FOUR DROWN IN KANSAS CLOUDBURST

THREE OTHERS ARE LISTED AS MISSING

Creeks at Herington Are Turned Into Wide Rivers.

TOPEKA, Kas., May 11.—Four persons were reported drowned and three others were listed as missing in unconfirmed reports from Herington, Kas., today in the wake of cloudbursts there.

TOPEKA, Kas., May 11.—Sections of central Kansas fought flood today in the wake of torrential rains which turned creeks into wide rivers, claiming two men dead and sweeping away homes at Herington, southwest of Topeka.

The cloudbursts apparently were related deluges in the vicinity of Herington and Council Grove, in Dickinson and Morris counties. Herington reports Lime creek flooded over to a width of four miles. Most of the residents escaped but two Mexicans were unable to swim when entrapped by a sudden rise. The high waters

U. S. INTERESTS WILL PURCHASE BIG ZEPPELIN

CLEVELAND, O., May 11.—Deals for the purchase of the Graf Zeppelin for use on an air passenger line between Los Angeles and Honolulu will be drafted at a conference here Sunday. John Elden, president of the Skyways, Inc., said today on his return from Washington.

He said Cleveland and Los Angeles capital will unite to buy the airship at a purchase price in the neighborhood of $1,000,000. Elden will confer tomorrow with Col. Jefferson Davis, legal representative for the Transcontinental Air Transport and Curtis Flight service, who has been retained in the negotiations by the Los Angeles interests. Davis was said to be in New York in conference with the Graf Zeppelin's American representatives.

Negotiations were opened last Tuesday, Elden said. He was commissioned by Dr. Herman Schaubert, Berlin lawyer, to assist in the deal. Purchase of the huge dirigible planned for this summer following its round the world flight, Elden stated today the Graf was ready for sale, indicating that patent rights were holding up the transaction. Elden would not reveal the Cleveland interests back of the deal. It was rumored that Skyways, Inc., was interested in the project.

WORLD'S MOST FAMOUS COUPLE

There aren't any pictures lying around loose showing Anne Morrow with her fiance, Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, for the simple reason that they refuse to pose, but this one shows you how they look together. It is a composite photograph, the picture of Lindy having been taken at the races, while that of Anne was taken just the other day in Cleveland. You get the effect, though.

Seek Delegates To Convention

WARNS FOREIGNERS.
LONDON, May 11.—Peking dispatches to the London Daily Telegraph stated today that Chiang Chao-Chung, former premier of China, had warned the diplomatic colony against a communist plot to assassinate all foreigners at Nanking on June 1 during the ceremonies in memory of the late Sun Yat-Sen, "father of the Chinese revolution."

DELEGATION IS APPLAUDED IN CONVENTION

Workers Not Part of A. F. of L. Organization.

WASHINGTON, May 11.—The little group of Gastonia N. C., textile strikers who came here to plead for a congressional investigation of Southern labor conditions were refused a hearing today before the convention of the National Women's Trade Union League.

The strikers belong to the National Textile Workers Union which is not affiliated with the American Federation of Labor. The women's organization is a part of the federation.

Delegates to the convention rose and applauded as the ragged band of strikers filed in carrying a sign saying "Gastonia Textile Strikers Delegation to Washington."

Women hurried to get chairs for the tired looking members of the strikers delegation, but Miss Rose Schneiderman, president, called the meeting to order and proceeded with the business of resolutions. In a few minutes the business of the convention was completed. Some one moved to adjourn.

Carl Reeve, labor organizer, and leader of the strikers, asked that the convention listen to the stories of the strikers.

"I am sorry," Miss Schneiderman replied, "the convention stands adjourned."

"But some of these strikers are women," Reeve pleaded.

"The convention stands adjourned," Miss Schneiderman repeated. "Any one who wants to stay and listen to the strikers of course can."

Communists.
As the meeting broke up the delegates crowded around the strikers' delegation.

"You are not interested in working women," Reeve shouted.

"Yes, we are," some one replied. "We have already listened to some of the strikers but we won't listen to communists."

Six Railroad Presidents and Heads of Other Public Service Groups Gather at Waxahachie Saturday

WAXAHACHIE, May 11.—The assembly here today of six railroad presidents with heads of other public service groups gave rise to rumors "something big" was afoot.

The group meeting here tonight ostensibly to "celebrate the first anniversary of the Singleton Model Live Stock Farm" was believed to have other matters than pure pleasure-making behind it.

The Singleton farm, founded by Col. Marvin Singleton, has won statewide recognition in its expending of $250,000 in modern improvements.

Among the group here were Columbus Hale, president of the Missouri, Kansas, and Texas; Daniel Upthegrove, president of the Cotton Belt; L. W. Baldwin, president of the Missouri Pacific; Thomas Powell, president of the Chicago and Eastern; J. E. Cassie, president of the Wabash; J. M. Kurn, president of the Frisco; John W. Carpenter, president of the Texas Power and Light Co.; Nathan Adams, president of the American Exchange National Bank; Dallas; E. B. Nims, president of the Southwestern Bell; and Frank W. Carter, railroad attorney of St. Louis.

RASKOB SHOWS INVESTMENT TRUST PLAN

NEW YORK, May 11.—John J. Raskob, former General Motors corporation executive and chairman of the Democratic national committee, today revealed his plan for forming an investment trust based upon public savings.

While asserting that he is not certain he would be willing to undertake the task of putting such a plan into effect, and that he is likewise uncertain that the present era, with securities selling generally at their highest levels, would be a proper time to start the plan, the General Motors executive said that for a year he has had the idea in mind and has discussed it widely with financiers.

"My preliminary study of the possibilities of the idea," Raskob said, "gives every reason to believe that there is a large field for developing the idea with ultimate benefit both to the working classes and to the prosperity of the country as a whole."

"The plan which I have in mind contemplates the formation of two companies. One of these, say the Equity Security company, would sell its stock to the public and invest this money in well seasoned common stocks for permanent investment. It would be desirable to have some form of public supervision similar to that exercised over banks and insurance companies, to prevent the possibility of the idea of fraudulent imitations. Its board of directors should be of a caliber to command the confidence and respect of the public."

Wound Last Stock
Raskob expressed the conviction that it would be well to have the stock of this company listed on the New York Stock exchange, thus providing a broad and active market therefor and at the same time providing for the protection to the investing public which the rules of the exchange made necessary. The company would not be permitted to borrow money and its only liability would be its capital stock. Only a limited percentage of its assets could be invested in any one company or industry and not more than 10 per cent of any one company might be purchased, thus avoiding the responsibility of management of any outside company in which it was a stockholder.

The second company would be a discount bank to make credit available to people of limited means. This would be similar to the finance companies which have been formed to grant installment credit to purchasers of automobiles. The discount bank would grant loans payable over a period of 12 months in installments against collateral consisting of stock in the first company—the Equity Securities company—making a finance charge for its services similar to the practice of automobile finance companies.

"Voulez Vous?" IDENTITY OF VICTIMS NOT ESTABLISHED

Twelve People Injured as Flames Sweep Structure.

AMARILLO, May 11.—Five charred bodies, victims of an early morning fire in the Tourist hotel, lay in Amarillo undertaker parlors today while workers continued to look for others under the smoldering ruins of the hotel.

Burned beyond recognition, all the dead could not be identified at first. Only a check-up of those still living will reveal the identity of all the victims.

Twelve were known to be injured in the fire in addition to the five dead. Firemen were still searching the ruins for additional victims this afternoon.

The dead included two brothers named Cosart of R. F. D. No. 1, Detroit, Texas. The name of one was Raymond. A third identified victim was found to be Peter Kearns, Pine, Colorado. Two victims remained unidentified.

Among those injured seriously are: C. H. Welch, Gainesville, Tex.; R. Barnhart, Elk City, Okla.; M. J. George Hegan, Amarillo. Jacob Dollar, Dallas youth.

Sam Scott, address unknown. Mrs. Birdie Rhodes, Amarillo, co-manager of hotel. Fred Rogers, Amarillo, co-manager of hotel.

Died After Jump.
One man, about 70, said to be called "Buffalo Atchison" of Shamrock, Texas, died a few minutes after jumping from a third floor room.

The fire was believed to have started on the third floor of the frame structure. The second and third floors were a flames before the fire was discovered by Oscar Randal, manager of a drug store opposite the hotel.

H. C. Wilson, an aged oil mill worker who had roomed at the hotel for 21 years, slid to safety on a rope he had in his room since 1908. He was able to save most of his possessions.

Rogers, a third floor roomer, was severely cut and bruised when he crashed through his window to reach safety by a fire escape.

Scott was burned in escaping nine streams of water shot at him by police in trying to keep back the crowd.

Mrs. Rhodes and Fred Rogers, co-managers, jumped from a window, the descent inspiring Rogers, a blind man, probably fatally. Mrs. Rhodes was reported resting easily at a hospital.

The hotel, formerly known as the Elmhurst hotel, was built about 30 years ago. It was owned by R. C. Neeley and the Western Improvement company.

GANGSTER IS GIVEN FUNERAL COSTING $10,000

CHICAGO, May 11.—Dressed in evening clothes, diamond studs gleaming in the shirt front and gems glistening from rings, the body of Joseph Guinta was buried today in a bronze, glass-topped casket reported to have cost $10,000.

In keeping with his rank, head of the Sicilians, Guinta was given one of the most elaborate funerals ever accorded a Chicago gangster. It probably will not equal that of the gang leaders, but it was lavish to a degree. Guinta left $250,000 in a safe deposit box.

The bodies of Albert Anselmi and John Scalis, who were Guinta's companions in death, will remain in morgues for the time being.

Anselmi, Scalis and Guinta furnished the latest episode in the drama of gang warfare here. They were beaten given the "third degree" and shot to death last Wednesday. They were henchmen of Al Capone, and were slain by Capone rivals.

The chapter has become closed, practically, as far as police can concern themselves. They can learn nothing.

