IN WITH THE NEW — Although it hasn't been completely installed, The Herald's new Goss Community offset press (above) is operable and today's edition of the paper is one of the first results of the new method of printing. Workmen dismantled the old press after Sunday's edition of

The Herald had been 'put to bed,' making room for the other two units which will be installed, as well as for additional storage space. The Herald thus ceased to be a 'hot type' operation.

Herald's Old Press Did Its Job To Very End

Take care of a press, and it never wears out. This axiom of the trade isn't necessarily so, but time has ways other than wear and tear by which it changes things. And so the Herald's old Hoe Simple 32-page press clattered its last breath early Sunday morning. Today it reposes in pieces behind the Herald building where it was skidded following its final run. The heavy units were unbolted from the massive foundations, eased over the underlying pit, and snaked unceremoniously to the parking lot. What remained was a candidate for the junk man — an ignominious end for a press that had ground out the momentous news stories of the past half century.

Presiding now as sole survivor of the Herald's press room is a new Goss Community offset press, equipped with balloon former which will provide far greater flexibility than the old press had. It also turns out its papers with an entirely different process, and with greater fidelity of reproduction. Stan Flood, erector for the Goss Press Company, has been in charge of installing the new press and tuning it like a musical instrument ready for concert.

FIRST IN CANADA

Originally, the old Hoe Simple was installed in Ontario, Canada and was acquired by the Herald when it erected its present plant in 1956. Ray (Red) McMahan, the Herald's veteran pressman, helped clean and shine its parts and erect it over the foundations, which then cost as much as a modest home. That were poured entirely separately from the and padded with asphalt cushion to reduce vibrations. Although it had turned out several hundred millions of copies papers by the time the Herald got it, McMahan petted, cajoled and heaped anathemas upon it until it yielded sharp, bright copies. But in its later years, the press began to feel the ravages of time as parts crystallized.

More than once the folder went out. Once or twice press helpers forgot to tighten printing plates to their cylinders, and they shattered — almost doing the same to the press certainly to the pressman's nerves. Key gears began to strip; a main drive shaft once sheared. The ponderous electric motors gave up the ghost a couple of times. Parts became an increasing problem, for the model long since had gone out of existence; more and more machinists had reproduce ailing items.

KEPT IT GOING

When Red McMahan retired, there was speculation that the press would disintegrate and crumble into the pit, but J.B. Deans kept it going with occasional interruptions, and then Alton David presided over the last days of the venerable, ponderous machine, which is anticipating the end, only last week, stripped an inking gear. The new press has capabilities of producing four colors (which, by overlying, can produce full color reproduction) and still come out with a 16 page section. The Hoe, which came into being before the era of color, could handle four colors only by reducing the 32 page potential to four pages. Because of the balloon former (which gathers and inserts separate sections) the Goss Community press will deliver uneven sections a 12 page and a 10 page section, for example. The Hoe could do it only in even multiples like eight and eight, etc. Then new press can increase its run in multiples of two pages, whereas to the Hoe could jump only in multiples of four. The old Hoe used the letter press—that is inking the type and pressing it against the paper—process. The new Goss is similar to a lithography. This means that when the printing plate is inked, water takes off the ink on all but the exposed (type and pictures) areas, transferring this to a roller and paper for a much smoother, brighter reproduction.

Vets Job Is Filled

CHICAGO (AP) — President Ford today named his "personal friend and former congressional colleague" Richard I. Roudebush of Indiana to be the new administrator of Veterans Affairs.

Ford promised to see that veterans are "not just a digit in a computer system that sometimes goofs." He warned, however, that with America "fighting for its economic life," he would not hesitate to veto any bill, including the pending veterans education bill to control "inflationary excesses."

"I am open to conciliation and compromise on the total amount authorized so that we can protect veteran trainees against the rising cost of living," the President said.

Ford, making the first trip in his new presidency, came to Chicago to address the 75th annual convention of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Ford, who served in the Navy in World War II, pledged to work for more jobs for veterans, better hospital facilities and a humanized and better-run VA administration.

Ford reiterated his commitment to a strong national defense, warning that he would "offer no temptations" to potential adversaries who watch U.S. readiness.

'TERRIBLE CRIME'

Mob Kills U.S. Envoy

The American ambassador to Cyprus, Rodger P. Davies, was shot to death today when a mob of Greek Cypriots attacked the U.S. Embassy in Nicosia to protest American policy in the Cyprus crisis.

Cypriot President Glafcos Clerides announced Davies' death over Cyprus Radio after visiting the embassy. "I denounce this terrible crime against Cyprus in the strongest terms and express my deepest sorrow and sympathy," he said.

WOMAN SLAIN

Witnesses said at least some of the shots were fired by men known to be members of EOKA-B, the pro-Greek underground guerrilla group that helped overthrow Cypriot President Makarios last month.

A Cypriot woman employee at the embassy was killed and two others working at the embassy were wounded in the attack.

Davies, 53, a veteran diplomat, had been deputy assistant secretary for Near East and Southeast Asian affairs before being assigned to Cyprus on July 10, five days before Makarios was overthrown. Witnesses said some of the shots at the embassy were fired by persons wearing the distinctive berets and camouflage fatigues of EOKA-B, the Greek Cypriot guerrilla group seeking Enosis, or union with Greece.

The riot began with an anti-American demonstration, as more than 12,000 Greek Cypriots marched on the embassy with banners. "Kissinger is a murderer," "Shame to the Americans," "America will pay," the banners read. The crowd chanted similar slogans, furious over the Turkish army's unanswered assault on Cyprus and convinced that the United States had supported Turkey in last week's war.

The ambassador's car, standing on the street outside the embassy, was set ablaze and burst like a bomb when the flames reached its gas tank.

Minimum Pay Scale Will Force Up Hangars' Cost

By TROY BRYANT

The Howard County Commissioners voted to accept an additional cost of $2,075 on the bid submitted by Chapparral Construction Co. for the construction of T-hangars at the Howard County airport.

The additional costs were added on as a result of a federal requirement setting minimum wages for workers on a project using federal funds.

Under the Davis Bacon act, the employees of the construction firm must be paid a minimum wage which has been set higher than Chapparral normally pays.

The extra cost was not included in the original bid and the $2075 was the amount of additional wages that had to be paid.

In other action, the commissioners tentatively approved the construction of a chain link fence around the fair barns in order to control admission to the fair, if a release can be obtained from the Rodeo Association, who owns the land the fence is to be built on.

According to Howard County Fair Association board member Johnnie Walker, the Rodeo association agreed to let the Fair Association use the land for as long as they owned it.

The 2300 feet of fence was estimated to cost about $9,000.

The Commissioners also authorized the County Treasurer to repay bondsmen Clyde Chessar a $97.50 bond he posted for the appearance of a suspect in an assault case.

After the suspect was released on bond, he was later charged with murder and jailed.

Justice of the Peace Walter Grice, not aware that the suspect was in jail, forfeited the bond when he did not appear for trial.

Grice authorized the repayment of the bond when the mistake was uncovered, but the Commissioners had to give the final okay in the matter.

The repayment of the bond will not affect the murder or the assault charges that the suspect faces.

County Road

Administrator Marvin Hanson reported that paving had begun on county roads, but he has learned that asphalt will not be available to the county until about Sept. 16. The paving can be completed after that date if the weather remains warm for several days, according to Hanson.

County Judge A. G. Mitchell noted that in Howard County, where the asphalt is produced, cannot even get hold of asphalt which is shipped elsewhere.

Action was pending at press time on a request from Highway Patrolman Don Bates that the county purchase three moving radar units and four high band radios for the THP units here in the county.

He noted that since the city and county went to the new type radios, the THP units were not in contact with either the city or county units. The cost of the radios and radars was estimated at about $8700.

The Commissioners are investigating the possibility of using a federal grant for the purchase of the radios.

'ALPHABET BOMBER'

LA Explosion Easy As A-B-C?

