to locate same, they should communicate with the Experiment Station Entomologist, or with the Extension Service Entomologist, both of College Station, Texas. By R. R. Reppert, Entomologist.

Having the Last Word

By SIDNEY M. WILDHOLT

(© 1925, Western Newspaper Union.)

MRS. WILLIAMS bustled out of the back doorway from her kitchen, ostensibly to sweep off the rear porch.

"Good morning, Mrs. Williams," she said.

"Good morning, Mrs. Chase." Mrs. Williams was inwardly relieved. She waited a decorous interval and went on: "You know Miss Matilda Merritt."

Mrs. Chase solemnly nodded. She had no need to nod. It was Miss Matilda, who, acting as representative of the estate that owned most of the houses, collected the rents. Oh, yes, Mrs. Chase knew Miss Matilda.

Mrs. Williams paused dramatically. "Well, she rode away with him in a taxi last night."

Miss Matilda had two rooms on the third floor of Mrs. Williams' house.

"You don't mean she went away with Samuel P. Sanderson?" chirped Mrs. Chase.

"Exactly," confirmed Mrs. Williams. "In a taxi, about seven o'clock."

"That means she's after him, all right," Mrs. Chase commented.

"And that isn't all," Mrs. Williams continued. "I didn't hear her come in last night. She must have got back after I was abed and asleep."

"Probably a show and supper afterward," suggested Mrs. Chase.

"Perhaps she didn't come back," Mrs. Williams observed ominously. "I only said I didn't hear her come in."

"You don't mean—?"

"It would be just like her," Mrs. Williams complained in an injured tone.

Mrs. Chase shook her head sadly.

"Not so much as a good-by or gratitude or anything," Mrs. Williams went on.

"Yes," agreed Mrs. Chase. "Especially you. You saw Mr. Sanderson going into his big house out in Auburn that day, and you told Miss Matilda about it, and then you found out that the house belonged to Sanderson, the lawyer, and you told her that, too."

"Well," said Mrs. Williams, "what can you expect? He met her walking by the house one day with his portfolio under his arm. She told me that she dropped one of her bills—it was the day she was collecting rents—and when he picked it up for her she explained she was going her monthly rounds. He laughed and said that walking would do her good, just as he walked to do him good."

"He must be past forty," Mrs. Chase remarked.

"But his walking, I suppose, keeps him young," remarked Mrs. Williams. "Miss Matilda asked him, you know, after I told her about the big car in front of his house, why he didn't ride sometimes, and that was what he said—that walking kept him young." She paused. "And Miss Matilda's thirty-six herself," she hoarsely whispered.

"Well, if she hooks him she'll lord it over us," mourned Mrs. Chase resignedly.

"If she hooks him," Mrs. Chase repeated scornfully.

The two women finished sweeping their bottom steps together. They heard a door open. It was the door upstairs, and Miss Matilda Merritt herself stood in the doorway.

"Good morning Mrs. Williams," said Miss Matilda cheerfully. "I came down to ask you—"

"Good morning," Mrs. Williams replied. "Did you have a good time with your lawyer last night?"

"He's not a lawyer," Miss Matilda said bluntly.

"Not a lawyer?" Mrs. Williams repeated in a puzzled voice. "Samuel P. Sanderson not a lawyer?"

Miss Matilda clenched her fingers and regarded her two small flats intently for a moment—not, however, purposing any violence.

"His name is not Samuel P. Sanderson," she replied.

Mrs. Williams was stunned. "But—but—" she stammered. "But that was Mr. Sanderson's house."

Miss Matilda's eyes flashed sudden fire. "That may be," she admitted grimly, and then, "but it's not his house!" she exclaimed defiantly.

Mrs. Williams gazed at Miss Matilda open-mouthed, but silent—for once.