DEMOCRATS ON THE FIRING LINE

Is the democratic party dead? Is the donkey sleeping his last sleep? Will the followers of Jefferson and Jackson and Cleveland and Wilson come back in 1937? Why ask the foolish question? The democratic party had its birth when the American republic had its birth. The republic will continue to function for centuries to come and the democratic party will function, regardless of disasters at the polls and continue on the firing line while there are people who believe in a government of and for the many and not of and by the few. National Chairman John J. Raskob and leading democrats of the nation held a conference in the city of Washington. Chairman Raskob announced he had succeeded in reducing the party deficit of $1,550,000 to about $800,000 "with every indication of a further reduction to under $500,000 within the next fortnight." He declared he had no intention of relinquishing his post and expected to be very active in party affairs. Then the leaders announced that the best interest of the party can be advanced by the opening of permanent and adequate headquarters in Washington "and the conducting of active organization work 365 days in the year." All the regulars attended the conference. Sen. Joseph Taylor Robinson and Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt were in evidence. J. Bennett Shouse of Kansas was named as chairman of the executive committee to carry out the programs and the Kansan will devote his entire time to this work. Office space will be established at headquarters for all democrats who may visit Washington. Chairman Shouse has taken an active part in the last five democratic national conventions. He was a leader of the movement to nominate William G. McAdoo in 1920 and again in 1924 and in 1925 he gave his entire time to the campaign to elect a Smith-Robinson ticket. For years Shouse was a leading member of congress, as well as a member of the house banking committee. His committee framed the federal reserve and federal farm loan act. When Carter Glass was secretary of the treasury Shouse was assistant secretary. Woodrow Wilson named him at the request of the famous Virginian who is not only prominent in the newspaper world as a publisher but prominent as a senator from Virginia and one of the leaders of the regulars of the democratic party. This is a two-party government and this is the mission as well as the work of the Shouse organization: "Everything will be done to build a strong, country-wide democratic organization, that will be a virile, going institution, functioning at all times in the interest of democratic political doctrine as set forth by such great democratic statesmen as Thomas Jefferson, Andrew Jackson, Grover Cleveland and Woodrow Wilson."

Washington Letter

BY RODNEY DUTCHER, NIA Service Writer WASHINGTON. — Before long there will doubtless spring up a Husband's Defense Association composed of men whose wives look considerably larger on the portion of publicity than they do themselves. The president of such a club might as well be Mr. Edward Everett Gann, but he can console himself with the fact that he is far from the first to become an item of public curiosity merely because of his wife's exploits. Up in Jersey there is a man who is often called "Mr. Mary Norton," but not to his face. He is the husband of Congresswoman Norton. His real name is Robert Francis Norton and he is a Jersey City coal dealer. Mr. Norton has no desire to bask in reflected glory. He came down here when Congresswoman Norton was sworn in. Later he attended a White House reception and someone introduced him as "Mrs. Norton's husband." He took the next train, one hears, and hasn't been back since. All over the country there are men in similarly helpless positions, now that emancipated women are stepping out. Everyone remembers how Mr. — what was his name?—wanted to beat up the editor of a paper which referred to him as "Mr. Ruth Elder." And how Charles G. Norris, husband of Kathleen Norris, was forced to learn how to write good novels like his wife. In one defense, Mabel Walker Willebrandt's former husband is a grass widower now, but he might be allowed to join the club and probably would be glad to do so. No doubt his neighbors call him "the former Mr. Mabel Willebrandt."

Spearman Happy as County Capital

SPEARMAN, May 11.—Spearman, 68, to 10 years old, is enjoying the peaceful possession of the seat of government of Hansford county.

Moving of the records of the county from old Hansford, six miles away, is now past history. The removal followed a recent election which decided this city should have the county seat honors by an overwhelming majority.

When the first truck load of records entered Spearman from Hansford, the fire whistle sounded. It was a momentous moment in Spearman's history. The county has secured the city building as headquarters for the present. Later a bond issue will be held and a court house built.

The election which decided the county seat was the fourth in seven years. The first was in 1922 when Spearman lost by 15 votes less than the required majority. In 1927 it lost by 15 votes a second time. In 1928, Spearman carried the majority but lost by a court decision. The first election was in 1889 when Hansford took the seat of government from Farwell, a town no longer existing.

SEEK 'QUESTION MARK'S' RECORD

At attempt to break the record of the tri-motored army plane, Question Mark, of 151 hours in the air is to be made by two Fort Worth, Tex., flyers. The single motored Ryan monoplane (shown here) will be piloted by Reg. Robbins (upper right) with James Kelley (upper left) as relief pilot. The ship will be refueled in the air from another plane piloted by Captain Bill Ponder.

FURNACE MAY SOON KEEP HOUSE COOL

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 11.—Modern Americans soon may spend the hot summer months over a fiery gas furnace enjoying mountain-like breezes while they sip orange juice cooled over a hot gas flame and the mountain-like breezes from the gas furnaces will be just a step away from the average American home though it be 500 miles from the nearest snow-capped peak. Major Alexander Forward, New York managing director of the American Gas association, said here Wednesday.

Already more than 10,000 American homes and business places are cooled by refrigeration obtained from a small, but intensely hot gas flame. Major Forward said.

Research for new uses of natural and manufactured gas may revolutionize American home life. Forward told the United Press.

In the mountains, or on the seashore, a hundred miles from a gas line, the family may eat food prepared over a natural gas flame from a stove in the motor car's running board.

The use of "liquid gas," which may be bottled in steel containers and transported to the camp—or even the ranch house for everyday use, is one of the latest conveniences offered by the American Gas association. A single tank of gas will last the average family 20 days.

BROYLES RANCH AT BAIRD IS REPORTED SOLD

BAIRD, May 11.—News is reported of the sale of the Broyles estate this week to Ace Hickman, rancher and banker of Baird. The Broyles ranch is located north of town, and was settled by W. M. Broyles, now deceased, in the early days.

The Broyles ranch has 2,260 acres of land, 500 of which is in cultivation and has improvements. It is understood that the consideration was approximately $50,000.

COUNTY WOLF ERADICATION IN STATUS QUO

Legislature Is Expected to Take Action on Matter.

The county wolf eradication program remains in status quo pending appeal of the case in which a district court held that the payment of county funds to trappers was illegal and the action that the state legislature may take in validating the state law which the court held illegal.

Shortly after the decision of the district court was handed down the county commissioners' court called the various trappers into conference and explained the situation to them with the fact that in the final disposition of the matter the payment of salaries might not be made.

Governor Moody has submitted validation of the predatory animal laws as a topic for the special session of the state legislature and those supporting the movement for the eradication of wolves and other wild animals of a destructive nature in this county are confident that action will be taken whereby this work can be continued by the county.

A recent district court decision held that the law under which the county commissioners' court some time ago issued an order to employ trappers at salaries paid by the county was invalid because the caption of the statute failed to cover the subject matter contained in the law itself.

BROWNSVILLE, May 11.—A steel gate topped by barbed wire has been erected across the international bridge to prevent aliens from passing back and forth between Brownsville and Matamoros after bridge operation begins.

United States immigration officials announced that the steel gate will be closed and locked each night at midnight and opened at 7 a. m., except on special occasions.

GORMAN C. C. PROGRAM FOR YEAR OUTLINED

GORMAN, May 11.—At the meeting of the local chamber of commerce a program of work was formulated and a drive for members inaugurated. The program adopted included a permanent clean-up campaign, a "yard beauty" contest, a campaign to educate the people for street paving, developing the Gorman fair, helping maintain vocational agriculture in the high school and assisting the agriculture teacher in putting over his dairy program and aiding the road commissioners in keeping the lateral roads in first class condition.

The membership drive netted 100 new members. J. W. Edwards, present teacher of vocational agriculture and secretary of the chamber of commerce, was commended for his work in the community and the success of his dairy program and was re-elected for the year. Other officers and directors of the chamber of commerce are: T. E. Richardson, president; J. W. Cokhill, vice president; L. C. Underwood, O. P. Newberry, E. W. Kimble and C. E. Herrington.

GRAND TRUNK HIGHWAY SOON TO BE OPENED

LAREDO, May 11.—A grand trunk paved highway, the only one in Texas to span the state and to form a direct connection with the state highway system of Mexico, will be completed during the summer.

The highway will also be the only one in Texas not to cross a railroad track and without dangerous dips or gaps. All that remains to complete the highway is the construction of 12 1/2 miles of concrete in Webb county, in which Laredo is situated. The contract will be awarded at Austin May 23 or 24. A second contract for building a minor span of 5 1/2 miles in Nueces county will also be awarded at that time.

The highway runs from Laredo to Corpus Christi, a distance of 157 miles. The longest stretch of concrete will be from Laredo to the Webb county line, 44 miles. The paved highway through Duval, Jim Hogg and Jim Wells, and the greater part of Nueces county to Corpus Christi is already completed.

The remaining 12 1/2 miles in Webb county will be completed before September 1 and the 5 1/2 miles in Nueces county before the Webb county stretch.

By midsummer, tourists from Mexico can enter this country by automobile here on the Texas-Mexico border and cross to the gulf coast at Corpus Christi within four hours. American tourists journeying south into Mexico will find most of the highways paved south of Monterrey.

The 44 miles of concrete in Webb county alone cost the federal, state and county road building groups a total of $1,236,000.

Onion Shippers Use Sacks; Save Money

LAREDO, May 11.—A saving of approximately $625,000 to the onion industry of Texas during the 1929 season as result of substituting jute and sacking sacks of onions for the regulation onion crate may mean farewell to the old crate, onion shippers here believe.

R. V. Dublin Co., one of the principal onion buyers and shippers in the Laredo district, used 100,000 sacks this season to send onions to every part of the United States.

Reports from Seattle, Portland, Los Angeles and Minneapolis in the west and from Bangor, Maine, Savannah, and Jacksonville in the east, indicate the onions came through their long journeys in excellent shape. Onions sent in jute sacks through the Imperial Valley to Los Angeles arrived in good condition.

A bundle of 500 sacks represents a big saving over a similar number of crates. In shipping by freight, the saving per car load has been estimated at $125.

Shippers believe that within the next year all Bermuda onion shipments will be by sacks from the Texas production area instead of by crate.