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A mysterious "alphabet bomber" who has terrorized this city with threats of violence has claimed responsibility for a weekend chemical explosion that leveled a city block in a downtown industrial section.

Authorities had said earlier that the massive explosion which destroyed a warehouse and burned several buildings Saturday night was not caused by a bomb but by a chemical ignition.

The search continued for the bomber. A thousand extra police assigned to the case have received more than 200 calls on the identity of Isaac Rasim, the foreign-accented man who now claimed responsibility for planting at least three bombs in the Los Angeles area, including the fatal Aug. 6 airport blast that killed three persons and injured 35 others.

Rasim and his previously unknown group, "Aliens of America," told the Los Angeles Herald-Examiner in a telephone call Sunday that his group was responsible for a chemical blast Saturday in the parking lot of the Interamerican Star Trucking and Warehouse Corp. The caller identifying himself as Rasim has frequently contacted the Herald-Examiner to make pronouncements on his siege of terror. "Our investigators are looking into Rasim's contention," said Police Cmdr. Peter Hagan.

The calm speaking caller, believed of eastern Mediterranean extraction, told the newspaper: "Last night's work at 7th and Mateo is the delinquent leftovers of our activities one week ago. Our promise to keep (inaudible) clear of friends is in effect. And we want some public reaction on behalf of public representatives in order not to shorten those few days."

Rasim has been nicknamed the alphabet bomber because of his claims that he set off explosives connected with the letters of his group's name. He had indicated his next target would have some connection with the letter "I," the third letter in his organization's name.

WASHINGTON AP — The Fish and Wildlife Service is restructuring its law enforcement division, says Director Lynn A. Greenwalt, so that it can deal more effectively with wildlife law violation.

The service's six regions will be divided into 13 districts, each managed by a special agent who will have a modest force to cover the district's investigative and law enforcement responsibilities. These responsibilities have been increased by Congress in recent years.

'FANTASTIC OFFER' Misleading Sales Pitch

AUSTIN — If you're looking through the classified section of your newspaper, sooner or later you're sure to run across an ad that reads something like this:

"Business opportunity! New firm expanding into this area needs distributor for national product. No selling required. Earn $20,000 a year working part-time! Proven investment returns. Call Mr. Wonder."

If you respond to this or similar ads, there's a chance you could become the object of a misleading sales pitch for a less-than-profitable distributorship. If deceptive, the sales routine generally follows this pattern:

Mr. Wonder comes to your house or sends a sales representative to explain the distributorship investment opportunity. The product to be distributed may be anything from film to children's books to vending machines that dispense freeze-dried coffee or soup.

VENDING MACHINES Very likely, you will be shown lavish colored photographs and brochures of the product designed to impress you with the fact that large amounts of money can be made with little effort. The salesman of such a product as vending machines may get you to agree that such a machine will sell at least 15 units of the product a day.

"But let's be conservative," he may say. "Suppose it sells only 10 units a day. Even at that, you can make $1400 a month if you purchase 10 machines and they earn 50 cents on each sale."

After describing the profitable machine locations provided by the company, the salesman will urge you to sign a contract immediately to take advantage of the "fantastic" offer for only $2,000.

When you sign, you may be told that a "locator" will call a few days after your machines are delivered to tell you the spots at which they will be placed.

"SOFT SOAP" So your machines are delivered, your money paid. After what may vary from a few days to never, the locator comes by with a list of locations for your machines and has you sign a form stating that "locations have been provided and are acceptable."

Later, when you survey the locations, you may find that your soup dispensing machine is located in the back of a beauty salon or service station where there is little public traffic.

Very seldom will you get a profitable location, so naturally, there is little chance for a return on your investment — no "monthly income without effort."

The Attorney General's Consumer Protection attorneys advise taking these precautions before investing any money in a distributorship:

Find out who the principal investors are in the company.

Ask for a list of other investors and contact them to learn what experiences they have had in dealing with the company.

Don't rely on the representations made to you by salesmen for such companies about investment returns, product quality, or anything else — verify these things yourself or ask others.

Don't be high-pressured into signing a contract immediately — think about the offer for a few days or even weeks, and have your lawyer look over the contract.

Check with your local Better Business Bureau to find out if any complaints have been filed on the company.

Always — with distributorships and any other consumer transactions — be wary of someone who promises big money returns for a minimal effort. If it sounds too good to be true, it probably is!

If you become suspicious of deceptive or misleading tactics by the seller of a distributorship, contact the Attorney General's Consumer Protection Division immediately.

GULF VETERAN — R. W. Worsham, chief engineer at the Coahoma LPG station for Gulf Refining Company, will be presented with a 40-year service award Sunday. He began his career with the company in Dubberly, La., district as a pipe liner. Later he served as assistant station engineer, engineer, telegraph operator, clerk and then chief engineer in the St. Louis and Midland districts.

President Will End Guessing

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford will end the 10-day vice presidential guessing game this week. Indications are he may choose someone other than the two front-runners in speculation, Nelson A. Rockefeller and George Bush.

Ford said on Sunday he expects to decide on his vice presidential choice by Tuesday. Congressional confirmation hearings on the nominee won't start before mid-September.

Rockefeller is the only possibility Ford has mentioned publicly.

He did so in a statement Saturday afternoon amid a flurry of speculation surrounding what the White House said was an effort by "right-wing extremists" to smear the former New York governor and destroy his chances.

"President Ford has advised me that former governor Rockefeller has been and remains under consideration for the vice presidential nomination," press secretary Gerald F. terHorst told reporters.

However, two knowledgeable Capitol Hill Republican sources told The Associated Press that chances were growing that neither Rockefeller nor Bush, the Republican National Chairman and top choice of many GOP conservatives, would be picked.

The sources said those in contention include NATO Ambassador Donald Rumsfeld, a Ford intimate who has been working on the transition from the Nixon administration; Gov. Daniel J. Evans of Washington, a moderate without any connection with Watergate or any of the other Nixon administration controversies; and three Republican Senators, Lowell P. Weicker Jr. of Connecticut, and Howard H. Baker Jr. and Bill Brock of Tennessee.

Both Weicker and Baker served on the Senate Watergate committee, where the Connecticut senator was the most outspoken Nixon critic.

One source said background checks on Bush had turned up a potential problem.

Newsweek magazine on Sunday said Bush has "slipped badly" because of alleged irregularities in the financing of his 1970 Senate race in Texas.

The magazine quoted unnamed White House sources as saying there was "potential embarrassment in reports that the Nixon White House had funneled about $10,000 from a secret fund into Bush's losing Senate campaign four years ago."

Bush could not be reached immediately for comment. But in Houston, Tex., Bush's 1970 state and county finance chairman denied there had been any irregularities in his campaign.

Presidential advisers were still saying over the weekend that Ford had given no indication of whom he favors.

Civic Center Widow Of Huntsville Will Open 'Break' Victim Shot

ANDREWS Andrews will open its new 1,600-seat, $450,000 civic center with a community gospel concert Saturday.

Official opening of the structure will be at 4 p.m. that afternoon with a ribbon cutting ceremony.

Andrews County Judge Roy Bennett said the center is being paid for with revenue sharing money.

The new center is equipped with complete kitchen facilities to serve banquets and parties.

Fort Worth country and western disc jockey Bill Mack will emcee the center's first major event, the Andrews Annual Gospel Concert. Joining Mack for the program will be the Oakridge Boys and the Segs Brothers and Naomi of Nashville and Bob Willis and the Inspirational of Fort Worth.

Also on the program will be the Soul Searchers of Midland, a former Andrews group, and Andrews' Bible Singers.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Police sought witnesses today in the serious wounding outside a bar of Theresa Dominguez, widow of one of two convicts slain Aug. 3 during a thwarted prison break at Huntsville. Police said Mrs. Dominguez shot twice early Sunday with a small caliber weapon, was in poor condition today.

Detectives said Mrs. Dominguez, 24, argued early Sunday with a relative at the bar where she was employed. Police said the argument centered around Mrs. Dominguez's five children.