Miss Matilda glared with suppressed anger and chagrin. "He's only a book salesman," she exploded. "He walks," she added maliciously, "to keep young. He had occasion to walk one day into the driveway of Samuel P. Sanderson, the lawyer. Furthermore, he thought that I owned all these houses from which I collect rents—or did collect rents," she amended.

Mrs. Williams regained control of her temporarily paralyzed tongue. "He did?" she gasped.

"He did," asserted Miss Matilda with emphasis. "He had the audacity to say so—last night."

"Oh," breathed Mrs. Williams softly. Mrs. Williams subsided, nay, expired in that breath.

"I came down," Miss Matilda said, reverting to the statement Mrs. Williams had interrupted. "I came down, Mrs. Williams, to ask you to forward my mail."

Mrs. Williams stared.

Miss Matilda handed her a slip of paper with a written address. "You see," she added, turning back up the stairs. "I'm packing up now, because," she paused to plunge home the full force of her revelation, "because I married him last night!"

SPORTSMANSHIP

The football season is here, and with it comes the most strenuous competition known in the world of sport.

Ancient rivals will meet ancient rivals. Hot-blooded youth will be pitted against hot-blooded youth. There will be feuds and hatreds stirred by the bitterest conflicts.

In view of these things it is well, right now, to consider one thing which raises football to the position of pre-eminence among sports which it now enjoys. That one thing is sportsmanship, and only so long as it remains the guiding star of the football teams of the country, will football retain its popularity.

College sportsmanship is a delicate thing, like all other things which are based on the ideal.

The team which can throw every ounce of its strength into the conflict, which can dig its cleats into that last white line and repel the rushes of the foe with the courage of despair, which can risk limbs and ribs in headlong tackles and blocking, which can face certain defeat and only fight harder—and yet which can treat its foe with knightly courtesy, and refuse to take advantage of every circumstance not included in the canons of fair sport—that team has learned the formula of sportsmanship.

The team which does not play its hardest in a game is not regarded as showing sportsmanship. It is scorned as being soft.

A couple of illustrations will show the point.

Nowhere in the world is there a more bitter rivalry than exists between Yale and Harvard, the great New England universities. Yet nowhere in the world is there a higher ideal of sportsmanship than between these two schools.

Four years ago, Yale was facing a great Harvard team, led by Charley Buell, quarterback extraordinary. Buell had been injured in a previous game, and it was known that if he were even tackled hard, he would have to leave the contest, and take with him everything which his genius meant to his team.

Before the game Buell limped on the field and it became plain that he would enter the contest. Immediately the Yale team was called together into a conference.

When the game started, it was plain that Buell as not being attacked in the vicious manner that might have been expected.

"The whole team seemed to be protecting me," he said after the game. "I saw blue figures actually warding hurtling bodies from me."

He lasted the game out, and Harvard won, 10 to 3. Yale sportsmanship might be said to have lost the contest, but Yale sportsmanship had impressed 70,000 people who watched the game more than any score could have done.

Two years ago occurred another example of the same sportsmanship. This time it was Yale which swept all before it. Harvard's team was badly shot to pieces. Man after man had been injured, until the team used its requisite number of chances to take time out. From then on, under the rules, every request for time out took two yards from the side asking it.

Yale had driven Harvard back to the three-yard line, when a Harvard lineman was injured. The doctor came on the field. The referee was about to blow his whistle, when Captain Mallory of Yale, went to him.

"You may call time out, but Yale refuses to accept the penalty," he said.

A few minutes later Yale crashed across for the touchdown, and when the blue spilled across that last white line, not a man of the team but felt the elation which comes of achievement against odds; not a man of the Harvard team but felt the admiration which clean sportsmanship inspires.

These stories are both vouched for by a Harvard man who is also a Wichita man.

They illustrate the best in football. They illustrate the lesson which football can teach, and which applies to every contest the football player will be called to meet in after life.—Liberal News.

PATENTS GRANTED TO RESIDENTS OF TEXAS

Of 863 patents issued in the last week, Texas inventors obtained 20.