BRICKLAYERS ADJOURN. AMARILLO, May 11.—Texas bricklayers closed a successful convention here Thursday after choosing San Antonio for the 1930 meeting place. Commissioners Court to Arrange Date for Meeting With Highway Body at Session Starting Monday

The county commissioners' court has made no date with the state highway commission for a conference concerning a proposed highway coordination program in Eastland county. It was announced by Judge Clyde L. Garrett Saturday in response to a query. Judge Garrett said that the court would make arrangements for such a conference at its meeting next week to convene Monday.

Judge Garrett said that delay in setting a date for this conference was occasioned by the fact that the various commissioners were unable last week to determine definitely just when each of them could be able to make the trip to Austin and the matter was of necessity held over until the meeting this week. The convenience of the state highway commission must be taken into consideration, of course, but the commissioners are now in a position to make arrangements for such a conference, Judge Garrett said.

A resolution favoring a home and industrial school for the adult blind of Texas and maintenance of such institution was adopted.

HUMOR AND SERIOUSNESS INTERMINGLE

Student Affair Takes Place on Laguna Roof Garden.

A success beyond expectations was the annual Junior-Senior banquet of the Cisco high school held Friday evening on the roof garden of the Laguna hotel. The event was voted the best of many student activities during the year, an event to be looked back upon with many pleasant memories.

Humor and a dash of seriousness was intermingled in this gathering of students and faculty members. For at least half of the number of the event partook of the nature of a farewell to the class rooms, the campus and the happy associations of Cisco high school. For the others it foreshadowed a similar event when they would be bidding the old school goodbye.

The menu was delicious, the program informal and happy. The students and faculty members were the objects of innumerable jokes and wisecracks in the gay license of the evening.

RICH GIRL - POOR GIRL

by RUTH DEWEY GROVES

THIS HAS HAPPENED

MILDRED LAWRENCE falls in love with STEPHEN ARMSTRONG, who is lured away from her by PAMELA JUDSON when she tells him that Mildred is trying to marry her brother, HAROLD, for his money. Harold fears HUCK CONNOR because he holds a check which he forged. Huck is infatuated with Pamela, who plays him to make Stephen jealous. When Pamela maneuvers Stephen into the theft of an auto and causes his arrest, Pamela breaks their engagement, but Mildred goes to see him in jail and promises to keep him from marrying Pamela. She determines to get Harold to help her, and is surprised to hear of his death—apparently accidental. She tells Stephen of her suspicions but there is no proof.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXXIX

The taxi in which Stephen rode with the men who were arrested with seeing him safely to the Judson Hotel made slow progress toward First avenue. Oerndorf regretted that he had chosen the route in order to avoid the delay on Fifth avenue. He knew that First avenue presented a better opportunity to anyone desiring to speed away from the scene of an accident or a shooting.

But it was too late to turn back. He would be easily guessed. It was better to give no indication that they knew they were being followed.

They had the advantage there. Their defense would be a surprise. This thought held him from suggesting a change of route.

As for Stephen, he welcomed a chance to come to grips with Huck's men. But he'd have given anything for a gun. He knew the men behind him weren't equipped with popguns.

Freen was only doing his duty. He was all in the day's work to win.

Still, when they reached First avenue and turned north on that sparsely street of push carts and automobiles, all three were tense and alert.

A quick glance sufficed to reveal that their followers were hanging on.

The driver held to the center of the street until they came to the turn in the "L." Nothing was likely to happen in the shadow of that structure, he reasoned, with the streets crowded at the curb by the push carts and the pillars of the elevated offering further obstruction.

But when he came to the open he edged gradually over to the right, though not suspiciously slowing up behind the trucks. He dodged round them when necessary.

The green light was with them when he drove out from under the elevated. He was not compelled to stop in the center of the street with room for the other car to draw up beside him on the right.

He knew why Freen did not want that. The detective, himself seated on the right, would have a far better opportunity to use his gun on anyone at the left.

Three blocks farther on the lights changed. Again fortune favored those in the leading taxicab. A huge truck stood between it and the sidewalk.

This did not suit the men in the second cab. They'd discovered Freen's presence in Oerndorf's taxi before Stephen entered it. But they had no means of knowing that Freen was there for any unusual reason.

To them it was natural enough that Stephen, knowing he had been framed, should desire protection. But that he could guess at the orders Huck had given in regard to him seemed improbable.

They gave no thought to the judge, "cherches la femme." There are people who will say "seek the woman," whenever there is trouble, and other who will say it before. These men would have done well to remember that a woman was interested in Stephen. For one of them, at least, there was no excuse in failing to do so inasmuch as it was he who had warned Mildred against trying to make Harold talk. Likewise it was he who had reported to Huck that she was visiting Stephen in his cell.

Had it not been for Mildred's love for him Stephen would at that moment have been completely at the mercy of Huck's villains.

"We're getting through with it," they'd decided upon seeing Freen. "We got the break."

"And I'd like a chance to pay off that flat for running me in," one observed viciously.

"Better keep your mind on your business," his companion warned him. "You ain't here to even up any old score. If we fall down on this job it ain't gonna be healthy for us in Connor's neighborhood."

As the signal light changed to green and their car started forward, both Stephen and Freen felt that something was due to happen soon.

At the next change of signal the first taxicab ran through, the driver thinking the other car might stop and he left a block behind. But the second car came tearing along close upon him, though only narrowly avoiding a collision with a truck that had nosed out for a quick start across the avenue.

The first car was compelled to come to a stop at the next intersection of streets. Crosstown traffic had got too well under way there to allow the driver to go on. Besides, had he tried to get through it would have been proof to the men following that he was trying to shake them off, thus letting them know they could not hope to pull off a surprise attack.

The second car came along more slowly. Freen gripped his gun with a firmer hold. He sat like a gravestone image, but keyed and waiting to act.

This was the moment. Whatever was to take place surely must take place now.

Freen felt he had the advantage. The other car was forced to approach on the left. There was of course, the danger that the gunman picked to do the shooting—Freen believed that would be the plan—might alight in the rear and come up on the right. But such a course of action would place him too far from his taxi.

The shots would be fired from the car. He was sure of that.

Oerndorf was wishing he had heeded Stephen's suggestion and hailed an officer. No doubt, as he had said, such a move would have precipitated the trouble, but at least it would have been over by now. It was damned uncomfortable waiting to be shot at.

"Keep over," Freen said tensely, to him and Stephen. "Don't get in my way."

Oerndorf shrank farther into the corner. Stephen pulled himself up and looked into the special mirror that provided anyone in the tonneau seat a rear view of the road.

He saw the second car quite close, coming up alongside of them. Freen, watching, hawk-eyed, saw it too. He leaned forward and lifted his gun until it was pointing through the window of the cab.

The other car rolled into position but did not come to a full stop. Just as it was a few feet in advance of Oerndorf's cab a man's head and shoulders appeared suddenly at the open window on the right.

He raised an arm and thrust a gun directly at the occupants of the Oerndorf cab.

Two shots were fired simultaneously. One, aimed at Freen, passed through the back of the seat between him and Oerndorf. The gunman had meant to get the detective first and let Stephen have his second shot.

An instant too late he had seen the gun in Freen's hand. The one shot Freen fired caught the gunman in the wrist, shattering the small bones and wringing a cry of anguish from his lips while his pistol went clattering to the pavement.

His driver did not even look around. The car was in second gear and he lost not an instant in taking advantage of the flying start that allowed him.

With the throttle wide open he went roaring away and out of sight around the corner before anyone could make a move to stop him.

Freen leaned from the window to take a parting shot but the danger of hitting some other motorist in the crossstown traffic was too great to risk.

He ordered his driver to pursue the fleeing car but precious seconds were lost in getting away from a full stop. And in these few scant seconds the street intersection had become a scene of confusion.

People were running, some for shelter, in fear of a gang war shooting, and some to see what was happening. A policeman appeared, but not in time to get anything but a garbled account of what had occurred.

For a block or two the pursuing taxicab managed to keep within sight of the other, but then the gunmen got away in downtown traffic on Second avenue.

When Freen realized that he could not overtake them he stopped his own cab and got out 14 telephone police headquarters and

The shots would be fired from the car. He was sure of that.

Oerndorf was wishing he had heeded Stephen's suggestion and hailed an officer. No doubt, as he had said, such a move would have precipitated the trouble, but at least it would have been over by now. It was damned uncomfortable waiting to be shot at.

"Keep over," Freen said tensely, to him and Stephen. "Don't get in my way."

Oerndorf shrank farther into the corner. Stephen pulled himself up and looked into the special mirror that provided anyone in the tonneau seat a rear view of the road.

He saw the second car quite close, coming up alongside of them. Freen, watching, hawk-eyed, saw it too. He leaned forward and lifted his gun until it was pointing through the window of the cab.

The other car rolled into position but did not come to a full stop. Just as it was a few feet in advance of Oerndorf's cab a man's head and shoulders appeared suddenly at the open window on the right.

He raised an arm and thrust a gun directly at the occupants of the Oerndorf cab.

Two shots were fired simultaneously. One, aimed at Freen, passed through the back of the seat between him and Oerndorf. The gunman had meant to get the detective first and let Stephen have his second shot.

An instant too late he had seen the gun in Freen's hand. The one shot Freen fired caught the gunman in the wrist, shattering the small bones and wringing a cry of anguish from his lips while his pistol went clattering to the pavement.

His driver did not even look around. The car was in second gear and he lost not an instant in taking advantage of the flying start that allowed him.

With the throttle wide open he went roaring away and out of sight around the corner before anyone could make a move to stop him.

Freen leaned from the window to take a parting shot but the danger of hitting some other motorist in the crossstown traffic was too great to risk.

He ordered his driver to pursue the fleeing car but precious seconds were lost in getting away from a full stop. And in these few scant seconds the street intersection had become a scene of confusion.

People were running, some for shelter, in fear of a gang war shooting, and some to see what was happening. A policeman appeared, but not in time to get anything but a garbled account of what had occurred.

For a block or two the pursuing taxicab managed to keep within sight of the other, but then the gunmen got away in downtown traffic on Second avenue.