Officers said Mrs. Dominguez and the relative carried their quarrel across the street to a vacant service station where Mrs. Dominguez was found a short time later, wounded in the chest and stomach. Police questioned the relative Sunday but said they were unable to learn many details of the shooting. No charges were filed against anyone, police said.

Mrs. Dominguez' husband, Rudolfo, 27, was killed with another convict, Fred Gomez Carrasco, during a shootout with prison guards as the two convicts and another inmate tried to end an 11-day standoff by escaping with a dozen hostages. The third inmate, Ignacio Cuevas, was captured unharmed. Two women hostages were slain in the gunbattle.

Panel Dismissed By Judge Caton

Potential jurors were dismissed this morning in 118th District Court after the case to be tried was postponed.

Judge R.W. Caton said the case in the state vs. Roy Carter was postponed due to a mixup on the evidence.

POLICEMAN IS WOUNDED IN PARK DISTURBANCE

City Patrolman Tony Chavez is in Cowper Clinic this morning suffering from a scalp wound and lacerations after he was struck from behind Sunday in Comanche Trails Park.

The patrolman was apparently struck from behind with a wine bottle while he was arresting John Henry Fox Jr. for disobeying a police officer and Roberto Mendoza for drunk and disorderly conduct.

Chavez and Dub Anglin were making the arrests at the location of a band concert in the park.

Although a large crowd witnessed the incident, they all claimed that they had not seen who struck the officer.

A city staff meeting this morning indicated that a recommendation will probably be made to the council requiring permits for bands in the park in the future, according to City Manager Harry Nagel.

A group of around 14 persons who were present in the park at the time the officer was struck came to the police station Sunday afternoon after the incident.

Some five or six persons came inside and demanded release of two prisoners while the rest of the group stood outside and hollered upstairs at the prisoners.

The group was told that there was no way to release the prisoner until after bond was set. The group quickly dispersed, according to Chief Vance Chisum.

AF Plane Widow Of Ex-Webb Missing Man Given Medal

CHARLESTON, S.C. (AP) — A U.S. Air Force transport airplane with seven crewmen aboard is missing on a flight from Charleston to La Paz, Bolivia, a military spokesman said late Sunday night.

According to the announcement, the C141 was due at La Paz around noon EDT on Sunday. However, radio contact was lost shortly before the expected arrival.

A military spokesman said the aircraft, which is assigned to the Charleston Air Force Base, was carrying about 16 tons of cargo. It left Charleston Saturday and stopped at Howard Air Force Base in the Canal Zone before heading for the Bolivian capital high in the rugged Andes Mountains.

All seven crewmen live in the Charleston area, the spokesman said.

They were identified as Capt. James R. Tant, the aircraft commander; Lt. Charles Moorfield Jr., copilot; Lt. Dale W. Lake, copilot; Capt. Paul N. Burroughs, navigator; T. Sgts. Carl H. Church and Thomas H. Kuechman, flight engineers, and M. Sgt. Joseph M. Gorin, load master.

"As the C141 fuel should now be exhausted and as best as has been determined it has not landed in an alternate location, the aircraft is presumed missing," the spokesman said.

HC's Team Does Well

Stock of the Howard College rodeo team took a rise during the weekend when HC recruits won both the all-around cowboy and all-around cowgirl titles of the American Junior Rodeo Association finals in Odessa Saturday.

Lisa Jo Mann, Hobbs, N.M., won three saddles for all-around, barrel and pole bending races. She was first for the AJRA season in barrel and optional racing and third in breakaway roping.

Billie Teague, Crane, captured the all-around boys title and saddle, first in optional roping and sixth in tie-down roping.

Other boys who will be on the HC team were Jessie Lane, Alamogordo, first in optional roping and sixth in calf roping, and John Stallard, Fort Sumner, N.M., seventh, and Olin Rust, Del Rio, 10th in bullriding.

Final AJRA standings (for HC team members) included: Kay Proctor, third, Carolyn Roan, sixth, Cindy Bird of Post, 14th; optional racing — Carolyn Roan, third, Kay Proctor fifth, Tonya Pettigrew seventh; girls breakaway racing — Lisa Jo Mann third.

First Intercollegiate Rodeo competition of the season is set for the third weekend of September in Hobbs, N.M.

The nation's highest decoration, the Medal of Honor, has been presented to the widow of Air Force Capt. Steven L. Bennett of behalf of her husband who was killed in Vietnam while attempting to save another's life. Captain Bennett had received his pilot training at Webb Air Force Base, graduating in 1969. Mrs. Linda Bennett of San Antonio accepted the honor in Washington D. C. from then Vice President Gerald Ford Aug. 8.

Capt. Bennett was cited posthumously for conspicuous gallantry and intrepidity in action at the risk of his life above and beyond the call of duty during hostilities in Vietnam June 29, 1972. Bennett, a forward air controller, was flying a lightly armed observation aircraft when he responded to assist a unit in danger of being overrun by a hostile force.

He was able to disrupt the attack of the enemy force but his aircraft was severely damaged by intense ground fire and his backseat crewman's parachute ripped by the ground fire.

"Although Capt. Bennett had a good parachute, he knew that if he ejected, the observer would have no chance of survival. With complete disregard for his own life, Capt. Bennett elected to ditch the aircraft in the Gulf of Tonkin, even though he realized that a pilot of this type aircraft had never survived a ditching."

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — The Atlanta Hawks and the Phoenix Suns of the National Basketball Association will play an exhibition game here Sept. 29.

The game was announced Sunday by Hawks Coach Cotton Fitzsimmons and Tom Boyette, coach and general manager of the Birmingham Stars, a local amateur basketball club.

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP) — Eight teams from around the world converged on central Pennsylvania this week for the 28th annual Little League World Series.

It is a baseball tournament that prides itself on tradition. However, there is one tradition of recent vintage that seven of the eight participants hope to end: Domination of the competition by teams from the Far East.

The Far East representative in the series has been victorious in seven of the past eight years. Teams representing leagues on the island of Taiwan have won the Far East regionals and gone on to win at Williamsport for three years running.

This year, New Haven, Conn., meets Kao Hsiung, Taiwan, in the opening round playoffs Tuesday of the Little League World Series.

Athens, Greece, goes against Central United States Champion Talmadge, Ohio, in the second game.

In Wednesday's preliminary action, Canadian champion Victoria, B.C., meets Red Bluff, Calif., and Maracaibo, Venezuela faces Jackson, Tenn.

HIRAM, Ohio (AP) — Cleveland Browns center Bob McElwain will undergo surgery on his left knee today, because of an injury suffered in Saturday's National Football League exhibition game with the Baltimore Colts in Tampa, Fla.

McElwain missed all of last season because of a shoulder injury. He was drafted in 1973 out of Michigan State and will miss all of this season because of the knee injury.

LINCOLN, R.I. (AP) — Lincoln Downs stewards handed jockey Frank Cornelle a five-day suspension for "failing to persevere with his mount" in the seventh race last Thursday. The suspension was effective Sunday.

Parkhill Will Sign Players

All fifth grade boys at Parkhill, Airport, Elbow and Forsan schools can sign up for Pee Wee (tackle) football at Parkhill school between the hours of 4:40 to 5:30 p.m., Tuesday. The school's team will be known as the Dolphins.

Registration fee for each boy will be $6. In addition, each player will be required to furnish his equipment.

3-0 VICTORY Astros Tip Expos

If the wind is blowing the right way, some batters need only get the ball into the jetstream and the wind will, more often than not, help deposit the ball over the right-field fence.

Sunday, Houston's Milt May hit a two-run homer in the seventh inning.

The wind-blown blast broke a scoreless tie following Bob Watson's single and started the Astros to a 3-0 victory.

Watson slammed a homer in the ninth to account for Houston's third run.

"Really, I didn't hit the ball that hard. I was trying to hit it hard enough to get it into the wind, but I really didn't hit it that well," Watson said.