That these inventions are worth while is attested by the number of patents that already have been assigned for manufacture and sale. In other cases the inventors are planning to manufacture them themselves or still are negotiating for assignments or royalties.

The following information is compiled by Mann & Co., of New York and Washington, patent and trademark attorneys.

Zeno E. Daughdrill, of Corsicana. Apparatus for treating oil. This relates to new and improved apparatus for treating oil with which are mixed water and gas.

Edward A. Foster, of Ibox, Via Albany, Spring. This invention has reference to springs for vehicles, especially for automobiles.

Albert Kramer, of Harper. Insect Destroyer. This produces a device which will remove insects and their larva from living plants and from the ground beneath the plants and destroying the same and without injuring the plants.

Victor Randel, of Huntsville. Device for removing the skin from sliced Bacon. This invention relates to an improved device for removing the skin from sliced bacon by a cutting operation.

Albert T. Walraven, Book Cover. This forms end and side flaps and reinforcing tabs without cutting or the use of guide lines.

Robert C. Russell, of Dallas. Radiator cap. This provides a radiator cap of the quick opening type and includes means that it cannot be removed without the aid of tools. Mr. Russell assigns his patent to Rees-Russell Mfg. Co.

Elmer E. Davis, of Cisco. Tube and Rod Trap. This invention relates to a combination tube and rod trap for use in fishing for broken rods, tubes or the like in deep wells.

Charles T. Adams, of Dallas. Mop and Wringer. This provides a mop and wringer arranged and constructed in such a manner as to enable the mop to be wrung easily and quickly and to provide uniform and satisfactory results in its wringing arrangement. Mr. Adams assigns one-half of his patent to Clarence W. Wheeler.

Robert A. Mueller, of Houston. Expandible Piston. This relates to pistons of the expanding type and is particularly adapted for use on pumps.

William J. Kaar, of Sherman. Vehicle Direction Indicator. This provides a vehicle direction indicator, which is simple in construction, inexpensive, strong and durable, and further well adapted for the purposes for which it is designated.

Frank K. Lathrop, of Longview. Harrow Tooth Clamp. This invention relates to means for detachably securing harrow teeth to the U-shaped cross bars of a harrow frame. Mr. Lathrop assigns his patent to G. A. Kelly Plow Co.

Leighton Green Knipe, of Alpine. Building Construction. This provides novel and improved means for constructing a wall in which is employed a false work vertical frame.

Hubert W. Baker and Otis L. Sims of San Angelo. Animal Trap. This provides a device which may be associated with a bait chamber of any form, size or construction.

Benjamin F. Waldron, of Mexia. Nozzle. This is adapted to be used for raising oil or other liquids, through the instrumentality of pressure derived from natural gas.

Hayden C. Snoddy, of Houston. Dish Drier. This is an improved construction designed to be hung on the

We Must Work Together

EVERY thoughtful citizen of this community is interested in its development and progress. There's no question about that! We all want our children to enjoy better homes, better schools, better parks—more agreeable surroundings and greater comforts.

We all want our town to keep step with its neighbors, to take the lead in civic affairs. So there is only one sound plan for us to follow:

We must work together to increase the wealth of this community by doing everything we can to encourage local business.

When you and your family patronize our advertisers—the stores and banks of our town—and keep your money in circulation right here at home, there is no power on earth that can prevent our progress.

DON'T BE ONE OF THOSE WHO WILL SAY, "I WISH I HAD". BE ONE OF THOSE WHO WILL SAY, "I AM GLAD THAT I DID ATTEND RAGSDALE'S QUIT BUSINESS SALE, AND I SURE LAID ME IN A SUPPLY, FOR HIS PRICES ARE THE LOWEST I HAVE SEEN IN MANY YEARS." WE MEAN IT! CLOSING OUT TO QUIT! SELLING IT OUT REGARDLESS OF COST! THE GOODS MUST GO!