When Freen realized that he could not overtake them he stopped his own cab and got out 14 telephone police headquarters and

MOTHER'S DAY PICTURE EAST SIDE ROMANCE

There are few better known personages than Bradley Barker, director of the all talking Pathe picture, "Mother's Boy," starring Morton Downey, which will be seen and heard at the Palace theater today. In this humble, impressive story of life in the tenement district of the lower East Side in New York, written by Gene Markey, the featured players are: Helen Chandler, Osmond Perkins, John T. Doyle and Beryl Mercer.

"Mother's Boy" tells of a young East Side youngster who is the idol of a doting mother, and of his struggles to win recognition as a singer. There is a strophic love romance and a fine admixture of drama and appeal. The cast is exceptionally brilliant and includes many well known stage players, among them being Barbara Bennett, daughter of Richard Bennett, who recently became the bride of Morton Downey after a brief but romantic courtship which had its inception following their meeting at the Pathe sound studio.

The picture was produced under the supervision of Robert T. Kane, while the photography was the work of Harry Stradling. James Seymour was supervisor of dialogue.

"WILD PARTY IDEAL CLARA BOW FILM"

No more ideal for the animated talents of Miss Clara Bow has ever been chosen than her latest vehicle, "The Wild Party," which comes to the Palace theater, mid-night show tomorrow night at 10:30.

"The Wild Party" is a vivacious, fast-moving, all-talking production based on the story by Warner Fabian, famous author of popular novels of the jazz age.

There are several real wild parties in the play, and their watch-word seems to be, "When better whoopie is made, Clara will make it."

Among those whose names are beginning to elicit more than usual attention from the movie-going public are Shirley O'Hara, Marjorie Day, Joyce Compton, Adrienne Dore, Virginia Thomas, Jean Lorraine, Kay Bryant, Alice Adams, Renee Whitney, Amo Ingram and Margarite Cramer. They all appear in supporting roles in "The Wild Party."

This picture packs more punch than any yet devised to the alluring charms of random favorite star.

See it, and hear it, at our mid-night show tomorrow night. The fun starts at 10:30 and ends at midnight. Come folks, hear Clara in her first all talkie.

BIG PASSENGER VESSEL DRIFTS AT MERCY OF RAGING STORM

Flying into the teeth of a 60-mile gale, an NEA Service plane with a cameraman aboard fought Lake Erie at her worse to get this picture of the storm-stricken City of Buffalo, one of the Great Lakes' largest passenger boats, as it struggled in high seas against one of the worst storms in recent years. Engines disabled, with 50 passengers, was blown 40 miles off her course on the way from Buffalo to Cleveland. When the storm abated after 24 hours the ship dropped anchor near Ashtabula, Ohio. The passengers were taken off and brought to Cleveland on the City of Erie and repairs to the lake leviathan were begun. The helpless City of Buffalo is shown above, with one of the rescue boats alongside, endeavoring to get a line aboard.

CAT AND DOG CEMETERY TO BE ENLARGED

By N. REYNOLDS PACKARD United Press Staff Correspondent. PARIS, May 11.—The Cat and Dog cemetery of Paris, known as the most beautiful burial place in the world for animals, is to be enlarged. The desire of many French people to inter their pets in a manner befitting a beloved one has crowded the graveyard with mausoleums, monuments and tombstones until expansion has become necessary. This cemetery, which was founded 29 years ago, is located on a hillside on the Seine, just outside the city of Paris. It has its caretakers, who tend the perpetual flames, keep the tombstones and monuments clean and who dig the graves. They live in a little house on one side of the graveyard. Here may be found catalogues of the sculptured monuments and stone tablets.

El Paso Clubwoman Offered Throne of Tiny Island Realm

EL PASO, May 11.—An El Paso club woman and her son expect to ascend to the throne of the smallest kingdom on earth, and plan to establish a second Monte Carlo on a tiny island in the Mediterranean. Mrs. H. N. Frampton and her son, Lowell, an automobile salesman here, said today they probably would accept the offer made them from the tavalora, off the coast of Italy. Mrs. Frampton's great-great-grandfather settled on the island and set up a kingdom 200 years ago. King Paul, Mrs. Frampton's cousin and present ruler of Tavalora, made the offer, saying the people want a new ruler. "If we accept the offer it will be with a view to establishing a tourist resort similar to Monte Carlo," Mrs. Frampton said. The island covers three square miles and has 800 inhabitants. Sheep raising is its principal industry.

N. A. T. ENDS THREE YEARS OF OPERATION

Its planes flying 6,500 miles every twenty-four hours, National Air Transport, carrier of air mail and express between New York, Cleveland, Chicago, Kansas City, and Dallas, has completed three years of operations. On May 12, 1926, the first regularly scheduled N. A. T. plane made the first flight over the Chicago-Kansas City-Dallas airway. That was the start of what has expanded into one of the major air transportation systems of the world. During its first three years of existence, National Air Transport pilots and planes have flown a total of 4,674,343 miles, of which 1,614,445 miles were at night. While piling up this tremendous mileage, N. A. T. planes have carried a total of 2,113,363 pounds of mail and 105,959 pounds of express. At the close of 1928, N. A. T. operated a fleet of thirteen planes and had eight pilots on the payroll. The daily mileage at that time was 1,990 miles, flown between Chicago and Dallas. This daily mileage has increased to 6,500 miles in three years. The company now owns a fleet of forty modern cargo transport planes and has thirty-five skilled pilots to do the flying, about half of which is at night. On September 1, 1927, N. A. T. took over the eastern section of the trans-continent airway between Chicago and New York, when the Post Office department turned over the last of its air mail lines to private contractors. N. A. T. operates two round trips each twenty-four hours between Chicago and New York, the same between Chicago and Kansas City, and one round trip daily between Chicago and Dallas. A short feeder line is also operated between Chicago and Tulsa, Okla. The daily mileage of N. A. T. is exclusive of the extra sections operated to care for the great increase in mail cargoes since the reduction of the air mail rate to five cents for the first ounce and ten cents for each additional ounce. During the last six months, N. A. T. has flown three hundred extra sections to care for the mail loads, mostly over the New York-Chicago line. Fourteen stations are maintained by N. A. T. between New York and Dallas, each with a field manager and crew in charge. The company has four division traffic offices, one each at New York, Chicago, Kansas City, and Dallas. These offices are in charge of division traffic managers. General offices of the company are at the Chicago Municipal Airport where N. A. T. operations are centered. Here, too, is located the general overhaul and repair shops where scores of skilled workmen keep the N. A. T. planes in the first class condition so necessary in scheduled air transport operations.

New Gas Area at Palo Pinto

RANGER, May 11.—With the bit three feet in the sand, the W. K. Gordon et al well on the Joseph T. Tkazz farm, two and one-half miles south of Palo Pinto, is making 6,000,000 cubic feet of gas. The pay was found at 4,072 feet about 10 o'clock Sunday night and the well was shut down until the boiler could be moved. Initial production was 1,000,000 cubic feet. The well was drilled three feet deeper Monday morning, giving a production boost of 6,000,000 cubic feet. It is expected the well will be drilled deeper. The new gasser is located on what is known as Santo mountain on the Tkazz farm. John M. Gholson, Ranger oil operator, has an interest in the well. The rig will be skidded and another test started on the Jordan to the east of the Tkazz.

Shortage of Labor in South ACE

CORPUS CHRISTI, May 11.— Curtailment of activities of certain types of labor agents by support of the Johnson bill and a plan for issuing seasonal agricultural passports for Mexican farm laborers will be the methods used by the South Texas chamber of commerce to remedy the acute shortage of agricultural labor. The Johnson bill provides that migrant agencies engaging in sending workers out of the state pay an annual fee of $5,000 to Texas and $2,500 to each county in which they operate. The farm labor committee of the South Texas chamber will appeal to Governor Dan Moody for introduction of the bill in the special session. The East and West Texas chambers have been asked to assist in its support. The agricultural seasonal passport will permit Mexicans to enter border states from April 1st to Nov. 1st to engage in agricultural labor only. It would provide that at the expiration of these passports their holders be returned to Mexico.

Ranger Marksmen Seek State Title

RANGER, May 11.—Four marksmen tied for first place with a score of 97 at the weekly shoot of the Ranger Pistol club Wednesday. Coach Chief Jim Ingram, C. J. Moore, F. P. Brasher and C. B. Osteen turned in the 97 scores. J. T. Hughes made 96. Other scores were: W. C. Blackmond 95, Joe Dennis 93, Rip Dill 92, B. E. Rigby 88, Ernest Brunlow 86. Just how good a score of 97 may be realized from the fact that the winning individual in the shoot of the state police chiefs and city marshals convention last year was 97 and the winning team's average was a fraction better than 87. As a team consists of five, Ranger could have placed a team in action Wednesday with an average of nine points better than the 1928 state championship team and this city could have placed four marksmen in action, each shooting well enough to tie the state champion of last year. The day was ideal for shooting, there being no wind or bright sunshine.

Ranger has hopes of winning the championship at the state chiefs and marshals convention this year and the marksmen are practicing diligently. All interested should see Chief Ingram. Ranger will have some pistol shots at the Southwestern Pistol tournament in Dallas May 25-26. Several individuals will take part in the individual competition and it is probable that a team will be taken. A trapshooting team will represent Ranger in the contest in Breckenridge during the state convention of Elks. The team will be composed of Dr. Logsdon, Dr. Jackson, Joe Harness, W. C. Blackmond, Pearl Cox and Chief Ingram. The tournament is restricted to members of the Elks. Ross grown in Smith, Van Zandt, Cherokee and other East Texas counties are shipped to market throughout the United States. This is one of Texas' new and growing industries. — Texas Commercial News.

News Today Covered on Scale Never Before Heard of, United Press Manager Tells Editors

COLUMBIA, Mo., May 11.—De- manders of the American reading public and newspaper editors for higher standards in the volume, speed and quality of news dispatches have caused the news agencies of the United States to "cover the news on a scale hitherto unheard of," High Bailie, vice president and general business manager of the United Press said "Thursday" in an address before editors attending journalism week at the University of Missouri.

"At no time in the history of journalism," Bailie said, "has all the news been covered by American newspapers as thoroughly and comprehensively as it is today."