It was a fast ball. It was a 3-2 count and I sort of was looking for a fast ball.

"But Tom Walker pitched a real good ball game for them. He made a lot of good pitches," Walker, now 2-3, entered the seventh with a two-hitter and for the most part had kept the Astros off balance.

But Expo batters failed to come up with key hits in clutch situations.

Walker collected his first major league hit in 17 at bats—a double to left in the third—to try and start a rally. Winning pitcher Dave Roberts, 6-8, walked Ron Hunt, but got out of further trouble when Willie Davis grounded to first baseman Cliff Johnson.

In the fourth, Bob Bailey led off with a single and went to third when Hal Breeden dumped a double into shallow right. The relay throw got away momentarily from Astros third baseman Doug Rader.

Smith Winner Here Sunday

Charlie Smith of Stanton hit 92 of a possible 100 Sunday to win the Western Sportsman's Club trap shoot.

V. W. Kemper broke 89 for second place while Ed Wright finished third with an 86. Fourth place went to Larry Barrett while David Barry was fifth.

The next match will be staged Sept. 15. Shooters and spectators are welcome at all Western Sportsman's Club matches. The shooting range is located nine miles west of Big Spring on the Andrews highway.

AL ROUNDUP Orioles Squeeze Out Victory Over Royals

Luis Tiant didn't exactly pitch well enough to win his 19th. Steve Busby did.

But then, things aren't always what they seem.

Tiant was cuffed around for 11 hits in 7-13 innings Sunday and was sent packing when Minnesota erupted for six runs in the eighth inning.

By then, though, Boston had given the veteran right-hander an eight-run cushion. So the Red Sox held on for a 9-6 triumph and Tiant became the only pitcher in the major leagues with 19 wins.

Busby, meanwhile, pitched a six-hitter against Baltimore—but the fifth hit was Paul Blair's double in the ninth inning and the sixth was Brooks Robinson's single.

So instead of getting victory No. 19, Busby scored only 11 runs in their six-game slide.

Sunday's assault against Geoff Zahn and three relievers also included two doubles by Robertson, one apiece by Zisk and Rennie Stennett, a two-run single by Willie Stargell and seventh-inning pitching by Larry Demery and Dave Giusti.

Reds 6, Mets 5

The Reds nailed down the triumph when Dave Concepcion blasted a tie-breaking three-run homer off Jon Matlack in the seventh inning after an intentional two-out walk to Tony Perez.

Cardinals 4, Giants 1

John Curtis pitched a five-hitter for the Cards' fourth straight victory and also singled home two sixth-inning runs off Tom Bradley. Curtis restricted the Giants to one unearned run.

St. Louis got a first-inning run on Reggie Smith's single and Bake McBride's triple. Mike Tyson's sacrifice fly boosted the lead to 2-0 in the fourth.

Phillies 7, Braves 4

Bill Robinson, Mike Schmidt and Willie Montanez homered for Philadelphia in support of Dick Ruthven's six-hit pitching.

Ruthven had real trouble only in the third inning, when the Braves scored three runs, two on Ralph Garr's homer.

NL ROUNDUP Dodgers Suffer Sixth Consecutive Setback

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Jim Wynn says Los Angeles' 10-3 thumping Sunday at the hands of the Pittsburgh Pirates may be just what the reeling Dodgers needed ... and it came in handy for the Cincinnati Reds, too.

While the Dodgers were suffering their sixth consecutive setback, the Reds were edging the New York Mets 6-5 to climb within 2½ games of front-running Los Angeles in the National League's West Division.

The Dodgers' margin is the smallest since they led Houston by two games on May 9 and it's the closest the Reds have been since they trailed by three games way back on April 26. They were 10½ out as recently as mid-July.

Elsewhere, the St. Louis Cardinals downed the San Francisco Giants 4-1, the Philadelphia Phillies turned back the Atlanta Braves 7-4, the Houston Astros blanked the Montreal Expos 3-0 and the Chicago Cubs clobbered the San Diego Padres 14-6.

Center fielder Wynn offered his theory after the Pirates pounded out 17 hits, most against the Dodgers this season, including home runs by Bob Robertson and Richie Zisk.

Win By 1-0 Rangers Blank Indians On Jenkins' Throwing

CLEVELAND (AP) — Neither manager sitting in his respective dugout at Sunday's Texas Rangers-Cleveland Indians baseball game believed that Jeff Burroughs' first-inning, solo homer would be enough to win the game.

But it was, when combined with Ferguson Jenkins' four hit shut-out pitching. The final was Texas 1, Cleveland 0.

"I never thought it (the onerun lead) would stand up in this ball park," said Ranger mentor Billy Martin. "Balls just fly out of this park. The Indians had a lot of opportunities, but they didn't take advantage of them."

Indians' Manager Ken Aspromonte said he didn't believe one run would do it until about the seventh inning and realized that Jenkins was getting better as the game progressed.

"You need at least one run to win a ball game," Aspromonte said. "And I didn't think we'd lose that one."

Jenkins said that he wasn't worried about throwing a home run pitch.

"Did you ever see Wrigley Field," said the former National League right-hander. "Pitching in that park is like pitching in this here locker."

Standing in front of a locker about two-feet wide and seven feet high, he continued, "I've given up my share of home run balls, but I don't worry about them. I just try to keep the ball down."

Jenkins 17-11 threw only 78 pitches in the ballgame that set the season time record of 1:36 minutes.

He was involved in the previous shortest game, when he threw 85 pitches against the Boston Red Sox on April 24. It took him 1:38 to beat the Sox 31 that day.

Burroughs smiled when asked if he had ever won a game with one home run before.

"The last time I did that was with Douglas Beverage and I was playing in the Little League," he said. It was Burroughs' 24th home run of the season and with it he became the first man to drive in 100 runs in the major league.

Peterson (8-8) gave up only four hits also, going the distance.

The Indians reached second base three times during the game and in every instance the man was retired.

Beleagured Stock Market

No matter what you feel is happening in the economy, you can be bullish on the stock market these days.

That is, the market is so profoundly depressed that it could surge upward for a long period of time and still not be out of phase with what is happening — or may happen — in the economy.

DAILY MOVEMENTS in the market have never been a particular good weather vane of the economy, of course — and there is broad disagreement over how good an indicator long-term market trends have been.

For instance, by the broad indexes, such as the Value Line Index, the stock market has been depressed since 1968.

While the Dow Jones (30 stocks) and various other indexes have had their ups and downs, the majority of stocks have been in a six-year slump.

But while stocks were going nowhere, the economy as measured by gross national product was going up, rather briskly, after a recessionary pause in 1970.

THEN, FOR THE first half of this year, the economy cooled off, with GNP after inflation down 4.1 per cent. What happened to stocks? They dropped more precipitously than the economy.

The average mutual fund, measured by the Hirsch Organization, declined 11.8 per cent in the first half. The 30 Dow Jones stocks dropped 5.7 per cent, while various other indexes dropped 10 per cent and more.

According to Media General, more stocks have hit their 7.5-year lows this year than in 1970. Media General also programmed its computers to round up stocks which were selling below working capital per share.

Media General reported itself "astounded" when its computers told it that more than 1,000 stocks, or almost one-third of the 3,438 stocks it follows, sold at less than working capital per share. (Working capital equals current assets less current liabilities.)

Thus, while the nation debates whether or not it is in a recession, the stock market wallows in a depression.

Optimum Use Of Energy

Optimum use of energy resources is neither a national nor a regional problem; it is one of global import. A policy of energy isolationism would not measure up to the requirements of an age when, for the first time, there is widespread realization that energy use and energy supplies are on a collision course.

In light of this fact, it is gratifying that the governments of the United States and Japan have signed a five-year agreement to cooperate in non-nuclear energy research and development. Consideration should also be given to reaching similar agreements with other nations.

The undertaking with Japan is an excellent start. A broad compass of possibilities for augmenting energy supplies will be included, ranging from such things as geothermal and solar power to sophisticated means of energy conversion. This is a promising enterprise — one which, in our view, ought to be established as a steadily widening international collaboration. Nothing less than such a program will be able to deal effectively with world energy problems.

The Real Focus

Around The Rim

Tommy Hart

One thing and another:

THOSE $500,000-a-year commentators (and I include Paul Harvey in their ranks) who are forever championing the cause of the anointed in Washington and pointing with fierce pride to the Secretary of State's signal successes in the horse latitudes sometimes forget what the chief rap is against the "ins" in the cerebral chambers of our nation's capital.

They don't realize, if indeed they ever brought into focus, how difficult it has become for a man who makes, say, $10,000 a year, to find all the scratch he needs to pay the bills.

THE BATTLE-SCARRED breadwinner's job gets increasingly difficult if he's dueling with a house mortgage that never seems to get any smaller, if he is driving a car which depreciates faster than he can make payments on it and if he is striving to keep the family larder from looking as barren as Mother Hubbard's cupboard.

FEW PUT THE rap on any individual, certainly not the man in the Oval Office, for the flabbiness of the dollar, but those in the bonodocks find it increasingly hard to understand why more of their tax money has to be regularly appropriated to keep the system operating with its accustomed ease — a system obsessed with the task of turning out more bureaucratic releases (in triplicate yet) which try to convey the idea that the ordinary citizen never had it so good.

And those agencies, let it be added, become a little more remote all the time.

THERE'S NO doubt but that marriage is a calculated risk. The odds are high that many a union will crash upon the rocks of discord because a man is forever seeking his ideal. She, after all, is after her ideal, too.

The young and the old perhaps are prone to take life in stride. The young look ahead, the ancients look back but the middle aged? They only look worried.

I once was in a Chinese restaurant in San Francisco and spied this message from a fortune cookie: "Disregard previous cookie — details follow."

THE CALIFORNIA Assembly recently passed overwhelmingly a bill which would make parents financially responsible for the graffiti their children paint on buildings, restrooms and other property.

What about those parents who are prone to leave their identifying marks in such places? The slab on which the Ten Commandments appeared would look like the 110 Commandments, if it was on public display today.

Public Broadcasting

By JAY SHARBUTT
(AP Television Writer)

NEW YORK (AP)—An ambitious five-year financing bill for public broadcasting resumes its congressional voyage this week, its spending ante upped $177 million by the Senate Commerce Committee.

The committee last Tuesday okayed a version of the bill to let the government spend up to $612 million on public broadcasting from fiscal 1976 through 1980. The spending would gradually increase each year, starting at $88 million in 1976 and reaching $160 million in 1980.

When the measure first was submitted to Congress by the White House Office by the White House Office of Telecommunications Policy in mid-July, it proposed only a total of $435 million for the same five-year period.

WHILE THE spending ceilings have risen, there's been no change in the bill's provision that public broadcasters have to raise $2.50 from nonfederal sources for every buck they'd get from Uncle Sam.

This week, the measure will be sent to the Senate floor, along with an explanation of what it's all about, and then referred to the Senate Appropriations Committee for consideration.

It also has to go through the same two-committee process in the House, starting at the Communications Subcommittee of the House Commerce Committee. No hearings there are scheduled and probably won't be until Senate action on the bill is over, a subcommittee spokesman says.

THE MEASURE faces rough sledding from now on, both because of its five-year provision and the fact it combines authorization for spending and appropriation of the actual money in the same document.

The latter is rarely seen in bills sent Congress, which usually votes separately on authorization and appropriation.

Even with these potential hazards, Ralph B. Rogers, broad chairman of the Public Broadcasting Service, still thinks the proposal stands a good chance of passage by the Congress this year.

He says its members "recognize the need for long-range funding so you can have long-range planning. They also recognize the need for the insulation it'd provide public broadcasting from outside pressures."

THE BILL'S $2.50-to-$1 funding formula in effect is telling Congress that local communities now are ready to shoulder the major load of financing public radio and TV, he added.

"The people are saying, 'Turn the job of raising the money to run public broadcasting' over to us permanently,'" Rogers said. "We'll assume the burden of carrying it from now on."

"This doesn't mean we'll be able to match the spending ceilings in the bill. But it puts it squarely up to the public to raise the money themselves to get the benefits of these matching grants."

Home Liability

Members of your church, club, lodge, or political party may want to hold a meeting in your home. If you say yes, what kind of legal responsibility are you taking on in case somebody gets hurt?

THE ANSWER usually depends on whether the who come are classified as social visitors or business visitors. Most courts say you owe only a moderate degree of care toward social visitors, but a high degree of care toward business visitors.

WHICH CLASSIFICATION is the correct one for people who gather in a private home? They are not ordinary social guests, yet they have not come for business reasons either.

As a rule courts have decided that the social category, even if not exactly right, at least fits better than the business category. The practical effect is to reduce the home owner's responsibility for accidents.

CONSIDER A typical case: A woman opened her home for a meeting of college alumnae. During the evening, one of the visitors skidded on a loose throw rug and injured her shoulder. As a result, the hostess soon found herself facing a suit for damages.

But the court held her not liable. The court said the victim, just like an ordinary social visitor, had to take the premises as she found them.

ON THE OTHER hand, the home owner's risk goes up when there is a business element in the day's arrangements. In another case, a woman allowed the local garden club to send sightseers to her home as part of a tour. But each person who signed up had to pay the club a fee.

THIS FACT MADE all the difference later on, when an injured sightseer sought damages from the hostess. The court said payment of the fee gave the visitor the same special rights as a cash customer in a place of business.

What Others Say

The publicity for environmental or conservation movements is frequently orchestrated in such a way as to enlist maximum emotional involvement from the public along the lines of indignation with those who would allegedly despoil nature, or scorn for those who are not aware of the danger to nature — as the protestors themselves may not have been a few weeks or a few months back.

Sometimes, of course, the alarmist approach is justified. There have been crimes committed against the environment, and anything that serves to prevent their future perpetration is all to the good.

There is one unfortunate thing about the "all points bulletin" approach to environmental concern, though. It tends to obscure the quieter efforts that have been — and are being — made along similar lines.

As we said, we need the environmental alarmists sometimes, but always we need those who have done their homework and know where they speak, even though they may speak quietly.

A Devotion For Today . .

"If ye fulfill the royal law according to the scripture, Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself, ye do well." (James 2:8)

PRAYER: Heavenly Father, fill me with Thy love. Help me to find time, to have patience and determination, to contact and reach out in love to others for Thee. In Jesus' name I ask it. Amen.

(From the "Upper Room")

My Answer

Billy Graham

I am so mixed up. You see, I was recently divorced, but I am still deeply in love with my husband. In the past months, I have seen the things I was doing wrong. I told this to him, but he continues to say, Give it more time. I spend hours every day crying — wanting to call him and hold him. Why can't I stop loving him?