Bailie predicted increased use of wireless in news transmission and development of the telephone to a degree that would permit whole newspaper pages to be sent by wire or wireless on a practical, everyday basis. He stressed the increased public interest in financial news and its recognition

"Clean-Up" Man Too Drastic; He's Now Inside Looking Out

FREDERICKSBURG, May 11.—Suspicious of the way a one man cleanup campaign was being carried out, city authorities here held an imposter who came in guise of a United States marshal.

Promising to end all crime in short order, the "marshal" said to be William J. Kubala, a soldier on furlough from Fort Sam Houston, brandished his gun before traffic violators and collected fines on the spot.

Within a few hours after his clean-up had begun, he rested behind bars with charges against him of robbery with firearms, falsely impersonating a United States marshal, carrying arms unlawfully, and false imprisonment. His apprehension came when he tried to arrest the daughter of the city attorney on an alleged infraction of traffic rules.

IN JAIL FOR MONTH COUPLE GET FREEDOM

STINNETT, May 11.—In jail for almost a month following a grand jury indictment as the death of Mrs. Barney Turner of Berger, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Scott were freed today on $1,000 and $3,000 bond respectively.

Scott's bond was signed by 18 persons all living outside of Hutchinson county. Mrs. Scott's bond was undertaken by D. B. Dou- plrate and Dyke Cullums, both of Berger.

The couple will appear before Judge Newton P. Willis in district court here June 10 when their motion for a change of venue is scheduled to be considered.

Wringing her hands as she walked, talking quietly to herself, sobbing and crying, Mrs. Scott was a pathetic sight when visited in the county jail by a United Press correspondent.

Scott meanwhile confined to the men's department where he sat in silence most of the time talking occasionally to Bert M. Bryan, jailer, or to Joe Ombrey, sheriff. The Scotts were unable to communicate with each other while in jail except in presence of attorneys or officers.

"Mrs. Scott aged greatly after being placed in jail," Bryan said. "She looks much older. Her sister, who took care of the couple's little children, called to see her as well as one or two other relatives."

The Scotts and Turners were friends for the three years they lived in Berger. Scott having known the Turners in childhood. The men had worked closely together since coming here. Turner, a driller and Scott as a worker for the Phillips Petroleum company.

Shortly after the shooting, the Scotts said Mrs. Turner had accused Mrs. Scott of "running around" with Turner. The same afternoon the Scotts were alleged to have come down town in their car. Seeing Mrs. Turner across the street from the post office, Scott was alleged to have parked his car, stepped out of it, and going to where Mrs. Turner was standing, to have shot her three times in presence of eye witnesses.

Editor Howe Likes Miss Morini's Voice and Sends Her Roses

AMARILLO, May 11.—Editor Gene Howe, whose operatic criticisms caused such an uproar not long ago, is content and so is Rosalinda Morini, who seeks operatic fame.

Editor Howe hinted shortly after the Chicago Civic Opera company staged an opera here that he believed all prima donnas "totter" when they walk. He expressed extreme displeasure with the opera "Thais" given by the company and made united remarks about Mary Gars.

But Miss Morini convinced Howe that there is at least one opera singer who deserves praise—and who doesn't totter when she walks. For this Miss Morini received two dozen American Beauty roses from "Kernel Erasmus Tack," Howe's pen name.

Miss Morini had expressed a hope that she could please Kernel Tack and the word reached Howe's ears. "All right," he said, "I'll attend the concert. If Miss Morini's voice is all that I think it should be, I'll send her a bouquet of roses, during the concert. If her voice is faulty or faulty I will arise after the first group of songs, walk slowly down the auditorium followed by my family. This will mean that we have been robbed again."

But Miss Morini's voice was pleasing to the editor and she got the flowers.

West Texas which, according to the West Texas chamber of commerce comprises the area west of the M. K. T. railroad to Ward and thence southwest through Fredericksburg and Rock Springs to Del Rio includes 135 counties and approximately 91,000,000 acres of land. Into it could be dropped Maine, New Hampshire, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Delaware and Maryland, and still have unoccupied 10,000 square miles or eight more Rhode Islands.—Texas Commercial News.

ADVERTISING DIRECTOR IS APPOINTED

Robert M. Parks has been appointed director of advertising of the Plymouth Motor Corporation, according to an announcement made this week by A. vanDerZee, Plymouth General Sales Manager.

Mr. Parks is thoroughly familiar with Chrysler Motors advertising policies, having joined the Chrysler staff two years ago. Prior to 1927 he had for ten years engaged in advertising agency and personal sales work which gave him a first-hand acquaintance with merchandising problems in all parts of the country.

This appointment follows closely upon the heels of the establishment of the Plymouth Motor Corporation as a separate division of Chrysler Motors, and the transfer of Plymouth manufacturing operations and executive offices to the mammoth new plant at Mt. Elliott Avenue and Lynch Road, Detroit.

The Plymouth advertising campaign has already taken rank as one of the largest in the automotive industry, and has played an important part in winning the greatest public acceptance that Chrysler has ever enjoyed in the low-price field. Plymouth orders for April shipment exceed all former records for a Chrysler-built car of comparative price.

FREIGHTER SINKS AS LINER BACKS CLEAR

She's going down! This unusual photo, taken soon after a collision between a liner and a freighter in lower New York bay, shows the River Cronos, of the Cunard Line, her upper decks settling to the bottom as the sea poured through a great rent in her hull. The Spanish Royal Mail liner Cristobal Colon, which was sailing from New York with 1,000 passengers aboard, is shown at the left as it backed away from the sinking freighter. At first the boats could not be pulled apart and it was feared that the freighter might pull the liner down with her. Note the damaged prow of the Cristobal Colon. The crash occurred in a sudden heavy fog. No lives were lost.

KEEPING UP WITH PROGRESS IN WEST TEXAS

Snyder's air-mindedness is growing with the arrival of the first home-owned plane, a Curtiss-Robinson Monoplane with OX-5 motor (90 horse-power), for the nearly completed airport. The port is unique in that it has such equipment that pilots and passengers need not leave the field to cat or sleep.

Hereford real estate records indicate that within a few years the great cattleman's paradise will soon become the land of the crop grower. The 110 transfers of agricultural land recently completed around the town had a total acreage of 48,175 acres of approximately 75 sections, averaging 438 acres.

Petersburg's chamber of commerce is actively working to secure natural gas for the town. A committee arranged to go to Amarillo and confer with the gas company there on the proposition.

White Deer has recently organized a chamber of commerce and elected Odus Dean, president, and G. H. Russell, editor of the White Deer Review, secretary. Regular meetings were inaugurated at the Palo Duro Cafe on Mondays.

Cisco entertained the Brazos Valley Pecan Growers association on April 30th. J. H. Burkett, owner of the famous Burkett pecan tree from which more trees in West Texas are budded than any other, was present. Burkett was presented a bronze plaque in recognition of his influence on the growth of the industry.

Quitaque's entrants in the local City Beautification contest have passed 21, with more entries coming in every day. Prizes aggregating $50.00 are to be awarded place winners in the contest. Judges are being chosen from town landscaping experts.

Junction's new ice cream plant will have a daily capacity of five hundred gallons of cream and will be as modern as any to be found in the state. All new and the latest machinery is to be installed in the plant which will be a stucco building of Spanish architecture.

Laredo begins her shipment of Bermuda onions early and has already shipped over 200 car loads. Special train loads carrying from 75 to 100 cars will leave the town slightly while prices remain good. Then dealers will be prorated as to the amount they can ship in order to prevent the glutting of the market.

The Levelland ice company completed the installation of its plant recently and began freezing ice. The ice is clear and I. P. Lea, the manager, states that water in Levelland is particularly adapted to making fine ice according to the methods used. This is a new industry for Levelland and another mark of its progress.

A Clarendon paper announces that Donley county home demonstration club women have closed their living room contest and announced the winners as Mrs. N. L. Jones of Ashtola, first in the class with expense of less than $50.00 and Mrs. O. R. Culwell of Hedley, first in the class with an expenditure over $50.00.

Anson will entertain the third annual meeting of the Dal-Paso Cavern Highway association on May 8. Invitations have been extended the highway commissioners of both Texas and New Mexico to attend this meeting. Plans for a motorcade to begin at Shreveport, La., will be made.

Big Spring's first quarterly meeting of the chamber of commerce was attended by more than 400 people. The main topic of discussion was the building of good roads. Howard county will soon vote on a road bond to pave both highways out of Big Spring and this course was highly recommended by those present.

The Canyon Episcopal church has broken ground for the erection of a new home for their student welfare worker, who is stationed in Canyon. The brick cottage will be planned to suit the needs of large student gatherings and for entertainment of visiting officers of the church.

Olden Youth Shows Promise as Runner

EASTLAND, May 11.—Milton Barker, son of Dr. and Mrs. Barker of Olden, who is attending school in Chattanooga, Tennessee, is making a splendid showing as a sprinter and is being looked upon by his coach as a coming champion. Young Barker last year was a sophomore in the Eastland schools.

The following is taken from a Chattanooga newspaper, and was printed beneath a photograph of Barker:

"Shown above is Milton Barker, Coach Bates' 'dark horse' for the Dixie interscholastic track and field championships scheduled for Friday and Saturday of this week. Barker according to those who know a real sprinter when they see one, is about the most promising youngster seen under City High colors in several seasons. Barker will show in the running events."

EXODUS OF MEXICANS IS THREATENED

LAREDO, May 11.—Quick steps have become necessary to stop a threatened exodus of Mexican laborers back to their native land.

Fear that United States immigration service inspectors would report them involuntarily to Mexico has brought excitement and apprehension to thousands of Mexicans near the boundary line.

Following complaints that numerous Mexicans who have been residing on the American side of the boundary for years were being deported by immigration officials, numerous conferences were held with the officials by the Laredo chamber of commerce and other business men. All members of the Webb county Bar association pledged at a meeting their services free of cost to see that justice was meted any peaceable Mexican resident who had lived on the American side for five years or more.

The commercial, industrial, and agricultural interests of this section are dependent upon Mexican labor. To allow these persons to be arrested unjustly or to be deported by immigration officials without cause is not to the liking of the Laredo chamber of commerce.