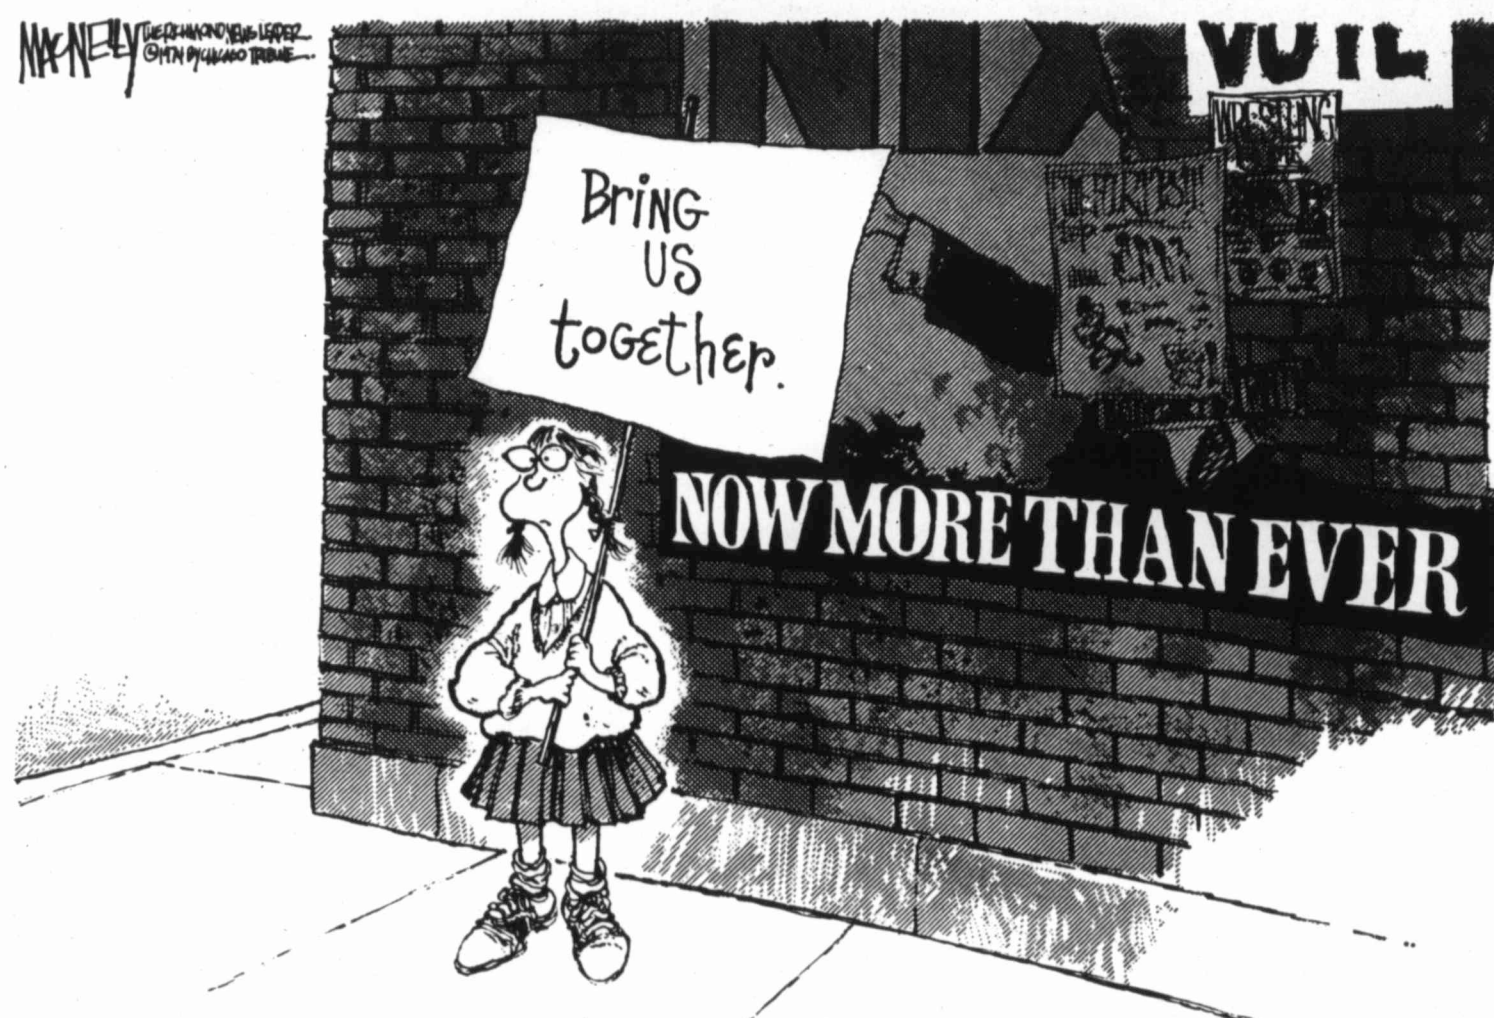

C.D. Facing reality is often one of our most difficult obligations in life. Now, in the aftermath of the divorce proceedings, the full import of the separation is settling on you, and it appears unbearable.

Occasionally, a divorced couple do remarry each other. But, it is ill-advised unless each has matured through the process, and approach marriage again with newly defined roles, and better techniques for handling incompatibilities.

God is displeased with every bankruptcy of marriage — a relationship that He designed to be beautiful, successful and permanent. From all appearances, however, your marriage has died — being broken by the adultery of your husband.

If now, in regret, self-pity and wishful thinking, you indulge the idea of recreating the past, you will consign yourself to untold misery.

Faith in Christ can help you reconstruct your life. It will give you new purpose in living, and help to soften the sharp edge of memory. Fellowship in the church will afford rewarding friendships. For the sake of your children, determine to perform your role as solo parent in a positive productive way.

Cutting The Fat

Robert Novak

WASHINGTON — How far President Ford really intends to deroyalize the presidency depends on his reaction to a private proposal to slash the White House palace guard, both in its swollen numbers and special privileges.

THE PROPOSAL from a former Nixon aide, plus several others, is now under scrutiny by the Ford transition staff, headed by Ambassador Donald Rumsfeld. Robert Hartmann, Mr. Ford's influential longtime aide and new counselor, has recommended drastic staff reductions. Mr. Ford tends to agree, but it remains to be seen if this President will be any more resolute than others in draconian reduction of his own staff.

THE FORMER NIXON aide making the proposals believes that in normal times any President will always be exposed to the public. It is, then, only the staff that can truly be isolated from the real world. When the staff is elephantine and dominates the entire federal bureaucracy as in the Nixon years, the effect can be deadly.

Thus, the former aide's proposal calls for a drastic reduction in the presidential staff, 540 today compared with 250 when Mr. Nixon took office. The aide proposes these changes for those who remain:

1. Limit the normal working day to 12 hours, five days a week. That would end the 7 a.m.-10 p.m. work day, six days and often seven days a week, which were standard during the Nixon administration. Anybody working less was stigmatized as a shirker. Hence, the Nixon aide's horizon was bounded by the four walls of his White House office.

2. Require every aide to get out of Washington and visit the U.S.A. — whether Hagerstown, Md., or Los Angeles — at least once every six months.

3. Sharply reduce the physical size of the White House mess (presently seating 32), status symbol of presidential aides where prestige compensates for bland cuisine — perhaps turning it into a buffet-style lunch counter. That would encourage some aides, who never leave the White House, to eat outside several times a week, perhaps even on Capitol Hill with the peoples' representatives.

4. Close down the White House barber shop. "If these guys can't get off their butts once a month to go get their haircut like everybody else in the world, it's too damn bad," says the former aide.

5. Strictly limit the use of White House limousines to senior aides — perhaps no more than 10 — compelling the President's men to join their fellow Americans behind the wheel fighting rush-hour traffic.

The spirit is congenial to at least one member of Mr. Ford's four-man transition team, who is making a point of dialing his own calls from the White House. "It is a humbling experience that I recommend to the President's staff," he told us.

THERE IS, HOWEVER, something about the White House atmosphere that encourages royalism. Bob Hartmann, a tough old ex-newspaperman without a visible royalist bone in his body, held a very low opinion of the title of "counselor," a pretentious and faintly Europeanized cabinet rank created by President Nixon. Yet, when Mr. Ford quickly named his first cabinet-level counselor, insiders say that Hartmann would accept no less for himself and now boasts the title "Counselor Hartmann."

Poverty Findings

John Cuniff

NEW YORK (AP) — The nation's effort to reduce poverty is another victim of the slower economic growth and high prices that have prevailed so far in the 1970s.

Completing a study on Americans, The Conference Board stated that while the number of poor has fallen to 23 million from 40 million in 1960, recent progress has slowed perceptibly. "While the record is not unimpressive," said Fabian Linden, director of consumer economics for the nonprofit research organization, "the fact is that most of the gain was accomplished in the early and mid-sixties."