The chamber printed and distributed among Mexicans of this section 25,000 circulars in Spanish containing an abstract of the United States immigration laws. These circulars also set forth the fact that any law-abiding and peaceful Mexican who has resided on the American side of the Rio Grande for five years or more should not be deported without cause; that only drug addicts, prostitutes, and law violators of other kinds were subject to arrest and deportation; that no other Mexican who had entered the country legally could be deported; that Mexican residents born in the United States need only to present their birth certificates; and where married, a marriage certificate to prevent being further molested by immigration inspectors.

Must Not Get Aid.

One further provision was made. Mexicans must show they have not received aid from charitable institutions and must show by letter from the Mexican consul that they have not received aid from the Mexican government.

The circular also advised Mexican residents who are not American citizens by birth that they must reside continuously in this country. Should they go out of the confines of this country into Mexico, even for the shortest length of time, they can be refused re-entry unless they take out the regulation consul passport costing ten dollars and pay the requisite head tax costing eight dollars more, or a total of eighteen dollars.

The information in the circular had the desired effect. It suppressed the prevailing excitement among Mexican residents.

The circular will also have the effect of cutting down the travel between Laredo and Nuevo Laredo, Mexico, on the other side of the international bridge. This is true for the Mexican residents not native-born Americans will not hazard the chance of going over the boundary and being held in Mexico. Thousands of Mexican agricultural workers employed in the onion fields at this season and in the cotton fields during the summer will remain on the American side and be safe.

True style that reflects the mode . . . yet dares to be different . . .

Fisher designers created beautiful bodies for the New Oakland All-American Six. Long and low and rakish in outline . . . as the bodies of fine cars are expected to be. Oakland designers matched these Fisher bodies with sweeping hood and cowl lines . . . with flaring one-piece fenders . . . creating a harmony of contour and a motor car style that reflects the mode, yet dares to be different.

In the distinctive appearance of its radiator . . . in the attractive simplicity of its rear view . . . in its wide range of smart, new colors . . . the New All-American differs from ordinary motor car styles. And in its interiors is further evidence that Oakland has created its own original style.

We are now making a special demonstration designed to bring home to motorists the extraordinary value provided by the New Oakland All-American Six. If you are planning to buy a car we want you to enjoy this demonstration . . . if only for the purpose of learning what Oakland offers for its surprisingly moderate price.

OIL NEWS OF SOUTHWEST

COLEMAN, May 11.—Prospects for a continuation of the oil drilling campaign in Coleman county brightened some this week with the announcement of several new locations and the fact that several drilling tests are reaching interesting depths.

Interest now centers around the Sun Oil company H. G. Gwynn and Payne Drilling test on the J. B. Long farm in Louisiana Johnson survey No. 481, nine miles due east of Coleman. The location was made with the Sun company's "Electric Doodlebug," and for this reason it has attracted more than the usual amount of attention. It was drilling Thursday morning at 1,630. The well is located 596 feet from the south and 1,436 feet from the west line of the survey.

The well just north of the city limits has reached an interesting depth.

The Union Oil company and Humphrey Brothers have completed a 7,000,000 cubic feet gasser with a 500 pound rock pressure in Cross Plains sand found at 1,175 feet. The well is located two miles southeast of Santa Anna and the companies own a large block between it and the Moxley pool.

Eastland Oil company's Kenney No. 1 in R. C. Chran survey is shut down near expected pay horizon.

Vaughan et al on Vaughan in the southwest part of Bond & Sanders survey No. 79, one and a half miles southwest of Trickham, have a show of oil in a sand found from 969 to 972 feet.

J. E. Bury is moving on Moneyham section G. H. & H. Ry survey to drill a test to Gardner Bay for the Atlantic Oil Producing company.

Centennial, Cheney, et al are setting 8-inch casing at 1,420 in their Overall No. 2, preparatory to testing lower sands, and in their Brooks No. 1 southwest of Bangs they are setting 10-inch casing at 595 feet to shut off hole full of water.

Shagwood B. Owen, Inc., et al are rigging for their No. 1 John Mills in John H. Wood survey 482, seven miles northeast of Coleman, 2,270 feet from the north and 2,155 feet from the southeast corner of the survey. The contract depth is 2,100 feet.

Stapp & Keiser have made a location in the northwest corner of section 19, northeast 1/4 of section 72, G. H. & H. Ry survey, and A. C. McGahhey has made a location 300 feet west of the northeast corner and 200 feet south of section 11, G. H. & H. Ry, company survey.

SEMINOLE, Okla., May 11.—Due to decrease in all pools with exception of Little River and Earlsboro, the greater Seminole oil area showed a decrease of 4,433 barrels Thursday. Total production was 381,063 barrels from 1,963 wells.

The St. Louis pool produced 94,855 barrels from 351 wells.

Production by pools: Little River, 78,341 barrels; Bow Legs, 34,477 barrels; Earlsboro, 62,324 barrels; Seminole City, 33,397 barrels; Carr City, 14,131 barrels; Seawright, 11,844 barrels; Maud, 13,056 barrels; Mission, 38,228 barrels.

TULSA, Okla., May 11.—The Oklahoma producers were on record Friday as being strongly opposed to production restrictions in any part of the state and complete breakdown of the state curtailment program was forecast.

Producers in Mass meeting late Thursday voted to veto all proposals for statewide pro-ration, for restricting drilling and for continuing restrictions which expire May 15.

This action followed a test vote to approve the statewide plan. The vote was 16 for the plan and four against it, with a number not voting. Refusal of the Prairie Oil & Gas company, controlling more than 100,000 barrels of Seminole production, to adhere to the decision, caused defeat of the measure.

Pro-ration in Oklahoma is at an end now, not May 15, declared Chairman W. C. Franklin of the interior regional conservation committee of the American Petroleum Institute.

This action means that the daily production of the state which has been kept at 630,000 barrels will not be limited.

HOUSTON, May 11.—The Texas company's widest No. 1 Kuhn and Glass, near Port Neches in Orange county, was completed late Thursday with an initial flow of 2,000 barrels of 21 gravity coastal crude. Reports Friday were that it was maintaining its output.

The well is located in a swamp approximately one mile from the Neches river, from which a canal was dredged by the Texas company to the location and used for floating in material and supplies.

The Humble Oil & Refining Co. and Valley Oil corporation's No. 1 Kalszewski in the Raccoon Bend district in Austin county, completed at 1,064 feet, is good for 1,500,000 cubic feet of gas. The bringing in of this well further widens the producing section of the field a distance of 2,500 feet west.

GREAT BRITAIN JAILED.

TULARE, Cal., May 11.—All of Great Britain was in jail here recently. He was a youth and would give no name but "Great Britain" when arrested. And so it was recorded on the police blotter: "Great Britain, bound on all sides by canned heat."

Convict, Confident of Liberty After 13 Years, Orders Civilian Clothes; Says He's Going Home

By DAN CAMPBELL, United Press Staff Correspondent.

SAN QUENTIN, STATE PRISON, Calif., May 11.—Convict No. 31921, whose imprisonment has agitated capitalists and laborers, students and professors, attorneys and judges, even a president of the United States, has ordered his first suit of civilian clothes in 13 years.

Although clemency has not yet been granted, No. 31921, who lost his identity as Tom Mooney in 1917, the aftermath of the San Francisco preparedness parade shambles, is confident of liberty.

In his first public utterance in years here Friday, given in an interview with the United Press, Mooney declared he was "going home. Tom Mooney, whose petition for pardon is to be reviewed by Governor Young within the next few days, has walked within the shadow of the noose.

The 46-year-old former labor leader, found guilty of the bombing which snuffed out the lives of 19 persons and injured 49 others gave ample proof of this as he walked into the interview room.

He might easily have been mistaken for 60. There was vigor in his hand clasp and gleam in his brown eyes, but bowed shoulders, graying hair and deeply furrowed features gave testimony of his confinement.

"For 13 years we have waited for the moment I know is near during every waking hour of that time, when not assigned to prison duties, I have toiled to perfect the documents which are now in the hands of Governor Young. A three thousand word petition, written by myself and bound here in the prison, has been presented to him by Tom Waide."

The preparedness day bombing occurred July 22, 1916, and a few days later Mooney and his wife, Warren K. Billings, a labor leader, Israel Weinburg, a taxi driver and Edward Folan, president of the machinists union, lodge No. 68, were arrested.

Mooney was convicted and sentenced to death. Billings was sentenced to life imprisonment. The others were never tried as it was learned before their trials that the state's chief witness had perjured himself.

Not satisfied to have visitors from out of the state out-do Texas, the greatest flying state in the union, the T. A. T. Flying Service, Inc. lines or by private craft, it was announced today by Robert J. Smith, general traffic manager of T. A. T. Flying Service, Inc.

Indications are that this International Rotary convention will be one of the most unusual on record and will probably show more diversity of means of transportation than any other ever held.

Rotary headquarters report that 30 planes will carry delegates from Wichita, Kansas, and that numerous delegates are coming by air. The Houston club has already made seven reservations by plane and indications are that several others will be added to the list before convention date.

The Texas Rotary club sending the largest delegation via air to the Rotary International convention, May 27 to 31 will be presented with a silver loving cup commemorating the event, by the T. A. T. Flying Service, Inc.

$3,000,000 SPENT IN MARCH BY BELL COMPANY

The Southwestern Bell Telephone company, operating in Missouri, Arkansas, Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas, and a small part of Illinois adjacent to St. Louis, authorized gross additions to its plant, or telephone property and equipment, to the amount of $3,300,958, during March 1929.

These authorizations provide that $528,586 worth of worn and obsolete equipment will be removed, leaving a net addition to the company's telephone property of $2,772,372.

The total expenditures by the company for plant extensions during 1929 will total approximately $42,000,000.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN.
Internationally today will be observed in churches as Mother's Day. Our program this morning includes in addition to special music by the choir, and Dr. Grover C. Morris at the Piker pipe organ, the presentation of two bouquets of flowers; one to the oldest and one to the youngest mother present. The sermon subject will be "Zeruah," and carried in its strange oriental bosom a word of interest for the thoughtful. The evening hour, 8 o'clock, has also a treat of musical selections, interwoven with stirring praise-singing by the congregation. The minister's message "Darkness Before the Dawn," another of the series on "Moses, Chosen of God," will have a stereotyped picture setting. You will find potential friends here if you care to be friendly, and give us an opportunity to know you. Why not begin with Sunday school at 9:45 this morning?

FIRST METHODIST.
Mother's Day will be appropriately observed in each of the departments of the Sunday school, beginning at 9:45 o'clock. Every pupil of the school is urged to be on time and enjoy the program of their department. Assembling in the main auditorium after the school, there will be an interesting program for the whole family group. Families are asked to sit together as far as possible. The program will be in the honor of Mother. "I Saw My Mother Kneeling," will be sung by Mrs. Statham and Mrs. Webb. Mr. Reed will sing, "Mother Knows," Mr. Singleton will preach a short sermon on "Mother." Flowers will be at the church for any who desire them. The evening service will be a sermon, will be one with the idea of Mother Love running through it. "The Scarlet Chord," Everyone is invited to worship with us.— F. E. SINGLETON, pastor.

GRACE LUTHERAN.
Corner 16th street and P avenue. Mother's Day program this morning at 10:30. The pastor will preach on "Harrah, the Mother of Samuel, a Noble Example of the Mother's of Today." No doubt, if mothers of today realized the privilege, the responsibility and the responsibility and possibility of motherhood as did Harrah, there would be less criminality and more real consecrated Christianity in the world today. At the 8 p. m. service the series on Moses will be continued, this evening's sermon treating on "Moses, the prophet. Sunday school meets at 9:30. You are welcome. — H. F. REIMAN, pastor.

emaciated looking and smaller than most girls of 19 or 21. Binette told them she worked from 6 a. m. to 6 p. m. for less than $5 a week. One of the older women said she had pelagaria and no money for treatment. Finally Miss Gertrude McNally, one of the officers of the convention, told the strikers they would have to get out. "I'm sorry you will have to get out," she said. "We must clear the floor for a dance." As the strikers left the building some of the women were crying and a few of the convention delegates had tears in their eyes.

DAMAGE SUITS ARE FILED.

GASTONIA, N. C., May 11. — Fifty damage suits are planned by strikers evicted from company-owned houses of the Manville Jencks Textile corporation. Tom P. Jimison, attorney for the National Textile Workers' Union, said today. The first suit has been filed by J. A. Valentine, who asked $35,000 damages for alleged illegal eviction. Valentine claimed breach of contract and that the act was not a disposition as his household goods were taken out and left on other property owned by the textile plant. More than 60 families of strikers have been evicted under court orders during the past week. In several cases, the homeless camped out in the street where their furniture had been trapped.

Miller Back From Baptist Meeting

The main business of the convention was completed earlier than was expected which accounts for his return earlier than was announced. He will occupy his pulpit at both services today.

A special Mother's Day service has been arranged for this morning. Flowers will be distributed at the doors, and young ladies will act as ushers. Music will be a feature of the service. A Galveston merchant protested vigorously when he learned a man who lived in one of the merchant's houses had robbed his store and secreted the loot in the house.

MR. PASCHALL VISITS FARM AT GRANBURY

M. D. Paschall, Sr., has just returned from a visit to his farm near Granbury on the Brazos river. He has a splendid farm of 320 acres, 200 acres in cultivation with a good crop prospect he says. Corn about knee high and oats are looking better than last year at this time. He expects an unusually good yield from his oat crop. He plants everything in the general crop line on this farm. About 75 acres will be planted to peanuts. These will be planted this coming week. Mr. Paschall has found turkey raising very profitable heretofore, and took the family on his farm at home for a few hours and while they were absent a young bird got into the turkey quarters and ate about 60 young turkeys. This left only about 80 young ones and a loss of more than $200. They are more fortunate in the matter of rain, however, because according to Mr. Paschall, they do not need any more moisture at present. In fact, they have had a little too much rainfall up to the present, while this section is rather in need of a good rain.

Loboes Down Fast Stamford Team by 32 to 0 Score

MORE POWER REVEALED BY CISCO ELEVEN

Forward Pass Attack Works Smoothly Against Visitors.

Displaying regular season form after the first few minutes of the game, the Cisco Loboes Friday afternoon closed their 1929 spring training season with a 32 to 0 win over the Stamford Bulldogs at Chesley field. The Cisco boys appeared during the first few minutes of the contest to be more hully off than at any time during their practice period but righted themselves in a few minutes. They found passes, started ends and plunged through the line for gains almost at will.

The accuracy and smooth functioning of their forward passing machine was the feature of the game. Smith, center left end was a star in this department. Willard Miller, who was sent in after the first minute or two of the contest had been played, to rejuvenate the faltering Loboes, looked almost unstopable until he was taken out with a wrenched ankle.

Wendell Whitehead demonstrated some clever broken field running during the contest. Every boy on the team played a bang-up good game. There was more of the need-power apparent, more of the smooth coordination that makes for good football teams.

Coach Chapman used a variety of material during the game, substituting frequently under a coaching agreement.

Auto Speed King to Try for New Record

CLEVELAND, O., May 11.—Ray Keesh, America's auto speed king, will try again to set a new world's speed record at Daytona beach, Fla., he announced today.

"Our plans have not been divulged," Keesh said. "But a concern now is building a car in which I will try to break the world record." Keesh formerly held the title at 207 miles per hour set April 22, 1923. Two days later Frank Lockhart was killed trying to beat this. Then last March Major H. O. Seargrave of England, attained a speed of 221 miles per hour at Daytona Beach.

SUPREMACY OF U. S. GOLFERS IS ADMITTED

By LAUFER. British Looking to Future for Their Laurels.

LONDON, May 11.—Deprived of their own open championship for the sixth time in as many years, British golfers today admitted the supremacy of the United States at the present and began looking to the future.

The victory of Walter Hagen yesterday with the phenomenal score of 292 for the long Muirfield field course, and the blanket finish of the American professionals who won the first three prizes and eight of the first 19 places, left no doubt as to the superiority of the invaders.

This was despite Britain's victory in the Ryder cup matches, in which Hagen and his associates were decisively beaten. Hagen's 73-67-73-75-292 was the third lowest score ever recorded in a British open, the first and second being held by Bobby Jones, also of the United States, who in 1926 with a total of 291 and repeated in 1927 with an amazing 285 over the famous St. Andrews links.

It was Hagen's second victory in the event in two years, his third in six years and his fourth in eight years. He first won the event in 1922, at Sandwich, with an even 360. In 1924, at Hoylake, he repeated, this time with a 291. His score last year, at Sandwich, was the same as the last, 292.

Before the war the British open was strictly a British affair. Americans entered frequently, and often finished high. The winner, however, was invariably an Englishman.

The majority of the American professionals, including Johnny Farrell, who was second yesterday with a total of 298, and Leo Diegel, who was third with 299, will play several exhibition matches on British courses before going over the continent for tournaments in Germany and France.

Game Little Italian Fighter

Stands Out as Logical Contender for Junior Lightweight Title Now

CHICAGO, May 11.—Partially avenged for the defeat which cost him his featherweight title, Tony Canzoneri, game little Italian fighter, stood out today as a logical contender for the junior lightweight title, which Tod Morgan now holds.

The greatest indoor crowd in history—25,000—last night saw Canzoneri win a 10 round decision from Andre Routsis, present featherweight champion in a non-title bout. Although it was partial save for the defeat which cost Tony his featherweight championship when Routsis whipped him in the East, the victory did not allow the Italian to regain his title for he came in over the 126 pound featherweight limit. The bout was one of the greatest ever seen here. It brought two men together who really like to fight and they clashed away for the entire 10 rounds. It was so close that there were more boos than cheers when Canzoneri was given the decision. The crowd liked Routsis, and Canzoneri, who came into the ring amidst the greatest ovation ever given a fighter here, was forced to take second place to the Frenchman in the final cheers.

It took Routsis two rounds to get started but in the latter part of the second the Frenchman tore loose with an attack which made Canzoneri seek a clinch for the first time since he has been fighting in Chicago.

PREAKNESS WINNER LIKELY DERBY ENTRANT

BALTIMORE, Md., May 11.—Dr. Preeland, winner of yesterday's rich Preakness stakes, Pimlico, may be a starter in the Kentucky derby, his owner, Walter J. Salmon, indicated today.

Salmon was highly pleased with the showing of his colt, which in the mile and three-sixteenths race in 2:01 3-5. He said he might take the horse to Louisville for the annual turf show there next Saturday.

On the other hand Earl Sand, formerly the leading jockey in American turf, had about decided to withdraw Hermitage, his entry from the Louisville race on the basis of his poor showing when he finished last.

Dr. Preeland ran a great race to win the 38th running of the event at Pimlico, coming from behind in the stretch to beat Chateaufort's Monotaur by a neck length. He was going away from the finish having worn Minto down with his final burst of speed.

72-Year-Old Representative Would Revive Extinct Custom and Fight Duel With Governor of Louisiana

BATON ROUGE, La., May 11.—Pistols and coffee for two!

It has been a long time since that chant of the duellists has been heard on the floor of the Louisiana house of representatives. Duelling has gone out of fashion, here as elsewhere.

But Judge Gilbert L. Dupre, for 20 years a representative from the St. Landry-Evangeline district, would revive it.

One cup of coffee and one pistol would be for him; the other would be for Governor Huey P. Long, who is now the focal point of an impeachment whirlwind.

Judge Dupre is 72 years old and stone deaf. But he is descended from a race of duellists. He clings to the old code, under which there are certain insults that can only be replied to by a challenge to mortal combat. Such an insult, he feels, Governor Long has hurled at him.

Speaking in Opelousas the other night, Governor Long ripped into Judge Dupre, who has been one of his severest critics, and cried: "Some people think they are honest just because they are deaf!"

Judge Dupre arose in the house of representatives next day and shouted his reply: "He's crazy! He came to my home and slandered me. Every statement made by Long was as false as the coinage of hell itself. He is on his way to the lunatic asylum or the penitentiary. I don't know which. I fight in the open. I don't believe I am afraid of God, man or the devil. And I don't carry a concealed weapon, as Long does."

"But so help me, I will fight it out with him or shoot it out until he hollars 'enough.' Governor Long has got the wrong man by the ear!"