At least since 1968, he said, the number of poor has been decreasing more slowly, partly because the poor who remain comprise the hard core of the problem. What makes the situation even more difficult to resolve today is the changing nature of poverty. While the percentage of elderly at the poverty level has declined, a greater proportion of children are included in the category. In many instances, said Linden, these children are members of families headed by women who, if they are to fulfill their motherly duties, do not get jobs.

"In the early 60's the heads of some two-thirds of all poverty families did some work for at least some portion of the year," he said. "Now that ratio is only about one-half."

Who are the poor? Using government estimates, the Conference Board listed those persons living alone with incomes of less than $2,300 a year, as it did six-member families with incomes of $6,000.

The precise definitions are the result of an elaborate matrix which classifies families according to size, sex of household head, and many other variables. A "poverty threshold income level" is then established.

These are some of the findings: —Poverty is most widespread among the aged — despite a decrease — and among blacks, people with modest schooling, and households headed by women.

Nearly one-third of the country's black population is poor, with the figure jumping to 40 per cent for blacks over 65, and to 44 per cent for black women over 65.

—The proportion of elderly poor people has declined "dramatically" in recent years. The percentage of poor among people over 65 dropped from 29 per cent in 1966 to about 16 per cent last year.

Social Security is given considerable credit for this accomplishment. Added Linden: "The pending program, which will automatically adjust Social Security payments to rising living costs, should make for further gains in this area."

—Less progress has been made in alleviating poverty among children, who comprise more than 40 per cent of all the nation's poor. A large proportion of these youngsters are in homes headed by women.

Lay Off Apple Seeds

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Doctor: I was told by a reliable source that apple seeds contain a poisonous substance and should not be eaten. Since I eat an unusual amount of apples, seeds included (I love their nutty flavor), I need to know if there is a shred of truth in this. —A.L.

There's at least a "shred of truth" in the warning about apple seeds. The nutty, almond-like flavor is there because the inside of the seed contains hydrocyanic acid, better known as prussic acid.

Have you ever read any of the old whodunits in which the detective sniffs at the dead lips of the victims, gets a bitter almond scent, and says sagely that the victim was poisoned with prussic acid?

I trust you never have gotten enough of it to do you any real harm, but prussic acid is poisonous and deadly in rather small amounts. (But don't worry if you accidentally swallow an apple seed or two; the prussic acid is inside, and stays there if the pit or seed covering is not broken.)

The same acid is inside cherry and plum pits, and also in peach pits, and it is safer not to eat them.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: What is a vascular lesion of the eye? Would an injury cause it? —Mrs. G.S.

The term has too many possible meanings to give a simple answer — actually it means something wrong with a blood vessel in the eye.

A very common one is the rupture of a small blood vessel in the eye, causing a sudden red blotch. This looks pretty bad but is harmless. (It may or may not be caused by injury.) The bleeding is painless and the blood is absorbed in a few days. Other vascular lesions may be inside the eye, and caused by diabetes, high blood pressure or arterial hardening.

Troubled with gout? To learn of new treatment for this painful disease, write to Dr. Thosteson in care of the Big Spring Herald for a copy of his booklet, "Gout — The Modern Way to Stop It." Enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents.

'Competition' Viewed By Belgian Baron

By JO BRIGHT

"I admire Americans and the way they get things done. If you don't like something — if it isn't right — you don't just shrug your shoulders. You do something about it."

The speaker was Baron E. de Selys Longchamps of London, England, head of Petrofina (U.K.) Ltd., and board member of the many-faceted structure known world-wide as Petrofina.

Baron Longchamps had nothing but praise for Americans in general, and his hosts in particular, during a dinner which Cosden Oil and Chemical Company executives held in his honor at Big Spring Country Club.

Traveling with his sixteen-year-old son, Ariel, Baron Longchamps left Big Spring Thursday to complete a business and pleasure trip that will take them to several other cities in the United States.

"You know, I had, as you say, a front row seat to watch American politics in action," he continued, obviously pleased that he had been in Washington, D.C. during the historic resignation of President Richard M. Nixon and the consequent ascendancy of Gerald Ford to the highest office in the nation.

FOREIGN GUESTS — Baron E. de Selys Longchamps and his son, Ariel, use a world globe to point out their home town to their host, Paul Meek. The baron, who is a Belgian now residing in England, heads Petrofina (U.K.) Ltd. in London. The two were visitors here last week.

point out that he is not English but, rather, a Belgian living in England, had been particularly interested in coming to Big Spring.

"It seemed wise to see what my competition was doing and how they were doing it," mused the baron, noting that in the past two years, production by Petrofina (U.K.) Ltd. has been surpassed by its business partner in Texas.

Since its founding in Belgium in 1920, Petrofina has risen to rank among the top 16 petroleum companies in the world, and it now has over 200 subsidiaries operating in more than 30 countries.

Principal companies in the group are located in Belgium, Europe, Africa and America. American Petrofina, Inc., is described as a fully integrated oil company engaged in the exploration and production of oil and natural gas, transportation and refining of crude oil and derivatives and marketing of refined products.

Its wholly-owned subsidiary, Cosden Oil and Chemical Company, headed by Paul Meek, president, is a leader and innovator in the field of petrochemicals and plastics. Cosden's local expansion, along with the completion of a new polystyrene plant at Calumet City, Ill., now places it among the top six U.S. producers of this thermoplastic.

Cosden also manufactures and supplies styrene monomer, xylenes, benzene, ethylbenzene, formaldehyde, polyethylene emulsions and aqua ammonia solutions.

CAPACITY
The refinery at Big Spring, along with one at Mount Pleasant and another at El Dorado, Kan., have a combined capacity of over 105,000 barrels per stream day.

Lemon Flavor In Ice Cream

A real glamour dessert for a spring luncheon includes this fast version of the classic melba.

Top canned pear halves with lemon ice cream and cover with crushed frozen raspberries in which a few tablespoons of sherry have been added.

Add a dab of whipped cream or not, as you wish. Crushed lemon candies give the ice cream an appealing tang and crunch.

Curtain Calls

The greatest number of curtain calls in ballet is believed to have been after a performance of "Swan Lake" in Vienna in 1964 — 89 curtain calls. The dancers were Dame Margot Fonteyn and Rudolf Nureyev.

PTA Plans Instructive Program

Parent-Teacher Association council officers and chairmen, along with local unit officers and chairmen, are invited to attend an informative program, beginning at 10 a.m., Thursday in the Pioneer Gas Flame Room.

Mrs. William Tippin of El Paso, vice president of the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers, will be the speaker, presenting an overview of responsibility and opportunity today in the field of PTA endeavors.

Also, preliminary plans are being made for District 17 to hold an orientation Aug. 28 in Midland. The session will begin at 10 a.m. in the Midland School Administration Building.

Double Six Club Slates Tournament

The Double Six Domino Club, sponsored by the National Association of Retired Federal Employees, held its bi-monthly meeting from 2 to 4 p.m., Wednesday in the Kentwood Older Adult Center.

Twenty members played Forty-Two with the visitors, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Boadle, Mrs. J. P. Dodge and Gilbert Ballard. Refreshments were served.

At the next meeting, Aug. 28, the club will conduct a "straight" Forty-Two tournament from 1 to 5 p.m.

Each player will select his or her partner and draw for a place on the playing bracket. There will be a winners' and consolation bracket. Any older adult interested in playing in the tournament is invited to participate.

Mrs. Marshal Brown, secretary of the sponsoring group, has appointed T. K. Price to direct the tournament.

Rebekah Exec Guest Tonight

Final plans have been made by Big Spring Rebekah Lodge 284 for the formal meeting and salad supper this evening honoring Mrs. Clea Brooks, president of the Rebekah Assembly of Texas. The dinner will begin at 6 p.m. in the IOOF Hall.

During the planning session last week, Mrs. Dwight Gilliland, noble grand, asked each member to bring a salad to the dinner.

Lodge instruction was given by Mrs. Joe Awtry, lodge deputy, and the 39 present reported 25 visits to the sick. Over 20 members have registered for a bus trip to Corsicana for Pilgrimage Day.