The venerable representative is quite in earnest about his challenge. "I'm ready—let him select the time and place," he cried. "For twenty years he has been representative from his district, and before that he served as a district judge. In 1909, it is recalled, he challenged another representative to fight a duel, but friends intervened and the affair was patched up somehow."

Nineteen Years Are Spanned as Mother and Daughter Meet

FORT WORTH, May 11.—Nineteen years were spanned Wednesday afternoon when Miss Beatrice Beasley, Sherman nurse, and her mother, Mrs. O. Taylor, Dallas, saw each other for the first time since 1910.

They met in front of the Tarrant county court house. The meeting was arranged by County Clerk Hollis to whom Miss Beasley had written, asking his help in finding relatives from whom she had been separated since she was four years old.

Beatrice King, 4, was one of six children placed in the Tarrant county orphan's home in 1910, after her parents had separated. Her four sisters and a brother were adopted out, but she remained because of sickness. Later she was adopted by Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Beasley of Whitehouse.

Burning of the orphanage and the destruction of all records in 1913, had prevented Mrs. Taylor from learning the whereabouts of the girl.

Railroad Issues in Forefront of Market at Close Saturday; Motor Stocks Feel Depression

NEW YORK, May 11.—Today's stock market moved upward in early dealings but ran into the usual week end profit taking and closed irregular.

Railroad issues were in the forefront, helped by excellent earnings reports and declaration of a 33 1-3 per cent stock dividend by Chesapeake corporation.

The latter featured the railroad group, rising to a new high with a gain of five points. Chesapeake and Ohio also gained as did Erie, New York Central, whose earnings for the first quarter, swelled by a 100 per cent cash dividend by Michigan Central, were equal to $6.35 a share, against $2.17 in the previous year's first quarter, also moved to higher ground.

United corporation continued its rise into record territory and held the majority of its gains, stimulating buying in other utilities in early trading. Toward the close the group was declining with the remainder of the market.

Motor stocks were depressed, with Chrysler dropping to a new low for the year. Pressure against this stock unsettled the entire group where General Motors and Hudson had been steady and in fair demand in early trading.

Several large transactions were consummated in the day's dealings. United corporation opened on a block of 10,000 shares. Paramount Famous Lasky 12,000 and Erie 4,000. Later a block of 10,000 National Cash Register appeared at 125, off 1-2.

U. S. Steel was up fractionally in the early trading but it broke toward the close as did several other leaders.

Copper shares, with the exception of American Smelting, were off from fractions to a point. Mail order shares held firm as did several other mercantile stocks. Sparks Withington soared to a new high record at 3.35, up 20 points, and held most of the gain.

FLORIDA FRUIT QUARANTINE TO BE DECLARED

AUSTIN, May 11.—A quarantine against Florida citrus fruit is to be declared today, State Agricultural Commissioner George B. Terrell announced.

Preparation of the quarantine order is under way. The order is to prevent entry into Texas of citrus canker, scaly bark and Florida white fly.

The order does not apply to Mediterranean fruit fly against which the federal government has assumed control.

This quarantine was recommended by a committee of Texas citrus growers who met here yesterday. They also recommended a $25,000 appropriation for inspection and control of citrus pests.

Commissioner Terrell said that he had been informed that new districts in Florida have been found to be infested with Mediterranean fruit fly and requested all receivers of cars of citrus fruit from Florida to notify the department so they may be inspected.

HOOVER FINDS USE FOR WHITE HOUSE COURTS

By LAWRENCE SULLIVAN, United Press Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, May 11.—President Hoover has called the white house tennis courts into service in his general administration policy of fostering international good will.

The Japanese and Canadian Davis cup teams have been invited to meet the American team in an exhibition match on the white house court, May 21, two days before the beginning of tournament play in the American zone finals at Chevy Chase club.

The white house invitation went forward last night to Samuel H. Colton, president of the United States Lawn Tennis association at Philadelphia. The idea to bring the international teams to the fire clay courts on the spacious south grounds of the executive mansion is reported to have originated with President Hoover himself. He suggested the plan for the first white house tennis party two weeks ago to officials of the Davis cup committee and the Chevy Chase club who called at the white house to invite the president and first lady to the tournament matches.

Diplomatic representatives of countries which have teams in the Davis cup competition, members of the cabinet, and a group of personal friends will be guests of the president and Mrs. Hoover at the garden party, which, with fine weather, promises to be one of the most colorful and unusual social events at the white house in recent years.

Fisticuffs Follow Charges Made Against Members of Department of Attorney General by C. D. Neff

AUSTIN, May 11.—C. D. Neff of Dallas was struck repeatedly by D. J. Pickell, former county judge of Travis county and member of the attorney general's department at the adjournment of a hearing held last night in the house of representatives chamber at which Neff had made charges against members of the department.

Neff had testified that while issuance of a blue sky permit and a state charter for a corporation he represented was under consideration one member of the department offered to sell him an oil painting for $700 and $800 and that another member had said he had oil leases to sell.

When the latter charge was made, Pickell rose.

"I just wanted to interrupt to say he is a damn liar," Pickell said.

The encounter occurred at midnight when the hearing was recessed until today. Pickell and Neff met at the door.

Neff recently sent a letter to some members of the legislature and a circular which Rep. George Purli put before the house together with a resolution calling on Neff to substantiate charges made. The resolution was referred to a committee which heard Neff last night. He was cross examined vigorously by First Assistant Attorney General Galloway Calhoun about oil properties that were the subject of his transactions with the blue sky division of the secretary of state's office and the attorney general's department.

Neither Neff nor Henry L. Ford of Amarillo, who were here last night as witnesses for the hearing appeared this morning.

J. T. Miller of Dallas, attorney for Neff, said that Ford had asked him to inform the committee that he would not appear unless subpoenaed by the committee. He said Ford had made a statement to Coke Stephenson, member of the house of representatives, at his hotel last night and that the statement could be submitted if the committee desired.

Pickell addressed the committee pointing out that last night's clash took place after the committee had recessed. He disclaimed any disrespect of the committee or of its members. "I have made it a rule of my life," he said, "when any man impugns my motives and swears falsely against me that he must account to me personally. I was not acting as an official but as an individual."

The hearing proceeded with First Attorney General Galloway Calhoun questioning Attorney Miller. Miller testified that he was present when some pictures were seen at the house of an employee of the attorney general's office but that nothing improper took place.

Specific denial of the charges in Neff's testimony was made during the hearing this morning by Pickell and by R. V. Nichols, enforcement officer of the attorney general's office.

Nichols testified that Neff admired some painting by his daughter on a visit to his home but said there never was any proposal to sell them to Neff or any offer to buy. "If he had made one I would have thrown him out of the house," said Nichols.

Pickell said his only conversation with Neff about leases he owned was telling about dry holes drilled on some. "I have not sold or bought or traded an oil lease or royalty since being in the attorney general's office," Pickell said.

Ted Reed was put on the stand to contradict testimony by Neff that Neff had not circulated the 41st legislature.

ELABORATE CORONATION PLANS MADE

Should one visit the high school gym he would find a busy group of boys and girls. Elaborate preparations are being made for the coronation of King and Queen Lobo V amid splendor rarely seen in West Texas. The bare walls and ceiling are being transformed into a magnificent coronation room which will bring favorable comments from the most fastidious critics. The color scheme of maroon and silver will form the background for the gorgeously gowned ladies who will be present for the ceremonies. Official notices have been received from many cities, stating that representatives will visit Cisco to do homage to the newly elected king and queen.

The one question uppermost in the minds of those who follow the Lobos is: "Who will be the king and queen?" These two young people were chosen from the four hundred high school students as the most popular boy and girl in school. Much interest is being manifested among the students as to who won the distinguished honor, the highest award in the power of the student body to those who have helped to place the Cisco Lobos among the most feared opponents in the entire state.

Not only will many high schools be represented but several colleges have expressed a desire to participate in the pleasures of the event. From McMurray college comes Miss Dona Locke and Mr. Howard Miller, who were crowned queen and king of that institution, also Miss Madge McCaulay and Mr. E. B. Wharton who will act as escorts to their king and queen. From Howard Payne will come Miss Geneva McCulloch and Mr. Bill Wright who will bring greetings from their school to the Lobe court. The high school traveling the greatest distance to do honor to the Lobos is Belton. From this school will come the 1929 king and queen with attendants from the senior class. Miss Laura Lee Hiatt as queen of the Belton Tigers and Miss Elizabeth Garrison as maid of honor accompanied by Mr. Lewis Jones and Mr. Wallace Law will be welcome additions to the already large visiting court.

A program which will be both entertaining and interesting will be given in honor of Her Majesty, Queen Lobo V. Among the numbers will be dancing, singing, reading and drilling. Reserved seats are on sale at the City Drug and those interested are urged to buy early. It is hoped that Cisco will support the high school in this gigantic undertaking as entertainments of this type necessarily incur great expense. Reserved seats are selling for seventy five cents, while general admission can be bought for fifty cents.

Four Are Dead as Cloudbursts Flood Towns in Kansas flooded the poorer sections of the town.

The heavy rains, although not of cloudburst proportions, extended to Ellsworth, Blue Rapids and Concordia, these towns reporting three, two and 18 inches of rainfall respectively. However, Wichita, farther southward, reported only a shower. Salina had 2 1/2 precipitation. Good none.

The two men who were drowned were identified later as Jesus Medina and Elicio Rodriguez.

One other Mexican resident is reported missing.

Business loss was estimated at $50,000 by Herington business men who saw the flood sweep into parts of the downtown business district. The Farmers Union elevator was damaged about $3,000. It was reported. Two restaurants and one hardware store were the other heavy sufferers.

Herington was aroused from sleep under a sound of rain by the screaming of the water plant siren warning residents of the lower sections. Railroad switch engines in the yards loomed in the din of danger.

Rescue groups were organized immediately and put about on hastily fashioned rafts to search for possible victims and take those stranded to higher ground.

The two Mexicans drowned as they clung to their shack while it swept down the creek converted into a veritable Mississippi in the center of the town.

Council Grove reported similar scenes, but of less gravity. The upper Neosho overflowed into the town to a depth of from two to four feet, affecting scores of homes.