The next meeting will be at 8 p.m., Aug. 27 at the lodge hall.

Queen Contest Set For Fiesta

Mexican-American girls, between the ages of 14 and 19, who reside in Big Spring or surrounding towns, are being sought as contestants for the title of Mexican Independence Day Queen.

The auxiliary to the American G.I. Forum is sponsoring the contest in conjunction with local festivities slated Sept. 15-16.

Ceremony Held Friday Evening

Mr. and Mrs. Michael McDonald are on a trip to Carlsbad, N.M. following their wedding Friday evening in the home of the bride's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Madry, 1206 Wood.

The bride is the former Mrs. Linda Sanders, daughter of Mrs. Travis Odell, 821 W. 8th, and the late F. H. Franklin. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McDonald of Ackerly.

The bride's flowers were yellow and white daisies, and she was attired in a full-length dress of lime green dotted Swiss styled with long, fitted sleeves.

Mrs. Madry, who served as matron of honor, wore a floor-length ivory dress trimmed in dark braid. Charles Madry was best man.

After the ceremony, a reception was held poolside with refreshments being served by Miss Pat McDonald, sister of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Monroe Casey, sister of the bride. Miss Kimberly Casey registered guests and served as an usher.

A lime and green motif was used for the wedding and reception, and a lace cloth covered the refreshment table. Appointments included a silver punch service, and the centerpiece was a silver candelabrum arranged with fresh daisies.

Resigns As Vice Grand

Mrs. O.G. Burns resigned as left support to the vice grand of John A. Kee Rebekah Lodge during last week's meeting in the IOOF Hall. Mrs. Elmo Martin was installed in that post as Mrs. Grady Sudberry, noble grand, presided.

The history of Odd Fellows and Rebekahs was reviewed by Mrs. H. B. Hughes who said the order was established in England during the 18th century. Every year, lodges in the United States send selected teenagers to tour the United Nations building. World-wide projects are orphanages and homes for the elderly. Every year Odd Fellows place a wreath at the tomb of the Unknown Soldier.

Members were reminded of the dinner tonight in honor of Mrs. Clea Brooks, state assembly president. Initiation practice will be held at 7:30 p.m., Tuesday at the IOOF Hall.

Combination Gelatin Dishes

Pineapple, pears, peaches and grapes are all good teamed with cottage cheese and crisp salad greens.

When you are removing molded gelatin dishes after dipping the outside of the mold in warm water, be sure to place the serving plate over the top of the mold and then invert.

Making grilled cheese sandwiches? Arrange two partly broiled bacon slices, in the shape of an x, on each cheese-topped slice of bread or toast. Then broil until cheese melts and bacon finishes cooking.

Dessert Silver

For ordinary family service, dessert silver may be put on the table. At formal lunches or dinners, however, this flat silver is brought to the table with the dessert.

A panel of judges will decide the winners, and first, second and third place awards will be presented.

There will be a registration fee of $5 to enter the contest. Applications may be obtained from Mrs. Marta Marsh, 263-8943. Mrs. Marsh said judging will be based on such things as participation in school activities, scholastic achievements, church and civic involvement and poise. Those wishing more information are invited to attend a meeting at the G.I. Forum Hall today at 7:30 p.m.

When the auxiliary met last week, a Mexican dinner and tamale sale was planned for Sept. 15. Mrs. Raymond Gonzales, president, said elections will be held at the Sept. 4 meeting. She named a nominating committee composed of Mrs. Anita Valles, Mrs. Ramona Naverrette and Mrs. Esperanza Bustamante.

This Mamma's Boy Gives Her Migraines

DEAR ABBY: For ten minutes, I would tell every woman in the world not to marry a mamma's boy. One of the tip-offs is a man who is between 30 and 40 and not married.

I married one of these Yo-Yos and it's the dumbest thing I ever did. Although he's a steady worker, that's all he knows how to do. I have to get him up in the morning, tell him what to wear, and even when to change his clothes. He's so childish and helpless.

He doesn't even know how to kiss. He clamps his lips together and presses them on my lips. I've tried to teach him how, but even after five years, he hasn't improved. He doesn't know the first thing about how to make love, either. It's whimsy, and that's it. So for the last two years, an hour before he gets home I start to getting a "migraine."

I'd go to a marriage counselor, but he won't go, and no woman can save her marriage alone.

Mamma's boys just want a cook and housekeeper and a bed partner for two minutes once a week. If I could get a job and support myself, I'd leave him.

STUCK IN PEKIN, ILL.

DEAR STUCK: Nobody is stopping you from trying. One woman's leftovers are another woman's banquet.

DEAR ABBY: My problem is a small one, but on second thought, are bad manners ever a small problem?

My husband and I would like your opinion of this situation: We know two different families whom we invite to our home for dinner occasionally. (Not together.) The minute we sit down at the table, both fathers of these families ask one of their children to say the grace.

Abby, am I out of line to think this shows extreme bad manners on their part? I always thought it was up to the host and hostess to decide if grace was to be said at their table. And if so, by whom.

Please print your reply. Perhaps these men or their wives will read your column and learn something. Or I may learn something if I am wrong.

SOCIAL GRACE

DEAR SOCIAL: You are not wrong. It's the host's or hostess' prerogative to decide if grace shall be said at his (or her) table, and if so, by whom.

DEAR ABBY: I have a unique problem. I have been married to Elmer for six years. We are both in our late twenties.

All my life I have been extremely overweight, but MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Take a greater interest in family affairs and forget personal amusements for the time being. Take it easy tonight.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Showing affection for friends brings you the favors you need now. Make social appointments early via telephone. Strive for happiness.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Plan how to add to present abundance. Listen to what a clever adviser has to suggest for your betterment. Improve your property.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) You are in an excellent mood and can accomplish almost anything you set your mind on, so make the most of this very precious time.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Being alert to what is happening around you is wise. Beware of lurking dangers. Romance brings happiness.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Get together with good friends and they will cooperate with a plan you have in mind. Make sure to improve your credit rating.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Bring your finest capabilities to the attention of bigwigs and gain their support. Try not to spend too much money. Be wise.

Sex Decoy Exposure

DALLAS (AP) —
Police said today court exposure of their policewoman prostitute decoy may impair the young woman's future effectiveness in arresting male customers.

"It just about kills her job," said one officer.
But Capt. E.B. Shafer,
head of the vice squad, said, "We'll have to sit down and evaluate how much the release of her identity will hurt her job effectiveness. Then, too,
we have to be concerned about her safety since a lot of people now know who she is."

Police officer Debra Gardner, 26, has been posing as a prostitute in Dallas bars and on the streets for three months,
arresting about 70 men who she claimed had propositioned her for commercial sex. All but four pleaded guilty.

Last Friday Paul J.
Rios, 21, challenged her arrest in court where Miss Gardner testified, thus exposing her name
and picture in the news media.

Police had revealed at the outset of the operation that a police prostitute decoy was on the street. Several persons appealed to the city council to discontinue the practice, saying police should train their attention on more serious crimes.

Shaffer said threats were made on Miss Gardner's life even before her courtroom
appearance but, he said,
"She is still on assignment with us and there are no plans to transfer her elsewhere."

Municipal court trials are still scheduled for three other men who are challenging her arrest
by Miss Gardner.

Buffalo 'Dig' Thermal Heat

WASHINGTON AP — While Americans in general are just now waking up to the possibilities of thermal heat and power, Yellowstone Park buffalo have been benefiting from it for generations.

A National Park Service
report says that hot springs in the park are largely responsible for the survival of this country's only wild buffalo herd. Reduced to 23 animals in 1901, the herd now numbers over 800.

Dr. Margaret Mary
Meagher, a research
biologist, says that areas kept snow-free by the springs have been of great importance to the bison population during critical periods. The herd's chief hazard is severe winter weather and heavy snow.
That's when the warm ground areas come in handy.
